As a result Vermont should despite reports to the contrary provide the down state harriers with plenty of competition. The Middmen have had three meets already but were not run the same distance as the Vermont men and will thus be at a slight disadvantage. The Middlebury runners have usually won over the Vermonters but it is hoped that this year may tell a different story.

Coach Aldrich has picked the following men to make the trip to Middlebury: Varsity—Captain Arnold, Blakely, Collins, Maynes, Bloomenthal, Walker and Thomas. Freshmen—Bliss, Cloud, Goldman, Holbrook, D. H. Parker, Stark and Wilder.

The men who have turned in the best times are for the varsity Collins, Arnold and Maynes. Wilder is the outstanding freshman. Coach Aldrich deserves much credit for his work with these men as many of them have done little running heretofore. This meet is to start at 10.30.

A number of interesting facts concerning American colleges and universities are revealed in the recent Educational Directory published by the Bureau of Education. Columbia is recognized as the largest university in the country, with 35,000 students and 1,500 teachers. Buena Vista College is the smallest with 21 students and 16 faculty members. Howard is the oldest university, having been founded in 1636. William and Mary College and Yale rank second and third in this respect, having been established in 1693 and 1701, respectively.

NEW PLAN PROPOSED TO PICK RHODES SCHOLARS

A plan is now before the British Parliament to make the number of Rhodes Scholars coming from the United States represent greater selectivity. State lines are proposed to be done away with. As long as this plan affects this college, a state university it is of interest to make note of it.

Dr. Frank Aydelotte, president of Swarthmore College and American secretary to the Rhodes Scholarship Trust, announced today that the Rhodes trustees are [illegible] a bill in the British Parliament which will change the method of selecting Rhodes scholars in the United States.

Under the will of Cecil Rhodes 32 scholarships are awarded each year in the United States. Under the new proposal the United States would be divided into eight districts of six states each, with a competition held in every state every year instead of in only two years out of every three as at present.

Under the proposed plan each State selection committee would be allowed to nominate one or two scholars to appear before the regional selection committee. Each regional selection committee would then appoint from among the candidates the best four, regardless of State lines.

This method, it was announced, would fit in better with the academic system of the country, would make selection easier, and tend to insure that all candidates chosen were of the highest type.

"Cribbers" Experimented On

The student who slips through college by cribbing information from more industrious or more brilliant students has at last been made useful. Entirely unawares, thirty successful cribbers at Colgate University were studied as laboratory specimens for the purpose of learning the mental and emotional traits of college men who cheat—and get away with it.

No College Drunks Wanted

(By College Humor)

Waring's Pennsylvanians sprung from a little drum corps of four to one of today's leading orchestras. "They had something that the ordinary band lacked," says Eleanor Sprague writing the band's history from its formation in Tyrone, Pa., through Penn State College and its meteoric rise to fame, in the December College Humor. "They interpolated tricky rhythms into their numbers. They were not aiming to take the place held by anyone else. 'There is plenty of room for us all,' says Fred Waring. 'We don't want to usurp another's place in the public's affection. We want to be ourselves, to be individual, and to create something unique in dance bands.'

Waring's became heroes to the public. They were all so young, so good looking. And they were so clean in the way they lived. Fred Waring never allowed dissipation in his personnel; no 'college drunks' are tolerated. His boys are regular in their habits, and interested in their work, but there is nothing of the goody-goody in them.

Rumors of their greatness drifted abroad. Paris accepted Fred as her darling and regretted when he took his band for a tour of exclusive European resorts, which netted them over one hundred thousand dollars. They can now grin at the memory of their ex-college professors' gloomy predictions and say to them, 'Well, we made good, didn't we?'"

Oregon State College has a football novelty on hand this season in the person of a barefooted kicker (not related to the barefoot boy). He is a halfback who learned his football in Hawaii, where he became extremely proficient in the art of spiraling a punt down the field, under the efficient propulsion of his bare foot. Indeed, this prodigy says he cannot secure satisfactory results with his feet shod in the conventional regulation shoe. The coach is searching now for a pair of shoes which this phenomenon may slip off and on quickly at will, for the Oregon State mentor does not want to risk his halfback's unshod feet in a scrimmage and intends that he should wear the boots when not kicking.

"One of the primary purposes of a college course," says Dean Hewitt of Willamette University, "is the finding of a mate. People are inclined to laugh at a girl who goes to college only to find a beau, but she is rather to be admired for her purpose." (Which is a rather a radical stand for any college dean.) Anyhow these remarks were uttered during a discussion of the question "Why Go to College?" at a student meeting of Willamette.

The Elite Beauty Parlor
SHAMPOO 50c MARCEL 60c
FINGER WAVE 75c
PHONE 238-J 3 CENTER STREET

The lecture for today is on life insurance.
It consists of two words:—
John Hancock
Class Dismissed!
John Hancock
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

When a Feller Needs a Friend : : : : : By BRIGGS

OLD GOLD
The Smoother and Better Cigarette
.... not a cough in a carload

© P. Lorillard Co., Est. 1760

PRICE SUCCEEDS OTTO AS MANAGER OF TENNIS

Shedd and Stillwell Will Direct Tennis Practice in Carpenter's Absence — Men Report In Cage Monday

Beginning next week tennis practice will be held in the cage on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 2 to 5. In the absence of Coach Carpenter who is in Europe this winter, James Shedd, '29, captain-elect, will have charge of practice assisted by Leaf Stillwell, winner of the fall tournament last completed, and H K Berkland, '30. Three of last year's state championship team, namely Hudson, Graves and Payne, graduated leaving but three men who have had any previous experience. Phil Goddard is in medicine this year but he will be eligible along with Shedd and Berkland.

All Sophomores and Freshmen who go out for tennis will be excused from regular gym classes. They must report to Howard Prentice at the Physical Education office at once. Scrubs are also wanted and should report to Manager K L Price immediately.

The following seemed up well in the fall tournament, and from these probably at least three will be used in the coming season. Webster '31; Hendrick '31; Holbrook, '32; Peach '29; Eaton '31; Bowen '31; Haseltine '31 and Bowers '31. Macomber '30 and Pepper, '30, both have had previous experience in match play but were not out in the fall because of conflicts with football practice.

The schedule has not been made out yet but will probably be about the same as last year. Middlebury, Norwich, and St Michael's are played twice each and Dartmouth, St Stephens, Worcester Tech, Boston University, and Springfield are likely to appear on the list.

Manager F R Otto has resigned, and K L. Price has been chosen to fill his place. Otto is also manager of football this year and decided that one managership was all he was able to fulfill satisfactorily in one year.

Rockne Condemns Betting On Football Games

(By College Humor)

Every year we read articles about what a terrible thing football is; how it swallows up thousands of boys. says Knute Rockne of Notre Dame in his article, "Football Is Fun," in the December College Humor. "But these articles are written by people who have never played football. Football is a lot of fun, but you have to have the proper point of view to appreciate it. The people who take it too seriously are alumni and townspeople who bet. Regarding them I have no brief whatsoever.

"I remember one year when we played Indiana the score was ten to nothing in favor of Indiana through the third quarter. In the last quarter Notre Dame pulled a great comeback. As a result, Notre Dame won thirteen to ten. I whistled gayly and allowed the managers an extra dollar for dinner. That's how good I felt. But lo. I found our townspeople and alumni who had bet on the game and they had all bet we'd win by twenty-seven points—were as sore as a boiled owl at me. No one has any objection to friendly wagers made just in fun but the big money wager is the chap I have in mind. Big money gamblers will ruin college football if they are not stopped. I have a thick hide for this species of poor sport and the only regret I have is that they didn't lose more. The man who bets not only gets no fun out of it but is a hindrance to the game as a clean sport and he is lacking in a sense of humor, for every time he loses a bet he wants to have the coach first.

"In fact, the biggest blot on the game is the alumni without a sense of humor and the fellow who insists on betting big money. Eliminate both of these mutants and everybody connected with football will have a lot more fun."

"How fast does your car run?"

"Well, I manages to keep about six months ahead of my income."

—Stanford Chaparral

Notice!

Because the names of the Junior women elected by Student Union Council to be judiciary committee were inadvertently announced in the Cynic, when the names should have been kept secret, new elections were held by the Council Wednesday noon.

RIFLE TEAM ARRANGING ITS SEASON SCHEDULE

The rifle team is now very quickly getting in a series of matches with [illegible] all over the country. Matches will be held during the [illegible] immediately after mid-years to the end of March.

Freshmen who want to make the rifle team will be selected from those who make high scores in their preliminary instruction practice on the indoor range during the next month.

The rifle team will be organized during the two weeks preceding mid-year exams. There are a number of vacancies to be filled by Freshmen. All firing of the rifle team is done in the afternoon on the indoor ranks with the 22 calibre rifle.

E C Ball, a Junior, is captain of the rifle team and A. L. Wardwell, also a Junior, is the manager. Any one interested and who desires further information should see Wardwell.

Last year Vermont qualified as No 2 in the N R A (New England Rifle Association) New England matches and as No 3 in the First Corps Area matches.

Assistant Dean Swift Speaks on Philosophy

(Continued from page 1)

We can see now how mathematics tends to be philosophical when mathematicians attempt to get at the fundamentals underlying mathematics, he declared.

Philosophers, too, use mathematics, declared Mr. Swift. Descartes, and many of the great philosophers have had a training in the higher mathematics. Mathematics assists one to think in abstract terms.

Refreshments were served at the close of the talk. The next meeting of the club will probably be held in two weeks. It is the aim of the club to hold meetings every two weeks, and to have speakers discuss matters of interest with the club members. All students interested in psychology or philosophy are invited to join the club.

A short business meeting of the Press Club was held this afternoon at 1.30 in 3 North College. The next meeting will be a social meeting at Grassmount, two weeks from today, at 8 o'clock.

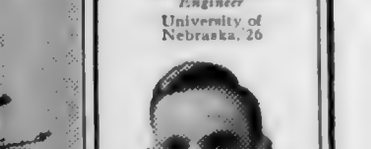
Judgment Day will take place tonight at 7.30, in Hall A of the Medical Building. Trials will be held for the worse Frosh, and punishments administered. Attendance is required of all Freshman women.

All members of Bluestockings are cordially invited to attend the Eta Sigma Phi meeting to be held Tuesday at 8 o'clock at 34 South College. Edith Fishman, '30, will speak on Aristotle's "Poetics."

U. V. M. STUDENTS

For real service and high quality and pure home-made candies.

Stop at the



Burlington Sweet Shop
Cor Main & Church Tel. 591

or Candyland
101 Church Street Tel. 984

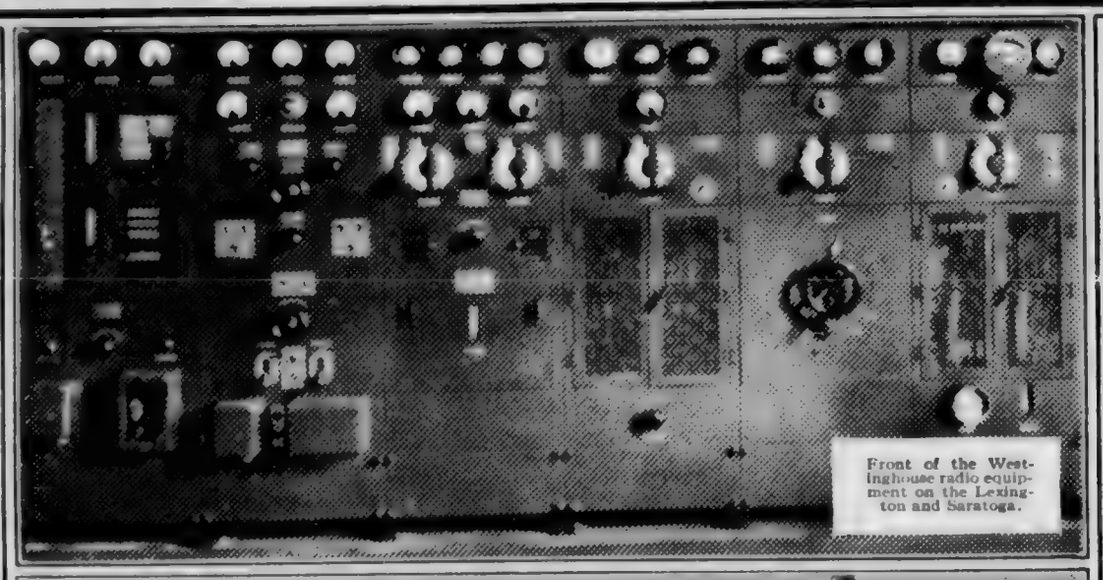
"Aw, go jump in [illegible] know what a creek is."

"Sure. One of [illegible] runs a restaurant."

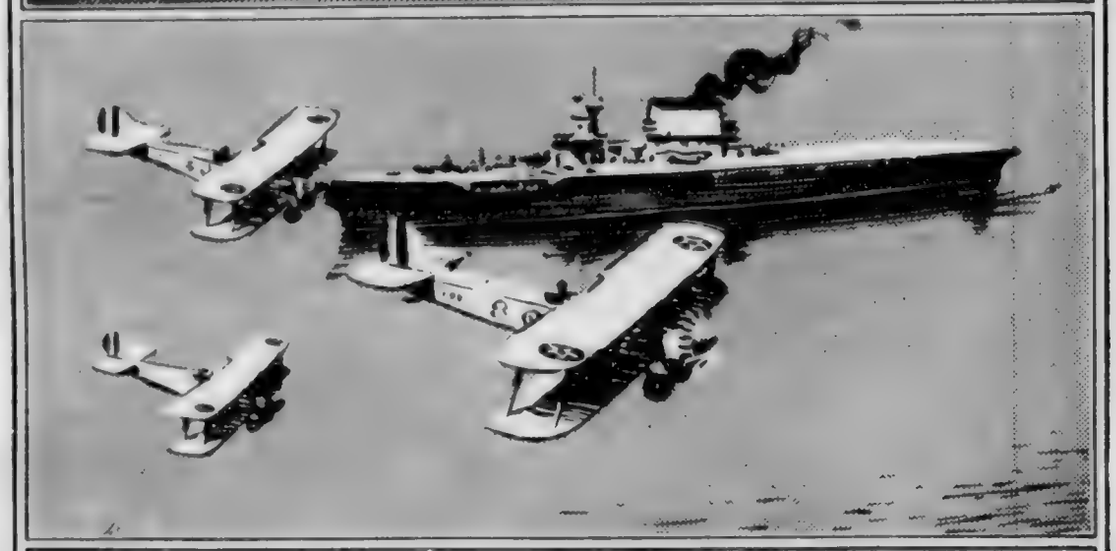
FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

V. D. LANDON
Radar Design
Detroit Junior College, '22



A. N. CURTISS
Design of Transmitters
University of Pittsburgh, '27



O. B. GUNBY
Engineer, Photo Phone Division
Dickinson, '27

JOHN COLEMAN
Radio Engineer
Carnegie Institute of Technology, '23

Front of the Westinghouse radio equipment on the Lexington and Saratoga.

YOUNGER COLLEGE MEN ON RECENT WESTINGHOUSE JOBS

C. J. BURNSIDES
Design of Transmitters
South Dakota School of Mines, '24

C. J. MADSEN
Radio Installation Engineer
University of Nebraska, '26

S. V. PERRY,
Engineer, Loud Speaker Group
Queens University, '23

H. I. METZ
Development Engineer
University of Pittsburgh, '26

Radio Directs the Navy's Flyers . .

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

* * *

AIRPLANE carriers are a recent development in naval history—and they have a communication problem that calls for the engineering resources of an organization which has shown it can make radio history.

Complex maneuvers are directed, scouting expeditions controlled, and far-flying planes recalled—by radio.

On the U. S. Navy Airplane Carriers "Lexington" and "Saratoga" the situation is met with crystal control transmitters designed to send on different wave lengths. Each plane's receiving set has its own wave length. A turn of the dial on the transmitter selects the wave length corresponding to that of the plane to be reached with a message.

Radio equipment on the "Lexington" and "Saratoga" was designed, built, and installed by Westinghouse—the organization which in 1920 established KDKA, the pioneer radio broadcasting station of the world, and which also operates stations KFKX, KYW, WBZ, and WBZA.

* * *

Opportunities to do the history-making things in engineering fall naturally to an organization with a record for making history in its field. And Westinghouse, quite as naturally, offers powerful attractions to those young college men whose initiative and enterprise fit them for history making tasks.

Westinghouse

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VT., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20 1928 — NUMBER 17

FORMAL MILITARY BALL THIS FRIDAY

First Formal Dance on This Year's Social Calendar Will Be Held on Night of November 23

SCABBARD AND BLADE SPONSORS AFFAIR IN GYM

...tary Ball, the biggest social ... before the Christmas holidays, ... place in the University gym ... Friday evening, November 23 ... will commence at nine o'clock ... until one o'clock.

...nce first scheduled for Mon... November 12, was postponed to a ... Armistice Day coming on ... was observed on Monday. So ... the students spent the week ... their homes that the committee ... of the dance thought it a ... plan to postpone the date to November 23.

... A Dodge '29 is acting chair... the affair. The other members ... committee are B. W. Gustafson, ... Morgan, J. P. Hyland, and R. M. ... This committee chosen by ... and Blade, the Honorary ... Society, some time ago has ... ing extensive plans for the ... this formal occasion.

...ccess and popularity of the ... becoming traditional. From ... minor affair, it has evolved ... tion of general interest and ... occurrence. All previous years ... record-breaking attendances ... year is expected to be no ... The number of tickets sold ... as a result been limited to the 200 ... to prevent over crowding.

...ording to reports, the decora... will cause the gym to take on a ...ingly militaristic aspect. Such ... of military ordnance as how... trench mortars, and army rifles ... to carry out this effect. To ... the ugly reminders occasioned ... by the unveiled presence of ... suggestive machinery, the pieces ... be attractively draped with ... and stationed in the vari... ners of the gym. American and ... flags will be hung in conspicu... In all, the elaborate dec... will make the dance a gala ... occasion.

...popular orchestra, "The Black ...," of Middlebury has been se... to furnish the syncopation. "The Blue Panthers" have played for sev... occasions on the Hill to the com... satisfaction of everyone. A group ... skilled musicians will play for ... Several moonlight waltzes ... special lighting effects will inter... the dancing program.

...souvenir program is the outstand... feature of this year's dance. This ... which is included in the ... is an attractive eight page, ... covered souvenir. The cover is ... in red and white, the Scabbard ... Blade Society colors. They will ... given out at the door.

Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. F. F. ... and Captain and Mrs. W. E. ... will chaperone.

... guests have been invited in... Colonel and Mrs. G. J. Holden, ... commanding officer of the Ver... R. O. T. C Unit and now a resi... of Burlington, officers from Fort ... Allen, and Norwich men. Old ... of Scabbard and Blade are ... invited to attend.

...general entrance to the gym ... made through the cage as was ... year. All checking will be ... the cage.

... attending are expected to be ... uniform or tuxedo.

... Morgan, '29, returned Monday ... Cleveland, Ohio, where she ... Women's Student Union ... annual convention of the ... Intercollegiate Association ... Government which was ... ember 15-17 at the College for ... of the Western Reserve Uni...

... in interpretative dancing ... Tuesday and Thursday after... the Vermonters' Club House ... Baldwin is in charge of the ... and reports a most enthusiastic

NOTICE!!!

The International Club meets Thursday afternoon, November 22, in 37 North College. All those interested in the work of the club are urged to attend this meeting.

FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS REALIZED IN CAMPAIGN

Smalley Campaign Closes Friday a Hundred Dollars Short of Goal — Much Interest Shown In Campaign

Realizing a sum of approximately $400, one hundred dollars short of the goal originally set for it but with a record unique for the University in stirring up enthusiasm for an outside cause and for businesslike enterprise the Smalley Campaign, extended for half a day to last from Tuesday to Friday, officially closed on Friday at noon.

From first to last it was a campaign of progress. Opening on Tuesday morning with a booth in South College and tables in North College and at the library, the committee collected the sum of $118 in pledges and cash. Banners suspended between the Old Mill and Williams Science Hall and hung on the campus Fords, Pi Phi and Justinia, together with the interest stirred up in the project both among students and throughout the town served to swell student contributions by $133 and to bring the total to $251 on Wednesday. Thursday was a banner day with $205, almost twice the amount raised on the first day, bringing the total to $338. The campaign was originally advertised for three days but, in a last minute attempt to secure a larger sum, some sixty dollars was contributed in a single forenoon on Friday at tables from Morrill Hall to the Engineering Building. Over two-thirds of the money raised was in cash. The rest was in the form of pledges collectable within ten days of their issuance.

In all some 570 students and members of the faculty made contributions to the fund. Members of the classes of 1920 and 1921, in which Mr and Mrs. Smalley graduated, and members of their fraternities were invited to contribute but no contributions were accepted from townspeople or other outside sources.

As a cross-section of the amounts of individual contributions it is interesting to note that, of the pledges by Wednesday, two were for five dollars, two for three dollars, three promised two dollars, sixty-three gave one dollar, twenty-five were for fifty cents, and seven for twenty-five cents. It will be noted that the largest number of contributions were for one dollar and the smallest for twenty-five cents. These contributions, however, represent only pledges.

The money, which will go to the Congo Institute at Kanene, South Africa, will be presented to Mr. and Mrs. Smalley, the Vermont graduates who have been working there for four years and have been the actual heads of the educational-missionary organization many months, when they visit America next year to attend the 1929 Commencement.

The committee which conducted the campaign, with Merle Duval, '30, as chairman and Mr. M. D. Powers as treasurer, has not yet determined the expenses of the campaign, which have been largely due to the large advertising expenditure necessary. The sum of $350 has, however, already been set aside to present to Mr. Smalley.

Press Club Meets

Women's Press Club of the University of Vermont held a business meeting last Friday afternoon at 1:30. Margaret Stanley, '31, was elected chairman of the Committee on High School Papers and Florence McKenzie, '30 was chosen to head the Newspaper Committee.

The chairmen reported on the work of their respective committees. An announcement was made that the next social meeting will be held at Grassmount, November 30, to welcome the new members of the society.

ANKLE SOCKS BECOMING PROMINENT WITH CO-EDS

More and more popular among the ... V. M. Coeds are the ankle socks or half hose. These gay little creations add the right notes of warmth and color, especially during the football and pre-Thanksgiving days.

Through the summer these socks were quite the thing for strenuous tennis games and the other numerous vacation activities. At present the indication is that these hose will form a year-round note, although their usefulness for winter sports has yet to be demonstrated.

VERMONT WOMEN SHOW INTEREST IN GYMNASIUM

Vermont women have shown by enrolling 250 of their number in extra curricula activities in Physical Education that they not only want their required gymnasium but as much more as is offered.

Rifle takes first place with about 100 candidates. The matches this year will average about two a week with at least four shot on signed targets. Sergeant Connors, well known coach of former rifle squads, is now giving preliminary instructions in marksmanship.

Soccer, an old time favorite, is again being revived after two years. Fifty girls from the four classes are enthusiastic boosters of this sport. A class for Juniors and Seniors in methods of teaching basketball is still open for new members. There are already 16 enrolled. The first class in social dancing met Wednesday at the Vermonters' Club House, with 21 members present.

During November, Miss Alice Blanchard is conducting a class in basketball for beginners. These girls will learn the fundamentals of the sport and be able to enter the regular advanced classes in December. About 50 members are now enrolled.

In the regular gymnasium classes, Freshmen are taking a course in Danish Gymnastics, and Sophomores may elect this course. These exercises were first used in America in 1924 when Bukk, a Dane, brought over a group of Danish people to give exhibitions. In just the short space of four years, this type of gymnastics has been introduced in many leading colleges. Every summer Bukk gives a course in Denmark, which many Americans attend.

The Danish Gymnastics aim to produce strength, flexibility and coordination. The exercises use the arms and legs alternately. Between these are relaxing exercises, so that there is no pause but continual motion of some sort. In this respect they differ from Swedish Gymnastics.

SIX FRATERNITIES HOLD DANCES FOR PLEDGES

Syncopated strains issued Saturday night from six fraternity houses, where annual pledge was taking place. Delta Psi had Dr. and Mrs. P. K. French as chaperones, and Johnson's Orchestra. About twenty-five couples were present.

Fifty couples attended the Alpha Tau Omega dance, at which the Rose Marie Orchestra played, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Dyke and Professor and Mrs. Hovey Jordan chaperoned.

Professor and Mrs. B. C. Douglass and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wilson chaperoned at the Kappa Sigma House. Rexy's Blue Jackets played for about sixty couples.

Lechnyr's Vermonters furnished music for the Sigma Nu pledge dance, at which the chaperones were Professor and Mrs. E. C. Dopkins and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Dean. Thirty couples were present.

At the Sigma Alpha Chi House music was furnished by Doc Kenyon's Orchestra, with thirty couples in attendance. Professor and Mrs. A. B. Myrick and Professor and Mrs. G. F. Eckhard chaperoned.

Sigma Delta also held a dance Saturday, which about twenty-five couples attended. The chaperones were Professor and Mrs. L. B. Puffer and the Catamount Collegians played.

Middlebury Ties Vermont And Norwich is Champion

Hard-fought Battle at Middlebury Results in a 6-6 Tie Both Teams Playing Excellent Football

NOTICE!!!

All Sophomores who wish to scrub for basketball should report to Manager B. W. Gustafson immediately.

HARRIERS LOSE MEET AT MIDDLEBURY 36-19

Collins First Vermont Man to Finish, Coming in Fifth With Maynes Sixth and Arnold Seventh

Vermont's cross-country teams journeyed to Middlebury Saturday and the results were favorable considering the material available for the meet. The varsity lost 19-36 while the freshman lost by the narrow margin of 27-28.

Collins a new man was the first Vermont man to come in placing fifth. Maynes placed sixth and Captain Arnold seventh. The Middlebury men had the advantage of seeing action in three previous meets.

The freshmen gave the Middlebury harriers a lot of competition. Wilder a mite of a runner came in first; he is a runner of practically no experience. Cloud and Bliss finished fourth and fifth, respectively. These men both ran nice races also. The performance of Wilder was outstanding however.

Captain Arnold has been nursing an injury for some time not being able to do any intensive running for some time. However he placed well regardless of the injury. Rod Maynes was running wisely for an inexperienced man. Collins was ahead of the pack for some time but developed lameness but finished well.

This meet marks the beginning and end of the cross-country season. It is hoped that next year Vermont may have more meets to groom the men for the Middlebury meet. The results of the meet follows.

VARSITY CROSS-COUNTRY

Name	College	Time
Butler	M.	15' 34 4/5"
Dalton	M.	15' 34 4/5"
Haskins	M.	15' 48"
Witt	M.	16' 10"
Collins	V.	16' 12"
Maynes	V.	16' 21"
Arnold	V.	16' 21 1/2"
Blakely	V.	16' 34"
Farnham	M.	16' 36 4/5"
McKee	M.	16' 52"
Bloomenthal	V.	16' 55"
Sessions	M.
Thomas	V.
Walker	V.

POINT SCORE

Middlebury	Vermont
1	5
2	6
3	7
4	8
9	10
19	36

Winning Time: Butler (M.) and Dalton (M.) 15' 34 4/5"

Timers: Coach Aldrich, Vermont; Prof. Cady, Middlebury; Prof. Swett, Middlebury.

Scorer—E. N. Lawrence.

FRESHMAN CROSS-COUNTRY

Wilder	V.	16' 16"
Harwood	M.	16' 29"
Hall	M.	16' 35"
Cloud	V.	16' 48"
Bliss	V.	16' 56"
Kimball	M.	16' 59"
Weaver	M.	17'
Stark	V.	17' 7"
Harrowes	M.	17' 22 1/2"
Dorn	M.	17' 23 1/2"
Holbrook	V.	17' 27"
Goldman	V.	17' 28"
Barber	V.	17' 29 1/2"
Young	M.	17' [illegible]

(Continued on page 4)

CADET ELEVEN AGAIN CONFERENCE CHAMPION

The University of Vermont moved to Middlebury Saturday when the student body en masse went to see the Catamounts hold the Panthers to a 6-6 tie game. It was one of the best games that has been put up by the Green and Gold this season, and can be equalled only by the battle that they handed the Horsemen of Norwich. Both teams put up a rag battle and were supported whole heartedly by their respective cheering sections.

It seems to the Vermont fans that the Cats should have returned home with a victory in the bag for them, as they were in a scoring position three times and each time the privately defense of the Panthers strengthened and held the Green and Gold for downs.

The Blue and White eleven scored first early in the third quarter. A long run by Guarnaccia and seven line plunges brought the ball on the five yard line where they lost the ball on downs. Robbins booted to Vermont's 40 yard line. Several off tackle plays and a completed forward brought the ball to Vermont's 13 yard line on attempted off tackle play netted no gain, and a wide end run by Guarnaccia carried the ball across the line for the touchdown.

Vermont immediately after the kickoff made three successive first downs tearing great holes in the Panther line. On the fourth down, with the ball on Middlebury's 20 yard line Halligan hurled a pass into the waiting arms of Segal who was standing on Middlebury's one yard line, who threw himself over the last white line as he was downed by a Middlebury man. Robbins missed the goal.

Freddie Robbins was one of Vermont's stars. All of his boots and some of his line plunges were a big factor in gaining ground. Halligan put up his usual performance as a brilliant field runner. He has been one of the Green and Gold's surest ground gainers during the whole season. Levine and Tony Scutaro were the outstanding men of the line. Johnson, Guarnaccia and Perry were outstanding men for Middlebury.

The game:

Vermont's kickoff went only 20 yards. Willis skirted left end for a small gain and then a fumble was recovered by Segal of Vermont. On the first play the Cats received a 15 yard penalty. Another 15 at the line netted little and Robbins booted to the 37 yard line. Here Middlebury started a march and after McLeod and Willis had made drives at the line it was declared first down for Middlebury. Successive runs by Johnson, Willis and Guarnaccia made another first down but here on their own 40 yard line Vermont held and after an incomplete pass Johnson booted to behind the goal posts. A line plunge by DeRose and an end run by Halligan netted 9 yards; but here Middlebury held and Robbins got off a short boot to the Blue's 47 yard line. Two end runs netted another first down and here Guarnaccia fumbled and Nilsen recovered for Vermont. Halligan made 12 yards around right end and plunges by DeRose and Robbins netted nothing. Robbins placed a nice punt outside on the Midd's 8 yard line. Johnson punted right back to the 50 yard line. Runs by Halligan and Lyman netted first down. Another plunge by Robbins and one by DeRose gained five yards. Here Halligan standing on the 2 yard line heaved a pass to Robbins standing on the 8 yard line. On three plunges Vermont had advanced the ball to within 6 inches of the goal line. A chance to score and Vermont fumbled the chance they let the Middlebury line get the jump on them and DeRose met a stone wall when he tried to plow through. Johnson quickly punted out of danger to the 25 yard line. No gain through right tackle and DeRose fumbled but Vermont recovered as the quarter ended.

(Continued on page 3)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

LEIGHTON A. SAUNDERS, '29
Managing Editor

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

Lawrence O. Clayton, '29 — News Editors Herrick M. Macomber, '29 — Arthur D. Stearns, '29

Noah Fuller, '29 — Columnists — George R. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors
Elizabeth B. Hager, '29
Mary A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '29

Feature Editor
George H. Poole, '29

Asst Sporting Editor
Seymour Nathanson, '29

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Clain, '29

Asst Sporting Editor
Warren H. Burt, '29

Women's Athletic Editor
Constance Holden, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

James Goodrich, '30
Priscilla Campbell, '30
Lloyd Richardson, '30
John Waterman, '30
George E. Brush, '30

Douglas L. Stewart, '31
Americo Gloria, '30
E. A. R. Germain, '31
Donald R. Coburn, '31
Philip G. Andrews, '30

Louis Lisman, '31
Richard Cowles, '31
L. M. Foster, '31
C. N. Crockett, '31

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

Caslin C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur R. Birchard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major R. Jenks, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Mruss, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Fuller, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2683 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House, and other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412, P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — November 20, 1928 — No. 17

MAKE EVERYBODY PAY

The cost of the World War has not been paid. The pressure of the debts recklessly acquired at that time will rest not only on us, college students of America, but it will rest upon our children and their children in turn.

In his Armistice Day speech Mr. Coolidge informed us that "to retire the balance of our public principal will require about $7,000,000,000 in interest." This payment is not for the war itself. This payment represents merely part of the rental charge on money which was eagerly hurled into the prosecution of the war. Beyond these billions of interest there are other billions of principal to be paid back to the more wealthy element of our population.

What does this mean to us? It means that we must pay taxes, directly or indirectly, sufficient to reimburse those who were able to invest in the war. It means that the war investors, by their investment, assured themselves of a life income. They got a mortgage on the future while the common soldier—he might have been you or I; he would have been you or I had we been older—was wounded and gassed or blinded or shell shocked. The war investors lent their money at interest. The doughboy staked his life at the call of his country. One assured his continued opulence; the other met his rendezvous with death.

There is a tremendous unfairness about this. The costs were not equally or justly distributed. It is true that many of the investors were not physically fit for service. However, their money was. They should have been taxed, not through excess profits and inheritance and income taxes but through a direct capital levy. Instead of having their money returned at interest they should have lost it outright even as your brother and my brother lost his life or his reason in the sodden fields of France. They, the war investors, are still gathering in their golden harvest. They are fattening on the festering war-sore of the world. The soldiers still lie beneath white crosses or in tubercular hospitals and insane retreats.

We are sickened of war and its holocaust of destruction. We hope for continued peace and a feeling of amity between nations and peoples. But we will be disappointed. War will come again. Possibly many of us now attending this school will feel it our duty to go to another war. Others of us may be drafted into service.

Arms conference after arms conference had ended as it began, in the saying of words and the chanting of sonorous phrases. Russia has been ridiculed by the press of the world and international suspicion has been directed against her because she proposed complete and total disarmament. The attitude of the rulers of the world has been one of much talking for peace and active preparation for war. Preparedness is the order of this day. And if one prepares actively enough and long enough for war he will find it even as the serious student will find a use for his laboriously acquired knowledge. There is only one way toward peace. That way must be through the disarmament of the world. It can never come through the building of bigger navies.

We are citizens of a democracy. We enjoy the right of the franchise. There is one way in which all of us who desire peace should further its interests. We should demand that at least the cost of wars be more equally distributed. We should demand that capital be levied outright even as men are levied outright. We should insist that the wealthy man put his money wholly into the protection of the country even as you and I put our lives unreservedly into this same thing.

This equalization of the cost of war may go far toward its elimination. It will at least make war a personal thing to every citizen of the country instead of leaving it a burden on the shoulders of a single part of the population as it now is.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TRUE STORY MAGAZINE

Dear Sir:

Women have from the earliest of times been the ruination of men. Among men this is a readily acknowledged fact and among women it is refuted on the general and all convincing grounds of its being a mere man's opinion. Yet in pursuing the heart-rending accounts appearing in your uplifting and highly educational periodical, I find that mere man is always entirely responsible for saintly woman's fall. This is not true. It gives an erroneous opinion to your great mass of intelligent readers. Furthermore, it is unfair to the male sex grossly unfair. Unfair for two reasons: first, because it is an untruthful statement; secondly, because it tends to place men off their guard, so to speak, to cause them to feel self-secure against the treacherous wiles of women. Were the stories of just the opposite character, did they portray man's fall brought about by woman, the effect would be easier to bear. Women could stand it more easily; their makeup is much heavier. Therefore, it is in the interest of aiding my fellowmen towards a greater and more comprehensive understanding of the hidden dangers lurking within a woman's mind that I set forth my own crushing and shameful experience with those creatures—yes, I can no longer look upon them as aught else but creatures! You will realize and appreciate, I am sure, the effort it requires to bare my past life; to review those incidents which cut my soul like a knife even as I now pause to think of them; but if I shall have saved one other man from a similar fate, if I shall have spared one other innocent youth the untold anguish and torture which I myself have suffered, I shall feel amply repaid.

* * *

I was born and bred in St. Albans, a small, conservative community of decent, law-abiding citizens. I was the only child in the family, but with true common sense refused to be pampered by my parents who considered me a prodigy. I attended to the various tasks about our small farm, and was particularly interested in poultry raising. In school, I always excelled in my studies, not on account of any particular brilliance but because I loved to study, loved to attend school, loved to have the teachers acknowledge my mental superiority. I looked upon girls with mild favor merely because a great many of them would eventually become school teachers, and I always entertained a great respect for my teachers. I had visited the city of Burlington but twice; once for the removal of my adenoids, and again when I attended a performance at The Strong Theatre. It is needless to say that I did not enjoy the former trip and the latter was really disappointing. Several remarks so obviously off-color were repeated by the actors during the vaudeville that I left in disgust before the feature picture could be viewed. In the evenings, after I had thoroughly mastered my subjects I would indulge in a little enjoyment by reading Milton, Spencer, or one of the English Lake poets. I always loved poetry, it was so pure, so uplifting, so inspiring to higher ideals and greater tasks in life.... And this was the peaceful, innocent, contented sort of a life that I lived.

In my nineteenth year a new family moved in next door to us. Their son was a city slicker who drove a Chrysler sedan and smoked cigarettes in a most nonchalant manner. Of course, I did not wish to make his acquaintance, but I had been brought up not to be rude to anyone and could therefore not help myself from accepting, in part at least, his advances. As I grew to know him better, I found that he was not the utterly hardened and sophisticated person that I had imagined him to be. He often asked me to go riding with him, but I steadily refused, not caring for automobile rides although I must admit that I have always entertained a profound respect for the various pieces of mechanism which so cleverly act in unison to produce rapid, yet easily controllable, motion.

One evening, however, he appeared before my parents and begged them to influence me to accompany him in his machine. They so presented their appeal in the form of the young man's loneliness and the good effect the cool bracing air would have upon me that I consented and we drove off.

"Whaddeyeh say we pick up some women, Hubert?" he inquired of me.

"What a peculiar means of exercise," I exclaimed. "Besides, my doctor told me not to lift anything heavy."

He smiled. "I mean, let's ask some girls to go riding."

(To be continued)

Freshman Hygiene lectures began Monday afternoon, November 19.

The Periscope

One of the new records is called, "Is There Anything Wrong in That?" Probably you've heard it and grinned just the way I did when I heard it the first time. It begins, "There are certain things that keep me guessing, though I try real hard to find them out." You remember how the song runs along and the little lady asks, "Is there anything wrong in that?" time after time. She admits she doesn't know what it's all about.

* * *

They use the moving picture and the slide in many courses in colleges but I never yet heard of using popular music in a philosophy course. I want to nominate this new record as a text in a philosophy course. It makes the frank admission that the average person doesn't know what it is all about. Is it necessary to add that nobody, sub-average, average or super-average, knows what it is all about?

* * *

Some things society tells us to do. We call these things social conventions and we adhere to them in almost every detail of our lives from the time fond mothers buy us pink or blue baby blankets until our children bury us quite correctly before they begin to hunt for the last will and testament and wonder who gets the silver spoons that came over with great-great-great-grandmother Smithers and how much the old home place will bring at a forced sale.

Sometimes we want to do something which isn't quite in line with the conventions of the society in which we happen to live. Perhaps we want to play baseball or go to the movies or a dance on a Sunday. We run head-on into a law or a convention which says no. Then we squirm about a bit and ask fretfully, "Why is there anything wrong in that?" Generally the answer comes back, "It simply isn't done." If we insist and ask why it isn't done the standard reply is the absolutely unanswerable little word, "Because."

Most of us stop right there and never do the thing which we should not do "Because." A few push on and do it anyway and then they suffer for it. They suffer because it isn't the normal thing to do; because they have done something which isn't done by all their neighbors, or at least something which isn't done openly by most of their neighbors.

Some try to look into social theory and practice and see the reason behind the custom. Generally they find the custom makes life just a little more easy for the majority of the population although they often find it is merely a hangover from a past time or a thing which improves conditions for a favored class of people.

* * *

There are always a few leaders who try to find the answer to the question, "Is there anything wrong in that?" There is one surprising thing about the conclusions of these leaders. They are radically different from current social customs. Moreover, their conclusions are seldom listened to by members of their own generation.

Mrs. Bertrand Russell is one of present-day leaders in social thought. In her book, The Right to Be Happy, she attempted to set forth an attitude toward personal freedom and personal morals which she believed would give more of us happiness. Incidentally, she took the stand that we have a right to be happy instead of the stand that we have a right to conform. Her book was inspiring to many and it was anathema to many others. It was often misinterpreted, misquoted and misjudged. It was frequently condemned without a hearing and ranted against by people who had never read it. Sometime many of her ideas may be incorporated into the conventions of a society.

* * *

Nearly all of us believe nothing is wrong which does not unduly hurt the physical organism that is ourself or endanger the health of others about us or the well being of unborn generations. We believe all morality and custom should be founded on physiology and hygiene. However, we do not wear pajamas to a banquet or tuxedos at breakfast. We conform to the usual and the accepted.

* * *

"And Florian asked his father, 'What is this law of life?' And his father answered, 'Never offend too much or too openly against your neighbors.'" Cabell wrote this and most of us have found from personal experience that it is very sound advice. There is one part of the quotation that should be stressed. It is the caution not to offend too openly.

This rule brings easy living and easy adjustment and easy acceptability. It also brings degeneration and loss of personality and individuality and ability to think for one's self. Non-conformity, in cases where a principle is concerned, brings ostracism and scorn, but it preserves self-respect and promotes growth. It is a hard w... life.

Death closes up the personal ac... in either case. Well, "Is there ... thing wrong in that?"

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the ...

There is only one ... States can secure the ... other nations of the ... to foster a spirit of ... all men and races.

Armistice Day there ... able discussion among ... which strangely enough ... our pence-loving chief executive, ... dent Coolidge, to the effect that ... military preparedness alone can ... peace be secured. The people of ... country were told with ... a deaf ear to internationalists ... pacifists.

In the November 14 issue of ... VERMONT CYNIC, the editor saw fit ... express that "in spite of pe... propaganda, a strong measure of ... paredness is being taken," leaving ... imply that the effect of pacifistic ... trine would lead to war. If every ... in this war-wearied world were p... fists and internationalists there ... indeed be no war, and all men ... be friends, and would not slay ... other.

I am not advocating a milit... policy of non-preparedness for ... country. But what this country, ... all other countries, needs is ... familiarity with internationalism ... pacifism. And I see no reason ... the two cannot exist side by side, ... gether, at the same time, a sens... amount of military protection, and ... doctrines of internationalism ... pacifism.

We should not allow militarists ... gain control of either our actions ... thoughts in this country. We sh... not allow the militaristic spirit ... develop among our people. We s... rather recognize the cause of ... nationalism and pacifism and do ... best to secure world peace by the p... tical application of the doctrines ... internationalism and pacifism in ... constant relations with the rest of ... world. An exaggerated milita... can lead only to war.

E. ...

OVERHEARD ON A STREET ...

Old Gentleman: Pardon me, ... aren't you from Oskaloosa?

Very Deaf Old Lady: How?

O. G.: I say, aren't you from ... KALOOSA?

V. D. O. L.: Oh, Oskaloosa ... yes, to be sure.

O. G.: Remember when we ... children, how I used to turn you ... my knee and spank you?

V. D. O. L.: Yes, yes, you'd ... know the old place now!

—Michigan Gargoy...

There was a Scotchman who ... like the radio. The bulbs were ... dim to read by.—Jack-O'-Lantern

Girl's Hot Ti... Steers Studen... to Favorite... Pipe Tobacc...

San Francisco, ...

Larus & Bro. Co.
Richmond, Va.
Gentlemen:

Since I first started to smok... have always smoked cigarettes.

One day SHE said to me ... dear, why don't you smoke a pip... think those long straight-stem ... pipes are so manly-looking."

So, naturally, I had to buy a ... stemmed pipe and a can of ... call it "Blubs Mixture to... mediately with a certain ... pride in my new pipe, I ... and proceeded to have my tongue ... ten. I tried almost every brand ... ever heard of, but none satisfied.

Sadly, I had to confess to HER ... as a pipe smoker I was a good ... titian.

"Did you try Edgeworth?" ... asked. "That is what dad s... and he's always smoked a pipe."

So I was forced to try Edge... and all that I can say is ... fellow that has tried to accustom ... self to a pipe, started with Edge... there would be very few ... back to cigarettes.

Yours sincerely,
Ed Mal...

Edgewort...

Extra High Grade

Smoking Tobac...

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

[illegible] '25, who was recently [illegible] from Johns Hopkins Hos[illegible] in town over the week-end. [illegible] Hazen, '26, was in Bur[illegible]ently.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

[illegible] are being made for a bazaar [illegible] early in December. The [illegible] been set as a tentative date. [illegible] will soon be up, giving com[illegible]ails.

A [illegible] was served Friday at the [illegible]ub rooms under the auspices [illegible] Delta Delta.

[illegible] McLeod ex-'29, is attending [illegible] arten school in Boston.

PI BETA PHI

A tea was given in honor of Mrs. [illegible] Miller to the alumnae, last Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Max [illegible]well and Mrs. George Partridge, [illegible] hostesses, pouring. Mrs. Miller is [illegible]president of Alpha Province of Pi Beta Phi, and was making her annual visit to the chapter. Wednesday evening she was the guest of the Alumnae Club at the home of Mrs. [illegible]nce Killam Atwood on Grant Street. The Mothers' Club held a supper at the chapter rooms, Friday evening.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Laura Demeritt '28, who is teaching in Vergennes, was in town over the weekend.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

[illegible] Harbour, '27, attended the [illegible] meeting, Wednesday evening. [illegible] Harbour is acting as supervisor [illegible] instructor at the Vermont Industrial School at Vergennes.

Margaret Chandler, ex-'31, has an [illegible]osition at the Brightlook Hospital St. Johnsbury, Vt.

SIGMA GAMMA

Mrs. Dallas Pollard gave a tea Friday afternoon in honor of Ruth Spear.

Members of the chapter assisted in the Red Cross drive Sunday afternoon.

KAPPA DELTA

Supper was served to the chapter after the meeting, Thursday evening, at the Athena Club. Several alumnae were present.

$10,000 SCHOLARSHIP BEQUEST MADE COLLEGE

Wednesday, November 14, President Bates received a check for $10,000 from the executors of the estate of George H. Walker of Needham, Mass., who died November 4, 1928. This amount is to be invested in municipal bonds and in accordance with the terms of the bequest an income from the fund will be used for scholarships.

Extracts from the will read as follows:

"The President of the College shall select candidates from men or women who have taken a course in agriculture, chemistry or bacteriology, and who have in his opinion the qualifications for the special work indicated hereafter, and shall award scholarships in his discretion. No person shall hold this scholarship for more than two years. The object of this scholarship is to be the study of the production of and handling of milk by comparatively small plants or farms to produce and market a milk chemically and bacteriologically clean and uniform."

NOTICE

LOST—A WHITE GOLD WRIST WATCH. BETWEEN AGGIE BUILDING AND OLD MILL SATURDAY—FRANCES McKENNEY, 1. WINOOSKI.

RAND'S HOME LUNCH
64 COLCHESTER AVE.
Where you get the most of the best for the least
HOME COOKING
OUR SPECIALTY
Phone 2045

Middlebury Ties Vermont and Norwich is Champion

(Continued from page 1)

SECOND QUARTER

Halligan heaved a pass to Lyman for eight yards and the Blue held. Johnson punted out of danger to the 42 yard line. The Panthers held for three downs. Vermont making only about 3 yards. Robbins booted to the 25 yard line. Here Guarnaccia, McLeod plowed through for first down. Here Scutakes broke through and tossed Jacobs for a loss and then Guarnaccia pulled off one of his spectacular end runs going to Vermont's 32 yard line. Vermont here held and a pass over the goal line was incompleted. Vermont obtained the ball on the 28-yard line and Robbins made 2 yards. Middlebury penalized 5 yards for offside. However Lyman was thrown for a loss but again Middlebury offside and 5 more yards was the price. The Blue's front wall held Vermont making only 5 yards. Robbins booted to the 38-yard line. Johnson running it back ten yards. Guarnaccia gained eight more. Johnson made 1 yard. Jacobs was thrown for a loss and Johnson booted over the Vermont goal line. Vermont gained eight yards, losing the ball on downs. Midd advanced it 8 yards until they were on the 20-yard line. Here a drop kick was attempted but it went wide. Halligan made 5 yards. Lyman pulled off a spectacular 27-yard run from kick formation. Two plunges netted nothing and Robbins booted. Vermont held the Midd plungers to 4 yards and Johnson booted. As the ball was in the air DeRose was caught clipping and it was the Blue's ball on their 30-yard line. Middlebury penalized 5 yards on the next play. No gain through the line. Another 5 yard penalty for 2 incomplete passes and Johnson punted to Vermont's 43-yard line. Robbins punted right back and Middlebury completed a pass. Another line plunge netted 2 yards and here the period closed.

THIRD PERIOD

Robbins kicked off to Midd's 30-yard [illegible] Johnson running it back to the 43 yard line. Penalty of 5 yards on Middlebury. Here Guarnaccia pulled off a long run to Vermont's 10 yard line. The Green and Gold line held. Robbins booted to the 40 yard line. Johnson advancing it 10 yards. Two line plunges, a completed pass netted first down. A line plunge netted nothing and Guarnaccia went around left end for a touchdown.

Middlebury tried to pull off a trick kickoff by kicking to Segal but he was asleep. Vermont was tearing to go and made 3 consecutive first downs tearing through the Blue line as if it were paper. Then Halligan heaved a pass to Segal who was standing on the one yard line and he fell over for the touchdown.

The ball from then on through the rest of this period and all during the fourth remained about in midfield with neither team having the advantage. However Vermont and Middlebury threatened once but the booters kicked out of danger.

The line-up:

VERMONT		MIDDLEBURY
Robinson	l.e.	Valois
Palmer	l.e.	Gruggle
Sirois	l.e.	McNary
Kropper	l.t.	Wilson
	l.t.	Perry
Burstein	l.g.	Wright
Parks	l.g.	Keenan
Levine	c.	Bedell
	c.	Whitman
Scutakes	r.g.	Hasseltine
Mace	r.g.	Allen
O'Keefe	r.g.
Nilsen	r.t.	Huntington
Damon	r.t.	Wilson
Segal	r.e.	Webber
	r.e.	Hoyt
	r.e.	Maynard
Donnelly	q.b.	Johnson
Lyman	q.b.
Halligan	l.h.b.	Guarnaccia
DeRose	r.h.b.	Willis
	r.h.b.	McLaughlin
	r.h.b.	Jacobs
Robbins	f.b.	McLeod

Score by periods	1	2	3	4
Vermont	0	0	6	0	6
Middlebury	0	0	6	0	6

Touchdowns, made by Segal, Guarnaccia.

Referee—Young, North Adams
Umpire—O'Brien, Holy Cross
Linesman—Johnson, Rutland
Field Judge—Gosway, Pittsfield

Tailoring of all kinds.
Dry Cleaning and Pressing.
O'HARA'S
170 BANK ST. PHONE 567-W

White sweater versus green blazer has long been a debatable question in W A A Council. A decision was recently made, however, in favor of the blazer, which will be awarded to any senior or junior who has earned twelve hundred points, who has played in two first teams, who has shown good sportsmanship, and who possesses health and good posture. The U V M. will be made smaller and enclosed within a design. Marion Bachus, Margaret Corbin, Marion Everest and Lavra Smith will be the first to wear the new blazers.

SINNERS OF '32 TREMBLE DURING JUDGMENT DAY

Hall A of the Medical Building was overflowing with members of all classes Friday evening, November 16 when the class of 1931 conducted Judgment Day for delinquent Freshman women. About twelve Freshmen were brought before the assembly for various misdemeanors. The previous sins of the many Freshmen were accounted for. Estabel Perelman was judge of the occasion, assisted by eleven efficient black robed jury members. Clever punishments were inflicted and strange sentences imposed.

The results of the Sophomores' decisions will be seen, carried out by some Freshmen per order of the jury.

The class of 1932, as a whole showed good spirit and took its medicine cheerfully.

Sophomore women are requested to make appointments for health conferences to be held the last two weeks in November and the first week in December.

The
UNIVERSITY STORES
Make a Specialty of
CHRISTMAS CARDS AND GIFT SUGGESTIONS
With the University Seal
These are particularly appropriate for University students to give and receive

Frank and Ernest : : : : : : By BRIGGS

OLD GOLD
The Smoother and Better Cigarette
. . . not a cough in a carload
© P. Lorillard Co., Est. 1760

PRINCETON LEADING EASTERN ELEVEN

[illegible] evening down at [illegible] Street. The [illegible] Lyman A. [illegible] and [illegible] Osterhus [illegible] Samuel [illegible] and Leigh [illegible] Burlington.

[illegible] a banquet was [illegible] Vermont in honor of [illegible] Dr. E. E. Clark acted [illegible] Of the doctors present [illegible] E. Johnson, and A. B. Law [illegible] Dr. E. E. Metcalf had [illegible] in behalf of the [illegible] E. A. Conklin who [illegible] and a speech which caused [illegible] of the whole [illegible] hapter.

[illegible] suggested for the initiates.

The Phi Chi Medical Fraternity is the largest of the purely medical fraternities in the world, having 56 active chapters all in class A Medical [illegible] It has 14,000 members, of whom 2,000 are active members.

[illegible] Big Ten conference gridiron title was nulled Saturday afternoon by a powerful Wisconsin eleven which [illegible] the Iowa eleven by a [illegible] to 0 score.

Harvard and Holy Cross each [illegible] failed to break through each other's line and the game ended in a scoreless tie. During the last minutes of play the Crimson gained a first down on the [illegible] Harvard then tried a long forward pass but the Holy Cross line forced it over and Holy Cross was thrown for a loss on the fourth down. Holy Cross took the ball on its own four [illegible] and Clancy punted out of danger just as the final whistle sounded.

Further scores of games played last Saturday:

Springfield 12, Providence 0.
Williams 40, Amherst 15.
Army 32, Carleton 5.
Brown 20, New Hampshire 0.
Colgate 30, Syracuse 8.
Boston College, 24, Canisius 0.
Pennsylvania 34, Columbia 7.
Dartmouth 25, Cornell 0.
Harvard 0, Holy Cross 0.
Wesleyan 12, Bowdoin 7.

Alpha of Phi Chi Holds Formal Initiation and Banquet

Harriers Lose Meet at Middlebury 36-19

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible] (M) and Cody (M) failed to finish.

POINT SCORE

Middlebury	Vermont
1	1
3	4
6	5
7	8
9	10
27	28

Winning time—Wilder, Vt., 16' 16".
Timers—Coach Aldrich, Vermont; Prof. Cady, Middlebury; Prof. Swett, Middlebury.
Scorer—E. N. Lawrence.

Vermont 6, Middlebury 6
Conn. Aggies 24, R. I. Aggies 0.
Tufts 31, Mass. Aggies 6
Princeton 12, Yale 2
N. Y. U. 27, Missouri 6
Hamilton 8, Union 6
Rochester 37, Rensselaer 6
Rutgers 7, Lehigh 3
Carnegie Tech 27, Notre Dame 7.
Bucknell 0, Washington and Jefferson 0
Illinois 40, Chicago 0
Iowa State 7, Kansas 0.
Wisconsin 13, Iowa 0.
Navy 58, Loyola 0
Georgia Tech 33, Alabama 13
Michigan 3, Michigan State 0.

R. O. T. C. OFFICERS GET MARKSMANSHIP MEDALS

R O T C Battalion of the University of Vermont had, for the first time this year, a passing review on the [illegible] campus, 7:30 A.M. Friday, November 16. Under the directorship of Joseph F Lechnyr the R. O. T. C. Band played a few marches with a [illegible] that set a lively marchers cadence for the dough boys to [illegible] by.

A special feature of the exercises of the morning was the presentation, by Colonel Black, of marksmanship medals to the cadets who qualified at Camp Devens, Mass., during the last summer. Those from the University of Vermont made a very commendable showing. Fred Robbins was the highest point rifle sharpshooter in the camp.

The presentations made are as follows:

Rifle sharpshooter:
Fred E. Robbins
Rifle marksman:
Rex Stewart
Herman J. Kropper
Warren H. Dodge
Lyle F. Peterson
Robert M. Averill
Pistol sharpshooter (dismounted):
Lee C. Morgan
Pistol marksman (dismounted):
Robert M. Averill
Fred E. Robbins
Austin W. Phelon
Keith G. Hooker

Senior Riding Class at Fort Ethan Allen is postponed because of the installation of a new heating plant at the fort. The class is expected to begin in about two weeks.

Beginning next week a course in [illegible] will be held in the gymnasium on Monday and Wednesday at four o'clock. Freshmen and Sophomores taking this course will be excused from physical education on [illegible] days.

Some girls are getting pretty athletic the way they make these football boys fall.—Bearcat.

Following an examination last Thursday on Scouting and Patroling the Sophomores will immediately begin a new phase of military known as Musketry.

Freshmen have already started indoor range practice and will continue until the Christmas holidays at which time the freshmen members for the varsity rifle squad will be chosen wholly from their scores attained on the indoor range.

Manager Wardwell of the varsity rifle team announces that a schedule has been completed for fifteen matches with other colleges and universities throughout the country.

TUXEDOS FOR RENT

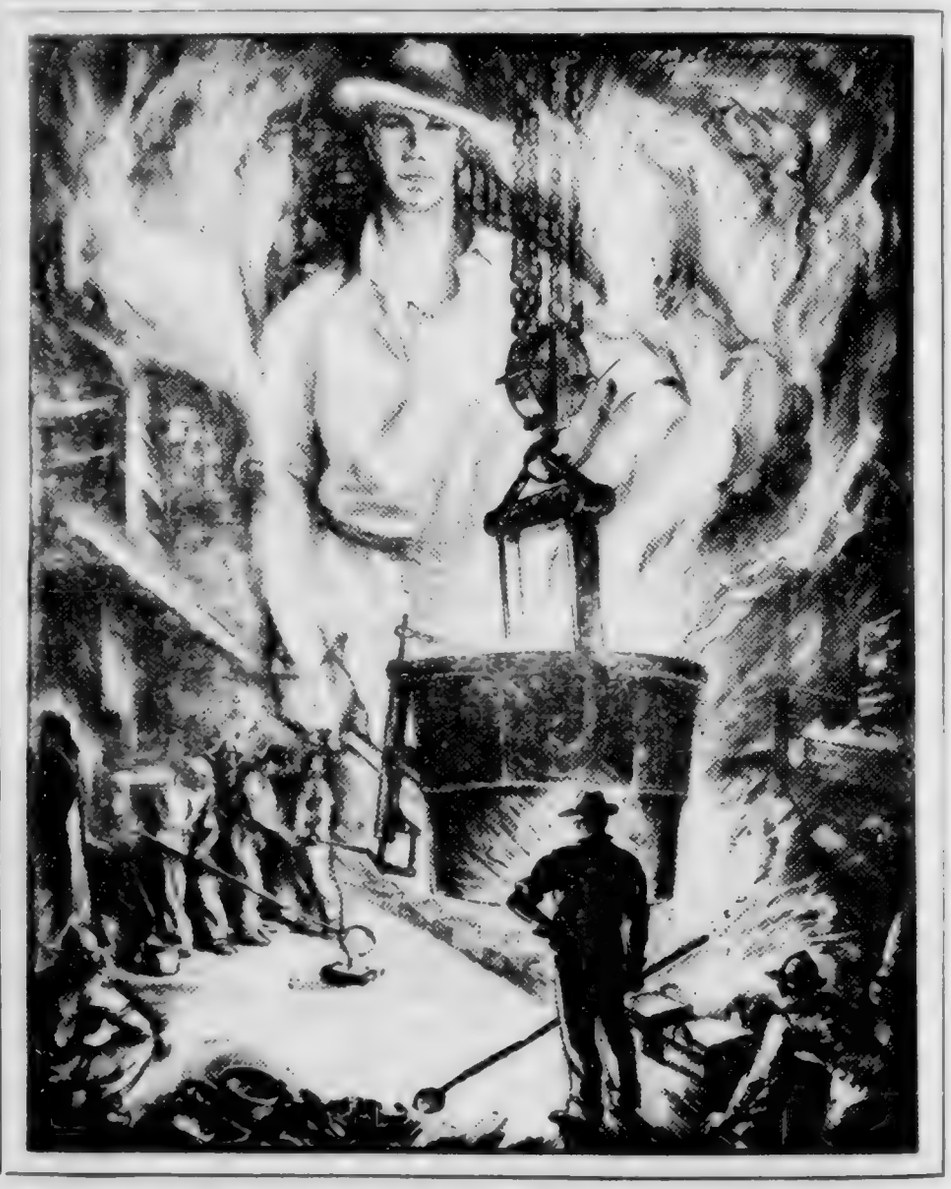
We have a large number of Tuxedos to rent for the Military Ball or other dress affairs.

Price $3.00

HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

U. V. M. STUDENTS
For real service and [illegible] and pure home [illegible]
Stop at the
Burlington Sweet Shop
Cor Main & Church
or Candyland
101 Church Street

Don't Experiment with your Appearance



For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT
OUR STORE IS THE
Charter House
OF BURLINGTON

The character of the suits and overcoats tailored by Charter House will earn your most sincere liking.

MILES & PERRY CO.
"Quality Clothiers"
Established 1886

Mould the man first, then the metal

CARNEGIE developed the steel industry by first developing his men.

The Bell System is growing faster than ever before in its history and this growth, like the steel growth, is based on the development of men.

Today, in the telephone industry, men in supervisory positions must coordinate many and varied factors. For example, before locating a new central office, population trends are studied. While it is being built, telephone apparatus is planned, made, delivered and installed on orderly schedule.

But more basic than all this, the executive shows leadership by his insight into the human equation and by the sympathy and understanding with which he adapts individual to job, moulding his men first.

BELL SYSTEM
A nation-wide system of 18,500,000 inter-connecting telephones

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VT., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1928 — NUMBER 18

SATCHEL CARRIERS MEET CATAMOUNTS

All-star Medic Eleven to Contest Varsity at Centennial Field Saturday—Many Former Stars in Line-up

LAST HOME APPEARANCE OF 1928 FOOTBALL TEAM

Vermont faces a team, not on its regular schedule, this Saturday at Centennial Field when an all-star Medic team will buck up against the Cats. This aggregation of prescriptioners is made up of former college stars, some of them being of note. The game should be a pleasing one to watch, for it will be interesting to see how former college stars can team up together.

The "butchers" have been holding practice now for over a week under the eagle eye of Dr. J. A. Jenney, who was a former Notre Dame star. Assisting him are Tully of Dartmouth, at present assistant coach at Vermont and All-American end while cavorting for the big green, also "Wink" Winchenbach, one of Vermont's best linemen for years is doing his share of the work.

At the Medical College a great deal of pep is being shown toward this game and the day of the game the "pill tossers" will hold a peerade from the Medical Building to the field of battle headed by a "Brass Band." The M. D.'s will take their stand on the south side of the field and will have special songs and cheers, being led by the almighty Freddie Crump, one-time yodeler of Witchika Falls Texexas.

The seats of honor will be held by all the doctors of Burlington at this affair and there is expected to be seen some old college spirit by the "old grads."

The Medics are putting this thing over big and plenty of entertainment will be afforded all. Manager "Flip" Kennedy, Holy Cross, with his capable

(Continued on page 4)

CYNIC EDITOR ATTENDS PRESS CONVENTION

Vermont was represented at the fourth annual convention of the National College Press Association, held at Purdue University last Friday and Saturday, by Robert M. Tracy, editor of the Cynic. Over fifty delegates from twenty-nine different states were present, including both managers and editors, and was the largest convention of its kind ever held in this country.

The purpose of the convention was to discuss problems connected with the work, including the desirability of a national news bureau and the syndicated "Campus Pictorial."

President Elliott, of Purdue, welcomed the delegates, pointing out the desirability of press freedom and the responsibility entailed in utilizing this freedom. News Wires, Editorials, News Organization, Campus Pictorial and a National News Bureau were subjects of discussion in the afternoon session by the editorial group, the business managers' group having similar topics.

A banquet was given in the evening at the University and was followed by talks by George Ade, nationally known humorist; Barton Rees Payne, Indiana's second James Whitcomb Riley; the editor of the Indianapolis Star, whose paper won the Pulitzer prize last year and Dr. E. C. Elliott, president of the University.

The convention closed Saturday after adopting a constitution and electing officers for the coming year.

SOPHOMORE WOMEN!

All women wishing to scrub grind editor of the Ariel should report next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock to Phoebe Flint and Priscilla Campbell at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. To continue the work next year it is necessary that a large number should turn out.

WARREN A. DODGE
Chairman of Military Ball

CONCERT TO BE GIVEN BY COLLEGE STUDENTS

Professor Bennett to Head Concert Given by Local Students in Honor of Franz Schubert, Noted Composer

Franz Schubert, the Austrian composer, whose death occurred 100 years ago, is being honored by both America and Europe. In the composer's life of thirty-one years, he gave to the world more than 1,000 compositions and all the nations have joined in his praise. Vienna, which was at first indifferent lauded him to the fullest measure. Austrian authorities, assisted by Mayors of the largest German cities, laid laurel wreaths upon his grave. Local leaders have organized programs for the observance of Schubert Week in America.

A memorial Schubert concert, sponsored by Prof. H. G. Bennett, will be given at Ira Allen Chapel Sunday, November 25, at 4:15 in the afternoon. The program will consist of numbers by the Women's Glee Club, Double Quartet, Men's Glee Club Quartet and two instrumental trios. Miss Hazel Ladd will be the soloist and Professor Bennett will accompany at the organ.

The Women's Glee Club Double Quartet consists of Hazel Ladd, Doris Duprat, Elizabeth Howe, Margaret Corbin, Hope Grant, Dorothy Nash, Winona Spencer and Katherine Skinner.

The members of the Men's Glee Club are Raymond Towne, Edwin Davis, Homer Sheffield and Harrison Goddard.

A Schubert Centenary Concert will be given by Prof. H. G. Bennett, organist, Miss Hazel Ladd, soprano, Miss Julia Waterman, violinist, Mr. Glenn Aiken, violoncellist, Mr. Robert Jenks, flutist, the Women's Glee Club Double Quartet and the Men's Glee Club Quartet next Sunday, November 25 at 4.15 p.m. in the Ira Allen Chapel. The concert is free and open to the public. The program is as follows:

Symphony in B Minor (Unfinished)
Allegro moderato
Andante con moto
Mr. Bennett

The Lord Is My Shepherd
Women's Glee Club Double Quartet

Andante con moto from Symphony in C Major
Miss Waterman, Mr. Aiken, Mr. Bennett

Ave Maria
Miss Ladd

Minuet from Symphony in B Flat Major
Miss Waterman, Mr. Jenks, Mr. Bennett

In the Deep doth Dwell the Light, from "Rosamunde"
The Men's Glee Club Quartet

Marche Militaire
Mr. Bennett

Professor Jenks spoke Tuesday afternoon in Barre before the Woman's Club on "Are Our Schools Worth What They Cost." On Tuesday evening he spoke on the same subject before the Woman's Club of Montpelier and on Thursday before the Parent-Teachers' Association of Cabot.

QUINTET MATERIAL APPEARS FAVORABLE

Six Letter Men Return to the Squad, Giving Coach Cayward an Excellent Nucleus for His First Varsity Team

MORE MATERIAL WILL REPORT AFTER FOOTBALL

After nearly a week of preliminary training the varsity basketball squad is starting to round into form. Coach Cayward has had a chance to glance over most of his material and in about ten days should have a team ready for the pre-Christmas games.

There are four letter men of last year's squad out now and as soon as the football season comes to a close Halligan, one of last year's regular forwards, and Palmer, a substitute guard, will report for practice. As far as their physical condition is concerned, they will be in tip-top shape and should work in with the squad nicely. Letter men of last year who are out now are Captain Estabrook and Manning, guards, and Pike and Wallace, forwards. After the first cut which was made Tuesday night Morse, Price, Pouch, Mackay, Stevens, Hawley, Barter, Fiske, Scutakes, Bernstein, Tobin, Agel and Sargent also remain. Of these, Sargent looks like the best bet for the open center berth, although he is hard pressed by Agel. Both saw service last year on the yearling team. Agel is also valuable as a forward. Bernstein looks especially good at forward. He played for the 1930 frosh and was high scorer on that team. Morse is another clever forward. Mackay, who played for the second team last year, but who was promoted toward the end of the season to the first string, and Tobin, of last year's freshmen, are the best guard prospects. Lyman, a second team forward, and DeRose, a guard with the 1930 yearlings, will also be out after the Thanksgiving Day football game.

The schedule is reaching completion and will be released by Manager Gustafson in about a week.

WARLIKE DECORATIONS FEATURE FORMAL DANCE

Implements of war and flags will serve as the background for the Military Ball, which will take place in the University Gymnasium this evening from eight-thirty to one o'clock. The martial aspect will be further carried out by the presence of the seniors in the advanced military course in resplendent new uniforms. The less bellicose men in the college will appear in tuxedos.

Particularly attractive programs have been provided by the committee, carrying out a red, white and blue color scheme. The covers are red leather, the fly-leaves are blue, and the inside pages white, and the whole is bound by a tassel of the national colors. On one page of the program is reproduced a stirring war scene, the work of a Vermont student-artist.

Colonel and Mrs. F. F. Black and Captain and Mrs. W. E. Lauer will be chaperones, and they will be assisted in the receiving line by F. F. O'Keefe, Miss Katherine Bassett, W. A. Dodge and Miss Frances French. Music will be furnished by the Black Panther Orchestra of Middlebury. The tickets, which sell for four dollars, are limited to 200.

The Military Ball is given each year by Scabbard and Blade, the honorary military society. The committee in charge of the function this year is composed of W. A. Dodge, chairman, J. C. Hyland, B. W. Gustafson, L. C. Morgan and R. M. Averill.

COLLEGE PLAY

All men who wish to take part in the mob scene of "The Devil's Disciple," the fall college play, should report this afternoon at four o'clock in the Old Mill Chapel.

PROFESSOR METCALF TO ADDRESS PSYCH CLUB

Professor J. T. Metcalf of the psychology department will address the members of the John Dewey Club on the "Psychological Aspects of Criminology" at their next meeting which will be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Vermonters' Club house on Summit Street.

The meeting next Tuesday evening will be the third for this year. Sessions are held every two weeks. At the first meeting there was election of officers and a talk on evolution. At the second meeting Assistant Dean Swift spoke on the relation of mathematics to philosophy.

Great interest in the club is being shown by the students this year. There were about 50 students who attended the last meeting two weeks ago and heard the talk given by Professor Swift.

There are no requirements for membership other than an interest in psychology or philosophy. Everyone is invited to attend the next meeting. Refreshments will be served.

DONAHUE IS CHAIRMAN OF ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Jenks Continues as Secretary—Headmasters' Council Suggests Reorganization of Basketball Tournament

Reorganization was one of the chief things accomplished at the regular monthly meeting of the University Athletic Council, which was held on Friday, November 16. Prof. Donahue was elected chairman of the Council, while Prof. Jenks was continued in office as secretary. The revised budget of the Athletic Association was presented by Prof. Jenks, chairman of the Finance Committee, and was approved after considerable discussion. Those who attended the meeting are Profs. Donahue, Jenks, and Butterfield, Dr. Brown, J. H. Patrick, Graduate Manager Mayforth, and Student Managers A. R. Birchard, F. R. Otto, B. W. Gustafson, and W. A. Rogers.

A letter was at hand from the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont, a new organization, regarding the basketball tournament situation. It seems that the schools and their officials are dissatisfied with the present method of running them. The letter set forth the following suggestions:

1. Let two tournaments be held each year, under the same management, and either at the same time and place or at different times and places. Let the high schools of the State be divided into two classes, those with more than 100 students and those with less. High schools of the smaller class may be allowed to take part in the tournament of the larger schools if they wish.

2. The receipts of the basketball tournament should not be used for making up the deficit incurred in the track tournament, since this is unfair to some schools that are not interested in track. The surplus from the basketball tournament might be used instead for defraying the travelling expenses of the competing teams.

3. It would be a good idea to let the tournament rotate.

These suggestions were put up to the University Athletic Association for discussion. A committee will be appointed by the chairman of the council to consider the possibility of adopting any or all of these changes.

The meeting next considered the bill presented by Mr. Mayforth, chairman of a special committee, for the painting and repairs to the grand stand, amounting to $1,466.52. The bill was approved, and money was appropriated for giving a much needed additional coat of paint to the north stand. This work will be done in the spring.

A football game between the varsity and the medics was authorized to be played on November 24.

A delegation, consisting of Prof. Nicholson, last year's manager, Unsworth, and Manager Hall, presented the council with the hockey situation. It was decided to authorize a hockey team, but there were insufficient funds to finance it. Arrangements are be-

(Continued on page 3)

VERMONT MAY HAVE STUDENT MEMORIAL

University Alumni Council Starts Agitation for Erection of Much-Needed Structure on Campus

LARGE FUND ALREADY TO BE TURNED OVER

It was voted at the meeting of the Alumni Council of the University of Vermont, held at the Ethan Allen Club house Saturday morning, that the members of the council attempt to ascertain between now and the June meeting whether the alumni body would favor the inauguration of a definite program of raising funds for a student memorial building at the University. If agreed upon, the building would be designed to furnish a common meeting place for the students and probably would house the offices of undergraduate activities.

In 1918, a fund was started at the University to build a student memorial building in memory of the University of Vermont students who lost their lives in the World War. Since then about $80,000 has been pledged toward that building. President Bailey has offered to turn over these pledges if the Council desires to go ahead and raise from the alumni body the additional amount needed for the building.

It has been felt for some time past by many of the alumni that something was needed to improve the spirit at the college. In a report to the Alumni Council about a year ago by John H. Patrick, chairman of the committee on undergraduate activities, it was suggested that one of the difficulties to be overcome at the University was the lack of a central meeting place which would furnish headquarters for student activities, including offices for the college paper, the sports managers, student clubs, and a central eating place and a hall which could be used for meetings of the entire student body when desired. This suggestion met with much favor from members of the Alumni.

It is hoped, that in case the alumni undertake this project, that it will be possible to finance the construction of the building within two or three years, using the steadily growing income from the Loyalty Fund to pay for it over a long period of years. In that way, the students would have use of the building and the pledges from the rapidly increasing alumni body would pay for it.

James D. Brennan of Boston, chairman of the Alumni Council, informed the council that President Bailey had assured him the University would make no further call for money from the alumni as such, thus leaving the field open to the Council to collect pledges to the Loyalty Fund.

No definite action will be taken until the June meeting during the Alumni Reunion.

SLADE COTTAGE DORM WILL HOUSE 23 CO-EDS

Latest reports from Slade dormitory indicate that it will be ready for occupancy in February. Although this structure seemed to have an unusually slow start, the work has been going forward with much speed, this fall, under the supervision of Contractor Nichols of Essex Junction. Four brick walls already stand in place, and the roof is nearing completion.

Instead of the one customary living room, this dormitory will have three, with French doors between. On the second floor a kitchenette will be located, which will be for the use of the girls. Slade will house 23 girls, who will board at Robinson Hall. The woodwork will be light and the side walls painted in a light shade. It is the wish of the decorator to furnish the house by reproduction of antiques.

The building was the gift of Mrs. William Gery Slade, who bequeathed $50,000 to the University last spring in memory of her daughter, Harriet Slade Crombie.

The plans were made by the firm of McKim, Mead and White, the architects who designed Ira Allen Chapel.

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

LEIGHTON A. SANDERS, '29
Managing Editor

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

Lawrence O. Clayton, '30 — News Editors Hesrath M. Macomber, '30 — Arthur D. Stearns, '29

Columnists

Hank Fuller, '30 — George E. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors
Elizabeth B. Hager, '29
Mary A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Odine A. Mortimento, '30

Feature Editor
George M. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Seymour Salbenson, '29

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Chase, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Warren M. Hurt, '30

Women's Athletic Editor
Constance Holden, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Janet Goodrich, '30
Florence Campbell, '30
Lyon Richardson, '30
John Waterman, '30
George R. Brush, '31

Douglas I. Stewart, '31
America Giorla, '30
E. A. R. Germain, '31
Donald B. Coburn, '31
Philip G. Andrews, '30

Louis Fleman, '31
Richard Lowrie, '31
L. M. Foster, '31
C. M. Crockett, '31

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

Curtis C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur B. Barnard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jones, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Jay M. Howe, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Fuller, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year. Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 265 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt

Vol. 47 — November 23, 1928 — No. 18

VERMONT STUDENT MEMORIAL

The possibility of having a Student Memorial at Vermont came like a bolt out of the clear sky. Undoubtedly, only a fraction of one per cent of all the students in the University had any inkling that such a structure as a Student Memorial might grace our campus before perusing an article to that effect which appeared in the Monday morning issue of the Burlington Free Press. This came as the result of a recent meeting of the Alumni Council.

First suggestion of erecting a student memorial building on the Vermont campus was a proposal on the part of the students back in 1918 who wanted the building not only as a matter of convenience but also in memory of the University of Vermont students who lost their lives in the World War. A large amount of money has since 1918 been pledged toward that building, and more could be easily raised if the project takes definite form.

And the project should assume definite shape for such a building is needed on the campus. The need for it is felt by students as well as Alumni. As conditions exist at the present time, the college newspaper headquarters are in cramped quarters; there is no adequate meeting place for the entire student body or for each class when the occasion arises for debates and conventions; the sports managers do not have regular offices in which to carry out their manifold tasks; it is a difficult proposition to find a suitable meeting place for the several student clubs; and above all the students find themselves sadly inconvenienced with no central eating place.

Such a building as a Student Memorial is designed to house the offices of undergraduate activities and to fulfill the need of a common meeting place. If such a structure should only serve as a central eating place for students then it might be said of it that Vermont was sadly in need of one. Since the abandonment of Commons Hall in 1925, the student body as a whole has felt the necessity of an adequate and centrally located eating place.

With a student memorial to serve as the common meeting place of the students in more ways than one, there would be a tendency toward a more unified spirit, a something which the Alumni from outside believe is lacking among the student body. Along with a united student body would come a certain feeling of loyalty to the University, a feeling which in its turn would tend to promote the attainment of the aims and ideals of the college. A student memorial is a godsend to any campus, no matter in what light a person takes it.

Colleges all over the United States, both large and small, have their student union or student memorial buildings. They serve as definite a purpose on a campus as does any other building.

News of the suggestion of such a building on the Vermont campus is particularly gratifying to most student ears in that it shows the Alumni are working quietly for the benefit of their Alma Mater and are looking out for the welfare of those individuals matriculated at that institution.

It is hoped that the proposition of the Alumni Council meets with the favor of all Vermont Alumni and that definite plans will be made to materialize in a few years in the Vermont Student Memorial.

WOMEN DEBATERS!!

There will be a try-out for the women interested in debating Monday, November 26, at 4 p. m. in the Old Mill Chapel.

Be prepared to give a five-minute speech on either side of the question Resolved, That co-education is a success.

Dorothy Cottrell, '29, and Beverly Householder, '30, are representing Feminine Club at the convention which is being held at Wheaton College this week-end.

Plans are being made for a Y. W. C. A. home meeting to be held in the near future.

Students of the Education Department are observing at the different schools in the city this week. Their regular practice teaching begins the first week in December.

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the Cynic:

"Americanism is opportunity — opportunity by which each individual shall freely grow, shall freely worship, shall freely speak and shall freely advance."—From J. M. Lonergan's address at the American Legion Convention in San Antonio, Texas.

"There never was, and I doubt if there ever will be, a 100 per cent American," Mr. Lonergan continued.

"To be a 100 per cent American an individual would need the blood, the traditions, the aspirations and the genius of every race in the civilized world.

"No heart is big enough to beat in full accord with every race which makes up America.

"To foster and perpetuate a 100 per cent Americanism does not mean a 100 per cent accomplishment in the individual. It means a 100 per cent accomplishment in the mass.

"Americanism is not language.

"Americanism is not education.

"Americanism is not religion.

"Americanism is not social betterment."

Does this not put a different light on our so-called foreign population? True Americanism embraces all peoples. Not only English, but also Irish; not only French, but also German; not only Austrians, but also Slavs; not only Greeks, but also Italians, not only Gentiles, but also Jews. One hundred per cent of all peoples! America is founded on the principle that all men are created equal. This is true if taken in the altruistic sense, for, only a genius excels in many things. Perhaps the shabby "foreign" looking man beside you on the street is an accomplished musician who has come to this country because Europe has no place for him.—Is he to be looked down upon?

Everyone has something to give the world, if the world would only stop just a moment in its hurry and bustle to get nowhere. If you profess to be 100 per cent American, give the other fellow a chance. Americanism means the opportunity for every man and woman in sympathy with human liberty and human rights to come here and be welcome.

Are we 100 per cent Americans? Do we see the best in all nationalities who contribute in making the United States what it is, and try to assimilate it?.....Or are we 100 per cent Americans—the type who say with swelling chest, "My ancestors came over on the Mayflower. I am a true American."

Let's think about it.

VERMONTER.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. VILLIUS VALTRO

I. Volumes, indeed, have been written about any one of Shakespeare's plays. Volumes there are purporting to be records of Shakespeare's thoughts in writing the play. Bitter enmities have been aroused over one character in a play.

But do you think that all this, or any of it, was in Shakespeare's mind as he wrote? For verily, I do not.

II. His extreme subtleties are either incidental or non-existent. For men, in pondering over words, find in them something not there.

III. And that has been done always, and will be; and that is the cause of misfortunes.

IV. Never trust a hidden meaning; forget it.

V. Art is the doing of anything well and beautifully.

VI. But beauty to one may be ugliness to another.

VII. Then do what you think is beautiful and if you alone think it so, then it is, at least, art to you.

VIII. And if some others appreciate it, then you should be satisfied.

IX. And if all appreciate it, it is popular at least.

X. However, the appreciation of a few is more to be treasured than that of a mob, for whatever is alike in all of us is not the best part of us.

XI. Be not dismayed if some treasured work of yours is like one made long before. For there was never any thought so unique that it occurred but once.

XII. Epitaph on an unfinished student of Vermont:

Here lie in some state of decomposition the bones of one who came to Vermont thinking that a university was a place to study and learn. He never lost the idea. And, as freaks are always eliminated, so he was. Stranger shed a tear and burn a math book on his grave.

XIII. Wherefore Latin and Greek? Why not Anglo Saxon? or Arabic? or Gaelic? For the frame of our language is Saxon and the Arabic literature is great; so indeed are the Celtic literatures.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

To the Editor of the True Story Magazine

(Continued from the last issue)

I was a little startled and began to frame a decisive objection, but then I reflected that I was only his guest and if he chose to have some cultured young girl acquaintances accompany him, what right had I to refuse! It might even afford me an opportunity to discuss the variations of the Shakespearean sonnet with one who appreciated that immortal author.

"Where do these young ladies live?" I asked.

"What young ladies?"

"The ones you said you were going to pick—to have accompany us, of course."

"How should I know?" he demanded.

While I was pondering over how he could ask their mothers' permission without knowing where they lived we reached Burlington, and seeing two girls strolling down the lower end of Church Street, he swung the machine around a dummy and over in their direction, saying, "There's a coupla mean mommas; we'll try 'em."

I was about to ask him just what his intentions were when he stopped alongside the curb, and poking his head out of the window, called, "Hello, girls, what's your hurry?"

They turned around and he beckoned to them. As they came over I could see that they were undeniably pretty, and from the manner in which they had tightly swathed themselves in their coats I recognized them as that type known as "flappers."

"We ridin' tonight?" asked my friend.

They looked us over. "Sure, I guess so."

"Get in the back, Hubert," said my companion.

"Why not let the young ladies sit together?" I inquired in an undertone. I was frightened at the thought of sitting in the back seat with a girl, unchaperoned.

"Don't be dumb!' he growled fiercely.

I got out and helped one of the young ladies into the back; then sat down in a flutter of excitement. The car started. I waited for an introduction, but none came. Finally, "We're the Gold Dust Twins," this from the driver, evidently meaning he and I.

"I guess you know us," explained the girl in front. "Minnie Kane and I'm Dot Bliss."

The preliminaries being over, my friend entwined one arm about the young lady who snuggled up close to him. The girl next to me, although I assure you I gave her no encouragement, drew herself up next to me and held her face near mine. I stared straight ahead. I couldn't understand it. Ask girls whom you don't even know to go riding with you, they accept with alacity and then even go so far as to force their attentions upon you. Yet after the first shock something within me, some hidden impulse, some hitherto unknown desire seemed to overwhelm me. I put my left arm around the girl's shoulder and drew her gently to me. She was not at all unwilling and the thrill that went through me as she lifted her sweet young face to mine was more than I can ever hope to describe. I was beside myself with a new ecstasy, a sort of feeling that I had never before known. I do not recall that the moon was especially favorable; rather, I believe that there was no moon that night. It was simply the birth of a new emotion within me caused by a girl, who, to use the common phrase, certainly was well acquainted with her cauliflower! Her lovely face was close to mine, her eyes formed dazzling liquid pools of mocking fire, her lips were arranged in an adorable pout—God! How could I, a mere man resist the temptation? I threw both arms around her, drew her to my manly bosom and burned her lips, cheeks, and forehead with kisses. My soul was in those kisses. I was her slave, her abject slave, and she my loving mistress.

"Boy friend, how you neck!" she exclaimed. "You sure did kid me with that Rip Van Winkle act in the beginning; I thought I was in for a dead night."

* * *

When I arrived at home about 1.30 a.m. I was weak, unnerved, but filled with a new and utterly pleasant feeling. I had a power; an irresistible, uncontrollable power. This was easily evident, for what else could account for a young maiden falling in love with me as soon as we sat down together in the car? I was a little alarmed to discover my hypnotic influence, but on the whole the sensation was most pleasant.

"Heavens! what a wonderful night!" I murmured.

"Call that a hot time? Why don't you elope if you're so keen on the femme?"

(To be continued)

The Periscope

Hoover to Latin-America on Warsh

Herbert Hoover, according to A dispatches, "sailed ... Maryland to meet the ... America and extend ... surance of the friend... United States for her ... publics on the Southern ... Corinto, Nicaragua, ... Hoover is expected to ...

Carrying a peace m... tleship to a country ... with our marines, some of whom ... died there in combat may look p... liar to the Latin-American mind. T... may still remember the villa... bombed by American airplanes. T... may remember we never declared ... on Nicaragua. Perhaps they ... think the preceding visit was all ... fun. They may look at the pres... one in the same light.

German Problems

"One will be able to speak of a r... solution of the reparation prob... only if it does not exceed Germa... economic capacity; if it enables ... fulfill our obligations by our ... economic power and without en... gering the standard of life of ... people," said Dr. Gustav Stresem... foreign minister, in a recent spe... before the Reichstag.

He also asked for evacuation ... the Rhineland and deplored the m... ner in which the foreign troops ... tered there celebrated Armistice ...

English Cut Debt Demands

Winston Churchill, Chancellor of ... Exchequer, recently stated that E... land would demand an amount ... reparations and allied indebted... sufficient to meet her indebtedness ... the United States. Since then it ... been learned that England will ac... even less than this.

Financiers close to the British ... ernment expect a readjustment of ... ments to the United States will ... made. They do not expect paym... will be continued over a period o... years.

Not so long ago a group of Am... can college professors suggested ... cellation of war debts. They w... ridiculed at the time. It seems ... though the politicians are about ... admit what the economists told t... long ago. Doubtless President C... idge will not be convinced.

Russian Recognition

Recognition of Soviet Russia ... again be discussed by the Senate ... will be brought up in connection ... the Kellogg anti-war treaty.

Secretary of State Kellogg has ... bitterly opposed to such a move. ... ator Borah, though not discussing ... situation at present, has for a ... time demanded recognition of ... Soviet government. Mr. Hoover's ... titude may be the determining f... in the action of the Senate.

Theoretically and practically R... should have been recognized ... ago. The Soviet régime has ... itself capable. However, its the... of government are obnoxious to ... of our law makers. Hence they r... to recognize the evident fact tha... government itself is stable. ... course has been detrimental bo... this country and to the U. S. ... It is to be hoped that Hoover ... prove himself more of a practical ... omist in dealing with this matter ... he was in his tariff speeches, in ... he put aside his knowledge ... preached straight party protectio... This situation gives Hoover an ... tunity to demonstrate his qualiti... a leader. Only regret can be fel... fails to work for Soviet recogni...

The Vestris Disaster

Investigation of the V... continues. Much testim... taken and the evidence ... seems to point to negli... part of the captain. The ... is bitterly attacking th... which United States At... H. Tuttle is conducting ... tion. The Daily News ... erican methods of trial ... of newspaper stunts. ... scandal."

The reference to A... procedure, if applied to ... the Ruth Snyder, Judd Gray af... absolutely justified ... however, if the British ... being influenced by th... Vestris was an Englis... Too, Coolidge's recent ... speech made anything ... pression in Europe.

NOTICE!!

Try-outs for property man... and make-up managers ... the plays will be held on Wedne... November 28, at one-thirty o... in 3 North College. At this ... Dorothy Cottrell will speak on ... duties of those offices, and it i... sential that all scrubs be pres...

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

... White and Rachel Skin... were guests at the chap... Saturday, November 17.
...nae held a meeting at the ...esday, November 20.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

... chapter plans to celebrate ...day of the fraternity as Alpha Iota Chapter at Mid... Tuesday, November 27.
...tmas Bazaar will be held ...monters' Club house Satur...on, December 8.
...ter served supper on Fri... to a large number of col... and townspeople, and ... good sum for the steadily ... house fund.
... informal dance will take ...ember 24, at the Vermonters'

PI BETA PHI

...rine McSweeney, Medic '29, ...interesting talk on the "Pos... of Women in Medicine" after ...r meeting Monday evening.
...arriage of Miss Ruth Lovell ... Warren Waters took place on ...r 17, 1928, at 8:30 p.m. at ... of the bride's parents, Mr. ... M. C. Lovell, Springfield, ... house was charmingly dec... with bankings of evergreen and ...ax baskets of white chrysanthe... and white satin ribbon. The ...ring service was performed by ...light.
... bride wore her mother's wed... gown of white brocaded satin, ...med with lace, and a veil caught ...with a band of pearls. Her bouquet ...was of white roses and lilies-of-the-...ley. The bride's attendants, Miss ...e McLaughlin, '30, maid of honor, ...d the Misses Elzbeth Billings, '28, ...d Carolyn Hyde, '28, U. V. M., Es...er Chandler, and Mrs. Ruth McNeil ...lesmaids, wore dresses in pastel ...ades of moire with huge tulle bows, ...d carried old fashioned nosegays.
The best man was Proctor Lovell, ...other of the bride, and the ushers ...ere John Merriman, Jack Bennett, ...rrin Griffith and Raymond Oosting.
Mrs. Waters was graduated from the ...iversity of Vermont in 1928, and ...lso attended Wheaton and Oberlin ...Colleges. Mr. Waters is a graduate ...of Springfield College and is now ...coaching athletics and doing Commu...nity Club work in Springfield, Vt. After a short honeymoon in Quebec, Mr. and Mrs. Waters will reside in Springfield.

ALPHA XI DELTA

The fall informal dance will be held ...at the Catholic Daughters rooms Sat...rday, November 24.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

A new chapter, Beta Gamma, has ...been installed at Whitman University ...at Walla Walla, Wash.

SIGMA GAMMA

The initiation of Helen Spaulding, ...'31 of Poultney, took place at the chapter rooms Thursday, November ...22.

KAPPA SIGMA

Alpha Lambda of Kappa Sigma an...nounces the pledging of Orson Jay, '32, ...of St. Albans, Vt.

SIGMA ALPHA CHI

Sigma Alpha Chi announces the ...pledging of Richard H. Cowles, '31, of ...Burlington and William A. Walker, ...also of Burlington.

TAU EPSILON PHI PLEDGE DANCE HELD SATURDAY

...Chapter of Tau Epsilon Phi ...informal pledge dance last ...day night at the Elks' Lodge. ...The affair was attended by 40 couples ...including several alumni. Dr. and ...Mrs. C. E. Braun chaperoned. The ...committee in charge was Frank Mazel, ...Maxwine, Dwight J. Bernstein, and ...Seymour I. Nathanson.

...Miss Miriam N. Marston, instructor ...of music at this University, presided ...at the entertainment held at the ...Women's Club last Tuesday. Miss ...Marston gave a short sketch of the ...musical works of Faure, Debussey, ...Ravel, and illustrated their char...acteristics by playing several of their ...compositions.

INTERCLASS DEBATE!!

The annual Sophomore-Freshman debate for the Cup will be held Tuesday, November 27, in the Old Mill Chapel, at 8 p. m.

A large attendance is desired since this will be the official opening of Vermont's home debating season.

REV. HAGER CONDUCTS CHAPEL SERVICE

The Rev. Charles Hager of Vergennes conducted the chapel services on Wednesday morning, November 21. During the past 25 years, he has been both an ardent student and interpreter of the Christian faith.

Rev. Hager began his sermon by quoting the 24th verse of the 7th chapter of the Gospel of St. Matthew. He then brought up the six deepest and most insistent questions that ever vexed the human mind. The first one was: What is man? What does he amount to? Of what importance is each individual? Of what importance are you? Life has gone on without you, and it will go on after you are gone. Yet, you must be of some importance. Question 2: What is the nature of the Universe? Is it mechanical or spiritual? Question 3: Why is life so difficult, so painful, so filled with suffering? Question 4: May life be considered good? Is there any way of deliverance through divine help? Question 5: Does death end all personal existence? Question 6: Is a belief of future heaven just a rainbow of dreams?

NEW MEMBERS ELECTED TO LITERARY MAGAZINE

At a recent meeting of the Board of the Vermont Literary Magazine Odino Martinetti, '30, and Mabel Freeman, '30, were elected assistant business managers and Priscilla Campbell, '30, was chosen as a contributing editor.

Martinetti is a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity, Intercollegiate Editor of the CYNIC, and a member of the 1930 Ariel board.

Mable Freeman belongs to Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity, is a member of Dramatic Club, and has served on several class committees.

Priscilla Campbell is an active contributor to the Literary Magazine; she is a member of the CYNIC board and of Blue Stockings.

Both men and women are urged to scrub on the managing side of the publication. Assistant managers for next year will be chosen solely on the basis of work done this year. The manager, or financial editor, is selected from the two assistants.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Jesse DuBois, '32, had to leave college because of a severe illness.

Three class plays are now being rehearsed. They are, respectively: the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman plays. Miss Estabelle Perelman is coaching the Junior production. Miss Frances Howley is directing the Sophomore, and Miss Lillian Cohen, the Freshman cast. Mrs. Pearl Brown is superintending all three productions.

Dean Hills of the Agricultural College has been attending the annual meeting of the American Association of Agricultural Colleges at Washington. Dean Hills is the president of the organization.

There will be a meeting of the Faculty Club Saturday evening at the Klifa Club. Prof. W. J. Wilkinson will speak on "Recent American Histories and Biographies." The hosts will be Professors Bassett, Jenks and Metcalf.

Prof. G. P. Burns spoke in St. Johnsbury Monday night before the Woman's Club on "Landscape Gardening."

Miss Sara Holbrook of the Education Department will speak before the Conference of the Public Education Association which meets in New York today.

VERMONT ALUMNUS AND PROFESSOR CONTRIBUTE TO BIOGRAPHICAL WORK

Write Sketches of Lives of Famous Americans for Newly Published British Dictionary of National Biography

George Gorham Groat, professor of economics at the University of Vermont and P. Orman Ray, U. V. M. '98 are contributors to the first authoritative dictionary of national biography published. Encyclopedias and dictionaries of biography abound, but none are comparable in either scope or scholarship to this British Dictionary of National Biography edited by Sir Leslie Stephen and Sir Sidney Lee.

The selection of names for a dictionary of biography offers greater difficulties in the United States than in European countries. The very term American is not free from ambiguities. To restrict the term to persons resident in the original colonies and to citizens of the United States by birth or naturalization, would exclude many individuals of foreign birth who have identified themselves with the country and contributed notably to its history. The committee of management of this dictionary decided against any such limitations. Three other restrictions, however, were adopted: first, that no living persons should have biographies in the dictionary; second, that no persons who had not lived in the territory now known as the United States should be eligible; and third, that no British officers serving in America after the colonies had declared their independence should appear in the dictionary.

Earlier collections of biographies stressed, naturally enough, the lives of soldiers, statesmen, and clergymen whose conspicuousness, aside from their services, made them objects of interest. Physical science, however, has increased immeasurably the "importance of the engineer, the technician, and the chemist in modern warfare; the new social sciences have bred ministering and administrative agents who now share the cure of souls; and even politicians now recognize the important rôle of the statistician and the economist in law-making. Within a half century, industry, science, and fine arts, and literature have produced men and women whose special significance is not indicated by such traditional designations as merchant, naturalist, artist, and author. The currents of American life and expression have both widened and deepened.

So far as knowledge permits the dictionary has endeavored through the help of its contributors to re-create and re-interpret the lines of the makers of American life and culture.

Tailoring of all kinds.
Dry Cleaning and Pressing.
O'HARA'S
170 BANK ST. PHONE 197-W

U. V. M. STUDENTS
For real service and high quality and pure home-made candies.
Stop at the
Burlington Sweet Shop
Cor Main & Church Tel. 591
or Candyland
101 Church Street Tel. 984

Donahue Is Chairman of Athletic Council

(Continued from page 1)

ing made to raise the necessary money.

Some basketball posters of a new type were displayed. These are a colored action poster, showing one or more men in action on a basketball floor, and are put out by the Mercury Poster Service. Manager Gustafson deserves a great deal of credit for giving the University an innovation like this. About 550 of them are now in the hands of the printer for the coming season.

Rules of Basketball to be Interpreted

There are possibilities that a basketball rules interpretation meeting will be held here in the near future. Such a meeting will be beneficial in that it will give all official high school and college coaches a chance to get the right interpretation of trouble some rules in which changes frequently occur from year to year. Free discussion could take place and matters that have bothered could be aired out and explained.

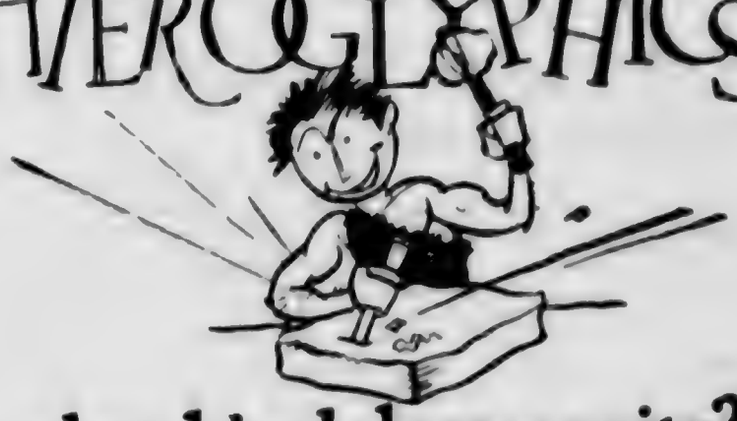
If such a meeting is held it will probably come on the afternoon of December 15. At that time two teams picked from the varsity squad will demonstrate the rules for the benefit of those present. In the evening will be the McGill game which will give a still further chance to get an interpretation of basketball rules. Oswald Tower of the Officials' League of Boston will probably be at the meeting and will do the interpreting.

ARIEL NOTICE!!

All those who have not yet turned in the proofs of their pictures for the Ariel should do so at once. Proofs should be brought to either E. H. Powell at the Delta Psi House or to R. P. Billings at the Sigma Phi Place.

This year, as last, the Y. W. C. A. will hold a dance directly after the Dramatic Club plays, in the University gymnasium, shortly before Christmas vacation. Until last year, these events were held on separate dates, the Y. W. dance following the society's bazaar. With the increasing number of social events, it has been difficult to find open dates, with the result that these two societies have combined their social activities into one evening.

Dean Swift is in the hospital following an operation for appendicitis.



Don't Experiment with your Appearance
1826 QUALITY LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
by
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

Prophecy—
On some rainy day, you will turn down your hat and thank God for John Hancock.
John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston, Massachusetts

The
UNIVERSITY STORES
Make a Specialty of
CHRISTMAS CARDS AND GIFT SUGGESTIONS
With the University Seal
These are particularly appropriate for University students to give and receive

HIEROGLYPHICS

what kind do you write?

IF the profs find it hard to read your hieroglyphics, they really can't be blamed if they give you lower marks than you may think you deserve.

Take no chances. Get a Remington Portable and let it do your writing for you. It will speed up your writing and the full legibility and neatness of typewritten work cannot fail to help your grades.

Remington Portable—the recognized leader in sales and popularity—is the smallest, lightest, most compact and most dependable portable with standard keyboard. Carrying case only 4 inches high. Weighs 8½ pounds, net.

Let us explain to you our easy payment terms.

Remington Portable

A HISTORY OF THE MUSEUM

G. Foote, '29

PART VII

Editor's Note: This article and the one below it are taken from a different set of articles than that of the previous ones.

The Museum Building is open Tuesday Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 1 o'clock to 5. Keys to the building may be obtained at the library desk upon request.

In 1925 a room was added to the west end of the museum which has come to be known as the Cannon Room. The purpose of this room was to house the Oriental collection given to the University by Henry LeGrand Cannon, a collection of things Japanese, Indian, and Persian, estimated for quality and value as the best in America. Mr. Cannon spent many years and much of his wealth in collecting these exquisite hand-wrought symbols of Oriental nations. The conditions under which he gave this collection were that it be kept in a room built as nearly as possible after the architectural style of India.

The room is not a show place exhibiting curios. A man with love of true art made the selection and the same artistic taste is shown in the setting and arrangement. Many yards of royal blue velour cover the high walls. Across the ceiling are stretched lengths of dark blue Indian fabric, embroidered with flowers and foreign designs in yellow silk, sparkling with a myriad of tiny circular mirrors. From this tapestry hang brass mosque lamps and an old Persian lamp of porcelain. On the floor is a valuable rug woven in Persian patterns of blending shades of yellow on a back ground of dark blue.

Under a canopy made by draping the full skirt of an East Indian dancing girl hanging on heavy brass temple chains of hand-wrought links and grotesque animal figures, is an Indian swinging seat piled with pillows embroidered with gold thread in Arabic inscriptions. To the right of the entrance, before a divan covered with Syrian embroidery, is a Persian stand of brass decorated with scenes of national poems and outlined with two thousand small turquoises. A Japanese tale of august ancestors is embroidered on a satin cover hanging from the walls in the divan corner, and around it are Japanese armor, helmets, and swords. The north wall is bordered with a satin Indian frieze, and a crimson and gold embroidered divan cover is a background for numerous swords, daggers, and scimitars, finely inlaid in gold, silver, and ivory, arranged in flashing circles around curiously wrought Persian and Indian shields. Near the corner on the west wall are Thibetan articles: prayer wheels, tiny brass shrine, drum made from human skulls, ear rings, anklets, amulets, and musical instruments.

In the southwest corner are miniature Persian objects, chariots, shrines, [illegible] and bows, before the dominant presence of the familiar Buddha. Above elegantly decorated Arabian and Turkish guns of antique patterns hang fine Oriental shirts of chain mail. Above a small window in the south end is draped a cerise colored saree or Indian lady's dress, a length of beautifully embroidered silk, almost priceless for its exquisite handwork. On each side are placed the ceremonial turbans of India. The southeast walls are covered with medieval weapons, mostly English, Scotch, and Spanish. A pair of Scottish dueling pistols, long, cumbersome guns, and spear-like halberds have been on the battlefields of the Border Wars. There are several specimens of carved wood; two Indian arm chairs of blackwood, a long sofa, a low tea table, and the large rosewood temple screen before the west double windows. Each panel of this screen differs from the others in its delicate tracery of flowers, foliage, and graceful birds of the Orient.

The sunshine of late afternoon flooding the west windows shines on the brass goddess serene in meditation and sends arabesque shadows through the screen across the blue and yellow rug and sets in relief the gold of Arabic words from the Koran on the crimson and light blue mosque portière over the entrance. The tiny looking-glasses in the ceiling send forth thousands of scintillations to penetrate every dusky angle. In imagination sunny rays start Japanese gongs vibrating, incense smouldering, and oil lamps dully flickering. All in a southern atmosphere Oriental things tell their stories. The sword from Borneo boasts of its blade with brass pegs, proving the fall of twenty-three heads. The sunlight discloses every poisonous point in a curious dagger or wand; hideous wooden masks speak of their power over wasting fevers. In fancy the East Indian dancing skirt seems to adorn a bright-eyed dusky maid of the far east who drapes her skirt gracefully around her as she seats herself on a low divan before trays of silver ornaments and tiny boxes of cosmetics. While the slender dark thing arrays herself with heavy rings, anklets and tiny bracelets, and produces the effect of lustrous black eyes from the little daubs of black and carmine in the silver paint boxes, her gay colored turban in turn assumes form and crouches on his servile heels before the low teakwood taboret, chants a charm over thrice-boiled coffee powder, presents the thick liquid to the sparkling-eyed damsel, and falls in a profound salaam. A faint ray of sunlight lingers on the irridescent glory of the peacock's tail, flashes on the strips between two coats of mail, and escapes in the shadows.

FIXIS

PRENTICE TO COACH FROSH BASKETBALL

Contrary to previous notices there will be a Freshman basketball team this year. Howard Prentice, '28, captain of last year's varsity team, has been appointed to coach the Freshmen and practice will begin soon. Manager Averill is arranging a schedule that will give the Frosh a chance to test their skill. Games are pending with Goddard Seminary and Woodbury Granite Company of Hardwick, which is a team made up of former prep school stars. Other games are being scheduled with teams that were played last year. These include Company K, V. M. H. A., Knights of Columbus, Community Boys, Burlington High School, Cathedral High School and the DeMolay.

Last season the Frosh team furnished many interesting contests and finished with a good record. It is hoped that the Freshmen will turn out this year and produce a worthy team. Having a Freshman squad gives the coach a chance to size up the new men. Oftentimes material for the varsity is found in the members of the previous season's Freshman team.

Episcopal Young People to Give Play

Young People's Association of St Paul's Episcopal Church will present the play, "Take My Advice" at the Parish House Saturday evening, December 1. Mrs C. Ives Taggart is coaching the production. The leads are taken by Marian F. Caprom '32 and Harvey D. Butterfield '31. Others from the cast who are known on the Hill are Dorothy E. Fowler '31, M. H. Grower '32, and Roy Ibsham, ex '30.

Student Union Council met in the Old Chapel, Wednesday noon, November 21.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB ORGANIZES FOR YEAR

A meeting of the International Relations Club was held on Thursday, November 22. The meeting was primarily an organization meeting. Officers were elected, rules for the present year were formulated, and dates of future assemblages were decided upon. Aside from the purely business work of the evening, an important discussion on pan-American relations took place.

The International Relations Club is one of many such organizations at many colleges and universities throughout the country. These foundations are sponsored by the Carnegie endowment fund for the betterment of understanding between different peoples.

The endowment provides that students will be selected for a trip to England, probably to Oxford, next year so as to be present at the International Relations Conference. The expenses of the chosen ones will be paid out of the endowment fund.

All students are cordially invited to the meetings. Great benefit may be derived from the sessions; and an understanding of current world topics will serve to broaden one's outlook. Meetings were held on the first and third Thursdays of the month, last year, and will probably be held on the same days this year.

The Elite Beauty Parlor
SHAMPOO 50c MARCEL 50c
FINGER WAVE 75c
PHONE 538-J 3 CENTER STREET

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS!
You will always find here a good assortment of
LOOSE-LEAF NOTE BOOKS
ART SUPPLIES—STATIONERY BOOKS—BANNERS—PILLOWS
- McAULIFFE'S -
186 College St. - - - Phone 629

Satchel Carriers Meet Catamounts

(Continued from page 1)

assistants, "Nasty" Gnassi, C. C. N. Y.; "Ty" Hewes, Vermont; and "Shark" Towne, Vermont, have worked hard on a program and it will be worth while going to see. It will be counted as a regular game and student tickets can be used.

Among the greater stars that will jaunt the gridiron besides Tully and Winchenbach, are Morehouse, one of the Brown Iron Men, at center, Sage of Columbia and Waldman of Cornell. The backfield is composed of All-Vermont men and it is a heavy crashing quartet; Winchenbach, Fogg, Morse and Gardner.

The Varsity will be in fine shape according to Coach Rattan and it will be only a "warming up" for the Springfield game, according to the Cats.

How the Medics will line up:

Morse, r. b.
Gardner, f. b.
Fogg, l. b.
Winchenbach, q. b.
Eddy (Midd), r. e.
Unsworth, r. t.
Waldman (Cornell), r. g.
Morehouse (Brown), c.
Werner, l. g.
Sage (Columbia), l. t.
Tully (Dartmouth), l. e.

Subs
Taft, Alfred University.
Coyne, Rhode Island State.
Bellrose, Multi College Ace.
Hibb, Harvard.
Rudulop, N. Y. U.
Quantrano, Marines.
Morris, Syracuse.
Kingston, McGill.
Cerasoli, Carnegie Tech.
Cayward, Vermont.
Pavia, ?
Mackay, Vermont.

Newman Club will meet in the Cathedral High School at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Dean Patterson entertained the members of Mortar Board at dinner at Robinson Hall last Thursday evening. Lucy Morgan spoke informally of the conference she recently attended at Northwestern Reserve College.

Honorary Societies Hold Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of Eta Sigma Phi, Greek honorary society, and Blue Stockings, woman's honorary literary society, was held Tuesday evening, November 20, in 34 South College. Miss Gladys Kone, president of Eta Sigma Phi, was the presiding officer.

Two very entertaining addresses were delivered; one by Miss Edith Fishman, '30, who spoke on "The Tragedy as Seen by Aristotle," the other by Professor Metcalf, head of the psychology department, who spoke on "The Spirit of Comedy as Seen by Aristotle." Miss Fishman's talk was rather serious, while that of Professor Metcalf, as the topic indicates, was of a lighter strain. After the program there was a social hour.

People who live in glass houses must have a lot of pains.—Purple Cow.

BEST COAL AND SERVICE
Elias Lyman Coal Company
206 College Street

The Old Reliable

"HUMMING BIRD"
FULL FASHION SILK STOCKINGS
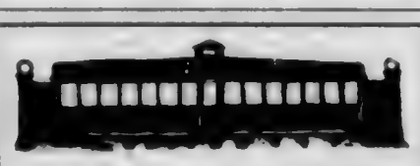
$1.50 PAIR

Humming Bird Silk Stockings wear longer, fit perfectly, and are a most extraordinary stocking at $1.50 a pair.

Square or pointed heel, service or chiffon weight, thirty or more fashionable colors.

WE DON'T HAVE TO MAKE CLAIMS FOR BRAEBURN QUALITY



Braeburn University Clothes are built up to a standard as well as to an ideal... the final test of quality is in performance... and no matter how old the Braeburn, it still has style.

New Fall Braeburns are here now

$35 $40 $45

HAYES & CARNEY
195-7 Bank St. Near Majestic
Open Evenings

Compliments of
C. A. BARBER & CO.
112 Church Street

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

Athletic Outfits
COMPLETE FOR ALL SPORTS
L. P. WOOD
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

How Gold Prospector "Went Scotch"

Minneapolis, Minn.
April 30, 1925

Larus & Bro. Co.
Richmond, Va.
Dear Sirs:

Two years ago last winter I went into the Red Lake gold fields in Canada. It was a tough trail from Hudson, over 140 miles of snow and ice. There were fourteen camps on the trail going in, and frequently at night when seated around a big camp fire some one would ask me for a pipeful of Edgeworth. These Canadian boys sure like our Edgeworth.

In four weeks' time I ran out of Edgeworth. I was glad to get 'most any old tobacco.

One day, however, I dropped in on Dad Brown's tent, a 72-year-old prospector, and seeing a can of Edgeworth on an improvised table, back there miles from the "steel," I perked up; once, saying, "Dad, I'm plum out of tobacco—how's chances for a pipeful?" "Help yourself," he said. In pulling my heavy duty pipe from my pocket, I loaded it with Edgeworth, packing it in so tightly that I couldn't get the least bit of a draw.

I excused myself for a moment, and stepped outside to remove about three pipefuls to put in my pouch. Dad stepped out, saying, "You're worse than any Scotchman I ever saw." Then I confessed. I told him what happened to my Edgeworth—that I was just dying for a smoke, and he understood right away. He said, "Boy, Edgeworth is mighty scarce in these parts, but I reckon I can spare what's left of that can. Help yourself."

You can just bet your last nickel that I guarded this Edgeworth with extreme care until I got back to the "steel."

Yours very truly,
C. M. Bahr

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

BILLINGS LIBRARY
University of Vermont

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 | BURLINGTON, VT., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1928 | NUMBER 19

SPRINGFIELD LAST CONTEST OF ELEVEN

Band and Team to Play at "Y" College Thanksgiving Day—Large Number of Disabled Veterans Will Not Start

CATS ONLY HOPE FOR INTERCOLLEGE VICTORY

The final game on the Catamount schedule will be played Thanksgiving day when they clash in their annual battle with Springfield College at Springfield. This contest with these rivals has been a regular feature on the Vermont schedule for several years to mark the close of each season. Accompanied by the R. O. T. C. band, the varsity will take up the strife once more and then hang up the old war togs until next fall.

Last year Springfield emerged as victor by a substantial margin and the Red and White appears to have produced another worthy team this year. Middlebury has bowed before them as well as Providence. On the other hand, Boston University defeated them 7-6 and New Hampshire 6-0. Captain Williamson, Neilson and Johnson have done most of the work on the offensive for Springfield, while G. Clark and Hammond have been prominent among the linemen.

Vermont emerged from the Middlebury game with several injuries, but it is hoped that they will not make a serious handicap. With the longer rest than usual it is possible that most of the men will be in shape for the game at the opening whistle. The last few games have shown that the Catamounts have the spirit to win and can fight. This season has been rather discouraging, but one should not feel that it has been a failure.

The probable line-ups:

VERMONT		SPRINGFIELD
Palmer, l. e.	l. e.	Blumenstock
Kropper, l. t.	l. t.	Gessman
Burstein, l. g.	l. g.	Wolynec
Levine, c.	c.	Limbaugh
Soukakes, r. g.	r. g.	G. Clark
Nilsen, r. t.	r. t.	Jenkins
Segal, r. e.	r. e.	Hammond
Aman, q. b.	q. b.	Williamson
Donnelly, q. b.	q. b.	Duncan
Bashgan, l. h. b.	l. h. b.	Neilson
DeRose, r. h. b.	r. h. b.	Lindeman
Robbins, f. b.	f. b.	Johnson

INTERNATIONAL CLUB ELECTS YEAR'S OFFICERS

At the first meeting of the International Relations Club which was held in Room 37, North College, last Tuesday afternoon, the officers for the year were elected and plans for the year were outlined and discussed. Interest from the number that attended this meeting an active interest will be shown in the club and the work it will carry out.

The question of membership was brought up and it was decided to extend an invitation to any student in the college to become an active member if interested in the work and to anyone who would be interested in attending any of the meetings. Meetings will be held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 4 p.m. in Room 37, North College, as last year.

Miss Esther Nelson, '29, was elected president of the organization; R. L. Stewart, '30, vice-president; Watson E. Morgan, '32, secretary, and Cora L. Eastman, '29, treasurer.

The first semester's work consists of a study of the Latin-American countries, geographically and politically with comprehensive reports to be given by members of the club. Time will be allowed after each of these for general discussion and questions. After all of the countries have been reported upon, a Pan-American Conference will take place between those who have given reports and a matter relating to each country will be presented and discussed.

At some later time in the year it is planned to have a banquet with a speaker on a topic related to the work of the club. If certain work is cov-

(Continued on page 5)

TUMBLING CLASS SHOWS REMARKABLE PROGRESS

Fifteen men are now enrolled in the class in tumbling which is held for men on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. This auxiliary gym is under the instruction of N. S. Sparhawk, '30. There is still room for others and those who are interested should report as soon as possible.

Attendance is required twice a week and Freshmen and Sophomores taking the course are excused from physical education.

Make-up classes for those Sophomores and Freshmen holding cuts will begin the week of December 3. Other cuts must be made up by the 12th of January, 1929, if credit is to be given.

FRESHMEN WILL MEET SOPHOMORES TONIGHT

Will Argue Question of Desirability of Liberal Cut System in Old Mill Chapel at 8 P.M.

Freshmen will meet Sophomores in the annual interclass debate for the Bailey debating cup Tuesday evening in the Old Mill Chapel. The cup is at present in the possession of the class of 1931 which wrested it from last year's sophomores and hopes to establish a precedent by winning it for two successive years. No class has yet held the cup twice but this time the class of '31 is putting forth all its efforts to win the cup again.

George Nelson and Louis Lisman, who constituted the champion freshman team last year will be back with this year's sophomores and together with Hugh Mattison will constitute the sophomore team. Paul LaCrosse, Fred Householder and Peary Berger, all former High School debaters and orators, will uphold the argument for the freshmen.

The debate will be conducted on lines modeled after court procedure, witness, cross-examiner and pleader will take the place of the regulation three debaters. The complete case will be presented by one man for each team, by LaCrosse for the Freshmen and by Nelson for the Sophs. It will be up to the Freshmen to prove the desirability of the plan now in use in certain colleges both in the United States and abroad which embraces an unlimited cut system, complete freedom in the choice of studies and the right of students to take their course examinations whenever they please. This system the yearlings will advocate for all liberal colleges in the United States.

When each side has presented its case, Mattison, for the Sophomore team, will take LaCrosse on the witness stand for cross-examination. At the close of twelve minutes Nelson will take the stand and Householder will cross-examine. Lisman will close the case for the Sophs with summary and refutation and immediately after him Berger will close the debate with the affirmative rebuttal.

The strength of the contesting teams is far greater than usual in a class debate. On the Sophomore team, both Lisman and Nelson are Varsity debaters and members of Tau Kappa Alpha, the national honorary debating fraternity. Both men participated in the only Varsity debate held thus far in the season, having met Bates at Lewiston last week. Nelson is a columnist on the CYNIC staff. Lisman is an assistant editor and Mattison is working on the business side. Nelson is also a member of Grey Friars. Mattison has numerous activities in such organizations as the Band, and Glee Club, while Lisman placed second in the Kingsley Prize Speaking last May.

On the Freshman team both Berger and Householder are former Vermont High School debaters.

Berger was on the State Champion Burlington High debating team last year while Householder was a teammate of Lisman's two years ago on the Burlington team. Both men hold debating scholarships which the University annually awards to the men comprising the two outstanding teams in the State. LaCrosse represented Cathedral High of Burlington in the

(Continued on page 3)

MILITARY BALL IS BIG DRAWING CARD

First Formal Dance of Year Proves Highly Successful Affair—Souvenir Programs Given Out

SCABBARD AND BLADE HOST TO MANY GUESTS

Scabbard and Blade, the honorary Senior Military Society, gave one of the best Military Balls in the history of the organization last Friday night, November 23, at the University gymnasium.

The first formal dance on this year's social calendar proved a distinct success. More than a hundred couples were present including several guests from Fort Ethan Allen.

The members of the dance committee with Warren A. Dodge acting chairman worked out several clever decoration schemes. The orchestra which played from the platform in the center of the floor was protected from imaginary foes by a high wire entanglement bearing a striking similarity to that seen so often in war pictures. To add to this realistic effect, three machine guns were placed one on each of the platforms pointing outward. The guns were carefully camouflaged with branches of spruce trees. A imposing trench mortar was stationed at the other end of the platform as if ready for immediate action. In this way, the orchestra was doubly protected from the attacks of any enemies. American and foreign flags were attractively draped about the Hall.

But from reports the "Black Panthers" of Middlebury had no foes and needed no protection, for the music of the evening was generally conceded to be without fault.

To avoid confusion and to create an adequate check room, entrance to the gym floor was obtained through the cage. Checking as well as the serving of refreshments was done in the cage.

The armory of the gymnasium building was made into a lounge room with numerous divans and davenports on each side.

Some excitement and laughter was evoked when two men with a heterogeneous makeup entered the hall. Their dress for the evening consisted of regulation army boots, white flannels trousers, khaki army coat, R. O. T. C. band belt, and Norwich hats. With this attire the gentlemen in question made themselves deservedly conspicuous for the remainder of the evening.

Major and Mrs. O. H. Stanley, Captain and Mrs. W. E. Lauer, and Captain W. V. Rattan chaperoned the dance. Among the guests from Fort Ethan Allen were Colonel and Mrs. Hopkins, Commander at the Post, and Major and Mrs. Keefer of the 7th Field Artillery.

DISCUSSION CLUB MEETS TO FORMULATE PLANS

Esther Nelson '29 was elected president of the International Relations Club, which held its first meeting of the year Thursday afternoon. The other officers choosen were R. L. Stewart '30, vice-president, W. E. Morgan '32, secretary, and Cora Eastman '29, treasurer.

The meeting was well attended and keen interest was shown in the year's program of study. This semester the Club will study the Pan American countries. Reports on different countries will be given at the meetings and at the last meeting a mock Pan American conference will be conducted.

All who are interested in this subject or in foreign affairs in general are invited to become members of the Club. The chief qualification for membership is regular attendance at the meetings. Beginning with the next meeting more than three cuts during the year will disqualify one. The meetings will be held every first and third Thursdays of the month at 4 o'clock in 37 North College. If there are any who are interested but cannot attend the meetings regularly the Club will be glad to receive them as visitors.

STUDENT SENATE GIVES FUNDS TO HOCKEY TEAM

Student Senate held a meeting at the Phi Delta Theta House Friday afternoon at 1:30. It was decided to finance hockey this year, as the Athletic Council had refused to appropriate funds. However, their budget is to be investigated first. The organization voted also to give one hundred dollars for the band's trip to Springfield. The cheerleading system is to remain the same as was stated in the CYNIC some time ago, the cheerleader receiving his letter in his junior year.

VERMONT REPRESENTED AT CO-ED CONVENTION

Lucy Morgan, '29, Attends Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government Convention in Cleveland

Lucy Morgan, '29, attended the Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government Convention in Cleveland, Ohio, November 16, 17, and 18, as the U. V. M. representative of Student Union Association.

The first address was by Mrs. Eugenia Overturf on "The Relation of Faculty and Administration to Student Government." Mrs. Overturf urged greater co-operation of faculty and students. She stressed the fact that students should learn self control, and that the whole question of discipline should rest in the hands of the student body. If that were the condition then student associations would be associations directing and creating self control rather than dealing out demerits. She believes there should be no division between the Council and the Student Body, because no officers can get Student Government without the backing of every individual. The creating of an "esprit de corps" is the end towards which everyone should work.

"You who are living in this great era should live it to the fullest to get out of every day all that it has to offer in the way of beauty, inspiration, helpfulness, self control, friendship and love. Also that you who gather along the way may prove such a wonderful incentive that in years to come you may be better equipped to meet the broader demands on college life, and that you may be an inspiration and blessing to all whose lives may be connected with yours." There would be more successful student government if the faculty would have more faith in the students and if the students would seek the co-operation of the faculty.

"The Value of Student Opinion in Matters of Curriculum" was discussed by the delegate from Swarthmore. She believed that the tendency of the faculty is toward conservatism and self-complacency. Their ideals and principles become fixed. They need a more modern viewpoint. The students are not trusted, but it is really they who know best about the problems. However it is the students' idealism to which appeal must be made for the student of today tends to disregard the intellectual side.

The keynote of the whole convention was frankness in discussions and sane views of problems. The aim of the convention was not to solve problems, but to get ideas which might help in solving problems.

Among the colleges represented were: Smith, Swarthmore, Ohio Wesleyan, Oberlin, Connecticut College for Women, Wilson, Florida State, Mills, Wells, Rockford, Bates, Wheaton, Hood, Carnegie, Mississippi State, Miami, Lebanon Valley, Allegheny, and the University of Pennsylvania.

The Honor System was discussed by Miss Clara E. Myers, professor of English at the Connecticut College for Women. Miss Myers said that the question dissolved itself into two parts: "Is it desirable?" and "How is it most desirable?" She thinks that despite failures, which are inevitable, due to human nature, that the system is a success. New students must be educated in matters of manners and morals as well as of intellect. Public opinion must also be trained if the system is not to fail. Miss Myers said the main objections to such a system were that in every group students are

(Continued on page 5)

FROZEN MEDICS LOSE GAME TO VARSITY

Hard Boiled Catamounts Vanquish Weaker Opponents in Snowdrifts by a 13-0 Score

DOCTORS' CASKET USED TO BURY OWN TEAM

After skating across the goal line twice the Catamounts came through with their first victory Saturday when they defeated the would-be doctors 13-0. The medics showed the result of a long vacation from the game and the Cats tore through the line and around the end for long gains, but if the medics had had about a month of extensive training the result might have been different.

The comic element was served by the medic band, led by Paul Lawrence, who was dressed in a surgical outfit. His musicians (?) were dressed in various strange costumes that aroused howls of laughter from the onlookers. They marched on the field to the tune of a death march, and followed by six other students of medicine, who carried a casket labeled "Varsity Drag." During the half they marched across the field and formed a V and favored the students with a charming rendition of "Champlain," but when they gave their idea of what "A Red Light on the Track" sounds like they were sent back to their own side in disgrace.

The academics scored the first time early in the first half when the dogs received a kick on their own 8 yard line. Winchenbach missed the pass from center and Kendall fell on the ball. The varsity could not make any headway through the line, but Dorey threw a pass over the line to Sirois for the touchdown. The pass for the extra point did not succeed. Neither team threatened very seriously again during that half.

The varsity scored again in the fourth quarter when Damon blocked Morse's attempted punt and Al Sirois fell on the ball on the 5 yard line. An off tackle play by DeRose gained the needed yardage and a goal. Halligan kicked the goal for the extra point.

The medics were in poor condition after their long lay-off from the game and it was noticeable that teamwork was decidedly lacking, which only goes to prove the old theory that a group of individual stars cannot compete with good teamwork. Tully, Shaw, Morse, Fogg and Winchenbach were the outstanding men in the medic line-up, while Halligan and Levine starred as usual for the varsity. The line-up:

Vermont		Medics
Dewitt, r. e.	r. e.	Eddy
Young, r. e.	r. e.	Pavia
Damon, r. t.	r. t.	Chesworth
Nilsen, r. t.	r. t.	Hebb
Burstein, r. g.	r. g.	Waldman
Parks, r. g.	r. g.	Quattrano
Dorey, c.	c.	Morehouse
Levine, c.	l. g.	Werner
Donaldson, l. g.	l. g.	Mackay
Bookman, l. g.	l. g.	Morris
Foster, l. t.	l. t.	Sage
Allerton, l. e.	l. t.	Kingston
Segal, l. e.	l. t.	Judd
Sirois, q. b.	l. e.	Tully
Donnelly, q. b.	l. e.	Juliord
Carrigan, r. h. b.	l. e.	Howard
Kendall, f. b.	q. b.	Winchenbach
Halligan, f. b.	r. h. b.	Fogg
Dorey, l. h. b.	r. h. b.	Cermsoli
DeRose, f. b.	l. h. b.	Morse
	f. b.	Gardner

DEAN HILLS TREASURER OF NATIONAL SOCIETY

J. L. Hills, dean of the State College of Agriculture, was recently elected assistant treasurer of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities. Dean Hills, aside from being dean of the agricultural college, is secretary of the University Council. Anston Marston, dean of the Iowa State College, is president of the association.

The constitution of Women's Student Union is being revised, and dormitory discussions are being held, in order to give the girls an opportunity to offer their ideas. If anyone has any suggestions in regard to this, the council will be very glad to receive them.

Lafayette Escadrille Honored by Memorial Constructed in France

[illegible] the night [illegible] pale light, [illegible] to fight [illegible]

[illegible] epitomized the spirit [illegible] of the Lafayette Escadrille and [illegible] flying corps, over two-thirds [illegible] American colleges and universities.

Lewis B. Crenshaw, former alumni [illegible] of the University of Virginia, has sent notice to all colleges and universities concerning the dedication of Lafayette Escadrille Memorial [illegible] July 4.

The memorial has been built by [illegible] nearly a thousand subscriptions having thus far been received, ranging from ten francs given by a little bugler in the [illegible] army to two gifts of over a half million francs each.

The memorial is composed principally of an Arch of Triumph and a [illegible] or Crypt, being nearly half the size of the Arc de Triomphe de l'Etoile under which lies the body of France's unknown soldier of the World War. On the stone façades of the arch are inscribed the names, not only of the dead, but of the surviving pilots, as well as the names of the battle fields upon which they performed such glorious deeds. Under the arch are the insignia of various squadrons, French and American, in which members of the "Escadrille Lafayette" fought. The central arch is flanked by colonnades at the ends of which are two pavilions, decorated with American eagles and sculptured flags of France and America. The passages under the arch are surmounted by two monumental reproductions of Lafayette's famous equestrian statue by Paul Bartlett in the courtyard of the Louvre, and of the head of Washington from the famous [illegible] Philadelphia, [illegible] these great [illegible] semi-circular Sanctuary where the remains of the sixty-seven dead will repose.

On the Fourth of July, under the presidency of Ambassador Herrick, beautiful and inspiring Dedication Ceremonies were held in the presence of a large number of the surviving pilots, of the families of the dead, of distinguished officials of the French and American governments, and of friends and admirers of the Escadrille who came to pay their tribute to the pilots. Rarely had there been seen in France such a patriotic gathering, rarely such deep emotion. The minister of war, M. Paul Painlevé, expressed the feelings of the thousands present when he said:

"The soil of France, in whose defence they sacrificed themselves voluntarily, offers them as a resting place one of its most beautiful sites. But peaceful as this spot may be, magnificent and durable as this monument may be, the memory of these heroes will find an even surer refuge in the hearts of the people of France."

In this inspiring Sanctuary the fallen heroes will lie forever, side by side in death as they fought in life.

Through the centuries this memorial will perpetuate the heroism of their sacrifice and will give undying testimony to the brotherhood of America and France as Allies in times of peace as in days of battle, and to the ideals for which these pilots fought and died.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

To Editor of True Story

(Continued from last issue)

I gasped breathless at the wild plan which was shaping itself within my brain, a reckless yet highly probable plan.

"What will you be doing tomorrow?" I demanded.

"Nothing—why?"

"I want to speak to you early in the morning. Good night."

I slowly entered the house, deliberately told my worried parents that we had suffered a breakdown, and then calmly mounted to my room, undressed, turned off the light, and lay awake in bed. It was long past my wonted bed hour, but I felt no inclination towards sleep. I was fully decided. My mind was irrevocably made up. Early the next day I would take the forty dollars Uncle Benjamin had given me for my birthday, pay the fellow next door to be my chauffeur during the morning and elope with Winnie to Georgia, where we would get married. An hour ago, when I had first conceived the idea, I had been terribly excited, nervous—absolutely frightened at the prospect of broaching it to the girl of my heart, but the more I had thought it over, the calmer I had become. I had been missing woman's love, I reasoned, and to miss love was to miss life. Therefore I had been missing life. Granted that I selfishly desired to miss life, had I the right—the God-given right—to do so? Was not each man's mission on this earth to live; if not, why did he ever exist in the first place? And I viewed the subject from a different angle. From the moment when she had lifted her trusting face to mine I knew that she loved me. Could I be brute enough to leave unrequited the sentiment which I myself had awakened? No, a thousand times no! Thus with my daring but wholly worthy idea beyond the powers of veto, I let my thoughts drift to sweeter dreams, more heavenly subjects. I pictured myself knocking at her door at 5:00 the next morning, her sweet enraptured smile as she felt her longing hopes come true—her lover come to claim her. 'Midst a dizzy happiness I tasted the impassioned kiss she would place up on my eager lips—then her tremulous query, "But how?" And I, male, of the stronger sex, would draw myself to my full height of 5 feet, 8½ inches in my stocking feet and confidently whisper that all was ready. She had but to enter the car, be whirled in a golden maze of love down the gleaming well-paved Vermont roads to Georgia, where we would be proclaimed man and wife, where the ceremonial knot would bind our now inseparable hearts to keep them from bursting from sheer happiness. God! Would dawn never come? Had there been a total eclipse of the sun? Surely, night had never been so long before. A cat howled melancholically from the black depths below my window. It moved me to compassion. Her wail proclaimed that she was a poor dumb creature sadly disappointed in love. How horrible such a thing as disappointment in love is! But I must not even conceive of the thought—I who tomorrow would be enjoying the highest, the purest, the noblest love that ever woman conferred upon man. I must look into the future and plan for our years to come, years to be filled with the exquisite joy of perfect harmony and adoration.

* * *

Day finally came. At 5:30 I was dressed and waiting. The long hour between six and seven passed with maddening slowness. At 7:10 I had quietly left the house and was waiting for the fellow next door to finish his breakfast. At 8:00 we were at the house of my love; from then on I lost all track of the time. I ran up the steps and rang the bell. Ah, my adored one was approaching. I would soon have her in my arms.....

"Well, what do you want, young man?" demanded a stout lady, robed in a dressing gown.

I was utterly unprepared for this.

"Is Winnie Kane at home, madam?"

"Yes, what do you want her for?"

"May I see her please?"

I was becoming more and more desperate.

She left the door calling "Winnie, some feller to see you."

"Coming, mother," and a radiantly beautiful figure dashed down the stairs towards me. How I wanted her! I leaned forward to greet her.

"Oh, I thought it was Billy," she said disappointedly. "Did you want to see me?"

"Winnie!" I cried breathlessly. "Don't you know me? I'm Hubert Hotchkiss, the one who held you within my loving arms last night, the one you kissed so impassionately, the one—"

"Shut up, you fool," she whispered. "Ma'll hear you," and she stepped outside and closed the door. "I can't go out again tonight; I think she's wise."

"But you don't understand, Winnie dear. I've come to take you in the car. All is arranged. We have but to speed down to the thriving metropolis of Georgia, where we will be made man and wife. I love you, Winnie, love you madly—"

"Mad is good!" she snorted. "I don't know what your idea is, but I'm sure I don't love you or want to get hitched up. Besides, I gotta go in and eat or I'll be late to work at the Candy Kitchen."

What could be the use of words? What avail could entreaties have? What mattered now?

I staggered down the steps. "Home please," was all I could say.

Other men would have taken to drink in order to forget. I have tried it, but cannot swallow liquors. I must sit madly alone and meditate on my blighted love, my useless life. Can you not picture my heart-rending anguish, my abyss of utter dejection and hypochondria? I do not care to live. I only pray that I may be taken from this cruel world. There is but one thought that comforts me—the saving of my fellowmen from like experience. That is the only beacon light I behold as I am tossed about on the rocks of disaster; that is the sole purpose of my humiliating letter.

Sincerely yours,
HUBERT HOTCHKISS.

Tickets

Tickets are pieces of cardboard that let you into places. Once purchased or otherwise obtained, they are slipped into a pocket, and from then on the question is "Which pocket?"

It may be the right-hand lower vest pocket, or the left-hand lower vest pocket, or the right-hand upper vest pocket, or the left-hand upper vest pocket, or the upper coat pocket, or the right-hand coat pocket, or the ticket pocket in the right-hand coat pocket, or the left-hand coat pocket, or the inside coat pocket, or the right-hand front pants pocket, or the left-hand front pants pocket, or the watch pocket, or the rear pants pockets, right or left.

And if the tickets are not there, they may be in one of several overcoat pockets or the pockets of the suit you changed out of in the morning. And if all of these various places are searched and researched with great diligence and the tickets do not show up, it is more than likely they dropped out or are to be found on top of the bureau, where you inadvertently put them.

With this vast array of hiding places, no wonder the owner of tickets is in a perpetual stew over the possibility that he has lost, is losing or eventually will lose them, and that the members of his family display a like concern and are forever asking "Are you sure you have the tickets?"

Nevertheless, in spite of the worry they endure, the people who have tickets feel an immense superiority over those who have none at all. It is a proof that they have had the intelligence to order in advance or the physical endurance to wait in line, and that they can afford to buy them, though they are shocked at the war tax, or that they have friends to give them tickets, or that they are among the chosen few to whom tickets are sent.

When you have been honored by receiving tickets and have endured the suspense of going through pockets and slapping yourself and at last discover them, what a disappointment to learn that the tickets are not needed at all and were merely used to make you feel important and thus induce you to attend something you would not otherwise have attended.—Baltimore Sun.

TWO PRIZES OFFERED FOR GOVERNMENT ESSAYS

Two prizes for essays on subjects related to Political Science are being offered this year, each of the prizes amounts to fifty dollars, one of them being open to all students and the other offered for competition among members of the senior class.

The Philo Sherman Bennett prize of $50 is offered yearly for the best essay "discussing the principles of free government." Competition for this prize is open to anyone who wants to write for it.

Another prize of $50 is offered from a sum provided by Robert D. Benedict of the class of 1848 and is for a member of the senior class presenting the best essay on the subject of "International Arbitration." This essay may be upon any means of International Arbitration whether it be considered as a peaceful conference, reconciliation or league among nations and need not be limited to the conception of Arbitration as a mere judicial process.

Inasmuch as these two prizes have not been given out since 1926 they now amount to $50 each instead of the $20 and $15 as before. Only a small amount of interest was shown by students before this time, but the increased amounts should prove an added incentive.

Announcement has just been made by President Guy W. Bailey of another considerably larger prize to be classed with the Political Science prizes and is provided for from a sum in the will of the late Percival Wood Clement, who received the honorary degree of LL.D at the University of Vermont in 1919. The conditions of this prize will be given out in the near future.

Essays for the first two prizes must be presented to the Committee on Degrees not later than May 10.

Athletes Wanted

Fifty jobs at $50 a week are to be offered ex-college athletes by Earl Carroll, of "Vanities" fame, who is preparing to open his newest and biggest musical offering. The story of the production deals with a new phase of athletic life; hence the need for real athletes to take the parts in football, basketball and baseball scenes.—Radcliffe Daily.

The Second American Caravan

A review of one of the most talked of books

The Second American Caravan, published by the M[illegible] edited by Alfred Kreymborg, Lewis Mumford and Paul [illegible] is called the book of the iconoclasts. It is sound art, p[illegible] artists. It is not concerned with promoting the sham [illegible] mouthing ritual of the American small town. Neither is [illegible] promoting the sham, the pettiness, the mouthing ritual of [illegible]. It is concerned, tremendously concerned, with the simple [illegible] with birth and death and love and hate and passion and [illegible] ness and joy and despair.

Because of this I want to call The Second American C[illegible] of the American artists. It is not a volume of propaganda [illegible] or any belief. It does not go out a-boob-shocking for the [illegible] seeing the boob wince and hearing him howl. It does not [illegible] sex hound, the uplift preacher or the sensation monger. It [illegible] with the credo of Babbit or Babbit-chaser. It completely [illegible] sureness of a visiting European lecturer.

It is truly the book of the American artists, and like all works of art it is concerned with but one thing: the interpretation and expression of life. Of course the life interpreted and expressed in this volume is not the life caricatured by the corner movie or news stand or book stall. It is rather an interpretation of the existence we actually see around us: of the emotions and feelings we daily experience, of the vague ideals we cherish and the monotonous hours of our despair.

Roll Call of Writers

The list of contributors to the Caravan is a veritable roll call of many of the significant writers of the day. Among those present are Sherwood Anderson, Robert Frost, Conrad Aiken, Mark Van Doren, Morley Callaghan, Burton Rascoe, Alfred Kreymborg, Waldo Frank, Wallace Gould and Lewis Mumford.

Besides these there are host of others and not one of them is a follower of Gene Stratton Porter or Eleanor Glyn. As I said before, they are artists. This book is a fitting expression of their art.

The Soul of a Man

The Little Testament of Bernard Martin. Aet. 30. is more than reminiscences of a childhood and adolescence that finally ripens into a delayed maturity. It is a portrait of the soul of a man.

In it we see the dawning of awareness to an outer world and the first timorous advances made toward that world. We see the boy, always sensitive to beauty, building gorgeous structures of illusion about his first love, a girl seven. We see that illusion crumple as his idol cuffs him smartly behind the sofa.

Later we see the same boy dreaming other dreams of other girls and searching for his work, his place in the world. In him we relive our own experiences. We follow him sympathetically through his flights from reality and we rejoice with him in those spring days that were "gladglad days." We, too, feel the thrill he experienced as a "sudden exaltation over the exquisite ugliness just three quarters of an hour old." We sigh with him a bit mournfully as he says, "The self that finally achieves the dream is not the self that dreamt it."

If Mumford dreamed of producing a picture of universal significance couched in beautiful language, he has achieved his dream. And his dream could not have been less than this.

You may read the Confessions of Rousseau, you may read the exploits of the armorous Casanova or the boastful Cellini, but [illegible] read The Little Testam[illegible] Martin you have not rea[illegible] really great biograp[illegible] Bernard Martin never ex[illegible] ten in a style of rare [illegible]

Waldo Frank on Life

New Year's Eve is a pla[illegible] worthy of the author of Hol[illegible] represents an innovation in the [illegible] of the theater, two of its seven [illegible] calling for simultaneous action [illegible] each part of a divided stage. A [illegible] bolic chorus is used in several [illegible] scenes. This appears now as a [illegible] of revellers, again as mourners [illegible] an upper runway. Behind them [illegible] set symbolical of the city.

Though the mechanics of th[illegible] are surprising, they add rather [illegible] detract at least for reading fro[illegible] strength of the work. The story [illegible] self symbolical tells of the enta[illegible] ments and associations of three [illegible] lies over a period of many years [illegible] feeling of the piece is expressed [illegible] members of the chorus in this [illegible] dialogue:

1st woman. Life is a bleeding [illegible]
2nd woman. and a bleeding [illegible]
3rd woman. and only life will [illegible] it.
Boy. Life is holy.

Adjustment

Carolus Elston, by Jonathan L[illegible] ard, is a fine picture of a young [illegible] attempting to adjust himself [illegible] not like his college associates and [illegible] feels his loneliness so keenly that [illegible] posts letters to himself. He does [illegible] ceed in solving his problem. He finds its solution in his death [illegible] "there was a small, round hole [illegible] center of his forehead."

Timourous Tradition

"...and timorous tradition [illegible] Drop into dust where these youngsters live," writes Alfred Kreymborg in Midsummer Moon. This quotation might be taken as the [illegible] of the Caravan. Certainly tradition is not feared in Kreymborg's effective work.

Space prohibits mention of [illegible] other selections. A little of the [illegible] struck me as flat and I wondered why the novelette entitled Narthex was included. Such a volume does not need padding.

All in all, however, the editors have shown excellent judgment. There is no gibberish in the book under the guise of "experimentalism" and there is very little questionable material.

HANK FULL[illegible]

What People Talk About

"What People Talk About" was the subject of an article by Professor Carney Landis, of the Psychology Department, which first appeared in the Journal of Abnormal and Social Psychology entitled "National Differences in Conversations." Mr. Landis and other psychologists have tried to determine as accurately as possible the ordinary conversation which goes on when friends meet or a casual word is exchanged in passing. To obtain the necessary data, this group tabulated fragments of conversations overheard on the streets of three cities—London, New York and Columbus, Ohio. These tabulations then made it possible to draw some interesting conclusions. The things people talk about most are money, business, amusements, men, women, clothing and self. American men talk to each other chiefly about sports.

American women talk to each other about men and fashions. They are least concerned about business. London women talk more about their own sex and themselves, and converse on a greater variety of topics than American women. The topic of "women" occupies five per cent, of man-to-man conversations in London, in New York eight per cent, and only four per cent. in Columbus, Ohio. The English man adapts his conversation to the favorite topic of the woman, while in America it is the reverse, the woman being the one who adapts her conversational topics to the interests of her male companion.—The Wesleyan Argus.

EXCHANGES

Big Game Hunter: See the [illegible] perched on the limb of that tree.
Little Big Game Hunter: Yeh.
B. G. H.: Well, just watch me [illegible] a hole clean through the [illegible] it.—Michigan Gargoyle.

The kitchenware demonstrator wanted to call the next day.

"That's my busy day," said Mrs. [illegible] son. "I usually have so much to do that you probably would find me in a whirligig."

"Oh, that's all right," replied the demonstrator. "I'm used to seeing housewives in their kimonos."—College Humor.

"Next to a beautiful girl, what do you think is the most interesting thing in the world?"

"When I'm next to a beautiful girl I'm not worrying about anything."—Virginia Reel.

A Jewish gentleman boarded a street car with his small son and handed the conductor a nickel for the boy.

"Why, how old is that boy?"

"Four."

"Well, he certainly looks more than four years old."

"Hm! Am I responsible for my memories?"—McGill Daily.

Mrs.: "I suppose you're a self-made man."

He: "Ma'am, if you don't want my magazine, say so, but don't [illegible] me no bum."—Gwidon.

VERMONT MEETS BATES IN NO-DECISION AFFAIR

Debates at Lewiston Against Modern Advertising Trend in Forensic Contest Modeled After Court Procedure

[illegible] met Bates at Lewiston, [illegible]esday, November 20, in a debate on the question, "[illegible]at the trend in modern [illegible]s to be deplored." De[illegible] affirmative in an Ore[illegible]: Procedure, style of de[illegible]t presented, as introduc[illegible]e and witness, George Nel[illegible] examiner, Louis Lisman; [illegible]der, Franklin Sears. Speak[illegible] Samuel Gould acting as [illegible]yton White as cross-ex[illegible] Robert Hislop as pleader. [illegible]ecting the complete con[illegible]se for Vermont, kept the [illegible] a storm of laughter and

As he described modern [illegible]t advertising and quoted catchwords, slogans and [illegible]ertising media, he created [illegible]le merriment in the audi[illegible] his points, which were [illegible] constantly brought forth [illegible]s of approval. Gould, who [illegible]bly outstanding on the Bates [illegible] attempted to offset the impres[illegible]n had produced, but with no ap[illegible]cess.

Next White, taking Nelson on the [illegible] stand, attempted, with a se[illegible] of cleverly-framed questions, to [illegible] the Bates case by showing [illegible] trend of advertising to be differ[illegible] from that indicated by Vermont. [illegible]n's coolness under the cross [illegible]examination and the replies with [illegible]n he advanced, not the Bates case, [illegible]e his own, again won for him the [illegible]lause of the audience. At the end [illegible] the cross-examination the negative [illegible] remained where it was while the [illegible]rmative case was still as strong as [illegible]ver.

Gould then took the witness stand, [illegible]ubmitting to a fire of questions from [illegible]sman. Unsuspecting, he fell into [illegible]very trap set for him, giving to vir[illegible]ally every question the answer de[illegible]ired by the Vermont team. Every [illegible]s" or "no" pushed the Vermont [illegible]ase further ahead, until, realizing at [illegible]he end the number of contradictions [illegible]e had fallen into, the Bates speaker [illegible]ttempted to extricate himself from [illegible]is dilemma with an effort to evade, [illegible]hrough long answers, the last ques[illegible]ion or two put to him.

Even the excellent effort of Hislop [illegible]s rebuttal succeeded merely in restat[illegible]g the Bates case and in putting in a [illegible]slightly better light the arguments [illegible]originally presented by Gould.

Sears, closing the debate, presented [illegible]ase again the Vermont case in toto [illegible]and submitted summaries of the ar[illegible]guments on both sides. He paid es[illegible]pecial attention to the initial Bates [illegible]speech, giving it detailed rebuttal and [illegible]touched lightly on the cross-examina[illegible]tions.

Judge Henry W. Oates presided at [illegible]the debate which aroused such interest [illegible]among the audience that they voted [illegible]at the close overwhelmingly in favor [illegible]of the Oregon plan of debate in place [illegible]of the ordinary type.

[illegible]The Vermont team and Coach Pow[illegible]ers who accompanied the team to [illegible]Maine at this time, wish to thank the [illegible]Bates College authorities and the de[illegible]bating council for the hospitality af[illegible]forded them at Lewiston—a hospitali[illegible]ty which left nothing to be desired.

Football Plus

The highest score in one game made [illegible]this season was credited to St. Xavier, [illegible]Cincinnati, which defeated Lee [illegible]University, in Kentucky, to the merry [illegible]tune of 132-0, a score estimated to [illegible]be at the limit possible in a reg[illegible]ulation game.

Self Defense

Sophomores at the University of [illegible] are now fully convinced of the efficacy of jiu-jitsu. A Japanese [illegible]foreman, upon being accosted and [illegible]insulted by five sophomores for in[illegible]fraction of rules, resorted to his na[illegible]tive method of defense to the complete [illegible]discomfiture of the second year men. The [illegible]hazers were routed not without per[illegible]sonal injury. And the Jap warrior as[illegible]serts that all blows were legal accord[illegible]ing to the code of jiu-jitsu even though [illegible]they might have contravened Marquis [illegible]of Queensbury rules.

Success at Last

After attending classes for sixteen [illegible]years, Wendell Mench, evening student [illegible]at Northwestern University, finally re[illegible]ceived his degree.

COLLEGE CONCERT PAYS TRIBUTE TO SCHUBERT

Vermont paid its tribute to the maker of exquisite song, Franz Schubert, at the centenary concert in the Ira Allen Chapel, Sunday afternoon. The chapel was well filled. The bank of cars that extended along both sides of University Row from Colchester Avenue to the Old Mill was evidence of the throng of people within the chapel.

Prof Howard G Bennett may well be complimented both on his own artistry as an organist and his capable training of Vermont's sons and daughters along musical lines.

Never, it seemed, had the Welte-Mignon organ produced lovelier melody than on Sunday afternoon when Professor Bennett played Schubert's immortal Unfinished Symphony in B Minor.

A double quartet chosen from the Women's Glee Club gave The Lord Is My Shepherd. The following girls comprised the quartet: Hazel D. Ladd and Doris Y Dupral, first sopranos, Margaret B. Corbin and Elizabeth A Howe, second sopranos. Hope Grant and Dorothy D. Nash, first altos; Katharine E. Skinner and Winona R Spencer, second altos.

Julia Waterman, violinist, Glenn Aiken, violoncellist, and Professor Bennett at the organ rendered Andante con Moto from the Symphony in C Major. Hazel Ladd, who has participated in many of the chapel concerts, sang Ave Maria in a characteristically lovely way. Julia Waterman, Robert Jenks, flutist, and Professor Bennett then gave the Minuet from the Symphony in B Flat Major.

The Men's Glee Club quartet, composed of Raymond Towne, Edwin Davis, Homer Sheffield and Harrison Goddard, sang In the Deep Doth Dwell the Light from Rosamunde. The Schubert hour ended with the March Militaire played by Professor Bennett. The whole program was one of finished excellence

Boys and Girls Start Prize Alfalfa

Last spring T. H. Blow, county agent in Washington County, secured more than two hundred boys and girls who agreed to raise one square rod of alfalfa according to instructions furnished by Mr. Blow. Miss Iola Bagley, county club agent for Washington County, is helping to secure records from the boys and girls and together they will obtain valuable information from a very large number of farms relative to how successfully alfalfa may be grown when properly cared for.

A similar project is being planned for Orleans County to be started this fall and continued through next season. Miss Flora Coutts, county club agent, has already been active in getting this work under way; and J. L MacDermid, county agent for Orleans County, will assist in getting out information to the boys and girls and in visiting their alfalfa plots.

Plans are made to continue these alfalfa projects on a basis that will hold the interest of the boys and girls for at least four years. The first year the boys and girls will grow a small plot of alfalfa of not more than four square rods. Prizes will be offered for the best of these plots in the counties. If possible, prizes will be offered for the best plots of alfalfa in each town.

Each boy or girl who is successful in growing a small plot of alfalfa the first year may enroll for the second year. This project will be the growing of one-third of an acre of alfalfa and a suitable prize will be awarded in each town. Those succeeding with one-third of an acre of alfalfa may enroll for a third year, when the project will consist of growing an additional two-thirds of an acre of alfalfa, which will give the successful boys and girls one acre of alfalfa. Prizes offered the second and third year are to be either pure bred calves or partial payment towards pure bred calves. These calves will then be used during the fourth year for feeding tests comparing the value of alfalfa feed with other hay produced on the farm.

This project, which continues through four years, will give valuable information on the growing of alfalfa, not only to the boys and girls enrolled, but to their parents as well. It will also furnish valuable demonstrations on the value of alfalfa for dairy feed. The interest which has already been shown in Washington and Orleans Counties both by the boys and girls and by their parents indicates that this type of work is likely to prove very successful.

Pat—"We'd better stop the game now, we're even."

Mike—"Even! How do you make that out?"

Pat—"Why, you had all my money a little while ago, and now I've got all of yours!"—Ibid

How Westinghouse Picks College Graduates

By F. A. Merrick

In general, I am inclined to the view that scholarship rating would be the best indication of probable success in after life if the condition of choice were to be limited to only one single quality. However, even in this I would say that it would be unwise to carry the qualification to the ultimate, subordinating an absolute first standing to a requirement of rating somewhere within the first quarter of the class.

Going beyond this first statement, it is necessary to consider that practically every modern organization of any size has subdivisions of its activities for which men of specialized qualities, both of natural endowment and artificial training, are best adapted. In the activities for instance in which technical work predominates, such as research or design engineering, scholarship is of itself likely to be a fuller indication of future satisfactory performance, while in commercial or executive lines of activity the indication of scholarship while important at least within the limitations above mentioned, may be considerably modified or in fact out-weighed by the individual characteristics.

For these reasons, in undertaking the recruiting for our organization among the graduating students of approved institutions, we endeavor to get as full a picture of the student's characteristics as possible the student himself furnishing information which includes his background in a general way his scholastic training both preparatory and university; his extra scholastic interests during this period; in what feature of scholastic work he found most enjoyment, what proportion of schooling expenses if any was self-earned; and what the graduate looked forward to as his preferred line of life work

At the same time a rating is requested from the faculty representative giving the standing of the student according to the quarter division of the class, both as to scholarship and to personality, with a request for judgment on the general class of future work for which the student seems to be best qualified

In addition, our company representative interviewing the student records his impressions of the student under the general heading of physical qualities, general intelligence, leadership, personality qualifications and probable general desirability to the company

The entire picture thus made up is then used, not only as a basis for offering employment but also in the case of acceptance as the basis of picking out the branch of the company's activity in which the young man will start his work.

The results of this system in future satisfactory development justify the pains taken in these preliminary studies

Apart from this, I have gone into so much detail mainly to point out that the argument for adopting either one or the other—scholarship or personal characteristics—as the basis of selection is not of great practical interest because practical procedure demands an appropriate combination of these things in order to fit the line of future work to be followed.

We All Have a Chance

After 35,000 hours of investigation it has been announced by McGill University that introvert, or awkward and shy student, had a far better chance to success in college and in after life Native intelligence according to the survey that was conducted plays little part in the success or failure of men in college.—Orange and White

Freshmen Will Meet Sophomores Tonight

(Continued from page 1)

State semi-finals at the National Oratorical Contest last year

Professor Leon W. Dean will preside as chairman of the debate which has been called for eight o'clock. Students from both classes are urged to come to support their teams and a general urgent invitation is extended to students and faculty as this debate is rated on a par with Varsity affairs and is the official opening of the home debating season.

The judges of this debate will be Mr Meredith of the economics department, Mr. Hall of the English department and Professor Prindle of the Latin department. These men will award the Bailey cup to the winning class

Unusual interest in this debate should be evidenced since Senator-elect Bailey, the donor of the cup, will be there to present the winning side with that award. Mr Bailey has been interested in former activities at the college for some time and it is hoped that a large audience will attend to show him their appreciation of his interest

Students Have Destruction Enough Without Co-education Says Prexy

(From an Associated Press dispatch in the Burlington Free Press)

Presented herewith are the views of Dr. William H P Faunce, noted educator and president of Brown University, upon some of the outstanding problems of education

Dr. Faunce tells what he would do if he were entering college today He says what he thinks of many college organizations. He tells why he opposes coeducation and explains how he would give special advantages to the "genius."

The questions with which Doctor Faunce deals were laid before him when announcement was made recently of his retirement at the end of the current college year During this college year Doctor Faunce reaches the retirement age of 65 When he leaves his post he will have been president of Brown for 30 years.

By WILLIAM H. P. FAUNCE

(President of Brown University)

I am old fashioned enough to be thoroughly opposed to coeducation, except as a makeshift until the college can afford something better There are distractions enough without that. To treat men and women in exactly the same way, academically and socially is to damage both

But I would go further and decline to treat the budding "genius" in just the same way as the commonplace mind Through small classes through individual instruction a tutorial system and through "honors courses" I would give the exceptional mind a chance of exceptional achievement Let some students study 11 months in the year, if they will, be relieved of marks and grades and attendance, and graduate in two or three years if they can

Real democracy means no treadmill but a chance for unusual minds to reach swift and shining attainment

If I were entering college today, I certainly would not attempt to choose a life career before entrance.

What does a boy of 17 or 18 know about his own latent capacities or the changing spheres of private opportunity and public service? The "limitation of objectives" is a common error. Between 18 and 22 a young man is discovering himself and acquiring wholly new horizons. The college course is a voyage through the strange seas of thought. Before the voyage begins no sailor can select the single island on which to make his future home.

I am told that scores of young men in New York business offices, trained in a "business college," deeply regret their own narrowness of outlook Competent in bookkeeping and banking methods, they are yet unable to talk with men who know history and politics and modern science Trained to run in one groove, they are bored by libraries and music and art, and are strangers in large sections of American life. A liberal education should liberate a man from spending his life in a groove

If I were entering college I would try not to join everything in sight Many college organizations seem brilliant only to outsiders They offer the student a pin a foolish ritual, his picture in the college annual and a chance to fritter away his evenings

As a freshman I would go in heartily for some form of outdoor sport not only for physical development, but for release of the play instinct, for resting tired nerves, for learning to make quick decisions, judge distance and time and chance, to face opponents unterrified, and be a gentleman and a good sport But the moment any game becomes a species of war, it ceases to be play and becomes a useless grind

BROOKS ESSAY CONTEST TO BE HELD IN 1929

"What is the Psychological Effect on the National Mind of Great Armed Forces Maintained Ostensibly for National Defense?" is the topic for the 1929 essay contest of the Brooks-Bright Foundation, according to announcement by John E. J. Fanshawe, Director General of the Foundation, on the eve of his departure for England where he will attend the annual meeting of the British Committee of the Brooks-Bright Foundation.

Some hundreds of thousands of students in the United States, England and France will this year write essays on this topic in competition for the prize scholarships affording a year's resident study in a foreign university.

Last year some forty thousand high school students throughout this country competed in the Brooks-Bright Foundation essay contest. The subject was: "As the White Population of the United States of America and the British Commonwealth of Nations Has Increased in the Past Century from 20,000,000 to 170,000,000, in How Far Will the Continued Growth of Population and the Diminishing Food Supply Affect the Future Relations Between These Two Peoples and to What Extent Will it Affect Their Relations to Other Nations?"

The 1929 contest is the sixth annual competition sponsored by the Brooks-Bright Foundation which was organized in 1923 by Florence Brooks Aten. The first essay contest was held at the Hoosac School, Hoosick, New York, in 1924. Exeter, Andover, Groton, Lawrenceville, the Hill School, and other leading private schools joined the movement until the present membership of the Foundation includes forty-two public and private schools.

During the coming competition it is expected that a special essay contest will be held for students from schools who are not members of the Foundation.

New Use for Phonograph

Now a phonograph can read aloud to you—a full-length novel if you wish. An English concern has developed to record a whole novel on six-doubled faced, twelve inch phonograph records. Each record "reads" to you for forty minutes, at normal speed. They are of greatest benefit to blind or sick persons.

Sunday Movies for Students

Sundays will be different for Oregon University students hereafter. At the national election last week, the voters of this city decided in favor of Sunday movies, which had previously been banned by a city ordinance.

SCHOOL TOURNAMENTS NOW UNDER DISCUSSION

A meeting of the committee in charge of the annual scholastic state tournament will be held at the Hotel Vermont this week, and will be attended by representatives from the Headmasters Club of this State. Principal L. O. Johnson, of Rutland High School, secretary of the Headmasters Club, requested that the committee discuss three questions brought forth at their recent meeting

The headmasters favored two state tournaments, one for the larger schools and the other for the smaller ones; schools not in the interscholastic track meet should have part of their expenses paid and the tournament should rotate to different towns

The committee from the University in charge of the tournament is Manager Gustafson, Coach Cayward, Graduate Manager Mayforth and Professors Butterfield, Jenks and McSweeney

Intercollegiate News

By Orino A. Martinetti, '30

Definite steps in the direction of debating at Norwich have been taken through the formation of the Norwich University Forum, it was recently announced by Professor A. W. Peach, head of the Norwich English Department. The new organization, in addition to maintaining a debating society whose teams will take part in intercollegiate competition, will endeavor to bring noted speakers to Norwich. Student officers have been elected by the Forum.

The University of Michigan at present has two hundred students training to become aeronautical engineers. The first course in this was given fourteen years ago, to a few students looking for something different. The University plans to extend its courses soon so that engineers connected with the aeronautical industry may come to college during the summer months to keep in touch with the latest engineering developments, and also plans to provide courses for high school and graded school teachers who are besieged with questions by "air-minded youths."

3 All-American Coaches

The University of Idaho boasts an all American coaching staff

The three coaches are Head Coach Charley F. Erb, Jr., who was on Walter Camp's team of 1923; line coach Stewart N. Bean, who won a place on Camp's team in 1924; and Ralph P. Hutchinson, new assistant coach, second all-American quarterback in 1899

The Vermont Cynic

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

Arthur D. Stearns, '30

George R. Nelson, '31
Feature Editor

Odino A. Martinetti, '30
Intercollegiate Editor

George H. Pools, '29

Mack Fuller, '29

Wilmot H. Burr, '30
Assistant Sporting Editor

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Douglas L. Stewart, '31
Louis Lieman, '31
America Curtis, '30
Richard Cowles, '31
Donald E. Coburn, '31
C. N. Crockett, '31

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

Advertising Manager
Circulation Manager
Assistant Manager
Assistant Manager
Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year. Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2065 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

Subscriptions should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House. All other communications to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Entered for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412, Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 November 27, 1928 No. 19

Actualities

From the pulpit and from the press college students, in general, have received rather serious indictments. For a person outside of college, the life seems to be a series of good times, especially good times of a shady nature. By the actions of a small minority the general run of undergraduates are judged. The older generation always fears for the younger but it should be maintained that the morals of college students are as high if not higher than those who do not attend college.

Charles Franklin Thwing, a noted educator who has studied undergraduate life, tells in an article in the December World's Work that the world should be optimistic about the future of college students. "College students are cared for both physically and mentally," maintains Dr. Thwing "and the lot of the younger generation is much better than that of their fathers and grandfathers. In keeping with shorter hours for the laboring man, universities have lessened requirements giving the student time to thoroughly study fewer and more interesting and applicable courses."

Thwing further states that college students are far from being devoid of morals and religion. "Not less religious than his older brother but less inclined to declare his faith. He meets problems squarely and tries to form opinions with a broader outlook on life. The fact he is a college student proves he has some purpose in life."

These statements are rather heartening after reading the swarms of criticisms aimed at students. Every undergraduate should refute generalizations about a group, which is the hope of the coming era.

Fraternity Politics?

We admit fraternity politics play a prominent part in the life and activities of Vermont students. We deplore the situation and would welcome any actual proof of such operations on the campus. In a letter to the editor in an adjacent column, a rather serious accusation is made. Graduate Manager Mayforth was interviewed and he stated that "we chose the man we considered best fitted to carry on the position." An interview with another member of the council resulted in practically the same statement. It appears that fraternity politics had nothing to do with the election.

In regards to ruling in the election of managers of teams, in case of a vacancy in office, the "V" Manual states in Part 4 of Section IX of the By-laws "In order to fill vacancies in the office of manager or assistant manager a special election may be ordered by the Council." Article XI states, "Managers • • • office may be declared vacant and may be filled by appointment or by special election." It would seem the Council had a perfect right to place the best man they could find for the position.

The author of the letter spoils his subject by a threat "because of the underdog" implying use of such means when possible. Fraternity politics bugaboo has been aided by campus rumors. A constructive plan to curtail such activities would be welcomed by the Cynic and by the student body at large.

Getting Around the Rules

Resourceful students at the University of Utah are getting around an edict against smoking on the campus by smoking on stilts. As to the length of the stilts, the matter is being left almost entirely to the discretion of the individual smoker, but twelve inches is considered a safe distance off the campus.—Georgia Technique.

Dietitians

Students of the Illinois College of Agriculture consumed ten bushels of peanuts, four kegs of cider, and five bushels of apples at their annual peanut banquet.

The Old Maid: "Has the canary had its bath yet?"

The Maid: "Yes, he has, ma'am You can come in now."—Pickup.

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the Cynic:

God of our fathers, what is to become of staid conservative old Vermont when even the trustworthy [illegible] and with a sensible battered old [illegible] like the one which appeared in the issue of November 20 with the amusing headline "Many Football Fans."

It was stated in this editorial that "the war investors lent their money at interest" and "There is a treacherous unfairness about this." Isn't it horrible? Yet, even the dough boy occasionally got paid and also received a bonus. (All of which he richly deserved.) But imagine the horrible Shylock who bought Liberty Bonds and got 4 per cent. instead of buying high grade railroad bonds and receiving 8 per cent. Truly unpatriotic! As the editorial man says, "Instead of having their money returned at interest, they should have lost it outright."

Everybody in favor, please stand on their head.

But the editorial proposes a remedy for this terrible state of affairs. "We should demand that capital be levied outright, even as men are levied outright." Details of this noble plan are lacking, but we assume that the population would be numbered as in the draft, and the unlucky numbers would be deprived of all worldly resources. An excellent plan, Mr. Editor, but wouldn't it start a civil war all its own?

Meanwhile, read the editorial again, it was very well written.

A Young Alumnus.

To the Editor of the Cynic.

It is common knowledge that practically every activity on the hill is under the control of fraternity politics. Now this system is bad enough in any of its varying degrees, but the most recent example is a disgrace to any institution. I refer to the election of the new manager of tennis to replace the manager-elect, who resigned. The man chosen as most capable for the position last spring by the customary voting resigned for reasons of his own. What those reasons were have nothing to do with the present discussion. To fill his place he recommended the man who now holds that position. So far so good, but there is a hitch. That man was never an assistant manager of the sport and, I believe, never even tried out for it. One of the assistant managers is in college and still eligible; the other was not here last year, thus forfeiting his chance. Why wasn't the eligible man given the position? Why wasn't he, I ask? I know why he wasn't. So does everybody else who has heard about the case and given it consideration. What is the reason? Fraternity politics, of course. Analyze the situation, look at the possibilities for coming years. It is so obvious that anyone could figure it out. But did the Athletic Council see through it when it approved the new man for the managership? No, it did not. At least we hope not, for that body should be above this sort of thing.

If this keeps on the situation will soon be serious. Now is the time to investigate. It is all right for the oppressor now, but let him beware the under dog, or he may be bitten.

G. D. K. S. A

To the Honorable Editor of the Cynic
(Notice ex-converse.)

I take advantage of this opportunity to point out to you that there was an omission in my advertisement in last Friday's Cynic.

It should have read as follows, at the end.

....if I can't make every fibre of your being alive with STRENGTH, AMBITION, POWER and VIRILE FORCE I will refund every dime, every nickel, every cent, every mill you pay me.

But to you alone, great Noslen, I make this proposition. I willingly agree to put, not inches, but feet (—you, feet), on your chest. "Inches for others, feet for Noslen." I will do this FREE. You agree to let me do it, that's all. It puts you under NO OBLIGATION. YOU DO NOT PAY ONE PENNY. And I positively guarantee to put feet—both feet—on your chest.

(Signed)
Freshman J. Householder.
—Adv.

HOW CADET UNIFORMS "GREW UP"

(Paul LaCrosse '32)

Back in Revolutionary War time the army uniforms were called "underclothes" but they were really pantaloons. It was not until 1796 that they attained the dignified term of breeches.

Soldiers of the Continental Army wasted as wide a variety of nether garments as the veriest Beau Brummel.

In 1813 a progressive step was taken toward the military dress of today. Trousers, blue for winter wear, and nankeen for summer, were issued to the foot troops. At the same time knee breeches with yellow buckles, were authorized for wear on social occasions "when etiquette required."

No material change was made respecting trousers until the Regular Army in 1917 discarded the blue trousers, and authorized the khaki breeches and trousers, the present dress.

The hat seemed to be the most difficult article of wearing apparel to obtain during the Revolutionary War and the part of the uniform dearest to the soldier's pride.

Those men of the Continental who were fortunate enough to get one, cocked it, decorated it with the regimental insignia, and in many other ways put on the swank over their less fortunate comrades in arms.

Coonskin caps were in the majority, with leather hats and caps running a close second. It was not until after Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown that the American army was completely hatted uniformly.

Today the regular army wears the Pershing cap almost universally in garrisons, on pass and at ceremonial functions. This is a natty and comfortable cap, with wide visor and light in weight.

COLLEGE HUMOR

He: "You have a wonderful form, dear."

She: "Must you go all over that again?"—Annapolis Log.

"You say she went to a finishing school in Chicago. What sort of polish did she get?"

"Gunmetal polish."—Green Parrot.

Overheard in the Dark

"You're a dear sweet girl, God bless you and keep you. I wish I could afford to."—Wet Hen.

Blair '28: Hooray! Five dollars for that story I wrote.

Louie '28: Who from?

Blair '28: The express company. They lost it.—Tomahawk.

Just because a fellow wears a wing collar, don't think he's an angel.

—Jack O'Lantern.

It is a strange and beautiful thing to see what extremities people will ofttimes go for art—especially girls when the word is capitalized.

—Bearcat.

He (as the train was approaching a tunnel): "Are you afraid, dear?"

She: "Not if you take that toothpick out of your mouth?"—Parrot.

"I want a pencil."

"Hard or soft?"

"Soft, I am writing a love letter."

—Guidon.

"Did Bill get very excited when the locomotive hit his car?"

"I guess so, the witness said he flew all to pieces."

—Ram's Horn.

According to a Parish newspaper, the French only average three baths a year. The Turks are still wondering what the extra two baths are for.—U of Nevada Sagebrush.

You can tell us that the girls of old
Were virtuous and sedate
But they didn't walk home from auto rides
In 1898.—Univ. of Albert Gateway.

What we'd like to know is this—do the movie title writers crib the wisecracks from the college boys' cars that drift through Hollywood or do the college boys patronize the movies a lot?—Motor Land.

The Movie Guide

At the Majestic:

Monday and Tuesday: [illegible] in "Moran of the M[illegible] about men in uniform [illegible] ture which has been [illegible] movie goers of late. [illegible] simple but many laughs along with a touch of [illegible] ard Dix is up to [illegible] respect.

Wednesday and Thursday: [illegible] Farrell and Janet [illegible] Street Angel," directed [illegible] at the Roxy. Regular [illegible] day prices.

Friday: Milton Sills [illegible] and also "Dry Martini" [illegible] star cast. Both pictures [illegible] light. "The Crash" [illegible] while "Dry Martini" [illegible] about bright lights.

Saturday: Buster Keaton [illegible] Cameraman." One of [illegible] pictures filled with [illegible] mended by the movie [illegible]

At the Strong:

"Al" Coleman's "Tip [illegible] with a change of program [illegible] and Friday, accompanied [illegible] pictures. His Review is [illegible] ere, shading a burlesque [illegible] tesque head man. Some [illegible] song and dance numbers.

Monday and Tuesday: Reno Gleason in "Life's Mockery," a [illegible] vivid, life-like drama of New York underworld.

The Street Angel

Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor again thrill audiences and capture compliments out of hard-boiled critics in this second romance they have together. The two are to be remembered for their famous love scenes in "Seventh Heaven."

With Naples as a setting little more could be desired for a background. Angelina, the heroine, a poor but honest waif with a dependent family on her hands, uses every means to get bread for her starving ones. Pursued by the police she joins a traveling circus, only to be overtaken and imprisoned.

Through all this misery, Gennaro, her lover, a poor but worthy artist continues to love her. The final touching scene shows the two reunited after a forced separation. A piece typical of the picture, "Angela Mia," is a persistent refrain throughout the tragic comedy.

"CARMEN"

"Carmen," the famous opera was presented in Burlington on Thanksgiving Day. This is the first time in many years that a grand opera has been here, and it is a magnificent opportunity for us college students who rarely get to Boston or New York during the operatic season. The selections from this opera which thrilled our parents twenty years ago are still popular; probably there is not a student on the Hill who does not recognize the "Toreador Song," when he hears it played. We remember a very disrespectful version which our flippant and jolly mother used to sing to us long long ago. Do you remember it? "Toreador, don't spit on the floor, use the cuspidor: that's what it's for!"

"Carmen" is to be presented in English, so we won't have to rely on our meagre knowledge of Spanish to follow it in. And, incidentally, it will go big with the folks at home if you write back that you went to the opera, for they'll realize that you are learning the worthwhile things at college, and they're so anxious for you not to miss!

Co-education Preferred

Heywood Broun, national columnist, offers the following comment in favor of co-education institutions:

"I'm strong for the [illegible] heartily believe in co-ed[illegible] think it's the best thing for [illegible] It's preferable for the college [illegible] have association with women [illegible] college rather than outside [illegible] there is no opportunity [illegible] college, the men will go [illegible] associate with women of [illegible] tellectual or social standing. [illegible] show a preference for waiting [illegible] monastic idea, of purely [illegible] leges, is all wrong! I can't [illegible] at all."—Georgia Technique

Co-eds Strike

A one-day strike by 112 co-eds at Massachusetts [illegible] college for a diet of less [illegible] more fruits and vegetables [illegible] end at noon last Thursday when [illegible] dent Roscoe Thatcher granted [illegible] mand. The fair co-eds had [illegible] ing for one day on sandwiches [illegible] tained at local tea rooms.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

[illegible] of Kappa Alpha [illegible] a house-warming [illegible]ning from eight to ten [illegible] House. All girls of the [illegible] classes who are not [illegible] Panhellenic rushing rules [illegible]ally invited [illegible]ce will be held at the [illegible]day evening. Music will [illegible] by leading orchestras of [illegible] via E. E. Clarkson's elec[illegible]ic Victrola with special [illegible] system.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

[illegible] and their guests enjoyed [illegible] Sally's Saturday evening [illegible]cing in the Vermonters' [illegible] Music was supplied by [illegible]nson's orchestra. Colonel [illegible] Black and Professor and [illegible]ell chaperoned. Miss Emiline [illegible] resident of the Middlebury [illegible] Delta Delta Delta, attended

PI BETA PHI

[illegible] informal dance of Pi Beta [illegible] held in the Elks' Club Rooms [illegible]ual Street last Saturday eve[illegible] Chaperones were Prof. and [illegible] W. Stillwell, Miss Laura [illegible] and Prof. L. D. Meredith [illegible]ion was provided by Frank [illegible] orchestra.

ALPHA XI DELTA

The Alpha Xi Delta informal took [illegible] also on Saturday evening at the [illegible] A. Rooms, 192 College Street. [illegible] receiving line were Prof. and [illegible] Leon W. Dean and Prof. and [illegible] C. Dopkins. Prof. and Mrs. [illegible] L. Briggs were guests of honor, [illegible] Briggs being a member of Epsi[illegible] Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta at the [illegible]ity of South Dakota.

[illegible] Blue Jackets" furnished mu[illegible] Among the guests were Miss [illegible] Burnham of Alpha Pi Chapter [illegible] Alpha Xi Delta at Middlebury; [illegible]ne Bassett, representing Kappa [illegible] Theta; Marion Baldwin of Al[illegible] Omega; Faire J. Divoll, rep[illegible] Kappa Delta; and Elizabeth [illegible] from Sigma Gamma Frater[illegible]

PHI MU DELTA

[illegible] Gamma of Phi Mu Delta an[illegible] the pledging of F. R. Hackett [illegible] Bridgeport, Conn.

SIGMA ALPHA CHI

Sigma Alpha Chi announces the [illegible]zing of Harvey N. Smith '32 of [illegible]ington and C. L. Park '32 of Graf[illegible]

Vermont Represented at Co-ed Convention

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible]nd who consider cheating clever[illegible]ss and who have no conscience or [illegible]se of honor. They feel that cheat[illegible] harms no one but the cheater. In [illegible] connection there is the question [illegible] tattling, and Miss Myers declared [illegible]at students are in college to learn [illegible]tchful responsibility, and that if [illegible]y have assumed responsibility for [illegible] community they must also have [illegible]se of watchfulness

In conclusion Miss Myers said that [illegible] college had student government, [illegible] Honor System would be improved; [illegible] it would furnish an opportunity [illegible] learn self-reliance and self-respect. She advised that the following steps [illegible]ken to establish a successful sys[illegible] First, there must be respect for [illegible] student officers; secondly, there [illegible] be co-operation and sympathy [illegible] the faculty; and lastly, the com[illegible]s must be constantly reminded [illegible] responsibility.

In the discussion that followed the [illegible] it was brought out that most of [illegible] colleges represented at the confer[illegible] had the honor system, and it was [illegible]erally successful. One of the most [illegible] instances was in the case of [illegible] College with its six thousand [illegible] students and an almost perfect [illegible]

[illegible] Florence K. Root, dean of wom[illegible] the College of Worcester, gave [illegible] on the "Development of Fellow[illegible] in the College Community." She [illegible]hat the most important thing [illegible]ge is living together and shar[illegible]tellectual pleasures, work and [illegible]sibility. The contact of person[illegible] is the most valuable thing one [illegible]et out of life, and there is a [illegible] of this contact between faculty [illegible]dents. The students must take [illegible]tiative, for the faculty are re[illegible] in forcing fellowship on the [illegible]s. Miss Root maintained that [illegible]culty is liable to forget that the [illegible] organization has a soul and to [illegible] of the college too much as made [illegible] departments. No college is a [illegible]anical thing, but a living organ[illegible] of the students and faculty.

[illegible]s Root said that she believed the [illegible] secret lies in appealing to the [illegible]t rather than the emotions of [illegible] student body.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Professor B. C. Douglass of the Education Department addressed the members of the League of Women Voters at the Community Luncheon at the Hotel Vermont, Thursday, November 22. He spoke on "Education in Vermont," giving a general outline of actual educational conditions as they are in Vermont today.

Melliatria, the women's pre-medic club, held its first meeting of the year Thursday. A program was planned for the remainder of the semester. The next meeting, which is to be a social one, will be held December 6. Alice Tyndall '31, president of the club, presided.

Members of Akraia Chapter of Mortar Board have adopted black jersey sweaters with the Mortar Board emblem of black and gold on the lower left pocket. Banshee Chapter of Middlebury is planning to have sweaters of the same type. This idea of a distinctive costume was originated in some of the colleges of the Middle West, where there are chapters of Mortar Board.

Dean Marian Patterson was hostess to active and honorary members of Akraia Chapter of Mortar Board Thursday evening at Robinson Hall at dinner. The guests included Miss Kathrina Storms, Miss Isobel Whiting, assistant to the Dean of Women, Miss Alice Brundell, Miss Eleanor S. Cummings, Miss Alice Blanchard, Miss Laura Parker and Miss Anna Smith; and the six Senior members, Marion Backus, Marion Baldwin, Katherine Bassett, Charlotte Cleveland, Margaret Durick and Lucy Morgan.

New uniforms for the basketball team have been ordered by Manager B. W. Gustafson. The jerseys will be white with a green half-block "V" and green with a similar letter with the usual numbers on back. The pants will be green with a yellow stripe and white with a green stripe.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF OLDER BOYS DEC. 7-9

Vermont's youth, representing approximately 125 different towns from this state, will meet at the Sixteenth Annual Conference of the Older Boys of Vermont at Burlington on December 7, 8 and 9.

The plans for this conference are already well under way and this city will entertain some 600 boys between the ages of 15 and 20. Fifteen church denominations, including Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Hebrew, as well as about sixteen organizations of the young people's societies, Sunday schools, high and preparatory schools, Boy Scouts, and Granges from almost every town in Vermont, will send delegates to take part in this event.

The railroads have granted special rates of a fare and a half for round trip tickets, and they are good going to Burlington December 6, 7 and 8 and returning December 10. The boys will be entertained free of charge at the homes of Burlington people.

A varied and interesting program including a reception by President Guy W. Bailey at the Billings Library at 5 p.m. on Saturday and a song service at the Ira Allen chapel on Sunday at 7.30 p.m. is in store for these youngsters.

Some Gift

Mr. Henry G. Granger of Bushkirk, N. Y., an alumnus of Princeton, has deposited $100 in a bank, one-half of the interest of which will go to Princeton annually. The remainder will be put with the principal, which will go to the University in bulk in 2928. The People's National Bank of Hoosick Falls in which the fund is deposited estimate that in 500 years it will have increased to more than $9,000,000,000. They would not attempt to say what figure the fund will have reached at maturity.

Watches the Dead

The employment bureau at the University of Wisconsin recently supplied an undertaker with a student who was to sleep in the undertaking parlor and keep watch over the corpses. Several students, in fact, applied for the job. Well you might as well get paid for watching dead ones as sit around and watch some room-mates all night.

Co-eds Must Sleep

Authorities at Stephen College, Columbia, Missouri, require 600 co-eds to take an afternoon siesta every day. The nap has an effect of appreciable scholastic improvement, members of the faculty report.—Campus.

GRADUATES OF TEACHER TRAINING ARE PRAISED

Clarence H. Dempsey, Commissioner of Education in Vermont, says that the students who have taken the teacher's training course at the University of Vermont, make adequate returns for the money invested in their training.

Now and then some graduates do not live up to their obligations to teach in the State, but the number is very small and there is no question of the benefits accruing from the granting of these scholarships.

Professor Bennett C. Douglass of the Department of Education of Vermont believes also firmly in the granting of teacher's training course scholarships to deserving students

Although many are graduated annually in this course, there is still a margin to be filled by competent graduates in this course

The supply of trained teachers has been then reasonably adequate for the last three years when one includes not only the two-year graduates, but those prospective teachers who go into service after completing one year of teacher training. The number of the latter class is annually diminishing and the number of two-year graduates annually increasing so that it appears probable that very shortly there will be sufficient two-year graduates to meet the annual demand for new elementary trained teachers.

Extra-Curricula Activities Desired

A part of every student's education should be some student activity for which his peculiar qualities and characteristics fit him.

Extra-curricula activities give a practical twist to education which is of great benefit to the participant. Each freshman should find some campus work which appeals to him, especially if that work is in the line of his future occupation.

There is activity for every temperament and for every capacity; debating, music, publications, literary, humorous and historical, dramatics, student offices, membership in specialized organizations such as language clubs and societies of the various schools—in fact such a variety of activities that every student should find his place among them.

If you have the desire to get practical experience in some field for which you are fitted, or if you wish to continue an activity of high school days, then find out where to go and what to do—and plunge.

There is a feeling on the campus that much freshman talent is lost because the newcomers are timid about applying. Such an attitude in a freshman is easy to understand, but there is no logical ground for it.

So if you're interested, try an activity. Now is the time to start.

The Utah Chronicle.

Lois: Dear, you have been so good to me that I am going to do you a favor. You can take me to dinner tonight.

Dear: That's great, Lois. Does your mother know we are coming?

—Wet Hen.

FANCY BOXES for the HOLIDAYS

Special Price on Ice Cream for Fraternities

SWEET SHOP
and CANDYLAND

VENUS PENCILS

"The largest selling QUALITY pencil in the World"

At all Stationers

Send $1.00 for sample box of a dozen assorted styles

AMERICAN PENCIL CO., Dept. Hoboken, N.J.

Makers of UNIQUE Thin Lead Colored Pencils—20 colors—$1.00 per doz.

NOTICE

All Junior women must hand their grinds to Phoebe Flint, Theta House, or Priscilla Campbell, 16 Mansfield Avenue, by Saturday, December 1.

GERMAN CLUB PRESENTS PLAY AT FIRST MEETING

Deutscher Verein, the German Club, held the first meeting of the year Wednesday evening, November 14. A play, "Aschenbroedel," was presented by the members. There was group singing of German folk songs, and Miss Sayre rendered several delightful solos. Dancing and refreshments followed the regular program.

"Aschenbroedel," the play that was presented, proved to be a much-modernized Cinderella affair, and was played by the following cast: Cinderella, Annette Rosenberg, '30; stepmother, Theresa Grey, '29; Trude Mollie Levin, '29; Trine, Mary Waddell, '30; Prince, John Medlar, '29. Encouraged by the success of the play, the Verein plans a more ambitious offering, to be presented in the near future.

All students studying German or who are familiar with German are cordially invited to attend the meetings and join the club. There will be election of officers at the next meeting. Professor Ladd, acting head of the German department, presided over this first meeting. John Medlar, '29, was president last year, and Mary Waddell, '30, secretary-treasurer.

RAND'S HOME LUNCH
84 COLCHESTER AVE.

Where you get the most of the best for the least

HOME COOKING
OUR SPECIALTY

Phone 2045

International Club Elects Year's Officers

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible]

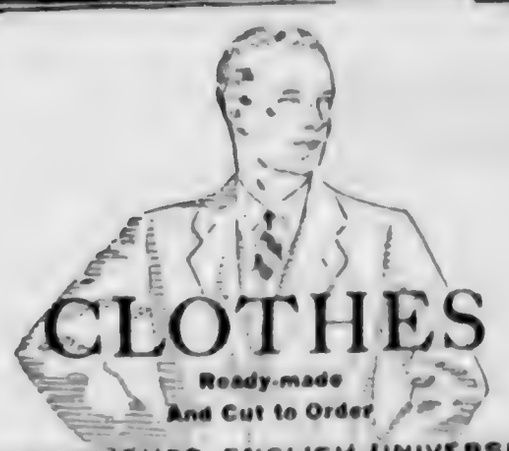
Army Man finds Tobacco "Like Old Friend"

U. S. Army
Fort Robinson, Nebr.
May 29, 1928

Larus & Bro. Co.
Richmond, Va.
Gentlemen:

Speaking of champion long-time members of the EDGEWORTH Club, say: It isn't how long you have smoked Edgeworth, it's how well you have enjoyed the smoke.

Why, I have walked out of many a store, especially when traveling, to stop at some one-horse town and buy Edgeworth. A good pipe deserves Edgeworth, and Edgeworth mine gets. I would not insult it with any other.



"The familiar blue cans are everywhere," and usually you find men of taste carrying them, which proves it is not the price that determines a good "smoky" tobacco, but the care and method that produce it.

I would rather go days without Edgeworth and at the end draw a deep inhale of that cool "smelly" aroma, satisfying to the last puff, than punish my throat and lungs and nostrils with inferior grades.

Edgeworth is "The Smoke With a Personality," like an old friend, you learn to know and understand, and when troubled or when you have a "thinky" problem—you seek its solace and companionship.

Very truly yours,
(signed) E. H. Fulmer

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

CLOTHES
Ready-made
And Cut to Order

ESTABLISHED ENGLISH UNIVERSITY STYLES, TAILORED OVER YOUTHFUL CHARTS SOLELY FOR DISTINGUISHED SERVICE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Charter House

Suits $40, $45, $50 Overcoats

BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT
OUR STORE IS THE

Charter House

OF BURLINGTON

The character of the suits and overcoats tailored by Charter House will earn your most sincere liking.

MILES & PERRY CO.

"Quality Clothiers"

Established 1896

KITTENS SCORED 55 TO OPPONENTS 25 POINTS

Although Freshman Eleven Lost State Title Season Was Far From Being Unsuccessful

Although starting with a defeat at the hands of the Shipyard team, the Kittens soon rounded into fine form and finished up an Vermont records as the hardest luck team ever a yearling eleven has produced. Outscoring all their opponents by the overwhelming margin of 55 points to 25, the freshmen piled up a record that will be the envy of Vermont coaches for many years. The first unexpected defeat came in the game with Clarkson Tech, 19 to 0, one of the best elevens ever turned out by that institution. It had also been defeated earlier in the season by Middlebury 19 to 0.

The season was opened on October 6 at Centennial Field when the Kittens defeated Clark 12 to 0. Clark had been defeated once in the intervening years and this year Dartmouth and Vermont handed Clark its only losses. The Kittens then traveled to Plattsburg and swamped the Normal school team. At Centennial Field the following week the St. Lawrence yearlings were defeated in the outstanding game of the season. Vermont gave one of the best exhibitions of defensive work and determination to conquer that has ever been witnessed on a Vermont gridiron. At Fort Ethan Allen the frosh held the heavy, experienced 7th Artillery team to a scoreless tie and then traveled to Northfield to score another deadlock against the cadet freshmen. The final game ended in the only defeat of the season, the first defeat for Vermont yearling teams in 16 games, and the second defeat in three years.

The following men looked like good material for the varsity next year: Ends—Redell, Morse, Tupper; tackles—Bowers, Smith, Leonard; guards—Collins, Pelofsky, Davis, Creaser; centers—Dilliberto, Brown; backs—Wyman, Mehegan, Jay, Ehnstrom, Regenski, Bove, Manning, Powell. Morse played a good, consistent game at end; Bowers, Smith and Leonard all looked good at tackle, a position that will need bolstering up on the varsity next fall; and Collins and Pelofsky were the regular guards who made the frosh line impenetrable, with Dilliberto and Brown, who alternated at center. There is a wealth of promising back field material. Wyman is a heady quarterback. Ehnstrom and Regenski were the best halfbacks. Regenski is a fast ball carrier and Ehnstrom is dependable as an end runner, interferer and defensive man. Bove and Jay were also flashy, with the latter especially good in a broken field. Captain Powell at fullback was the outstanding man on the team and is a real triple-threat. His punts of 50 and 55 yards saved many a disaster. His all-around ball carrying and throwing was superb and he was a bulwark of strength in backing up the line. Manning, another fullback, was a valuable understudy to Powell and without such a star to supplant he would easily have been a regular.

The record:

Vermont '32	12	Clark	0
Vermont '32	25	Plattsburg Nor.	0
Vermont '32	6	St. Lawrence '32	0
Vermont '32	0	Ft. Ethan Allen	0
Vermont '32	6	Norwich '32	6
Vermont '32	6	Middlebury '32	19
Total	55	Total	25

Average per game:

Vermont '32 ..... 9.

HOCKEY CHAMPIONS

Class of 1931. Standing, left to right—M. Lennoy, K. Rauh, D. Humphrey, A. Gay, Dorothy Brau. Kneeling, left to right—B. Loud (Mgr.), J. Thabault, M. Berry (Mgr.), E. Mandigo, M. Stoney, M. Crane.

Expensive?

To keep the Tiger Athletics in equipment for one year costs the University of Missouri approximately $20,000 according to C. C. Farmer, guardian of supplies for Missouri's Athletic teams.

Opponents ..... 4+

State yearling standing:

	Won	Lost	Tied	Pts.
Middlebury	2	0	0	4
Vermont	0	1	1	1
Norwich	0	1	1	1

Tailoring of all kinds.
Dry Cleaning and Pressing.
O'HARA'S
170 BANK ST. PHONE 897-W

KAPPA PHI KAPPA WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE NIGHT

Alpha Gamma of Kappa Phi Kappa, the honorary education fraternity, held its second meeting of the year last Thursday evening, November 22, in the Education office of the Old Mill.

Nelson C. Wood '29 was initiated into the society at this meeting.

All men of the classes of '29 and '30 taking Education are cordially invited to attend the open house night of the fraternity, Saturday, December 8, at 8 p.m. in the Education office. Plans for the entertainment of guests are now being made.

The organization was first formed on the campus several years ago and was known as the Education Club. In May, 1927, it went national, becoming Alpha Gamma of Kappa Phi Kappa. Kappa Phi Kappa is a brotherhood of teachers with the purpose of encouraging and elevating the teacher's profession.

She was only a physician's daughter but she sent the blood [illegible] your veins.—Wet Ink

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

ESTABLISHED 1896 QUALITY LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES NEW HAVEN CONN.

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

The
UNIVERSITY STORES
Make a Specialty of
CHRISTMAS CARDS AND GIFT SUGGESTIONS
With the University Seal
These are particularly appropriate for University students to give and receive

When a Feller Needs a Friend : : : : By BRIGGS

OLD GOLD
The Smoother and Better Cigarette
.... not a cough in a carload

© P. Lorillard Co., Est. 1760

THE TAKE-OUT

When you're called upon to take your partner out in your best suit....

You'll naturally take her out in

A Braeburn

A hundred aces
all with two trousers
$35 - $45
Hayes & Carney
180-1 BANK ST. NEAR MAJESTIC
OPEN EVENINGS
"Where Vermont Men Meet"

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VT., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1928 — NUMBER 20

CRIME PSYCHOLOGY THEME OF LECTURE

Metcalf Addresses Members of John Dewey Club on Psychological Aspects of Criminality

TELLS OF ACTIVITIES DURING WORLD WAR

Psychological Aspects of Criminality was the subject of the talk given by Professor Metcalf of the psychology department, to the members of the John Dewey Club at a meeting which was held last Tuesday evening at the Vermonters' Club on Summit street.

Professor Metcalf declared that the crime problem should be of particular interest to Americans because of the great prevalency of crime in this country. There are more murderers per ratio of population, in the United States than in any other country of the world. Italy has the second largest number of offenders, with one-half the number of murderers per ratio of population than the United States has.

Some people attribute the present crime situation here to the late war, since for a period following any war there is a tendency of the people to become lawless. But this country has always been extremely lawless, stated Professor Metcalf. Under England, the colonies defiantly broke English law and boldly prided themselves for their deeds.

Professor Metcalf told of his psychological research with criminals during the last war, he was stationed at Camp Devens and had access to the army offenders and conscientious objectors gathered in the guard house. Professor Metcalf stated that he was also located at the prisons at Pontiac and Joliet in the state of Illinois in an investigation conducted by the Criminology Bureau of the State Welfare Department.

It has been held, and still holds among some people today, that there is a criminal type, that there are certain physical traits which are peculiar to the criminal and distinguish him from the general population. Sir Francis Galton, of England, and Lombroso, the anthropologist, of Italy, made studies of the physical traits of criminals and their results were negative they came to the conclusion that length of jaw, height of forehead, and other physical characteristics had nothing to do with crime and criminals. Criminals are physically what the rest of the population is.

After the Franco-Prussian War of 1870 there was a large number of shell-shocked and otherwise mentally disabled individuals who had to be dealt with, and from the problem confronting France and Germany there developed the study of mentality. The problem which Professor Metcalf found in all his research with criminals was to discover whether there were any mental characteristics peculiar to the criminal.

There are no mental traits which distinguish the criminal was the conclusion which Professor Metcalf arrived in his investigation. Criminals show the same and identical variations in mentality that does the general run of the population at large. The ratings of the population as a whole are based upon the grades secured by the drafted men in the World War in the mental tests which were administered for them; the ratings of criminals are also based upon the results of the same tests given to them.

A significant result of the psychological tests given to criminals is that the more brutal the crime committed the lower is the mentality of the one who committed the crime. Criminals guilty of such offenses as forgery showed the highest mentality while murderers and sex offenders the lowest. It is to be noted, however, that these mental differences may characterize certain forms of crime, mental differences do not differentiate the criminal from the non-criminal.

Another fact of interest is that it was found that criminals fell into three main groups, those who were of inferior personality, those who were emotionally unbalanced, who

(Continued on page 3)

FRANK OTTO

Retiring manager of the 1928 football squad

SPRINGFIELD PLEASED WITH VERMONT'S BAND

R. O. T. C. Band of 60 Members Proves Big Attraction for Crowds at Springfield-Vermont Game

Vermont's crack R. O. T. C. Band was the big feature at the Springfield game Thanksgiving day. The organization of 60 trained musicians marching through the main streets of Springfield, Mass., just before the game, attracted the attention of thousands who lined the sidewalks. Many were the words of praise transmitted to the band members during the course of their stay in the Bay State City. Crowds followed in their wake to the game at Pratt Field.

This is the second time in as many years that the band has made the trip to Springfield with the football team. Besides the band, there was a generous sprinkling of Vermont students and alumni to cheer their team to victory. Lieutenant John D. Fredericks of the military department accompanied the band and was in charge of it during the entire trip.

About 60 members of the band were excused from classes Wednesday morning in time to catch the 12:19 train out of Burlington. Arriving in Springfield early in the evening they proceeded directly to Hotel Worthy, the headquarters during the sojourn. Following the game, a turkey dinner was thoroughly enjoyed by every member at the Hotel Worthy. They left the city late Thursday night by sleeper and arrived in Burlington on Friday morning in time to be present at their morning classes.

The personnel of the band most of whom made the trip is as follows:—

Joseph F. Lechnyr, director; Joseph F. Merola, assistant director. Benjamin F. Clark, second assistant director. John Pavia, drum major.

Cornets: Joseph F. Merola, H. M. Strauss, R. S. Derby, C. L. Park, E. L. Rowe, E. F. Barter and E. V. Kibby.

Clarinets: William Clapp, Frederick Maynard, E. W. Davis, A. J. Perrotta, H. R. Mattison, F. W. Householder, C. E. Wright, J. M. Moore, F. V. Rich, T. R. Marvin and C. W. Quad.

Alto horns: R. H. Curtiss, H. L. Petraglio, W. T. Webster and V. A. Kazlauskas.

Baritone horns: A. C. Johnson and E. J. Beyor.

Bass horns: C. H. Ramm, C. H. Taft and S. H. Manning.

Flutes and piccolos: S. Hanson, R. Cowles and R. Jenks.

Trombones: A. Howard, A. V. King, M. M. Kinney and L. Judd.

Saxophones: K. E. Boyden, B. F. Clark, D. W. Person, G. W. Colby, T. F. Ryan, M. I. Harris, J. O. Belknap, W. Brasor and L. Eaton.

Clarions: E. Fagan, F. G. Huriburt, B. Baker, R. A. Backus and J. A. Eliot.

Drums: J. Kendrick, C. E. Reynolds, F. A. Sears, M. A. Bisson, R. W. Hendricks, H. W. Adams and C. W. Tilley.

Tympani: J. S. Goldfarb.

COUNCIL AGAINST EARLY RUSHING

Athletic Council Would Have Rushing Season Postponed to December Instead of in November

SAYS INTERFERES WITH FOOTBALL ACTIVITY

Professor J. E. Donahue, chairman of the Athletic Council is to appoint a committee of five to meet with the Interfraternity Council. It was decided at the last meeting of the Athletic Council. The two bodies will discuss the possibility of changing the time of rushing until after the football season in coming years. It is quite evident that fraternity rushing interfered this year with the playing of both the varsity and the freshman teams. The contemplated change would bring the rushing season in December instead of November, as it is now arranged.

At the same meeting the council decided to award numerals to three scrub managers of freshman basketball, to be chosen in the same way as varsity managers. Another question of numerals was settled when the freshman football men were awarded theirs. The list will be announced shortly.

In accordance with the by-laws of the Athletic Council each major sport has an advisory committee. These committees are made up of a faculty member of the Council, an alumnus member, the graduate manager, and the manager and captain of the team. The function of these committees is to make recommendations to the Council concerning the employment of coaches, schedules, and appropriations. There is also a finance committee, made up similarly to the others, except that there are no undergraduate members. Its duties are to prepare budgets for the various sports, in collaboration with the advisory committees. No money can be appropriated until it has been approved by this body and voted on by the Council. These committees are as follows, being appointed by Professor J. C. Donahue as chairman of the Council:

Finance committee: Prof. H. B. Jenks, chairman, Dr. T. S. Brown, J. H. Patrick, H. A. Mayforth.

Football advisory committee: Prof. J. E. Donahue, chairman, R. E. Bingham, H. A. Mayforth, F. R. Otto, L. F. Palmer.

Track advisory committee: Prof. H. B. Jenks, chairman, Dr. Douglas McSweeney, H. A. Mayforth, A. R. Birchard, F. E. Robbins.

Baseball advisory committee: Dr. T. S. Brown, chairman, J. H. Patrick, H. A. Mayforth, W. F. Rogers, C. C. Macomber.

Basketball advisory committee: Prof. A. D. Butterfield, chairman, Dr. Douglas McSweeney, H. A. Mayforth, B. W. Gustafson, J. S. Estabrook.

REV. JONES CONDUCTS WEEKLY CHAPEL PERIOD

Rev. Augustine Jones of Springfield who is a graduate of Stanford University and who has recently returned from the Hawaiian Islands conducted the chapel services on Wednesday, November 28.

Rev. Jones stated in his talk that we are all children of God. He also referred to the Highways of God, saying that man's thoughts, like the heavens, are higher than the earth. Eternities and immensities are everywhere. God is so great that He can stoop to small things, yet not be overburdened. However God is not a God of vastness but of value, of mercy and of sympathy.

A comparison was made between a diamond, so small yet priceless, and a mountain in Nevada which might be bought for $20. It was shown that a greater size does not necessarily mean greater value. Everything, whether large or small, important or insignificant, ranks the same in the eyes of God. "We are God's children," said Rev. Jones, "and He desires us to follow His Highways."

"SAP" PALMER

Retiring captain of the 1928 football squad

SOPHOMORE DEBATERS DEFEAT FRESHMEN 3-0

Set Precedent by Retaining the Bailey Cup for Two Successive Years—Subject is Liberal Education

For the first time since its donation to the University thirteen years ago, the H. A. Bailey debating cup remains in the possession of the same class two successive years as a result of the unanimous decision last Tuesday night in favor of the Sophomore debating team in the annual Freshman-Sophomore meet. The class of 1931 took the yearlings into camp even more easily than they defeated last year's Sophs and goes on record as the only class team in the University to establish a 100 percent debating record.

The Oregon Court Procedure style of debate lent itself easily to consideration of the question under discussion, the extension of certain principles to the system of liberal education in American academic colleges and universities. These principles were defined in advance as giving to all students absolute freedom in their choice of studies, unlimited cuts, and the privilege of taking examinations when ready for them. The Freshmen, debating on the affirmative, upheld these proposals, presenting in their behalf Paul LaCrosse, Fred Householder and Peary Perger, as witness, cross-examiner and pleader, respectively. Debating for the class of 1931 were George Nelson, Hugh Mattison and Louis Lisman.

LaCrosse opened with a complete statement of the affirmative case. Nelson countered for the negative. To complete the attack on the affirmative, Mattison then submitted LaCrosse to a rapid fire of questions. The yearlings responded by summoning Nelson to the stand with Householder cross-examining for over twelve minutes. Lisman summed up for the negative, taking the opportunity to refute the affirmative argument. Berger closed the debate with rebuttal on behalf of the Freshmen.

Plenty of wit and humor was exhibited during the debate by both sides, descriptions of the average student, of his probable reactions to unlimited cuts and voluntary examinations and the questions and answers in the cross-examination giving cause for merriment from presentation to rebuttal. Nelson, Mattison and Lisman all did excellent work during the debate while on the Freshman team Berger was outstanding.

Professor Leon W. Dean conducted the debate in a very laudable manner while Professors L. M. Prindle, W. E. Allen and L. D. Meredith handed down the judges' decision.

A unique feature of the debate was the appearance of the Hon. H. A. Bailey, the donor of the cup to present it to the winning team. This is the first time in more than a decade that Senator Bailey has consented to make the presentation address.

The Sophomore team now disbands forever, Lisman and Nelson returning to the varsity. Of the Freshmen, it is to be hoped that they will prove another source of varsity material until they get their chance, in November, 1929, to redeem themselves and claim the cup at last for their class.

MAROON NIPS CATS WITH FIELD GOAL

Varsity Lose Last Game in Annual Battle With Y. M. C. A. College at Springfield Thanksgiving

WILLIAMSON SCORES GOAL FOR SPRINGFIELD

A goal from the field by Captain Eddie Williamson defeated Vermont at the annual Thanksgiving battle staged at Springfield. Although the weather was cool, a holiday crowd of 3,500 people clad in coonskins and heavy ulsters with vari-colored blankets watched the repulse of Springfield's advances by the heavy, veteran Vermont line. The result of a season in which the Catamounts were almost always on the defense was shown in this final game of the 1928 season.

The first half saw both teams fighting on an even footing, Vermont's plays puzzling the Springfield quarterback. Back and forth travelled the teams, each gaining a little ground and finally pushed to punts. Fred Robbins outshone the Springfield booter on nearly every exchange averaging nearly fifty yards to the punt.

During the second half Springfield showed their offensive power, and the Vermont eleven their fighting stubbornness. With less than a yard to go for a touchdown the Springfield eleven commenced an unmerciful attack on the Vermont line only to be held for downs. Again the Catamounts held the advancing Red and White machine for downs on the five yard line. It was in the third quarter that Williamson kicked the field goal from the 35-yard line that spelled defeat for Vermont.

The band was greeted with applause by the Springfield fans and Vermont alumni, playing several selections dear to the heart of all Vermonters. The Springfield team gained 18 downs during the game while the Vermont eleven gained but five. Several Vermont men received minor injuries due to the terrific battering of the Springfield team.

The line-up:

Springfield		Vermont
Blumenstock	l.e.	Segal
Greeman	l.t.	Kropper
Wolvers	l.g.	O'Keefe
Limbaugh	c.	Levine
G. Clark	r.g.	Park
Jenkins	r.t.	Damon
Hammond	r.e.	Palmer
Williamson	q.b.	Donnelly
Duncan	r.h.b.	Robbins
Lindeman	l.h.b.	Halligan
Rood	f.b.	DeRose

Score by periods	1	2	3	4	T
Springfield	0	0	3	0	3
Vermont	0	0	0	0	0

Goal from field: Williamson. Referee: Carpenter, Harvard. Umpire: Lowe, Dartmouth. Head Linesman: Keane, Norwich Academy. Field Judge: Dewindt, Harvard. Time: 15 minute quarters.

Substitutions: Springfield: Nielson for Rood, Ball for Duncan, Van Huysen for Lindeman, Lindeman for Van Huysen, Smith for Blumenstock, J. Clark for Hammond, Togier for G. Clark. Vermont: Sirois for Donnelly, Hunt for Park, DeWitt for Palmer, Nilsen for Damon, J. Scutniks for Sirois, Sirois for DeWitt, Park for Huey, Damon for Nilsen, Huey for O'Keefe, DeWitt for Segal, Dorey for Scutniks, Carrigan for Halligan, Nilsen for Damon, Palmer for Sirois. Foster for Nilsen.

Women's basketball practice will start Tuesday. This class is eligible to all women regardless of their previous experience and all who are interested should sign up on the W. A. A. Board.

NOTICE!!

All contributions for the Blue Stockings Competition must be in the Grievance Box in the Y Room by Monday morning.

The Vermont Cynic

The official student newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

EDGERTON A. SANDERS, '29
Managing Editor

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

Lawrence O. Clayton, '29
News Editor

Herrick M. Macomber, '29
Columnists

Arthur D. Stearns, '30

Hugh Fuller, '29

George R. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors
Kenneth B. Hager, '29
Mark A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Marcinetti, '29

Feature Editor
George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Seymour Nathanson, '29

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Cass, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Warren H. Burr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor
Constance Holden, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

[illegible] Goodrich, '29
[illegible] Campbell, '30
[illegible] Richardson, '29
[illegible] Waterman, '29
[illegible] R. Brush, '31

Douglas L. Stewart, '31
America Gouris, '30
E. A. B. Germain, '31
Ronald E. Coburn, '31
Philip G. Andrews, '30

Louis Lisman, '31
Richard Cowles, '31
L. M. Foster, '31
C. N. Crockett, '31

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

[illegible] C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur R. Burchard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jenks, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
[illegible] M. Munro, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Fuller, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscriptions price $3.00 a year. Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2665 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House; all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 408 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 November 30, 1928 No. 20

THOSE GREEN CAPS!

Tradition at Vermont is being insulted, daily, by unthinking Freshmen who fail to wear their green caps. With the class of 1932 rests the experiment of minimum discipline and they are doing much to bring back a system of enforced regulations.

Perhaps the Freshman wonders why he should wear a cap at all. In the first place, he is a new member of an educational institution, and he may show his affiliation by wearing the cap. By showing his membership he may expect members of the other classes to recognize him as a brother student, and members of his own class to recognize their classmate.

A second reason is the idea of democracy. Vermont is an institution founded in the spirit of democracy, and perpetuated in the same spirit. The army requires a uniform as a leveler. Such is the Freshman cap. Thus the deeds of a Freshman become more important than his wealth or family history. This idea of democracy, a foundation of our country, is the only way true Vermont spirit may be carried on.

No organization seems to be trying to enforce the cap rule. It is up to the fraternities, who have pledged well nigh half of the men of 1932 class, and the Freshmen themselves. Members of 1932, make it a point of honor and pride to wear your caps; it is a privilege you should be proud of.

With the closing of the football season it is customary to glance back and see what the team has accomplished during the period. At first the record of no victories during the season seems disgraceful. Then we consider the new material, new coach and the two tie games with our state rivals and the two games lost by a single point. Then the Springfield game where our crippled team fought out battle of its life at the end of a discouraging season. The boys did their best, gave Vermont what they had and there should be no complaints.

Captain Battate did very well considering the material he had to work with. We hope he will return next year and find better material to mold a team.

Formal Evening Wear Now Prevalent

The first formal of the year brought forth a flowing array of becoming evening frocks. They were more lovely and varied than ever before, of many shades, of many colors, fashioned from various soft materials. This season orders plain bodices, with skirts, circular flounces, cascading tiers, shirred panels, and above all uneven hemlines.

Velvet has entered the evening mode. A ruby red velvet gown was noticed gracing the gym Friday evening, the slim bodice cut in scalloped sections on diagonal lines, and the skirt flaring, with uneven hem line reaching to the knee in front and nearly to the ankle behind.

Another fair coed entered in a dress entirely of black tulle, the bodice plain, with a narrow V-neck in back, and rounding in the front. The skirt was a series of tulle flounces and of course, the uneven hem line.

Satin and chiffon, old favorites, were also in prominence, and lace is still used effectively as could well be seen by the varieties of becoming lace gowns at the ball.

Oppose Shaving

There are 3,000 entrants in a beard-growing contest at the University of Illinois which is to last for two weeks. The officials in charge of it were offered $500 by a prominent safety razor manufacturer to stop the contest, but they are determined to glorify the beard.

REVIEW OF VERMONT LITERARY MAGAZINE

Initiating its second anniversary with the November issue, the Vermont Literary Magazine proves that its birth was a golden venture; for in this little book we find a goodly number of short stories, poems, sketches and essays of promising literary artists.

The Eve of the Great Green God" by John N. Meissner, ex-'31, and "Coasting with Sally" by Wilmond W. Parker, '29, are the outstanding manuscripts. The former is a short story, and it is a fascinating tale, to be sure. It deals with man's vanity, stressing his lust for jewels, and winding up with an intrigued romance of a Russian nobleman who leaves his country lass, taking with him her costly gems and later marrying a Hebrew beauty. There is plenty of atmosphere in this narrative and the style as well as the use of words show literary ability and originality. There is mysticism in the following lines.

"There was an eerie noise that drifted up from the outside of the ivy twined wall, a sound similar to that of naked feet—climbing! The grey window slipped upward silently. The cold salt mist of the sea swept softly inward, but, the old man did not stir. A first spurt of red flame from the hearth glinted on a foreign creature, a yellow, slant-eyed shadow that crept toward the old man—and then was gone."

The latter, "Coasting With Sally," by Wilmond W. Parker is a narrative poem of a simple and innocent kiss which sounds a great deal like the Imitation Ballard. This verse took first place in the Tri-state Literary Contest last year.

Wilmond W. Parker makes a fine attempt at a professional article wherein he discusses nonsense writers, particularly Lewis Carroll and A. A. Milne, in his "Measure of the Mind."

"Fate and Rosa" by Merta E. Munro, '28, is a short sketch that is quite colorful, but could be improved upon.

"The Romantic Side of Life" by Gladys Kone, '29, the actress, debater, and now, author, is a vivid descriptive essay of a student's emotions and temperaments. We heard one of the students remark about this one: "It sounds as if a fellow wrote it," and we agree with him.

This publication could stand more poetry but those verses that are printed here are charming to say the least. In "Unsung" Norma Freeman asks:

"Oh, why must song be all of love,
Of birds, of bees, of flowers?
Of silver moons and blue lagoons.
Of memory's golden hours?"

The other verses are: "Autumn," by Elizabeth Hollis and "Retreat," by Janice M. Goodrich, '30.

"The Story of a Voice," by Priscilla T. Campbell, '30, is what we may call a pathological sketch and shows little originality. We find less originality however, in "Jimmie," a character sketch, by Virginia A. Goodenough, but both of these manuscripts are well written and show an uncommon ability in the use of words.

Two highbrow features which add to the beauty and dignity of this magazine are the Editor's Page and Who's Who; the latter discussing the contributors. There is also a book review. "All Kneeling," by Annie Parrish, is well-reviewed, praised and criticised.

We note that most of the contributors and editors are co-eds and we wonder whether men are permanently passing over literature to them.

In conclusion, we must say that this is a sensible and mature publication and deserves the co-operation of the student body.

E. GERMAINE.

The Football Times

(From the Boston Post)

Ever so often worthy gentlemen of different faculties say bitter things against football and the greater interest shown in that sport than in studies. The Boston Post had an interesting article in reference to the last question: There are still big games to be played before the 1928 football season ends, but we are near enough to the last whistles to realize that this has been a bigger year than ever before. There have been bigger crowds and more money paid for admissions.

In 1872 an American school angled for students with a prospectus which carried this message to parents: "The students shall be indulged with nothing which the world calls play. Let this rule be observed with the strictest necessity; for those who play when they are young will play when they are old." After such a football season as this which is passing, it is interesting to conjecture how many pupils today would be attracted to a school which promised to prohibit all games.

Estelle: "Did Willie kiss you goodnight when he left?"

Mildred: "No. It was too late."

The Periscope

FROM A SILENT HOUSE

And soon after they landed they gathered themselves together on the bleak shore. Snow was falling in flurries from the overcast heavens. Clouds lowered down upon them, seeming to rest on the very tops of the trees. They saw, or at least they imagined they saw, queer, savage faces peering out at them from the thick underbrush.

The washing was over. The young women of the company had finished scrubbing the clothes made grimy by the long, monotonous crossing. The salt water and the scanty supply of soap had made the task a difficult one. The clothes, even after washing, were rather a sorry lot of none too white shirts and sheets and handkerchiefs—the hundred and one things that go to make up a family washing undone for over a month. Still the things were clean and the weary voyagers dressed in clean clothes felt themselves somehow nearer to the scenes they had left behind—some of them would never see England again and many would die in the fast-approaching winter—and the faces so dear to them that were now lost somewhere, thousands of miles away, behind the low line where drab sea and drab sky melted into one single depressing picture of distance and vacancy and loneness. Not even a sea gull swooped across the deserted beach. All was vacancy and all was quiet except for the vague haunting fear which hovered over the group, except for the half imagined faces peering at them from the bushes.

The little children, and there were several of them, were huddled close in a group by themselves. They seemed to have been forgotten by their elders. Perhaps their parents were too busy with thoughts of other days and other shores. Anyway the children were left alone. They seemed to feel their loneliness keenly. They did not sport with one another, did not even chatter boisterously as do normal children. Instead, boy and girl, clad in sober greys and drab browns, they gathered into a tight group on the outskirts of the larger group of older people.

The children were waiting. They did not know what they were waiting for, did not have an idea of what it was that cast over them a strange feeling of expectancy and hesitation. Still they were quiet and still they felt that something portentious was about to happen.

A boat came in to the shore from the ship. Its nose poked a long clean furrow into the soft darkness of the sand. The rowers leapt nimbly ashore. Then they turned to help the other occupant of the boat. He was a sturdy man of late middle life. His face was browned with the exposure of the long crossing. His body was that of the hardy worker. Still he gravely accepted the proffered aid of the rowers. He moved slowly, bearing himself with all the dignity of one who moves before a sacred altar. Then it was, watching his carriage, that one noticed his dress was not the same as that of the men around him. It was even more somber, more severely austere.

The group of elder people parted silently. The newcomer moved into their midst. The band of children broke up. Each boy and girl sought his own parents. A silence, broken only by the soft kissing sound of the waves against the sand, came over the company.

The late-comer was now standing in the center of the group. All drew close around him. Then he lifted up his arms. Slowly he began to speak. "Let us give thanks to Him who is worthy of our gratitude. Let us worship our Preserver in the new land to which He has brought us. God is great and greatly to be praised. He has watched over us and He will keep us in the hollow of His own hand. Praise be unto Him. Blessed be his mighty name." The voice of the speaker faded into the silence of the quiet shore. Snowflakes were falling on the bared heads of the kneeling people.

The first Thanksgiving to be celebrated in this land had been consummated.

* * *

Let me state immediately, before angry critics even consider taking their castigating pens in hand, that no claim of accuracy is made for the above sketch. What the first Thanksgiving actually was, I do not know. This is merely the way I thought of it as I sat here alone in the quiet house. The lights were turned out and I could hear the soft swish of a sleet, half rain, half snow, on the tight-closed windows.

* * *

When one sits alone in a house darkened and listens to the sound of a sleet, half rain, half snow, as it pads gently against the tight-closed windows, he thinks of many things. Sometimes he builds a fire and watches the crackling [illegible] into fantastic shapes. Sometimes he studies [illegible] puts on hat and coat and [illegible] out into the storm.

Sometimes he steals [illegible] ly.

H[illegible]

THE BOARDING HOUSE REAC[illegible]

By Ex-Converse [illegible]

You can lead a horse [illegible]
You can even make him [illegible]
You perhaps can ma[illegible]
so inclined.
Yet when once you giv[illegible]
And remove the old re[illegible]
He'll go tearing throu[illegible]
you will find
He'll go tearing throug[illegible]
And he'll hurt himself [illegible]
Till the horse sense that [illegible]
Has a chance to help hi[illegible]
You can hide behind a [illegible]
With your light all dar[illegible]
You can lock your door [illegible] world of sin
But as soon as you crawl forth
In this haze of doubt and strife
All the cheaper things [illegible]
trooping in.
All the cheaper things [illegible]
All the things you've learned [illegible]
Till the common sense within [illegible]
Has a chance to make them [illegible]
You must live to gain your [illegible]
You must seek for truth in life
You must look for facts that [illegible] were in books.
You must meet the good and bad
You must learn to weigh all men
And to measure them for merit for looks.
You must measure them for merit
If you judge but by your sight
You shall err—till disappointment
Comes along to set you right.

Here's a rather queer thing [illegible] happened up at Bates College [illegible] week. Before the debate, their [illegible] addressed them as follows:

Don't Use Big Words

"In promulgating esoteric [illegible]tions or articulating superficial [illegible]mentalities and philosophical or[illegible]chological observations, beware platitudinous ponderosity. Let statements possess a clarified con[illegible]ness, compacted comprehensible coalescent consistency and a [illegible]trated cogency. Eschew all [illegible]erations of flatulent garrulity, je[illegible]babblement and asinine affectati[illegible]. Let your extemporaneous and un[illegible]meditated expatiations have intel[illegible]bility and veracious vivacity, wit[illegible]rodomontade or thrasonical bo[illegible]ventriloquous verbosity and gran[illegible]quent apidity; shun double enten[illegible]prurient jocosity and pestiferous [illegible]fanity, whether obscurent or appar[illegible]

"In other words, speak PLAIN[illegible] SENSIBLY and TRUTHFULLY."

"Yeh," pipes up the first spea[illegible] from the safety of the rear, "[illegible] call it Monoaceticacidester of Sali[illegible] acid, but it's only an Aspirin tab[illegible]

"Stop now! You're only stu[illegible] me!" cried the Thanksgiving Tur[illegible]

The Dirty Engineers

Dedicated to M. M.

Yes, we're dirty engineers.
And the heck with all your jeers
'Cause you're jealous and that's you kid us so.
Well, we want to ask of you,
What—without us—could you do
Sure, pipe up now, smarty—you think you know.
Who would build your bridges str[illegible]
Who would tell you what was w[illegible]
With your choo-choo tracks that many trains?
Who would build your concrete r[illegible]
That can bear such heavy loads
We're the guys who would we're the guys with brains
You cram Latin day and night
With deponent verbs you fight
That's the reason that you're too off your feet.
We use both our hands and [illegible]
You are weak; we're str[illegible]
So when we step out we [illegible]
a treat.
We're the Dirty and the [illegible]
Engineers! Rah! Rah!

Co (giving her flipper [illegible] her roadster)—"Would y[illegible] where I was vaccinated."

Ed (expectantly)—"Yes [illegible]

Co—"Well, keep your [illegible] we'll drive by there pr[illegible]

Guidon.

The Doctor—"You're [illegible] see me. I have a case."

Patient—"So you have. That's what I called to [illegible] Could you spare me a ha[illegible]

—Pickup.

"Now, remember, [illegible] Mother Raccoon to her [illegible] must always watch your [illegible] you have the skin tha[illegible] love to touch."—Green [illegible]

Society Notes

DELTA DELTA DELTA

... of Delta Delta Delta ... Iota chapter at Mid... on Wednesday to cele... ...ersary of the founding ...

ALPHA XI DELTA

... Katherine Alice, was ... November 24, to Mr ... ...ge Kidder Mrs. Kidder ... ...mball, '23

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

... fall dance will take ... ...day evening, December 1. ... Sigma Nu rooms.

KAPPA DELTA

... was served Thursday eve... ... fraternity rooms to those ... who did not go home for the ...

... evening the fraternity will ... dance at the rooms of the ... Pythias.

SIGMA GAMMA

... fall informal dance of Sigma ... - to be held this evening at ... rooms of the Catholic Daughters ... Professor and Mrs. Dean ... Professor and Mrs. Doane are act... as chaperones. Music will be ... by Beaupre's orchestra.

The Statistician Proposes

My dearest, nine hundred and ... seven out of a thousand white ... maidens between the ages ... eighteen and thirty-five fail to ... your velvet lips, your liquid ... eyes, your velvet cheeks and ... flowing auburn tresses which, if ... plated hair by hair and laid end ... would reach from here to Han... China, and two-sevenths of the ... back.

... on my suit with favor, dear ... Remember that my income is ... nine and fourteen-hundredths ... cent greater than that of the ... age man who has been out of col... as long as I have. Only one man ... thirteen can sport a derby and cane ... I do in the evening. Marry me, ... ing, and we will settle down in ... arvia, a town which leads all ... ers in the state in parking space, ... paste consumption per capita, ... radio reception and is second to ... two other cities in police protec... n.

We will live in a twelve room ... se, the timber of which has been ... ered from the largest forest in the ... re Northwest. The concrete in ... cellar will be able to resist a ... ssure of one thousand and eighty ... ds per square inch. You shall ... a library of works by the world's ... atest masters. There will be so ... y books that had one man writ... them all it would have taken him ... hundred and eleven years, which ... ns that had he started at the time ... the signing of the Magna Charta ... would have finished just in time to ... the world's heavyweight title ... ge hands in 1926.

Dear heart, the perfume of one ... dred and eighteen of the sweetest ... ers in Christendom would be as ... ght to the fragrance of your hair ... never mind, I told you that. ... me darling, take me! 'And who ... was but that before long we may ... a child who, were he to gain in ... th proportionately until he ... manhood, would be able to ... a two and a half ton safe down ... ght of seventy-three stairs in a ... and nineteen seconds? Be ... loved one! Please say yes!"

—Goblin

Repairing Ukeleles

... a ukelele, banjo, mandolin, or ... instrument will not produce ... tones, I have found the cause ... is almost invariably one of the ... ing: Loose pegs, defective ... frets not accurately placed, ... too high from the fingerboard. ... pegs are likely to slip after ... been used a number of times; ... n be enlarged by boiling them ... r. If the pegs are of the non... le and will not work, the ... are stripped.

... is only one way to remedy ... strings and that is to buy ... s. If any frets are a thou... of an inch out of place, dis... ften will be produced. This ... annot be remedied.

... nut is too high from the ... rd, the strings, when pressed, ... sharp notes. It will be ... t if the nut is filed down and ... hes put in so that the strings ... a small fraction of an inch ... frets—but be sure they do ... ch—an improvement in the ... duction will be noted.—Ka Leo

... will be four more meetings of ... in social dancing, providing ... more girls will sign up for the

Kake Walk

I sat in the Palace Theatre in ——, Conn. I don't know why I went to the movies that afternoon; I certainly didn't feel like seeing any drab, monotonous portrayal of injured innocence and righteous redress.

The fellow next to me started to talk trying to kill time until the silly thing started. I hardly knew him.

"What school are you going to George?"

"Vermont—University of Vermont."

"Pretty good baseball team this year, haven't they?"

"Sure have. Well, here's the Pathe News, anyway."

"Say, will you look at that."

I looked at That.

University of Vermont Holds Annual Kake Walk.

We both sat in surprised silence and watched the trick Peerade and the clever stunts. Then, "Hey! Hey! Cotton Babes!" Did they step? Did they lift their toasted Fox Terriers high, wide and handsome? Shh! I'll tell you very confidentially—Warm Spirits of Turpentine, but they quite certainly did! Knee after knee sought My Blue Heaven with much Mahem and Malice aforesaid. Finally, it was over.

"And so," I said to Jack, regaining my calm composure once more, "Vermont has something more than a good baseball team. She's got It. It is spelled with a K up there and it means Kake Walk! Sabbe?"

He did. I came to Vermont last year. I came to Kake Walk. I came, I saw, and I conquered. Conquered my disgust with the films that can tell but one third of the story.

* * *

Like all Gaul, Kake Walk is divided into three parts. The first the Peerade inhabits, the second is crowded with the Stunts, and the third is filled with what they call "Walkin' Fo' De Kake" and what we call great and just as the student interlinears tell us, Kake Walk is distinctly savage and barbaric. We who are rapidly becoming civilized—effeminate—with our Spanish and Sanskrit, our stereotyped studying, we must have some means of slipping back to our primitive state. We long to fly to the unknown jungles where men are men and women are Amazons. So once a year we turn our hearts, thoughts and actions toward a distinctly Vermont custom. And when Vermont sets out to do something, you may rest perfectly assured, Mrs. Sylvester, that the Green and Gold will have no cause to hide her head in sorrow—not to mention chagrin and sadness.

Thus, this year—already made auspicious by Hoover's (a Republican's!) majority vote in Vermont will be doubly signalized by a Bigger and Better Kake Walk. Doc Rogers and Frank O'Keefe, this annum's directors, have been working like Democratic filibusters in a Republican House, taking abundant and tender care of all the preliminary details, and no one is going to get away with putting the Previous Question to their efforts. You know Frank. You know Doc. But wait till you see Kake Walk. They have decided that six instead of eight stunts shall be presented this year, in this way eliminating for certainty any possible fatigue on the part of those over 90 and those undernourished, who in the past have declared that the long performance was slightly boring, don't you know? After Santa has paid us his yearly visit and Dads have paid the subsequent bills, Doc and Frank will go into even heavier bull-session, so that when the conference finally breaks up Kake Walk will be Bodied by Fisher—embodied with all that goes to make Cotton Babes signify what it really and truly and honest-to-goodness does.

Frosh we envy you. To most of you shall come the happiest moment of your thus happy lives. You shall hear Cotton Babes. You'll never forget the tune! You shall see Kake Walk. You'll never forget the sight! You shall see Vermont that is Vermont—at her best. You'll never forget the spirit!

Roll Hoops at Dartmouth

We are pleased to report that the Wellesley College girls have at last taken to pure sports, to wit, hoop-rolling. And now the epidemic has spread to Dartmouth, where the freshmen have been obliged to roll hoops around the solemn and ancient town of Hanover.

Beauty Courses Given

At Smith College, they are giving courses in beauty culture to produce beautiful students. At Vassar they are giving courses to produce beautiful homes. Which is just another argument in favor of polygamy.

Aeroplane traveling is said to be a cure for lung trouble. We understand that patients are much relieved after whooping the whoop a few times.

—Temple Owl.

Crime Psychology Theme of Lecture

(Continued from page 1)

committed offenses in a fit of anger or passion, and those who were egocentric. This last group, the egocentric are self-centered and selfish. Such a man as Chapman who was executed for murder a short time ago is of the egocentric type. he thought only of himself and had no pity for his victims nor any sorrow at all for his deeds.

There was an informal discussion of the subject following Professor Metcalf's talk and refreshments were served. An unusual interest is being manifested by the students in the club this year. Fifty students were in attendance. The next meeting will probably be held in two weeks.

COLLEGE HUMOR

Friend: "Why are you leaving Blah University?"

Coach: "No cooperation there. I had Buster Brown, the best football player in America today, all lined up for next year. He wanted an A.B., an M.A. and a Ph.D. in addition to his pay, and the president of the university says he couldn't give them to him for a year's work. Can you beat that?"

What does a baseball do when it stops rolling?

Looks around.

Amherst Lord Jeff

"I believe this school is haunted."

"Why?"

"They are always talking about the school spirit." Thalia

Don't cry, little girl, because vacation's over. Pity the poor fishes, they must stay in a school all the year round.—Michigan Gargoyle.

"Your boys are graduating from college rather late. What kept them back so long? Are they delicate?"

"No, they're athletes."

—Texas Ranger

"I see you have a run in your stocking."

"I'm not wearing stockings, that's a fingernail scratch." Temple Owl

Careful Chorus Boy: "I wonder if that spotlight will give me the freckles."

Pennsylvania Punch Bowl

GREAT!

"What! You thrown out of school again! I'll be damned! It sure seems a shame that you can't stick anywhere."

"But—"

"No buts about it. I go to the trouble of giving you a college education, or rather trying to, and what return do I get? Nothing, nothing but continual trouble."

"Well—"

"Shut up! Don't you realize the failure you've made of yourself? Think of the years you've spent aimlessly running around. And the money! I should think your conscience would trouble you."

"But, Father—"

"Quiet! I've listened to enough of your excuses and I'm fed up. You've said enough already. In the future you'll listen to me. Understand? I think you'd better. And now you're going to work. How do you like that?"

"Splendid, old boy. I just graduated and dropped around to tell you I'm all set to go to work."

Michigan Gargoyle.

MODERN FARMING

"What did you do with those freak Siamese twin calves that were born last night?"

"We just threw them into the separator." Williams Purple Cow

Prof: "Give an example of a collective noun."

Third Row from Rear: "Vacuum cleaner."—Pennsylvania Punch Bowl

"Hear about the fellow who invented a device for looking through a brick wall?"

"No, what does he call it?"

"A window, sap!"—Yale Record

Inebriate (picking up sidewalk): Shay, mister, how can I go home? This thing's pointing the wrong way.

—M. I. T. Voo Doo.

"These links are terrible caddy."

"This ain't the links sir. You got off them a long time ago."

—Mugwump

The Elite Beauty Parlor

SHAMPOO 50c MARCEL 50c

FINGER WAVE 75c

PHONE 538-J 3 CENTER STREET

New Spain Invites World to Visit Country During 1929 Celebration

Student globe trotters have a new experience to look forward to in 1929—an experience at once pleasurable and profitable. Spain: land of sunshine and flowers, castles and color, legend and romance. Spain: once queen of the Seas and supreme among nations. Spain whose galleons and gold, grandeur and pomp once were the envy of the civilized world is making a new bid for leadership in arts, industry and commerce. All roads will lead to Spain in 1929.

The world which has heard little recently of the land of Castile and Aragon will again visit her Mediterranean shores, enjoy her hospitality, her blue skies and her Latin beauty in the gay and lovely city of Sevilla and in Barcelona, industrial and commercial capital of Spain, will be staged two great International Exhibitions of Art, Athletics, Industry and Commerce under the auspices of H. M. the King, Don Alfonso XIII. In the wide halls and golden galleries of splendid palaces of marble and colored tile, legacy of the Arabs and the Moors, will be displayed the artistic effort and scientific genius of world peoples.

In significance and magnitude the Exhibitions represent the most important economic events staged since the World War. Nearly seventy-five million dollars has been set aside by the Government and by Spain's leading industrialists to the success of the venture for which plans have been under way ten years. Sevilla will particularly emphasize Arts, while Barcelona, city of merchants will stress the Industrial. In the great Industrial zone, business men from all over the world will display their products. America being an important contributor. Considerable emphasis will be given to the application of science to industrial ends.

Sports of the world will be featured in international contests in the immense Exhibition Stadium, while everything relating to the educational, technical and commercial aspects of the Sporting World will be gathered together in the Sports Pavilion in Barcelona.

A Greek Theater built in accordance with pure classic art in a quarry of great antiquity, cut from stone of fiery colors will present dramas of another day. Spanish festivals will be celebrated in Sevilla with all the gorgeous pageantry and colorful splendor which is Spain. A luminous fountain more colossal than the famous fountain of Versailles will rain a glittering shower of stars in the Plaza Espanol.

Two events of international significance will enliven the Exhibition calendars—the First International Light Fair, at which light and its importance in all aspects of human activity will be featured, and the International Press Congress to be attended by the world's leading publishers, journalists and publicists.

Artists and architects, students and teachers, philosophers and economists, the industrialist and the trader, the manufacturer and the merchant from the Old World and the New will meet next year in Barcelona and Sevilla. Educational in purpose, international in scope and universal in appeal, Spain's two great Exhibitions will be the goal next year of people in every field of endeavor and interest, academic and technical. Old Spain in whose shadows of a glorious past rise her monuments to a promising future, invites the youth of America to New Spain, eager, ambitious, successful New Spain.

BASKETBALL AND HOCKEY UNIFORMS ARE ORDERED

Now that money has been secured to cover the expenses of the hockey season, uniforms have been ordered for the team. They will consist of a dark green jersey with stripes, dark green stockings with gold bands, and white duck padded pants.

The uniforms for the basketball team have also been ordered. There are to be two sets of jerseys with these, one will be solid white, with a plain, half block green "V" on the front and a numeral on the back. Both the letter and the numeral will be six inches high. The change jersey is dark green with a gold "V" of the same style as on the other jerseys and a similar numeral. The trunks are made of white cricket cloth, with a one inch green stripe down the side and around the bottom.

Amherst Cut System

At Amherst College, cuts in classes before and after a holiday count double. All classes thus cut at Colgate University count triple.

Big Chiefs Attend Game

A delegation from the Blackfeet tribe of Indians recently attended a Minnesota University football game, dressed in full tribal regalia. They attracted considerable attention, and were the honor guests of the University.

FOR SHOE REPAIRING

try

SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP

188 Bank Street

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

1896 LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES NEW HAVEN CONN.

For Sale by

HAYES & CARNEY

EXCHANGES

THE STORK STUTTERS

I hear your wife gave birth to triplets. Going to pass the cigars?"

"No, I'm gonna pass the hat."

Okla Whirlwind

If the gentleman in the fourth row will take his feet out of the aisle, maybe I can get this old wheeze off without tripping. It seems the bare-lipped pitcher had just delivered a fast one over the plate, so fast indeed that the man behind the bat failed to connect.

"I thought there was a catch somewhere," snorted the pitcher disgustedly.

The editor will be twelve years old in January.—Arizona Kitty Kat

Mary: "My brother threw a cake at me. One that I made myself, too!"

Jane: "The brute! He might have killed you."—San Mateo Centaur

Customer (smoking cigar): Where will I find an ash tray?

Floorman: Just around the corner, sir, in the women's department.

Compliments of

C. A. BARBER & CO.

112 Church Street

Tailoring of all kinds.

Dry Cleaning and Pressing.

O'HARA'S

170 BANK ST PHONE 167-W

BEST COAL AND SERVICE

* * *

Elias Lyman Coal Company

206 College Street

FANCY BOXES for the HOLIDAYS

Special Price on Ice Cream for Fraternities

SWEET SHOP and CANDYLAND

JUNIORS' PHOTOGRAPHS NOW WITH ENGRAVERS

[illegible] and 3 [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

LIBRARY
University of Vermont

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 BURLINGTON, VT., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1928 NUMBER 21

CATAMOUNT ELEVEN VICTORIOUS ONCE

Won Only Game With Medics—Played Two Ties in State Title Series

NINE PLAYERS LOST TO TEAM BY GRADUATION

A resumé of the Vermont gridiron season will show but one victory and that a win over the Vermont medics. However, the Catamount record is better than a first glance indicates. With the exception of the first three games the Vermonters put up a great battle in every case and in four games were just nosed out while against the two state rivals, the Vermonters came through with a tie. Captain Rattan made a very creditable showing with the material that he had available at the start of the season. Most of these men will return another year and the Vermont mentor should be able to do much better next season.

Vermont was defeated by Columbia 20-0 in the season's opener and then the Princeton Tiger clawed its way to a 40-0 victory over the Cats. The hill-toppers did not get over that demoralizing battering in time to make any kind of a showing against Boston University and the Terriers' fine team came here to wallop the Green and Gold 25-0. Then Vermont went to Tufts and was defeated by a single point 7-6. Back at Burlington again, the flashy Fisher broke away for a run and a touchdown that defeated Vermont 6-0 at the hands of the Connecticut Aggies. The following Saturday in a drizzling rain Vermont and Norwich battled to a scoreless decision at Centennial Field. Kennedy's all around playing coupled with Dady's field goal gave Rensselaer a 9-6 victory over Vermont at Troy, N. Y., and then Middlebury and Vermont battled to a 6-6 tie. The medic game, coming as a sort of tonic for the Springfield contest, was the only victory of the season for Vermont, Sirois and DeRose getting touchdowns for a 14-0 victory. On Thanksgiving Day, Springfield was unable to cross the Vermont goal line, but Captain Eddy Williamson booted a field goal for a 3-0 victory. It was the second time Vermont was beaten by the margin of a field goal.

Charley DeRose Vermont's fullback made two of the team's five touchdowns, while Sirois, Donnelly and Segal accounted for one each and Tim Halligan drop-kicked the only extra point Vermont made this year. Charley DeRose and Tim Halligan were the outstanding backs for Vermont. DeRose backed up the line at every opportunity and was a consistent line plunger. Tim Halligan could tear through the line for short gains, off tackle smashes and pass retrieving being his strong points. Freddy Robinson, Vermont booter also deserves commendation for his punting. In the ends Ramps Levine, 200-pound center and Segal, light wingman, were the shining marks.

Of this year's team, quite a number will be lost by graduation. Freddy Robinson, Corb Lyman, Midget Donahue and Jim Scutakes, backs, will be missing the Green and Gold as will Tom O'Keefe who played center, guard and quarterback. Tiny Kropveteran and giant lineman, has played his last game for the Green and Gold, as has Captain Palmer, an end. Damon and Nilsen, tackles, have also hung up their togs.

Sigma Phi Initiates

The University of Vermont of the Sigma Phi fraternity held its annual initiation at the chapter house on College Street Saturday evening, when ten students of the University were made members of the society. They are Arthur B [illegible] of New York City, as sophomores and the following freshmen: [illegible] Billings of Rutland, William [illegible] of Winnetka, Ill., Henry C [illegible] of Yonkers, N. Y., Russell L [illegible] of New Rochelle, N. Y., Kenneth [illegible]n of Cambridge, William P [illegible] of Needham, Mass., Allen O [illegible] of Worcester, Mass., Charles H [illegible] of New Rochelle, N. Y., and [illegible] Peabody Tupper, Jr., of Burlington.

(Continued on page 4)

NOTICE!

There will be a business meeting of Bluestockings at 3 North College, Friday, December 7. All members are requested to be present.

WOMEN'S RIFLE SQUAD RECEIVES ITS FIRST CUT

Coach Sgt. Conner Makes First Cut in Squad With Second Cut to Come Just Before Christmas

The first cut in the women's rifle squad leaves the following names: Lenore Aldinger '29, Marion Baldwin '29 (captain), Dorothy Claflin '29, Elizabeth Cory '31, Elizabeth Clark '31, Alice Dodge '31, Marion Edwards '32, Marion Everest '29, Helen Gahagan '32, Lorraine Guillett '31, Frances Hazen '30, Georgina Hubert '31, Doris Keith '31, Thelma Kinder '29, Ruth Lamson '31, Thelma Lamson '31, Frances Laythe '30, Esther Nelson '29, Claire O'Neil '31, Alice Orton '31, Edith Pritchard '31, Mayola Putnam '31, Hope Ranslow '32, Kathryn Raul '32, Margaret Rice '31, Elizabeth Robellen '30, Cora Sargent '30, Dena Scutakes '32, Rebecca Seaver '31, Edna Shaw '29 (manager), Evelyn Slayton '31, Marion Stoney '32, Lois Taylor '30, Roberta Thayer '32, Evelyn Trask '30, Hildur Wilde '32, Irene Witkus '29, and Harriet Wright '30.

A second cut will be made just before Christmas so that the team will be ready for the matches which will begin soon after the new year. A tentative schedule has already been drawn up and will be announced in the near future. It is hoped that there will be matches with both men's and women's teams.

The qualifications for membership on the team are as follows: 1. Members must be in good scholastic standing. 2. Members must have been passed upon by coach, captain, and manager of the team. 3. Regular attendance is required in order to remain on the team after being chosen. 4. Candidates for the team are not allowed more than two absences from regular practice. 5. Members are required to report at least twice a week.

In order to be eligible for insignia, the English V, a girl must have met all the qualifications listed above, and be among the five high averages in ¾ of the matches. The captain and manager are also to receive insignia. This V is only to be worn on a sweater.

To be qualified for the Crossed Rifle Pin one must have shot in ¾ of the matches. A member having once received this award will not receive it again but will qualify; however, this does not mean that the award will be passed down to the next highest.

Sergeant Conner is coach of women's rifle and reports that the squad has made a good showing and should come out on the long end in many of their matches. The women's rifle team of the University of Vermont enjoyed an enviable reputation in the past and last year won over ¾ of its matches.

MR. AND MRS. SAHLIN ENTERTAIN STUDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Sahlin entertained several students of Mr. Sahlin's German classes at their home at 208 Maple Street Sunday night. The group engaged in an informal discussion of modern literature, taking up several works of the more modern authors. The main discussion centered about the works of Bain, a professor in India, who has taken a number of stories from the original Sanskrit, the ancient Aryan language of the Hindus, and rewritten them into modern English.

Following the discussion light refreshments were served. Mr. Sahlin came to Vermont this year from Yale where he has been engaged in graduate work.

HUMOR TO FEATURE DARTMOUTH DEBATE

Man Tilts with Woman Wednesday Night in Old Chapel When Vermont Co-eds Debate Dartmouth Men

VERMONT REPRESENTED BY VETERAN DEBATERS

Dartmouth will be at Vermont tomorrow night when a team of Vermont co-eds upholds the success of co-education against a team of Dartmouth debaters. The debate, the first in Vermont debating history in which a team of women debates against men, will be treated humorously. The two teams will battle to a decision, using the American plan of debate.

Frances Howley, '29, Janice Goodrich, '30, and Mabel Freeman, '30, all veteran debaters will represent Vermont. Dartmouth presents F. C Scribner, '30, S. A. Adams, '30, and G. D. Morris, '31. The debate will come off in the Old Chapel at 8 o'clock.

Miss Howley earned her debating laurels last year when she helped defeat a co-ed team from the University of Maine in an off-campus debate at Rutland. Later, she participated in the debate with Pembroke when Vermont lost to the Brown women.

Miss Goodrich began her debating at Vermont in her freshman year when she made her class debating team. The same year she earned her T. K. A. by participating in the successful debate with the Middlebury women. Last year she debated Maine and Pembroke.

Miss Freeman too made the women's team in the class of 1930 and is also a member of Tau Kappa Alpha by virtue of her work against St. Lawrence in her first year.

This is the second time in as many years that Vermont meets Dartmouth on the debating platform. Last year two Dartmouth men came to Burlington to debate on Al Smith for the presidency.

BILLINGS LIBRARY GETS BOSTON HISTORICAL MAP

Billings Library of the University of Vermont is the recipient of an historical (and picturesquely printed) map depicting the progress of Boston from 1630 to her three hundredth anniversary in 1930.

Heading the map is the inscription: Honor the past. Consecrate the present. Have faith in the future.

On the right hand side of the map the following pioneers are lauded:

John Wyclif—the first Protestant champion of church reform.

John Ball—bold denouncer of human serfage and of social inequalities.

William Caxton—printer and publisher enlightening the people.

Cabot, Smith, Gilbert, Raleigh—typical sea rovers discovering unfolding America.

The Martyrs—Ridley, Hooper, Rowland, Taylor—preachers of civil and religious liberty. Life gaining in moral grandeur.

The Puritans—great political and moral awakening. The preaching of Latimer. The song of Milton. The rugged heroism of Pym and Hampden.

John Eliot—first martyr of English liberty.

Oliver Cromwell—The triumph of the commonwealth. Most critical moment in human history. "The New Model"—religion with teeth.

Robinson, Brewster, Standish—The Puritan Joshuas. "Come out of her my people."

Sir Harry Vane—"A True Friend of New England."

• • •

"In great measure the progress of civil and religious liberty in America from 1630 to 1930 is a tribute to the initiative of the Massachusetts Bay Colony."

Today, however, in rehearsing and celebrating this ever memorable story the central idea is not merely to glorify Pioneers and Pedigrees but to impress on the present generation the

(Continued on page 4)

NOTICE!

All women's grinds for the Ariel are now due. Hand them in to either Phoebe Flint at the Theta House or to Priscilla Campbell at 16 Mansfield Avenue.

COLLEGE BOYS MAKE BIG HIT AT STRONG

Ben Clark and Carl Ramm, Mainstays of Lechnyr's Vermonters, Take First Prize at Local Theater

Talk about belly laughs in Altoona and laying them out in the aisles in Walla Walla, but big boy you ain't heard nothing until you've heard how those red hot music slingers, Ben Clark and Carl Ramm, sent that crowd ga ga at the Strong last Friday night.

"I've been in the business 24 years and you always find something new to keep up your interest and take up the time," said Lew Dean, principal comedian with the Al Lemon's revue. "I've seen plenty of amateurs and yet why man I tell you, those boys are wicked hot. A mean sax is just one mean sax, but these boys are just too bad. Just too bad."

The local college boys came out after one or two other acts of rather mediocre caliber had had their little spot and faded. As soon as the audience recognized them as performers with Lechnyr's Vermonters they began to applaud.

After the house quieted down the boys gave the crowd Saxophobia. Talk about syncopation, talk about the last word in real hot, low down, mean jazz, why that Saxophobia was just one of those things that make the old typewriter steam to think of it. And how the gang out front did yell!

Ida, Sweet as Apple Cider, was the second number. Now Ida may have been sweet for quite some while but from now on, if she stays like she was last Friday night, little Ida's going to be my own best girl.

Every sweet mama in the chorus came crowding out into the wings. They were hearing a real sax and how they ate it up. Clark and Ramm hadn't been going for more than five seconds before each single chorine was following the music like a busted college boy follows the trail to home, sweet home.

Of course Clark and Ramm copped first prize.

One other act was outstanding. A little chap about 7 showed the home town folks how to do that Charleston and make it sizzle. Some hoofer, he'll be if he keeps it up. A girl about the same age did a neat black bottom.

The Strong orchestra almost made the show impossible. They refused to play for the amateur acts and review. Manager Lemon threatened to cut them out and go on with the picture. Angry shouts from the audience greeted this proposition. The musical director of the revue filled in at the piano and the amateur acts all went on.

Manager Whalen, of the Strong stated his orchestra had been there for 15 years. He also said they would not be there for the next 15.

EX-INSTRUCTOR PAYS VISIT TO VERMONT

Mr. B. L. Rideout, former instructor of Romance Languages at Vermont spent Thanksgiving Day in Burlington with friends. Mr. Rideout passed the summer at the Middlebury Chateau teaching and taking advanced courses in the French language. He is now at Harvard, his Alma Mater, where he graduated with honors, studying for a master's degree and filling a position as instructor in French.

When interviewed by a Cynic representative as to how he would compare Vermont with other colleges, Mr Rideout said that the democratic spirit was one of Vermont's greatest assets. He considers Kake Walk the most outstanding feature of the social activity here.

COLLEGE PLAY TO APPEAR NEXT WEEK

"The Devil's Disciple" Practically Ready for Production—Plot Is Revealed on Eve of Presentation

COMBINED DRAMATIC SOCIETIES IN COMEDY

George Bernard Shaw's tense and human drama, "The Devil's Disciple," is practically ready to go on the boards December 13 when the two dramatic societies, Wig and Buskin and Masque and Sandal, present the comedy at The Strong Theatre.

The scene of the play is laid in a small New Hampshire town during the bleak winter of the Revolutionary year of 1777. As one of the leading members of the cast characterized it, "It is a struggle between a man and something in his nature. Shaw draws the great picture with all the spirit of the 1770's manifest in the pervading atmosphere and in each character. The play is one of tense action and intense reaction."

Plot of Play

Richard Dudgeon, the unconventional and blessed with a profound Shavian sense of humor, dominates the action from the moment he enters his mother's home as an unwelcome witness to the reading of his late father's will. Amid the curses of his mother and to the disgust of the assembled relatives, he, Richard Dudgeon, is declared his father's heir. Enter then Anthony Anderson, minister and man of the world. For him and also for his pretty young wife Richard Dudgeon, in spite of himself, attains the highest admiration. Thereafter the action moves fast. A detachment of royal troops enters the minister's home to arrest the rebel Anderson and arrests by mistake Richard Dudgeon. To increase the effectiveness of the ruse poor, conventional Mrs. Anderson must go through a real, wifely farewell with her pretended husband.

Finally, after a very amusing court scene, Richard Dudgeon is sentenced to hang. Everything is ready. The soldiers are massed. The clock begins to strike the hour, when ———! And the curtain goes down on the wittiest scene of all.

Garfield as Dudgeon

John Garfield will take the part of Richard Dudgeon.

Gladys Kone, who took the title rôle in the Greek play last year, "Iphigenia in Tauris," will portray the part of Judith Anderson.

Richard's stuttering, blatant brother Christy will be played by Fred Householder.

Dorothy Cottrell is cast in the part of Mrs. Dudgeon.

Benjamin Baker will appear as William Dudgeon, Richard's uncle.

The part of Anthony Anderson will be presented by L. B. Turner.

Catherine Bassett will take the part of Mrs. William Dudgeon, a matronly type of a 1777 wife.

W. C. Dodge will impersonate Uncle Titus, the lady's man of the Dudgeon family.

Beverly Householder will act the part of Mrs. Titus, another buxom woman of the early period.

Dorothy Strong will portray the part of Essie, an orphan child who is kindly taken care of by Richard Dudgeon.

Robert H. Jenks will take the part of Attorney Hawkins, a brisk old barrister of olden days.

H. M. Sheffield will take the part of General Burgoyne, the renowned British officer.

F. W. Knapp will play the part of Major Swindon, an upstart British official.

A. O. Aronson will act the character of a British sergeant, not above accepting a bribe from a pretty girl.

C. H. Overly will play the part of the chaplain, a typical chaplain of ye olden times.

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

LEIGHTON A. SANDERS, '29
Managing Editor

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

Lawrence O. Clayton, '29
News Editor
Merrick M. Macomber, '30

Arthur D. Stearns, '30
Comments

Hank Fuller, '30

George R. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors
Elizabeth B. Hager, '29
Mary A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '30

Feature Editor
George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Seymour Nathanson, '30

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Clain, '30

Asst. Sporting Editor
Warren H. Burr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor
Constance Holden, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Janice Goodrich, '30
Priscilla Campbell, '30
[illegible] Richardson, '30
[illegible] Waterman, '30
George E. Brush, '31

Douglas L. Stewart, '31
Amerigo Gloria, '30
F. A. R. Germain, '31
Donald E. Coburn, '31
Philip G. Andrews, '30

Louis Lisman, '31
Richard Cowles, '31
L. M. Foster, '31
C. N. Crockett, '31

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

Carlton C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur E. Birchard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major E. Jenks, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Moore, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Fuller, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2465 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to postage outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt

Vol 47 December 4, 1928 No. 21

Mussolini and America

In an interview with a Hearst reporter Mussolini stated President Coolidge was right in his statement that America's duty to herself is that she must defend her glorious status as a nation. He pointed out how America could be a menace to any or all nations if she wished to use her resources that way, but her policy of a sheathed sword still prevails. Mussolini appears to like to deal in "hokum" for a few days later an American correspondent of the Herald Tribune discovered Mussolini criticizing Hoover for his "good-will" trip to South America. If America is to look out for her status as a nation she certainly must keep on friendly terms with her neighbors, if possible.

Mussolini seems to represent the old world with its politics and intrigues, on one hand making friends with America but stabbing her in the back when she is turned around. It is possible Americans live to make money, but Americans also give money. Her position as the Shylock of nations is laughable and we wonder how many of the European states would refuse to exchange places.

Mussolini tells his people the only way to make money is by the sweat of their brow, disregarding the fact there is other occupations than manual labor which are necessary and return coveted money to their occupants. Because America is possibly a little further advanced in machinery and has a few more God given resources than some of the older countries he states America is in an era of artificial prosperity—soon to drop and become less prosperous than European states.

Maybe Mussolini is right but if it came to wagers it is possible America would be the best bet.

Another example of misused public buildings and money is the use of the Memorial Auditorium for prize fights, wrestling matches and moving pictures. We can't imagine what reason the city fathers of Burlington allow private individuals to make money through a memorial to the dead of the city. It would be far better to have a small monument to the dead than such happenings. Who's going to drive the money changers out of the temple?

Princeton on the Map

(By New Student Service)

Millions who are denied the privilege of dying for dear old Siwash nevertheless have come to know our colleges as intimately as if they had attended one. Thanks to Hollywood's many films of "college life," the plain people now recognize a tattooed slicker when they see it and are able to tell you with some assurance that a college is a place where men wear battered headpieces, where rooms are decorated with "Keep off the Grass" signs and where football games invariably end with fifty-yard dashes and last minute scores for the home eleven.

The latest of these educational films is called "Varsity" and some interesting stories are told about it. It has been the custom to make these films at the hospitable University of Southern California but lately the tendency has been to vary the scenery. "Varsity" was to have been taken at Yale but the authorities demurred. Princeton was found willing as the story was fitted out with Princeton names.

Only The Tiger, Princeton's comic magazine, failed to see the joke. The issue of that magazine for last June criticized the administration for turning the campus into a temporary Hollywood. Several telegrams were secured from alumni. Mr. Struthers Burt, '04, called Yale's refusal a "distinct victory for New Haven." "If we are going in for such things," complained Mr. Burt, "why not start nationwide advertising campaigns with such slogans as 'Princeton, The Friendly University,' or, 'You don't know what education is until you've been to Princeton.'"

Now that "Varsity" has been released the exhibitors are afraid to show it at Princeton. Perhaps mindful of the reception "Brown of Harvard" received on the banks of the Charles the local theater owner has canceled his order for the film. Some of the students have seen the picture in New York and their reports are not of such a nature as to cause a theater owner to expose his property to the possible wrath of a student body.

Great Big Stoker: If my friendship means anything to you, Percival, don't spit on your hands every two minutes; it's vulgah

---

First Garbage Man: How are things going in your business?

Second Garbage Man: Oh, let's not talk slop.—Ghost.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

POLITICAL SCIENCE NUMBER

Three reasons for studying Political Science are:

1. It's required in my course
2. It's required in your course
3. It's required in his, her, or its course

The process of electing the president is as follows:

1. Two men are running for the presidency. As one becomes winded, the other becomes long-winded. Numerous bursts of warm and humid atmospheric disturbances result. These disturbances are called speeches by some and various different names by others—especially when they disturb the enticing dance programs from stations WOOF and WEAK. All this constitutes a campaign. You will recall that an army campaign hat has no distinct point. Yes, the idea was stolen from the political factions and redress will no doubt be demanded some day through the Patent and Copyright laws of our country. Aspirants for the highest office in the land used to resort to kissing babies in order to gain votes, but children are becoming so sophisticated, don't you know? And then, you will recall that when a child was actually handed to our own Herbert Hoover, while the enthusiastic crowd demanded that he press his learned lips to the child's serene and innocent forehead, he gravely held up his hand and launched his famous Five Point Speech. The essence of it is this: "I shall not kiss your child, madam, because (A) I want it clearly understood that I am not its father, (B) we have not been properly introduced, (C) I am not a cradle snatcher, (D) the child has been chewing sticky chocolate, and (E) that power is not expressly granted to me in the constitution."

Finally, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, every four years, a presidential election is held. Emulating Peary and Byrd, men flock to the polls to vote for the pointers—with—pride and viewers—with alarm. If their wives accompany them and are sarcastically catty about their husbands' choice, they are called poll cats. After the ballot boxes are stuffed by the supervisors and limbs of the law, the results are then counted and we know who will sit in the Fierce Arrows, catch fish in Cuacuaolla Lake and dedicate Boy Scout memorials for the next four years. That is, we really know who's elected. But our constitutional forefathers, realizing that in the future taxes would be spent foolishly and indiscriminately if various necesary rules and regulations were not laid down, declared in our Fundamental and Basic Document that not only are all men created equal, but that if the first Monday before the first Tuesday failed to appear on time for a presidential election it should be promptly subpoenaed and tried for contempt of court. The penalty, however, is extremely light—"the offender must copy down in a small notebook all of Cal Coolidge's remarks during an entire year."

And, oh yes, the constitution provides for an Electoral College. When we think we're voting for Herbert or Al we're really voting for Electors—members of the Electoral College. This is a good school, situated in the beautiful region of Rolling-In-Dough-on-Hudson, caters to well-trained pupils only and offers courses in Football, Baseball, Basketball, Hockey, Tennis, Boxing, Wrestling, Track Work and Public Speaking—thus showing its thoroughly modern aspects.

The members of the Electoral College vote for the president and vice-president, said votes being counted before both houses of Congress in joint bull session on the second Wednesday in February. If no one gets enough votes to win either office, Will Rogers appoints the president and Tex Guinan confers the high honor upon the vice-president (The Lucky Dog!).

Here are nine reasons why we Americans do not elect our best men presidents—slightly different from Lord Bryce's interpretation.

1. Some teach Ec. 1.
2. Some teach Ec. 6.
3. Some teach Ec. 8
4. Some teach English.
5. Some teach Spanish
6. Some teach Political Science.
7. Some teach English Lit.
8. Some teach Military Training.
9. Some teach Physical Training.

Note to Reader:—This last is a subtle waiter's trick which I have invented and had copyrighted. As you see, I have included all my courses in the nine above reasons. By doing this once a year, I am able to get by without cracking the books at all. Yes, you have my permission—try it!

—MORE ANON—

A funny bird
Is this guy Harry;
He fell in love
With a girl named Carrie Hari-Kari!

—Brown Jug.

With the Theatre

At the Strong

Monday and Tuesday, Vera Reynolds acts as the heroine in The Divine Sinner a movie based on the attempt of the daughter of a war-torn Austrian noble family to regain the family's fortune. Insulted by her employer she is driven to forging checks and is caught through one forged on Prince Miguel. Choosing between him and prison she falls in love with him and after passing through several exciting scenes elopes with him at the cost of his kingdom. New phases of an old plot but well worth seeing.

Wednesday and Thursday, Helen Foster and Gertrude Olmstead teach a lesson through Sweet Sixteen. Helen, as the heroine, a girl of sixteen, falls for a roué, and is protected by her engaged sister when found in a questionable cabaret. The sister's lover is mollified only when Helen is found at the man's residence, where the father beats the villain and the ending is quite happy. Rather light comedy with a thread of a plot.

Friday and Saturday, Hoot Gibson, the greatest western actor, in Burning the Wind and also George Hale and Huntley Gordon in The Gypsy of the North. Hoot represents the western cowboy let loose in the East, throwing his money to the winds. He returns West, when called by his father, saves a nice Spanish girl from some villains, à la fists vs. swords, and marries the girl, an act pre-thought of by her father. A thriller from start to finish.

George Hale portrays the virtuous Alaskan gambler in The Gypsy of the North, fleeing from a false accusation of a killing. The sister of the deceased man comes to Alaska to avenge her brother's death, is saved from the clutches of the real culprit, a saloon keeper, who dies at the hands of a Frenchman, by the gambler and the usual love scene ensues. Another thriller.

At the Majestic

Monday and Tuesday, Clara Bow acts in another comedy built especially for her Three Week Ends. The same lady that made It a national by-word has accomplished a superb picture to add to her long list of successes. Nothing heavy about the attempt.

Wednesday and Thursday, one of the movies' highest paid actors, Lou Chaney appears in While the City Sleeps. Mr. Chaney starts as the old-time detective in the midst of gang wars. His visage is a cross between an embalmer and an amateur comedian, suddenly running home towards the middle of the picture to have a good cry when he discovers he is sex-conscious. There is the usual machine gun sequence with Chaney bringing a gang of indifferent murderers to justice, meanwhile saving an innocent girl and denying his love for her—à la Chaney. Chaney pictures and Alger books are similar in that one is like all the rest.

PROFESSOR DISCUSSES KELLOGG PEACE TREATY

At a meeting of the Discussion Club at the College Street Church yesterday noon Professor W. E. Aiken reviewed the objections raised by Henry Cabot Lodge in the Harper's for December against the Kellogg Peace Treaty. Mr. Lodge's most weighty objections were (1) That the admission by Secretary Kellogg that each nation remained free to define self-defense gives tacit approval to war on the unsupported assertion of a country; and (2) That Secretary Kellog's admission that the fact did not involve the validity of the League Covenant or the French neutrality treaties, tended to encourage the expectation by Europe that the United States would associate itself with any league action against aggressor nations.

The speaker's comment on these objections was that while self-defense was not defined, the Kellogg agreement brought the force of world opinion against any act of national aggression, and tended strongly to lessen the probability of such action. The danger of involving the United States in action by the league might be greater, but it was observed that Secretary Kellogg had already pointed out that even members of the league, and much less the United States, could not be involved in such action without explicit consent on the part of any nation entering such action. The treaty in no way committed us to approval of the French neutrality treaties. Should any signatory power attack any of the neutralized states that act would by Mr. Kellogg's definition release other signers of the treaty from the provisions of the pact, and merely re-establish the previous condition.

The value of the treaty lay not in any definite and enfor[illegible] sions but in arraying [illegible] tions against war, and s[illegible] fluencing public opinion

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. Villius [illegible]

THE HAIRCUT OF "RED" WEB

"Freshman Webs[illegible] ceived the ministration[illegible] and as a fitting climax Shaves."—Recent Ca[illegible]

There was a lovely [illegible]
A noble fellow he
Whose hair, to tell the [illegible]
Was red as hair can [illegible]

When first he appeared at [illegible]
His hair, as you might see
Would nobly cover the kn[illegible]
He hoped to gain speed[illegible]

A wonderful mark for a [illegible]
As he stood beside a tree
Tho' then 'twas too short to [illegible]
Quite plainly it you could see

A week passed by, his hair
Grew longer and thus mavis
Gave him a thoughtful air
But was he fazed? Not he!

A month went on, and still
His hair, untrammeled, free
Grew on, grew on, until
He seemed a Pad'rewski

As time went by we wept.
"Alas, alas," sadly,
We said for now we kept
No hope 'twould ever be.

That he would sheer his locks
And that instead we'd see
Them twining round his socks
Ah! Sad it seemed to me!

* * * * *

[NOTE: Change of metre and o
Persian astrological allusions are ployed by the poet to indicate joy]

Oh joy my friends! Around that
We see, not unshorn locks, but Resembles bristles crimson—but
Alas, the shearer died before, poor
He finished up his task, the hair
On top—there's gone a foot from t
No more. As much is left to be

* * * * *

And everyone wept.

Finis

Bridge Between Two Cultur

(By New Student Service)

"A bridge between two culture[illegible] that is the characterization of [illegible] University of Porto Rico which [illegible] Lee makes in the current issue [illegible] The New Student. "A North A[illegible] can university in a Spanish A[illegible] can environment, its manifest [illegible] to conserve the traditional Spa[illegible] culture which is the basis of the [illegible] Rican mind and character, and a[illegible] same time to bring to the island [illegible] best that is offered by the U[illegible] States, which has Porto Rico's f[illegible] in its keeping. The young Unive[illegible] —it celebrated its twenty-fifth [illegible] versary on March 12, 1928—is a[illegible] confluence of the two mighty stre[illegible] Spanish and Anglo-Saxon (to en[illegible] the usual convenient, if inexact, [illegible] inology), which have enriched [illegible] hemisphere; and it must be ju[illegible] by the manner in which it meet[illegible] obligations thereby entailed.'

The University fulfills its first [illegible] according to Miss Lee, by educ[illegible] to remove the fearful poverty w[illegible] hangs over the island, in its S[illegible] of Tropical Medicine, its Schoo[illegible] Business Administration, of Ag[illegible] ture and of Engineering. The[illegible] partment of Spanish Studies [illegible] Spanish students from the U[illegible] States an opportunity to learn[illegible] language in a Spanish environ[illegible] and acts as a bridge between the[illegible] tures of North and of South Ame[illegible]

An eyewitness of the dam[illegible] hurricane of last October, Miss[illegible] testifies that the University is[illegible] carrying on, despite everyt[illegible] "Those privileged to witness the[illegible] versity's work after the devast[illegible] hurricane of St. Felipe's Day [illegible] a privilege, however terrifying [illegible] experience—will not forget its [illegible] diate and practical response to [illegible] aster; a disaster threatening [illegible] University's future ever[illegible] that of most other institution[illegible] the island, but not for a [illegible] daunting it. The morning [illegible] storm, faculty and stude[illegible] work picking up débris, nailing [illegible] fallen trees, drying and mending [illegible] and water-logged library books [illegible] ing roofs and walls ha[illegible] Cadets from the Univers[illegible] guard duty over the isla[illegible] sity officials unloaded a[illegible] on trucks the food suppl[illegible] from the States. Univ[illegible] members went on foot into th[illegible] most inaccessible mountain di[illegible] to make a survey of the [illegible] age of the storm."

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

[illegible] Theta's were hostesses [illegible] to girls of the three [illegible] at a housewarming [illegible] guests enjoyed dancing [illegible] Refreshments of cakes [illegible] were served. Several gifts [illegible] by Lambda Chapter in [illegible] occasion The first floor [illegible] Theta House was extensively [illegible] during the summer.

[illegible] following evening an in[illegible] was held at the house [illegible] were decorated with the [illegible] colors. An unusual feature [illegible] was the music, which [illegible] furnished by E. E. Clarkson's [illegible] Orthophonic victrola with spe[illegible] amplification system. Dr. and [illegible] Paul K. French and Mr. and [illegible] Edward Mudgett chaperoned [illegible] The guests were Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] A. Mayforth, Doris Dodds, Mar[illegible] Wallace, and Jeanette Beecher.

PI BETA PHI

The Campus House Pi Phi's entertained the other members of the fraternity at bridge Friday afternoon at the rooms on Pearl Street.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Alpha Chi Omega's and their guests enjoyed the fall informal dance at the Psi Sigma Nu rooms Saturday evening, with Bill Clapp's orchestra in attendance. Green and red, the fraternity colors, were used for decoration. The chaperones were Prof. and Mrs. D. B. Carroll, and Prof. and Mrs. R. C. Douglass. Clara Salls, '25, Mabel Miles, '25, Frances Dimick, '28, and Ruth Jones, '28, attended the dance. Lucy Bracken represented Pi Beta Phi; Marjorie Huntley, Alpha Xi Delta; Harriet Howard, Sigma Gamma; Laura Rounds, Delta Delta Delta; and Faire Divoll, Kappa Delta.

SIGMA GAMMA

The Sigma Gamma dance occurred Friday evening at the Catholic Daughters of America rooms on College Street. The color scheme in the decorations was purple and gold. Beaupre's orchestra furnished syncopation, and feature dances were introduced during the evening. Prof. and Mrs. Leon W. Dean and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Doane chaperoned. Guests from the other fraternities were: Kappa Alpha Theta, Phoebe Flint; Delta Delta Delta, Iva Harris; Pi Beta Phi, Marjorie Bracken; Kappa Delta, Hester Rogers; Alpha Xi Delta, Isabelle Warhurst; and Alpha Chi Omega, Ruth E. Doherty.

KAPPA DELTA

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J Brookings of Springfield, Vt., spent the holiday in Burlington. Mrs. Brookings will be remembered as Merta Munro, '28.

The fall informal was held Saturday night in the Knights of Pythias rooms. Prof. and Mrs. Leon W. Dean, and Dr. and Mrs. K C. McMahon were the chaperones. Representatives from other groups on the hill included Julia Waterman, Delta Delta Delta; Jacqueline Lanou, Alpha Xi Delta; and Katherine Mudgett, Sigma Gamma.

EPSILON SIGMA

The fall informal dance of Epsilon Sigma was held Saturday evening at the Catholic Daughters of America rooms. In the receiving line were Miss Mary Maude Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carrigan, Miss Laura Parker and Prof. L. D. Meredith. Miss Elizabeth Colburn, Miss Nellie Alexander Mr. W. R Adams and Miss Janice Goodrich were guests of the fraternity. Doc Kenyon's orchestra supplied music .

DELTA PSI

Delta Psi announces the pledging of D. K. Parker, '32, of Essex Junction

SIGMA ALPHA CHI

Sigma Alpha Chi announces the pledging of H. S. Hebb, '32, of Bridgton, Me.

He was suffering from liver trouble and the doctor told him that if he laughed fifteen minutes before each meal his condition would improve. He was having his laugh in a restaurant one day when a man came over from the opposite table.

"What the dickens are you laughing for?"

"Why, I'm laughing for my liver."

"Then I guess I'd better start laughing; I ordered mine a half hour ago."
—Annapolis Log.

Goodbye Dartmouth

(By New Student Service)

A Dartmouth student has done what almost everyone who has read Walden yearns to do at one time or another Curtis H Glover, twenty and a junior, has bid goodbye to college and civilized life to begin anew in the woods, far away from the painful pressures of organized society.

"Goodbye Dartmouth," he wrote in a letter published in The Dartmouth:

"By the time you read this I shall be aboard a train speeding to northern wilds where I intend to prepare myself for a higher life than college leads to; the life described by Thoreau in Walden.

"I have existed in your civilization now for twenty years. I have existed merely as a spectator. You have forced me to do certain things, and I have done them reluctantly, always inwardly rebelling. Now I have decided to give expression to my wild nature, and to try whether it be possible to live humanly."

The new Walden is located in the White Mountains on the estate of Mr Glover, senior, who is a wealthy Boston architect. The news reports do not tell much about the economic side of the experiment, which, to us, seems the crucial one. For what Henry Thoreau was principally intent upon doing was to find out how one might live the most complete and satisfying life that was possible, with the minimum expenditure of energy in filling the belly and housing the body. If that is one of the purposes of the experiment it will be worth watching

---

Lecturer from the Wild Wild Woods: When the bull moose—

Precise Agrarian (interrupting): I beg your pardon, sir, but a bull bellows. A cow moos.—Yale Record.

Tailoring of all kinds.
Dry Cleaning and Pressing.
O'HARA'S
170 BANK ST. PHONE 897-W

FIVE WOMEN ELECTED TO STAFF OF CYNIC

Announcement was recently made of the election of five women to the Cynic staff. The successful competitions in the contest which began early this fall were Pauline Burridge, Belle Church and Cornelia Mould from the Junior class, and Margaret Ann Martin and Hope Ranslow, from 1932. Because of the difficulty of selecting four Sophomores from ten who were doing excellent work, competition for members of that class will continue until Christmas vacation. Initiation for all the new reporters, a custom traditional on the women's staff will occur December 19

Miss Burridge's home is in Randolph, Vt. She and the two Junior members will assist the present Junior news editors.

Belle Church, of Richmond, is a member of Delta Delta Delta.

Cornelia Mould, whose home is in Morrisville, is an Alpha Xi Delta

Margaret Martin '32 of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Hope Ranslow '32 of Montpelier, have done journalistic work in their respective preparatory schools

Election of a Freshman to the Cynic staff is a singular honor, in as much as only three other women have in recent years been elected during their first year at Vermont

---

The boy who used to wish his father owned a candy store now wishes it was a filling station Mugwump

1st Engineer: "If I don't get out soon I'm gonna run amuck."

2nd Engineer: "Have yer got a license?"—N Y Medley

For pure sugar home-made ribbon candy call at the

BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP and CANDYLAND

HOME-MADE SPECIAL CANES BY ORDER, FROM 8c TO $2.50

The
UNIVERSITY STORES
Make a Specialty of
CHRISTMAS CARDS AND GIFT SUGGESTIONS
With the University Seal
These are particularly appropriate for University students to give and receive

RELAX!

Depend on your own ability to make the grades and on our ability to have exactly the wearables that improve the looks of any classroom.

New Furnishings

New Braeburns

Hayes & Carney
195 BANK ST. NEAR MAJESTIC
OPEN EVENINGS
"Where Vermont Men Meet"

Real Folks at Home (The Piano Mover) : : : : By BRIGGS

OLD GOLD

The Smoother and Better Cigarette

.... not a cough in a carload

© P. Lorillard Co., Est. 1760

Faculty Member Finds Intelligence in the United States on the Decline

[illegible] of intelligence in the United States is one of the serious problems confronting all the United States, especially [illegible] of the problem and the [illegible] of [illegible] in a speech on the [illegible] Carroll stated.

In speaking of the present situation, Professor Carroll said that [illegible] It is generally conceded by many that [illegible] And the fact is that the people in the lower strata of society in this country are [illegible] considerably larger families than those in the higher stratum. This cannot fail to result in a decline in average intelligence, even though there may be cases where a high degree of mental ability is found in the lower stratum of society.

Since the problems of government are becoming more and more complex, it is necessary that the voter should be better informed about governmental and political matters in order to vote intelligently.

A method instituted not long ago in Oklahoma to cope with the [illegible] was the passage of an act requiring a knowledge of the constitution of the United States of the prospective voter. Professor Carroll suggested that perhaps the United States as a whole is too large unit for the qualifications for voting. The same such law might be passed for the country as a whole as New York State has requiring a certificate of graduation from the sixth grade in school or the passing of the sixth grade examination, in order to get one's name on the voting list.

Greater attention to teaching the fundamentals of government in the schools should help the situation, Professor Carroll thinks. He made some suggestions for improving the courses on government so as to give the pupil a broader general knowledge of how government operates.

Another method of improving the political situation in this country which the speaker suggested was segregation and control of those unfit to propagate, thus attempting to increase the average intelligence through elimination of the mentally unfit.

Billings Library Gets Boston Historical Map

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible] purpose of Democracy all over the world namely:

Liberty Under the Law

On the right hand side of the map are these impressive words:

"During the past 300 years the City of Boston, her institutions and her people have been making for themselves a Glorious Record in The March of the Memorials the Churches picturesquely signalized on this map, are seen posts and stakes in the enfranchisement of the human mind and in the liberating of human energies. In large and small, in spirit and in truth this group of momentous memories is the Soul of your City. Forgetful or neglectful of these old time Spiritual values your material progress is nothing but a record of creature comfort and business ingenuity. Let it not displease you therefore inhabitants of this Mecca City 'that you are bidden amidst the tumult and the dazzle of your busy lives to listen for the few voices and watch for the few lamps which God has toned and lighted to charm and to guide you, that you may not learn their sweetness by their silence nor the light by their decay.'"

Sicut Patribus, Sit Deus Nobis

"Is a student tour the plural of student tear?"—U. of Wash. Columns.

Prof (in history class): "In what battle was General Custer killed?"
Bright Stude: "His last one."
—Varsity News.

International Club

There will be a meeting of the International Relations Club, Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m. in Room 37, North College.

Those interested in the work of the club should plan to attend this meeting.

"Just Another Day Wasted Away," sang the nine hundred and ninety-nine wives of Solomon, as he picked out the favorite again.
—Pennsylvania Punch Bowl

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

ESTABLISHED 1896 QUALITY VALUE SERVICE
LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES
NEW HAVEN, CONN.

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

He: "Do you ever pray for [illegible]
She: "I pray for [illegible]
He: "How about [illegible]

Are you going [illegible] mer, Madge?"
"No, I've decided [illegible] husband do for [illegible]

London Man Gives Cool Tip Smokers Here

London, England
30th December, 19

Larus & Bro. Co.,
Richmond, Va.,
U. S. A.
Gentlemen:

As my Christmas present I purchased for myself a pound of your tobacco (Edgeworth) in [illegible] This morning on the train I met a man with whom I am only slightly acquainted, and filling my pipe produced a tin, at which he exclaimed: "I am a pipe smoker, but occasionally I have try in that direction and I consider the tobacco in your hand is the finest made."

I am in entire agreement with statement.

Yours faithfully,
J. J. Mason

Edgeworth

Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

Sigma Phi Initiates

(Continued from page 1)

Hugton. In addition to the members of the fraternity in Burlington there were present John C Torrey of Yonkers, N Y. and Harold R Morse of New Rochelle, N Y, fathers of two of the initiates, Edward G Howe of Schenectady, N. Y., Stoddard H. Martin of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Glendon Gerlach of Chicago, from the Epsilon of New York chapter at Cornell University, Ithaca, N Y.

Mrs Smith: "My husband gives me the best he can afford."

Mrs Smithers: "The brute! Why don't you sue him for divorce?"

THE MODERN ATTITUDE

"Helen, I declare, your dress barely covers your body."

"Well—what's the matter with my body?"—Georgia Cracker.

RAND'S HOME LUNCH
64 COLCHESTER AVE.

Where you get the most of the best for the least

HOME COOKING
OUR SPECIALTY

Phone 2045

CLOTHES
Ready-made
And Cut to Order

ESTABLISHED ENGLISH UNIVERSITY STYLES, TAILORED OVER YOUTHFUL CHARTS SOLELY FOR DISTINGUISHED SERVICE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Charter House
Suits $40, $45, $50 Overcoats

BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT OUR STORE IS THE

Charter House
OF BURLINGTON

The character of the suits and overcoats tailored by Charter House will earn your most sincere liking.

MILES & PERRY CO.
"Quality Clothiers"
Established 1866

This Changing World

To-day, you can see big buildings erected noiselessly—by electric welding.

The structural steel worker is dropping his clattering hammer for the electric arc. Silently, swiftly, rigidly, economically, buildings are being fabricated by electric welding, which knits steel with joints as strong as the metal itself.

Building silently! Nothing seems impossible in this electrical age.

Not only in building construction, but in every human activity, we instinctively turn to electricity to add to the comforts of life and to eliminate the wastes of production—another evidence that the electrical industry is maintaining its leadership in this changing world.

Not only industrial equipment, but electric refrigerators, MAZDA lamps, and little motors that add to the comforts of home, are manufactured by the General Electric Company. All are identified by the G-E monogram—a symbol of service.

GENERAL ELECTRIC
GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, NEW YO

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VT., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1928 — NUMBER 22

DARTMOUTH LOSES TO CO-ED DEBATERS

Vermont Women Gain Unanimous Decision from Dartmouth Men While Maintaining Success of Co-Education

DEBATE WITNESSED BY CONSIDERABLE AUDIENCE

Before an audience which filled the [illegible] Chapel to overflowing last Wednesday night, a team of Vermont women maintaining the success of co-education took a unanimous decision from the Dartmouth debating team. The debate was marked, not so much by factual arguments advanced, as by the constant exchange of witticisms back and forth, neither team gaining the other.

Three Vermont women rose to the defense of the co-ed college Mabel Freeman, Frances Howley and Janice Goodrich. Opposing them on behalf of Dartmouth were F. Scribner, S. Adams and G. Morris.

Each speech in turn was marked by the fact that, no matter how serious its purpose or subject matter, it acted cleverly and humorously.

Vermont throughout the debate maintained that co-education is a success practically; that it is successful because of certain moral and social results and that it is successful because it is justifiable. Dartmouth, on the other hand, dwelt on a large number of ill-effects arising under this system.

Miss Freeman Opens Debate

Miss Freeman sounded the tone of the debate when she opened by introducing the three types of co-eds: The girl from segregated colleges spend their week-ends with, the typical college co-ed and the ideal co-ed. Considerable merriment was created when Miss Freeman introduced each debater in turn as representative of one of these types. Miss Freeman held that co-education is a success practically because a co-educational college offers a number of courses primarily for one sex which, in becoming available to both, give it an unusual advantage by creating more courses for all. Moreover, such a college is cheaper in that its tuition rates are lower and the cost of social pleasures at such an institution are less.

Continuing in the same humorous vein that marked Miss Freeman's speech Mr. Scribner pointed out certain differences accorded in treatment to men, men and women in co-ed colleges. Women's rules, their relative importance in extra-curricular activities and the inferiority of men to women in scholarship which must follow as a matter of course, all came up to the Dartmouth man's argument. The fact that women were considered equal to men in certain activities, said Mr. Scribner, would eventually lead to their abandoning this college altogether.

"Co-eds will never leave college so long as there are men around," replied Miss Howley. Continuing the affirmative case, she pointed out the moral and social benefits of co-education, chief of which is the fact that it teaches men and women to work together to be companions. The segregated college, however, according to the Vermont debaters, encourages romantic illusions and sets up false attitudes between the sexes.

"Not so," replied Mr. Morris, in effect. Colleges were originally planned for men and the methods adopted can lend themselves to women. So far as coöperation goes, Mr. Morris maintained, men and women in co-ed colleges simply distract to a great other attention from their studies.

Says Segregated College is Victorian

Miss Goodrich with a witty and effective rebuttal, Miss Goodrich maintained that the segregated college is a relic of Victorian days, when women were considered to be inferior creatures. Co-education she held, has been justified by the enormous increase of colleges adopting on that principle. Again she emphasized the fact that the distinction between men and women

(Continued on page 3)

BOULDER MEN DISCUSS FROSH CAP SITUATION

Tuesday night, December 4, Boulder Society held a meeting at which John S. Estabrook became president of the society in place of Franklin R. Otto. There followed a lengthy discussion of the Freshmen's failure to wear their green caps. Nothing definite was decided.

Plans for the forthcoming Older Boys' Convention were then made. About five hundred students of the high schools and junior high schools are to be escorted about the campus by the members of Boulder with the assistance of Key and Serpent and Gold Key. The purpose of this is to interest the students of the high schools in Vermont.

Boulder wishes to thank the members of the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes, as well as the Cynic and Student Senate for their support which made possible the attendance of the band at the recent Springfield-Vermont game.

ART AUTHORITY NEXT SPEAKER IN SERIES OF UNIVERSITY LECTURES

Homer St. Gaudens, Son of Famous American Sculptor, Will Describe "The Vagaries of Present Day Art" in the Gymnasium Tuesday Evening

Homer Saint Gaudens, an outstanding authority on American and international art and art themes, and who is now director of fine arts at the Carnegie Institute, will give the third of the special University lectures next Tuesday evening, December 11, in the gymnasium, starting at 8.00 o'clock. The theme of his lecture will be "The Vagaries of Present Day Art."

Homer Saint Gaudens holds a preëminent place in the realm of art. His opinions are highly respected and widely quoted. He is the son of Augustus Saint Gaudens, probably the greatest of American sculptors. His mother, Augusta Homer, was a noted art student and a painter in Rome.

His early life was spent in Paris but later he made his residence in this country when his family moved to America. On his arrival in this country, he entered Harvard, from which he graduated in 1903. From that time he played an important and influential part in his field of activity. The year after he graduated from college, in 1904, he was named asistant manager of the Critic. He later became the managing editor of the Metropolitan Magazine.

He was stage manager for Maude Adams in 1908, and was closely associated with Granville Barker in the presentation of classical plays at Harvard and Princeton. At another time he directed for Lionel Barrymore. He was in charge of Eugene O'Neil's first Broadway drama, "Beyond the Horizon." He took an active part in the World War and it was he who organized the first camouflage for the American armies. He has also been in charge of six international art exhibitions.

All students at Vermont are strongly urged to attend this lecture, as the University makes special efforts to bring such noted men to address the students on subjects of interest and value. The townspeople interested in the lecture and all friends of the University are invited to attend. There is no admission charge.

Hockey Rink Nearly Ready

Much interest is being shown in the progress of the new rink now being built in the rear of the gymnasium. Scrubs and interested students have offered their services in putting on the finishing touches and the rink will be ready for use immediately after Christmas vacation.

A call for hockey candidates will be made within a few days and regular practice periods will be held in the gym in preparation for the outdoor work to begin after vacation.

SEASON OPENER OF QUINTET SATURDAY

Basketball Team to Play First Game at Gymnasium with Montreal A. A. A.

HALLIGAN UNABLE TO START IN FIRST GAME

Opening the home season the Green and Gold varsity basketball team will appear Saturday night against the strong quintet sent down by the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association. It will be a new team that takes the floor against the Montrealers, for the onlookers will miss Prentice, Marvin, Kiki Price and Halligan. Three of these boys have been the mainstay of the Green and Gold teams for the last three years. These three men graduated last year and it is doubtful whether the Catamounts will have another combination to surpass them for a few years to come.

The squad suffered a severe blow in the inability of Halligan to play, as he suffered injuries from football that will keep him off the squad until after the opening game. Probably the only full-time man of last year's game who will appear in Saturday's fracas will be Captain Estabrook.

Coach Cayward has a number of good men out for berths but it seems to be fairly well settled as to who will hold down the positions on the first squad. Manning, a substitute guard of last year's quintet, appears to be slated for the running mate of Red Estabrook. He showed good form throughout last year's season, and should be one of the heavy scorers of this year's five. Sargent, the lanky Sophomore, seems to be the logical man to appear in the center position. Last year he was one of the best offensive men on the Freshman squad.

Hugh Wallace seems to have one of the forward berths, while the other forward is the only position on the team for which there will be any competition. Agel, Morse and Price are all putting up a stiff fight for it, and it is entirely possible that Cayward might try out all three of them.

The game with the Canadians is an annual event here, usually the opening game of the season. The Catamounts have always been successful so far but there is always a first time and it will not be any walkaway for either side. The prospects are for a closely fought, evenly matched battle, with the odds slightly in favor of the Green and Gold.

R. O. T. C. SENIORS LEARN TO RIDE HORSES

Equestration is of considerable interest to the Seniors of both the Medical and Infantry R. O. T. C. as is obvious from the large and regular attendance of the class in this optional course. Of the 26 Seniors in the R O T C at U V M 19 have elected the course and receive instructions at nine o'clock every Sunday morning in the Riding Hall at Fort Ethan Allen. The classes are to be held until spring.

Captain Forster, of the Fort, is the instructor whose program thus far has been one of basic instructions. The Seniors were first given saddle practice as a direct means of developing a strong seat. Their next instructions will concern the trot and gallop.

Credits for the course are extended by the Commander of the Fort, Colonel Hopkins.

Captain Lauer of the University of Vermont Military Staff advises regular attendance in this course. A few classes missed cause one's progress to be hopeless, as the program of instructions is thorough but very rapid.

Every officer should be an equestrian. One invaluable benefit of horse riding is the definite development of self confidence. This consideration alone warrants the election of the course.

Before the end of the year the Seniors will be good riders. Already they aspire to develop a riding posture equal to that of General U S Grant.

The members of the class have more fully realized that horses are intelligent. Certainly the horses at Fort Ethan Allen are well endowed with horse sense and are also well trained.

ETA SIGMA PHI HEARS TALK ON ROMAN WRITERS

Introducing the discussion and group study of Roman literature as a part of the year's program, Hazel Ladd, '30, discussed the life and personality of Martial before members of Eta Sigma Phi Tuesday evening. Phoebe Flint, '30, translated and commented upon some of the epigrams written by Martial.

Professor Lester M. Prindle supplemented these talks with illuminating remarks about the problems which confronted Roman writers in the period during which Martial wrote.

A short business meeting preceded the evening's program, at which the Vice-President, Genevieve Hook, '29, presided. Professor Samuel E. Bassett installed Henry Powell '30, as treasurer of the Iota chapter of Eta Sigma Phi and Truman S. Webster, '31, as Sergeant-at-Arms.

SCORE OF FRESHMEN REPORT AT PRACTICE FOR CLASS QUINTET

Prentice, Former Star of Varsity, is Coaching Yearlings—Many High School Stars Among Candidates

Responding to a call sent out some time ago, about a score of candidates for the Freshman basketball team have turned out for practice. Much good material has as yet failed to show up but it is hoped that more will report soon and make the squad larger. Practice is now being held Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights and will probably continue at these hours until December 10. After this date practice will be in the afternoon at four o'clock on these same days. Any Freshman wishing to try out for the team should report to Coach Prentice at the gym.

Among the men who have begun practising are several high and prep school stars, and some have played before on the gym floor in the annual interscholastic tournaments. Fayette, regular forward of last year's Cathedral High School team, is a candidate for the team as is Proctor of Barton Academy's quintet from the northern section of the state. Taft, forward, and Tilley, center of last year's Essex Junction team, are looking for places on the Kitten squad. Bedell and Morse, ends, Winant, quarterback, and Manning, of the Freshman football outfit, are out for berths on the quintet. Others on the squad include Richmond, Dober, Madden, Carpenter, Newcomb, Armstrong, Wright, Tupper, Park, Wetherell and Bove.

Manager Averill is working on a schedule which will be announced soon. The opening game will be on December 19 before the Dartmouth game with the Checker-boys as opponents. By that time the team will be in good shape to start for a successful season. In past years the Kittens have produced fine teams and there is no reason to believe that this year will be an exception.

NEWS IN BRIEF

This week those students who are enrolled in the two-year Teacher Training Course begin their active work in the elementary schools of Burlington and its immediate vicinity. There are sixty-six such students and they will be scattered among the following schools: Ira Allen, Converse, Thayer, Mallette Bay, Pomeroy, H O Wheeler, Shelburne, Champlain, Essex Junction and Lawrence Barnes. This part of the work is always looked forward to by a great number of the students and as this week seems so important one to those involved.

Seven students from the Home Economics Department are in charge of Practice House this week. They are: Senior Gustenson, Eastman, Sigmund and Laura Smith, Junior cooks Margerie Huntley and Frances Laythe, Sophomore waitresses, Dorothy Collins and Pearl Dugeid and assistant Harriet Wright.

CHRISTMAS RECESS CLOSES JANUARY 3

Attention of Students Called to Rules Regarding Absences and Permissions of Leave

WILL START SATURDAY, DEC. 22 AT 7.30 A. M.

Students are advised that the Christmas recess is to begin on Saturday, December 22, at 7.30 a.m., and will close on Thursday the 3rd of January at 7.30 a.m. Particular attention is being called to the dates and hours and to the University regulations regarding cuts before and after the vacation period.

Afternoon classes on Friday, December 21, in the Academic and Medical colleges will be held at 1.30 p.m. and from 3.20 p.m.

A special set of rules in regard to students desiring excuses for absences has been passed by Dean Hills but the regular rules should be noted also. The special rules are as follows: 1. Application must be made in writing, must indicate mail address, must set forth reasons in full and be filed with the Dean of the College in which the student is enrolled (men) or with the Dean of Women (women), not later than Monday, December 17 at noon. The responsibility for proper and prompt filing of the excuses remains with the student. 2. Excuses will be granted to men by council vote and to women by the Dean of Women. Excuses will be granted only for imperative reasons. Students should not waste their own time or that of the Council by presenting trivial reasons. 3. A student contemplating entering the railway mail service should file a signed R. M. S. statement with date, time of day and place where he is to report indicated. 4. A student contemplating employment should file a written statement signed by the employer on his letterhead, indicating date and time of day he is to report, place where he is to work and the nature of the work to be done, setting forth the need of reporting prior to December 22. 5. A blanket statement as to Lake Placid Club employment will be received from the Club management. 6. Applicants will be advised of council action not later than Tuesday evening, December 18.

The University regulation regarding absences before and after vacation periods reads in part: A student who expects himself without permission from University exercises the day immediately preceding or following recesses and holidays may be placed on probation by the Council or by the Faculty of the college in which he is enrolled.

DEFINITE FINANCE PLAN GIVEN FOR TREASURERS

Doctor G. G. Groat, professor of economics, acting in his official capacity as chairman of the Senate Committee on Student Finances and auditor of the Consolidated Student Funds, prepares the following regulations for treasurers of student organizations whose funds are managed through the Consolidated Student Funds:

1. All money received by a treasurer will be deposited without delay at the office of the Cashier of the University.

2. All bills, in regular form, will be approved by the treasurer of the organization and by the auditor of Consolidated Student Funds (C. S. F.); and will be presented to the Cashier of the University for payment.

3. Cash payments will be made only by the Cashier of the University, and then only on requisition formally approved by the treasurer of the organization and by the auditor of C. S. F.

4. Each treasurer will keep an account of all receipts and all disbursements in a form approved by the Auditor of C. S. F. This account should be ready for audit at any time it may be called for.

5. The account should be checked

(Continued on page 4)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

LEIGHTON A. SANDERS, '29
Managing Editor

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

Lawrence O. Clayton, '29 — News Editors Hannah M. Macomber, '29 — Arthur D. Stearns, '30

Hank Fuller, '28 — Columnists — George R. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors Kenneth B. Hagar, '29, Mary A. Turner, '29 — Intercollegiate Editor Odine A. Martinetti, '30 — Feature Editor George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor Lawrence Nathanson, '30 — Sporting Editor Angus W. Clain, '30 — Asst. Sporting Editor Warren H. Burr, '30

Associate Athletic Editor [illegible] Holden, '29 — Art Editor Lenore Aldinger, '29 — Photographic Editor Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

[illegible] Goodrich, '30, [illegible] Campbell, '30, [illegible] Robertson, '30, [illegible] Masterman, '30, [illegible] Brush, '31 — Douglas L. Stewart, '31, America Giorla, '30, E. A. R. Germain, '31, Donald R. Coburn, '31, Philip G. Andrews, '30 — Louis Lyman, '31, Richard Cowles, '31, L. M. Foster, '31, C. N. Crockett, '31

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

[illegible] C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Archer R. Birchard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jenks, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Moore, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
[illegible] C. Fuller, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2065 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday. Entered in 1895. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House; all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 1103 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — December 7, 1928 — No. 22

THE TREND OF THE TIMES

By

THOMAS W. HUNTINGTON, M.D., '71

(From The Vermont Alumni Weekly)

Social, ethical and moral stocktaking has become a favorite indoor sport of the present day. The reform broadcaster is abroad, presenting to the world a balance sheet that at best is a gloomy document. The wail of the self-styled idealist is borne hither and yon on every wave length. "We view with alarm," "We deplore," are the watchwords of the press, the rostrum and the pulpit. In fearsome recital we are warned that this is an age of wasteful extravagance, of luxurious living, of political rottenness. Confessedly we are money mad, a nation of gamblers, the rich are growing richer and the poor, poorer. By the same token our social system is prolific of menace. On every turn we are beset by platitudes of doleful shade, lamenting the abandonment of that quaint old-fashioned sentiment—CHIVALRY and the open flaunting of divine authority. It is further insisted that society is apathetic and complaisant as regards jazz and joyriding, lax prohibition enforcement and bootlegging, suggestive movies and problem literature, "birth control" and "companionate marriage." These and a score or two of kindred influences, all and several, are luring our youth, by gentle grades to that convergent point, overhung by the sword of Damocles.

To all this there is at least one logical rejoiner—"I am not my brother's keeper," or in homelier phrase—it is every man's business to mind his own business. It may be said with emphasis that what is to happen will happen so far as the body politic is concerned, and this is in no sense an affirmation of the doctrine of foreordination or of fatalism. I am of the opinion that responsibility for conduct, whether for weal or woe, rests primarily with the individual and if the individual has any hope of exerting a saving influence upon his associates or upon his time, he must approach his task with a very definite objective and with clean hands.

Thank heaven there is such a thing as intellectual honesty, which implies ability to recognize and foster the wholesome as opposed to the unwholesome things in life. These words are big with meaning. Their appeal is to the individual whatever be his status, and their common carrier is example rather than preachment. In this connection let me suggest that we cannot do better than to engage in a campaign of personal spiritual housecleaning; much time and effort are wasted in "exploring" that were better spent in codifying a rational scheme of life.

Apropos of the foregoing we have the injunction from Barnaby Rudge: "Let no man turn aside, ever so slightly, from the broad path of honor, on the plausible pretext that he is justified by the goodness of his end. All good ends can be worked out by good means. Those that cannot are bad and may be counted so at once and let alone."

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the Cynic:

May I make an inquiry as to why the notices in regard to excuses for Thanksgiving and Armistice Day, and regarding early classes November 29 were placed on the unofficial bulletin board, and not on the official one, in North Hall in the Old Mill. I, for one, understood that that board was reserved for just such notices, in order that they might be more readily seen.

Antique

After 100 years of use and a half century of travel a leather fire bucket labeled "Rutgers College, No 19, 1828" came back to its original home a week ago. The sender, a member of the class of 1892, said it had been used as a waste basket and an antique in many homes throughout the country.

Is it unreasonable to suggest that they be used for such a purpose?

W. W. PARKER, '29.

The Periscope

By Way of Argument

I want to argue with the writer of a recent letter to the Cynic. He signed himself "A Young Alumnus" and he invited me to stand on my head. For that matter, he invited all who believe in drafting capital for war use to do likewise.

* * *

An editorial with which the writer did not agree stated that the war debts of this country will rest upon our grandchildren. I firmly believe they will. Of course I agree that the debt is now being retired at such a rate that if continued over the next 16 years the debt will be entirely liquidated. However, the burden of that liquidation must rest upon our grandchildren. And it is not far fetched to predict that the burden on our grandchildren may be another World War.

* * *

International war debts have not been cancelled. Large European loans are being floated in this country continually. Much of the money so borrowed, I believe, may find its way indirectly into war debt payments. Now, if this be true, what will happen when the time comes for repayment of these loans? In other words what will happen if Europe, or a considerable part of it goes bankrupt and American loans can not be paid off? Will it be war or an adjusted settlement? If either answer is accepted our grandchildren are bound to loose.

* * *

Here is another and an inescapable way in which the war debts will rest upon the coming generations. Billions of dollars have been hopelessly squandered in the war. This money must be paid back from somewhere, by somebody. It comes out of taxes and the ultimate taxpayer is the ordinary citizen, the worker. All excess profit taxes, inheritance taxes, corporation taxes, etc., are merely taxes made possible by the activity of the worker, the producer. Were he paid more for his labor the excess profits would not exist and the swollen inheritances would slowly diminish. Now these billions of dollars are being taken out of the workers somewhere at the present time. Possibly the economic position of this country is so strong that our workers will bear but a comparatively light burden. This merely means that other workers must suffer proportionately more. The world of today is not large enough so that any one section of it can suffer acutely without harming other sections. Because of interdependence, the economic illness of one country reflects, given sufficient time, on all other countries.

Finally, even if no crisis ever occurs, our grandchildren will be deprived of the useful things which might have come out of the money and resources wasted in the war. The scar of plants turning out guns instead of automobiles or farm implements can not be healed in two generations.

* * *

Secondly, the writer of the letter protested against levying capital for war use. I believe this is entirely justifiable and is but imposing a more equal burden on the two fundamentally different elements of our population, the rich and the poor.

At the present time the poor man and the rich man are both drafted into military service. This is fair enough, so far as it goes. But it does not go very far. If the poor man is killed his children are left with a government pension or adjusted compensation or some such makeshift. If the rich man is killed his children are left with the protection of ample means. They are assured the benefits of a higher education and a good social position. To them the death of their father is no economic tragedy. It does not mean they must immediately seek gainful employment and can never hope to receive adequate training for the competition of life.

* * *

You may argue that the children of the rich man always have a tremendous advantage anyway and that war does not give them more of an unfair position than does peace. Possibly this is true. But if it is true it is by no means a final answer to the controversy. It merely leads to another question: who has the most interest in war and war making, the rich or the poor man?

If wars are fought for intangible things, the interest of the two classes may be alike or the interest of each citizen may vary as his personality varies from each other citizen. If, however, wars are fought for definite commercial reasons—this is the generally accepted view and the only one able to bear close inspection—who has the most interest in them? Is it the rich man who has markets to extend and a business or business interests to protect or is it the poor man who will be exploited throughout his life by some employer unless he is able to raise himself into the class of the exploiters?

The answer is obvious. No wise employer will exploit the worker beyond the point at which he can get the maximum return on his exploiting. This point is not starvation; it is not a meager existence. It is a point at which the worker has the purchasing power to consume large amounts of goods. Under any master, again with a sufficient time interval, the worker will be approximately as well off. The rich man has much more at stake in war than has the poor man.

* * *

Under existing conditions the rich man puts his life irrevocably into conflict while his money brings him interest. This interest is paid by the poor man who also puts his life into the war. So it is that at present the rich have more concern in war yet put less into it. They are assured of at least some return on their money. They are assured of the return of the capital itself intact. Of course the investor in war loans looses if his country be completely ruined. The poor man is sure of nothing. He puts his all into a conflict which endangers the welfare of his children when it endangers his life, while the children of the rich are protected by the money of their father.

The situation, reduced to its simplest form, is one in which the poor have little to gain or lose, but invest all they have, including the best interests of their children, in war. The rich have much at stake and invest, at most, only their lives and part of the interest from their money. They do not gamble with the fate of their children.

* * *

The writer of the letter calls for a plan for capital levying. I will attempt to present no carefully worked out scheme. I only wish to call his attention to the fact that men were drafted for service in the last war. Each man had a right to claim exemption on certain grounds. None were accepted who were physically unfit for the class of service into which they were inducted. Now if capital were given the same treatment, if it were drafted under some plan whereby the most fit installments of it were used first I believe no hardship would be suffered by the capitalist greater than that suffered by the families of the poor. If capital were also given the right of conscientious objection we might be faced with no possibility of war. Perhaps capitalists would refuse to support war if it meant the loss of their capital.

* * *

Finally, the writer asks if civil war would not result from the levying of capital. I believe it might. One faction of capitalists, either the larger or the smaller holders, might insist that the other bear all the cost of war. They might fight each other. If the workers were educated to class consciousness at such a time they would not take sides in the conflict. They would let the two contesting elements of the capitalists destroy each other and then they would take over the means of production.

HANK FULLER.

With the Theatre

Burlington's latest theatre announces a return engagement of "The Naked Truth" with lurid advertising. The advertisement is also an aid to state censorship of motion pictures. At the present time theatre managers may use their own discretion in selecting pictures. The majority do use discretion but their work is in vain when a big black blotch like this appears. It is understood the picture is perfectly all right, but the legislators do not view the movie, they see only the advertisement.

At the Majestic Friday, Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes in "Heart to Heart" and Pola Negri in "The Woman from Moscow." Mary, as the widow of a prince in Italy returns to America, bringing with her Italian customs and ideas. How her old home town appeals after the dazzling society of Italy, and her reaction to the humdrum life of an American village makes the picture.

Pola Negri makes a gesture in the maelstrom of life's perversities, playing the woman of vengeance, who falls in love with the object of her vow to destroy. Called by one critic "Pola Negri's Swan Song for Paramount."

Saturday, Karl Dane and George K. Arthur enact a satire on prison reform. A breezy beginning in a ladies' barber shop paves the way for a rather unusual ending in the penitentiary. A football game between two rival prisons with the two leads playing on opposite teams, furnish the gags. Love interest is furnished by Jean Arthur, who, as the warden's daughter, justifies Dad's theory of brotherly love by marrying a prisoner, otherwise George Arthur. This picture is a real laugh.

Professor Leon Dean of the Department of English delivered an address Friday afternoon before the Woman's Club of Essex Junction.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REAC

By Ex-Converse [illegible]

OUR SPORTING PUBLIC

Halligan hooked a [illegible] Kid Bread's jaw [illegible] the ropes just as the [illegible]

"Get the big [illegible] Jackie!" shouted the [illegible] eyed enthusiast next [illegible]

"Would you mind [illegible] round that was?" I [illegible] him.

"Sure, buddie. It wa[illegible] gan'll kill him next [illegible]

I turned away dis[illegible] reeking breath swept [illegible] most swept me over [illegible] son was no advertisem[illegible] compliments of prohi[illegible] was a prizefight. T[illegible] sportswriters from [illegible] Grantland Rice had term[illegible] art of self-defense" [illegible] to give and take as a [illegible] They had spoken of "glit[illegible] orous crowds," of "tin[illegible] coursing with he-blood at a [illegible] exhibition." They had [illegible] tiful women, lavishly [illegible] jeweled, shrilling suppo[illegible] valiant heroes." Perhaps [illegible] was I in the Commodore A[illegible] Brooklyn watching two leather tenders for the heavyweight [illegible] maul each other around, and w[illegible] saw was cheap, sordid, brutal [illegible] man, uncivilized—the flailing [illegible] punch-crazed brutes for the wild probation of that fight-crazed [illegible] ence. Being a minister engaged welfare work, I may be inclin[illegible] view life from a too temperate point. I realize that it is some[illegible] unwise for a man in a particular cupation to attempt to impress [illegible] with what he sees in the ma[illegible] which he sees it. For this rea[illegible] and I shall turn artists; I shall p[illegible] for you the picture I saw that [illegible] and you shall draw your own [illegible] sions.

The Commodore A. C. seats [illegible] eight thousand people, and we [illegible] a full house tonight. The audito[illegible] is a square, box-like room with [illegible] iron-beamed ceiling from which [illegible] electric lights beat through the [illegible] of smoke like miniature lighthouses on a foggy coast. In the center of hall is a raised platform where gla[illegible] reflector lights play furiously upon the rosined canvas floor. [illegible] of the four corners of this platform a pole, and three tiers of ropes fastened to the poles and [illegible] around the stage to keep the slaughter from falling into the [illegible] the maniacal mob. This is called ring, perhaps deriving its name [illegible] a bell or gong which is attached one side and which announces the ginning and ending of a round its summons men rush at each [illegible] from opposite corners much as in ancient gladiator combats in the man arenas. If the fighters play drocles and the Lion" for even [illegible] a period, they are loudly labelled low!"—a final and all-damning tence.

Immediately surrounding the [illegible] a depth of twelve rows are [illegible] folding seats where sits the [illegible] tinguished populace—bookmak[illegible] gamblers, bootleggers, politicians ing their tired brain and [illegible] souls after a day's campaign of ing votes for selectmen [illegible] tickets for such spectacles. [illegible] sit jammed in side by side with lar mayors and a few [illegible] viduals. Among these is a well-dressed man of foreign app[illegible] ance. He is fifty and distinguished looking. One thinks of [illegible] generals in foreign militaristic tries as one watches him. He [illegible] at the scene and yet I feel he nothing that is here. He [illegible] lists of ancient chivalry, ing knights, clashing [illegible] colors: the flash of diamonds on [illegible] of womanhood.

On the floor at one [illegible] ring is a table with a [illegible] through which a man [illegible] clothes sends vivid bl[illegible] tures to thousands of [illegible] sides, where, endowed [illegible] ings of radios, the ha[illegible] longer needs to leave the wholesome enjoyment [illegible] back from the immediate a raised tier of hard [illegible] seats such as one finds in movie houses. All [illegible] covered with signs ad[illegible] chase of Mother Worrell's Honey and Pine Tar [illegible] tobaccos that benefit wind, and vocal abilities [illegible] chine-made bow ties; and ture advertisements ga[illegible] note, Freshman J. Are [illegible] Can you defend your gir[illegible] merciless attacks of this If not, see me immedia[illegible] am The Muscle Builder to increase your chest fo[illegible] your biceps two inches. the kind of perfection blooded He-man should what is more—no matte[illegible] and puny you now are. I

(Continued on pag[illegible]

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

... of Mrs. W. T. Bigga... Ex... '22, who is recovering ... operation in the Mary Fletch... is much improved

DELTA DELTA DELTA

... Delta will hold a bazaar ... Encounters' Club house on ... afternoon

PI BETA PHI

... ation of Suzanne Rutledge ... timore, Md., took place on ... ening

... Annae Club and Mothers' ... ted a bazaar in the fra... ... on Tuesday afternoon ... many attractive articles ... hand woven pieces from ... ment School in Gatlinburg.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

... annual Alpha Chi Omega ba... ... place at the Athena Club ... Street Saturday afternoon

KAPPA DELTA

... Delta entertained at a tea ... Athena Club Thursday for its ... Mrs. J. O. Dresser, Mrs. ... Ingalls, Mrs. K. C. McMahon and ... M. Williams

COATES ISLAND TO BE SITE OF W. A. A. COTTAGE

... Island will be the site of the ... A. A. Cottage, as a result of the ... sion of the Women's Athletic ... ncil at last Wednesday's meeting. ... bers of the council after discuss... ... at length the prospects of the large ... as to its excellent situation, its ... accommodations, and its pleas... ... fireplace, voted to obtain this as ... future haunt of W. A. A. girls. ... winter women athletes may hike, ... or snowshoe to the cabin and, if ... wish, may arrange to stay over ... Much enthusiasm characterizes ... new project and the instigators ... sure the W. A. A. cottage will be ... popular destination for future week-... trips.

Marion Baldwin, '29, was elected ... anager of the winter carnival, which ... take place soon after Christmas ... tion. Later in the evening a ... committee to vote upon the ... of those who have earned ... was elected. In order to ob... the just reward of athletic en... the aspirants must obtain a ... mark in posture. Upon the ... sion of this committee, who will ... as secret service women, will de... the awarding of honors.

Certain revisions of the constitution ... W. A. A. also occupied the attention ... the council. In addition to the 11 ... bers of W. A. A. Council, Miss ... ings and Miss Blanchard were ... tained at the dinner Wednesday ... ing.

FRESHMEN RELIEVED OF BLEACHER DUTIES

No more will Freshmen be required ... strain their youthful muscles toil... ... away at the heavy bleachers set ... close each basketball game. Here... this work fell to each enter... class but in accordance with the ... introduced by the administra... this year of abolishing foolish ... man rules and enforced servitude, ... new students will be relieved this ...

... Key formerly had charge of ... ction of the bleachers. They ... a stern command to the Fresh... to appear before each home ... all engagement to carry the ... framework and seats from the ... of the gymnasium, and set them ... place, and after the close of the ... in the evening to remain and ... away the stands. Attendance at ... sessions was required and pun... of a corporal nature was ad... ... by the society members ... the slackers.

... the work will be in charge of W. M. Tully, head janitor. He will ... ted by the janitors of all the ... buildings together with ... dent helpers. It is possible ... may be a chance for other ... to earn a little money help... ... is found that the janitors ... cannot handle the work.

... former system has long been ... to considerable criticism, and ... expected that the new plan will ... distinct improvement.

Tailoring of all kinds.
Dry Cleaning and Pressing.
O'HARA'S
110 BANK ST. PHONE 197-W

ANNOUNCE REGULATIONS REGARDING USE OF GYM

Copies of the rules and regulations governing the use of the gymnasium have been posted in the gym. These rules were drawn up by Howard Prentice, who has charge of the gym work this year, in order to prevent breakage and protect the floor which has been newly painted. At present the building is being used for classes in physical training, tumbling, fencing, tennis, baseball, and classes in military science.

The rules provide that there shall be no smoking. Footballs are to be used only in the cage, while in the gymnasium proper the use of any shoes but rubber soled ones is prohibited. Likewise heaving basketballs at the baskets and climbing up the baskets when the ball is caught are forbidden. The last man out is to turn off the lights. During the Christmas recess the lockers will be inspected, and only those who legally hold them will be permitted to keep them. Upon payment of two dollars at the office of the graduate manager, a locker will be assigned to a student and a lock will be given him. The locker is his until he is through using it and receives a one dollar refund. The lock may be kept or turned in at the bookstore for fifty cents.

There are several free hours left in the schedule of classes for the gymnasium. Any college organization wishing the use of the gym should see Mr Prentice at once. This notice especially applies to those fraternities who have a basketball team.

OLDER BOYS OF STATE CONVENE THIS WEEK-END

About six hundred strong the youth of the state will convene in Burlington today for the Sixteenth Annual Conference of the Older Boys of Vermont. A three-day program full of interesting and inspiring features has been arranged. Included in the list of speakers are Bishop Coadjutor Samuel B. Booth of Vermont; Albert E. Roberts, Dean of the Town and Country Department of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A.; Edgar M. Robinson of the International Young Men's Christian Association College at Springfield, Mass.; and Clarence DeMar, the famous marathon runner, a former University of Vermont student.

The first session of the conference is at the supper this evening. Tomorrow will be a busy day, with sessions in the forenoon, afternoon, and evening, five group conferences, a recreation and sightseeing period. On Sunday there will be the morning church services, the afternoon decision meeting, and the closing session in the evening.

The conferences of the past years have been attended by more than six thousand boys, as well as by pastors, school men, and leaders, who are interested in the welfare of the boys of Vermont. They are planned to give instruction along lines in which boys are vitally interested, and the sessions of past years have proved most helpful to those who have attended.

The University will act as hosts to the delegates twice. President Bailey will hold a reception in the Billings Library at five o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and a song service will take place Sunday evening at 7.30 in the Ira Allen Chapel.

DR. NEWELL STRESSES NEED FOR FRIENDSHIP

The need for friendship, above all other things, was the theme of the address by Dr. Henry Newell, of Middlebury, Wednesday morning at the Ira Allen Chapel. The inspiration of his words was from the Biblical scene in which Jesus heals the leper. Dr. Newell stressed the fact that Jesus touched the leper, while others shunned him; and this touch meant as much spiritually to the leper as did his bodily cure.

Four things are expected by society from educated people, namely: a sound body, a keen mind, friendly relationship with others and intimate relationship with God.

Dr. Newell emphasized friendly relationship with others, citing several incidents wherein a man's great capacity for friendship was a mighty influence for his success.

BEST COAL AND SERVICE

* * *

Elias Lyman Coal Company
266 College Street

The Dopefiend

NAVE GLEGGAS

Now that the grid season has terminated in the east it comes time to look back over the results of the contests and pick the outstanding stars. Four teams have been picked here, two all Vermont and two all-opponent teams. The composer tried hard to do everyone justice and even at that there may be some errors, but on the merit of these players only have the places been granted.

First All-Vermont

R E.	Coane	Norwich
R T.	Whitman	Middlebury
R G.	A Scutakes	Vermont
C.	Levine	Vermont
L G.	Tansen	Norwich
L T	Hourin	Norwich
L E.	Segal	Vermont
Q B.	Johnson	Middlebury
L H B.	Guarnaccia	Middlebury
R H B.	Halligan	Vermont
F B.	O'Donnell	Norwich

Coane was picked because of his well-known ability as a pass catcher. Segal since he played a marvelous season and upheld his side of the line well for weighing 140 pounds. Whitman is a great linesman and can be shifted to center if necessary; Hourin at the other tackle as he is a great fighter. He was somewhat handicapped by injuries this season but he still merits the position. Tansen and A. Scutakes were great guards and the latter was one of the best guards to appear against Middlebury this season according to Coach Beck.

Levine has center cinched with no comment at all. One Boston paper grants him all-New England pivot.

Johnson was easily the outstanding quarter while Halligan nad Guarnaccia would make two slashing halfbacks. O'Donnell held fullback over Robbins due to the fact that he is a great passer, punter and line-plunger besides being strong on the defense and this latter was Robbins' weakness.

All the men on the second team gave the first team a merry chase for honors but did not quite win out.

Second All-Vermont

L E.	MacDonald	Norwich
L T.	Kropper	Vermont
L G.	Bedell	Middlebury
C.	Weber	Middlebury
R G.	Allen	Middlebury
R T.	Nilsen	Vermont
R E.	Palmer	Vermont
Q B.	Waining	Norwich
L H B.	Kane	Norwich
R H B.	McLeod	Middlebury
F B.	Robbins	Vermont

There may be some comment as to Palmer but he was handicapped by injuries. However, while he was in the game he was one of the outstanding ends thus the honor. McLeod played fullback but he is a little light to fill those shoes and can be easily turned into a halfback.

The Old Position

Shop here for

THE RIGHT GIFT

To take to

MOTHER OR DAD, BROTHER OR SISTER

Three floors of the most useful gift suggestions—unique gifts, gifts that will please. A thousand or more of them at 50c to $5.00.

Don't Experiment . with your Appearance

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

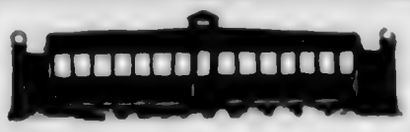
In picking the all-opponent teams it was more difficult. Princeton and Columbia were excluded as they were really out of our class and so the smaller colleges were the ones to be considered.

All-Opponent First Team

L E	Bliss	R I P
L T.	Hounon	Union
L G	Gilman	Conn Aggies
C	Dorfmand	B U (Capt.)
R G	G Clark	Springfield
R T	Swenson	Boston Univ.
R E	Coane	Norwich
Q B.	Williamson	Springfield
R H B	Guarnaccia	Middlebury
L H B	Fisher	Conn Aggies
F B.	O'Donnell	Norwich

Dorfmand of B U earned the pivot position thumbs down and in the backfield there are three fast men with a good line plunger and passer besides having booting ability in the fullback. The line will average fairly heavy and each individual has been a star on his own team this past season.

Second All-Opponent Team



L E	Pinto	R I P
L T.	Borgers	Conn Aggies
L G.	Tansey	Norwich
C.	Limbaugh	Springfield
R G.	Hawkins	Conn Aggies
R T.	Whitman	Middlebury
R E	Hammond	Springfield
Q B.	Johnson	Middlebury (Capt.)
L H B.	Thurman	B.U.
R H B.	Stranahan	Union
F B.	Walke	B. U.

Here again is another strong array of stars some making strong bids for the first team. Johnson has been picked as captain because of the way he fought against Vermont.

On all of these teams there have been some men who have been shifted from their regular positions but the author thought that these players were perfectly capable of filling those places by their show of prowess against the Cats.

There is a big question right now as how our hoop quintet will fare. A new coach and practically a whole new team will cause a great deal of interest among the court fans. The dribblers open against Montreal A. A. Saturday night and a great deal of interest will be taken in this first game.

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

For pure sugar home-made ribbon candy call at the

BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP
and
CANDYLAND

HOME-MADE SPECIAL CANES BY ORDER, FROM 5c TO $2.50

Dartmouth Loses to Co-ed Debaters

(Continued from page 1)

evident in a co-ed college is an excellent preparation for the modern life.

Mr Adams, closing the constructive case brought out the psychic difference in the make-ups of men and women, holding that for this reason they must be approached in different ways a feat obviously impossible in a coeducational school. Mr Adams also argued that it is more wholesome for each sex to live for a time within itself.

The rebuttal, continued in the same humorous strain, each speaker attacking his case with witticisms as clever and subtle as in the opening arguments. The speakers went into greater detail here, especially in citing illustrations and haggling over minor points. The greater part of the rebuttal was confined to refutation of the rebuttal speeches themselves.

Professor D B Carroll of the political science department presided. The judges, everyone of whom went for the women, were Mr Harry L. Ford of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce, Judge Clarence P Cowles of the Municipal Court and Miss Agnes McPhillips of the public speaking department of Burlington High School.

This debate closes the debating season until after mid years. The class debate for the Bailey Cup was held two weeks ago while the men's varsity opened their season some three weeks ago against Bates. It is noteworthy that in all three debates Vermont has employed the policy originally announced by it of using considerable humorous discussion, a policy which will be followed throughout the year.

The new residence of Professor H C Douglas on Summit Street is nearing completion.

Compliments of

C. A. BARBER & CO.

112 Church Street

17 say "Merry Xmas" with same Gift

Evanston, Ill.
Dec. 31, 1927

Larus & Bro. Co.
Richmond, Va.
Dear Sirs

I happen to be blest with a host of very fine friends, mostly "highbrows"—professors, scientists, et c. Generally at Christmas-time they show their remembrance and all that with some little gift—a box of cigars, fishing tackle, a book—all that sort of thing.

Well, this Christmas many seemed to centre on tobacco. Now, mark you, these fellows have no communication with each other. They live in widely separated parts of the country, so it was no "put-up" job on me or anything like that. But here came seventeen boxes of tobacco, and sixteen of them the familiar blue "Edgeworth!" The seventeenth was a very flowy walnut, brass-trimmed box, but if I know tobacco, the contents were Edgeworth with a little perique in it.

Just coincidence, perhaps, but a queer one. Am not an habitual smoker of Edgeworth, so they weren't catering to any especial taste of mine. Looks like a consensus of opinion among the "highbrows"—or quite a batch of 'em—that Edgeworth is the stuff, the proper caper for a gift.

Sincerely yours,
F. A. Fitzpatrick

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTIONS

From the

UNIVERSITY STORES

THE CHOICEST CHRISTMAS CARDS ARE PURCHASED EARLY

We will be very glad to order any book you wish to give as a Christmas gift.

CYNIC STAFF MEMBERS VOTE FOR EMBLEMS

[illegible] the combined men's and women's editorial boards of the [illegible] voted to give tokens to certain members at meeting held in 1 North College Wednesday afternoon. These tokens will be presented to members of the staff designated by a committee of three representing the men's and women's editorial board and the business manager's staff. This action was [illegible] upon, when it was discovered that Vermont was one of the few colleges that gave no recognition for work performed on its student paper.

At the same meeting a report from the National College Press Association Convention was received. Reorganization of several departments of the paper was discussed.

Following the general meeting the men's board elected their new assistant editors. Paul J. Lafrenier '32 of Burlington, Herman Gibson '31 of Brooklyn, N. Y. and Edward J. Beyor '31 of Essex Junction.

Definite Finance Plan Given for Treasurers

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible] with the account kept by the Comptroller of the University.

6. For all dances and other occasions asking for several items of expenditure, a detailed report of such items will be made and submitted to the auditor of C. S. F. before bills are paid.

7. No cash payments will be made to any treasurer or manager.

8. In the more important cases, a petty cash account may be opened, when approved by the auditor of C. S. F.

9. The treasurers of all societies whose funds are in the C. S. F. will be responsible to the auditor for the observance of these regulations.

This plan is more definite than the one now in operation.

Dramatic Club has postponed its three annual plays until after mid-years. The Juniors will give "Barbara Goes" under the direction of Beatrice Perkins '30 and the Freshman play, "The Veneered Savages," is being coached by Lillian Cohen, '30. The sophomore play has been changed from "Her Second Girl" by Mary MacMillan to "The Man in the Bowler Hat" by A. A. Milne. It will be coached by Frances Hawley, '29.

Prof. Bertrand Holmes of the department of education will be speaker at the community luncheon of the Burlington League of Women Voters which will be held at Hotel Vermont Wednesday December 4.

GERALDINE FARRAR TO SING AT AUDITORIUM

Geraldine Farrar, the famous soprano is to sing at the Auditorium to-night under the management of Arthur Judson '06. This will be Miss Farrar's third appearance in this city. She will sing the same program which she sang in New York on November 17, when she received a tremendous ovation from her enthusiastic audience.

It is only within the last few years that Miss Farrar has been doing any concert work; previously, her long and brilliant career was wholly in the roles provided by the Metropolitan Opera Company of Chicago. Her voice is now richer and fuller than ever before as it sometimes the case with exceptionally fine voices. Miss Farrar sings the melancholy French pieces, the emotional Spanish, the ardent Italian, and the playful American with equal versatility.

Miss Farrar's success is largely due to her remarkable personality. She is vitally interested in everything at every moment, whether on the stage or off. Her ability as a dramatic actress as well as an accomplished singer, and her personal presence, [illegible] are the sources of her power over her audiences. Whether you like her voice or not, you cannot help but like Geraldine Farrar.

McAULIFFE'S
New Retail Building
is the home of
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
that are beautiful and appropriate for all persons on the [illegible]
COR. CHURCH & COLLEGE STS.
Phone 629

PRELIMINARY SCHEDULE OF MID-YEAR EXAMS

(All conflicts must be reported at the Registrar's office not later than Tuesday December 17.)

Saturday Afternoon, January 19—English 2 Lit.

Monday Morning, January 21—Anatomy and Physiology (Agr.); Dairy Herd Mgt 6; Chemistry 2b; Chemistry 3; Chemistry 7; Class Mgt (Teacher Training); Descriptive Geom.; French 113; History 6; Home Econ. 4 (Nutr. Phys.); Materials of Construction; Mechanical Drawing; Philosophy 1 (Logic); Physics 104 (Elec. and Mag.); Political Science 2; [illegible]; Vermont History.

Monday Afternoon, January 21—Dairying 2; Mechanics; Spanish 1; Spanish 3; Spanish [illegible].

Tuesday Morning, January 22—Accounting; Chemistry 3a; Geology 3; History 5; Intr. to Education (Teacher Tr.); Music 3; Music 4; Political Science 8; Poultry; Zoology 2; Zoology 6.

Tuesday Afternoon, January 22—Botany 1; Botany 3 (Agl.); Botany 5; Botany 8 (Cytology); Economics 12; History (Teacher Training); Journalism; Latin 1; Latin 9; Latin 10; Music 1; Philosophy 108; Political Science 112; Zoology 7 (Embryology).

Wednesday Morning, January 23—Economics 58; English Methods (T. Tr.); History 3; Junior E. E. Lab.; Math. 103; Political Science 104; Surveying 12 (Senior) Surveying 55 (Sophomore).

Wednesday Afternoon, January 23—Economics 14; Education 3; French 4; French 6; Geology 3; Testing Dairy Products.

Thursday Morning, January 24—Chemistry 1; Chemistry 11; Chemistry 104; Economics 8; Electrical Design; Geology 1a (T. Tr.); History of Art; Physiology 1; Political Science 106.

Thursday Afternoon, January 24—Economics 9; Greek 2; Hygiene (T. Tr.); Latin B; Latin 13; Math. 4 (Proj. Geom.); Reinforced Concrete; Soils.

Friday Morning, January 25—Botany 2; Calculus (Eng.); Education 2; History 8; Latin 2; M. E. 4 (Ad. St. Eng.).

Friday Afternoon, January 25—Elec. Power Transmission; Feeds and Feeding; Horticulture 1; Masonry Construction; Political Science 109; Psychology 1; Psychology 2 (Applied); Psychology 4.

Saturday Morning, January 26—Economics 6a; Geography (T. Tr.); German 1; German 2; German 4 (Adv. Lit.); Home Economics 10; Horticulture 4 (Elem. and Land Gard.).

Saturday Afternoon, January 26—Economics 2; English 7; Greek 1; [illegible]; Aesthetics; Rural Education (T. Tr.); Social Psychology.

Monday Morning, January 28—Economics 20; French 8; General E. E.; History 7; Home Economics 7 (App. Bac.); Home Economics 21; Math. 1 (Elem. Algebra) (Arts and Ag.); Math. 1 (Trigonometry) (Arts and Ag.); Math. 1 (Trigonometry) (Eng.).

Monday Afternoon, January 28—Chemistry 9; Chemistry 19 (Home Econ.); D. C. Machinery; Economics 1; Economics 7; Educ. Measurements; Public School Music 1; Steam Eng. Lab.

Tuesday Morning, January 29—Bridge Design; Economics 62; Education 7/8; Forestry 1; Greek 106; Home Econ. 20 (Adv. Clothing); Senior E. E. Lab.; Steam Engineering.

Tuesday Afternoon, January 29—Economics 12; Economics 59; French 12; Home Econ. 1 (Survey); Home Econ. (Clothing—T. Tr.); Latin 12; Math. 2 (Calculus) (Arts); Math. 7 (Solid Geom.); Political Science 3.

Wednesday Morning, January 30—Alt Curr. Eng.; French 1; French 3.

Wednesday Afternoon, January 30—Children's Lit. (T. Tr.); Economics 6; Greek 6; Hydraulics; Methods of Teaching Home Econ.; Physics 1; Zoology 9 (Evolution).

Thursday Morning, January 31—Economics 10; Geology 2; Home Econ. 2 (Foods); Home Econ. 13 (Family); Latin A; Machine Design; Philosophy 104 (History); Public School Music 2.

Thursday Afternoon, January 31—Education 1; Elec. Communication; Engineering 1; Mental Hygiene (T. Tr.); Psychology 106 (Exper.); Sanitary Eng.

Friday Morning, February 1—Arithmetic (T. Tr.); English 19; French 114; Home Econ. 3; Political Science 1; Sociology; Types and Breeds.

Friday Afternoon, February 1—Hygiene (Freshman Girls); Military Science.

Literary Society Meets

Grey Friars met Sunday evening at the home of the President, Charles H. Overly. The business portion of the meeting was largely consumed with a discussion of the constitution, which was adopted with a few minor changes. Several manuscripts submitted by students wishing to be considered for membership in the organization were read and criticisms offered. H. H. Fuller, '30, and S. B. Barker, '32, were elected to the society.

Following the meeting, a buffet lunch was served.

Miss Clara Wheeler of the Education Department is attending a Teachers' Convention in Springfield, Mass.

No Writer's Cramp

When you use the
Remington Portable

WRITER'S cramp may sound like a joke to some, but to the student who has spent several long hours writing a thesis or report by hand, it looms as a very real malady.

Eliminate the drudgery and slowness of writing by hand—get a Remington Portable. Your work will be neater and you'll get it done far more quickly.

Remington Portable is the smallest, lightest, most compact and most dependable portable with standard keyboard. Carrying case only 4 inches high. Weighs 8½ pounds, net.

Cash or convenient terms.

W. G. SHERMAN
104 Church Street
BURLINGTON, VT.

REMINGTON RAND
BUSINESS SERVICE, INC.
162 College Street
BURLINGTON, VT.

The Boarding House Reach

(Continued from page 2)

to work these wonders with you within ninety days if you'll only see me immediately!"

I look around at the crowd. Bleary-eyed, dissipated men; nervous, desiring men; cold, merciless men, loud, sporting men; a few women—a dense cloud of cigarette and cigar smoke, and at times the strong smell of alcohol.

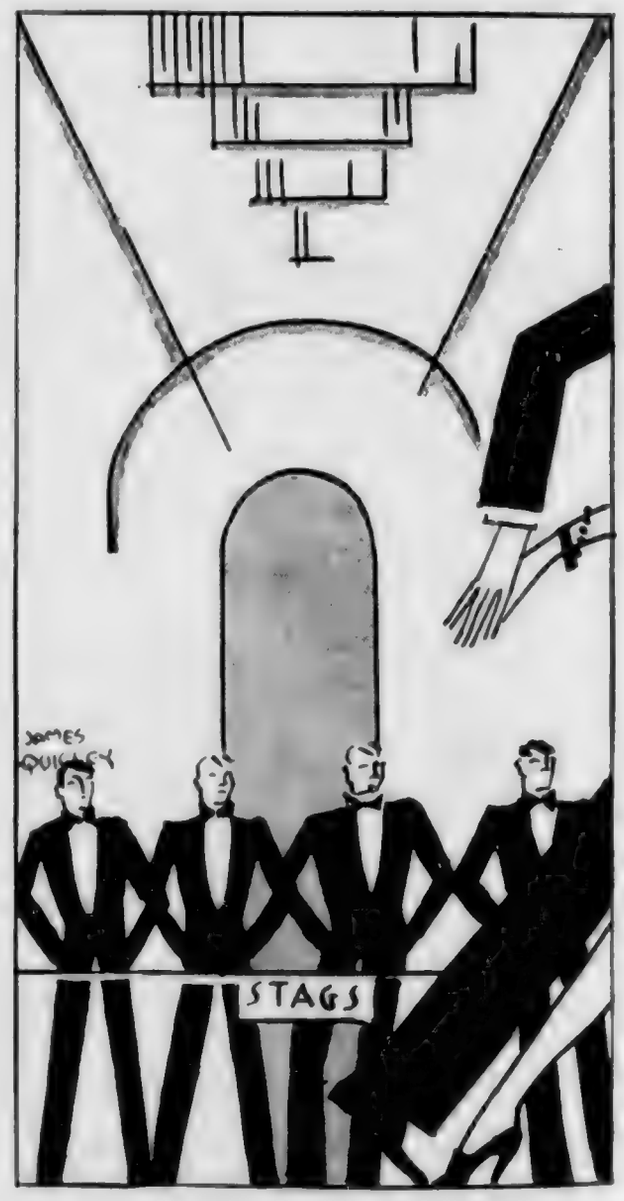
The gong sounds. A shout goes up. They are fighting again. The crowd is cheering Halligan, the winning man; urging him onward up the bloody path of fame. "Kill him, Jackie!" they cry, as he slams lefts and rights with lightning-like rapidity at his helpless, tottering opponent. I can bear it no longer. I arise and grope my way up the aisle, drawing muttered curses from those whose fascinating view I thus obstruct. I have nearly reached the exit when a wild cry of surprise breaks up the long, steady cheering. I turn and see Kid Broad standing over the fallen Halligan while the referee is counting the number of seconds the unfortunate man is on the floor.

"What happened?" I ask someone.

He is too intent upon what is now happening to inform me of what has happened. The crowd is yelling to Halligan to "Get up and fight, you yellow bum!" "Wot's dis, a frame-up?" "I want me money back!" "Sure, he done it on poipoise!"

"What happened?" I repeat.

"Oh, Jackie waz poundin' him up against de ropes when de Kid bounced back an' pasted him one in de jaw. Guess it's a frame-up, de louzy, yellow bum!"



I linger awhile. A minute later, Halligan, hero of a few short moments ago, is helped to his none too steady feet by his seconds [illegible] manager shouting "You low-down baby [illegible] get up an kill him."

Upsilon Tau Alpha [illegible] Education Club, [illegible] Party, last week at the [illegible] House. About sixty [illegible] in costumes suitable [illegible] attended. It was a successful party and everyone pleased with the evening's fun.

WINTER SPORTS

Snowshoes, $4—$12 pr.
Skiis, $1—$12 pr.
Sleds, $1—$10
Toboggans, $4—$30
Skates with shoes, $5.50—$16.50

L. P. WOOD
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

A STAG LINE IS ALMOST A THING OF THE PAST

The young men we know are getting wise to themselves and wearing

Braeburn Prom Tux
$40

OTHERS $30 AND $35

HAYES & CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street — Near Majestic
Open Evenings

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 | BURLINGTON, VT., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1928 | NUMBER 23

University Players in Comic Melodrama Thursday Night

George Bernard Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple" to be Presented at Strong Theatre Under Professor Metcalf's Direction

LARGE CAST FEATURE OF FALL PRODUCTION

Noteworthy for its rare mixture of [illegible] and comedy, George Bernard Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple," the fall production of the University Players will appear at the Strong Theatre Thursday evening. This play, one of the most popular of Shaw's works has been presented in the theatre of a large number of colleges throughout the country. Richard Mansfield has acted the title rôle and several years ago the play was presented by the Theatre Guild.

The production is especially marked by the large number of players that appear in the scenes. Some sixty in number take the stage at various times, the play being cast in large parts, with about forty five supernumeraries who take various parts ranging from soldiers to townspeople, all arrayed in the brilliant red uniforms of the British army or the colorful costumes of colonial days, the stage takes on almost the appearance of a pageant in the mob scenes.

"Cast Barrymore," Says Shaw

As evidence of the task undertaken by the dramatic societies in sponsoring the play and by Professor Metcalf in assuming the burden of coaching, the advice of Shaw himself to the Theatre Guild when it first presented the comedy.

"Whom shall we select for the leading parts?" wrote the director of the Guild production to Shaw.

Mr Shaw was not at all slow in replying, recommending John Barrymore for the part of Richard Dudgeon, self-styled "Devil's Disciple," Ethel Barrymore to play Judith Anderson and Lionel Barrymore as Anthony Anderson.

The Guild, of course, could not afford the salaries of three Barrymores in one play.

"Be careful," said Shaw. "Someone will have the bright idea before you."

"If they have the bright idea," came the answer, "they won't have the money."

Nevertheless, even without the Barrymores, the play became an overwhelming success and its popularity has continued no less wherever it has been presented. The Vermont production similarly, emphasizing the melodramatic and satirical elements of the play, promises to be as popular as representations of the play have been elsewhere.

Typical of the play as a whole are the character portraiture in the willoading scene in the first act, the tense drama of the second, and the [illegible] of the scenes in the third of which center about a General Burgoyne who acts to perfection the part of sensible, witty, sarcastic "Gentleman Johnny."

Last Scene Impressive

Most impressive of all is the closing scene in which the Devil's Disciple who in effect his rescue, has impersonated the local minister, escapes by a hair's breadth from hanging. Large numbers of townspeople fill the stage as the approach of files of British soldiers announce the entrance of the one who is about to hang, surrounded by another squad of soldiers. The tension is heightened as a funeral procession passes in the distance and a church clock begins to strike the hour. On the first stroke of the bell, Anderson himself, the minister, appears, armed with a safeguard which Burgoyne himself and dramatically signs the execution.

Professor Metcalf is at present negotiating with the Strong orchestra for the Dead March from Handel's Saul as well as incidental music before the performance and between the acts. The orchestra, if it secures the engagement, will undoubtedly add to the effectiveness of the play, if only to celebrate its newly-established reputation on the hill.

The coaching of the play is under the executive management of Professor Metcalf. The business end of it is in the hands of F. R. Otto, '29.

(Continued on page 4)

LECTURE TONIGHT IN UNIVERSITY GYMNASIUM

"Vagaries of Art of Today" is the subject of an illustrated lecture to be given in the University Gym Tuesday, December 11, at 8 o'clock by Homer Saint Gaudens. This lecture promises to be of great interest, both in the way of entertainment and education. The speaker is especially well-fitted for the discussion of any phase of modern art, for he is at present Director of Fine Arts at Carnegie Institute. In this capacity he has charge of what is considered to be the best international exhibit of current art.

CAMPUS IMPROVEMENTS TO COME NEXT SPRING

Further improvements are to be made upon the campus next spring. President Bailey announced that a concrete walk would be placed between the northwest corner of the campus and the library over the dirt walk that is now in use. The walk will be at least four and a half feet in width, and there is a possibility that it may be even still wider. A concrete walk will also be placed in front of the Williams Science Hall in place of the short macadam stretch which will be dug up to make room for the new walk. Eighteen new ornamental lights such as have been installed along campus row will also be placed around the campus.

Work upon the cement sidewalks will begin as soon as the frost leaves the ground in the spring and M. A. Bundy, the contractor, has been given the contract.

The new walks are made possible through a gift to the University for that purpose. The ornamental lights will be installed by the city of Burlington. These new improvements will beautify the campus, it is believed, and make it more serviceable to the students, and more attractive to everyone.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATE BROADCASTS ADDRESS

Darwin P Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance Company, and a graduate from the University of Vermont in the class of 1887, addressed the company's 2,300,000 policy holders in a speech broadcast throughout the country last Wednesday evening.

The address was made before guests at a dinner given to celebrate the opening of the company's new 34-story home office, on the site of the old Madison Square Garden. Agents of the company throughout the country arranged special dinners and radio parties, to which policy-holders and prominent citizens were invited.

In his address Mr Kingsley gave a brief description of the new building, discussed the origin and development of the company, and presented to the policy holders a short report on its condition. Inasmuch as the New York Life is a mutual company, the address of Mr. Kingsley amounted to the same thing as if the president of a large corporation were to present a verbal report to all its stockholders.

Guests at the New York dinner included newspaper editors and publishers, life insurance executives, officials of the company and others.

Stations through which Mr. Kingsley broadcast his address included WJZ, New York; WBZ, Springfield, WBZA, Boston; WHAM, Rochester, KDKA, Pittsburgh; WJR, Detroit, WLW, Cincinnati, KYW, Chicago, KWK, St. Louis; WREN, Kansas, and WBAL, Baltimore.

CO-EDS SEEK DATA ON STUDENT UNION RULES

Questionnaires will be given out during the week for the purpose of securing data on Student Union rules to be used in the formation of new regulations which will be presented for approval at the Women's Student Union mass meeting, December 17.

Lucy Morgan who attended the convention of Student Government in Cleveland, Ohio, last month, has brought back many suggestions for the revision of the constitution here. Connecticut College for Women has what is considered to be a model constitution and this will be used as a model for Vermont's.

The committee in charge of drawing up the new constitution consists of Marion Backus, '29, Margaret Durrick, '29, and Janice Goodrich, '30.

H. B. LEVINE ELECTED FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

H. M. Macomber Becomes Manager of Catamounts for Coming 1929 Season—Craig and Adams Voted Assistants

THIRD ASSISTANT TO BE CHOSEN FROM TIES

Hyman Levine will captain the Vermont football team in 1929, with Herrick M Macomber as manager. The positions of assistant manager are to be held by W. E Craig and H. W Adams, with a third to be chosen by the Athletic Council from three men who are now tied for the position.

Levine is a member of Phi Sigma Delta fraternity. He was the leader in the founding of that organization last year at Vermont. He was a star on the crack Freshman football team of 1926, and has stood out for the past two years on the varsity. The Boston Herald's sporting editor picked him as All New England tackle on his mythical team for this section. Levine was the only man in the Green Mountain Conference who was mentioned in this selection.

Macomber is a Delta Psi. Last year he was a Gold Key man, and this year he is a member of Key and Serpent, the Junior honorary society. He is also secretary of Student Senate. He is a news editor of the Vermont Cynic, and a member of the debating team, having been elected to Tau Kappa Alpha in his Freshman year. He is a member of Pi Delta Rho, the honorary journalistic society, and Eta Sigma Phi, the honorary classic society. Aside from his extra-curricular activities, Macomber has been on the first honor list in his studies every semester since he came to college.

James C Puffer and Rollin G Hawley received the positions of Freshman football manager and gate manager respectively in the election. Puffer is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity. He has been a member of Gold Key, is now Key and Serpent assistant manager of tennis and an assistant business manager of the Cynic. He has been very active in all class activities.

Hawley belongs to Phi Delta Theta. He was Gold Key last year and this year is president of Key and Serpent. He started on the Freshman basketball team two years ago, and is now starting his second season on the varsity squad. He has served on many class committees.

Adams, besides being one of the assistant managers of football for next year is the Gold Key man from Delta Psi Society, and has been on various committees. He was a scrub manager of Freshman football last year.

Craig is Kappa Sigma, made his numerals last year as one of the scrub managers of Freshman football, and is working out on the business side of the Cynic.

The third assistant manager's name and record will be announced as soon as the Athletic Council breaks the tie and he will be chosen from L. L. Jones, M. H. Covert, and C. W. Walker.

Catamount Five Wins First Game From Canadian Quintet

First Intercollegiate Victory of 1928-29 Season Won by Basketball Team Over Strong Montreal Club 47-31—New Team Plays Like Veterans in Second Half

UNIVERSITY MUSICIANS TO GIVE CHRISTMAS CONCERT

Under the direction of Professor H G Bennett the annual Christmas Concert will be given in the Ira Allen Chapel Sunday afternoon, December 16, at 4.30 o'clock, by members of the University Choir assisted by members of the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs and instrumental soloists.

The Rev. Dr. I. C Smart, pastor of the College Street Congregational Church will officiate as chaplain.

The soloists will be: Marion Baldwin, '29; Dorothy Fowler, '31, Hazel Ladd, '30; Eleanor Koenig, '31; Matilla Putnam, '31, R H Albee, M '32, H E Goddard, '30 and H M Sheffield, '31. The Pastoral Symphony the Messiah will be played by Julia Waterman and C R Merrikangas, violinists; R S Jenks and R H Cowles, flutists, and G. Aiken, cellist. Miss Marston will assist Prof. Bennett as organist.

ARIEL CLASS PICTURES TO BE TAKEN SATURDAY

E Henry Powell, editor of the 1930 Ariel states that on Saturday, December 15, the class pictures will be taken for the Ariel, if the weather permits. The same arrangement prevails as last time, ten minutes being taken from each class. The Freshman picture will be taken at 9.10 a.m. on the Library steps, while the Sophomore picture will be at 10.10, the Junior at 11.10, and the Senior at 12.10. The Ariel Board wishes to express its appreciation of the help of the administration in making this extra time available. Every member of the student body is strongly urged to be in his respective class picture.

Friday, December 14, the Senior military picture will be taken. All members are asked to be present in uniform.

The copy for the Ariel is being made up and sent to the printer as fast as it comes in. The art contest, under the managership of Charles Mace has been finished. This year four prizes of two dollars each have been awarded the contestants instead of one of eight dollars. The copy of the Grind Department is due by Christmas at the latest. This department is under the editorship of H K Berkland, Phi Delta Theta, to whom contributions should be given.

However, a good deal of the material for the Year Book is still in the hands of members of the class who need to get it in right away to insure its being included. There are still a few Junior photographs, snapshots and questionnaires and some Senior questionnaires that have not been handed in yet although they are overdue. These should be left immediately in the Ariel box in the hall of the Old Mill.

The Juniors should pay particular attention to the fact that the copy on the persons whose names come in the first half of the alphabet is going to the printers immediately. The photographs should be glossy prints of course, and should bear the owner's name and nickname on the back.

All organizations who wish to have their pictures included in the Ariel should have them taken at once if this has not all ready been done.

Mr. W. H. Crockett of the University today addressed the Winooski Valley Teachers Association in Barre. His subject was "The Teaching of Vermont History."

BLUE STOCKINGS!!

Blue Stockings will meet Friday, December 14, at 4 p.m., in 3 North College to vote on new members.

MANNING HIGH POINT SCORER FOR VERMONT

Coach Cayward's Catamount basketeers opened up the season with an impressive victory saturday evening over Montreal A. A. A. to the tune of 47-31. The game was rather slow in the starting, Manning of Vermont caging the first basket. The only time that the Canadians gave any real basketball with Vermont was during the first few moments of the first half while the Cats were rather slow in getting started.

"Timmy" Halligan, contrary to reports started the game and played the greater part of the contest but was not up to old-time form. Halligan has had a wrist injury from which he has been suffering since the football game with Springfield. Early in the second half "Burt" Morse replaced Wallace while the latter went to the pivot position to replace Sargent. This combination is equally as good as the team that took the court at the opening whistle. Both Sargent and Wallace play the center position equally well.

The difference in the style of play was very noticeable between the two teams. The Canadians worked the ball down the floor rather slowly taking long shots from all angles of the floor. Melville, the center for the Canadians was easily their outstanding player having an uncanny eye for the basket. Godsell played a nice floor game for them also caging two well-aimed shots. Vermont on the other hand played a headier and faster game. Working through the visitors' defense time after time for step shots.

Phil Manning played a whale of a game for the Vermonters. He played his position to perfection holding his man to two field goals while he accounted for seventeen points for the Cats. "Phil" should be one of the star performers of this year's aggregation. Coach Cayward is to be complimented on having produced such a fine machine despite the short time which he had to prepare for the first game.

The score at the half was 19-11 showing the Montrealers had given their burst of speed at the very first of the game. "Bob" Sargent last year's yearling pivot now is to prove a fine center before leaving school being a sophomore with three seasons ahead of him. Seeley Estabrook, captain of the Catamounts, held his man scoreless and also counted twice to "Al" Mackay who substitutes for "Red" also played a good game showing that Vermont has some good reserve material for this year. "Skinny" Price, "Sap" Palmer and "Bob" Tobin all saw action last evening and put forth a creditable showing. "Sap" is still nursing a wrenched knee which it is hoped will soon mend. "Skinny" Price is an excellent forward and promises to be a good man before the termination of the season. "Bob" Tobin another member of last year's Frosh quintet who plays a good position put up a creditable showing in the short time he played.

With another week's practice for the McGill fracas to improve the passwork and make a few corrections, Vermont should be in trim to give Dartmouth a fine battle on the home floor a week from Wednesday.

The line up:

VERMONT

	Gls	Fls	Pts
Halligan, r f	4	0	8
Price, r f	0	0	0
Wallace, l f	3	1	7
Morse, l f	1	0	2
Sargent, c	4	1	9
Estabrook, r g	2	0	4
Mackay, r g	0	0	0
Tobin, r g	0	0	0
Manning, l g	8	1	17
Palmer, l g	0	0	0
	22	3	47

(Continued on page 4)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

EDRIGHTON A. SANDERS, '29
Managing Editor

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

Lawrence O. Clayton, '29 — Merrick M. Macomber, '29 — Arthur D. Stearns, '29

Columnists

Noah Fuller, '30 — George R. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors
Elizabeth B. Hager, '29
Mary A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '30

Feature Editor
George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Raymond Bethlehem, '30

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Cleis, '30

Asst. Sporting Editor
Warren H. Burr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor
Constance Holden, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

[illegible], '30
[illegible] Campbell, '30
[illegible] Richardson, '30
[illegible] Watermon, '30
George H. Brush, '30

Douglas L. Stewart, '30
Ameteo Guoia, '30
F. A. R. Germain, '31
Donald R. Coburn, '31
Philip G. Andrews, '30

Louis Fleman, '31
Richard Cowles, '31
L. M. Foster, '31
C. N. Crockett, '31

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

[illegible] C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
[illegible] B. Blanchard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jenks, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
[illegible] M. Moore, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Pudloe, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2665 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House; all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 603 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

[illegible] of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — December 11, 1928 — No. 23

Vermont Lacks Publicity

[illegible] sixteen hundred University of Vermont students at one time or another glance over Metropolitan papers and see items of interest from Norwich and Middlebury but seldom see news from their Alma Mater. Vermont is a larger institution than either of the other institutions and it is reasonable to believe as important incidents occur here.

[illegible] publicity department that has been doing good work as far as it has gone but it is hampered by one thing—the fact there are [illegible] newspapers here and on these papers are men acting as correspondents to the larger city dailies. The other two state institutions [illegible] items directly to the city papers and have them accepted. Items sent from our publicity department are returned with a brief note saying they may accept only material coming from their regular correspondents.

One of the local newspapers recently sent out questionnaires to all college students asking which departments they read. They expect support from students through subscriptions, and at the same time are standing in the way of publicity for the university, often emphasizing [illegible] items from the other two institutions at the expense of Vermont news in their own paper.

Why must these reporters act as dogs in mangers? If they haven't enough time or ambition to partly cover the university news, the least they can do is to ask the publisher to accept university news direct from our publicity staff.

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the Cynic:

Practically all of our university traditions, like American traditions of every other sort, came to us from Europe and more especially from England.

During the Middle Ages there were a few famous universities attended by many thousands of students from widely separated communities in all countries. These students, often poverty stricken, hired their own teachers and attended lectures when and as long as they chose. They went from one university to another and were frequently banded together in studies or in raids upon the townspeople with whom they were almost constantly at odds.

Dueling codes and initiation ceremonies of various types appeared early in the history of universities and university students. Newcomers at a school were often forced to render some type of menial service to those who were older residents. Often the obligations of the incoming men were discharged by providing liquor or food for their scholastic seniors.

It is from this beginning that our traditions of the duties of freshmen spring. At one time American requirements were bound up with giving respect to older students. Now, however, the student has almost passed away from the American school. College has become instead an important prerequisite to acceptibility in many circles both business and social.

The tradition of the freshman duties, now reduced to the mere wearing of distinctive caps, is an important factor in colleges which still maintain any vestiges of the spirit of former years. Such caps do aid in making college men distinctive and easily recognized. They do aid in promoting social contacts, and these after all, are the most important things which many men get out of their college life.

NOBLEX.

To the Editor of the Cynic:

While walking from the Old Mill to the Science Hall one day last week I was surprised at the number of Freshmen I met without their Frosh hats. Incidently none of them spoke; that cheery "Hello" that has been the custom in past years seemed unknown to them. Freshmen cut across the campus, smoke in the college buildings, walk on the north side of College Street and in general, break every Frosh rule and tradition that was ever known at the University. The situation is deplorable.

Unlike other Freshman classes, the class of '32 has been spared the hardships which Freshmen of former years cheerfully endured, such as putting up bleachers and other work. They have been put on their honor and instead of taking pride in the fact that the University did have enough confidence in them to place them on their honor in upholding and maintaining the customs and traditions of the school they have fallen down on their task. They seem to have no respect for anything. Today on Vermont's campus it is hard to find a man who feels as important as a Freshman.

"I've been poisoned," cried Big Bad Bill, and fell into a stupor. Someone was always leaving the lid off the stupor.—U. of S. Calif. Wampus.

The Periscope

"Bossy" Goes on Stage

"Bossy" Gillis, erstwhile bad boy and now mayor of Newburyport, Mass., has just signed a contract to appear on the stage. Whatever his act may be, he will probably draw almost as large audiences as did "Peaches" Browning. People will flock to see and hear the gentleman who posed for pictures in his bath tub so he would be able to refute the statements of his enemies who claimed he never took a bath. The American public will be greatly interested in seeing the man who, while mayor of a town, violated some of the most important laws which it was his duty to support and who went to jail for this violation.

Gillis is a sorry specimen of mayor and, it is to be hoped, the only one of his kind in the country.

King George Gaining

King George, according to the latest statements, is gaining. It is stated that his recovery may be expected to be slow and tedious.

A few centuries ago the serious illness of a king was world news of the utmost importance. It is still news of the first magnitude but it is now primarily human interest news and secondarily news of the deepest political significance.

The day of the all-powerful king who imagined that he ruled by Divine will is passed. In England the government, although headed by the king instead of by an elected officer, is far more democratic than is our own. That government is in the control of stable and responsible political parties and is not at all dependent on the life or death of a sovereign. Such a condition marks a real advance in the government of a nation.

Stocks Decline

Stocks declined sharply during the latter half of last week. Paper profits of thousands of small speculators all over the country were wiped out by declines of from $5 to $72 per share in scores of issues. All previous Saturday trading records were broken in the greatest "bear" market of history. Billions of dollars of paper losses were chalked up as 3,744,900 shares changed hands. Almost all the gains of the "bull" market which followed election were erased.

Radio, International Harvester, Montgomery & Ward and Wright Aero were among the leaders of the list which suffered big reverses.

The small speculator should learn a lesson by this demonstration. He should learn to keep out of the market unless he is guided by expert advice. Prices of stocks may be inflated over a period but sooner or later the bubble has to burst. Then the lambs are shorn and the wise ones grow just a bit wiser and fatter. This process does not affect the fundamental strength of any industry which is producing goods that satisfy a genuine want of the people.

The Hoover Trip

Hoover is still on his good-will tour. The press is flooded with glowing accounts of the warm reception accorded him and the good feeling towards this country which he is creating. What will the attitude of the countries which he is visiting today be three or four years from now?

New Landing for Planes

An attempt will soon be made to land an airplane under the fuselage of a dirigible. Planes have already been successfully launched from a dirigible and if they can be also landed on heavier than air craft the new combination should prove to be of great commercial and military significance.

Can you imagine an enormous dirigible making coast to coast flights on a regular schedule and taking on and discharging passengers and baggage by means of small planes carried on the mother ship?

The ability of the dirigible to weather severe storms has been recently demonstrated. The latest development may mark a new era in man's conquest of the air.

Tilden Again

Action on Big Bill Tilden's application for reinstatement has been postponed until February by the United States Lawn Tennis Association. What the decision finally is makes but little difference to the general public. The issues behind the case are important.

What is an amateur? How is a poor man to devote himself to a sport and still make a living? This same question confronts many college athletes. A satisfactory answer to it has never been found.

HANK FULLER.

With the Theatre

At the Majestic

Monday and Tuesday, Nancy Carroll as a restless little college "grad" with "Dick" Arlen in his usual rôle of a college boy fascinates the audience with a stimulating laugh review of New York's theatre circle in "Manhattan Cocktail." Nancy has one eye on the stage and the young Greek drama assistant is mad about her, but she finds the pedestal on which he puts her more classic than comfortable, and decides to take a tumble. Shamelessly, she besieges a smart revue producer, who purposely misunderstands her ardor. From then on, she has to step high and fast to keep her job and elude her employer. "Dick" Arlen, as the typical egotistical college youth, Paul Lukas, as the jaded producer, and Lilyan Tashman, his flirtatious wife, are all penetratingly delineated by Dorothy Arzner's ultra-sophisticated direction.

Wednesday and Thursday, an up to the minute movie "The Air Circus," Youth! Action! Pathos! Those who insist on having more, there's Arthur Lake who's the most ingratiating and amusing of the young boys in the films. The Lake, you'll notice in this show is just overflowing with pep and cuteness. Two boys want to be Lindberghs but one loses his nerve. David Rollins does excellently as the boy who is afraid. Lake starts off in a plane with a girl on board. Their landing gear falls off. The boy who is afraid warns them and they parachute to safety. There are talking sequences to the "Air Circus" which Burlingtonians won't hear. It's pretty near time for "talkies" in town.

At the Strong

Monday and Tuesday, a Rayart picture, "The Man from Headquarters," proves to be an intensely thrilling and entertaining secret service yard. The plot is well organized and for one who cares for mystery with a touch of humor this movie is quite above the average. Accompanied by the usual comedy and news reel.

Thursday, "The Devil's Disciple," the college play ably produced under the direction of Professor Metcalf and acted by the combined dramatic societies. Reviewed elsewhere in the issue.

(After this Reviews for Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday will be found in Tuesday's issue and those of Saturday, Monday and Tuesday in Friday's issue.)

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. VILLIUS VALTEO

WHY?

"You can lead a horse to water, but you cannot make him drink,"
Is truth in essence certainly,
Tho' I have led horses to water,
And they always drank. But friend, now, do you lead a man, you think,
To college? No one led me here,
I found the way myself, and came.
"You can lead a man to college, but you cannot make him drink,"
Is senseless, funny, of course.
You can lead few men to college,
And somethings can make them drink.
But there is no point, no link
With our thought in that mistake.
('Twas a man in a metaphor made
That slip.) but why do you come,
Or why should you come, to college?
Do you come to get a life, (for which you think you've paid
Your father's, maybe, hard-earned
Cash) a life of jazz
And joy? Collegiate? Football, coonskin coat, and all?
Or do you come to get
A degree—be a college man?
Or do you come perhaps to learn some things—to call
Your own some knowledge useful,
To learn to know it, and enjoy?

* * * * *

Alas my friends—
You don't come for that last reason.—
No.
You come, perhaps for the first, or some other reason;
but you do not come to learn something.

I was talking with a boy,
and he said to me, "There's a way," he said, mentioning some plan he had liked,
"There's a way I can get more out of that course."
And I answered, "Do you, or does anyone, want to learn that course?
No.
That is an antiquated idea, and I,
I am apparently,
the sole upholder of it."
And he said, "Yes."

THE BOARDING HOUSE REA[illegible]

By Ex-Conve[illegible]

POLITICAL SCIENCE NUMB[illegible]
(II)

Congress at Wo[illegible]

I object very s[illegible] of this chapter [illegible] Congress does wo[illegible] tremely fallacious. [illegible] to mean that Congr[illegible] of the point of work [illegible] entering into it, I [illegible] author's meaning. I [illegible] cannot say for certain [illegible] correct economic in[illegible] is. Herein, I hold [illegible] Court is to blame [illegible] proached the honora[illegible] this dispute they h[illegible] to principles, practic[illegible] they could not render [illegible] hypothetical case. In [illegible] my interest in the ma[illegible] facto defunct.

We must first take [illegible] of how measures are [illegible] a measure approache[illegible] Senate the Sergeant [illegible] is not Sergeant Connor[illegible] all angles to see whet[illegible] up to a definite standa[illegible] he politely conduct[illegible] Gass Works and intr[illegible] filibusters within.

"Mr. Measure, this [illegible] Fogg from St. Albans [illegible]

Or—"Mr. Measure, [illegible] Secede, the eminent Re[illegible] Georgia."

If the measure is dr[illegible] to the newly-established [illegible] mittee on Ways and Me[illegible] wet. Al Smith's Committee [illegible] matter up and finds [illegible] ways and means. It has be[illegible] out that little is release[illegible] latter committee without [illegible] thoroughly analyzed. As Mr. [illegible] ward Kendall, Secretary [illegible] somaniac Division of the [illegible] the unorganized, points out in [illegible] issue of The Red Nose, the W[illegible] Committee, having fully [illegible] brains of the Democratic Part[illegible] stantly attempting to perform [illegible] miracle of turning water into w[illegible] has been done. But only once.

Either of the two aforementioned committees may follow any of [illegible] possible courses of action. [illegible] may report the bill unchanged, [illegible] illustrating its propensity for [illegible] ing up on lost sleep. (But [illegible] strike out certain passages. [illegible] cases the Speaker of the House [illegible] Chairman of the Senate acts [illegible] pire, and there is frequently [illegible] crabbing over his decisions. [illegible] may pigeonhole the measure. [illegible] erly, this practice was very pop[illegible] Now, however, due to the fact that [illegible] of the pigeonholes are filled, [illegible] mittees are using manholes and [illegible] holes for this purpose. Recently [illegible] order for 20,000 loopholes was [illegible] with the New York Bar Asso[illegible]

If a bill is fortunate enough [illegible] cape from the Committee's clutches [illegible] is brought back to the House or Se[illegible] and placed on one of the calendars. This is a poor practice because [illegible] can readily see that the view is [illegible] so obstructed that members [illegible] what the date is. Consequently [illegible] labor under the delusion that [illegible] day is Sunday or a legal holiday [illegible] fail to appear in the legislative [illegible] bers.

Once in a while, a bill [illegible] the calendar and voted upon [illegible] each Congressman submits his [illegible] neigh (the silly asses') three readings [illegible] are sometimes necessary. [illegible] these three readings any bill [illegible] suffers from insomnia [illegible] change to Kaffee Hag (97% [illegible] removed) immediately.

Sometimes a bill passes [illegible] or Senate. But then again [illegible] a prof passes his entire [illegible] anyway, let's say a bill [illegible] House. Then the Senate [illegible] holds it or holds it up. [illegible] the latter action, it is said [illegible] pender" power. And of [illegible] pender" authority always [illegible] "vested" power. If a bill [illegible] the House does not meet [illegible] proval of the Senate, or [illegible] the Latin faze goes—com[illegible] mittees are appointed [illegible] chamber to meet and [illegible] proper course of action. [illegible] ence committees meet on [illegible] day afternoon at Cousin's [illegible] House and have a most of [illegible] knitting their brows and [illegible] opponents. And, oh yes, [illegible] ally do something with a [illegible] public never gets any benefit [illegible] so what's the diff? Of course [illegible] does a few other things [illegible] hear about them until the [illegible] one of its bi-weekly issues.

* * *

WHY WE DO NOT H[illegible]
BEST MEN CONGR[illegible]

Lord Bryce—"I firmly [illegible] the reason the people of [illegible] States do not elect the [illegible] congressmen is because [illegible] vote for them."

Society Notes

KAPPA DELTA

[illegible] chapter of Kappa Delta [illegible] pledging of Marion [illegible]ney '30 of Burlington

PHI CHI

[illegible] couples enjoyed the in[illegible] held Saturday evening [illegible] Phi Chi at their rooms at [illegible]treet. Madeline Beaupre's [illegible]rnished the syncopated [illegible] Major and Mrs. O. H [illegible] as chaperones

KAPPA PHI KAPPA HOLD THIRD MEETING OF YEAR

[illegible]mma of Kappa Phi Kappa [illegible]ary education fraternity, [illegible]rd meeting of the year last [illegible]evening, December 6, in the [illegible]ffice of the Old Mill

[illegible]men of the classes of '29 [illegible]ng Education were entertained. D. Meredith, assistant professor of economics, and Professor [illegible]class gave especially interesting talks on the purposes and aims [illegible]ociety. They also discussed [illegible] educators who belong to the [illegible]anization

[illegible]ments of ice cream and cake [illegible]ed and the meeting broke up [illegible]pen

TEN FRESHMAN CO-EDS SUCCEED IN TRYOUTS

[illegible]wing the long period of fall [illegible]ten girls from the Freshman [illegible] been elected to the Press [illegible]. They are: Margaret Martin, [illegible]fields, Carolyn Beggs, Helen [illegible]am, Cora Humphrey, Hope [illegible]s, Margaret Schlegel, Frances [illegible]on, Beatrice Parker and Helen [illegible]

[illegible]al meeting will be held next [illegible]day at Grassmount to welcome [illegible]ess members.

Tie a string 'round your finger

Here's a reminder ...check it over and see what you have forgotten.

- Suits
- Topcoat
- Overcoat
- Tuxedo
- *Shirts
- *Undershirts
- *Shorts
- *Gym Shoes
- *Sox
- Knickers
- *Golf Hose
- *Golf Sticks
- *Sweaters
- *Cap
- *Hat
- *Street Shoes
- *Sport Shoes
- Laundry Bag
- Uke
- Red Book
- *Check Book

*Can be supplied here in profusion.

Ditto and Boxburn to boot.

Hayes & Carney

[illegible] BANK ST. NEAR MAJESTIC

OPEN EVENINGS

"Where Vermont Men Meet"

NEWS IN BRIEF

Women's basketball practice is under way again and with the wealth of material on hand there should be some keen competition both in selecting the teams and in the interclass contests. Practice sessions for Seniors and Juniors are from 4 to 4.25, for Sophomores from 4.25 to 4.50, for Freshmen with over two years' experience from 4.50 to 5.15, while those with less than two years' experience practice from 4.50 to 5.15. The present Sophomores are the interclass champions, defeating all the classes and then meeting defeat at the hands of an All Star team after the indoor meet last May.

It is necessary that all pledges for Y. W. C. A. membership be paid to the treasurer, Margaret Perry, before the Christmas holidays.

In order to dispel any current rumors that might be afloat as to whether Captain Rattan, professor of military science and tactics as well as football coach, will be with Vermont next year, it may be said now that he has asked for an extension of his four year term which expires this year. Nothing really more definite can at this time be stated except to say that Capt. Rattan has said that he has every expectation of being here again next year.

This year, instead of the Freshmen having the task of setting up the bleachers for the basketball games, the administration will take full charge of the matter. Mr. Tully, the head janitor, will manage it, with the assistance of the janitors of the various buildings, the Old Mill, the Science Hall, the gymnasium and the other university buildings, as well as of the students who work in these buildings. They are all to be paid for what they do. If this arrangement proves satisfactory, it will be continued. If however it is discovered that the bleachers can not be put up in time, some other plan will have to be made.

Because of the postponement of the Dramatic Club plays until January, the Y. W. C. A. dance which is to follow these plays, will not be held before vacation as has been done in previous years. Georgina Hubert, '31, is chairman of the dance.

CORRECTION

H Gusson was the author of a review of The Vermont Literary Magazine published in a recent edition of the Cynic. Through an error the name of E Germaine was signed to this review.

Judge: "So you broke in the store just to get a ten cent cigar. Then what were you doing at the safe?"

Prisoner: "Your Honor, I was putting in the dime."—Ibid

RAND'S HOME LUNCH

84 COLCHESTER AVE.

Where you get the most of the best for the least

HOME COOKING

OUR SPECIALTY

Phone 2045

Work faithfully for eight hours a day and don't worry—then in time you may become the boss and work twelve hours a day and have all the worry

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES

For Sale by

HAYES & CARNEY

J. J. MELLON, Generating Engineer, Rensselaer '24

J. M. CUNNINGHAM, Power Engineer, Colorado School of Mines, '22

J. F. KOVALSKY, Contract Administration W. T. N. S., '24

W. C. [illegible], Electrical Engineer, Pennsylvania '25

A. L. [illegible], Iowa State College '24

CLARENCE E. LYNN, Designing Engineer, University of Kansas, '19

YOUNGER COLLEGE MEN ON RECENT WESTINGHOUSE JOBS

The Largest Hot Strip Mill in the World

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

* * *

SQUEEZED between giant rolls, heated steel bars flatten to form steel sheets for the bodies of the automobiles that our modern hurrying America demands.

So rapidly has this demand grown within the past few years that the American Rolling Mill Company, of Middletown, Ohio, recently found it necessary to install a "hot strip" mill larger than any before.

Such record-breaking capacity brought with it a train of new problems. Electric control had to be devised to keep the big 3,000 and 4,000 hp. D. C. motors "in step" and prevent irregularities in thickness or quality of the finished sheets. Huge generators and transformers had to be designed to handle the power requirements of this new mill — the largest of its kind in all the world.

* * *

To Westinghouse came the assignment of designing, manufacturing, and installing this equipment. Opportunities of this caliber are not rare in an organization with the resources which Westinghouse commands. Westinghouse attracts young men of enterprise and genius because it daily provides a class of opportunities which smaller companies can seldom offer.

Westinghouse

B. H. S. GYM SCENE OF ANNUAL FOOTBALL HOP

Eleven Piece Catamount Collegian Orchestra to Play for Affair Next Saturday

[illegible] the Football Hop dance will be held [illegible] in the Burlington High School gym.

[illegible] chairman of the Football Hop reports that much progress has been made by the various committees towards putting [illegible] successful social function. Coaches [illegible] and Mrs. B. S. Hoyle and [illegible] and Mrs. Harold Lawrence [illegible] and Mrs. Ernest Lawrence [illegible] will assist the committee.

The following were appointed to the various Football Hop committees [illegible]

Music Committee: J. A. Smith, chairman, Lenny Moss, L. E. Curtis, Rutland, Vt.; R. [illegible], Woodstock Vt.; R. W. Worrel, Providence, R. I.

Decorating Committee: Carolyn [illegible], chairman, Essex Junction, Vt.; [illegible], Chairman, Jewett City, Conn.; Isabelle Warhurst, Peeksill, N. Y.; L. E. Tobin, Burlington, Vt.; K. M. Stevens, West Glover, Vt.; G. E. Bond, Union Village, Vt.

Refreshment Committee: G. R. [illegible], chairman, Arlington, Vt.; A. T. [illegible], Pepperton, Vt.; Dorothy [illegible], Concord, N. H.; Irma Cochran, [illegible], Vt.

Intercollegiate News

By Orsino A. Martinetti, '30

Oxford and Cambridge Universities are said to be planning a new form of intercollegiate competition. The two universities are making plans to have annual flying contests take place between them. Both schools have air squadrons.

Promiscuous kissing at an initiation at New York State Normal School caused the quarantine of 60 students. After the meeting one of the members was found to have scarlet fever, and thereafter as she had kissed everyone present, the whole company was quarantined.

Don Cooper, star halfback on the University of Kansas football team, studies by day and is a policeman at night, according to Associated Press dispatches. He is in charge of the Lawrence police headquarters every night and earns more than enough to pay his school expenses.

As Lawrence is a peaceful city, Cooper has a few hours every night for study and sleep, the dispatches state.

Captains of four college football elevens were guests at a "football dinner" given in their honor by the Commerce Club of Boston University's College of Business Administration. The dance was held in Collins Hall, Teacher's College Monday evening. Capt. Arthur Dorfman of Boston University, Capt. Arthur French of Harvard, Capt. Fred Ellis of Tufts, and Warren McGuirk of Boston College were the guests.

Northwestern University student leaders have formally apologized to the University of Chicago for a recent editorial in their campus publication, which suggested that Chicago withdraw from the Big Ten because of its poor athletic record this past season.

"We wish to assure students of the University of Chicago that the editorial in the recent issue of the Daily Northwestern entitled 'King is Dead,' does not express the student opinion of our campus. Ten student leaders wrote to the Daily Maroon, University of Chicago publication.

"To the contrary we sincerely wish that success in the future which has so frequently been yours in the past, and at the same time congratulate you on your courageous spirit in the face of an unprecedented series of 'tough breaks.'"

The editorial caused a stir on the two rival campuses, but the letter is regarded as a satisfactory ending by students of both universities.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Four University of Utah students are now on their way West through the Panama Canal aboard the "Floating University." The students are Miss Virginia Rishel, Mrs. Mildred Michelsen, Miss Mildred Michelsen and Edison Ivorland.

The University ship takes an eight months' cruise of the world, during which time full courses in study are given, recreational features are introduced.

ROSY OUTLOOK FOR FRESHMAN QUINTET

[illegible] Freshman team has a good [illegible] of material out for the frosh [illegible] team and several of the [illegible] are showing up well. The outlook isn't as favorable as it was a [illegible] but with good training the team should turn in a good record at [illegible] of the season.

[illegible] of the players are already known in this locality. Fayette, one of Cathedral high's star forwards last [illegible] seems to have one of the forward berths cinched. Chet Taft of Essex Junction will make a strong bid for the other forward position. Proctor of Barre Academy standout who appeared in the high school tournament is a possible aspirant for a first team berth. Worrell, one of the [illegible] stars of the past season, is [illegible] out for the team and Morse, one of the Kittens' ends is another [illegible] of the squad.

Bunny Prentice is quite well impressed with the showing made by [illegible] and Manager Hal Axtell is [illegible] out the schedule for the coming season.

Catamount Five Wins First Game from Canadian Quintet

(Continued from page 1)

Montreal A. A. A.	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Baldwin, r.f.	1	0	2
Murphy, r.f.	2	0	4
Carson, r.f.	0	0	0
Laidlow, c., l.f.	0	0	0
Melville, c.	7	3	17
Dale, c.	1	0	2
Godsell, r.g.	2	0	4
Porter, r.g.	0	0	0
Small, r.g.	0	0	0
Whittall, l.g.	0	0	0
Eamon, l.g.	1	0	2
	14	3	31

Referee: Forbes. Scorer: Kyle. Timer: Mayres.

Tradition Abolished

Another old tradition at Williams College has disappeared with the decision of the student council to abolish the annual Freshman parade. In making the decision known, the council states that the parade is "detrimental to Williams, lacking in humor, an unnecessary expense to the Freshmen, and outgrown by the college through the lack of spontaneity." The parade has been held annually in connection with one of the football games in the fall. The members of the entering class dressed in fancy and often grotesque costumes with numerous placards registering "hits." About the only tradition which now remains at Williams is the Freshman-Sophomore rope pull, as the "cane-rush" and the "shirt-tail" parade were abolished several years ago.

Dr. Bonner, psychiatrist from New York, who has visited the University twice before this year will come again on Friday, December 14. Appointment may be made with him for any time during that day.

He will give his second talk to the Freshman class at 4 o'clock in Lecture Hall A of the Medical Building. The last one was given on November 16 when he talked of various mental troubles. This time his subject will be "Problems on Personal Adjustment." The attendance of Freshmen women is required.

"Why don't you work? Hard work never killed any one!"

"You are wrong, lady. I lost both of my wives in that way."

Tailoring of all kinds.
Dry Cleaning and Pressing.
O'HARA'S
170 BANK ST. PHONE 187-W

For pure sugar home-made ribbon candy call at the BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP
and
CANDYLAND
HOME-MADE SPECIAL CANES BY ORDER, FROM 5c TO $2.50

NEW RINK READY FOR HOCKEY PRACTICE SOON

Hockey has prospects of becoming more and more of a popular sport here at Vermont. The new rink at the end of the baseball cage is expected to be ready for use soon and then the students will be given more of an opportunity to see the hockey team in action. A schedule is being arranged by Manager Hall and there will be more contests this year than there were last year. Games are now pending with Clarkson Tech and St. Lawrence.

There are several letter men back from last year's team that will be available to form the nucleus of a squad this season. These veterans include Captain Harry Schurman, Wood, Perry, Segal, Bassow and Howard. Segal is at present on the crippled list resulting from the rather strenuous football season but he is expected to be around in shape when hockey practice begins. A call for candidates for the team will be issued soon and then indoor practice will be held in the gym. It is not yet known who will act as coach.

Last year four games were played—two with Norwich and two with Middlebury. Both contests with Norwich ended in ties but the Vermont team lost twice to Middlebury. The last game with Middlebury was a hard one to lose. In the last minute of play the Panthers tied the game 1-1 and in the overtime period the Blue and White got an extra point to win 2-1. The outlook for the Catamounts appears to be very favorable this year and they expect to have a better season than ever. With strong student support there is no reason why hockey cannot become a major sport. As for action, speed, skill and thrills, this sport has few rivals. It once interest is aroused, hockey will not lack from attention.

ART EDITORS ANNOUNCE ART CONTEST WINNERS

Final announcements have been made in the art contest by Charles Mace and Harriett Woodruff, art editors of the Ariel. The drawings were of such high caliber that first, second, and third prizes were impossible to be given. However, upon consultation, the editors decided to give four first prizes of $2 each which went to Donald Oatley, '31, William Marsh, '32, Catherine Mudgett, '29, and Maizie Higgins, '32. This is the first time in many years that such drawings have been handed in and these will be used in the Ariel unless something a great deal better is handed in.

Many drawings for the Ariel are still open and contributions will be gladly accepted by the art editors and credit will be given for these in the year book.

Alarmed at the number of students who are "forging" their way through college, University of California authorities recently took measures to stop this practice. The Comptroller of the university announced that fictitious checks presented in payment of tuition last year caused the university to lose $4,000.

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTIONS
From the
UNIVERSITY STORES

FOR MOTHER PICTURES
FOUNTAIN PEN
DESK BLOTTER
CORRESPONDENCE HOLDER
LEATHER PURSE
HOT DISH PAD BRIDGE SET PILLOW

FOR DAD
"MI-REFERENCE"
MEMO BOOK
BOOK ENDS PAPER KNIFE
BLOTTER HOLDER
PERPETUAL CALENDAR
CIGARETTE CHEST
PIPE TRAY

Honor in China

Evidently Yale isn't the only college where the honor system has failed. We read that, recently, in the University at Nanking, China, an outburst against the honor system arose during the course of a certain examination. In defiance of it many students came to the examination with notes well hidden in their hats, shoes, and socks. Some went so far as to bring text books, concealed in their sleeves.

When the situation was grasped by students who had upheld the honor system general chaos ensued. Papers were snatched away; cries of "cheat" filled the air and a free-for-all battle waged in the class room. It had to be quelled by the police.

The Times reports that the next day the honor system was maintained because the students were carefully searched as they entered the room and were supervised throughout the examination.

London Man Gives Cool Tip Smokers Here

London, England
30th December, 1927

Larus & Bro. Co.,
Richmond, Va.,
U. S. A.
Gentlemen:

As my Christmas present I purchased for myself a pound of your tobacco (Edgeworth) in ½ lb. flat tins. This morning on the tram I met a man with whom I am only slightly acquainted, and filling my pipe produced your tin, at which he exclaimed: "I am not a pipe smoker, but occasionally I have a try in that direction and I consider that the tobacco in your hand is the finest made."

I am in entire agreement with his statement.

Yours faithfully,
J. J. Mason

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

University Players in Comedy Melodrama Thursday Night

(Continued from page 1)

L. A. Collins, '29, is [illegible] vertising. F. F. [illegible] Catherine Bassett [illegible] a number of scenic [illegible] properties. Miss Mar[illegible] of the Department [illegible] handling the costum[illegible] is Estabel Perelman [illegible] aid is being rendered [illegible] tion by Mrs. M. C. Tw[illegible] S. E. Bassett. The [illegible] signs advertising the p[illegible] Lois Burbank of the Art Department.

The College Man's First Choice

You will find here more than the average number of shoe styles just suited to the college man's taste. John Wards are preëminent as the shoes that college men prefer.

John Ward
MEN'S SHOES

See them on display at
HAYES & CARNEY
197 Bank Street
Burlington, Vermont

CLOTHES
Ready-made
And Cut to Order
ESTABLISHED ENGLISH UNIVERSITY STYLES, TAILORED OVER YOUTHFUL CHARTS SOLELY FOR DISTINGUISHED SERVICE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Charter House
Suits $40, $45, $50 Overcoats

BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT
OUR STORE IS THE
Charter House
OF BURLINGTON
The character of the suits and overcoats tailored by Charter House will earn your most sincere liking.
MILES & PERRY CO.
"Quality Clothiers"
Established 1848

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VT., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1928 — NUMBER 24

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR KAKE WALK

Directors Release List of Students to Aid in Presenting Annual Affair

PUFFER AND HAWLEY ASSISTANT DIRECTORS

J. C. Puffer, '30, of St. Johnsbury and R. G. Hawley, '30, of New York city were appointed assistant Kake Walk directors by the present directors Watson Rogers and Frank Keefe. Puffer is a member of Kappa Sigma Gold Key and Key and Serpent. He is assistant manager of tennis and the VERMONT CYNIC and was recently elected manager of Freshman football.

Hawley is a member of Phi Delta Theta, Gold Key and president of Key and Serpent. He was elected gate manager of football and is on the varsity basketball squad.

The committees as released by the directors are:

Ushering: L. C. Morgan, '29, chairman, D. M. Johnson '29, A. W. Clain '29, C. W. Capron, '30, A. G. Sirois '30, F. S. Smith '31, and F. A. McBride '31.

Seating: C. C. Macomber '29, chairman, E. G. Fiske '29, L. R. Robinson '29, C. H. Mace '30, L. W. Meehan '30, H. W. Adams '31, G. E. Brush '31, and R. J. Maynes '31.

Lighting: F. L. Sulloway '29, chairman, G. Aiken '29, F. E. Beckley '30, R. A. Dailey '30, and R. F. Bigwood '31.

Advertising: A. R. Birchard '29, chairman, C. C. Lyman '29, H. M. Macomber '30, R. M. Tracy '30, L. O. Clayton '30, and C. N. Crockett '31.

Stunts: E. W. Knapp '29, chairman, R. W. Gustafson '29, J. R. Carrigan '30, A. O. Aronson '30, and S. F. McQuesten '31.

Peerade: K. L. Price '29, chairman, J. E. Donnelly '29, P. E. Manning '30, and W. E. Craig '31.

Kake Walking: F. R. Otto '29, chairman, H. K. Borkland '30, R. W. Lawrence '30, and F. A. Bolles '31.

Announcer: J. P. Hyland, '29.

MEDICS APPOINTED TO WALTER REED HOSPITAL

Two members of the Senior class in Medicine at Vermont have received one of the highest honors that could have been given them. Jasper N. Knox and Harold Hanson Twitchell have both been selected by the Surgeon General of the United States Army for interneships for one year at the famous Walter Reed Hospital, located at Washington, D. C. During this period of interneship they will be on active duty as First Lieutenants in the Medical Reserve Corps and, therefore, entitled to draw pay. Only a very few men in the country hold the position each year that Mr. Knox and Mr Twitchell will. The ordinary first year interne is not on duty in the Reserve Corps and, therefore, would have only food and clothing issued him. Upon satisfactory completion of their first year of interneship, Mr. Knox and Mr. Twitchell will be commissioned as First Lieutenants in the Medical Corps of the United States Army.

Both men have been active in Military work while in college. They are now at the present time, taking the Advanced Medical Course, R. O. T. C., University of Vermont. While in the Academic College, Mr. Twitchell also took the Advanced Course in Infantry and upon its successful completion, was made a Second Lieutenant of Infantry in the Officers' Reserve Corps.

SMALLEY FUND

All pledges to the Smalley Campaign should be paid to the "Y" office before the Christmas vacation.

PENITENT FROSH VOTE TO MEND THEIR WAYS

In response to the pleas of President Bailey and the Boulder and Gold Key societies, the Frosh men met at the Old Mill on Tuesday, December 11, at four o'clock to formulate a plan of enforcing the traditional rules set for the Freshman class. Only forty students attended.

Edward Newcomb, the president, advised the small body present that the Freshman rules consisting mainly of wearing the prescribed cap, black socks, and carrying a goodly supply of matches, though very lenient as compared with the rules set for the previous cub classes, were not carried out. He further stated that President Bailey urged them to use their initiative in taking action themselves. Discussion followed. Finally Newcomb suggested a motion to the effect that each one present be appointed as a committee of one to see that the traditions and regulations were enforced. This was placed in the form of a motion and passed.

FINDS ART OF TODAY LACKING IN REALISM

Homer St. Gaudens Describes Trend of Modern Art, Which He Declares Caters too Much to Public Taste

Homer St. Gaudens of Pittsburgh, Pa., director of the department of arts at Carnegie Institute gave a lecture on Tuesday evening on "The Vagaries of Modern Contemporary Art," at the University gymnasium.

He stated that the principal fault with modern art is that artists of today fail to bring out in their painting the true expressions of the people of our age. Rather, the artist is catering to the popular demand and is consequently injuring his profession.

By the use of stereopticon views of paintings by both modern and classicists the speaker was better able to point out some of the trends of modern art. He stated that there are all sorts of paintings by all sorts of people. One of the difficulties in arriving at any specific conclusions in regard to modern art that there are a great many different critics, few of whom can agree. The views shown on the screen were reproductions from paintings on display at the 26th International Exhibition of which Mr. St. Gaudens was director.

"Remember," the speaker said, "that it is not important whether the painting is old or new, but it is important whether it is good or bad."

Mr. St. Gaudens said that on one occasion he was granted an interview with Mussolini, the Italian leader. This great man said that art is one thing for one person and something else for another. It does not make any difference what it is if it is genuine.

With all of its faults, as brought out by the trends of the present age, the world is progressing, the speaker declared. Modern artists are attempting to keep up with the age and if they fail to produce real and lasting works it is because they have failed to interpret the era in its true light.

"The public likes to be fooled," declared Mr. St. Gaudens, who then went on to say how unscrupulous art dealers "fix up" paintings in such a way as to catch the eye or imagination with the view that sales will be effected.

Some artists are historians, some are contemporary essayists and some are adventurists. The best artist is the one who by his works, can express all three of these qualities, the speaker said.

Prominent military and legislative officials from all over the country will be invited to the first annual military ball sponsored by the department of military science at Harvard, which will probably take place in February.

This social function, which is the first in the history of the military science department, will be open to 400 invited guests. The plan has received the heartiest approbation from Major L. A. Craig, head of the department.

MARION EVERETT

Chairman of the Program Committee of Student Union, who is arranging Monday evening's entertainment

THESPIANS PLEASE WITH SHAW'S PLAY

Present "The Devil's Disciple" at Strong Theater Before an Enthusiastic Audience

STUDENT-ACTORS SHOW REAL DRAMATIC TALENT

"The Devil's Disciple," George Bernard Shaw's tense and temperamental drama, chosen for presentation by the combined dramatic societies, Wig and Buskin, and Masque and Sandal of the University of Vermont, was appreciably received last night at the Strong Theatre by a considerable number of persons.

On the whole the play was good not perfect, but then one does not expect perfection in an amateur play. Throughout the play was a keen sense of humor, a sharp wit, and just a touch of cynicism—you might call it "unaccoustomed candour"—which marked the play as a really high comedy, reminiscent at many times of Shaw's "bitter smile behind a painted grin."

Richard (turning to orphan Essie) "What! Have they forgotten to save your soul in their anxiety about their own bodies? (He shakes his fist after them—his left fist, also clenched, hangs down. Essie seizes it, her tears falling on it. He starts and looks at it.) Tears! The Devil's baptism!"

The play abounded with gems of pathos and humor, and needs to be read once, seen on the stage, read again, and seen for a second time to be fully appreciated.

John Garfield as Richard Dudgeon and Gladys Kone as Judith Anderson were the moving spirits of the play. Garfield was well cast in the part of the unconventional "Devil's Disciple" and, though at times his acting, if unconventional, was commonplace, such bright spots in the acting as the final scene produced a very favorable impression indeed.

If the cynicism in the play fell largely to the parts of Richard and Burgoyne, it was the part of Judith Anderson to which fell the burden of bringing out the melodrama in the play, and it was truly fortunate that the directors of the production chose Miss Kone for the part. Her acting throughout was marvellous, the pathos and drama of her part actually changing the tone of the other actors time and again.

Especially good work was done by Dorothy Cottrell, like Garfield and Kone a veteran player, in the part of Mrs. Dudgeon. She almost dominated the opening will-reading scene, her strong, able acting almost eclipsing Garfield's work at that point. Similarly, H. M. Sheffield played General Burgoyne with all the wit and finesse that Shaw undoubtedly intended for the part.

The play was noteworthy for the excellence of the minor characters. Indeed, when a number of the actors with smaller parts were cast in the same scenes with Garfield and Kone

(Continued on page 3)

13 Seniors to Receive Blankets at Traditional Football Hop

Coach Rattan Will Receive Lettered Covering Along With Last Year Men—Capt. and Mrs. Rattan With Lt. and Mrs. Herrick to Chaperone Affair

ARIEL PICTURES

The Ariel class pictures will be taken Saturday morning, December 15. The administration has shown its interest by consenting to cut ten minutes from each period and it is up to each student to turn out for the picture. Remember that if large groups are taken, a valuable precedent will be established. The schedule appeared in the last Cynic and is posted on the Bulletin Boards.

MCGILL BOYS ON CARD FOR VARSITY SATURDAY

Far Sighted Canadians Promise to Give Yowling Catamounts Big Mouthful

Saturday night the Green and Gold quintet will meet the five from McGill for the second home game of the season. After the game showing the speed and stamina of the Catamounts last Saturday they should come out on the long end of the score.

The quintet looked pretty good in the first fracas of the season, and Coach Cayward has put them through an extensive practice during the last week in an effort to iron out the rough spots that were shown in the battle with the Montrealers. They seemed to be somewhat slow in taking up a smooth offensive after an attempt to keep the enemy from within shooting distance of the basket. They also showed the lack of some good scoring plays to work the ball into the enemy's territory.

The line-up for the Vermonters seems fairly well settled with the exception of a couple of positions.

Captain "Red" Estabrook will occupy his place at right guard and will have Phil Manning as his running mate. Halligan will occupy one of the forward berths and Wallace will probably appear in the line-up somewhere. He may occupy the center position, and if he starts the game at the pivot, the other forward will be either Price or Morse. However, he may appear in the forward position with Sargent at center.

Very little is known of the McGill five as they have not put in their appearance at Vermont for three years. However, they have a reputation for being a speedy team with some good basket hangers. In the past their specialty has been long shots, but they may have changed their system. At any rate they will probably give the Catamounts a good run for their money.

PRESS CLUB MEETS AT GRASSMOUNT DORM

Irene Witkus, '29, and Florence McKenzie, '30, were hostesses for the Press Club meeting which was held Wednesday afternoon, December 12, at Grassmount.

The social meeting was in the form of a welcome to the new members of the organization: Caroline Beggs, Helen Cunningham, Frances Ferguson, Olive Fields, Cora Humphrey, Helen LeBaron, Peggy Martin, Beatrice Parkhill, Hope Ranslow, Peggy Schlegal and Marion Stoney.

At the business meeting the president outlined the work of the society and explained the rules in regard to cuts, etc. Peggy Schlegal, Peggy Martin, and Hope Ranslow were elected to the High School Papers Committee.

Cora Humphrey was chosen to serve on the Photograph Committee and Caroline Beggs, Olive Fields Helen Cunningham, and Frances Ferguson were chosen to form the Committee on Newspapers.

It was voted to have the next business meeting Friday, January 4, at 1:30 in 3 North College.

TICKETS ON SALE AT FRATERNITY HOUSES

The annual Football Hop, a Vermont tradition for the past decade, will be held at the High School gymnasium tomorrow evening. Dancing will continue from 8:30 till 12. Music will be furnished by Johnson's Catamount Collegians, an 11 piece orchestra. The chaperones will be Captain and Mrs W. V. Rattan and Lieutenant and Mrs Herrick.

Blankets Given

Football blankets will be given to 13 men at intermission. For many years it has been the custom for the Key and Serpent Society to present Senior members of the football squad, the coach and manager with large blankets in the colors of the school. Each blanket has a large gold "V" on one corner and smaller gold "V's" on two other corners. The fourth corner is left blank.

The men who will receive blankets this year are L. F. Palmer, C. C. Lyman, J. Scutakes, C. C. Macomber, J. E. Donnelly, F. Robbins, D. E. Damon, H. J. Kropper, H. P. Nilsen, L. R. Robinson, F. F. O'Keefe, J. E. Estabrook, Manager Frank Otto and Coach Rattan.

Season Climax

"This dance will be a fitting social climax to the football season," said D. E. Coburn, chairman of the Hop. "It will give the football heroes a chance to associate with members of the inspiring sex at much closer quarters than afforded them during the season. Then they were in training, building strong-muscled bodies with which to attack opposing lines. The co-eds merely cheered them from the side lines. Now both will have an opportunity to enjoy each other's company and it is hoped that the co-eds will lend as firm support to the team under the altered circumstances as they did throughout the season."

Former Hops

Years ago the Football Hop was usually held in the University gymnasium by each fraternity and by the independents. Extensive decorating was done by the various organizations and the dance was made one of the most colorful events of the social calendar. Owing to a change in State legislation regarding fire hazards this custom was discontinued in 1925. Since that time the dances have been held both in the University gymnasium and other halls. Booths, however, have never been built in recent years.

Dance Committees

The list of the men and women appointed to the various Football Hop Committees are as follows:

Music Committee: F. E. Smith, chairman, J. E. Clark, R. J. Maynes, and R. W. Worrell.

Decorating Committee: Carolyn Whitney, chairman, Virginia Good enough, Isabelle Warhurst, R. E. Tobin, K. M. Stevens, R. E. Bond.

Refreshment Committee: G. R. Brush, chairman, A. T. Scutakes, Dorothy Nash, and Lena Cochran.

Ticket Committee: H. Mattison, chairman, H. W. Adams and E. W. Craig.

Tickets may be procured from men in the various fraternities or at the door. No tickets to the Football Hop will be sold to other than college students.

A Newman Club breakfast will be held Sunday, December 16, at 9:00 o'clock, in the Cathedral High School gym. After breakfast a group picture for the Ariel will be taken.

NOTICE!!

After this issue all notices will be found on the last page of the Cynic under a general head.

CHOIR SINGS GROUP OF CHRISTMAS MELODIES

Sunday afternoon at 4:30 the Christmas Concert which is given alternately by the choirs assisted by the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs will take place in the Ira Allen Chapel.

The program will be as follows:

Organ Prelude Christus Prindle Jones
In Dulci Jubilo Bach
Invocation Annie Pierce
Responsive Reading
Scripture and Prayer
Hymn Praise God, from Whom All
Come Luther
O Holy Night Dunkelee
In Dulci Jubilo Gruber
Scripture Reading
Hymn Hark! the Herald Angels
Piano Duet Ragtime Dance Hood
A Song of Love
Talk Not to Me
Send Me Thy Kisses
Soprano Solo Ave Maria Luvisi
Baritone Solo Recitative: There Were Shepherds Abiding Nearby, In God and All, Rejoice Greatly from the Messiah.
Reading from Milton's Ode on the Morning of Christ's Nativity
Hymn In Excelsis Deo
Miss Kremers Bennett
The Boar's Head Carol
Traditional Carol of Oxford Univ.
The First Noel Traditional
Chorus Joy to the World Handel
Prayer and Benediction
Organ Solo Silent Night Gruber
Recessional Hymn Hark the Herald Angels Sing Mendelssohn
Organ Prelude Hallelujah Chorus Handel

The members of the Women's Double Quartet are Hazel Ladd Jones Dupont Margaret Corbin Elizabeth Howe Hope Grant Dorothy Nash Katherine Skinner and Winona Spencer

LATIN TEACHER FINDS FAULT WITH METHODS

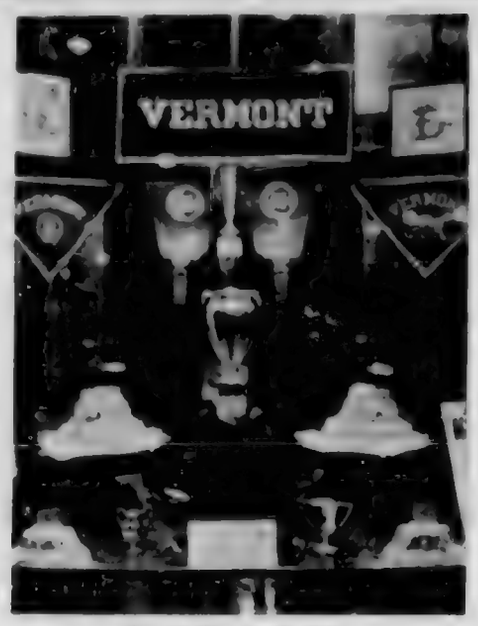
In a recent issue of The Classical Journal Professor Lester M. Prindle of the University of Vermont has written a critical treatise on "The Teaching of Derivatives." This treatise was read before the Classical Association of New England at Deerfield Mass. March 30 1929.

In depicting the trend of the modern method of teaching derivatives as exemplified in a recent first-year Latin book he says:

A colleague in the English department has a daughter thirteen years old who is now in her third year of Latin. She went through the lists of derivatives in that Latin book and marked fifty-four words which she did not know and could not get at the meaning of by etymology. Fourteen of the words given above were put on the board and a class of eight students were asked to give written definitions. No one got more than half of them right. And yet these students have had from two and one-half to three and one-half years of college Latin. Three of them were elected to Phi Beta Kappa at mid-years. It is clear then that many of the words given in that Latin book will not prove useful to students in the first year of the high school.

The study of derivatives may be more profitable than the study of formal grammar, though the present writer is not prepared to admit it. Both are valuable when well taught to reasonably intelligent pupils. Etymology is as difficult and complicated as syntax and a casual attitude toward it will produce casual results. We have heard much of the dry husks of grammar. Let us take heed lest the husks of etymology prove no less dry.

Women's Place Outside the Home



Business as a career for women college graduates continues to gain in popularity over the one-time alternative to marriage immediately after graduation, that of school teaching. For according to statistics citing the past senior class at Wellesley only one-third of the members are "school marms" while the remaining number now at work are engaged in business or the arts.

Employment of varied lines including law, nursing, advertising, the theatre, scientific research, were noted on the questionnaires sent out by the college. The average salary being received by Wellesley graduates does not exceed $1,500, the figures showed.

Only a small percent of a typical Wellesley class go to work immediately after finishing college, however for travel and further study abroad are given as the occupations of seventy percent of last year's graduates. Oxford, the Sorbonne, the University of Grenoble, and the University of Florence are popular foreign graduate schools for Wellesley students.

WINNING COUPLE
Of Kake Walkers seen by Phi Delta Theta last year

KAKE WALK PRIZES
In Roddy's window last season given for winning stunts, Pecrade and Kake Walking

FACULTY NEWS

Miss Sara Holbrook of the Education Department addressed the Woman's Club of Proctor Tuesday evening, December 11.

Professor B. H. Wallace of the Education Department addressed the Burlington League of Women Voters on Wednesday afternoon, December 12.

Professor Wallace was also the speaker at the meeting of the Champlain Parent-Teacher Association on Wednesday evening.

Professor H. B. Ellenberger of the Department of Agriculture has returned to Burlington after a two weeks trip to Toronto, Canada, Chicago, Ill., and other cities. At Toronto he attended the Royal Winter Fair. At Chicago he spoke at the annual meeting of the National Society of Animal Production, and also attended the International livestock exposition.

W. H. Crockett spoke on Americanism Tuesday afternoon before the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

Leon W. Dean spoke Friday night at the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association in Hyde Park.

The Faculty Club will meet as usual in the Kilfa Club rooms at 8.00 o'clock. Professor Bryant of Middlebury will speak.

Professor Evan Thomas, Professor Emeritus of Mathematics in the Engineering College is going to East Orange, N. J., to live for the winter.

Toward Pan-American Understanding

(By New Student Service)

A student of Latin American history remarked last summer that the day is not far off when young North America will have the opportunity to study a high school course in "United States History" conceived in terms of the total influences and results of the general migrations of the western nations in the wake of Columbus.

Certainly we are beginning to discover that there is a rich and significant history and an important literature below Texas, as well as bananas and oil and rubber. And while Mr. Hoover set out in his battleship to strengthen commercial relations the historians of several colleges are making possible a more enduring friendship through understanding. Last year the Duke University Press published the first of a series of monographs on Spanish American history and this year an even more important contribution is being undertaken by the University of North Carolina Press. An Inter-American Historical series is being planned, which will consist of fifteen volumes of histories of the Spanish American countries. The histories will be those generally used in Spanish-American countries. There will also be an atlas of Hispanic-American history.

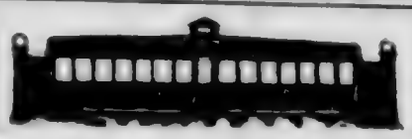
BEST COAL AND SERVICE

• • •

Elias Lyman Coal Company
200 College Street

VERMONT MAN FATHER OF LAND GRANT BILL

That the classical course was the sole kind of education offered to college students in the first half of the nineteenth century, and that Senator Justin S. Morrill of Vermont was the man behind the Land Grant Bill, signed by Abraham Lincoln in 1862 which provided for a broadening of the college curriculum, was explained by Dean J. L. Hills in a recent talk to the Freshman students of Home Economics.



Colleges at this period were essentially for those training for the ministry, although some attention was given to law and medicine, Dean Hills declared. Men like Senator Morrill realized that some type of higher education should be provided for people of different interests, for business men and farmers and those mechanically inclined.

The Land Grant Bill provided every state in the Union with tracts of unsettled western lands, stipulating that the proceeds from the land be used for the building of new colleges or additions to colleges already established, where courses in agriculture and mechanical arts would be offered. In 1865, the University of Vermont received its allotment of unsettled land in the West, and became legally incorporated under the name by which it is known today, the University of Vermont and State Agricultural College.

Dean Hills informed his audience that $8,150 is realized annually from the University's land in the West, and that this money is expended in promoting the teaching of agriculture, engineering and home economics in the state. Additional revenue was secured by the Second Morrill Act of 1890, which granted an annual appropriation from the national treasury of $25,000; and in 1907 by the Nelson Act of $25,000. Three provisions have been made for the establishment of experiment stations, until at present $90,000 is allowed annually for research work. In the first session of the seventieth Congress a bill which would provide for an engineering experiment station at Vermont was introduced.

Twenty-six Senior Foresters from the University of Maine have left civilization for eight weeks, to practice on Mother Nature what was learned in the classroom. The boys will stay at the Schoodick Lake Outlet Camp, six miles from Milo. The nearest postoffice is Lakeview, Me. They hope that the co-eds will remember that "absence makes the letter grow fonder."

The Middlebury Campus, undergraduate publication of Middlebury College, is sponsoring a contest for a new Alma Mater song. The songs submitted must be suitable for any formal or informal gathering and must not be primarily athletic. Every member of the student body and faculty is eligible to compete. The prize for the best song submitted, even though it is not adopted by the college, will be a silver loving cup.

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

"LOSING SONG OF LIFE" THEME OF CHAPEL TALK

Rev. Duncan Livingston of the Essex Junction Congregational Church conducted chapel services Wednesday, December 12. Mr. Livingston took for the theme of his sermon the fact that we are in danger of letting the song go out of our lives.

"The average university man or woman is dealing with facts, hard cold facts," said Mr. Livingston, but he urged that the students go out into the world with the facts of life in one hand and music, poetry, and rhythm in the other so that the world, fed up on concrete facts, may respond to the music of the dreamer of dreams and the singer of songs.

In conclusion the speaker urged that the student keep his ideals and not become hardened and blasé but bring cheer and comfort to those who hunger for it and by keeping the song in their lives at last find God.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The following students are in charge of the Practice House this week: hostesses, Laura Smith and Earlyan Simonds, '29; cooks, Frances Laythe and Rosena Allen, '30; waitresses, Dorothy Collins and Eleanor Wood, '31; assistant, Elsie Tryon, '31.

Miss Sara Holbrook of the Education department addressed the Woman's Club of Proctor Tuesday evening, on the subject: "The Work of a Visiting Teacher."

Alpha chapter of Phi Chi held a dance in honor of its newly initiated members Saturday evening, December 8, at its rooms. About 50 couples attended, including several invited guests from the other medical fraternities. Major and Mrs. Stanley, of the military department of the Medical College, chaperoned. In the center of the room was a table with two candles on it, over which was hung a skull illuminated with a red light. Against the wall on one side of the room were placed the letters Phi Chi, lighted in green, while on the other side was Epsilon Phi Alpha in a similar manner. All in all the dance was considered a huge success.

A notice was put on the W. A. A. bulletin board Wednesday for those to sign who were interested in a hike, Saturday out to W. A. A.'s new shack on Coates Island. The hike will be conducted by W. A. A. and will probably return in time for the basketball game and dance Saturday night.

Tailoring of all kinds.
Dry Cleaning and Pressing.
O'HARA'S
170 BANK ST. PHONE 897-W

MIDDLEBURY STUDENT NEW RHODES SCHO

Charles F. Malam, Middlebury, has been Rhodes scholar from term which starts in Malam, whose home bury, was a member 1928 at Middlebury. ing in Oxford. He in the literary pursuit While there he not college publications. volume of poetry Plowing" through and Company. A novel completed has not yet the press, and a poetry is said to be the printers.

The committee which from among the various made up of President chairman, Wayne C. Rose dlebury, F. M. Mobler Mass., Professor George this University, and Sherburne of Randolph. mittee met in Burlington last day morning and afternoon.

Rhodes scholars were chosen year in 32 states of the were announced Sunday by Dr. Aydelotte, secretary to the scholarship trustees in America, is also president of Swarthmore lege. Rhodes scholars are chosen each state two years out of three, as provided by the will of benefactor. Any student resident the state or having completed years of college work in the state eligible to apply. Candidates are lected on the basis of their work, not only in studies but also extra-curricular activities. Along athletic and literary lines capacity for leadership are also the principal requirements, as well scholastic achievements.

Appointments are made for years with the privilege of continuing the studies at Oxford for a year. An allowance of about $2 year is made. This year some men applied for the 32 appointments.

Carry Flasks

It seems as though the United States is not the only country which co-eds are fond of the hip. At a recent meeting held by French-speaking surgeons of Que the use of hip flasks by Canadian eds was deplored as one of the s plagues of life in Canada.

Hostesses at the Practice House week are Earlyan Simonds and La Smith; the cooks are Rosina Allen Frances Laythe; the waitress Eleanor Wood; and the Fresh helper is Elsie Tryon. Tuesday ning Miss Terrill was entertained a dinner in honor of her birthda

XMAS GIFTS SUITABL
FOR ANY SPORT MAY SELECTED FROM OU LARGE STOCK

L. P. WOOD
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTIONS
From the
UNIVERSITY STORE
FOR A ROOMMATE

CORRESPONDENCE HOLDER
PERPETUAL CALENDAR
FRATERNITY CREST UNIVERSITY SEAL
DESK BLOTTER
STATIONERY
BOOK-ENDS

BANNER
PILLOW
PENNANT
NOTEBOOK
PHOTO ALBUM MEMORY BOOK
FOUNTAIN PEN

Society Notes

DELTA DELTA DELTA

...day Eta chapter gave a ...sale bazaar and dance at ...ters' Club. Among the ...one for fancy work, which ...y displayed in a cedar ...her booth was orientalized ...ng articles from Japan, ...s and incense. A third ...or fresh home-made food, ...xhibited candy. There was ... Christmas grab-bag.

...e shopper wished to sit ...rest a few moments she ... a chair beside the table ... of the hall and have tea ...ovised tea room. After tea ... might go upstairs by way ...w, twisting staircase to a ...ted "Dead Eye Dick's Den," ... could watch a true-to-life ...ce and hear her future re... from the lips of two bejeweled ...lds.

...e sale in the evening a stag ...plied additional liveliness.

PI BETA PHI

...-alumnae sponsored a sale at ...ter rooms December 4.

ALPHA XI DELTA

The engagement of Elzada Fiske, '30, of Lancaster, N. H., to Fred Robbins, '30, Alpha Tau Omega, was announced at the meeting, December 5.

At the same meeting, chocolates were passed announcing the marriage of Priscilla Bromley, '27, of North Bennington and Ralph B. Norton of Hoosick Falls, N. Y., on November ...

Word has been received announcing the birth of a daughter to Mr. and ... R. E. Beal; Mrs. Beal will be remembered as Vina Rugg, '27.

SIGMA GAMMA

A Christmas party was held December 13 at the chapter rooms. The sisters served supper after which gifts were exchanged and each class presented a gift to the fraternity.

Planes Save Time

University of Washington athletic officials have evolved a plan whereby their football team can play intersectional games with a minimum loss of time from classwork. It is proposed to transport the entire Washington team by airplane when the Huskies go East next fall to play the University of Chicago at Chicago. In this manner the round trip could be made in about five days and nights.

Football coaches have dreaded intersectional games on their schedules because of the length of time consumed in transit. Excessive absence from classes has hurt the standing of the players, sometimes making them ineligible just when needed most.

The Washington method of transportation may solve these difficulties. Thirty players and the coach could climb into all-steel planes, and in 48 hours be ready for action on the University of Chicago gridiron. Half the trip would be made by air, and the other half, over the mountains, would be made by train at night. In this way the players' rest would be undisturbed.

If the proposed plan works well for Washington, it is safe to assume that other universities will follow its example. It may even become quite the vogue for football teams to travel by air. Such a departure will be hailed with relief by both athletic and academic officials.

Hockey—A Fast Game

"...y hockey is a sport that is ...ding attention in the fiery ... of intercollegiate sports, as well ... the professional arena," says ...erson, coach at Marquette. ...e in the Middle West we are ... up a hockey league whose ...ams should rank with those of the East.

...im that ice hockey is the fastest and most thrilling ... and that it calls for better men ... player must have courage ... you please; he must have ... and be hard to hurt; he must ...een mind, for instantaneous ... are necessary; he must have ...

...game is hard and fast, so that ... not be difficult for rough play ... That is one reason why we ...portsmanship. A weakness in ...ollegiate sport today is a lack of ...hals. I hope to see the day ...key coaches can choose officials ... their entire schedule before ... begins, without having to rush around for 'local talent' at the ...

...public, once it sees hockey, is ... it. A high-class collegiate ... hockey is faster than the ...n of professional games. A ...llege team, I maintain, can ...re thrills per minute than the ...onal outfit."

Women Allowed to Participate Annually in Intercollegiate Sports

Many girls at Smith, Wellesley, Vassar, Mt. Holyoke and Fairmount go in for winter sports on a larger scale than coeds in the Northwest, it is stated in the January College Humor. Several schools have suggested intercollegiate events for women, for a few women skaters can skate figure eights around some of the men artists; but authorities have permitted women to participate in intercollegiate events only when they are scheduled at the various winter carnivals, held once a year.

The members of Miss Mason's School and Junior College for girls on the Hudson are taking advantage of this fast coming sport of archery. The girls may be seen at practice almost every day. Smith College specializes in the teaching of archery to its students. One of the most interesting forms is shooting at toy balloons attached to targets at various distances. Archery fans at Oakland, Calif., have laid out a nine hole "golf" course, where bow and arrow take the place of driver and golf ball. Targets take the place of holes on the greens.

COLLEGE HUMOR

Playwright: Here's my latest play, sir.

Producer: But there's only two sheets here.

Playwright: Oh, that's enough. It's a bedroom farce.—Review.

A New Yorker met a Scotchman, just back from the Florida golf courses, struggling up Broadway dragging an alligator.

"What are you doing with that alligator?" he asked.

"The son-of-a-gun has got my ball," replied the Scotchman.—Campus News.

"Mamma, why does the furnace make Daddy shiver and make funny faces and hiccup when he comes up from the cellar?"—Life.

"What's them scars on your head, Mike?"

"My wife threw vinegar on me."

"Tush, Tush. Vinegar wouldn't make dents like that."

"I know, but it was wrapped up in a jug."—Wet Hen.

"That's a terrible looking bunch of legs over there, isn't it?"

"You bet. Not a calf in a carload."
—Pickup.

Adams: What makes her so wild?
Raughly: Her father was a pitcher.
—Green Parrot.

Sweet Young Thing: Auntie, every time I go out I eat so much that I'm getting too fat. What can I do to reduce?

Auntie: Try going out with college boys.—McGill Daily.

Mabel: I had a lovely nut sundae.
Alice: Yes, dearie, I have one coming to take me motoring tonight.
Ibid

Ned: "What's the matter with Waty's moustache, it's so spare?"
Smithy: "Guess it's been burnt over."—Ibid.

Unmarried: What did you call your mother-in-law after you were married?

Married: The first year I called her "I say," and after that we all called her "Grandma."—Pickup.

"That's nothing," said the student as he saw the professor put a zero on his examination paper.—Guidon.

Professor: "Why, every time I breathe a Chinaman dies."
Voice from the rear: "Why don't you try Listerine?"—Burr.

She: "My brother doesn't smoke, drink or swear."
He: "Does he make all his own dresses, too?"—Green Parrot.

LIFE

Life is like a journey, taken on a train.
With a pair of travelers at each window pane.
I may sit beside you all the journey through,
Or I may sit elsewhere, never knowing you.
But if fate should mark me to sit by your side,
Let's be pleasant travelers; it's so short a ride.

Never bear more than one kind of trouble at a time. Some people bear three—all they have had, all they have now, and all they expect to have.

The reason they call sailboats "she" is because they make a better showing in the breeze.

Thespians Please With Shaw's Play

(Continued from page 1)

the effect of the action was considerably heightened. Just as the strength of Miss Cottrell's part and the glamor of Sheffield's part added considerably to the play, so did each character in turn contribute something of his own to render the play a greater success. L. S. Turner was the person who as Anthony Anderson, became the worldly, soldierly man of action once he had effected the rescue of Richard E. W. Knapp, cast as an upstart British official, did outstanding work in the court scene. Fred Householder, as "Christy," half-wit brother of Richard, played the part of the fool well.

Praise is due also to those whose work, in whole or in large part, centered in the first act. Without Benjamin Baker as William Dudgeon, the portly uncle of Puritanic colonial days, Catherine Bassett and Beverly Householder, cast as typical colonial wives, the one as Mrs. William Dudgeon, the other as Mrs. Titus; Dorothy Strong as the simple orphan child Essie; and Robert Jenks, who played the old-time lawyer, Attorney Hawkins, the play would have lost the background of unconventionality and drama which the first act imparted to the play.

Again, in the final act, it was the task of A. O. Aronson as the British sergeant and of C. H. Overly as the chaplain to lend the final touches to the male scene.

In each scene, the work of some one character made the action especially effective. If one or two scenes, however, were to be mentioned as particularly well played, the palm would probably go to such scenes as the court martial of Richard Dudgeon and the closing action. In both cases more than the usual number of players were present on the stage. The combination of Sheffield and Knapp with Garfield and Kone, the introduction of Householder, all tended to make the court scenes extremely worthwhile. The large number of participants in the mob scene and the introduction of numerous characters at critical points was equally effective in the last act.

Especial credit is due to Professor J. T. Metcalf who coached the production from start to finish and to Miss Mary Maude Patrick who was in charge of the costuming.

With the presentation of the college play "The Devil's Disciple" it is interesting to compare the beginnings of the drama at Vermont.

The first college play "Presented by the Young Ladies of the University at Grassmount" on June 22, 1899, was "As You Like It" with Mary Crafts Paddock as Rosamond. At that time the Grassmount lawn afforded an excellent setting for the Shakespearean drama.

The following June the women of the University presented "Much Ado About Nothing." In this play, which proved a great success, Mrs. Grace Goodhue Coolidge played the part of Don Pedro's brother, Don Juan.

The following week the "Histrionic Delvings" composed entirely of men gave the famous comedy 'Ralph Royster Doyster" in the Old Howard Opera House. Included in the cast were Professors W. E. Aiken and J. E. Donahue.

When the dramatic societies, Masque and Sandal and Wig and Buskin were formed dramatics became definitely established here and now comes a real Shaw play.

ITALIAN LIMERICK

By J. B. Sprague

Bill Tilden, while visiting Venice,
Complained, "These wet grounds are a menace;
They may suit a sculler
Or Johnny Weismuller,
But gosh! how they slow up my tennis!"

Here's one I just took off the ice for my dear public. It seems that two cannibals were having their afternoon siesta, after having finished their repast. One was very satisfied, having just had a good, plump missionary (you know, girls, there is nothing like a good, plump missionary); the other was squirming and groaning. "What's the matter with you?" said the satisfied one. "Didn't you enjoy your dinner?"

"I should say I didn't enjoy it," said the other. "I must have got hold of a bad egg."—Louisville Satyr.

Charming young thing, entering a drug store and approaching young man behind soda fountain, "Are you a doctor?"

"No, madam," he replied, "I'm a fizzician."

Compliments of

C. A. BARBER & CO.

112 Church Street

CO-ED SHARPSHOOTERS LIST NINE MATCHES

A tentative schedule for the Women's Rifle Team has been released by Manager Shaw. All the matches will be fired on the home range and naturally the high five out of ten scores will be exchanged. A 15 inch bull's eye will be used.

The season will open February 16 with Michigan State as competitors. Other slated matches are February 24, Washington State; March 2, University of Pennsylvania and Northwestern University; March 9, Maryland, Cornell and University of Nebraska; and March 16, Keene, S. C., and University of Kansas.

All-American Eleven Selected

College Humor surveyed the country's grid camps and then received expressions from the most prominent coaches before making its annual selections. The greatest problem of the day was in placing the five best backfield players into the four positions and we compromised by placing Mizell, Georgia Tech, at end.

The All-American Eleven, selections for which were made December 1, 1928 is as follows: End, Lawler, Princeton; tackle, Pommerening, Michigan; guard, Mooney, Georgetown; center, Barrager, Southern California; guard, Miller, Notre Dame; tackle, Nowack, Illinois; end, Mizell, Georgia Tech; quarterback, Harpster, Carnegie Tech; halfback, Cagle, Army; halfback, Strong, New York University; fullback, Hoffman, Stanford.

Harp a Jazz Instrument

The Vassar Miscellany recounts the rule at Cambridge University, England. We only beg to inquire why the Vassar writer classes the harp as a jazz instrument. 'Tis not the nature of the beast:

No longer will the wail of the sax or the tiny strumming of the uke be heard in Cambridge, according to the New York Times. The English university has banned jazz instruments from the college halls. The students who live in diggings, that is who are at the tender mercies of Cambridge landladies—may tinkle the timbrel and pluck the harp as long as they wish. Their brothers in residence will confine themselves to more genteel instruments, the piano and violin preferred. The argument is that most of the students in the college halls are last year men who are supposed to be studying; hence the calm and quiet.

The only difficulty seems to be that the really disturbing noise-makers are not mentioned. Picture a Main under a similar rule without the rattling radiators, the early morning typists, or the girl who sits up learning how to snap her gum? We propose that the college present each incoming student with some diverting instrument, such as a nice little xylophone (cf. Soph party) engraved with the legend "Peace I leave with you."

Some Stadium

At last someone has solved the problem of allowing everyone to obtain a good seat at football games. The solution comes from the University of Michigan where they are considering the erection of a skyscraper stadium on the 50 yard line. The stadium would consist of a large number of tiers which would be at the right tilt to give everyone a view of the field and to permit 100,000 persons to see the game from the center of the field.

Women at Union

The trustees of Union College have decided to admit women students to the University for graduate work. The college will continue as a men's school, however, for women are still prohibited from undergraduate work. New courses have also been added to the curriculum in order to qualify graduates for the teaching profession in accordance with recent revisions of the New York State Board of Regents. This may be of special interest to art students who intend to teach a short time before taking up other professions.

For pure sugar home-made ribbon candy call at the

BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP and CANDYLAND

HOME-MADE SPECIAL CANES BY ORDER, FROM 5c TO $2.50

ARIEL GRINDS

Those women in the Junior class who neglect to hand in grinds may expect inadequate grinds in the Ariel, and will have no complaints to make to the Grind editors.

ODD AND ENDS

Any man's idea of an intelligent woman is one who always agrees with him.

Before long now, Gertrude will take along a parachute when she goes riding with a young man instead of wearing walking shoes.

We "editors" may dig and toil till our fingers are sore, but some poor fish will always say "I've seen that one before."

"My wife kisses me every time I come home. That's affection."
"You're wrong that's investigation!"

What is nonsense?
Answer: "An elephant hanging over a cliff with his tail tied to a daisy."—State College Times

Solicitor: "Well if you want my honest opinion—" Client: "No, no. I want your professional advice."—Tid Bits.

I have not smoked a cigarette since first I entered college.
I have not taken a drink during my college career.
I have never kissed a girl while in college.
I have never flunked a course—not even gym.
This is my first week in college.
—Oregon State Daily Barometer

"How much did Helen of Troy weigh?"
"I don't know anything about Troy weight."—C. C. N. Y. Mercury.

In a certain London hotel the manager was one day angered to see the "boots" cleaning a pair of shoes just outside a bedroom door.
Haven't I told you that all boots must be cleaned downstairs?" he thundered.
Yes, sir.
Then why—
"Because the man in this room is a Scot, sir. He's t'other side the door, hanging tight to the shoe laces."
Wesleyan Wasp

Attend Classes in Bathing Suits

At the University of Miami, a new type of class room has been instituted for the zoology classes. Students in this subject don bathing suits and divers' helmets and descend to the bottom of the Atlantic to carry on their study of the fauna and flora of the ocean.

Students?

Fourteen persons, thirteen of whom were reported to be students at Ohio State University were fined $10 and costs, suspended by Judge Edward F. Berry in municipal court on charges of peddling without peddler's licenses and selling fake programs at the Ohio State-Princeton football game.

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

The Old Bunion

Shop here for
THE RIGHT GIFT
To take to
MOTHER OR DAD, BROTHER OR SISTER

Three floors of the most useful gift suggestions—unique gifts, gifts that will please. A thousand or more of them at 50c to $5.00

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

MARGARET A. DERICK, '29
Women's Editor

News Editors
Lawrence O. Clayton, '29 — Hesseh M. Macomber, '29 — Arthur D. Stearns, '30

Columnists
Mark Fuller, '29 — George R. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors
Elizabeth B. Hager, '29 — Mary A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '30

Feature Editor
George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Seymour Mathewson, '30

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Cleas, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Warren H. Burr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor
Genevieve Holden, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Elmer Goodrich, '29 — Donald E. Osborne, '31 — Belle Church, '30
Irving Campbell, '29 — Philip G. Andrews, '30 — Cornelia Mould, '30
Carl Richardson, '29 — Louis Lisman, '31 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32
Leo Waterman, '29 — Richard Cowles, '31 — Hope Rowden, '32
George H. Brush, '29 — L. M. Foster, '31 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32
Douglas L. Stewart, '29 — C. N. Crockett, '31 — Herman Gussow, '31
A. R. Germain, '29 — Pauline Burridge, '29 — E. J. Beyor, '30

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

Cynthia C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur H. Burchard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jenks, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Moore, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Fuller, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2665 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Entered in 1905. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol 47 — December 14, 1928 — No. 24

What is Education?

In ancient times a few men gathered together, secluded themselves from the outside world and formed a monastery. Primarily their purpose was to lead a religious life, but often it meant a life of study—a life of reading and writing. What did they look forward to? Perhaps a place among the righteous in the next world. Without a doubt these men were the best educated of their era.

Today, thousands of students attend institutions of higher learning, cram four years of concentrated knowledge into their heads and are ready to conquer empires. With many the process is purely mechanical. Often they miss an example which is constantly set before them. They are ready to meet the world with less knowledge than the monks, who were through with the world.

The late President Elliot made a statement which offers encouragement to those unable to attend a college. "Read a hundred selected books intelligently and you are on the road to a good education." This would apply even more to those who attend college and are earnestly seeking education.

Literature is the immortal part of history; it is the best and most enduring part of personality. Book friends are superior to human friends in that you can enjoy the most truly aristocratic society in the world whenever you want it.

Once more winter comes into view with its Jack Frost, sparkling air and slippery ice. Ice suggests hockey, one of the finest and fastest sports that can be found. Fortune smiled on Vermont's team, for there is a convenient, new rink on the back campus and sufficient financial support to warrant playing several games.

To see a game, once, means a fascination that is quite irresistible. The flying puck and whirlwind skaters leave rather a vivid memory. As there is no inconvenience to see a game this year, few should miss the contests which are scheduled.

With the Theatre

At the Majestic

Friday a double feature program which includes "Shadows of the Night" and "Forbidden Love," is scheduled.

Flash is a marvel as a dog. His intelligence appears human at times. As the hero in "Shadows of the Night" he saves his master from unjust accusation, solves the murder and paves the way to blissful romance. If you like a thriller of the underworld with a touch of newspaper life, you will like this movie.

Pathé imports an English picture entitled "Forbidden Love." Lily Damita, one of the leads, is now playing in Hollywood, making this picture before she left England. It is a mythical kingdom story and makes comedy relieved only by the same Lily. Tough acting and titles.

Saturday, Dorothy Mackaill as the chorus girl plays in "Lady Be Good." The usual swan song of stage Johnnies and hard boiled butter and egg men. Plenty of laughs and display of anatomy. Monday and Tuesday, a real star, namely Bebe Daniels in "What a Night." This entertainment is cracked up to be a red hot newspaper melodramatic comedy. Called one of the funniest movies of the year by one critic. The same Bebe that acted in "Hot News" with Neil Hamilton as an added attraction. Eddy Sutherland directs it.

Added feature, Kiddies Frolic staged by "Art" Brown. If you think the college players were good just glance over this attraction.

At the Strong

Friday and Saturday double feature program presenting "Gypsy of the North," a Rayart picture, and "The Silent Hero."

"Gypsy of the North" is considered among the leading Rayart pictures of the year. The setting is in a northern mining camp with the vigorous, rough life of the Klondike gold hunters portrayed in realistic fashion-melodrama type.

"The Silent Hero" with an all-star cast hinges in a plot where the hero considers it his duty to protect another from disgrace. How he gets out of a maze he has woven for himself and gets the girl he is fighting for makes the picture-comedy type.

Neighbors used to drop in for a call, now they call in for a drop.

THE FORUM

THE UNSEEN U. V. M.

In a few more years the University of Vermont may have its long desired Memorial Building, with its Cafeteria, Auditorium, Trophy Room, and Committee Rooms. All the unpleasantries which attend the present diversified existence will have vanished. The widely scattered student activities of today will perchance be united in a building of stately halls and graceful Gothic arches. Our great University will be compact in form and spirit with uniformity and a spirit of oneness throughout. This is a splendid vision for the morrow!

* * * * *

Yet, just as the new Memorial Building is as yet unseen, except as a vision in the foreseeing minds of able guiding powers, so also is there another unseen U. V. M. which means infinitely more than a remote and soulless building. The U. V. M. which strives night and day in the better interests of humanity. The U. V. M. which in our present age of materialism continues to be ideal and affords means of education to hundreds of earnest students. This is a splendid reality!

* * * * *

But fine ideals and lack of a Memorial Building are not mutually exclusive. Buildings are but the hollow shell of an institution dead and worthless until the living soul of school spirit gives it strength and significance. Our University has such a spirit. But alas, it is dormant.

* * * * *

Those omniscient persons, the womanly man, and the petty officers of the peace who consider this spirit a menace, should read and re-read these pregnant and pertinent words of a former president of U. V. M., Guy Potter Benton, he said:

* * * * *

"I confess that it has always been a mystery to me why it is that certain sanctimonious individuals pucker up their sour face, and, if possible, look even more acetose than common, whenever their ears are greeted with a college yell. There is no music so sweet to me as the yell of the college student. It is the expression of abounding life, of healthful youth, and of unselfish loyalty. Every time a boy yells for his college or university he is drawing its colors about him a little more securely, and thus he is laying the foundation for that larger patriotism, which in later years will accentuate his love of country every time he gives a cheer for the "Stars and Stripes." Let that fossil who declaims against football be relegated to the museum of antiquities. Let dumbness strike him who would use his voice against the song and shouts of joyous college men when they triumph in oratory or debate. Restrained be the arm of the tyrant who would reach out a hand to throttle class spirit. Blinded be the eye of him who will see nothing but evil in devotion to fraternity. We live in an age when gentleness and regard for the rights of others are our watchwords of progress, but to make our civilization all it should be there must be some iron in the blood."

* * * * *

Animated, then, with the fine sentiments of this great man, let undergraduates and alumni think big if they are going to do big things. Let the alumni especially take to heart the concluding injunction of this same great man:

* * * * *

"Let private benefactors and state authorities apply the scriptual admonition: 'Freely have ye received, freely give.' If this spirit shall animate alumni and citizenship, our State University will make all Vermont vibrant with its lofty purposes and its splendid accomplishments, the nation will rejoice with us in our prosperity and the whole world will honor us for the product of an intelligent, efficient and righteous manhood and womanhood.

* * * * *

PAUL J. LACROSSE.

$80,000 Dormitory in Paris

Through a gift of $80,000 from P. S. du Pont of Wilmington, a six story dormitory will be constructed in Paris where students from the American universities who are studying abroad may make their residence. This building will be built on the Rue Dufour, to fill the great need in Paris for suitable living quarters for visiting students.

Sophomore Hospitality

At the University of California, a Freshman who disobeys the rules is invited out to lunch, which is equivalent to an auto ride at the University of Chicago. He is first given lunch at a fraternity house and then receives the special and undivided attention of several Sophomores for the remainder of the afternoon.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

EC. 8—STATISTICS NUMBER

In Ec. 8—"Now you take the mean ages of women—"

"How about the ages of mean women?"

"Where do you get the statistics?"

"Oh, you dig it up from the raw data."

"Isn't some of it too raw?"

"I'm afraid your associations have been quite poorly chosen."

"Well, anyway, how are you sure that the women will give their right ages?"

"That scarcely matters. Statistics is only a study of approximate values."

The Ogive

What a wonderful thing is the Ogive!
The most marvellous thing man could contrive.
If the man with the nerve
To invent such a curve
Were discovered, I'd skin the gink alive.

Scatteration

The object of scatteration is to show how data is spread through the series. Yet this is but a cold definition; a barren aim. Let me give you the modern, wide-awake, life-breathing, blood-sweating angle of this most enlightening subject.

Back—way back—in the ancient days a wise man said:

"Cast not thy pearls before swine, lest they thereby meet with indigestion."

And to reach the modern era:

"Cast not thy pearls before Follies girls, lest they accept them and later sue thee for breach of promise."

Thus, we may readily see that this casting out of various things was and is, even now, quite prevalent. Disciples of old Izaak Walton cast for the funny inhabitants of the briny deep, professors cast lots to determine whom they shall pass and students cast about for means of evading the gentle art of cracking les livers, as the French would say. All this casting about, this wide range of facts and endeavors spreading through a series of lives is called scatteration. It is a study well worth taking to a rhinocerous prom.

History of Statistics

Statistics date 'way back into the dim depths of ancient history. And to tell the truth, they have never succeeded in losing their ancient aspect. A product of the desert civilizations, they are naturally very dry, but inheriting the factors of their early natural environment, they are extensively used in connection with dates.

King Solomon first employed statistics to determine a perplexing problem. He wished to discover two main points: (A) The increase in the number of his wives in proportion to his financial expenditures; and (B) the correlation between the increase in the number of his friends and visitors as compared with the increase in the number of wives with whom he was amply provided.

Then Caesar employed statistics extensively to find the correlation between the average life of man and man's increasing or decreasing ambition.

Cleopatra found need of this subject when she desired to correlate the increase or decrease in the sum total of feminine lure in proportion to the scarcity of woman's apparel. "Chemise be crezy," said an inhabitant of Greece when he was first allowed to step-in her tent.

Ex-President Roosevelt used statistics to determine if tossing one's hat into the ring three, or possibly four, times a week had any connection with obtaining additional territories and Ex-President Harding employed them to correlate The oil leases and his total golf score during his term of office.

Today, they are of an especially welcome nature in searching for the correlation between 7.30 military and students' (male!) lack of sleep. This last attempt at correlation is, of course, exceedingly difficult.

Statistics is a merry course,
As you will soon find out.
You'll crack the books all night and then
Don't know what it's about!

—MORE ANON—

The ninth annual meeting of the association of university and business officers of the Eastern States is being held at Amherst. Delegates of more than one hundred colleges and universities are taking part in the sessions, as guests of Amherst, Smith and Massachusetts Agricultural Colleges. The program includes addresses by President Pease of Amherst, President Neilson of Smith and President Thatcher of Massachusetts Agricultural. "Educational costs," and what share should be covered by tuition fees will be discussed by Trevor Arnett, president of the general education board; N. C. Plymton, auditor of the University of Chicago, will speak on "Are Our Colleges Playing Poor."

The Periscope

The Three Boys

"Once upon a time, [illegible] so long ago, there were [illegible] boys who wanted to [illegible] great, big, strong men [illegible] wanted to be president. [illegible] knew he could sit up until [illegible] every night if he lived in the White House. Another one wanted [illegible] engineer so he could go [illegible] on the shiny cho-choos and [illegible] to pay his fare. The third little boy wanted to be a student. He knew he could wear glasses and [illegible] shoulders and look intelligent. [illegible] ever succeeded in becoming a student. He even planned to get absent-minded after he became a great [illegible]. He knew if he could become [illegible] absent-minded he could forget to [illegible] his shoes and even stop remembering to wash his ears."

"Stop pulling the kitty's tail [illegible] pull your ears, Ethelbert. Be a [illegible] little boy and listen to the story.

"Now these three boys grew up [illegible] all good little boys do. One of them went to a preparatory school and received a great deal of preparation. He learned how to dance and how to [illegible] earnestly to little girls. He became an expert in cribbing and [illegible] dressing and won four school letters and stole three hearts, ten pairs of running shoes and one automobile. He stole a big line from his older brother who went to college.

"The second little boy went to work. Every day he got up at half past five in the morning and rode across the city to a big factory. Here he pushed a truck across the floor and bought chewing tobacco for the boss and made eyes at all the pretty little shop girls. He forgot all about riding on the shiny cho-choo trains because he was so busy running after dinky busses. Every evening he went to night school. After school he went home and went to bed. He was too tired to go places and he never had any extra money so he couldn't do things. He learned English and algebra and trigonometry and Latin. He never got a letter from his school and he didn't learn the yell. There wasn't anything to learn and the only letters that amounted to anything at the school were A, B, C and D. These were the letters that showed how much the teachers thought the boys knew about the courses they studied.

"The third little boy went to High School and lived at home. He met his girl friend in the evening and made eyes at his boy friend's girl friend in the morning. He studied his courses and he worked in the afternoon and every Saturday. He danced a little and once he played tennis on the school team. He lost his match and he never played any more. The school didn't want him to play and he didn't have the time to waste anyway.

"After a long time all three little boys went to College. They went to the very same College in the very same town. They didn't know each other and not one of them lost anything of value when he failed to meet the others.

"The first little boy belonged to a great many clubs and organizations and orders and he headed movements and was chairman of committees. He drove a big car around the campus and he stood for tradition and he wore a frosh hat his first year. His [illegible] year he paddled other boys [illegible] wear a hat or who failed [illegible] to the traditions of the school.

"When this little boy got [illegible] of college he knew all the best people and went to all the best places. [illegible] became president and then [illegible] to steal a great deal of [illegible] made a war.

"He was a very important [illegible]

"The second little boy [illegible] in the evening. He was [illegible] cause he didn't wear a fr[illegible] he never went to any da[illegible] longed to any organizat[illegible] never served on a single [illegible] He learned a great deal a[illegible] and when he got out of s[illegible] on a pair of overalls and w[illegible] in an oil field.

"He found out that the [illegible] boy was stealing oil and [illegible] it. Then he went to prison. [illegible] was war time and he had [illegible] little boy was a thief [illegible] he was out of prison, he [illegible] a section hand. The ra[illegible] pany fired him when they [illegible] he had been in prison. [illegible] watch the trains go by and [illegible] was an engineer so he [illegible] the trains instead of wa[illegible] track with the other bums.

"He was a very big flop [illegible] died.

"The third little boy finally [illegible] the Rotary Club. There he [illegible] all about Rotary. He became a [illegible] student of it.

HANK P.

No matter how many [illegible] go up, garters will always [illegible]

—Go

SPORTING NEWS

ARTHUR NATHANSON, '30
Assistant Sporting Editor

ANGUS W. CLAIN, '30
Sporting Editor

WARREN BURR, '30
Assistant Sporting Editor

UNIVERSITY SPONSORS MEETING TO DISCUSS NEW BASKETBALL RULES

Coaches, Officials, and Players to Hear 1928 Regulations Interpreted by Martin V. Souders

[illegible] auspices of the University [illegible], Martin V. Souders of Milton Academy will interpret the 1928 basketball rules on Saturday afternoon one of the biggest gatherings of coaches, officials and players ever assembled here.

Souders is especially well qualified to handle this meeting. He has officiated for all the big colleges in the east and in all the big schoolboy basketball tournaments including the national championships at Chicago. He has also officiated here at the University of Vermont State court several times. He is president of the Eastern Massachusetts Board of Basketball officials and conducted an interesting meeting for that body at Harvard University last Friday evening. Besides interpreting the rules, he will demonstrate on two teams furnished by the University and in the evening of the 15th will handle a game here between Vermont and McGill.

Mr. Lambert of Greensboro High is planning to have a State board of approved basketball officials organized at this time for the protection of basketball in Vermont. It is expected that such a board will be elected.

Graduate Manager of the University, H. A. Mayforth, has sent out invitations to all the leading coaches and officials in the state and to Major W. V. Forbes of the McGill University A. A. and as this is the only meeting of its kind in the North this year, it is expected that the largest collection of basketball experts that can be assembled from this State are to be present at this meeting.

Arrangements are complete for the introduction of members from different parts of the State. The Vermont varsity and Freshman squads, and the teams of the two Burlington High schools and St. Michael's College, will attend the conference.

COLLEGE GRID COACHES TO MEET DECEMBER 17

A meeting of the Associates of New England Colleges will be held at Springfield Monday, December 17 at 7.00 p.m. Vermont will be represented by Captain Rattan, head coach of football at the University.

This meeting is being called to receive reports from the secretary, the treasurer and other officials of the organization of the past season's experiences. A report will also be given of the meeting which is to be held in New York on December 15. Officers for the ensuing year will also be elected. At this meeting football in the New England Colleges will be thrashed over with pros and cons being heard on certain vital matters. At this meeting much of the work of planning the coming season is done and nearly every school will be represented.

Students From Public Schools Excel

Harvard men who enter from public high schools make better students than those from private preparatory and tutoring schools, a survey of the records shows.

The total enrollment of the class of 1931 during their first year, 436 are said to have entered from high schools, 111 from private schools and 53 from tutoring schools.

Of the high school graduates 102 made the dean's list. Of the private school men but 53 attained this honor during their first year and none of those from private tutoring schools made it.

The majority of honor scholars throughout the university have been found to be former high school students.

"Believe I've met you before."

"Don't you recall that hotel in Berlin?"

"I've been in Berlin, but I can't remember any hotel by that name."—Jabberwock.

Two Prize Fighters Discuss Another

"Greetings, brother of the fistic world. What is there in the way of news that is worthy of our discussion this morning?"

"Really very little, I'm forced to acknowledge. Have you noticed, however, the decidedly unconventional manner with which Jones is conducting himself of late?"

"Indeed I have. In point of fact I have been somewhat perturbed and not a little piqued by the offensive nature of his actions."

"Why, in observing his latest encounter I was distinctly aware of a revolting uncouthness and roughness that was to my mind inexcusable!"

"And I too. His slugging tactics did not escape me, you may be sure."

"Did you perceive, moreover, his unkempt appearance?"

"I most certainly did. I can well imagine that that barb-like face of his has not seen even the vestige of a shave in weeks."

"And were you aware also of the lack of finish in the man? I seriously doubt if he has had even the benefit of an elementary education."

"There is unquestionably sufficient evidence at hand to support that belief. I never saw a fighter who was so utterly unrefined in my life."

"Nor I. I really don't believe he should be allowed to enter a ring."

"You're absolutely right. He's positively a disgrace to the profession."

—Michigan Gargoyle.

HEADMASTERS' CLUB TO HOLD LOCAL MEETINGS

Martin V. Southers, president of the Eastern Massachusetts Board of Basketball Officials, is to be the leader in the basketball rules interpretation meeting, which will be held on December 15 at 2 o'clock, in the University gymnasium. Mr. Southers is from Milton Academy of Milton, Mass. He will also officiate at the game with McGill University in the evening. As he is conducting a big meeting of the same kind at Harvard the preceding Saturday, it is certain that the right man has been obtained to do a good job here. Two demonstration teams will be on the floor to help in the interpretation.

The Headmasters' Club Athletic Council is meeting at the Hotel Vermont at noon on the same day and will be present at the conference to aid them in coaching at the various high and prep schools of the state this year. Major D. Stewart Forbes of McGill has been notified of the meeting and is expected to be present with his Canadians. It is thought that interpretation of the rules will be of vast assistance to the various teams and coaches of the state and of the college.

At the same time as this meeting is taking place here, Captain W. V. Rattan, coach of the varsity football team, will be attending a convention of the Eastern Association of Football Officials in New York City.

Health Declines in College

That the health of college students gets progressively worse from the freshman to the senior year is the observation made by Dr. Dean F. Smiley, head of the Department of Hygiene and preventative Medicine at Cornell University. Dr. Smiley's conclusions are based on the records of the thousands of Cornell students taking a physical examination each year.

The proportion of students in the classes of 1928 to 1931 having health upkeep ratings of 95 to 100 per cent. was as follows: 780 seniors, 59.8 per cent.; 691 juniors, 63.5; 843 sophomores, 65.7; 885 freshmen, 71.6.

Dr. Smiley found that each year the student "takes poorer and poorer care of himself," first because he missed the influence of home and then because he acquired time-wasting habits or tried to do the work of two men in earning his way through college.

Speaking of Rules for Co-eds

"The Dean of Women in a certain small college in the Far West is apparently planning to spend her winter with a tape measure in each hand, for new rules demand that skirts must be approximately two-thirds the height of the knee when sitting and the necks of dresses shall be no more than two inches below the clavicle. Furthermore, all jewelry beyond a watch and a simple pin is taboo, and transparent waists must be worn over a slip with sleeves."—Radcliffe Daily

HI ABRAHAM TO COACH SEXTET THIS SEASON

Hockey, the king of winter sports is getting ready to appear on the new rink behind the gym. Practice under the supervision of Hi Abraham former Dartmouth hockey star started last Monday and is taking place every afternoon. Twenty-one expert skaters answered the call and are working out at Long Pond until the rink is frozen.

Starting next week the new rink will be used to scrimmage. Vermont has fine prospects for a first rate club, many veterans from last year's sextet returning and much good material showing up in the Freshman class.

Nothing drab is to cover the players this year, for their new uniforms, that have just arrived, are quite startling with their green and gold stripes. The colors alone should keep the players moving fast.

"Woody" Hall is planning a real stiff schedule for the skaters, and as manager he has arranged for several home games. A pair of contests will be played with both the Cadets and the Black Panthers, one at home and the other away. Games with Norwich, St. Lawrence and Clarkson are practically assured before mid-years. Negotiations are under way for contests with Colby, here, Union and R. P. I.

HIGH SCHOOL TOURNEY AT GYM IN MARCH

A high school tournament will be held at the University gym this year on the days of March 8 and 9. As yet definite plans have not been made other than the dates set aside. However in the near future the Headmasters' Club plans to have a long session and thrash out the matters and arrangements to be considered in running the tournament. There is now an idea of having Junior and Senior tournaments with the holding of each at Burlington and Rutland on alternating years. Also there is the matter of paying the railroad expenses of the visiting teams to be considered besides whether the interscholastic track meet shall be continued or not. Graduate Manager Harold Mayforth has several matters of importance to be settled and it will be this body that will decide the future arrangement of the above mentioned athletic affairs. It has not been definitely decided when this body will meet but if not before the holidays it will be immediately after.

The Higher Football

(From the Baltimore Sun)

It is not enough in these days of detailed analysis to say that this or that team simply played beyond itself. One thinks rather of the doctrine to which William James was grimly committed—namely, that in each man are capacities far greater than he realizes or generally uses. In an emergency he may perform tremendous physical feats, think with amazing quickness and shrewdness, or endure privation incredible in ordinary life. Everyone, said James, is like that; and it is shameful (so to speak) that he drifts along through ordinary life without drawing on the stocks of strength, physical and mental, that are ready for his use. Why not tap them regularly?

Thus need for an addition to the coaching staffs is obvious. Better football will come when the psychological departments of the several colleges show the teams how to get completely into the game with minds utterly alert, muscles ready with tripled strength and determination hardened into heroic passion. But will it really be better football? It appears to the eye of imagination more like a battle of immortal heroes in Scandinavian mythology. And the only reason why those fellows were not all killed at once was that they were immortal.

Are College Men Getting Smaller?

"College men are becoming smaller and weaker today in comparison with those of twenty years ago," says Tom Lieb, football line coach at the University of Wisconsin. "These men are pampered, come to school in large cars, and consequently are in weak mental and physical condition. They do not engage in the more trying sports of today, but seek easier methods of recreation on the golf links or tennis courts." Perhaps he thought that up between halves and the mood lingered.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. VILLIUS VALTRO

I. Is a man actuated, in what he does, in its effect on society or is he rather actuated by his own desires? To my mind the latter is the principal motive, the former entering into the course only so far as I shall mention soon.

And if that is so is there any harmful result to society? I do not think so. For if a man is careful to obey Cabell's rule of modern society, he can do as he pleases, and merely harmlessly but beneficially.

Human beings are obviously far from perfect, yet it seems strange to me that there are many things absolutely harmless, which everyone would do, if he were not prevented by the truly foreseen censure of everyone else. Think it over, and see how queer it is: They all want something, they know they all want it, but if anyone should try to get it, they would all join in reprobation.

Those things then though done are not done publicly. That also follows from the nobleman's advice to his son.

II. I have a little philosophy a philosophy which suits me perfectly. I know that many have thought of it before, for it is very simple, yet I have never seen it in application. This is it, in various phraseologies—Whatever happens is all right—nothing makes much difference—don't let that worry you—in the end everything will be all right. There are many other ways of saying the same thing, but anyway, what's the matter with it? If you have that philosophy firmly on you, you'll be happy.

III. There are a good many ways of looking at the educational side of college.

Some men take the attitude that the chief thing is to pass the course; outside of that they don't care whether they learn anything or not. Some don't even care that much,—so long as they stay in college all's right with them. Others like to get as good grades as they can without too much work—this idea is fairly prevalent among the co-eds, and also among the men. Some want to get good marks—this seems to be chiefly a woman's viewpoint, though some men take that attitude,—the only outstanding ones being an occasional fellow working for Rhodes Scholarship or something of that sort.

The last attitude that I will mention, which, indeed, may be hidden in some of the others, is, to wish to learn. Separately, that idea is, so far as I know, uniquely mine. To learn as much as possible, regardless of marks—which depend to a large extent on the one giving the course—that is, in my opinion, the best attitude.

In some courses you can learn more, though receiving a C, than in others in which you get A. The same is true to an even greater extent when the same course is given by different men.

Personally I think that marks, as they are at present, should be abolished. To keep undesirable or rather incapable men out of college, a single mark would be used at the end of each semester, unsatisfactory, if so, no mark otherwise. He would be required to drop any courses in which he was doing unsatisfactory work, and if this occurred in a majority of the courses he would be flunked out.

The grade system is not in itself wrong—in fact it should be good—but it has become the principal aim and object of attainment of the course, rather than remaining merely an indication of how well the student is learning his course.

Probably my idea would work no better—but still, I think some way should be found of re-introducing the ancient idea of education—to gain knowledge.

My idea of a perfect university is a place where anyone could go and learn whatever he wanted—all the other hide-bound rules and set systems being discarded. It is, I suppose, an obviously impossible ideal.

No one any longer wants to learn anything.

The Dean to timid frosh entering late: "When were you born?"

Frosh, "April second, sir."

The Dean, "Late again."

—Jack o'Lantern

McAULIFFE'S
New Retail Building
is the home of
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
that are beautiful and appropriate for all members of the family.
COR. CHURCH & COLLEGE STS.
Phone 629

Intercollegiate News

By OSINO A. MARTINETTI, '30

Approximately seventy-five percent of the Freshman class at Middlebury are pledged to the campus fraternities according to latest reports. Eighty-two men were pledged out of a total of one hundred and seven Freshman men. The fraternity situation in the Men's College at Middlebury is unique this year for all of the eight Greek-letter societies now on the campus are chapters of national fraternities. The largest Freshman delegation is pledged to Chi Psi, oldest fraternity at Middlebury, established in 1841. Fifteen were pledged. Delta Upsilon second oldest pledged twelve men. Delta Upsilon announces fourteen pledges.

There's a big run on high silk hats at Princeton. It is quite the thing for the University boys to wear them at dances, concerts or whenever girls are visiting.

The University of Missouri was closed recently because of a large increase in the number of influenza cases. About 150 students are estimated by university authorities to be suffering now from the disease, which also is prevalent among permanent residents of the city. No deaths have been reported. The closing order and tentative date for reopening was set forth in a bulletin by Dr. Stratton D. Brooks president. The course adopted by the University had the approval of Dr. James Stewart State health commissioner who said the closing was the safest manner in which to stop further spread of a threatened epidemic.

Connecticut College has entered the ranks of colleges agitating to improve the smoking rule. Three hundred and fourteen girls voted for a reconsideration of the smoking rule while one hundred and seven voted against it.

Nine hundred and fifty Dartmouth students leaving for Thanksgiving vacation withdrew $50,000 from the Dartmouth National Bank, according to a recent bank report. Then thousand dollars of the sum went toward railroad fares on the two special trains and the remainder found its way into the coffers of metropolitan amusement centers. The amount withdrawn this year was about $20,000 below that usually withdrawn by students at Thanksgiving time.

Just previous to Christmas vacation the amount usually comes to about $80,000.

Who Said Smoke?

Commander Richard E. Byrd has calculated how many cigarettes a day a man needs when the thermometer reads sixty degrees below zero! An order for 780,000 Chesterfield cigarettes has been placed on the ship of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition bound for the South Pole. Generous stocks of Fatimas, Piedmonts, Granger Rough Cut, Velvet and Star tobaccos will complete this two years' supply. One might say the men intend to use these for "eating" purposes.

TUXEDOS FOR RENT
For the Christmas Dancers
$3.00
All the accessories for sale also.
HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
LANGROCK
FINE CLOTHES
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

Students of Old Found Pitching Hay More Profitable Work Than Teaching

[illegible] college life of his day [illegible]

"College days at U. V. M. are quite different from the days of '74," he said [illegible] "Then we could make more money by [illegible] than we could at teaching. [illegible] thirty dollars a month. Consequently commencement was changed to April [illegible]

Mr. Shaw in speaking of the changes [illegible] the Medical College was [illegible] from the Academic College, although the same professors taught in each department. The Agricultural Department consisted of but one student whose work was done in the laboratory of the Old Mill.

Commenting upon the new buildings Mr. Shaw said that both the north and south wings of the Old Mill were used as dormitories. The rent of a room for the year ranged from ten to twenty-seven dollars. However everything was furnished by the student. They used kerosene lamps, the only gas lamps being in the recitation rooms.

Where Science Hall now stands there was once a red brick building. On the first floor of this building was a museum. On the second floor was the library. The library was open for two hours on Wednesdays and Saturdays. Where the present library is once stood the home of Professor McKendree Petty. "And a good professor he was, too," reminisced Mr. Shaw with a chuckle. I could tell by the twinkle in his eyes that he was reminded of a humorous incident. After some persuasion he told me.

Professor Petty was our math teacher. He taught us analytical calculus. In June of our sophomore year [illegible] the examinations as decided to [illegible] and analyt. calculus. Doc Wheeler, [illegible] here in Burlington, drew a doll's face on the back of his book. The rest of us helped in dressing the [illegible] corpse. Then we [illegible] it and [illegible] it and [illegible] that assumed the task of preparing a fitting epitaph and [illegible] the following:

"Beneath this stone in sweet repose
[illegible]
Sleeps poor Calculus—
[illegible] of the Loomis Cuss.
[illegible] passed the life of shame and sin.
Though buried they will rise again;
Lament oh, coming Sophomore,
They are not dead but gone before."

"Another great prank of the boys," Mr. Shaw continued, "was to freeze the clapper of the chapel bell." On Sunday mornings the bell sounded at six o'clock, summoning all students to worship there were no excuses. On the cold mornings in winter someone would climb to the tower, turn the bell upside down and pour water into it. In a few minutes the clapper would be frozen tightly and the bell would not ring. The president, Calvin Pease, had a heavy door built, barring the way to the stairs. The next morning the bell was frozen as usual and printed in big letters on the door was, "Calvin's Folly." That entrance was known for a long time by that name.

"How about the co-eds?" I asked Mr. Shaw.

The first coed entered the University after the Christmas vacation of '72. The next year she was joined by another and the class of '76 graduated eight co-eds.

"Well, were things better or worse after the advent of the co-ed?" I inquired.

"O, I can't see that there was much difference," he answered with a smile; "things went on just the same."

Mr. Shaw was born at Jericho, Vt., but has lived most of his life in the West. When a small child his parents moved to Wisconsin and later to Illinois. He attended school in the West until he came East to attend the University of Vermont. After graduating he worked in different parts of the United States. In 1920 he came to Burlington, where he has lived since that time.

POSTPONE MEETING OF PHILOSOPHY SOCIETY

The next meeting of the John Dewey Club, psychology and philosophy club at the University, will not be held until after the holidays. The next meeting was scheduled for Tuesday evening, December 11, as meetings of the club are held regularly every two weeks during the college year, but because of the special University lecture which will be given that same evening at the gymnasium by Homer Saint Gaudens, it was decided to hold the next meeting after the holidays.

The John Dewey Club has held three meetings thus far this year at which there were speakers who addressed the members on matters of interest. Professor Gifford addressed the members at their first meeting on evolution. Assistant Dean Swift gave the second talk, speaking on the relation of mathematics to philosophy. Professor Metcalf of the psychology department spoke to the members at the last meeting on the psychological aspects of criminality.

Great interest has been aroused among the students by the John Dewey Club meetings. An average of fifty students have attended the meetings thus far. For further announcements concerning the next meeting, watch the Cynic columns.

The Carefree Existence

"I do not take life seriously because I cannot," says Katharine Brush in the January issue of College Humor. "I cannot believe that the little affairs of little people matter much, or that one need fret and sweat about them. I cannot be persuaded that duty is more important than happiness. The trouble with people who take life seriously is that they take the details so seriously. They seem to lack the ability to distinguish between what is inconsequential and what is vital. They miss most of the beauty of life. The sunsets, for watching out for puddles in the road. The feel of the wind for worrying lest it blow a shutter loose.

"People who take life seriously work harder and longer than those who do not, but I wonder if they really get more done. They are likely to be plodders, whereas most of the really spectacular work of the world is done in spurts, by temperamental, holiday-loving madmen. I am not belittling the accomplishments of the conscientious ones. They are the backbone and the ballast of the world. It would be impossible to imagine a world without them. But it has always seemed to me that in the game of living, their function is somewhat that of the football player who lies on the turf and steadies the ball with his hands while someone else, someone with his chin held high and his arms spread wide, kicks it across the bar to glory.

"People who take life seriously take marriage seriously. I'm inclined to believe that marriages taken lightly are more liable to last; chains worn loose are not so irksome. To take marriage seriously is to expect too much of it. We do better to realize that the institution is man-made, not divine, that husbands and wives are human beings, not angels.

"People who take life seriously believe that it is important to check over their bank statements, to retire early and rise early, to remember, in telling an anecdote, whether it happened on Tuesday or Wednesday. To my mind, these things are pitifully unimportant, even silly. Who cares whether it happened on Tuesday or Wednesday. Why should anyone check over bank statements? The bank is always right and can prove it. As for early rising and early retiring, the first is not bad if it follows the second, but the second is impossible. Most of the really exciting people I have ever known I have known after ten o'clock in the evening. And most of the really dramatic things I have seen I've seen by artificial light. The mask of humanity slips a little at night, as at no other time. In the daytime we are all blasé.

"To live the moment joyously—surely this is wisdom. To feel that the world is grand and glamorous and lovely and existence in it a thrill to be thankful for."

PERPLEXING

I love Jack and he loves Mae,
But she is all for Roy,
He wants Kay, who will not play
With him 'cause Bobs her boy.

Bob likes Louise, who's hard to please
For she's the girl for Lee;
But that can't be as you can see
'Cause he's in love with me.

—Notre Dame Juggler.

NOTICE!!

A meeting of Eta Sigma Phi will be held at 34 South College at 8.00 o'clock Tuesday. After the formal meeting an "Ask-Me-Another" contest will take place.

MILITARY NEWS

Captain Lauer is calling for candidates for the Rifle Team. Sharpshooters, both members and non-members of last year's varsity who wish to try out for the team should see the Captain at once at the Commandant's office. The organization of the squad, which will go on between now and Christmas vacation, will include preliminary practice. Manager Wardwell has been working on an extensive schedule, and, to date, has twenty-four matches listed with teams in all sections of the country. These matches will be fired during the months of February, March, and April, the first matches coming in the week of February 9. During this first week there will be matches with DePauw University, Mississippi Agricultural College, Rhode Island State College, and Washington State College. Vermont's team will, of course, fire their shots on the home range under supervision and then telegraph the results to the contending college.

The Freshmen who are eligible for this team will be selected by Captain Lauer, after he has examined the scores made during all the preliminary firing. This firing began last Wednesday and will continue until the Christmas holidays. Several good scores on the first two targets have already been turned in. All shots on the first target were made in a prone position, the second was five prone and five sitting, the third was sitting and kneeling, and the fourth will be kneeling and standing.

About twenty-one Seniors are enrolled in the class of equitation which was made possible by the courtesy of the Commandant of Fort Ethan Allen. The Seniors, who are progressing finely, meet every Sunday morning at nine o'clock in the riding hall at the Fort.

What to Give a Man for Christmas

Many gifts are suggested in the January College Humor. The ordinary cigarette seems a thousand times more luxurious when drawn from a good looking case. Three especially interesting ones are imported with the design inlaid. One would be very acceptable to any undergraduate who has spent his summers in Paris, as it shows one of the famous comfort stations which dot the city streets. Another shows a newspaper kiosk where one can buy newspapers and magazines. Another has a college seal.

The old type of white silk scarf with black polka dots for wear at gay nocturnal events is being outdone in smartness by newer types, especially the plain white silk with cut out monogram.

Jeweled studs are coming into favor and make an appreciated gift. A great many of the American college men are wearing collar pins now and these, too, come in a great variety.

Happiness is one of the better things of life which usually comes as a by-product of activities directed towards other ends.

17 say "Merry Xmas" with same Gift

Evanston, Ill.
Dec. 31, 1927

Larus & Bro. Co.
Richmond, Va.
Dear Sirs:

I happen to be blest with a host of very fine friends, mostly "highbrows"—professors, scientists, etc. Generally at Christmas time they show their remembrance and all that with some little gift—a box of cigars, fishing tackle, a book—all that sort of thing.

Well, this Christmas many seemed to centre on tobacco. Now, mark you, these fellows have no communication with each other. They live in widely separated parts of the country, so it was no "put-up" joke on me or anything like that. But here came seventeen boxes of tobacco, and sixteen of them the familiar blue "Edgeworth!" The seventeenth was a very flossy walnut, brass-trimmed box, but if I know tobacco the contents were Edgeworth with a little perique in it.

Just coincidence, perhaps, but a queer one. Am not an habitual smoker of Edgeworth, so they weren't catering to any especial taste of mine. Looks like a consensus of opinion among the "highbrows"—or quite a batch of 'em—that Edgeworth is the stuff, the proper caper for a gift.

Sincerely yours,
F. A. Fitzpatrick

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

HARVARD UNIVERSITY SUCCUMBS TO MOVIES

Moving picture industry has at last invaded the sacred precincts of Harvard University, but instead of pictures which feature the palpitating heroine cheering the local gridiron hero on to victory, the more serious aspects of education and research are to be subjected to the camera's eye.

Through the University Film Foundation, Inc., recently organized for this purpose, all sorts of educational pictures, intended primarily for exhibition at various schools and colleges as aids to teaching, will be produced. The Foundation has already produced a two-reel film on present day Harvard, showing its grounds, buildings, the work of its classes and its athletic life.

The University Film Foundation is unique in the field of American education. Occasional films have been made on educational subjects, but there has never been a sustained effort to continue such work on a large scale. The object of the Foundation is to operate, in connection with Harvard University, a completely equipped center where films and photographs of educational and scientific value may be produced.

The officials of the Foundation propose to use the moving camera to aid in the study of botany, zoology, fine arts, industrial management and various other fields of educational endeavor.

Young scientists in many departments at Harvard are being trained in the mechanics of the motion picture technique. This training will enable them to approach their work from a new angle, that is, through the eye of the camera. The slow motion picture camera will be used in much of this work.

Phi Bete Drinking Club

"Mystery and secrecy is dear to the youthful mind," says De Lysle Ferree Cass in an article on the history of early secret organizations in the January College Humor. "Hence the many secret societies in steadily increasing numbers throughout the country. After the early class and debating societies came Phi Beta Kappa, organized in 1776 with aims that were purely social. The Yale chapter was installed as a select debating society, with initiation suppers where the juice of Bacchus flows."

"Bill was expelled from school."
"Too bad! Why?"
"In the engineering exam he surveyed his neighbor's paper."
—Wet Hen.

PROPOSED ALTERATIONS FOR CONSTITUTION OF CO-ED GOVERNING BOD

Women Will Meet Monday Evening to Discuss Changes—Consider Adoption of Student Union Pledge

A revised constitution [illegible] lucid interpretation [illegible] modeled after the best [illegible] dent government, con[illegible] universities of the [illegible] presented for approval [illegible] before the Woman's [illegible] Monday evening in the [illegible]

Questionnaires were [illegible] Tuesday among the [illegible] town girls, which called [illegible] opinions about proposed [illegible] the present constitution and [illegible] novations as a Student [illegible] and a formal installation of of[illegible] The committee which is [illegible] constitution will base [illegible] work upon the information [illegible] from the questionnaires. Ma[illegible] Backus, Lucy Morgan, Margare[illegible] rick and Janice Goodrich [illegible] committee. Catherine Bassett, [illegible] dent of Student Union, will pre[illegible] the meeting.

The entertainment will be arran[illegible] by Marion Everest, who holds the [illegible] fice of chairman of the program [illegible] mittee. The meeting will probably [illegible] addressed by one of Burlington's [illegible] ness men or women on the subject [illegible] vocations. Dancing and refreshme[illegible] will follow.

The first mass meeting was a H[illegible] lowe'en party and it was attended [illegible] some three hundred women. This [illegible] cember meeting will be a Christ[illegible] party and will begin promptly at [illegible] o'clock.

The day broke with a resound[illegible] snap. The sun arose like a fraterni[illegible] man for his eight o'clock class. [illegible] great day had begun. It was a gr[illegible] day for Oswald. Oswald is our h[illegible] and today was to be unforgettable [illegible] it was his first start on the gridi[illegible] for his Alma Mater. The game be[illegible] How proud was he when through [illegible] cheering throng he seemed to hear [illegible] voice cheering him on to victory. [illegible] last the supreme moment, his chan[illegible] arrived and all eyes of the multitu[illegible] were dazzled with the speed and gr[illegible] that he showed as he pulled the h[illegible] drum for the college band.

—Ga. Tech. Yellow Jacke

Avoid the Dormitory Blues

THEY are easily contracted if you have to spend most of your time in your room grinding away at long reports and theses.

Speed things up! Get a Remington Portable to do your writing. It will effect a remarkable saving of writing time—to say nothing of the greater neatness and legibility of typewritten matter. Chances are, that means better marks, too.

Remington Portable is the smallest, lightest, most compact and most dependable standard keyboard portable. Weighs only 8½ pounds, net; carrying case only 4 inches high.

Monthly payments, if desired.

Remington Portable

W. G. SHERMAN
104 Church Street
Burlington, Vt.

REMINGTON RAND
BUSINESS SERVICE, INC
162 College Street
Burlington, Vt.

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VT., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1928 — NUMBER 25

OUTING CLUB WILL AID WINTER SPORTS

Physical Education Department to Give Snowshoeing and Skiing as Electives—Best Men Entered in Local Sports Meets

UNIVERSITY DONATES MONEY FOR PURPOSE

[illegible] men students at the Univer[illegible] especially urged to bring their [illegible] and skiis along with them [illegible] return to college after the [illegible] recess. The Outing Club is [illegible] hold hikes, the physical edu[illegible] department is going to offer a [illegible]rse in snowshoeing and ski[illegible] which may be chosen as a physical [illegible] elective and opportunity will [illegible] to everyone to become a [illegible] of the winter sports team [illegible] will take part in intercollegiate [illegible].

The intercollegiate events in which [illegible] team will participate are as fol[illegible]: The Green Mountain Confer[illegible] the Vermont College Meet at [illegible]and on February 2 and 3; the [illegible]mouth Winter Carnival on Febru[illegible] 7 and 8; the New England College [illegible] at Bellows Falls on February 15 [illegible]16; the Intercollegiate Winter [illegible]orts Union at Lake Placid on Feb[illegible]ary 25 and 26.

The physical training instruction [illegible] will be offered by the physical [illegible]ation department in snowshoeing [illegible]skiing will cover the following: [illegible] and snowshoe cross-country, ski [illegible] snowshoe dashes, ski proficiency [illegible]down racing), fundamentals in ski [illegible]ping, and the proper type, use, [illegible]care of equipment. Arrangements [illegible] being made for the use of the [illegible]ow rink for practice in speed skat[illegible] and it is very likely that this will [illegible]e a physical training elective.

The regular annual inter-fraternity [illegible] will be held as usual and the [illegible]al events run off. The inter-frater[illegible]meet will last through two days. [illegible]lication is being made by the [illegible]ing Club to the Athletic Council [illegible] permission to award letters, sWe[illegible]ter a merit system similar to that [illegible]ed in track. Permission to award [illegible]s in this sport should prove to [illegible]an incentive to those to try out [illegible] these winter sports activities who [illegible]e like to win their letters in this [illegible].

The officers of the Outing Club in [illegible]ge of the winter sports activities [illegible]R. M. Bragg, president of the club, [illegible]Lewis, vice-president, A. W. Phelon, [illegible]ecretary, treasurer, C. S. Buxton and [illegible]J. Maynes, team managers, and [illegible]A. Germaine, in charge of publicity. [illegible]As the Outing Club is able to carry [illegible] these activities through a special [illegible]appropriation of money from the Uni[illegible]ty, all the men students of the [illegible]versity should take advantage of [illegible]e opportunity opened to them to en[illegible]e winter sports and cooperate to [illegible]ke them a successful completion. [illegible]e hikes alone should be ample [illegible] why all the students should [illegible] their snowshoes and skiis back [illegible] them to college when they return [illegible]er the Christmas holidays, but that [illegible] sports team is to be selected [illegible] will take part in five important [illegible]ntercollegiate winter sports events [illegible]s one an excuse to leave their [illegible]es or skiis back home.

EARLY HOCKEY GAMES FOR NORWICH SEXTET

[illegible]y got away to an early start [illegible] when the cadets met M. I. T. [illegible] at the new Boston Garden. [illegible] they meet Brown at Provi[illegible]. The squad which left North[illegible]ay night is coached by Gerald [illegible]mer Norwich athlete, and in[illegible]Youngerman. Mann, Barney, [illegible]wines; Horwin, Graham, [illegible]Bugbee, defense; Waining, [illegible] and Fullerton, goalie. The [illegible]d its first ice practice Satur[illegible]Boston and will have a big [illegible] Vermont when these two [illegible].

[illegible] minutes of organized yelling [illegible]e taking the final exams is [illegible]e student traditions at the [illegible]y of Texas.

"Jim" Puffer

Recently appointed as assistant Kake Walk director

INVASION OF BIG GREEN SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Will Tussle With Vermont Quintet in First of Two-game Series —Catamounts Appear in a Slump

Wednesday night will see the contest between the Green and Gold and the Dartmouth quintet in the University Gym. The Catamounts have pulled through two contests on the winning side, but the victory Saturday was mainly luck. Perhaps they thought that all Canadian teams were poor, but they lost that idea early in the first half.

The Vermonters seemed to have taken a slump, judging from their performance Saturday night. Evidently they cannot break out of a defense fast enough to get the ball down the floor before the opposition has its own defense formed. Their passing game is away off. Passes that should have been accurate either went wild, or passed through the hands of the receiver. The Cats couldn't seem to find the basket. They sent shot after shot toward the loop but they either missed it altogether or rolled around it and bounced out. Halligan is not up to his old form, and at times he can't seem to locate the hoop.

Where the Green and Gold shines is on the defense. They have discarded the five-man defense in favor of the man to man system and it seems to have been a change for the better for each individual is right on top of his man every second and there are few openings for clean shots.

The big Green is coming over from Dartmouth with a strong five. Several of their men are stars of the first water. Captain Spaeth is a fast guard and is going to give his man a good run for his money. Lewin, who will occupy the center position is one of the best centers in this part of the country. Vassler and Swarthout are both accurate shots as well as good defense men. Austin will probably hold down the other back court position as Spaeth's running mate.

It had been the intention of the Graduate Manager to have two officials at the game. Couture and Forbes, but Couture unfortunately is ill, and it is not known whether he will be able to be present or not.

The probable lineups are as follows:

VERMONT		DARTMOUTH
Halligan	l. f.	Swarthout
Wallace	r. f.	Vassler
Sargent	c.	Lewin
Estabrook	r. g.	Austin
Manning	l. g.	Spaeth

ST. THOMAS BEATS DARTMOUTH, 43-34, SATURDAY

Dartmouth defeated McGill 51 to 28 last Friday but has lost its two other games. Providence won from the Green 36 to 34 and St. Thomas won 43 to 34 Saturday. It'll be pretty hard to pick the winner tomorrow night, because comparative McGill game scores should be no criterion.

BLUESTOCKINGS ELECT MANY TO MEMBERSHIP

New members were elected to Bluestockings at a meeting held December 14 at 3 North College. The following girls made the club on the merits of their papers: Gladys Kone '29, Edna Shaw '29, Harriet Howard '30, Margaret Rice '31, Winona Spencer '31, and Elizabeth Hollis '32.

The new members of the Cynic Board were also made members of Bluestockings. They are: Cornelia Mould '30, Belle Church '30, Pauline Burridge '30, Hope Ranslow '32, and Margaret Martin '32.

There was a large attendance at the meeting, and an equally large attendance is expected at the next meeting, which will be at the Kappa Alpha Theta house, Friday, January 4, at 7:30. This meeting will be a party to welcome the new members and there will be a program arranged by the Program Committee.

CHOIR SINGS PROGRAM OF CHRISTMAS CAROLS

To the joyful swelling strains of Bach's In dulci jubilo, the Christmas Concert opened in the Ira Allen Chapel, Sunday afternoon, before a capacity audience. The University choir was assisted in the presentation of the program by members of the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs and a student instrumental ensemble. The entire program was directed by Professor Howard G. Bennett, with Miss Miriam N. Marston, organist. The Reverend Isaac C. Smart, D.D., pastor of the College Street Congregational Church, read from the Scriptures.

The processional hymn was the old but ever new Adeste fideles, sung with a charming dignity as the black-robed carolers entered the Chapel and proceeded down the aisle to the stage.

The program might be analyzed into four groups of songs. Among the first pieces was the slow, majestic carol, From Heaven Above to Earth I Come, the composition of which is accredited to Martin Luther; and Lo, how a Rose e'er Blooming, from the German, a quiet hymn, the beauty being in the perfect harmony in which it was rendered. The German fourteenth century melody In dulci jubilo, which was sung with a lilt and swing by the entire group was gayer than the preceding numbers, and marked the transition to the group of four old English carols.

In the first of these carols, A Babe is Born, the solo part was taken by Eleanor Koenig, soprano. Miss Marion Baldwin, contralto, and Roger Allbee, tenor, sang the solo verses of the second carol, Now Let Us Sing; and Miss Baldwin sang also the solo of Jesu Tib Virgine, the third number of the group. Miss Matilla Putnam, soprano, Homer Goddard, baritone, and Harrison Goddard, bass, took the burden of Salvator Mundi Natus Est.

Four Handel numbers were introduced by the Pastoral Symphony, from the Messiah, played by the instrumental ensemble. Violinists were Miss Julia Waterman and Robert Merikangas, flutists, Robert Jenks and Richard Cowles, and violoncellist Glenn Aiken. Solo parts of the Handel group were taken by Misses Hazel D. Ladd and Dorothy Fowler, whose strong soprano voices are always distinctive features of the chapel concerts.

Mrs. Howard G. Bennett (Elsa Koenneke) is the composer of the beautiful hymn rendered by the Women's Glee Club, Gloria in excelsis Deo, whose melody was an epitome of the spiritual nature of Christmas.

One of the most delightful pieces was the lively rhythmic carol of Oxford University, the Boar's Head Carol sung by the Men's Glee Club.

The program ended with the more familiar Christmas hymns, such as Silent Night by Gruber and Mendelssohn's Hark, the Herald Angels Sing.

The usual finished artistry characterized the singing from processional through recessional and confirmed the general consensus of opinion that the Annual Christmas Concert is one of the most noteworthy achievements of the entire year.

At a Boston University it was announced that the average amount a student of that institution carried with him is twenty-two cents.

Varsity Scores Narrow Win Over McGill In Extra Period

Scarlet Clad Canadian Team Ties Catamounts Making Overtime Period Necessary—Vermont Winning 28-26

"Sam" Hawley

Co-assistant director of Kake Walk and will become director with Puffer next year

ARIEL EDITOR ASKS FOR STUDENT COOPERATION

Upperclassmen Must Hand in Material for Year Book Before Christmas Recess, That Work May Go Forward During Holidays

E. H. Powell, editor of the 1930 Ariel issues the following warning and instructions to members of the two upper classes.

All Junior photographs, snapshots and questionnaires must be in before vacation. It is still more important to have all the Senior questionnaires in. The first part of the book is to be made up during the vacation, and anyone who does not have his material in is in danger of being left out. If the photograph has not yet been taken go down this week and have it taken and instruct the photographer to make up a glossy print which will be called for. In this way it will not be necessary for you to send to the prints yourself. Any photographer will get the proof out right away so that you can make your selection. If the photographer is unwilling to give you this service go elsewhere as it is essential to have the picture. The same method should be used in case of snapshots. Take them to Wood's to be developed and tell them that a representative of the Ariel will call for them. In this way you can clean everything up in about an hour and have nothing left to worry about. Don't waste any time but do it immediately.

The class pictures which were taken Saturday were very successful, and will add to the value of the book immensely as well as be more satisfactory to those who purchase them. The Ariel board wishes to express its appreciation of what the administration, the faculty, and the classes have done to make these pictures possible.

The group photographs which were taken by White are to be sent to the printers some time this week. If any group is to have its picture retaken it should notify the editor immediately. These pictures should be taken as soon as possible. Every group photograph which possibly could have been taken before Thanksgiving should have been, so that it is absolutely imperative that they be taken at the earliest possible moment. The engravers are clamoring for material. Much better cuts will result if the material is sent in now when they are not rushed to death. Every organization which has not yet had its picture

(Continued on page 3)

VISITORS PLAY CONTEST WITH NO SUBSTITUTES

In a very thrilling but poorly played game which necessitated an overtime period the Catamount quintet defeated McGill University, 28 to 26, Saturday evening at the U. V. M. gym.

The Canadian aggregation deserves unlimited praise for the determination and fight it displayed in playing the entire game with the same five men and turning in such a commendable showing. The team had been defeated Friday night by Dartmouth and one man received a sprained shoulder in that game. The three substitutes which the team carried took sick at Hanover and, as a result, five battered men came to Burlington did more than could have been expected of them.

Disappointing to Fans

From a Vermont standpoint the game was a disappointment because the Green and Gold was expected to come through with an easy victory. The passing of the team can be blamed primarily for the poor showing. The McGill team had three six-footers who were all over the floor and time and time again the Vermont passes were shot into their hands. These three men, Young, Grossman and Faulkner, did all the scoring for the visitors. Young, the center, was especially good. He broke up many Vermont plays and took the ball off the backboard consistently. Fagunbaum and Silverman did a good job on the defense and held their men to a single floor goal each. Manning was the only Vermont man who played up to form. He gave a repetition of last week's demonstration of dribbling and shooting. By scoring eleven points he ran his two game total up to 28, which is remarkable for a guard. In the overtime period Wallace scored his only twin counter and those two points proved to be the winners. It was a spectacular shot which Wallace shot over his head from a corner of court and brought the crowd to their feet.

Manning opened the game by scoring a foul shot. It was nip and tuck for about ten minutes with one team forging ahead and then the other. The score was tied at 7 to 7 when Wallace scored a foul and Halligan made it 10 to 7 with a beautiful long toss. Manning made two step shots to Young's three points and McGill called time out with the score 15 to 10. The Canadians came back strong and were within two points of tying Vermont again when the half ended with the count 16 to 14. Manning scored a basket right off the reel at the start of the second half and was followed by Sargent, twice.

Game a Tie

The fans expected a runaway at this point but Grossman came through with a step shot and three men trying to guard him. Faulkner scored in a similar play and Grossman again counted. The score at this point was 22 to 21 in favor of Vermont with a minute to play. The crowd was yelling for just one more basket. The Montreal team control the ball from long shots to close under the basket playing during the intermission he Cats the halves and the Cats could do nothing against the tall visitors. Sargent scored a free try and Grossman tied the score just before the final gun was shot.

Overtime Period

Estabrook and Wallace returned to the line-up for the overtime and at the start Manning was ejected on personal fouls. McGill made the try count, but Halligan immediately knotted the count again. Palmer who had replaced Manning made a free try good, but Faulkner took it away from under his own basket and tossed it in, giving his team a one point lead 26 to 25. It was at this stage that Wallace came through with his win

(Continued on page 4)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

[illegible] Clayton, '29 — Herrick M. Macomber, '29 — Arthur D. Stearns, '29

Mark Turner, '29

Associate Editors
[illegible] E. Eager, '29
Mary A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Mino A. Martinetti, '29

Feature Editor
George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
[illegible] Vanbenschoten, '30

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Clam, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Warren H. Burr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor
[illegible] Hendon, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

[illegible] Goodrich, '30
[illegible] Lyndale, '30
[illegible] Marsham, '30
[illegible] Greenman, '30
[illegible] E. Brush, '31
[illegible] J. Stewart, '31
[illegible] A. B. Germain, '31

[illegible] J. Simons, '30
[illegible] C. Simons, '30
[illegible] Simons, '31
[illegible] Simons, '31
[illegible] M. Simons, '31
[illegible] S. Sweetser, '31
Pauline Hardidge, '30

Rose Church, '30
Constance Mason, '30
Margaret Ann Marvin, '31
[illegible] Rogers, '31
Paul F. [illegible], '32
[illegible] Simons, '32
[illegible] Bevan, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

[illegible] C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur B. Hirshard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Marion B. Jenks, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Munro, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Vincent C. Duffer, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be left at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2665 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday evenings. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House. All matter correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Entered for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — December 18, 1928 — No. 25

UNIVERSITY COURSES IN 1500

Martin Luther attended college at Erfurt in 1501 he was [illegible] at Erfurt's logic, [illegible] Germani, grammar, rhetoric, philosophy, ethics and metaphysics. What a drab, narrow course for a modern student to take! No science, little language, no courses in economics or political science. At some universities one might dabble in a few modern studies but no standard study was accepted over a wide area. Medicine was taught, but doctors and witches were closely associated in that period.

Transfer a student of the sixteenth century to the twentieth century. Nearly every course would prove a source of amazement and confusion. Imagine how such a student would accept the Einstein Theory or Darwin's Evolution. Political Science so varied, the maze of organic chemistry, medicine that cures and prevents, would all puzzle such a student.

What a great a variation in four hundred years? Four hundred years before 1500, in Europe, little change could have been noticed. Will the next 400 years prove as fertile to the progress of learning?

Men fostering advancement must not only have brains but be able to get them. When they have original ideas they expand them and carry them to successful conclusions. They "carry the message to Garcia" as Elbert Hubbard would have it.

Shall the present generation add to learning or detract? Today more students attend college than ever before. The results will not be available for at least a score of years. A better civilization will mean even more popular learning; retarding civilization may mean reverting to culture as pictured by Rousseau.

It was rather too bad Key and Serpent didn't use their money collected from the students to buy fourteen instead of thirteen blankets. We know of one man who has not missed a great many practices in two years who was good enough to stay on the squad and spent his time helping to play. He didn't make his letter, but the fact he stayed out and took a beating every night playing against the varsity and used by them only as a means to an end should mean something. Here is a hero unheralded and unsung. He didn't see his name in black headlines, he didn't hear his name at the end of a Vermont yell, but he did make it possible for others to have those honors.

The Cynic would like to see him get a blanket.

To the Editor of the Cynic:

That the class spirit of the Frosh is decreasing we are beginning to realize more and more. Last Tuesday the class of '32 had a meeting, the purpose of which was to formulate a plan of enforcing the traditional rules. It was a farce, to say the most—and what a ridiculous comedy at that! About thirty or forty Freshmen attended. President Edward Newcomb tried hard to get the attention of his classmates, but in vain. Some laughed, others looked funny, and still others did not seem to care what happened. Furthermore, the president proved to be the only one serious about the matter. Finally, he made a suggestion that a motion be made to the effect that each one present be appointed a committee of one to see that the rules were enforced. Like children, they put it into a motion and passed it—not knowing what they were doing—and not caring either.

A few days passed. The number of Frosh caps is becoming smaller—and there is hardly a Freshman who carries out the other rules, which are very lenient in character. Freshmen still think that they are the privileged group and a very important group at that.

Just what is going to happen? Will this be the end of one of our oldest customs? Surely these Freshmen will not think of enforcing the regulations next year, not having carried them out themselves. Something must be done about it.

H. D. G.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

OUR HUMOROUS PUBLIC

Bob Willard and Jimmie Howard [illegible] as Wilson and Huneford, (Acrobatics and Feats of Agility) sat in their tiny dressing room in the Palace Theatre in Pittsburgh. Just the ordinary Class B circuit theatre, catering to shopworkers, clerks, housewives,—the usual type of movie and [illegible] found in practically every city in the country.

Bob held a telegram in one hand and tunelessly whistled the air of the entrance march for their act.

"Tough. Thought we were doing fairly well. They never clap much for acrobatic turns anyway. Jim. Gosh! I thought we'd get at least twenty five weeks more at it."

"I don't quite get the line of advice they threw our way: do you, Bob?"

"I think so. He says unless you're a headliner, they don't care to see serious feats of strength and balance and all that. The public is fed up on it. He says they want to see some clowning, mix the two together. Get me?"

"Yes, that's the sort of stuff Robinson and Pallut pull, something hard, made not to look so hard as funny. And we planned to do straight stuff and practice till we got somewhere. It sort of makes you feel— well, what are we going to do about it, Bob?"

"He tips us off that there'll be an agent in the crowd tonight. It's make or break. We can't let it be break time; we got to think up something funny."

"Well then, first of all we'll have to shed our 'tux' and get some clown costumes. We can buy some down at Feignbaum's on Brook Street. Then we'll change some of our tap steps to the ones we practiced last week—you know, the ones Crawford showed us in Philadelphia. I'll tell the boys in the pit and they'll take it slower and accent a little so it'll fit right in. What else?"

"Gosh! If we only had time to practice something. Say, here's a peach! You know where I hit the springboard and the steel spring underneath throws me up, and I take a somersault and land sitting up in the big armchair that you hold on your shoulders? Well, instead of taking a complete somersault and sitting down, I'll go flying through the air, sprawling-like; like a frog, and I'll dive into the chair, letting my hands catch on the sides and bracing myself that way so that my head won't hit the bottom."

Bob looked dubious. "Sounds good."

"I'm sure I can do it. It's just like having a fellow catch you in the flying leap from the springboard. You grab his hands and he balances you. Only here, I'll grab the sides of the chair."

"You sure you can do it?"

"Sure I am. If they want clowning we'll give it to 'em. We got to keep going. Let's get a move on and go after the costumes."

"We do look funny in these," conceded Bob that evening as they dressed for their act. "I think we'll make a hit."

"They don't feel natural, though. I don't like these wide, overblousing sleeves; they ball up my fingers when I hold my arms down. I guess I better get some rubber bands. Hey, Bud, got any ——— oh, for the love of Mike, there's the bell!"

The glare of foot and spot lights, the blare of a lively tune, and two athletes dressed as clowns dashed out from the wings and proceeded to "tap 'em out" in a well-executed, but not particularly funny, manner. Stray, half-hearted applause greeted their effort and Jimmie muttered:

"We've got to put the big one over!"

They went through a few preliminary stunts—some clever balancing, rapid turns—all good acrobatic work, but not new enough to be outstanding. Then Bob stepped to the front of the stage and in the approved slightly-accented stage voice so commonly adopted by mediocre performers "to lend class to their acts" announced:

"Ladies and gentlemen. It gives me great pleasure to present to you for the first time before any audience our own conception of the Springboard and Chair Feat. Watch it!"

The audience hushes expectantly. Bob does Leon Errol's "Broken Knee" stunt with the armchair on his shoulders. He's really comical, and the crowd is laughing good naturedly at the way in which both men "set" themselves for the stunt, only to find some little thing which halts the feature. They are laughing steadily at the way in which Jimmie takes out a lengthy tape measure and gets down on his hands and knees to measure the exact distance from Bob to the board.

Finally—"Ready?" "Hip!" Jimmie runs forward, leaps upward, slaps the board smartly and is hurled into the air—all arms and legs. The people roar their approval as he dives into the chair. They have not seen that the fingers of his right hand have caught in the drape of his sleeve. They have not noticed how crumpled was the heap in the armchair as the curtain crashed quickly to the stage. They do not know that an elderly physician is shaking his head dubiously in a tiny dressing room and that an ambulance is dashing down the street.

But in the sixth row, middle—"Oh, Jane, wasn't that the funniest thing you ever saw in your life? I thought I'd die laughing!"

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. VILLIUS VALTRO

I. I am not kicking—no—far be it from me—but the following little incident which I am about to relate does seem a bit distressing.

I happened one time to pick up a volume of Poe's works and, by merest chance, to read a story wherein he satirized the taste of editors. His hero had copied part of one of Milton's poems, part of a translation of Homer by another great English poet and had sent them to different magazine editors. Every one of them was turned down with such comments as, "Some poor fool has sent us the sorriest mess of trashy poetry that it has ever been my misfortune to behold." "It is horribly artificial, utterly incomprehensible and full of amusing paradoxes."

Then another incident came to my notice. The president of a certain great eastern university, in expressing his condemnation of the system of marks at college, said that once when he was feeling dissatisfied with his English marks he had copied an essay by one of the greatest of modern writers.

When he got his paper back he found he had received a "C" on it along with comment about lack of life, forced expression, etc.

And so, I took a poem of Shelley's and a piece of description from one of Conrad's novels, changed them slightly and added a few lines of my own.

Imagine my gratification, when the paper was returned, to find a "C" on it.

Now I ask you, friends, if Shelley and Conrad can get only "C," what can I get alone?

II. The only explanation I can think of is that, although I have always admired Conrad's prose and Shelley's verse, my professor does not, but admires other writers more. Perhaps if I could find what appealed to his taste I could get an "A" or a "B."

III. Mr. Nelson of the Sophomore team maintained, under cross-examination, that the primary purpose of a college education is cultural.

From a report of the annual class debate.

I have lately learned something I never knew before. Instead of studying a course, as I had supposed, to learn that subject, the idea is to study it to receive culture. Let us then found a chair of Culture, to be filled by the great Professor Noble K. Nelson, R.F.D., X.C.H., etc., which shall embody all these culturing courses in one concentrated monticulture, and leave Latin, Greek, math, French, German, chemistry, philosophy, astronomy, etc., etc., etc., to those few deluded ones who want to learn them and know them.

IV. On afterthought, the system of marking shows plainly that I was mistaken and that our colleges can not be meant to encourage learning in its real or in its higher sense. It is perfectly possible in many courses to get an "F" every day and to get an "A" on exams and tests without cramming. All that would be necessary would be to do each day's work the day after instead of the day before, naturally being helped by what was done in class, and to be a little bit careful not to show too much knowledge in class. That student would know exactly as much about the course at the end of the year as the student who received "A's" regularly.

How to Celebrate

From a college publication, we see that the Easterners just don't know how to celebrate. We read, "Revelry by football fans in the rooms of the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, after the Stanford-University of Southern California gridiron battle resulted in thousands of dollars in damages. Arm chairs, mirrors, and other equipment were broken and tossed from the windows. To work on the exterior appearances as well as the interior, plants and shrubbery were uprooted. Even paper bags filled with water were used in the celebration."

A Faculty Club meeting was held last Saturday evening at the Klifa Club. Professor Ernest Bryant of Middlebury College was the speaker of the evening, his subject being, "Chasing the Solar Eclipse in Norway." He showed some interesting pictures of scenes in Norway and of the eclipse of the sun.

THE FORUM

Quixotic Puritans

Many strictures [illegible] on our State's obscurantism to persuade [illegible] the idle-rich to visit [illegible] know why. It is the [illegible] Is it any wonder [illegible] ridiculed our State [illegible] ridge-land is Vacationland, Calvin is busy all [illegible] to catch fish in an [illegible] As Dave Yorke has [illegible] situation. "It all [illegible] New England."

* * * * *

How much more [illegible] it be for the State [illegible] to desist from printing [illegible] and Boost Your State [illegible] playground of the [illegible] erland of America" [illegible] papers, and give [illegible] the home industries [illegible] estry, maple sugar, and [illegible] manufacturing industries [illegible] wretched condition [illegible] symbolized in "the [illegible] Should they even start [illegible] ufacturing industries [illegible] not the pompous plans [illegible] few as they are now [illegible] and genuine handclasps [illegible] class. For such are [illegible] late our great State to [illegible]

* * * *

The topography of Vermont [illegible] a constant challenge to [illegible] greatest manufacturing state [illegible] If the publicity fund were [illegible] the Engineering College [illegible] of scholarships to deserving [illegible] it might inspire these [illegible] conviction that our hill [illegible] nessed and our streams [illegible] them from a continued existence [illegible] that which now amounts to little [illegible] than "side-shows" in [illegible] licity bally-hoo. To those who [illegible] condemn the worthy commercialization of our scenic advantages [illegible] might refer them to the fact that [illegible] the case of the harnessing of [illegible] Falls, it was clearly demonstrated [illegible] certain locations are more attractive, both summer and winter, [illegible] sight-seers and temporary [illegible] the judicious utilization of the [illegible] mercial possibilities.

* * * * *

To a good person, there [illegible] good in everything. Even [illegible] ent publicity plans, we can [illegible] there is some good. It is [illegible] right we should extend a [illegible] come to the people from [illegible] and burning lowlands [illegible] licity lies not in this. What is condemned is that servile and [illegible] quious attitude we assume [illegible] propitiate Mammon by [illegible] contrived catch phrases. The attributes of shysters and the [illegible] not of virile Vermonters. Who [illegible] the Green Mountain Boys [illegible] Has Mammon replaced Jehovah [illegible] seems so. In this age of materialism [illegible] we have mistaken the means for the end. Let us halt and [illegible] does it profit us to [illegible] wealth, if we thereby become [illegible] enervated specimens of [illegible] citizenry.

* * * *

PAUL [illegible]

Football and "Rushing"

Mal Stevens, young [illegible] Yale football team, believes [illegible] ternity activities had [illegible] Yale's unsuccessful [illegible] Speaking at Nick Rossi's [illegible] Montclair, Stevens said [illegible] wanted to offer no alibi [illegible] that the fraternity question [illegible] of the most serious [illegible] Yale football squad.

"Fraternity activities," [illegible] Stevens, "cut heavily [illegible] during three weeks of the [illegible] were devoted to rushing [illegible] For years members of the [illegible] been complaining on the [illegible] ments of fraternity activities [illegible] lege work, but it seems [illegible] a demonstration of their [illegible] fects on football to arouse [illegible] realization that they [illegible] tailed."

It is stated that no [illegible] situation prevails at Vermont [illegible] fraternity spirit has reached [illegible] on the hill where it is [illegible] stronger than college [illegible] candidates even balk at [illegible] rooming together as most [illegible] settled comfortably at the [illegible] Rushing season comes [illegible] midst of the football season [illegible] ally just prior to the Green [illegible] Conference games. Football [illegible] of course, assets to a frat [illegible] fore fine rushing men [illegible] interferes with gridiron [illegible] during the past season [illegible] conspicuous current of [illegible] the hill. Next year, perhaps [illegible] ing season will be delayed [illegible] football.—Editorial in the Free Press.

Poise is that quality [illegible] which prevents her from [illegible] rassed on the windiest [illegible]

—A[illegible]

Society Notes

DELTA DELTA DELTA

...r of Alpha Iota chapter of ... was in town over the ...

... December 20, is the date ... Christmas party.

PI BETA PHI

...ernity Christmas party will ... Wednesday, December 19. ...ce to the contrary is given

ALPHA XI DELTA

...pter Christmas party will be ...Tuesday, December 18, rather ... Wednesday. The party will ... of the alumnae and pa... with a program for their ...ment.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

... Harbour, '27, was in town ...

...aternity Christmas party will ... at the home of Lucy Morgan. ... has not been decided upon.

... Leighton spent last week in ...ver Junction. Miss Leighton ... Boys' and Girls' Club Leader.

SIGMA GAMMA

...raternity held its Christmas ... the rooms on December 13, ...upper and a tree. There were ...joke gifts for everyone.

KAPPA DELTA

...alumnae entertained the active ... at a Christmas party Decem... at the rooms. There will be ... party with a Christmas pro... next week.

TAU EPSILON PHI

...pha Chapter of Tau Epsilon Phi ...ted the following men last Friday ...oon, Harold Broudy, '32, Brook... Mass.; Samuel A. Goldman, '32, ...n, N. Y.; Harold B. Greenfield, ...Winthrop, Mass.; Herman D. Gus... '31, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Chester C. ...man, '31, Plainville, Conn.; Joseph ... '32, Brookline, Mass.; Samuel ...Polofsky, '32, Winthrop, Mass.; ...r Schneller, '32, New York City; ...n Shuman, '32, Fitchburg, Mass.; ... Stein, '32, Hartford, Conn.

...llowing the initiation a formal ... was given by the chapter at ... Roof Garden of the Hotel Vermont ... of the initiates. Guests were ... from Theta Chapter of Boston ...ersity and Omicron Chapter of ... as well as several alumni. ... were given by Professor G. G. ... of the faculty; Robert J. Alpert, ... Morris Goldman, Med. '32; Dr. ...rold M. Levin, Med. '27; A. Gorman ... Theta, L. Coplan of Omicron, and ...rold B. Greenfield, '32.

International Relations Committee Meets

...ofessor Carroll called a meeting ... the executive committee of the In...national Relations Club at his home ... evening, December 10. Profes... Carroll outlined the plans of the ... trip. The committee decided to ... a special meeting to be held in ... North College on December 12 at ... so that the other members could ... the facts of the Oxford trip ...

Ariel Editor Asks for Student Cooperation

(Continued from page 1)

... should take the matter up at ... meeting.

... everyone in college cooper... with the board as far as possible ... getting in the necessary material, ... be absolutely impossible to ... the Ariel appear on time.

LADIES

Address envelopes at home. Spare Time. $15, $25 Weekly easy. Experience unnecessary. Dignified Work. Send 2c stamp for particulars.

MAZELLE, Dept. CS-491, Gary, Ind.

For pure sugar home-made ribbon candy call at the

BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP and CANDYLAND

HOME-MADE SPECIAL CANES TO ORDER, FROM 5c TO $2.50

With the Theatre

At the Strong

Monday and Tuesday, Tiffany Stohl Production entitled "Bachelor's Paradise." A somewhat rowdy comedy drama with a little old-fashioned pie throwing and an invigorating prize fight. Sally O'Neil appears to be the whole show. Not so bad.

At the Majestic

Wednesday and Thursday "Someone to Love" with Buddy Rogers second starring attempt quite clean and wholesome. Supported by Mariam Brian, whose feminine charm is quite apparent. A young man with honest intentions becomes the victim of a fortune hunting scheme of his associates and as a result nearly loses his sweetheart. A story of young and innocent love.

FROSH PLAY FIRST GAME WITH CHECKERBOYS

As a preliminary to the Vermont-Dartmouth basketball game tomorrow night, "Bunny" Prentice's Freshman team will take the court for the first game of the season with the Checkerboys, fast local quintet, furnishing the opposition. Coach Prentice's charges have been putting in some strenuous practice sessions, having played Coach Cayward's varsity five on various occasions and putting up some great battles.

The Freshman forecourt positions will probably go to Winant and Taft at the start of the game. Winant, star quarterback of the Freshman football team, is fast and a good shot, especially in close range. "Chet" Taft, former Essex Junction High star, needs no introduction to local supporters. The pivot position has not been decided yet, but either Bowers or Tilley, another Essex Junction star, will be sure to start. The back court will be well taken care of by Bedell and Fayette. Bedell also played on the Freshman football team and is a good guard, besides being a good shot. Fayette, former Cathedral High star, has been a member of the team participating in the annual Scholastic Tournament here for the past two years.

Coach Prentice also has some fine reserve men who will be sure to get into the game. Among these are Tupper of Exeter; Proctor, forward on the Barton Academy team, which played in the tournament here two years ago, and Mehegan, a guard.

The Checkerboys have an outfit composed of some of the best players in the city, most of whom are former members of the local high school teams. The strength of the Checkerboys can be shown by the fact that they dropped a close game last week to the Howe A. A. of Rutland, one of the best amateur teams in the State.

The game is scheduled for 7:00 P.M. The teams will probably line-up as follows:

Frosh		Checkerboys
Winant	r. f.	Whitmarsh
Taft	l. f.	Hardy, Venio
Bowers, Tilley	c.	Vosburgh
Bedell	r. g.	Niles
Fayette	l. g.	Akins

TAKE A GIFT HOME

Select a gift now for your Dad or Brother and we'll take care of the mailing

HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

ESTABLISHED 1896 QUALITY LABEL SERVICE LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES NEW HAVEN, CONN.

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

CHRISTMAS VACATIONS WILL START SATURDAY

College officially closes for the Christmas recess on Saturday, December 22, at 7.30 a.m. It will reopen at 7.30 a.m. on Thursday, January 3. In order to enable students with afternoon classes to leave the city early the classes on Friday, December 21, will be held fifty minutes in advance, that is, they will begin at 1.20 p.m. and continue until 2.10 and 3.10.

Students who have cuts in all sections either directly preceding or following the vacation, should have had their written application filed yesterday, December 17, at noon, with the dean of the college in which they are enrolled. An unexcused absence from a class on December 21, or January 3, will of course, result in the offender's being put on probation. Applications for excuses will not be considered now as the time has expired. Permission for absences from classes will only be granted to students who present important reasons. A signed statement from a prospective employer, giving date and time of day for reporting, the nature of the work, and the need of reporting ahead of time, is necessary for those students who will be employed during vacation.

Excuses will be granted by the council and the Dean of Women for men and women, respectively. Their decision can be known not later than Tuesday, December 18.

Professor and Mrs. Evan Thomas left Friday for East Orange, N. J., where they will spend the winter. They expect to return to Burlington about April 1.

Intercollegiate News

By Ouano A. Martinetti, '30

According to cobblers in the vicinity of Harvard 2,000 feet of shoe leather are worn out by students of that institution. Because of the many week-end attractions, it was said that Monday was a poor day for business the lack of funds causing this condition.

"Pest" Welch, Purdue's brilliant halfback, who won fame for himself last year by defeating Harvard in football almost single-handed is believed to be the only man who ever caught a football from a speeding airplane high in the air. The opening ceremonies for the annual Varsity Freshman football game in the Rose Ade Stadium, provided the setting for the distinctive athletic feat.

The favorable results attending this year's invasion of Japan by the University of Illinois baseball team may lead to making such a tour a once-every-three-years affair, according to University officials.

The American team won seven and tied one out of seven games played with Japanese teams.

Co-eds at Minnesota spend more than $500 weekly on chewing gum, according to campus store keepers. They state that over 10,000 packages are sold every week of which half have ... of peppermint. As many of the male students are also catching the fever, the store owners are optimistically watching the growth of chewing gum sales.

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTIONS

From the

UNIVERSITY STORES

FOR A FRIEND

A GIRL	A MAN
PIN	WATCH CHARM AND CHAIN
COMPACT	PERPETUAL CALENDAR
BRACELET	CIGARETTE LIGHTER
PENDANT AND CHAIN	CIGARETTE CASE
CORRESPONDENCE HOLDER	PAPER KNIFE
LEATHER PURSE	WATCH FOB
STATIONERY	MEMO BOOK
BRIDGE SET	PIPE TRAY
PICTURE	ASH TRAY

He united the country with nails

BEN FRANKLIN made the horseshoe nail a symbol of the importance of little things. "The kingdom was lost and all for the want of a horseshoe nail", goes one of his wise sayings. So when he became Postmaster General, he knew full well the need for proper horseshoeing as one step in punctual mail schedules.

The care given to details can still make or break a great plan. In the telephone industry, for example, the development of compact paper insulation helped to make possible the small diameter cable and therefore the vast underground plant necessary to serve large cities.

A multiplicity of details, from the testing of long fibre cotton to the "voice with the smile", offer a continual challenge to the Bell System men who unite the nation with telephones.

BELL SYSTEM

A nation-wide system of 18,500,000 inter-connecting telephones

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"

Basketball Rules Explained For Sixty State Coaches And Players

On Saturday afternoon a basketball rules interpretation meeting was held in the gymnasium. The affair was quite a success. Some sixty coaches, players and officials from all parts of the State were present. Representatives from many high school teams were among the crowd. H. A. Wright who sponsored the meeting, opened it by explaining briefly the purpose of the meeting. He then introduced Mr. Souders who spoke on the proper interpretation of rules governing the game.

Mr. Souders, an expert on the interpretation of rules was in charge of the meeting. Coaching from the floor during periods of actual play by the players was one rule which was explained. He declared that if a player who had received a foul of some sort, and the referee should have handed him one and he failed to receive it, the coach could not come on the floor and tell the player to take the foul. He explained that the referee was the only official who could call a foul. Any coach who violated this rule would be penalized by a technical foul. Mr. Souders explained that the referee and the other officials were different persons and that a coach should be penalized for such violations.

There was some difference in opinion as to the method of taking the ball out of bounds after the ball hits the official who is in the line of play. Mr. Souders explained that the referee should hand the ball to the player who is to put the ball in play. He explained that the referee should not throw the ball to the player but should hand it to him. He explained that the referee should not throw the ball to the player but should hand it to him.

A technical foul shall be declared when an opponent has his foot on or over the center line of the floor when he fails to make his attempt. If he makes his free attempt good it is disregarded. If the foul committed either on the foul line or not made good but foul attempt is then not called in which case the ball is positioned at the foul line. An intended foul attempt must be made thus avoiding having the backboard for a relay to a teammate. Leaving or stationing in the free shooter is a violation.

Flagrant unsportsmanlike conduct is punishable by expulsion from the game on a jump ball go two jumps to the nearest two participants is allowed. Perhaps the newest slant on the interpretation of the dribbler was given by Mr. Souders. If two men foul an opponent in the act of shooting two free shots are awarded only and the ball goes if he makes it. Some explanation of traveling was given. Also when a violation is committed which gives the opposite team the ball the ball should be given to the opponent at nearest as possible. Interpretation of the blocking violation was explained to some extent.

On the whole this meeting cleared up the many hazy points of basketball. The Goodman squad was used by Mr. Souders in explanation of the rules. Numerous questions came from all parts of the hall which Mr. Souders answered in a most efficient manner to the satisfaction of all present. He referred the game with McGill on Saturday evening. Here many of the points which he brought up in the afternoon came up. This meeting should become an annual event in the future.

Varsity Scores Narrow Win Over McGill in Extra Period

(Continued from page 1)

ning basket. Palmer's free try gave Vermont a two point lead.

The officiating was very satisfactory. Martin Souders handled the whistle and did a fine job. It was by using most of the many fouls which were called to good advantage that Vermont pulled through victoriously because McGill scored more goals from the floor than did Vermont.

The summary:

VERMONT

	Gls	Fls	Pts
Halligan, r. f.	1	1	3
Wallace, l. f., c.	1	3	5
Morse, l. f.	0	0	0
Sargent, c.	3	1	7
Estabrook, r. g.	0	0	0
Palmer, r. g., l. g.	0	2	2
Manning, l. g.	4	3	11
Totals	9	10	28

McGILL

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts
Grossman	4	1	9
Faulkner	4	1	9
Young	3	2	8
Fagenbaum	0	0	0
Silverman	0	0	0
Totals	11	4	26

Referee—Martin Souders
Scorer—Gray
Timer—Bolles
Time: 20-minute halves and 5 minute overtime.

Because of the large crowd expected at the game, a few changes have been made in the seating plan. The four sections in the center of the north side of the floor will be kept reserved, and no one without a check will be permitted to sit there. On the running track there will be fifty seats reserved in the center of each side. Around the ends of the track there will be one hundred fifty rush seats. This number is to be strictly limited, since a ruling has been made that no more than two hundred fifty persons may be allowed on the running track.

$3,000,000 Gift to Harvard

Harvard University has accepted a $3,000,000 gift for the purpose of splitting Harvard up into small colleges of three hundred each, after the manner of Oxford and Cambridge, though adapted properly to American conditions. This will extend the recent developments under which freshmen live by themselves and upper classmen are more on their own, freed from lectures and in closer touch with the professors.—Vassar Miscellany.

DISCRETION

The Chicago gangster's battle cry: "Don't shoot till you see the back of his neck."

The seniors of the Home Economics department are to be given a Christmas Dinner party at the Home Management House Monday night, December 17.

University Research [illegible] at Morrill Hall Tuesday at 8.00 o'clock. Dr. [illegible] be the speaker. Refreshments be served.

STRONG SEXTET WILL REPRESENT VERMONT

A strong hockey team, both offensively and defensively will represent U. V. M. on the ice this winter. Our newly appointed mentor, Ha Abramson who assisted Hank Dresser last year promises that he will be able to produce a winning sextet from the veterans returning from last season and from the present crop of raw material. It is contended that this year's hockey will not only outshine their performances but will also bring home the bacon to their Alma Mater.

Team for the squad is enjoying a strenuous practice schedule. The coach is putting his charges through some stunts at the daily at four o'clock in order to have them in tip-top shape for the initial game. This scramble for the puck will be with the Norwich Horsemen January 14 at Burlington.

The schedule this year is a heavy one in comparison with that of last year. The season extends from the second week in January until Kake Walk time. The first games on the schedule include Norwich and Middlebury members of the Green Mountain Conference who will be met twice each. One game is assigned at home and another away. A trip to Clarkson Tech is another feature of the schedule. St. Lawrence will also face us in two games. Games with Union and Providence on our new rink complete the nine-game schedule.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The next meeting of the International Relations Club will be held in [illegible] College at 4 p.m. on December 15. Reports will be given on Cuba by Edward Lasker, Argentina by Carlo Eastman, Colombia by Esther Nelson, and Nicaragua by Watson F. Morgan, Jr. All members are urged to be present. Any others wishing to attend meetings of the International Relations Club may do so. If he so desires even if he is not a member of the club.

Students enrolled in the two-year Teacher Training Course have completed their two weeks of Student Teaching in the elementary schools of Burlington and vicinity. The students attended their regular morning classes at the university and taught in their assigned schools in the afternoon under the supervision of the permanent teacher.

The Faculty Club of the University met Saturday evening, December 10 at the Kiwa Club rooms. Professor F. C. Bryant, a member of Middlebury College faculty, spoke on "Chasing the Solar Eclipse in Norway."

Seen on a freshman's paper: She sat down upon her being asked. Pickup.

EIGHTEEN MEN SURVIVE TRIALS FOR GLEE CLUB

Eighteen students have been retained after the second tryouts in the Glee Club. These men will begin strenuous practice for the New England intercollegiate glee club contest to be held in Boston about March 1. The men who survived the final cut are: H. C. Dalrymple, E. W. Davis, H. E. Goddard, D. D. C. Hazen, I. W. Hendrick, E. G. Hurlburt, M. Jenks, R. S. Jenks, H. Mattison, W. E. Morgan, Jr., W. W. Parker, R. D. Romaine, A. A. Scharbius, H. M. Sheffield, R. Towne, L. S. Walker, Jr., P. E. Westin, and A. O. Eaton, accompanist and bass. F. Bachl and L. Donahue were also accepted provisionally. Candidates who passed their first tryouts and were not present at the second, but who wish to be considered, should notify Professor H. G. Bennett immediately.

There will be an important rehearsal of the glee club tomorrow evening at 7:00 o'clock in the Music Building. The meeting will be dismissed ten minutes early for the benefit of those who wish to attend the basketball game.

GOLD KEY MEN DISCUSS PROBLEM OF USHERING

Gold Key Society held a short meeting last Friday afternoon at four o'clock in the Old Mill Chapel. The main purpose of the meeting was to discuss the ushering situation at basketball games. It seems that not enough men were present early in the evening before the Montreal game to take care of the crowd efficiently. It was decided that six men were to report at the gymnasium at 7:30 and that each others as could should arrive as soon as possible afterwards. The entire society will have to be present at the game with Dartmouth to-morrow evening, for a record crowd is expected.

The matter of the payment of the annual dues dropped up. Mayhew the treasurer quoted from the constitution the statement that all dues must be paid by the first of December. An extension of time was granted however until January 15. All dues must also be paid by that date. Any member found delinquent after that will be automatically suspended.

Unless Boulder Society unearths some information on the freshman situation within the next week, Gold Key will not meet again until after the Christmas recess.

RAND'S HOME LUNCH
64 COLCHESTER AVE.
Where you get the most of the best for the least
HOME COOKING
OUR SPECIALTY
Phone 2045

Tailoring of all kinds.
Dry Cleaning and Pressing.
O'HARA'S
170 BANK ST. PHONE 597-W

London Man Gives Cool Tip Smokers Here

London, England
30th December, 1927

Larus & Bro. Co.,
Richmond, Va.,
U. S. A.
Gentlemen:

As my Christmas present I purchased for myself a pound of your tobacco (Edgeworth) in ½ lb. flat tins. This morning on the tram I met a man with whom I am only slightly acquainted, and filling my pipe produced your tin, at which he exclaimed: "I am not a pipe smoker, but occasionally I have a try in that direction and I consider that the tobacco in your hand is the finest made."

I am in entire agreement with his statement.

Yours faithfully,
J. J. Mason

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

ESTABLISHED ENGLISH UNIVERSITY STYLES, TAILORED OVER YOUTHFUL CHARTS SOLELY FOR DISTINGUISHED SERVICE IN THE UNITED STATES.
Charter House
Suits $40, $45, $50 Overcoats

BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT
OUR STORE IS THE
Charter House
OF BURLINGTON
The character of the suits and overcoats tailored by Charter House will earn your most sincere liking.
MILES & PERRY CO.
"Quality Clothiers"
Established 1898

The best kind of Roommate

Rooming with a Remington Portable adds to the enjoyment of college life. It is always ready to help with your work. Long reports and theses can be turned out in far less time, as compared with laborious long-hand methods.

Then, too, think of the greater neatness and legibility of typewritten work! Any prof, being human, will have a tendency to give this kind of work better marks.

Remington Portable is the recognized leader in sales and popularity. Smallest, lightest, most dependable, most compact standard keyboard portable. Weighs only 8½ pounds net. Carrying case only 4 inches high.

You can buy it on easy payments.

Remington Portable
W. G. SHERMAN
104 Church Street
Burlington, Vt.
REMINGTON RAND
BUSINESS SERVICE, INC.
162 College Street
Burlington, Vt.

BILLINGS LIBRARY
University of Vermont

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 | BURLINGTON, VT., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1928 | NUMBER 26

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR 1929 ANNOUNCED

Captain Rattan and George C. Tully Retained as Grid Mentors for Next Year—New York University and Yale Are the New Opponents

NINE GAMES LISTED FOR VARSITY ELEVEN

The schedule and coaching staff for next football season has been announced by the Athletic Council of the University. The same mentors, Capt. A. V. Rattan and George C. Tully, who coached the grid team during the season just ended will be in charge of the team next year.

Although the 1928 team went through its season without a victory the choice of coaches is accepted quite generally. An allowance for the fact that this was the first year that Rattan and Tully have handled the team must be made. With the knowledge of the material that they now have they should be able to produce a winning combination. Captain Rattan received his early gridiron training at Texas and coached the Kittens for two years before taking over the varsity. Rattan is a professor of Military Science and Tactics and has been granted an extension of time from the War Department that he may serve in the capacity of coach and professor. Tully is a former Dartmouth star who made an All-American team at end two years ago.

The same colleges will be played next year with the exception of the last two games. The season will be opened against New York University at New York. For the third successive season the Catamounts will open the season of one of the Big Three. Next week the second game will be with Yale at the Bowl in New Haven. The remaining games are the same as those played this fall.

The schedule:

Sept. 28	New York Univ.	There
Oct. 5	Yale	There
Oct. 12	Boston Univ.	There
Oct. 19	Union	Here
Oct. 26	Norwich	There
Nov. 2	Conn. Aggies	There
Nov. 9	Rensselaer	Here
Nov. 16	Middlebury	Here
Nov. 21	Springfield	There

NEWS IN BRIEF

Kentonites enjoyed a Christmas party Tuesday evening in the parlors of the dormitory. Joke gifts were exchanged. Dean Patterson, Miss Stetson, Mrs. Ida Holliday, house mother and every girl resident of Fletcher were present.

Tuesday evening Grassmount girls were entertained at a party in the spirit of the Christmas season. Entertainment consisted of progressive games and a tinsel-hung tree decorated with joke presents. Mrs. Stetson, house mother at Grassmount conducted the candy and favors. Refreshments were served.

Three more matches have been announced by the manager of the Women's Debate Team. On February 16, tarbell will be fired for the University of Cincinnati and the University of Missouri while the University of Missouri will furnish competition on March 16.

Miss Elizabeth Colburn, art instructor, addressed the Woman's Club at Burlington Monday evening on Art for the Home. Miss Colburn is the art chairman of the Vermont Federation of Women's Clubs.

Professor Louis D. Meredith of the department of economics, spoke at the Ethan Allen Club, Saturday evening. His subject was "Timber."

NOTICES

Will be found on page four under a general head and will appear there in the future.

HOME ECONOMIC SENIORS HOLD FIRESIDE SUPPER

Seniors enrolled in Home Economics were entertained by Miss Bertha M. Terrill and Miss Alice Blundell Monday evening at a fireside supper. Two tiers of burning candles in every window of Practice House facing on Summit Street created a charming spectacle from without, and the warmth of hospitality they betokened was duly found within the mansion. The balustrades of the staircase were wound with evergreen and red ribbons. Pink roses were given as favors to each girl present. Following supper, Christmas carols were sung.

The guests were: Miss Bailey, Marion Backus, Laura Bingham, Elizabeth Brown, Margaret Corbin, Lois Fiske, Lucene Little, Oreana Merriam, Virginia Noyes, Lorraine Owens, Earlyan Simmonds, and Laura Smith.

FRESHMEN NOSE OUT CHECKERBOYS 19-18

"Kittens Have Hopes" Is General Opinion After Preliminary Game Wednesday

Before a capacity crowd, the Frosh quintet beat the Checkerboys by the close score of 19 to 18 in their initial game of the season, last Wednesday evening, as a preliminary to the Dartmouth contest.

Taking into consideration, that this was the first appearance of the team and that they faced an experienced combination, the Kittens performed splendidly. The passing, although quite ragged at times, was, in general fair. Taft, playing right forward, was the high scorer of the game, making seven points. Besides proving himself adept at shooting, he formed a good passing combination with Fayette, who was second in scoring with five points to his credit. Bowers, playing center, proved himself a capable man by jumping and general floor work. Mehegan, substituting for Fayette in the second half when Vermont was losing with two minutes to go, scored the winning basket.

Venio, Vosburg and Whitmarsh were the stars for the visitors. Each tallied four points.

Taft opened the game by scoring a foul shot. Throughout the half the Checkerboys kept the lead with some good shooting. The half ended 12 to 8 with Vermont on the tail end of the score.

In the second half Vermont came from behind and tied the score at twelve to twelve. Baskets by Niles and Hardy brought the visitors' total to eighteen. Taft rallied for Vermont and made it 18 to 17. Mehegan, substituting for Fayette, dribbled the ball down the floor and scored the winning basket.

The summary:

VERMONT FROSH

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts
Wynant, l. f.	0	1	1
Tupper, l. f.	0	0	0
Taft, r. f.	2	3	7
Bowers, c.	1	0	2
Tilley, c.	0	0	0
Fayette, l. g.	2	1	5
Mehegan, l. g.	1	0	2
Bedell, r. g.	0	0	0
Dober, r. g.	1	0	2
Totals	7	5	19

CHECKERBOYS

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts
Hardy, l. f.	1	1	3
Vosburg, l. f., r. g.	2	0	4
Venio, r. f.	1	2	4
Whitmarsh, c.	2	0	4
Akins, l. g.	0	1	1
Niles, r. g., c.	1	0	2
Totals	7	4	18

Referee—Codding.
Timer—De Rose.
Scorer—Averill
Time—8-minute quarters.

Miss Catherine F. Nulty of the Secretarial Department will attend the National Commercial Teachers' Federal Convention in Detroit, Mich., from December 27 to 29. She is the chairman of the College Instructors' Round Table for that part of the convention.

"PHIL" MANNING

Who held Swarthout to three points in Dartmouth game Wednesday

MEN'S FRATERNITIES HOLD ANNUAL DANCES

Fraternities are now holding their annual Christmas dances, five being held last Friday night, while most of the others will hold theirs this Friday. At the Sigma Phi Place last Friday Professor and Mrs. C. W. Stillwell and Professor and Mrs. J. E. Pooley chaperoned a Christmas dance at which Johnson's Orchestra played. About twenty-five couples were present.

Sigma Alpha Chi also held a formal dance last week. Music from Doc Kenyon's orchestra was enjoyed by a small gathering chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Leon W. Dean and Mr. Meredith.

About thirty couples attended the formal dance at the Kappa Sigma Chapter house. The chaperones were Professor and Mrs. B. C. Douglass and Professor and Mrs. L. L. Briggs. The music was furnished by Frank Flagg and his orchestra.

The Sigma Deltas held an informal dance attended by about thirty couples and Professor and Mrs. Braun and Professor and Mrs. Puffer chaperoned. Pearson's orchestra provided the music.

Phi Sigma Delta announces the initiation of Hyman Hirshberg, '30, of Burlington, and Milton F. Hurvitz, '32, of Roxbury, Mass., also the recent pledging of Abraham H. Rolier, '31, of Jersey City, N. J.

Phi Sigma Delta held its formal at the Ethan Allen Club with Captain and Mrs. W. E. Lauer and Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Sahlin acting as chaperons.

This Friday evening the Delta Psi Fraternity is holding a formal dinner dance at which will be Professor and Mrs. E. C. Dopkins and Dr. and Mrs. P. K. French. Johnson's orchestra will furnish the music.

About fifty couples are expected at the annual formal Christmas dance held by Sigma Nu. Professor and Mrs. Dykheusen, Professor Meredith, and Miss Laura Parker will chaperon. Music from Lechnyr's Vermonters will be enjoyed.

Professor and Mrs. Millington and Professor and Mrs. Dean will chaperon the Zeta Chi's formal dance. About thirty couples expect to hear Rexie's Bluejackets.

The Alpha Tau Omega's formal dance will receive its music from the Canadian Recorders Orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell are the guests.

Johnson's orchestra will furnish music for about thirty couples at the formal dance given by the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity.

Major and Mrs. O. H. Stanley will be the chaperons at the formal dance held at the Phi Delta Theta house on College Street.

Harry Varney, '23, has been appointed county agent in Caledonia County by the U. V. M. Extension Service and the Caledonia County Farm Bureau Association.

Dr. E. C. Brown was speaker at the meeting of the University Research Club which met at Morrill Hall last Tuesday evening.

Catamount Five Drops Fast Contest to Dartmouth 18-17

Morse Plays a Whirlwind Game for Vermont and Turns in Highest Number of Points—Varsity Outplays Big Green in Second Half

FORM DEBATING LEAGUE OF VERMONT COLLEGES

Vermont and Middlebury Have Already Accepted Invitation of Norwich to Join State League

An intra-state debating league will arise immediately after mid-years as the result of the efforts of debating authorities in the several Vermont colleges. This long-hoped-for event was made possible when Norwich University, where debating activities ceased more than a decade ago, reorganized its debating clubs last October. It was upon the initiative of Norwich University that the long-discussed plan was again brought up and now, with the assent of Middlebury and Vermont, awaits only the concurrence of St. Michael's College, to go into effect. Acceptance by St. Mike's, a time-honored rival of Vermont in intercollegiate debating, seems almost certain though the plan may yet go into effect even if St. Michael's objects.

As to which of these teams will probably win the state series, it is impossible to judge as yet. The truth probably is that no one team has the edge on the others. Middlebury has a number of excellent veterans enough to build a good three-man team, possibly good enough to get the state championship. Middlebury defeated Vermont last year, but a special set of judges awarded prizes to two of the three Vermont debaters as the first and third best men in the debate. The other Vermont man was judged fourth best, Middlebury taking only a second, a fifth and a sixth. The prizes are the gift of Edwin Winship Lawrence, a graduate and trustee of the University of Vermont, and are annually awarded to the three best speakers in the Middlebury-Vermont debate.

St. Michael's has established an excellent record in its annual debates with Vermont. It has gained decisions from the Catamount arguers every year for the past decade, the last and worst defeat having been inflicted on

(Continued on page 3)

SPECIAL MEETING HELD BY INTERNATIONAL CLUB

On Wednesday, December 12, President Esther Nelson called a special meeting of the International Relations Club which was held in 37 North College at 4 p.m. for the purpose of letting the members of the club obtain accurate information on the Oxford trip to England next summer. This is under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment which sponsors all International Relations Clubs in colleges throughout the United States.

Any undergraduate member of an International Relations Club is eligible to go on the trip. The cost of the trip is approximately $450 while the minor expenses will amount to about $150. Those making the trip will consist of half men and the other half women being chosen with personality and scholarship as a basis. The party leaves on July 5 on the S. S. Bremen which has not yet been launched proceeding directly to London, The Hague, and Paris, returning in August on the S. S. Huggart. Many educational side trips will be taken.

There is also a competition with cash prizes of six hundred dollars for the best essays written upon prescribed topics. The winner of this contest represents the International Relations Club on the floor of the conference held at Oxford with English students. Application blanks were given out to those who wished to try for the prizes and tour.

SWARTHOUT SCORES BUT THREE POINTS IN GAME

Claire Gaywood's Catamounts went down to a fighting victory Wednesday when they were defeated by the Big Green team from Hanover by the narrow margin of one point, the final score standing 18-17. It was easily the fastest and best game that has taken place on the Vermont court so far this year and it will be long before its equal is seen.

The Cats showed unbelievable improvement over their last week's performance. They had more pep, speed and stamina than they have shown in any game before and the Dartmouth quintet was all that was expected of it.

Clockwork Teams

The game started out at a swift pace and continued at high speed during the entire contest. Both teams worked together like clockwork and both sides gave exhibitions that thrilled the fans to the core. There was a great deal of criticism cast at the referees, especially O'Brien and some of it was of the type made famous by the Medics but it cannot be said that their decisions were partial or unfair but they were much more strict than any other decisions in other contests and the spectators did not like the contrast.

Dartmouth made fifteen of their points in the first half, the score at the end of that period standing 15-5. The Vermonters came out for the final session prepared to do or die, and piled up twelve points while they held their opponents to three, a basket and a free try both by Vassler. The whirlwind finish with Vermont in possession of the ball and the fans begging for a basket brought the onlookers to their feet.

Fine Defensive

Vermont played a wonderful defensive game in the second half and were better than their usual form in the first half. Manning and Estabrook held their men to two field goals between them, while most of the scoring was done by the Dartmouth backcourt men, Austin and Captain Spaeth.

Manning played the star game of his career in college basketball. He devoted himself almost entirely to the defensive part of the contest and was on the heels of the famed Swarthout every minute of play, holding him to one field goal, which sounds pretty good in comparison with the sixteen of seventeen points that he rolled up in every contest before this one. Phil himself did not roll up his usually high score, evidently because he didn't dare leave his shifty opponent long enough to try for a basket.

Captain Red Estabrook played his usual fine game and held his man, Vassler, May and Cheney, to one field goal. Red was all over the floor and somehow managed to keep track of the ball and his man at the same time. In addition he was able to send the ball through the loop twice and collect a free try from the foul line.

Morse High Scorer

"Burt" Morse shone in forward berth during the second period. He managed to evade Austin and Tully, two twin counters for the Green and Gold. In all the while he has played basketball he has never put on such an exhibition of speed and shooting.

Wallace was sent to the showers early in the first period and his place was taken by "Timmy" Halligan who put up a great fight but could not get away from Spaeth long enough to tally. Sargent evidently has not found himself so far this year, but if he ever does get started, he will be one of the Cats' threats.

The Game

Manning started the scoring when he sank a free trial from the foul

(Continued on page 4)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

News Editors
Lawrence G. Clayton, '29 — Merrick M. Macomber, '29 — Arthur D. Stearns, '29

Columnists
Hoch Fuller, '29 — George R. Nelson, '29

Associate Editors
Elizabeth B. Hogue, '29
Mary A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '30

Feature Editor
George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Solomon Nathanson, '30

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Clain, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Warren H. Barr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor
Constance Holden, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

James Goodrich, '30 — Donald E. Coburn, '31 — Belle Church, '30
Victoria Campbell, '30 — Philip G. Andrews, '31 — Clarence Mould, '31
Irene Richardson, '30 — Irene Farman, '31 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32
John Waterman, '30 — Richard Cowles, '31 — Hope Ranslow, '32
George E. Brush, '31 — L. M. Foster, '31 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32
Douglas L. Stewart, '31 — C. N. Crockett, '31 — Herman Gussow, '31
F. A. R. Germain, '31 — Pauline Burridge, '30 — E. J. Beyor, '30

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

Corbin C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur B. Bachard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jenks, '29 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Moore, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Fuller, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 3465 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday. Founded in 1883. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 448 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — December 21, 1928 — No. 26

Christmas

Vacant halls, deserted campus and silent dormitories, for twelve days, will leave the University without a student. Perhaps if there are spirits, the spirit of the past might return as it did with Scrooge. For twelve days a university inhabited with ghostly students, laughing at their former foolish pranks, wrinkling their brows at the thought of studies and perhaps shedding a tear for the time when they left, as graduates, to face the world. They vanish when the present generation returns to prepare for its mid-year exams.

The joy of the present, youths reunited with their loved ones at home during the time of greatest gladness. "Peace on earth, good will toward men." Youth is apt to forget the greatest teacher of all and forget his teaching "Love thy neighbor." Christmas is the time of gifts but it isn't the gift that counts, it's the spirit of the giver.

Someone has sacrificed to enable the youth to partake of higher knowledge. His present, given in the spirit of the Great Teacher, is one of the finest and most lasting gifts.

Future and its needs are to be satisfied by those living in the present. To perpetuate giving, and the spirit of giving as well as those who have gone before, is a goal well worth attaining.

Vermont, the symbol of winter winds and high snow drifts, should be the seat of winter sports. It was a trying time for the backers of hockey before they could install that fine game. Now that we are sure of a hockey team, it would be to our advantage to add a winter sports program. The Outing Club has done much towards creating interest, but such activities must have support. With our hills, our snow and ice little is in the way for a winter carnival at some future time. Let's wake up to the fact and do all we are able to place U. V. M. on the winter sports map.

Dartmouth's visits to Vermont are few enough to take away a rather bad impression of Vermont students "razzing" the referee. Good sportsmanship excludes this from the list of what to do, and it is fortunate that only a few were in that frame of mind. However, this few were enough to present Vermont with what is known as a "black eye." It is possible the referee was wrong on one or two decisions. Consider, he was in a better position to judge than students and is more familiar with the rules. Before a referee can officiate at any game he must pass a severe test on the rules. What appears to be a "break" for the other team is a conscientious, unbiased decision. What sort of a reputation would Vermont have if officials at home games were biased?

Intercollegiate News

By Odino A. Martinetti, '30

Students at the University of Georgia are fined three dollars for every day upon which an absence occurs on the two days preceding and following official holidays.

After a lapse of three years, swimming has been reinstated as an intercollegiate sport by the University of Nebraska. Baseball was dropped with swimming has been taken up again as a major sport.

At the University of Washington the exchange magazines were placed on a counter with a sign above them inviting the students to help yourself. Inside of four days all comic publications were gone while all those of a serious nature still remained.

Recently workmen in clearing ground for St. Mary's new college at Moraga uncovered mysterious, large footprints very well preserved. Scientists says they are the footprints of some prehistoric monster.

A college in the United States is a business enterprise; it usually has a plentiful supply of funds, administered solely by a board of trustees chosen for their business experience and prestige; whereas a European college is ruled by its faculty by those who know what is essential, for the purpose of education and research, not for prosperity and renown. The situation is obvious; are we the better for it?

—M. I. T. Tech.

"Do French taxi drivers talk a lot?"
"Yes, they have the gift of grab."
—Ibid

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. Vilius Valtro

HOW TO MAKE A LEMON PIE

Now you might think that the first thing you'd need would be a lemon. (Please make no mistake. I'm not trying to insult any Middlebury boys.) If you think so, you are wrong. To put it in Welsh, "Vous-avez tort"—referring to an action of tort, that is, the way lawyers are tort to lawy (simplified spelling).

To tell the truth, the first thing you need is a recipe. (From old French recipoire, meaning to take back. A recipe then is something that ought to be taken back.) The best recipe to use on this occasion is a lemon pie recipe—though some cooks claim a clam chowder recipe gives better results. However, having eaten cooked food all my life, I no longer trust cooks. After you have picked out an appealing recipe and tied it firmly to the ground, saying "recipe, recipe" three times over it (use the modern Sanskrit pronunciation "re" as in "where," "ci" as in "Cynic" and "pe" as in "It pays to advertise," and give the accent to the fourth syllable from both ends, i. e., the post-positive pleanast), after you have done that, go to your room and read the latest issue of that greatest of all college papers, the Cynic, noting especially the continued story on page eight.

The next thing to do is to stop reading the Cynic. Then prepare what is politely termed the crust—otherwise known as the "cust." (Pardon the intrusion, boys, but I happened to think of a little incident. Tell me when I finish if you've heard it before. Well, it seems there were two students of entomology walking down the street, and the first one politely breaking into conversation said, "Have you ever heard the one about Custer?" And the other warily countered "No." "Well it seems this ancestor was the custer (i. e., cust crust preparer) in a certain genteel piery, and as he prepared these little crusts, he placed each one on a stand, and—hold on tight boys, here she comes—the one that was empty at one minute to five was vulgarly called "Custer's Last Stand." Well, it seems there was one student of entomology walking down the street).

Now I'm excruciatingly sorry, but where was I? Oh yes! Prepare the crust, i. e., pare it before it's there to pare. I can't explain that—my knowledge of Armenian is too limited. Then, put in the filling, i. e., fill 'er up. (Tydol is now a high-test gas - watch for the green tank.)

Now listen to this. Break two lemons, carefully separating the yolk from the cream. Save only the part separated. Then shake it up carefully with two gals. old Burgundy, vintage of 1649, using only the third cupful from each bottle cracked. Then pour it into the crust, meanwhile weeping twice in old Andalusian.

To cook, throw on a fire (if there is one).

* * *

Now to eat lemon pie, go to Rand's Home Lunch (Kollege Kut Kalories) and purchase one slice lemon pie (sorry boys, no lemon today, try apricot, everybody likes that), and eat it.

BUNCO GASOLINE

"No-Nox is orange, Ethyl is red, Socony is white, old Tydol was maroon and new Tydol is green, but only Bunco gas can be obtained in red, blue, yellow and clear. Our filling parlor attendants (all registered graduates of the "Crazy Thou Art School") are carefully trained in the blending of gasolines in colors, and artistic souls need no longer be compelled to put up with clear gas, or some violent shade of red which they abhor, for from the four standard colors of Bunco gas our employees can make any shade or tint desired. A new black and a tan gas are also to be announced in the very near future.

Vermonters! Show your college spirit! We make a specialty of green and gold gasolines!

We have also plans under way for motor oils in colors. Make your oil and gasoline match your car!

FREE OFFER!!!

With every ten gallons of Bunco gasoline, in any color, we will, starting Monday, January the 32, 1930, give absolutely FREE three quarts of motor oil in contrasting color.

"Patronize Bunco Gas"—The Gas With the Individual Color"

"Soyez differens"—Voltaire.

Residents of Grassmount enjoyed a bridge party and Christmas tree last Tuesday evening in the parlors, which were elaborately trimmed with yuletide decorations. Prizes for high and low score were won by Inez Belmore, and Helen Esielionis respectively. Amid much laughter and applause a Santa Claus distributed gifts from the tree. Many other surprises were in order during the evening and the party ended with the singing of carols.

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the Cynic:

Saturday morning the freshman class had its picture taken on the steps of the Billings Library. No one knows why such a class should have its picture in the Ariel. A good half of the men had not the slightest sign of the little green cap with the gold button on their heads. For members of the other classes it was a sorry sight.

Everywhere, all the time, these bold frosh are breaking the rules set up for them to obey. No restriction, however deep in tradition it may be imbedded, is sacred to these children who call themselves men. They walk on the forbidden stones of the North side of College Street, where frosh have trod before but with painful results when discovered. They smoke anywhere they please about the campus. They stay away from smokers, meetings, and games. At the recent class meeting some forty members were present—a great showing, especially considering that the message to be conveyed to them was one from the president of the University. About the same percentage, probably less, of the class as appeared at the meeting can be found with matches in their pockets. Indeed, one was a short time ago seen to walk up to an instructor who happened to be smoking in the corridor, calmly take the cigarette from the latter's mouth, and light his own from it. It is hard to imagine a freshman doing that in former years. Yet when these children grow up to manhood and graduate from this institution,—yes, some of them will get by—they will proudly call themselves "sons of Vermont."

The greatest of all the crimes committed by the class, however, is its failure to wear the frosh cap. Fully fifty percent of the class habitually go without their caps, and many more of them leave them at home part of the time. In other years there have always been a few men who would not wear their hats, but punishment has swiftly overtaken them. Now this year, the class was put on its honor to live up to the freshman rules. All rules except the traditional ones were abolished, so that frosh cannot howl about being made to do foolish things, such as wearing their bath robes to class. After cutting down the number of rules, the faculty committee proceeded to remove the possibility of punishing delinquents, thus putting the class on its honor to behave. It seems, however, that freshmen have no honor. If they had, they would have started to show it before now.

It is quite evident that Vermont will have to revert to the old system of corporal punishment. If the freshmen do not like this idea, now is the time for them to start reforming.

Disgusted Senior.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

On Ladies and Women

"The foolish woman is clamorous;
She is simple and knoweth nothing."
—From Bible Proverbs.

Some women are drones; others are magpies. Some are timid hares; others are loud-braying jackasses. Some are weakfish; others are big-mouthed bass.

The University of Vermont embraces both types, but it actually hugs and desires to retain forever the bluebird, the horse and the trout the intermediate classes. They are neither shy nor bold, timid nor outspoken, fearful nor fearless. They are not the drab and ordinary "inbetweens." Rather are they symbolic of all that proper, well-mannered girls should be. They are the models and the leaders. The excessively quiet may elicit sympathy, or enhance their position through the false supposition that they who know much speak little. The unduly boisterous may assume temporary and forced leadership, but the thoughtful, frank, considerate, well-behaved young miss reigns forever.

She is neither the wallflower nor the life of the party. Yet she is invited to all such gatherings. She is neither the phibate nor the dunce. Yet all professors welcome her to their clases. She is neither field nor parlor athlete. Yet she can handle herself with equal dexterity and success in either situation.

Above all, a girl should not be clamorous. That is what first prompted the sharp definition between "lady" and "woman." It is not a dictionary difference; rather is it a delicate question to be determined by the individual. What is a lady and what is a woman? The first and perhaps the most important step to take in solving this difficult problem is to ask yourself—"Is she clamorous?" If she is not, and other minor tests do not find

(Continued on page 3)

The Periscope

Phonograph record... things. They are ... most of them are ... little grooves run... round the circle of t... their labels and mix ... are just phonograph ... can't tell Thais from ... are all worn out ... played so many years a... a wow for a few we...

* * *

Phonograph records are ... same way. I know this ... once worked in the re... of a big factory. It costs ... much to make a copy of Rhaps Thing as it costs to make a new ... of The Song of India ... less to make a copy of Shake Thing. You see more people ... and so the cost of the big eng... master plates from which record... made may be distributed over ... thousands of records.

* * *

People are something like ... graph records, I think. T... few of the labels. Jumble them ... a little. They all look much ... Then play them over. That is the way you can tell what they are ... of them are all worn out. Th... been working so hard for ... Others got worn in just ... or months. Then they were f... Their vogue was over and the... left, worn disks in some for... record book. Perhaps that book ... a prison. It may have been a v... flat in a city or it may ... suburban place all decked ... and frescoes and roccoco ... a border of landscaped g... little artificial lake. The ... make so much difference ... weren't popular any mo... were neglected. They ha... Then they were forgotten.

* * *

It is seldom that we co... where our labels get stri... erally we hide behind them, ... them. Other people look a... bels and they take us home w... or they leave us in the sto... decide the whole matter ... because they have seen th... make the same decisions ... have read all about la... They know what labels ... and what labels are not ... thing. They know all about ho... should look and dress and t... act. Others have taugh... they have heard Mrs. ... Brown about it. Anyway, the...

* * *

There are times when label... stuck to the wrong reco... by ... Once my foreman mad... a slip, ... turned out several dozen ... tagged Whose Baby Are ... they should have been ... Moon. They all had ... They were just a little more sto... the scrap can; just a heap of ... brittle pieces scattered among ... doughy blobs of scrap. They ... headed for the raw material ... Later they would be made over ... fresh stock.

You can't do that sort of thing ... people. When they are dumped ... the scrap can they are headed fo... old family cemetery and they ... come back. They are never made ... fresh stock, never given another ... That is why I think one shou... rather careful about pasting a ... on someone else. It's quite a re... sibility when you pick out tag... people, and it isn't nice to find ... later that it was all a mistake ... mistake in picking out the label.

* * *

It costs just about as much to ... one kind of a man as it does to ... one of an entirely different ... Washington, for instance, put a ... mendous amount of absorption and ... and effort into his label ... don't know what he thought he ... Once he was called a rebel ge... Later he was a president. Later ... after he had been dead for a ... number of years, he grew from ... of his country to demigod. Yet ... a saint is never canonized until ... turies after death. By that time ... memory is dim and golden.

* * *

After all, why should we ask ... of a man than we do of a re... If we like him, good enough. ... don't, someone else may. ... enough for someone else. Why ... remember that tastes in ... fer? Why not remember ... bel of this or that person ma... written in a language we do not ... derstand? Above all, why "rat... that language without even a di... ary of it?

Remember that a wrong ... a wrong translation of it, may ... scrap out of a man. And men ... come back from the scrap ...

Hans ...

All Sophomore women ... Grind Editor of the Ariel s... their grinds to Phoebe Fl... not than this afternoon.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

[illegible] French, Mrs. H. A. May[illegible] Mrs. Guy Loudon entertained the active chapter, which was [illegible] thirds for the affair, at [illegible] Sunday, December 9.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

[illegible]ter of Delta Delta Delta [illegible]ristmas party at the rooms [illegible] There was a Christmas [illegible]d with little gifts and 'liber[illegible]ed with Christmas jingles. [illegible]ntertainment refreshments [illegible]d. Miss Elmer, an alumna [illegible]ta chapter, spent the week-[illegible]

PI BETA PHI

The alumnae entertained the active chapter, mothers, and patronesses, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Patridge, Mrs. Pol[illegible] and Miss Storms at a Christmas party Wednesday, December 19. The chapter received many lovely gifts from the alumnæ. A kitchen shower was given by the mothers; and each class presented a gift to the chapter. [illegible]re of the entertainment was a [illegible] readings given by Mrs. Dallas [illegible]. A Christmas tree and ex[illegible]ge of small presents added to the [illegible]nt.

ALPHA XI DELTA

[illegible]a Mae Parsons, '27, became the [illegible] to Otis Borroughs at a lovely wedding which took place Sunday afternoon at 4.00 o'clock at the bride's [illegible] Bristol, Vermont.

The house was beautifully decorated [illegible] Christmas greens and the service [illegible]ce under an arch of bitter [illegible]d running cedar. The double [illegible]ice was used. The bride was [illegible] in white satin with a tulle [illegible] and carried a bouquet of roses. The maid of honor, Roma Parsons, was gowned in peach and yellow taffeta. Phelps Borroughs was best man.

After the ceremony a supper was served for the Misses Martha Leighton and Mary Pierce of Burlington. The couple will make their home in Ver[illegible]

The active chapter entertained the alumnae and patronesses at a Christmas party Tuesday evening. Janice [illegible]ayed Santa Claus and distributed gifts from the heavily laden tree. Chocolates were passed for Etta Parsons. A clever entertainment took place under the direction of Eleanor [illegible]enig, '30. The alumnae presented the chapter with a rose glass center piece.

Guests included Mrs. Guy W. Bailey and Mrs. E. C. Mower and the following alumnae: Marion Way, Martha (Mrs.) Marjorie Way, Anna Smith, and Helen Merritt.

After the party the gifts were sent to the Orphanage and the tree to the Children's Ward at the Hospital.

KAPPA DELTA

After a dinner served at the rooms last evening Alpha Theta chapter held its usual Christmas party. At the close of the party the presents were given to the city orphanage. Several alumnae were present. Just a week ago last night the alumnae association entertained the active chapter at dinner.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Gifts and a Christmas tree lent gayety to the party Thursday evening when Lucy Morgan, '29, entertained the active chapter at her home.

SIGMA GAMMA

Thursday evening Sigma Gamma held its Yuletide celebration. There was a gayly trimmed tree and numerous little Christmas remembrances. There were several alumnae present at the festivity.

MONTHLY DIALECT STORY

Boy, what kinda seegar is dat you is smoking?"

Nigger, dat's a quarter seegar."

Quarter nothing. You never pay no two bits for a seegar."

I didn't say nothing about dat. De boss he smokes three-quarters and I smoke a quarter."

The Old Gudion

WISHES EVERY STUDENT
A MERRY CHRISTMAS
AND
HAPPY NEW YEAR

The Boarding House Reach

(Continued from page 2)

her wanting—then, and only then, is she a lady.

You may tell me that ladies are born and not made. You may claim that their traits, ideals and mannerisms are not and cannot be acquired; that they are inherent. This is not so By cultivating subdued and worthwhile qualities one rapidly approaches the coveted goal. One may lack the polish, the finishing school touches of her more fortunate sisters; still these details are merely superfluous; they are simply feminine accessories Simplicity should be sought; affectation and show discarded. A girl should be her real, true self and continually strive to be a finer and more worthwhile self

The following group of observations should aid the aspiring young lady in her earnest endeavors

1. A girl may be simple in dress and manner without being simple in mind.

2. Young ladies should not be seen too much in their clothes, nor heard too much in their speech

3. An interesting conversation is worth more than a collegiate "line."

4. Do not talk or laugh loudly to impress any young men within hearing radius. It may be human nature to do so, but human nature is all wrong.

5. Listening is more of an art than speaking. Anyone can talk but it takes a very patient person to listen to some of him.

6. It is better to be dumb than "dumb."

Prof. L. D. Meredith of the Economics Department was speaker at the Ethan Allen Club Saturday evening. Mr. Meredith took for his subject Timber and told of his personal impressions gained while visiting in northeastern Pennsylvania.

"What a unique town."

"Unique?"

"Yes, taken from the Latin, unus meaning one, and equus meaning horse."—Blue Dragon.

Form Debating League of Vermont Colleges

(Continued from page 1)

Vermont last year, with every judge voting for St Mike's.

Norwich, of course, is an unknown quantity but it is understood that special efforts were made to revive debating this year at that institution because of the unusual interest in debating suddenly manifested among the cadets and the discovery of some excellent ability.

The St. Michael's debate will be at home; that with St Michael's, away Where the Norwich debate will be held is not yet known. Due to the custom of not planning debates until the opening of the season, a custom which will probably be dropped by the close of the present system, the greater part of the remaining schedule as well as the dates of the debates already planned is still unknown. Manager F. A Sears is at present working hard on a schedule which already includes home debates with West Virginia University, Marquette University and Howard Payne College of Texas as well as a New York trip which will embrace debates with a large number of colleges.

The call for candidates for varsity debating will be issued by Coach M. D. Powers late in January or early in February. There are now four veterans who will probably go out for the team and who ought to form the nucleus of a successful club—Louis Lisman, '31, George Nelson, '31, Franklin Sears, '30—all of whom have already debated this year, and Herrick Macomber, '30. In addition to these there are the members of the freshman debating team—Peary Berger, Fred Householder and Paul LaCrosse—all of whom, Coach Powers believes, have qualities capable of developing them into varsity material. Debating material constantly arises from the most unexpected sources and the present season will probably be no exception As a result, Coach Powers expects a record turn-out from which picked judges will select at least six men to form the squad.

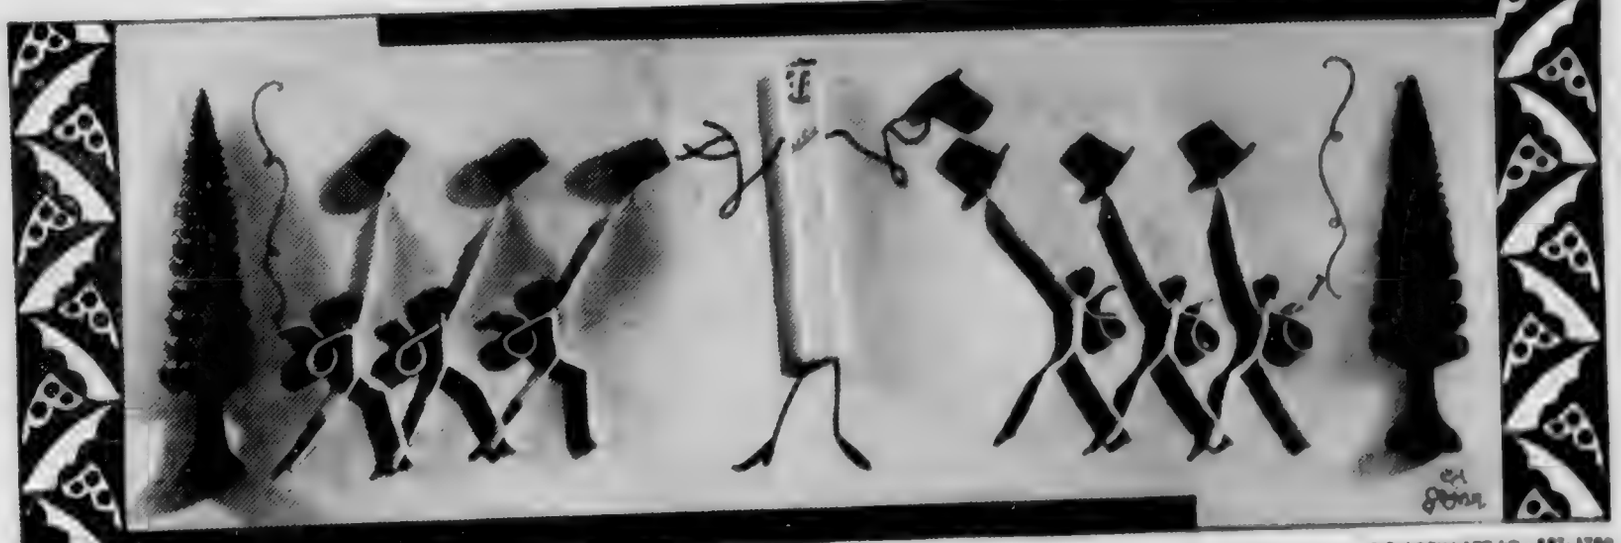
Practically all debates will be fought

(Continued on page 4)

Many Vermont Alumni Send Their Sons And Daughters to Vermont

Thirty-three sons and thirty daughters of former Vermont men and women are enrolled in the present freshman, sophomore, and junior classes of the academic, engineering, and agricultural colleges of the University of Vermont. The freshman class has the distinction of having the largest number of them, twenty-seven, while the sophomore and junior classes have nineteen and twenty-one respectively

The list of sons and daughters of former Vermont men and women in the class of 1930 follows



Grace V. Arbernethy; Carlton F Bussow; Charles F. Blair; Henry B Bray; Thomas J. Cummings, Jr Henry C. Dalrymple; Gerald L. Dorey Nelson B. Gray; Charles H. Mace, Jr Herrick M Macomber, Marion G. Miller; Cornelia S. Mould; Alice L. Orton; E. H. Powell; Frank V. Rich Cora M. Sargent; Allene E. Stevens Lois E. Taylor; Elizabeth B. Templeton; Evelyn W. Trask; Julia Waterman

Those in the class of 1931 are: Edith S Abbott, Charles E. Chagnon, Stanton S. Eddy; Robert W Hendrich Robert M. Huey; Robert W. Hyde Joseph A. Jackson; Harriet I. Johnstone; Geraldine G. Kibby; Thelma Lamson, Caroline S McGinnis; Donald B Oatley, Doris H Skinner; Truman S. Webster; Mary E. Weed Charles H Walker, Helen H. Willard

Those in the class of 1932 are: John P. Adams; Mack D. Archambault Samuel B. Barker; Cornelia J. Bay Hen; Alice M. Brooks, Charlotte L Carpenter; Raymond W Cobb; Thomas R Cummins; Mildred A. Denne Allen O. Eaton; David D. C. Hasen Elizabeth G. Howe; Cora L. Humphrey; Charlotte W Fidder; Mary E Mandigo; William L. Marsh; Thomas R Marvin; Gordon C. Morse; Margaret E. Mower; Roland W. Paige, Roberta F. Powers; George O. Pratt Katherine E. Skinner; Dorothy Sweeney, Henry C. Torrey; David B Webster, Catherine E. Woodward

THE UNIVERSITY STORE
MEDICAL BOOK STORE
AND COFFEE CORNER
Wish You All
a Merry Christmas and a
Happy New Year

May Your Christmas be as MERRY as you have made OLD GOLD'S

© P. LORILLARD CO., EST. 1760

A year ago OLD GOLD'S holiday message to its many friends was entitled . . . "OLD GOLD'S first Christmas." OLD GOLD was then just the infant prodigy among cigarettes. But, thanks to its three million new friends, and its countless old ones, OLD GOLD has grown four hundred per cent. The infant has become a strapping young giant. OLD GOLD is America's fastest growing cigarette. You have given OLD GOLD a wonderful Christmas by your kind patronage and cordial good-will. And in deepest appreciation we say to all our friends . . . "May your Christmas be as merry as you have made OLD GOLD'S."

We thank you.

P. Lorillard Company

PERCIVAL W. CLEMENT $400 PRIZE FOR THESIS

[illegible] have just been given announcing the Percival Wood Clement Prize of $400 for the best Thesis in support of the Principles of the Constitution of the United States as [illegible] March 4, A.D. 1789 and the first ten amendments thereto. The competition for this prize is for Junior and senior students of the colleges of New England [illegible] to be awarded annually on a basis of judges' [illegible] of three prominent [illegible] of these colleges each of whom will serve for three years.

By the will of the late Governor Percival W. Clement a sum was provided for this prize, upon the Trustees and members of Middlebury [illegible] Dartmouth, Bowdoin, Williams, Tufts, Colby, M. I. T., Northeastern, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Amherst, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Brown, and the University of Maine. The rules governing the prize are as follows:

1. On the years 1928-1929, 1929-1930 and thereafter in accordance with the provisions of the will the prize is to be awarded by a board of judges consisting of the presidents of Amherst College, Bates College and Brown University, or if a majority of the board should fail to agree to the president of Columbia University.

2. Essays should be of not over three thousand words in length and competitors are advised to select some portion of the entire field to which there may be adequate justice within this limit.

3. Each essay must be neatly typewritten upon one side of legal sheets and the sheets should not be folded. The outside page should contain only the title, the date and an assumed name and each essay must be accompanied by a sealed envelope containing on its outside the title and an assumed name and within the real name, college and home address of the writer, together with a statement from the Registrar of his college that he is duly registered in the junior or senior class of one of its undergraduate curricula leading to a bachelor's degree.

4. All essays for consideration in 1928-29 must be submitted to the chairman of the committee not later than March 1, 1929.

5. The prize for the year 1928-1929 will be four hundred dollars ($400), payment to be made by the State Trust Company of Rutland, Vermont, trustees of the fund. This company will report to each of the colleges above mentioned the name and college of the successful competitor.

A few facts concerning the life of the donor of this prize will be of interest to the readers of the CYNIC as well as to those interested in the competition.

Percival Wood Clement 60th governor of Vermont was born in Rutland, May 1, 1845 and died January 9, 1927. He was educated at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H. from which he was graduated in 1864 and at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

He was a partner in the marble firm of Clement & Sons which, later organized and founded the State Trust Company and the Clement National Bank in Rutland. In 1882 the firm leased control of the Rutland Railroad and Mr. Clement was actively engaged in control of several other lines at this time.

Besides being a prominent railroad magnate Governor Clement owned and published the Rutland Herald and at the same time held high political offices in the state.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon him by Norwich University, by the University of Vermont and by Trinity College of Hartford, Conn.

Governor Clement believed strongly in the rights accorded to states by the federal constitution and regarded the first ten amendments as establishing and conserving the liberty of citizens in a fundamental manner. He considered that most of the later amendments excepting the XIII, XIV and XV undertake to limit the liberty of citizens or invade the authority of the states. Speaking at Harrisburg, Pa., December 1, 1920 while he was governor of Vermont, he defined in unmistakable terms the dangers of centralization in governmental functions. His views on constitutional amendments are well expressed in his writings and speeches.

"When are you going to pay back the ten dollars you owe me?"

"When did I borrow ten dollars from you?"

"Once when you were drunk."

"Well, I paid you back."

"When was that?"

"Once when you were drunk."

—Jack o'Lantern

Catamount Five Drops Fast Contest to Dartmouth 18-17

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible] on a foul by Cheney, and soon after Estabrook followed suit. Then the Big Green five got under motion, and a foul shot by Swarthout and two field goals in quick succession, gave the Dartmouth quintet a lead which they maintained until the end of the game. Then Wallace took his regular position and retired to the bench in favor of Halligan. Estabrook shot a long one and Morse netted a point from the free try that closed the scoring done by the Green and Gold during the first period, while Sparch sent two twin counters through the loop and tallied three [illegible] four [illegible] and Arsenault registered one field goal and one free try.

Second Half

Dartmouth started off the second half [illegible] by Swarthout from the foul line on a foul by Arsenault, which sent the latter to the bench for four [illegible]. Maher registered next with a beautiful heave from behind the foul line and a few minutes after he raised up the floor and dropped another through the net also. After a long scrimmage with the ball constantly [illegible] several times Estabrook sent one through the loop.

Mac, who took the place of Vassler, added a long one into the basket for the next field goal registered by Dartmouth during the second half. This was followed by a goal by Manning. A foul shot by Mac and a goal by Morse making the score 18-17. The final gun went off with the ball in Vermont's hands.

The line-up:

VERMONT

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Morse, r.f.	2	2	6
Wallace, l.f.	0	0	0
Halligan, l.f.	0	1	1
Sargent, c.	0	0	0
Estabrook, r.g.	2	1	5
Palmer, r.g.	0	0	0
Manning, l.g.	1	1	3
Totals	5	5	17

DARTMOUTH

Swarthout, r.f.	1	1	3
Cheney, r.f.	0	0	0
Vassler, l.f.	0	1	1
Mac, l.f.	1	1	3
[illegible], c.	1	0	2
Sparch, r.g.	1	2	6
Arsenault, l.g.	1	1	3
Morse, l.g.	0	0	0
Totals	6	6	18

Referee, O'Brien; umpire, Forbes; timer, Clain; scorer, Burt.

NEW CONSTITUTION FOR WOMEN STUDENTS

Discussion of a new constitution for Women's Student Union was the chief business confronting the mass meeting of women students in the gymnasium Monday evening. Criticism of the constitution as vague and lacking system has been current for some time.

Catherine Bassett, president of the Women's Student Union, emphasized that the rules of student union are made by the girls themselves, that the government comes from within, and that a feeling of willingness to abide by the rules written into the constitution by women students themselves should exist if student government is to function actively.

Elizabeth Fiske, treasurer, gave a report of the budget and Lucy Morgan read the minutes of the weekly cooperative meetings that have occurred since the October Student Union party.

An appeal was made for recruits from the freshman class for debating. Dorothy Cottrell explained the object and accomplishments of the Press Club, and Marion Pinkus described W. S. A. A.'s new cottage on Coates Island. Cheers and singing were led by Estabel Perlman.

XMAS GIFTS SUITABLE FOR ANY SPORT MAY BE SELECTED FROM OUR LARGE STOCK

L. P. WOOD
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

BILLINGS LIBRARY HAS MANY NEW ADDITIONS

During the past few weeks the library has made a few notable additions to its possessions. Among these the following books may well demand the attention of those who have need of searching for books on the topics involved:

Mares "Airplane Engine," Engberg "Industrial Prosperity," "King Arthur and the Holy Grail," by Jaffee "Asia and Europe" by Townsend, "The Connecticut Wits and Other Essays" by Beers, "Letters from Brook Farm" by Cook, "Business Geography" by Huntington, "Historic Costumes" by Lester and "A History of Painting in Italy" by Crowe.

During the Christmas recess the library will be open for five hours a day from nine to twelve and from two to four. It will, of course, be closed on Christmas, New Years, and Sundays.

Form Debating League of Vermont Colleges

(Continued from page 3)

to a decision. No special type will be favored but all popular forms will be used at one time or another. No questions have as yet been selected but the problems arising from the control of water-power resources and the jury trial are thus far furnishing most of the questions in use throughout the country and will probably be listed on the Vermont schedule.

Miss Mary Maud Patrick reviewed Eugene O'Neill's The Strange Interlude at the meeting of the Evening History and Literature department of the Athena Club.

ROBINSON HALL SOPHS PRESENT PLAYLET

The sophomores presented "The Night Before Christmas" in pantomime form, with Eleanor Koenig as reader; and the freshmen entertained with an exhibition of a Robinson Hall fire drill.

Freddie Lynch's orchestra supplied lively syncopation for dancing and refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served.

The Women's Press Club held a social meeting at Grasmount on Wednesday, December 12. The newly elected members of the freshman class were welcomed at this meeting. Mr. Leon Dean was the guest of honor. The freshmen elected to work on the high school committee are: Cora Humphreys, Hope Ranslow, and Margaret Schlegel; those on the newspaper committee are: Olive Fields, Carolyn Beggs, Peggy Martin, and Helen Cunningham. The next meeting of the Press Club will be January 9.

McAULIFFE'S
New Retail Building
is the home of
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
that are beautiful and appropriate for all members of the family.

COR. CHURCH & COLLEGE STS.
Phone 629

William has learned [illegible] ence that a woman's [illegible] time carries a lot of [illegible]

Just to [illegible]
A MERRY CHR[illegible]
AND
A PROSPERO[illegible]
YEAR
TO YOU A[illegible]

HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

ESTABLISHED 1896 QUALITY LASTS SERVICE
LANGROCK
FINE CLOTHES
NEW HAVEN, CONN.

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

A pencil put Peary on top of the world

OTHER explorers had great personal courage, unlimited energy and vision untrammelled; and failed. But Peary had one thing more.

He had the grasp of every detail—as seen in the care which guided the pencil in his frost-cramped hand. After each day's march he calculated a methodical course to make sure of the next day's progress to the Pole.

To face each day's reckoning as if it were the most important of all days is characteristic of men in the telephone industry. That viewpoint, expressed in the varied terms of applied science, laboratory research, financing and management, guides Bell System men in their respective fields of public service.

BELL SYSTEM
A nation-wide system of 18,500,000 inter-connecting telephones

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGU[illegible]

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VT., TUESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1929 — NUMBER 27

CATAMOUNTS DEFEAT COAST GUARD FIVE

Close Hard Game Ends in Victory for Green and Gold Quintet—Manning Injured in Fray

WALLACE HIGH SCORER WITH HALLIGAN NEXT

In a closely contested and hard-fought game the Green and Gold quintet defeated the United States Coast Guard Academy last Saturday night on the gym floor by the score of 28 to 18. The sailors showed unexpected strength and in the first half had the Vermont fans bewildered. The Catamounts were slow in getting started and it was only by their rush in the second half that they were able to retrieve themselves. In the first frame they made only 11 points to the Academy's 18 but in the latter half 17 counters were chalked up against the opponents' 9. At times the contest took on the aspect of a football game and fond memories of the gridiron season were recalled to mind when someone made a tackle or when the players were piled in a heap on the floor.

Wallace was the high-point scorer for Vermont with 11 points to his credit and Halligan was a close second with 10 points. Neither of these men seemed to have found themselves until in the second half in which each made three field goals. Captain Estabrook played his usual fine game at guard. Time and again he would break up the opponents' plays and come dribbling down the floor with such speed that made the spectators gasp. Manning starred in a fine performance and showed some fast playing until an injury in the first half of the game caused him to retire. Sargent, lanky center, got the tip-off nearly every time but he had his hands full in keeping an eye on the Coast Guard's shifty center Wendland. Morse, who performed so well against Dartmouth, was closely guarded and this coupled with ill luck shooting failed to have him take an impressive showing.

Wendland was the leading scorer for the C. G. A. and tied with Wallace as the high point man of the game. In the first half he ran wild and gathered four field goals and one foul shot while Fahey, the small but fast forward, passed and dribbled around the floor and kept one guessing what he was going to do next.

At the beginning both teams had difficulty in locating the basket and the ball traveled back and forth across the floor as each side shot and missed. Wallace started the scoring with a long shot from the side but Wendland duplicated in a few minutes with one from under the basket. In a short time the C. G. A. started a rush that netted them three field goals and one foul shot while Vermont got only two points from the charity line.

When Vermont called time out Wallace went to center in place of Sargent and "Phil" Morse took his place at forward. On a personal and technical foul called on Fahey, Wallace made both shots count. Shortly after this Wallace also made a point from the floor. Then baskets followed thick and fast. The Coast Guard Academy men in rapid succession before Manning came through with a counter for Vermont which was followed by another for the sailors. Sargent then went back to center for the Catamounts and Halligan was out until he returned to replace "Phil" Manning who was injured. Just before the half ended Sargent made a field goal on a pass from Halligan on the side lines. The score was then Coast Guard 18, Vermont 11.

In the second frame the Green and Gold came out with vengeance. Wallace dribbled down the floor for a basket but the Coast Guard boys quickly followed with one of their own. Sinton made a foul shot and Sinton duplicated on a counter for the sailors on a pass. Vermont then started a rally making five field goals and two for the Academy without gaining another point. This spurt put the Catamounts ahead and they held this lead for the remainder of the game. Seven goals were shot and there were three minutes of play in which

(Continued on page 4)

TWO SOPHOMORES TIE IN FOOTBALL ELECTIONS

After a second ballot, it was found that M. R. Covert of New Britain, Conn., and C. W. Walker of Belmont, Mass., were still tied for the position of third assistant manager of football. It was decided to have four assistants, a policy which has been adopted before after a tie vote for assistant managers of other sports. The other sophomores elected, who were chosen on the first vote, are H. W. Adams and W. E. Craig.

Covert is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity, and has served on several class committees. Walker, a member of Phi Delta Theta, is president of the sophomore class, and a member of the Gold Key.

PHI DELTA THETA WIN FROM FRESHMEN 16-13

There were few thrills for the spectators in the Frosh-Phi Delta Theta game which was played Saturday as a preliminary to the Vermont-Coast Guard Academy tilt. The frat team won after a slow, listless game featured by the inability to score of both teams. The final score was 16 to 13.

The Frosh kept in the running by scoring seven foul shots against none for their opponents. The fraters managed to cage eight shots while the Freshmen had an extremely bad night with only three goals from the floor. At the end of the first quarter the Frosh led 5 to 2 but lost the lead at the beginning of the second period and threatened only once after that. The count at half time was Phi Delta Theta 12, Frosh 6. In the third quarter the Kittens did all the tallying and that period ended with the score 12 to 9. At the start of the final period the Frosh scored three fouls in a row and tied the score but Krogh came through with a tap shot on a rebound from the backboard and put the game on ice. Just before the whistle blew Madden netted another two points to clinch the victory.

Krogh and DeRose were the mainstays of the frat team. Fayette was high point man of both teams. Winant and Taft excelled with their all-round floor work.

The summary:

VERMONT FROSH

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Winant, l. f.	1	2	4
Tupper, l. f.	0	1	1
Taft, r. f.	0	1	1
Proctor, r. f.	0	0	0
Bowers, c.	0	0	0
Tilley, c.	0	0	0
Fayette, l. g.	2	2	6
Dober, l. g.	0	0	0
Bedell, r. g.	0	1	1
Totals	3	7	13

PHI DELTA THETA

	Gls.	Fls	Pts
De Rose, g.	1	0	2
Madden, g.	2	0	1
Krogh, c.	2	0	4
Hawley, f.	1	0	2
Jackson, f.	2	0	4
Towne, f.	0	0	0
Totals	8	0	16

Referee, Codding; timer, Gray; scorer, Averill; time, 8 minute quarters.

BOULDER SOCIETY TO HOLD THEIR LAST DANCE

The last dance to be held by the present Boulder Society and the only one on campus until after mid-years will be held Saturday night, January 12.

The team will be out of town and consequently there will be no interferences for a large crowd and the fine time that has been enjoyed in previous years.

This dance has always been popular and unusual features are introduced. The price will be the regular one of $1.00 per couple. Other particulars will appear in Friday's issue.

LOWELL TEXTILE WILL PLAY U. V. M. TONIGHT

Yarnall and His Charges Will Appear in Last Game Before Mid-years

"Rusty" Yarnall, mentor of the Lowell Textile basketball team, will line his charges up against the Catamounts tonight at the U. V. M. gym. This game will give the local fans their last chance to see the Green and Gold quintet in action until after the mid-year examinations.

Yarnall is a former all-round Vermont athlete. He starred in football, basketball, and baseball. For a short while after leaving Vermont he pitched in the major leagues. He coached Lowell Tex through an undefeated football season during the past fall and word from the Bay State City has it that the cage team should be quite as successful.

The Cats seem to be a good second half team judging from the Dartmouth and Coast Guard games. In both contests the Vermonters have staged comebacks which were most inspiring. If the team would go into the games with the same determination and confidence that it goes into the second half it would have no trouble from the start.

Coach Cayward has been in difficulty as far as reserve guards are concerned. Until the Coast Guard game he had no one with game experience whom he could call upon to fill in if one of the guards should be injured or ejected on fouls, but in that tilt he spontaneously switched Halligan to guard and the latter came through with flying colors. His guarding was close, his shooting accurate and he was a menace to the opposition by the clever manner in which he recovered the ball from the backboard.

The probable line-up:

Wallace	Guard
Halligan	Forward
Sargent	Center
Estabrook (Capt.)	Left Guard
Manning	Right Guard

PROMINENT GRADUATE SUCCUMBS IN CHICAGO

Robert Hull Fleming, who graduated from the University of Vermont in 1862, died December 23 in Chicago, Ill. He was one of the oldest alumni.

Mr. Fleming was born in Haverhill, N. H., July 16, 1840. He received his preparation for Vermont at Newton Academy in Shoreham and entered the University in 1858 while still a resident of Shoreham.

After his graduation he went west and, after some travels, settled in Chicago, where he resided for 64 years. There he was prominent in the Chicago Board of Trade of which he was a member from 1865 to 1887. He was also director of the Royal Trust Co. in Chicago and a trustee of the Chicago Title and Trust Co. He retired from active business in 1888.

He had always had an intense ambition to travel extensively, and his retirement gave him the desired opportunity. From that time until his death he devoted himself to travel, visiting almost every part of the world.

He has always been very fond of Burlington and the University and was in the habit of coming back to spend a part of each year in the place where he went to college. His last visit here was in June, 1927, on the occasion of the 65th anniversary of his graduation. He was kept from returning in 1928 only by a severe illness.

Mr. Fleming never married. He is survived by one niece, Miss Katherine Wolcott of Chicago, and by several cousins, one of whom is Mrs. R. L. Patrick, a resident of Burlington. He was a member of Delta Psi.

The funeral services were held in Chicago and the body was brought to Burlington for interment. A prayer service lead by Dr. Adams was held in the First Church Parish House on Friday afternoon, December 28, and the burial was in the family lot in the Elmwood Avenue Cemetery.

Sigma Alpha Chi Joins Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity

Prominent Local Becomes Affiliated With Strong National Brotherhood at Miami Convention of S. A. E.—B. W. Randall '25 and A. G. Mackay M. '32 Delegates

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB TO GIVE ANNUAL CONCERT IN GYM FRIDAY NIGHT

Dancing Will Follow Immediately After Finish of Program—Affairs Directed by Professor H. G. Bennett

The Women's Glee Club of the University of Vermont will hold their annual concert next Friday, January 11, at 8 o'clock in the Gymnasium. The Women's Glee Club is under the capable directorship of Prof. H. G. Bennett. Miss Margaret Corbin and Miss Kathrina Munn are the accompanists, who will also be assisted by Miss Julia Waterman, violinist.

The program which Director Bennett has arranged is as follows:

Greeting ..... Mendelssohn
To Be Sung on the Waters ..... Schubert
Over the Oceans ..... Brahms
Glee Club
The Nightingale ..... Weelkes
The nightingale, the organ of delight,
The nimble lark, the blackbird, and the thrush,
And all the pretty choristers of flight,
That chaunt their musie notes on every bush
Gloria in Excelsis Deo, Elsa Kremers Bennett
Glee Club
Liebesfreud ..... Kreisler
Miss Waterman
Sur la mer ..... d'Indy
Sur la mer brume grise est répendu
Comme un aisle elle plane et s'etend.
Les vaisseaux, mornes et lents, glissent
Sans bruit sur l'onde, et les pilotes pleux
Cherche leur chemin dans l'ombre
Mais, a l'horizon terne, paraît une rose lueur.
Tout s'eclaire, tout scintille, tout s'il lumine.
C'est l'aurore! C'est le jour! C'est le Soleil!
The Glee Club, with solo by Miss Ladd
The Twenty-third Psalm ..... Schubert
Glee Club Double Quartet
Estudiantina ..... Lacome
Welcome to Our Hearts Again, Sullivan from "Iolanthe"
Cachucha and Finale, from "The Gondoliers" ..... Sullivan
Glee Club

After the delightful program has been played there will be dancing for fourteen different dance numbers, as the reverse side of the program indicates. Music will be furnished by a popular collegiate orchestra and students are urged to cooperate in making it a distinct success by buying their tickets beforehand from any member of the club for fifty cents.

ARIEL PICTURES AND SNAPSHOTS MUST BE IN

Hank Powell, editor of the 1929 Ariel, informs us that all photographs, grinds and questionnaires must be in the hands of the staff on or before January 12, 1929. As yet there are a number of Junior photographs as well as snapshots missing. A few Seniors and Juniors have not handed in their questionnaires. Junior and Teacher Training grinds are not complete and finally several organizations have not yet supplied their group pictures.

The make-up of Ariel is well under way. In fact the dummy of the art work is already completed. The 1929 Ariel will be much different in form and make-up and much improved from the previous year books. However, in order to carry out the plans properly, the cooperation of the student body is absolutely necessary.

LOCAL CHAPTER TO BE CALLED VERMONT BETA

Sigma Alpha Chi Fraternity is now Vermont Beta of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Its petition to the national fraternity which held its biennial convention at Miami, Fla., December 28, 29 and 31, was accepted. Word to that effect reached members of the local chapter early Monday morning, December 31.

The presence of such a large national fraternity as Sigma Alpha Epsilon will serve to strengthen the already strong group of national Greek-letter societies on the Vermont campus. Vermont, with a relatively small enrollment, can now boast of nine national academic and three national medical fraternities.

Delegates and Convention

Albert G. Mackay M. '32 and Beryl W. Randall '25 were the active chapter and alumni delegates, respectively, to the convention at Miami. They left Boston, Tuesday, December 25, on a special car chartered by S. A. E.'s, as members of the fraternity are commonly called, and reached Miami, "The Land of Palms," December 28.

About 500 S. A. E.'s from all over the country were present at the convention which lasted three full days and is held biannually. After successfully presenting the petition of Sigma Alpha Chi, Mackay and Randall returned to Burlington, reaching here Friday evening, January 4. Their description and praise of Florida climate and life is the envy of all who hear them.

History of S. A. E.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded March 9, 1856, at the University of Alabama, in the old city of Tuscaloosa. Its inception was characteristic of the founding of most fraternities. Eight men, of whom Noble Lee Ile De Votie was the leader, conceived the plan to perpetuate their ties of warm friendship for one another by the formation of a fraternity. The idea to make the fraternity national in its scope was one of the goals early established by the new society. Until 1885 the extension was kept rigidly within the South. At that time a chapter in Ohio State was admitted and extension into the North and West followed rapidly.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon has the largest membership of any fraternity in the country. In point of active chapters it is officially classed second, Kappa Sigma being in first place. A conservative extension policy has been adopted by the fraternity, which has taken in only 28 new chapters in the last 17 years.

Sigma Alpha Chi Founded

Early in the fall of 1927 three men of Vermont feeling that there was sufficient good material in the new fraternity group at Vermont to organize a fraternity, held a series of meetings to talk over the situation. Consequently, through the efforts of Parker S. Blake '24, Henry H. Fuller '30, Theo '25 and Beryl W. Randall '25, Sigma Alpha Chi was founded. November 12 of that year.

Organization proceeded fast. A house was leased on Loomis Street which was the home of the fraternity until the present house at 56 Summit Street was purchased from Prof. Samuel E. Emerson. In brevity, in service ability and in location it is all that can be desired. The fraternity has grown in the last few years to be among the prominent ones on the Hill. The goal of the fraternity from its inception has been to become national. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was chosen as the national fraternity whose ideals most nearly corresponded with those of Sigma Alpha Chi. All efforts were bent toward becoming affiliated with S. A. E. The culmination of these efforts came at the Miami convention when Sigma Alpha Chi became Vermont Beta of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. A tentative date for installation has been set at March 5.

(Continued on page 4)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

News Editors

Lawrence O. Clayton, '29 — Herrick M. Macomber, '29 — Arthur D. Stearns, '30

Columnists

Mark Fuller, '30 — George R. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors
Elizabeth B. Hagar, '29
Mary A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '30

Feature Editor
George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Seymour Nathanson, '30

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Chin, '30

Asst. Sporting Editor
Warren H. Burr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor
Constance Holden, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

[illegible] Goodrich, '30 — Donald E. Coburn, '31 — Belle Church, '30
[illegible] Campbell, '30 — Philip G. Andrews, '30 — Cornelia Mould, '30
[illegible] Richardson, '30 — Louis Lisman, '31 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32
[illegible] Waterman, '30 — Richard Cowles, '31 — Hope Ranslow, '32
George R. Brush, '30 — L. M. Foster, '31 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32
Douglas T. Stewart, '31 — C. [illegible] Comstock, '31 — Herman Gerson, '31
R. A. R. Isermann, '31 — Pauline Burridge, '30 — [illegible] Bevier, '30

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

Carlton C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur B. Burchard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jenks, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Moore, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Fuller, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2665 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1868. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 448 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt

Vol. 47 — January 8, 1929 — No. 27

S. A. E. AT VERMONT

A little over six years has elapsed since a group of earnest, forward looking Students banded together to form a local fraternity to be known as Sigma Alpha Chi. When they were first organized they had only but ideals and a name. Today they possess a fine house, a high scholastic rating and a good name. These members are known in campus life for their industriousness.

It is fitting that a large, and old fraternity like Sigma Alpha Epsilon should accept this group as its youngest chapter. Their industry and strength of purpose might well be desired by any national fraternity.

Vermont is fortunate to have this large fraternity represented on its campus. The name of our University will be heard in practically every state in the Union. We welcome Sigma Alpha Epsilon to the Vermont Campus.

Christmas recess is always followed by mid-years and Kake Walk. Maybe if Kake Walk came before mid-years many Freshmen who leave might work harder to stay. It is more plausible as it is, letting all pent-up energy contracted during the examination period.

Examinations are new experiences for Freshmen and although an old story with the upper classes, something about them is novel. The majority of professors advise review now and sleep during the hectic period. Nine out of ten, or maybe more than that, do not regard this in the right light. "Just another lot of bunk." Nevertheless these same profs have watched failures and successes. Maybe they're right. It wouldn't hurt to try it once.

Athletes' Weak Points

Are B. U. athletes ticklish? They may be lushy, handsome and graceful, but are they ticklish? Outside of the athlete's best girl-friend, there is no one more qualified to judge the ticklish feeling of the B. U. men than Dr Arthur Watson, dean of the Graduate School and physical examiner of the B. U. athletes.

"Some boys are so ticklish, and jump around so much that it's nearly impossible for me to get the correct count of their heart beats," said Dean Watson as he prepared to test the physical fitness of a couple of B. U. basketball men.

"Not only are they ticklish," continued the doctor, "but some of the big he-men are really bashful. You would be surprised to see some of the men that carry the B. U. teams to victory blush when they are about to undergo an examination."

A smile flitted across the face of Dr. Watson as he recounted how one football man who has played in many a hard game on the gridiron became so nervous that his pet bear was was almost tortured.

"It's strange that a physical examination should be so strenuous," the doctor concluded.—Boston University News.

I can't step out with you. They say you have a bad name about town.

"That's a'right, we'll go outa town."

Does Yale Lack Spirit?

Can it be that American undergraduates are at last coming to realize the unimportance of being earnest about a football victory? We were moved to that hope when the news came from New Haven that only 500 out of 5,000 students at Yale had attended a football rally to create enthusiasm for the Yale Harvard game. We wonder if the loyal tenth were miserable cringing freshmen who came because they were afraid to stay away. On the platform before vast stretches of empty seats a famous football coach waived his arms and talked gloomily about the Yale spirit. Out on the campus and in the students' rooms the repositories of this divine afflatus moved about their business as usual. Perhaps they were thinking that a victory in shoving, running, and booting a football scored by eleven Yale men over eleven Harvard men had nothing more to do with the Yale spirit than a victory by the White Sox has to do with the spirit of baseball. At any rate they stayed away from the football rally even when a band and a parade marched across the campus to Winslow Hall in the attempt to seduce them with noise.—The Nation.

He Dummy: Give me a sentence with the word "bigamy."

She Dummy: I'd sure spoil this guy if he wasn't so much bigamy.

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the Cynic:

At a recent meeting of the Freshman class, the esteemed president of that body urged their conformation to the rules as laid down by Gold Key. He stressed especially the observance of the time honored custom of wearing the Green and Gold cap. The meeting was adjourned with the hope that this Freshman class would make an earnest attempt to follow in the footsteps of its predecessors.

It was brought to the attention of the writer that a prominent executive of that class has been seen without his Frosh hat. This young man had been selected because of his supposed qualities of leadership and when he, who was presumed to have a thorough knowledge of the rules governing his class, deliberately breaks one of its statutes, it is none too early to bring it to the attention of his classmates. His conduct should be above reproach and a sorry state of affairs shall exist if such a condition becomes permanent. We hope that this preacher will follow his own teachings, if not, another hypocrite shall come into our midst. The time is here when the student body deserves an account of his actions. We hope he can explain this unfortunate incident to the satisfaction of all.

L. S. J. '32.

COACH RATTAN ATTENDS MEETING OF OFFICIALS

Captain W. V. Rattan was the Vermont delegate to the first annual meeting of the Association of New England Colleges on Officials. The meeting was held December 17, at the Hotel Kimball, Springfield, Mass. Although there are a large number of colleges in the group, only seven had delegates present. For this reason the secretary was instructed to write the various members, asking a mail vote on the fees to be paid officials next season. This season the fees were $35 for the most important games, $25 for the games next in importance, and $20 for those of least importance.

It was voted that each member college should pay $25 for the service of assigning officials, and that an equal amount should be requested as a voluntary contribution for the upkeep of the organization. Other colleges are to be admitted to the association by the Executive Committee. The Secretary is to write the member colleges asking for a list of what they consider desirable officials, and to send them a list of officials used in the past season with their qualifications. After extending thanks to the man who served as commissioner the past year, the society adjourned.

NOTICES

Press Club Meeting

There was a business meeting of the Press Club on Friday at 3 N. College. There will be a short business meeting on January 18, at 1.45 p.m. at the same place. All members are requested to attend.

International Club

Members of the International Relations Club are requested to watch the bulletin boards and the next issue of the Cynic for news of the Pan American Conference which will be held Saturday afternoon, January 12, at 2 o'clock in 37 North College. Resolutions for special discussion and rules governing the conference will be posted. All members are requested to be present so that every country may be represented in the work of the conference.

NINE WOMEN ELECTED CYNIC BOARD MEMBERS

Nine women were formally made members of the Cynic staff Monday afternoon in the office of the Cynic in North College according to a custom inaugurated several years ago. The election of three Juniors, and of two Sophomores was announced in November, while the four successful competitors from the sophomore class were chosen before the Christmas holidays.

The complete list of new reporters is as follows: 1930, Pauline E. Burridge Rutland; Belle L. Church, Richmond; Cornelia S. Mould, Morrisville; 1931, G. Luella Ross, Wallingford; Hilda S. Smith, Easthampton, Mass.; Winifred A. Stone, Winooski; Harriet F. Wright Essex Junction. 1932, Margaret A. Martin, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; and Hope K. Ranslow, Montpelier.

SCHOLARSHIPS GIVEN TO SCHOOL DEBATERS

Vermont will again give scholarships to outstanding debaters and orators in Vermont high schools and academies when the contests which open February first under the joint auspices of the University of Vermont, the State Debating League and the National Oratorical Contest come to a close next May. This marks the fifth year that the University is sponsoring interscholastic debating in Vermont State, offering scholarships totalling at least $1,800 to the members of the two best teams in the State. In the oratorical contest Vermont gives scholarships amounting, in all, to over $1,000. The Burlington Free Press provides a free trip for the State winner to the regional finals in the National Oratorical Contest and the committee in charge of the nationals provides the prizes for the winners in this contest as well as in the national finals which are held in Washington in June.

Eighteen schools are already enrolled in the debating league. These schools are now being grouped into four or five districts, the winners in each district to enter the quarter-finals in the State contest. Eight schools enter this second round and are paired off against each other, four against four. The four victorious schools enter a third round of debates and the two winning teams enter the finals. Every member of these two teams receives a scholarship. The University awards full-year scholarships to the team that wins out in the finals and half-year scholarships to the losing team.

A unique system will be used this year in judging these debates. Judges will be equipped with a score card on which credits will be indicated for good points and deductions for failing to turn in satisfactory results. So far as is known the high schools of Vermont are the only schools in the United States ever to insist on such a plan.

In all debates teams will be using the question, "Resolved, That a three-fourths majority should be sufficient to render a verdict in all jury trials." This question is very similar to one of the questions that will probably be used by the Vermont debaters against other college teams. The eight teams to enter the elimination rounds will be picked by the middle of March. The final debate will be held in May in Burlington at the invitation of the University.

In the oratorical contest, each school will enter one speaker whose topic will be based on some phase of the Federal Constitution. A half-year scholarship is granted to the winner in each district and a smaller scholarship to the runner-up in each instance. The district winners and runners-up will then come to Burlington and additional scholarships of from seventy-five to a hundred and fifty dollars will be granted to the three best speakers.

The committee elected by the high schools and academies of the State to conduct both the debating and oratorical contests is headed by Principal H. Dean Pearl of Burlington High School.

Elliott Dodge of Bellows Falls High School is treasurer and Edith Fitzgerald of Brattleboro High School is secretary of the committee.

Thus far three schools have entered the finals twice each—Brattleboro, Bradford and Burlington. Goddard Seminary of Barre and People's Academy of Morrisville each have entered the finals once. In the oratory finals last year the three winning speakers came from People's Academy, Burlington and St. Albans.

With the State Debating League finally organized, Coach M. D. Powers is now negotiating with various of these schools for debates with the freshman team. It will probably be necessary to secure the permission of the Executive Committee of the league. Once this permission has been obtained, however a schedule of good high school and prep school teams as well as debates with freshmen in Vermont colleges ought to provide an interesting season for the frosh, two of whose men went as far as the finals in Vermont high school debating.

The high school leagues are modeled on the leagues that exist among the colleges in the State. The college debating league will get under way as soon as word is had from St. Michael's. Manager F. A. Sears is planning a conference of the debating managers of Middlebury, Norwich, St. Michael's and Vermont, at which plans will definitely be made for the organization of the league. An oratorical contest, which is also national in scope, is conducted for colleges as well as for prep schools and at this contest the University of Vermont is annually represented.

Visitor (at fraternity): "You boys must have a wonderful time all here together?"

Brother: "Yes, just like a big congenial poor farm."—Norwich Guidon.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REA

By Ex-Converse [illegible]

LOST, STRAYED OR STOL

O where, O where [illegible]
be?
O where, O where [illegible]
With his tail cut sh[illegible]
And his ears cut lo[illegible]
O where, O where [illegible]

London bridge is [illegible]
I ask but room and [illegible]
My child plays hops[illegible] town.
Who stole the dear [illegible]

Mary had a little lam[illegible]
Cease, teacher, let me [illegible]
I tell you—I don't [illegible]
Now where's the Mis[illegible]

Peace on earth, good [illegible]
Just see that flag unfur[illegible]
I really cannot tell you [illegible]
I seek, sir, the Lost W[illegible]

Poems (?) are made by fools like
I'll take the log o' mutton.
You naughty woodman, spare tree!
Who has my Collar Button?

Sing a song, a rich refrain.
And hearken to this rhyme.
Hurry or you'll miss the train.
You can't make up Lost Time.

"You can't spring that one on said the wary mouse.

"Yeh, I know she's good l[illegible] and all that. But somehow I can't see her."
"How come"
"She's never in when I call."

"Hey, Bill, wanna see some ly pajamas?"
"Gwan, I'll slap you!"
"Sure, they shrink from wash

Famous last words: "Consider self punished."

Percy Bjornskypolitoseni, who from Marblehead, Mass., thinks the cotton gin was an early soft drink. You're right; after a like that (L. L.) his roommate cotton to him.

Hip-Hip-Hippy New Year!

With the Theat

At the Majestic

Monday and Tuesday, Ronald man and Vilma Banky perform specialty in "Two Lovers." The gram announces this is their la starring movie. The time of the is a decade ago, the plot but one that appeals to the
A United Artist's Production

Lars Hanson and Lillian Gish pear in "The Wind" for the We day and Thursday feature
Wind enters in cyclones and Frail Miss Gish conquers become the star of the drama. He is good as the native—even thou is out of his environment plays a wild violet from V is blown into the home
Here she lives her tragedy
she remains having di man as Hanson.

CHOOSE SHARPSHOOTERS TO REPRESENT VERMO

Members of the Women have been selected as fo dinger '29, M. Baldwin
D. Claflin '29, E. M Co
Dodge '31, M. E. Edwards
Everest '29, F. M. Hazen
'31, F. Laythe '30, C. H
A. S. Orton '30, E. Pr
Robelen '30, R. R. Sc
Shaw '29 (Manager), E
M. Stoney '32, E. Taylo
kus '29, H. E. Wright '31

These girls, who will women's varsity team have earned their positi ess of elimination on a curacy and regularity.

Additional matches ha ranged with the Univers nati and the University o
February 16, and with th of Missouri on March 16

Dean Enforces Regulations

The Brown and White publication of Lehigh U
nounces the means which tion uses in enforcing tions. To all students books unduly long only o be sent by the librarian
one, the paper stated, is dean

First Kake Walk Held In Old College Drill Hall In 1894

Kake Walk was held at ...versity of Vermont on Decem... 16, the old Drill Hall at ... Hall. It was a masquerade ... people came dressed as ne... ...ns, dukes, dancing girls and ... the regular fancy dress ... General good feeling ex... ...where during the evening ... a freshman might be fresh ... cared.

... for 1895 contained a poem ... "The Cak Walk," part of ... here quoted:

... upon a table stood a cak ... the Hushehouse masta was ...

... the man and mayde who ...ed the best
... was to be given for a feste ... to telle my tale I will be ...
... that some of him that cak ... winne.
... bande strukke up the "Whyt ...sade,"
... they merched in everich ...erent style,
... imped alonge, and som went ... smooth as oyle;
... cynted were as any ballet mayde ... som with charcoal blacke as the ... of spade."

The first Kake Walk was said to ... rather wild"; some called it weird ... still others added "no ladies pres... Similar events were held during ... following years but were sup... pressed by the faculty because of the ...uestion of mystery and scandal ... attached to these affairs. But ... several resourceful students decided to ... these events into profit and on November 12, 1897, they held a "Kol... Koon's Kake Walk" with the sup... of some alumni and President ...ham. That evening the armory ...filled. The Howard Opera House ...orchestra furnished music for the ... and dance following. The Hay ... football team, DeWolfe Hopper ...Opera Company and Rev. Ebenezer ...son and family won pieces of cake ... the order named.

There have been four distinct steps ... the development of the Kake Walk. ...First was the impromptu stage when ...was a private affair; the second was in the armory days, the third was when the fraternities began putting on stunts with very little preparation; the fourth stage is the present era of careful planning and elaborate detail in execution and dates from 1908.

For many years the Walkin' fo' de Cake was the chief event of the evening which won the best prize. During the evening that ensued there was held a parade into which any group of men who so desired might enter a stunt. The entertainment was very informal until 1905. In 1908, Clark C. Briggs '94 offered a cup to the fraternity which should present the best stunt. Besides the Briggs cup the winning fraternity gets a large cake. T. B. Wright presents a smaller cup for the cleverest "peerade" costume. Key and Serpent and Boulder also offer prizes and the couple who best "walks fo' de cake" wins an important award.

In 1912 Sub-freshman Week was introduced as a means of inducing students to come to the University. The big event for amusement was the annual Kake Walk and high school students were invited from all the larger schools. Key and Serpent provided rooms for the sub-freshmen while in Burlington. Until 1914 dancing concluded the program. "Thus Vermont's mid-winter classic has been handed down and it is here to stay."

The prize awards for 1928 are as follows:

WALKIN' FO' DE CAKE

First—Phi Delta Theta.
Nelson B. Gray '30.
Charles N. DeRose '30.
Second—Sigma Phi.
Corbin C. Lyman '29.
Kellogg W. Kyle '28.

THE STUNTS

First—Phi Delta Theta
"Transformatory Phantasmagoria."
Second—Tau Epsilon Phi.
"There's One Born Every Minute."

THE PEERADE

First—Delta Psi.
"Old Ironsides."
Second—Sigma Delta.
"Air, Land, and Water."

S. A. E. House

Home of Vermont Beta of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity

FACULTY TO TAKE HAND IN CHAPEL ATTENDANCE

At its last meeting the Faculty-Student Council suggested calling a meeting to discuss the question of improving chapel attendance and tentatively fixed the date of the meeting as January 8, 1929.

At the request of President Bailey, who wishes to be present, the meeting has been postponed until the first week after mid-years.

A Sad Mistake

The telephone company made a slight error when installing a telephone at Lafayette College. The coin slot was left open and all the money was returned from the calls. Many of the students took advantage of this opportunity and the company did a record business in long distance calls. However the telephone company upon discovering the error traced most of the calls and the students received some large bills upon returning from Thanksgiving recess.

BLUESTOCKINGS SOCIETY GREETS NEW MEMBERS

Bluestockings held a social meeting to welcome the new members Friday, January 4 at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. During the short business meeting it was decided to start a new contest for membership. Women desiring to try out for Bluestockings may hand in papers by any member of the club from now to Easter at which time several new members will be chosen. It was also decided that several original papers should be read by various members at each social meeting in the future.

Edith Fishman '30 gave an extremely interesting and fascinating review of The Isle and Within by Ludwig Lewisohn and Esther Nelson '29 read a witty short story of her own composition. Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Joyce Richardson '30.

There will be a business meeting of Bluestockings on February 8, at 1:30 o'clock, in 3 North College. All members are requested to attend.

Beauty Course

Smith College has added a new course, Beauty Culture to their physical education department. In order to pass the course a student must have no fallen chin or eyebrows, well made-up faces and hips whose measurements do not exceed the waistline measurements more than two inches.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Elizabeth Howe, '27, was married to Clayton Jones, on December 22 in New York City. Mr. Jones is a graduate of Middlebury College '28 and a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Dryan Powell are the parents of a daughter, Alice, born on December 20. Mrs. Powell was Elizabeth Baker, '17.

Annette Burns, '28, spent the holidays with her parents in Burlington.

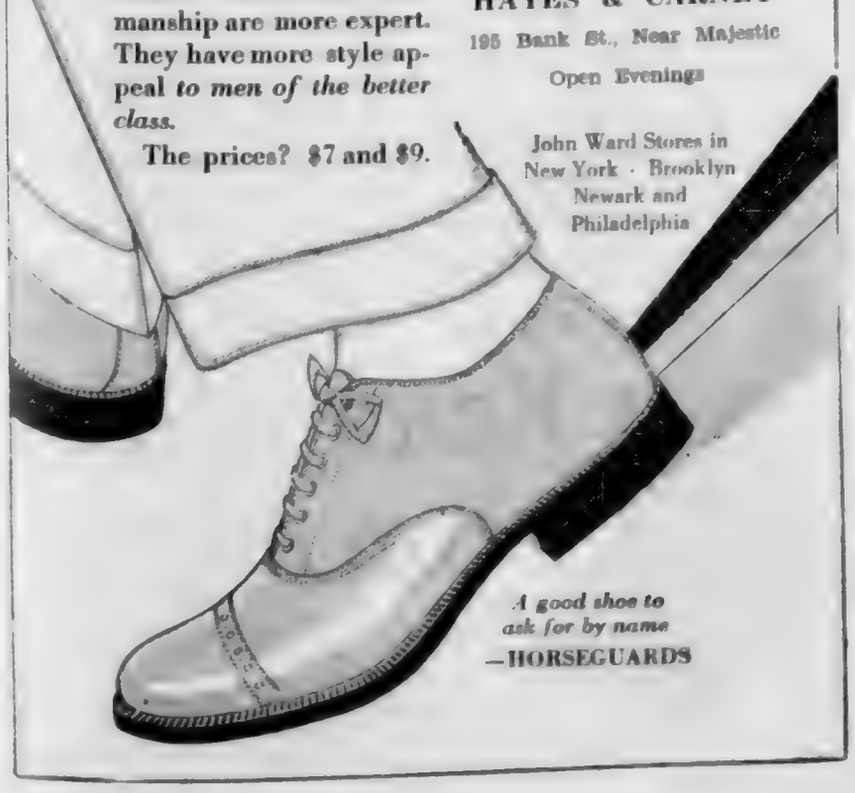
Irene Allen, '25, was a recent visitor in town.

"I know my stuff," said the taxider mist.—Utah Chronicle.

For Fine Home Made Candies
Go to the
BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP
Special Price on Ice Cream for Fraternities

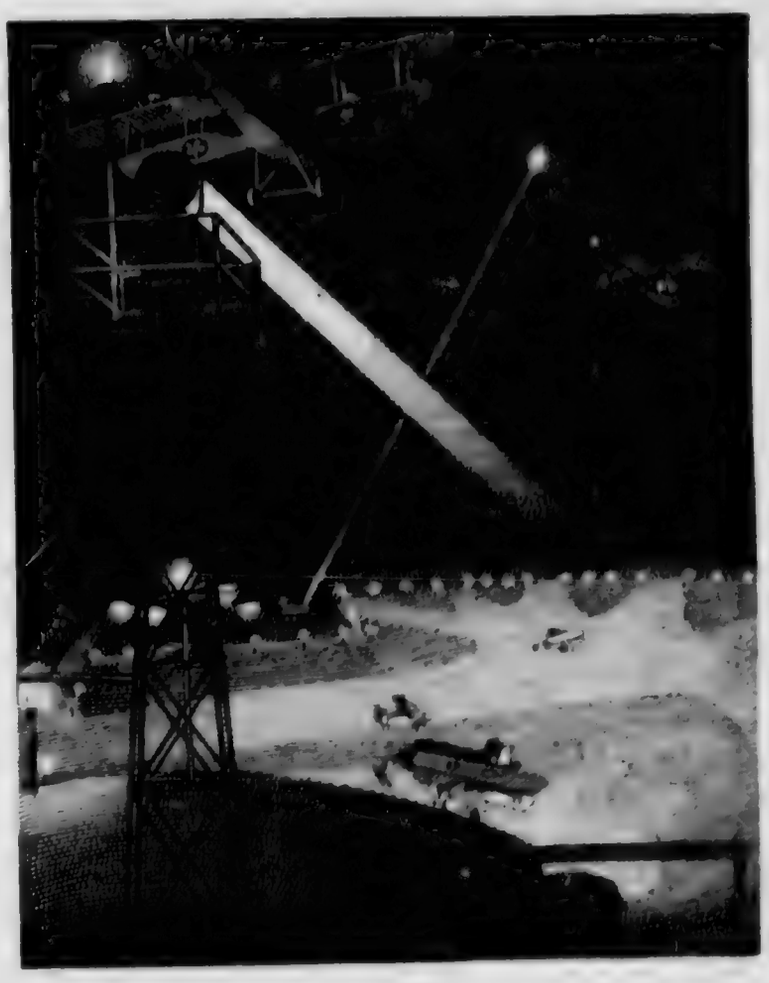
Have you ever tried asking your friends?

Any man who wears John Wards will tell the same story.



The leathers in John Wards are choicer, wear better. The fit and workmanship are more expert. They have more style appeal to men of the better class.

The prices? $7 and $9.



John Ward Men's Shoes
INCORPORATED — REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

HAYES & CARNEY
195 Bank St., Near Majestic
Open Evenings

John Ward Stores in New York · Brooklyn Newark and Philadelphia

A good shoe to ask for by name
—HORSEGUARDS

Lights that Fill the Skies with Commerce

THE air map of America is now in the making—on the ground.

Ten years ago, there were 218 miles of air mail routes with two station stops; to-day, a network of sky roads bridges the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Can you imagine this growth without electricity—without illuminated airports—without trunk lines studded with electric beacons?

Men of vision are building for increasing traffic of the air. Soon, the skies will be filled with commerce.

Just as electricity is helping to conquer the air, the land, and the sea to-day, so to-morrow it will lead to greater accomplishments in aviation and in every human activity.

A majority of the beacon lights used in airport and airway illumination have been designed and manufactured by the General Electric Company, whose specialists have the benefit of a generation's experience in the solution of lighting problems.

GENERAL ELECTRIC
GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, NEW YORK

REVISED MID-YEAR EXAM SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Revised Schedule Issued from Dean's Office is Final—Takes Place of Preliminary Schedule Issued Recently

[illegible] changes have been made in the [illegible] office in order to [illegible] and to avoid a few [illegible] that were noted. The new and final schedule is as follows:

Saturday p.m., January 19—English [illegible]

Monday a.m., January 21—Agriculture and Physiology (Agr.) Hort. Math 6. Chemistry 3a. Chemistry 5 Chemistry 7. Class Mgt. (Teacher Training) Descriptive Geometry 3b. Ent. 1. Home Economics 4. Nature Study. Materials of Construction Mechanical Drawing. Physiology 1. Class [illegible] Physics 104 (60m) and Mag. Political Science 1. Political Science 3. Vermont History.

Tuesday p.m., January 22—Entrance 1. Mechanics. Spanish 1. Spanish 3. Spanish 5.

Wednesday a.m., January 23—Agriculture 1. Chemistry 3a. Geology 1. History 1. Intro. to Education. (T Tr.) Music 3. Music 4. Political Science 1. Zoology 2. Zoology 6.

Wednesday p.m., January 23—Botany 1. Botany 3. (Agr.). Botany 5. Botany 7. Economics 12. History. (T Tr.). Journalism. Latin 1. Latin 3. Latin 11. Music 7. Philosophy 1a. Physical Science 11. Zoology 1. (Embryology).

Thursday a.m., January 24—Education 1a. English Methods. (T Tr.) Chemistry 5. Digest E. E. Lab. Math. Political Science 104. Surveying 11. (Senior). Surveying 55. (Sophomore).

Thursday p.m., January 24—Education 14. Education 2. French 4. Forestry 6. Geology 2. Testing Dairy Products.

Friday a.m., January 25—Chem. 1. Chemistry 11. Chemistry 101. Economics 5. Electrical Design. Geology 1a. (T Tr.). History of Art. Physics 1. Political Science 106.

Friday p.m., January 25—Economics 3. Greek 2. Hygiene (T Tr.). Latin 12. Math. 4 (Prof. Geo.). Reinforced Concrete. Surveying.

Saturday a.m., January 26—Botany 3. (Eng.). Education 2. French 2. History 5. Horticulture 4. Latin 3. M. E. 4 (Adv. St. Eng.).

Saturday p.m., January 26—Electric Power Transmission. Feeds and Feeding. Horticulture 1. Masonry Construction. Political Science 109. Psychology 1. Psychology 2 (Applied). Psychology 6.

Monday a.m., January 28—Ec. 1. Economics 67. Gen. E. E. Geography. (T Tr.). German 1. German 3. German 4 (Adv. Lit.). Home Economics 70.

Monday p.m., January 28—Economics 3. English 7. Greek 1. Psychology 3. Rural Education. (T Tr.). Rural Psychology.

Tuesday a.m., January 29—Economics 27. (Business Law). Farm Mgt. History 7. Home Economics. Home Economics 21. Home Economics 23. Math 1 (Plow Algebra) (Arts and Ag.). Math 1 (Plow Anal. Geom.) (Arts and Ag.). Math 1 (Trigonometry) (Arts and Ag.). Math 1 (Trigonometry) (Engr.).

Tuesday p.m., January 29—Chemistry 9. Chemistry 19. (Home Econ.). Economics 3. Elec. Mach. Laboratory. Public School Music 1. Steam Engr. Lab.

Wednesday a.m., January 30—Bridge Design. Economics 29. Education 78. Forestry 3. Greek 11a. Home Econ. 3. Home Econ. 7. Home Econ. 11. Latin 3. Math. 11. Mech. Engr. Lab. Political Science. Sanitary Engr. Lab.

Wednesday p.m., January 30—Economics 25. Economics 29. Physics 11a. Plane Surveying. Plane Surveying. Latin 5. Math. 11. Political Science.

Thursday a.m., January 31—Economics 9. Economics 67. Geology 3. Home Econ. 1. Hydraulics. Methods of Teaching. Public Secondary Physics 1. Zoology 9. (Entomology).

Thursday p.m., January 31—Economics 27. Geology 2. Home Econ. 1. (Foods). Home Econ. 13. (Family). Latin A. Machine Design. Philosophy 101. (History). Public School Music 3.

Friday p.m., January 31—Education 1. Elec. Communication. Engineering 3. Mental Hygiene. (T Tr.). Psychology 1m. (Exper.). Sanitary Eng.

Saturday a.m., February 1—Arithmetic. (T Tr.). English 19. French 114. Home Econ. 3. Political Science 1. Sociology. Spanish 101. Steam Engr.

Saturday p.m., February 1—Hygiene (Operation Clinic). Machine Design.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 597-W
T. P. O'HARA
TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING
170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

JANUARY SALE
All suits and overcoats substantially reduced in price.
HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT WILL SEND STUDENTS TO MEETING AT OXFORD

Thesis on International Relations Basis of Choice—Members of Vermont Society Hold Discussion Groups in Preparation for Competition

A meeting of the International Relations Club was held Thursday, December 21 at which time Prof. Carroll read the announcement concerning the Oxford trip—the event will take place from July 5 to August 8. One man and one woman will be sent by the Carnegie Endowment and others may go upon paying their expenses of $440 [illegible]. Alternates will also be selected. Those chosen to represent the United States will be selected from members of International Relations Clubs on a basis of theses on any one of the following topics: Disarmament, Arbitration, or International Cooperation. Besides attending the meeting at Oxford, they will visit Belgium, The Hague, Geneva, and Paris.

Edward Revor gave a most interesting account of the History of Cuba. Esther Nelson reported on Colombia, and Watson Morgan led a discussion on Nicaragua. These speakers reviewed the physical and climatic conditions, the history, educational and social reforms and present problems of their respective countries.

On January 7 another meeting of the organization was held at which time plans for the Pan American Conference were discussed.

Alfred Morin delivered a paper on Mexico which stressed the present conditions in that country. Frances Hazen then spoke on Panama with special emphasis on the industrial life of the country and their problems of communication.

The Pan-American Conference will take place Saturday afternoon, January 12, at sharp 2 o'clock. The major issues to be discussed include resolutions on the establishment of a Bureau of Publicity in Panama, a declaration to make arbitration compulsory on the members of the conference, and a resolution to effect a system of exchanging professors and students among the universities of South and Central America.

Discovered

Amherst College once boasted a secret society which held banquets in a secret cellar of one of the college buildings for several years without attracting the attention of the authorities. Finally, when the trap door which served as an entrance, was inadvertantly left open, a surprised President of Amherst discovered a large pile of chicken bones and numerous kegs and bottles.

—Pennsylvanian.

NEW HAMPSHIRE WINS WINTER SPORTS MEET

In the eighth annual Intercollegiate Winter Sports Meet held last week at Lake Placid, N. Y., New Hampshire State University captured the President Harding trophy which is awarded to the university team which scores the highest aggregate of points including the ski jump, in eight events.

E. O. Pederson, by his victory in the ski jump, clinched the coverted trophy for his college and won the Marshall Foch trophy at the same time. His jump was 158 feet. Knute Dahl, representing the University of Wisconsin, 138 feet, was second; Jacques Landry of Ottawa, 143 feet, third, and George Summer, of McGill, 132 feet, fourth. The places were judged on form as well as distance.

The point score in the Harding trophy competition follows: New Hampshire, 21; McGill University, 18; University of Wisconsin, 17; Syracuse 10, and Dartmouth 8.

Pederson was high point scorer of the college week competition with 15 points.

Williams College defeated Amherst 4 to 1, in the third and last game of a hockey series played in connection with the competition. Williams won the first game and Amherst the second.

S. W. Howard, Med. '31, took fifth in the two-mile ski race and was the only Vermont man to place.

TELEVISION PICTURES IN SCIENCE HALL THIS P. M.

An engineers' conclave in the large lecture room of the Williams Science Hall will witness two reels of moving pictures Tuesday afternoon, January 8 at 4 o'clock, when a complete story of television and insulation is shown on the screen to members and friends of the local branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Through the courtesy of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and Mr. H. W. Buzzell, the local manager, a reel illustrating television, and including a complete story of its inception and operation, will be shown. Because of the novelty of this new invention in the scientific world it is expected that a large crowd will be present to see how it operates. Another interesting reel on "Insulation" will also be shown.

Everybody, whether an engineer or not, is invited to attend. No admission is charged.

Excited Frosh (to surrounding throng of admirers): "Yes sir, the varsity fullback spoke to me, going down the train."

Skeptic: "What did he say?"

Frosh: "Get the hell out of the way, will you?"—Bu[illegible]

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
ESTABLISHED 1896 QUALITY VALUE SERVICE
LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES
NEW HAVEN, CONN.
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

JANUARY SALE

Watch Fobs	$ .69
Bracelets	2.98
Compacts	.69—$ .98
Rings	.89— 7.89
Pillows	2.39— 3.98
Banners	.98— 2.49
Stationery	.39— .98

UNIVERSITY STORES

Catamounts Defeat Coast Guard Five

(Continued from page 1)

neither side seemed to be able to make much headway. C. G. A. made two more baskets and near the end of the game Halligan made a neat one under the basket. Final score, Vermont 28, Coast Guard 27.

This victory brings to the Catamounts a total of three wins from four starts. The only defeat this season came at the hands of the Dartmouth quintet by a margin of one point. Incidently, the last three games have all resulted in a difference of not more than two points.

The summary:

VERMONT

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Halligan, r. f.	3	4	10
Wallace, l. f., c.	4	3	11
Morse, l. f.	1	1	3
Sargent, c.	1	0	2
Estabrook, r. g.	0	0	0
Manning, l. g.	1	0	2
Totals	10	8	28

COAST GUARD ACADEMY

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Roland, l. g.	0	0	0
Fahey, r. g.	0	1	1
Wendland, c.	5	1	11
Sinton, l. f.	4	0	8
Miller, l. f.	0	0	0
Maloney, r. f.	2	3	7
Totals	11	5	27

Referee, Forbes; timer, Howard; scorer, Grey.

Absent-minded Dean (knocking on St. Peter's Gate): C'mon, open up here or I'll throw the whole fraternity out.

School of Nursing of Yale University
A Profession for the College Woman
Interested in the modern, scientific agencies of social service.
The twenty-eight months course, providing an intensive and varied experience through the case study method, leads to the degree of
BACHELOR OF NURSING.
Present student body includes graduates of leading colleges. Two or more years of approved college work required for admission. A few scholarships available for students with advanced qualifications.
The educational facilities of Yale University are open to qualified students.
For catalog and information address:
The Dean
The SCHOOL of NURSING of YALE UNIVERSITY
NEW HAVEN : CONNECTICUT

Sigma Alpha Chi Join Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity

(Continued from page [illegible])

The present membership of the local chapter is as follows: [illegible] wood and A. G. Mackay, [illegible] Clark, L. A. Collins, W. [illegible] E. R. Mackay and C. E. [illegible] the class of '29; P. G. A[illegible] Ball, W. H. Burr, L. O. [illegible] Fuller, A. Gioria, A. E. [illegible] Moore, C. H. Ramm, F. [illegible] R. L. Stewart of the class [illegible] Coburn, G. W. Colby, C. [illegible] G. R. Hall, H. R. Matt[illegible] Sharples and C. L. To[illegible] class of '31; W. M. Flagg, [illegible] E. J. Mercier, A. J. Morin, [illegible] H. N. Smith, M. Tomas[illegible] Walker and G. E. Wilder [illegible] of '32.

Psychologists say a man craves a smoke so much as he is reduced to his last match.

—Campus.

8395 Decisions Favoring This Smoke

Ipswich, S. D.
Sept. 4, 192[illegible]

Larus & Brother Co.,
Richmond, Va.

Gentlemen:

In answer to the challenge of J. J. Roberts of Columbia, S. D., as printed in the Minneapolis Journal dated Sunday, September 2nd, I have smoked Edgeworth for twenty-three (23) years and for two years previous to that time I smoked Qboid, which, I believe, is manufactured by your firm.

During this time I have smoked at least one can each day, and to verify this statement you may address the C & C Cafe of this city, where I make my tobacco purchases.

It may be interesting to know that my purchases of Edgeworth during this period have totaled more than 8395 (eight thousand three hundred ninety-five) cans, representing a total expenditure of more than $1259 (twelve hundred fifty-nine dollars).

I have never smoked any other brand of tobacco but Edgeworth during the twenty-three years.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Chas. Boston
Justice of the Peace

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

Less burning of the midnight oil!

HERE'S a good business proposition! Invest in a Remington Portable and reap dividends in the form of bigger and better rest at night.

Much faster than writing by hand, this little Remington enables you to finish your long reports or theses—not fall asleep trying to finish them. Not only that, but think how much neater and more business-like they look when typewritten!

Examine the Remington Portable. It is the smallest, lightest, most compact and most dependable portable with standard keyboard. (Carrying case only 4 inches high. Weighs 8½ pounds, net.)

Monthly payments.

The Recognized Leader—in Sales and Popularity.

Remington Portable

W. G. SHERMAN
104 Church Street
Burlington, Vt.

REMINGTON RAND
BUSINESS SERVICE, INC.
162 College Street
Burlington, Vt.

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 | BURLINGTON, VT., FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1929 | NUMBER 28

CO-ED SINGERS PRESENT ARTISTIC PROGRAM AT MIDWINTER MUSICALE

Women's Glee Club of Forty Voices Gives Annual Concert in University Gymnasium, to be Followed by Dancing —Miss Julia Waterman Violin Soloist

The Women's Glee Club of the University of Vermont will hold their annual concert tonight in the gymnasium. Under the direction of Professor H. G. Bennett, a chorus of about forty female voices will no doubt thrill an appreciative audience. Miss Julia Waterman, violinist, will assist on the program. As was mentioned above, a dance will take place immediately after the concert which begins at 8:00 o'clock.

The members of the Club are as follows: First Sopranos—Helen Allbee; Ruona Allen; Elizabeth Butler; Elizabeth Cory; Janice Davis; Doris Duprat; Ruth Field; Lorraine Guillet; Sylvia Holden; Caroline Howard; Elizabeth Howard; Elizabeth Howe; Hazel Ladd; Clarissa Peters; Margaret Rice; Carryl Sayre; Dorothy Sweeney; Helen Taylor; Evelyn Trask.

second Sopranos—Dorothy Cottrell; Hope Grant; Georgiana Hubert; Katherine Josselyn; Irene Marcotte; Dorothy Nash; Virginia Noyes; Margaret Parry; Rena Priest; Katherine Skinner; Helen Spaulding; Margaret Stanley; Florence Whitcomb; Hildur Wilde.

Altos—Mrs. Pearl Brown; Marion Edwards, Elizabeth Mandigo; Leonora Neeld; Winona Spencer; Edith Vernon.

The Glee Club double quartet has the following members: Hazel Ladd; Doris Duprat; Margaret Corbin; Elizabeth Howe; Hope Grant; Dorothy Nash; Katherene Skinner; Winona Spencer.

The officers of the Women's Glee Club are as follows: Director, Prof. H. G. Bennett; president and assistant director, Hazel D. Ladd; manager, Georgiana Hubert; accompanist and assistant director, Margaret Corbin; accompanist, Katrina Munn; assistant directors, Irene Marcotte, Katherine Josselyn, Elizabeth Cory, Margaret Stanley.

The program is as follows:

Greeting ..... Mendelssohn
To Be Sung on the Waters..Schubert
Over the Oceans ..... Brahms
Glee Club
The Nightingale ..... Weelkes
Gloria in Excelsis Deo,
Elsa Kremers Bennett
Glee Club
Liebesfreud ..... Kreisler
Miss Waterman
Sur la mer ..... d'Indy
The Glee Club, with solo by Miss Ladd
The Twenty-third Psalm.....Schubert
Glee Club Double Quartet
Estudiantina ..... Lacome
Welcome to Our Hearts Again, from "Iolanthe" ..... Sullivan
Cachucha and Finale, from
"The Gondoliers" ..... Sullivan
Glee Club

BOULDER GIVES DANCE IN HIGH SCHOOL GYM

Boulder Society will hold a dance in the High School gymnasium Saturday night, January 12. "Joe" Lechthaler's Vermonters" will furnish the syncopation and the chaperones will be Professor and Mrs. Leon W. Dean, Professor Louis Meredith and Miss Marion Parker. The price will be the usual one of $1.00 per couple. Since this is the first official dance of the new year as well as the last to be given by the present Boulder Society, a large crowd is expected to make a big beginning of the year 1929. This is the only event of the evening, as the basketball team will be away. This dance is always a popular one with many features introduced.

Some 13 members of the Vermont Alumni of the University met Monday evening at the Golden Pheasant Inn for their semi-annual meeting. Dinner was served preceding the meeting.

PROF. H. G. BENNETT

Musical director at the University who is in charge of the Women's Glee Club Concert at the Gym Friday night.

UNITARIAN DISCUSSES TOPIC, "A JOB TO DO"

Rev. H. S. Mitchell, pastor of the Unitarian Church in this city, was the speaker at mid-week chapel, January 9. His subject was "A Job To Do," developed from the second chapter of Luke and illustrated by Jesus' studying in the temple.

"And it came to pass, that after three days they found Him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

And all that heard Him were astonished at his understanding and answers."

Jesus, Who was on earth for the fulfillment of His Father's business, was a wonderful example of a person with an object, sincere and serious, in His life. Rev. Mr. Mitchell stated as the basic idea of his address that a person with no real objective had no purpose in life. He developed this by telling about three kinds of people. Those that do their duty because they have to; those that do it in order to be a success, either financially or in some other particular line; and, finally, those that do their duty because they feel bound to some definite mission. Students usually come under the first two groups but are really successful when they fulfill the last.

Student Union Council Meeting

The Wednesday noon meeting of Student Union Council was devoted chiefly to a reading of the new constitution by the chairman of the constitution committee, Marion Backus.

It was decided to place this reorganized and rewritten constitution in the Billings Library, so that members of the Council may read and have an opportunity to become familiar with it before the next mass meeting, when a vote will probably be taken upon it.

The Council voted that all freshman women who failed to attend the last Student Union mass meeting on December 17 be required to write and submit a one hundred word essay on a topic related to some phase of student government.

Practically the entire membership of the Council was represented at this meeting.

Mrs. Samuel E. Bassett entertained between 40 and 50 members of the Ladies of the Faculty at a tea which was held at her home Monday afternoon. Mrs. G. G. Groat and Mrs. G. F. Eckhard poured and several other members of the club assisted with the serving.

SINGERS FROM ENGLAND WILL PRESENT CONCERT

Part-Singing (music sung without accompaniment) is the supreme test for vocalists since it requires perfection of intonation, faithfulness to pitch, uniformity of attack, balance and shading, blending of timbres and mutual agreement as to tempo and rhythm. The most pleasing combination is the ensemble of just the proper mixture of male and female voices to produce the best results and the ideal arrangement has been found to be a sextet (two sopranos, alto, tenor, baritone and bass), as exemplified in the English Singers who will appear in the Municipal Auditorium Monday evening. Seated informally around a table, these seasoned and highly polished vocalists produce an ensemble of unrivaled beauty and excellence. It is the last word in part-singing and, as such, may be enjoyed to the full by the discriminating musician as well as by the lay listener.

The people of all nations love part singing and Americans are no exception. Every city in this country has its chorus, its choir or its quartet but the perfection of polyphonic choral work is not always attained by such. Only when the separate units combine properly does this exalted state become a reality, and it is because of the attainment of the English Singers in this respect that Americans now have the unprecedented privilege of hearing singing such as they have never heard before. The programs rendered by these consummate artists represent the highest form of art from a period that teemed with a culture that does not exist today. To hear these madrigals and folksongs from the classic past is to make dreams come true and turn castles in the air into realities.

LECTURER DESCRIBES FLIGHT OVER ROCKIES

An interesting as well as instructive lecture entitled "Traveling in an Aeroplane Over Pike's Peak and the Seven Falls of Colorado" was delivered by Mr. Gilbert McClurg at the U. V. M. gym on Wednesday evening, January 9. About two hundred eager listeners attended.

By means of slides, motion pictures, a well-modulated voice and pleasing personality, Mr. McClurg took his

(Continued on page 4)

NOMINATE THREE FOR JUNIOR WEEK CHAIRMAN

At a meeting of the 1930 class nominating committee, held Tuesday in the Old Mill Chapel, W. H. Burr, A. C. Sirois and F. H. Woodward were nominated for the position of chairman of Junior Week. In the course of a week the president will call a class meeting to choose one of the three candidates for the post.

Soon after the election the chairman will name the corps of assistants, including a financial manager and committee members, who will assist him in arranging for the activities of the period in the spring set aside for the members of the third year class. Among the usual features of Junior Week, which occurs early in May, are the college play, fraternity formals, and the Junior Prom.

REGISTRAR'S RECORDS REVEAL NO STUDENTS ATHEISTS OR AGNOSTICS

Reports of Vermont Men and Women Fail to Support Popular Belief in Undergraduate Skepticism

There are twenty-one religious denominations in the University of Vermont this year. These various denominations comprise the religious and church affiliations of 1,310 students in the Academic and Medical Colleges. Although they embrace almost every religious sect, there is not, as the University Registration shows, a single Atheist or Agnostic. About twenty-five students did not indicate on the registration card what churches they preferred, but there is no reason to believe that they are Atheists or Agnostics at heart. Rather as the Registrar is inclined to believe, it is the result of carelessness in not stating their preference of religious affiliations.

There are 82 Hebrews, 241 Roman Catholics and 1,050 Protestants.

The Protestant memberships are distributed among the principal Protestant denominations as follows: Adventists, 1; Baptist, 72; Christian (Disciple), 3; Christian Science, 8; Community Church (Union), 1; Congregational, 401; Dutch Reformed, 1; Evangelical, 1; Greek Orthodox, 2; Lutheran, 2; Methodist, 134; Universalist, 19; Presbyterian, 37; United Presbyterian, 1; Episcopal, 110; Episcopal (reformed), 1; Reformed Hebrew, 1; Methodist-Episcopal, 27; Unitarian, 21; Protestant but denomination not designated, 11.

Since there are not twenty-one denominational churches in Burlington students are urged to attend those that they prefer next to their own and in particular to attend the weekly Wednesday service at the Ira Allen Chapel. "Surely Vermont has a right," the Registrar said, "to claim the support of everybody who as students are interested in a higher education that emphasizes the spiritual conception of life in contradistinction to the material conception, no matter what his denominational affiliations may be."

Less than half of the religious denominations have not a church building in Burlington but these are not the largely attended ones. The following religious sects have one or more church buildings in the city: Roman Catholic, Hebrew, Baptist, Congregational (College Street), Congregational (First Church), Methodist Episcopal Church, Free Methodist, Unitarian, Christian Science, Adventist, Episcopal (St. Paul's).

President Park of Bryn Mawr urged in a recent speech that girls of high mental development be sent to colleges as early as possible, instead of being kept out a year or two, as is the case now. She said that records of the last year's graduating class at Bryn Mawr proved that the twenty leading students were the youngest members of the class, and that despite the belief that maturity comes with advancing age she had found that the young girl who graduates from high school at an extremely early age was capable of meeting and conquering problems of the college curriculum almost as ably as if she had waited a year or two before beginning her college career.

—Hunter College Bulletin

VERMONT QUINTET WINS FOURTH GAME

Takes Lowell Textile Five Into Camp to the Tune of 23-14 in Slow Game, Both Teams Excelling in Defense

HUGH WALLACE ALONE SCORES ENOUGH TO WIN

Claire Cayward's Catamounts took Lowell Textile into camp Tuesday night to the tune of 23-14. All in all, with the possible exception of the first game of the season, with Montreal, it was the slowest and least interesting game played on the Vermont surface this year. Lowell put up a good fight, but they were not a match for the Green and Gold quintet.

The contest was almost a purely defensive one and neither team could break through at will. Both teams showed how two defenses of contrasting styles should be played. The Green and Gold had their man-to-man style down to perfection and were right on top of their player every minute while the Tech players took their men as they came through. The work of both quintets in this department of the game was noticeably good. However, on the offensive side, the Cats clearly had the advantage. They could not pass the ball as well as their opponents but they were much better shots. The Lowell five did not have a sure shot on the whole team while Wallace alone sank six field goals and three foul shots, enough to win the game.

Manning, regular back for Vermont, did not put in an appearance, due to an injury to his knee received in the Coast Guard Academy game. His place was taken by Halligan, while Morse was Wallace's running mate. Estabrook played his usual fine game in the back court and Halligan showed that he was at home no matter what position he played. Tavard and Farrell were the outstanding men of the Textile quintet, the former for his offensive work and Farrell for his defensive.

The Game

Estabrook opened the hostilities after a long scrimmage by sinking a field goal and immediately after Wallace followed suit. Allard was the next man to score with a short shot from the scrimmage. Wally continued the good work with a step shot and Tavard sent a long one through the loop for Lowell's second and final field goal of the period. Two more field goals and a foul point by Wallace finished the scoring for the first half.

Tavard started the scoring in the second session, but immediately after Wallace broke away from his guard and slammed a step shot through the netting. Quigley got away from Tim Halligan and hooped a long one that swished through the hoop. Morse followed with a pop shot from scrimmage and Wallace sank a free try. Wallace came through with a shot from behind the foul line. Farrell managed to sink a short one, and after a long scrimmage, Halligan accepted a beautiful pass from Morse and sent the ball into the basket. Morse collected two more points after a free try by Wallace. Tavard scored twice and the

(Continued on page 3)

Camera Grinders

College men and women have come to the point where taking moving pictures at big games and winter sports festivals is the mode. In the East, where football originated, the students are going in for moving picture photography with the same amount of interest and enthusiasm that they show for archery, hockey and soccer. Movie clubs are next, for in this day and age of simple movie cameras, which now even take color pictures and which are being shown in all attractive colors, it is possible to get a permanent record of college days.

Dramatic Club has again postponed the class plays. It has been announced that they will take place three weeks after midyears.

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Managing Editor

News Editors

Lawrence G. Clayton, '29 — Hesseh M. Macomber, '30 — Arthur D. Stearns, '30

Copy Reader

Mack Fuller, '29 — George R. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors
Elizabeth B. Hagar, '29
Mary A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '29

Feature Editor
George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Seymour Nathanson, '29

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Clam, '30

Asst. Sporting Editor
Warren H. Burr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor
Constance Holden, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Lewis Goodrich, '30 — Donald E. Coburn, '31 — Belle Church, '30
Priscilla Campbell, '30 — Philip G. Andrews, '30 — Cornelia Mould, '30
Irene Richardson, '30 — Louis Lieman, '31 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32
Lois Waterman, '30 — Richard Cowles, '31 — Hope Ranslow, '32
George R. Brush, '31 — L. M. Foster, '31 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32
Douglas L. Stewart, '30 — C. N. Crockett, '31 — Herman Gussow, '31
E. A. B. Germain, '29 — Pauline Burridge, '30 — E. J. Beyor, '30

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

Carlos C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur B. Merchant, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jenks, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Munro, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Puffer, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2665 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 408 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — January 11, 1929 — No. 28

A STUDENT INFIRMARY

The present epidemic of influenza brings home to us the seriousness of Vermont's lack of a student infirmary. The need for such an institution is twofold.

1. The majority of the students are not wealthy. Many are forced to earn part or all of their college expenditures.

2. The fact that such a vital necessity is not recognized and solved for all the members of Vermont arouses the question of partiality and stamps us as unprogressive in the eyes of other universities.

We understand that the female half of our college has an infirmary. Yet, from outward appearances at least, they appear to have more funds at their disposal than the men. To hide behind the ancient smokescreen of a "man being able to take care of himself" is not attempting to remedy the matter. The fact is that there are several male students at Vermont who now have the "flu," and because of the expense entailed, have not been able to carry out their doctor's orders of immediate removal to the hospital (our roommate, for example). These men must therefore put up with decidedly inferior care, subjecting those about them to the contagious dangers, while attending an institution designed to promote the advance of mankind.

The solution, however, is comparatively simple. If Vermont lacks the necessary amount to establish such an infirmary, we have but to follow the example laid down by other universities. Syracuse, for instance, taxes each student a nominal sum. While quite easily payable by the individual, the total sum is of course, very large. This sum pays for the annual chartering of hospital accommodations and expert medical treatment and students pay no further for attention.

Just how would this work out at Vermont? There are about 1,200 students here. If each were required to pay five dollars yearly, the total amount would equal $6,000. Much could be done with this amount, especially since it would no doubt be increased by University and outside contributions. Both the need and means are apparent. Why wait?

G. R. N.

Football Publicity

(By New Student)

The Romance of Football. Someone ought to write an article about football for the American Magazine or the Post, under this title. Football has been the hero of an Alger tale, too. In 1890, twenty thousand people witnessed the Yale-Harvard game; in 1928 eighty thousand attended.

A dean of Northwestern University testifies "Yes, even in the mind of the man on the street, the fellow who never went to college, the man in the grocery store, the tobacco clerk on the corner, there is a new feeling about Northwestern. I have sensed it all over the country. I found it on the west coast. . . .

"Beyond a doubt the success of football is tremendous advertising for the university. I am a realist on that subject. I believe that the tail wags the dog . . . ."

Stanford's product is also selling well this year, as a student remarks in the Stanford Daily. "Stanford, with the assistance of the varsity and President-elect Hoover, is now running a race with Harvard for the foremost position among American universities."

Football is meat for the university publicity bureau, a bureau whose business it is to see that the university gets at least as much column space in the newspapers as any other institution. No academic news is accepted half so readily as football news. Consequently football becomes an important part of the college ballyhoo. The Oregon Emerald, of the University of Oregon, argues for intersectional games, using this publicity as the main argument. This year's game with a California college netted eighty-eight columns of publicity. At the same time a rival Oregon school was getting one hundred times as much space, through an intersectional game that was being reported by papers all over the country. Therefore, Oregon must go East next fall.

Student: "What about wood alcohol?"

Stude: "Don't you know how to test for that?"

Student: "No."

Stude: "Filter through a handkerchief and see if you get any splinters."
—Lehigh Burr.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. VILLIUS VALTRO

I. Back in the days when every little piece of land might be a kingdom, and indeed very few kings held any real power, there was a little city, too small even to be called a kingdom. And if I knew the name of it, I would tell you, but even its exact memory, apart from this tale, never endured beyond the days of Hannibal. This was a peace-loving folk, never did their troubles a neighbor, if indeed they could, and never were they disturbed. But one day a mighty king, for those times, heard of this little city so near his boundaries, and came with a great force to conquer it.

Now there dwelt in this city a poor wise man—I might say merely a wise man, for seldom are the rich noted for wisdom, else whence comes it that they are rich? And he by his wisdom devised a plan, and saved the city, and its peace-loving citizens, its homes and its temples.

Yet who remembered that same wise man?

II. What a horrible religion must the ancient Christianity have been that puts "Those who love, and tell a lie" in the select group of the four or five types that are to suffer tortures in the lowest pits of its hell!

III. "If the serpent bite back before he be charmed, what advantage is there to the charmer?" Ecclesiastes.

And if one flunk the course before discovering how to pass it without work, wherein lies the advantage of trying to find out?

IV. It is a sad truth, that saying of Lobeleth, that a little folly outweighs wisdom and honor. Yes, and a little mistake will put to naught much hard work.

V. 'Tis well to have knowledge. For wisdom is no factor in success—a wise man has no more chance than a cunning fool. So he's better to be wise and rich than simply rich and better to be wise and poor than simply poor.

VERMONT 3-SPORT STAR NOW SUCCESSFUL COACH

Chaminade College of Clayton, Mo., rolled up the most successful football record in its history this season and this little college gives the credit for this achievement largely to its coach, Leo P. Granger, a graduate of the University of Vermont in the class of '24.

Chaminade took five victories out of seven starts, an average of .714 as compared with the previous record of .667 in 1921. The St. Louis Star says of the coach of this plucky little team:

"Coach Granger, a former University of Vermont athlete, has been developing scrappy, well-coached teams ever since he took charge of athletics in 1924. Another of his elevens ranked the third best in the annals of the school, and three of his four basketball fives have played better than .500 average. Two of his quintets are ranked as the best the school has produced." Granger has been general athletic coach at Chaminade ever since his graduation from Vermont in 1924.

While at Vermont, Granger earned his letter in football, captained the track team for two years and was captain of hockey for one year. He also played basketball and missed his letter by only one game.

Typical of his work on the gridiron while still in college is this clipping from the Burlington Free Press, sometime in the fall of 1920, Granger's freshman year at U. V. M.

On the next play, a pretty pass by Skelton to Granger, followed by a twenty-yard run, put the ball on the enemy's ten-yard line. After plugging the line for eight yards, another pretty pass to Granger over the line put Vermont six ahead of Tufts." The local paper once said of Granger that he was "one of the speediest men in running down a punt that has ever played for Vermont."

NEWS IN BRIEF

The fifth of a series of eight winter short courses in dairying opened this morning at Morrill Hall. This course, which will be given under the auspices of the University Extension Service, will take up market milk, grading quality tests, and farm inspection. The instruction will be given by a member of the staff of the University of Vermont and the State Agricultural College and probably some outside speakers who will give special lectures.

The R. O. T. C. band will go to Montpelier the last week in February for an overnight trip. They will play at a concert and dance under the auspices of the Montpelier High School Alumni Association.

Review of Literary Magazine

Shortly before the Christmas vacation, a second issue of the Vermont Literary Magazine was printed. It contains again many short stories, sketches, and poems which are worthy of perusal by the students.

In the mood of ante-Christmas festivity, the editor's page is the usual sketch of the underlying thought of Christmas celebrations.

"Nemisis" by Edith C. Fishman, '30, a newcomer to the magazine seems to be the outstanding story in this issue. It is a powerful little story of the effect of suggestion on the subconscious mind. At the outset she captures the reader's attention by having one of her characters promise to relate the story "of an oath not fulfilled." As you may perhaps surmise, the unfulfilled oath proves to be the mentally emanated "Nemisis" to the oath breaker.

A touching little sketch by Clifford Morse, ex-member of this year's Junior class, entitled "Wanted—A Friend," will next greet the reader. As the editor has noted, this essay and three others are used in these first issues, so that many who are fond of these authors may enjoy their essays and stories.

Elizabeth Hollis, '32, has a poem called "A Child's Song to the Moon" which many will care to read and reread. It is a lively little poem reminiscent of some of Edgar Guest's familiar poems.

Wilmond Parker, one of the elite in Vermont's literary societies, is the creator of a poetical sketch, entitled "Vermonter," and also of an interesting short story called "A Short Flight." As the title suggests, a flight is taken by somebody, but on reading it we find that it is his chief character's mind that takes flight to heaven where it has many an adventure. Principally when Bill, as the chief character is called, views a baseball game composed of Greek and Roman deities, and the climax occurs when Bill, after taking Venus to the Prom, gets into a dispute afterwards with Jack, his friend, concerning the superiority of Mary, his worldy co-ed sweetheart over Jupiter, probably of a segregated institution, and is brought to consciousness and to the realization that it was "only a dream."

An alumna, Elizabeth Mildon, is the author of an interesting story called "Antiques—What They Mean to Me and My Friends." It is a delightful story, embodying the personal views of a modern girl towards those hobby-crazed individuals who would rather buy a rickety old chair that happened to be in the same room in which some famous personage slept years ago, than to buy a perfectly brand new one. In conclusion she writes that nowadays people plainly show that they do not care a whit for old fashioned clothes and old fashioned advice, and yet they persist in collecting remnants of no value whatsoever. Perhaps it is our American infantilism, who knows?

To continue, "Kasmiri Love Song" by Priscilla Campbell is exactly what the title suggests—lotus buds on the banks of the Shalemar—two lovers, Ali the Persian Prince, and a mysterious woman called Shalemar after the river's name—languorous days of love the call of duty to the prince—the insidious treachery of Sidi, the rival—finally the return of the prince and his renunciation of her. "Though each cry of hers was fifty daggers in his soul."

Written in a sorrowful vein, "The Return of Peter" by Elizabeth Warner Morrill, is worthy of much praise. In fact it is a little masterpiece. The touching sadness which permeates the story gives it that human touch, so vital to a lifelike and imaginative sketch of this kind. It is written in a Christmas atmosphere, but the perennial sorrow of little Peter's mother on viewing the Christmas tree in which Peter once so delighted in, bring back memories of her little "Sonny-boy."

Edward Fitzgerald's poem "I Am Alone at Dusk" and Wendell P. Dodge's poem "Dawn" are better than the average poetry printed in current college literary publications. The former is especially of a high caliber. For freshmen they give signs of success in the literary field at Vermont. With the editor, we hope to see more of their work.

The amusing and interesting short story of Merta E. Munro called "The King of Ko-Ching is Amused," needs to be thoroughly read to be fully appreciated. It is written in a comic vein that furnishes plentiful amusement to the reader. As a veteran favorite of the readers of the Literary Magazine, the authoress, is up to her standard.

All in all, the staff of the Vermont Literary Magazine is worthy of the loyal support of every student, not only because they have proven their worth, but also because if Vermont is to be on the literary map of college publications, every student must be a booster, and not merely indifferent.

Cela Suffit

P. J. LaCROSSE.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REA

By Ex-Conver...

THAT EVER-PRESENT TOP

Gosh, it's cold today!
My hands and ears ...
I got the chilblains ...
Gee, but it's cold!

I wish I had a big ...
I guess I'll have to ...
Heavy collegiate—like ...
Gee, but it's cold!

I like my warm and ...
Went to military inst...
Caught a rotten cold in ...
Gee, but it's cold!

Most everybody's got the ...
Lots of the profs and ...
Watch yourself, or it'll ...
Gee, but it's cold!

Wore my old red flannels ...
Seems that moths have eaten ...
away,
Guess they use camphor balls for ...
Gee, but it's cold!

Even the classrooms sure are cold ...
I guess the Old Mill must be ...
'Twas founded in B.C. I'm told
Gee-hee, but it's cold!

CYNIC: "Faculty to take ha... Chapel attendance." This ... thrill the women.

She was only a professor's daug... but she sure could forget to tell ... ma what she'd done.

Onex: "Say there, I know of a ... lege where the women run ... thing."
Pointex: "Where's that?"
The Run: "Smith, child. Smith."

According to an ad in the CYNIC, Yale now has a nursing s... For the luva creampuffs, can i... that we heroic males are beco... even more effeminate?

There was an old lady from Whe...
Who had a peculiar feeling.
She climbed on a stand,
And with pencil in hand,
Drew pictures all over the ceiling.

Mary had a little lamb.
His fleas were white as snow.
But every place that Mary went
The lamb refused to go.
No siree, nobody was making a ... out of him!

Hark! Hark! The dogs do bark!
Our midyears are coming to tow...
Why toil? Burn midnight oil?
They only can mark you down.

HEALTH OFFICER GIVES POINTERS ON INFLUE...

Dr. Charles F. Dalton, secreta... the Vermont State Board of He... has issued the following statemen... the nature and prevention of ... enza:

"Influenza, which is now preva... in epidemic form, is one of the ... examples of a real 'contagious ... ease in the sense that 'contag... means contact. In other words ... practically always passed dir... from person to person through ... secretions of the mouth and ... in other words, by saliva ... This may be thrown off as a fine ... through coughing, sneezing ... talking, and the germs ... ment in the respirator... the person nearby.

"This gives us a clue to ... of prevention which ma... up in the sentence, 'Ke... places where there is close conta... tween individuals, some ... be sick.' As a personal ... vention, the sane methods ... been advocated for all ... diseases are applicable he... the body as near perfect ... sible by plenty of fresh a... ing, regular habits, avoi... temperature without pro... and cleanliness in habits, partic... with reference to the hands. ... is no magic way of preventing ... enza, but these things w... way toward keeping one in ...

W. A. A. Council Meets

When W. A. A. Coun... day noon, the possibilit... a women's ice hocke... broached; and members ... have been enlisting rec... new sport during the w...

At this meeting the first W. ... blazers were presented to M... Backus, Margaret Corbin, Marion ... est and Laura Smith. T... the highest award other than th... English "V" which is ... Council.

Vermont Quintet Wins Fourth Game

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible] went in just before [illegible] went off [illegible] and summary:

VERMONT

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
[illegible]	6	3	15
[illegible]	2	0	4
[illegible]	0	0	0
[illegible]	0	0	0
[illegible]	0	0	0
[illegible] b	1	0	2
[illegible]	0	0	0
[illegible] b	1	0	2
[illegible]	0	0	0
	10	3	23

LOWELL TEXTILE

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
[illegible] f.	1	0	2
[illegible] f.	0	0	0
[illegible] f.	0	0	0
[illegible]	4	1	9
[illegible] b.	0	1	1
[illegible] b.	1	0	2
[illegible] l. b.	0	1	1
	6	3	15

[illegible] Hausner. Timer—Clain. [illegible] Burr.

Mortar Board Luncheon

A [illegible] chapter of Mortar Board had as luncheon guests at the Bittersweet Tea Room Thursday noon the honorary members of the chapter. Those who attended were Dean Marian Patterson, Miss Kathrina Storms, Miss Elsie Cummings, Miss Alice Blanchard and Miss Laura Parker.

Father: How is it, young man, that I find you necking my daughter; how is it?

Platy lad: Boy howdy, it's great, sir, it's great!—Gordon.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 597-W
T. P. O'HARA
TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING
170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

Compliments of
C. A. BARBER & CO.
112 Church Street

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

Pianist All "Encore" for This Smoke

San Francisco, California, August 8, 1928

Larus & Bro. Co.,
Richmond, Va.

Dear Friends:

I have been a very heavy pipe smoker for the last thirty years, and have always used Edgeworth Tobacco (Plug Slice) and find there is no other tobacco like it for a cool and well flavored taste.

I am in the vaudeville business, and have traveled all over the world with my brother, and always have had very great pleasure in recommending your tobacco; and many a time I have had to pay double the price in different countries for it, but I would sooner do without than smoke anything else, as I have tried all different brands. I generally buy a one-pound tin and break it up; and believe me, gentlemen, it is real tobacco.

With best wishes from
Yours sincerely,
Sam La Mert
of the La Mert Brothers' Piano Novelty Act.

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

HAZEL D. LADD

Soloist in the winter concert of the Women's Glee Club at the Gymnasium this evening.

MARGARET COBBIN

Who has been first accompanist of the Women's Glee Club the past three years.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The engagement of Charlotte Stone '28, to Lawrence Hince '28 was announced at the fraternity meeting last Monday evening.

Miriam Lawrence '28 is doing substitute teaching at Burlington High School.

SIGMA GAMMA

Mary Cashmore, '23, is visiting in Burlington after spending several years doing missionary work in Turkey. Miss Cashmore addressed the Women's Missionary Society of the First Congregational Church on Wednesday afternoon.

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
185 Bank Street

NOTICES

One thousand tickets will be available, free of charge, for all students at the University to the English Singers' concert which Arthur Dow is presenting at the Memorial Auditorium on Monday evening.

The tickets have been purchased by the administration and only one will be available for each student. The tickets are not transferable.

Students may secure tickets at the Book Store while they last.

Cynic Scrubs

Freshmen intending to scrub the business side of the Cynic report to the Cynic office at 1:30 Monday

BEST COAL AND SERVICE
Elias Lyman Coal Company
206 College Street

The "Triumph" and "Defiance"

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

, , ,

KEEN-VISAGED seamen who watch the foam swirl in the wake of the "Triumph" and "Defiance," U. S. Shipping Board vessels, see in these ships something more than cargo-carriers. These staunch boats are emblems of American enterprise on the high seas.

To gain economy in their competition with foreign-owned marine units these ships were recently converted from steam to Diesel-Electric drive—the highest powered Diesel-Electric ship installations thus far developed. Direct electric propulsion of 4000 hp. at a propeller speed of 60 rpm. was provided, and the auxiliary equipment was also electrified. An important by-product of the conversion was a valuable increase in the total available cargo-carrying space.

The big jobs go to organizations with the resources and facilities to handle them. Westinghouse attracts young men of enterprise and genius because it daily provides interesting opportunities such as smaller concerns can seldom offer.

, , ,

The huge propulsion motors of the "Triumph" and "Defiance" are of the double armature type designed to maintain high efficiency at low propeller speeds. The installations include electric motors for blowers, windlass, oil and water pumps, and warping winches — a complete modern marine electrification by Westinghouse.

Westinghouse

Prof. Metcalf Speaks Before Local Association of University Women

It requires something more than realism or photographed life to reach the ultimate realities that are the essential truths in human existence. Thus was the conclusion at which Professor J. T. Metcalf arrived concerning what is regarded as the dominant note in the development of the modern drama, in an address before the local branch of the American Association of University Women last Tuesday night.

Professor Metcalf drew the portrait of realistic drama from its source and showed the dramatist began to produce what they considered "slices of life." The realistic drama, he said, was highly artificial in method and thought and had no vital connection with life. He regards the modern drama as developing in Norway, Germany and France.

The dominant note of modern drama is realism. On hand with the great following of realistic playwrights are the [illegible] plays of Ibsen, Sudermann, Hauptmann and others of this type although he has written a series of symbolistic dramas. Professor Metcalf considers this realism as developing in Norway more than in any other one country.

Among the advantages of realism he said may be listed those of natural methods, accuracy of observation, objectivity and a close contact with actual life. Natural science may also be given as one of its limitations since realistic [illegible] natural science is confined to what one sees and hears. It thus lacks the universal element that [illegible] of art express.

Symbolism was explained by Professor Metcalf as a further development of the drama. Ibsen after his realistic stage turned to this form of expression and produced a truly remarkable series of plays. He mentioned "The Cherry Orchard" by Chekhov as having an interesting example of symbolism at the close of the play where a sound is heard like the breaking of a string symbolizing impressively what has happened and is about to happen.

He dwelt particularly on Maeterlinck's works as gems of symbolism mentioning the plays "The Blind" as well as "The Intruder" and Monna Vanna. A remarkable part of the evening was Professor Metcalf's reading of a part of the latter play, "The Intruder" by Maeterlinck.

A further modern development of the drama was said to be expressionism and the play "Man and the Masses" by Ernst Toller was mentioned as a good example of this type. Expressionism is a violent form of symbolism, he said, in which every point is underscored. Many of the old stage forms and methods have been revived, improved and used with [illegible] of expressing the spirit.

Constructivism, which was developed in Russia, Professor Metcalf said, was inspired by the industrial age and its settings represent factories and skyscrapers. There is a great deal of noise, speech and action in these plays but as yet no great contribution from a literary standpoint has been seen from them.

In speaking of modern stage settings Professor Metcalf said that the realistic of 50 years ago has been supplanted by a more natural stage setting. There is some tendency now to do away with scenery once more, giving more prominence to the actor.

At the conclusion of his address Professor Metcalf showed a series of stereopticon slides depicting modern stage settings.

CATAMOUNT HOOPSTERS DEPART FOR BAY STATE

Today and tomorrow the Green and Gold five takes a trip into Massachusetts to invade two old rivals. Tonight the Catamounts will match their skill against Tufts and tomorrow night they will oppose Holy Cross. Both of these colleges are reputed to have strong teams and will doubtless furnish a couple of tough battles for Vermont. The Catamounts are especially keen on downing Holy Cross, for it will be remembered that last year this team won the Yale Tournament by defeating the Green and Gold by a small [illegible].

Coach Cayward hopes to have his team at full strength to go on this Massachusetts trip. However, it is feared that Manning will be unable to participate on account of an injury received in the Coast Guard game. With this one exception the team appears to be in the pink of condition.

Sargent, the tall and lanky Sophomore will doubtless play at center, a position he has held thus far in the season. He has shown up well, considering this is his first year on the varsity squad. Wallace and Halligan will probably start at the forward positions with the former as substitute for the pivot position. If Manning does not play, Morse may take his place in the backcourt, or, as in the Coast Guard game, change with Halligan. Captain Estabrook will be the other guard. These men have thus far formed the mainstay of the team.

The probable line-up: Wallace, f.; Halligan, f.; Sargent, c.; Estabrook, g.; Manning, g.

HIGHEST SCORING FROSH MAKE NEW RIFLE TEAM

Word has come from the military office of the University of Vermont that twenty four freshmen who have shot the highest score are to be given an opportunity to qualify for the rifle team under the tutelage of Captain Lauer, professor of military science. This is a distinct honor, since more than one hundred and seventy-five participated in the trial practice shots which were held at four different times and fired in four different positions, prone, kneeling, sitting and standing. Of the twenty-four W. L. Marsh had the highest score. H. M. Sheffield shot the second highest score, with P. E. Westin and L. S. Wright tied for third honors.

The list of the other men who were chosen includes the following: W. W. Bliss, L. L. Bowers, W. F. Burns, C. K. Bush, E. J. Desautels, A. O. Eaton, W. H. Freer, E. G. Hurlburt, T. R. Irish, R. C. Lake, U. D. Limauro, A. A. Maislen, G. A. McIntyre, E. L. Meehan, C. L. Park, P. W. [illegible], Primpas, F. J. Proc[illegible], J. H. Thoms, E. L. T[illegible].

HOCKEY TEAM PLAYS TWO GAMES OVER WEEK-END

Two games are scheduled for the hockey team on its trip this week-end. The team leaves Burlington at 6.19 Friday morning for Potsdam, N. Y., where it will play Clarkson Tech at 8 p.m. The next day the team will journey to Canton to play St. Lawrence at 1.00 o'clock. Nine players, Coach Abrahams, and Assistant Manager Gloria will make the trip. Manager W. S. Hall is unable to go on account of certain college work.

Tufts and Holy Cross are the opponents for the basketball team this Friday and Saturday. Leaving on the Central Vermont at 10.15 last night the team arrived in Boston this morning at 7.40 where they put up at the Hotel Hemingway. The game with Tufts is to be played this evening at 8 p.m. Tomorrow the team will be in Worcester for the game with Holy Cross in the evening, staying at the Hotel Bancroft. The men will return on Sunday. Eight men, Coach Cayward, Manager Gustafson, and Graduate Manager Mayforth are making the trip.

In 1930 the state series game with Norwich will be played on November 8, a week later than usual. This is so that there will not be a game for Vermont between the Norwich and Middlebury games. The other two colleges have had their schedules arranged this way for some time and have requested that the officials here do the same.

An attempt will be made to have the Coast Guard Academy team which gave Coach Cayward's protégés such a hard fight come here again next year.

Cop: "What choo crying about, boy?"

Beggar: "Naw, I just found a good recipe for home brew and I ain't got no home."

Lecturer Describes Flight Over Rockies

(Continued from page 1)

audience on a delightful trip through the vast and beautiful planes, mountains, falls and forests of Colorado.

Mr. McClurg introduced his lecture with a short talk on aviation, its history, development and possibilities for the future. He pointed out that flying is no longer a synonym for suicide, that it is almost as safe to travel by aeroplane as it is by railroad trains. He further said that many European nations including England, Spain, France and Italy have recognized the value of air transportation and are building many aeroplanes and airships, that the United States though far behind the European countries in the manufacturing of aeroplanes, is nevertheless progressing rapidly and surely. He concluded his introduction, quoting from General Mitchell: "The next war will be won by the country that has the greatest air force."

Continuing, our speaker, by means of motion pictures, allowed his listeners to travel through the most beautiful spots of Colorado. One could easily see the vastness and beauty of our country when Pike's Peak was shown. Two other interesting geological phenomenæ shown were the Seven Falls at Colorado Springs and the Cave of Wind.

Mr. McClurg concluded his lecture urging the audience to travel and to take pride in our country saying: "One cannot love his country without seeing it."

JANUARY SALE

All suits and overcoats substantially reduced in price.

HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

The Old Reliable

Gotham Gold Stripe
Silk Hosiery
$1.95 Pair

Sheer and Service Sheer. Square or pointed heel fashionable shades for every wear, as well as all smart street shades.

STUDENTS
LOOSE-LEAF NOTE BOOKS
ART MATERIALS
U. V. M. STATIONERY

McAULIFFE'S
Cor. Church & College Sts.
Phone 629

JANUARY SALE

Watch Fobs	$ .69
Bracelets	2.98
Compacts	.69—$ .98
Rings	.89— 7.89
Pillows	2.39— 3.98
Banners	.98— 2.49
Stationery	.39— .98

UNIVERSITY STORES

— SKATING — SHOES WITH SKATES
$5.50 to $16.50 Pr.
HOCKEY STICKS
PUCKS

L. P. WOOD
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

A good shoe to ask for by name—MONTROSS

There is style in the prices, too!

No longer need the well-shod man pay the price of out-of-date production methods.

Inefficiency is outmoded.

Modern methods enable John Wards to lead in quality, in style, yet sell for dollars less!

Buy your next pair here—at seven and nine dollars!

John Ward Men's Shoes
INCORPORATED — REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
Stores in New York · Brooklyn Newark and Philadelphia

On display at
Hayes & Carney
195 Bank St. Near Majestic
Open Evenings

ARE YOU A MEMBER of the black hand?

MOST of us manage to get our hands well smeared with ink when we do much writing with a pen.

Remington Portable is the best solution of that problem—and the neatness and legibility of typewritten work are sure to make a hit with the profs.

Get a Remington Portable now! It's the smallest, lightest, most compact and most dependable portable with standard keyboard. Carrying case only 4 inches high. Weighs 8½ pounds, net.

Let us explain to you our easy payment plan.

Remington Portable

W. G. SHERMAN
104 Church Street
Burlington, Vt.

REMINGTON RAND BUSINESS SERVICE, INC.
162 College Street
Burlington, Vt.

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VT., TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1929 — NUMBER 29

JUMBO NOSES OUT CATAMOUNT FIVE

Vermont Loses First Game to Medford Quintet

MARGIN OF ONE POINT GIVES TUFTS VICTORY

Vermont dropped its second basketball contest of this season Friday night when Tufts beat them by a one point margin on the Tufts surface. The final score stood 23-22. The Tufts quintet had the advantage during the entire game, but they never had a lead that was large enough to make them feel sure of victory.

It was a good game all the way through providing plenty of thrills for the spectators. At the last part of the game the Green and Gold had three chances to tie the score by foul shots, but were unable to sink the ball through the netting.

Ellis and Appianni put up a good game for the Tufts team while Estabrook, Halligan and Wallace starred for Vermont. Wallace turned in the high score of the game, with four field goals and two free tries, making a total of 10 points.

The summary:

TUFTS

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Warren, r. f.	2	0	4
Ellis, l. f.	2	3	7
Brehault, c.	1	0	2
Butters, r. g.	1	0	2
Appianni, l. g.	3	2	8
Friedman, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	9	5	23

VERMONT

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Halligan, l. g.	3	1	7
Palmer, l. g.	0	2	2
Estabrook, r. g.	0	0	0
Sargent, c.	1	0	2
Morse, r. f.	0	1	1
Halligan, l. f.	0	0	0
Wallace, r. f.	4	2	10
Morse, r. f.	0	0	0
Totals	8	6	22

Referee: Parker. Time: 2 twenty-minute periods.

SEXTET OPENS HOME SEASON HERE TODAY

This afternoon the Green and Gold hockey team makes its initial home appearance. Norwich, which has a hard skating, veteran combination will appear on the new rink at that time. The soldiers have already played seven games and are in good condition. They have a heavy team which has shown much ability and promise so far, and the Catamount sextet will have to do some hustling to make a favorable showing.

Coach Abrahams is handicapped by the lack of heavy material. Wood and Wiedenbach are lost to the team and this leaves two positions which are being filled by less experienced, smaller men. Mercier and Thompson of the freshman class and classy skaters. The former is a former Cushing Academy star. His stick-handling is superb. As soon as these men are available for varsity duty they will undoubtedly make a strong bid for berths.

A large turnout is expected today on account of the convenience which the rink affords the students. Good support now will mean a better team in the near future.

Managers have been appointed for the class plays to be given March 1, followed by the Y. W. C. A. dance. The advertising manager will be Miss Marion Baldwin, '29, and the Y. W. C. A. chairman will be Joyce Richardson. The property managers are: Ethel Rounds, '30, Margaret Stanley, '30, and Beatrice Parkhill, '32. The stage managers are: Priscilla Bothwell, '30, Luella Ross, '31, and Marion Edwards, '32.

AMBITIOUS STUDENTS GET CHANCE TO WIN PLANE

Announcement is made by the Alexander Airplane Company at Colorado Springs concerning its 1929 aeronautical scholarship contest among college undergraduates, co-eds as well as men. As an alternative award, a new Eagle rock airplane will also be offered for the best series of four short monthly articles on aviation from January 1 to May 1, 1929.

The papers, technical or non-technical, of about 500 words in length must be submitted on the first of each month from January to May. Candidates will be judged 30 percent on content of their articles, and 70 percent on their qualification to do justice to the scholarships, which include a 4-year course in a leading aeronautical school, or in a school of business administration where one can acquire a suitable background. Lesser prizes will include free solo flying courses and flight instruction manuals.

ASTRONOMER DESCRIBES INFLUENCE OF SUNSPOTS

From the time that sunspots were first observed people have wondered what relationship those dark, irregular, changing, blotches on the sun had on the phenomena of the earth and heavens. They observed that there seemed to be a certain definite relationship between such things as cold or hot summers, the Aurora Borealis, storms and other phenomena. Consequently, people have looked eagerly to the astronomer for the latest theories.

Tuesday night, January 15, at 8:00 o'clock in the Gymnasium, Professor Harlan True Stetson will deliver his address, "Sunspots and Correlated Phenomena." The lecture, which is in popular form, is sure to interest the audience because Professor Stetson, in addition to showing stereopticon slides of the sun under different conditions, will also explain some of the later theories on the relationship of sun spots on the weather of the earth.

Professor Stetson is eminently qualified to speak authoritatively on this subject since he has made astronomy his life-work. At present he is connected with the Harvard astronomical laboratories. He is a graduate of Brown University and has been associated with many others including Middlebury, where he was an instructor in physics and astronomy during the summers of 1912 and 1913. He has been a member of four expeditions to study eclipses, one of them to Sumatra in 1926, and one to Norway in 1927.

HUMOR SECTION AGAIN FEATURE OF YEAR BOOK

The Ariel is coming along rapidly now. Most of the junior and senior material is in and ready to send to the printers, and the board wishes to thank those, who have all their data in, for their cooperation. Unfortunately there are still a few who are holding up the book. The latter should, for their own sakes lose no time in cleaning this matter up. Every junior should check up and make sure that the following items have been handed in: (1) photograph, (2) snap shot, (3) questionnaire, and (4) grind. It is still more important that the seniors hand in their honor lists. This part of the book has to go to the printers by the middle of this week, so, if there are still any out, they must be turned in at once. Anyone who hasn't done this should remember his or her part in delaying the book if it doesn't come out on time.

Among the important changes to appear in this year's book is the re introduction of a humor section. This section will be mixed in with the advertising section if the present plans work out. The other changes are not to be published until the book comes out.

Grey Friars, literary society, met on Thursday evening in the radio shack. After a short business session, at which the discussion centered upon the time and place of the semi-annual banquet, the members read selections of their own composition. The work offered included both poetry and prose, and in the latter class there were both short stories and essays.

EMBRYO STATESMEN IN MOCK CONVENTION ON INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

Vermont Student Organization Holds Interesting and Instructive Pan-American Conference

Student interest in world affairs was shown at a meeting of the International Relations Club held Saturday afternoon in the Old Mill. The meeting, the final session of the first semester, took the form of a Pan American Conference, with the members of the organization acting as the representatives of Central and South American countries. At the earlier meetings of the year, which served as preparatory to the conference Saturday, various students gave short talks on the nature of the lands and peoples south of the United States. The work of the International Relations Club is being carried on along lines suggested by the Carnegie Foundation, which is offering a trip to Oxford during the summer of 1929 to a student in an American College on the basis of a thesis on Disarmament, Arbitration, or International Cooperation.

The first business of the session on Saturday was the formulation of rules for the conduct of the conference. These, although adapted to the special needs of the student meeting, were as nearly as possible like the laws governing the real Pan American Conference. R. L. Stewart, '30, of Hardwick, vice-president of the Vermont International Relations Club, was chosen president of the convention. Three resolutions were laid before the "delegates" for consideration: 1. There shall be established at Panama a publicity bureau for the purpose of gathering and distributing information about the Central and South American countries, to be financed by proportional contributions from the countries; 2. A system of exchange of professors and students among the countries shall be worked out, for the better understanding of mutual problems and the securing of information. 3. The Pan-American Conference shall adopt a compulsory system of arbitration.

The president appointed committees to consider these propositions, and after consultation they reported their findings to the conference. The questions were then thrown open to discussion from the representatives of the countries interested. So prolonged and animated was the discussion that the rule that a delegate speak only once on any one subject, unless he gain the unanimous consent of the conference, was frequently violated and finally discarded. After a thorough hearing on the questions, the pseudo-statesmen voted to reject the first resolution and to accept the second. The third proposition was amended to require that all matters be referred to the World Court for arbitration before it was accepted.

Professor D. B. Carroll, who is sponsoring the work of the students, announced that the work of the society would be somewhat different during the next semester. He did not disclose what the character of the study would be, but said that he had already received the material from the Carnegie Foundation. The only requirement for membership in the club is regular attendance at the meetings, and the students in the society hope that others interested in their activities will join them.

Visualized Football

A novel method of portraying their football games has been adapted by the authorities of Prudue University. The game is shown on a mechanism called a gridgraph. Play by play is recorded by a moving light which represents the progress of the ball. All the information given on the stadium scoreboard is also presented.

The following girls have had charge of Practice House this week: seniors, Elizabeth Brown, hostess, Lucene Little; juniors, Marjorie Huntley, Rosena Allen; sophomores, Marie Brigham, Doris Skinner.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS LAST BOULDER DANCE

Over a hundred and fifteen couples were present at the dance, the last under the auspices of the present Boulder Society, which was held Saturday night in the High School Auditorium. The syncopation furnished by "Joe" Lechnyr's Vermonters and an excellent floor were enjoyed by the enthusiastic crowd of people. Professor and Mrs. Leon W. Dean, Miss Laura Parker and Professor Louis Meredith were the chaperones. The hall was well decorated with college banners including those of Vermont, Colby, Middlebury and Amherst. This was the last dance to be held by the present Boulder Society and the only one which will be given until after mid-years are over.

GLEE CLUB PRESENTS SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

Friday evening in the University gymnasium the women's glee club scored another district triumph with their mid-winter concert. The same power, the same quality of tone and dexterity of treatment which have characterized past productions of this organization were again in evidence. The results of the sure and careful training of Professor H. G. Bennett, musical director of the University, were everywhere shown, and much of the credit for the success of the work of the student singers should go to him.

The program opened with Mendelssohn's "Greeting," a lively selection which at once won the approval of the appreciative audience. Also in the first group were "To Be Sung on the Waters" by Schubert and "Over the Oceans," by Brahms. Included in the second group were the melodious "Nightingale" of Weelkes, and the harmonious arrangement of the Gloria in Excelsis Deo by Elsa Kremers Bennett, wife of the director which was given so effectively at the glee club's Christmas concert. These two selections rendered without accompaniment, tested to the full the ability of the chorus.

The soloist of the evening was Miss Julia Waterman, who exhibited real violin technic in her rendering of Kreisler's "Liebesfreud" and Beethoven's "Minuet in G," which she gave as an encore.

"Sur La Mer," by d'Indy, was the next offering of the glee club. Particularly praiseworthy was the work of Miss Hazel Ladd, whose clear soprano, dextrously handled, filled her hearers with admiration. The program was continued by the double quartet, who sang Schubert's "Twenty-third Psalm." The result of skillful ensemble training was visible in this selection.

The glee club concluded the concert with three numbers which proved to be very popular with the audience. "Estudiantina," by Lacome, "Welcome to Our Hearts Again" from "Iolanthe" and "Cachucha" and Finale from "The Gondoliers," by Sullivan. The singers by popular demand repeated the last song as an encore.

Miss Margaret Corbin and Miss Katherine Munn assisted materially in the success of the evening with their sure accompaniments at the piano.

After the conclusion of the program a large number of couples enjoyed dancing to the strains of Johnson's Orchestra until midnight. Professor and Mrs. H. G. Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Leon W. Dean acted as chaperones.

Notices have been sent to the seniors in the College of Arts and Sciences announcing the schedule of senior debates for the second semester. Participants are warned that the topics for debate must be submitted to the instructor two weeks in advance, and briefs must be presented one week before the day set for the debate. Both men and women who are seniors in the Arts College are reminded that the topics for essays will be due not later than March 1, and the completed essays not later than May 10.

CRUSADERS DEFEAT VERMONTERS 24-20

Green and Gold Basketeers Drop Second Game of Massachusetts Trip

BOTH GAME AND CROWD LISTLESS THROUGHOUT

Claire Cayward's team dropped the second game of its invasion into Massachusetts Saturday night when the Holy Cross team came out on the long end of a 24 to 20 score. It was a slow, listless game all the way through, and the large crowd at the opening game failed to respond to the poor exhibition. The Purple quintet showed its usual short pass system but the handling of the ball and the shooting of both teams were not up to the standard that they have set.

Captain Morris of the Crusader team and Connors a forward were easily the outstanding men of the game, and the two of them ran up a total of seventeen points. Morris turned in the high score of the game, with 11 points to his credit. The Purple five never had a really safe lead, and they didn't seem to show such a great superiority over the Catamounts.

Maffeo of Holy Cross opened up the scoring of the game with a free try. Wallace came through shortly after with a twin counter, and he was followed immediately by Connors. Then the scoring began in earnest and with two minutes of the half to play, the score stood 10-10. But, at the half, the score stood 16-13 in favor of the Crusaders.

The second half proved more exciting than the first period. A floor goal by Maffeo made the score 18-12, but a burst of scoring by the Green and Gold when Halligan, Wallace and Estabrook tallied four points. Another free try by Brady followed, and a field goal by Estabrook brought the Catamounts to within one point of the Holy Cross five. A long shot by Sullivan, a foul point by Estabrook and another free try by Captain Morris ended the scoring of the game.

Captain Red Estabrook was the outstanding man for the Vermonters. He played a fine defensive game and in addition, scored eight points for the Green and Gold. Halligan and Wallace also turned in a fine game. Tim turned in five points and Wallace ended the game with six to his credit.

The summary:

HOLY CROSS

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Morris, l. f.	4	3	11
Connors, r. f.	3	0	6
Russell, r. f.	0	0	0
Desautels, r. f.	0	1	1
Sullivan, c.	1	0	2
Maffeo, r. g.	1	1	3
Clancy, r. g.	0	0	0
Brady, l. g.	0	1	1
Totals	9	6	24

VERMONT

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Halligan, l. f.	2	1	5
Wallace, r. f.	3	3	6
Sargent, c.	0	0	0
Palmer, l. g.	0	1	1
Estabrook, r. g.	2	4	8
Totals	7	9	20

NORWICH CADETS BEAT VERMONT SWORDSMEN

Catamount fencers journeyed to Northfield Saturday, where they lost the opening match of the 1929 season, 7 bouts to 4. The summary:

Cook (N) defeated Calcagni (V), 5 to 4; and Chamberlain (V), 5 to 3.

Leet (N) defeated Kaufman (V), 5 to 1; and Aiken (V), 5 to 1.

Pendo (N) defeated Aiken (V), 5 to 2, and Kaufman (V), 5 to 2.

Robson (N) defeated Calcagni (V), 5 to 1.

Basilicato (V) defeated Lashway (N), 5 to 4; and Belisle (N) 5 to 3.

Musgrove (V) defeated Belisle (N), 5 to 4; and Lashway (N), 5 to 4.

Brown (N) and Chamberlain (V) tied, 3 to 3.

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

Lawrence O. Clayton, '29 — News Editor Hesrach M. Manoukian, '30 — Arthur D. Stearns, '29

Hank Fuller, '30 — Columnists — George E. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors Elizabeth B. Hager, '29 Mary A. Turner, '29 — Intercollegiate Editor Odino A. Martinetti, '30 — Feature Editor George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor Emanuel Nathanson, '30 — Sporting Editor Angus W. Cain, '29 — Asst. Sporting Editor Warren H. Burr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor Frances Holden, '29 — Art Editor Leonie Allinger, '29 — Photographic Editor Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Ronald E. Coburn, '31 — Belle Church, '30
Philip G. Andrews, '30 — Cornelia Mould, '30
Leone Lieman, '31 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32
Richard Cowles, '31 — Hope Ransiow, '32
L. M. Foster, '31 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32
C. M. Crockett, '31 — Herman Gussow, '31
Pauline Burridge, '30 — E. J. Beyor, '30

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

Corbin C. Lyman, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur B. Burchard, '29 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jenks, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Moore, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Vance C. Puffer, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2665 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1883. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — January 15, 1929 — No. 29

Library Vandalism

Vermont is more than fortunate in having on its campus an architecturally beautiful library building, one of the masterpieces of the great architect, H. H. Richardson. The structure was the gift of Hon. Frederick Billings, for whom it was named. Its sandstone exterior, its artistic turret and apse, its Georgia pine interior, its convenient appointments, combine to form an educational plant of which any institution might well be proud, in point of both appearance and usefulness.

Vermont is more than fortunate in having so large and valuable collection of books with which to fill its library building. More than one hundred sixteen thousand volumes line its walls. It has a dictionary catalogue, special bibliographies, and other modern facilities. It is a government depository library, receiving all the publications of the United States Government generally distributed. The Billings Library houses the priceless private collection of Hon. George Perkins Marsh, and the Civil War collection of Gen. Rush C. Hawkins, the second in size and value owned by an institution of learning in this country, surpassed only by the Princeton collection. The library also has its share of treasures in rare and valuable editions of early books, manuscripts, and autographs.

Vermont is perhaps more than unfortunate in having a student body which does not fully appreciate the value of the library and its contents, and its obligation sensibly to use and not barbarously to misuse its privileges. Every year an inexcusable number of books are lost—either deliberately stolen or thoughtlessly kept by students who neglected to have their withdrawals charged.

There is another practice which is a source of continual trouble and expense. For the convenient reference of later students, periodicals at the end of the year are bound. The librarians report that it is a rare thing when the twelve issues of a monthly magazine are all found in good condition, when they are collected for the binders. Almost inevitably some numbers are mutilated,—whole articles, coupons and pictures cut out— and some lacking entirely. There is the consequent delay and cost of securing new copies, and sometimes they cannot be replaced. The librarians are always willing to purchase extra issues for the special work of debaters and others, but they urgently request that the numbers for their permanent files be kept intact and returned promptly.

We are inclined to think that the students owe it to the University, and to the several donors of the library, as well as to the ever-helpful corps of librarians, to use the books and periodicals intelligently. All that is required is a little thoughtfulness of the rights of others.

Art versus Athletics

A recent article in a popular magazine takes great pains to impress upon the reader the fact that at Texas University literary positions and elections are viewed with much more interest than are athletic achievements. We learn that the editor-in-chiefship of the school paper is more sought after than the captaincy of the football team. Can it be possible that the Cagles and Strongs are falling by the wayside while the Podunk Institute Beale comes tearing down the royal path of honor and success?

We do not think so. Rather, do we feel that T. U.'s position is unique, to say the least. Youth demands youthful pursuits, youthful pastimes. It desires the clash of fighting bodies, the wild, spontaneous cheering. It wants youthful color and youthful life. It can find neither in dusty literary pursuits. Five years after graduation, there'll be a different viewpoint. It has been said that students do not begin to think until five years after graduation.

Yes, we take off our hat to T. U., but we'll admit that we do not understand it.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. VILLIUS VALTRO

I sort of sustected something when I seen the look on Jones' face as he came toward me. Jones is the kind of guy that will have his little joke—you know plenty like him, I guess. Well, anyway, he plays 2nd oboe in the R. O. T. C. Band (when he's there) and now he was chargin' up to shoot some line at me. So I gets up to take the shock better, you know, and he starts talking.

"Joe," he says,—my name's Walter, but he calls everybody Joe, to get in good with Lechnyr, maybe—"Joe, do you realize what a privilege and honor it is for you to play in our band?"

"Pete," I answers—his name ain't Pete, either, but that's my strategy—"I read the first three letters of the title of that band and you got your answer." Now, myself, I thought that was a pretty good joke, but Jones never cracks a smile. "Say," he says, "don't you realize this is a serious matter? What I mean, it ain't everybody gets a chance to sit in a comfortable chair and loaf for half an hour on Friday mornings." "Where," I says, "do you get that stuff?"

"You shut up and listen to me. Ain't you joyous to wear those nifty gold buckled white belts on top of that lovely, tailored uniform? An' don't you just adore those darling white leggin's? Isn't that what makes you the 'censure of admiring eyes' as Homer says?"

"Censure is right," I says, recalling somewhat bitterly the musical laughs that greeted my first appearance in that so-called uniform of the band. "If they gotta tag a uniform like that on a man, why do they gotta go an' pick on him when he's down and give him those leggin's and belts—to be worn in public," I continues. "We don't haf to wear 'em private, in rehearsals, but at a game or anything we're there, with the brass of our buckles setting off the green of our uniforms, and neat (?) white overspats and a two-cent white belt that will hitch up in back, making us a symmetrical lookin' bunch—showin' up the tawdry uniforms of Norwich and Middlebury."

"Shut up," he says, "you don't appreciate how well off you are. And anyway, if you don't like it, you can quit, an' march around, an' throw a gun on Friday."

"Maybe."

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the CYNIC:

An article recently appeared in the CYNIC, in which the president of the class of '32 was not only severely criticized, but also libeled and insulted by a fellow classman.

This fellow classman, whose initials were signed "L. S. J."—please reverse them if you desire to know his identity—is, we presume a paragon of perfection. The ideal Freshman! No doubt of it! A rather conspicuous fur-bearing animal—you must all know him! Undoubtedly he wears black sox, and garters! Surely, he never neglects to wear his Frosh cap! Of course, he always carries matches! Or, is he also, merely human? Is he himself a "preaching hypocrite?" Horrible, but perhaps true, thought!

Was "L. S. J." possibly motivated by a feeling of rancor because of defeated ambition? Did he aspire to the presidency? Still, his excellent (?) nominating address would seem to deny that. Perhaps he hoped, through the publicity that must have accrued to him, to achieve sufficient prominence to be a candidate for some other office. Or did he only desire membership on a committee or two?

We would suggest that "L. S. J." (or J. S. L.) be more careful in his writing, and see first, if the "prominent executive's" seeming negligence was deliberate or unavoidable. We would suggest that he "cast out the beam from his own eye." We, thinking him to be unutterably wrong, and thinking that we know certain actions of his to be imperfectly those of an ideal Freshman, ask him:

"Are you a hypocrite, too?"

W. P. D., '32.

Note to J. S. L.: These initials are in their natural order.

Sign Up

Professor A. E. Heath, of Cambridge University, urges that lectures on love making be given for the double purpose of making classroom work more interesting while in school and life more interesting as the students grow older.

Matron: "But we always call our servants by their last names, so you will have to abide by the rule. What is your family name?"

Butler (meekly): "Darling."

Eighteen High Schools Competing University Scholarships in Debat

Eighteen Vermont high schools are already out for the eight debating scholarships offered by the University of Vermont. Only two schools are given the scholarships, the one producing the best debating team in the state gaining four full-year scholarships while the school with the second best team secures four half-year scholarships. The awards go to the students of those schools who will participate in the final debate for the state championship in Burlington next May.

The schools entering the High School Debating League, which is directing this activity for the University, have been grouped into five districts of which four are already complete with four schools in each, and one will be ready to get into action as soon as two more schools, whose entrance is now being awaited, definitely join.

In the first district, the directors of the league have placed Brattleboro High School, Woodstock High School, Bellows Falls High School and Leland and Gray Seminary of Townshend. In this district Brattleboro should afford plenty of competition for its opponents as this school has twice already entered the state finals. Bellows Falls, however, figured in a win over Brattleboro last year and so the issue must remain in doubt.

In the second district are Montpelier High School, Spaulding High School of Barre, Northfield High School and Waterbury High. Here most of the fire-works of the league will probably come off. Northfield is a new-comer but each of the other teams, especially Spaulding High, has always given its opponents a run for their money. These three schools were unable to debate last year but ... more than compe... absence with one o... of victories.

In district three ... are People's Acad... Johnson High Schoo... and Highgate. People... last year.

Burlington High ... Wallingford High ... High compose the fo... lington has entered t... last two years but h... University all former ... bating scholarships a... compete. Hence, ... Morrisville, must sta... entirely new team, and in ... districts they will, as a result, ... meet plenty of competition.

The last district is ... yet, only Bradford Acad... port High School ha... matter what other schools ... ever, in this section of the sta... ford will undoubtedly ... ner in its district. This ... of the few in the state that ... in the league without ... dr... out over since its founding five ... ago at the instigation of Pr... Bailey. The others are Brat... Morrisville, Johnson, Fair Hav... Burlington.

Eight teams will be chosen ... the leading district teams to ... in the state quarter-finals in ... and by a process of elimination ... succeeding rounds two school... emerge victorious to claim the ... offered by U. V. M.

The question that will be u... through the year by every sch... the league is "Resolved, that a ... fourths majority should be su... to render a verdict in all jury ...

SPIRIT AT NOTRE DAME

Given squads of equal numbers, of equal strength and equally well coached in the science of football the team which wins when these combinations meet is generally the one with the most spirit and this spirit is usually produced by the staunch backing of a student body.

We know of no school or college where this statement is more clearly proved than at Notre Dame, where the Fighting Irish have not lost a game in 22 years on their home field. This record is evidence enough that the backing the Rambling Rocks get from their mates helps their ability.

Our attention has been called to this fact by an eastern man, who is a student at Notre Dame. Writing, following the Loyola game of last Saturday, when the Fighting Irish won 12-6 in the last minutes of play, he describes the Notre Dame spirit so vividly that his letter is well worth reproduction.

"Thursday night the student body held a pep meeting in front of the main building and the attendance was 2,800, almost the entire student enrollment. Those who were absent are off-campus students. They hold these meetings right after supper getting the entire student body together on short notice. The band meets those who eat in the college dining halls at the doors and then makes the rounds of the ten dormitories, gathering up all the stray students.

It is tradition here for all men on the campus to attend these pep meetings; those failing to attend are dealt with summarily by the students (which means a ducking in the lake.)

"I concluded then and there that the student body, with its spirit and enthusiasm, plays a great part in the success of the Notre Dame team. This was proven on Cartier Field when the big, powerful Loyola College team from New Orleans proved a tough assignment for Rockne's men.

"It was the toughest battle ever waged on this historic battlefield and Rockne's men had to use everything they had in the line of plays to pull the game out of the fire. It is said here on the campus that this was the first time in the history of Cartier Field that a Notre Dame team left the field at the end of the first half on the short end. I suppose you have read all about the game and the outcome, but I am going to tell you about spirit of the student body, which I think played a great part in the battle.

"After Loyola scored its touchdown in the second period, the N. D. team showed signs of weakening, due I think, to the heavy pounding it was receiving from the heavy Loyola team. The cheer leaders, noticing this along with many students in the stands immediately started an outburst of cheers that could be heard for miles. You would have to be present to see the effect on these eleven men wearing the blue of Notre Dame.

"From then on the N. D. team held the upper hand and with the continuous howling of the students it was readily seen that N. D. couldn't be defeated. When the team came on the field after the first half I was dumb-

Book Review

Frank Sullivan's

Innocent Bystanding

Frank Sullivan is one of that ... of happy journalists who ... manage to be cleverly foolish. ... becomes to them a subtle vehicle ... in between flowing passages of ... lous fun, serious comment oft... its way. Perhaps these men ... themselves, if purpose lurks b... their joking. Yet most of us like ... pills coated with a heavy lay... sugar. And ultimately the ... must produce its reaction.

Innocent Bystanding is not ... in any particular direction. A ... tion of sketches and essays tak... gether from Mr. Sullivan's colu... The World, it dances along now ... witty, now laughably humorous, ... ridiculously funny. Frank Sul... nevertheless, is often serious also... humor. It serves as his mean... ridiculing, for criticizing, for se... discussing various situations, fo... tering thoughtful expressions on ... comedy.

To Frank Sullivan life obvio... the greatest comedy of all. ... thing in it is funny to him, and ... his touch it becomes funny ... Now he writes about "The In... Tax," now "The Fallacy of Bi... Cops," now "Three Methods of ... ing Swain," now "The Daisy ... tion," now "Three Fresh Crown... day, Queen." In his own words ... Sullivan "brushes lightly against ... most every topic imaginable." ... Innocent Bystanding is just one ... after another. Horace Liveright, ... New York, $2.00. From C. ... Review.

Sign Treaty

There is an agreement ... University of California and Sta... University by which each con... not to paint up the prop... other preceding or follow... fo... rallies. One of the student... ford was caught violating this ... ment and received a senten... he had the choice of th... tives: to leave the univ... balance of the present se... the present semester and wi... spring semester, or work thre... dred hours in the Convale...

founded at the reception ... from the student body. I ... cheering sections at Har... mouth, Yale, Holy Cross ... but I have never heard one that ... compare with this one at ...

"Somehow or other the ... the game of football and ... that if they can't play it they ... cheer and sing and Rockne tell... that the cheering section in the ... is just as important a fa... game as each of the eleven men ... the team.

"Spirit, spirit, spirit—it is the ... cry around here every day and ... been since I have been here ...

—Albert W. Keane in ... Hartford Cou...

John P. Howard Donor of Fountain, Traditional as Annual Battle Ground

G. H. Poole, '29

...leges and universities of ... are financed to a great ... endowments of one form ... Although the University ... is not so fortunate in ...ect, there are some note... ...en who have contributed ...ancial needs of the Univer... ...ably among these men is ...le Howard, a bust of whom ... a niche in the west wall of ... Mill where the Education ... The bust was given to ...rsity by the citizens of Bur... Students pass this bust daily ...om classes perhaps without ... thought to it, but should ... a student who has noticed ... and wondered who the man ... short discourse on Mr. How... enlighten him.

...Purple Howard was born in ...ington, Vermont, June 3, 1814. His ... days were passed here, but ... life he accompanied an elder ... to Troy, N. Y., and soon after ... New York City where the two en... the hotel business. They estab... successively the Exchange Ho... Howard Hotel, and the Irving ... the latter of which became ... their management, the leading ... in the metropolis. After amass... a handsome fortune in this pur... Mr. Howard retired from active ...ess and devoted a great part of ...emainder of his life to travel in America and many foreign countries. He died in England after a brief illness which had been preceded by a number of years of delicate health, on October 10, 1885.

Mr. Howard's gifts for educational, charitable, and religious purposes in Burlington have amounted to more than $260,000. Of this sum more than half was given to the University, including $50,000 for the endowment of the chair of Natural History, $65,000 for the rebuilding of the main university building and the new Medical College, the fountain which is the scene of the annual freshman-sophomore fountain fight, and the statue of General Lafayette which adorns the northwest corner of the front campus facing the Medical College.

President Buckham who was president of the University at the presentation of the gift, said of him: "The English Howards have been especially conspicuous for their patronage of art and learning. Perhaps as they scan the long list of noble names which have adorned their history, they will not bethink themselves the trans-Atlantic descendants of their house. But history has shown that good English blood does not degenerate in American homes. The Norfolks and Suffolks, the Carlisles and Surreys, 'all the blood of the Howards,' need not be ashamed to acknowledge one who is the peer of the noblest of them all in that which is one of the chief honors of their house, the patronage of literature and art."

ALUMNAE IN FAVOR OF APPOINTMENT BUREAU

Demand Vocational and Appointment Bureau at Vermont for Women Graduating in the Academic Courses

Vocational aspects of personnel work among women students of the College of Arts and Sciences were discussed by the Alumnae Association of the University in its semi-annual meeting Monday evening at the Golden Pheasant Tea Room.

Need for constructive advice in the choice of a profession, and for an appointment bureau, in the opinion of the Alumnae Association, is essential for women enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences. The Secretarial and Home Economics Departments provide positions for their seniors, but the majority of senior women, those who are graduated with an A.B., Ph.B. or B.S. degree, are obliged to obtain their after-college work through their own individual efforts.

The Alumnae group recognizing that the more liberal the education is the greater is the need for wise vocational guidance, were in favor of providing a Vocational and Appointment Bureau at Vermont.

The College Relations Committee, of which Miss Laura Parker is chairman, was appointed to get in touch with certain women graduates of U. V. M. who have been successful in pursuing their chosen careers. It was noted that there is a wide representation among the graduates of new and interesting professions open to women.

The Alumnae group plans to work with Dean Marian Patterson and with Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society, in this phase of personnel service.

The English Singers

Who gave concert in Burlington Memorial Auditorium last evening

MANY FELLOWSHIPS ARE OFFERED SENIOR WOMEN

This is the time of year when the seniors begin to make plans for their future occupations. Those who wish to continue their studies will be interested in the notices on the bulletin board in the "Y" room concerning the scholarships and fellowships offered by Radcliffe, Smith and Bryn Mawr colleges. Now is the time to apply for them.

The following are offered by Radcliffe College:

The Augustus Anson Whitney and Benjamin White Whitney Fellowships." Two of twelve hundred dollars each, to candidates who have demonstrated a capacity for productive scholarships. Definite plans for work must be submitted.

Mary P. Sears and Florence Z. Gilman Fellowships." One of seven hundred fifty dollars to aid creative work in literature and art, or opportunity for research into creative work by specially gifted women.

Elizabeth H. Bartol Fellowship." Three of six hundred dollars.

Louisa Green Bursley Fellowship." One of six hundred dollars for the study of modern languages.

Rosamond Freeman Fellowship." One of six hundred dollars.

Oliver-Dabney Scholarship." Three of four hundred dollars each, for study of belles-lettres, history or astronomy.

The preceding fellowships and scholarships, offered by Radcliffe College, are open to women holding college or university degrees who present evidence of high scholarship and fitness for advanced study. Application blanks may be obtained from Dean of Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., and should be submitted not later than March 1, 1929.

Smith College offers scholarships as follows:

Smith College Trustee Fellowships." Six graduate fellowships of six hundred dollars each, plus tuition ... used at Smith. These are open to graduates of Smith College and to ... graduates of other colleges and universities of good standing. They are unrestricted as to subject.

Fellowships and Scholarships in Education." Two fellowships of five hundred dollars each, plus tuition. ... scholarships of tuition only, ... college graduates who wish to prepare for specialized work in education. Applications should be made by ... 1 to Mr. Seth Wakeman, Chairman Department of Education, Smith ...

Harriet Boyd Hawes Scholarship." ... one of a fund of five thousand five hundred dollars, plus tuition, when ... at Smith. The regulations in ... ding are the same as those of ... trustee fellowships.

... th College Tuition Scholar... Four scholarships of tuition ... for study at Smith College. Open ... duates of Smith College and to ... graduates of other colleges and ...rsities of good standing.

...ndidates for fellowships granted ...yn Mawr College must have com... a year of graduate work at ... college or university of good ...ng.

...ndidates or scholarships must be ...ates of some college or univer... of acknowledged standing but need not have done graduate work.

Twenty-three resident fellowships to a value of eight hundred ten dollars are offered.

Twenty graduate scholarships of three hundred fifty dollars.

"Robert G. Valentine Scholarship." Three hundred fifty dollars. In social economy and social research.

"Grace H. Dodge Memorial Scholarships." Three hundred fifty dollars. In industrial relations.

"Music Fund Scholarships." Values from three hundred fifty to five hundred dollars.

Holders of fellowships at Bryn Mawr are not permitted to teach or to hold paid positions. Holders of scholarships are allowed to do a small amount of teaching or other paid work. Applications should be received by February 15, 1929.

Further information concerning these may be obtained by calling at the office of the Dean of Women.

MIDD SCHEDULES EIGHT GAMES FOR NEXT YEAR

Middlebury College will open the stiffest schedule in years when the 1929 football schedule is launched against Columbia University in New York on the twenty-eighth of September according to a statement made public recently by Ben. H. Beck, acting director of athletics and coach of football.

The team, which will be captained by Sampel Guarnaccia, of Wakefield, Mass., will be minus the services of nine letter men of this year who graduate in June. Of the veterans Coach Beck will have Guarnaccia, the captain-elect, McLeod and Johnson in the backfield, while in the line there will be Huntington, Valois, Perry, Wright, Keenan, Whitman and MacNary.

Tufts, Hamilton, and Amherst will not appear on this year's schedule which follows:

September 28—Columbia at New York, October 5— Williams at Middlebury, October 12— Mass. Aggies at Amherst, October 19—Springfield at Springfield, October 26—St. Lawrence at Middlebury, November 2 Providence at Providence, November 9—Norwich at Middlebury and November 16—Vermont at Burlington.

Hockeyists, Beware!

Hockey, as played by the colleges, is more dangerous than football or any other sport is a fact that is brought out by Joseph Stubbs, Harvard Hockey Coach, whose article, "Intercollegiate Hockey in the East," appears in the February issue of College Humor.

"A doctor is in attendance at all practices and games," says Coach Stubbs, "and he has a most complete equipment of medical supplies. It might be noted that we had two very severe injuries from skate cuts last season, both of which required prompt needlework. One of the visiting players dislocated his shoulder in a game, was etherized, his shoulder reset, and strapped up without leaving the building. There are very few practices or games where the doctor leaves without having a call for his services. Hockey is a dangerous game."

STUDENTS GENERALLY DO NOT READ PAPERS

That 67 per cent. of college students read the Burlington Free Press, daily and that other papers have a much lower percentage of readers was shown by a compilation of facts ascertained by a questionnaire recently conducted by the Burlington Free Press. The summaries of the data collected divided the student body into two classes, namely, men and women. Out of all those polled only 240 men and 190 women answered.

It was found that only 62 per cent of the women read the Free Press daily while the men averaged 67 per cent. Other papers, the Evening News, New York Daily, and the Boston Daily also had a better percentage among the men.

The reading of a home town daily had a much higher percentage among the women than among the men, that of the latter being 42 per cent. and that of the former was only 27 per cent. This paper is a second in the reading habits of the men but a closer second of the women's.

That sport news is the favorite section of the paper for the men was also disclosed by the questionnaire. This type of news scored the largest number of regular readers among the men having a percentage of 75. National news was a close second, 74 per cent. University notes come third with a percentage of 67 in the regular reading habits of the men.

University notes is the first choice of the women students in their answers to the Free Press as to what type of news they read most regularly. A 79 per cent. average of daily reading presents a contrast to the men's average of 67 per cent. and to the fact that these news items were assigned third place instead of first as in the women's. Other items, Comic Strips, Amusement News, had more equal averages among men and women students.

Women gave more attention to local news having as their average 66 per cent. in contrast to the men's 50 per cent. Fashion and health features, of course, have preference among the women readers, but it is remarked by the Free Press, a surprisingly small number of women students read Fashion News, in fact only 23 per cent. It seems that co-eds at Vermont place Fashion and Health Notes eighth in their choice of regular reading matter.

The outstanding thing in comparing the men and women is the greater interest in home town dailies on the part of the women, greater interest in local news on the part of women and the greater patronage of newspapers both local, metropolitan and secondary on the part of the men.

This questionnaire was carried out as a means of finding out why the Burlington Free Press did not have a profitable sale among college students. It has been of interest in finding out just what the regular newspaper reading habits of Vermont students are. The results are rather unsatisfactory in so much as so few of the students answered.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 397-W
T. P. O'HARA
TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING
170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Miss Selma Strong, '25, of New York City was a recent guest at the Chapter House.

Theta alumnae of Burlington entertained the active chapter at the Theta House Sunday evening, January 13.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

A $100 prize offered by the Burlington Free Press in the Santa Sock Art Contest was won by Miss Lois M. Bunbank, '27.

WRITER OFFERS PRIZES FOR BEST STORIETTES

News has been received of a "Plot Boiler" Storiette Contest open to all students by the "Writer," an author's monthly forum. This magazine offers a prize of $50.00 a month for the best storiette based on a "Plot Boiler," to be published each month during February, March and April, 1929.

A "Plot-Boiler" is a newspaper paragraph which may offer an idea for the plot of a story. According to the Writer," the essence of the "Plot-Boiler" is the new turn to a character or event, the swift spark that sets the imagination bubbling; not necessarily the complete plot, for such is rarely to be found in the day's news, or, indeed, in life.

Rules for the contest are as follows:

1. Select some brief newspaper clipping which seems to contain possibilities for a "storiette." Work out a storiette in 1,200-2,000 words.

2. Pin the original newspaper clipping, containing name and date of the newspaper, to your storiette.

3. Each manuscript must be original (never before published) typewritten, and contain the author's full name, address, and occupation.

4. Send your manuscript to Contest Editor, 311 College House, Harvard Square, Cambridge, Mass.

5. Manuscripts received before the 5th of each month will be considered for inclusion in the following issue.

RAND'S HOME LUNCH
64 COLCHESTER AVE.
Where you get the most of the best for the least
HOME COOKING
OUR SPECIALTY
Phone 2048

If I Were a Girl

"I'd treat men, if I liked them, as though they were men and not little boys who I thought might ask me to go to the movies if I let them kiss me," says Eric Hatch in the February issue of College Humor. "I'd be pretty careful whom I kissed but I'd let every man I liked get an idea he could kiss me if he was clever. I'd let him keep the idea till he tried and then if he tried hard enough in a nice way I'd probably let him in a nice way. I think I'd be just low enough to try and make them think there wouldn't be anything on earth quite as snappy as having me around the house when they came in tired. I'd make them comfortable, act glad to see them and feed them.

"I think I'd read a lot, if I were a girl. I wouldn't go out every time somebody asked me to; my complexion couldn't stand it. I'd never make the mistake of staying at three parties in a row so late that I came out on the fourth day looking like a paste flower with black rimmed eyes. Not on your life I wouldn't. I wouldn't come out on the fourth day.

I'd wear clothes that came from smart shops and if they didn't and looked as if they might have, I'd hook some labels and sew them in.

"If I were a girl, I suppose, being a sentimentalist at heart, I'd fall in love some time and when I did I'd fall so hard you could hear me bounce. I wouldn't let The Man know it, though. I'd make him suffer and go through agony and treat him like dirt and then when I finally let him suspect that there was something about him that appealed to something in me he'd feel so surprisedly grateful that I could soak him on the spot for practically anything I wanted.

"I wouldn't always tell the truth. If I were a girl, because that would be disloyal to my sex, and after all, a girl's got to be able to be polite, but I would not lie either. I'd make up fairy stories and maybe fib a little when it was necessary."

MUTUAL SYMPATHY

Holdup Man: Your money or your life.

Victim: Sorry, old chap, but I'm just back from my vacation and—Holdup man: Shake. So am I, or I wouldn't be doing this.

—Campus News

Don't Experiment . with your Appearance
1826
LANGROCK
FINE CLOTHES
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

History of Vermont Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa Gives Interesting Facts

A few outstanding candidates for Phi Beta Kappa honors will be elected soon after mid-years," says H F Perkins, recretaar of the Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at the University of Vermont. As has been the custom for the past years a few candidates are elected after mid-years and the remaining members are elected in June. In order to become eligible, a senior student must have an average of 90 percent throughout his course and must be of good moral character. As the student who acquires such high grades are invariably of high moral character the latter requirement does not very often enter into the picture.

In the last twenty years the national Phi Beta Kappa has seen fit to grant charters only to strictly academic institutions. That is, the institutions which offer a course of studies in the literal arts, exclusive of technical, professional, and graduate institutions. For these latter institutions there is a national honorary scientific society named Sigma Xi. As the University of Vermont was granted its chapter on February 16, 1848, this restriction is not effective here, but should it ever be, the scientific society Sigma Xi could readily be installed.

The three mystic letters upon the key of the Phi Beta Kappa Society mean: Philosophia Bios Kubernates—Philosophy, the Guide of Life.

Charter Granted

The Charter for the Alpha of Vermont was granted on the application of President John Wheeler, who was a graduate of Dartmouth, class of 1816, and who had been elected to alumnus membership by the chapter there in 1825. Hence it was natural that the Alpha of New Hampshire should take on especial interest in the application. As a result the charter was prepared and forwarded February 16, 1848.

The purpose of the newly established Alpha of Vermont as defined by its founders in the constitution they adopted for its government was to practice "both the duty and the privileges of letters, by the free communication of knowledge, by frequent interchange of thought, by the expression of sympathy, by the manifestation of kindness and by mutual consent." In formulating the laws the founders showed themselves mindful of the injunction contained in the charter, not to make alterations except when local convenience necessitated such action. Members might be chosen from the senior and junior classes in the University, but not before six months of the junior year should have elapsed. Emphasis was laid on the fact that those elected should be the most distinguished for scholarship and high moral character.

Women Admitted

In 1875 Prof. Peabody exploded a bomb in the Phi Beta Kappa meeting by moving that persons eligible on the ground of scholarship be received as members without regard to sex. This problem had not arisen before, because women had not been admitted to the University until the year 1871-72. Now, however, there were two women graduating with honors. After an animated discussion the proposition was considered, and the admission of women authorized. Since then nearly every list of Vermont's Phi Beta Kappa initiates has included women.

Admission of Undergraduates

Occasionally, since 1860, the Alpha of Vermont has listened to propositions to admit undergraduates. From time to time there have been recommendations of an earlier election of members of the graduating class and of the admission of a portion of the junior class, but, although the opinion of the society has generally seemed favorable to such action, the old custom of electing seniors after mid-year and at their graduation persists.

1928 Phi Beta Kappas

Last year the following senior students were elected: Faith B Baldwin; Elizabeth W Morrill; Theodore F Rich; Muriel E. Richardson; Cedric Wolfe; Alma E. Patten; Laura P Bliss; Raymond Davis; Francis M Dimick; Ruth Jones; George R. Perry; Marjorie Purinton; Clara Richmond; Eleanor Taft; Ruth Eleanor Westin; Juanita Witters.

Distinguished Members

The chapter included many members who distinguished themselves in the learned professions, and in other walks of life, of whom may be mentioned Frederick Billings L.L.D., '90, President of the Pacific Railroad and John Hemon Converse L.L.D., '61, President of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and philanthropist.

A few present distinguished members living are: Darwin Pearl Kingsley L.L.D., '81, President of the New York Life Insurance Company; and George McClellan Powers L.L.D., '83, Chief Justice of Supreme Court of Vermont, and a goodly number of physicians, clergymen and college professors.

ENGINEERING SENIORS TO RECEIVE POSITIONS

(from Burlington Free Press)

Seniors in the College of Engineering are not obliged to do much chasing around for jobs upon graduation, if they are good students. In fact there is often a greater demand for young engineers than there are good men to supply the demand.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. Gooch, a representative of the United Fruit Company of Boston, was at the college interviewing a number of seniors in both the College of Engineering and the College of Agriculture. He is seeking trained men for supervisory positions on the plantations of the United Fruit Company in Central and South America.

A representative of the Lowell Electric Light Company, Lowell, Mass., was here interviewing seniors of the course in electrical engineering regarding positions upon graduation.

Not long ago a man from the General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y., came to Burlington and talked with the seniors in Electrical Engineering regarding this same measure. It is said that several of the men have been offered positions tentatively with the idea that the places will be held open until later in the college year, when the seniors will be better able to make up their minds as to just what they wish to do.

Walking Race

To all those who suffered from too much study, Purdue offered an attractive program. Recently a long-distance walking contest was held in which twenty men entered. The contest, which was called the "all-University cross country walking race," was held over the regular two and one-half mile cross country course. Four rewards were offered.

Basketball scores of interest to local fans are: Penn 26, Dartmouth 23; Middlebury 34, Brown 15, Providence 22; Springfield 21; Conn. Aggies 44; New Hampshire 22. All the games were played Saturday.

VERMONT SKATERS LOSE TO CLARKSON 9 TO 0

Clarkson University defeated the University of Vermont hockey team by a score of 9 to 0.

Though the score would indicate a one-sided game the University of Vermont played a hard game which was most interesting from the viewpoint of the spectators.

The goal tender of the University of Vermont, Hendricks, was the outstanding player. He was called upon almost continually to stop very difficult shots. Howard also showed up well for Vermont.

Clarkson University had no outstanding players. The entire team played exceedingly well and showed fast teamwork.

The game was played during a heavy snowstorm which materially slowed it up and caused the loss of quite a few balls on both sides. There was a good size crowd present at this game which was played on an outside rink.

CLARKSON

Left wing, Donald Right wing, Houston Center, Williams
Left defense, Dion
Right defense, Guest Goal, Easton

Alternates: Heintzman for Donald, Burke for Houston; Doan for Williams; Beneke for Dion; Cutting for Beneke, Cox for Burke.

VERMONT

Left win, Howard
Right wing, Schurman
Center, Bussow
Left defense, Lawrence
Right defense, Beigal
Goal, Hendricks

The referee was Mullen. The time periods were 40, 20 and 15 as follows:

First, Clarkson 3, Vermont 0
Second, Clarkson 4, Vermont 0
Third, Clarkson 2, Vermont 0

Solicitor: "Would you indorse our cigarettes for two thousand dollars sir?"

Celebrity: "For two thousand dollars I'd smoke the beastly things"—Green Carrot.

NOTICES

Sophomores

All women scrubbing Grind Editor must hand in their material to Phoebe Flint or Priscilla Campbell immediately.

Eta Sigma Phi will meet Tuesday evening in 34 S. College. Officers will be elected.

Skating Rink

The new skating rink on the back campus will be open to students during the evening from seven to nine.

LIEUT. J. D. FREDERICK WILL BE LOST TO R. O. T. C. BATTALION IN JUNE

After Four Years of Faithful and Steady Service Popular Military Instructor is Due for Transfer

When the University of Vermont closes its tradition-covered doors in June it will no longer possess the services of Lieut. J. D. Frederick, who, according to service custom, secures an automatic transfer to another post at the end of the college year; and although the Green and Gold unit has seen its officers come and go with the passing years, his absence will cause regret to those who worked with and under him, while entering classes will be forced to do without one of the most valuable officers ever attached to the local R. O. T. C. organization.

Four years ago Lieutenant Frederick came to Vermont from his former post in the Philippines, bringing with him sage counsel, the quality of firm command and a willing, helping hand. These personal factors have proved invaluable assets during his term here; the institution which next obtains his services will be indeed fortunate. It is not yet known where he will be transferred, but he hopes that it will be back to the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Georgia, where he first served in 1920. However, in view of his previous term as instructor there, it is scarcely likely that his wish will materialize.

Lieutenant Frederick's record is one of steady advance. Entering West Point in 1917, he was graduated two years later, due to the war. In 1918 he received the commission of second lieutenant, and soon afterwards he was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant. After serving in the World War he was sent to the Infantry School at Camp Benning in 1920, where he formed the numerous worthwhile acquaintanceships that underlie his desire to be transferred there. Before coming to Vermont in 1925 he attended various posts in the United States and the Philippines, and it was from the latter place that he was sent to the local unit.

His duties here have been confined, for the main part, to instruction in freshman and sophomore military drill and tactics, but his energetic hand has extended into numerous other fields.

Vermont Extension Service Test Poultry

At the new poultry testing laboratory, connected with the poultry department of the agricultural extension service of the University of Vermont, 11,077 birds have been tested during the months of October, November and December. During the same period 49 autopsies were performed at the laboratory. The testing is done from blood samples sent in by flock owners, and anyone may have his flock tested for a small fee. Those contemplating a test should send in to the Extension Service for instructions. L. M. Greene, instructor in poultry husbandry, has the laboratory work in charge, under the direction of Professor A. W. Lohman, head of the poultry department, who is spending his time in the field, showing flock raisers about the state how the blood samples are to be taken and giving other advice on poultry matters.

For Fine Home Made Candies
Go to the
BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP
Special Price on Ice Cream for Fraternities

ALUMNUS OF VERMONT DIES IN BURLINGTON

Elihu Barber Taft, an alumnus of the University in the class of 1871, a distinguished citizen of Burlington, died at his home on Pearl Street Sunday morning at the age of 82. He was a member of the Lambda Iota Fraternity.

Mr. Taft was born in Williston, and prepared for college at Williston Academy. Following his graduation he pursued the study of law, being admitted to the Vermont Bar in 1873. He made Burlington his home, and filled many public offices, being for several terms on the board of aldermen, and serving in the State Legislature in 1888.

Mr. Taft's interests were wide and his sympathies, though quiet, remarkably broad and wholly serious. He had fairly earned the general confidence of his strict integrity and absolute fidelity in all positions of responsibility. He was a constant reader and his information was varied and extensive. A man of conviction, he was not afraid of unpopularity, a lover of sobriety, honor, truth and justice. He had traveled extensively through this country and in Mexico, Europe, Egypt, and India.

One of Mr. Taft's outstanding traits was his love of nature, and his old-fashioned garden was one of the summer beauty spots of Burlington.

CAPTAIN RATTAN TALKS ON CHINESE CONDITIONS

(The Burlington Free Press)

China will not progress as it should until its people cast aside many of their customs and religious beliefs, which they have held for 5,000 years or more, said Captain William V. Rattan, instructor of military science and tactics at the University of Vermont, Sunday noon in speaking to the Brotherhood Class of the First Church. Captain Rattan returned from a tour of military service in China a few years ago and since that time has been stationed here with the University of Vermont R. O. T. C. While in China he was doing Legation duty and was stationed during most of the period at Tientsin, where the troops he was with were guarding the railroad from Tientsin to Peking.

One of the greatest causes for the political unrest in China, the speaker said, is that the people do not like the presence of foreigners in their country. Because of various treaties which have been made with China by England, France, United States, Japan, Russia and other world powers since 1843 (the time of the Opium War), these countries established trading posts and have assumed control of certain cities and seaports, all to the discomfiture of the people.

The so-called People's Party, the party now in control, has as one of its principal missions the abolition of what they call "unequal treaties." Captain Rattan explained the Chinese point of view, pointing out that it is only natural that the Chinese should dislike the foreigners.

He explained that in Tientsin, as in several other cities in the country, there are segregated sections of the city where each country has its own settlement and has as much power there as it has in its own country. The Chinese resent this control, it was pointed out, the same as the people of Burlington would oppose the idea of some other country controlling a part of this city.

The speaker went into some detail in telling of the customs of the people and giving reasons why the country is backward in its civilization as compared with other nations.

College Boys Becoming Hum

(From the Bos

College and univer... made some radical ... fads and affectations ... Certain distinguishing ... which were the cat's w... boy student a year ... way to new wrinkles.

The swing now seem... conservatism. Heretofor... by his dress, speech and ... advertised himself as b... He doesn't do that any ... is out. In fact this year ... be covering up on the ...

He used to wear hi... down around his ankles ... them pulled up taut ... wears hose supporters.

Moreover, he doesn't wear ... "balloon" in his trousers a... They're narrowed up quite ... you'll take the trouble to notice ... he has about discarded the ... He has one in his kit, of ... he wouldn't be caught wearing ... certain occasions where last year ... was perfectly O. K.

The college man doesn't get his ... cut as often as of yore. In fact, ra... long hair is considered quite the th... Many of the students have begun ... grow prim little mustaches, and ... this doesn't subject them to any ... ing. Instead of the soft hat or ... the hard-boiled black derby is a ... ing in favor and its brim is gra... ally growing wider.

College and university dances ... as popular as ever and, if anyth... have more pep and snap. "Cutting ... and grabbing the other fellow's ... continues to find favor. At m... dances there are always a number ... students who have come "stag"; ... this is considered perfectly prope...

After the dance the boy do... spend a lot of jack on the girl ... some swell café, where prices are ... notch. They take them to a moder... priced restaurant and thus keep d... the old expense account.

At certain co-educational inst... tions the "dutch treat" made consi... able progress last year but is now ... the wane.

This system of splitting the expe... of a dance and luncheon 50-50 betw... the boy and girl is said to have or... nated with the girls themselves ... knew that the allowances of certain ... their boy friends were limited ... rather than forego a "racket," vo... teered to pay half the expenses ... general, however, the co-eds frown... the "dutch treat" and some of th... before confirming a date, demand ... know whether they are expected ... pay their own way. A date is ... termed "heavy" unless it will ob... the boy to dig up at least $2 to en... tain the girl. An evening dress ... fair implies a taxi, and the stu... tries to gracefully sidestep too m... such extravagant occasions.

The co-ed smokes more cigaret... if anything, than she used to. T... makes fewer bones about it. T... was when she indulged only in ... room or at a café, but now she p... fags with her boy pals on the cam...

The broken-hearted flivver is ... dear to the heart of the college b... If anything, it is a more pitiful wr... this year than last, but the more di... idated and hopeless looking, the bet... as long as it will run—and it w... always do that. Nevertheless the ... ed considers it an honor to ride in ... asthmatic contraption.

JANUARY SALE
All suits and overcoats substantial... reduced in price.
HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majest...
Open Evenings

JANUARY SALE

Watch Fobs	$ .69
Bracelets	2.98
Compacts	.69—$ .98
Rings	.89— 7.89
Pillows	2.39— 3.98
Banners	.98— 2.49
Stationery	.39— .98

UNIVERSITY STORES

BILLINGS Library
University of Vermont

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 | BURLINGTON, VT., FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1929 | NUMBER 30

BURR SELECTED TO HEAD JUNIOR WEEK

E. Henry Powell Appointed to Position of Financial Manager That Was Newly Created Last Year

APPOINTMENTS MADE TO VARIOUS COMMITTEES

At a meeting of the Juniors, Monday afternoon at 4.00 o'clock at the Williams Science Hall, Warren H. Burr was elected chairman of Junior Week.

Mr. Burr has been prominent in [illegible] class. Mr. Burr, who is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity is a Key and Serpent man. He is Assistant Manager of Basketball and Assistant Athletic Editor of the Cynic, Business Manager of the Freshman Handbook, and a member of the Student Senate.

E. Henry Powell was appointed Financial Manager and is a member of the Student Senate. He is a member of Delta Psi Fraternity, also the honorary societies, Eta Sigma Phi and Sphinx Rho. He is Editor of the Ten Eyck. In addition to these duties he is an Assistant Manager of Baseball.

Mr. Burr announces his appointments for committees for Junior Week as follows:

Junior Prom: Charles H. Mace, chairman.

Programs and Favors: Odino A. Martinetti, chairman, Charles W. Capron, Philip M. Perry, Anne J. Edmunds, Doris Y. Duprat, Janice M. Goodrich.

Decorations: Dorothy Gurney, chairman, Angus W. Clain, Frank E. Beckwith, Lester W. Meehan, Major B. Jenks, Mildred L. Freeman, Beverley House Hayden, Iva M. Harris, Phoebe H. Flint, Jessie I. Marcotte, Estabel Perelman, Norville W. Owsley.

Music Committee: Carl H. Ramm, chairman, Philip E. Manning, Julia Wortman, Anne M. McLaughlin.

Hospitality Committee: Joseph H. Sugden, chairman, William J. Slavin, Lawrence O. Clayton.

Prom Refreshments: Herrick M. Manchester, chairman, Nelson B. Gray, James C. Puffer, Frances M. Hazen, Ruth E. Doherty.

Publicity Committee: Albert G. Sirois, chairman, Reginald H. Arnold, Paul W. Hussey, Franklin A. Sears, Philip S. Roberts.

Banquet Committee: Herbert K. Townsend, chairman, Charles H. Steele, Anthony Gioria, Hugh M. Wallace, Marjorie Huntley, Florence A. McKenzie.

Junior Week Programs: Frederick H. Woodward, chairman, Arnold O. Swanson, Thomas J. Halligan, John M. Moore.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Word comes from Miss Bates that the Billings Library will be open at [illegible] hours during the mid-year examination period.

Six students from the Home Economics Department are in charge of the Practice House this week. They are: hostess, Lucene Little, '30, assistant hostess, Elizabeth Brown, '29; [illegible] Helen Peabody, '30; household [illegible] Florence Whitcomb, '30. [illegible] Helen Taylor, '31; assistant, [illegible] Holt, '32.

Miss Sara Holbrook of the education department recently returned from the [illegible] Conference of Visiting Teachers in New York City.

A meeting of the Eta Sigma Phi was held Monday evening in 34 South College. The following officers were elected: President, Genevieve Hook, '29; vice-president, Phoebe Flint, '30; secretary-treasurer, Howard, '30; treasurer, [illegible] Powell, '30; sergeant-at-arms, [illegible] Turner, '29. The meeting was dismissed early because of the University lecture.

AGITATION STARTED FOR WOMEN'S HOCKEY TEAM

After a lapse of five years ice hockey is to be revived for women students. The new rink at the rear of the gymnasium has made this possible and several skaters have already signed up for the sport.

Women's ice hockey, played by the same rules as men's, is the fastest of winter sports and one of the best liked.

H. T. STETSON SPEAKS ON RADIO RECEPTIONS

Harlan T. Stetson, of the Harvard University Observatory, was the speaker of the evening last Tuesday in the Old Mill Chapel. The subject of the lecture was the effect of sun-spots on radio reception. A large and interested audience was present.

It is the electrical energy contained in the sun-spots that is responsible for their effect on radio receptivity, according to Mr. Stetson. He said that the spots appear in cycles, their numbers growing larger until the middle of the cycle is reached, then decreasing until the end. The last cycle began in 1913 and was complete in 1923. Accordingly the reception was best in 1923. We are now almost in the middle of a new cycle, and may expect to see them at their greatest next fall. After that there will be less complaint about poor receptivity among radio fans.

Sunespots are a sort of crater on the surface of the moon, it seems, and have very disturbing effects with their whirlpool operations. Aside from the bad influence of these spots on radio, there is also an influence on vegetation, and the rings of growth on trees are larger in the years when there are more sun-spots.

The sun is a million times larger than the earth, Mr. Stetson said, but yet it is just one of the stars, of which some are proportionally greater than the sun itself. It is said that the earth receives each year 230 trillion horse power from the sun, but that this is only about a half-billionth of its total heat. When volcanoes erupt in large numbers, thus sending out great quantities of cinders, the sun's heat is kept from the earth and glacial periods result.

These facts, combined with many others set forth by Mr. Stetson, and with his illustrations, made a very satisfying and worth-while lecture which was enjoyed to the full by those who attended.

SEXTET LOSES TWO BUT SHOWS MUCH PROMISE

Last week-end the Catamount puck-chasers traveled to Clarkson Tech and St. Lawrence and tasted defeat twice. Friday they were whitewashed 9 to 0 at the hands of the Engineers and Saturday St. Lawrence won 5 to 1. Leo Segal, clever defensive man of the Green and Gold scored the only Vermont goal of the trip.

The team gave a much better account of itself in the Norwich fray on Tuesday and should improve with practice and more games. Tomorrow at Middlebury the team will play its last game until after mid-years at which time there will be available some good freshman material which will give Coach Abrahams some reserves and a foundation for future seasons.

Symphony Concert

The first concert of the Burlington Symphony Orchestra, scheduled for Sunday afternoon, January 20, has been postponed by the directors of the Symphony Society.

Realizing that influenza is steadily affecting the personnel of the orchestra, as well as many who have purchased tickets, it was deemed best to postpone the concert until a more favorable time.

Conductor of the Symphony Joseph Lechnyr was in touch with Miss Agnes Davis, the soprano soloist, who is now in Philadelphia, Pa., and she has agreed to appear with the Symphony Orchestra on Sunday, February 17, when the first concert will take place.

REV. H. F. CONNOR GIVES CHAPEL ADDRESS

"Keep the doors of your intellect open for those who keep them locked are the failures of the world," was the keynote of the chapel address given by Rev. Harvey F. Connor, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Burlington. Rev. Connor advised the students to keep their mind clear and keen, ready to use any knowledge which they may gain now, in the world into which they will go. He illustrated this by some verses from the 17th chapter of the 1st book of Samuel, in which David's boyhood adventure with the lion and the bear becomes of great advantage to him when he goes to meet the giant Goliath in battle.

He also remarked that there are a few people in the world who are called upon to do the work of many others, besides their own. He warned the students that they certainly would find that condition in life, and that it would be better to be ready and willing to do more than their share of work, if they see that it needs to be done. In short, the whole aim of their lives should be to use their bodies and minds in the best way that they can, to do the most they can.

1919 BASEBALL SEASON TO OPEN ON MARCH 30

Schedule Recently Released Contains 21 Dates—Opening Tilt Being Against Georgetown at Washington

Manager W. F. Rogers of the University of Vermont baseball team has arranged for a schedule of twenty-six baseball dates for the Catamount diamond team in 1929 and a brace of open dates that will probably be filled later. There are nine games listed on the annual southern trip and a tenth will probably be scheduled before the team leaves for the South. Maryland at College Park is the only newcomer on the schedule and replaces Drexel on the annual southern trip. Fordham does not appear on this season's southern jaunt. Dartmouth and Boston College, usually two of the greatest eastern collegiate nines, will both appear here while Vermont will tackle Holy Cross at Worcester, Mass. Aggies, Conn. Aggies, Tufts, St. Lawrence and the Green Mountain Conference nines will all play here while Springfield and Williams are to be met away from home. The list follows:

March 30—Georgetown at Washington.
April 1—Marines at Quantico.
April 2—Marines at Quantico.
April 3—Navy at Annapolis.
April 4—Maryland at College Park.
April 5—Pending.
April 6—Catholic U. at Washington.
April 8—St. Johns at New York.
April 9—N. Y. U. at New ork.
April 10—Army at West Point.
April 18—Boston College at Boston.
April 19—Springfield at Springfield.
April 20—Holy Cross at Worcester.
April 27—St. Michael's.
May 4—Pending.
May 9—Middlebury at Middlebury.
May 11—Williams at Williamstown.
May 14—Norwich at Northfield.
May 17—Conn. Aggies.
May 21—Dartmouth at Hanover.
May 23—Norwich.
May 25—Mass. Aggies.
May 27—Middlebury.
May 30—Dartmouth.
June 1—Tufts.
June 8—Boston College.
June 14—St. Lawrence.
June 15—Alumni.

Dire things are going to happen to a lot of students in Southwestern University. Thirteen students have more than twenty-five cuts, which means that one or two credits will be deducted from their work according to the number of credit hours which each student is carrying. One student has more than fifty cuts and six others have more than thirty-five.

Vermont Scores First State Series Victory Over Purple

Halligan High Scorer for Green and Gold—St. Michael's Threatens Consistently—Two or Three Point Margin Prevails Throughout Major Part of Fray

SEXTET LOSES CONTEST TO NORWICH ICEMEN

Vermont opened its season on the local hockey surface Tuesday afternoon when they met the Norwich icemen on the new rink situated in back of the University Gym. The cadets ended up on the long end of the score, the final count standing 2-1.

Neither team showed any unusual hockey. There were a few individual plays that showed flashes of good playing, but on the whole the passwork and shooting of both teams were inaccurate.

Neither team managed to tally during the entire first period, but early in the second the Horsemen worked the puck down the ice in front of the Green and Gold netting, and during the savage scrimmage, Hann worked the puck free and shot a fast one into the Catamounts' net. Desperate attacks by Howard and Captain Schurman failed to register and the period ended 1-0 in favor of Norwich.

The next score occurred in the middle of the second half when Waining received a pass from Hann and shot the rubber into the net for the second score of the Horsemen. Then Segal took the puck on his stick and slipped a long pass by Fullerton for Vermont's only score of the evening.

The Green and Gold team is handicapped this year by a lack of weight. Most of the players are of comparatively small stature but it is hoped and believed that Coach Abraham will be able to mould a winning team out of the material that is out.

The line-up:

VERMONT		NORWICH
Schurman, r. w.	r. w.	Hann
Howard, l. w.	l. w.	Barting
Bassow, c.	c.	Waining
Lawrence, l. d.	l. d.	Youngerman
Segal, r. d.	r. d.	Graham
Perry, g.	g.	Fullerton

APPOINTMENTS MADE FOR SOPHOMORE HOP

E. A. McBride will be chairman of the Sophomore Hop scheduled for February 8, according to announcement by C. P. Walker, president of the sophomore class, who has also named the membership of the four committees by whom arrangements for the hop are to be made.

H. D. Butterfield will head the Orchestra Committee, having as associates D. D. Rice, W. M. Loudon, Miss M. Bracken and Miss J. E. Davis. The committee on refreshments is composed of G. R. Hall, chairman, N. C. Hoxie, Miss H. I. Johnstone and Miss D. M. Brown.

Miss J. Wappler is chairman of the committee on programs and favors. B. P. Schurman, W. J. Willetts, Miss D. R. Gillette and Miss C. W. Lynch complete the membership of this committee.

The fourth committee, in charge of decorations, has, as chairman, Miss R. E. Fields, and comprises in its membership E. J. Clark, R. M. Huey, Miss H. E. Wright and Miss E. M. Cory.

Fiske College has been willed nearly $1,000,000 by James Dallas Burnom, a member of the college's first graduating class. He was the first negro to receive the degree of bachelor of arts south of the Mason-Dixon line, and also the first one to receive the master of arts degree in America.

At the University of Washington a box of cigars was presented to the man who had the handsomest beard in the school before it closed for the holidays.

CHECKER BOYS DEFEAT 13th INFANTRY IN PRELIM

In what was probably the fastest and best fought game of the season, the Vermont quintet defeated the St. Michael's College basketeers to the tune of 27-23 at the U. V. M. gym on Wednesday evening before a capacity crowd of about a thousand enthusiastic fans. It was a neck and neck battle from the first whistle until the very end of the contest, with the lead changing hands periodically.

Every man on the U. V. M. team played a great game but particular praise must be given to Captain Estabrook for his skilful defensive game and Halligan for the way in which he cut for the hoop and shot. O'Brien and Connally starred for St. Michael's with eight and seven points, respectively. Halligan led both teams with ten points.

Both teams opened the performance with a rush and it was after a series of furious attempts, that Halligan tallied the first goal. This was merely the beginning for the Catamounts, for shortly after Palmer dropped two foul shots and was followed by Sargent with a neat tap shot thus making the score 6-0 in favor of the Green and Gold. Slattery opened for the Purple with a free try which was duplicated by Connally. Connally and Slattery each threw in a field goal making the score 7-6, still in favor of the Cats. Wallace added a foul shot but immediately afterwards O'Brien sank a long heave. The score tied at 8-8. The crowd was on its feet.

After a brief rest, the fight was on again, both teams playing brilliantly. Within a short time, however, the score was 13-10 in favor of the Winooski team. Halligan thrilled the spectators with a step shot making the score 13-13. Thirty seconds before the first half was over, the score was St. Michael's 17, Vermont 16. A second before the gun was fired, Sap Palmer put his team ahead with a shot from the side of the court.

The second half proved more thrilling and dazzling than the first. At the end of the first five minutes neither team had scored. Finally, the visitors broke loose but Captain Estabrook broke up a play single handed. O'Brien put his team ahead with the first goal of the second half on a step shot. With three minutes to go the St. Mikes led 23-22. As a result of a double foul, however, the score was tied when Halligan tallied and Connally missed. Halligan continued his superb playing and looped a shot from the center of the court. He was followed by Wallace with a shot from under the basket. The score now was 27-22 and with only one half minute to play the visitors were helpless and thus the Cats scored their fifth victory and their first one in the State series.

The summary:

VERMONT	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Halligan, r. f.	4	2	10
Wallace, l. f.	3	1	7
Morse, l. f.	1	0	2
Sargent, c.	2	0	4
Estabrook (Capt.), r. g.	0	0	0
Palmer, l. g.	1	2	4
Totals	11	5	27

ST. MICHAEL'S	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Slattery, r. f.	3	3	9
Shea, l. f.	0	2	2
Roberts, l. f.	0	0	0
Connally, c.	2	3	7
Mahoney, r. g.	0	0	0
O'Brien (Capt.), l. g.	4	0	8
Totals	9	7	25

Referee—Forbes. Umpire—Hirtle. Timer—Crockett. Scorer—Gray. Time—20-min. halves.

In the preliminary contest the Checker Boys defeated the 13th Infantry of Fort Ethan Allen 37 to 19.

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Women's Editor

Lawrence O. Clayton, '29 — News Editors Herrick M. Macomber, '29 — Arthur D. Stearns, '30

Hank Fuller, '30 — Columnists — George R. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors Elizabeth B. Hager, '29, Mary A. Turner, '29 — Intercollegiate Editor Odino A. Martinetti, '30 — Feature Editor George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor Seymour Norbaneen, '30 — Sporting Editor Angus W. Clam, '29 — Asst. Sporting Editor Warren H. Burr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor Theodora Holden, '29 — Art Editor Lenore Aldinger, '29 — Photographic Editor Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Janice Goodrich, '30, Priscilla Campbell, '30, [illegible] Richardson, '30, John Waterman, '30, George E. Brush, '30, Douglas L. Stewart, '31, E. A. R. Germain, '31

Donald E. Coburn, '31, Philip G. Andrews, '30, Louis Lieman, '31, Richard Cowles, '31, L. M. Foster, '31, C. N. Crockett, '31, Pauline Burridge, '30

Belle Church, '30, Cornelia Mould, '30, Margaret Ann Martin, '32, Hope Ranslow, '32, Paul J. LaCrosse, '32, Herman Gussow, '31, E. J. Beyor, '30

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '29
Business Manager

Carlos C. Lyman, '29 . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur R. Birchard, '29 . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jenks, '30 . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Moore, '30 . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Fuller, '30 . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2465 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 606 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt

Vol. 47 — January 18, 1929 — No. 30

There's a Point to the "V"!

You could place the Old Mill in one wing of one building at some of the country's larger universities. But then, we've read a prize-winning short story that contained but 94 words. You see, it wasn't the number of words, but what they said that counted.

The University of Vermont has 1,310 young men and women this year. This should mean 1,310 boosts for the Green and Gold. This should constitute 1,310 reasons why the hopes and expectations of Ira Allen and Lafayette shall never be in vain.

Vermont has tradition. Let upperclassmen, as well as yearlings, not destroy it. Rather, let them add to it.

Vermont has spirit. Let no one attempt to curb or break it. Rather, let him strengthen it.

Vermont has loyalty. Let none turn traitor to her ideals. Rather, let all strive to raise and protect them.

Bear in mind—There's A Point To The "V"!

The Cynic

Following mid-years the annual election of the CYNIC staff takes place and the next issue of the paper will be published by the incoming editors. Competition becomes keener each year for positions on the staff, and it would appear that material should be better. As usual one or two men are capable of writing English the way it should be written and the rest are lacking, somewhat, in grammatical sense. It seems strange that a group of university students should be unable to express themselves in good English.

Poor English in a college newspaper is a distinct detriment to the college. It is practically impossible for one or two editors, in the short space of time they are allowed, to edit every article going into the paper. As proved by at least one editorial even the editors are not immune from making grammatical errors.

Undergraduate editors, as a rule, know really very little about journalism. It is true they acquire a few fundamentals during their brief stay in office but these essentials must be relearned by the next incumbent. The purpose of many, in working on a paper, is to learn something about journalism.

Athletic teams have their coaches, debating teams their coaches, and dramatic societies their directors. It would appear quite desirable that some sort of a director take charge of the newspaper. A part time, competent man could oversee the general editing of the sheet and perhaps give a weekly lecture to the board. In return it might be possible for the University to advance certain English credit towards graduation, providing a certain standard was set to become a member of the board. The expense of such a man could be met jointly by the University and funds of the paper.

In this way the paper would appear in better form, would be written in better English, actual knowledge about journalism would be acquired by members of the board and staff members would receive certain college credit for their work.

This plan is not new: it has been tried out in several colleges. Dartmouth employs a full time man for a daily paper, but a part time instructor would suffice for the CYNIC.

Senior: "I saw a fellow trying to kiss Betty Roy last night."

Jitto: "Did he succeed?"

Senior: "No."

Jitto: "Then it wasn't Betty."—Towney Cat.

Mable: So you broke your engagement to the aviator?

Agnes: Yes, I caught him plane around.—Campus Comment.

Jones: His father died from hard drink.

Hones: He did?

Jones: Yes, a cake of ice fell on him.—College Life

Willie: Was your brother home from college over the week-end?

Sammy: I guess he musta been. My bank don't rattle any more.

—Wet Hen

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the CYNIC:

It was with much interest that I read the editorial in the CYNIC signed G. R. N., relative to the need of an infirmary at Vermont.

It has always been a source of surprise to me that the University authorities did not recognize the need of an infirmary at an institute of this nature. It is the only college in New England that I know of that pays so little attention to needs of the students who become sick. At other places of learning this is taken care of by a form of sickness insurance or an infirmary tax. Here in Burlington with the access to two up-to-date hospitals it is still more of a surprise to me that some such system is not in vogue.

—A SENIOR.

To the Editor of the CYNIC:

On Friday, January 11, there appeared an editorial in the CYNIC signed by G. R. N., calling the attention of the student body to the need of an infirmary.

I quite agree with the writer of this editorial, that an infirmary is badly needed at Vermont. In a school, where it is estimated that over 50 per cent of the students are working their way through school, either in whole or in part, sickness works a distinct disadvantage to the average student when he is unable to afford the expense of hospital attention and care.

I also do believe, that if the students were to contribute to an infirmary fee as G. R. N. suggests, that with the help of cooperation of the University authorities, a sum could be made up, sufficient in amount to maintain beds in either one of Burlington's big hospitals.

—ANAXAGORAS.

To the Editor of the CYNIC:

At a bull session in my fraternity house today, the main topic of interest was the subject of the editorial that appeared in the CYNIC Friday referring to the need of an infirmary at Vermont.

The unanimous opinion of those in the group was to the effect that this was by far the most important need at Vermont at the present time. This need has been brought home to a remarkable extent by the present epidemic of flu. No one knows who is going to be next and this lack of an infirmary where students could be taken care of in such a situation has fallen upon them like the blast of the north wind. The realization of what this means to one and all can easily be appreciated. And I for one wish to commend G. R. N. on his attitude in attempting to secure at Vermont what seems to me is its most paramount need, "a student infirmary."

—S. J. C., '31.

PRAISES U. V. M. FARM

One of the speakers at the annual meeting of Vermont Dairymen, held in Burlington last Wednesday was Solon E. Gray of Derby, one of the members of the committee selected by the Legislature of 1927 to supervise the expenditure of the $40,000 appropriation made by that Legislature to carry on dairy improvement work under the Department of Animal and Dairy Husbandry at the University of Vermont.

Mr. Gray reported what had been done in the way of building up the dairy herd and other livestocks on the University Farm, where most of the dairy improvements work is being carried on. He pointed out the many improvements made at the farm, the new equipment installed in connection with the teaching of dairy husbandry and the general upbuilding program which had been established there since July 1, 1927, when the money became available.

After recounting these facts, Mr. Gray expressed his belief that the $40,000 appropriation should be continued during the coming two years, because of the importance of the dairy industry in Vermont, and because he believed it to be impossible, without the aid of this appropriation, to give four-year students in agriculture at the University of Vermont the kind of instruction in dairying which they pay for. For a student cannot learn to know good cattle unless he has good cattle to work with in this course, Mr. Gray maintained.

Customer: Good heavens, Mr. Druggist, I'm poisoned! It must have been the sandwiches my wife gave me.

Pharmacist: Yes, that's it. I tell you, you're taking a chance every time you eat a sandwich that isn't prepared by a registered pharmacist.

"Hain't these fraternity men devils, Hannah?"

"Yeh. I heard tell they're Hellenics"—Lehigh Burr

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

To the University Directory

Within your pale gold covers lie the names
Of all of Vermont's men, and women too
My very heart with eagerness now flames
To get the low-down on each one of you

I find a football man of '29;
How often have I seen his virile fight
Displayed before me—wished his gains were mine.
Those guys make all the dames; it isn't right!

And here the literary worm I spy.
He's pale, anemic, and his horn-rimmed specs,
The wildfire look of genius in his eye
Proclaim he writes a lot, but never necks.

Yes, there's the charming co-ed of the hill.
She's built like no one's business. Get the walk!
Her dainty dancing dogs are never still
The bim lacks brains. Why she can't even talk.

Just look. The prof in Math or Greek!
Don't let his grim, dark threats make your heart ache.
That's just the way profs think they have to speak.
Yes, he'll give all you boys the good old break.

"Do you realize," asked an English professor in the University of Edinburgh, "that this hour of instruction will cost each one of you 93 cents?"

With sorrowful but determined mien, the entire class rose as one man, and filed quietly out of the room.

"Goofus," I says to my roommate, "why does this loose-leaf notebook remind me of a royal court?"

"Because it has pages within," he chirps brightly.

"Wrong, Goofus!" I admonishes. "Because it set you back some jack."

"Wrong again, Goofus," I deplores.

"Well then, Aristotle, why does it remind you of a royal court?" he begs.

"Darned if I know!" I declares. "I've just been trying to dope the blame thing out."

Bread is the staff of life, sugar is the cane of food, and glue is the stick of everything.

No, Peggy, it is utterly wrong to call a dentist's office a filling station.

Student High Flyers

"Aviation in the colleges has been progressing with leaps and bounds," says Joe Godfrey, Jr., in the February College Humor. "The Harvard Flying Club at Cambridge has its own plane and is used daily by its student members. Each year a new plane is purchased by the club members and so successful has been the operation of the club itself that its members now offer to help the students at other universities to form a similar organization. At Yale the Flying Club will undoubtedly buy a plane this year, and other schools soon to follow are New York University, Massachusetts Tech, Georgia Tech, Stanford, California, Michigan, Illinois and Minnesota. Wherever there are courses in aeronautics—and there are about seventy large institutions now offering such courses—aero and flying clubs are being formed. The great interest now shown in aviation in the colleges is resulting in the taking of special courses in flying by students who wish to become pilots. Students will soon fly their own planes."

Phi Delts Lose

The K. of C. added another win to its growing list at the C. H. S. gym stopping the Phi Delta Theta quintet 23-15 in a close game. Both sides missed plenty of easy shots but at that it was a great ball game. O'Brien and Porier were doing the scoring for the Crusaders and at half time the Purple had a 10-9 advantage but in the second session, the home team began to find the net from the side-courts and piled up a 23-15 advantage at the gun. O'Brien and Porier starred for the winners while Charlie DeRose was high man for the losers.

Mother," cried little Mary, as she rushed into the farmhouse they were visiting, "Johnny wants the listerine. He's just caught the cutest little black and white animal, and he thinks it's got halitosis."

—Union Pacific Magazine.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. VILLIUS VA[illegible]

I. Yuh know, its [illegible] different ways people [illegible] 'cter without knowin [illegible] everything a fella says [illegible] cause he's the kind of [illegible] say that. But one of [illegible] ways I've noticed peo[illegible] char'cter, and one that [illegible] people don't ever notice [illegible] say "That reminds me of [illegible] other," "That looks just [illegible] chamacallit." Fer exa[illegible] you're with a fella and [illegible] talkin' about some prof [illegible] he says "Every time I [illegible] I think of a little girl [illegible] chances outa ten you [illegible] thoughta that before [illegible] chances out of ten, when [illegible] about it, you'll disagree [illegible] you that prof represents [illegible] diff'rent idea. And that's the dif[illegible]ence between your char'c[illegible]

Take another example. Supp[illegible] there's some word, which every [illegible] you hear it, gives you a horrible [illegible]ing. Prob'ly it won't give that feel[illegible] to anybody else. Again—some wo[illegible] when you hear them you automatic[illegible] think of another word that alw[illegible] goes with it in your mind.

Well, anyway, I've noticed that of times. Once somebody said a [illegible]ture on a calendar was, say, [illegible] cheerful, when it didn't look that [illegible] to me at all.

What people think thing[illegible] look[illegible] and what things remind them of [illegible] a good way of tellin' what kind [illegible] people they are.

II. "Better is the end of a th[illegible] than the beginning thereof."—Ec[illegible]astes.

It's funny how phrases written [illegible] only one idea in mind can take [illegible] so many different meanings and [illegible]plications.

At the end of a long year of s[illegible] you sure feel more joyful than you [illegible] (or did) at the beginning of [illegible] That's a true application of the p[illegible]erb.

Again at the end of any kind [illegible] hard work you have the same feel[illegible] You start in, maybe, thinking of [illegible] long job ahead, then get into the sw[illegible] of the thing, get fixed and finally w[illegible] the end comes, it's kind of restful [illegible] pleasant compared to the beginni[illegible]

Then when you start out to [illegible] something done, like maybe get[illegible] ready to put on a play, and the th[illegible] starts off rotten, and every day [illegible] say, "I guess this is gonna be a [illegible] joke," and then things get better, [illegible] in the end it goes off even better t[illegible] you had imagined possible under [illegible] circumstances.

There's another application of [illegible] proverb. Neither of them is what [illegible] writer intended, as you will find [illegible] reading the context.

III. And that makes me think [illegible] something I like to do, something [illegible] gives additional pleasure to rea[illegible] some books,—to take a phrase ou[illegible] the context. Maybe it will be g[illegible] new meaning by modern slang, ma[illegible] the mere segregation makes it a p[illegible] saying, or a little joke—anyway it [illegible] good thing to do. I have got las[illegible] out of Poe's most horrible tales [illegible] way. And it's a trick used by pu[illegible] speakers.

GULES AND ARGENT, HOOPSTERS, HOLD BRIEF END OF TA[illegible]

Spill Meet By Three Units

In a dead horse contest on [illegible] Rouble Gym planking last night [illegible] Rouble "Paper Moneys" [illegible] other game, this time to the H[illegible] lujah agglutination. The contest [illegible] notorious throughout for th[illegible] horse-and-wagon work on [illegible]

In addition, the Paper [illegible] never seemed able to lo[illegible] nut. So, out of half a s[illegible] from the philanthropy [illegible] two sunk chez eux. The l[illegible] though a trifle superior [illegible] hip slinging—evidence [illegible] sight from the field. Out [illegible] (shirt count) essays in [illegible] of the game the prayer [illegible] six through. Such putrid [illegible] never before been exhibit[illegible] blinkers.

Notice their method of [illegible] bounce-bounce. Half of t[illegible] eration seemed to be sout[illegible] the rest had their west [illegible] the north should be; and [illegible] used but that one flip[illegible] other, which was wor[illegible] with. It was a deep m[illegible] how a homo-to-hominem [illegible] hit, the only plausible ex[illegible] ing that the opponent's [illegible] correspondingly putrescent.

The referee staggered out [illegible] house in the fourth s[illegible] and many innocent bystan[illegible] have liked to follow.

Meanwhile the two pent[illegible] playing peacefully about [illegible] one knew where the ba[illegible]

(Continued on pa[illegible]

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The alumnae entertained the active members of the chapter Sunday evening 13. Miss Doris Todd, [illegible]ter and Mrs. Wescott were [illegible] at the different houses.

PI BETA PHI

[illegible]st regular meeting of the [illegible]fficers for the coming semester elected and installed.

KAPPA DELTA

[illegible] Dunro Brookings, '28, is in [illegible] a kindergarten in Springfield, Vt.

UPSILON TAU ALPHA

[illegible]on W. Dean addressed the [illegible] of this society on Thursday [illegible] at their last meeting before [illegible]ons.

EPSILON SIGMA

At the meeting of the chapter Tuesday [illegible] Ruth Marcy was elected [illegible] to fill the place of Virginia [illegible] who resigned because of illness.

After the meeting a birthday party was held in honor of Alba Rosa and [illegible] Robbins.

COLLEGE ORATORS WILL COMPETE FOR PRIZES

The National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, which has been conducted for the past four years by the Better America Federation of California, will be continued this year, according to an announcement today at contest headquarters, 1217 National Press Building, Washington.

The prizes will be the same as in previous years, namely $5,000 in cash, divided among the seven National finalists in the following amounts: First place $1,500; second, $1,000; third, $750; fourth, $550; fifth, $450; sixth, $400 and seventh, $350. The National finals will be held in Los Angeles on June 20.

Any bona fide undergraduate student in any university or college in the United States is eligible. The orations, which must not require more than ten minutes for delivery must be on one of the following subjects: The Constitution, Washington and the Constitution, Hamilton and the Constitution, Jefferson and the Constitution, Marshall and the Constitution, Franklin and the Constitution, Madison and the Constitution, Webster and the Constitution, and Lincoln and the Constitution.

The nation is divided into seven regions for the purposes of the contest. The colleges in each region compete among themselves, generally by states, to determine the finalists for each region. The regional finalists compete late in May to determine the one speaker from each region who is to have a place in the National finals. A place in the National finals automatically carries with it an award ranging from $350 to $1,500, according to the ratings given the different national finalists.

Colleges may be enrolled in the contest by action of either a college official or a student. Entries close March 15. The spokesman for each college must be designated by April 15. Regional semi-finals will be held April 27.

The national finalists of 1928 were: [illegible] Albert, University of Oklahoma, winner of first place; Herbert Wenig, Stanford University, winner of second place; Allan Frew, Davidson College, North Carolina, winner of third place; Lee F. Lybarger, Jr., Bucknell University, winner of fourth place; William J. Conley, Loyola University, [illegible] winner of fifth place; Philip [illegible] Glatfelter, Princeton University, winner of sixth place, and Paul V. Keyser, Jr., Massachusetts Institute of [illegible]ey, winner of seventh place.

The championship of 1927 was won by H. J. Oberholzer, North Carolina State Agricultural College; that of 1926 was won by Charles T. Murphy [illegible]am University, and that of [illegible] E. Wight Bakke, Northwestern [illegible]ty.

[illegible]rther information, address [illegible] headquarters as indicated

An Expensive Note

"[illegible] Mother, I'm O. K. Am sending laundry home today."

[illegible] a poetry contest, this, but an [illegible] of how a student can get [illegible] if he is not careful.

[illegible]io University undergraduate [illegible]these smart lines in a bundle [illegible]ry he was shipping home to [illegible]. The case was weak, and burst[illegible] in the mails. An unfeeling [illegible]rk sent the package on by [illegible]- mail, which ran the cost up [illegible] dollars.

The student now is considering sending [illegible] homeward messages in [illegible] envelopes.

NO ISSUE OF THE CYNIC UNTIL AFTER MID-YEARS

There will be no issue of the Cynic during the mid-year examination period. The board expects to be thoroughly occupied with problems of its own in the meantime. The first issue following mid-years will be Friday, February 8. Cynic Board elections will take place immediately after the exams, and the new board installed.

MIDDLEBURY DEFEATS NORWICH IN HOCKEY

(from Burlington Free Press)

MIDDLEBURY, Jan. 16.—Middlebury College defeated Norwich University, 3 to 0, on the home hockey rink today. This was the second game of the Vermont State championship series. Although crippled by illness, the Blue and White played rings around the cadets and it was only due to superb goal tending on the part of Fullerton that the score was kept down. The game started fast and continued throughout. The Middlebury forwards surged goalward time and time again in combination but on only three occasions could they score. Captain Kelley netted the puck once in each period on passes from Foote and Crocker. Foote, Kelley and Crocker starred for Middlebury while Hourin was outstanding on the Norwich offense.

Middlebury		Norwich
Douglas, g.	g.	Fullerton
Foote, Guaranaccia,
Schmidt, l. d.	l. d.	Hourin
Gruggel, Chapoell,
Crocker, r. d.	r. d.	Graham
Foote, l. w.	l. w.	Youngerman
Kelley, c.	c.	Waining
Crocker, Weston, r. w.	r. w.	Hamm

Score first period Kelley (M) pass from Foote, 13:05; second period, Kelley (M) unassisted, 17:25; third period, Kelley (M) pass from Crocker, 13:50. Referee, Beery of Burlington. Timekeeper, Brush. Scorer, Brown. Time of periods three of twenty minutes.

CO-ED PRESS CLUB HAS THIRTY-ONE MEMBERS

The University of Vermont has a real, live, fully organized and active Press Club of thirty-one members of the fair sex. The present club was organized in 1912, after long and careful consideration.

The aim of the Press Club is to insert news of the University in the leading papers of the United States and to keep before the public the various college activities. This gives the institution prominence and is of great assistance in advertising it. The athletics, dramatics, musical clubs, societies, etc., are all included in the write-ups. As section 2 of the constitution of the Press Club says:

"The aim and object of the club is to make itself a clearing house for all university news and thereby to give due publicity to all university activity."

Two meetings of the Press Club are held every month, one business and one social. The rules also stipulate that two consecutive unexcused absences or three unexcused absences during a college year drop a person automatically from the Club. The Press Club has been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Dean and Mr. Crockett as advisors.

The present membership of the Club and its officers are as follow:

Seniors: Dorothy Cottrell, President; Constans Holden; Margaret Miller; Florence Scott; Agnes Wheeler, Secretary Treasurer; Irene Witkus.

Juniors: Dorothy Daily; Florence McKenzie, Program Chairman.

Sophomores: Gertrude Bingham; Betty Clark; Lena Cochran; Frances French; Eleanor Koenig; Barbara LeBaron; Margaret Rice; Agnes Shaw; Margaret Stanley; Mildred Stone; Winifred Stone; Sara Wescott.

Freshmen: Carolyn Briggs; Helen Cunningham; Frances Ferguson; Olive Fields; Cora Humphrey; Helen LeBaron; Margaret Martin; Beatrice Parkhill; Hope Ranslow; Margaret Schlegel; Marion Stoney.

The Club itself is divided into several committees as follows:

High School Paper Committee: Margaret Stanley, Chairman; Hope Ranslow; Margaret Schlegel; Margaret Martin.

Newspaper Committee: Florence McKenzie, Chairman; Olive Fields; Carolyn Briggs; Frances Ferguson; Helen Cunningham.

Photograph Committee: Eleanor Koenig, Chairman; Frances French.

The other members of the Club take turns in daily addressing envelopes to the various newspapers.

Sign at the rear of a doctor's automobile: 37654 ILL.

Sayings of Nautes

(Continued from page 2)

turned out that some playful little imbecile had (through God knows what accident) flipped the ball into the life or-death net where it stuck. The two cinquaines, working on the quisque pro-se system all thought some other basketeer had the sphere.

That was during the 3rd ¼. The last quarter went along the same way till the ball jolted down, accidentally, on one bounce-boy's bean.

And he angrily shouted to a so-called team-mate to try and look where he was passing the marble next time.

The bursting of the ball, taken for the timer's gun, stopped the torture.

ASSERTS COLLEGES DO NOT PRETEND POVERTY

Business Manager of Middlebury Answers Criticism of Financial Management of Universities

(Burlington Free Press)

J. J. Fritz, business manager of Middlebury College, defends the financial administration of the institution against the criticism of William B. Munro who indicts American colleges for playing poor in a recent number of the Atlantic Monthly. In an article just issued in the Middlebury College News Letter Mr. Fritz says that Mr. Munro's contention that colleges conceal their financial status in order to secure additional endowment finds no place in Middlebury.

"Mr. Munro's article is a distinct challenge to men connected with the business end of educational institutions," he says. "He questions the sincerity, purpose and integrity of the president, trustees, business officials, faculty and all others connected with the expenditure of college funds." Explaining the system of financial control at Middlebury Mr. Fritz says "The destinies of business at Middlebury are guided by policies approved by the corporate officials and board composed of the president, secretary and board of trustees known as 'The President and Fellows of Middlebury College.' The board of trustees is self perpetuating and includes three alumni chosen by the Alumni Association. There is now a total of eleven alumni on the board.

"Middlebury is principally an endowed institution. The appropriation from the state this year is $16,800 which is being decreased $4,200 each year. The permanent fund assets of the corporation on June 29, 1928, were divided as follows: Securities and cash in banks $2,823,386.04, real estate (not including the college plant) $507,212.50, a total of $3,330,598.54. The income from the permanent fund assets for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, was $152,789.90 or at the rate of 4.58 per cent on the gross. Adjustment from funds coming late in the year to the college bring the net normal rate of interest to approximately 5 per cent.

"The investing of securities is directed by a finance committee of five members of the board of trustees, who give freely of their time to see that men and women at Middlebury get full value of the investment resources of the college. The real estate holdings, other than the college plant, are for the most part administered under policies approved by other special committees of the trustees, men especially qualified for direction of this class of investments.

"In general we aim to have the non-educational activities pay their own way—dining halls, dormitories, faculty houses, book store, and college farm. Intercollegiate athletics, public concerts and lectures, alumni activities and hospital service are not self supporting at the present. There is a question at the present time as to whether our charges of approximately $125 per year for rooms, light and use of furniture and the charge of $250 per year for board is sufficient to cover depreciation as well as current expenses.

"Middlebury is educating its students at less cost to them than many other institutions of the same size and academic standing. Our latest catalogue gives annual charges of $677 exclusive of laboratory fees and charges for extra courses. This is at the new tuition fee of $250.

"Middlebury is being operated on a budget plan, the accounts are audited by certified accountants, we are trying to distribute the working load to the best advantage of the organization and our heads of departments are always willing to cooperate in hard times as well as when we enjoy prosperity. Although deficits are occasionally unavoidable we are trying our best to live within the present income and at the same time have well considered plans for additional buildings and new activities for any additional gifts it may be our good fortune to receive. We are poor, but all forces are cooperating to get for the students the greatest results possible from our present resources."

NEW CEMENT WALK TO BE BUILT IN SPRING

Further improvements are to be made upon the Vermont campus next spring. President Bailey has announced that a cement walk will be placed between the northwest corner of the campus and the library, where a dirt walk is now in use. The walk will be at least four and a half feet in width, and there is a possibility that it may be wider. A cement walk will also be placed in front of the Williams Science Hall in place of the short macadam stretch which will be dug up to make room for the new walk. Eighteen new ornamental lights such as those that already have been installed along campus row will also be placed around the campus.

Work upon the cement sidewalk will begin as soon as the frost leaves the ground in the spring.

The new walks are made possible through a gift to the University for that purpose. The ornamental lights will be installed by the city of Burlington.

The firm of Bliss and Cole of Hartford, Conn., have just completed a thorough and detailed appraisal of all University buildings, showing reproduction costs, sound and insurable values of everything from chicken houses to Old Mill.

Styles

Jackets are ever popular among college students and seem to be replacing the old-time heavy sweater. From the days when the mackintosh and the sheepskin were the only short coats worn, to now, when almost every collegian considers them a necessity, is but a short step in time. Four years ago the "windbreaker" was first introduced and was quickly accepted by Joe College on every campus and especially in the East.

The outstanding jacket in favor is the leather one, suitable for sports and daily wear, these cost a little more than the ordinary but can be worn for years without getting that shabby look.

Woolen jackets are also constantly seen, especially on men. These resemble the mackintosh coats worn by lumberjacks but are very warm and withstand the Burlington breezes. About two years ago a reversible jacket, plain color on one side and plaid on the other, was put on the market but did not meet with much favor except among the younger people. Another model is made of rubberized fabric; this is not suitable for winter wear but pleases because of its extremely bright colors.

The latest trend of jacket styles is toward a smart-looking and well-cut jacket; the one illustrating this, and the one which appeared on the campuses of the Eastern universities is the camel-hair jacket. This has not spread in popularity to any great extent but is still seen at Harvard and Yale.

Basketball Results

At Bethlehem, Pa., Lehigh 39, City College of New York 30.

At New York, Columbia 32, Princeton 25.

At New Haven, Conn., Yale '21, Brown 18.

At New Brunswick, N. J., Rutgers 37, Haverford 16.

At Boston, Harvard 62, Boston University 23.

At Springfield, Mass., Springfield 37, Holy Cross 27.

At Worcester, Mass., Providence 51, Clark 28.

"Do you know the jackknife dive?"

"Brother, there ain't a night club in this town I ain't been to."

—Detroit Jabberwock.

"Nice legs on that girl."

"That's Sally from our alley."

"Bowling alley?"—Cornell Widow

NEXT TWO WEEKS WILL BE GIVEN TO MID-YEARS

For a period of two weeks all extra-curricula activities at the University will cease. The attention of every student will be taken by the mid-year examinations. The exam period extends from Monday, January 21, to Saturday, February 2.

Payment of fees for the second semester has been set for Friday, February 1. Enrollment for the next half year is on the following day, Saturday, February 2. One of the rules of the University reads that "every student is required to register and enroll for each semester on the appointed days unless excused by the Dean of the College concerned." Classes will begin for the second semester at 7:10 A. M., Monday, February 4.

Registration and enrollment will be conducted in the same manner as previously done. Payment of semester bills will be made at the Medical Building where enrollment cards and students' athletic association tickets will be obtained. The enrollment cards and courses to be taken for academic students will be filled out under the direction of the head of the department in which the student is enrolled.

The social calendar has February 1 and 2 scheduled as dates for fraternity dances. February 8 is the Sophomore Hop and the [illegible] and [illegible] Kake Walk. Besides these numerous social activities, the month of February will be further crowded with important basketball and hockey contests. And mid-years will be a thing of the past.

How to Keep a Job

(By New Student)

Emphasis in the college is coming to be placed more and more on preparation of the student for some little niche in the huge and intricate business world. The little pamphlet received by seniors at Columbia College the other day is a sign of the times. It bears the imprint of the University and is apparently sent out for the purpose of preparing the students for their place in the business world. The title is "How to Get and Keep a Job," and the author is Mr. C. R. Dooley of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The young man, Mr. Dooley says, must work hard, be docile, must possess "a great deal of fighting ability" and "some of the characteristics of the politician." He must throw aside any Aristotelian nonsense about material goods as means for the Good Life and must accept Babbitt's philosophy of money making as an end in itself. He will, with Mr. Dooley, look with scorn upon the "pathetic spectacle" of those who "seek a job and nothing more; it matters not to them what kind of a job it is, so long as it does not require many hours and provides a reasonable income."

To settle the argument once and for all. Gentlemen prefer blondes because blondes know what men prefer.

The Old Reliable

Gotham Gold Stripe

Silk Hosiery

$1.95 Pair

Sheer and Service Sheer—Square or pointed heel—fashionable shades for evening wear, as well as all smart street shades.

JANUARY SALE

Watch Fobs	$ .69
Bracelets	2.98
Compacts	.69—$ .98
Rings	.89— 7.89
Pillows	2.39— 3.98
Banners	.98— 2.49
Stationery	.39— .98

UNIVERSITY STORES

FRATERNITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Key and Keynote Society has announced the Interfraternity Basketball Tournament Schedule for the present season. Last year the championship team was determined by dividing the fraternities into three leagues, having each team play all the teams in its own league, and staging a playoff round with the league winners. However this year the teams are divided into two leagues within which there will be eliminations, the winners of each league to play off for the championship.

The schedule will be found elsewhere in this issue.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATE DEAN OF LAW SCHOOL

(Vermont Alumni Weekly)

Appointment of Prof. George E. Harris as Dean of New Jersey Law School has been announced by President Richard D. Currier of the Law School. Mr. Harris succeeds the late Dean Charles M. Mason, who died in May, 1927. The appointment of Mr. Harris had been urged by numerous graduates of the school and by members of the student body.

Mr. Harris was admitted to the Bar in 1923 and an counselor in 1926. He is now Town Attorney and Counsel for the Board of Education of the town of Montclair. He is a member of the Legislative Committee of the New Jersey State League of Municipalities, and assisted in drafting the Zoning Enabling Act which has just passed the Legislature. He is a member of the Commonwealth Club, Phi Delta Theta Club of New York, New Jersey State Bar Association and American Bar Association.

George E. Harris

New Jersey Law School Dean

Mr. Harris is the author of "Pleading and Practice in New Jersey" which is generally recognized as the most scholarly work on this subject. Other publications of Mr. Harris include a "Legal Primer for Freshmen" and case books on Criminal Law and New Jersey Statutes.

Mr. Harris has been an instructor in New Jersey Law School since 1925. He was born in Stowe, Vermont in 1887, educated in the local schools there, and was graduated from the University of Vermont with honors in 1909. While at college, Mr. Harris was on the Board of Editors of the college paper, was captain of the university debating team and leader of glee club. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and as commencement speaker. He was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

After graduation from college, he taught English in secondary schools for a number of years, first in Barre, Vermont and then, from 1910 to 1914 in Morristown, New Jersey, and finally, from 1914 to 1922, in Montclair, where he was head of the English Department, leaving his career as a teacher of English he was Secretary of the State Association of English Teachers and a member of the National College Entrance Examination Board as a reader for four years, and as examiner for one year. During that time he also prepared a series of articles for the Literary Digest under the supervision of the National Department of Education under the general heading of "Our Schools and the War."

He was graduated from the New Jersey Law School in 1923 receiving the award for the highest average for the three years' course and for the first year at the time of his graduation. While in Law School he was elected to Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity. He was admitted to the Bar of New Jersey in the fall of the year after graduation, and began teaching that year in New Jersey Law School.

INTERFRATERNITY BASKETBALL

League I

Feb. 4—6.15 P.M.
Lambda Iota
versus
Phi Sigma Delta

Feb. 7—6.15 P.M.
Independents
versus
Delta Psi

Feb. 12—6.15 P.M.

Feb. 9—1.30 P.M.
Zeta Chi
versus
Alpha Tau Omega

Phi Mu Delta, bye

Feb. 16—2.30 P.M.

Feb. 26—6.15 P.M.

League II

Feb. 9—2.30 P.M.
Tau Epsilon Phi
versus
Sigma Phi

Feb. 9—3.30 P.M.
Phi Delta Theta
versus
Kappa Sigma

Feb. 14—6.15 P.M.

Feb. 9—4.30 P.M.
Sigma Alpha Chi
versus
Sigma Nu

Sigma Delta, bye

Feb. 16—3.30 P.M.

Feb. 27—6.15 P.M.

Winner of League I plays winner of League II for the championship on Saturday, March 2 at 3.00 P.M.

40 ORGANIZATIONS OF STUDENTS AT UNIVERSITY

Times have changed at the University of Vermont since grandfather was a lad. In those days there were a few literary societies. In those days there are a few literary societies and then some. The University of Vermont like other institutions has become a clubby place. This year there are over 40 student organizations of one kind or another on the Vermont campus. These organizations keep the wheels of undergraduate government turning, constitute the clearing house for student activities and supplement the educational work of the University. Some of these clubs and other organizations are for men, others are for women, a few are for both. This multiplicity of organizations is perhaps a further indication of the need of a community building.

The men have their glee club, their student senate, their Y. M. C. A. They have the class honorary societies of Boulder, Key and Serpent, Gold Key, and Cap and Skull. They have Wig and Huskin, honorary dramatic; Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural; Scabbard and Blade, honorary military; Pi Beta Rho, honorary journalistic; Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debating; Kappa Mu Epsilon, honorary engineering; Grey Friars, honorary literary. There are also one or two scientific clubs, such as the Electrical Club, with membership made up entirely of men.

Men and women combined operate the three student publications. These are the Cynic, semi-weekly newspaper; the Ariel, junior class year book; and the Vermont Literary Magazine, published six times a year. Men and women carry on jointly the four class organizations. And for men and women there are two honorary societies, Eta Sigma Phi, the Greek society; and Kappa Phi Kappa, the educational society. Then there are the French Club, the German Club, the International Relationships Club, the Philosophical Club whose memberships are made up of both men and women.

The women are as strong on organizing for purposes of accomplishment as the men. They have their student union, women's athletic association, Y. W. C. A., glee club, dramatic club, press club, teacher-training club. Likewise they have their own honorary societies—Mortar Board, senior class honorary; Bluestockings, literary; Masque and Sandal, dramatic; Epsilon Sigma, teacher-training.

Students of Yore

The Northeastern News seems to find great comfort from the following passage taken from a book written by Dr. Henry W. Lawrence, professor of History, Connecticut College. The book is entitled "The Not-Quite Puritans." It would indicate that college life has not changed much: "Last night this earnest Yale student has recorded, some of the freshmen got six quarts of Rhum and about two pavls tool of sydar and about eight pounds of sugar and mad it into Samson and evited ever scholar in college into Churtiais room, and we mad such prodigious Rought that we roused the Tutor. This is taken, gentlemen, from the diary of a certain Ezra Clapp, who wrote thusly in 1738.

A room in the new men's gymnasium at Washington State College is being fitted with putting greens and driving nets.

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 597-W
T. P. O'HARA
TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING
[illegible] Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

BEST COAL AND SERVICE
Elias Lyman Coal Company
206 College Street

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

HOCKEY AND FROSH CAGE SCHEDULES COMPLETED

Hockey and frosh basketball schedules as well as the freshman grid schedule for 1929 have been announced by the Athletic Council of the University. The announcement of the lists of contests has been held up on account of the delay in completion of them.

The hockey schedule:

Jan.	11	Clarkson Tech	There
	12	St. Lawrence	There
	15.	Norwich	Here
	19.	Middlebury	Here
Feb.	15.	St. Stephen's	Here
	16.	Norwich	There
	22.	Union	Here
	23.	Middlebury	There

The freshman basketball schedule:

Dec.	19.	Checker-Boys	Here
Jan.	5.	Phi Delta Theta	Here
	8.	Knights of Columbus	Here
	11.	Knights of Columbus	There
Feb.	9.	DeMolay	Here
	16.	Goddard Seminary	There
	28.	Checker-Boys	Here
Mar.	2.	Y. M. H. A.	Here

The freshman football schedule:

Oct.	5.	Montpelier Seminary	Here
	12.	Clark School	Here
	19.	Fort Ethan Allen	There
	26.	St. Lawrence '33	There
Nov.	2.	Norwich '33	Here
	8.	Middlebury '33	There

Indigent Profs.

(By New Student)

One of the unfortunate results of low professorial salaries is that they force many faculty members to work at extra-academic jobs in order to gain a livelihood. Sometimes this work is "unusually poorly paid," and frequently of a "tedious and otherwise unpleasant" character. It often interferes with scholastic work in which every professor ought to be engaged in order to keep from growing intellectually stale. These are the conclusions of the committee on the academic standard of living appointed by the Yale University chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

"There is reason to believe," the chapter announced, at the outset of the investigation, "that the economic conditions of the professors are such as effectively to discourage many young men of high quality of intellect and force of character from adopting this profession." The conclusions reached after a thorough study of conditions at Yale corroborated this fear. It was found that "the present scale of salaries affords good conditions for a scholarly life for an unmarried man; but a distinctly meager existence in all grades for a man and wife with no children."

COLLEGE HUMOR

Tough Boy: "I don't believe in no devil."

Horrified Acquaintance: "What! You don't believe in the devil?"

Tough Boy: "Naw. It's just like Santa Claus. It's your old man."—Ibid.

"That's what I call tough luck."

"What's that?"

"I've got a present of a check for forty dollars, and the only man in town that can identify me is the one I owe fifty."—Penn State Collegian.

In the parlor there were three,
He, lamp, and she.
Two is company, there's no doubt,
So the little lamp went out.
—The California "Tech."

Compliments of
C. A. BARBER & CO.
112 Church Street

CORONA
THE PORTABLE
TYPEWRITER
L. P. WOOD
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

Youthful Pacifists

(From the Detroit [illegible])

The War Department [illegible] be having difficulty in [illegible] able candidates for [illegible] Point cadetships spe[illegible] Congress in 1926 for [illegible] killed in the World War [illegible] similar difficulty is be[illegible] by congressmen in par[illegible] try in finding applicants [illegible] ships allotted to the [illegible] West Point and regular [illegible] not seem to hold the [illegible] for young Americans [illegible]

Several reasons might [illegible] for this backwardness [illegible] come forward and serve [illegible] uniform. Soldiering was [illegible] ing in times of peace and [illegible] of its glamour in the late [illegible] nation becomes more [illegible] young men prefer the [illegible] ation obtainable outside [illegible] the glory of fitting them[illegible] tect their country in time [illegible] Whether this inclination [illegible] by the preachings of the [illegible] not be definitely known [illegible] could be more agreeable [illegible] cott of West Point to those [illegible] break down our national [illegible] expose us to attack from [illegible]

The fact that American youth [illegible] not crashing the gates of West P[illegible] does not prove that patriotism [illegible] in this country or that this [illegible] youth would not be ready to [illegible] and die for it if war came. The [illegible] fortunate thing is that it reveals [illegible] failure on their part to realize [illegible] our national defense, if it is allowed [illegible] to decay, cannot be recreated [illegible] night. West Point is the [illegible] ground for the officers whom the country must depend on to lead [illegible] an emergency. As such it should [illegible] more highly esteemed by the [illegible] men of this generation than it apparently is.

License Required

Sophomores who would publish [illegible] University of Oregon freshmen must first show a license issued by the [illegible] dling committee. Under the [illegible] civilizing influences of [illegible] the freshmen in this way [illegible] base physical pains.

And did you hear of the [illegible] who spilled the iodine [illegible] finger so that it would [illegible]

"Hey, you! Don't [illegible] front of my horse."

"Don't worry, I know [illegible] park in front of a plu[illegible]
—The [illegible]

STUDENTS
LOOSE-LEAF NOTE BOOKS
ART MATERIALS
U. V. M. STATIONERY
McAULIFFE'S
Cor. Church & College Sts.
Phone 629

25% REDUCTION
ON
FALL SUITS and OVERCOATS
Sale Lasts Through January
HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Main
Open Evenings

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
ESTABLISHED 1896
QUALITY VALUE SERVICE
LANGROCK
FINE CLOTHES
NEW HAVEN, CONN.
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VT., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1929 — NUMBER 31

BIRCHARD ELECTED SENIOR WEEK HEAD

Prominent Senior to Direct Class Activities During Commencement Week—Gustafson is Financial Manager

COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

Arthur R. Birchard was elected chairman of Senior Week at a meeting of the senior class which was held Tuesday afternoon in the Old Chapel. Senior Week is the week between final exams and Commencement Day which is given over to the various senior activities, such as the Senior Prom, Class Day and so forth.

Mr Birchard is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, and Boulder Society. In past years he was Gold Key and Key and Serpent. He is also manager of track, circulation manager of the Cynic and president of Pi Delta Rho, the honorary journalistic society. Last year he was business manager of the Ariel.

Bertel W. Gustafson was chosen to act as financial manager of Senior Week. He is also a Boulder man, being from Delta Psi. He is manager of basketball, former business manager of the Cynic, a member of Scabbard and Blade, Pi Delta Rho and president of Wig and Buskin. He was Gold Key and Key and Serpent in the two previous years.

Birchard has appointed the following to serve under him on the various Senior Week committees:

Class Day: John Seeley Estabrook, chairman, Carl C. Macomber, Robert M. Tracy, Marion Backus, Marion Baldwin, Dorothy Strong.

Class Walk: John E. Donnelly chairman, Herman Kropper, Charlotte Cleveland, Irene Witkus.

Pipe Charles Overly, chairman, Watson F. Rogers.

Planting Statues: Kenneth L. Price, chairman, Burton Morse, Lucy Bracken Florence Scott.

Invitations: Frank B. F. O'Keefe, chairman, Fred Robbins, Daniel Daggett, Catherine Bassett, Elzada Fiske, Mary Freeman.

Senior Prom: Franklin R. Otto, chairman, Eugene Knapp, Paul Hopson Miriam Idleman, Annette Middleton, Helen Prentiss.

Senior Boat Ride: Corbin C. Lyman, chairman, John P. Hyland, Lee C. Morgan, Margaret Durick, Lucy Morgan, Mildred Whitney.

Questionnaire: Warren A. Dodge, chairman, Cedric Reynolds, Frank Shorey, Frances Howley, Lucene Little, Lydia Blodgett.

Ivy: Marion Everest, chairman, Glenn Skiff, Anthony Luciani, Dorothy Cottrell.

Class R. E. Young, chairman, George Rand, Margaret Mahoney, Mary Turner.

FROSH MEET DE MOLAY IN PRELIM TOMORROW

As a preliminary to the Middlebury game tomorrow night, Coach Prentiss Hearlings will play the DeMolay five. Since scholastic warnings do not go into effect for a week or two, Hearlings will line up with the regular team. Taft and Winant will probably start at the forward positions which they have held thus far this season. Both of these men have shown up well enough to prove to be a real menace to the DeMolay boys. Bowers has been the regular center and will doubtless continue to hold this position. Bedell and Bedell are expected to get the call for the back court berths.

Last year the DeMolay did not put a team but as the DeMolay-Frosh game was sort of an annual affair, they have agreed to get a team to play for this one game.

The probable line-ups:

		DeMolay
	f	J. Scutakes
	f	Buzzell
	c	Tindall
	g	T. Scutakes
	g	Meehan

MANY SPECIAL COURSES FOR SECOND SEMESTER

New courses announced for the second semester include a variety of both the usual half-year offerings as well as some unusual specialties.

Professor Leon W. Dean, who already conducts courses in Short Story and Dramatic Composition, will direct classes in article writing on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3.00 o'clock. A course in mathematics 8, covering work in advanced algebra, with mathematics 1 as a prerequisite, will be given by G. H. Nicholson on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 9.30.

Two courses are announced in Political Science. Political Science III, Political Parties, will meet on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 11.30 with Professor D. B. Carroll. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 8.30, Political Science 109, Latin American relations of the United States, will be given by M. H. Laatsch.

Latin II, a course in classical mythology, will meet on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 9.30-10.30. This course counts towards a major in Latin, English or Greek. Seniors who have completed the course in Elementary Forestry may take Forest Management and Finance, a three hour course including two lectures and one laboratory period. W. R. Adams will conduct this course.

GREY FRIARS HONORARY LITERARY SOCIETY HOLD BANQUET AT VERMONT

President Bailey, Professors Myrick and Dean Speak to the Members on Subjects of Literary Interest

Grey Friars, the men's honorary literary society, had its first semi-annual banquet of this year, on January 26, at the Hotel Vermont. The banquet began at 7.00 o'clock. President Guy W. Bailey, of the University, and Professor Myrick, head of the French department, were the invited guests, and both spoke to the members of the society. Mr. Leon Dean, the honorary member of the society, was also present and he too addressed the society.

President Guy W. Bailey spoke confidentially to the society in his talk, relating some of his experiences and giving good sound advice to the society, both of which were enthusiastically received.

Professor Myrick's talk was upon present-day biography. He declared that biography today is no longer the ancient cut-and-dried rhetorical account, but something which very closely approximates the novel. Professor Myrick stated that the new movement in biography was innovated by French writers. The speaker, who declared that the tendency among some writers to debunk traditional stories connected with the names of famous men does no good and is in itself useless and harmful.

It would be just as well if the Washington cherry-tree story were not classed as a fable in Scandinavian countries, for instance, he said. Men are incurably romantic, said Professor Myrick, and despite some leaning today upon that something called realism it is what is romantic that will reach the hearts of men and survive through the ages.

Mr Leon Dean told the society that editors are at the present time interested in problem stories, in which some decision of great importance must be made. It is this type of short story which is becoming very popular with the people, he said.

Grey Friars was founded by a number of interested upperclassmen last year that the men at the University with literary tastes might enjoy the benefits to be derived from such an organization. Membership in the society is limited to sixteen active members. There are now eleven students who are members of the society and they are as follows: Charles Overly, who is the president of the society, Merle Duval, Wilmond Parker, Herrick Macomber, Edmour Germain, George Nelson, Robert Stewart, Clifford Sammond, Frank Sulloway, Glenn Skiff, and Sam Barker.

DEBATE MANAGERS ARRANGE SCHEDULE

Manager Sears Entertains Representatives of Middlebury, St. Michael's and Norwich Teams

PURPOSE OF MEETING TO ARRANGE STATE SERIES

An event of great importance to those interested in forensic activities took place Tuesday evening, February 5, when a meeting of the debate managers of the Vermont colleges was held in this city. At this meeting a schedule for debates between the four colleges, Middlebury, Norwich, St. Michael's and Vermont, was drawn up, in which each team is to debate once with each of the others.

The question to be debated is: "Resolved: that the American jury system be abolished." The sides are not definitely chosen as yet, but Vermont has its choice in the Norwich debate, while Middlebury and St. Michael's have the choice of sides when debating Vermont.

The Oxford style of debate is to be used with three speakers on a side. In this style, each man speaks for fifteen minutes, except the first speaker for the affirmative, who divides his time into ten minutes for the presentation of the constructive argument and five minutes for rebuttal.

There are to be three judges chosen by the home team who will decide each debate.

No exact dates have yet been set for this state series, but it is to be held during the first two weeks of March. In these debates, Vermont will go to Middlebury, Middlebury will go to Norwich, St. Michael's travels to Middlebury, Norwich journeys to St. Michael's, and Vermont entertains both St. Michael's and Norwich. Thus the Vermont debating public has the opportunity of hearing two debates in the series. Next year the places of the debates will be reversed.

This series of debates is sure to be of great interest to the debating public. St. Michael's has had a team for the past few years but has debated but few teams outside of the state. However, she has defeated Vermont for three consecutive years.

Middlebury has broken even with Vermont for the last two years of debating relationship between the colleges, and she carries on a very extensive debating schedule with out-of-state teams.

Norwich has a debating team for the first time in the past few years, but has excellent material due to the fact that several members of Vermont state high school championship teams and out of state teams are in attendance at that university and are taking a great deal of interest in forensic activities.

For the past three years the University of Vermont has been steadily widening its scope of debating activities and has established successful relationships with prominent colleges such as Bates, Dartmouth, Yale, M. A. C., etc.

At the meeting Tuesday of the various managers who are Fortin of St. Michael's, Gibson (son of Congressman Gibson) of Norwich, Patee of Middlebury, and Franklin A. Sears of Vermont, this plan of a state series was proposed and agreed upon not as something for this year only but as a permanent thing. The colleges compete in various sports, and so it is only logical that they should match their wits in debate. This whole project is the culmination of a proposal put forth by the Vermont manager and diligently worked on until it has at last assumed definite form.

WATCH TUESDAY ISSUE FOR ST. MIKE WRITE-UP

Owing to the fact that this issue of the Cynic went to press before the game was played with St. Michael's College at Winooski Park last night, a report of the game will be given in Tuesday's Cynic.

Joyce P. Richardson, '30, has been elected president of Town Girls.

WALKER TO HEAD GOLD KEY THIS SEMESTER

Calvin W. Walker a member of Phi Delta Theta, was elected to lead Gold Key Society during the coming semester, at a meeting held Tuesday evening at the Sigma Nu Lodge. According to the constitution of the society, a new president, vice-president and secretary must be chosen each semester. Walker has been one of the most active men in his class. Besides being a Gold Key man, he is an assistant manager of football and president of the sophomore class, and has served on committees.

J. Edward Clark will serve under Walker as vice-president of the organization. Clark, who belongs to the Zeta Chi fraternity, is well-known on the Hill and has been very prominent in activities up to this time.

Harold W. Adams will take over the duties of secretary of the sophomore honorary society. He is a Delta Psi. He was recently elected to act as one of the assistant managers of football.

After the election of president had been held, Walker took over the chair which had been held the preceding half year by Roderick Maynes. He said that he would try to call one meeting each week for the rest of the year, as per constitution, and would try to make them as interesting as possible. He also mentioned the fact that the Middlebury game tomorrow evening will require the maximum number of ushers, as a large crowd is expected.

COLD WINTER CARNIVAL RECENTLY REVIVED, TO BE HELD FEBRUARY 16

Marion Baldwin, Carnival Chairman, Sets Tentative Date for First Field Events in Many Years

After a lapse of three years, the woman's Winter Carnival is to be revived, and Saturday afternoon, February 16, has been set as a tentative date, dependent upon weather conditions. The carnival will be conducted in a manner similar to the Middlebury-Vermont Sports Day, so that everyone, whether skilled or not, has a chance to participate. The program which has been arranged by Marion Baldwin, chairman of the carnival, is as follows:

2.00 Meeting at the skating rink in class decorations.
2.15 50-yard skating dash
2.25 50-yard race
2.40 Race for speed
2.50 Slow race
3.00 Meeting on back campus.
3.10 50-yard ski dash
3.20 Obstacle snowshoe and ski race
3.40 50-yard snowshoe dash
3.50 Class free for all race
4.00 Awards
Champlain

Contestants must bring their own snowshoes, skates and skis although W. A. A. will have a few pairs of skis to rent. Winners in the contests will receive W. A. A. credit. Those who will enter the contest will have the opportunity to sign on the W. A. A. bulletin board next week for the events which they will enter.

The Carnival Committee is composed of Marion Baldwin chairman Esther Nelson Frances Hazen, Dorothy Bailey, Margaret Stanley and Marion Stoney, and the following class captains. Agnes Wheeler, '29 Joyce Richardson '30, Dorothy Nash, '31 and Doris Humphreys, '32.

Miss Martha Carl of New Hampshire State spent Monday in Burlington. She came to Vermont as a representative from the Pan-Hellenic organization of her college to observe the second semester plan of rushing at Vermont. Miss Carl had conferences with Dean Marian Patterson and several Pan-Hellenic delegates in regard to rushing, and attended a Pan-Hellenic meeting Monday afternoon.

Daily hikes are being taken by the members of the Outing Club upon skis and snowshoes. They leave the gym at 4.00 o'clock every afternoon.

CLAYTON WILL EDIT CYNIC NEXT YEAR

Puffer is Chosen Business Manager at Recent Cynic Elections —Macomber and Stearns Managing Editors

BRUSH, LISMAN, NELSON SELECTED NEWS EDITORS

Lawrence O. Clayton, '30, was elected editor-in-chief of the Vermont Cynic at a meeting of the editorial board held Monday afternoon, February 4. The business board, meeting on the same day, chose James C. Puffer to act as business manager of the paper.

Mr Clayton is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. For the past year he has been serving as a news editor on the staff. He has shown ability along journalistic lines, and thus it is hoped that the Cynic for the coming year may be even better than in previous periods. Clayton served as a member of Gold Key last year, and is also in Pi Delta Rho and Wig and Buskin, and was editor of last year's Freshman Handbook.

Mr. Puffer, the new business manager is a prominent member of the junior class of Kappa Sigma. He was a Gold Key man last year and this year is serving in Key and Serpent. He is manager of freshman football for next year and assistant manager of this year's tennis team, besides being an assistant Kake Walk director.

Assisting the editor-in-chief will be Herrick M. Macomber and Arthur D. Stearns, both of the class of 1930, acting as managing editors. These positions have been created to take the place of the old one of a single managing editor. Macomber has been in nearly every branch of extra-curricular activities since he came to college. He is a Delta Psi and is manager of football. He belongs to Tau Kappa Alpha, the honorary debating fraternity, to Pi Delta Rho, the honorary journalistic society, to Eta Sigma Phi, the honorary classical organization, to Wig and Buskin, Gold Key, and Key and Serpent. He is also secretary of Student Senate and has been on the honor roll for scholastic standing every semester he has been in college.

Mr Stearns belongs to Kappa Sigma. He also served as a news editor during the past year along with Clayton and Macomber. He has devoted most of his time to literary pursuits, but has also served on numerous class committees and on the Ariel Board.

The three news editors, from whom will be chosen the editor-in-chief and managing editors next year, are George R. Brush, Louis Lisman and George R. Nelson, all of the class of 1931 and former assistant editors. Brush is treasurer of the Sophomore Class, is a member of Gold Key and Eta Sigma Phi and to Lambda Iota. Lisman is also a debater, having served on both the freshman and sophomore teams of his class and also the varsity team ever since his first year. He is a member of Tau Kappa Alpha took second prize in the Kingsley Oratorical Contest last year, and has made the honor list for scholarship every semester since his entrance to college. His fraternity is Phi Sigma Delta. Nelson is also a debater, having been associated with Lisman in every debating activity on the Hill and is a member of both Tau Kappa Alpha and Grey Friars. Both Brush and Nelson claim one semester each on the honor list.

Seymour J. Nathanson the new athletic editor was assistant athletic director of the Cynic last year. He belongs to Tau Epsilon Phi and was Gold Key last year. L. M. Foster '31, D. L. Stewart '31 a Phi Mu Delt and H. D. Gipson '31 a member of Tau Epsilon Phi, assistant editors last year were elected assistant athletic editors.

E. J. Bevor '30 a member of Zeta Chi and one of last year's assistant editors will fill the feature editorship. O. A. Martinetti, '30 a Phi Mu Delt alone of all of last year's higher editors, continues as an editor this year, retaining the intercollegiate editorship.

In the business department, M. B. Jenks, '30, will aid Puffer as advertis

(Continued on page 2)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

ROBERT M. TRACY, '29
Editor-in-Chief

MARGARET A. DURICK, '29
Business Editor

News Editors

Lawrence G. Clayton, '30 — Herrick M. Macomber, '30 — Arthur D. Stearns, '30

Hank Fuller, '30

Commercials

George R. Nelson, '31

Associate Editors
Elizabeth B. Hager, '29
Mary A. Turner, '29

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '30

Feature Editor
George H. Poole, '29

Asst. Sporting Editor
Seymour Nathanson, '30

Sporting Editor
Angus W. Clam, '30

Asst. Sporting Editor
Warren H. Burr, '30

Women's Athletic Editor
Constance Holden, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Photographic Editor
Frank G. Shedd, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Lenore Goodrich, '30 — Donald E. Coburn, '31 — Belle Church, '30
Priscilla Campbell, '30 — Philip G. Andrews, '30 — Cornelia Mould, '30
Louis Richardson, '30 — Louis Lisman, '31 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32
Louis Waterman, '30 — Richard Cowles, '31 — Hope Ranslow, '32
George R. Brush, '31 — L. M. Foster, '31 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32
Douglas L. Stewart, '31 — C. N. Crockett, '31 — Herman Gussow, '31
F. A. R. Germain, '31 — Pauline Burridge, '30 — K. J. Beyor, '30

BUSINESS STAFF

BERTEL W. GUSTAFSON, '30
Business Manager

Gaston C. Lyman, '30 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Arthur R. Birchard, '30 . . . . . Circulation Manager
Major B. Jenks, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John M. Moore, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager
James C. Fuller, '30 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2655 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1895. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Delta Psi House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Phi Mu Delta House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — February 8, 1929 — No. 31

MID-YEAR GRIND OVER

Last September many young men and women embarked on the sea of a college education. Some were confident, having had previous experience, while others who were new to the game set out with a certain amount of trepidation. Some encountered smooth, clear sailing. Others, less fortunate, ran into a more or less stormy passage. The crew started with the advent of mid-year examinations. Again some, the majority it is hoped, came through without mishap. Others failed to survive the rough and stormy passage and were lost. A few unfortunates are still floundering. But the crisis is passed. Now pull for the opposite shore.

The mid-year grind is over and the second semester successfully commenced. During the past two weeks, exclamations of "I socked that one." "What a beating I took." "What a tough break he got," have been heard from all corners of the campus.

As a result of the exams some of the most popular students have left college, many not to return. Those that have really tried have left nursing an inferiority complex, while those who took their studies less seriously, have gone with the idea that something else will turn up.

For those that remain is the opportunity to do better this next semester. Beware, for finals come with surprising rapidity.

THE NEW BOARD

Editors come and editors go. Each in his turn has his own ideas as to how a college newspaper should be run and what it should contain. Each one incorporates some new improvements and ideas in the paper which make it representative of his own individuality. Each one strives to leave some mark of distinction as a monument for his period of administration of the paper.

The new editorial staff hopes to leave its mark of distinction by way of improvements also. The Cynic has improved and progressed with the evolution of college journalism. From an unimpressive beginning almost half a century ago the Cynic has slowly but steadily evolved into a news organ that is on a par with other college papers in the field. And that is putting it modestly, too, without a thought of boastfulness. While most colleges have ready access to expert advice on problems connected with a student newspaper, while many have a paid expert on the staff to smooth over some rough spots, the Cynic is unique in that it is the product of the student body alone. The situation is all the more remarkable when one stops to consider that the Cynic has more than held its own in its field of college journalism if one is to judge by the journalistic efforts of colleges of the size of Vermont.

What has made this phenomenal progress possible, some may be tempted to ask. The answer lies in the ability and energy of former editors and their staffs.

It is with some hesitation and respect for past editors of the Cynic that the new board states it hopes to improve on the paper. It is the policy of the new staff to make the University favorably known throughout the country, to uphold the traditions of the college, and to report all news faithfully and accurately. But, above all, it is hoped that through the Cynic, the students, alumni, faculty and friends will become more closely affiliated with the life and ideals of the University of Vermont.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

THE ROYAL GAME CALLED MID-YEARS

[illegible] I'd bend
[illegible]
[illegible] I'd rave, I'd weep.
[illegible]
But, what the deuce! It was no use
The Major's showed no grace.

I don't take Greek, but so to speak,
They all seemed Greek to me
I'd spend enough time on the stuff
And then I'd pull a D
I'd hate to eat—the hours would fleet
So awfully quickly by
I'd stay up late—and now my fate?
Why I've done more than try

Must I now pack and hit the track?
The track that leads to home
What is my gain from hours of pain?
From filling full my dome?
For losing sleep must I now weep?
Is all my work for naught?
When I'm away the profs will say
He's dumber than I thought'

If You Can't Come—Telegraph

"Sentiments by Telegraph give a New Thrill on Valentine's Day."

"Romance calls on February 14."

You are invited to use any of these sentiments in the wording of your telegram."

"I wish every man had a wife like mine—a heart of gold, a mind so fine—continue to be my valentine."

P. T. Hank.

"I like you, I love you, I want you all the time, so please wire me back that you'll be my valentine."

C. C. C. C.

"When I think of sending this to you, my heart goes bumpity, bumpity, bump!"

S'Nalbans.

"Valentine Greetings, Mother, my first and dearest sweetheart. How I wish I could be with you today."

Ex-Converse.

"These words short and few, prove my tender thoughts of you."

Tobey.

"Dear Jimmy Valentine, Stop! I love you more each day. Stop! I mean I really do. Stop, I said! You're no gentleman!"

J. T.

Ode To Ye Mid-Years Proctors

Ye that sitteth close to wall,
Firmly sitteth, cannot fall,
Ye whose glances seeth all—
Ye proctors.

Ye who pass the Dread Work out,
Undermining hearts so stout,
Putting all our thoughts to rout,
Ye proctors.

Ye who laugh at faces glum,
Ye who mock our chewing gum,
Ye who make us all keep mum,
Ye proctors.

Ye who wander up and down,
Ye who grin while students frown,
Ye whom we should love to crown,
Ye proctors.

FRATERNITY BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT UNDER WAY

Interfraternity basketball is already under way, the first game of the League I, between the Owls and Phi Sigma Delta having been played Monday afternoon. The tourney, which is conducted each year by the Key and Serpent Society, is to be conducted along slightly different lines this year. It is to be an elimination affair, so that one defeat definitely puts a team out of the running. There are only two leagues this year, instead of three. The schedule, which was published in an earlier issue of the Cynic, has been arranged so that the teams can play on the varsity court. Heretofore the smaller surfaces, running across the width of the gymnasium, have been used for fraternity games, a practice which made it possible to play three games at once.

The rules governing the tournament, as set forth by the junior honorary society, are as follows:

1. Officials shall be furnished by the Key and Serpent Society, and balls for the games by the department of physical education.

2. Preliminary and semi-final games shall consist of four ten-minute periods. The final game shall consist of two twenty-minute periods.

3. Evening games shall start not later than 6:15. Any team not ready to start at this time shall forfeit the game. Afternoon games shall start at exactly the time designated on the schedule. Any team not ready to start at this time shall forfeit the game.

4. The cup for the winner shall be furnished by the Key and Serpent Society.

5. A man who has participated in a varsity basketball contest cannot compete.

6. Fraternities must pay the Interfraternity Basketball Tournament tax of two dollars to the treasurer of the Key and Serpent Society, Herrick M. Macomber, before February 9, 1929.

Kake Walk, Gala Social Event of the Year, Will Offer New Cu

Kake Walk, the gala event of the year, the usual supreme effort of undergraduate imagination and ingenuity at the University of Vermont, takes place two weeks from today on Friday and Saturday, February 22 and 23. As further incentives to the students several Burlington merchants have donated cups for this year's Kake Walk. Hayes and Carney, Miles and Perry, Preston's Jewelry Store, and the Student Senate are offering cups which will be awarded along with the Clark C. Briggs Cup, the Southwick Cup and the Boulder Cup to the participants in the 1929 Kake Walk.

In addition to the cups, cakes are to be awarded as prizes to the fraternities and individuals excelling in the various events. Last year the large Briggs Cup for the best stunt and the cake which goes with it were won along with the Boulder Cup for the best Kake Walking couple by the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. The Southwick Cup, a smaller cup, was awarded to Tau Epsilon Phi. The T. B. Wright Cup was awarded to the Delta Psi fraternity as winners of the Peerade. The events of the two days include not only the Kake Walk performance, but the entertainment of several hundred sub-freshmen by the University.

The fraternities competing with stunts this year are: Delta Psi, Sigma Alpha Chi, Sigma [illegible], Kappa Sigma, Zeta [illegible], Phi, Alpha Tau [illegible].

Each fraternity [illegible] one float of three [illegible] the entire peerade [illegible] twenty-five to thirty [illegible] passing completely [illegible] twice, the processio[illegible] way out into the [illegible] doors will close, and [illegible] plunged into darkne[illegible].

Then with a snap [illegible] makes the spectator [illegible] din's genii are at wo[illegible] the stunts will follow [illegible] quick succession. Fi[illegible] allowed each stunt [illegible] producing, and leaving [illegible].

Immediately following [illegible] last [illegible] the house will be lighted and the [illegible] will blare forth the "Cotton B[illegible] that ever-fascinating syncop[illegible] strain so familiar to all lovers of [illegible] Walking. For thirty minutes [illegible] ence will be treated to an [illegible] of Walkin' Fo' de Kake, which [illegible] instill envy into the hearts of [illegible] "danciest cullud pusson" as [illegible] the twelve couples perform[illegible]. follows the grand ensemble when [illegible] arms aloft and feet kicking high, [illegible] entire group encircles the [illegible] direct comparison of respective m[illegible]

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. Villius Valteo

"Hello, Nautes. I'm glad to know you. By the way, what does your name mean?"

"That," says I, "is Attic for sailor-boy."

"Is what?" he says.

"Attic. It's a kind of Greek."

"Oh," John replies, "I thought it was a part of a house."

"Not," I informs him, "with a capital letter."

"Oh—. I didn't hear the capital letter."

"You wouldn't. It's an art."

"What's an art?"

"Music's an art. Portrait painting is an art. Sculpture is an art. There's lots of arts. It would take an artist to tell you from a dumb-bell, for example. Getting A's is an art—and a plenty hard one. For some people—don't blush—it's an art to pass a course. Life, my son, is full of art."

"Oh."

"Yes. It's a fine thing to be in college, among all these charming and husky men of old Vermont (there's a point to the V) and so forth but remember, when you get out of college, everybody won't be a Vermont man."

"Thank heaven for that."

"By the way, how did you hit your exams?"

"Alphabetically."

"What do you mean by that,—all A's and B's?"

"No. All some letter of the alphabet."

"What, for example?"

"Oh X—that's nice and mathematical, don't you think?—and O and a few C's and B's."

"How many courses are you taking?"

"I don't know. Several. You can have 'em all if you want 'em."

"I don't! I've got all I want. Why do they put so much on the mid-years that you don't know?"

"Don't ask me. Maybe some of the profs have too many classes and want to reduce the number so as to get some rest."

"Probably. Suppose a guy don't want to be reduced though—most of 'em don't; it's usually women."

"That's right. Probably they go by good looks."

"Then I should of got an A."

"You mean you shouldn't be in college."

"Don't get jealous, honey. Don't you know jealousy is a sign of ignorance?"

"You must be hiding the pangs of many a huge and luscious envy in your chest, me boy."

"Are you insinuatin' things?"

"Not at all. You're too suspicious, Sonny Boy. Try to control yourself and submit to the will of Divine Providence. Be optimistic, not pessimistic."

"I never was a pessimist until I saw you. Then—it's a wonder I didn't commit suicide."

"You flatter me."

Fred W. Householder, Jr.

John G. Medlar

John G. Medlar died at the a[illegible] 22 years early Saturday morning lowing an operation in a local[illegible] pital

Besides his mother, he leaves brothers, James and Francis [illegible] sisters, Helen and Barbara.

Funeral services were held [illegible] Cathedral of the Immaculate C[illegible] tion. Interment followed [illegible] Joseph's Cemetery

Mr. Medlar was a senior at [illegible] University where he had been [illegible] ested in numerous activities. He [illegible] n member of the Sigma Delta Pi [illegible] nity, president of the German [illegible] and officer of the honorary Greek [illegible] Eta Sigma Phi and second lieut[illegible] in the R. O. T. C. His outstan[illegible] scholastic abilities won [illegible] of special distinction in the U[illegible] sity, particularly in German. He [illegible] enrolled in the classical course a[illegible] a scholarship was a special [illegible] at Harvard during the spring sem[illegible] of 1928.

His untiring efforts [illegible] an outstanding ability to master [illegible] task won him the respect of a ho[illegible] friends among the students who [illegible] deeply the loss of a close comrad[illegible]

VERMONT SENDS TEAM TO DARTMOUTH CARNI[illegible]

A winter sports team of six m[illegible] being sent by the Vermont Outing [illegible] to the Dartmouth Winter Carn[illegible] this week-end to participate in [illegible] intercollegiate events which will [illegible] run off there. The six men who [illegible] taking the trip are J. Cowles, [illegible] Maynes, C. G. Buxton, K. Parker, [illegible] Thoms, and S. Howard. This me[illegible] the second of the many in w[illegible] Outing Club members will engage [illegible] season.

The events in which the team [illegible] engage are the six-mile s[illegible] try, the downhill ski race, the [illegible] ciency race, ski jumping, the 440 [illegible] skating race, the two-mile [illegible] fancy skating, and the two-mile [illegible] shoe race.

Prospects for the team look [illegible] L. Cowles, who will enter both [illegible] shoe and ski events, has [illegible] years' experience. Maynes and [illegible] ton are both members of [illegible] team and they were point [illegible] the interfraternity meet. [illegible] Howard, who will enter [illegible] events, is a member of [illegible] team. Parker and Thoms, [illegible] both freshmen, have had considera[illegible] previous outing club and [illegible] experience.

The colleges which will [illegible] in the Dartmouth Winter Carnival [illegible] New Hampshire, Middlebury, Norwi[illegible] Bates, Bowdoin, Syracuse, W[illegible] Dartmouth, Vermont, Amherst, [illegible] and McGill.

New Hampshire won [illegible] the two years but will be [illegible] this year by Dartmouth [illegible]

There will be several features [illegible] the auspices of the Dartmouth Ou[illegible] Club including the choosing of [illegible] 1929 carnival Snow Queen. Miss [illegible] ence Rice, daughter of G[illegible] noted sports writer, was [illegible] of the 1928 carnival

About thirty girls have [illegible] a course in bowling. The first [illegible] met Wednesday. The bowling a[illegible] are opposite the postoffice [illegible] Street and are reserved [illegible] girls on Wednesdays from [illegible]

Greatest Music and Religion Are in Harmony Says Professor Bennett

...ard G. Bennett, head ...artment at the Univer... ...essed the Discussion ... Street Church on ... and its relation ... saying, in part

...gion are both capable ... deepest and most ex... It is unreasonable to ... the greatest, most sublime harmony with religion, ...outward form be sacred ... And is not greatness, ...ing a truer, more gener... ...ring criterion for church ...conformity of the words ...pany it to any one creed ...worship, or the mere avoid... ...lar associations?

...g at least as far back as ...ance, with the revival of ...tters, and the progress of ... and invention, there has ...creasing sense of the dig... ...worth of the secular man, ...sense of the worth of man's ... and yet the fallibility of ...wisdom has come, let us ...creasing tolerance, though ...surely much intolerance in ... still. When science at least ... undermine traditional be... ...was natural to emphasize good ...her than doctrine, and in doc... ...reinterpret and give new sig... ...to old dogmas. Should there ... religious music today some... ...orrespond to this respect for ...ar man, this tolerance, this ...tation of traditional beliefs? ...modern liberal church has, rela... ...speaking, no music of its own. ...stands between traditional ortho... ...the one hand and the secular ... the other. May it not draw ... from the most inspired ortho... ...secular music? If this be ad... ...there are the greatest treas... ...all music to draw upon; the ...beautiful Gregorian chants ...the Roman Catholic and Epis... ...urches; the devotional choral ...Palestrina and his contempo... ...carries. Their shorter motets ideal for responses, when the congregation is still in the mood of prayer), the venerable and colorful music of the Russian church, only recently becoming known to us; the majestic Lutheran chorals, such as "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," which Heine called "the Marseillaise of the Reformation" and Frederick the Great named "God Almighty's Grenadier March"; the Anglican church music of the 16th and the early 17th centuries, recently so beautifully sung by the English singers in Burlington; the later more secular yet honest and hearty anthems of Purcell in the period of the Restoration; the intensely devout music of Bach, his cantatas based on Lutheran chorales, his infinitely tender and loving drama of the suffering of Jesus in "The Passion According to St. Matthew," and the stupendous Mass in B Minor; and the great oratorios of Handel, Haydn, Mendelssohn, Brahms, and Cesar Franck. And if we follow the hint of Paul Bekker, the German critic, we will assume that the great tide of religious inspiration passed over from Bach and Handel and overflowed into secular music in the 19th century, and that the symphonies of Beethoven and the operas of Wagner are essentially religious music also. English church music of the 19th century might receive its due secondary yet honorable place, and America be represented by what is perhaps its most deeply emotional music—the best of the negro spirituals.

"There are serious obstacles to such a view of church music, chiefly difficulty of performance and the all too potent power of words and their associations. Yet if one has the will, it would seem that progress lies in this direction. In fact, the liberal churches have constantly drawn on orthodox and secular music in the past. May they do so in the future, and may that music be only the truly great sublime, and inspiring, whether it be sacred or secular in name!"

ANNOUNCE SCHEDULE OF WOMEN'S RIFLE TEAM

... Shaw, '29, has released the ... schedule for the Women's ... team February 9, University of ... Reno, Nev.; February 16, Uni... ... of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, O.; ... of Indiana, Bloomington, ... Michigan State, East Lansing, ... February 23, University of ... Orono, Me., Washington State ... Pullman, Wash.; March 2, ... of Pennsylvania, Philadel..., Pa., University of Missouri, Co... lumbia, Miss., Northwestern Univer... ...ston, Ill.; March 9, Co. "A" ... 7th Infantry, Fort Crook, Neb., ...iversity of Maryland, College Park, ...d., Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., ...ity of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb.; ... Keene Normal, Keene, N. H., ... University, Syracuse, N. Y.; ... of Kansas, Lawrence, Kan.; ... Massachusetas Agricultural ... Amherst, Mass.; March 30, ... of Tennessee, Knoxville, ... Arrangements for two other ... are now under way. These ...de Utah Agricultural College ... Utah, and North Dakota ... College at Fargo, N. D.

...eatured match is with Com... A of the 17th Infantry located ... Crook, Neb. This group is ... command of Capt. F. D. ... a graduate of the Command ... College, who in September, ... given command of Co. "A" ... 7th Infantry, one of the best ... in the army. Under his ... 96 percent of the company ... on target practice and 25 ... the rank of expert riflemen. ...mmons was stationed here in ...

...h of these contests ten girls ... and the five highest scores ...hanged in determining the ... The targets themselves will ...ed with M. A. C. and with ...sity of Tennessee.

Looks Don't Count

...ndred and twenty college ...the East were asked some ...portant questions in a spe... ...onnaire regarding the types ...ey seek as husbands.

...two hundred and twenty, ...e insisted on college grad... ...two demanded good looks, ...d an athlete. Fifty were ... drinkers. More than one ...stipulated honesty, sincerity, ...and culture.

...and fame were entirely ... There was, however, one ...t was very much in de...se of humor.

... a pretty good judge of ...

...ever ate any in my life." Middlebury Blue Baboon.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Genevieve Forbes Herrick who is with the Chicago Tribune was the guest of honor at a party held January 26 at Theta House in celebration of Founders Day. Supper was served by the local alumnae.

Lambda Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta announces the pledging of Esther Seaver, '29, Edith Thomas, '31, Caroline Whitney, '31, and Elizabeth Weston, '31, on Sunday evening, February 3. After the ceremony dinner was served at the Hotel Vermont.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Eta Chapter of Delta Delta Delta announces the pledging of Emily Murray, '31, on Monday evening, February 4.

Virginia Goodenough, '31, announced her engagement to Rev. Ralph Krout of South Jacksonville, Fla., on Monday evening.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Miss Elizabeth Rhodes, a national inspector of Alpha Chi Omega fraternity, was in the city this week from Sunday until Thursday for conferences with the Alpha Iota Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega. During her stay, Miss Rhodes made a general survey of the campus and its organization and she will carry the customs and traditions of Vermont to other parts of the United States.

Miss Rhodes is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and is a member of Mortar Board. A supper and entertainment was given for her at the Alpha Chi Omega rooms on Wednesday evening and the members of the Akraia Chapter of Mortar Board gave a luncheon in her honor at the Golden Pheasant on Thursday.

MIDD HOCKEY CONTEST POSTPONED TO FEB. 13

The hockey game scheduled to be played with Middlebury here January 19 was postponed on account of lack of ice and will be played here February 13.

Grey Friars, men's literary society, held a meeting last night. Manuscripts were read and the regular business of the society disposed of.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 597-W
T. P. O'HARA
TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING
170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

CAT'S MEOW

Middlebury here tomorrow!

That game promises to be a humdinger. Middlebury has defeated St. Michael's and Norwich and is confident of a victory over the Catamounts.

Middlebury has the same team that defeated the Green and Gold at Middlebury last year and every man is a high scorer.

Coach Cayward has his squad in perfect physical and mental condition for the strenuous schedule which follows for the rest of the month.

Springfield has its usual flashy quintet but is having a bit more trouble winning games than did last year's team. Its only defeat has been at the hands of the Providence five.

The latter team together with M. I. T. and Fordham are the outstanding eastern aggregations without a defeat in college ranks. Providence and Fordham look like the cream.

Incidentally Fordham has lost only one game in three years to N. Y. U. by one point last year. The Fordham second stringers have started every game this year. It's a strategic and successful innovation.

It is quite evident that Capt. Reilly of Holy Cross who won the game here last year with his long shots was the main threat of his team. This year with Reilly gone and the rest of the line-up intact the Crusaders have been losing regularly. They are due another defeat in Burlington on March 2.

Joey Schaaf of Penn is trailing Carey of Princeton for high scoring honors of the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League. Schaaf scored 327 points last year. With him Penn seems invincible.

For the first time since February, 1927, a Dartmouth team defeated a Yale team when the Big Green quintet nosed out a 35-34 victory on January 22.

Conn. Aggies are as strong as ever. Wesleyan is the lone victor over the Nutmegers.

Sacred Hearts of Lowell, Mass., and the Boston Whirlwinds broke even in the first two games of a series for the mythical New England pro hoop title. "Rusty" Yarnall, former Vermonter and coach of Lowell Textile is starring for the Lowell team.

One of the most outstanding upsets of the season is the Clarkson Tech hockey victory over Dartmouth, 4 to 1, last Monday at Potsdam. Houston and Burke caused the downfall of "Molly" Bott, Dartmouth captain and one of the most dependable goalies in college hockey. They were also responsible for the decisive victory over Vermont earlier in the season.

As for hockey—we like Yale this year.

The Norwich-Vermont hockey game which will be played at Northfield on February 16, will be one of the events of the Cadets' annual winter carnival to be held February 14, 15, and 16.

Norwich yearling hoopsters have the following schedule: February 12, Goddard at Northfield; February 19, Montpelier Seminary at Northfield; February 20, Goddard at Barre; March 9, Clark School at Northfield.

Co-eds a Liability?

Co-eds are a liability, according to Knute Rockne, famous Notre Dame coach, who attributes his success to the fact that there are no women at Notre Dame. "She takes a lot of athletes' time, either at the expense of his studies, his playing, or his sleep."

Compliments of
C. A. BARBER & CO.
112 Church Street

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

SLADE COTTAGE

The new women's dorm nearing completion on the Redstone property on South Prospect Street

SENIOR WOMEN GIVE ADVICE TO FRESHMEN

Mysterious and intriguing posters urging all freshman women to attend a Mortar Board Roundabout, known in previous years as the Treasure Hunt, attracted the majority of the class Wednesday afternoon to the Old Mill Chapel. The six members of Mortar Board, wearing caps and gowns, talked to the freshman audience about a successful well-rounded college life, of which the former Akraia pin, a circle, was symbolical.

Catherine B. Bassett, president of Mortar Board, welcomed the freshmen and introduced the other members of the senior honorary society to them. Margaret Durick emphasized the practical and cultural benefit of scholarship. Charlotte Cleveland outlined the proposal of the U. V. M. Alumnae to create a Vocational Bureau and urged the freshman women to plan now for their after-college career. She announced that a bookshelf containing valuable vocational information will be placed by the Alumnae College Relations Committee in the office of the Education Department, with Miss Alice M. Madigan in charge.

Marian Backus, president of W. A. A., talked about the necessity for good health and the place of athletics in a successful college life, explaining the system of points.

The badges of the seven women's fraternities on the campus were displayed by Marion Baldwin, who also sketched the history of each fraternity. Catherine Bassett discussed fraternity rushing and the rules which Pan Hellenic has set for the rushing period.

"Esprit de corps is what we are trying to develop at Vermont," Lucy Morgan told the freshman audience. Extra-curricular activities, she said, are necessary in the all-around college life.

As is usual at this time of year, campus rumors have it that half the freshman class has vanished from existence and that many an upperclassman has followed in their trails.

$25.00
Your choice of any overcoat in stock at $25.00
HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

ANNAPOLIS TO BUILD BOAT-HOUSE IN 1930

Annapolis midshipmen will have a new quarter of a million dollar boat house in 1930 which will also have facilities for lacrosse, soccer and baseball. The contract for this immense structure is about to be awarded and the finest equipment in the country is being planned for future crewmen.

The building of three stories including a tank with running water large enough to accommodate two shells, a dressing room to hold 200 occupants, and a storage room in which 28 eight-oared shells, 8 four-oared and 16 single sculls can be placed, has been designed by Commander Jonas Ingram, the athletic director at the Naval Academy. It is due to his efforts mainly that the appropriation was gained from Congress.

The site of the boat house is a small point running into College Creek from the north side. It is so situated that boats being launched are sheltered from the wind where in the present boat house it is sometimes impossible to get the shells in the water.—Penn sylvanian

Arthur B. Hillegas, '31, has transferred to Columbia University where he is pursuing studies in the School of Business Administration.

BEST COAL AND SERVICE
Elias Lyman Coal Company
206 College Street

CORONA
THE PORTABLE
TYPEWRITER
L. P. WOOD
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

THE LENDING LIBRARY has three new titles of particular interest to students of history.
THE LAST OF THE CALIFORNIA RANGERS
THE CAVALIER OF TENNESSEE
JUBILEE JIM

PANTHERS APPEAR HERE IN STATE SERIES

Coach Beck of Blue and White Confident His Aggregation Will Cop Title Tomorrow Night

BERNSTEIN AT FORWARD BOLSTERS CATAMOUNTS

Vermont makes its third bid for the state basketball title tomorrow night when the Green and Gold quintet will meet the strong Middlebury five on the gymnasium surface. There will be a battle royal for both teams are out for blood and should put up the game of their career.

The Catamounts were going strong when mid years arrived, with five victories and three defeats chalked up on the board, and all of these defeats were by close margins. They were handicapped in the last four games by the loss of Manning, the flashy guard, who has been laid up by an injury to his knee, and it is doubtful whether he will be able to appear in the fracas with Middlebury. Palmer will be on hand to take Manning's place as he has in the last few games.

Mid years have brought joy to the hearts of the student body and others connected with athletics at the University. Dwight "Dink" Bernstein, who has been working out with the varsity all season, was declared eligible this week and will fill the berth vacated by the temporary absence of Wallace. Bernstein looks like a regular for the rest of the season. He will be remembered by upperclassmen as a star on his yearling grid and hoop teams. His addition to the team is as inspiring as his loss was a blow. He is a four sport man and was chosen as the best school boy forward in Connecticut three years ago. He is an accurate shot, a clever floor worker, and fits into the Green and Gold combination perfectly. Bernstein and Halligan will give Vermont a pair of fast forwards who will cause the Midd guards plenty of trouble.

The Blue and White will bring a powerful aggregation with them Saturday night. The Midd's have the same five that they had last year, and it is to be remembered that the Panthers of the 1927-1928 season handed the strong Catamount team of last year a 44 to 33 setback. So far the Midd fans have had no kick coming over the way their five has played this season. Coach Beck has rounded his team into such good shape that it shapes up as Vermont's only real opponent for the state title.

The whole team seems to be built about Humeston, their flashy center. Their back court is well taken care of by Captain Spooner and Casey while they have a pair of fast, high scoring forwards in Johnson and Sorenson. All in all, it is a team that is going to put up a real battle, and the Catamounts will have a problem on their hands if they are to subdue the Panthers.

L. E. "Red" Ball will handle the whistle.

LINE-UP FOR TONIGHT'S GAME

VERMONT		MIDDLEBURY
Halligan	f	Johnson
Bernstein	f	Sorenson
Sargent	c	Humeston
Estabrook (Capt.)	g	Spooner (Capt.)
Palmer	g	Casey

LAMBDA IOTA TO STAGE ANNUAL DINNER DANCE

Lambda Iota will put on its annual dinner dance tomorrow evening from six to twelve. The entire first floor has been attractively decorated, especially the parlor. This room has had several booths placed along the walls divided off by trellis work. In three of the four corners the booths are fronted by toris. The whole effect is Chinese. Lighting is furnished by Chinese lanterns hung in each booth and across the ceiling. Artificial flowers are hung on the trellises.

Dinner will be served in the booths starting at 6.00 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Balls and Prof. and Mrs. Braun are to act as chaperones. Doc Kenyon's orchestra will furnish the music.

Increase in Princeton Library

The library of the Princeton University, which was founded in 1756 with 474 volumes the gift of Jonathan Belcher Governor of New Jersey, now contains more than 646,000 books.

Far worse than a giraffe with the tonsilitis is a centipede with ingrowing toe nails.—McGill Daily

Clayton Will Edit Cynic Next Year

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible] manager. He is Delta Psi and was financial manager of the Literary Magazine. In addition he has served on [illegible] committees and is an honor student. Stewart E. Corbin, '31, a Delta Psi, E. F. McQueston, '31, of Sigma Nu and F. Stanley Smith, '31, of Sigma Phi, were chosen from among the sophomores competing for assistant business managerships. All have been active in extra curricular activities.

Four new assistant editors have been added to the board: E. H. Powell, '30, E. J. Fitzgerald, '32, A. J. Morin, '32, and W. E. Morgan, '32.

Although the men's staffs change with this issue Margaret Durick and her assistants continue in their present offices another week or two until the women's election is held. Hitherto scheduled for March, the women's board at the instigation of Miss Durick, will hold its election before the end of February.

SOPHOMORE HOP AT GYM THIS EVENING

Committee Announces Completed Arrangements for its Part on the Social Calendar

Greater effort and more complete consideration than has been evident in past years is being given to preparations now made for the Sophomore Hop, a formal dance, which is to take place at the University Gymnasium from 8.30 p.m. to 1.00 a.m., Friday, February 8; admission $3.00 per couple.

Reduction of admission from the customary charge of $4.00 to $3.00 is a commendable accomplishment within itself. Chairman McBride directed his efforts to that effect from a definite interest in the student body who might not otherwise find it convenient to attend the dance.

Selection of the University Gymnasium was made after the committee was informed that both the Auditorium and High School Gymnasium were definitely booked for functions on Friday evening. It is promised that our gym floor will be in the best condition possible. Special attention and financial aid are being directed to improve the surface beyond any condition which dancers have found it in for a long time. A committee will provide decorations to lend a cozy atmosphere to the scene.

Professor L. D. Meredith and Miss Laura Parker and Professor and Mrs. L. W. Dean are the chaperons for the evening.

The spirits of syncopation and dreamy waltzes are well entrusted to Johnson's Orchestra which has proven itself capable as masters of ceremonies for an enjoyable evening.

It deserves to be noted that the favors for the dance have already arrived. Careful selection has brought them within the approval of all and nothing but being a recipient of them at the dance will fully acquaint anyone with their many surprises and entertainment.

A light drink and other refreshments will be plentiful and always available.

This major occasion is planned to increase the folds of pleasant memories and to this end the committee of the Sophomore Hop is making every plausible effort.

Intercollegiate News

By Odino A. Martinetti, '30

A further attempt to establish a congenial chapel system at Tufts was made with the announcement of a new system of chapel attendance for the coming semester. Students are required to attend two days a week in a division selected by the student subject to the approval of the dean. The statements for the requirements of the degrees of A.B., B.S., S.T.B. are to include attendance at chapel during the period a student is in residence.

"Is your father a policeman?"
"No, but he goes with them a lot."

STUDENTS
LOOSE-LEAF NOTE BOOKS
ART MATERIALS
U. V. M. STATIONERY
McAULIFFE'S
Cor. Church & College Sts.
Phone 629

BASKETBALL TOURNEY FOR SENIOR SCHOOLS TO BE HELD IN MARCH

University to be Host of Vermont High School Teams at Tournament to Decide Senior Championship of State

The annual interscholastic basketball tournament to decide the senior championship of the State of Vermont will be held under the direction of the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont in the University of Vermont gymnasium at Burlington on Friday and Saturday, March 8 and 9.

The preliminary games will begin Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The first game of the qualifying round will start at 2 o'clock, the second at 4 o'clock, the third at 7.30 and the fourth at 8.30. Semi-finals will be played off on Saturday afternoon at 1.30 and 2.30. The final game for the senior championship will be held Saturday night beginning promptly at 8.30 o'clock.

All schools in the state whose boy enrollment in grades 9-12 on November 28, 1928, was more than 60, and who have played the season under the eligibility rules of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont, are eligible to compete for this championship. Schools whose boy enrollment was 60 or less on the above date should apply for admission of their teams to the junior tournament.

The competing teams will be chosen by the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont.

Eight teams will be chosen for the tournament. These teams must be contenders for the state championship and will be subject to the rules and regulations laid down by the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont. The right to reject any entry is reserved. Teams will be drawn and placed on a schedule for competition and such drawing will be final.

The winner of the tournament will receive, from the Athletic Council of the University of Vermont, a cup emblematic of the championship of the senior division, for its permanent possession.

The winner of the junior tournament may challenge the winner of the senior tournament to play for the state championship. The winner of the playoff, or winner by default, will be awarded by the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club, the University of Vermont Interscholastic Basketball Cup, emblematic of the state championship. This playoff is to take place on the floor on which the junior tournament is held. This year the playoff will be in Rutland on March 16, 1929.

The Old Bookstore
"Humming Bird"
Pure Silk, Full Fashion
Hosiery, $1.50 Pair
A silk stocking with a national reputation for longer service, featured here in all fashionable colors, in both pointed and square heels.

School of Nursing of Yale University
A Profession for the College Woman
Interested in the modern, scientific agencies of social service.
The twenty-eight months course, providing an intensive and varied experience through the case study method, leads to the degree of
BACHELOR OF NURSING.
Present student body includes graduates of leading colleges. Two or more years of approved college work required for admission. A few scholarships available for students with advanced qualifications.
The educational facilities of Yale University are open to qualified students.
For catalog and information address:
The Dean
The SCHOOL of NURSING of YALE UNIVERSITY
NEW HAVEN : CONNECTICUT

NOTICES

There will be a meeting of the chairmen of the Junior Week Committees, Monday, February 11, in 3 South College at 1.30 p.m.

Freshmen wishing to scrub the sporting editorship of the Cynic report at Cynic office Monday or Tuesday at 1.30 p.m.

All students expecting to attend the Middlebury-Vermont game tomorrow night must present their receipted bills at the Graduate Manager's office by tomorrow noon and receive the Athletic Association season ticket book. Students must have ticket No. 17 for admission to the game.

A meeting of the Women's Winter Carnival committee and class captains is called for Monday, February 11, at 4.00 o'clock in 3 North College.

Political Science 111

Political Science 111 (Political Parties) will be offered the fourth period on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays during the second semester of this year. It will not be offered at any other period. This class will meet in 21 North College, and will be conducted by Prof. D. B. Carroll.

Cost of education is going up. One hundred years ago it cost a student at Bowdoin College $120.70 a year, including board at $1.16 a week, washing for the term $2 and room rent $10. What did they do with all their spending money?

A most interesting custom seems to be in vogue at Theil College. The fraternity men get together about this time of the year and make trades in anything from freshman to cooks. One of the deals offered was one good freshman for eight bad ones and $2,000.

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

MILITARY CLASSES AN RIFLE TEAM IN ACT

All four classes [illegible] tary Department [illegible] mence new classes. [illegible] started a class in [illegible] The juniors are fi[illegible] of the machine gu[illegible] their study of the F[illegible] 37 mm. gun. In the [illegible] the men are conti[illegible] study of combat pr[illegible] automatic rifle. This [illegible] tinue until the end of [illegible] freshmen are taking [illegible] first time in a course [illegible] giene and also the N[illegible] Act.

The rifle team has [illegible] Captain Lauer and [illegible] have fired in their fir[illegible] De Pauw University, Mic[illegible] A. and M., Washington Stat[illegible] Rhode Island State [illegible] firing the first stage of the First Area R. O. T. C. mat[illegible] The f[illegible] ing men compose the [illegible] team:

Captain Ball, Bruce, Donaldso[illegible] lin, Park, Percival, Primpas, P[illegible] Rand, Sheffield, Spear, Manager [illegible] well, Wright, Wheeler, Blakel[illegible] Reed. The alternates are Burns[illegible] Chaffee, Lake, Maislen, Trayn[illegible] Willis. These men will have fir[illegible] targets by Friday, two prone, a[illegible] each standing, sitting and kn[illegible] Captain Lauer asks each one to [illegible] in an hour plan as early as p[illegible]

When a girl tells you you're [illegible] ent, you know she's not.

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
ESTABLISHED 1896
QUALITY VALUE SERVICE
LANGROCK
FINE CLOTHES
NEW HAVEN CONN.
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

HIEROGLYPHICS

what kind do you write?
IF the profs find it hard to read your hieroglyphics, they really can't be blamed if they give you lower marks than you may think you deserve.
Take no chances. Get a Remington Portable and let it do your writing for you. It will speed up your writing and the full legibility and neatness of typewritten work cannot [illegible] to help your grades.
Remington Portable—[illegible] recognized leader in s[illegible] and popularity—is [illegible] smallest, lightest, m[illegible] compact and most [illegible] pendable portable w[illegible] standard keyboard. C[illegible] rying case only 4 inch[illegible] high. Weighs 8½ poun[illegible] net.
Let us explain to you our easy payment terms.

Remington Portable
W. G. SHERMAN
104 Church Street
Burlington, Vt.
REMINGTON RAND BUSINESS SERVICE, INC.
162 College Street
Burlington, Vt.

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VT., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1929 — NUMBER 33

CATAMOUNTS OPPOSE CADETS AT NORWICH

Vermont Should Win Handily in Fourth Title Fray—Wallace Returns After Two-Game Lay-off

HORSEMEN HAVE LOST BOTH STATE CONTESTS

Tonight will see the Catamounts [illegible] in action, when they take a trip to Northfield to meet the Norwich five. It will be the Green and Gold's first encounter with the Cadets this season, and Coach Cayward's men will take the floor with the determination to avenge the tie in football of this season.

Norwich is by no means the strongest of the Green and Gold's opponents for the title. They have been beaten decisively by St. Michael's and Middlebury and the Catamounts should be able to overwhelm the Cadets if anything can be judged from comparative scores.

It will probably be a greatly strengthened team that meets the Cadets tonight for Manning and Wallace will be back with the squad. With the exception of a few minutes in the games with St. Michael's and Middlebury Manning has been unable to appear because of injuries, and he was a big threat in the offensive part of the games in which he has participated. Wallace will be a valuable man for the team for he has run up high scores in every appearance this season.

Norwich, although not up to the standard set by the teams of other years, has a fairly good quintet this season. Hartford and O'Donnell are their big men, both of them forwards. The Cadets also have a good defensive team in Newton.

The Horsemen have been at a disadvantage because of the lack of a good surface to practice on, but with the opening of the new armory at Northfield more can be expected from them. They have always been weak in the hoop game and Vermont has never had much trouble in coming out on the long end.

The Vermonters will be making their fourth stab at the state title in this game. They have met St. Michael's twice and the Panthers once and must win this game with the Horsemen to keep in the running.

Line-up for Tonight's Game

VERMONT		NORWICH
Halligan	f	O'Donnell
Bernstein	f	Hartford
Wallace	c	Hogan
Estabrook	g	Newton
Manning	g	Aimi

ARMY FLYING SCHOOL ADMITS VERMONT GRAD

Lester C. Greene, who graduated from the University of Vermont last June, will enter the field of aviation on March 1 when he will enroll in the United States Army Flying Cadet School, located at San Antonio, Texas. In order to enroll in the Army school, Mr. Greene had to enter the United States Army for one year. Upon satisfactory completion of the course which lasts the year, he will automatically be a licensed Army pilot with the alternative of either becoming a commissioned second lieutenant in the Army Flying Unit, or entering the field of commercial aviation. While enrolled in the course he will receive seventy-five dollars a month, food, housing, and other equipment which is regularly furnished by the Army. While in college Mr. Greene was a member of Delta Psi Fraternity, of Phi Key, and of Scabbard and Blade. He was also a member of the Faculty-Student Council and served on many important committees.

The announcement of his acceptance by the Aviation Corps is simultaneous with that of Howard Prentice, major of last year's military battalion, prominent member of the Vermont class of 1928 and at present director of physical education and coach of freshman basketball.

LAST OPPORTUNITY FOR FROSH TO SCRUB CYNIC

All freshmen who wish to scrub the editorial side of the Cynic should signify their desire on or before Friday afternoon, February 15. This will be the last opportunity for the freshmen to become assistant editors before the end of the second semester, and thus be eligible for a higher office at the annual Cynic elections that will be held immediately following the mid-year examination period of 1929-30.

This step is deemed necessary by the editorial board with all fairness to those freshmen who have scrubbed the Cynic during the first semester, some of whom have already become members of the editorial staff in the capacity of assistant editors.

PRISCILLA CAMPBELL IS NEW WOMEN'S EDITOR OF THE VERMONT CYNIC

Richardson and Church Elected Associate Editors of the Cynic in Women's Elections

Priscilla T. Campbell, '30, was elected women's editor of the Cynic at a meeting of the board held Friday afternoon, February 8. Usually the elections do not take place until March when the women's issue of the newspaper is published but a new custom is established this year. Joyce Richardson and Belle Church, both of the class of '30, were chosen to serve as associate editors.

Miss Campbell is prominent among literary circles on the hill, being a member of Blue Stockings, on the staffs of the Vermont Literary Magazine and the 1930 Ariel Board and having served during the past two years as assistant editor of the Cynic. She is also a member of the Dramatic Club.

Miss Richardson is an Alpha Xi Delta and has been active in school affairs. She is a member of W. A. A., Y. W. C. A., Blue Stockings and was recently elected president of the town girls. Miss Richardson is on the staff of the 1930 Ariel and, besides being especially active in athletics, was on the honor list for two semesters. Miss Church is a Delta Delta Delta and belongs to Blue Stockings. She served as assistant editor of the Cynic until the elections.

Cornelia Mould, '30, is the new intercollegiate editor; she is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and Blue Stockings.

Harriet Wright, '31, was elected athletic editor, having done excellent work during her membership on the Cynic Board.

Miss Wright is a Pi Beta Phi and is secretary of the sophomore class. She is on the Women's Rifle Team, was a member of the freshman basketball team and has served on various class committees.

Lenore Aldinger, '29, continues as art editor, the only one of last year's higher editors remaining on the board.

The remaining members will continue to serve as assistant editors, including those elected as a result of the recent scrubbing. These assistants are Janice Goodrich, Pauline Burridge, and Julia Waterman, all of the class of '30; Luella Ross, Winifred Stone and Hilda S. Smith, all of '31; Hope Ranslow and Margaret Ann Martin, '32.

NEWS IN BRIEF

As long as the snow and ice last, sophomore and freshman women are substituting ice skating, snowshoeing, and skiing for their regular gym work.

Eta Sigma Phi met for the first time this semester on Tuesday evening, February 5, to hold its annual election of new members. The meeting was held in 34 South College, its regular room. The names of the newly-elected members of the honorary classical society will be withheld until after the initiation ceremonies, which will occur on Tuesday evening, February 19.

There was a large attendance at the Chapel service last Wednesday morning. The question is, will the enthusiasm keep up?

COWBOYS OF TEXAS COMING TO VERMONT

Howard Payne College of Texas Will Debate Vermont on March 15 on Question of Abolition of the Jury System

TEXANS TO APPEAR IN TYPICAL COWBOY DRESS

On March 15 the University of Vermont will engage in a unique debate with the Howard Payne College of Brownwood, Tex. This debate will be held in the University gymnasium to accommodate the large audience expected. The subject to be debated is: "Resolved, that the jury system be abolished." This is the subject that is being debated in most of the American colleges at the present time.

The Howard Payne College will be represented by L. A. Singleton and Ben David. This team is traveling as the Howard Payne "Cowboy" Debaters, and is to debate in typical western costume. Wherever they debate, much interest is taken in the team because of its uniqueness in this respect. Despite the spirit of novelty and originality of the contest the two men are veteran debaters, having had four years of intercollegiate debating, and both rank high in the national honorary society, Pi Kappa Delta. The scope of their ability is clearly evidenced by the extent of the tour which the debating team has undertaken this spring. They are definitely scheduled for thirty-six contests including twenty-seven states and two Canadian provinces, covering sixty-five days. The men travel in a coupe, the tour having been arranged in easy day drives.

Debate in Informal Manner

As to the manner of debate the boys debate in an informal manner, but nevertheless hard. After the contest a half-hour will be spent in an informal conversation with the audience. The boys realize that they are not Will Rogers and do not try to be such. One of their chief ambitions is to debunk the movie cowboy and to try to show the eastern audiences something about how a cowboy really looks and to tell them what he really does. One of the numbers is to show them a movie cowboy, Angora chaps, braided shirt, pearl handled pistol and all, and then to deliberately put in his place a "cowhand" of the Bend country, one with rundown boots, battered up hat, open breasted shirt, and greasy, slick chaps. They use equipment from the F. B. Clark Figure Three Ranch at Realitos, Tex., seventy miles from the border, and not movie stuff.

While neither Singleton nor David are at the present engaged in running fences or branding calves, they are well acquainted with ranch life. Ben David has been brought up in the ranch country, having spent the greater part of his life working on the Frank Clark Ranch in South Texas, and Singleton likewise has seen something of the ranch life. During the last few years he spent the summer seasons on the Matador Ranch of Northwest Texas.

Last summer they spent some time gathering information in the Bend country for this tour. Very interesting days were spent with the cattlemen, old and young, in Alpine and Marfa, and especially at Paisana while attending what is called a "Cattle Men's Encampment."

In the coming debate, the Howard Payne College representatives promise an honest-to-goodness effort to give Vermont a true conception of West Texas and of the often misrepresented cowboy.

Tryouts Held Soon

Much commendation must be given to Franklin Sears, '30, manager of varsity debating for holding another of these interesting debates. He, having been responsible for the Dartmouth-Vermont co-ed contest here not long ago, is doubly assured of another capacity audience on March 15.

(Continued on page 4)

Black Panthers Defeat Catamounts in Second Half

Both Teams Play Defensive Game But Middlebury Flashes Long Enough to Win Near the End—Halligan Plays Heady Game For Vermont

DAME FORTUNE SMILES ON ST. MICHAEL'S WHICH DEFEATS VERMONT 36-33

Spectacular Shots by Slattery Feature Contest—Purple Forced Into Overtime—Sargent and Bernstein High for Vermont

St. Michael's defeated Vermont 36 to 33 in a thrilling overtime fray last Thursday evening at Winooski Park before a capacity crowd. This game is the first one Vermont has ever lost to the Purple on the basketball court.

The game was marked by the sensational shooting of Slattery who was assisted in that line by O'Brien and Cashman. Slattery started off by helping to give his team a 11 to 0 lead in the first few minutes by his purely lucky one-handed shots. At this point Sargent went to center, Estabrook went back to Palmer's place at guard, and Bernstein made his first appearance with the Cats by replacing Morse. This line-up together with Halligan and Manning looked like the best one Vermont has put on the floor this year. In short order the Green and Gold scored 17 points while their opponents were held to a basket and foul. The half ended with the score standing Vermont 17, St. Michael's 14.

St. Michael's came back fighting, knotted the count at 19 all, and finally regained its early lead. With the score 26 to 24 Estabrook evened it up by means of a long shot and Bernstein tossed another one to put Vermont ahead again. Sargent was ejected on personal fouls and Connally followed him to the showers. Another basket gave Vermont a four-point lead with two minutes to go and things looked good for the visitors. Two fouls reduced the lead to two points and Mahoney, who went in for Connally scored from center court to tie the score with twenty seconds to go.

In the over-time period Cashman and Morse scored and Slattery came through with the lucky shot that proved to be the winner. To make things sure Cashman scored again while Estabrook tallied once from the foul line.

Vermont was far superior to their opponents, as far as basketball goes, but the Cats could not prevent lucky shots from dropping through the net-ting.

Sargent was high scorer for Vermont with four baskets and a foul for nine points, and if he had not been

(Continued on page 4)

RUSHING ACTIVITIES FOR SORORITIES ARE BEGUN

"Rushing" by the women's Greek letter fraternities began February 7, when Alpha Xi Delta and Kappa Delta held open house for freshman women and eligible transfers. The following day the same group was entertained by Kappa Alpha Theta and Delta Delta Delta, while Saturday a similar invitation was extended by Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Chi Omega, and Sigma Gamma.

Each open house was held from 4 until 6 in the afternoon and was of an informal nature, entertainment consisting of dancing and singing.

Members of the Newman Club, for all the Catholic students at the University, were the guests of the Knights of Columbus in the Knights of Columbus building on College Street at a reception and dance last Saturday evening.

Freshmen and sophomore men were given a lecture on Personal Hygiene in the gym yesterday afternoon at 4.00 o'clock.

FROSH NOSE DEMOLAY IN CLOSE PRELIMINARY

Last Saturday night on the home floor the Green and Gold quintet lost its second game of the State series to Middlebury by the score of 19 to 15.

The result of this contest practically smothers Vermont's chances for the State championship title.

The game was a complete disappointment to the Vermont fans as well as players. In the first half aided by six consecutive foul shots by Palmer the Green and Gold kept in the lead and the score at half-time was 13 to 8. The second half was an entirely different story. The Cats were held to two foul points without scoring from the floor. The Middlebury defense was impenetrable in this frame. Vermont, on the other hand, appeared indifferent until the final minutes when Middlebury took the lead which it never relinquished. The Green and Gold quintet appeared tired, perhaps from the strenuous St. Michael's game two days previous. It was an entirely different team, the passing being very inaccurate and uncertain. More attention was paid to defense than offense but the long heaves of Johnson and Humeston were enough to win. Halligan played the best game, by far, for the locals, but was guarded so closely by Casey that he could not get a clean shot at the hoop. The same was true with Bernstein and with Wallace in the second half. In the first period the latter converted passes from Bernstein into the only floor goals scored by Vermont in the whole game. Much credit is due Palmer for the way in which he dropped the foul tries to keep Vermont in the running.

The Blue and White scored six times from the floor, mostly on long shots. They outplayed Vermont consistently and by clever handling of the ball managed to work into open positions for their shots. Casey and Capt. Spooner proved to be excellent guards while Humeston at center was a crack floor worker. Sorenson was one of the fastest men on the floor and he and his running mate, Johnson, hung up ten points for their Alma Mater.

The line-up for the Green and Gold was somewhat different than the fans have been accustomed to in the previous games this season. Sargent, the lanky center, was out with a bad back and Wallace took his place. Bernstein made his first home appearance as a varsity man at left forward. "Bap" Palmer started the game and alternated with Manning at guard.

FIRST HALF

The scoring started off evenly enough for on a double foul Sorenson and Palmer each made their shots count. Finally Vermont broke through and got a field goal after some fast passing. Immediately after this Wallace shot a foul. Then for a time several fouls were committed and Middlebury took the opportunity to gain two more points and Vermont one before Wallace shot another field goal. After about ten more minutes of play neither team made any more points and when time was called the score stood seven to three in favor of the Catamounts.

When the game was again resumed both sides gave an exhibition of erratic playing. Finally Johnson got a field goal for Middlebury. Then Palmer got two points for the Green and Gold from the foul line, and soon followed with two more in the same manner. This made the score 11 to 7 with Vermont still in the lead. A foul shot and a field goal by Spooner increased the Panthers total to eight. At the same time the Catamounts had gathered two more counters from the charity line, and as the first half ended the score stood Vermont 12, Middlebury 8.

(Continued on page 4)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O. CLAYTON, '30
Editor-in-Chief

HERRICK M. MACOMBER, '30
ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '30
Managing Editors

PRISCILLA T. CAMPBELL, '30
Women's Editor

News Editors
George R. Brush, '31 — Louis Lisman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Associate Editors
Belle L. Church, '29
Joyce R. Richardson, '30

Sporting Editor
Seymour I. Nathanson, '30

Asst. Sporting Editors
Lynford M. Foster, '31
Herman D. Gussow, '31
Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor
Harriet E. Wright, '31

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '30

Feature Editor
Edward J. Heyor, '30

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Faculty Adviser
Prof. Leon W. Dean

Women's Intercollegiate Editor
Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Pauline Burridge, '30 — Winifred Stone, '31 — E. Henry Powell, '30
Janice Goodrich, '30 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32 — Charles N. Crockett, '31
Julia Waterman, '30 — Hope Ranslow, '32 — Edouard A. R. Germain, '31
Luella Rose, '31 — Alfred J. Morin, '32 — Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32
Hilda Smith, '31 — Watson E. Morgan, '32 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '30
Business Manager

Major B. Jenks, '30 ..... Advertising Manager
Stewart E. Corbin, '31 ..... Assistant Manager
Solon F. McQuesten, '31 ..... Assistant Manager
F. Stanley Smith, '31 ..... Assistant Manager

Subscriptions price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any local notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 293M before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1909. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House; all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to postage outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 460 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1920.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — February 13, 1929 — No. 32

That Popular Course

Remarkable it is that a course originally established at this University merely to fulfil the needs of a few then in attendance or wishing to attend should now be the most popular course in all the numerous colleges that go to make up the undergraduate body. The Commerce and Economics Curriculum is referred to in this instance.

The course was established by the late John Heman Converse of Philadelphia. It was originally designed, in the wording of the Vermont Bulletin, "to reach a once partially untouched constituency of the University and to give instruction preparatory to a business career to those regularly enrolled." By process of incorporation of new ideas, expansion of some aspects of the work and the restriction of others, the Department of Economics has come to be considered one of the best in the eastern part of the country.

But why is it that a course in business methods and practices has so great an attractiveness to so many? Is it a haven of refuge to the army of undecided? Or is it because some have developed an exaggerated impression of the financial rewards of a business career? Or is it because some have acquired a definite dislike for the professions such as law, medicine, or the clergy?

There are those pursuing the Commerce and Economics Curricula who could be shelved without hesitation in the above classification. Again there are others whom one would find it difficult to place in any one of the three classifications. In any case, affiliation with the Economics Department furnishes one with a combination of a broad general course with a special training in the arts and sciences of business. Such a combination is highly desirable for one who has not yet chosen his life work, for the major percentage of college graduates go into business in one form or another anyway. For those who do by chance elect later to follow a profession such as law or journalism, the course forms a solid basis on which to specialize in those fields. For those who have definitely decided to follow a business career, the course offers special preparation.

But that is only a partial explanation of the immense popularity of business administration courses not only in this University, but in all the larger and more progressive schools of the country. Graduate schools of business administration with an entrance requirement of at least four years study at a standard college or university, are the latest innovation. The reason for all this rapid growth in the business education lies in the phenomenal rise of business from a despised and degraded plebian occupation to its present omnipotent position. Mass production and the huge amounts of capital that characterize modern industry call for special training in the numerous fields of business. As industry grows more complex so must one train his mind just so much more thoroughly to cope with its manifold problems. Thus whereas before the son could fill his father's shoes with little difficulty, now a thorough knowledge of his father's business is needed to competently handle the position. Because the number of people in business is growing steadily more students are seeking to train their minds in such a manner as to be able to hold down a responsible job. That is why the Commerce and Economics Curriculum at the University of Vermont is so popular.

When you throw a match into the air, does it light?"
"Why, no."
"Newton must be wrong then."
—Ghost.

Candidate: It is my intention to conduct a bunkless campaign.
Publicity: Swell, brother, and I'm just the guy that's got the boloney to put that honey over.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES
by
P. Villius Valtro

He was tongue-tied: he stammered: socially he was a total loss; but now—well, let him tell his own story.

Until last week everywhere I went I seemed to carry with me some chilling influence—I could not and did not converse with anyone, I knew no parlor tricks, I did not play the saxophone (learn in five days; delight your friends). I was not a man of might (Your money refunded if I fail to make a Samson of you in fifteen days), —in short I was the death of the party.

In one of my classes last month the professor asked me a question. It was an important question, and I knew it. Moreover, I knew the answer—but before I could find words to express my jumbled thoughts, and while I was still struggling around with 'Oh-er-er-it's—well-er—let me see-er—' and the like, the Prof called on my bitter enemy, the dumbest guy in college. He answered correctly. Every word he said seemed a little, but painful barbed dart directed at me. As a result of my lack of words I got an F that day, and lost the Prof's good opinion so that thereafter he shaded my marks down, rather than give me the benefit of the doubt.

"I took my girl to a dance a couple of weeks ago, and, knowing my own deficiencies I was careful to be on my feet every dance. But even those tactics failed for my Waterloo came in the intermissions. I wanted to say a lot, yet I couldn't think of anything to say. I couldn't think of anything to do—my natural timidity, caused by my failing, would have prevented me from doing anything anyway—so I just sat there, giving inane, and often foolish responses to her encouraging attempts at conversation. But alas! It was no use. And after the dance she told me her private opinion of me, though otherwise she is a nice girl.

"So it was in whatever I did.

"But the other day something happened which has changed the whole course of my life. I was glancing through the Cynic when I chanced to read a little paragraph that told of a case like mine. Moreover—salvation! —it told of its successful cure—how the man, once a social failure was now a society wow, the life of a huge circle of friends and admirers. I answered that advertisement, thinking skeptically, that it would be just another lot of bunk, and read the two books which I received C. O. D. They were "Gonsen Le Gore's Life and Words"—or "Scraps from Fra Exco's Writings," and "How to Express Yourself"—or "Be a Magnetic Personality," by Gonsen Le Gore. With those pearls of wisdom and gems of thought thoroughly digested ($2.00 a pint—see me for the place), I astonished myself and all my friends at the next social occasion I attended.

They laughed when I got up to speak—but before I sat down they had something to laugh at.

"I have written this, knowing there must be others placed as I was, constantly made miserable by a fault which can be corrected by five hours of concentration (less if distillation method is used) and study."

(Signed) ————•

Do not hesitate, but take immediate advantage of our free offer. If you send within five days for "Gonsen Le Gore's Life and Words" at $5.00 C. O. D., we will give you FREE, one copy of "How to Express Yourself."

These books are ordinarily $2.00 each, so hasten and write at once (this offer is good for five days only, starting today) for this book and take advantage of our special Christmas gift offer.

"Pro Bolono Anthropo"†

Gonsen O. Le Gore's School of Mental Sparkles

•Name on request.
†For giving more boloney to mankind"—Prof. Jones' translation.

GLEE CLUBS TO PRESENT COMIC OPERA "PATIENCE"

Tryouts for Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, "Patience," to be given by the combined men's and women's glee clubs of the University will be held in the Music Building Wednesday, February 13, and Thursday, February 14, at 4.00 p.m. Each candidate must sing one song and recite a portion of dialogue. Copies of words and music may be obtained from any member of the music department.

The story of the operetta was written by W. S. Gilbert and the music composed by Arthur Sullivan.

Three years ago the two glee clubs of the University gave a concert and in the two successive years the operas "Dido and Aeneas" and "The Mock Doctor" have been presented.

Professor Bassett Tells of Varied Career of Vermont Greek Departmen

The chair of Greek was founded in 1811, and among its seventeen incumbents have been several outstanding men. Calvin Pease (1842-1855) and Matthew Henry Buckham (1857-1871) passed from the professorship of Greek—the former held the chair of Latin also—to the presidency of the University; and many graduates still living remember the four distinguished men who followed President Buckham at the head of the Greek department: John E. Goodrich (1877-1881, Greek and Latin); Samuel F. Emerson (1881-1889, Greek and Modern Languages); James R. Wheeler (1889-1895), afterwards professor of Greek Archæology at Columbia University, and George E. Howes (1895-1905), now dean of Williams College.

The present writer's knowledge of the Greek department began in 1905. That year marked the lowest ebb of Greek at Vermont, with eleven students enrolled in all the Greek courses. This was largely because the high schools of the state were no longer teaching Greek. So it seemed advisable to broaden the scope of the Greek courses. In 1906 a course in Greek Art was added; in 1907 a course in Greek Literature in English Translations; in 1908 Beginning Greek was offered for the first time. It may be of interest to note that Clarence DeMar, of marathon fame was a brilliant member of one of the earlier classes, and that in one year the elementary book was finished and four books of the Anabasis were read. Gradually this class has increased in numbers, until this year forty-five students were enrolled in its two divisions.

In 1906 the small unused room behind the large classroom on the second floor of South College was fitted up as a Greek room, and the collecting of books for a classical library was begun. Two years later a similar room on the third floor was set aside for Latin, and when, in 1911, the dormitory portions of the Old College Building were made over into recitation rooms, a suite of six rooms on the third floor of South College was assigned to Greek and Latin. This provides two offices, two small recitation rooms where the students gather about a table, a large lecture room and a library. The latter now contains about 1,000 volumes, including many of the more important works of reference and files of a dozen of the more important classical periodicals. The Greek department is well supplied with illustrations of Greek sculpture, vase paintings, architecture and Greek social life; it has a lantern and several hundred slides; but it needs a collection of plaster casts for the work in Greek sculpture.

The department has for many years kept in touch with the larger classical movements in the United States. Forty years ago the University united with about a score of the most prominent colleges and universities in supporting by a fixed annual contribution the recently founded American School of Classical Studies at Athens. Since then the head of the Greek department has always been a member of the managing committee of the school. Professors Wheeler and Howes spent their sabbatical years as annual professors at the School; B. H. Hill, '95, LL.D., 1920, was for twenty years director of the School, and the present head of the Greek department is the chairman of one of the two standing committees of the School, the committee on fellowships. Professor Wheeler was chairman of the managing committee of the School from 1904 until his death in 1918. In his memory the James Rignall Memorial Fund of $4,000, contributed largely by his friends among the alumni, now carries the annual contribution of the University to the support of the School.

Along with the Latin department the Greek department has been regularly represented at the meetings of the American Philological Association and members of the two departments have from time to time read papers before the Association. At the meeting in Chicago in 1924 each of the four members of the classical faculty had a place on the program. At the closing session, after the last Vermont man had read his paper, a former president of the Association arose and said: "We do not want the classical faculty of the University of Ver... to Burlington." That ... prophetic. Within a year Prof... Ogle had gone to Ohio ... sity as head of the d... classics, and Dr. Blake ... the University of Michig... is now assistant profess...

But institutions are gr... dividuals; the departments of Gr... and Latin at the University of V... mont have had too fine a ... be seriously affected for th... the loss of even great ... scholars. Both departments ... tinued to show a healthy ... against eleven students ... Gr... ourses in 1905, last year there w... ninety-five, of whom sixty-eight ... studying the Greek language. T... year the numbers will be about ... same.

The methods and aims of the dep... ment have greatly changed in ... twenty-odd years. In 1905 the t... of the head of the department ... changed from professor of Greek ... professor of the Greek language ... literature—a noteworthy addition. T... almost complete cessation of the ... mand for teachers of Greek in ... high schools and the fact that m... students must now begin the study ... Greek in college, if at all, has gi... added impetus to the change in ... phasis in the teaching of Greek wh... began shortly before the end of ... last century. The rigorous gramma... cal drill, valuable as it was, has be... succeeded by the no less importa... effort to put the student into sym... thetic contact with the spirit of ... ancient Greeks and with some of th... ideas which still influence the wor... by an intimate acquaintance w... some of the masterpieces of Gr... poetry and prose. In the first ye... the student is given as much kno... edge of the forms and syntax of ... language as will enable him to be... the reading of Greek literature in ... original. This work is being ef... tively done by Asst. Prof. George ... Kidder, '22, Rholes scholar at Oxfo... 1923-26, and by Asst. Prof. J. Euge... Pooley, M.A., Yale, who comes to ... after a successful experience as instr... tor at Williams. In the second year ... Greek the first-year class, augmen... by the few who have had two or th... years of Greek in secondary scho... is introduced to Plato and Homer. T... third year is devoted to Athen... drama. After that a picked few st... other branches of Greek literature, ... example, the historians, Demosthen... Theocritus, or the lyric fragme... One class read the entire Iliad; ... other scaled the Matterhorn of Gr... poetry and read Pindar's odes. T... year Plato's Republic and the Eth... of Aristotle will be read. Courses ... Greek composition and in the Gr... New Testament are given as occas... demands.

In 1924 an undergraduate Gr... Club was organized. Two years la... this Club became the Iota chapter ... Eta Sigma Phi, the newly organi... national fraternity of undergradu... classical clubs. The Iota chapter ... the first chapter to be established e... of the Ohio River. Last year t... chapter presented Euripides' Iphige... Among the Taurians.

The growth of the Greek dep... ment, in spite of obstacles, has b... due largely to the hearty supp... which it has received, first from Pr... dent Buckham, and more recen... from President Bailey. Without t... support Greek might have been alm... crowded out of existence in ... changes of curricula and the enorm... expansion of the field of study in ... lege which have marked the educat... al tendencies of the past generat... History has seen many ... flow in the study of Greek, which ... more than once accompanied a ... cline and an advance in culture. ... day there are indications that the t... is setting once more in its favor. ... so, the educational policy which, w... encouraging the development of ... newer fields of education, has als... tered the study of Greek, will b... proved its far-seeing wisdom. At ... events the University has alre... gained no little recognition for ... loyalty to the classics, which are ... regarded as an important ... essential element in a true liber... education.—Professor S. E. Bassett ... The Vermont Alumni Weekly, Feb... ary 6, 1929.

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT IS LOWER THIS YEAR

(By New Student)

A slump in enrollments at last! The percent of gain in number of students attending college is lower this year than it has been for a long time, The Boston Transcript finds in its annual survey of college enrollments.

It may be that the apex of this long upward climb in enrollments has been reached, beginning in 1890 with a total of 120,000 students in all colleges and reaching 850,000 in 1929.

The reasons for this slump are several. Dean Raymond Walters ... School and Society gives these ... sible reasons: agricultura... and ind... trial conditions; the development ... junior colleges and deliberate lim... tion of enrollments.

It will be necessary to await ... figures for the next half dozen ye... to determine whether a perman... level has been reached.

PREVENT FOREST ... RES...

"Say, Joe, what's going ... at ... fraternity house tonight?"

"Oh, just a big pet-to... ing."—Ghost.

Fraternity Basketball

The preliminary round of Leagues I and II of the interfraternity basketball tournament was completed Saturday. Of the fourteen teams entered six have been eliminated. The four quarter-final games will be played this week.

Summaries of the games follow:

Delta Psi 44—Independents 21

DELTA PSI

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
[illegible]	4	2	10
[illegible] f.	1	0	2
[illegible]	8	0	16
[illegible]	0	0	0
[illegible]	2	2	6
[illegible] g.	3	0	6
[illegible]	2	0	4
[illegible]	0	0	0
[illegible]	20	4	44

INDEPENDENTS

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Franceschi, l. f.	2	0	4
[illegible] l. f.	0	0	0
[illegible]han, r. f.	3	2	8
[illegible] f.	0	0	0
[illegible]and, c.	0	1	1
[illegible]ve, c.	1	0	2
[illegible]	3	0	6
[illegible]masi, l. g.	0	0	0
[illegible]dding, r. g.	0	0	0
Totals	9	3	21

Referee—Robinson.

Phi Sigma Delta 32—Lambda Iota 14

PHI SIGMA DELTA

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Rosenthal, l. f.	8	0	16
[illegible]eiman, l. f.	0	0	0
Schwartz, r. f.	3	0	6
Gilbert, r. f.	0	0	0
Hershberg, c.	1	0	2
Bernstein, r. g.	1	1	3
[illegible]ber, l. g.	1	1	3
Dunniman, l. g.	1	0	2
Totals	15	2	32

LAMBDA IOTA

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Eaton, l. f.	1	0	2
[illegible]wne, r. f.	2	0	4
[illegible]and, c.	2	4	8
Allen, l. g.	0	0	0
[illegible]ang, r. g.	0	0	0
Hendrick, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	5	4	14

Referee—Prentice.

Alpha Tau Omega 18—Zeta Chi 17

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
[illegible]ond, l. f.	0	0	0
E. Donnelly, l. f.	2	0	4
[illegible]uske, r. f.	1	0	2
[illegible]gorn, c.	4	1	9
[illegible]horry, l. g.	1	0	2
W. Donnelly, r. g.	0	1	1
Totals	8	2	18

ZETA CHI

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Wendt, l. f.	3	1	7
Baird, r. f.	2	1	5
Desperance, c.	1	0	2
[illegible]tche, l. g.	0	0	0
Minott, r. g.	1	1	3
Macutcheon, r. g.	0	0	0
Totals	7	3	17

Referee—Hawley.

Tau Epsilon Phi 18—Sigma Phi 17

TAU EPSILON PHI

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Baker, r. f.	0	0	0
Waterman, r. f.	0	0	0
Glowitch, l. f.	0	2	2
[illegible]athanson, l. f.	0	0	0
Nagel, c.	4	1	9
Lourson, r. g.	2	2	6
[illegible]rechtman, l. g.	0	1	1
Totals	6	6	18

SIGMA PHI

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Heaton, l. f.	0	2	2
[illegible], l. f.	1	0	2
Lang, r. f.	1	1	3
Tupper, c.	4	2	10
Hall, l. g.	0	0	0
Mace, r. g.	0	0	0
Morse, r. g.	0	0	0
Totals	6	5	17

[illegible] Scutakes.

Kappa Sigma 24—Phi Delta Theta 14

KAPPA SIGMA

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
[illegible]k, l. f.	2	2	6
[illegible] l. f., l. g.	0	0	0
[illegible] r. f.	2	2	6
[illegible] c., r. f.	3	0	6
Bowers, c., r. g.	0	0	0
Cumings, l. g.	1	0	2
Otto, r. g.	2	0	4
Totals	10	4	24

PHI DELTA THETA

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Hawley, l. f.	1	1	3
Jackson, r. f., c.	4	0	8
Knight, r. f.	0	0	0
DeRose, c., r. g.	0	1	1
Krogh, l. g.	0	0	0
Armstrong, r. g.	0	0	0
Mace, r. g.	1	0	2
Totals	6	2	14

Referee—Dinniman.

Sigma Nu 25—Sigma Alpha Chi 7

SIGMA NU

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Slavin, r. f.	0	0	0
Aiken, r. f.	0	0	0
Kersey, l. f.	4	1	9
Philips, l. f.	0	0	0
Hyland, c.	3	2	8
Wright, c.	0	0	0
Bedell, r. g.	0	0	0
Davis, r. g.	0	0	0
O'Keefe, l. g.	3	2	8
Leonard, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	10	5	25

SIGMA ALPHA CHI

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Burr, r. f.	3	1	7
Moore, l. f.	0	0	0
Mackay, c.	0	0	0
Hebb, r. g.	0	0	0
Dodge, r. g.	0	0	0
Crockett, l. g.	0	0	0
Wilder, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	3	1	7

Referee—Wendt.

The following games are scheduled for this week:

Feb. 12, 6:15 P. M.
Delta Psi vs Phi Sigma Delta

Feb. 14, 6:15 P. M.
Tau Epsilon Phi vs. Kappa Sigma.

Feb. 16, 2.30 P. M.
Alpha Tau Omega vs. Phi Mu Delta.

Feb. 16, 3:30 P. M.
Sigma Nu vs. Sigma Delta.

THE FORUM

"The great souls are telling us always that ultimate reality can be revealed in personality, and that we can be organs of it."—ROYCE JOSIAH.

Fifteen hundred freshmen at the University of California indicated the following as questions college should answer. Would their expectation be fulfilled in the University of Vermont?

1. What knowledge about sex and marriage should I have in order to insure a happy home life?
2. What knowledge is required as a basis for a wise choice of vocation, and what background information concerning the organized work of the world should I possess in order to be more efficient in my work?
3. What social attitudes and points of view must I take in order to become a constructive member of the community?
4. How can I most profitably and enjoyably employ my leisure?
5. What is my philosophy of God and the world, and what spiritual attitudes shall I take in order to realize the highest values in life?

Would a student at the University of Vermont venture to answer some or all of these questions, using the knowledge and experience he had gained during his college career?

—A STUDENT, '30.

WRESTLING TOURNAMENT SPONSORED NEXT MONTH

Under the auspices of the Physical Education Department of the University there will be an intra-college elimination wrestling tournament during the month of March. The final matches of the eight classes are scheduled for Saturday afternoon, March 23. Amateur rules will prevail. All University students are eligible for competition. For further particulars see L. R. Robinson, '29.

Classes in advanced wrestling in preparation for the tournament will begin Tuesday, February 12, in the auxiliary gymnasium. Classes are as follows:

Tuesdays—4.00 to 6.00 p.m.
Thursdays—4.00 to 6.00 p.m.
Fridays—4.00 to 6.00 p.m.
Saturdays—3.00 to 5.00 p.m.

Weight classification is as follows: 115 pounds and under, 125 pounds and under, 135 pounds and under, 145 pounds and under, 155 pounds and under, 165 pounds and under, 175 pounds and under. Unlimited heavyweight.

CAT'S MEOW

SPORTING EDITOR

That was a hard luck week-end for the Catamounts but they expect to get back in the win column tonight at Northfield. No reason why they shouldn't.

Bernstein made his varsity début against St. Michael's last Thursday and proved his worth. He should be a valuable man. His ball handling is as pretty as has been seen on the local court in recent years and he has a good eye.

The fans got a laugh at St. Michael's when the water boy carried a tumbler full of the precious liquid to the thirsty athletes during a time-out.

This Humeston, center for Middlebury, is as good at baseball as he is at basketball. He will be remembered as the boy who hit a homer at Centennial Field last spring.

Which reminds us that Springfield College has already started baseball practice and "Red" Johnson, a crack twirler, has been elected captain in place of the one elected last year who failed to return to school.

The Holy Cross battery men are also working out. In two weeks the fielders will be called. Nekola, Dobens, Hebert, Evers, Fons, Fredericks, and Sims don't make a bad pitching staff.

The Providence M. I. T. basketball game at Cambridge Saturday night will see two of the leading Eastern teams in action. M. I. T. is undefeated and Providence has only two defeats in 12 games.

One of Providence's defeats was at Connecticut Agricultural College last week. The score was 35 to 33. The game was somewhat of an upset. Conn Aggies entertain the Cats February 23.

Holy Cross gained prestige Friday night by defeating Conn Aggies 35 to 29. The Nutmegers expected an easy victory after the Providence game. The Crusaders also defeated Harvard and seem to be coming into their own.

"Heinie" Swarthout who starred for Dartmouth here was declared ineligible for the rest of the season on account of scholastic difficulties. At the same time "Ed" Picken and Lauri Myllyhaugns joined the team. They are both sophomores. Myllyhaugns was a sensation in high school and in 1926 was picked as the outstanding player at Tufts' tournament. Dartmouth shouldn't miss Swarthout too much.

Vermont will play Harvard in the stadium on October 4, 1930. It will be the fourth consecutive time Vermont opened a "Big Three" team's season.

The Green and Gold should have an easy time at Northfield tonight. The cadets haven't done much in the basketball line so far.

Clarkson Tech defeated Middlebury in hockey 13 to 1. The Engineers have had a very successful season. By comparative scores the Panthers seem weaker than Vermont. We'll see this afternoon.

INDUCEMENTS OFFERED TO ATTEND SING FEST

The manager of the Men's Glee Club has received a letter from W. H. Brown of Boston suggesting that students who wish to attend the Intercollegiate Contest the week-end of March 1 can do so for a reduced rate if a sufficient number desire to go who are not in the Glee Club.

Mr. Brown points out that there will be a good hockey game on Saturday night at the Garden. A section could probably be reserved at reduced rates. On the return trip, students would arrive not later than midnight Sunday night. Any who are interested should notify the manager H. C. Dalrymple, or Professor Bennett as soon as possible.

Spring Styles

Advance showing of Suits and Topcoats by

LANGROCK
BRAEBURN
ADLER

HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

YEAR BOOK EDITOR CALLS MEETING OF ASSISTANTS

There will be a meeting of the men's editorial board and scrubs of the Ariel at the Delta Psi House on Wednesday, February 13, at seven o'clock. It is extremely important that every member of the board be there. The last meeting was so poorly attended that the Ariel work for the whole year has been impaired. All the material must be in before Easter, and there is so much to be done that the cooperation of the entire board is absolutely essential.

As matters look now the Ariel is going to be a dismal failure. As has been repeatedly emphasized, the success of the Ariel depends upon the cooperation of the Junior class, and to a lesser extent on the cooperation of the whole University. Such cooperation on the part of many of the Juniors and Seniors has been strangely lacking. Notices have been put in numerous Cynics, they have appeared on the Bulletin Board more than once, and, in most cases, the individuals have been called personally on the phone, and still there is some material missing. Each junior should check up on himself and make sure he has handed in the following: (1) Photograph. (2) Snapshot. (3) Questionnaire. (4) Grind. Almost every junior has been assigned someone for whom he should write a grind. If anyone doesn't remember what he should do about a grind, he should see H. K. Borkland, the grind editor, at once.

There are still some group pictures which should be taken. The men's fraternity pictures are now being taken, most of them at Burnham's studio on Church St. These should all be taken before the first of March, when the studio will start in on the women's fraternities. Because of this rush, any society which is going to have its picture taken should notify the studio sometime in advance. A man will be up from White Studio, which took most of the junior and group pictures last fall, sometime in March to take the basketball pictures and another picture of Press Club. Any other organizations which would like to have their pictures taken at this time should let E. Henry Powell, editor of the Ariel, know at once.

DR. SWAN RETURNS TO LECTURE ON HYGIENE

Dr. Eugene L. Swan of the American Social Hygiene Association, New York City, who made a most favorable impression on his visit to the University of Vermont last year, returned yesterday for lectures and personal conferences on questions of sex hygiene and social hygiene with men students. He will remain through Wednesday, February 13. He is available for conference on questions of sex hygiene throughout that date. Appointments may be secured through Secretary Powers at the University Christian Association office or through Professor Gifford, Personnel Director.

Yesterday at 4.00 o'clock Dr. Swan addressed the Battalion in the gymnasium. Today and tomorrow at 4.00 o'clock he will give addresses on sex and social hygiene in the Old Chapel. All male members of the University are cordially invited to attend the addresses on those days.

"I guess I've lost another pupil," said the professor as his glass eye rolled down the kitchen sink.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 587-W
T. P. O'HARA
TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING
170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

GREY FRIARS SOCIETY ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

Only Three Vacancies in Membership List of Honorary Literary Society Left by Admission of Lisman and Carter

Two new members were elected to Grey Friars, men's honorary literary society, at the last meeting of the society which was held last Thursday evening in the radio building. The new members are Louis Lisman and Joseph Carter.

Louis Lisman is a sophomore, and is prominent in journalistic and literary circles at the University. In the recent Cynic election he was promoted to news editor. He graduated from Burlington High School of this city and was literary editor of the Register, the Burlington High School publication. Both in college and high school he has, besides, done considerable work in debating.

Joseph Carter is a freshman, enrolled in the general science course. His home is in East Corinth, Vt. Before coming to Vermont he attended Bradford Academy and was editor-in-chief of the Bradford Academy Reporter.

There are now thirteen members in the society, and since membership in the society is limited to sixteen there are three vacancies. For admittance into the society, it is required that an original composition be submitted by the candidates who desire membership and that the composition be accepted by the members of the society.

After the business was disposed of, in the meeting, manuscripts written by the members of the society were read and criticized. The next meeting of the society will take the form of an informal supper, some day next week, at which there will be special speakers.

Prof. Groat in Ec 10 class: "One man in New York dies every minute."

Clever Stude: "Yeah, I'd like to see him."

For Fine Home Made Candies
Go to the
BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP
Special Price on Ice Cream for Fraternities

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

Fraternities and Sororities are very important at this season of the year

at the

UNIVERSITY STORE

FRATERNITY BANNERS, PILLOWS, and STATIONERY will greet you

Black Panthers Beat Catamounts in Second Half

(Continued from page 1)

SECOND HALF

The second frame began slowly [illegible] were committed but no points were made for several minutes by either side. The ball traversed back and forth across the floor and both teams spilt and passed. Fumbles and interceptid passes were frequent and yet nothing much happened. The teams seemed to be struggling [illegible] Tony Maleskovsky started an offense that netted two field goals before Vermont called time. Soon Hunneston made another [illegible] and Middlebury forged into the lead for the first time. Three field shots and a foul goal were made before the Catamounts could get a point and then Maleskovsky a member of last [illegible] the last few minutes the game was fast though as Vermont began to realize what was happening. Before the contest was over Wallace and Hunneston each scored a final shot.

The summary:

VERMONT

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Bernstein, l. f.	0	1	1
Morse, l. f.	6	6	0
[illegible]	0	0	0
Wallace, r. g.	2	1	5
Estabrook, l. g.	0	1	1
Palmer, r. g.	0	6	6
Manning, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	2	11	15

MIDDLEBURY

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Sorensen, l. f.	1	1	3
Ashdown, l. f.	0	0	0
Johnson, r. f.	2	1	5
Hunneston, c.	1	0	2
Leonard, c.	0	0	0
[illegible], l. g.	1	1	3
[illegible], r. g.	1	2	4
Totals	6	7	19

Referee—Hall. Scorer—Burr. Timer—Wallace. Time—20 min. halves.

HOCKEY TEAM FACES MIDDLEBURY TOMORROW

Team Strengthened by Changes in Line-up—Segal to Start at Center and Mercier at Wing

Coach "Hy" Abrahams' ice sextet is due to encounter the Blue and White hockey team from Middlebury on Vermont ice tomorrow afternoon. This game gives promise of being a humdinger as the teams are about evenly matched and will put up a strenuous struggle.

The Green and Gold has not had a very successful season so far this year, and, during the last few weeks especially they have been handicapped by the poor condition of the ice. However, it is hoped that the surface behind the gym will be in good shape for this contest.

A much stronger team will line up at the face-off because several freshmen who became eligible at mid years are available. Segal has been moved to the center position and Captain Schurman and Mercier, a frosh, will also appear in the front line.

Lack of material has been overcome by the addition of Marvin, Thompson, and Morse, of the class of 1932. If needed they are able to step in as an entire attacking line.

Defense men are also numerous, but Bob Lawrence and Collins are making the strongest bid for the positions. Phil Perry and Bob Hendricks are both putting up a grand fight for goalie but it looks as if Hendricks will start the game.

Middlebury will probably bring a fast team here. They have already chalked up one win against Norwich, 5-0, their captain and crack center Kelley, scoring three of the goals.

The probable line-up.

Vermont	Middlebury
Schurman (capt.), r. w.	l. w., Crocker
Segal, c.	c., Kelley (capt.)
Mercier, l. w.	r. w. Mekala
Collins, r. d.	l. d., Foote
Lawrence, l. d.	r. d., Nelson
Hendricks, g.	g., Douglas

Cowboys of Texas Coming to Vermont

(Continued from page 1)

Manager Keare announces that tryouts will be held shortly for the new members who wish to try out for varsity debating. Those chosen will be given a chance to debate in some varsity contest this year, and thus make themselves eligible for the national honorary debating society at Vermont Tau Kappa Alpha.

"Ma! Lookit the pretty little collar on that lady's dress."

"Hush, Johnny! That's the lady's skirt."—Pickup

ARTHUR HILCHARD

Newly elected chairman of Senior Week committee

VERMONT GLEE MEN TO TAKE PART IN CONTEST

Professor Howard G. Bennett announces that the Men's Glee Club will be in Boston to sing in the New England Contest on March 1. He believes it a great thing for the Club to have the opportunity of singing in Boston in Symphony Hall where artists from all over the world are presented. The great improvement in the Club he attributes largely to the experience gained singing before the weekly Chapel audience and Sunday services and to the work of Madame Bradish, who privately instructs each member in singing.

The club will sing in Bennington on the way to Boston but Manager Dalrymple says that the date of the Bennington concert is not absolutely certain, though it will most likely be Wednesday, the 27th of February.

This year the trip will not interfere with Kake Walk, as last year, but will be a week later, thus eliminating much confusion.

The United States is divided for purposes of the contest into districts, the winners in each of which travels to New York City to attend the National Contest there. Last year the winning club in the New England district was Amherst but Vermont obtained a very high standing. This year with Professor Bennett's excellena training coupled with that of Madame Bradish and some good new material, it is expected that the Vermont club will attain an even higher rating at the contest in Boston.

The songs sung are unaccompanied by a piano and are four in number: "Songs My Mother Taught Me"; a college song, "Vermont Victorious", a choice song, "Swansee Town"; and an extemporaneous number. Professor Bennett says there should be 30 members for the trip and that there are places for a few more good singers.

Is a raisin a prune whipped down to a nub?—Blue Gator

"Why, you big ruffian!"

"Say, lady! Don't call me no foreigner, see!"—Brown Jug

Rainbow Tracked to Blue Tin

Newton, Ill., Feb. 22, 1928

Larus & Brother Co.,
Richmond, Va.

Gentlemen:

The tobacco samples you sent me have been received, and they are great.

If you can picture in your mind the lonesomeness of a traveling man in a small town on a rainy night, not a friend in a hundred miles, nothing to do and no place to go:

That was the position I was in when your samples of Edgeworth came. It was like a voice from above when I opened the package and got the old pipe steaming.

I have smoked various brands of tobacco for the past fifteen years, but never in my life have I found a tobacco at any price that will equal Edgeworth. It does not bite the tongue, and a beautiful aroma follows. With the good old friend pipe and a can of Edgeworth you can dream of the rainbow's end.

Please count me in the future as an Edgeworth booster.

Very truly,
(Signed) Al Stanley

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

Dame Fortune Smiles on St. M. which Defeats Vermont 36-33

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible] out of the game the result might have been different. Bernstein was rewarded with eight points.

The summary:

VERMONT

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Hultgren, r. f.	1	0	2
Morse, l. f.	1	2	4
Bernstein, l. f.	2	2	6
Estabrook, c., r. g.	1	1	3
Sargent, c.	4	1	9
Manning, r. g.	1	2	4
Palmer, l. g.	1	1	3
Lyman, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	12	9	33

ST. MICHAEL'S

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Slattery, r. f.	4	3	11
Shea, l. f.	2	0	4
Connally, c.	2	4	8
Mahoney, c.	1	0	2
O'Brien, l. f.	2	0	4
Cashman, r. g.	3	1	7
Lynch, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	14	8	36

Referee—Young. Scorer—Gray. Timer—Crockett. Time—20 min. halves.

WOMEN'S PRESS CLUB ELECTS NEW CHAIRMEN

Women's Press Club held a short business meeting Friday noon, February 8. Dorothy Dailey, '30, was chosen chairman of the High School Papers Committee in place of Margaret Stanley, '31, and Elizabeth Clark, '31, was elected to replace Florence McKenzie as head of the Post Card Committee. The list of dates for work to be done this month was read, and reports were accepted on the work of the club.

NOTICES

ARIEL BOARD MEETING

There will be a meeting of the men's editorial board of the Ariel and the men's scrubs at the Delta Psi House, Wednesday evening, February 13, at 7 o'clock.

Try-outs for both men and women for the Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera "Patience" to be given by the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs will be held in the Music Building, Wednesday and Thursday, February 13 and 14, at 4.00 p.m. Each candidate will be required to perform, but not from memory, one song and a portion of dialogue, the latter with action. Copies of the words and music may be obtained from any member of the music department. For the list of required dialogue and songs consult the bulletin board.

Professor Dykhuizen will speak tonight on "Functions of Philosophy" at a meeting of the John Dewey Club scheduled for 8 o'clock at the Vermonters' Club House.

Dr. E. L. Swan of the American Social Hygiene Association will speak at 4 o'clock this afternoon and tomorrow in the Old Chapel. All men are invited to attend.

Wig and Buskin Society will meet Wednesday at 7 o'clock at the Delta Psi House for the transaction of important business.

All girls that are to be ushers at Kake Walk meet at Grassmount Thursday, February 14, at 4.15 p.m. Everyone must be there.

Miss Eleanor [illegible] physical education [illegible] the speaker at the [illegible] Parent-Teacher [illegible] the Adams School [illegible] noon. The topic of [illegible] lecture was "Physical [illegible]

Physical education [illegible] began yesterday.

There is now an excellent opportunity for those wishing to secure business department of the [illegible] Those interested should signify intention immediately.

JUNIORS!

All juniors who have not yet the compulsory Ariel tax of $7.5[illegible] have an opportunity to do so W[illegible] day and Thursday morning i[illegible] lower hall of the Old Mill. All who wish to subscribe to the Ari[illegible] do so at the same time.

Grey Friars Society will hold next discussion meeting on Sa[illegible] night, February 16, at seven-th[illegible] the barracks.

RAND'S HOME LUN[illegible]
64 COLCHESTER AVE.
Where you get the most of the best for the least
HOME COOKIN[illegible]
OUR SPECIALTY
Phone 2045

From old kettle to new world

SOMEBODY has to believe in the big possibilities of little things. James Watt saw the lid of his tea-kettle dance—and today our civilization is built largely on steam.

In the field of communication, Bell saw the possibilities of a little vibrating diaphragm. Today from the telephone at his elbow a man talks to his next-door neighbor or across the continent, just as he chooses.

Men in the telephone industry, in commercial and administrative as well as technical work, are constantly proving that little suggestions, little ideas, little changes, when smoothly fitted into the comprehensive plan, may be big in possibilities of better public service.

BELL SYSTEM
A nation-wide system of inter-connecting telephones

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 | BURLINGTON, VERMONT, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1929 | NUMBER 33

VERMONT DEFEATS HORSEMEN QUINTET

Green and Gold Registers Sixth Victory of Season at Northfield—Cadets Present Weak Offense

WALLACE HIGH SCORER WITH FIVE BASKETS

Pressing into the win column again [illegible] successive defeats in state [illegible] competition the Catamounts defeated Norwich at Northfield Tuesday [illegible] a 25 to 12 score.

Vermont was not forced to exert [illegible] to win since the cadets presented a defense which was far too inferior [illegible] of the visitors to do any harm. The Vermonters were fair defensively [illegible] Wallace managed to break away [illegible] almost enough baskets to win the [illegible] single-handed.

Halligan and Estabrook also shone [illegible] the Burlingtonians. Teachout and [illegible] played well for the Maroon.

Vermont took the lead at the start [illegible] was never headed. The score at [illegible] end of the first half was 12 to [illegible].

In the closing minutes Coach Cayward used all his substitutes.

The summary:

VERMONT	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Morse, r. f.	1	0	2
Bernstein, r. f.	0	0	0
Halligan, l. f.	3	2	8
Wallace, c.	5	0	10
Estabrook, r. g.	1	0	2
Gustafson, r. g.	0	0	0
Cameron, l. g.	0	1	1
Manning, l. g.	1	0	2
Davidson, l. g.	0	0	0
Cook, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	11	3	25

NORWICH	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Grandy, r. f.	1	1	3
Chandler, l. f.	1	0	2
Vorhees, c.	1	1	3
O'Donnell, r. g.	1	0	2
Newton, r. g.	0	0	0
Turnbull, l. g.	1	0	2
Bates, l. g.	0	0	0
Brandt, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	5	2	12

COLLEGE CONFERENCE AGAIN AT NORTHFIELD

Northfield will again be the scene of the Annual Mid-Winter College Conference for Western New England, which this year comes the week-end of February 15, 16 and 17. The University of Vermont is sending four delegates, two men being upperclassmen and possibly two freshmen.

It has been a common complaint that at the conferences of this sort, discussions remain too much in the realm of theory, and very little attention is given to the practical application of ideas. It is with this fact that the plans for this year's conference have been made. The general theme is to be the Industrial Situation in New England, with particular reference to the New Bedford area and the relation of Christian forces and citizens to such very vital problems.

Dr. Harry F. Ward, of Union Theological Seminary, has been chosen as principal leader and there is probably no one more able to discuss the question than he. He will be attempting to tie up very definitely the theory with the case with the attitudes and views of citizens and students. Several citizens of New Bedford, representing different groups of the population will be present to give their interpretations of the situation and possible solutions of it.

Besides this, there will be skating, skiing, tobogganing, winter sports in abundance, and the equipment of the Northfield Inn at the disposal of the conference guests, representatives from all over New England colleges.

RIFLE TEAM DEFEATS DE PAUW UNIVERSITY

Last week the University of Vermont rifle team fired four matches, one each with De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind., Washington State, Seattle, Wash., Rhode Island State, Providence, R. I., and Mississippi A. & M. Returns from thes colleges have not all been received yet, but Vermont is victorious in at least one of her matches, that with De Pauw. Vermont's aggregate score was 3,419 to 3,366 for De Pauw.

COMBINED GLEE CLUBS OF UNIVERSITY TO GIVE COMIC OPERA IN APRIL

Gilbert and Sullivan's Well-Known "Patience" With Its Gentle Satire on High-Browism Is Chosen

Music lovers will be given a rare opportunity when the Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera "Patience" is produced by the combined Men's and Women's Glee Clubs of the University. Gilbert and Sullivan need no introduction to those who know and love music, but this will be the first time that any of their works have been produced by university students. These writers are known all over the world for their operas which include "The Mikado," "The Pirates of Penzance," "Pinafore," "Patience," and many other favorites. Their operas are known not only in the English-speaking countries, but they have been translated into other tongues. In Germany especially these productions have been very will received.

The opera "Patience" was first produced in the 1880's in London. It was performed in the Savoy Theatre, a playhouse built especially for Gilbert and Sullivan productions, and had an initial run of 408 performances. The play was so popular that other companies attempted to steal the rights and then the words and music. At various times the same play was produced only a few blocks from the original.

"Patience" was originally intended as a satire or caricature of a fashionable craze or fad of the 1880's, called the aesthetic movement, but it may still serve as a caricature of any sort of excessive and insincere high-browism. "Patience," the opera, still lives, while the movement which it satirized is dead. "Patience" does live because of Gilbert's perfectly irrepressible wit and Sullivan's absolutely delightful tunes.

The cast of this play consists of "heavy dragoons," rapturous maidens, two rival poets, and Patience, the milk maid. The soldiers are in love with the rapturous maidens, but the fickle maidens, once madly in love with the dragoons, prefer the poets, while the poets prefer the milk maid. The problem is, whom does Patience choose? She is torn between love and duty. She has been taught to love Bunthorne, one poet, but she really loves Grosvenor, the other. The clever manner in which the plot is handled is characteristic of all Gilbert and Sullivan operas.

Prof. Bennett is to direct the music and Prof. Metcalf is to be dramatic coach. The latter coached the recent college play, and the other operas produced by the Glee Clubs. Prof. Bennett will be remembered for his fine direction in conjunction with Prof. Metcalf of Purcell's "Dido and Aeneas" and Gounod's "The Mock Doctor."

As yet, no place has been definitely decided upon for the performance of "Patience." It will take place about the middle of April.

The Woman's Winter Carnival will be held Saturday afternoon, February 16, at 2.00 o'clock, on the back campus. This is the first carnival in three years, and W. A. A. hopes to see a large number of participants.

Dr. A. C. Bonner, University Consultant in Mental Hygiene, was here today to fill appointments made with him by the various students.

FRANK F. O'KEEFE

Who was recently promoted to the rank of Major in University R. O. T. C. Battalion.

DIRECTORS APPOINT KAKE WALK JUDGES

Four New Cups to be Awarded—Thursday, February 21, Date of Elimination of Two Stunts

FRATERNITIES RUSHING PLANS FOR FEBRUARY 22

Six stunts will come before the final judges in the Kake Walk next Friday and Saturday as a result of the action of the faculty judges who will eliminate all but one of the stunts to appear in the preliminaries on Thursday night, since, of the eight fraternities originally privileged to participate in this part of the entertainment, Sigma Alpha Chi has voluntarily withdrawn, leaving only seven for the trials.

Prof. D. B. Carroll, Prof. L. W. Dean and Prof. J. T. Metcalf will act as judges in the preliminary contests while three final sets of judges have been named by the directors, one set each being assigned to Peerade, Stunts and Kake Walking.

For the Peerade the following judges have been named: Lieutenant Colonel Frederick F. Black, Principal H. Dean Pearl of Burlington High School and David W. Howe, Manager of the Burlington Free Press Association.

Five judges will pick the winning stunt on Saturday night: Dr. Thomas S. Brown, superintendent of the Mary Fletcher Hospital; Sherman R. Moulton, Justice of the Vermont Supreme Court; Thomas Bradlee, Director of the Agricultural Extension Service; George Dana Smith, Librarian of the Fletcher Free Library; and Frederick W. Shepardson, manager of the Malted Cereals Company of Burlington.

Kake Walkers will receive their cups through the decision of Colonel Robert W. McCuen, Collector of Customs at Burlington; Professor George F. Eckhard; and Major Ormel H. Stanley.

Plans and arrangements for the forthcoming Kake Walk are going forward with the inevitability of Fate, and as the time draws near for the opening of this event, all those seemingly impossible plans which the directors and the entrants had for the success of this year's presentation seem to be drawing within the range of possibility. Kake Walk will begin on Friday with the usual colorful Peerade in which there will be about thirty-five entries. Each fraternity may enter two floats but the individual class is unlimited.

This year there are four new cups while one, the Wright Cup has been withdrawn. There are, therefore, seven cups available. These are: A Boulder Cup for the first prize in Kake Walking and a Student Senate Cup for second prize in that event; Briggs Cup as first prize in stunts and the Southwick Cup as second prize; the Haves and Carney Cup as first prize in the Peerade and the Preston Cup as second prize. There is, finally, the Miles and Perry Cup for the best individual stunt in the Peerade.

(Continued on page 6)

Catamounts Line Up Against Springfield College Tonight

Green and Gold Hope to Continue New Winning Streak by Gaining Victory Tonight in Season's Hardest Game—Springfield has Enviable Record

Line-up for Tonight's Game
VERMONT		SPRINGFIELD
Halligan	f	Duncan
Bernstein	f	Gustafson
Wallace	c	Cameron
Estabrook	g	Davidson
Manning	g	Cook

DYKHUIZEN ADDRESSES JOHN DEWEY CLUB ON PHILOSOPHY FUNCTIONS

Philosophy Professor Sees Close Relationship Between Philosophy and the Sciences

Professor George Dykhuizen, of the philosophy department of the University, addressed the members of the John Dewey Club, psychology and philosophy club, on "The Functions of Philosophy" at the last meeting of the club which was held last Tuesday evening in the Campus House on College Street.

There are many prevalent erroneous ideas upon the true nature of philosophy, said Professor Dykhuizen, which are held even by students studying the subject, especially that branch of it known as Logic and Ethics, for Logic and Ethics are regarded as embracing all the subject matter of philosophy. But Logic and Ethics are only branches of the subject and do not in themselves include all that is known as philosophy, he declared.

In the early ages of civilized man, men wondered at the nature of things and attempted to solve the problems which confronted and baffled them by reasoning upon them and so endeavoring to get at the ultimate reality of existence; and through this attempt on man's part to solve the riddle of the universe arose philosophy.

Philosophy was first developed by the Greeks, in such men as Plato and Aristotle. In the Middle Ages, philosophy was chiefly concerned with religious subjects. The important thing about philosophy is that it influences men's thoughts and so their actions. The late war was the direct result of the philosophy expounded by German philosophers just preceding the conflict, declared Professor Dykhuizen.

Each of the sciences views the world in its own particular light, he said. The chemist, the biologist, the physicist each see the world from his own point of view. All of the sciences make a few assumptions which they do not bother to investigate, and these are that the sciences assume that the world can be truly seen in its true nature from the human point of view, and that the law of cause and effect holds everywhere and all the time. What right have we to assume that what is true today will necessarily be so tomorrow, and what is considered as true upon this planet is the law upon all other planets in the universe.

The true function of philosophy is to gather all possible evidence from each of the sciences and from the conglomeration of so much evidence to form a comprehensive view of the universe, of all reality.

Professor Dykhuizen declared that the present note in American philosophy strikes upon the principles of Einstein's theory of relativity, and the biological concept of evolution.

There was a very large gathering of interested students and professors at the meeting. The club decided at the meeting to hold a meeting in the near future at which the student members of the society could expound their own individual philosophical ideas. The president of the society, Harrison Goddard, appointed Robert Stewart as chairman of a committee to make plans for this special meeting. An informal discussion followed Dykhuizen's talk.

TEAM IS ENCOURAGED BY WIN OVER NORWICH

Tonight will see a real battle on the gymnasium surface when the Green and Gold five will meet the quintet from Springfield in what promises to be one of the best games of this season. Anyone who saw the great battle between Vermont and Springfield last year will remember that it was one of the fastest games that was held in the gym and this year's five from Springfield is only slightly inferior if at all. Springfield lost the flashy James and Wagner by graduation, but Duncan is back and the team does not seem to have suffered to any extent. They already have an impressive list of wins chalked up to their credit, among them a victory over the Crescent A. C., one of the fastest teams in the East. Their regular men and the subs make up a team that is dangerous every minute of play. In the forward berth they have Captain Duncan, one of Springfield's star athletes having letters in four sports, basketball, baseball, football and soccer. His running mate in the contest with the Catamounts will probably be Gustafson, the flashy little basket hanger. Besides these two stars, the quintet is well equipped with material for the forward berths. Ackerman and Becker are both aspirants for letters this year, and, in the games in which they have appeared, they have put up a fine struggle. The pivot position will probably be held down by Cameron, the track man. He is a fast, lanky center and will make Wallace step to keep up with him. Cook, a sophomore, has been putting up a good brand of basketball this year and comes to the varsity with a good record behind him. He has won his numerals in three sports and was captain of his freshman team his first year in college. He will take the floor in one of the guard positions. Davidson, another sophomore will be Cook's running mate.

The Catamounts have been rounding into fine shape since their game with Norwich Tuesday. Their passing game has improved since the beginning of the season and after the loss of a game to the big rivals, Middlebury, they started in with added vigor and determination and have an even chance to come out on top. Wallace has been dropping the sphere through the loop regularly ever since he found his eye in the first part of the season. He originally was an applicant for a forward berth, but Sargent's injury caused Wallace's change to center and he has occupied that position off and on all season. Halligan is always sure of a place in the forward part of the floor. He has made himself almost indispensable to the Catamounts by his cool, heady, floor work and his ability to drop the ball through the netting. He will probably be accompanied in the forward position by Bernstein who is comparatively a new comer to the varsity squad. Captain Red Estabrook can be counted on to exhibit the same brand of ball that he has shown all season. He plays by far the most consistent game of any one on the team. Manning or Palmer will hold down the other guard position. Manning has been handicapped lately by the injury to his knee but if he is unable to play the game Palmer ought to put up a satisfactory showing.

Altogether, it ought to be a fast close game and the team that gets the well-known "breaks" will come out on top of the heap.

Miss Butler, regional secretary from New York, was in Burlington for conferences with Y. W. C. A. from Monday to Wednesday of this week.

Sigma Nu fraternity announces the pledging of Howard L. Reed, '32, of Jacksonville, Vt.

SOPHOMORE HOP PROVES A SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

The Sophomore Hop, staged at the [illegible] gymnasium last Friday evening turned out to be one of the most successful formals of the college social season. The syncopation furnished by [illegible] Orchestra, the decorations and the activities of the various committees all combined to the success of the dance.

Professor and Mrs. L. W. Dean Professor L. D. Meredith and Miss Laura Parker acted as chaperons. With them in the receiving line were the president of the sophomore class and the chairman of the Hop.

CAT'S MEOW

Sporting Editor

Springfield here tonight!

A victory over the strong Y M C A College team would put the Cats in the foreground.

Captain Duncan of the Bay Staters will be a hard man to subdue. He is filling James shoes successfully.

Scheduling another game with St. Michael's was a wise move. There's no reason why Vermont shouldn't win on a neutral floor. Slattery seemed able to shoot with his eyes shut, on his own surface.

Charlie Hyatt of the University of Pittsburg is the leading scorer of the eastern college players. He has a total of over 200 points. Schaaf of Penn is a few points behind and also leads the Eastern Intercollegiate League players with 62 points, about 15 ahead of his nearest rival.

Boston University Athletic Council has voted to abolish election of captains and managers for a one-year period on trial. The coaches will appoint the captain for each game. Sid Stiberg, star goalie for the past three years was honored by receiving the first appointment for the hockey game with Boston College last Wednesday.

Mercier looked good at wing against Middlebury. He was on the crack Cushing Academy team last year and should develop into a star.

M I T lost its first basketball game Tuesday at the hands of Yale. The Tech team was minus the services of one of its star guards and that made a big difference.

Norwich fencers defeated Dartmouth and McGill in a triangular meet. The cadets handle the swords as well as any New England team.

The Vermont fencers will travel to Montreal tomorrow to meet the Montreal A. A. A. swordsmen. The following men are making the trip: Captain Calcagni, Manager Chamberlain, Bastiento, Musgrove, Perelman.

VERMONT TO OPPOSE PURPLE IN THIRD GAME

Rubber Contest Arranged for Next Tuesday at B. H. S. Gym —Gives Cats Opportunity to Avenge Last Defeat

A third game in the form of a rubber contest will be played by the Catamounts with the strong St. Michael's team at the Burlington High School Gymnasium Tuesday, February 19.

The teams have split the state championship games, Vermont winning here and losing at St. Michael's.

The decision to play a deciding game was announced by Graduate Manager H. A. Mayforth after a conference with Coach Owen Murphy of the Purple quintet. In a game of this sort naturally a neutral court was chosen.

Athletic Association season tickets will not be recognized at this game but tickets may be purchased at L. P. Wood's Sporting Goods Store on Church Street and at Brown's Pool Room in Winooski. General admission tickets are 50 cents and reserved seats $1.00.

New Jersey College for Women at New Brunswick will present as its winter production Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple," the same play that was presented last fall by the combined dramatic groups at Vermont.

The Little Theatre workshop, in making the announcement, noted that the play "is rarely undertaken even by the most finished professional groups."

VERMONT-NORWICH TO MEET IN ICE CONTEST

One of the features of the Norwich Winter Carnival tomorrow is a hockey game between Vermont and Norwich. In a previous meeting of these two teams on the new rink near the U. V. M. Gym the Horsemen won 2-1. This was a close and hard-fought match and the Catamounts have hopes of turning the tides in the contest tomorrow at Northfield. Thus far this season the Green and Gold sextet have had discouraging results. Three straight games have been lost to Clarkson, St. Lawrence and Norwich.

Now that mid-years have passed freshmen are eligible to play on the team. This will bring a decided advantage to the team by way of valuable additions to the Green and Gold sextet. Mercier, Marvin, Thompson and Morse, all of the class of 1932, will probably get a chance to participate in the game tomorrow. Of the regular varsity men there are Captain Schurman, a wing; Segal, who now has been moved from defense to center; Lawrence and Collins, defense men; and Perry and Hendricks who are battling for goalie, and Howard, another wing.

Norwich has a fast team this year but has been defeated by Middlebury 5-0. From all appearances this ought to be a scrappy contest.

The probable line-ups:

VERMONT		NORWICH
Schurman (Capt.)	r. w.	r. w., Hamm
Segal, c.	c.	Waining
Mercier, l. w.	l. w.	Youngerman
Collins, r. d.	r. d.	Graham
Lawrence, l. d.	l. d.	Hourin
Hendricks, g.	g.	Fullerton

George Hersh, 19, former Oglethorpe University sophomore, will go to the electric chair on March 15 unless further developments delay his execution.

His classmate, Richard Gallogy, will go to trial this week.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCES PROMOTIONS IN R. O. T. C. BATTALION

Frank O'Keefe Chosen Cadet Major—Five Captains and Eight First Lieutenants Named from Senior Class

Promotions among the seniors in the R. O. T. C. have resulted in the creation of a cadet major, five cadet captains and eight cadet first lieutenants. All promotions were made by the Military Department from among the cadet second lieutenants.

The official list of promotions follows:

To be Cadet Major:

Frank F. O'Keefe.

To be Cadet Captains:

Bertel W. Gustafson, John P. Hyland, Lee C. Morgan, Franklin R. Otto, George S. Rand.

To be Cadet First Lieutenants:

Clarence J. Douglas, Herman J. Kropper, Ralph H. Lockwood, Anthony A. Luciani, Corbin C. Lyman, Fred E. Robbins, Myron Samuelson, Rex Stewart, P. D. Hammond, K. A. MacGibbon, R. R. Curtiss, C. J. Dodge.

Frank O'Keefe is a member of Sigma Nu and is this year a director of Kake Walk. He has played football four years and was on the baseball team for two. He was class president in his sophomore year, is a member of Student Senate, has claimed membership in Key and Serpent and is a Boulder man.

Martha B.: "You remind me of the wild sea waves."

Ray: "Oh-h-h—because I'm so restless and unconcerned?"

Martha: "No, because you're all wet and you make me sick."—Pickup.

LAMBDA IOTA HAS ITS ANNUAL DINNER DANCE

What was characterized by the chaperones as the most successful dance they had ever attended was presented last Saturday evening by the Lambda Iota Society at its chapter house on the corner of Pearl and Prospect Streets. This was the Society's 93rd anniversary dinner dance. Twenty-two couples were present. The tables for the dinner were enclosed in ten booths, located in the parlor, which was decorated in a style entirely Oriental. The lighting was furnished by Chinese lanterns, of which one was hung in the door of each booth, and several more in the middle of the room. Three of the corner booths were entered through torii. Individual table torii were placed as center-pieces on each table. The place cards were attractive cards covered by miniature Japanese parasols. On the mantelpiece a statue of Buddha smoked with incense. The sides of the booths were inscribed with appropriate sayings in Chinese; at least, the Chinaman who painted them on said that they were appropriate.

While the last course of the dinner was being served, the Owl Quartet rendered a novel program of numbers. [illegible] the quartet were Charles E. Stafford, M. '30, playing the guitar and musical saw, Robert W. Hendrick, '31, playing the guitar, Frank Shedd, '29, with the bandola and banjo-mandolin, and Richard A. Shepard, '32, Hawaiian guitar. The quartet was dressed in some of the Oriental costumes belonging to Stafford, whose home is in the Philippine Islands.

An eight-piece orchestra of Doc Kenyon's furnished the music during dinner and for the dancing afterward. Prof. and Mrs. Braun and Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Salls acted as chaperones. Wilbert J. Patton of Richford, of the class of 1930, was chairman of the committee and is to be congratulated on the dance's success.

The University of Illinois is planning to send its baseball team to Japan every three years.

COLLEGE AVIATORS

"The spirit of avia[illegible] the university," says [illegible]erick M. Hopkins, [illegible] issue of College Ha[illegible] neering students en[illegible] ical engineering las[illegible] remaining combined [illegible] courses of the colleg[illegible] versity was one of [illegible] knowledge the growi[illegible] aviation. In 1921 P[illegible] Kiemin was permitted [illegible] series of aeronautic[illegible] seniors in the engineer[illegible] success was immediate[illegible] of the university auth[illegible] year option in aerona[illegible] ing for the years 192[illegible]

In 1925 came the Da[illegible] School of Aeronautics [illegible] war department appro[illegible] of the university for [illegible] Unit of the Reserve Of[illegible] Corps.

"The course itself i[illegible] chanical engineering for [illegible] years with the exceptio[illegible] clusion in the junior [illegible] course in aerodynamics [illegible] design. It is fundamen[illegible] introductive. In the senior ye[illegible] following courses are g[illegible] theory and practice of a[illegible] aerodynamics, airplane engine[illegible] installation, trade and transport[illegible] internal combustion engines, adv[illegible] applied mechanics, air transport[illegible] propeller design, and thermodyn[illegible] of the high-speed internal combu[illegible] engine.

"Whereas the courses in the[illegible] are highly technical, the Air [illegible] Unit of the Reserve Officers' Tra[illegible] Corps affords the student instru[illegible] under an army pilot in practical [illegible] nautics. There are three such [illegible] in our American colleges, at M[illegible] chusetts Institute of Technolog[illegible] the University of California, a[illegible] New York University."

Bill: "What have you been [illegible] all summer?"

Class Mate: "I had a position [illegible] father's office. And you?"

Bill: "I wasn't working eith[illegible]

—Ima N[illegible]

"Folks, how can I make Whoopee up here . . . when down in front the 'coughers' are whooping?"

EDDIE CANTOR
Premier American comedian starring in the glorious new production, "Whoopee."

"Maybe the audience would be grateful if I stepped to the footlights some night and voiced the above protest about the 'coughing chorus' down in front.

"But that wouldn't be kind and it wouldn't be just. The cougher doesn't cough in public on purpose. He can't help it. It embarrasses him as much as it annoys his neighbors.

"What he needs, to avoid that throat tickle, is an introduction to OLD GOLDS."

(SIGNED) Eddie Cantor

Why not a cough in a carload?

OLD GOLD Cigarettes are blended from HEART-LEAF tobacco, the finest Nature grows. Selected for silkiness and ripeness from the heart of the tobacco plant. Aged and mellowed extra long in a temperature of mid-July sunshine to insure that honey-like smoothness.

On your Radio . . . OLD GOLD PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR . . . Paul Whiteman, King of Jazz, and his complete orchestra, broadcasts the OLD GOLD hour every Tuesday from 9 to 10 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over entire network of Columbia Broadcasting System.

eat a chocolate...light an Old Gold...and enjoy both!

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O. CLAYTON, '30
Editor-in-Chief

ERICK M. MACOMBER, '30 — PRISCILLA T. CAMPBELL, '30
ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '30 — Women's Editor
Managing Editors

News Editors
R. Brush, '31 — Louis Lisman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Associate Editors — Sporting Editor — Asst. Sporting Editors
L. Church, '30 — Seymour I. Nathanson, '30 — Lynford M. Foster, '31
R. Richardson, '30 — Herman D. Gussow, '31
Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor — Intercollegiate Editor — Feature Editor
Harriet E. Wright, '31 — Odino A. Martinetti, '30 — Edward J. Beyor, '30

Art Editor — Faculty Adviser — Women's Intercollegiate Editor
Moore Aldinger, '29 — Prof. Leon W. Dean — Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Burridge, '30 — Winifred Stone, '31 — E. Henry Powell, '30
Goodrich, '30 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32 — Charles N. Crockett, '31
Waterman, '30 — Hope Ranslow, '32 — Edouard A. R. Germain, '31
Ross, '31 — Alfred J. Morin, '32 — Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32
Smith, '31 — Watson E. Morgan, '32 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '30
Business Manager

Major B. Jenks, '30 ..... Advertising Manager
Stewart S. Corbin, '31 ..... Assistant Manager
Soren F. McQueston, '31 ..... Assistant Manager
F. Stanley Smith, '31 ..... Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 938 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.
Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.
All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House; all other correspondence to the Editor-in Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.
Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 406 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol 47 — February 15, 1929 — No. 33

The Duty of a Junior

Numerous reports of the lack of cooperation on the part of members of the Junior Class in the preparation and presentation to the heads of the 1930 Ariel of their share of material and information have come to the editor through devious channels. Without the necessary data and information concerning each Junior, there remains for the yearbook editors two alternatives: one, not to publish the annual at all, and, the other, to publish it without the customary material concerning that member of the Junior Class who is delinquent in getting his photograph, grind, snapshot, and honor list to the editors.

The pursuance of either alternative would reflect sadly on the Class of '30. Action on the first is highly improbable, due to the amount of expense already involved, but the carrying out of the second alternative is wholly within the reason and the justification on the part of the editors, who would nevertheless lament the fact, however unavoidable.

The Ariel is the annual product of the Junior Class. It is a veritable history of the class in book form. It is something that can and should be kept by each Junior. It is a relic of collegiate days, and should serve to bring back fond memories later in life. In short, it is just what the Junior Class makes it. It should be something about which the class as a whole might well feel proud.

That is what it should be. Now the question is, will it be like that? Granted that there are numerous assistants serving on the Ariel board, but they have plenty to do to take care of other details such as the history of the University, collection of cuts, writing up of the athletic news and history of the teams for the past year, and so forth. It is not the task of the editors to be continually running after each member of the class. Rather it is the duty of each member of the class to carry to the editors all the information required of him. In this way only can all of the material be assimilated on time.

It was thought better to warn those delinquent members of the class now rather than later, for later may be too late causing a delayed clearance of the yearbook. The editors of the annual are highly desirous of having the Ariel on the campus by Junior Week. To do this, we ask the earnest cooperation of members of the Junior Class, which in the final analysis is only their duty.

A Tie in the State Series Maybe

That game last Saturday night was a bitter disappointment to the Catamount rooters and supporters. The clean passing and brilliant floor work that the spectators hoped to see when two rival teams of reputed equal strength met on the basketball court did not materialize, on the part of the Catamounts at least. Aggressiveness strong enough in the attack to break up the Blue and White defense was sadly deficient. Consequently, Middlebury is one jump ahead of Vermont on the question of the State title.

The only hope that the Green and Gold has of a first-hand share in the State title is a tie with Middlebury and St. Michael's. If St. Michael's defeats the Blue and White at Winooski, and Vermont in turn is the winner over the Blue and White at Middlebury, then on those conditions only will the Green and Gold even tie for the title. And that on top of the fact that Vermont is conceded both Norwich contests.

Most fans are of the opinion that Vermont will share in the State title. Surely, it is expected that the Catamounts will find themselves in the Panther fray at Middlebury two weeks hence. Let's hope so, at least.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

Some philosopher has most aptly remarked that there are three great and vital periods in every person's life:—1. His first marriage; 2. His second marriage; 3. His third marriage.

We presume that after that it becomes monotonous and machine-like. But we, being extremely mid-Victorian, believe that one nuptial ceremony is sufficient—in most cases—for any one person. Give the rest of the world a break! We therefore come to the conclusion that the first marriage must be carefully considered, and inasmuch as the young lady can propose only once every four years, she should realize what the young man of today demands in making his choice. Thus, we ask you to help the young woman of today to a better understanding of what a real man expects of marriage by filling in and returning this questionnaire at an early date. Results will be published later.

1. Do YOU intend to marry?
2. If so, why? If not, why not?
3. Have you a certain ideal girl in mind? Describe her.
4. Do you consider the love of some woman essential to a real man's happiness?
5. Have you ever had a serious love affair? How did it end and why?
6. Do you lose interest in a girl as a possible wife when you discover that she is not averse to petting?
7. Have you found girls to be greedy or selfish or the reverse?
8. What qualities do you consider most important in a wife? Name them in the order of importance.
9. Must she have beauty? Must she be domestic? Religious?
10. What are your views on the subject of the married woman who continues to work?
11. Would you propose marriage to a girl who earned more than you could earn? Why or why not?
12. Are you saving for marriage? How much could you save each year? How much do you save?
13. What income would you consider necessary to justifying marriage?
14. Would you allow your wife to handle the money in your home?
15. What are your views on divorce? What do you consider grounds for divorce?
16. Do you want children?
17. Would you demand that a girl reveal any mistake she had made before marriage? Would you marry a girl who had made such a mistake?
18. Explain fully the reasons for your stand on the foregoing questions.
19. Do you drink, smoke, swear, or make your own dresses?
20. Would you marry a girl who did these things?
21. What makes a man love and want to marry a girl?
22. Do you admire the girl of Today?
23. How could she more nearly approach your ideal?

Now, as an earnest Seeker of Truth and a Conscientious Enlightener of a Troubled World we have decided to add to this column a department devoted to giving "Advice to the Lovelorn." If you are worried by any perplexing problems regarding your girl and boy friends, simply address Ex-Converse, Advice to the Lovelorn Department, CYNIC office, and you shall receive at an early date our most interested, fatherly counsel. We have here two letters which we shall proceed to answer.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Dear Ex-Converse:

For three months I kept steady company with a most adorable girl. But yesterday I found that the bum had double-crossed me and was two-timing me right and left all the while. Her other beau is a football man, and I assure you, very muscular. what shall I do?

JOE BASAR.

My Dear Mr. Barre:

Yes, my lad, as we live—we learn. The best thing for you to do is to send for my handsomely illustrated book entitled "How to Become a He-Man Overnight." Please enclose $1.50 in stamps to cover cost of packing, mailing and evading Interstate Commerce Commission. By the aid of this instructive treatise, you should be able to build up your body to the extent where you care naught for the prowess of football men, and challenging him to a wrestling match between the halves of the Springfield game, should easily succeed in vanquishing him. This, I am certain will cause the damsel to weep with shame and regret and all will eventually be forgiven.

Mr. P. T. Hank:

Kindly enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question, as we cannot answer publicly what you desire to know.

Scandinavian names outnumber all others in the student body of the University of Nebraska.

OUTING CLUB GOES TO NORWICH SPORTS MEET

Events to be Run Off Include Ski Races and Ski Jumping Contest—Team of Seven to Go

A team of seven men will be sent by the Outing Club to Northfield this week-end to represent Vermont in the Norwich Winter Sports Meet which will be run off there. Middlebury College and Norwich University will also have men entered in the events. The seven men who will probably be sent from Vermont are Overly, Cowles, Thoms, Parker, Maynes, Buxton, and Lang.

The events which will be run off are the cross-country ski race, downhill ski race, proficiency ski race and ski jumping.

The delegation which the Outing Club sent to the Dartmouth Winter Carnival last week did not score but it is reported that considering the opposition they went up against they did good work. McGill and New Hampshire sent very strong teams, which captured a large number of the laurels. Dartmouth came third. Sam Howard placed fifth in the skating events. Only the first four places scored, however.

In the Winter Sports Meet at Northfield prospects for Vermont look good. However, in ski jumping both Middlebury and Norwich have had more experience than Vermont men, having taken part in two winter sports meets thus far this season and Vermont in only one.

A small ski jump is being built by the Outing Club that members might practice ski jumping. Ski jumping will be one of the interfraternity events here.

Campus Comment

H. A. Mayforth, graduate manager of athletics, received the following communication from a Middlebury undergraduate concerning the loss of a pocketbook at the recent Middlebury-Vermont basketball contest:—

Dear Sir:

I attended the Middlebury-U. V. M. basketball game in your gymnasium last night and afterward discovered the loss of my brown leather pocketbook which had a small green leather and beaded purse within. There was a check, among other things in the purse, made out to my name. If such an article has been turned in I would appreciate any information of it and will remit postage for mailing.

Very sincerely,
DOROTHY LOUISE DIETZ.
Pearson's Hall, Middlebury, Vt.

WINANT LEADS FROSH AGAINST GODDARD SEM.

Tomorrow night the freshman basketball team will meet the Goddard Seminary quintet on the latter's home floor. After winning last week over the DeMolay by a small margin Coach Prentice's men are again hopeful of victory. On the whole, it might be said that this year's yearling team is below par in comparison with previous first year quintets. The players seem to have less enthusiasm than in former years and the team has failed to develop an outstanding man. Goddard Seminary is reputed to have a worthy quintet, and the Kittens have a battle before them. Thus far the Frosh have lost two games, one each to Phi Delta Theta and K. of C.

It is expected that Coach Prentice will use practically the same line-up against Goddard Seminary as has been used in previous games.

Before the DeMolay game last Saturday night E. M. Winant, '32, was elected captain of the yearling team. His playing has been commendable and his election is pleasing to all. Winant was quarterback of the frosh football team and made a clever general.

The probable frosh line-up: Tupper, r. f., Winant, l. f., Bowers, c., Tilley, r. f., and Bedell, l. f.

Freshman women, at the University of Hawaii, are required to wear on four consecutive days the following costume. Curl papers in the hair, a grass skirt that sweeps the ground, goggles, cotton stockings, men's shoes, handkerchiefs pinned to their shoulders, and also to carry strings of jelly beans for upperclassmen.

Freshman co-eds at McGill University are forced to carry whisks with which to sweep fallen leaves from the paths of their upperclassmen.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

by

P. VILLIUS VALTRO

Aha, he said. You'll not fool me.
You bet I'll see I have some fun
That's what my mom was paid out for
No work, fly the University Store.

"I never studied in high school.
Am I a fool? To study here,
It is quite clear, is crazy too
I'll get an A, I'm tellin' you."

Exams have come, exams have gone
The world goes on—no change is seen
In Argentine or anywhere.
But that boy's room is vacant, bare.

And, to crack an old joke, that's a little bit more truth than poetry. And it's generally the good men that go worse luck for Good Old Vermont.

"How is a mark?"

"Which is a who?"

"I say how is a mark? How does it get that way?"

"How does it get what way?"

"What way? How do you expect me to know? The way it gets of course in other words, how can anyone give a 33.25 percent for a course in the General Morals of the Late Humanists? Or the Psychology of Pterodactyls? And why is it anyway?"

"Oh, they probably give you close marks to show that there's no partiality."

"Well, anyway, why give a mark? What's it for?"

"Why, to tell you how good you are."

"Well, don't you know how bad you are, anyway?"

"Well, I know pretty well, yes."

"Do you know anybody that doesn't?"

"No-o, I can't think of anybody."

"There you are,—everybody knows just about how well he's getting along. Isn't that so?"

"I guess you're right."

"Do you admit that you take a course to learn it?"

"I don't know. I never thought about it."

"Well, you ought to have that idea in mind."

"That's right, why else would you take it?"

"Yeh, why? Theoretically no other reason at all. Then, who's outlook is it to keep the student's work up?"

"Why — — his own."

"Yeh, then why give marks? It's his business whether he learns or not, and if he wants to he will try, won't he?"

"He ought to."

"And he's payin' money for his education, and if he isn't takin' it, so much the better for the University, they get his money, and don't have to give him anything back."

By golly, you're right. It does seem as though the American college idea is a little bit wrong."

F. W. HOUSATONIC, Jr.

NEW HAMPSHIRE WINS WINTER SPORTS MEET

Amasses Total of 38 Points—McGill Second and Dartmouth Third—Miss Wright Crowned "Queen of Snows"

University of New Hampshire carried off the honors in the annual Dartmouth Winter Carnival. McGill with 29 points was second and Dartmouth followed with 14.

Pederson of New Hampshire furnished the thrills with leaps of 99 and 100 feet in the ski jump. His point award was 17.42 and was followed closely by Sanders of Dartmouth with 16.74.

The winning team gained places in every event except the figure skating and took four firsts against two for McGill.

Vermont was represented but failed to place.

The summaries:

Ski Jump—Pederson, New Hampshire, first; Sanders, Dartmouth, second; Sumner, McGill, third; Weston, Middlebury, fourth.

Cross-country—Dorey, McGill, first; Bell, McGill, second; Woodward, New Hampshire, third; Perley, New Hampshire, fourth.

440 yard Skating—Tetley, New Hampshire, first; Denesha, Syracuse, second; Lovell, New Hampshire, third; Wendell, New Hampshire, fourth.

2-mile Skating—Mallman, New Hampshire, first; Wendell, New Hampshire, second; Platt, Dartmouth, third; Tetley, New Hampshire, fourth.

Figure Skating—Bolton, McGill, first; Tucker, Dartmouth, second; Sears, Williams, third.

2-mile Snowshoe—Layne, New Hampshire, first; Bertram, Dartmouth, second; Lawyer, Dartmouth, third; Hasen, New Hampshire, fourth.

CHAIRMAN BURR CALLS JUNIOR WEEK MEETING TO DISCUSS OUTLINE

Junior Prom, Under Direction of Charles H. Mace, to be Held in Memorial Auditorium Friday, May 17

A meeting of the chairmen of the various Junior Week Committees was called Monday at 1:30 in Room 3, Science College, by the chairman of Junior Week, Warren H Burr. The business was that of making a general outline for Junior Week.

The Junior Prom, under the direction of Charles H Mace, will be held in the Memorial Auditorium on the evening of Friday May 17. The chairman promises that the Prom will be even bigger and better than last year, and it is expected to be under his capable direction. It is to be cabaret style as it was last year. Herrick M. Vanderhoef, chairman of the refreshment committee, and his cohorts are industriously working on this plan. No orchestra has been chosen definitely as yet, but Vermonters may rest assured that the orchestra decided upon will be a good one. Carl H. Hamm, chairman of the dance committee, is communicating with several popular dance teams, and the best possible will be present for this occasion.

The favors for the prom have not yet been decided upon.

The banquet committee, headed by Herbert K. Borkland, is going to distribute cards among the members of the class of 1930 to see if there is enough interest to warrant a banquet.

In order to lower the gross cost, the dance programs, favors, and Junior Week Programs are to be purchased from the same concern.

Another meeting of the Junior Week Committee will be held in the near future.

MANY COLLEGE MEN MEMBERS OF DE MOLAY

Probably many of those who attend the Middlebury game Saturday will wonder who the Phish are playing in their preliminary. The team with the purple and gold uniforms represents the Lafayette Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

The Order of DeMolay was founded at Kansas City, Mo., in the year 1919 when a group of nine fellows between the ages of 16 and 21, met and formed a club which they named the DeMolay. The Scottish Rite bodies of Kansas City sponsored the first chapter of DeMolay. Its membership grew with amazing rapidity. On April 1, 1919, there was one chapter and at the close of the year 1926 the membership was in excess of 200,000 and 1,574 chapters had been instituted and are now to be found in every state in the Union, Mexico, Panama Canal Zone, Porto Rico, Philippines, Italy and France. All chapters are sponsored by Masonic bodies but the order is not a junior Masonic fraternity as there can be no such thing.

The local chapter, which was named the Lafayette Chapter in honor of the man whose statue adorns our campus, was organized with 110 charter members January 26, 1924. As the age limit is between 16 and 21, when one reaches his majority, he automatically becomes inactive. Today the local chapter has a membership of over seventy five, over half of whom are in college.

On the Vermont basketball teams the DeMolay have always been represented. Ellis Moody, '27, and Howard Prentice, '29, were both charter members and on this year's team, "Sap" Palmer, "Burt" Morse and "Phil" Manning belong to the order. Football claims Charlie Mace, '30, "Sap" Palmer, '29, Jimmy and Tony Scutaken, '29 and 31 respectively, and Charlie Stevens, '28. Baseball had A. H. (Chief) Fogg, Howard Prentice and "Burt" Morse. Track claims Mace and Prentice again while tennis has had three DeMolays, namely Emory Mower, '27, "Bill" Shaw, '29, and "Barney" Shield, '29.

All DeMolays in college, belonging to other chapters are cordially invited to attend the meetings which are held the first and third Wednesdays of each month. Notices are sent to all fraternity houses.

Evolution

1907—Ankle propers
1925—Freedom of the knees
1949—Hip! Hip! Hurray
1969—Back to nature.—Campus News

PROF. DEAN SPEAKS ON LINCOLN TO ROTARIANS

Professor Leon W. Dean of the English Department, University of Vermont, gave a brief picture from the life of Abraham Lincoln in a talk before the Rotary Club at the Hotel Van Ness yesterday noon. He condemned the tendency of present day writers to pick out the worst in the characters of great men and hold it up for the world to see. He declared that this practice does not tend to give people a true picture of the man, because the truth about any man cannot be found in any act or series of acts in his life, but must necessarily be an estimate of his life and character as a whole. Professor Dean drove into his talk stories to illustrate his points and closed with quotations from Lincoln.

DR. E. L. SWAN SPEAKS TO VERMONT STUDENTS ON HYGIENE MATTERS

Address Freshmen and Sophomores of the Local Battalion on Monday—Also Speaks Tuesday and Wednesday

Dr. Eugene L. Swan, of the American Social Hygiene Association, spoke before the freshmen and sophomores of the Battalion, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the gymnasium and also at the same hour in the Old Chapel, Tuesday afternoon.

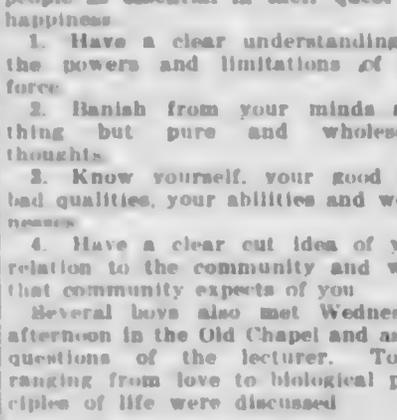
Sex life, said Dr. Swan, is the most misunderstood of all subjects, not because it is more difficult than the others, but because most persons get their knowledge of it from wrong sources. According to the Doctor, this lack of knowledge of sex force and the relation between the sexes is the cause for the great majority of divorces. This he made clear by illustrations from his experiences in France during the World War.

Dr. Swan also warned people against certain magazines and moving pictures saying that many of these have as their fundamental purpose the excitement of the sexual appetite.

This poor purpose makes them one of the chief causes of the world's sorrow and unhappiness. He spoke of the subconscious mind and its work in making people what they are.

Four principles he gave to young people as essential in their quest for happiness.

1. Have a clear understanding of the powers and limitations of sex force.
2. Banish from your minds anything but pure and wholesome thoughts.
3. Know yourself, your good and bad qualities, your abilities and weaknesses.
4. Have a clear cut idea of your relation to the community and what that community expects of you.



Several boys also met Wednesday afternoon in the Old Chapel and asked questions of the lecturer. Topics ranging from love to biological principles of life were discussed.

Examination Costs

According to figures compiled by the Harvard College auditors, the blue books used for examinations during the last five years have cost Harvard $6,898.96, and that fails to take into account the number of degrees it has cost some of the students who have been unable to fill them with satisfaction to the markers.—Christian Science Monitor

A bill has been presented to the Texas legislature by Senator W. E. Thomason calling for the abolition of fraternities at the University of Texas.

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

INTERNATIONAL CLUB TO DISCUSS WORLD THEMES DURING NEXT SEMESTER

International Relations Society Appoints Chairmen to Speak on Topics of World Interest

On the initiative of Professor Carroll, the International Relations Club has adopted a list of subjects of world interest for discussion during the second semester and has appointed chairmen from among the members of the Club, assigning to each a special topic.

The chairman's duty will be to discuss the major points of his subject in a twenty to thirty minute talk. The other members of the club are expected to familiarize themselves with the topics under consideration in order that they may take an active part in the general discussion which will follow the chairman's speech.

The topics will be taken up in the order listed below, and only one topic will be discussed at a meeting.

I. League of Nations
   1. Organization
   2. Function
   3. Accomplishments
   4. Weaknesses
   Chairman, Esther Nelson, '29.
II. Locarno
   Chairman, Robert Stewart, '30.
III. Permanent Court of International Justice
   1. Organization
   2. Function
   3. Accomplishments
   Chairman, Marion Backus, '29.
IV. Pact of Paris (Kellogg Treaty)
   1. History
   2. Provisions
   3. Probable Results
   Chairman, Pauline Burridge, '30.
V. Disarmament
   1. Evidence of desire to disarm
   2. Obstacles
   3. Probable future action
   Chairman, Merle Duval, '30.
VI. Washington Conference
   Chairman, Mabel Freeman, '30.
VII. Arbitration
   1. History
   2. Probable use in future
   Chairman, Charles Overly, '29
VIII. Permanent Court of Arbitration
   Chairman, Richard Cowles, '31.

POLITICAL STUDY MUST AVOID THE LEGISLATURE

The bespectacled professor at the University of Missouri who teaches the theory of politics in class has no business peering into the realities of political practice.

No officials or professors of the university may "scout" the legislature at Jefferson City without first obtaining permission from the president of the school.

The order originated in the administration of a former president and still is binding.

"Wow, I'm as tight as a boiled egg."
"Too bad Columbus isn't here; he could make you stand up."
Mountain Eagle

This Smoke Aids Artist To Nab Ideas

Independence, Mo.
June 24, 1928.

Larus & Brother Co.,
Richmond, Va.

Dear Sirs:

Perhaps you would like to know in just a word or so how I am in partners with Edgeworth in a business way.

By profession I am a cartoonist, who you probably know is called upon to create new ideas. While this is ranked as the hardest part of the profession, I have proved it may easily be mastered, if a person will but recline in any easy chair, light a pipe, and live with imaginative persons in the aromatic smoke clouds that will soon fill the room. Edgeworth has given me more ideas than any other brand of tobacco, so I "married" my pipe to it quite a while ago. The result has been wonderful. The more you use Edgeworth, the more you crave it—not as a drug, but as a wholesome pleasure.

Complimenting the standard quality (which means more than the words signify) of Edgeworth, I am a devoted and profound user.

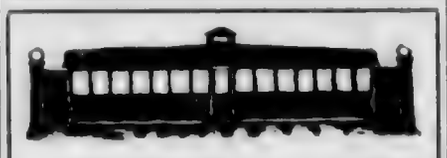
Yours very respectfully,
James W. Bright

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

THINNEST MEN LEAD LAFAYETTE SCHOLARS

Men at Lafayette College who are underweight stand higher in their studies than do men who are either normal in weight or overweight, according to findings by Professor H. E. Brown, Director of Physical Education, in recent tests with students, which have been made public.

The records show that a higher percentage of the men who are underweight rank within a predetermined scholastic group than is the case with the others. Over 700 students were tested. The physical examination records were made at the beginning of the school year when all students were required to take certain physical tests.



The difference in the percent of the underweight men over the normal men is about the same as the difference between the normal men and the overweight men. The fat men ranked lowest of the three groups.

Throw Rubbish on Floor Says Dean

The Dean at Western Reserve University has issued an edict that students should refrain from the practice of throwing waste paper in the waste baskets, and that instead they should discard all rubbish on the floors of the various rooms. He states as his reason that paper scattered promiscuously over the floor gives the college a businesslike air that cleanliness and orderliness do not. As a result, the students have taken to the order in a way that Dean's edicts are seldom obeyed. The janitors are enjoying it even more than the students.

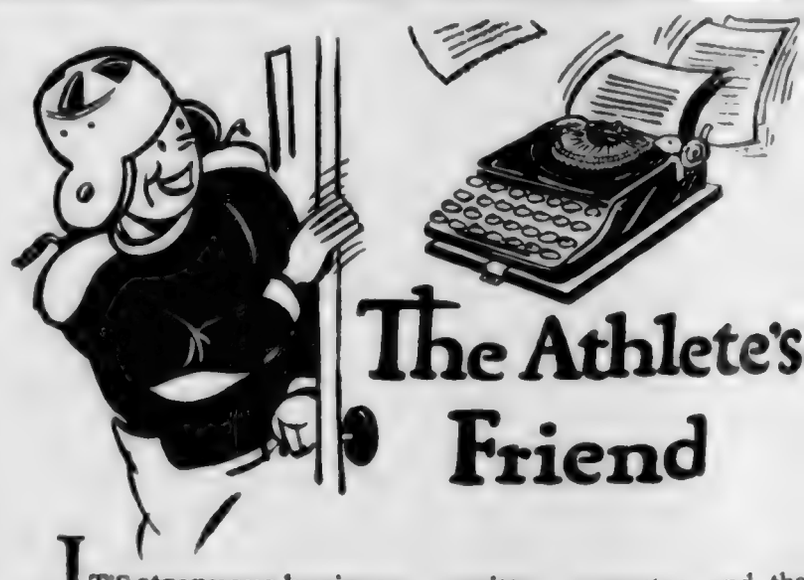
"Here's something queer," said the dentist. "You say this tooth has never been worked on before, but I find small flakes of gold on my instrument."

"I think you have struck my back collar button," moaned the victim.—Jack-O'-Lantern.

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

KEY AND SERPENT TO ENTERTAIN SUB-FROS

As is the case every [illegible] Serpent is now making [illegible] entertainment of sub-f[illegible] school seniors, from [illegible] Letters have been sent [illegible] pals of all schools in [illegible] the names of the p[illegible] of the University. Under [illegible] torship of R. A. Law[illegible] of the junior honorary [illegible] tions have been sent to [illegible] men and at present the [illegible] plies indicates that this [illegible] will be a bigger crowd [illegible] fore.



On their arrival, Febru[illegible] sub-freshmen will be met [illegible] Serpent and Gold Key [illegible] the points of interest at the [illegible] and about the city. At [illegible] attend a banquet where [illegible] addressed by members of [illegible] Later they will be guests [illegible] Walk Committee at the [illegible] tion of the Kake Walk.

During Saturday the [illegible] shown about the city and will have opportunity of seeing [illegible] sion.

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

NEW CORONA
SPECIAL IN COLORS
$39.50

L. P. WOOD
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

The Athlete's Friend

IT'S strenuous business for the athlete to keep up with his work and at the same time get the sleep the coaches demand.

Many have discovered a way to do it. They use a Remington Portable for all their writing. It helps them get better marks because of the neatness and legibility of the typewritten reports; and the great saving of time as compared with the drudgery of writing by hand is a welcome relief.

Remington Portable is the smallest, lightest, most compact and most dependable portable with standard keyboard. Weighs only 8½ pounds, net. Carrying case only 4 inches high.

Easy Payments.

Remington Portable

W. G. SHERMAN
104 Church Street
Burlington, Vt.

REMINGTON RAND
BUSINESS SERVICE, INC.
162 College Street
Burlington, Vt.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Chapter of Kappa Alpha a tea for freshman women evening from eight to ten The pourers were resident Mrs. Guy Loudon, Mrs. Leon and Mrs. Paul French.

Albert Clark, 3rd, was born Mrs. Albert Clark Good Mrs. Goodwin was formerly Saltruff, '23.

PI BETA PHI

Beta Chapter of Pi Beta tained first year women at Saturday evening from en o'clock at the rooms, 247 The Misses Laura Park- Marjorie Idleman poured.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Chapter of Delta Delta Delta tea for freshman women on evening from eight to ten at the home of Dorothy Col- 138 South Willard Street. pourers were Mrs. Elizabeth and Miss Evelyn Orton.

ALPHA XI DELTA

A tea for freshman women was held chapter rooms, 192½ College on Wednesday evening from to ten o'clock. Miss Marion and Miss Marjorie Way poured.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Chi Omega held an invitation freshman women at the home Mrs. Jackson Strong, 84 Buell on Wednesday evening. Mrs. B. B. Carrol and Mrs. Strong poured.

Florence McKenzie, '30, has been appointed to attend the Lambda prov convention which will be held at Syracuse during the last week of Pauline Willis, ex-'30, of Waterbury, the week-end in the city.

SIGMA GAMMA

Gamma held a tea for fresh- women on Tuesday evening at the home of Elizabeth Brown, '29, 419 Prospect Street. Mrs. Swift and Miss Consuelo Northrup poured.

KAPPA DELTA

Theta Chapter of Kappa Delta entertained the first year women at a held in the Athena Club rooms Thursday evening from eight to ten The pourers were Mrs. Wil- and Mrs. Ingalls.

Theodora Mascott, '28, of New York is spending a week in Burlington.

EPSILON SIGMA

Epsilon Sigma held a tea for first education students Saturday afternoon at the home of Ruth Marcy Bradley Street. Alba Rosa poured. Tuesday evening the students were entertained at a Western costume held at the Vermonters' Club- and on Saturday evening at a party which took place at the Club.

WOMEN'S GYM CLASSES DOING OUTDOOR WORK

hour a week of the required education for freshmen and res is now being given over door work. Skating, snowshoe skiing are the sports in which s may participate for regular rse of the Kake Walk, all gym will be held out of doors next r the gym will be in the proc- renovation as is usual at this time of the year. The first class may be taken at any time, the second the regular gym period, and the third will be at the usual period for work.

ball teams will be chosen this d basketball practice will be for next week on account Kake Walk.

interest has been shown in wling class which has been for girls at the Regal Bowling owntown. Everyone who has has been very enthusiastic venture.

Compliments of

C. A. BARBER & CO.

112 Church Street

BEST COAL AND SERVICE

* * *

Elias Lyman Coal Company

286 College Street

INTERNATIONAL CLUB TO DISCUSS NEW QUESTIONS

Problems of international organization and relationship will furnish topics for discussion at International Club meetings, according to a decision reached at a meeting of the club last Thursday. Several students are already at work at the essays for the best of which the Carnegie Endowment offers a European trip as the chief prizes in a national competition.

Any student in the University may enroll in the club by attendance at meetings which are occupied entirely with lecture on and discussion of international problems. At the meeting on Thursday a number of the members of the club were delegated to deliver talks on matters of international concern which will fall within the scope of the work outlined by the club for the present semester. Discussions of the matter presented are in order as soon as one of these talks has been delivered, everyone present being entitled to deliver—in an entirely informal manner—his opinions on the subject.

ESTHER NELSON

President of International Relations Club members of which are working for European trip under the Carnegie Endowment Fund.

Men's Physical Education Notes

Freshmen and sophomores having incomplete first semesters must make those conditions up before Easter recess if they wish to receive credit. Any man enrolling later than February 18 will receive incomplete for the course.

All freshmen and sophomores are requested to hand in their hour plans at the office.

Managers of fraternity basketball squads are requested to hand in a list of players, not more than ten men. These men will be required to take Physical Education once a week until March 2.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

Tel. 397-W

T. P. O'HARA

TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING

170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

After the University of Oklahoma forbade the bringing of automobiles to the campus, one enterprising student came to school in an airplane. Should the faculty give this boy the air or commend him on his novel method of seeking higher education?

Fred Waring, director of Waring's Pennsylvanians, probably the most popular Victor recording orchestra, was unable to make the Penn State Glee Club because of his lack of musical ability.

STUDENTS

LOOSE-LEAF NOTE BOOKS

ART MATERIALS

U. V. M. STATIONERY

McAULIFFE'S

Cor. Church & College Sts.

Phone 629

W. F. EAMES, Design Engineer, Carnegie Tech, '18

P. M. McCUSKER, Headquarters Sales, W T N S. '21

C. M. PURDY, Interdepartmental Contract Administration, W. T. N. S., '26

R. P. JENSEN, Construction Superintendent, Arizona Institute of Technology, '21

W. R. HARDING, Motor Engineer, U. of N. Carolina, '11

H. J. PETERSEN, Central Engineer, U. of Washington, '20

YOUNGER COLLEGE MEN ON RECENT WESTINGHOUSE JOBS

The Fisher Building

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

* * *

IN architectural beauty and in completeness of accommodations for all classes of business and professional activities, Detroit's magnificent new Fisher Building has been pronounced fully ten years ahead of the times.

An important feature of its advanced development is the Westinghouse elevator system which serves the 26-story tower and the 11-story wings. Twenty-five elevators are installed, all with automatic control which brings each car to a smooth stop exactly level with the floor every time. A master control system, in addition, enables the chief operator to advance or retard speeds from his own station and to maintain accurate service schedules.

Lighting equipment, installed under the largest contract of its kind ever placed, is equally advanced. More than 12,000 Westinghouse Sollux units give light without glare throughout the entire structure.

The pumps and ventilating fans in the building are driven by Westinghouse motors.

The complete electrification of the Fisher Building is the sort of a job that must go to an organization large enough to handle it. Westinghouse offers young men a type of opportunity that appeals to those with enterprise and talent.

Westinghouse

Kake Walk Trophies

A group of cups and prizes annually given at Kake Walk as they appear in a dozen [illegible]

JUNIOR INTERSCHOLASTIC TOURNEY AT RUTLAND

The annual Interscholastic Tournament to decide the Junior Championship of the State of Vermont will be held under the direction of the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont in the Rutland Memorial Armory at Rutland on Friday and Saturday, March 1 and 2, just one week previous to the Senior Tournament at the U. V. M. Gym.

The Rotary Club of Rutland is sponsoring this tournament.

Instead of the Southern Vermont Tourney of recent years this one will be held for smaller schools with exactly the same plan as the Senior Tournament. The winner of the Junior Tournament may challenge the winner of the Senior Tournament to play for the State Championship. The winner of the playoff, or winner by default will be awarded by the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club the University of Vermont Interscholastic Basketball Cup, emblematic of the state championship. This playoff is to take place on the floor on which the Junior Tournament is held on March 16, 1929.

The rules of the Junior Tournament are as follows:

The preliminary games will begin Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The first game of the qualifying round is to be played at 2 o'clock, the second at 4 o'clock. The third game begins at 7:30 and the fourth at 8:30. Semi finals will be played off on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 and 2:30. The final game for the Junior Championship will be held Saturday night beginning promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

All schools in the state, whose boy enrollment in grades 9-12 on November 25, 1928 was 60 or less and who have played the season under the eligibility rules of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont, are eligible to compete for this championship. Schools whose boy enrollment was more than 60 on the above date, should apply for admission of their teams to the Senior Tournament.

The competing teams will be chosen by the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont.

Eight teams will be chosen for the tournament. These teams must be contenders for the state championship and will be subject to the rules and regulations laid down by the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont. The right to reject any entry is reserved. Teams will be drawn and placed on a schedule for competition and such drawing will be final.

The winner of the tournament will receive, from the Rutland Rotary Club Tournament Committee a cup emblematic of the championship of the Junior Division, for its permanent possession.

REV. MR. E. C. BOYNTON AT CHAPEL SERVICES

The chapel talk this week was given by Rev. Mr. E. C. Boynton of Rutland, Vt., who took for his topic "Blessed are the humble for they shall inherit the earth." The speaker chose as examples the lives of several well-known men, treating the observations like scientific experiment. The question is asked: "Is there really such a thing as humility?" With the whole world as a laboratory, the experimenter easily finds the answer, "There is."

As one of the foremost examples of humility in the speaker's own experience he cited his own mother; but he also said that humility seemed to be an attribute common to motherhood. Mothers sacrifice their desires, even their comforts, for their children. Theirs is a life of humility, but they inherit the earth through their children.

Another example of humility cited by Rev. Boynton was Moses who had this quality to such a degree that he could take advice from even his father-in-law. Often it is the qualities we realize the least as being present in a person that are the most commendable. Mrs. Lindbergh paid a mighty tribute to her son when she wrote to the minister who had married her and her husband that she was more proud of her boy for the things that the world did not know of him, than of his well known exploits.

Abraham Lincoln is another shining example of the spirit of humility for he was the humble servant of the people. But Jesus is the greatest of all examples; he was humble even when taken by surprise.

Let us then remember: "Blessed are the humble, for they have room within them to inherit the earth."

The Old Position

"Humming Bird"

Pure Silk, Full Fashion

Hosiery, $1.50 Pair

A silk stocking with a national reputation for longer service, featured here in all fashionable colors, in both pointed and square heels.

You will find here a group of shoes assembled especially to meet the college man's ideas of style and good taste. They are the result of a 30-year acquaintance with well-dressed college men's preferences.

John Ward MEN'S SHOES

See them on display at

HAYES & CARNEY

Bank Street Near Majestic

PANTHERS SCORE LONE GOAL IN LAST MINUTE

Vermont icemen lost a well-fought hockey game to Middlebury on Wednesday afternoon at the U. V. M. rink. The final score was 1-0.

It was heartbreaking to have lost this contest, for the Vermont sextet displayed professional skill both offensively and defensively as well as in cleverness of handling the puck—and fought bitterly to the very end of the combat. Not until one minute before the end of the past period did Middlebury score. This came suddenly when Kelley drove a low long shot thus winning the game. The entire Vermont combination played brilliantly but particular mention must be given to Segal for his stick-handling and for his speedy shifting and to Hendricks for his stone-wall defense at goal. Mercier and Collins in their début game showed excellent form. Mercier, a freshman, will prove to be a valuable player in the near future. Kelley and Melbye, a substitute, starred for the Blue and White.

Penalties were abundant; Melbye was the bad boy with four to his discredit.

The summary

VERMONT		MIDDLEBURY
Schurman (capt.), r. w.		l. w., Mekala (Melbye)
Segal (Marvin), c.		c., Kelley (capt.)
Mercier, l. w.		r. w., Crocker
Lawrence (Denault) r. d.		l. d., Nelson
Collins, l. d.		r. d., Foote
Hendricks, g.		g., Douglas

PENALTIES

Foote (M) 2 minutes, Melbye (M) 1 minute, Collins (V) 2 minutes, Melbye (M) 2 minutes, Schurman (V) 1 minute, Melbye (M) 1 minute, Crocker (M) 2 minutes, Melbye (M) 2 minutes.

THIRD PERIOD

Team	Goal	Assisted by	Time
Middlebury	Kelley	Unassisted	19:00

Referee: Berry.

Jim: "And you'll love me always when we are married?"

Okie: "Of course, Jim. I've begun to dread getting a divorce already."

—Ibid

Directors Appoint Kake Walk Judges

(Continued from page 1)

Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Psi, Kappa Sigma, Phi Mu Delta, Sigma Alpha Chi, Sigma Nu, Tau Epsilon Phi, and Zeta Chi are the fraternities which, this year, are eligible to present stunts. The stunts seem, from a consideration of the submitted outlines, to be of uniformly high quality.

To choose for positions in the stunt as well as in Kake Walk and in Peerade entries representatives of the various fraternities met Saturday, February 9. There will be a rehearsal of two hours' duration starting at 6:00 o'clock on Wednesday, February 20. On Thursday, February 21, there will be a dress rehearsal of the stunts in front of the trial judges. At this rehearsal the stunt least successful will be eliminated.

As things now seem to be shaping themselves, Kake Walk this year promises to be the most successful of any of the efforts so far presented. Each fraternity is striving to outdo the triumphs of past years and it looks as though each will be successful.

Our idea of happiness is a Scotch boy at the North Pole with an all-day sucker in his hand, and a six months' day just beginning.

Nize Peoples

To win an impo... game from a much ... a Chinese college on... court and practiced ... slippery surface. W... team arrived for the ... it had to play upon th... was easily defeated.

"My dear, I won't ha... if that laundress k... things. This week ... man towels."—Life

"Your cheeks look ... blossoms."

"Darn it! I wanted ... like roses."—Missouri ...

SUITS AND OVERCOAT

Closing out a large ... of suits and ove...

$25.00

HAYES AND CARNEY

195-7 Bank Street Near Maj...

Open Evenings

The

$5.00 BOOK OF TICKETS

sold for $4.50 at the

COFFEE CORNER

and

SANDWICH CELLAR

should not be forgotten.

There's 50 cents for one more movie and an ice cream soda.

A 2 to 1 Favorite

in 13 technical schools

Proves the Parker Duofold is "The College Pen"

In a canvass of 13 technical schools (names on request) it was found that as many students owned a Parker Duofold Pen as owned the next two nearest makes combined, and more would buy a Duofold next time than the next three combined.

There are several reasons. One is Parker Pressureless Touch—Geo. S. Parker's 47th Improvement—known the world around as the means to tireless writing.

28% lighter than a rubber pen, this weight alone brings the pen into action the moment point touches paper. No strain. No fatigue. This relieves finger pressure. Smooth and steady ink-flow no matter how fast you write.

No interruptions, no intrusions. A clear track for clearer THOUGHT, and better grades on papers.

Five flashing colors and a new, modern Black and Pearl. Then a guarantee forever against all defects*, so these Parker benefits are everlasting.

See them at a nearby pen counter today.

See "Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD," on the barrel to know you have the genuine.

THE PARKER PEN COMPANY, JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN
OFFICES AND SUBSIDIARIES: NEW YORK • CHICAGO • ATLANTA • BUFFALO
DALLAS • SAN FRANCISCO • TORONTO, CANADA • LONDON, ENGLAND

INK: greater ink capacity, size for size, than average pens

*To prove Parker Duofold is a pen of lifelong perfection, we offer to make good any defect, provided complete pen is sent by owner direct to factory with 10c for return postage and insurance.

Parker Duofold $5 to $10 according to size and finish

Duofold Pencils in colors and Black and Pearl to match the pens, $3, $3.50, $4 and $5, according to size and finish.

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 BURLINGTON, VERMONT, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1929 NUMBER 34

FAST SPRINGFIELD FIVE WINS 23 TO 18

First Half Enough for Visitors—Game Featured by Close Guarding—Capt. Estabrook Out With Sprained Ankle

ACKERMAN OF VISITORS HIGH SCORER OF GAME

[illegible] basketball fans were treated [illegible] sight of one of the best basket[illegible]s of the season Friday night [illegible] V. M. gym when the Cata[illegible] were defeated by the Spring[illegible]tet to the score of 23-18. [illegible] had a chance to look upon [illegible] the best college basketball [illegible] that has appeared in Burlington [illegible]. for Springfield brought up [illegible]t that was wholly equal to [illegible] that conquered the Green and [illegible]st year. During the entire [illegible]alf the visitors played rings [illegible] the Vermonters and collected [illegible] points against two points made [illegible] Cats. They had the ball in [illegible] possession most of the time and [illegible]reen and Gold five was unable [illegible] their tight defense or break [illegible] fast, accurate passing sys[illegible] while Springfield had very little [illegible] in keeping the Catamounts [illegible] under their own hoop. Speed [illegible] accurate shooting was character[illegible] the Springfield five, and the [illegible] boys had all they could do to [illegible] their own basket under cover as [illegible] as they did.

Cats Shine in Second Half

[illegible]wever, the second half told a dif[illegible]ent tale. The Catamounts were [illegible] top of the ball every minute [illegible] and carried the fight into their [illegible]ponents' territory during the entire [illegible]. They didn't give the boys [illegible] the Bay State a chance to get [illegible] a shot, and at last they found [illegible] secret of their opponents' offense [illegible] as defense, breaking up play [illegible]day. It was a terrific burst of [illegible] and it was quite evident that [illegible] idea of making the Vermonters [illegible] the kids wasn't relished at all, [illegible]ering that second half they out[illegible] their opponents in every de[illegible]ment of the game. They out[illegible] them and forced them to make [illegible] of their shots long-distance [illegible]. During this period they ran [illegible]een points to their opponents' [illegible]. But the spurt came too late [illegible] final gun went off with the [illegible] still five points up.

[illegible] Halligan, as usual, put up his [illegible] round game. He seemed to [illegible]ver the floor, and starred in [illegible] defense and the offense, fol[illegible] the ball every second that it [illegible]play. Although he was unable [illegible]' more than two points he was [illegible]ental in adding many more to [illegible]n and Gold total, while he [illegible]man to one point, gained on a [illegible] Wallace couldn't seem to get go[illegible]ng the first half, and he came [illegible]th a bang during the second [illegible] and registered three field goals. [illegible] got his eye on the basket, he [illegible]e stopped. Sargent was back [illegible]d position at center, and he [illegible] hands full in keeping track [illegible]eron and Shirey, the two [illegible]ent in against him. Captain [illegible] was forced to leave the [illegible]e in the first half because of [illegible] to his ankle, and his place [illegible]n by Manning, who had all he [illegible] in covering Ackerman and [illegible] the speed artists. Acker[illegible]cially had a beautiful eye for [illegible]et, turning in three field goals [illegible] foul points. Palmer filled the [illegible]k court position and did very [illegible]n holding Captain Duncan [illegible]. Again he showed his ability [illegible] foul line, tallying three times [illegible] free throw line and once [illegible] floor.

[illegible]pringfield quintet had some of [illegible]t team work that has been [illegible]n the gym surface this season [illegible]dition. Ackerman, Shirey and [illegible]re all basket hawks. Acker[illegible] high scorer of the game with [illegible]nts to his credit, while Cook [illegible] and Shirey and Cameron had [illegible] Elerin and Knecht had [illegible] to do keeping Halligan away

(Continued on page 3)

NO MILITARY FORMATION WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

There will be no military formation Friday morning of this week, February 22, Washington's Birthday. The usual weekly exercises will not be held at this time because of Kake Walk. It is a regular custom of the Military Department to suspend their classes on this day so that those students who take part in the Kake Walk stunts may devote as much of their energy and time as possible to make Kake Walk a success.

Freshmen and sophomores both will have Military exams to take this week. The sophomore exam will be given on Wednesday morning at seven o'clock in the lecture room of the Williams Science Hall. The exam will cover all the work covered in the new books which were secured a short time ago. Sophomores are reminded that they are all to come to the Wednesday seven o'clock class; the other Military classes held Wednesday and Thursday will not meet at their regular periods. The freshman exam will be given the following morning, Thursday, at 7.30 o'clock in the lecture room of the Williams Science Hall. All the regular Wednesday and Thursday freshman Military classes will meet at this time.

STUDENTS TO PLAY IN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Unusually Large Number of Vermont Students to Participate in Two Concerts of Burlington Symphony

Fifteen University students will play with the Burlington Symphony Orchestra in the concert which will be given next Sunday afternoon, February 24, at the Memorial Auditorium. This is an unusually large number and exhibits how great is the musical interest and appreciation here at Vermont. Seven years ago there were only four students who were numbered among the members of the Symphony Orchestra.

The fifteen students who will play in the concert are: Julia Waterman, Inez Bellmore, Faire Divoll, Major Jenks, V. R. Merikangas, Harriet Howard, David Jenks, Glenn Aiken, Robert Jenks, Richard Cowles, William Clapp, Joseph F. Merola, Hildur Wilde, Paul Van Dyke and James Kendrick. Several of these students have played many years in the Burlington Symphony Orchestra, and others are members of the R. O. T. C. band.

Agnes Davis, of Denver, Colo., who won the National Radio Audition two years ago, will be featured as a soloist at the concert. At the second concert which will be given on Sunday, April 14, Louise Baxter, of New York, a prominent contralto soloist, will sing.

The Symphony program which will be rendered next Sunday follows:

I

1. Overture to "William Tell," Rossini
2. Symphony No. 5 "In C Minor" Beethoven
   - I. Allegro con brio
   - II. Andante con moto
3. Aria "Un bel di vedresuo" Puccini
   (from Madame Butterfly)
   Agnes Davis with Orchestra

II

4. Peer Gynt Suite No. 1 Grieg
   - I. The Morning
   - II. Ase's Death
   - III. Ouitra's Dance
5. Song Group
   - a. The Wounded Birch Grechaninoff
   - b. The Soldier's Bride Rachmaninoff
   - c. My Lover is a Fisherman Strickland
   - d. The Company Along Hagerman

   Agnes Davis
6. Blue Danube Strauss
7. Procession of Bacchus Delibes
   (from the Suite "Sylvia")

Mr Joseph F Lechnyr, who leads the R. O. T. C. band, will conduct the symphony.

Students are reminded that if they desire to attend the concert they may purchase special student tickets which sell for one dollar in the University Book Store. The tickets will admit the holder to both of the concerts which will be given by the Symphony Orchestra this season.

BUNDY CHOSEN TO MANAGE ELIGIBILITY

Succeeds Overly as Supervisor of Athletes' Scholastic Records—Corbin, Mattison and Webster Assistants

ELIGIBILITY MANAGERS ASSISTED FORTY MEN

Eligibility work the rest of the year will be in the hands of Everett O Bundy succeeding Charles Overly as manager of the department. Bundy, a junior, is especially well fitted for his task, having shone scholastically since his entrance to college. In his freshman year he took first prize in the Latin prize entrance examination and has made the honor list four times running. He is a member of Eta Sigma Phi and of Sigma Delta.

Associated with Bundy, as assistant managers, are three sophomores, Stewart Corbin, Hugh Mattison and Truman Webster. Corbin is a Delta Pat and is an assistant business manager of the CYNIC. Mattison was on the sophomore debating team last fall, is a member of both the glee club and the band, and is an assistant editor of the CYNIC. He belongs to Sigma Alpha Chi fraternity. Webster is a member of the classical society Eta Sigma Phi and also of Phi Delta Theta.

In line with the precedent established last year by Manager H. H. Fogg, '28, the Athletic Council will award to the retiring manager a sweater together with the prescribed eligibility insignia, a "V" within a gold circle.

It is the purpose of the eligibility manager to keep track of the scholastic standing of various athletes and, especially, to asist them either by tutoring or by procuring tutors for them whenever they go under warning or are otherwise in scholastic difficulties. Of the ninety-five men on the varsity and freshman football and basketball squads and on the hockey squad, the eligibility department has, during the past season, kept track of the fifty-five outstanding men who have, at any time, threatened to be involved in difficulties with their studies. Twenty-nine of them were freshmen and twenty-six upperclassmen, since the mortality rate among first-year men is much higher than that of the men in the other three classes. Reports on each man were drawn from the offices of the deans twice before mid-years and the grades of all men under warning were very carefully watched. Keeping the frosh up in their studies and getting upperclassmen out of warning occupied the attention of the eligibility department the greater part of the time.

Conference System Retained

A practice inaugurated by Manager Fogg last year of holding conferences between the faculty supervisor and leading athletes under warning has been continued and will be employed under Bundy's administration as well. Letters of appreciation are also being sent to men who have assisted either in tutoring or coaching low men during the year.

For the first half of the college year thirty men had tutors outside their own fraternities, an increase of twenty-one over last year. Still others received help from their own fraternities, and, in this way, about forty men were tutored during the year.

It is customary in eligibility work to have a faculty supervisor working hand in hand with the manager in the active conduct of the department. During the past few years Professor D. B. Carroll has assumed this task, and, with his cooperation, eligibility, especially under Fogg and Overly, has made considerable progress.

Six students from the Home Economics Department were in charge of the Practice House last week. They were: hostess, Marion Backus, '29, assistant hostess, Margaret Corbin, '29; cook, Dorothy Gurney, '30; junior member, Alma Farr, '30; waitress, Lillian Andrews, '31; and Edith Vernon, '31, substituted for the freshman member.

During the week, Dean Patterson, Miss Storms, Miss Cummings, Miss Terrill and Miss Holbrook were guests

UNIVERSITY GETS $93,000 BY APPROPRIATION BILL

In the bill carrying appropriations for the support of the state government which was presented to the legislature at Montpelier last Tuesday, there is an item calling for a $93,000 appropriation to the University of Vermont. Of this amount, $30,000 goes to the College of Medicine, $14,800 for instructional purposes and teaching facilities in the College of Arts and Sciences, and for scholarships in the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Agriculture and Engineering for 1928-29, payable July 1, 1929, and $13,520 for 1929-30, payable July 1, 1930. The University is also given $48,000 for other business, according to the decisions reached by the appropriations committee.

Among numerous other items, the bill also made allowance for a $14,000 appropriation to Middlebury College in 1930, and a $12,000 one for 1931. Norwich gets $17,700 in 1930 and $16,800 in 1931.

DR. H. S. PERKINS SPEAKS OF SURVEY IN EUGENICS

Addresses Discussion Club of College Street Church on New Comprehensive Program in Vermont

During the earlier period of its activities, the Eugenics Survey of Vermont, of which Dr. H. S. Perkins, is the director, studied a number of low-grade families. The program has now shifted to another field of investigation which Dr. Perkins described to the members of the Discussion Club of College Street Church.

In order to take its place as one of the working elements in the comprehensive survey of rural Vermont—the enterprise of the Vermont Commission on Country Life—a study of the "key families" is now being conducted. These families are those that have had to do with a selected group of towns.

Small rural areas have been selected and the annual report of the survey is now on the press. It describes one of these towns and one of the families which have had to do with its founding, growth and vicissitudes. The idea is to try to find out whether a certain town has any particular characteristics, whether the family or families that have lived there for a long time display any definite characteristics; and what the relation is, if any, between the families and the town.

Dr. Perkins accompanied his talk at the Discussion Club with charts which illustrated the tendency for low grade stocks of humanity to perpetuate their own kind of defects.

He said that those in charge of the Eugenics Survey confidentially expect that these studies will be invaluable to the Vermont Commission on Country Life in cooperation with the work of other branches it should furnish a basis for many Vermont communities to proceed more intelligently in planning, for the future, their commerce, transportation, agriculture, their churches, schools and libraries and all the other things that make up the life and activities of the people.

VERMONT SENIOR WOMEN TO GO TO UNIV. COUNCIL

At a meeting of Student Union Council, Wednesday afternoon, February 13, it was decided to send a delegation of senior women to the University Council to discuss with them important student problems which have come up recently.

There was also a brief discussion of changes in the constitution, but nothing definite was decided upon.

Upsilon Tau Alpha held a short business meeting at the Vermonters' Club House at 8.00 o'clock Thursday evening. Following the meeting, Mrs. D. Pollard addressed the members of the society on "Drama and Production of Plays in the Community."

KAKE WALK IS NOW THREE DAYS AWAY

Supreme Effort of Undergraduate Imagination and Ingenuity Ready for Presentation Friday and Saturday

KEY AND SERPENT TO ENTERTAIN SUB-FROSH

Kake Walk, which is never spoken of otherwise than as "unique," the supreme effort of undergraduate imagination and ingenuity, one of those things which marks Vermont as distinctly Vermont, is now only three days off. With the six outstanding stunts selected Thursday evening for the first presentation the next day, everything from Peerade to Kake Walkin' will be in readiness for the great event. Sub-freshmen from high schools all over Vermont will arrive Friday evening and after the Key and Serpent banquet and prospective yearlings will have their first night of a Vermont Kake Walk.

To the winners of the various events will go the coveted cakes as well as the cups, three of which have never before been presented. Two cups instead of one will go to the outstanding performances in the Peerade. With the Wright Cup withdrawn, Hayes and Carney has come forward with a new silver trophy to replace it while Preston's jewelry store has forwarded to the Kake Walk directors yet another cup to be offered as a second prize in the Peerade. The fortunate individual who presents the best performance in the Peerade will also be honored with a cup which is given for the first time this year as the gift of Miles and Perry. Besides the Boulder Cup for first place in the Kake Walkin' there will be a second presented by Student Senate and two more cups will, as usual, go to the winners in the stunts—the Briggs Cup to the winning fraternity and the Southwick Cup to the winner of second place.

Promptly at 8 o'clock on Friday night and again on Saturday evening the doors of the gymnasium will swing open and the Grand Peerade, with its myriad representations of current fads and fancies will wind through the doors and twice around the gymnasium, then wend its way out into the chilly night, as the doors close and the house is plunged into darkness.

On With the Stunts

Then, with a snap and precision to rival the work of Aladdin's genii as each group hurriedly assembles its apparatus in the dark, the stunts will follow one another in rapid succession. Fifteen minutes from the time a stunt enters the hall until it leaves will be its quota with the dire penalty of elimination for a violation of the rule as a spur to rapidity of action.

Immediately following the last stunt the house will be lighted and the band will blare for the scintillating strains of "Cotton Babes" for the thirty-second annual walkin' fo' de Kake.

Kake Walk Once Masquerade

The first Kake Walk was held at the University of Vermont on December 7, 1894, in the old Drill Hall at the Old Mill. It was a masquerade ball and people came dressed as negroes, clowns, dukes, dancing girls and cannibals. General good feeling existed everywhere during the evening and even a freshman might be fresh and no one cared.

The Ariel for 1895 contained a poem entitled "The Cak Walk," part of which is here quoted.

"Now, ther upon a table stood a cak
Which by the Hash hous maata was y-bak.
And to the man and mayde who walkeal the best
The cak was to be given for a feste.
But now to telle my tale I will beginne
And how that some of him that cak did winne
Anon the bande strukke up the 'Wayt Coklade'
In tweyes they marched in everie different style.

(Continued on page 4)

The Vermont Cynic

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O. CLAYTON, '29
Editor-in-Chief

KENNETH M. MACOMBER, '29 — Managing Editor — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '29

[illegible] CAMPBELL, '29
Managing Editor

[illegible] Richardson, '29 — News Editors Emma Lieman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

[illegible] Wright, '31 — Intercollegiate Editor [illegible] Martinetti, '29 — Feature Editor Edward J. Bepot, '29

Asst. Editor [illegible] Aldinger, '29 — Faculty Advisor Prof. Leon W. Dean — Women's Intercollegiate Editor Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

[illegible] '29 — Winifred Stone, '31 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32 — Hope Hanslow, '32 — Alfred J. Mann, '32 — Watson F. Morgan, '32 — F. Henry Powell, '30 — Charles N. Crockett, '31 — Edmour A. R. Germain, '31 — Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

[illegible] '30 — [illegible] '30 — [illegible] '31

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '30
Business Manager

[illegible] P. Jones, '29 — Advertising Manager
[illegible] S. Conlon, '31 — Assistant Manager
[illegible] F. McQuestion, '31 — Assistant Manager
F. Stanley Smith, '31 — Assistant Manager

[illegible] price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2010 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, and other communications to the Editor-in-Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 1103, P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — February 19, 1929 — No. 34

IN ALL FAIRNESS

One of the features of the Springfield-Vermont contest was the merry razz that the referee received from the student body each time a decision was given in favor of the opponents. Maybe that is one form of spirit and an example of pep. Perhaps it is done through ignorance of the rules. Anyway, it has become so noticeable during the last few games that unfavorable comments have been heard both on and off the campus concerning the spirit of the Vermont rooters. Graduate Manager Mayforth reports that it is becoming increasingly difficult to secure referees for the basketball games played on the home floor just because of this situation. The state of affairs is becoming truly deplorable. Rather than being on the wane as it was hoped by many, it is on the increase. It is becoming a force of habit with many of the fans to audibly crab a decision made against the Vermont team.

Furthermore, it is not only the Green and Gold rooters who are at fault—it is the players as well. On the Holy Cross-Springfield trip, decisions of the referee were so unpopular with the Vermont players that something more solid than words became involved in the fray. It was most ungentlemanly to say the least, and placed the college in an unfavorable light, besides. Vermont seeks publicity, but of the right sort. One of the Tufts' officials was heard to remark relative to the sportsmanship of the Vermont quintet that he was surprised to see the participants of the affair go unpunished. According to his standards the guilty players should be banned from the court for a period of time by way of chastisement. And it is a question in this respect whether Vermont standards come up to those of other colleges.

As to the decisions of the referee on the home floor it is entirely possible that a mistake may be made in calling a foul. The best of referees make mistakes. He may not be in a position to see every detail of the play in question. That is the reason why there is an umpire also at many of the more important contests. There are several cases where the decisions warrant argument, but in the long run, taking all the possibilities into consideration, decisions for and against the team tend to become equal. Thus there are really no grounds for contesting a decision whether by player or fan. It only creates ill-feeling, puts the University in an unfavorable light, and in the end tends to kill interest in the sport.

Vermont teams can advertise the college more thoroughly by presenting an example of sportsmanship everywhere they go than in any other way. Vermont students can give the college publicity and a good name in the sport world by playing fair as rooters.

Many outsiders come to see Vermont teams play. They carry away certain impressions concerning the life and spirit of the University. Their impressions are their source of their beliefs and the subject matter of their conversations on more than one occasion. They indirectly advertise the University. Whether or not they talk about the college in a favorable light depends upon the student body. What say? Let's play fair.

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the Cynic:

Where, oh where is the University band? We look in vain, at every game. Each time we think, "Well this game is important enough for the band." But we always get left, every single time.

We have had a band at basketball games in previous years. What's the matter this year? Won't the band play, or doesn't the management want music at the games, or what? We would like to know most awfully, and so would about eleven or twelve hundred other students whom we won't bother to enumerate. You can find out who they are by simply reading through the directory.

We're beginning to get worried about Kake Walk. Will the band play or won't it? How terrible it would be if the band got temperamental at the last minute and refused to play!

If the band itself is not responsible, we hereby apologize, and transfer our complaint to whomever is guilty.

Also, there's that little matter of dances after the games. All those in favor say "Aye." The ayes have it.

—'30.

DORIS WOOD WINS OUT IN WOMEN'S CARNIVAL

Women Hold First Winter Carnival in Three Years—Mount, Rogers and McGinnis Also Place High

Back campus was the scene of the first co-ed winter carnival in three years, Saturday afternoon, February 16. The high point scorers were Doris Wood, T. Tr., with 25 points; Lillian Mount, '32, with 17 points; Justine Rogers, '31, and Carolyn McGinnis, '31, tied for third place with 15 points apiece.

The first event, a fifty-yard skating dash, was won by Doris Wood, T. Tr., with Lillian Mount, '32, taking second place, and Mary Roberts, '31, taking third. The second fifty-yard skating dash was won by Justine Rogers, '31, Helen Estellonis, '32, and Dorothy Nash, '31. In distance and speed racing, Lillian Mount defeated Justine Rogers in a fine exhibition of skill.

Nathalie Hawley, '31, led the fifty-yard ski dash, Doris Wood and Lillian Mount coming in second and third, respectively. The winners in the fifty-yard snowshoe race were Dorothy Nash, Carolyn McGinnis, '31, and Nathalie Hawley.

The most exciting race of the program was the snowshoe obstacle race. At the report of the gun, each contestant dashed to a laundry case fifty yards away, unpacked it, and donned the contents. Then she grabbed the empty case, went over one sawhorse, and under another arrived back at the starting point, and packed the laundry case again with the garments she had put on. First honors went to Carolyn McGinnis, second to Margaret Corbin, '29, and third to Helen Drugg, '31.

The ski obstacle race was also thrilling and the girls had a terrible time with the sawhorses. Doris Wood emerged victorious, followed closely by Lenore Aldinger, '29, and Nathalie Hawley.

Mary Roberts, Elizabeth Mandigo, '32, and Dorothy Nash, were the winners in the free-for-all dash, which they ran on the good old pedes without disaster.

After the events, the co-eds gathered around a roaring bonfire, where they were led in songs and cheers by Estabel Perelman, '30. Marion Baldwin, '29, gave out the awards of blue, red and white ribbons to the winners in each event, and larger ribbons of the same colors to the three highest scorers. A hearty cheer was given for Marion Baldwin and the carnival ended with the singing of Champlain.

Marion Baldwin, Chairman of the committee, worked hard for the success of the carnival, as did her committee composed of Esther Nelson, '29, Frances Hazen, '30, Dorothy Dailey, '30, Margaret Stanley, '31, and Marion Stoney, '32. The scorers were Esther Nelson, '29, Joyce Richardson, '30, and Margaret Stanley, '31. The class captains were Agnes Wheeler, '29, Joyce Richardson, '30, Dorothy Nash, '31, and Doris Humphreys, '32. Credit is also due Miss Cummings and Miss Blanchard, and Marion Backus, '29, President of W. A. A.

A large number of women turned out to witness the carnival, and it is hoped that an even larger number will turn out next year, not only to look on but enter the events.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

LOCALS

Colby, '97, has left college. He expects to re-enter next fall.
Oh these optimists!

Morton, '99, is a victim of the measles, at his home in Randolph.
These children's diseases.

Miss Davis, '99, has left college to study Kindergarten in the city.
Not in the Kindergarten, we sadly note.

Owing to the severe cold weather there was no battalion drill on Tuesday, the 19th.
Oh! the good old days!

Hamilton, '98, accompanied the Glee Club to Montreal recently as property man. To his care were entrusted the precious Zobos.
I have often longed to drink from a Zobo, or play a Zobo—or what does one do with a Zobo?

Smith, '97, made the speech, after which all joined in giving the college yell and wishes for a Happy New Year.
Aha! We know that one!

Note: These items are verbatim extracts from old Cynics which we will produce on request

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Georgina Hubert, '31, represented the fraternity at Y. W. C. A. Conference at Northfield, Mass., last weekend.

PI BETA PHI

Charlotte Brown, '27, who teaches in Waterbury, visited here Saturday.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Dorothy Keith, '31, represented the fraternity at the Y. W. C. A. Conference at Northfield, Mass., last weekend.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Constans Holden, '29, entertained the seniors with bridge at her home Saturday afternoon.

The alumnae held a meeting at the home of Marjory Way Scott on Summit Street, Wednesday.

SIGMA GAMMA

Sigma Gamma announces the pledging and initiation of Minerva Risdon, '29, and the initiation of Christie McLeod, '31, on Thursday, February 14.

UPSILON TAU ALPHA

Mrs. Dallas Pollard spoke on the "Appreciation and Presentation of One-Act Plays" at the meeting held at the Vermonters' Club house Thursday evening.

Women's Greek letter fraternities are now giving their last rushing parties. Epsilon Sigma and Alpha Chi Omega held theirs on Saturday and Monday respectively. Other fraternities that will hold their parties this week are Pi Beta Phi on Tuesday, Kappa Delta on Wednesday, and Kappa Alpha Theta on Thursday.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

ADVICE TO THE LOVETORN

Dear Ex-Converse:

I am engaged to a remarkably handsome young man who is also a S. W. O. H. (Social Whirlwind on Hill). He says that he loves me, but lately I have discovered him in the presence of a silly cooing blond. How can I hold him? Is it true that gentlemen prefer blondes? How should I act toward this girl? Please help me as my heart is actually breaking.

Hopefully yours,
TOBERTA.

My Dear Toberta:

I sympathize most deeply with you, my child. I know just how you feel—had a bad heartache myself for several days until I changed to Pall Malls. But it is my sworn duty to help you and all other unfortunates, so I shall proceed to take up your questions in order.

1. You can hold him in any of the following ways:
   A. By the hand.
   B. By the wrist.
   C. By the elbow.
   D. By the shoulder.
   E. By the neck.
   F. Well—by anything!
2. Yes, gentlemen prefer blondes, but always bear in mind that they marry brunettes.
3. As to your actions toward "the girl"—well, a Colt "45" is about the best means, if you get me.
4. I am very sorry that your heart is breaking. Call me up and I'll see what I can do. The number is 49-W.

Dear Ex-Converse:

I am a young girl in my early thirties and am enrolled in the Teacher Training course. Recently, I did some homework for a fellow in the Agricultural College—it was an English theme—and since that time he has shown me marked attention. What does this mean?

RAMONA.

My Dear Ramona:

As I analyze your complicated epistle with all due care, consideration, and forethought, it seems to me that you must have been particularly successful in your initial effort in theme writing for the Agricultural College. The very fact that you declare that he has shown marked attention toward you clearly indicates that my supposition is founded on the bedrock of cold fact and logic, and not upon the shifting sands of doubt and uncertainty.

My Dear Ex-Converse:

I am a member of the local R. O. T. C. unit and rank as private first class. Incidentally, I am in hopes of receiving a corporalship in the very near future—immediately after next Wednesday's test. Now the point is this—Rosie, my girl, is being rushed by a pie-faced senior with shining sword and clanking spurs. As she dresses very well herself, I feel sure that this officer's uniform worn by this goof makes a lot of [illegible] shall I do?

P[illegible]

P. S.—I don't kn[illegible]

My Dear Mr. O'Grad[illegible]

I admire your cont[illegible] ing exam more than as they say in the you lots of luck, h[illegible] the nose and receiv[illegible] motion to major of the [illegible] you should succeed in accom[illegible] this, according to [illegible] nomic theory, cut [illegible] will set in. May t[illegible] This cut throat com[illegible] in turn, to monop[illegible] ain't monopoly gi[illegible] soon becomes Sweet

MISS NICHOLSON TALKS TO AMERICAN ASSOC OF UNIVERSITY WOM

Senior Women Guests at Given by Organization February 15—Mrs. Carpenter Tells Work of A. A. U. W.

Miss Nicholson, Ass[illegible] of English at Smith [illegible] cipient of a Guggenh[illegible] in Europe, spoke to [illegible] Branch of the Americ[illegible] of University Women [illegible] the senior women, at a tea [illegible] that organization at Redstone [illegible] day, February 15.

Miss Cameron introd[illegible] Carpenter, who told [illegible] work and interests of the A. A. U. W. stressing their influence [illegible] nection with the bette[illegible] rural schools and with [illegible] affairs as exemplified by [illegible] culated to arouse interest and [illegible] in the signing of the Kellogg [illegible] the Outlawry of War. Mrs. [illegible] also told of the fund that the [illegible] ation is desirous of establishing [illegible] provide new scholarships for w[illegible]

Miss Nicholson introduced her [illegible] with a summary of Francis B[illegible] life and his aims as he stated th[illegible] The New Atlantis. She then t[illegible] the great work done by the [illegible] feller Foundation and by the [illegible] organizations offering scholarsh[illegible] those doing advanced work in [illegible] sciences and in the fields of art [illegible] letters. Telling of her person[illegible] periences, Miss Nicholson com[illegible] the old world with America in r[illegible] to the chances for study and ad[illegible] ment of the individual. In conc[illegible] she stated that both for the undergraduate seeking a fellowship for an advanced degree, and for the [illegible] of such a degree who attempts further work in his field, the[illegible] bound to be someone somewher[illegible] will provide an opportunity for study.

The tea and social hour which followed Miss Nicholson's addres[illegible] the first function attended by [illegible] senior women as a body and [illegible] a great success.

NEW ENGLAND STUDEN CONFERENCE CONVE

At a special meeting of Y. W. Cabinet Wednesday afternoon, ary 13, Marion Tifft, '29, Bert[illegible] ford, '31, and Margaret Par[illegible] elected delegates to the West[illegible] England Student Conferenc[illegible] was held at Northfield, Mass[illegible] ary 15 to 17.

Kappa Alpha Theta sent Ge[illegible] Hubert, '31, and Delta Delta Dorothy Keith, '31, as represent[illegible]

Miss A. G. Butler, regional tary, who has been visiting the C. A. Cabinet during the past was present at the meeting, a plained the plan of the conf[illegible] She conducted several [illegible] views and encouraged [illegible] send delegates to the [illegible] ference.

"Religion on Trial in New E[illegible] Industry" was the [illegible] at the conference. Dr. [illegible] of New York City wa[illegible] was assisted by some New [illegible] representatives, who, because [illegible] first-hand experience [illegible] were able to offer the [illegible] esting and valuable in[illegible] representative present[illegible] together with his view[illegible] before the conference.

In addition, sect[illegible] gave the delegates [illegible] to receive special [illegible] each representative. Prof. W[illegible] marized and evaluated the [illegible] tions, pointing out the social tion and the real [illegible] dustrial difficulties.

"I don't like you wh[illegible] you wretch."

"I do not; I can always b[illegible] liquor."—M. I. T. V[illegible]

SPORTING NEWS

SEYMOUR I. NATHANSON '30
Sporting Editor

THIRD GAME WITH PURPLE AT B. H. S.

Catamounts Face St. Michael's in Deciding Game of Three-Game Series—Enthusiasm at its Height

GREEN AND GOLD BOASTS BETTER SEASON RECORD

will probably be the most ex- basketball encounter in Bur this season will take place at the B. H. S. Gym when the Catamount quintet meets Michael's cagemen. This is d game that these teams are g in this season. Both contests ck and neck affairs with Ver winning the first one to the tune to 23 and the Purple capturing nd in an overtime period 36 This, therefore, will be the de battle, and spirit is expected high.

Green and Gold record this has been superior to that of St. Michael's. Although the Cats have six games the margin of defeat never been over five points. Ver- easily vanquished Norwich and ted the Black Panthers with a orn opposition. St. Michael's, on ther hand, was trounced by Mid y. Vermont's sturdy showing st Springfield, one of the fastest nations in the East, adds much or of the Green and Gold.

is expected that the Purple will a much stronger team than they in the last game. Manning, a le guard who has been suffer from injury in the early part of eason, looked good against Spring- and will probably take his old tion tonight. "Tim" Halligan, the ant forward and Captain Esta- at guard will be in the pink of tion. Sargent and Wallace will pivot and forward respectively.

ere are two men that the Green Gold will have to watch, Slattery Capt. O'Brien. The former, at ard, is a clever shot and handles ball skillfully. It was he who in the winning goal in the period at St. Michael's. O'Brien eady floor worker and directs his m in a clever manner.

GODDARD SEM. FALTERS IN OVERTIME PERIOD

ed to play a five-minute over- period to break a tie at the end second half, the Vermont fresh- quintet finally defeated Goddard ary on the latter's home floor score of 31 to 30. This was ly as close and exciting a game Frosh have played this season e end of the first half the score 13 to 11 in favor of the Kittens, hen the gun went off to finish the ras the count was 27 to 27. In overtime period the Frosh ed four points while the Semi boys fell short with only three pper. Winant and Taft did the of the scoring for Vermont. Hymanson and Kraham, both s, netted most of the points for rd Seminary.

result of this game gives the s a total of five wins out of starts.

summary:

FROSH

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
r. l. f.	4	1	9
t. r. f.	4	0	8
s, c., l. g.	2	2	6
c.	0	0	0
l g.	3	2	8
l. r. g.	0	0	0
r. r. g.	0	0	0
Totals	13	5	31

GODDARD SEMINARY

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
l f.	2	1	5
ay, r f.	1	2	4
c	2	1	5
ke, c.	0	0	0
ison, l. g.	3	2	8
am r g.	3	2	8
r g.	0	0	0
Totals	11	8	30

me—8-min. quarters and 5-min. me

CAT'S MEOW

—SPORTING EDITOR—

St Michael's at the Burlington High Gym tonight'

The Purple will have a large cheering section on hand and there ought to be something doing every minute

The Winooski team has made this game its objective—two wins over Vermont in the same season would be an achievement

Capt Estabrook injured his leg in the Springfield game but will be in shape for the game tonight

Duncan was held scoreless Friday evening and that recalls a similar instance two years ago when James of the same team couldn't find the hoop for the first time in his college basketball career The Springfield stars don't have much luck here

Cameron of Springfield has been seen before on the U. V. M. floor. He played for Woodstock in the Interscholastic Tourney four years ago He did a good job in place of Geesman, the regular center, who had a sprained ankle.

Kappa Sigma has been playing flashy basketball in the Interfraternity League, and, barring upsets, should cop the Key and Serpent Cup

All the colleges below the Mason and Dixon line and several above have started baseball practice.

Maryland, one of the teams on the Vermont southern trip schedule, is looking forward to a successful season All but two of last year's letter men have returned.

The M. I. T.-Providence basketball game, scheduled for last Saturday night, was cancelled on account of a disagreement concerning officials. The Boston fans were disappointed because both schools have outstanding teams and a spectacular game had been looked forward to.

The St. Stephen's and Union hockey teams which were tentatively scheduled to play here this month will not appear. The only remaining game is with Middlebury February 23.

Football coaches are advocating a "dead ball" rule when a defensive team recovers a fumble. That would tend to do away with the value of hard tackling which has been an asset to many teams.

LINE-UP FOR TONIGHT'S GAME

Vermont		St. Michael's
Wallace	f	Slattery
Halligan	f	Shea
Sargent	c	Connally
Palmer, Manning	g	Cashman
Estabrook, Capt.	g	O'Brien, Capt

NORWICH CAPTURES SKI MEET AT NORTHFIELD

Norwich defeated Vermont and Middlebury in the Green Mountain conference ski meet held Saturday afternoon as part of the Norwich Winter Carnival program. Norwich scored 25 points, Vermont made 11, and Middlebury finished scoreless

The Cadets won first place in three of the four events. March won the cross-country race, Coane took the down-hill race and Desrosiers was first in the ski jumping. Vermont's lone first place winner was Maynes. He won the ski proficiency test. Desrosiers, with 12 points, was the meet's high man Maynes was second with eight

In the ski jumping the longest leap was made by Desrosiers His distance was 82 feet In an exhibition jump Wilson McNamara of Northfield, 14 year old school boy, made 75 feet and displayed form excelled only by Desrosiers among the college contestants

The summary:

Cross-country ski race—Won by March, Norwich; second, Desrosiers, Norwich; third, Hinckley, Norwich.

Ski proficiency test—Won by Maynes, Vermont; second, Desrosiers, Norwich; third, Thomas, Norwich

Down-hill ski race—Won by Coane Norwich; second, Maynes, Vermont third, Desrosiers, Norwich

Ski jumping—Won by Desrosiers, Norwich second, Lang, Vermont third, Coane, Norwich

TUFTS COLLEGE
DENTAL SCHOOL
Founded 1867

College men and women: prepare for a profession of unlimited interest and opportunity. Research constantly enlarges the scope of every phase of dentistry. The best demands more than mere skill; men and women of ability, backed by superior training. Such training Tufts College Dental School offers to its students. School opens on September 23, 1929. Our catalog will assist you in choosing your career. For information address—

DR. WILLIAM REID, Dean
416 Huntington Avenue Boston, Mass.

FROSH WIN AGAIN FROM STRONG Y. M. H. A. TEAM

Yearlings Use Criss-Cross Offense Effectively—Show More Power Than Score Indicates But Miss Easy Shots

In the preliminary to the Springfield-Vermont game Friday night, "Sunny" Prentice's Kittens came out on the long end of a close score when they defeated the Y M H A to the tune of 13-11 Both teams were ragged at times and the game was distinguished by the erratic shooting on both sides, as can be seen from the very low scores During the first half both teams had many clean set shots that were missed, and the fact that the Kittens had but one field goal and Y M H A but three in that period speaks for itself

However, the play was furious, with the ball changing hands every few seconds and travelling from one end of the floor to the other The game was pretty slow in getting started and it was quite a few minutes before either team could get into the scoring column, but at last Rosenthal broke the ice and sent a long high one through the hoop. A few minutes later Winant, too, found the basket

Rosenthal reciprocated by tossing another twin counter Foul points by Tupper and Bowers and a field goal by Glasston ended the scoring for the period

The second half was somewhat more interesting to watch Both teams got away to an early start with field goals by Taft and Rosenthal. Tupper sank a set shot, and Glasston collected another point from the free try line A brace of foul points by Taft gave the Kittens a one-point lead and B Cohen sent a long high one toward the basket which went through without touching the rim for the final score by the visitors A long scrimmage followed and Tilly popped one into the net, giving the Frosh a lead of one point A foul shot by Tupper ended the game.

After they got under way the Kittens put up a fine battle Coach Prentice has made a speedy passing team out of the material that he had, and the improvement of the quintet since the first of the season has been very noticeable The Frosh have learned how to pass fast and accurately with the result that they have very little difficulty in working the ball down the floor However, their shooting weakness then becomes apparent for they haven't shown up so well in this department of the game

Prentice has built up a remarkable defense about Taft and Tilly, the regular guards So far this season they have managed to hold every team that they have played to low scores Capt Winant has distinguished himself with his floor work and Bowers has proved himself an asset in the pivot position

The Summary

VERMONT 1932

	Gls	Fls	Pts
Tupper, r. f.	1	2	4
Winant, l. f.	1	0	2
Bowers, c.	0	1	1
Taft, r g.	1	2	4
Tilly, l g.	1	0	2
Bedell, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	4	5	13

Y. M. H. A.

	Gls	Fls	Pts
M Cohen, l g	0	0	0
Bloomenthal, l. g.	0	0	0
Brown, r. g.	0	0	0
Glasston, c.	1	1	3
Rosenthal, l. g.	3	0	6
B. Cohen, l. g.	1	0	2
Totals	5	1	11

Referee Colding Scorer Averill Timer DeRose Time—Two 10 and two 5-min periods

Fast Springfield Five Wins Game 23 to 18

(Continued from page 1)

from the basket to do much shooting themselves Captain Duncan put up a beautiful floor game but he was unable to get by Palmer and put the ball through the loop

First Half

The game started off with a bang when Cameron shot one through the netting from the sidelines and a few minutes later Ackerman sank a single counter through the basket on a personal by Estabrook Then the Catamounts thought that a hurricane struck them and their opponents ran up two more baskets in lightning like order one by Cook and one by Cameron The surprised Vermonters called for time out to get their bearings and find out what was the matter but it didn't do much good for right after the rest period Ackerman sneaked under the basket and popped another one making the count 9-0 Bornstein went in for Wallace and the little forward Gustafson went into the game to take the place of Ackerman Then after a long scrimmage Halligan sent one through the net for two points, the only ones that the Catamounts managed together during the period Shirey went in for Cameron and immediately showed that he wasn't so bad by dropping the ball into the basket for the last score of the period Estabrook got into a mix up and withdrew from the contest in favor of Manning, a few minutes before the gun went off signifying the close of the period The score stood 11-2, at the end of the most disheartening period that the Catamounts have played through this season

Second Half

The Cats went into the second half with the firm determination to do or die and there was a long scrimmage before Knecht scored a point on a personal foul by Halligan and Cook followed suit making the score 14-2 Then the Vermonters got under way at last, and Wallace sent a long spiral through the basket for two points Palmer crashed through next and sent a twin counter through and immediately afterward Manning did the same on a beautiful pass from Halligan Elerin entered the game again in place of Cook, but the Catamounts could not be stopped then, and Palmer sank two foul goals in quick succession on personals by Duncan Immediately afterwards Wallace sent a one-handed shot spinning through the net There was a short rest period, and Elerin opened hostilities with a foul shot on a personal by Wallace Ackerman scored for the first time in the second half and Sargent sent a long one through the loop but this was neutralized by another basket by Ackerman

The frenzied fans were screaming for the final spurt that would put Vermont in the lead, and for a while it looked as though the team would oblige for Palmer collected another point from the foul line and Wallace looped another floor goal Manning collected another point from the free try stripe, and the final gun resounded with the score 23-18 in favor of the visitors

It was one of the fastest and cleanest games that has taken place on the gym floor this year and if the Catamounts had only gained their stride a little earlier in the game there might have been a different story As it was they put up a battle in the second half that will long be remembered

The summary

VERMONT

	Gls	Fls	Pts
Halligan, r f	1	0	2
Wallace, l f	3	0	6
Bernstein, l f	0	0	0
Sargent, c	1	0	2
Estabrook, r g	0	0	0
Manning, l g	1	1	4
Palmer, l g	1	3	5
Totals	7	4	18

SEMINARY

	Gls	Fls	Pts
Duncan, r f	0	0	0
Ackerman, l f	3	2	8
Gustafson, l f	0	0	0
Cameron, c, r f	2	0	4
Shirey, c	2	2	6
Cook, r g	2	1	5
Elerin, l g	0	1	1
Knecht, l g	0	1	1
Totals	9	5	25

Referee Ball Umpire Herrick Scorer Gray Timer Worrell Time 20-min halves

SEXTET VICTORIOUS IN NORWICH MATCH 2 TO 0

Last Saturday afternoon the Green and Gold hockey team broke through the Norwich sextet at Northfield to win by the score of 2-0 This is the first win on the ice for Vermont The team as a whole showed marked improvement over previous games Considering the narrow defeat of 1-0 by Middlebury last Wednesday the Vermont freemen indicate that they are just hitting their stride

The second period was the big one for Vermont Early in this frame Lawrence shot a neat goal past the Norwich defense for the first counter Mercier duplicated the feat several minutes later and this was all the scoring that was done during the entire game

In the third period a whole new forward line was put in for the Catamounts Marvin replaced Segal at center and Thompson and Howard played at right wing and left wing respectively This new line-up showed up well for the few minutes that it functioned

This game was one of the features of the annual Norwich Winter Carnival Next Saturday the Catamounts go to Middlebury to meet the Blue and White

The summary

Vermont		Norwich
Scharman (Thompson)	r w
	r w	Hamm
Segal (Marvin)	c
	c (Bastian) (Hurley)	Walnlig
Mercier (Howard)	l w
	l w (McKennon)	O'Bryne
Lawrence (Duncault)	r d
	r d	Youngerman
Collins	l d
	l d (Crocker) (Barney)	Hourin
Hendrick	g	g Fullerton

Score—Vermont 2 Norwich 0
Goals—Lawrence Mercier

THOSE ROCKING CHAIRS

Professor I'll not go on with the lecture until the room settles down.

The Stumble One Better go home and sleep it off, old man M I T Voo Doo

TWENTY DOLLARS

This sum will purchase any overcoat remaining in the store.

Sizes 35 to 42

HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

IN THE RUSH
OF THE KAKE WALK FESTIVITIES
DON'T MISS THE SPECIAL ATTRACTION OF University Novelties
at the
UNIVERSITY STORES

Fraternity Basketball

Four teams, Delta Psi, Phi Mu Delta, Kappa Sigma, and Sigma Nu, remain in the Interfraternity tournament after the quarter final round was played this week. These teams came out on top after strenuous games and will play in the semi-finals next week. On February 25, Phi Mu Delta faces Delta Psi and on the following day Kappa Sigma and Sigma Nu meet.

Summaries of quarter finals.

Delta Psi 17—Phi Sigma Delta 16

Delta Psi

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Corbin, l. f.	1	0	2
Marvin, r. f.	2	0	4
Park, c.	2	0	4
Taft, l. g.	3	1	7
Macomber, r. g.	0	0	0
Totals	8	1	17

Phi Sigma Delta

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Kovatz, r. f.	2	0	4
[illegible]	1	0	1
[illegible]	1	0	2
[illegible], r. g.	1	1	3
Hershberg, r. g.	0	0	0
Berry, l. g.	0	1	1
Eisenman, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	7	2	16

Referee—Wendt.

Kappa Sigma 33—Tau Epsilon Phi 12

Kappa Sigma

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Winant, r. f.	4	0	8
Creaser, r. f.	0	0	0
Chadwick, l. f.	1	3	5
Richmond, l. f.	0	0	0
Durfey, c.	3	1	7
Bowers, c.	1	0	2
Cummings, r. g.	1	0	2
Tilley, r. g.	0	0	0
Otto, l. g.	3	3	9
Meehan, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	13	7	33

Tau Epsilon Phi

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Klewitch, r. f.	0	0	0
Nathanson, r. f.	0	0	0
Baker, l. f.	1	0	2
Broudy, l. f.	0	1	1
Agel, c.	1	2	5
Waterman, r. g., r. f.	1	0	2
Gournon, r. g.	0	0	0
Pelofsky, r. g.	0	0	0
Schechtman, l. g.	0	3	2
Totals	3	6	12

Referee—Wendt.

Phi Mu Delta 18—Alpha Tau Omega 16

Phi Mu Delta

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Proctor, l. f.	2	1	7
Stempler, r. f.	0	2	2
Stone, r. f.	0	1	1
Claim, c.	1	0	2
Rojenski, l. g.	0	0	0
Cloud, l. g.	0	0	0
Manning, r. g.	3	0	6
Arnold, r. g.	0	0	0
Totals	7	4	18

Alpha Tau Omega

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Fiske, r. f.	1	0	2
Bond, r. f.	1	0	2
Muzzy, r. f.	0	1	1
A. Donnelly, l. f.	0	2	2
Kendrick, c.	0	0	0
Bjorn, c.	1	0	2
W. Donnelly, r. g.	1	1	3
Dorey, l. g.	1	2	4
Totals	5	6	16

Referee—Wendt.

Sigma Nu 41—Sigma Delta 36

Sigma Nu

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Bedell, r. f.	5	0	10
Wright, r. g.	0	0	0
Slavin, l. g.	2	1	5
Aiken, l. g.	1	0	2
Hyland, c.	8	0	16
Phillips, c.	0	0	0
Maynes, r. f.	2	0	4
Kerney, l. f.	2	0	4
Totals	20	1	41

Sigma Delta

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
T. Shoutakos, r. f.	5	2	12
Barter, l. f.	2	1	5
Chamberlin, c.	0	0	0
Tilley, c.	4	0	8
T. Shoutakos, r. g.	1	0	2
Calcagni, r. g.	0	0	0
Neff, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	12	3	27

Referee—Bernstein.

Kake Walk is Now Three Days Away

(Continued from page 1)

Som limped alonge, and som went smouth as oyle,
Som peynted were as any ballet mayde
And some with charcoal blacke as the ace of spade."

The first Kake Walk was said to be "rather wild"; some called it weird and still others added "no ladies present." Similar events were held during the following years but were suppressed by the faculty because of the suggestion of mystery and scandal which attached to these affairs. But several resourceful students decided to turn these events into profit and on November 12, 1897, they held a "Kollud Koon's Kake Walk" with the approval of some alumni and President Buckham. That evening the armory was filled. The Howard Opera House Orchestra furnished the music for the walk and dance following. The Hay Fall Football Team, DeWolfe Hopper Opera Company and Rev. Ebenezer Johnson and Family won pieces of cake in the order named.

There have been four distinct steps in the development of the Kake Walk. First was the impromptu stage when it was a private affair; the second was in the armory days; the third was when the fraternities began putting on stunts with very little preparation. the fourth stage is the present era of careful planning and elaborate detail in execution, and dates from 1908.

For many years the Walkin' fo' de Kake was the chief event of the evening, which won the best prize. During the evening that ensued there was held a peerade into which any group of men who so desired might enter a stunt. The entertainment was very informal until 1905. In 1908, Clark C. Briggs, '94, offered a cup to the fraternity which should present the best stunt. Besides the Briggs cup the winning fraternity gets a large cake, and there are numerous other awards.

In 1912 Sub-Freshman Week was introduced. The big event for amusement was the annual Kake Walk and high school students were invited from all the larger schools. Key and Serpent provided rooms for the sub-freshmen while in Burlington. Until 1914 dancing concluded the program.

The prize awards for 1928 were as follows:

Walkin' fo' de Kake

First—Phi Delta Theta. Nelson B. Gray, '30, and Charles N. DeRose, '30.

Second—Sigma Phi. Corbin C. Lyman, '29, and Kellogg W. Kyle, '28.

The Stunts

First—Phi Delta Theta. "Transformatory Phantasmagoria."

Second—Tau Epsilon Phi. "There's One Born Every Minute."

The Peerade

First—Delta Psi. "Old Ironsides."

Second—Sigma Delta. "Air, Land, and Water."

Committees in Charge

Two directors and two assistants have charge of Kake Walk activities each year. Watson Rogers and Frank O'Keefe, both seniors, are acting as directors this year with two juniors, J. C. Puffer and R. G. Hawley as assistants. Last December they released the names of the following committee members:

Ushering: L. C. Morgan, '29, chairman, D. M. Johnson '29, A. W. Clain '30, C. W. Capron '30, A. G. Sirois '30, F. S. Smith '31, and F. A. McBride '31.

Seating: C. C. Macomber '29, chairman, E. G. Fiske '29, L. R. Robinson '29, C. H. Mace '30, L. W. Meehan '30, H. W. Adams '31, G. E. Brush '31, and R. J. Maynes '31.

Lighting: F. L. Sullaway '29, chairman, G. Aiken '29, F. E. Beckley '30, R. A. Dailey '30, and R. F. Bigwood '31.

Advertising: A. R. Birchard '29, chairman, C. C. Lyman '29, H. M. Macomber '30, R. M. Tracy '30, L. O. Clayton '30, and C. N. Crockett '31.

Stunts: E. W. Knapp '29, chairman, B. W. Gustafson '29, J. R. Carrigan '30, A. O. Aronson '30, and S. F. McQuestion '31.

Peerade: K. L. Price '29, chairman, J. E. Donnelly '29, P. E. Manning '30, and W. E. Craig '31.

Kake Walking: F. R. Otto '29, chairman, H. K. Borkland '30, R. W. Lawrence '30, and F. A. Bolles '31.

Announcer: J. P. Hyland, '29.

Nocturnal Football

Night football will come into national prominence in 1929, according to an article in the March College Humor. Several schools have played football at night in the past as an experiment, and so satisfactory were the results that it is believed that night football has come to stay.

At least it will be brought into the national spotlight next November when Coach Knute K. Rockne's Notre Dame eleven meets Coach O. M. Solem's Drake University Missouri Valley eleven, at Soldiers Field, Chicago. It will be Chicago's first night game of football. There will be brilliant pyrotechnics. There will be spectacular devices never before thought of in connection with a gridiron contest. Just imagine the team on defense trying to solve the mysteries of the hidden ball at night. It is hard enough to follow the ball in bright daylight, so Chicago is expected to turn out to the tune of one hundred thousand spectators to view this battle.

Two other Missouri Valley conference schools are considering nocturnal equipment for the 1929 season, and it won't be long before night football will become popular.

CORNSTALK BOOK GOES TO UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Billings Library of the University of Vermont has received the first book ever printed on cornstalk paper. The book is entitled "Farm Products in Industry" and was written by George M. Rommel.

In fact, "Farm Products in Industry" is not only the first book to be printed on cornstalk paper, but it is the first book to be published on this subject. It is the first commercial demonstration of the practicability of an entirely new paper.

The industrial utilization of farm wastes of which the corn stalk is an example, is a problem of the greatest significance to the entire American public. The development of manufacturing processes and market outlets for the complete absorption of waste materials would add the large sum of $1,500,000,000 a year to the income of the farmer.

The data on which "Farm Products in Industry" is based, were assembled by the author in the course of a survey of the problem of farm waste undertaken at the invitation of the Hon. William M. Jardine, Secretary of Agriculture. Among the cooperating agencies were thirteen federal bureaus, thirteen state agricultural experiment stations, fourteen national scientific and trade associations and thirty-five industrial organizations. Forestry, live stock, cotton, corn, wheat, cane and the minor crops are considered to discover what proportion are now being utilized and what further proportions can be turned into profit for the farmer and the industrialists.

WIG AND BUSKIN CHOSE NINE NEW MEMBERS

Six new members along with three managers were elected to Wig and Buskin, the men's honorary dramatic society, at a meeting held at the Delta Psi House Wednesday evening, February 13.

E. W. Knapp, '29 of Quincy, Mass., C. H. Overly, '29 of Burlington, B. Baker, '31 of Roxbury, Mass., H. D. Butterfield, '31 of Burlington, J. F. Garfield, '31 of Middleboro, Mass., and H. M. Sheffield, '31 of St. Johnsbury, were formally elected to membership in the dramatic society. They have all taken part in some college play whether the fall or Junior Week play. Freshmen who took part in the play this fall are not eligible to membership in their first year.

At the same time, the three managers for the annual Junior Week play were elected. W. H. Burr, '30 of Barre, was chosen business manager, Franklin A. Sears, '30 of Brattleboro, advertising manager, and F. H. Woodward, '30 of Fitchburg, Mass., properties manager. These three members of the business staff automatically became members of the society.

President B. W. Gustafson set a tentative date for the initiation of the new members and the annual banquet on Wednesday, March 6. It was decided to hold the formal banquet at Hotel Vermont where it has been held for the past few years.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 597-W
T. P. O'HARA
TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING
170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

RAND'S HOME LUNCH
64 COLCHESTER AVE.
Where you get the most of the best for the least
HOME COOKING
OUR SPECIALTY
Phone 2945

R. O. T. C. BAND PEPPING UP SWEET COTTON BABES

Considerable work has been done by the crack Vermont R. O. T. C. band to render lively musical selections at the Kake Walk performances which will take place this week-end. The strains of "Cotton Babes" have been throbbing among the corridors of Converse Hall and fairly set all the frosh imprisoned there to prancing about wildly and with a foolish air, throwing their feet high up into empty space and near upsetting their frosh equilibrium in their merriment.

"Cotton Babes" is Kake Walk, and Kake Walk means "Cotton Babes." The band will put forth its best efforts to make the very gym walls themselves shake with its tune. But there are other pieces, too, which will be played by the band and much work has been put upon them. It seems as though Kake Walk audiences this year will be treated to snappy, lively musical airs, which are after all half of Kake Walk, for it takes those jazzy, syncopating pieces to drive the listeners off their feet and set them to dancing.

AIRPLANE OFFERED IN ESSAY PRIZE CONTEST

C. F. Blair, a student of the University of Vermont, is attempting to win a 4-year university scholarship in aeronautics, or Eaglerock airplane, offered this spring by the Alexander Aircraft company to the American undergraduate who reveals the deepest insight and practical imagination in aeronautics.

A remarkably close understanding of the new industry characterizes papers submitted by students of 183 colleges and universities. Several novel sales ideas are being used to advantage by the Alexander Aircraft Co. The response indicates that thousands of undergraduates seriously consider the new aircraft industry as their intended vocation.

As an added incentive Massachusetts Airways, Eaglerock distributors for New England, will award a free 10-hour flying course, worth approximately $300, to the college student in its territory who makes the best effort to win the award. Flight instruction manuals will be given other students who place high. The competition closes May 1.

The Alexander Aircraft company is conducting the contest as a means of interesting more young men and women in flying and in the aero industry as a field of future activity. Within the last year commercial aircraft factories have virtually scrambled for the services of college trained aeronautical engineers and aeronautical executives. The shortage has forced a number of new companies to import engineers from Germany and England.

Members of the Newman Club, for Catholic students at the University, held their regular monthly meeting and breakfast in the Cathedral High School gymnasium following the eight o'clock mass at the St. Mary's Cathedral last Sunday morning.

For Fine Home Made Candies
Go to the
BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP
Special Price on Ice Cream for Fraternities

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
ESTABLISHED 1896 QUALITY LAUNDRY SERVICE
LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES
NEW HAVEN, CONN.
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

NOTICES

Professor Bennett, announces the Glee Clubs are still trying out the opera to be given at a [illegible] date.

Final notice is given to the co-ed the junior class by the Women's E of the 1930 Ariel Board: Any mem who has not passed in her [illegible] signment, photograph, snapshot, questionnaire will not appear in Ariel. This dictum is necessary account of the lack of cooperat Since there are about forty g which have not been passed in, with other material, February 23rd been chosen as the last day on w to fulfill the requirements. Any j who cannot possibly do this should her excuse to Janice Goodrich.

More snapshots, especially thos the Fall Field Day, are needed i athletic section; any co-ed who some and will put them in the Box for use, will be helping the book staff greatly. Pictures of Winter Carnival, held February 16 also be appreciated.

A debating team will leave on M 15, immediately after the Cowboy bate, on a tour through Massachu and New York. Tryouts for both debate with Howard Payne College those to be taken on tour are held shortly. All men intending t out must report immediately to C Powers at the Y. M. C. A. office.

Tickets for the St. Michael's tonight may be procured at either Old Mill Book Store or the Me Book Store. Regular Student Se Tickets will not admit to the gam

Classes will meet as usual Fr February 22, but will omit on S day, February 23.

Candidates for varsity debate wish to try out for places on the ing schedule of intercollegiate de will meet in the Old Mill Chap 4 p.m., Thursday, February 21. pared to speak five minutes on e side of the following question: solved that the American jury sy be abolished.

The fact that students sign peti without knowing their content shown at the University of Calif when more than six hundred stu unwittingly subscribed to a de "that be we drawn and quartere the steps of Wheeler Hall if our tion for a vacation is not gra The "joker" clause was concealed way in the body of the petiti Banta's Greek Exchange.

Old Fellow (who has been re from the River Dee): Thank yo man: I will remember you in my Scotch Rescuer: Weel, how a cutting me off now with a shil —Wesleyan Wo

Pipe Smoker Has a "Kick" All His Ow

St. Paul, M
June 1, 192

Larus & Bro. Co.
Richmond, Va.
Gentlemen:
About five years ago, after try out many different styles of p from the Missouri meerschaum to genuine meerschaum, including upside-down style made popular Vice-President Dawes, and exp menting with just about all the baccos then on the market ex Edgeworth, I finally decided that p smoking was not for me.
For the last year or so I noticed boys around the office here u Edgeworth to the exclusion of other tobaccos and evidently get real pleasure from their p
In April of this year I was on a business trip and de to another whirl at pipe-smoking invested a good share of my sav in a pipe and a few cents additio for a can of Edgeworth.
From then on I have been fig tively kicking myself around the h about once each day when I think the five lean years I put in trying get along without a pipe. However am trying to make up for lost t and am succeeding quite well. W I failed to try Edgeworth long ago have to go down in history as unsolved question. But now tha have found it, the years ahead l rosy to me.
Very truly yours,
Ben Bay

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

KAKE WALK ISSUE of The Vermont Cynic

WATSON F. ROGERS
Director of thirty-second annual Kake Walk

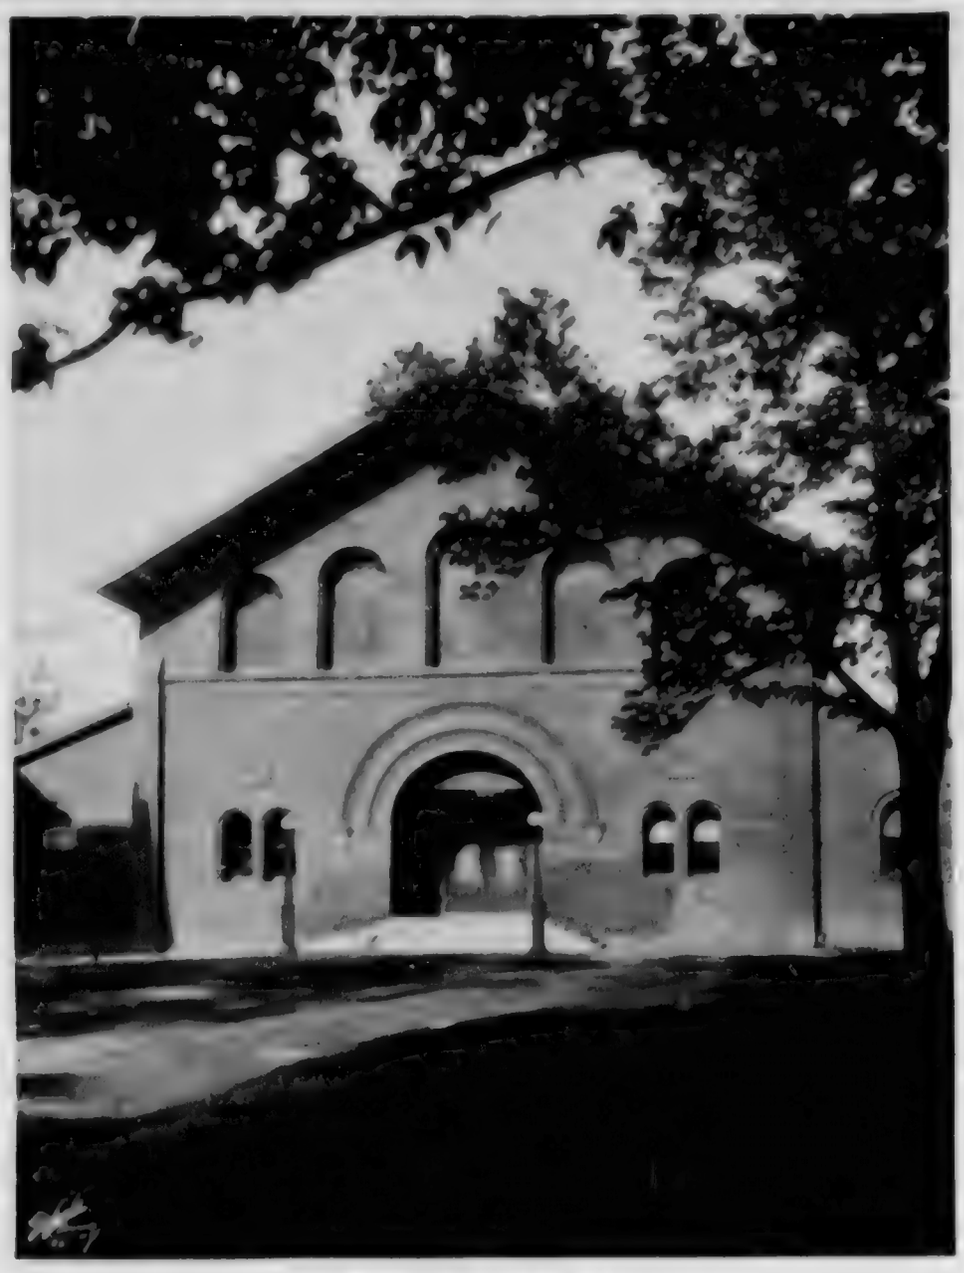
GUY W. BAILEY
President of the University and an ardent supporter of Kake Walk.

FRANK P. O'NEIL
Director of thirty-second annual Kake Walk

JAMES C. PUFFER
Assistant Director of 1929 Kake Walk

ROLLIN G. HAWLEY
Assistant Director of 1929 Kake Walk

FRANK R. OTTO
Chairman of Kake Walking Committee



ARTHUR R. BIRCHARD
Chairman of Advertising Committee

KENNETH L. PRICE
Chairman of Parade Committee

JOHN P. MAGUIRE
Assistant Kake Walk Parade

University Gymnasium

Where the Thanksgiving and Annual Kake Walk festivities are taking place

Prizes Awarded

Winning couples waiting for the distribution of the awards

Bertel W. Gustafson

Manager of Varsity Basketball

Winning Stunt Last Year

Phi Delta Theta took first prize with the Ego-Transmigrator.

Museum

Where many unique and famed exhibitions are possessed

Converse Hall

Freshman dormitory where many of the visitors are lodged during their stay at the University.

Vermont Campus

A view of the campus taken in mid winter from the corner of Pearl and Prospect streets.

Koon Kutups

The last of the Koon Kutups: Sigma Phi, winner of the prize in 1923.

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 | BURLINGTON, VERMONT, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1929 | NUMBER 35

Humor, Pathos, Mystery In Vermont's Midwinter Frolic

Originated as Rare Form of Entertainment in 1894—Has Developed from Simple Walkin' fo' de Kake to Present Position as Outstanding Vermont Institution

DIRECTORS ANTICIPATE RECORD ATTENDANCE

[illegible] and tomorrow, February [illegible] 23, the University of Ver[illegible] Kake Walk will take its preemi[illegible] place in the annals of college [illegible] tainments. Kake Walk is an alto[illegible] original form of eruption of [illegible] spirit. Other colleges have [illegible]ately planned smokers, "pee[illegible]" and other entertainment, but [illegible] remains that the Kake Walk is [illegible] in the college world of the [illegible] and present. Wherever there [illegible]ween colleges a certain amount [illegible]rest" has existed. It was shown [illegible] Vermont before Civil War days, [illegible] each year, the boys went [illegible]rough a series of military tactics. [illegible] practice quickly degenerated into [illegible] sort of "peerade" always winding [illegible] with ridiculous exercises at the [illegible] Hall. Some years later it became [illegible] custom for the seniors and juniors [illegible] put on a fantastic minstrel show [illegible] evening before the Freshman-Soph[illegible] football game. These events [illegible] in no sense the forerunner of [illegible] Kake Walk. They simply show [illegible] Vermont has always had "pep" [illegible] accordance with the nature of the [illegible]

First Kake Walk in 1894

[illegible] first Kake Walk occurred in [illegible] winter of 1893-94. Dr. E. G. Ran[illegible] writing in the Cynic of March 16, [illegible] says of it: "F. T. Sharp, after [illegible] conference with a few of us in [illegible] South College, wrote a poster [illegible]ing all those who might be inter[illegible]ed to partake in a Kake Walk to [illegible]ld in the old 'drill hall' under the [illegible] the next evening." (This drill [illegible] has since been divided into the [illegible] occupied by the college store, [illegible]partment of education and offices.) [illegible] nature of the festivity was left to [illegible] ingenuity of the participants and [illegible] spontaneity with which all classes [illegible]ered into the affair augured well [illegible] its perpetuity as a college custom. [illegible] little was done in the way of [illegible]oration of the hall. Lanterns and [illegible] were produced to help out the [illegible]mination. A goodly cake, notwith[illegible]ding it was an issue of the 'hash [illegible] was provided. To quote from [illegible] Cynic Triel:

"[illegible]e squeeking fiddles, a melodium [illegible] a trombone of brasse fournished [illegible]oon. And mery was the musik [illegible]ey played, and joyous was the [illegible] as any mayde.'

"[illegible]e were couples from the high[illegible] military glory to the most ab[illegible] barbarism of the South Sea [illegible]s. There were highly tinted but [illegible]y ballet maids, howbeit of mas[illegible] proportions, clowns and gypsies [illegible]y was the order of the day and [illegible]body did stunts. The Kake Walk [illegible] was the concluding event. A [illegible]ession of couples marched around [illegible] hall several times, and then each [illegible] separately doing their gro[illegible] best. There is no recollec[illegible] of [illegible] cake's being won and it is be[illegible] that the whole company [illegible] and incontinently devoured it.

Featured by Clever Posters

[illegible] were advertised at first as min[illegible]nows but they resembled vaude[illegible]more. One of the first posters was not for a public exhibition)

"[illegible]ere will be a Kake Walk in [illegible]mory T'Night. Ebery-body kum. [illegible]t Kost you Nuffin'. Laborate [illegible]ments Will be Serbed Durin' de [illegible]." The posters have always [illegible]arky characteristics and words [illegible]as "Koonville," "Coonlet Quar[illegible] together with darky pictures [illegible]s because, when the entertain[illegible] was originated, coon-songs, coon[illegible]ses, coon-everything was the [illegible] and the idea has been retained. [illegible]re have been four stages in the [illegible]ion of the Kake Walk. The [illegible]as the impromptu stage, when [illegible]s a private affair. The second [illegible] the Armory days, the third [illegible] when the fraternities began put[illegible]n stunts, which, however, were

(Continued on page 4)

TRI-STATE CONTEST FOR LITERARY LAURELS IS NOW WELL UNDER WAY

Students of Vermont, Maine and New Hampshire Take Part in Annual Competition—Nine Prizes in All

Announcement is made that the 1929 annual tri-state literary contest is under way. This literary contest was established by the University of Vermont, Maine and New Hampshire three years ago, with competitors for honors in short story writing, essays and poetry. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 are awarded to the three best entries in each type of writing.

The restrictions for submitted articles are lenient enough to warrant attempts by many aspiring authors. Short stories may consist of simple and plotless narrative sketches as well as the more conventional type. A limit of 5,000 words has been fixed as the maximum length of stories. Poetry not to exceed 100 lines in length, but of any type or style is eligible. The essays are to be of the familiar, conversational or personal kind as illustrated by the works of Holmes, Irving and Stevenson, as opposed to the type associated with MacCauley, Arnold and Emerson.

The English Department wants all the poems, short stories and essays handed in to them by March 15. They will select three of each kind to be sent in to the contest. Also one copy is all that is necessary when they are handed in to this Department but three copies will be necessary when they are sent.

U. V. M. Won 1928 Tri-College Contest

From the cream of the literary work of three colleges, the University of Maine, the University of New Hampshire, and the University of Vermont, the Green and Gold scored one first and two ties for first. The University of New Hampshire was second with two third places and tying for two firsts, and the University of Maine, third.

In the short story class, Metta E. Munro, '28, of Vermont and Elizabeth M. Ahern of New Hampshire tied for first place, dividing first and second prize money, each capturing $20. Miss Munro's story was entitled "By Correspondence School Out" and Miss Ahern's "Decision."

In the essays, Anna K. Perkins, '28, of Vermont, won first honors and $25 with her essay entitled "Tourists as I Have Known Them."

Wilmond W. Parker, '29, of Vermont, with his poem, "Coasting with Sally," and Dorothy P. Duncklee of New Hampshire with "To Dusk," divided first honors and prizes, each winning $20.

Tri-State Contest Rules

1. All contributions must be in triplicate and in typewritten form.

(Continued on page 6)

BAND MEMBERS PLAN SMOKER NEXT MONTH

The R. O. T. C. Band will hold a smoker in the band rooms the first week in March. Doughnuts and coffee will be served. The plans are not all completed yet but a good time for all is assured.

The freshman class has finished the course in Military Hygiene which it has been pursuing since mid-years and will now take up Platoon and Infantry Drill. An examination in Military Hygiene was held Thursday.

The junior class has finished its study of the machine gun and is now studying the 37mm. and French mortar gun under the tutelage of Lieutenant Fredericks.

GREY FRIARS DRAWS UP PLANS FOR THE YEAR

Plans for the rest of the year took up a considerable portion of the time at the last meeting of Grey Friars men's literary society, held last Saturday evening in the radio building. The reading of several manuscripts, essays, short stories, and poems, written by the members of the society constituted the remaining business which was transacted by the society at the meeting.

It was decided that the society would help foster the tri-college literary contest that has been conducted for several years and that each member would submit material to the contest. The society also decided to subscribe to the Writer's Digest and the Writer's Monthly, both publications of interest to the members, and a committee of three, Sam Barker, Edmeur Germain and Professor Leon Dean, was appointed to draw up a list of books for the society to purchase, and to make arrangements with the Billings Library so that a shelf would be reserved in the library for the society.

In place of the regular monthly suppers, it was voted that the aims of the society would be best realized by having informal luncheons at which special speakers would be invited. Informal luncheons would make possible a closer contact between the members of the society and the invited guests it was thought. Wilmond Parker and Robert Stewart were appointed a committee of two to secure speakers for the next meeting at which special speakers will be present, following the next meeting, which will take the form of a supper and at which Professors Groat and Lautsch will be in attendance.

CO-ED DEBATERS TO GO ON SHORT TRIP

Will Meet Mount Saint Vincent College, New Rochelle College, and New Jersey State College

JANICE GOODRICH AND FRANCES HOWLEY TO GO

The University of Vermont co-ed debating team composed of two veteran debaters, Janice Goodrich, '30, and Frances Howley, '29, will leave on Tuesday, March 26, to debate with several colleges. Their first debate will be with Mount Saint Vincent College in New York City on the day following their departure. On Thursday they will debate with New Rochelle College at New Rochelle, Long Island. Their next and last debate on this trip will be with New Jersey State College at New Brunswick, N. J., on Friday, March 29. They will then return to Burlington on Sunday of that week.

The question which they will debate is the prevalent college one: "Resolved, that the jury system be abolished." The coeds will have the affirmative side of the question throughout the three debates. A three-judge decision will be in effect in all the debates. The popular American style is to be used—each speaker having twelve minutes for presentation, and five minutes for rebuttal.

These two coed debaters formed the debating team which went to Providence, R. I., last spring to debate with Pembroke on the question of the United States policy in Nicaragua. The same girls won from the University of Maine at Rutland on the Nicaraguan question by a vote of two to one. This last mentioned debate took place the latter part of last winter. Also with Mabel Freeman, '30, these girls defeated Dartmouth unanimously last December on the "co-ed" question.

Not only are the two girls proficient in the forensic art but they also take an active interest in multitudinous activities of the University of Vermont. It is interesting to note that while one of them is principaly interested in athletic activities, the other is chiefly concerned with literary

(Continued on page 4)

Cats Snatch Rubber From Purple Horseshoe Quintet

St. Michael's Ties With Long Shots but Vermont Wins in Overtime by Superior Floor Work—Final Score 33 to 29

SLATTERY STARS AGAIN FOR WINOOSKI COLLEGE

In the rubber game with St. Michael's last Tuesday night Vermont emerged victoriously by the score of 33 to 29. Each team had won a contest previously and this game was played in the Burlington High School gym to settle the question of supremacy between the two quintets. A five-minute overtime period was necessary to break a tie at the end of the regular playing time and in this period Vermont made five points to St. Michael's one. At the end of the first half the score stood 13 to 10 in favor of the Purple, but when the gun went off at the end of the second half, the score was tied at 28. Then in the extra period the Green and Gold came forward with a sensational spurt to win.

The game was a fight from start to finish and the outcome was always in doubt. There was no stalling or delaying, both teams played at top speed every minute. The players' keen desire to win and close following of the ball made the game somewhat rough. Fifteen fouls were called on Vermont and eleven on St. Michael's.

From a Vermont point of view the Green and Gold showed all that could be desired. Every man was in the game to give his best and every one played the best game of the season. Sargent, the lanky center, showed up especially well and was the high scorer with 9 points. He was accurate on his long shots and his height was an advantage to him in shooting under the basket and getting the tap. Captain Estabrook did not start the game on account of his knee injury but entered toward the end of the first half and played until the finish. He played a remarkable defensive game. Time and again he broke up the opponents' plays that looked good for baskets. Palmer was a stonewall on the defense but was sent to the showers in the second half on fouls. Halligan and Wallace at forward and Manning did a good nights work. They all had their shooting caps on.

In the extra period Manning scored one of the baskets which sewed up the game. The other was made from center court by Sargent. Throughout the game Halligan and Wallace dropped the ball through the hoop consistently. Bernstein got in the game for the last half of the second half and the overtime and came through with a basket from a tussle under the backboard.

Shea and Slattery were the chief aggressive men for St. Michael's and these two were about as slippery a pair of players as Vermont has met this season. Both were exceptionally fast and had their usual shooting eyes. Captain O'Brien at left guard was a figure that helped much toward keeping the Vermont scoring down.

First Half

Vermont started the game with a splash and within a minute Sargent had made a basket on a rebound from the backboard. Immediately he followed with a foul and then Halligan made a basket after some clever pass work. Shea got the first count for St. Michael's by shooting two fouls. Manning got a basket before Slattery broke through for St. Mike's first field goal. The Purple then got started and gathered three foul shots and a floor basket while the Catamounts got only one point. When time out was called the score stood St. Michael's 9, Vermont 3.

Soon after the game was resumed Slattery got another field goal for St. Mike's. Estabrook then came into the game to replace Manning. On Sargent's foul Wallace made two more points for Vermont. Cashman then shot a beautiful basket from the center of the floor and the half ended with the score St. Michael's 13 Vermont 10.

Second Half

Immediately after the tap-off Halligan made a basket for Vermont. Both teams tightened up and no scoring was made for several minutes. The game went on fast and furiously with not a place on either side. Finally Slattery made a field goal and then Sargent dribbled down the floor to register a two-counter for the Catamounts. Several fouls were committed

(Continued on page 5)

PROFESSORS AGREEABLY SURPRISED AT RESULTS OF STUDENTS' RECORDS

One Hundred and Sixty out of a Total of Two Hundred and Seventy Freshmen Who Entered in Good Standing

To the delightful surprise of the professors and the students, fewer people were dropped this mid-years than formerly, so far as present records show. Figures are not yet obtainable from all of the colleges but according to those already obtained the College of Arts and Sciences and the Agriculture College fared remarkably well. Of course, the records of some students are still incomplete, the number is not large enough to greatly influence the present records one way or the other.

Out of a total of 270 freshmen who enrolled in the arts college last September about 160 are at present in college in good academic standing. Four were dropped at Christmas because of low grades and fifteen on the first of February as a result of failures on examinations. There are at present about seventy-five freshmen under warning. In addition, some eighteen left college prior to mid-years, several with records which would have warranted their being dropped had they remained till mid-years. With the figures as to the number of warnings subject to slight revision, there are about 160 freshmen in good standing at this time.

These figures compare as follows with last year: out of 292 freshmen enrolling in September, 1927, five were dropped in December, twenty-two in February, and eighty-two were put under warning, leaving 190 in good standing in February, the same as this year. Thus eight fewer frosh were dropped this year. Six are now on trial as against eight last year.

The sophomore class of this year compares with that of last year very favorably. This year one sophomore was dropped at Christmas and six in February as against twelve dropped a year ago. One junior failed to make the grade this year as compared with three last year.

The number of students dropped a year ago after the examinations was approximately the same as in preceding years.

Dean Swift said that records have been kept for the two years 1922-23, 1923-24, which are practically the same. About 40 percent of those dropped for the first time during these two years returned to college and about 30 percent of these made good. Combining these two figures about one out of eight students dropped returned and made good. These figures although for only two years are probably not far from the average. Dean Swift also made this statement: "In my opinion the majority of the students dropped would have remained had they been willing to put sufficient time on their work."

In the Agriculture College only one

(Continued on page 5)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O. CLAYTON, '29
Editor-in-Chief

DERRICK M. MACOMBER, '29 — Managing Editor — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '29

PRISCILLA T. CAMPBELL, '29
Women's Editor

George E. Brush, '31 — News Editor, Louis Lisman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc. Editors: Helen L. Church, '30; Lucy R. Richardson, '30 — Sporting Editor, Seymour I. Nathanson, '30 — Asst. Sporting Editors: Lyndon M. Foster, '31; Herman D. Gussow, '31; Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor, Harriet E. Wright, '31 — Intercollegiate Editor, Odino A. Martinetti, '30 — Feature Editor, Edward J. Boyer, '30

Art Editor, Lawrence Metzger, '30 — Faculty Adviser, Prof. Leon W. Dean — Women's Intercolleg. Editor, Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Pauline Burridge, '30; Louise Goodrich, '30; Lilla Waterman, '30; Flavia Ross, '31; Hilda Smith, '31

Winifred Stone, '31; Margaret Ann Martin, '32; Hope Ranshire, '32; Alfred J. Morin, '32; Watson E. Morgan, '32

E. Henry Powell, '30; Charles N. Crockett, '31; Edmour A. St. Germain, '31; Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32; Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUTNER, '29
Business Manager

Mayo B. Jenks, '30 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Stuart S. Corbin, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Silvio F. McQuesten, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
F. Stanley South, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2030 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 405 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — February 22, 1929 — No. 35

TO THE SUB-FRESHMEN

The Cynic, as the official news organ of the University, takes this opportunity to extend to the sub-freshmen on behalf of the student body its sincere welcome. The University always welcomes visitors who come for impressions of its life, spirit, and campus. That is exactly what the high school seniors who are guests of the University during Kake Walk will do consciously or unconsciously. Again, that is exactly what the University of Vermont wants you to do. We feel confident that we can make those impressions favorable.

We want you to especially notice the democratic feeling which is so characteristic of the Vermont campus. Snobbery is unknown here. Being a comparatively small university, each man has a chance to know and be on speaking terms with other men of the college, not just a few that he may meet during the course of a day. One hears that cheery "Hello" from all sides.

You will get an idea of the traditions of the University by wandering about the campus, by going into the numerous buildings, and by mixing freely with the students, many of whom are your friends and relatives.

We hope that you enjoy that most famous of Vermont institutions, Kake Walk, that you take away favorable impressions, and that next Fall you will come back not as sub-freshmen, but as duly enrolled students in the University.

A VERMONT INSTITUTION

Kake Walk is the great mid-winter week-end at Vermont. Many hundreds of visitors are attracted to this unique event each year. While other colleges are enjoying Winter Carnivals, Proms, and other diversions, Vermont is staging a production that is peculiar to the University, and this University only. Those wiseacres and pessimists who say there is nothing really new and original ought to witness the 32nd annual Kake Walk. We are sure that they would at least admit that they had never seen anything like it anywhere else and that they would be willing to give Vermont students credit for its originality.

It is truly a Vermont institution. It was started here many years ago, in a much different form than now, of course. Nevertheless, it was even a Kake Walk. A gradual evolution has taken place in this annual event until now each one of its three features, namely the Peerade, the Stunts, and the Kake Walking, are all finished performances. They are the product of ingenuity, time, labor, and a good deal of expense. Certain former events have been excluded such as the Koon Kut-Ups; others have been limited in time in order not to permit the interest of the audience to wane; now the poorer stunts are eliminated before Kake Walk time by means of competition. Everything possible has been done to please the public so great a name has it gained outside the University.

Some of the less optimistic are heard to remark that Kake Walk is on the wane. But how would one account for the fact that when the band begins playing the tune so familiar to the alumni, students, faculty and friends of the University, a thrill or sensation of no small degree is enjoyed. "Cotton Babes" is too dear to the hearts of most of us to permit an institution like Kake Walk to die out. No one need have any doubts on that score for many years to come. Kake Walk is of Vermont, by Vermont, and Vermont.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

OLD GOLDS INVADE VERMONT CAMPUS

"Not a Cough in a Carload" Echoes from Converse Hall to Redstone —Co-eds Loud in Praise

CONSENSUS OF OPINION IS PUBLISHED BELOW

Bean Batterson today announced that all men are to refrain from inhaling the nefarious weed which so recently invaded the fair Catamount Campus. At a meeting of the combined Men's and Women's Glee Clubs he spoke lengthily and with much vehemence, extolling the merits of eating sweets, if necessary, but at all costs keeping away from the fiery, voice-destroying, moral-killing, lung puncturing, beauty-undermining effects of that most cursed of plants—tobacco. At the end of his talk he was given much applause and a carton of Old Golds, both of which he enjoyed to the utmost. The meeting then broke up just as the gallant Burlington police force invaded the hall armed with rotten eggs as defense weapons. They were thus prepared against a strong attack, and in a majestic manner surveyed the empty meeting place. It is not known whether they will continue their investigations. You see we cannot wait to determine this; the Cynic must go to press and as for Burlington's Finest—well, they can go to Winooski.

Have You Seen These?

THE SCIENCE OF DE DUCKSHUN

Sam Johnson, a colored cotton planter of Mississippi, came into the country bank and asked for credit.

"Why, Sam," said the banker, "haven't you just sold your cotton?"

"Yes, suh," was the answer, "but de ducks all got it."

"The ducks all got it?"

"Yes, suh. I shipped it up to Memphis, and dey deducks foh freight, deducks foh hauling, deducks foh storage, deducks foh insurance, and deducks foh commissun. De ducks jus' actually et up all dat cotton. Dat's why I'm heah."

A SOLOMON-LIKE JUDGMENT

A case recently came before a Court involving the ownership of an eight-day clock. After listening carefully to both sides, the Judge turned to the plaintiff. "You get the clock," he said gravely.

"And what do I get?" complained the defendant.

"You get the eight days," replied the Judge.

Any poor, ignorant boy, as any poor, ignorant boy knows, has a chance to become President of the United States. But no boy is so ignorant as to believe that any poor boy may become a Pennsylvania Senator.

Results of recent questionnaire to be published soon!! Aren't you thrilled?

Co-ed Debaters To Go on Short Trip

(Continued from page 3)

work. Thus they form a debating combination which is doubly effective from any viewpoint.

Frances Howley, '29, is a member of Delta Delta Delta, of the varsity girls' hockey team, besides playing on numerous girls' basketball and baseball teams, of the Dramatic Club, Student Union Council, and is on the Senior Week Committee.

Janice Goodrich, '30, is vice-president of Student Union, a member of the Blue Stockings, Literary Magazine, and the Cynic, of Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debating society, and is women's editor of the Ariel.

One or two more home debates are expected to be held during March, which will complete the girls' debating schedule for this year. Debate Coach M. D. Powers is very anxious to gain new members for these debates. Tryouts will be held next month.

Upsilon Tau Alpha, the teacher training fraternity, held a Japanese party for the freshmen at the Athena Club last Saturday night.

The following girls have assisted in coaching for skating: Dorothy Nash, '31, Justine Rogers, '31, Louise Manson, '32, Lillian Mount, '32, Roberta Thayer, T.Tr., Mailla Putnam, '31, Margaret Corbin, '29; in skiing: Marian Ross, '32, Alice Miller, '29, Barbara Loud, '32, Nathalie Hawley, '31; in snowshoeing: Roberta Thayer, T. Tr. is leading groups.

Former Rhodes Scholar Tells of Life And Learning at English Universi

Interesting and intimate facts about Oxford as a seat of learning were vividly told by Professor George V. Kidder, assistant professor of Greek and Latin at the University of Vermont, in an address given before the members of the Intercollegiate Alumnae Club.

Oxford as a city has been a commercial center for centuries, said Professor Kidder, connected by river with London and the sea, by canal with much of England, in addition to its railways. Its history as a seat of learning dates from about the eleventh century with a strong tradition in favor of law, religion and the classics. In fact, he said, tradition is the explanation of much that Oxford is and does. The thirty colleges which make up the university are scattered throughout a city of some 55,000 people. These colleges are separate in buildings, endowments and administration, from each other, and together form the university, controlling admission to it since they control admission to themselves.

Each college, Professor Kidder continued, has its staff of lecturers and tutors, but lectures are open to members of any other college. Each student is assigned a tutor who oversees all his academic work, advising certain series of non-compulsory lectures, and meeting the student at least once a week for the reading of an essay based on special investigation of an assigned topic.

Examinations at Oxford are held only for admission, about mid-way through the four-year course and at the end of the four-year course. These are generally comprehe... covering a given field ... semester or year course ... aminations are follow... aminations which are ...

In speaking of th... Oxford, Professor Kidde... ticularly the popularit... The many varieties ... said, are joined in by ... member of the Unive... include rugby and asso... field hockey, lacrosse ... the autumn, cricket an... spring, golf and rowing ... No paid coaches are to be ... everyone plays and enjoys it.

Innumerable clubs ... exist, those made up of ... in different curricula, athleti... social clubs and many ... or argument, he said, is without the favorite indoor sport, and a critical tendency which ... things be demonstrated is an outs... ing characteristic of the English... dent.

It is interesting to note Prof... Kidder said, that Rhodes scholars ... other foreign students are rec... without enthusiasm and without ... like. They have no special di... tions academically and in genera... left to prove their worth and ... their friends. The English have ... reserved and apt to resent the ... friendliness which tries to ... through this reserve. However ... outsider who is careful not to put ... self forward or hurry his En... associates will soon find warm ... cordial friendships developing.

Humor, Pathos, Mystery in Vermont's Midwinter Frolic

(Continued from page 3)

staged with very little preparation. The fourth is the present era of careful planning and elaborate execution.

For many years the actual Walkin' fo' de Kake was the chief event of the evening, and for this the best prize was awarded. There would be a parade of all participants in the night's performance, and a stunt put on by any group of men who happened to want to do it.

One of the prize-winning stunts was "Varsity vs. Co-eds," a mock football game between the men and the girls. The men's team wore the regular football costumes. The Co-ed team wore huge hats and flowing veils and had wide lace flounces on the bottoms of the trousers. Between innings they lifted the great veils and "powdered" their noses with whisk-brooms dipped in a conveniently placed bucket of cornstarch. The University women who were present in the Armory were so indignant that they left, many of them weeping copiously.

Phi Delta Theta Wins First Cup

Gradually these stunts became the most interesting part of the Walk, and, logically, the groups presenting them came to be the fraternities. In 1908 Clark C. Briggs, U. V. M. '94, offered a cup to the fraternity which should present the best stunt. This competition from year to year is one of the chief factors in the steady development and improvement of the Kake Walk as an annual event. The first fraternity to hold it was Phi Delta Theta. Hugh Thompson, one of the members, was very ingenious in contriving electrical displays, and due to the excellence of them, his fraternity received the cup. Since then the fraternities which have held it are:

Phi Delta Theta, 1909; Delta Mu, 1910, Phi Delta Theta, 1911, Alpha Zeta, 1912; Delta Mu, 1913; Lambda Iota, 1914; Sigma Nu, 1915; Common Club (Phi Mu Delta), 1916; Sigma Nu, 1917; Delta Psi, 1918; Alpha Tau Omega, 1919; Phi Delta Theta, 1920, Phi Delta Theta, 1921; Delta Psi, 1922; Kappa Sigma, 1923; Alpha Tau Omega, 1924; Delta Psi, 1925; Delta Psi, 1926; Kappa Sigma, 1927; and Phi Delta Theta, 1928.

The Kake Walk is a Vermont institution entirely. It is held every year in the gymnasium which seats 1,500 and is always packed—jammed even in the worst sort of weather. Sherman's Band and its successor, the Burlington Military Band, has played for it so long that it seems a part of it.

There is a time limit for each event of the evening, so that in this, as in every other way, everybody has exactly the same obstacles and advantages. The spectacular thing about it is the cleverness and apparent ease with which each fraternity sets up all its apparatus in the dark, presents the stunt and removes all the apparatus also in the dark. The center of the floor is used and as the boys rush in with all their trappings, the audience seated around the walls, in balconies and on the running ... is tense with excitement and ... tancy. How the interest of the p... has increased is shown by the ... that usually over $1,000 is clear... the present time, in contrast to ... at the first. The proceeds usual... toward the Athletic fund, alth... during the war they went to the ... Cross.

Sub-Freshmen Invited

In 1912 Sub-Freshman Week ... nated for the purpose of introd... prospective students to the Unive... of Vermont. The big event for a... ment was the annual Kake Walk ... high school students were en... from all the larger schools. Key... Serpent provided rooms for the ... freshmen while in Burlington. ... 1914 dancing concluded the prog... "Thus Vermont's mid-winter c... has been handed down and is he... stay."

In addition to Clark C. B... Judge E. C. Mower, Dr. E. C. To... W. R. Austin and P. J. Ross are a... the alumni who have taken an ... cially active interest in the ... Walk.

In addition to the Clark C. B... Cup, the Southwick Cup and ... Boulder Cup, the participants of ... 1929 Kake Walk will have as fu... incentives, cups from the follo... merchants and organizations: H... and Carney, Miles and Perry, ... ton's Jewelry Store, and the Stu... Senate. Cakes, in addition to ... cups, will be awarded as prizes t... fraternities and individuals exce... in the various events.

The fraternities competing ... stunts this year are: Delta Psi, S... Nu, Phi Mu Delta, Kappa Sigma, ... Chi, Tau Epsilon Phi, Alpha ... Omega.

Rules for Contestants

1. Each fraternity com... ing in stunts must enter one couple to ... for the Kake and others may do ... they choose. Each couple will b... lowed two minutes on the floor ... warning bell will be sounded one ... minute before the time is up.

2. Every fraternity, whether ... peting in the stunts or not, must ... at least one man in the peerade; ... many more may be entered as the ... ternity wishes.

3. Each stunt will be allowed fi... minutes from the time the ... enter until they leave the ... warning bell will be sounded two ... utes before the time is up.

4. Any violation of Rule 3 will ... inate that fraternity.

5. Any fraternity receiving the ... of persons not actively ... the fraternity in the pr... its act will be disqualified.

6. No gunpowder, flash ... other inflammable mate... used in any act. Its use will ... to disqualify the fraterni... ing it.

Basis for Judgment

A scoring system wi... the judges, and the sele... based on the number of ... For the fraternity st... is as follows:

1. Originality (25 points)

(Continued on page 6)

SPORTING NEWS

SEYMOUR I. NATHANSON, '30
Sporting Editor

CATAMOUNTS TO VISIT SPRINGFIELD AND CONN. AGGIES THIS WEEK-END

Aggie and Blue and White Aggregations Two of the Strongest in the East This Year

Cayward's Catamounts have ... week-end on their hands, for ... last night on a two-day trip. ... afternoon they will meet the ... old quintet for the second time ... son and tomorrow night they ... the Connecticut Aggies at ... Both games promise to pro... one real basketball and the Cats ... to step if they want to come ... the long end of the scores. The ... with Springfield should be one ... best battles on the Green and ... schedule this season, for they ... already met the Bay Staters ... and they should have learned ... ing of the style of play of their ... nts. Every one who saw the ... with the Springfield five that ... ace in the gym last Friday will ... ber that during the first half ... game the visitors played rings ... the Vermonters, but the Cats ... a tremendous spurt and came ... the cellar to within five points ... the score. The Cats are going ... with the firm determination to ... a better showing than they did ... st half in the game here, and if ... can set as fast a pace—and keep ... as they did during the second ... there should be more than an ... chance to tie the series. There ... getting around the fact that the ... n and White have a beautiful ... nation, Captain Duncan, in the ... position, makes a wonderful ... on the floor, and the other for... berth is aptly filled by Gustaf... Cameron and Geesman, their ... men, are two of the finest centers ... New England. Their back court ... strong with Elerin and Cook. ... are stars, and have a fine system ... passing that puts them in the ... with any team in this part ... country.

The Cats will be working under a ... vantage Saturday night when ... meet the Connecticut team. They ... have one stiff game under their ... and a long train ride with only ... hours of rest, and they have ... team to play. The Aggies ... a winning team this season and ... have a good row of victories ... credit, among them a victory ... Providence. Their record speaks ... self for they have collected vic... over Tufts, New Hampshire, ... Rhode Island State, and Mass. ... Besides this they have the ... of being vanquished but once ... their home floor in three years, ... once by Holy Cross in a ... that ended with the Crusaders ... point ahead.

The Aggies have a comparatively ... team, with but one veteran from ... 's team. Their coach has ... them into a fast, smooth ... outfit that is a menace to any ... all team.

They have several good men on their ... Chubbuck, their regular center, ... high scorer all season. He ... shot from the foul line, and ... collects enough fouls to put ... the lead in the scoring column. ... a pair of fine forwards in ... and Lamoreaux. Ryan, espe... has distinguished himself this ... by both his defensive and ... work. Duffy is their out... guard, and with Dall form ... like defense.

WOMEN'S RIFLE TEAM WINS THREE MATCHES

... week the co-eds' rifle team of ... versity of Vermont fired and ... ree matches, one against each ... following: University of Ne... 9-471; Michigan State College, ... University of Indiana, 493... darried co-eds at the University ... na were high scorers with ... of 100 and 99. High scorers ... rmont were: K. F. Laythe, '30, ... Robelin, '30, 99; E. Slayton, ... M. Everest, '29, 98; G. Hubert, ...

... targets being used this year ... bull's-eye measuring .15 of an ... diameter. This is .07 of an ... aller than the diameter of the ...

... Frances Howley has resigned ... of the sophomore play and ... rl Brown is taking her place.

CAT'S MEOW

—SPORTING EDITOR—

Good work Vermont!

The Cats pulled a great stunt by taking the rubber from St Michael's It was a good game to win

Vermont played better than they have all season in the second half and overtime. The team functioned as a unit and as a result baskets were forthcoming. Nevertheless, it's a tough assignment to beat a team that shoots like the Winooski-ites.

Word from Springfield has it that the Bay Staters expect a snap game today. Before it's over they'll know they've been in a ball game.

Conn. Aggies have a cherished victory over Providence Holy Cross is the only team which took things easy at Storrs.

Fordham is sitting pretty now C. C. N. Y. was the only team to defeat Fordham in three years when they kept the latter from an undefeated season last year by a single point, but the City College Club is smarting under a 50 to 19 drubbing handed to it by the traditional rivals last week.

There was plenty of action in the Eastern Intercollegiate League this past week. Joey Schaaf's 16 points against Yale didn't do his opponents any good. Dartmouth lost a game to Cornell Saturday and with it went championship hopes. Myllykangas, playing his first college game, was the high scorer with 7 points.

Holy Cross barely defeated St. Bonaventure College 40 to 37 last week. Not so good.

Clarkson is still melting the ice. The Tech sextet beat Cornell 5 to 2.

Middlebury hockey team was defeated by Princeton 7 to 2 Tuesday at Princeton.

Yale is undefeated in hockey to date. Dartmouth tied the Elis but the Green was defeated in two other meetings.

The "dead fumble" rule was adopted by the football rules committee. A try for point after touchdown is to be made from the two-yard line instead of the three-yard line according to the new laws. Other minor changes were made but these two were the most outstanding.

Training for varsity track will start next week under the direction of Coach "Milt" Aldrich.

Middlebury got a surprise when the Cadets held them to a 33 to 30 score at Northfield on Tuesday.

FENCERS BREAK EVEN WITH MONTREAL A. A. A.

Vermont won and lost over the Montreal A. A. A. last Saturday in fencing. Montreal won thirteen out of the twenty-five foil bouts and Vermont fencers captured thirteen out of twenty-five epee bouts. The foil bouts victory thus went to Montreal A. A. A. fencers, and the epee victory came to Vermont. All the matches were very close and well fought, and even towards the end it could not be predicted which team would win. The Vermont fencing team who took the trip was composed of the following five men: Calcagni, Chamberlain, Basilicato, Musgrove, and Pereiman. The Vermont fencers will next tackle Boston University in March, and Norwich University in April, both of which will be fought here.

The results of Saturday's meet with Montreal A. A. A. follow: foil bouts—Vermont, Calcagni beat Heasely, Laveis, Smith; Chamberlain beat Laveis; Basilicato beat Senecal, Laveis and Smith; Musgrove beat Senecal and Laveis; Pereiman beat Senecal, Laveis and Smith. Montreal A. A. A.: Heasely beat Chamberlain, Basilicato, Musgrove, Pereiman; Baillie beat all the Vermont men; Senecal beat Calcagni, Chamberlain; Smith beat Musgrove and Chamberlain.

Barbara Loud, '32, is the leader of skiing groups at the Country Club.

COACH GARDNER CALLS BATTERY CANDIDATES

Former Red Sox Hurler to Coach Baseball Team—Five Veterans Available, With Several from Junior Varsity

Spring baseball practice got under way in the cage last Friday, when "Larry" Gardner, Vermont's new baseball mentor and an alumnus of the University, issued his first call for battery candidates Candidates for the other positions will be called out immediately after Kake Walk. Coach Gardner is very popular with the students, and is well fitted to take over the reins of coaching, as he is an ex-big leaguer, having starred with the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians for a number of years. He takes the place of "Hank" Dresser who is now director of physical training in the Schenectady, N. Y., high schools

Although prospects for this year's team do not seem as bright as in previous seasons, only five letter men being left on the squad, there is an abundance of good material in the freshman class, which together with material left from the junior varsity should serve to bolster the squad. The five letter men are: Captain "Cal" Macomber, "Wes" Howard and "Dinny" Dinniman, outfielders; "Nellie" Wood, a pitcher; and Frank O'Keefe, an infielder

Among the twirlers working out daily, "Nellie" Wood, and "Charlie" Cummings, a transfer from Syracuse University, appear to be the best, both having had college experience. A number of upperclassmen along with several freshmen are also limbering up

Stroh, Young, and Kendall are the only ones who have appeared to date to try out as catchers.

Cats Snatch Rubber from Purple Horseshoe Quintet

(Continued from page 3)

whereby St. Michael's gained two points and Vermont one. Then a long shot by Wallace tied the game and another basket by Estabrook put Vermont in the lead with the score 19-17 A foul shot for each side and Bernstein's basket left the count 22-18 when time was called. Then for a while baskets were made with bewildering frequency. St. Mike's gathered three more twin-counters by their favorite long shot method while the Catamounts got two, and then Mahoney tied the game at 26-26. Shortly afterwards Sargent broke the tie with a long shot but Connally soon retaliated with a basket for the Purple and the second half ended with the score 28 to 28

In the overtime period Cashman shot a foul and thus the deadlock was broken again. Sargent then made a long, pretty basket and Manning followed with a difficult overhead shot Estabrook finished the scoring with a foul shot and the game ended Vermont 33 St. Michael's 29

The summary:

VERMONT

	Gls	Fls	Pts
Halligan, r. f.	3	0	6
Wallace, l. f.	2	3	7
Bernstein, l. f.	1	0	2
Sargent, c.	4	1	9
Palmer, r. g.	0	1	1
Manning, l. g.	2	1	5
Estabrook, l. g.	1	1	3
Totals	13	7	33

ST. MICHAEL'S

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts
Slattery, r. f.	3	1	7
Shea, l. f.	2	4	8
Mahoney, l. f.	1	0	2
Connally, c.	1	2	4
Cashman, r. g.	1	2	4
O'Brien, l. g.	2	0	4
Totals	10	9	29

Referee, Young, Adams, Mass. Timer, Lisman; Scorer, Gray. Time, two 20 minute halves, one 5 minute overtime period.

Mr Armstrong of the Interstate Teachers' Agency was here Monday, February 18, to interview prospective teachers

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
BY
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

VERMONT CLASHES WITH BLACK PANTHERS ON ICE

A much stronger team will face the Middlebury sextet at Middlebury tomorrow afternoon. Vermont skaters bowed to the Blue and White Wednesday of last week in the last minute after a terrific struggle, the first score being 1-0. This is the last game of the season and the fighting Catamounts expect to avenge themselves for the defeat by Midd here.

Vermont's record may not have been successful as far as winning games are concerned but it has doubtless accomplished something in progressing from a weak, disorganized group into what it is now, a hockey team to be proud of which compares favorably with any of the state conference teams. This can be seen from the fact that although the Green and Gold were overcome by Norwich to the tune of 2-1 in the early part of the season, they came back brilliantly by trouncing the cadets on Saturday at Northfield 2 to 0

Mercier at left wing and Segal at center have shown the greatest of fensive ability. The former, though only a freshman, is a speedy and clever handler of the stick, while Segal has shown marked defensive ability, Hendrick, the goalie, may be depended upon in the cage. Capt Schurman, and Lawrence at defense are good skaters and follow the puck closely

However, Vermont will have to be on the go every minute of the contest because Middlebury has two dependable men in Capt. Kelley at center ice and Melbye, a freshman, a speedy skater and a clever shot, at left wing

The probable line up

VERMONT		MIDDLEBURY
Schurman (Capt.)	rw	Mekala
Segal	c	Kelly
Mercier	lw	Crocker
Lawrence	rd	Nelson
Collins	ld	Foote
Hendrick	g	Douglas

RIFLE TEAM COMMENCES CAMPAIGN WITH HOPES FOR SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Cats Have Won Two Matches and Lost Two—Will Compete for William Randolph Hearst Trophy

The University of Vermont Rifle Team is now in the midst of an extensive schedule, firing eight matches this week besides competing in two other bigger competitions. Week before last Vermont fired in four matches, winning one, losing two, and having one forfeited to her. She was victorious over De Pauw University but lost to Mississippi A. and M and the University of Washington. The score in the first match was 3,603 to 3,419, while in the second it was 1,389 to 1,293. Rhode Island forfeited

Last week matches were fired with four universities, Texas A. and M., Emory University, University of Alabama, and University of Tennessee While most of the results have not been received as yet, Vermont won her match with Alabama 3,491 to 3,462 On the Vermont team the five highest men were Wardwell with a score of 368, Ball with 356, Percival with 355, Joslyn with 354, and L. S. Wright with 353. These scores were made in four positions with a score of 400 possible

Last week the team also fired the second and third stages of the First Corps Area Match, which is a competition with most of the New England colleges. The score of the second stage, which was fired prone and sitting, was 1,909. The third stage, prone and kneeling, resulted in a score of 1,837, making the total to date 5,62? The last stage will be fired this week and will be prone and standing. The results will be known shortly afterwards

Besides firing in matches with Northeastern University, Pittsburgh, Alabama Polytechnic, Johns Hopkins, University of West Virginia, Iowa State, Idaho, and Lafayette, the team will also begin to fire in the competition for the William Randolph Hearst trophies. For the purposes of this match the country has been divided into four sections: East, Mid West, West, and South; and the schools in these sections have been divided into three parts: universities, military schools, high and Junior high schools. The team consists of five men who shoot at the special targets in four positions. On one target only one shot is allowed for each position, and the difficulty of making a good score is increased by the fact that if a bullet cuts a line the lower number is counted instead of the higher one

The college which makes the highest score receives a cup and each member of the team, a gold medal The individual high man receives a gold wrist watch. The winning college in each section receives a first, second, or third place shield depending upon its place, while the members of the team receive medals. The firing will be completed April 10

Compliments of
C. A. BARBER & CO.
112 Church Street

Society Notes

PI BETA PHI

Miss Emily Margaret White of Washington, D. C., National Vice President of Pi Beta Phi, visited Vermont Beta chapter from Wednesday to Friday of this week

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Marjorie Tewksbury, '28, visited in the city over the week-end

ALPHA XI DELTA

Upsilon Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta announces the initiation of Lorraine Owens, '29, Bertha Safford, '31, and Janice Wagner, '31, on Wednesday February 20

KAPPA DELTA

Mrs. A. E. Munro of 89 South Willard Street entertained the fraternity, Tuesday evening in honor of her daughter, Merta Munro Brookings '28, of Springfield freshman was dropped, that one being a Home Economics student Two freshmen are now under warning, and one sophomore home economics student as a result of mid years.

Professors Agreeably Surprised at Results of Students' Records

(Continued from page 1)

Figures are not yet available from the Engineering College

The Old Reliable

"Humming Bird"
Pure Silk, Full Fashion
Hosiery, $1.50 Pair

A silk stocking with a national reputation for longer service, featured here in all fashionable colors, in both pointed and square heels.

IN THE RUSH
OF THE KAKE WALK FESTIVITIES
DON'T MISS THE SPECIAL ATTRACTION OF University Novelties
at the
UNIVERSITY STORES

DELEGATES ASSEMBLE AT NORTHFIELD FOR ANNUAL MEETING OF STUDENTS

Vermont Represented by Eight Men and Women—New England Industrial Situation Discussed

The Annual Mid Winter Conference of Women's New England Colleges was held at East Northfield, Mass., February 15, 16, and 17. The registration at the conference, which was held at the Hotel Northfield, totaled one hundred and sixty-five with men and women delegates from the following New England Colleges: Amherst, Dartmouth, Hartford, Simmons, Massachusetts Agricultural, Springfield Y. M. C. A. Training, Wesleyan, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Yale, Mount Holyoke, Keene Normal, Smith, Wheaton, Middlebury, Clark, and the American International.

The Vermont delegates from Y. W. C. A. were Margaret D. Davis, '29, Dorothy H. Keith, '31, Georgina Hunter, '30, Marion E. Tifft, '29, and Bertha A. Safford, '31. The Y. M. C. A. delegates were William J. Reed, '29, Joseph C. Carter, '29, and Donald C. Foote, '29.

Strikes a Problem

The subject for discussion at the conference was the Industrial Situation in New England as affected by the New Bedford Textile Mills Strike of 1928 and the relations of Christian Women and students to the solution of such problems. Dr. Harry F. Ward of Union Theological Seminary was the principal leader of the Conference and fulfilled the requirements very capably. The question was approached by detailed study of the facts in relation to human life. First moral judgments or policies were formed; second measures for relief were proposed; third religious values were applied to the situation and its causes, effects and cure. The following problems dealing with the Strike and other strikes were of outstanding importance in that the entire discussion centered about them as a nucleus: 1. Wages; 2. Unions; 3. Civil Liberties; 4. Remedial Measures; 5. Religious Attitude.

The program consisted, first, of lectures before the entire delegation by well known personages who were connected with the Industrial Boards and Courts at New Bedford and were specialists in such problems. There were opportunities for discussion in the form of questions and answers between members of the delegation and the various speakers. Later, individual groups met with each speaker to further discuss the side of the question with which he was in sympathy or about which he was especially capable of bringing first-hand information.

Finally the following advances in the right direction were worked out: 1. Rationalization or Exploitation by Advancement of the work to the worker, and by bettering working relations between employment and management. 2. Leadership by creative application of the cooperative plan. 3. Development of public opinion by education of the laity and ministry toward practical application of religious principles, among which are predominance of personality and idea; of personality.

Leading Speakers

Saturday morning, February 16, three New Bedford representatives who have had personal experience with the Strike addressed the audience. Mr. Dwight took up the question from the business side and Mr. Batty, secretary of the Labor Committee, discussed the situation laying emphasis upon the way in which the Labor Party chose to handle it. Finally Mr. Reed, a pastor, focused the interesting viewpoint of the situation as the community regard it.

Sectional conferences which were held for the purpose of affording the students opportunity to receive special information from each representative, took place in the afternoon. These meetings were four in number led by Mr. Batty, Mr. Reed, Miss Harper and assistants.

In the evening the convention continued under the special leadership of Miss Harper who has studied economic problems in London and is now connected with the employment department. She delivered a very interesting address based upon her experience.

Dr. Ward gave the final summary of the past four periods and the attitude toward it. He pointed out the social implication and the Christian significance of the situation of the strike as it exists today. The conference closed with a very impressive communion service.

All the representatives entered enthusiastically into the winter sports. The atmosphere of the entire conference was one of good fellowship and eagerness to learn more about an important public question. There was a desire to keep abreast of the times by strengthening and creating more student interest in the various Christian and world problem organizations on the campuses of the New England colleges.

DOCTOR GROAT TELLS ECONOMICS IN POLITICS

Prof. G. G. Groat of the Department of Economics spoke before the members of the Research Club at their meeting held in Morrill Hall, Tuesday evening.

Choosing as his topic, "Economics Enters Politics," Professor Groat went on to say that economic conditions are becoming so important that they are developing instead of economic principles. "This," said he, "will force the modification of some of the generally accepted political principles."

Evidences were referred to as seen in the development of Russia and Italy and in the experiments they are carrying out. Also the ideas of socialism discussed in England at the present time, were taken as another example.

VERMONTERS COMPETE IN BRATTLEBORO MEET

On Thursday and Friday of this week leading ski jumpers from all parts of the country will compete at Brattleboro for gold, silver, and diamond prizes estimated to have an aggregate value of $1,100. This does not include the winged ski trophy valued at $150 which is to be won three times in succession for permanent possession.

The hill in Brattleboro is one of the best in the country for long jumps. A large number of jumpers are entered in the competition. Swedish and Norwegian names are conspicuous in the list. Lars Haugen of the St. Paul Athletic Club who won the national ski jumping title last year is expected to be present to defend his title but he will have some stiff competition as several other skiers entered have bettered his record. Rolf Monsen of the Brattleboro Outing Club, an Olympic jumper last year, is also entered. He has a record of 182 feet on the Brattleboro hill. Other athletic and outing clubs from all parts of the country are sending their best men to the meet.

The University of Vermont Outing Club will enter three men in the meet. J. H. Thoma, '32, will enter the intercollegiate ten-mile cross-country ski race. M. C. Lang, '29, will enter the intercollegiate championship ski jumping and C. S. Buxton, '31, will enter both the cross country and ski jumping. At the Norwich meet Buxton made a jump of 95 feet but fell and so was disqualified. This was the longest jump made at the meet.

There will be four classes of competition at the meet beside the intercollegiate class.

1. Class A open only to skiers who have won a prize at a national meet.
2. Class B open only to skiers who have not won a prize at a national meet.
3. Class C open to boys from 15 to 18 years.
4. Class D open to boys under fifteen.

With good weather the meet should furnish some exciting competition and excellent exhibitions of good ski jumping.

ONE MEMBER OF EACH CLASS IS ON QUARTET

All four classes at Vermont are represented in the Men's Glee Club quartet. The four men who compose the quartet are Edward Davis, Harrison Goddard, H. M. Sheffield and Raymond Towne. Davis is a senior, Goddard a junior, Sheffield a sophomore and Towne a freshman.

The quartet appeared last fall at a concert given by the combined Men's and Women's Glee Clubs at the Chapel on a Sunday afternoon and rendered a few vocal selections which were well received by the audience.

It is strange that all four classes should be represented. One might expect to find only the upper classes represented, the older students naturally having had more experience than the freshmen.

Mr. Langworthy is hot on the trail of some person in Converse Hall who has been doing the shooting evenings in the hallways. The criminal had better turn herself in and use more precaution in the future.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 897-W
T. P. O'HARA
TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING
170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

SUB-FROSH COME TO VERMONT FRIDAY NOON

150 High School Seniors Will be University Guests at Banquet and Far-Famed Kake Walk

Friday noon, about 150 seniors from the various high schools of the state will arrive to take part in the annual sub-freshman day of the University. Key and Serpent Society, which has charge of the event, has completed its plans so that these prospective freshmen will get the best idea possible of what the college is like. These guests will have the opportunity to see the everyday classwork and the famous Vermont Kake Walk.

Upon their arrival, the sub-freshmen will be met by representatives of Key and Serpent who will take them to the dormitories and various fraternity houses where they are to stay during their visit. The afternoon will be spent in looking about the campus and visiting the various classes in session.

Friday evening they will be guests at a banquet at the Hotel Van Ness, at which there will be a program of speeches by the various members of the faculty and student body. F. W. Kehoe and Capt. W. V. Rattan will speak for the faculty, Corbin C. Lyman, '29, and Calvin W. Walker, '31, will speak for the student body.

After the banquet, the sub-freshmen will climax their visit by seeing the Kake Walk as guests of the Kake Walk Committee. They will be given the best seats possible so that they will not miss anything in this famous event. Kake Walk will complete the program of subfreshman day, but many will stay over Saturday to see more of the college and the city.

MODERN COLLEGIAN IS GETTING "CIVILIZATION"

William Berryman Scott, Blair professor of geology at Princeton University and the great great great grandson of Benjamin Franklin, celebrated his seventy-first birthday Tuesday by carrying out his active duties as a professor at the university. He is completing his forty-ninth year on the faculty at Princeton.

Undergraduates are becoming more "civilized" and take more interest in intellectual pursuits, according to Prof. Scott. "Students are less rowdy than they were in my day," he said. "The men are more thoughtful, they read more and have a greater interest in music. You couldn't get a crowd of students to listen to Bach by the hour as they will do today. There used to be more outbreaks and mob celebrations among the undergraduates.

"The athletic craze which seems to have gripped our colleges has improved the morality of the undergraduates," Prof. Scott continued, "but it has given the students a false sense of values.

When asked if he thought there was a tendency toward physical weakness among college students today with more emphasis on the mental development, he disagreed, saying that he thought the undergraduate was better equipped physically now than he was fifty years ago.

The noted professor is also a firm believer in prohibition and stated that he thought that within 100 years the whole world would abandon intoxicating beverages.

"This is a machine age," he said, "in which we are frequently required to make a decision on the spur of the moment. Alcohol decreases the speed of nervous reaction and slows up the process of making decisions. Therefore it has no place in our industrial civilization." Burlington Free Press

BEST COAL AND SERVICE
Elias Lyman Coal Company
286 College Street

STUDENTS
LOOSE-LEAF NOTE BOOKS
ART MATERIALS
U. V. M. STATIONERY
McAULIFFE'S
Cor. Church & College Sts.
Phone 629

Tri-State Contest for Literary Laurels is Now Well Under Way

(Continued from page 3)

2. Neither the name of the competitor nor any indication of his university shall appear on or in the manuscripts submitted. Each manuscript must be signed with an assumed name, which, together with the student's real name shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope and passed in with the manuscript.

3. Each manuscript shall be accompanied by a signed statement on a separate sheet that the author has received no assistance of any kind in writing the paper submitted.

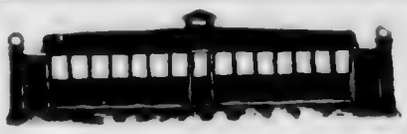
4. Contributions must not be used for any other purpose prior to their being submitted in this competition. No restriction is placed on their use after the awards of the contest have been announced.

5. No restriction is placed on the number of contributions which may be submitted by any one student, but no student may be awarded more than one place in each of the three contests.

6. All contributions submitted by each university must be in the hands of the officials at a designated date which the English Department will shortly announce.

Humor, Pathos, Mystery in Vermont's Midwinter Frolic

(Continued from page 4)



2. Team-work and smoothness (20 points).
3. Delivery and voice (15 points).
4. Quality of properties and apparatus (15 points).
5. Costumes (10 points).
6. Audience interest (10 points).
7. Time taken (5 points).

The basis of judging the Kake Walking is as follows:

1. Carriage, position of head and shoulders, knee action, position of the toes (25 points).
2. Team-work and smoothness (25 points).
3. Grace (20 points).
4. Costumes (15 points).
5. Audience interest (10 points).
6. Stunts (5 points).

It has been rumored about the campus that the Easter vacation would be longer than previously stated, but Dean Hills announced this week that the vacation is the same length, from March 30 to April 9.

The Rev. Mr. Van Dyck and Mrs. Van Dyck entertained the Young People's Fellowship of St. Paul's at a supper, Sunday evening. This was followed by a sleigh ride to Essex Junction. A fine time was held by all.

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

TWENTY DOLLARS
This sum will purchase any overcoat remaining in the store.
Sizes 35 to 42
HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
ESTABLISHED 1896 QUALITY VALUE SERVICE
LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES
NEW HAVEN, CONN.
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

MIDDLEBURY DEBATERS TO SPEAK TO GRANG

The University of Ver... society has recently r... from Guy B. Horton ... who is the lecturer fo... State Grange, stating th... club of Middlebury is offering the ices of its members to debate questions before the meetings granges within conve... All the expenses of the ... paid by the entertaining ... opportunity to stage del... various state granges ... afford an excellent mea... ing the debaters and w... more incentive to be... at public speaking and ... cussion of world proble... interclass and interteam ... do alone. The questio... men and women of the ... Vermont interested in ... service to our people" ... who are interested in the ... bates are urged to see C... as soon as possible.

The students of the l... course who are in cha... house this week are: ... Noyes, '29; house ma... Gurney, '30; cook, Alma ... sistant, Charlotte Gilm... man member, Alice Gay ...

The seniors' Method... ruary 19 for instruction ... gymnastics.

Lillian Cohen is acting ... the freshman play and Elizabeth ... man has charge of the junior p...

NEW CORONA
SPECIAL IN COLORS
$39.50
L. P. WOOD
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREE

Vacationis
Finds Thi Smoke O.

Erie, Pennsyl...
Sept. 25, 192...
Larus & Brother Company
Richmond, Va.
Dear Sirs:
Having just returned from my f... camp in northern Onta..., and ... reflections upon a fortnight of ... excellent weather, wonderful ... and complete camp co...fort, ... that an appreciation of Edgewo... due, as one of the principal fact... our enjoyment.
In past years, I have taken al... supply of various well-known b... of smoking tobacco, never having ... come fully acquainted with the ... ence in the smoking qualities ... so-called high-grade tobaccos ... upon the market, and ... tip from an old smoker to... a matter of convenience, it pa... this year I took along a dozen ... Edgeworth Plug Slice.
There are no places ... conditions in existence where the content... drawn from a briar pipe meets ... keener enjoyment or more ... analysis than beside the camp ... after a strenuous day in the ... outdoors.
It is the unanimous opinion ... smokers among my party that ... worth is without a peer, and ... smoothness, fragrance and ... ing qualities are unsurpassed and ... matched; and I thank you for ... it possible to obtain it.
Yours truly,
(Signed) H. N. Cu...
Edgewort...
Extra High Grade ...
Smoking Toba...

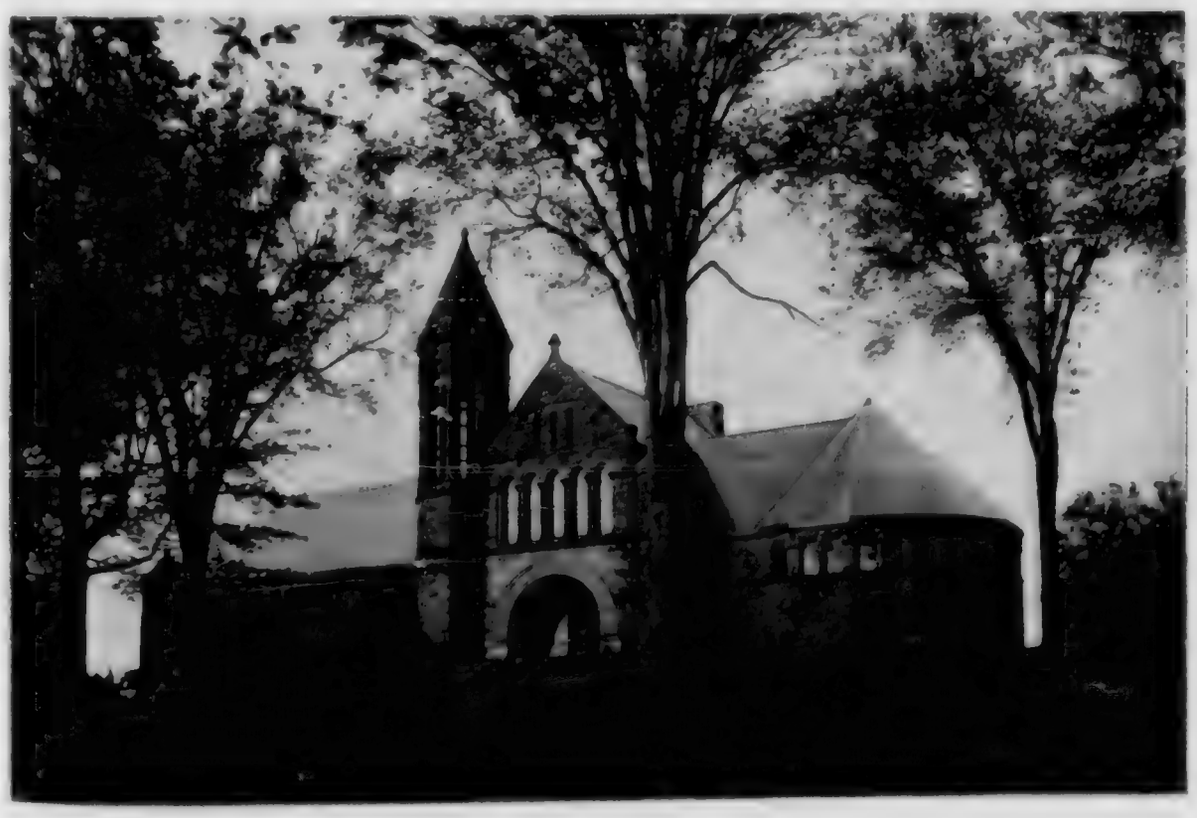
AIRPLANE VIEW OF CENTENNIAL FIELD

A picture of Vermont's athletic field taken from the air

HISTORIC FOOTPRINTS

Scene of many merry battles between the two lower classes in their struggle for supremacy

PROPOSED ENTRANCE TO CENTENNIAL FIELD



New entrance to the athletic field which the University plans to build in the near future

KAKE WALK IN 1908

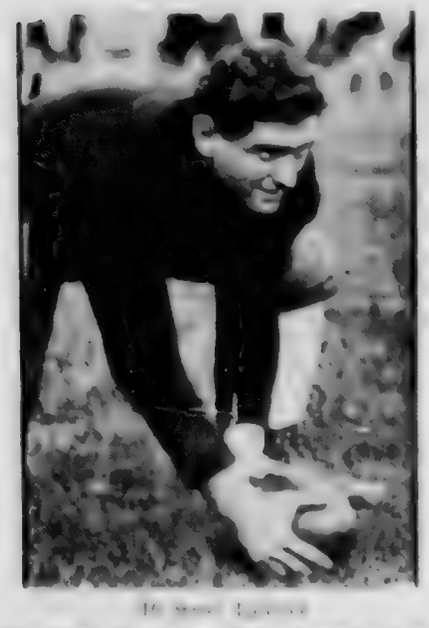
As the actors appeared when the annual tableau last started at Vermont

BILLINGS LIBRARY

The best equipped library in the state and also containing the most volumes

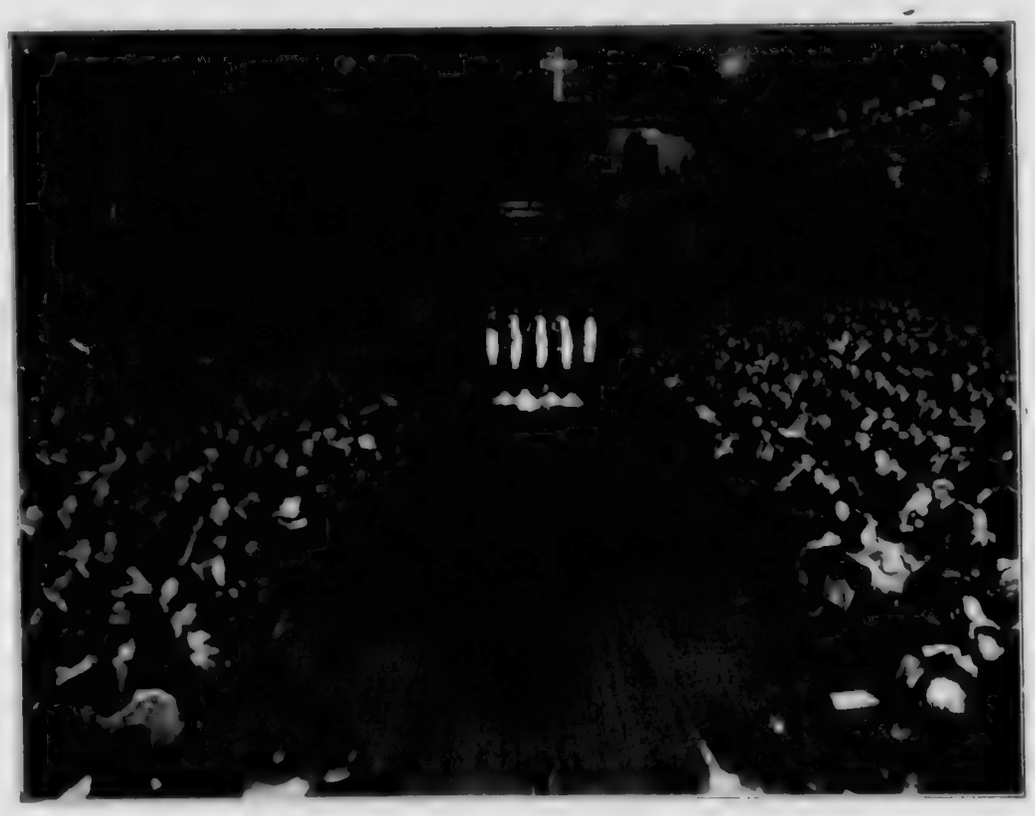
INTERSCHOLASTIC BASKETBALL CUP

Cup that the high school quintets will battle for at the Senior Tournament held at the gym in March



CARL C. MACOMBER
Chairman of seating Committee and Captain of the Inter-varsity baseball team

LEO C. MORGAN
Chairman of Ushering Committee



"SAL" PALMER
Reliable guard on the Basketball Team

H. SAM LAWSON
Football Captain and Captain Elect of the Cross Country Team

KAKE WALK AUDIENCE
The usually crowded gymnasium during the Kake Walk Activities

KAKE WALK TROPHIES
Cups that are annually competed for in Football, Sports and Kake Walking. Three new cups are being added to the number this year.

EUGENE W. KNAPP
Chairman of Stunt Committee

FRANK R. SULLOWAY
Chairman of Lighting Committee

"SELLEY" ESTABROOK
Captain of the Green and Gold Quintet

"TIM" HALL
Star Football and Basketball Player

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 | BURLINGTON, VERMONT, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1929 | NUMBER 36

VERMONT TO HAVE NEW ORGANIZATION

International Institute Sanctioned by President Bailey—Three Speakers on International Questions Will be Here

MANY COMMITTEES ARE DEFINITELY SELECTED

For two months there have been [illegible] meetings and discussions as to the practicability of an International Institute on the campus of the University of Vermont and the final consents were reached last Thursday morning after the tentative chairman had successfully interviewed President Bailey on this matter. The latter part of the day and evening were used to crystalize plans for its introduction to the campus. Mr. William Kitchen, of Boston, who has been promoting this work in other colleges through the office of the National New England Council of Student Christian Work, acquainted the students of this institution with the purpose of the Institute.

A large group of men known for their experiences in foreign lands and international affairs have found it an attractive and worthwhile proposition to spend a few days or a week of their valuable time each year in lecturing to students and acquainting them with international problems and international thinking.

Experience and educational methods in the Near East have sufficiently proved to thinking men the value of devoting talent and energy in educating the youth in colleges of today to problems of international significance. That most of the leaders in the Near East today are the product of the far-sighted educators of yesterday is generally conceded.

The idea of obtaining men who have had practical experience in the international field to appear before students in the classroom and open forums was tried out experimentally in some colleges in Virginia last winter. The purpose was mainly one of supplementing the academic work of the classroom. And with this purpose in mind, the experiment in the Virginia colleges was a great success, both from the point of view of department heads and the student bodies.

New England colleges including the Dartmouth, University of Maine, University of New Hampshire, Amherst, Boston University, and several others from both men's and women's colleges have already established these institutes on their respective campuses. The general plan of the Institute is to introduce three speakers on the campus for a period of three days during these three days the speakers will lecture and open discussion with classes and small groups.

The following committees were established to take care of the program:

Executive Committee: Professor Carpenter, advisor, Merle Duval, '30, George [illegible] '29, Marion Potter, '29. Entertainment Committee: Harvey Butterfield, '31, chairman, Georgina Hubert, '30, Marion Tifft, '30, John Eliot, '30. Committee of Meetings: Professors Carpenter, Wilkinson, Merle Duval, '30, Herrick Macomber, '30, assistant chairman, Esther Nelson, '30, Dorothy Cottrell, '29, Margaret Parry, '29, Constans Holden, '29, William Hall, '32. Committee of Advertising and Publicity: Robert Stewart, '30, chairman, Joyce Richardson, '30, Dorothy Safford, '31, Joseph Carter, '32.

There will be a large committee known as the Student Personnel Committee of 25 or more representative students from the different campus organizations.

The Institute will open Tuesday evening, March 5, and continue through the seventh. There will be no vocation and two open forums during the first two days, and small group conferences on the last day and evening. It will be possible to use one of the speakers from the Dartmouth Institute which is being held the same week. The number of speakers for the Vermont International Institute will be officially announced in the next issue of the Cynic.

MANY PRIZE CONTESTS NOW OPEN TO STUDENTS

At the present time there are notices of three prize contests which are open either to seniors or to seniors and juniors. A complete list of prizes, scholarships, and fellowships is on file at the Dean's office.

The Percival Wood Clement Prize is open to seniors and juniors in the New England colleges. Four hundred dollars is to be awarded to the best essay in support of the principles of the Constitution.

Essays should be about three thousand words long and should be submitted by March 1.

The Philo Sherman Bennett Prize of fifty dollars is to be awarded to the senior in this college who presents the best essay discussing the principles of free government.

The Robert D. Benedict Prize is open to seniors for an essay on International Arbitration. Both of these last two essays are due May 10.

SUB-FROSH TENDERED BANQUET AT VAN NESS BY UNIVERSITY FRIDAY

One Hundred and Seventy High School Seniors Enjoy Banquet Friday Evening at Hotel Van Ness—Prof. B. F. Ladd Acted Toastmaster

"Sub-freshmen," or more aptly, high school seniors, were welcomed to the University, Friday, February 22. The Key and Serpent Society, under the direction of Robert Lawrence, President, and Gold Key Society, met the several trains arriving in Burlington throughout the morning and afternoon and escorted the sub-frosh to their designated rooming places. Most of them stayed at Converse Hall, while others were accommodated at the various fraternity houses.

Under the auspices of the University, a banquet was served at the Hotel Van Ness early Friday evening at which the sub-freshmen were guests with about 60 Edmunds High and Catherdal High seniors, and about 100 out-of-town high school seniors.

Toastmaster B. F. Ladd first introduced Phil Perry, '30, Vermont cheerleader, who led the gathering in singing a few popular songs between the courses.

After the dinner, Professor Ladd welcomed them to the University. He said that although he has been connected with about 8 universities both in this country and abroad he has found the scholarship here at the University of Vermont to be equal to if not better than that at any place he has been. He distinctly emphasized the scholastic part of college, saying that a student should spend as much time on a course as is necessary to learn it and not study by the clock. He further went on to say that: "the most outstanding feature of a college education is contact," both with the faculty and with the other students.

The next speaker was Mr Kehoe Registrar of the University. He told the sub-freshmen something of the history of U. V. M. and described its present organization and the requirements for entrance. He urged early registration on the part of those who will enter here next fall, because of the present crowded conditions.

Toastmaster Ladd next introduced Captain Rattan, coach of varsity football, who described briefly the different sports open to Vermont men. He showed the diversity of athletics to those so inclined. But he emphatically urged that no student engage in athletics to the neglect of his studies because no half-back ever won a football game sitting in the stands.

Corbin Lyman, President of Boulder, told of the various Vermont traditions such as frosh rules and Kake Walk. He went on to relate briefly the history of Kake Walk.

The last speaker, Calvin Walker, President of Gold Key, described the various honorary societies active on the campus at the present time.

Following the banquet, each one of the guests was given a free ticket to the Kake Walk at the University gymnasium.

VERMONT CLASHES WITH MIDD TONIGHT

All Regulars in Condition to Start —Only Chance Vermont Has to Bid for State Championship

MIDD VICTORY WOULD CONCEDE STATE TITLE

Tonight the Catamounts will play the hardest and most important game in the state series when they meet the Blue and White quintet at Middlebury. This will be Vermont's big chance to get in on the state championship. In four starts the Green and Gold has lost two and won two of the state games. With the loss of this game goes all hopes of placing nearer than a tie for second place with St. Michael's. On the other hand, a victory by the Catamounts tonight and Middlebury's defeat by St. Michael's would result in a three-cornered tie for first honors. In other words, one more conquest for Middlebury and the championship is won.

The Blue and White has already scored one victory over the Green and Gold by the score of 19 to 15 and thus appears to have the edge on Vermont. However, spurred by the triumph over St. Michael's in the rubber game last Tuesday night, the fighting Catamounts are out to win tonight. Viewing Middlebury's narrow escape from defeat over Norwich, the weakest team in the Green Mountain Conference, the Green and Gold rooters are given more confidence and fresh hopes and realization that their team has more than a bare chance to bring back a victory on the hill.

Doubtless the same line-up that Coach Cayward used against St. Michael's last Tuesday will be sent against the Blue and White tonight. Captain Estabrook, who was injured in a previous game, will be all set to go in at his regular position at guard. His playing this season has been of a consistently fine quality. There is probably no other man on the team who has turned in a more finished type of performance in every game than he. His hard work and clever guarding has done much to help keep down the opponents' scores. His running partner will be either Manning or Palmer. The former played regularly until an injury forced him to give way to Palmer who has started the last seven games.

Sargent will be seen at the pivot position as usual, and Wallace and Halligan will lineup in the forward berths.

Middlebury boasts an especially fine team this season and the Blue and White expects to win the state championship.

The Blue and White quintet has made an impressive showing in several games this season and recently defeated Dartmouth by the score of 28 to 23. Springfield College, on the other hand, has trounced the Black Panther five 32 to 22 and the Catamounts lost to the "Y" College by only five points. Captain Spooner is the main cog in the defense for Middlebury and was a big factor in the last game with Vermont. Humeston, center, and Johnson, forward are two other players who also caused the Green and Gold much trouble in that contest. Casey and Sorenson complete one of the best teams Middlebury has turned out in several years.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Rehearsals for the junior play, "Sardines," the sophomore play, "The Man in the Bowler Hat" and the freshman play, "The Veneered Gentleman," are going on.

Miss Catherine Nulty is in the De Goesbriand Hospital.

Members of Masque and Sandal will meet at the Kappa Alpha Theta house this afternoon at 4.00 o'clock.

More Glee Club tryouts were held on Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Terrill and Miss Holbrook were dinner guests at the Practice House last week.

Thirty-Second Annual Kake Walk Tremendous Success

Fraternity and College Spirit Run Wild as Members of Sigma Nu, Sigma Delta, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Psi, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Phi Crash Through

VERMONT OUTING CLUB TO HOLD SPORTS MEET

Interclass and Interfraternity Winter Sports Events to Be Run Off Wednesday to Saturday of This Week

Announcement is made that the Vermont Outing Club will hold the annual Interclass and Interfraternity Winter Sports Meet on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. On Wednesday the skating events will be run off if ice conditions on the lake permit. On Thursday there will be the snowshoe cross-country race, and on Friday the ski cross-country race, both of which races will start and end at the gymnasium. The Saturday events will take place upon Centennial Field and will include dashes, relays, ski proficiency, and ski jumping.

Wednesday's skating events will start at 4.15 p.m. and will probably be held inside the breakwater, if the ice conditions there allow. There will be a 220-yard skating race and a one-mile race. The first four places in each of these events will score 5-3-2-1 points, respectively.

The snowshoe cross-country race on Thursday will be over a distance of two miles. The start will be made at the gym at four o'clock. The route of this race will be as follows: From the gym, to Morrill Hall, to Weather Bureau building, over to and across the Redstone water tower, and back over the same route to the gym. The first four places will score in this event 5-3-2-1 points, respectively.

The ski cross-country race will start from the gym at four o'clock Friday afternoon. The route of the race is as follows: From the gym, to Morrill Hall and Weather Bureau building, across fields to Cliff Street, down Cliff Street and across fields to woods adjacent to Ledge Road, through woods, up Ledge Road, to Country Club, to Redstone water tower, to Weather Bureau building, Morrill Hall and back to gym. The distance is four miles. The first four places will score and will receive 5-3-2-1 points, respectively.

Saturday's program will begin at 2.15 p.m. at Centennial Field. There will be the 220-yard ski dash, 220-yard snowshoe dash, 220-yard ski relay (3 men), 220-yard snowshoe relay (3 men). The first three places in each of these events will score 5-3-2 points, respectively. There will also be ski proficiency and ski jumping and in these four places will score 5-3-2-1 points, respectively. In the ski proficiency each man will go over the course once, racing against time; then the seven best times will be taken and the men holding these will go over the course again and the average times will decide the winner. In the ski jumping there will be one trial and two competitive jumps. The standing jump will be one in which the contestant from the time he leaves the take-off until he passes the dead line, cannot touch any part of his body to the snow.

Not more than three men may be entered by any fraternity in any one event, and only one relay team may be entered by each fraternity in each type of relay. The total points of interfraternity score is 103. The total points possible for any fraternity is 88, for the interclass score 84, for any individual 50. It is to be noted here that each man in the relay will receive as many points as the team of which he was a member. Everyone planning to enter the snowshoe events is warned that the minimum width of snowshoes that will be allowed will be 12 inches and the minimum weight of the two snowshoes together, three pounds. In the event of a tie, a run-off will be held at the discretion of the Outing Club Council.

GRAY AND DEROSE WIN KAKE WALK PRIZE AGAIN

Packed to its very historic rafters was the University of Vermont gymnasium on Saturday night, as an ultra enthusiastic crowd sought entrance to the Green and Gold's ever unique success, the Kake Walk. Nor were they in the least disappointed, for the thirty-second annual presentation of this far famed classic was bigger and better than ever.

Excitement ran high from the moment that the first peerade feature appeared in the hall until the final kake walker had strutted off the scene while fraternity men and supporters planted here and there among the audience kept the rafters ringing with hearty applause.

Following the evening's presentation the decisions of the various judges were announced, beginning with the awarding of the grand peerade prizes. The Hayes & Carney cup and cake was won by the elaborate float named "The Fountain Fight," which was put on by the members of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. This represented Ma and Pa trying to pull their son through college while the son stands at the top of a high platform and spreads ten-dollar bills in every direction.

The second peerade prize, the Preston cup, was won by the "Funnymental Museum," the feature sponsored by the Sigma Delta Fraternity. This was a traveling encyclopedia of high lights of the Old Testament, including Noah's Ark, Jonah and the whale the latter carrying a Vermont license plate, Delilah's sheats, the jawbone of an ass with which Samson slew the Philistines, Adam's apple and Eve's modest Joseph's coat of many colors and many other features of a similar nature.

The Miles & Perry cup offered to the best individual performer in the peerade was awarded to the young man operating the ideal cigar lighter. With a great commotion Kenneth H. MacGibbon '29 propelled an intricate piece of machinery around the floor, stopping at various intervals to demonstrate his lighter. After turning a considerable number of gas jets, current supplies and other paraphernalia the lighter ignited with a loud report that made the watchers start with amazement. Mr MacGibbon is a member of the Sigma Delta Fraternity.

Unique Stunts

Six fraternity stunts were run off with commendable smoothness and speed following the peerade. These stunts were put on by members of the Phi Mu Delta, Delta Psi Zeta Chi, Sigma Nu, Alpha Tau Omega and Kappa Sigma fraternities. The Briggs cup and cake as first prize was won by the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, which put on the first stunt entitled "Too Perfect a Servant." This original skit opened with a homelike scene in which a modern salesman was attempting to sell his mechanical man to a busy housewife. After considerable consideration she consents to try the contraption for ten days time and then the fun begins. "Robot," the mechanical man, makes a hit with friend husband, who at once begins to employ him for purposes of his own. He is made to answer the doorbell, move chairs and do other useful household tasks. When sent by the husband, however, to find a partner for a dinner party he makes a serious blunder which in the end costs him his life. For he brings the wife to the dinner party with unwelcome results. The mechanical man was an ingenious contraption that evidenced much originality and hard work on the part of its makers.

The Southwick cup and cane were awarded to the second fraternity stunt expressively entitled "Ah!" This was a vivid bit of melodrama in which the story was told by means of clever pantomime and the repeated expression "Ah." This was another home scene in which the husband and the maid are interrupted, in the midst of an

(Continued on page 6)

"The Phi Beta Kappa Man In Business."—By A Vt. Graduate

While this is called a fraternity the greater number of initiates in coeducational colleges are women, and this is right for they say that half of the human race is made up of women and the other half that isn't made up is man. "The Phi Beta Kappa Man in Business" is no misnomer, for in these days it is a real business to become a Phi Beta Kappa man.

One of the striking changes of modern times is that more and more the business man appreciates the need of the highest type of education and training.

One of my father's pet stories was about a neighboring farmer who had sent his boy to college. Someone asked him how much longer Jim would be in college and he replied in his Yankee drawl: "Naow Jim's bin t'college 'baout two years and they say it takes four years to git t'all and I reckon I'll let Jim stay thar 'till he gits t'all."

This idea of a college education has also undergone a great metamorphosis and no one appreciates the limits of a college education more than those who have made the most of their college course—members of this Fraternity. But, the fact remains that no training lays such broad and deep foundations for a successful business superstructure as the college education.

Education has undergone radical changes in the last half century. My father thrilled me in boyhood relating his first experience as teacher in a "desstrict school." In those days mental equipment was a secondary consideration. The teacher had to demonstrate by brawn and muscle his mastery and the big bullies were alert for every advantage. In this school at Alburgh the three preceding teachers had made quick exit either by the front door or window, whichever was handiest. Father, muscled by pitching hay and milking, did not tread the path of dalliance but taking the biggest bully unawares, he gained a hip lock and toehold and thrashed him within an inch of his life and the school mastery was decided once for all and they turned their thoughts to other things. Corporal punishment was the rule and the ferrule and rawhide were the teachers' constant companions. Those were pioneer days and discipline reigned supreme.

In the early days colleges were mainly devoted to turning out preachers and teachers. In the University of Vermont most of the students devoted the winter term to teaching, first, for financial aid and second as good training for chosen life work and the University looked with favor and indulgence upon this necessary course. The degree of A.B.—now more commonly understood in baseball scores—was the main one given and a college course was neither considered necessary nor useful for a business career.

"Education is Life"

The function of education is not to stuff the mind with facts but to teach one how to handle them. Education is training the mind to be, not a storehouse but a workshop. It develops not memory but imagination and intelligence, not knowledge but power. Is there anything that Big Business needs today more than the imaginative, intelligent and powerful mind?

Education is not only preparation for life, it is life.

With the growth of corporations and the expansion of commerce, the demand came for men of broader education and colleges established courses in commerce and business administration beginning with the Wharton School of Finance of the University of Pennsylvania in 1881 down to the Baker graduate school of business administration, recently established at Harvard.

In what way does college training benefit the business man?

1. It develops vision. College research tends to make keen, far-sighted business men.

2. It develops confidence—the mainstay of the successful business man. The non-college man, unless abounding in conceit, is possessed of an inferiority complex. He realizes the superior training of the college man and though oftentimes superior in natural talent, he belittles himself to himself in comparison.

3. College life develops leadership. The Phi Beta Kappa man has had a four years struggle—a real struggle—to obtain the key and this successful struggle for leadership in college is the best training for leadership in business. The Phi Beta Kappa man starts off with a decided advantage over his inexperienced competitor.

4. College life and college contacts are life itself in miniature. The graduate of college has gone a long way toward leadership in life. No better training for life's business battle can be found by a serious-minded youth than in the sacred precincts of the classroom, the secluded cloisters of the library, and the almost saintly fellowship of the fraternity. In all of these the Phi Beta Kappa man should be and is a leader and he touches the problems of business from this vantage point of leadership.

No better illustration of this can be found than in the successful diplomatic mission to Mexico of Dwight W. Morrow. He was chosen for this supremely difficult task by President Coolidge because at Amherst in his college contacts he had displayed that patience, personal magnetism and good judgment that perfectly fitted him for this delicate undertaking. The college is a melting pot and the dross and the sterling metal always are accurately separated. Does the business world need this kind of leadership? Yes, and never so much as now.

Good Students in Demand

We have abundant proof of the advantage of education and of high rank men in the professions of law and medicine. The big law firms seek the high mark men from the law schools. They argue that the man who has shown himself superior in the classroom will make the superior lawyer. So with medical students. The hospitals pick the honor men every time. But, law schools teach law and medical colleges teach medicine but colleges do not teach business or train for any special kind of business.

We have valuable and convincing proof of the success of Phi Beta Kappa men. Forty percent of the Justices of the United States Supreme Court between 1800 and 1922 were Phi Beta Kappa men and also forty percent of the Secretaries of State.

Who's Who in America discloses that about three out of every five men listed are college graduates. A very high percentage of the members of the Phi Beta Kappa Society are mentioned in Who's Who.

I have investigated the records of the honorary group of high standing men called the Review Board in the Baker Graduate School of Harvard. They are, without exception, creditably filling high positions in business, finance, cost research work, etc.

I know of but one of our giant industries that has recently scientifically tested and tried to answer the question: "Does Business Want Scholars?" Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in Harpers Magazine for May, 1928, gives the result of his research confined to the study of 3,800 men employed by the Bell System. The result of this interesting and practical study, while not perhaps an answer to the question "Should Students Study?"—because that answers itself—is a direct answer to the question "Should industry seek students who have studied?"

While income cannot always be made the measure of success, it is the only proper test of employees in the same business. The compact result of the analysis is that the man in the highest tenth in scholarship at college has two chances in ten of standing in the highest tenth in salary. The one in the lowest third of class stands one chance in twenty-two.

Dr. E. W. Kemmerer, Professor of Economics at Princeton University, recently said that the chances of success of the non-college man as compared to the college man is as 1 to 196.

A bank in New York City has placed with a college a request for two men each year to be selected from the highest in scholastic standing.

A University of Business

I suggest then an American University of Business—a post-graduate school for intensive training to fit for a business career. The faculty should be composed of experienced men in the different branches and special lectures be given by outstanding captains of industry like Owen D. Young of General Electric Co., Charles M. Schwab of Bethlehem Steel Co. and John J. Raskob of General Motors.

A student who wishes to specialize in electricity, automobiles, steel, public utilities, etc., can here obtain the last word from the best sources and all of his student associates will be fired with the same ambition—business leadership.

In such a University truth shall have audience and constructive criticism be heeded. Here no conclusion need be reached without exhaustive research and experimentation and then it should have great weight. Classroom work and lectures could be supplemented by practical work in banking house, mill or factory and such plants as General Electric, General Motors and Westinghouse should be available as the training is to provide leaders for their expansion. Such a University should be richly endowed so that the poor boy may have equal opportunities with the rich, if he can qualify. Only college graduates of excellence should be eligible, for the theory is that business wants scholars. The success of the Baker post-graduate course at Harvard indicates that this idea may succeed on a larger scale.

Such a University would be a melting pot—the last test in ability to succeed—and as such a University would be organized and endowed by Big Business, here they would look for their recruits; this would be the apprentice shop for them in lieu of the apprentice system of old and they could watch the student's progress with care, feeling that the students were their boys, being trained to do their work.

Granted that there is a need for this type of advanced leadership, is there any better way to secure it?

Outstanding Phi Betes

I will mention three outstanding examples of those who have combined business with culture to the advantage of both.

1. Darwin P. Kingsley, Vermont '81.
2. Owen D. Young, St. Lawrence University '02.
3. Dwight W. Morrow, Amherst '85.

May I briefly refer to Darwin P. Kingsley for I know him intimately as a member of the same college and fraternity. He was a poor farmer boy who put himself through college by his own efforts. He rang the college bell and there learned promptness which he has always practiced and exacted of his subordinates. His loyalty to his college and fraternity are due to the fact that he recognizes what a commanding part they played in his successful business career. He found himself in college. Those innate qualities of leadership might have lain dormant without college development and college contacts and he frankly admits that he would not have achieved his success without his college training where he learned to do his level best and developed a confidence in himself to tackle big things.

Statistics indicate that but two boys out of ninety-eight ever reach a place of leadership in the world—the other ninety-six are followers in the procession. Why is it that but two percent of boys arrive? The real reason is that modern society has not yet learned to cultivate scientifically potential leadership in growing young life. Most normal boys may become leaders if they will resolutely determine to develop to the maximum their powers and capabilities. If the boy is to become a leader of men he must be trained into leadership, otherwise his chances are but two to ninety-eight.

We are proud to be members of the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity which stands supreme in its scholastic standards and we might add to our motto the words "noblesse oblige."

The magic letters of our key "S P" have caused discussion without agreement. Some say it is the symbol for Societas Philosophiae. I prefer to think it stands for signum principium—a sign of the leaders"—leaders in business as well as in the Arts and Professions.

NATIONAL SKI CONTEST HELD AT BRATTLEBORO

At the national skiing contest in Brattleboro on Thursday and Friday of last week Strand Mikkelsen of Greenfield, Mass., came to the front by winning the national ski jumping title. He wrested the title from Lars Haugen of St. Paul, Minn., who held the championship last year. Mikkelsen's jumps were 141 and 131 feet while Haugen's were 136 and 130 feet. The jumpers were judged both on form and distance and the distances were originally measured in meters according to the new international system. The longest successful jump in the meet was 149 feet made by Halvor Walstad of Racine, Wis., but he fell on his second jump. Casper Ormen, who was expected to win the class A event jumped 155 feet but fell and sprained his shoulder and did not compete further.

The class B event was won by Gutorm Paulsen of Chicago who jumped 132 and 127 feet. Ray Mikkelsen, brother of the class A winner came in second. Class C was won by Oliver Morrisseau of the Brattleboro Outing Club, class D by Herbert Loring of Hanover, N. H., and the intercollegiate class by Ernest Pedersen of the University of New Hampshire, who has distinguished himself this year in various meets by his sensational jumping.

The national 14-mile cross-country ski race was won by Magnus Satre of Salisbury, Conn., one of three brothers in the meet. His time over the 14-mile course was 1 hour, 14 minutes, 30 seconds; a little less than 3 minutes faster than the time made by Sven Astrom of Hanover, N. H., who recently defeated Satre at Lake Placid. Class B was won by Marine Rivers of Chester, Vt. J. H. Thoms, '32 of the University of Vermont Outing Club made a good showing in this class by coming in 11th.

Together with a number of others in the meet the University of Vermont jumpers were invited to Rutland Saturday to do some exhibition jumping there.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB OFF FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ELIMINATION CONTEST

Thirty Singers Will Make Trip to the Hub—To Compete for Cup by University Club of Boston

The University of Vermont Glee Club will leave for Boston at noon Thursday in a specially chartered car. Thirty singers, only, will make the trip and eliminations will be announced later.

The Fourth Annual New England Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest will be held in Symphony Hall, Friday evening, March 1, at 8 o'clock. The following eleven New England colleges will definitely compete for the cup offered by the University Club of Boston: Amherst, Bowdoin, Boston University, Clark, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Middlebury, Northeastern, University of Vermont, Wesleyan, Williams, and Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

Among the entrants of this year are Wesleyan, Middlebury, and Amherst, winners respectively in the 1926-27-28 contests and each holds a leg on the University Club Trophy. Since the Glee Club must win the competition twice, the contest this year should be an interesting one. The winner of the New England Contest will represent this section in the National Intercollegiate Contest to be held in Carnegie Hall, New York, on Saturday, March 9.

The calibre of the entrants in the New England sectional contest compares very favorably with the National Intercollegiate group as is evidenced in the fact that the Wesleyan Glee Club, winner of the New England contest in 1926, also carried off first prize in the National Contest in 1926 and again in 1927.

The purpose of the glee club contests which are held in various portions of the country, is to raise the standard of singing in the college glee clubs. The New England Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest Association was organized in the fall of 1925 with this aim in mind. The contests have been sponsored by the University Club of Boston.

The hopes of the founders of the New England Association have been realized in part by the very noticeable improvement shown by the Glee Clubs in successive contests. Because of the heavy expenditure necessary for a competition of this nature the financial success has not been all to be desired.

As a result of this condition, a questionnaire was sent out late last spring asking the colleges whether or not the contests should be continued. The answers from the letters sent to the presidents of the various colleges were very definite in their desire that the competitions should continue, and eleven colleges signified their immediate intention of entering the contest for 1929. The committee then made plans to hold a contest this year.

From the tone of the letters received, there is no doubt but that glee clubs in New England are being benefited from the contests and the responsibility for the success of the contest lies on the shoulders of their alumni who reside in Greater Boston. The committees are doing their work in arranging the details of the contest, the Glee Clubs will each do credit to their college, so it is up to the alumni to do their share and support the contest.

The tickets, 75c to $2.00, will be placed on sale at Symphony Hall, February 15 and may be obtained there or by writing your college representative.

The college representative in Boston is Mr. Duane O. Sprague, 100 Milk Street, Boston, Mass., c/o Connecticut General Life Insurance Co.

Enormous Telescope

If a lighted candle could be placed forty-one thousand miles from the earth or about one-sixth the distance to the moon its flame would still be visible through the two-hundred inch telescope planned for the California Institute of Technology.

Stars from five to ten times fainter than can now be registered on the one-hundred inch telescope on Mt. Wilson will be shown with the aid of this giant sky-glass.

"Daddy, what is dew?"

"The rent, the note on the car and the grocery bill."—Burr

Athens is the Mother of Letters. Upon the Acropolis was kindled the intellectual torch which has irradiated the globe. It is for us, members of this distinguished society, to see to it that that torch, fadeless and undimmed, shall shine for future generations with an even more effulgent lustre.

THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL KAKE WALK AT VERM

As Seen by Ex-C...

Kolored mammy u...

An ultra-peppy b... the cigar, Jo...

Kake walking plus...

Enjoyment—et co...

Who'll win the stu... close.

A clever pair—this ... Nellie. Good g...

Lots of noise. H... ing some of it f...

Kourse you saw it!

Fo' Dat Kake

Finish blackin' up yo' face
My honeh boy
Careful, or you'll tear yo' la...
My honeh boy.
Let's go out and take our pla...
My honeh boy.
Fo' we'se awalkin', we'se awal...
dat Kake!

Heah Joe Lechnyr and his ban...
My honeh boy.
Wow, but ain't his music gra...
My honeh boy.
I'm so lively ah can't stand.
My honeh boy.
Fo' we'se awalkin', we'se awal...
dat Kake!

Ready, set—then let us start.
My honeh boy.
Step it out and step it smart.
My honeh boy.
Use yo' strength and use yo...
My honeh boy.
Fo' we'se awalkin', we'se awal...
dat Kake!

Is yo' tired, about to break.
My honeh boy?
Well, jus' think o' what's at...
My honeh boy.
It's a cup and it's dat Kake.
My honeh boy.
Fo' we'se awalkin', we'se awal...
dat Kake!

Dere! de finish line's in sight.
My honeh boy.
Jus' keep on yo' smilin' brigh...
My honeh boy.
Now, jus' once mo' an' we finis...
My honeh boy.
Fo' we'se awalkin', we'se awal...
dat Kake!

As the Spotlight Hit It

1. Who was the usheret... black stockings?

2. So that's the way the... ink. We always thought the... have to make it; thought it ... bottles.

3. This trick cigar light... was the big noise of the "indi... in the Peerade.

4. Yeh—why all the waste... munition in the first few... Shades of Tom Mix!

5. The airplane had ... The patriarch next to us r... triumphantly: "Serves 'em ri... silly critters! Always claim... those garl-dinged contraptions... safe nohow!"

6. Who was the perfectly... ous-looking hobo seated at th... counter? The cute little S... Yes, if he'd had his brother w... they would have made a pair o...

7. Ah-ha! The Cynic's ... in there with its own new... news to us.

8. The Hoover locom... didn't crash through so hot. ... judges? You know me, Al...

9. A defective in the ... Shades of Hot Dope Mac... whoopie, what a maid. W... made anyone!

10. Note to Political S... partment: Is it p... a Robot to take our next ...

11. Harpster was ... keen-looking bim. ... to a woman, old ma...

12. The Pied Piper ... his activities to Batt... step over the bounda... Province of Winooski ... at home.

13. A good show. ... Old Gold would say ... Rah! Rah!

What Late Hours!

Senior women ... stay out until 10:4... cept Sunday this ... Wesleyan according ... dent government ... and junior women ... this privilege on F... nights. Freshman w... fit by this ruling.

SPORTING NEWS

SEYMOUR I. NATHANSON, '30
Sporting Editor

CATAMOUNTS LOSE TWICE ON JOURNEY

Springfield Wins for Second Time 32 to 8 and Conn. Aggies Take Fast Game 34 to 25

WALLACE HIGH SCORER TOTALS SIXTEEN POINTS

[illegible] week-end proved to be unsuccessful for the Catamounts on their journey south for [illegible] out on the wrong end of [illegible] in both of the contests in which they appeared Friday afternoon they were vanquished for the first time this season by the Springfield quintet, this time by the overwhelming score of 32-8, and the following night by the strong Connecticut Aggie aggregation by the somewhat insulting score of 34-25.

Springfield Defense Invincible

The game with Springfield was disappointing to say the least. The fast offensive work of the Bay Staters started off at the first tap-off completely harried the Catamounts confusion from that time until the final whistle went off. As in the previous game the Green and Gold were too busily engaged trying to protect their own basket to do much offensive work of their own, and as a result they were unable to tally more than a single point during the whole first period. This was a long heave by Sargent. The Springfield men, on the other hand, seemed to have little trouble solving the Green and Gold's defensive system, and at the half time, the Y were in the lead 19-2.

The Vermonters' evidently could not solve their opponents any better in the second period for the Maroon and White collected thirteen more points, while the Cats were raising their total to eight. Vermont could not seem to penetrate the enemy for they broke through the primary and secondary defense at will.

The Springfield quintet is without a doubt the best team that has been met by the Catamounts this season. While the players are stars, a few of them such as Duncan, Cameran [illegible] and their two guards, Potter and Cook, are stars of the first magnitude and are a beautiful sight on a basketball court. It is no insult to be defeated by them but a trouncing like this one is not a pleasant pill to swallow. Shirey was the outstanding point-hanger of the game, collecting a total of twelve points while Wallace, Duncan and Sargent each contributed a goal to the cause, the other two points coming from free tries by Wallace and Sargent.

Summary:

VERMONT	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
[illegible], r. g.	0	0	0
[illegible], r. g.	1	0	2
[illegible]ook, l. g.	0	0	0
[illegible] c.	1	1	3
[illegible]n, r. f.	0	0	0
[illegible] f.	0	0	0
[illegible], l. f. and c.	1	1	3
[illegible]n, l. f.	0	0	0
	3	2	8

SPRINGFIELD	Gls	Fls.	Pts
[illegible]n, l. f.	1	0	2
[illegible]an, l. f.	0	2	2
[illegible] r. f.	0	0	0
[illegible] r. f.	1	2	4
[illegible] c	5	2	12
[illegible]	1	4	6
[illegible] l. g.	2	1	5
[illegible] l g.	0	0	0
[illegible] l g.	0	1	1
[illegible] g.	0	0	0
[illegible] r g.	0	0	0
	10	12	32

Referee: Dillon.
Umpire: Heints.

Conn. Aggies Lead at Half

Saturday's game was a much better game than the preceding one. Again the boys were slow in getting under way but the Aggies stepped into an early lead which the Vermonters were unable to overcome and at the end of the first half the Nutmeg State quintet had a six-point lead, the score standing 19-13. Both teams put up a strong offensive type of play, but the defense of both quintets was tight, and it was only with difficulty that either team was able to break through for points. Both teams started off with a bang at the opening of the second half and from then on the play was fast, both teams having little difficulty in finding the basket. The Cats rolled up a total of sixteen points in this period, while the Aggies were gathering nineteen.

Matzkin the pivot man of the Connecticut team came through in a big way, and tallied twelve points. Ryan, the flashy forward was the other big man on the Aggie five, with a total of nine points to his credit. Hugh Wallace was the high scorer of the game. He was popping the ball through the loop at all angles of the floor and had over half of his team's points to his credit.

In the Aggie game the Catamounts met a team that was more than a match for them, for the game Saturday was their eighth victory in thirteen starts. It is practically impossible to beat them on their own floor, and that has been done just once in the last three years. However, the Vermonters put up a great battle and gave the Aggies some of the fastest and cleanest opposition of the season.

The summary:

VERMONT	Gls	Fls.	Pts
Manning, l. g.	1	2	4
Estabrook, r. g.	1	0	2
Palmer, r. g.	0	0	0
Sargent, c.	1	0	2
Halligan, l. f.	0	0	0
Morse, l. f.	2	0	4
Wallace, r. f.	5	3	13
Bernstein, r. f.	0	0	0
Totals	10	5	25

CONN. AGGIES	Gls	Fls.	Pts
Darrow, r. f.	1	1	3
Ryan, l. f.	4	1	9
Tragut, l. f.	0	0	0
Matzkin, c.	5	2	12
Dall, c.	0	0	0
McComb, c.	0	0	0
Duffey, r. g.	2	0	4
Osterling, r. g.	0	0	0
Schildgen, l. g.	2	2	6
Yunkelch, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	14	6	34

Referee: Dillon.

MGR. PUFFER ANNOUNCES FROSH GRID SCHEDULE

The freshman football schedule for 1929 has been announced by Mgr. James C. Puffer as follows:

Oct. 5. Montpelier Seminary—Here
Oct. 12. Clark School—Here.
Oct. 19. Fort Ethan Allen—There
Oct. 26. St. Lawrence '33—There
Nov. 2. Norwich '33—Here
Nov. 8 Middlebury '33—There

The schedule is similar to last year's with the exception of the addition of Montpelier Seminary. All the other teams were played last year, but the places of meeting of the last three games have been interchanged.

ANNUAL BASEBALL TRIP TO SOUTH BEST EVER

FORT MEYER ADDED

Medic Team Fills Other Open Date—Ten Game Trip Features Toughest Schedule in Recent Years

Another southern trip will mark the opening of the Vermont baseball schedule the end of next month.

Manager Rogers and Graduate Manager Mayforth are working on the details of the southern invasion and will announce the complete itinerary in the near future.

Two additions have been made to the diamond schedule recently published in the CYNIC. The Fort Meyer, Virginia nine will be played April 5 and a team made up of former varsity stars now in the medical school has been booked to play at Centennial field May 4.

The Southern Trip which was started many years ago tends to develop the team into shape for the long spring grind while it is also of educational value to the players and affords an excellent opportunity to give publicity to the University. A brief outline of this year's trip follows.

Thirteen players, Coach Gardner, Graduate Manager Mayforth and Manager Rogers will leave Burlington March 29 and arrive in Washington early Saturday morning March 30. The team will stop at the Hotel Continental across from the Union Station. A light workout will be held in the morning and in the afternoon the season will be started with a game at Georgetown. The next day, Sunday, will give the squad a chance to see picturesque Washington. Monday morning the trip to Quantico will be made where games will be played on Monday and Tuesday afternoons. Tuesday night the team will return to the Hotel Continental. Wednesday the short jump to Annapolis and the game with Navy will take place. Remaining there over night the team will travel the next day to meet the University of Maryland. Thursday night the Vermonters will go from College Park to Fort Meyer where the game with the soldiers will take place on Friday. Saturday morning the party will leave the Fort for Washington to meet the Catholic University outfit. At night a sleeper will convey the team to New York where Sunday will be spent. Headquarters in the city will be the Hotel Pennsylvania. Monday, St. Johns of Brooklyn will furnish the opposition and Tuesday the strong New York University aggregation will be met. Wednesday the squad will go to West Point and play the Army. After that game the return trip will be made by way of Beacon, N. Y., and Newburg, Vt., ending at eleven o'clock Thursday morning, April 11, when the train pulls in at Burlington.

CAT'S MEOW

SPORTING EDITOR

A disastrous week-end was the result of the trip to Springfield and Connecticut Aggies. Two teams of their caliber and two days on the road provide too much opposition for any outfit.

Vermont's low score against Springfield was the result of the flawless defense developed by the Bay Staters rather than the inability of the Vermonters to shoot. The Cats couldn't get near the basket.

The Aggies have surprised themselves with their success. From a small, inexperienced squad they have become a stumbling block to all rivals.

Two state championship basketball games and the last home game, with Holy Cross as the opponent, will bring the Vermont hoop season to a close. It will be a hard schedule especially since the first game is at Middlebury, which won here two weeks ago.

Norwich, here Thursday night, is by far the weakest of the three teams and has very few victories to its credit. Northeastern beat the soldiers 50 to 15 Saturday.

Middlebury proved its ability by running over Dartmouth 28 to 23. The Panthers overtook the Green's early lead and at half time were ahead, 14 to 11.

Varsity track practice got under way yesterday in the cage under Coach "Milt" Aldrich, formerly of Worcester Tech.

Baseball candidates also reported to "Larry" Gardner, who now has his complete squad out. Less than five weeks remain before the southern trip. There is some promising material in the freshman class.

The frosh basketball team also completes its schedule this week in preliminaries to the Norwich and Holy Cross games. Checkerboys and Y. M. H. A. are the opponents.

Providence College in losing to Army 36 to 32 last week appeared stale. The Rhode Islanders have played a long schedule—one of the hardest of all eastern colleges—and the grind is beginning to tell.

There are only three open positions on the Boston College baseball team. The squad is one of the most experienced to report to Coach Hugh Duffy for many years and the Eagles hope to duplicate their football team's undefeated record.

Long Island University is going to try out John Heydler's proposal for a 10-man baseball team. The National League president's suggestion will be used in a one-year trial this season.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 897-W
T. P. G'HARA
TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING
170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

Fraternity Basketball

Semi-final games of the interfraternity basketball tournament will be played off today and tomorrow.

Delta Psi meets Phi Mu Delta at 6:15 p.m. this evening and Kappa Sigma faces Sigma Nu at the same hour tomorrow.

The winners of these games will be the winners of League I and II and will meet on March 2 at 3 p.m. in the championship contest.

Probable line-ups:

DELTA PSI		PHI MU DELTA
Corbin, f.	f.	Proctor
Marvin, f.	f.	Stone
Park, c.	c.	Clain
Taft, g.	g.	Rojenski
Macomber, g.	g.	Manning

KAPPA SIGMA		SIGMA NU
Chadwick, f.	f.	Kersey
Winant, f.	f.	Maynes
Durfey, c.	c.	Hyland
Otto, g.	g.	Slavin
Cummings, g.	g.	Bedell

INTERCLASS HOCKEY TO TAKE PLACE THIS WEEK

Graduate Manager Mayforth Announces Schedule—Event Made Possible by Proximity of New Rink

Word comes from Graduate Manager Mayforth that an Interclass Hockey Tournament will take place Thursday to Saturday, February 28 to March 2 inclusive. The purpose of the contest is to interest the student body in winter sport, hockey in particular and to develop material for future varsity contests.

The following men were appointed to take charge of the event: Griffith, '29 for the seniors; Lawrence, '30 for juniors; Schurman, '31 for the sophomores; and Mercier, '32 for the freshmen.

Every student is eligible, whether on the varsity squad or not, and all those interested should see the man in charge of his class team at once.

The first match, between the frosh and sophomores, will take place on Thursday at 4 p.m. on the U. V. M. rink. The juniors and seniors will meet on Friday at the same hour. On Saturday the winners of these two matches will clash. A silver loving cup will be presented to the victorious combination.

Coach "Hy" Abrahams as well as Graduate Manager Mayforth are earnestly in back of this project, and promise that if the ice will hold out additional games will be scheduled.

Athletic authorities at the University of Pennsylvania have announced that in the future freshman athletes will be limited to participation in one sport and upperclassmen to two sports except in particular cases. Any sport may be chosen by the individual, and only in cases of high scholastic standing will the rule be disregarded. This plan is all right in large institutions where there is plenty of material.

On Friday and Saturday of this week the third annual invitation indoor intercollegiate tennis tournament will be held at Cornell University. Colgate, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Lehigh, Ohio State, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Syracuse, Williams, Yale and Amherst will compete. Julius Seligson, the singles champ, will defend his title.

Army Junior Varsity defeated the clever Norwich fencers 7 to 6 Saturday.

VERMONT TROUNCED BY MIDD ICEMEN 5 TO 0

Middlebury hockey team ended its season Saturday afternoon on the Middlebury rink by shutting out the Catamounts 5 to 0. The Blue and White looked much faster than they did when they defeated Vermont here by a single goal two weeks ago.

The Panthers opened without delay and scored three goals in the first period. With the reserves on the ice in the second period there was no scoring, but in the finale the regulars netted the puck twice.

Vermont was forced to play defensive hockey on account of the ability of the home team to stick to the rubber.

Makela starred for Middlebury with three goals. Segal and Lawrence were outstanding for the losers.

The summary:

Middlebury	Vermont
Douglas, g.	g., Hendrie
Foote (Nelson, Brewer), l. d.	r. d., Lawrence (Thompson)
Nelson (Grugel, Guarnaccia), r. d.	l. d., Collins (Segal)
Crocker (Melbye, McLeod)
Cappello, l. w.	r. w., Mercier (Morse)
Kelley (Melbye), c.	c., Segal (Marvin)
Makela (Jason, Grugel), r. w.	l. w., Schurman (Howard)

Score: Middlebury 5, Vermont 0.
First period: Makela (M), unassisted. Makela (M), rebound; Crocker (M), rebound. Third period: Makela (M), unassisted; Kelley (M), loose puck.
Penalties: Foote 2 minutes, Crocker 2 minutes, Thompson 2 minutes, Melbye 2 minutes, Foote 2 minutes, Nelson 2 minutes, Melbye 2 minutes, Nelson 2 minutes, Thompson 2 minutes, Foote 2 minutes, Kelley 2 minutes.
Referee: Denning.
Time: Three 20 minute periods.

FROSH AND CHECKERBOYS MEET AGAIN THURSDAY

As a preliminary to the Norwich-Vermont game on Thursday, February 28 at the U. V. M. gym "Bunny" Prentice's Kittens will take on the Checkerboys quintet. This is the second contest between these two aggregations. In the first combat the frosh nosed out the club team by one point, the final score being 19 to 18. It must not be forgotten that that was the first game for the yearlings, and in as much as they have improved a great deal since that time a safer margin score is expected.

The frosh have had a successful season thus far. In the last contest they defeated the strong Y. M. H. A. combination to the tune of 13-11 after a strenuous clash. Much credit is due to Coach Prentice for developing a speedy passing quintet. Taft and Tilley are a fine defense duo. Captain Winant can be relied upon for superb floor work.

In Vento at right forward and Whitmarsh, a pivot, the Checkerboys have two men that will provide plenty of competition. Both are crack shots at the basket.

The probable line-up:

VERMONT		CHECKERBOYS
Winant	f	Hardy
Tupper	f	Vento
Bowers	c	Whitmarsh
Taft	g	Niles
Tilley	g	Akins

Now that the annual Kake Walk Social Season is over, this week will be an excellent time to buy for those long neglected letter. That will be one errand you won't be allowed to forget if you stop in

STATIONERY

at the

UNIVERSITY STORE or MEDICAL BOOK STORE

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student [illegible] of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE D. CLAYTON, '29
Editor-in-Chief

LESLIE M. MACOMBER, '29 — Managing Editors — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '29

George B. Brush, '31 — News Editors Lynne Lesman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Joyce B. Richardson, '29 — Nathanson, '30 — Asst. Managing Editors Lyndon M. Foster, '31, Herman D. Gussow, '31, Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor — Intercollegiate Editor — Feature Editor Edward J. Boone, '30

[illegible] — [illegible] Leon W. [illegible] — [illegible] Editor Catherine A. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

[illegible], '30 — Winsted Stone, '31 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32 — [illegible] Ranslow, '32 — Alfred J. Morin, '32 — Watson E. Morgan, '32 — E. Henry Powell, '30 — Charles N. Crockett, '31 — Edmour A. R. Germain, '31 — Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '30
Business Manager

[illegible] Manager — Advertising Manager
[illegible] Manager — Assistant Manager
[illegible] Manager — [illegible] Manager
[illegible] Manager — [illegible] Manager

Single Copy, Five Cents

[illegible] All communications must be signed by the author, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2938 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday [illegible] Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House; all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House. [illegible] provided for in [illegible] P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1920.

[illegible] Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — February 26, 1929 — No. 36

KAKE WALK IN 1930

With the 32nd annual Kake Walk just over and while it is still [illegible] it is not too early to begin thinking of the 1930 Kake Walk. On the whole the Kake Walk this year was very successful and the directors deserve to be congratulated on the smoothness with which the various events were run off and the efficient way in which the crowds were handled.

Yet there are a few suggestions that could be made making for a better Kake Walk in 1930. There is a point in all productions no matter how original and unique at which the interest on the part of the audience begins to wane. Walkin' fo' de Kake is referred to in the [illegible] Kake Walking is essentially the same, and differs only in the degree of perfection displayed by the participants. Taking this fact into consideration, would it not be a wise procedure to cut down the number of Kake Walkers by a preliminary elimination contest? This plan was tried with the stunts when it was found necessary to limit the number in order to hold the interest of the audience, and was found preeminently successful. This plan has the advantage of allowing the Kake Walkers to put more time and effort into practice and preparation. This in itself would be highly commendable in view of the unfavorable comments heard in recent years concerning increasing lack of proficiency on the part of the Kake Walkers.

Again, in regard to the Peerade, there should be some definite regulations established concerning the length, width, and height of the entries. Kake Walk is put on to please the public primarily, but when certain spectators are inconvenienced to the extent that they are compelled to move or assume grotesque postures to permit the turning of certain over-large Peerade entries at each end of the gym, this primary purpose is lost. And Kake Walk loses its attractiveness to a considerable extent.

OTHER TIMES, OTHER MANNERS

It was recently brought out that there is to be a convention of college deans some time in April to discuss the question of collegiatism as a menace to youth in particular and to society in general. Just what places to this none too enlightening subject will be under discussion is not known as yet. But it is the general consensus of opinion that, whatever points may be brought up, the venerable deans will be somewhat late in talking of collegiatism as a menace.

Two or three years ago there might have existed sufficient grounds for a heated argument of the pros and cons of "yes, we are collegiate," and its effect upon the general moral character of the younger generation. But now such a discussion is quite out of place. It seems almost absurd! Bell-bottom trousers and such other excesses of the collegiate costume so in evidence a few years ago have for a long time passed into history as far as the present collegiate world is concerned. They are generally classed as prosaic. Why?

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new." The collegiate mode of yesterday is passing out. The reason for its going is the reason why all fads are only temporary and not at all lasting. After a sufficient lapse of time the plebian multitudes catch up with the fashion in their eternal desire to imitate their supposedly more intelligent brethren, the college students. Now the college student finds that he must have to create a new fashion in order to distinguish between himself and those who have not had the privilege of a college education.

If we are to judge from such statements as the following, the college deans need not worry over the college students of today assuming the wrong psychological attitude toward habits of dress and conduct. "The present generation of students are well dressed, well behaved, a very different type from what we had twenty-five years ago." This from a Wesleyan administration official.

Campus Comment

EGGS vs. JUSTICE

Recently the aesthetic sense of a group of sophomores was offended by certain actors who were performing skits at the Strong Theatre. The extent of the outrage was such that some form of expression was necessary. The sophomores in question found adequate expression by the use of eggs. Two of the group were asked to leave the theatre. At the ticket office they were met by two members of the police force who asked them to walk over to the police station. They being very obliging went along thinking of no serious consequences. They were questioned and later they were taken to the local "Hooch-gow" and placed in a cell. They were forced to remain there from Saturday afternoon until Monday morning. They were refused permission to communicate with their friends by telephone or otherwise. The college authorities made no attempts to inquire into the circumstances of the case and did not seek to rectify it.

A résumé of the incident was given by the Burlington papers. This was considered by the Council of the college as grounds for suspension. It is important that the student body should know the reasons. It is not a question of whether your friend or my friend has to resign from college. There are general principles involved. Every student's sense of justice should be offended. Has the Council as the governing body of the college a justifiable right to ask the resignation of a student because he has been in jail? Certainly no one asked me, when I presented my credentials for entrance to this University, whether I had been in jail or not. Only my ability as a student and moral character were questioned. Perhaps these students were suspended because they had committed an ungentlemanly act. If this was a finishing school or a "Prep" school, where one goes to become a lady or a gentleman, such a reason would be understandable. "Harvard" is famous for its gentlemen yet all of the Harvard students arrested by the Boston police are not dismissed from college.

Perhaps the deans were following precedent. Have they a rule which is to the effect that one should have nothing to do with the Burlington police while in college? If I were called into court for "jay-walking" and fined, would I be dismissed from college? There should be no intrinsic difference between these two offenses from the point of view of a college governing body. If such a rule exists, I want to know it, for I wish to remain for the next few months to complete the year and to fulfill requirements for a degree. A SENIOR.

STUDENTS SHOULD NOT KNOCK THEIR SCHOOLS

Dropping into the office of a prominent downtown business man the other day, I found the man I had come to see talking with a youthful applicant for work.

"I understand you are a student at the University," the older man remarked.

"Yes," the applicant replied apologetically.

"I've never had time to look the school over," the older man continued, "though I've heard a good deal about it. What sort of a school have you got out there?" he asked.

The applicant hesitated, then said weakly "... oh, it's all right for a hick school."

"That so?" grunted the business man. "Well, I'm afraid we haven't a place for you right now." And he began to run through the pile of letters on his desk.

He turned to me when the applicant had left the room. "You know," he said, "I need a man for part time work badly right now but I wouldn't hire that young fellow if he were the only man on earth."

And he told me why. And this is the gist of his remarks.

Any man who won't stand up proudly for the thing that occupies most of his time, whether it be a job, a hobby, or a school that he is attending, is not much of a man. If a school is worth going to, it is worth defending.

This man paid taxes for the support of the University and he was, in a way, proud of the University that his taxes made possible. And the apologetic air of the student irritated and disgusted him.

Give that boy a job? Not on your life. In a week he'd be dissatisfied with his salary. In a month he'd be ashamed of his job. In a year he'd be ashamed to be working for me."

And there's a moral in that story that more than one student may well apply.—Ka Leo O Hawaii.

Professor George Dykhuizen spoke on philosophy at the February meeting of the Home Builders' Class, held at the Methodist Church Friday evening.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

QUESTIONNAIRE RESULTS RECEIVE PUBLIC AIRING

A short time ago we published twenty-three questions, with the sole object of determining what a real man demands of and in the woman he chooses to marry. We asked you to reply; we expected that you would.

But we were overwhelmed. Answer after answer swarmed over the desk in the Cynic office. We really appreciate that; it means that you're actually taking an interest in life and life's problems. It is therefore with much pleasure that we present to you Vermont's concensus of opinion on this matter.

The Questionnaire

1. Do YOU intend to marry?
2. If so, why? If not, why not?
3. Have you a certain ideal girl in mind? Describe her.
4. Do you consider the love of some woman essential to a real man's happiness?
5. Have you ever had a serious love affair? How did it end and why?
6. Do you lose interest in a girl as a possible wife when you discover that she is not averse to petting?
7. Have you found girls to be greedy or selfish or the reverse?
8. What qualities do you consider most important in a wife? Name them in the order of importance.
9. Must she have beauty? Must she be domestic? Religious?
10. What are your views on the subject of the married woman who continues to work?
11. Would you propose marriage to a girl who earned more than you could earn? Why or why not?
12. Are you saving for marriage? How much could you save each year? How much do you save?
13. What income would you consider necessary to justifying marriage?
14. Would you allow your wife to handle the money in your home?
15. What are your views on divorce? What do you consider grounds for divorce?
16. Do you want children?
17. Would you demand that a girl reveal any mistake she had made before marriage? Would you marry a girl who had made such a mistake?
18. Explain fully the reasons for your stand on the foregoing questions.
19. Do you drink, smoke, swear, or make your own dresses?
20. Would you marry a girl who did these things?
21. What makes a man love and want to marry a girl?
22. Do you admire the girl of Today?
23. How could she more nearly approach your ideal?

The Results

Number of students in University: 1310.

Number of replies received: 1758. (Such eagerness and zeal should be rewarded!)

Negative and Affirmative

The Consensus of Opinion

NOTE: The numbers used below correspond to the numbers before the questions.

1. No. I prefer to buy my own ties, socks and suits.
1. Yes. I'll take a chance on anything.
2. Why not? Well, just because.
2. Why? Well, just because.
3. No. I'm too busy thinking of my two Ec tests coming a week from Monday.
3. Yes. My ideal woman is the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi and Sue Carrol cleverly combined. Get me?
4. No.
4. Yes.
5. No. This love racket is like the ice for the shaker—not all it's cracked up to be.
5. Yes. She decided to walk and I wouldn't give her my road map.
6. No. I like 'em that way.
6. Yes. The girls who pet not only cause me to lose interest but capital (and self-control) well.
7. No. Only greedy.
7. Yes. Only selfish.
8. (a) "It," (b) "It," (c) "It," (d) "It."
9. No. No! No!! For the luva Pete—No!!!
9. Yes. Yes! Yes!! For the luva Mike—Yes!!!
10. My views start at the bottom and work up.
11. No. There wouldn't be any chance.
11. Yes. Provided that she had a steady job.
12. (a) No.
(b) I could save $.0000 every year.
(c) I do save twice that much.
12. (a) Yes.
(b) I could save plenty—but, y'know how it is.
(c) Very little.
13. Anywhere from $800 to $8,000.
14. No. Emphati[illegible]
14. Yes. She pro[illegible] way, so why interfe[illegible]
15. My views on [illegible] courthouse views [illegible] vorce are coffee gr[illegible] grounds and stran[illegible] grounds.
16. No. They're a [illegible]
16. Yes. Adopted
17. No. Yes.
17. Honor should [illegible] so. It would make [illegible] who the girl was.
18. I'd rather not [illegible]
19. Number who [illegible] who smoke, 0; numb[illegible] number who make [illegible]
20. (This includes [illegible] ball team.)
20. No.
20. Yes, if she ha[illegible] and butts.
21. (a) I don't k[illegible]
(b) Lack of [illegible]
(c) Two can [illegible] one—if [illegible]
(d) When yo[illegible] of calling [illegible]
(e) The girl [illegible]
22. No. They g[illegible] bothered; I can't [illegible] my work.
22. Yes! But, O! [illegible] looking forward t[illegible] morrow!
23. I'll leave that [illegible]

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

"Hello, John K[illegible] Henry, "and have [illegible] a Peerade stunt?"

"Have I? Boy, I [illegible] million-ides-per-minute [illegible]

"All right, tell me [illegible]

"Well, for the F[illegible] how about a cart [illegible] paper on it, and a ba[illegible] on the side labled

THIS IS THE CYN[illegible]
TODAY
OUT ON T[illegible]

"That would be too [illegible] again."

"Well, listen to th[illegible] around on a stretche[illegible] ghastly white and [illegible] sides of the stretche[illegible]

HE WAS HAPPILY [illegible]
"X[illegible]
AND HE GO[illegible]
"A[illegible]

"What's the point [illegible]

"There ain't none [illegible] got the point."

"Oh shut up and q[illegible] without sayin' anythi[illegible]

"All right, if you [illegible] good tell me an ide[illegible] stunt."

"Sure. Here's one[illegible] Have a guy dressed [illegible] and a top hat wal[illegible] fifteen feet behind [illegible] guys similarly dressed [illegible] has a card on his ba[illegible]

THE PRINCE O[illegible]

In front of them all [illegible] different things in [illegible] goes up and takes [illegible] others look excited [illegible] other and quickly do[illegible] prince breaks his [illegible] away half of it, the[illegible] carries between his te[illegible] ly the others, pointing [illegible] excitedly, do likewise [illegible] picks a purple cactus [illegible] sticks it in his hat band. And others. The thing [illegible] nitely."

"Marvelous, my son[illegible] dom! But what kind [illegible] a purple cactus flowe[illegible]

"It don't. It is out [illegible] ground. Ask me something [illegible] show your ignorance.

"Oh, go lay a co[illegible]

F. WALTER H[illegible]

Intercollegiate News

By ODINO A. MAR[illegible]

Massachusetts In[illegible] nology called off a [illegible] with Providence C[illegible] when managers were [illegible] on officials for the [illegible]

Football, basketball [illegible] emphasized at New Y[illegible] extra-curricular activi[illegible] invaded the regular [illegible] count just as much to[illegible] do Greek, Mathe[illegible] and the other so-ca[illegible] jects.

With the start of [illegible] N. Y. U. students [illegible] courses—one in tu[illegible] basketball, and the o[illegible] track and field event[illegible] Dave Morey, for[illegible] backfield flash at Da[illegible]

DR. MEADER LAUDS GIRL OF TODAY IN ADDRESS

...mastering her "reader" and ...aded Spencerian hand, great... her had learned all that it ...ht like for a Christian female ... Today 300,000 young women ...American colleges, studying on ... with their brothers. The in... which account for this modern ...e strikingly reviewed tonight ...James Laurence Meader in the ...l address which formally ...im president of Russell Sage ...

...ening that the old-time thral... women was purely an out... of social circumstances, Dr. ... went back to the beginning, ... of the acceptance of women's ...ity as of divine will. As this ... developed through medieval ... it accentuated the so-called ...ess of women and contrasted it ... manly strength. The myth ...d its climax in the clinging vine ... of women's history.

...Meader showed the same forces ...k with regard to the intellect. ...matics, history, and kindred ... were looked upon as exclusive provinces of the masculine mind. If the woman could make a neat sampler, provide children and a comfortable home atmosphere, it was enough.

By 1890 there were enrolled 30,000 women in colleges, one-tenth of the number attending American colleges today. Coeducation was becoming popular and the demand for women's educational facilities generally was increasing at an enormous rate. To serve this need, colleges for women sprang up over the entire country until at present there are more than 100 devoting themselves exclusively to the higher education of women.

Sound, robust health Dr Meader placed first in the Russell Sage program of education with the words, "We may garner the wisdom of the ages and yet if we have not health our lives become a disappointment to ourselves and oftentimes a menace to others."

After health, competence to perform a service valuable to society comes next in importance. While the speaker confessed a high regard for the liberal arts college and for the practical school as well, he selected the middle course as ideal.

"Culture and competence," said Dr Meader, "should be considered as friendly companions setting out on a long journey together."

Fine arts and religion received the concluding attention of the address Both these essentials to modern life have a large share in the program of present day education. Chapel worship has often proved a failure, resulting in its abolition as a compulsory part of the daily routine at many colleges. There are, however, other ways to enable the student to reach his own conclusions regarding religion Too often students are robbed of their faith and are given nothing to replace it.

"An individual must be able to justify in the forum of his own conscience the religious belief which he accepts. Only in this way will this belief have any real meaning for him."

CAST FOR COMIC OPERA "PATIENCE" IS CHOSEN

Hazel Ladd, '30, H. E. Goddard, '29, and R. H. Allbee, M. '31, Have Leading Roles—Play to be presented Thursday, April 18

Professor H. G. Bennett, head of the Music Department of the University, has chosen the cast for the comic opera "Patience," which is to be presented at the Strong Theater on Thursday evening, April 18. The leading lady is to be Hazel Ladd, '30, while H. E. Goddard, '29, and R. H. Allbee, M. '31, will play opposite her in the two leading male rôles. The complete cast follows, all characters being members of the Men's or Women's Glee Clubs.

PATIENCE ..... Hazel Ladd
BUNTHORNE ..... H. E. Goddard
GROSVENOR ..... R. H. Allbee
LADY JANE ..... Marion Baldwin
LADY ANGELA ..... Dorothy Nash
LADY SAPHIR ..... Lorraine Guillett
LADY ELLA ..... Doris Duprat
THE DUKE OF DUNSTABLE M. B. Jenks
COLONEL CALVERLEY .. H. M. Sheffield
MAJOR MURGATROYD ..... B. Baker

There will be a chorus of thirty voices chosen from the remaining members of the clubs. Rehearsals will start early next month.

"Patience" is one of the Gilbert and Sullivan comic operas, which are well known to nearly everyone. Many of them have appeared in town before, but never before has the production of one been undertaken by the University students. The nearest approach to a production of such difficulty was presented last year in the comic opera entitled "The Mock Doctor." Success is assured for the play by the fact that it is being produced by Professor Bennett as musical director and Professor Metcalf as dramatic coach. These two men have assumed their present rôles many times in the past and their efforts have always proved singularly successful.

"Patience" has had a unique history. It was first produced in London in the 1880's, where the performance took place in the Savoy Theater, a playhouse built especially for Gilbert and Sullivan productions. From the very start it was more than successful, for its initial run totalled 408 performances. Indeed, the play was so popular that other companies attempted to steal the rights, and then the words and music.

"Patience" was originally intended as a satire or caricature of a fashionable craze or fad of the 1880's, called the aesthetic movement, but it may also serve as a caricature of any sort of excessive and insincere high-brow ... "Patience," the opera, still lives, ... the movement which it satirized is dead. "Patience" does live because ... Gilbert's perfectly irrepressible wit and Sullivan's absolutely delightful ...

The cast of this play consists of ... dragoons," rapturous maidens, ... rival poets, and Patience, the milk ... The soldiers are in love with ... rapturous maidens, but the fickle ... once madly in love with the ... prefer the poets, while the ... prefer the milk maid. The problem ... whom does Patience choose? ... torn between love and duty. ... been taught to love Bunthorne ... poet, but she really loves Gros... the other. The clever manner ... which the plot is handled is characteristic of all Gilbert and Sullivan ...

HEALTH COUNCIL GIVES SET OF HEALTH RULES

The healthy girl is the attractive girl. Therefore Health Council has compiled a set of rules, whereby the college girl may have a radiant expression of "pep" and liveliness on her face, that "skin you love to touch," straight good-looking shoulders and a spring in her step For no matter what features or quality of looks nature has given a girl, it's the girl with "pep," clear complexion, good posture, and keen health that attracts

Keep a few health cards, get an hour of outdoor exercise every day, obey the health rules—then see the reflection of health and attractiveness in your mirror.

WOMEN'S CLASS PLAYS WILL BE GIVEN FRIDAY

"Sardines," "The Man in the Bowler Hat," and "The Veneered Savage" will Furnish the Entertainment

Women's class plays will be presented in the University gymnasium next Friday evening, March 1, at eight o'clock. General admission is fifty cents and dancing, sponsored by Y. W. C. A. will follow the program. Tickets may be obtained from Marion Baldwin, '29, Agnes Wheeler, '29, or Anna Wilder, '31. Professors Dean, Aiken and Lindsay will judge the plays.

The junior play, "Sardines," coached by Estabel Perelman, '30, is as follows.

MARTIE EATON ..... Irene Marcotte
THE LADY FROM NEW YORK.. Iva Harris
ALFREDA THE MAID.... Clarissa Peters
LIZZIE ..... Margaret Parry
MRS. PIKE ..... Elizabeth Miller

A lady from New York comes to a little village seeking local color. The townspeople, however, are awaiting a run of sardines which would insure their prosperity, since a packing plant is the mainstay of their livelihood The whole affair winds up with the lady getting her inspiration and the people their sardines.

The Sophomore play, "The Man in the Bowler Hat," coached by Mrs. Pearl Brown, has as characters the following:

MARY ..... Virginia Goodenough
JOHN ..... Jean Wappler
THE HERO ..... Janice Davis
THE HEROINE ..... Gertrude Levin
THE CHIEF VILLAIN .. Winona Spencer
THE BAD MAN ..... Dorothy Nash
THE MAN IN THE BOWLER HAT ..... Justine Rogers

The plot of this sketch is a deep dark secret, much mystery and suspense is promised along with a surprise ending

Those taking part in the freshman play, "The Veneered Savage," coached by Lilian Cohen, '30, are

MARGE DAYTON ..... Margaret Norton
LOU DAYTON ..... Elizabeth Hollis
LADY FANNIE ..... Hope Ranslow
DICK MADISON ..... Kathryn Rash
THE DUCHESS OF MIDDLESEX ..... Lucille Robinson
LORD ATHERSON .... Doris Humphries
THE BUTLER ..... Helen Gahagan

Two American girls, while visiting England, learn that an English lady describes them as "veneered savages." To carry out this false impression and to give the English lady something to talk about, the Americans assume the characters of cowgirls and put on an amusing scene.

Smoker Tips 16 on Big Secret

Norwood, Ohio
Oct. 8, 1928

Larus & Brother Company
Richmond, Va.

Gentlemen:

In the past twenty years I have been a consistent smoker. I was always anxious to smoke a pipe; but no matter how often I tried, I soon changed my mind. I have tried all kinds of pipe tobacco, but not once was I satisfied with the taste of any of them until just recently I gave my pipe another trial.

It was my luck to choose Edgeworth this time, with the results that I am still using it and will continue to do so. I only hope that you will continue to give that same mild, high-grade quality in the future.

I have started not less than sixteen men to start or give Edgeworth a trial, and they are still using that same unequaled non-biting tobacco to this day. I can recommend Edgeworth tobacco to anybody who enjoys a cool non-biting brand of good tobacco; and as long as I enjoy same, you can rest assured that I am going to be a good ad., and many a pipe-smoker will be asked to give it a fair trial, and they themselves can act as judges.

I always give praise where praise is due. After I was convinced of the wonderful quality of Edgeworth I could not help but tell you people the same as I have been telling and will in the future tell others.

Hoping that you will continue with the same quality in Edgeworth, I am

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Joseph J. Stahl

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

Society Notes

PI BETA PHI

Mrs Florence Farr Hard, '26, entertained the chapter at her home on South Winooski Avenue Sunday evening.

Vermont Beta Chapter gave a tea in honor of Miss Emily Margaret White, national vice-president of Washington, D. C., on Thursday, February 21 Members of the chapter, alumnae and representatives from the other sororities were present Lucy Bracken, '29, and Mrs. Ruth Broad Sinclair, '26, poured

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Dorothy Barrows, '25, of Jeffersonville was in the city over the week-end

ALPHA XI DELTA

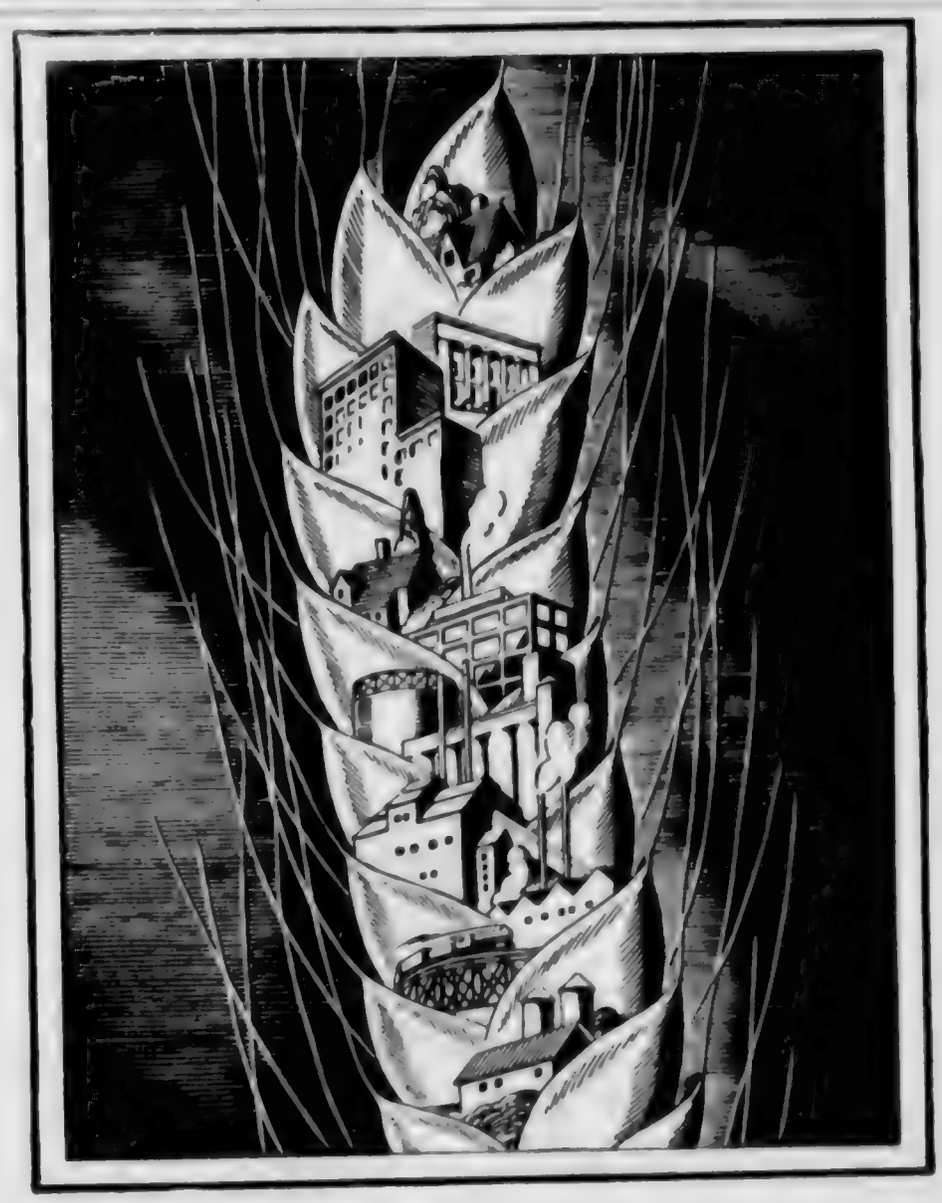
Miss Louise Pitt Smith, ex '28, of North Attleboro, Mass, and Alma Betten, '28, of Hanover, N. H., visited in this city last week-end

Eloise McGlaffin, '28, of Bowen, was in town for Kake Walk

KAPPA DELTA

A supper was held for the active chapter of alumnae at the fraternity rooms Thursday, February 21.

Frieda Tracy, ex '29, of Enosburg Falls visited in Burlington this week



SIGMA GAMMA

Mabel Stearns, '28, of Rutland, was in town last week

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

Great states from wheat seeds

IT was unprofitable wilderness, most men thought. But James J. Hill had faith that it could grow wheat and so he built his railroad. Settlers turned the waste-land into wheat-land, the wheat into wealth, the wealth into great western states.

Faith in the economic future still points the way. Right now men in the Bell System are planting the seeds of vast possibilities for even better communication.

Out of the belief that the public needs a broader use of the telephone is growing a constantly improved long distance telephone service. Like the railroads of an earlier day, this service is now tapping and helping to develop rich new territories of commerce.

BELL SYSTEM

A nation-wide system of inter-connecting telephones

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION SERVICE WORK DIVIDED INTO THREE BRANCHES

The Extension Service of the University of Vermont is divided into three branches. Each branch has agents in the different counties of the state. There is a division for men with County Agents at the head a division for women with Home Demonstration Agents at the head and a division for Boys and Girls with the 4-H or Boys and Girls Club Agents at the head. The central office for these various groups is at the University. Vermont gives extension [illegible] the organization of the field work.

There is but a small staff to take care of the division for men. The county agents are put to work with the farmers [illegible] to carried on among the farming people. The club agents hold meetings for the purpose of helping the farmer in carrying on from the teachings of the Agricultural College.

The women's clubs are organized in the various communities, each with its program for the year, and are known as the Home Demonstration Agents. Home demonstration work is concerned with the improvement of various phases of home-making. Because this the work has a great deal of social value through the emphasis it lays on the matter of cooperation for various community activities and through the social contact it makes possible. The program usually includes home economics problems and community work. The present State Home Demonstration Agent Leader, Marjorie E Luce, '16, is a graduate of Vermont.

The 4-H Clubs are organized in the various counties of the state, by a county club agent. The 4-H clubs are progressive and aggressive. The clubs are represented in every state of the United States, in Canada, England, and many other countries. Their work is volunteer work, although essentially a public service. It organizes boys and girls around ideas of their own choice and liking. It demonstrates the practical uses of up-to-date methods. It develops partnership, ownership, leadership and citizenship.

SOPHOMORE WILL RUN FOR GOVERNOR IN 1948

Ninel Aberdeen League, of Greenville S. C., has focused his vision upon the gubernatorial suite in the state capitol of his native commonwealth. He has already announced his candidacy for governor of South Carolina in the elections of 1948.

Young League is a sophomore at the University of South Carolina. He is getting his college education by delivering newspapers, waiting on tables and doing other odd jobs to pay his expenses. Honor man in his class at high school, the boy worked extra hours in a cotton mill to save $79 as a starter to his college career. He now has his sophomore finances well in hand and anticipates no trouble in getting on through to the diploma.

"Politics is my hobby," he says. "I expect to study law after I get my academic degree and I may hold my knowledge of law as a political medium.

But regardless of what else I do, I am going to run for governor of South Carolina in 1948."

Fordham Has Irish School

In 1929 a school of Irish Studies was founded at Fordham University based on the old Gaelic idea of a school of quiet thinking, devoted to the arts but interpreted in the modern spirit. Courses are offered in Gaelic Art, the Irish Renaissance, Folklore, Drama and other aspects of Irish culture. Graduate degrees are conferred in Irish Literature and Languages and eminent scholars from American and Continental universities participate in the work of the school. In establishing lectures on Irishmen's share in the world's cultural development.

"Hey, buddy, got a match?"
"No, but you can use my lighter."
"Don't tell me, how can I pick my teeth with a lighter?"

Spring Styles

Advance showing of Suits and Topcoats by

LANGROCK
BRAEBURN
ADLER

HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

JOBLESS SENIORS GIVEN OPPORTUNITY THURSDAY

On Thursday evening of this week at seven o'clock in 32 South College a representative of the University Club of Boston will speak to all seniors who may be interested in securing business positions after graduation.

The University Club has organized a department of Education and Vocational Counsel which the officers keep in touch with the leading employers and business men of New England with representatives of all of the New England colleges and the seniors and graduates five years out of college. The purpose is to establish a central bureau of information and bureau of employment for New England college men. Several graduates of the University of Vermont have already been placed through this agency and the number of openings is steadily increasing.

Mr. James F. Henderson, will be the speaker for the evening and he is anxious to meet any seniors who may be interested and explain to them the details of his department. The meeting will begin promptly at seven and will be over in time for the basketball game.

ARIEL EDITORS ASK FOR GREATER COOPERATION

Ariel editors predict the first appearance of the Annual during Junior Week. The various members of the board are hard at work in their endeavors to get the yearbook to the press on time. Nearly all snapshots and photographs have been turned in and weekly meetings of the men's editorial boards are being held in an attempt to "dope up the work."

Despite the fact that the editors and assistants are "working their heads off" there are several delinquent juniors who have failed to cooperate with them in turning in all material. The editors wish to warn these members that they "will not be responsible" for what is printed concerning them. If, however, action is taken at once there is yet time in which they may rectify themselves.

All manuscripts and engravings must be in by Easter. Therefore it is highly advisable for anyone who has material to be turned in to see that the editors receive it as soon as possible.

If everyone does his part and the members of the board continue their unceasing efforts, the campus may expect to see the Ariel appear on time and in its usual high-standard form.

Prize at Dartmouth

Dartmouth College offers a $1,000 reward for a musical setting for the poem, "Our Large Lady Dartmouth," written by Richard Hovey of the class of '85. Competition has been open to anyone with the sole stipulation that the composition, if accepted, shall become the property of Dartmouth College. The competition closes on June 1.

You will find only the most approved street and dress shoes in John Wards. They have been grouped here especially for college men. For 80 years, John Wards have been the college man's shoe.

John Ward
MEN'S SHOES

See them on display at
HAYES & CARNEY
Bank Street Near Majestic

Thirty-Second Annual Kake Walk Tremendous Success

(Continued from page 1

attentions seems, by the wife and the paramour. The husband is evidently murdered in a wrathful moment, but by whom, the woman and the wife fire at each other there is some doubt as to who killed him. They finally grasp with revolvers in his hands and Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson are called in to solve the mystery. After they have spent some time in melodramatic detective work they decide that the poor husband has killed himself. After they have all departed the husband revives and continues his lovemaking to the maid with even more eagerness than previously. This stunt was put on by members of the Delta Psi Fraternity.

An' Den—Walkin' Fo' De Kake!

The ten cake walkers were greeted boisterously as they stepped down the hall to the strains of the vivacious "Cotton Babes" as played by the University Band under the direction of Joseph F. Lechnyr. There were a great variety of costumes, some of which were very striking in their attempts to carry off the real old southern style of bright colored dress. But it was not until the ninth couple danced down the hall that the degree of perfection which was to win the first cake walking prize was seen. Nelson Gray and Charles DeRose, both members of the class of 1930 and representing the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, were the winners of the Boulder cup and the huge cake decorated in the traditional Vermont colors of green and gold. They were elaborately costumed in suits of white and light blue satin accentuated by tiny electric lights which glowed on various parts of the costumes. Their performance showed evidence of much painstaking practice.

The Sigma Phi kake walkers were honored in the second presentation of the Student Senate cup. Corbin Lyman '29 and R. P. Billings '31, by their intricate steps, good carriage and perseverance, captured the admiration of all who cheered them on to success.

The judges gave an honorable mention to Robert M. Huey '31 and E. Stewart Phillips '31, who walked for the Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Yas, sah, bo, when bettah kake walks is walked, Ole Vermont will walk 'em'

CADETS APPEAR HERE IN LAST CONTEST OF CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

Horsemen Should Offer No Strenuous Opposition—Record to Date Poorest in State

Thursday night the Norwich quintet will be in town for the last game for Vermont in the state series. The Horsemen appear to have the weakest team in the state this season and have been used merely as a stepping stone for the others. In a previous game the Catamounts easily defeated the Maroon at Northfield by a 25 to 12 score. Middlebury and St. Michael's have also defeated Norwich and this game ought not to prove difficult for the Green and Gold. However, it is hard to judge from previous scores and one should not be too optimistic, for the outcome of a basketball game can not be foretold with any great degree of certainty.

In the other Norwich game Coach Cayward used many of his substitutes and perhaps some of them will play Thursday night. However, the regular line-up will start the contest as usual.

Grandy appears to be about the best offensive man the Cadets have while Peachout, a freshman, is a stalwart guard. Both of these men expect to give the Green and Gold some stiff opposition.

There will be only one more home game for Vermont this season. This will be the Holy Cross fracas next Saturday.

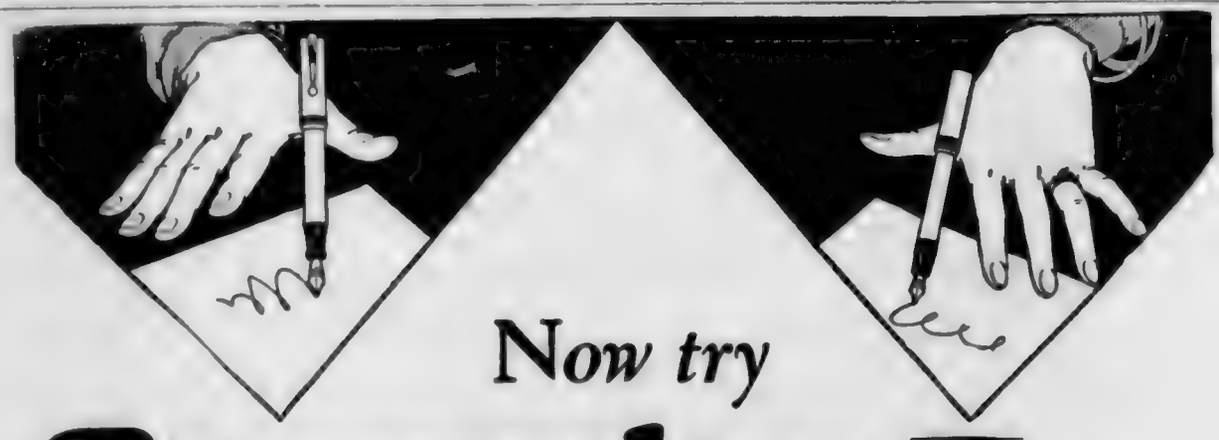
For Fine Home Made Candies
Go to the
BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP
Special Price on Ice Cream for Fraternities

NOTICES

Will the chairmen of the several Junior Week Committees meet at [illegible] p.m., Wednesday, February 27, in South College, for a general conference with the Chairman of Junior Week.

Women interested in trying out for columnist on the Cynic Board, please report to Priscilla Campbell, as soon as possible.

Grey Friars, Vermont's literary society will hold their next monthly supper February 28, at 7.00 o'clock, at Sa[illegible] The speakers will be Doctor Great[illegible] Professors Laatsch and Dean.



There will be a brief but very important meeting of the International Club on Thursday, February 28, [illegible] o'clock. The purpose of this meeting is to determine whether the club wishes to have a group picture taken. Please be there.

TUFTS COLLEGE
DENTAL SCHOOL
Founded 1867

College men and women [illegible] profession of widening interest. Recent research has [illegible] every phase of dentistry. [illegible] more than ever before, [illegible] ability backed by superior [illegible] training Tufts College Dental offers to its students. [illegible] September 30, 1929. [illegible] guide you in choosing your [illegible] information address

Dr. William Rice, Dean
416 Huntington Avenue Boston, Mass.

RAND'S HOME LUNCH
64 COLCHESTER AVE.
Where you get the most of the best for the least
HOME COOKING
OUR SPECIALTY
Phone 2045

Now try
Pressureless Writing in taking notes and writing themes

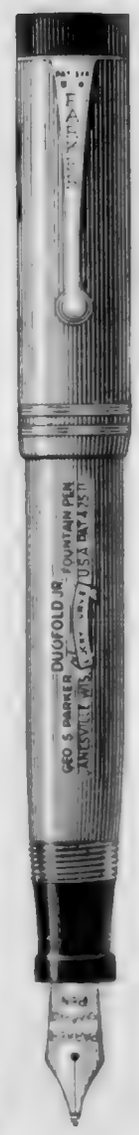
This is the student's pen par excellence.

The Parker Duofold's polished iridium-tipped point glides gently over paper. Ink flow starts immediately and continues evenly at any speed with merely the feather-light weight of the pen itself to bring it into action.

Finger-pressure is relieved. No effort. No strain. No interruptions, no intrusions by the pen. The track is cleared for THINKING, so you do better work.

Action so responsive that pen can be made 28% lighter than rubber (though non-breakable) and still require no weight from your hand.



To please you even more, we offer in the Duofold five flashing colors and a new Modern Black and Pearl—the latest mode—from which to select.

Then we add a guarantee forever against all defects*, to make these better features everlasting.

Don't take a lesser pen. See the Duofold at your nearest pen counter today.

See "Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD" imprinted on the barrel to be sure you have the genuine.

THE PARKER PEN CO., JANESVILLE, WIS.
OFFICES AND SUBSIDIARIES:
NEW YORK · CHICAGO · ATLANTA
BUFFALO · DALLAS · SAN FRANCISCO
TORONTO, CANADA · LONDON, ENGLAND

24% greater ink capacity, size for size, than average pens

*To prove Parker Duofold is [illegible] of lifelong perfection we offer to make good any defect [illegible] provided [illegible] pen is returned [illegible] owner direct to the factory [illegible] 10c for return postage and insurance

Parker Duofold

$5 to $10, according to size and finish

Duofold Pencils to Match Pens, $3, $3.50, $4 and $5, according to size and finish

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VERMONT, FRIDAY, MARCH 1, 1929 — NUMBER 37

FORTY-FIVE CO-EDS PLEDGED SORORITY

Small Number Accepting Bids Due to Pan-Hellenic Ruling of a 75 Per Cent. Average as Prerequisite

PI PHIS PLEDGE ELEVEN THETAS NEXT WITH TEN

[illegible] five co-eds will be pledged this [illegible]on to the seven academic fra[illegible]s and the teacher training fra[illegible]y. This number is smaller than [illegible] because of the new Pan-Hellenic [illegible] that no woman having an aver[illegible] below 75 per cent. may be eligible. [illegible]ing has been going on for the [illegible] three weeks. During this time, [illegible] academic woman's fraternity has [illegible] an open house, an individual tea, [illegible] a final, invitational party.

[illegible]ntral period began Wednesday [illegible] at ten o'clock, and lasted until [illegible]y afternoon at four during which [illegible] no fraternity girl could hold [illegible]unication with any eligible fresh[illegible] women or transfers. Thursday [illegible]noon, all girls who received noti[illegible]on of bids from the lawyer went [illegible] Dean Patterson's office and wrote [illegible] preferences on slips which were [illegible]proved by Dean Patterson and put [illegible] the hands of the lawyer.

[illegible]riday morning each fraternity re[illegible]ved notice from the lawyer, of those [illegible]rls who had decided to accept their [illegible]s. At four o'clock, the fraternity [illegible]men issued formal bids.

After Easter makeup, several more [illegible]women will become eligible, and a sec[illegible]nd pledging day will take place.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Kappa Alpha Theta announces the pledging of Ruth Houghton, '31 of [illegible]ington, and of the folowing freshmen: Christine Bliss of Burlington, [illegible]abeth Hollis of Lynn, Mass., Isabel [illegible]es of St. Albans, Margaret Martin of [illegible]oughkeepsie, N. Y., Janet Miller of [illegible]ington, Margaret Mower of Bur[illegible]ton, Harriet Platt of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Hope Ranslow of Montpelier, and Kathryn Rauh of South Orange, N. J.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Delta Delta Delta announces the [illegible]ging of Frances Laythe, '30 of [illegible]y Line, and of: Cherolyn Barber of West Brattleboro, Charlotte Car[illegible]er of Richford, Helen Cunning[illegible]s of Richmond, Louise Manson of [illegible]rence, Mass., Roberta Powers of [illegible]rtsville, Elizabeth Smith of Rich[illegible] and Dorothy Sweeney of East [illegible]y, N. H., all of the class of '32.

PI BETA PHI

Beta Phi announces the pledging [illegible]is Skinner, '31 of St. Johnsbury [illegible] of the following freshmen: Caro[illegible]ggs of Brooklyn, N. Y., Alice [illegible] of Swanton, Verna Carrier of [illegible]eton, Frances Ferguson of [illegible]yn, N. Y., Olive Fields of [illegible]yn, N. Y., Norma Freeman of [illegible]ston, Elizabeth Howe of Adams, [illegible] Emily Maslen of Hartford, [illegible] Katherine Skinner of St. Johns[illegible] and Theodora Wakefield of Bur[illegible]n.

ALPHA XI DELTA

[illegible] Xi Delta announces the pledg[illegible] the following members of the [illegible] 1932: Lois Harrington of N[illegible]ton, Marjorie Holt of Rock [illegible]Conn., and Helen LeBaron of [illegible]ville.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

[illegible] Chi Omega announces the fol[illegible] freshmen: Helen Esieliovis of [illegible] Mass., Jean Galbraith of St [illegible]ry, Mildred Gile and Lillian [illegible] of Burlington, Katrina Munn [illegible]ford, Lucille Robinson of New [illegible], Beatrice Parkhill of Middlebury, [illegible]arjorie Willis of Waterbury.

KAPPA DELTA

[illegible] Delta announces the pledging [illegible]son Lynch of Burlington and [illegible] Main of Groton, of the class [illegible].

(Continued on page 5)

Semester Grades Are Now Being Distributed

It is announced from the office of the Registrar that the marks for the first semester became available for the undergraduate body last Tuesday. Men in the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Engineering, and Agriculture may obtain their records from Mr. Powers, in the Y. M. C. A. office in the southeast end of the Old Mill. Women are requested to go to the Y. W. C. A. office on the first floor of South College for their grades. Duplicate copies of these records were sent to the respective parents of the students over last week-end.

NEW ENGLAND COLLEGE GLEE CLUBS COMPETE FOR LAURELS TONIGHT

Thirty Members of Men's Glee Club, Under Management of Dalrymple, '29, Left for Boston Yesterday Morning

The following members of the Men's Glee Club will participate in the New England College Glee Club Contest in Boston tonight:

H. C. Dalrymple, manager; M. B Jenks, leader and assistant manager; H. E. Goddard, assistant manager; L. S. Walker, Jr., assistant manager; E. W. Allen, F. B. Bachl, B. Baker, G. Basilicato, H. M. Chatterton, Jr., R. H. Cowles, E. W. Davis, B. J. Dimon, L. M. Donahue, A. O. Eaton, D. D. C. Hazen, R. W. Hendrick, K. C. Hooker, R. S. Jenks, A. C. Johnson, H. R. Mattison, W. E. Morgan, Jr., W. W. Parker, J. O. Percival, R. D Romanos, E. L. Rowe, Jr., A. A. Scharbius, Jr., H. M. Sheffield, D. L. Stewart, R. D. Towne and P. H. Westin.

The Club left for Boston Thursday morning in a special car on the Central Vermont Railroad. Friday night the Vermont Club will compete in Symphony Hall with ten other New England groups of singers. The Vermont Alumni of Boston are entertaining the members Thursday and Friday, and some of the fellows plan to remain in the city the rest of the week-end. For the benefit of those who may attend the contest it is announced by Professor Bennett that tickets are on sale for from three to four dollars. The members of the Glee Club are in serious training under Professor Bennett. The last rehearsal in Burlington was Wednesday night. This afternoon they rehearsed for fifteen minutes in Symphony Hall in final preparation for the contest.

CATAMOUNT SHOOTERS GAIN MORE VICTORIES

This year the rifle team is piling up scores which are better than those of last year and of many previous years. Many of the older members of the team have dropped out but those that remain are exhibiting greater skill than they did formerly. This may be due in part to the fact that the freshmen on the team this year have a great deal of good material and threaten to give the upperclassmen a run for their money.

The scores returned last week give the team two direct victories, one victory by forfeit, and one loss. Texas sent in a score of 3,590, University of Alabama, one of 3,462, and the University of Tennessee, one of 3,456. Emory failed to send in any score. The University of Vermont scored 3,491.

Of the fifteen members of the team the five highest are shooting for the Hearst Trophy prize during the weeks beginning February 18 and 25.

Further news from the military department indicates that following mid years the freshmen have returned to drill by sections.

The Sigma Nu formal initiation is scheduled to take place March 17.

GOODRICH AND KONE MAKE DEBATE TRIP

Howley Unable to Go as Result of Last-Minute Accident—Have Met Mount St. Vincent and New Rochelle

LAST DEBATE TONIGHT AGAINST JERSEY CO-EDS

A last-minute change was occasioned in the line-up of the co-ed debating team when Frances Howley, '29, was unable to take the New York-New Jersey trip which has already resulted in two debates and closes tonight when the women meet the New Jersey College of Women. Gladys Kone, '29, was engaged at the eleventh hour and with Janice Goodrich, '30, left Tuesday night on the only co-ed debating trip of the season.

Wednesday night the women met Mount St. Vincent College in New York City on the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that the American jury system should be abolished." Thursday night, debating on the same side of the same question, at New Rochelle, Long Island, they met a team of New Rochelle College. New Jersey College, at New Brunswick, N. J., completes the schedule tonight.

Decisions were rendered in each case by sets of three judges. In every debate the American system, providing for both rebuttal and construction by each speaker, was used in place of the Oxford or Oregon system in use by men's teams this season.

Howley Unable To Go

A fall on the ice before the Old Mill, breaking her ankle, prevented Frances Howley, veteran debater, from making the trip. Miss Kone, taking her place in the line-up, is debating for the first time in two years. Her debating experiences at Vermont began in her sophomore year when she made the team that defeated the freshmen for class championship. The same year she was on the varsity team, registering wins over Middlebury and St. Lawrence. Miss Kone has been active, however, in practically every form of college activity. She is president of Eta Sigma Phi, classical fraternity, and has been especially active in dramatics, taking the title rôle last year in "Iphigenia" and the leading women's part in the "Devil's Disciple."

Miss Goodrich, who is probably the outstanding co-ed debater at Vermont, is vice-president of Student Union, is poetry editor of the Vermont Literary Magazine, women's editor of the Ariel, a member of the Cynic staff and of Tau Kappa Alpha. She debated with Kone in 1927, was on the team that defeated the University of Maine and met Pembroke College last year, and this year already had a victory over Dartmouth to her credit before leaving on the trip.

Men Meet Panthers First

The rest of the women's debate season is, as yet, unplanned. The men get under way again about the fifth of the month with the first meet in the Green Mountain Conference against Middlebury. Norwich will be at Vermont, followed by Howard Payne of Texas, and then Vermont leaves for Massachusetts and New York. St. Michael's will close the state series and a number of home debates completes the men's schedule.

CYNIC ELECTS NEW MEN AS ASSISTANT EDITORS

The Vermont Cynic announces with pleasure that R. W. Cobb, D. D. C. Hazen, F. W. Householder, Jr., and H. R. Mattison have been added to the editorial staff in the capacity of assistant editors. Mattison is a sophomore and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Hazen and Cobb are both freshmen and belong to Delta Psi. Householder is also a freshman and a member of Lambda Iota Society.

This year out of the ninety men in Converse Hall only three flunked out at mid-years. This is a record that hasn't been equalled for a number of years.

Justice The Subject For Smart's Address

"He that ruleth over men must be just," were the keywords of the chapel talk by the Reverend I. C. Smart Wednesday morning. Mr. Smart who is pastor of the College Street Congregational Church of Burlington, impressed upon his audience the importance of living a life filled with beauty, kindliness and power, among one's fellowmen, in order to give the most, and at the same time gain the help which one needs, from the people around one.

Jesus Christ didn't go off into the wilderness to live a life of purity by himself, but worked down among the fishermen of Galilee and showed them, by the beautiful example of his own life, how to live together in peace and content. Thus, a teacher must be a companion. He must not be the critic, the overseer, but rather the sympathetic comrade who stands as a living example of his teaching.

VERMONT ALUMNI CLUBS REVIVE ACTIVITIES WITH A SPURT AND BY LEAPS

Brennan and Donahue to be Present at Alumni Festivities Extending from Schenectady to Minneapolis

This is a big year in University of Vermont alumni club activities. Old clubs have expanded their programs and shown more enthusiasm. New clubs have caught the revival spirit and are reorganizing. Things break wide open within the next week or two when all through New York State and as far west as Minneapolis clubs will hold meetings. They begin at Schenectady, Monday, February 25, and close Monday, March 4, at Pittsburgh. Jim Brennan will be there and so will the incomparable "Jimmie" Donahue, the two Jims.

At Schenectady, February 25

In charge of the Schenectady meeting are Walter Reagan, '28, chairman Y. M. C. A., Schenectady; H. P. Hudson, '02, 183 Furman Street, Schenectady; and E. G. Howe, '24, Y. M. C. A., Schenectady. This Schenectady meeting, like the others, is highly important. It is a reorganization meeting and will mark the first of a new series of meetings of the Eastern New York Alumni Association of the University. All eastern New York is invited, to meet old friends and renew old acquaintances, make new friends and hear some first-hand news of the college.

The dinner, which is informal, will be at the Varsity Room of the Van Curler Hotel, Schenectady, Monday night, February 25. Says a prospectus of the meeting:

"The main feature of the evening will be the opportunity to meet and hear James D. Brennan, president of the Alumni Council, and Professor 'Jimmie' Donahue, who will be our guests. You can't afford to miss hearing them. Their presence and your attendance will insure the success of the evening.

"With the large group of alumni in Schenectady, Albany and Troy and surrounding towns, we should have and can have (with your cooperation) one of the liveliest and most active organizations of the University. Come and bring your wife or husband or you are so fortunate as to have otherwise see to it that you come with a fellow alumnus. Talk it up. The price is reasonable—$1.50 the dress informal—a good time is assured—COME!"

At Syracuse, February 26

The president of the Central New York Alumni Association is Dr. W. J. R. McFarland, '95, 102 East Colvin Street, Syracuse, N. Y. Charles P. Butler, secretary, rallies his legions.

"The Central New York Alumni Association of the University of Ver

(Continued on page 3)

VERMONT VICTORIOUS IN LISTLESS GAME

Catamounts Show Poor Form in Trimming the Horsemen Five Thursday Night by the Score of 20 to 13

CHECKERBOYS AND PHI DELTS IN PRELIMINARY

In [illegible] the most uninteresting game that has been played on the home floor this season, the Green and Gold quintet defeated Norwich by the score of 20 to 13 in the gym Thursday evening. At the half Vermont led 7 to 6 and this proved to be the margin of victory, for in the second frame each team scored seven points and the Catamounts' lead was too much for the Horsemen to overcome. The game was featured by poor shooting, rather loose floorwork and, at times, a tendency toward individualism.

Halligan was the main cog in Vermont's offense and accounted for six points, as did Morse. Coach Cayward used a number of substitutes but the same five men that started for Norwich were used throughout the entire game. Teachout, the Freshman forward, was the Maroon's high scorer, tying with Halligan and Morse with six points. Captain O'Donnell also starred for the losers.

First Half

Teachout got the first counter for Norwich but Morse quickly followed with one for Vermont. Then when Grandy fouled Wallaced made another point for the Green and Gold. Soon Teachout got his second basket with an overhead shot and this put the Cadets ahead. Vermont then settled down to play, after it was seen that the game would be no runaway. There was much passing and interesting floorwork as the contest at this time became tense. Nothing particular was accomplished but each team took turns in passing the ball between themselves. Halligan was put in at forward and Wallace went to the center position to replace Sargent. On Hartford's technical foul Palmer tied the score and a few minutes later put Vermont in the lead with another foul shot. However, Hartford soon made a field goal and again Norwich was leading. Then there was another intermission whereby the fans were given greater display of listless floor work. Suddenly Halligan uncorked a burst of speed and shot two field goals followed by a serving of two foul shots. Before the half ended Manning dribbled down the center of the floor and made another twin-counter. The score was then Vermont 13, Norwich 6.

Second Half

At the beginning of the second half each team got a basket. Morgan was used at center for the first time this year when at this time he went into the game for a few minutes. Norwich soon started an attack which netted two foul shots and a field goal. This brought the score 15 to 12 with Vermont still ahead. Coach Cayward made several shifts in his line-up and the game began to be interesting. Grandy shot a foul and then appeared the possibility that Norwich might tie the score but the Horsemen had made their last count. Manning got another point for Vermont from the charity line and later Sargent was left free to get a field goal. All the players shared alike the ball like a bunch of schoolboys and often a player would be left out free and unguarded but no points were made. After a period of rather dull scrimmage Vermont got another basket and the game ended with the score of 20 to 13 for the Catamounts.

The summary:

Vermont	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Morse, r. f.	3	0	6
Halligan, l. f.	3	0	6
Wallace, l. f., c.	0	1	1
Bernstein, l. f.	0	0	0
Sargent, c.	1	0	2
Morgan, c.	0	0	0
Palmer, r. g.	0	2	2

(Continued on page 6)

History of Vermont Glee Club One of Colorful And Varied Achievement

By Freeman J. Royce, '30

In the Vermont Cynic of April 25, [illegible] an editorial commenting upon the establishment of a College Glee Club and appealing to the student body to give it the support and encouragement which it merits saying in part, "—the activity of students displays itself to the outside world in no form more attractive than in the well directed efforts of a College Glee Club." At the same time it was suggested that when the club should be enabled creditably to appear before the public it would "do well to consider the advisability of giving concerts in the neighboring cities."

Effort breeds success and only through effort did the students finally realize a Glee Club deserving of attention and support. It was like a concert springing from the associations of music lovers and living, not alone on the campus but also among the lovers of music in neighboring communities. The hope of a concert tour materialized the very next season, and for the club "went abroad" to Barre and Waterbury and rendered [illegible] concerts.

It was not long before the Glee Club realized that money is the life blood of progress and it was but two years later, due mainly to financial difficulties, that the club became an organization short lived and of the past.

In Memoriam, 1886-90

From 1886 until 1890 the Glee Club was heard only in detachments, its headquarters were a mystery, its unity was not recognized, in fact, the decline of musical matters was deplorable. The attempt at the outset promised well but was not given a fair trial.

In 1890 interest was again renewed. Craving for the pleasure of song, an appeal was made for the appearance of the Glee Club, whether in shadow or substance. That music and song was wanted in college life was clearly evidenced. The revival was inspirited with the reminder that "harmony admits of no stragglers," all of which resulted in a greater regularity of attendance to the rehearsals while new voices asked admittance.

In March, 1891, the Glee Club was found definitely organized beyond the experimental stage. It was an organization destined to succeed musically but not financially. During the immediate college year concerts were given in Bristol, Barre, Montpelier, Burlington, Swanton, and St. Albans, Vt., and Keeseville, N. Y. So active in fact had the Glee Club been during 1891-92 that a student complained in poetry as follows:

"A state of things has come to pass
Which makes our city weep
For Lake Champlain has ceased to coat,
Its waves seem all asleep
And this is why the sparkling waves
No longer ring and dance.
The Glee Club roars so very much
The lake gets never a chance."

An added feature, and for a long time closely associated with the Glee Club, was a Banjo Club which enriched the concerts from the year 1891 to 1900.

1893, In Montreal

In 1893 the Glee and Banjo Clubs with a total membership of 23 rendered nine concerts in which the banjo selections were particularly attractive. Eight of the concerts were away and two were joint concerts with McGill University of which one was in Montreal and the other in Burlington.

The second great disappointment to the lovers of music came in the year 1900 when the faculty acted to disband the musical organizations. As far as can be concluded the reason for such action was the club's inability to meet its own expenses.

Two years later the ban was removed but the penalty had done its harm. Not only were the musical organizations destroyed but also their place in the list of college interests. No student body had been so long without them that now, after two years, they were forced to crowd in and make a new place for themselves.

Renewed energy of a group of students in 1902 resulted in the organization of a Glee Club in which the interest of both members and audience was very keen. The creditable appearance and performance of the club representing the University was in itself considered worthy of support by the administration which decided to secure a competent and salaried director for the Glee Club. Such action on the part of the administration had always been hoped for and very much needed. Through the previous years the directorship lay wholly within the election of the club which was fortunate enough to have some student sufficiently interested to accept the task.

Administration appreciation of the Glee Club's activity expressed in a financial way assured the club greater success and steady development over the years to come.

Mr. E. J. Beaupre, for a long time director of the Glee Club and well remembered for his consistent interest and competent directorship, completed his service in the spring of 1923, leaving a Glee Club of 25 members.

Joe Lechnyr at the Helm

During the next two years, 1923-25, the Glee Club's development, under the magnetic personality and qualified directorship of Joseph F. Lechnyr, was the greatest in its history. The membership had to be limited to 50 of which, because of necessity, only 40 could be selected to go on the several trips. The outstanding concerts were those rendered at Christmas and Easter, special concerts given during the Music Week Festivities, and a joint concert with the Burlington Symphony Orchestra. Under Mr. Lechnyr's direction application for a place in the New England Glee Club Contest, held in Boston, was made through the University Administration. All places were filled and desire for membership in the contest was not to be satisfied until the next year under a succeeding director, Professor H. G. Bennett.

The object of the New England Contest is to raise the standard of singing in college glee clubs. The annual N. E. C. is only a part of a National Glee Club Contest held in New York City later in the year, and serves as an educational advantage to the many clubs.

The present Glee Club Director, Professor H. G. Bennett, came to the Vermont campus in the fall of 1925. His coming marked the beginning of a new era for the Glee Club. He organized the University Music Department and the facilities granted him for the department plus the use of the recently erected Ira Allen Chapel left the Glee Club without a complaint, unless it be a lack of their own interest and even this has never been evident. Professor Bennett's ability and leadership was readily appreciated. Under his direction the club performed, as did those of the past, but attempted new laurels in the accomplishment of grand and comic operas, always performing to the pleasure of a full house and rendering concerts at appropriate occasions during the year. In the presentation of the operas Professor J. T. Metcalf has assisted as dramatic director while Professor Bennett continued as musical director. The present Glee Club members have a decided advantage in that they receive a limited amount of voice training from Madame Eliza Wilbradish, who is vocal instructor in the Music Department.

Enters the N. E. C.

Financially assisted by the University, the Glee Club was able in March, 1927, to enter the New England Glee Club Contest at which occasion they received third place, which was indeed a very commendable success in its first attempt to compete with other universities and colleges of which some were larger than itself.

The University of Vermont Glee Club is today in Boston as one of 11 entries in its second appearance in the New England Contest and, on the evening of April 18, at the Strong Theatre it will make its third operatic appearance in Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience."

With these recent accomplishments, the Glee Club of the University of Vermont is entering on a fourth period in its history, a period of success and musical achievement.

All A's

For the first time in the history of Stanford University a student shot academic par throughout his scholastic career.

Arthur F. Scotten has graduated with a straight A grade in every unit of the 180 required for a diploma. Scotten made the varsity fencing team and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. His home is in Pasadena.

"Wheah you all bin?"
Looking foah work."
"Man' Man' Youah co-mity's gon na git you into trouble yit."—Dressed

Cost of Blue Books

According to figures compiled by the Harvard College auditors, the blue books used for examinations during the last five years have cost Harvard $6,898.96, and that fails to take into account the number of degrees it has cost some of the students who have been unable to fill them with satisfaction to the markers.

—Montana Kaimin

Marion: I just saw an attractive girl.
Janna: Where?
Marion: In the mirror.—P. T. A.

Vermont Alumni Clubs Revive Activities With Spurt

(Continued from page 1)

meet in holding an informal dinner and meeting on Tuesday, February 26, at 7 p.m., at the Hotel Onondaga, Syracuse.

"You are invited and urged to come. The attendance of the alumni in this section, if all would come, would assure the success of the meeting.

"You have not been solicited or invited to attend any meeting of the Vermont Alumni for the Syracuse section for a long time, in fact there have been no meetings.

"At this meeting to be held on the above date, Mr. James D. Brennan, president of the Alumni Council, and Professor "Jimmie" Donahue will be our guests. Our loyalty to Vermont has never been questioned, but our interest and activity has been nil as an alumni club. Let us show the president of the alumni and the representative of the University that Vermont has loyal and interested alumni in the central part of New York.

"Come to this dinner with a smile on your face, and by renewing old acquaintances and meeting new ones, I feel that you will depart with a smile.

"The price is $3.00. The dress is informal. Bring your better-half if you wish. Get someone to take care of the children, and come along.

"The routine of the business meeting will be short, but new officers should be elected. The food and entertainment will be good and a good time is guaranteed."

Then comes a jump to good old Buffalo and the Western New York Alumni meeting. This Buffalo crowd is staunch and true. George A. Buck, '09, is president of the association. Edward A. Spaulding, '20, Fitzhugh Apt., South Fitzhugh Street, Rochester, N. Y., is secretary. The meeting will be held at the Buffalo Athletic Club, Wednesday, February 27. "Jim" and "Jimmie," still going strong, will be there.

At Detroit, February 28

On to Detroit, where Ray G. Gibson, '13, is in the traces as president. Edward Trowbridge, r., '26, is secretary. This Detroit, Mich., Association has been a good one in days gone by and has set the date of Thursday, February 28, as the one on which to regain its past prestige. The two Jims, collars wilted and hoarse of voice but indomitable of spirit, are still at it.

On Friday, March 1, marking the beginning of the end of the westward course of the two Jims and the flash of the portentous Green and Gold comet, prophesying a new era in Vermont alumni activities, will be held the meeting and dinner of the Chicago Alumni Association. Here is another good club with splendid possibilities. Elias Lyman, '11, is president. Paul W. Rathfon, '20, is secretary.

At Minneapolis, March 2

Here the two Jims call a halt, wishing they could go farther, clear to the coast, but unable on this trip. The meeting and dinner of the Minneapolis Alumni Association, scheduled for Saturday, March 2, will be in charge of the president, George B. Lane, '83, and Secretary Hanson J. Pattridge, '07. From here, loaded down with a wealth of information and valuable experience to pass on to other clubs, necessitating excess baggage payments, the two Jims swing eastward once more to be in on schedule time at Pittsburgh.

Pennsylvania is a good Vermont state. Numerous alumni are there, and there are several students at present in the University from Pennsylvania. The meeting and dinner of the Pittsburgh Alumni Association, which will be held Monday, March 4, will be in charge of the president of the club—Frederick W. Hubbard, '00, and William W. Murry, '97, secretary. As with all these meetings, alumni in the vicinity are warmly invited and urged to be present.

At Pittsburgh the long series of meetings, blazing a course of good work for Alma Mater, will come to a close and the two Jims will check out, feeling that they have left behind them something substantial that is going to bear fruit in years to come. Later Philadelphia will hold a meeting. The president of the Philadelphia Alumni Club is Carey P. Williams, '02, and the secretary is Joseph B. Wittan, '10.

School of Nursing of Yale University

A Profession for the College Woman

Interested in the modern, scientific agencies of social service.

The twenty-eight months course, providing an intensive and varied experience through the case study method, leads to the degree of
BACHELOR OF NURSING.

Present student body includes graduates of leading colleges. Two or more years of approved college work required for admission. A few scholarships available for students with advanced qualifications.

The educational facilities of Yale University are open to qualified students.

For catalog and information address:
The Dean
The SCHOOL of NURSING of YALE UNIVERSITY
NEW HAVEN : CONNECTICUT

AMERICAN MERCURY IS HAVING ESSAY CONTEST

The American Mercury offers two prizes, each of $500, for articles by college graduates of this year, discussing their experiences in college. One will go to the best article received from a male student, and the other to the best from a woman student. The conditions:

1. No article should be less than 3,000 words long, or more than 8,000.

2. Each must be the original work of a student graduating from an American college with the class of 1929, and taking the A.B. or its equivalent.

3. Each must bear the full name and address of the author, the name of the college attended, and a statement of the course followed and the degree to be taken.

4. Each must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope for its return in case it is not accepted.

5. The Editor of The American Mercury will be the sole judge of the competition.

All MSS. entered for the prizes should reach this office not later than July 1 next. The two prize-winners will be printed in the issue for September. In case others are received that seem to be worth printing, offers will be made for them. But no contestant will be obliged to accept such an offer. There are no other conditions.

The aim of the competition is not to bring forth learned treatises on the higher education, but to obtain records of personal experiences.

The contestants will be expected to name their colleges, and to give the names of any teachers they may discuss, especially those who have struck them as competent. The final day for sending in MSS. has been put beyond commencement time, so that frankness need not imperil diplomas. The MSS. submitted will be judged by their honesty, their intelligence, their freshness of viewpoint, and their interest as human documents. The competition is open to the students of all American colleges of good repute. Contestants will be free to discuss all of the matters suggested, or any one of them, or anything outside them. It is desired to give them the utmost practicable freedom. MSS. may be sent in at any time before July 1. The names of all contestants save the prize-winners will be held strictly confidential.—From The American Mercury.

The Hazing Rule at C. C. N. Y. Reads:

Hazing is strictly forbidden, except at the annual Frosh Feed, the annual Soph Smoker, and the Soph Carnival. All hazing will be under the direction of the Frosh-Soph Committee. Pledging is permissible only in the case of men who are to appear at the Soph Smoker. All pledging must be done off the college grounds.

Individual or group fighting on the college grounds is strictly prohibited.

Now Finds Sad World Young Again

DREAMS THAT COME TRUE

I am sitting alone in my room tonight,
Dreaming and smoking my old cob pipe;
I smoke and dream, and dream until
I get a plot, and get a thrill.
I am in the writing game, you see;
And the pipe-dreams softly bring to me
Scenes of carnage where the red blood ran,
And the dreams all come from a bright Blue can.
It's just a can of Edgeworth-cut—
Fragrant as flowers—sweet as a nut;
Of all Fate's kindly gifts to man
Is this gift of dreams from the bright Blue can.
I sit me down at eve, to smoke;
And soon am wrapped in a magic cloak;
It has banished trouble, it has banished pain,
And the sad old world is young again.

J. H. Rockwell
Midland, Michigan.

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

25 Years Ago at Vermo

A proposal to [illegible] of athletics at the [illegible] athletic tax to be [illegible] ular semester bill favorably. Previ[illegible] was needed a sm[illegible] which the manage[illegible] needing support a[illegible] tions, stating the [illegible]

Plans under way [illegible] college oratorical [illegible] nate with a final [illegible] World's fair are an[illegible]

Kake Walk draw[illegible] The winning stunt [illegible] Sea-Serpent of Lake [illegible] huge sixty-footer [illegible] keeper. There were [illegible] two kake-walking stunts at this time [illegible] by the fraternities.

10 Years Ago

Alpha Tau Omega [illegible] cup and large cake [illegible] "Liberty Triumphant" [illegible] resented a student [illegible] over his history stud[illegible] dream, the great [illegible] can history, past and [illegible] under the spotlight. T[illegible] finished with the spot[illegible] representation of the [illegible] erty. Sigma Nu place[illegible] "A Fair Affair." De[illegible] Kake-Walking.

University has good [illegible] Eight hundred and [illegible] the graduates, under[illegible] faculty members served [illegible]

ERNEST WALSTON AT EDUCATION CONCLA

Ernest Walston, '29, [illegible] Springfield, Ohio, for a few da[illegible] attend the National Assembl[illegible] Kappa Phi Kappa, professional [illegible] tion fraternity, as a delegate fro[illegible] Alpha Gamma chapter here at [illegible] mont. The convention la[illegible] and will take place at [illegible] College. Some of the [illegible] be held at the Shawnee Hotel. E[illegible] Walston is taking the four year c[illegible] in Teacher Training, and is a me[illegible] of the Zeta Chi fraterni[illegible]

On December 12, 1928, the bea[illegible] new building erected by the New [illegible] Life Insurance Company [illegible] the former Madison Square G[illegible] New York City, was formally [illegible] at a dinner at which Darwin P. K[illegible] ley, Vermont, '81, the [illegible] the Company, presided. Dr. Kin[illegible] has been more than twenty-[illegible] the President of this great con[illegible] which now possesses the most b[illegible] ful business building in the worl[illegible]

What did he say to the dean [illegible] he was fired?

Congratulated the sch[illegible] on h[illegible] turned out such a fine man. Hen.

You will fin[illegible]
here more than the averag[illegible] number of shoe style[illegible]
just suited to the colleg[illegible] man's taste. John Ward[illegible] are preeminent as the sho[illegible] that college men prefe[illegible]

John Ward
MEN'S SHOES

See them on display at
HAYES & CA[illegible]Y
Bank Street Near Main[illegible]

HOLY CROSS
TOMORROW NIGHT
AT U. V. M. GYM

SPORTING NEWS

SEYMOUR I. NATHANSON, '30
Sporting Editor

PRELIMINARY
DELTA PSI VS. SIGMA NU INTERFRATERNITY FINAL

CAT'S MEOW

—SPORTING EDITOR—

... Gourson, who played fullback in the 1927 Vermont football team as an understudy to Captain Jack Smith, ... to school last month after ... absence. He is welcomed by ... coaches and will be a valu... on the football team next ... Gourson showed much ability ... son and only the presence of ... star as Jack Smith prevented ... from playing regularly in that ...

... beat Harvard 43 to 40, Am... defeated Holy Cross 39 to 38, ... N. Y. U. swamped Fordham 32 ... in three of Saturday's upsets. ... Fordham's first loss.

... gratulations, Middlebury!

... dlebury has had a fine season ... a veteran combination. The Blue ... White record is the best ever. ... week's victory over Dartmouth and other outstanding victories are indications of the Panthers' ability.

... is the second successive year the Catamounts are without a state title in either football or basketball. That's an unusual state of affairs.

... Cross brings to a close the Green and Gold season which was ... too successful. Prospects at the ... ning of the year were bright but ... now the team couldn't get going.

... Crusaders are not as satisfied with themselves this winter as they would like to be. They have lost ... games and have barely nosed ... some of their easy opponents.

Providence beat Lowell Textile 54 ... Tuesday. The game was played at Salem, Mass., to give the fans a chance to see their idol, Wineapple, ... term. Wineapple was all-New Eng... forward when he was with Salem ... and now he's burning up the ... ranks with his guarding and ... ting. He delighted his friends ... sixteen points in the Lowell ...

Columbia did the unexpected when ... defeated Penn at Philadelphia this ... 35 to 23. It was Penn's first Intercollegiate League defeat and was due in part, at least, to the way ... held Joey Schaaf to only two ... from the floor.

If Penn wins one out of its two remaining league contests or if Dartmouth loses one of its three Penn ... again be crowned champion. This ... way settles the championship of the East since the league is not representative enough.

There are only three undefeated col... basketball teams in the country ... ding to a recent survey. They are Washington, Loyola of Chicago, and Mercier. All of the better quintets ... as Penn, Fordham, and Provi... have been defeated at least once.

... haaf is the leading eastern col... scorer with 249 points. Tiffany ... Northeastern is runner up so far ... 246. Next come Glenn of West ... nia with 231, Wineapple of Provi... 229, and Hyatt of Pittsburg 227

... freshmen of the varsity hockey ... have challenged the upperclass... to a series of matches which ... take place March 8 and 9 provid... the ice conditions are favorable.

... skating events of the interfra... winter sports meet were post... until further notice due to the lack of ice.

Lindy's Fiancee a Poetess

... Ann Spencer Morrow, Lindy's fian... small, dark and pretty, was known ... Smith College as a promising ... Much of her verse included ... to the mountains, the streams ... skies. In the late spring of ... while she was composing poems ... beauty of the sky, a young fel... tall, slim and unknown, was writ... his name in the skies and in the ... of the world with his thrilling ... to Paris.

... Morrow was a prize contribu... to the Smith College publications and at the Ivy Day exercises last June, ... Ivy song was sung by the entire ... ating class.

WARNINGS END FROSH BASKETBALL SEASON

On account of the large number of freshman basketball players declared under scholastic warning last week it has been considered advisable to cancel the last two games of the yearling schedule. For this reason Phi Delta Theta substituted for the frosh against the Checkerboys last night and the final game of the interfraternity tournament will be staged as a preliminary to the Holy Cross game tomorrow.

DELTA PSI AND SIGMA NU IN FRATERNITY FINAL

Delta Psi Conquers Phi Mu Delta and Sigma Nu Upsets Kappa Sigma After Two Overtime Periods in Semi-final Games

In a fast, exciting, semi-final game of the Interfraternity Tourney Tuesday evening Delta Psi defeated Phi Mu Delta 23 to 20. The game was close throughout and was featured by the clean hard fighting of both teams. The Phi Mu Delt team started off well and got an early lead which put them on the long end of a 14-6 score at the half time. In the second half the Delts came back with an irresistible offense centered about Chet Taft who did some great shooting. Steadily increasing the score till the final whistle, the Delts came out on top 23-20. Taft did some great work for the Delts while Proctor showed up well for the Phi Mus.

The summary:

DELTA PSI

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts
Marvin, l. f.	5	0	10
Corbin, r. f.	1	0	2
Park, c.	0	0	0
Macomber l. g.	0	0	0
Taft, r. g.	5	1	11
Totals	11	1	23

PHI MU DELTA

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts
Stone, l. f.	1	1	3
Stevens, l. f.	0	0	0
Proctor, r. f.	3	1	7
Clain, c.	2	1	5
Manning, l. g.	0	1	1
Rojenski, r. g.	2	0	4
Totals	8	4	20

Referee: Hawley.
Umpire: Wendt.

The closest contest in the fraternity basketball tournament wos staged Wednesday evening when the Sigma Nus beat the Kappa Sigs 20 to 18 after two overtime periods. The game was close and rough throughout and was anybody's until the last whistle. There was no scoring on either side during the first quarter of the game. In the second quarter the Kappa Sigs started the scoring, the Sigma Nus trailing until just before the half when Kersey slipped in a pretty shot to put Sigma Nu ahead 8-7. The second half was even rougher than the first and more scoring was done on both sides. The lead see-sawed from one team to the other, the Kappa Sigs being one point ahead, when, with about ten seconds to go Bedell put in a foul shot to deadlock the count at 16 all. In the first overtime period there was no scoring but in the second overtime Kersey crashed through with another shot, this one from beyond the center of the floor. It was followed duplicated by Durfey. With two seconds to go O'Keefe slipped in a pretty side shot to win 20-18. Kersey played a great game for Sigma Nu and Winant featured for Kappa Sigma.

The summary:

KAPPA SIGMA

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Winant, l. f.	3	1	7
Chadwick, r. f.	0	0	0
Durfey, c.	2	0	4
Otto, l. g.	1	2	4
Cummings, l. g.	1	1	3
Totals	7	4	18

SIGMA NU

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts
O'Keefe, l. f.	2	0	4
Bedell, r. f.	2	2	2
Hyland, c.	2	1	5
Kersey, l. g.	4	0	8
Maynes, r. g.	0	1	1
Totals	8	4	20

Referee: Estabrook.
Umpire: Wendt.

INTERFRATERNITY RELAY SCHEDULE

League I	League II	League III
Phi Delta Theta	Sigma Phi	Phi Sigma Delta
Alpha Tau Omega	Kappa Sigma	Sigma Nu
Independents	Phi Mu Delta	Zeta Chi
Sigma Delta	Tau Epsilon Phi	Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Lambda Iota	Delta Psi

March 11

Phi Delta Theta vs. Alpha Tau Omega	Sigma Phi vs. Kappa Sigma	Phi Sigma Delta vs. Sigma Nu
Independents vs. Sigma Delta	Phi Mu Delta vs. Tau Epsilon Phi

March 13

Lambda Iota vs. Phi Delta Theta	Delta Psi vs. Sigma Phi	Zeta Chi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Alpha Tau Omega vs. Independents	Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Mu Delta

March 15

Sigma Delta vs. Lambda Iota	Tau Epsilon Phi vs. Delta Psi	Sigma Nu vs. Zeta Chi

March 16

Phi Delta Theta vs. Independents	Sigma Phi vs. Phi Mu Delta	Phi Sigma Delta vs. Zeta Chi

March 18

Alpha Tau Omega vs. Sigma Delta	Kappa Sigma vs. Tau Epsilon Phi	Sigma Nu vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Independents vs. Lambda Iota	Phi Mu Delta vs. Delta Psi

March 20

Phi Delta Theta vs. Sigma Delta	Sigma Phi vs. Tau Epsilon Phi	Phi Sigma Delta vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Alpha Tau Omega vs. Lambda Iota	Kappa Sigma vs. Delta Psi

March 22—Semi-Final

Winners of Leagues I and III or
Winners of Leagues II and III

March 25—Final

TRACK SCHEDULE FOR THIS SPRING ANNOUNCED

Manager Birchard announces the varsity track schedule for the coming spring as follows:

May 4. Union, here.
May 11. Pending, away.
May 18. Montreal A. A. A., here
May 25. Green Mt. Conf., here.

Frosh at Hawaii

At the University of Hawaii freshmen boys have to carry at least two brands of popular cigarettes in an old sock, but the sock must be clean, white, and have no holes. Co-eds are required to wear grass skirts and goggles and always have a goodly supply of jelly beans.

Tomorrow night in the preliminary to the varsity game at the U. V. M gym Delta Psi will face Sigma Nu in the final game of the tournament This game should prove to be as close and interesting as the big game. The two teams are evenly matched and it is hard to predict the winner. The Sigma Nus looked good Wednesday night when they defeated the Kappa Sigma and Walt Kersey is a hard man to stop. However, the Delts have Chet Taft who is one of the best players in the league and if he is in form Saturday night the Sigma Nus will have their hands full. Hyland will have a job when he tries to hold Park the giant Delt center, and Macomber will also be bothered by O'Keefe's heady floor work and accurate shooting. Maynes will have to keep his eye on crack-shot Marvin. The outcome of the game is just a toss up and the team that wins will have to take advantage of the breaks

The probable line-up.

DELTA PSI		SIGMA NU
Marvin	f	O'Keefe
Corbin	f	Bedell
Park	c	Hyland
Macomber	g	Kersey
Taft	g	Maynes

FRATERNITY TRACK MEET AND RELAYS THIS MONTH

Relay Rules Announced Together With Schedule—Track Meet to Take Place on March 23

There will be an interfraternity track meet in the gymnasium on March 23, and interfraternity relay competition from March 11 to March 25.

Men from the various fraternities are already training for the relays. The fraternity winning first place in the relays will receive as the award ten points toward its track meet total and the runner-up in the relays is to receive five points toward the track meet.

Events and rules for the track meet have not yet been compiled but the relay rules are as follows:

1. Members of the fraternity who have not won their track "V" are eligible to compete.

2. All competitors must be credited by the coach or manager of track with at least five practices. The track is open to all competitors on Monday Wednesday, Friday and Saturday afternoons at 4.00 o'clock.

3. Postponements of races allowed only by mutual agreement of both fraternities concerned. A satisfactory date must be set, and the coach must be notified of such postponement prior to the scheduled time of the race.

4. Time: All contests scheduled at 4.30 p.m.

5. Ties: In case two or more fraternities are tied for first place in the preliminaries the tying contestant having made the fastest time will be declared the winner of the league.

6. Winners of Leagues I and II will draw for a bye in the semi-finals. Winner of the final will be declared winner of the series.

The schedule will be found elsewhere in this issue.

PANTHERS TAKE STATE TITLE WHEN BLUE AND WHITE OVERCOME CATS

Green and Gold Quintet Definitely Lose Chance for Tie in State Championship—Score 48-31

Vermont definitely lost sight of the state championship Tuesday night when they dropped another game to Middlebury on the Blue and White's home floor, to the tune of 48-31. As can be seen from the score, both teams played extremely loose games, and confined themselves for the most part to the offensive part of the contest, and the sphere hopped through the loops in quick order. The game was easily the speediest that has been put on in the McCollough gymnasium this season, and it was not distinguished by the clean playing that characterized the other battle between the two quintets, as four men were sent to the showers for misdemeanors, and there were plenty of others that were scattered throughout the game.

The Panthers jumped to an early lead and kept in front from then on, leading the Cats by nine points at the end of the first half, and the Catamounts failed to come back in the second period. By this game the Middlebury five put themselves in the top of the heap, so far ahead of the rest that they have practically made themselves the Green Mountain Conference champions with little or no opposition remaining in the other conference games that remain on their schedule. This will be the first time that the Blue and White has held the title in twelve years, the length of time that a basketball team has been in existence.

The Green and Gold put up a real battle and they seemed to have found their shooting eye, for they rolled up thirty-one points, the highest score that they have been able to gather this year. Wallace especially seemed to be going "hot," for he was the high scorer for the Vermonters, with seven points to his credit. Halligan got in some good work with one field goal and two free tries. The rest of the goals were scattered among the team. Humeston of Middlebury was easily the outstanding man on the floor. He had six floor baskets and four free tries, making a grand total of sixteen points. Johnson, the flashy forward, rolled up twelve points on four field goals and four fouls. Spooner did an excellent job in guarding and he was ably assisted by his running mate, Casey.

It was a good game to watch, especially for the Blue and White rooters. Referee Messer, of Williams College, did a good job, calling every foul that he saw.

The summary:

MIDDLEBURY

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Franzoni	0	0	0
Johnson	4	4	12
Sorenson	1	1	3
Bullukian	1	3	5
Ashdown	0	0	0
Humeston	6	4	16
Maynard	0	0	0
Spooner	3	1	5
Willis	0	0	0
Casey	1	5	7
Totals	15	18	48

VERMONT

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Palmer	1	3	5
Manning	0	1	1
Estabrook	1	1	3
Sargent	2	0	4
Wallace	2	3	7
Morse	1	0	2
Price	1	1	3
Halligan	1	2	4
Bernstein	0	0	0
Tobin	0	2	2
Totals	9	12	31

NEWS IN BRIEF

W. A. A. sponsored a skating party at Chiott's Friday night which was largely attended by University women. There was skating from 8 to 10, interspersed with singing around a bonfire and pauses for refreshments. The ice was in good condition and the weather was ideal for skating. The coeds report a wonderful time.

Owing to a misunderstanding the Delta Psi fraternity scheduled its formal initiation on the same night as the Kappa Alpha Theta pledge dance. The committees are now trying to adjust the matter.

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O. CLAYTON, '29
Editor-in-Chief

HERRICK M. MACOMBER, '29 — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '29
Managing Editors

PRISCILLA T. CAMPBELL, '29
Women's Editor

News Editors
George R. Brush, '30 — Louis Lozman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc. Editors
Helen L. Church, '30
Joyce E. Richardson, '30

Sporting Editor
Seymour I. Nathanson, '30

Asst. Sporting Editors
Lynford M. Foster, '31
Herman D. Gunsow, '31
Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor
Harriet E. Wright, '31

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '30

Feature Editor
Edward J. Beyor, '31

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Faculty Advisor
Prof. Leon W. Dean

Women's Intercollegiate Editor
Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Pauline Burridge, '30 — Winifred Stone, '31 — E. Henry Powell, '30
Janice Goodrich, '30 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32 — Charles N. Crockett, '31
John Waterman, '30 — Hope Ransilow, '32 — Edmund A. R. Germain, '31
Lucile Ross, '31 — Alfred J. Morse, '30 — Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32
Hilda Smith, '31 — Watson E. Morgan, '32 — Paul J. LaCroose, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUPPER, '30
Business Manager

Major B. Jenks, '30 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Stuart S. Corbin, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
John F. McQuesten, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
F. Stanley Smith, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2938 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — March 1, 1929 — No. 57

SPECIALIZATION AT JOHNS HOPKINS

The pioneer work of Johns Hopkins University as a graduate institution of purest type gave it a secure place in the history of American higher education. The story of President Gilman's assembling a small group of eminent scholars not only to teach what was known in their several fields but to carry on researches, and gathering as students a few young men from among the college graduates of America of special promise and serious purpose, will be cherished and retold along with that of Abelard's laying the foundations of the medieval university. But all the great universities of America have now entered the field in which Johns Hopkins stood for some years conspicuously alone. And she herself has been, like her sister universities, overwhelmed by the numbers of students clamoring for a college education.

In these last few years Johns Hopkins has begun an experiment which promises to recover for her the unique place which she once held, or rather to give her a new leadership. President Goodnow in a farewell address makes modest reference to this new plan inaugurated during his administration. He has not yielded to the temptation to make great claims for it. He has, rather, understated his case, and his successor is likely to see the plan prosper beyond the predictions of its author.

As announced three years or more ago, it permits the student of proved ability to go forward to his graduate degree upon the successful completion of the second year's work in a college of liberal arts. In beginning his specialization at this time the student foregoes the baccalaureate degree. In most colleges there is a distinct change at the end of the sophomore year. Greater freedom of choice is given then, but greater concentration is demanded, and university methods are to some extent employed. But at Johns Hopkins the break becomes complete. The student who chooses to enter the graduate school is a university and not a college student. He follows university methods and concentrates upon the study of a particular subject or group of subjects. In this the third year of the experiment about seventy of the eighty-four students who entered under this plan are continuing. An increasing number come from other institutions, and the testimony of the faculty is that the large majority of those who have entered under this plan are doing well.

This is the new contribution of Johns Hopkins to higher education—apart from its surpassing work in the field of medicine and public health. And with all the concentration of study which the new plan involves, the student who has a sincere interest in a particular field soon finds that its thorough mastery brings him more understandingly into acquaintance with other subjects than if required to study them superficially. President Goodnow has led Johns Hopkins forward wisely and without making a noise about it. Great gifts have come in his day to the university, but if this plan goes forward to success it will be his own greatest contribution.—New York Times

The work of restoration in progress at Williamsburg and at the College of William and Mary has aroused interest in this ancient structure, the foundations of which go back to 1695. This structure was the prey of fires in 1705, 1859, and 1862, but the original wall for the most part remains, and the building will be restored in the form it presented before the fire of February 8, 1895. A ground plan, drawn by Thomas Jefferson, in 1772 or 1773 has been found. It gives the dimensions of the building, and also of a proposed enlargement that was never built.

Twenty upperclassmen in Washington Square College of New York University were honored by election to Eta Sigma Phi, honorary classic language society.

On November 12, 1928, a dinner was held in New York to celebrate the completion of the first volume of a New Dictionary of American Biography that is being developed under the auspices of the American Council of Learned Societies. Dr. Allen Johnson, Amherst '92, is the editor-in-chief. When completed there will be twenty volumes, and, it is expected, about 15,000 articles.

Combined Department of Philosophy and Psychology Covers Broad Field

An increase of the teaching staff of the department of Philosophy and Psychology from one man to four has been made necessary by the growth of U. V. M. during the last decade. And this increase in personnel permits of offering a larger variety of courses. These now cover the field fairly adequately. In psychology with the coming of Professor John Trumbull Metcalf in 1921 a laboratory was equipped for experimental work. Apparatus to the value of $2,000 has now been accumulated. Three hundred dollars per annum is allowed for additions and the plan is followed of buying at least a comparatively expensive piece each year. Besides the introductory course now given in six sections of about thirty students each and the experimental course, work is offered in Social, Applied, Abnormal and Genetic Psychology, and a course in Aesthetics is also given. In Philosophy a course in Social Ethics was added in 1921 to the familiar program which already covered the field of philosophy fairly adequately. The earlier lack of Social Ethics and Aesthetics has now been supplied and it has become necessary to divide Ethics and Logic into two sections each.

Professor Harry Ewert, who came to the department last fall (September, 1928) from Clark University Graduate School, is especially interested in laboratory work and is continuing his research on certain difficult problems relating to vision and the perception of space.

Professor George Dykhuizen, Associate Professor of Philosophy since 1926, came from the Graduate School of the University of Chicago and is especially interested in the Philosophy of Religion. During the year 1926-27 he inaugurated a departmental club which was named the John Dewey Club in honor of the Vermont alumnus who is generally accepted as the leading American philosopher of today and one of the most eminent in the world. This club has met with hearty support by students taking philosophy and psychology.

Professor Metcalf, who joined the department in 1921, is particularly interested in the drama and in mental testing. In the Theatre Club—a Little Theatre Guild comprising town and University amateurs—he has been prominent both as actor and director of productions. He gives considerable time, also, to the mental testing of children. Having cared for the section of The Psychological Bulletin dealing with cutaneous and kinaesthetic sensations for several years, he was in 1928 appointed a cooperating editor on The Bulletin's editorial staff.

Gifford Prof. Since 1909

Professor Gifford, head of the department since 1909, has with the growth of his staff found it possible to give increasing attention to the social aspects of psychology and ethics and to practical effort in the field of personnel work and mental hygiene. Besides social psychology and social ethics he has since the retirement of Professor Emerson conducted a course in the development of society—an introduction to sociology, stressing the ethnological and psychological approach. In connection with University personnel work he organized in 1924 a clinic for conference on personal problems. This clinic for students has been conducted once a month with a visiting psychiatrist as consultant in mental hygiene. Dr. Douglas A. Thom, an alumnus, was the first consultant. He was followed by Dr. George K. Pratt of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene. The present year Dr. C. A. Bonner, U. V. M., M.'13, is serving as consultant. This phase of departmental activity has met a definite and real need. During the current year Professor Gifford is seeking to extend the program of personnel work to reach more individuals who are in need of counsel and help in adjusting to college conditions and to develop, also, work along lines of vocational guidance.

In connection with the University clinic there was inaugurated in 1925 a Child Guidance Clinic for problem children, using the services of the University consultant. This clinic met with a very favorable response, various schools and social work agencies, public and private, sending problem children in for examination and advice. The conduct of this clinic is shared the present year by the department and the Vermont Children's Aid Society, Inc.

Needed—Rooms!

The outstanding need of the department is for rooms in which the academic and extension activities can be centered. Large rooms for laboratory work and convenient quarters for clinics and intelligence testing would greatly facilitate effective conduct of the work. And at present there are no adequate facilities for the housing of the personnel service, which is regarded by the president and deans as a most important aspect of University administration. Additional funds could be well used for library and laboratory apparatus, but the great need is for a laboratory building or apartment with connecting rooms and offices for adequate housing of the staff and a definite center of activities.

The centennary of the publication of James Marsh's edition of Coleridge's Aids to Reflection will fall in November of this year. Professor Marsh, who served as President of the University 1826-1833, and continued his service as professor of intellectual and moral philosophy, was a liberal and influential thinker in his day. Men like President Buckham and Professor Goodrich found much of value in the philosophic approach of James Marsh. The department plans to arrange a James Marsh Lecture in philosophy in recognition of the hundredth anniversary of one of U. V. M.'s notable contributions. And it is hoped that through some generous alumnus the Marsh Lecture may be made an established annual event.—Professor Gifford in The Vermont Alumni Weekly.

HARVARD EXPERIMENTS WITH READING PERIODS

The most far-reaching experiment in the College—and in the Graduate School, except for the seminary courses—has been that of the reading periods. The first of them covered the two and a half weeks between Christmas vacation and the mid-year examinations, the second, the three and a half weeks preceding the finals. At these times all courses, save those for freshmen and in elementary subjects, were suspended in most of the departments and so was all tutoring, except in the spring for men about to take their general examinations at that time. Reading or laboratory work to be done during these periods were assigned by instructors in the courses and by tutors, the ground so covered being the subject of questions in the examination paper on the course in which it was required.

The examination in the suspended courses included, as already stated, questions upon the reading assigned and the student's answers to those questions throw light upon the effect of the plan. On the whole, the answers of the higher scholars—those who attained an A or a B, and even the upper level of men of grade C—were better than in the matter covered by the regular instruction in the course. Students explained this by the fact that their reading had not been interrupted by attending classes, so that it was more consecutive and hence better assimilated. Something may also be due to their being on their mettle to show that they could work well without help. But whatever the cause, it would seem clear that after a certain amount of careful instruction in a course they were in a condition to read by themselves with profit. On the other hand, the lower scholars—the rest of the C's and the D's and the E's—did less well on these questions than on the matters in which they had not had direct teaching in class. That is not surprising, yet it is thought that such men derived a distinct benefit from the experience of trying to walk on their own feet. An attempt at self-education may be highly profitable in the long run, although the immediate effect is a falling off in attainment.

One of the objects of the reading period was a relief to the instructors in courses, and still more to the tutors, from a burden which has become heavier by reason of the growth in scholarly attitude among the undergraduates. As their pace has become faster, the pressure upon the teachers of all kinds has increased, rendering it more difficult for them to keep abreast of their own subjects, and to make the contributions to knowledge which are the great reward and crown of a scholar's life.

ONLY FIVE EDUCATION STUDENTS FLUNK OUT

The latest reports from the Dean's office show that five Teacher Training students have been dropped. There have been 19 students in the same course placed under warning, and six removed from under warning. This report includes the 105 two-year students and the 66 four-year students.

Owing to the illness of Dean Votey's secretary, the report for the college of engineering is not known. It is known, however, that no engineers were dropped directly, although some left before mid-years. The scholastic standing of the engineers is higher, on the whole, than it has been for several years.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

THE NEW DRINKLE[Y] [LAW]

"Not a hiccough in a

The International [Law] eration of America, w[hich] last year and deform[ed] conducting an impers[onal] poll to gain the studen[t] ever-present question [of] when to drink, if s[o] filling out this poll is request[ed] vote for one, two, three [or] six, seven or more, if [any] lowing. Students are [to] ship their ballots by [air] Washington, D. C., where [the] Mail may carry it to the mid[dle] the Arctic Ocean. T[he] delegation from Congress [will] emission of calorific [rays] pors melt the few feet [of] surface of this sea, if there is beneath the ice, and drop in the vote.

Are You in Favor of:

Vote or

A. Present Prohibition System
B. Present Bootlegging Enactment
C. Repeal of Either
D. Repeal of Both
E. Better and Cheaper Liquor
F. More Prohibition
G. Modification of any or none of the preceding
H. Odorless liquor
I. Public Censorship of Bootlegg
J. Something or other

And if so or not, why?

. . . . . .
. . . . . .
. . . . . .
. . . . . .

When this ballot is or is not [filled] according to the above aforesaid tions or any others, please [communi]cate with me.

Already ballots like these have printed and distributed at a [cost] fifty dollars per ballot [among] Scotch universities. The [press] out before the demand could be fied.

Results are scattering but [polled] for the sake of convenience below

	For	Against
A.	0	0
B.	1*	1*
C., D. and E.	1*	1*
F.	0	1
G.	Write-in me
H.	407	0
I.	No Vote
J.	Unanimous

* This canny Scot was drunk on liquor when he bought his ballot he split his vote.

† Vote by Representative.

From the answers to the question "Why?" three will be selected printed some other day.

RIFLE TEAM WINS FIVE MATCHES, DROPS

During the week of February [the] rifle team fired four matches, [winning] three and losing one. The one [lost] was to Texas A. and M. by a score 3,590 to 3,491. The other three won from the University of Alabama, University of Tennessee and University, with scores [of] and a forfeit, respectively.

Last week the team [fired] lost three. Vermont's [score] to Alabama Poly's 3,386, Univer[sity of] West Virginia's 3,637, Iowa's 3,536, and LaFayette's [score] match with Pitt Ver[sity] 1,294 to Pitt's 1,307. During the week the team finished firing the four last stage of the F[ifty] Match with a score of 1,656, a grand total of 7,265 out of a [possible] 8,000. By the end of this week will also have finished [the] Hearst Trophy Match [and] that will not be a[ble] end of March.

The schedule of [matches] rest of the spring is:

Week of March 2: [Rhode Island] gies, Kansas State, [Utah] ton, Utah Aggies, Virginia V. M. I. and Washington.

Week of March 9: [Rhode Island] Aggies, Oregon State, [Utah] Michigan, Amherst, [Utah] fornia and Ohio State.

Week of March 16: [Rhode Island] North Dakota, University of Western Maryland (Md.), [Utah] of Nebraska, University of [Utah] and University of Kansas.

Week of March 23: [Rhode Island] Tech, University of [Utah] University of Nevada.

Week of March 30: [Rhode Island] Aggies and University of [Utah]

There will be a meeting of [the] ma Phi Tuesday, [March 5] home of Professor [Hunt] Prospect Street. [Election] cers and initiation [of] bers will take place.

DEAN CALLS CREATIVE CLASSES INTERESTING

In Play Writing, Dramatic Composition, and Article Writing Courses, Students Commercialize Their Work

... classes are interesting to ... Professor Dean, in a re... sion concerning his classes ... ing, dramatic composition, ... writing.

... Dean says that he likes ... students to do creative and ... king. He calls his classes ... a laboratory course in Eng... might well be called that, ... it allows the student to put to use ... accumulated knowledge of ... These classes have a com... interest in view, and quite ... students are able to sell some ... erature.

... writing class most of the ... consists of writing one act plays. ... Professor Dean says that ... isn't just what he would like ... as there aren't enough in it ... and cast the plays after they ... en. He hopes that in time ... will be large enough so it ... me dramatic work along with ... writing.

... ass in article writing deals ... with short articles and items ... and household publishings, ... rnals, and newspapers.

... hort story class writes mostly ... that would be suitable for pub... in newspapers and magazines. ... two years ago Professor Dean ... what was called the "Writer's ... op," which was a class that ... ry Saturday afternoon and ... poems, short stories and mis... articles. This class made ... ne literature while it lasted, ... wing to the press of more im... subjects, it became difficult to ... class to work, and so it was ... nued. Professor Dean hopes ... me time in the future he will ... to start the class again.

... ll of his creative classes the ... s write with the idea of being ... sell some of their work. "Of ... they are unable to sell a great ... of their writings, but continu... ting teaches them to do origi... nd constructive thinking," says ... sor Dean. "It not only teaches ... what and how to write, but it ... them to appreciate what others ... A man cannot help but become ... er writer when he is continu... ally constructing sentences, and writ... ch day. What we call classical ... today didn't have the idea of ... ty in view when they wrote. They wrote to earn a living just as ... people in this country are doing, ... continually writing, they devel... oped into famous writers. One never ... whether or not he can do a ... until he tries."

So right here at Vermont under the guidance of Profesor Dean, we might ... eloping writers which in time ... come famous.

TUFTS PRESENTS NEW METHOD OF COMBATING MASS. MENTAL DISEASE

... ew method of teaching psychia... and one which sponsors predict will be of benefit to the people of ... chusetts through the prevention of mental disease, has just been begun at Tufts medical school. It is under the direction of Prof. Douglas A. Thom, recently appointed to the chair of mental hygiene at Tufts, and was put into operation at the opening of ... cond semester which began at ... last Thursday.

... new method of instruction was ... d yesterday at a conference be... members of the Tufts medical ... and state hospital executives ... held at the home of Dr. L. Vernon ... s at 64 Beacon Street.

Heretofore the study of psychiatry ... en concerned largely with the ... rvance of fully developed mental ... Under the plan just inaugurat... Tufts the young medical stu... will at an early stage of his ... begin the observance of tend... which, if unchecked, will de... into mental cases.

... observations will be made in ... habit clinics for children which ... established in Massachusetts ... years ago under the direction ... Thom. The medical student ... taught the relation between ... nal tempers in children, tenden... to steal, etc., and later develop... ts of these conditions into pro... nced mental cases. Then he will ... ght how to treat children giving ... nce of abnormality in order that ... harmful tendency may be arrested.

Tufts purposes henceforth to teach ... atry just as all other branches ... medicine have long been taught—... the ground up," said Dr. A. War... earns, dean of the Tufts medical ... who was present at the con...

WELLESLEY UNDERGRAD ASKS SMOKING RIGHT

A letter from an irate coed to The Wellesley News gives the following reason for the abrogation of the time-honored non-smoking rule:

1. The townspeople or rather the tea-room owners at Wellesley have been known to bewail the fact that because of the present smoking rules they lose most of their trade.

2. It is a pretty big smudge on the college's good name:

(a) for girls to sit on other people's walls and smoke.

(c) for girls to keep the Needham bus going for smokes.

(d) for girls to pick up rides for smoke.

(e) for girls to go in town to smoke.

(f) for girls to make themselves unpleasantly conspicuous in many ways for smoke.

(g) for girls to call down upon themselves the mockery and ill will of the inhabitants of neighboring villages for smoke.

(h) for girls to break the smoking rule to smoke (also the eight o'clock rule, chaperone rule, etc.).

3. The train company objects to girls risking their lives for a last smoke on the platforms of moving trains.

4. Smoking is an accepted custom among as fine classes of people as there are. Therefore there can be no objection as to its propriety.

5. Much time and money are wasted getting to other parts of the landscape to smoke, which might otherwise be saved were the rule modified.

6. If the students want it, and the alumnae want it, and the townspeople want it, and the train people want it, who shall be bigoted enough to stand up and say "I object, it isn't nice."

Easy Mark

An instructor at Georgia Tech states that he always gives better marks to those who wear snowy white starch shirts and good looking ties.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Rachael Skinner, '28, and Dorothy Hall, '28, who are teaching in Middletown Springs, visited in the city recently.

PI BETA PHI

Vermont Beta Chapter of Pi Beta Phi announces the initiation of Phyllis Arbuthnot, '31, on Monday, February 25. There was a supper at the rooms following the initiation.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Frances Howley, '29, broke an ankle bone Tuesday morning when she fell on the icy steps as she was leaving the Old Mill. She plans to leave for her home in Rutland Sunday.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Doris Harbour, '27, of Vergennes and Pauline Willis, ex-'30, of Waterbury were in the city for the Kake Walk.

KAPPA DELTA

Miss Mary Lou Leslie, national inspector of Kappa Delta, is visiting Alpha Theta chapter this week. The chapter held a tea in honor of Miss Leslie at the Athena Club rooms on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. V. R. Yates and Mrs. E. L. Ingalls, patronesses, poured.

Myra Elwell, '26, who is teaching in West Pawlet, and Marcia Sisco, '26, of Coventry were in the city last week-end.

SIGMA GAMMA

Ruby Blaine, '27, of Orleans, Doris Hall, '25, of Northfield and Marjorie Pierce, '25, of Bethel, visited in the city recently.

EPSILON SIGMA

Eunice Richardson, '27, of Vergennes was in the city last week-end.

Loren: A burglar broke into our house last night.
Burton: What did he get?
Loren: Practice!—P. T. S.

Forty-five Co-eds Pledged Sorority

(Continued from page 1)

SIGMA GAMMA

Sigma Gamma announces the pledging of the following freshmen: Rosetta Harlow of Randolph, Edna Herridon of Stantsburg, N. Y., Edith Holden of Stowe, and Elisabeth Mandigo of Randolph.

EPSILON SIGMA

Epsilon Sigma announces the pledging of the following: Amy Grout of Newfane, Carlotta Nido of Williamsville, and Cylena Morse of Bethel, second year; and of: Alma Curtin of Enosburg Falls, Kriene Little of Barre, Ethel Leonard of North Pomfret, Gertrude Rush of Bloomfield, Conn., Mildred Reed of Winooski, Helen Scannell of Springfield, Mass., all first year students.

MANY CO-EDS PROVE TO BE SKILLED IN BOWLING

Bowling claims its enthusiasts. Every Wednesday an increasingly large number of girls avail themselves of the opportunity for training in the comparatively new sport for women. High scores for each week are posted on the W. A. A. bulletin board. The high scorers for the last three weeks are:

Single high scores—February 6, Eleanor Hubbard, '31, 77; February 13, Sylvia Holden, '32, 86; February 20, Sylvia Holden, '32, 86.

High averages—February 6, Eleanor Hubbard, '31, 69; February 13, Georgina Hubert, '31, 74; February 20, Sylvia Holden, '32, 69.

Others with high averages were: Nathalie Hawley, '31; Doris Bray, '32; Sylvia Holden, '32; Helen Buck, '31; Laura Smith, '29; Anne Orlowsky, '31.

An uprooted tree on the Ohio College Campus disclosed the ancient college well, which was in use over a century ago.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL CLASS TEAMS CHOSEN

The women's class basketball teams have been made up and are as follows:

Seniors—Lanou and Upton, forwards; Fiske and Wheatley, guards; Hazen, center; Kinder, sub-center. Corbin, Everest, Hoskins, Howley and Nelson, substitutes.

Juniors—Bailey and Perelman, forwards; Bosley and Parry, guards; Bostwick, center; Richardson, sub-center; Taylor and Myrtle Owens, substitutes.

Sophomores I—Johnstone and Wright, forwards; Abbott and Whapler, guards; Buck, center; Warhurst, sub-center; Taylor, Nash, Rogers and Chadburn, substitutes.

Sophomores II—Hawley and Wescott, forwards; Hoag and Tinkham, guards; Koenig, center; R. Field, sub-center; C. Stone and Drugg, substitutes.

Freshmen I—Akins and Fields, forwards, Miller and Clay, guards; Lunna, center; Mount, sub-center; Linney, Humphries, Freeman and Mandigo, substitutes.

Freshmen II—Beggs and Brown, forwards, Manson and Skinner, guards, Lowd, center, Orlowsky, sub-center, Preston, Orrizonto and Wilde, substitutes.

Mr. Henderson spoke to a group of students last evening in 23 South College. Mr. Henderson represents the Placement Bureau of the University Club of Boston. His subject was the work of the bureau in placing seniors in positions. After a short address to the small but interested body of senior men he held a discussion with them.

As yet Mr. Langworthy has been unable to find who the notorious person was who did the shooting in the hallways of Converse Hall the other night.

"If the cougher in the 4th row will come to the stage door . . . there's a carton of Old Golds waiting for him!"

"Of course, I've never said the above! But how I've been tempted to, when a heavy bass whoop or a shrill soprano bark has drowned out my best wise-crack.

"But it isn't good cricket to publicly embarrass a cougher. He isn't barking on purpose. He needs quiet, friendly counsel. He should, in confidence, be told to smoke OLD GOLDS.

"You'll enjoy the show better . . . and so will I . . . if we can just get this tip over to him. For, from my own experience with this smooth and throat-easy cigarette, I don't believe there's a cough in a capacity house-ful of them."

(SIGNED) W. C. Fields

W. C. FIELDS
Comedian extraordinary featured in the newest edition of the "Vanities."

Why not a cough in a carload?

OLD GOLD cigarettes are blended from HEART-LEAF tobacco, the finest Nature grows . . . Selected for silkiness and ripeness from the heart of the tobacco plant . . . Aged and mellowed extra long in a temperature of mid-July sunshine to insure that honey-like smoothness.

On your Radio . . . OLD GOLD—PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR . . . Paul Whiteman, King of Jazz, with his complete orchestra, broadcasts the OLD GOLD hour every Tuesday, from 9 to 10 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over entire network of Columbia Broadcasting System.

eat a chocolate...light an Old Gold...and enjoy both!

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O. CLAYTON, '29
Editor-in-Chief

HERRICK M. MACOMBER, '29 — Managing Editor — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '29

PRISCILLA T. CAMPBELL, '29
Women's Editor

News Editors
George E. Brush, '31 — Louis Lesman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc. Editors
Belle L. Church, '30
Joyce E. Richardson, '30

Sporting Editor
Seymour I. Nathanson, '30

Asst. Sporting Editors
Lyndon M. Foster, '31
Herman D. Gussow, '31
Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor
Harriet E. Wright, '31

Intercollegiate Editor
Mino A. Martinetti, '30

Feature Editor
Edward J. Beyor, '30

Art Editor
Leonore Aldinger, '29

Faculty Adviser
Prof. Leon W. Dean

Women's Intercolleg. Editor
Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Pauline Burridge, '30
James Goodrich, '30
Julia Waterman, '30
[illegible] Rice, '31
Hilda Smith, '31

Winifred Stone, '31
Margaret Ann Martin, '32
Hope Hanaburg, '32
Alfred J. Morin, '32
Watson E. Morgan, '32

E. Henry Powell, '30
Charles N. Crockett, '31
Edmund A. B. Germain, '31
Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32
Paul J. LaFrance, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '30
Business Manager

Major E. Jenks, '30 — Advertising Manager
Stuart S. Corbin, '31 — Assistant Manager
Salem P. McQuesten, '31 — Assistant Manager
F. Stanley Smith, '31 — Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2036 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1867. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — March 1, 1929 — No. 27

SPECIALIZATION AT JOHNS HOPKINS

The pioneer work of Johns Hopkins University as a graduate institution of purest type gave it a secure place in the history of American higher education. The story of President Gilman's assembling a small group of eminent scholars not only to teach what was known in their several fields but to carry on researches, and gathering as students a few young men from among the college graduates of America of special promise and serious purpose, will be cherished and retold along with that of Abelard's laying the foundations of the medieval university. But all the great universities of America have now entered the field in which Johns Hopkins stood for some years conspicuously alone. And she herself has been, like her sister universities, overwhelmed by the numbers of students clamoring for a college education.

In these last few years Johns Hopkins has begun an experiment which promises to recover for her the unique place which she once held, or rather to give her a new leadership. President Goodnow in a farewell address makes modest reference to this new plan inaugurated during his administration. He has not yielded to the temptation to make great claims for it. He has, rather, understated his case, and his successor is likely to see the plan prosper beyond the predictions of its author.

As announced three years or more ago, it permits the student of proved ability to go forward to his graduate degree upon the successful completion of the second year's work in a college of liberal arts. In beginning his specialization at this time the student foregoes the baccalaureate degree. In most colleges there is a distinct change at the end of the sophomore year. Greater freedom of choice is given then, but greater concentration is demanded, and university methods are to some extent employed. But at Johns Hopkins the break becomes complete. The student who chooses to enter the graduate school is a university and not a college student. He follows university methods and concentrates upon the study of a particular subject or group of subjects. In this the third year of the experiment about seventy of the eighty-four students who entered under this plan are continuing. An increasing number come from other institutions, and the testimony of the faculty is that the large majority of those who have entered under this plan are doing well.

This is the new contribution of Johns Hopkins to higher education—apart from its surpassing work in the field of medicine and public health. And with all the concentration of study which the new plan involves, the student who has a sincere interest in a particular field soon finds that its thorough mastery brings him more understandingly into acquaintance with other subjects than if required to study them superficially. President Goodnow has led Johns Hopkins forward wisely and without making a noise about it. Great gifts have come in his day to the university, but if this plan goes forward to success it will be his own greatest contribution.—New York Times.

The work of restoration in progress at Williamsburg and at the College of William and Mary has aroused interest in this ancient structure, the foundations of which go back to 1695. This structure was the prey of fires in 1705, 1859, and 1862, but the original wall for the most part remains, and the building will be restored in the form it presented before the fire of February 8, 1705. A ground plan, drawn by Thomas Jefferson, in 1772 or 1773 has been found. It gives the dimensions of the building, and also of a proposed enlargement that was never built.

Twenty upperclassmen in Washington Square College of New York University were honored by election to Eta Sigma Phi, honorary classic language society.

On November 13, 1928, a dinner was held in New York to celebrate the completion of the first volume of a New Dictionary of American Biography that is being developed under the auspices of the American Council of Learned Societies. Dr. Allen Johnson, Amherst '92, is the editor-in-chief. When completed there will be twenty volumes, and, it is expected, about 16,000 articles.

Combined Department of Philosophy and Psychology Covers Broad Field

An increase of the teaching staff of the department of Philosophy and Psychology from one man to four has been made necessary by the growth of U. V. M. during the last decade. And this increase in personnel permits of offering a larger variety of courses. These now cover the field fairly adequately. In psychology with the coming of Professor John Trumbull Metcalf in 1921 a laboratory was equipped for experimental work. Apparatus to the value of $2,000 has now been accumulated. Three hundred dollars per annum is allowed for additions and the plan is followed of buying at least a comparatively expensive piece each year. Besides the introductory course now given in six sections of about thirty students each and the experimental course, work is offered in Social, Applied, Abnormal and Genetic Psychology, and a course in Aesthetics is also given. In Philosophy a course in Social Ethics was added in 1921 to the familiar program which already covered the field of philosophy fairly adequately. The earlier lack of Social Ethics and Aesthetics has now been supplied and it has become necessary to divide Ethics and Logic into two sections each.

Professor Harry Ewert, who came to the department last fall (September, 1928) from Clark University Graduate School, is especially interested in laboratory work and is continuing his research on certain difficult problems relating to vision and the perception of space.

Professor George Dykhuizen, Associate Professor of Philosophy since 1926, came from the Graduate School of the University of Chicago and is especially interested in the Philosophy of Religion. During the year 1926-27 he inaugurated a departmental club which was named the John Dewey Club in honor of the Vermont alumnus who is generally accepted as the leading American philosopher of today and one of the most eminent in the world. This club has met with hearty support by students taking philosophy and psychology.

Professor Metcalf, who joined the department in 1921, is particularly interested in the drama and in mental testing. In the Theatre Club—a Little Theatre Guild comprising town and University amateurs—he has been prominent both as actor and director of productions. He gives considerable time, also, to the mental testing of children. Having cared for the section of The Psychological Bulletin dealing with cutaneous and kinaesthetic sensations for several years, he was in 1928 appointed a cooperating editor on The Bulletin's editorial staff.

Gifford Prof. Since 1909

Professor Gifford, head of the department since 1909, has with the growth of his staff found it possible to give increasing attention to the social aspects of psychology and ethics and to practical effort in the field of personnel work and mental hygiene. Besides social psychology and social ethics he has since the retirement of Professor Emerson conducted a course in the development of society—an introduction to sociology, stressing the ethnological and psychological approach. In connection with University personnel work he organized in 1924 a clinic for conference on personal problems. This clinic for students has been conducted once a month with a visiting psychiatrist as consultant in mental hygiene. Dr. Douglas A. Thom, an alumnus, was the first consultant. He was followed by Dr. George K. Pratt of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene. The present year Dr. C. A. Bonner, U. V. M., M.'13, is serving as consultant. This phase of departmental activity has met a definite and real need. During the current year Professor Gifford is seeking to extend the program of personnel work to reach more individuals who are in need of counsel and help in adjusting to college conditions and to develop, also, work along lines of vocational guidance.

In connection with the University clinic there was inaugurated in 1925 a Child Guidance Clinic for problem children, using the services of the University consultant. This clinic met with a very favorable response, various schools and social work agencies, public and private, sending problem children in for examination and advice. The conduct of this clinic is shared the present year by the department and the Vermont Children's Aid Society, Inc.

Needed—Rooms!

The outstanding need of the department is for rooms in which the academic and extension activities can be centered. Large rooms for laboratory work and convenient quarters for clinics and intelligence testing would greatly facilitate effective conduct of the work. And at present there are no adequate facilities for the housing of the personnel service, which is regarded by the president and deans as a most important aspect of University administration. Additional funds could be well used for library and laboratory apparatus, but the great need is for a laboratory building or apartment with connecting rooms and offices for adequate housing of the staff and a definite center of activities.

The centennary of the publication of James Marsh's edition of Coleridge's Aids to Reflection will fall in November of this year. Professor Marsh, who served as President of the University 1826-1833, and continued his service as professor of intellectual and moral philosophy, was a liberal and influential thinker in his day. Men like President Buckham and Professor Goodrich found much of value in the philosophic approach of James Marsh. The department plans to arrange a James Marsh Lecture in philosophy in recognition of the hundredth anniversary of one of U. V. M.'s notable contributions. And it is hoped that through some generous alumnus the Marsh Lecture may be made an established annual event.—Professor Gifford in The Vermont Alumni Weekly.

HARVARD EXPERIMENTS WITH READING PERIODS

The most far-reaching experiment in the College—and in the Graduate School, except for the seminary courses—has been that of the reading periods. The first of them covered the two and a half weeks between Christmas vacation and the mid-year examinations, the second, the three and a half weeks preceding the finals. At these times all courses, save those for freshmen and in elementary subjects, were suspended in most of the departments and so was all tutoring, except in the spring for men about to take their general examinations at that time. Reading or laboratory work to be done during these periods were assigned by instructors in the courses and by tutors, the ground so covered being the subject of questions in the examination paper on the course in which it was required.

The examination in the suspended courses included, as already stated, questions upon the reading assigned and the student's answers to those questions throw light upon the effect of the plan. On the whole, the answers of the higher scholars—those who attained an A or a B, and even the upper level of men of grade C—were better than in the matter covered by the regular instruction in the course. Students explained this by the fact that their reading had not been interrupted by attending classes, so that it was more consecutive and hence better assimilated. Something may also be due to their being on their mettle to show that they could work well without help. But whatever the cause, it would seem clear that after a certain amount of careful instruction in a course they were in a condition to read by themselves with profit. On the other hand, the lower scholars—the rest of the C's and the D's and the E's—did less well on these questions than on the matters in which they had not had direct teaching in class. That is not surprising, yet it is thought that such men derived a distinct benefit from the experience of trying to walk on their own feet. An attempt at self-education may be highly profitable in the long run, although the immediate effect is a falling off in attainment.

One of the objects of the reading period was a relief to the instructors in courses, and still more to the tutors, from a burden which has become heavier by reason of the growth in scholarly attitude among the undergraduates. As their pace has become faster, the pressure upon the teachers of all kinds has increased, rendering it more difficult for them to keep abreast of their own subjects, and to make the contributions to knowledge which are the great reward and crown of a scholar's life.

ONLY FIVE EDUCATION STUDENTS FLUNK OUT

The latest reports from the Dean's office show that five Teacher Training students have been dropped. There have been 19 students in the same course placed under warning, and six removed from under warning. This report includes the 105 two-year students and the 66 four-year students.

Owing to the illness of Dean Votey's secretary, the report for the college of engineering is not known. It is known, however, that no engineers were dropped directly, although some left before mid-years. The scholastic standing of the engineers is higher, on the whole, than it has been for several years.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

THE NEW DRINKI[illegible]

"Not a hiccough in

The International [illegible] eration of America, w[illegible] last year and deforme[illegible] conducting an impers[illegible] poll to gain the studen[illegible] ever-present question [illegible] when to drink, if so [illegible] filling out this poll [illegible] vote for one, two, t[illegible] six, seven or more, if [illegible] lowing. Students ar[illegible] ship their ballots by [illegible] Washington, D. C., w[illegible] Mail may carry it to [illegible] the Arctic Ocean. T[illegible] delegation from Con[illegible] emission of calorific a[illegible] pors melt the few feet [illegible] surface of this sea. If [illegible] beneath the ice, and d[illegible] the vote.

Are You in Favor of:

[illegible] vote of

A. Present Prohibition [illegible]
B. Present Bootlegging [illegible]
C. Repeal of Either
D. Repeal of Both
E. Better and Cheaper Liquor
F. More Prohibition
G. Modification of any or none of the preceding
H. Odorless liquor
I. Public Censorship of bootlegg[illegible]
J. Something or other

And if so or not, why?

.....
.....
.....
.....

When this ballot is or is not fil[illegible] according to the above aforesaid [illegible] tions or any others, please com[illegible] cate with me.

Already ballots like those have [illegible] printed and distributed at a pr[illegible] fifty dollars per ballot [illegible] Scotch universities. The press[illegible] out before the demand could be [illegible] fied.

Results are scattering but p[illegible] for the sake of convenience belo[illegible]

	For	Against
A.	0	0
B.	1*	1*
C., D. and E ..	1*	1*
F.	0	1
G.	Whatdye mea[illegible]
H.	407[illegible]
I.	No Vote
J.	Unanimous

* This canny Scot was drunk [illegible] liquor when he bought his ball[illegible] he split his vote.

† Vote by Representativ[illegible]

From the answers to the qu[illegible] "Why?" three will be selected [illegible] printed some other day.

RIFLE TEAM WINS FIVE MATCHES, DROPS

During the week of February [illegible] rifle team fired four matches, w[illegible] three and losing one. The on[illegible] was to Texas A. and M. by a s[illegible] 3,590 to 3,491. The other three [illegible] won from the University of Ala[illegible] University of Tennessee, and [illegible] University, with scores of 3,462, [illegible] and a forfeit, respectiv[illegible]

Last week the team won tw[illegible] lost three. Vermont's score was [illegible] to Alabama Poly's 3,[illegible] West Virginia's 3,637, Iowa [illegible] 3,536, and LaFayette's 3,377. [illegible] match with Pitt Vermont's scor[illegible] 1,294 to Pitt's 1,307. During thi[illegible] the team finished firing [illegible] last stage of the Fi[illegible] Match with a score of 1,[illegible] a grand total of 7,265 out of a [illegible] 8,000. By the end of [illegible] will also have finished firing [illegible] Hearst Trophy Match but retur[illegible] that will not be ava[illegible] end of March.

The schedule of th[illegible] rest of the spring is [illegible]

Week of March 2: [illegible] gies, Kansas State, Un[illegible] ton, Utah Aggies, Virgi[illegible] V. M. I. and Washingto[illegible]

Week of March 9: [illegible] Aggies, Oregon State, [illegible] Michigan, Amherst, Uni[illegible] fornia and Ohio State.

Week of March 16 [illegible] North Dakota, Univer[illegible] Western Maryland Col[illegible] of Nebraska, Universi[illegible] and University of Ken[illegible]

Week of March 23: [illegible] Tech, University of [illegible] University of Nevada.

Week of March 29 [illegible] Aggies and University

There will be a me[illegible] ma Phi Tuesday, M[illegible] home of Professor B[illegible] Prospect Street. Inst[illegible] cers and initiation of [illegible] bers will take place.

DEAN CALLS CREATIVE CLASSES INTERESTING

In Play Writing, Dramatic Composition, and Article Writing Courses, Students Commercialize Their Work

...lasses are interesting to ...Professor Dean, in a re... concerning his classes ..., dramatic composition, ...iting.

Dean says that he likes ...ents to do creative and ...ing. He calls his classes ...aboratory course in Eng... might well be called that, ... the student to put to use ...mulated knowledge of ...ese classes have a com... ...erest in view, and quite ...dents are able to sell some ...nature.

...s writing class most of the ... of writing one act plays. Professor Dean says that ... just what he would like ... there aren't enough in it ... cast the plays after they ... He hopes that in time ... will be large enough so it ... dramatic work along with ...iting.

...ss in article writing deals ...th short articles and items ... and household publishings, ...nals, and newspapers.

...rt story class writes mostly ...at would be suitable for pub... in newspapers and magazines. ...two years ago Professor Dean ...hat was called the "Writer's ..." which was a class that ... Saturday afternoon and ...ms, short stories and mis... articles. This class made ... literature while it lasted, ...g to the press of more im... objects, it became difficult to ...lass to work, and so it was ...ed. Professor Dean hopes ... time in the future he will ... to start the class again.

... of his creative classes the ... write with the idea of being ... sell some of their work. "Of ... they are unable to sell a great ... of their writings, but continu... ...g teaches them to do origi... constructive thinking," says ...r Dean. "It not only teaches ... what and how to write, but it ... them to appreciate what others ... A man cannot help but become ... writer when he is continu... ...structing sentences, and writ... ...h day. What we call classical ... today didn't have the idea of ... in view when they wrote. ... wrote to earn a living just as ...ople in this country are doing, ... continually writing, they devel... ...o famous writers. One never ... whether or not he can do a ... until he tries."

...ght here at Vermont under the ... of Profesor Dean, we might ...loping writers which in time ...come famous.

TUFTS PRESENTS NEW METHOD OF COMBATING MASS. MENTAL DISEASE

...w method of teaching psychia... ...d one which sponsors predict ... of benefit to the people of ...usetts through the prevention ...l disease, has just been begun ... medical school. It is under ...tion of Prof. Douglas A. ... recently appointed to the chair ...l hygiene at Tufts, and was ... operation at the opening of ...nd semester which began at ...t Thursday.

...w method of instruction was ... yesterday at a conference be... members of the Tufts medical ... and state hospital executives ... the home of Dr. L. Vernon ... 64 Beacon Street.

...fore the study of psychiatry ... concerned largely with the ...ce of fully developed mental ... Under the plan just inaugurat... ...ufts the young medical stu... ...ll at an early stage of his ... begin the observance of tend... which, if unchecked, will de... ...to mental cases.

... observations will be made in ... clinics for children which ...stablished in Massachusetts ...ears ago under the direction ... Thom. The medical student ... taught the relation between ...l tempers in children, tenden... ...steal, etc., and later develop... ...of these conditions into pro... ...l mental cases. Then he will ...t how to treat children giving ... of abnormality in order that ...ful tendency may be arrested ... purposes henceforth to teach ...try just as all other branches ...ine have long been taught ... ground up," said Dr. A. War... ...arns, dean of the Tufts medical ... who was present at the con...

WELLESLEY UNDERGRAD ASKS SMOKING RIGHT

A letter from an irate coed to The Wellesley News gives the following reason for the abrogation of the time-honored non-smoking rule:

1. The townspeople or rather the tea-room owners at Wellesley have been known to bewail the fact that because of the present smoking rules they lose most of their trade.

2. It is a pretty big smudge on the college's good name:

(a) for girls to sit on other people's walls and smoke.

(c) for girls to keep the Needham bus going for smokes.

(d) for girls to pick up rides for smoke.

(e) for girls to go in town to smoke.

(f) for girls to make themselves unpleasantly conspicuous in many ways for smoke.

(g) for girls to call down upon themselves the mockery and ill will of the inhabitants of neighboring villages for smoke.

(h) for girls to break the smoking rule to smoke (also the eight o'clock rule, chaperone rule, etc.).

3. The train company objects to girls risking their lives for a last smoke on the platforms of moving trains.

4. Smoking is an accepted custom among as fine classes of people as there are. Therefore there can be no objection as to its propriety.

5. Much time and money are wasted getting to other parts of the landscape to smoke, which might otherwise be saved were the rule modified.

6. If the students want it, and the alumnae want it, and the townspeople want it, and the train people want it, who shall be bigoted enough to stand up and say "I object, it isn't nice."

Easy Mark

An instructor at Georgia Tech states that he always gives better marks to those who wear snowy white starch shirts and good looking ties.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Rachael Skinner, '28, and Dorothy Hall, '28, who are teaching in Middletown Springs, visited in the city recently.

PI BETA PHI

Vermont Beta Chapter of Pi Beta Phi announces the initiation of Phyllis Arbuthnot, '31, on Monday, February 25. There was a supper at the rooms following the initiation.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Frances Howley, '29, broke an ankle bone Tuesday morning when she fell on the icy steps as she was leaving the Old Mill. She plans to leave for her home in Rutland Sunday.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Doris Harbour, '27, of Vergennes and Pauline Willis, ex-'30, of Waterbury were in the city for the Kake Walk.

KAPPA DELTA

Miss Mary Lou Leslie, national inspector of Kappa Delta, is visiting Alpha Theta chapter this week. The chapter held a tea in honor of Miss Leslie at the Athena Club rooms on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. V. R. Yates and Mrs. E. L. Ingalls, patronesses, poured.

Myra Elwell, '26, who is teaching in West Pawlet, and Marcia Sisco, '26, of Coventry were in the city last week-end.

SIGMA GAMMA

Ruby Blaine, '27, of Orleans, Doris Hall, '25, of Northfield and Marjorie Pierce, '25, of Bethel, visited in the city recently.

EPSILON SIGMA

Eunice Richardson, '27, of Vergennes was in the city last week-end.

Loren: A burglar broke into our house last night.
Burton: What did he get?
Loren: Practice!—P. T. S.

Forty-five Co-eds Pledged Sorority

(Continued from page 1)

SIGMA GAMMA

Sigma Gamma announces the pledging of the following freshmen: Rosetta Harlow of Randolph, Edna Herridon of Staatsburg, N. Y., Edith Holden of Stowe, and Elizabeth Mandigo of Randolph.

EPSILON SIGMA

Epsilon Sigma announces the pledging of the following. Amy Grout of Newfane, Carlotta Nido of Williamsville, and Cylena Morse of Bethel, second year; and of Alma Curtin of Enosburg Falls, Erlene Little of Barre, Ethyl Leonard of North Pomfret, Gertrude Bush of Bloomfield, Conn., Mildred Reed of Winooski, Helen Scannell of Springfield, Mass., all first year students.

MANY CO-EDS PROVE TO BE SKILLED IN BOWLING

Bowling claims its enthusiasts. Every Wednesday an increasingly large number of girls avail themselves of the opportunity for training in this comparatively new sport for women. High scores for each week are posted on the W. A. A. bulletin board. The high scorers for the last three weeks are:

Single high scores—February 6, Eleanor Hubbard, '31, 77; February 13, Sylvia Holden, '32, 86; February 20, Sylvia Holden, '32, 86.

High averages—February 6, Eleanor Hubbard, '31, 69; February 13, Georgina Hubert, '31, 74; February 20, Sylvia Holden, '32, 69.

Others with high averages were: Nathalie Hawley, '31; Doris Bray, '32; Sylvia Holden, '32; Helen Buck, '31, Laura Smith, '29; Anne Orlowsky, '31.

An uprooted tree on the Ohio College Campus disclosed the ancient college well, which was in use over a century ago.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL CLASS TEAMS CHOSEN

The women's class basketball teams have been made up and are as follows:

Seniors—Lanou and Upton, forwards; Blake and Wheatley, guards; Hazen, center; Kinder, subcenter. Corbin, Everest, Hoskins, Howley and Nelson, substitutes.

Juniors—Bailey and Perelman, forwards; Bosley and Parry, guards; Bostwick, center; Richardson, subcenter; Taylor and Myrtle Owens, substitutes.

Sophomores I—Johnstone and Wright, forwards; Abbott and Wappler, guards; Buck, center; Warhurst, subcenter; Taylor, Nash, Rogers and Chadburn, substitutes.

Sophomores II—Hawley and Wescott, forwards; Hoag and Tinkham, guards, Koenig, center; R Field, subcenter; C. Stone and Drugg, substitutes.

Freshmen I—Akins and Fields, forwards; Miller and Gay, guards, Lunna, center; Mount, subcenter; Linney, Humphries, Freeman and Mandigo, substitutes.

Freshmen II—Begg and Brown, forwards, Manson and Skinner, guards, Lowd, center, Orlowsky, subcenter; Preston, Orrizonto and Wilde, substitutes.

Mr Henderson spoke to a group of students last evening in 23 South College. Mr. Henderson represents the Placement Bureau of the University Club of Boston. His subject was the work of the bureau in placing seniors in positions. After a short address to the small but interested body of senior men he held a discussion with them.

As yet Mr. Langworthy has been unable to find who the notorious person was who did the shooting in the hallways of Converse Hall the other night.

"If the cougher in the 4th row will come to the stage door . . . there's a carton of Old Golds waiting for him!"

"Of course, I've never said the above! But how I've been tempted to, when a heavy bass whoop or a shrill soprano bark has drowned out my best wise-crack.

"But it isn't good cricket to publicly embarrass a cougher. He isn't barking on purpose. He needs quiet, friendly counsel. He should, in confidence, be told to smoke OLD GOLDS.

"You'll enjoy the show better . . . and so will I . . . if we can just get this tip over to him. For, from my own experience with this smooth and throat-easy cigarette, I don't believe there's a cough in a capacity house-ful of them."

(SIGNED) W. C. Fields

W. C. FIELDS
Comedian extraordinary featured in the newest edition of the "Vanities."

Why not a cough in a carload?

OLD GOLD cigarettes are blended from HEART-LEAF tobacco, the finest Nature grows . . . Selected for silkiness and ripeness from the heart of the tobacco plant . . . Aged and mellowed extra long in a temperature of mid-July sunshine to insure that honey-like smoothness.

On your Radio . . . OLD GOLD—PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR . . . Paul Whiteman, King of Jazz, with his complete orchestra, broadcasts the OLD GOLD hour every Tuesday, from 9 to 10 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over entire network of Columbia Broadcasting System.

eat a chocolate . . . light an Old Gold . . . and enjoy both!

DR. SAMUEL L. JOSHI SPEAKS WEDNESDAY

Native Hindoo Occupying Chair of Comparative Religion and Indian Philosophy at Dartmouth is Emirent Lecturer

IS FIRST SPEAKER IN INTERNAT. INSTITUTE

Dr Samuel L. Joshi, a native Hindoo, has been secured to speak in the International Institute next Wednesday. Dr Joshi will address convocation in the morning, hold an open forum in the first Commons hour period in the afternoon, and speak at a mass meeting to be held in the gymnasium at eight o'clock in the evening.

Dr. Joshi

At present Dr. Joshi is occupying a chair of Comparative Religion and Indian Philosophy at Dartmouth College. His personality and ability as a lecturer has been a large factor toward arousing interest in international and especially Indian problems. Recognizing the value of a man of such capabilities the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace has made him one of their foremost lecturers on India. He was the first exchange professor from India ever to become a member of the faculty of an American university.

Dr Joshi has a son who served in the American Expeditionary Forces during the World War and who was seriously gassed in the Battle of the Argonne. He has a daughter who graduated from Vassar College. She is now doing social settlement work in Bombay, India.

Other Speakers

The Executive Committee has been negotiating with various other men in the field of International Affairs. It may be possible to secure Mr. Grunning, editor of a large Portland daily paper. Only the question of finances is delaying the success of the negotiating. Mr. Grunning has been accustomed in the past to receive an honorarium of $100 for lecture appearances. If Mr Grunning can be secured he will probably speak on South American problems. He is also well posted on conditions in Mexico and Central America.

Another possibility is Professor Lucius Porter who is helping to start a School for Chinese Studies in Harvard. He is a "headline" speaker in the Dartmouth International Institute which opens Thursday, March 7, the closing day of the Vermont International Institute. He was born in China and has spent many years there. He is intimately acquainted with leaders of the Chinese Renaissance. Professor Porter is connected with Yenching University, Peking, China. On his previous furlough to the United States he was a professor of Chinese at Columbia University. In his student days he was well known as a hurdler on the Yale track team.

The Executive Committee is negotiating through Mr. W. V. Kitchen, Boston, to obtain these speakers.

Purpose of Institute

The fundamental purpose of the International Institute is to develop world-consciousness among the student bodies of New England colleges. At Yale, Dartmouth, University of Maine, University of New Hampshire, Amherst, Boston University, and several other colleges have already established these Institutes on their respective campuses. The plan of the Institute is to introduce at least three speakers on the campus for a period of two or three days. During this time the speakers will meet the students in convocation, open forums and classrooms. The International Institutes first made their appearances on the campuses of Virginia colleges last winter. From the point of view of department heads and student bodies of these colleges, the International Institutes were very successful.

The speakers of these institutes are obtained for the purpose of supplementing classroom work. They are men who have had years of experience in foreign countries and international problems.

Student Personnel Chosen

The Executive Committee has decided to adopt the unique idea of Representative Student Personnel Membership in the Student Personnel Committee is of purely honorary significance and is representative of different groups and types of student on the campus of the University. The membership is as follows: L. O. Clayton '30, Charles Knapp '31, Lucy Morgan '29, Corbin Lyman '29, Janice Goodrich '30, Harrison Goddard '30, Bertel Gustafson '29, Frances Laythe '30, Robert Lawrence '30, Virginia Goodenough '31, Americo Glora '30, Lucene Little '29, Edna Herridon '32, Donald Frazier '32, Mabel Freeman '30, Albert Mackay '32, Med Odino Martinetti '30, Geraldine Grenier '30, Arthur Merrill '30, Charles Overly '29, Loren Palmer '29, Donald Pierce '31, E. Ben Rand '31, Peter Britiasis '32, Med., Phillip Hammond '29, Watson Morgan '32, Sam B Barker '32, Hewett Varney '32, Florence McKenzie '30, Louis Lisman '31, Harriet Howard '30, Gertrude Bingham '31, Marion Backus '29, Isabelle Warhurst '31, Margaret Stanley '31, David Carrington '32, C. W Walker '31, Julia Waterman '30, E. A. R Germain '31, Margaret Corbin '29, Robert Aiken '31, Major Jenks '30, Robert Tracy '29, Phoebe Flint '30, Mary Turner '29 S I Nathanson '30, Ruth Fields '31, Annette Rosenberg '30, Gladys Kone '29 Carolyn Whitney '31, Thor Krough '29, Catherine Bassett '29, Arthur Birchard '29, B. Baker '31, Marion Baldwin '29, Georgia Bostwick '29, Mrs Pearl Brown, J. Q. Hollis '30, J. S. Estabrook '29, Newman Chaffee '30, Norman Sparhawk '29, Priscilla Campbell '30 Charlotte Cleveland '29, George R. Brush, Jr., '31, Lucille Brunelle '29, and Marion Everest '29.

Vermont Victorious in Listless Game

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible] r. f.	1	1	3
[illegible] l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	7	6	20

Norwich

	Gls	Fls	Pts
Hartford, r. f.	1	2	4
[illegible] f.	2	0	4
[illegible]	1	0	2
Grandy, r. g.	0	1	1
[illegible] l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	5	3	13

Referee, Hayward; umpire, Hart. Time, two 20-minute periods.

Checkerboys vs. Phi Delts

In a preliminary game the Checkerboys trounced Phi Delta Theta by a score of 74 to 9. The superior floorwork of the victors was too much for the frat boys whose teamwork was somewhat ragged. Boyd and Niles did good work for the Checkerboys while Hawkes starred for the losers. Previously the Checkerboys had been defeated on the gym floor by the Frosh team, which, incidentally, has lost to the Phi Delts.

Charlie Mace attended a prom at Wellesley over the last week-end. While there he stayed at the Copley Plaza and he reports that the plays there are unusually good.

VERMONT IS CENTER OF OLD GOLD EXPERIMENTS IN AMERICAN COLLEGES

Cartons of Old Gold Cigarettes Go to Every Student at Catamount College in Unique Experiment

Vermont joined the ranks of experiment colleges last week when a carton of Old Gold Cigarettes was mailed to every student on the Hill. The experiment was entirely on behalf of Old Gold Cigarettes which has chosen Vermont as the college in which to work out this novel advertising scheme. No other college in the country has, as yet, received such advertising material and whether or not Old Golds make the rounds of other institutions of higher learning depends on the results of the experiment at Vermont.

The Catamounts were selected as typical college students, as cross-section of University men and women in the United States. The vast sum expended by the manufacturers of the golden weed cigarette was therefore expected to bring reliable results and, from returns thus far, Old Gold has not been disappointed as to the popularity of its product.

Novel Circulars Follow

The cigarettes were followed up by a circular unique in advertising history. In a grandstand labeled Vermont, green and gold rooters cheered the student to whom the cigarettes had been addressed. A questionnaire as to the success of the experiment accompanied the circulars.

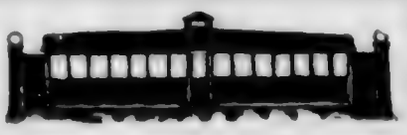
Old Golds have become more popular at Vermont. No matter how the questionnaire works out students will never forget those cartons of Old Gold Cigarettes, the "Old Gold Invasion" in the "Boarding House Reach," and the wise cracks in the Thirty-second Annual Kake Walk which featured Old Golds as prominently as the rats in Winooski.

STUDENTS GIVING MUCH TIME TO ORGANIZATIONS

Extra-curricula activities are consuming a considerable part of the undergraduates' time here at Vermont at present. All the student organizations are active and are at the peak of their activity for this year. In dramatics, literature, philosophy, music, debating, and sports, events follow close upon one another with rapid regularity.

Plays are being rehearsed for public presentation by the three lower classes. The combined men's and women's Glee Clubs will present a comic opera, "Patience," on April 18, and the cast of characters has just been selected. The John Dewey Club, for those interested in psychology and philosophy, has been holding regular meetings with special speakers every second Tuesday evening. The International Relations Club is engaged in lively discussion up world affairs. Grey Friars, the men's honorary literary society, holds meetings every two weeks at which manuscripts are read and criticized and special speakers come to address the members. The Men's Glee Club has gone to Boston to sing before audiences in that city. Many students played in the Symphony Orchestra at the concert which was given last Sunday afternoon. The women's debating team is on a tour. The Vermont Literary Magazine puts in its appearance with much better material. The CYNIC comes out twice a week, and the Tri-State Literary Contest is now in full sway. The band has practice twice a week and made a fine showing at the Kake Walk.

In sports, basketball holds the ground. Thursday's game was with Norwich. The Vermont fencing team went to Montreal and had bouts with the Montreal A. A. A. two weeks ago, and the team has two more intercollegiate contests on schedule. Baseball practice is in full sway. Track, too, has started and the men out for this sport are making their appearance daily upon the running track. The winter sports activities have reached their climax this week with the fraternity and interclass meet.



Besides, there are fraternity initiations and the Kake Walk stunts which were acted out last week.

Betty: "I think that fellow is a bad egg."

Alice: "No, he's too fresh for that."

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 597-W
T. P. O'HARA
TAILORING AND FRENCH DRY CLEANING
170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

BEST COAL AND SERVICE
• • •
Elias Lyman Coal Company
206 College Street

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

The Old Reliable
"Humming Bird"
Pure Silk, Full Fashion
Hosiery, $1.50 Pair
A silk stocking with a national reputation for longer service, featured here in all fashionable colors, in both pointed and square heels.

MAY SEND DELEGATES TO MODEL ASSEMBLY

Vermont Students Invited to Send Representatives to Organization Patterned after League of Nations

The University of Vermont may send delegates to the League of Nations Model Assembly. This organization has the fundamental purpose of stimulating student interest and strengthening student opinion on questions of International Relations. This assembly is called each year at Amherst, Mass., and the year meets on April 13. It aims to have representatives from every New England College and this year offers a most effective program.

The International Institute, the International Relations Club which is sponsored by the Carnegie Institute and the League of Nations Model Assembly are the three student organizations whose purpose is the development of world-consciousness in the student body of our New England colleges.

International Institute Here

The University of Vermont is already supporting the International Relations Club. The organization has received considerable attention and favorable comment on this campus. On March 5, 6 and 7, the International Institute will make its first appearance and the enthusiasm about International Affairs speaks well for Vermont representatives at the League of Nations Model Assembly.

The new student interest in International Affairs is steadily increasing. All of the large colleges are doing their best to aid the student in an accurate knowledge of world affairs.

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

Spring Styles
Advance showing of Suits and Topcoats by
LANGROCK
BRAEBURN
ADLER
HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
ESTABLISHED 1896 QUALITY VALUE SERVICE
LANGROCK
FINE CLOTHES
NEW HAVEN, CONN.
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

NOTICES

There will be a meeting of Emma Phi on March 5, at 5 o'clock Professor Bassett's house, 295 Prospect Street.

Scrubs are wanted for varsity All applicants should report to ger Birchard on the track at 4 within the next two days.

Mr. Ernest Gruening, Editor Portland Daily News, will speak day, March 5, in the Internation stitute on South America and M Mr. Gruening gained consid fame with a recent book on M and South American relations. address some classes in the m hold a forum in the afternoon Old Mill Chapel, and convocat night.

"So I said to her: 'I the boy that used to at school?' And sh who you are?' And I was my father.'"—Yale Young Wife (in sto ling, darling!

Hubby (behind the am, dear.

Y. W.: Don't be sl looking for Fido.—Mu

The United States, being most powerful nation should play a leading pa be a menace. No studen States who has a k question settles back the assumption that we volved. The newest w pus for one to enlighten by the International In Institute will be composed of speakers who thoroughl subject. This Institute will b campus March 5, 6 and 7.

Compliments of
C. A. BARBER &
112 Church Street

STUDENTS
LOOSE-LEAF NOTE BOO
ART MATERIALS
U. V. M. STATIONERY
McAULIFFE'S
Cor. Church & College S
Phone 629

NEW CORONA
SPECIAL IN COLORS
$39.50
L. P. WOOD
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STRE

THE UNIVERSITY STORE is offering a new Rental Service on TYPEWRITERS
The rates are—
15c per day 75c per wee
$2.50 per month

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VERMONT, TUESDAY, MARCH 5, 1929 — NUMBER 38

NEW ORGANIZATION INSTALLED ON HILL

Sigma Alpha Chi Becomes Vermont Beta of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Second Largest of National Fraternities

SIGMA ALPHA CHI WAS FOUNDED SIX YEARS AGO

Sigma Alpha Chi Fraternity is now Vermont Beta of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. A petition to the national fraternity was held its biennial convention at Miami, Florida, on December 28, 29, and 1, having been accepted, the installation of the new chapter was held Saturday, March 2, in the Eastern Star rooms of the Masonic Temple.

The presence of such a large national fraternity as Sigma Alpha Epsilon will serve to strengthen the already strong group of national Greek-letter societies on the Vermont campus. Vermont, with a relatively small enrollment, can now boast of nine national academic and three national medical fraternities.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded March 9, 1856, at the University of Alabama, in the old city of Tuscaloosa. Its inception was characteristic of the founding of most fraternities. Eight men, of whom Noble Leslie De Votie was the leader, conceived the plan to perpetuate their ties of warm friendship for one another by the formation of a fraternity. The idea to make the fraternity national in its scope was one of the goals early established by the new society. Until 1885 the extension was kept rigidly within the South. At that time a chapter in Ohio State was admitted and extension into the North and West followed rapidly.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon has the largest membership of any fraternity in the country. In point of active chapters it is officially classed second, Kappa Sigma being in first place. A conservative extension policy has been adopted by the fraternity, which has taken in only 28 new chapters in the last 17 years.

History of Sigma Alpha Chi

Early in the fall of 1922 three underclassmen, feeling that there was sufficient good material in the non-fraternity group at Vermont to organize a fraternity, held a series of meetings to talk over the situation. Consequently, through the efforts of Parker S. Blake '24, Henry H. Fuller '30, then '25, and Beryl W. Randall '25, Sigma Alpha Chi was founded, November 13, that year.

Organization proceeded fast. A house was leased on Loomis Street which was the home of the fraternity until the present house at 56 Summit Street was purchased from Prof. Samuel F. Emerson. In beauty, in serviceability, and in location it is all that can be desired. The fraternity has grown in the last few years to be one of the prominent ones on the hill. The goal of the fraternity from its inception has been to become national. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was chosen as the national fraternity whose ideals most nearly corresponded with those of Sigma Alpha Chi. All efforts were directed toward becoming affiliated with S. A. E. The culmination of these efforts came at the Miami Convention when Sigma Alpha Chi became Vermont Beta of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Much credit is due to Albert G. Hall, M.'32, and Beryl W. Randall '25, who represented the active chapter and alumni at the Convention at Miami, also to John M. Moore '30, chairman of the petition committee.

The members that were initiated Saturday are: Prof. A. B. Myrick, faculty member; J. M. Colton, E. L. Hall, F. L. Berry, C. E. Seamans, J. Heath, J. B. Phelps, B. G. Le Barwood and A. C. Castle of the alumni; A. Harwood and A. G. Mackay, B. F. Clark, L. A. Collins, W. A. Hall, E. R. Mackay and C. E. Reynolds of the class of '29; P. G. Bellows, E. C. Ball, W. H. Burr, R. Clayton, A. Gioria, A. E. Merrill, R. Moore, C. H. Ramm, F. A. Sears and R. L. Stewart of the class of '30; and E. Coburn, G. W. Colby, C. E. Hewett, G. R. Hall, H. R. Mattison and C. L. Topping of the

(Continued on page 4)

WILL CLOSE TRI-STATE LIT. CONTEST MARCH 15

A definite date has been set for the completion of the Tri-State Literary Contest, the rules of which have already been printed in the Cynic. All material must be in by March 15. Professor Dean states that so far very little material has been handed in and urges everyone, if possible, to submit an essay, short story, or poem. A change has been made in the rules governing epic poetry, a fact which permits the use of two hundred lines of poetry instead of one hundred as heretofore.

The three years the contest has been running Vermont has captured the lion's share of the prizes but, unless more material is handed in soon, it seems likely that the prizes will go to New Hampshire State or to Maine. This year Vermont picks the short story judges, though their identity has not been revealed as yet.

CATAMOUNT DEBATERS CLASH WITH PANTHERS IN CONFERENCE MEET

Vermont Faces Off Against Middlebury in First State Contest, Fighting for Lawrence Prizes

Tonight the Catamount debaters face the Middlebury debating team at Middlebury in the first engagement in the Green Mountain Conference. This debate is also the Edwin Winship Lawrence prize debate, in which, by the action of a trustee of the University of Vermont, three prizes will be awarded to the outstanding debaters of the evening.

Franklin A. Sears '30, Louis Lisman '31, and George R. Nelson '31, will debate on the negative of the proposition, "Resolved, that the present American jury system should be abolished." By the rules of the Conference, the Oxford style of debate must be used, while Middlebury selects both the side of the question it is to uphold and the judges for the fray.

Vermont and Middlebury have run neck and neck in past years in their debates. Two years ago Vermont won out from Middlebury at the latter city, but lost to the Panthers last year in Burlington.

Vermont Has Four Prizes

So far as prizes are concerned, Vermont thus far has captured the lion's share. In 1927, when the prizes were first awarded, E. C. Mower '27, took first prize, while L. A. Hince '28, took second, leaving the third award to be divided between two Middlebury men. Last year Hince took first prize and J. M. Lenvens '28, took third. Pattee, this year's captain of the Middlebury team, took second place.

All of Vermont's debaters are veterans and members of Tau Kappa Alpha. This year they have debated against Bates in a no-decision contest, but have yet to participate in their first engagement on the jury question. In this respect Middlebury has a decided advantage as it has already met Upsala, N. Y. U. and Rutgers on this same topic. Middlebury also has a strong man in Pattee and yet another advantage in having choice of side and judges.

Vermont will meet Norwich at Burlington next week and will complete its debates in the State league by engaging St. Michael's at home sometime towards the end of the month.

Meeting of Freshmen Is Called by Boulder

Boulder Society has called a meeting of the freshman class for this afternoon at 4.00 o'clock in the Old Chapel. Prof. Myrick of the Romance Language Department will be present to discuss the freshman rules and the attitude of the class in general toward them. Attendance by every member of the class will be advisable, as the roll will be called and some means of persuasion for attendance at future meetings is likely to be adopted.

JUNIOR PLAY WINS DRAMATIC CONTEST

"Sardines," Presented by Women of the Junior Class, Takes Dean Cup in Class Meet

PROFESSORS AIKEN, DEAN, LINDSAY ACT AS JUDGES

Women's class plays, presented in the gymnasium Friday evening, furnished dramatic and interesting entertainment to a representative and enthusiastic audience. Professors W. E. Aiken, J. I. Lindsay, and Leon W. Dean of the English Department were the judges and chose the junior play, "Sardines," as giving the best performance. Thus the class of 1930 will be the first to have its name on the loving cup presented by Prof. and Mrs. Dean to the Dramatic Club.

The cast of the junior play was as follows:

MATTIE EATON ..... Irene Marcotte
ANNE CARROLL ..... Iva Harris
LIZZIE PIKE ..... Elizabeth Miller
LUCY WATKINS ..... Margaret Parry
ALFREDA ..... Clarissa Peters

The coach was Estabel Perelman, '30.

In Herringport, Me., sardine-canning factories furnish the main occupation of the villagers. At the opening of the play we learn of hard times because of the lack of fish; at the taking place of the sardine runs, the factory bells sound and the townspeople run to their work.

Mattie Eaton, an attractive middle-aged woman, is entertaining Anne Carroll, a lady from New York who is seeking inspiration from local color for her writing. Comedy element is given by Alfreda, the clumsy, melancholy helper of Mrs. Eaton, and by two typical villagers, Lizzie Pike and Lucy Watkins. At the crucial moment of serving luncheon, the bells ring announcing a sardine run. Alfreda dashes off in hot haste, and the lady from New York gets her inspiration. The players in this were especially good because of their dramatic and distinct enunciation; the same class has won for the last two years for putting on the best plays.

The Sophomore Play

The cast of the sophomore play, "The Man in the Bowler Hat," was coached by Mrs. Pearl Brown.

JOHN ..... Jean Wappler
MARY ..... Virginia Goodenough
HERO ..... Janice Davis
HEROINE ..... Gertrude Levin
VILLAIN ..... Winona Spencer
BAD MAN ..... Dorothy Nash
THE MAN IN THE BOWLER HAT ..... Justine Rogers

After much dramatic dialogue and acting, during which two ordinary people have their quiet ways interrupted by a hero with a heroine, a villain, and a bad man, along with much talk of hat boxes and jewels, we learn that the whole thing is a rehearsal of a play. The parts were well taken and suited for keeping up the mystery and suspense of the sketch.

Those taking part in the freshman play, "The Veneered Savages," coached by Lilian Cohen, '30, were:

LOU, an American heiress ..... Elizabeth Hollis
MADGE, her sister ... Margaret Martin
DICK MAJENDA, their cousin ..... Kathryn Rauh
LADY FANNY ..... Hope Ranslow
DUCHESS ..... Lucile Robinson
LORD ALGERNON .. Doris Humphreys
The Butler ..... Helen Gahagan

"Veneered Savages"

Two American girls, Lou and Madge, through a mistake, receive a note written by Lady Fanny in which she calls them "veneered savages." The indignant girls resolve to carry out this impression when they visit the Duchess, Lady Fanny's mother. Lou and Madge as cowgirls and Dick as Buffalo Bill put on a highly exciting scene, but in the end everything comes out perfectly all right, along with the proper snubbing of the haughty English duchess and her snobbish daughter.

All those taking part in the plays

(Continued on page 4)

Holy Cross Edges Vermont With Two Minutes To Go

Capt. Estabrook, Halligan, and Bernstein Star in Final Game for Cats—Second Victory of Season for Crusaders Over Vermont

GLEE CLUBS OF WESLEYAN AND MIDDLEBURY TAKE PRIZES IN HUB CONTEST

Thirty Vermont Singers Return Sunday From Fourth Annual Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest in Boston Without Success

Wesleyan University was the winner of the Fourth Annual Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest held in Symphony Hall in Boston last Friday evening, March 1. Middlebury College was runner-up for first honors.

This contest, held each year by the New England College Glee Club Association under the auspices of the University Club of Boston, is steadily increasing in popularity, both from the viewpoint of the audience and the participants.

In this contest, each competitor sings three songs—one which all must sing, called the "prize" song which this year was "Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Dvorak, one of the college's favorite songs, and one choice song. This year the choice songs were first, followed by the prize song and then the college songs. Places in the program were decided by drawing lots, so that each club did not sing each time in the same order. By a singular coincidence, Vermont was followed each time by Williams.

The colleges singing in the 1929 contest were: Amherst College, Boston University, Bowdoin College, Clark University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Middlebury College, Northeastern University, University of Vermont, Wesleyan University, Williams College, and Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

Wesleyan, the winning club, sang "The Song Day Closes" by Sir Arthur S. Sullivan, for the choice song, and "Twilight Song" by Waite '06, Hahns '85, for the college song. Middlebury chose "My Bonny Lass" by Thomas Morley and "Gamaliel Painter's Cane" by Wiley. Vermont sang "My Little Rosebud" by Max Filke and "Vermont Victorious" arranged by Professor H. G. Bennett.

Following the songs, J. C. Thomson, Middlebury '29, accompanied by H. G. Owen, played several violin solos which were greatly enjoyed.

After this Dr. John J. Gibbons, President of the New England College

(Continued on page 3)

CO-EDS START CLASS BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Following closed practice and practice games, co-eds' basketball will open with a whirl this afternoon when the freshmen play the juniors, and the seniors play the sophomores. The schedule for the remainder of the season is: March 7, seniors vs. juniors, freshmen II vs. sophomores II; March 12, seniors vs. freshmen; juniors vs. sophomores. March 14, sophomores vs. freshmen.

Under the able coaching of Mrs. Hard and Miss Blanchard the teams show exceptional ability. Every indication points toward close and exciting games.

The sophomores, interclass champions last year, are out again for the same title, four of the members of last year's team being back in their old positions. However much opposition is expected from the freshmen who apparently have a strong team.

The final game of the season will come at the Indoor Meet when the winning class team will meet an All-Star team picked from the other three classes.

CONNORS WINS WITH LONG HEAVE AT END

Basketball fans were given a thrill last Saturday night when Holy Cross squeezed out a victory over Vermont on the gym floor with a 22 to 20 score. This was certainly a hard game for the Green and Gold to lose, for the team was beaten on long shots. At the end of the first half the score was a tie at 8 and 8 and at one time in the second frame the Catamounts were leading 19 to 13. The last period was by far the most interesting and exciting, for the scoring seesawed back and forth several times, while Vermont seemed to have enough points to win until the last minutes of the game. In fact, the Cats were leading almost all the time until Sullivan tied the score at 8-8 just before the half ended and Connors won the game with a long shot with two minutes to go.

This game was the last time that Captain Estabrook, Morse and Palmer will be seen playing basketball for the Green and Gold. These men will be lost to next year's team through graduation. With the Holy Cross contest Saturday night the Catamounts finished their schedule for the season and will not be back again on the basketball court until next December. It would have been fitting to have won a victory for the last game but fate was unkind.

No man on either side can be given credit for winning the game alone. Every player was working to make this game a victory for their Alma Mater. Vermont showed that she had not declined, as some people were inclined to believe, by playing a fine brand of ball against a good team. Bernstein played better than he has in any game this season. Halligan was also right there with his speed in an attempt to turn back the Crusaders. He and Captain Estabrook are perhaps the two fastest men on the Vermont team and both shone in the attack against Holy Cross.

Clancy, right guard for Holy Cross, was one reason why Vermont did not win the final game on the schedule. Every time the ball came off the back board he was there to get it. The Holy Cross forwards, Captain Morris and Connors, were fast and kept the Vermont guards busy trying to watch them. Together they made 11 points, or half of the team's score.

First Half

The Cats started the game with Halligan and Wallace, forwards, Sargent at center and Captain Estabrook and Manning, guards. Estabrook started the scoring by pushing in a basket on a follow shot. There was much fumbling and erratic playing in this period before either team settled down to business. Both teams guarded closely and this, coupled with poor shooting, kept the scores low. Each side got a point from the foul line and then Manning slipped in a field goal from under the basket. Three more points for Holy Cross from the charity line brought the score 5 to 4 with Vermont still ahead. Wallace was then replaced by Bernstein, who got a foul shot and this with Sargent's basket gave Vermont a total of 8 points. Holy Cross immediately started an attack and Sullivan shot two field goals in succession to tie the game, 8-8.

Second Half

Holy Cross started this period by continuing the advance that had been begun when the last half ended and two baskets were made to put the visitors in the lead for the first time. Finally Sargent came tearing in and took a rebound for a twin counter. Later Halligan tied the score at 12 with a short shot. Morris then got a foul shot but soon Halligan figured again by putting Vermont in the lead with a basket from the corner. The crowd was wild when Palmer, after replacing Estabrook, got two more points from the foul line. Captain Estabrook drew a tremendous ovation as he finished his last game for Ver-

(Continued on page 3)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE G. CLAYTON '30
Editor-in-Chief

HERRICK M. MACOMBER, '30 — Managing Editor — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '30

PRISCILLA T. CAMPBELL, '30
Women's Editor

George R. Brush, '31 — News Editor, Louis Lesman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc. Editors: Belle L. Church, '30; Jessie E. Richardson, '30 — Sports Editor, Seymour I. Nathanson, '30 — Asst. Sports Editors: Lynford M. Foster, '31; Herman D. Gussow, '31; Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor, Harriet E. Wright, '31 — Intercollegiate Editor, Odino A. Martinetti, '30 — Feature Editor, Edward J. Boyer, '30

Art Editor, Lenore Aldinger, '29 — Faculty Adviser, Prof. Leon W. Dean — Women's Intercollegiate Editor, Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Pauline Burridge, '30; Frances Goodrich, '30; Irma Waterman, '30; Estelle Ross, '31; Hilda Smith, '31

Winifred Stone, '31; Margaret Ann Martin, '32; Hope Ransiow, '32; Alfred J. Morin, '32; Watson E. Morgan, '32

E. Henry Powell, '30; Charles N. Crockett, '31; Edmour A. R. Germain, '31; Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32; Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '30
Business Manager

Major B. Jenks, '30 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Stuart S. Corbin, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Simon F. McQuestion, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
F. Stanley Smith, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2930 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday. Founded in 1905. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 448 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt

Vol. 47 — March 5, 1929 — No. 38

Progress

Six years ago there appeared upon the fair Vermont campus a new fraternity, conceived in progress and dedicated to the proposition that hard work and a constant aim toward a definite goal could not help but win success. Six years ago that happened. Over the past week that fraternity's goal was reached; its success was realized.

Six short years. A tremendous height to reach. An amazing prize to capture—judged by many as too far from the grasp of so new an institution. But the bag of gold at the end of the rainbow is no longer a myth—it is a reality. Sigma Alpha Chi is now Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Progress. A step ahead, a step at a time—but always a step ahead. Why always a step ahead? Why ever the fight to push forward? Because it brings results, and modern life demands results. Because it brings progress, and modern life demands progress. Abraham Lincoln was born in a log cabin. But he didn't stay there long. Max Steur was born in poverty and wretchedness on New York's East Side. He is today perhaps the highest paid lawyer in the country. Sigma Alpha Chi was born a local. It is now a link in one of the best and strongest nationals in the United States.

Progress. A step ahead, a step at a time—but always a step ahead.

G. R. N.

A New Hand Rocks the Cradle

Ring out the old! Ring in new! So long, Cal! Hop aboard, Herb! All set? Olsay. Now here's all the necessary levers. You know 'em, sir. You've been around long enough. Now this isn't any train, Herb. It's no ship of state. It's a cradle—uh-huh, a wonderful cradle, Herb. It's a cradle of teeming industry, of composite life, of untold wealth and untold resources. Cal handled it well, sir. No radical changes in the way of rocking it, but awful steady. Calm, cool, collected. Some called him dumb, sir. He wasn't, though. He just wanted to make sure. You know.

You're just starting in—but you know what it's all about. You'll make out well. You've got the whole nation behind you, wishing you luck. I feel the same way about it. The best of luck to you, Herb!

G. R. N.

SMITH COLLEGE OFFERS GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS

The Department of Education of Smith College offers two fellowships of five hundred dollars each, and tuition, and three scholarships covering tuition for college graduates who wish to prepare themselves for specialized work in education.

Two Experimental Schools are conducted by the Department of Education.

1. The Smith College Day School, a progressive elementary school along essentially modern lines. Graduate students will have the opportunity of studying the theory and practice of progressive education and assisting in the experimental work of the school.

2. The Smith College Cooperative Nursery School a school for children from two to five years of age. The work of the graduate students will be directed towards the scientific study and observation of the pre-school child and practical experience in the technique and conduct of the Nursery School.

The fellowships are assigned for study in connection with the Nursery School or the Day School.

The three scholarships will be awarded for graduate study in the general field of education or in one of the experimental schools.

In addition to the fellows and scholars, a limited number of graduate students will be accepted. The course of study followed by the student may lead to the degree of Master of Arts.

In making the appointments the academic records, personal characteristics, general adaptability and professional experience of the candidates will be considered.

Applications should be made on or before April 1, 1929.

All correspondence should be addressed to the Department of Education, Smith College, Northampton, Mass.

Students at the University of Utah are said to be getting around an edict which forbids them to smoke on the campus by smoking on stilts. They maintain that stilts take them at least twelve inches off the campus'—Tar Heel

Glee Clubs of Wesleyan and Middlebury Take Prizes in Contest

(Continued from page 1)

Glee Club Association, introduced the judges, who were Mr. George W. Chadwick, chairman, Mr. George S. Dunham, and Dr. William C. Hammond. The chairman presented the cup to the victorious club, after which the combined Glee Clubs, under the direction of Dean W. Hansom, sang "The Prayer of Thanksgiving" and then the "Star Spangled Banner."

The University of Vermont Glee Club which is under the direction of Prof. H. G. Bennett, gave a creditable performance. Most of the Glee Clubs were directed in the contest and in all cases by a student. Major Jenks '30, directed the Vermont Glee Club.

Talkative Cop

Berlin claims the world's champion policeman linguist in Patrolman Rochard Schottstadt, who can speak sixteen languages.

He is stationed before the Berlin armory, where he answers the questions of almost all foreign visitors in their own tongues.

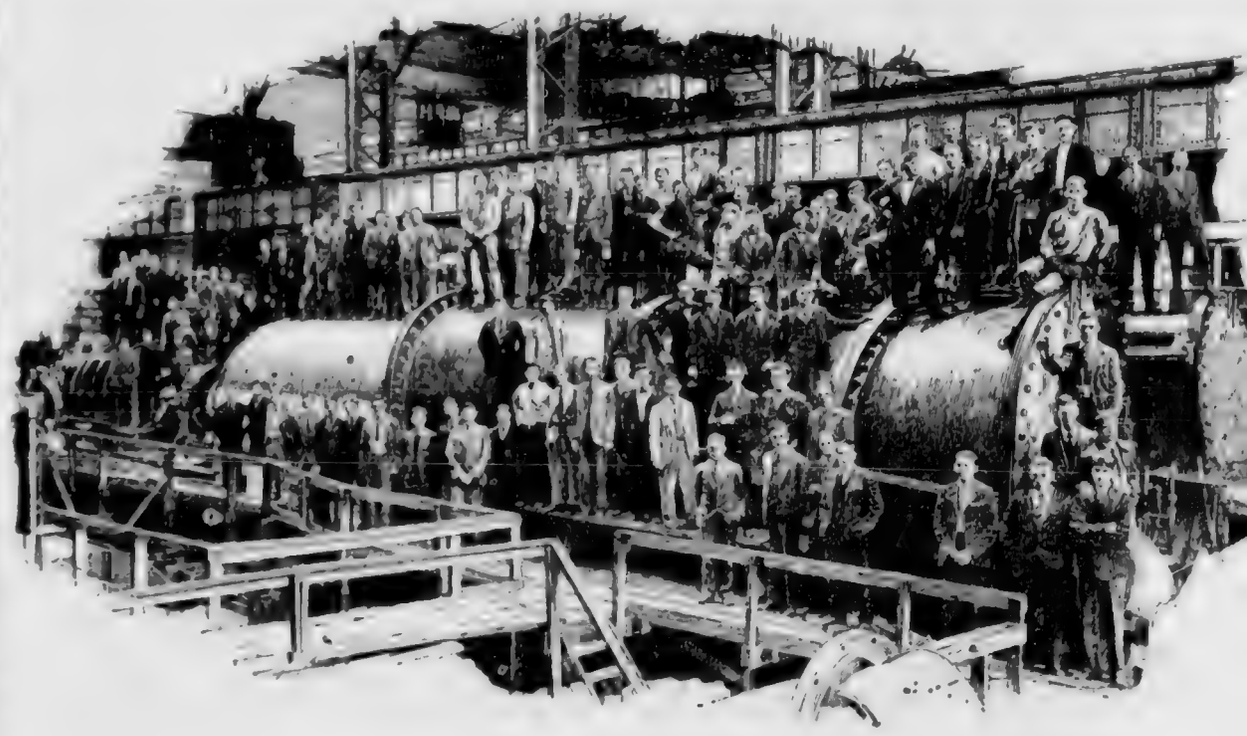
"Madam, do you understand the nature of an oath?" the angry attorney demanded of the woman witness.

"I ought to," she snapped back. "My husband is a golfer and my son drives a second-hand flivver."—Widow.

Collegian: "A nice suit you have on, who's your tailor?"

Grad: "And you have on a nice suit too, who's your roommate?"

Vermont Alumni Association of New York Dines And Elects Its Officers



The Annual Dinner of the New York Alumni Association of the University of Vermont was held at the Hotel Roosevelt recently with about seventy-five alumni present. Philip J. Ross, 1895, the president of the Association, presided, and also seated at the head table were Prof. Evan Thomas, Prof. Leon W. Dean, 1915, Edwin E. Dickinson, 1872, Robert M. Catlin, 1873, Judge Chester B. McLaughlin, 1879, Charles Whiting Baker, 1886, Willard A. Mitchell, 1887, George W. Alger, 1892, Fred B. Wright, 1905, and William J. Herron, 1926.

The first speaker was Prof. Thomas, who received a rising ovation. He told of his emigration from Wales, when he could not even speak the English language. He told of the great teachers at Vermont when he first came there, Buckham, Goodrich, Torrey, Emerson, Daniels, Merrill and others. Each of these great men he pictured with some striking phrase, excepting Professor Merrill. He said that Professor Merrill could not be described. He was himself.

Professor Leon Dean, of the class of 1915, spoke next, as the representative of the present day Vermont, where he is deservedly popular. He related a number of episodes, which he appropriately referred to as pen and ink sketches, to illustrate the life at the college today.

Then followed the debate between William J. Herron, '26, and Fred B. Wright, '05, on the [illegible] Students at the [illegible] five Years Ago Have [illegible] Get More out of The[illegible] Than the Students of [illegible] Classes?" Mr. Herron making humorous refer[illegible] dency of older grad[illegible] cences, and giving an [illegible] ture of university life [illegible] made a rather telling [illegible] gesting that the present [illegible] relationships between n[illegible] students were perhaps [illegible] to refinement than the [illegible] less hostile attitude. Mr. Wright responded by first admitting [illegible] of the graduates of two [illegible] ago could make as good a [illegible] when two years out of college, opponent. He nevertheless [illegible] that the influence of the great ers of old, as listed by Prof. Thomas, gave an advantage to days. He indulged in a few reminiscences as predicted by his opponent. A particularly interesting [illegible] was of a college play on which one of the actors became temporarily incapacitated and it seemed for a as if Professor Tupper, as the other person who knew the would have to substitute, and necessary corollary to the part part, would have to be clean-shaven. Fortunately, however, the catastrophe was averted by the unexpected covery of the regular actor.

(Continued on page 3)

Generating Brain Power

BRAIN power, not horsepower, is the chief operating requirement of the electrical industry.

This requirement must be continuously anticipated to provide leaders for the future. Accordingly, each year, more than 400 picked college graduates come to the General Electric Company for a post-graduate course in electrical science.

With a faculty including inventors and engineers of international distinction, something more than electrical knowledge is imparted to these young men. Here they also find inspiration which prepares them for leadership in this electrical age.

You will see this monogram on the powerful motors of an electric locomotive and on the convenience outlet where you plug in a floor lamp always and everywhere it is a safe guide to electrical quality and dependability.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, N.Y.

SPORTING NEWS

SEYMOUR I. NATHANSON, '30
Sporting Editor

BASEBALL PRACTICE IN FULL SWING IN CAGE

Few Veterans Report to Coach "Larry" Gardner But Prospects Are Far From Being Gloomy

Some forty men reported to coach Larry Gardner in the cage a week ago Sunday, in response to his first call for diamond candidates. Fully half of those who turned out were freshmen, among whom were noted a number of ex-high and prep school stars. The next four weeks will be spent in going through the training grind in preparation for the opening game of the southern trip at Washington on March 30, when the Catamounts tackle the strong Georgetown University nine.

The southern trip, which was started many years ago, has become an annual event at Vermont and takes its place among the many traditions of the University. This trip was brought about through the necessity of having outdoor practice before the season opened, as the facilities that the cage afforded were not adequate enough to produce a finished team. Moreover, the Cats' opponents in southern New England were able to obtain the jump on them, since the shorter winter season enabled them to hold outdoor practice three or four weeks in advance of the Vermonters.

Then, too, the trip is of excellent educational value to the players and affords an opportunity to give publicity to the University. In a large respect this trip is one of the reasons why Vermont has turned out crack baseball teams for the past few years. Several Vermonters have made the big league grade, coach "Larry" Gardner and Ray Collins being two examples. Two of the stars on last year's varsity were given try-outs in the minor leagues, Rolfe Schoppe going to Reading of the International League and Don Moriarty going to Springfield of the Eastern League.

In previous years a big smoker has always been held the night before the start of the trip and the team is given a rousing send-off amid songs and cheers.

Few letter men were to be seen among those reporting to practice last week, only five having been left from the nine of the previous season. Captain "Cal" Macomber, who has played stellar ball for the team the past two years, is one of the letter men. He is also a backstop of some ability and may be called upon to hold down the receiving berth. "Wes" Howard, who as a freshman last year, led the batting list for over half the season, has also turned out. Frank O'Keefe and "Danny" Dinniman, both of whom substituted in the outer garden last season, are now working out.

Graduation sadly depleted last year's battery staff, "Nellie" Wood being the only member of it to return. There is much new material available, however, of which the majority of the hurlers are port-siders. Little can be said of their relative merits, since they have been out for only a short time. Among the backstops trying out are Stroh, Young, Towne and Kendall. Towne is an ex-Burlington high luminary, while Kendall comes from the northern part of the State, having starred at Newport for four years.

Morse, Sargent, Wallace and Halligan of the hoopsters will probably report since the Catamount court season closed against Holy Cross on Saturday. Wallace and Sargent have starred for the junior varsity, while Morse has already made one southern trip as a third sacker. Halligan had a reputation as a ball hawk when he played with Montpelier High School.

For the past week the squad devoted its attention mainly to batting practice. On Friday the most promising of the candidates were selected and instructed to report Saturday afternoon with all of the battetry men present. The men were: Clain, Carrigan, Johnson, Howard, Jay, Macomber, Wilcox, McKay, O'Keefe, Proctor, Stevens, Traynor, Winant and Witherbee. The battery men who reported were Berry, Cummings, Kendrick and Pfenning, Rutkowski, Stevenson, Wissell and Wood as pitchers, and Stroh, Young, Towne and Kendall as catchers.

Coach Gardner stated that this was only a temporary assignment and the entire squad reported yesterday.

Stanford University will come East this fall to play Dartmouth on the latter's field, November, 1930, the Green returning to Palo Alto.

CAT'S MEOW

—SPORTING EDITOR—

Too bad the Cats had to lose the last game in that manner.

The Crusaders had been winning games all season by their long shots and Saturday was just another one of their days.

Captain Estabrook, in his last game for Vermont, played one of the best games of his college basketball career against Holy Cross and ended the season in a blaze of glory.

Estabrook was given honorable mention as an all-American guard by Joe Godfrey, Jr., sporting authority of Chicago, in cooperation with 200 college basketball coaches in the country. The honor is well deserved.

Godfrey's all-American team is as follows: Hyatt, Pittsburgh, forward; Shaaf, Pennsylvania, forward; Murphy, Purdue, center; Wineapple, Providence, guard; Pickell, Arkansas, guard; Churchill, Oklahoma, alternate.

The interclass hockey tournament scheduled for last Thursday, Friday and Saturday has been cancelled on account of ice conditions. The frosh-upperclassmen contest will not be played either.

Prospects for the varsity track team are not as bright as they were earlier in the year due to the loss of several letter men who are under warning. Captain Freddie Robbins and Park are under scholastic warning and cannot compete until Easter at least.

Orleans High, winner of the junior interscholastic tourney at Rutland, Saturday, may challenge the winner of the senior tourney, to be held here Friday and Saturday, to a play-off for the state high school championship.

The following pairings have been made for the senior tourney preliminary round on Friday:
3.00 P.M.—Bellows Falls vs. Hartford.
4.00 P.M.—Cathedral vs. Rutland.
7.30 P.M.—Burlington vs. Springfield.
8.30 P.M.—Fair Haven vs. Newport.

Holy Cross Edges Vermont With Two Minutes to Go

(Continued from page 1)

mont. The Vermont team was going good and victory seemed to be in sight when the Catamounts added three more points through fouls. This made the score Vermont 19, Holy Cross 13. Maffeo shot a field goal for the visitors and then Wallace got a point on a foul shot. In an unguarded moment Connors gathered a basket for Holy Cross and then Connors threw a long shot that somehow fell through the hoop. The Catamounts called time out and the score was 20 to 19 for the Green and Gold. After play was again resumed, Morris recklessly heaved a long shot and this likewise counted before the astonished Catamounts. To still further assure a victory Morris made a point from the foul line. Frantically the Vermonters tried to get the ball to make that precious basket for now every second counted. Praying with hope that the ball might miraculously go through the basket, the players shot from all corners of the floor but their attempts were fruitless and the game ended with the score 22 to 20 in favor of Holy Cross.

The summary:

VERMONT	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Halligan, r. f.	2	0	4
Wallace, l. f.	0	1	1
Bernstein, l. f.	0	3	3
Morse, l. f.	0	0	0
Sargent, c.	2	0	4
Estabrook (capt.), l. g.	1	0	2
Palmer, l. g.	0	2	2
Manning, l. g.	1	2	4
Totals	6	8	20

HOLY CROSS	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Connors, r. f.	2	1	5
Russell, r. f.	0	0	0
Morris (capt.), l. f.	2	2	6
Sullivan, c.	2	0	4
Clancy, r. g.	0	3	3
Maffeo, r. g.	1	0	2
Brady, l. g.	0	0	0
Farrell, l. g.	1	0	2
Totals	8	6	22

Referee, Mann of Springfield; umpire, Dennison; scorer, Gray; timer, Worrell; time, twenty-minute halves.

DELTA PSI CAPTURES INTERFRAT CHAMPIONSHIP

Sigma Nu Defeated in Final Game of Tournament 36 to 16—Key and Serpent Cup Presented to Winners

Delta Psi won the interfraternity championship by defeating Sigma Nu 36 to 16 in the final game that was played as a preliminary to the Holy Cross game Saturday night. The contest was hard fought but interest waned toward the end, although the Sigma Nus tried desperately to overcome the Delts' early lead. In every respect Delta Psi had the advantage and found no great difficulty in outscoring their opponents. At the end of the first half the count was 20 to 7, which was enough to assure a victory. Between the halves of the Vermont-Holy Cross game Graduate Manager May forth presented the championship cup to the Delta Psi fraternity.

Nearly all the scoring for the winners was done by Taft, guard, and Marvin, forward, who together made 28 points—14 each. Bedell was the high scorer for the losers with 9 points.

At the beginning the game was close and exciting as each side was anxious to win. The rooters for each fraternity cheered heartily when some clever play was made by their team. As the game progressed Delta Psi gradually drew away from their opponents and were never headed. When time was called in the first half the score stood Delta Psi 12, Sigma Nu 7. Then Taft and Marvin got into action so that with Corbin's foul shot the score was 20 to 7 for the Delts at the half.

The second frame began with a bang, for the Sigma Nus were not conquered in spirit, at least, and were determined not to lose. However, their efforts were not enough to overcome the leaders, who in this period made 16 points to the Sigs' 9. Parks got a couple of beautiful shots that made things look bad for Sigma Nu. Near the end of the game the Nus tried long shots in despair, but the gun cut off their attempts with the score 36 to 16, which meant that the interfraternity championship went to Delta Psi.

The summary:

DELTA PSI	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Corbin, r. f.	0	1	1
Marvin, l. f.	7	0	14
Parks, c.	3	1	7
Macomber, r. g.	0	0	0
Taft, l. g.	6	2	14
Totals	16	4	36

SIGMA NU	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Bedell, r. f.	4	1	9
O'Keefe, l. f.	1	0	2
Aiken, l. f.	0	0	0
Hyland, c.	1	0	2
Kersey, r. g.	1	1	3
Slavin, r. g.	0	0	0
Maynes, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	7	2	16

Referee, Levine; timer, Lawrence; scorer, Averill.

Harvard defeated Yale in hockey 2 to 1 and Yale yearlings downed the Crimson frosh 1 to 0 Saturday. The defeats were the first of the season for the losing teams.

On account of the warm weather during the past week-end several interfraternity winter sports events remain to be run off.

Have you chosen your life work? In the field of health service.

The Harvard University Dental School—the oldest dental school connected with any university in the United States—offers thorough well balanced courses in all branches of dentistry. All modern equipment for practical work under supervision of men high in the profession.

Write for details and admission requirements to Leroy M. S. Miner, Dean

HARVARD UNIVERSITY DENTAL SCHOOL
Longwood, Ave. Boston, Mass.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Lambda chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta was entertained at a supper at the house by the Sophomore members of the society with the pledges as guests of honor.

Pledging was held at dawn Saturday at the house and the annual pledge luncheon took place at the Hotel Vermont at one o'clock. The following alumnae were present: Mrs. Paul French, Mrs. Leon Dean, Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. Hollis Gray, Mrs. Walter Dugar, Mrs. Edward Modgett and the Misses Mary Bates, Florence Woodward, Doris Dodds, Ruth Croft and Laura Bliss.

Sunday night supper was served at the house by the junior members of the fraternity.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Delta Delta Delta held an informal supper at the rooms on Friday evening for its pledges.

Formal pledging took place Saturday afternoon and was followed by a pledge supper on the Vermont Roof. The following alumnae were present: Mrs. A. J. Stevens, Mrs. B. F. Heath, Mrs. F. J. Macomber, Mrs. C. R. Rublee, Mrs. H. C. Tinkham, and the Misses Gladys Flint, Helen Hendee, Eileen Goodwin, Beatrice Herberg, Marion Witters, Marion Tucker, Eleanor Taft and Juanita Witters.

Breakfast was served Sunday morning at the rooms by the Sophomores.

PI BETA PHI

The senior members of Vermont Beta of Pi Beta Phi entertained the pledges and actives at a supper at the rooms Friday evening.

The pledge luncheon was held on the Hotel Vermont Roof Garden Saturday noon, followed by pledging at the rooms. The following alumnae members were present: Mrs. Florence Farr Hard, Mrs. Crane, Mrs. Thomas Bradlee, Mrs. Albert Kimball, Mrs. L. H. Marvin, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Boardman, Mrs. Tuttle, and the Misses Laura Parker, Janet Twitchell, Cynthia Goodsell, Lois Wright, Esther Stanley, Catherine McSweeney and Charlotte Brown.

The Sophomores served breakfast at the rooms Sunday morning. The pledge dance took place Saturday evening at the Elks' rooms with Prof. and Mrs. D. B. Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Marvin as chaperons.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Members of the Sophomore class of Epsilon chapter of Alpha Xi Delta were in charge of a supper served Friday night at the rooms in honor of the pledges.

Pledging took place Saturday afternoon at the rooms followed by the pledge supper at the Hotel Vermont. The alumnae present were: Mrs. Betsey Kimball Kidder, Mrs. Marion Wright Vogler, Mrs. Marjorie Scott Way, and the Misses Marion Way, Annis Barney, Anna Smith, Martha O'Neil and Helen Merritt.

Breakfast was served Sunday morning at the Soda-Luncheonette.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Alpha Chi Omega gave an informal supper for the pledges at the Park Café Friday night.

The pledge luncheon was held at Sally's Saturday noon, and was followed by pledging at the rooms. Alumnae present included Mrs. Fanny Peabody Woods and the Misses Lois Burbank, Olufa Jones, Ruth Jones, Amy Hammond and Pauline Willis ex '30.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 597-W
T. P. O'HARA
SPRING SAMPLES NOW ON DISPLAY $28 UP.
170 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

Vermont Alumni Association of New York Dines and Elects Its Officers

(Continued from page 1)

Cheer Men of '70

The banquet room was elaborately decorated with Vermont banners. The singing and cheering were in charge of C. Warren Moore, of the class of 1927. A special cheer was given for the three graduates of the seventies present.

A nominating committee composed of Harry B. Carlin, '09, chairman, John C. Orcutt, '10, Darius C. Brundage, '15, Dr. David M. Bosworth, '15, M.D. '21, and E. Burton Heath, '20, recommended the following officers who were elected for the ensuing year:

President, James R. Jennings, '21, 9 East 38th Street, New York City; vice-president, Patrick M. Curry, '01, 345 East 239th Street, New York City; treasurer, George L. Best, '21, N. Y. Telephone Co., 15 Dey Street, New York City; secretary, James H. Hoffnagle, '13, 14 Wall Street, New York City.

These officers, with D. C. DeYette '09, W. J. Dodge, '03, E. E. Miller, '00, and J. H. Moore, '14, constitute the board of directors with term expiring in 1930. Other members of the board of directors, with term expiring in 1931, are W. T. Burns, '22, C. S. Cummings, '21, A. H. Kehoe, '11, and H. H. Oatley, '00. Members of the board whose term of office will expire in 1932, are Dr. A. K. Aldinger, '99, Fred B. Wright, '05, Dr. David M. Bosworth, '18, and W. J. Herron, '26.

Trustees of the alumni scholarship fund are J. T. Stearns, '96, chairman; D. H. Ferrin, '08, secretary-treasurer; J. D. Allen, '93; A. H. Kehoe, '11; C. N. Hitchcock, '13, E. J. Tyler, Jr., '20.

Breakfast was held at the Luncheonette Sunday morning.

Miss Gennette Davis of the Economics has been made an honorary member of Alpha Chi Omega. Miss Davis was pledged Sunday, March 3, at the rooms.

SIGMA GAMMA

Sigma Gamma announces the pledging of Dorothy Dickinson '30, Alice Hammond '32 and Kenna Oakes '32, on Saturday, March 2.

Lucene Little '29, gave a supper at her home in honor of the pledges Friday evening.

The pledge luncheon Saturday noon at the Vermont was followed by pledging at the rooms. Guests of honor at the banquet were: Mrs. Elijah Swift, Bertha Little '23, and Frederika Northrop '26.

EPSILON SIGMA

Epsilon Sigma held formal pledging at Miss Patrick's home Saturday evening.

RAND'S HOME LUNCH
64 COLCHESTER AVE.
Where you get the most of the best for the least
HOME COOKING
OUR SPECIALTY
Phone 2045

"Good Smoke!" Says Hubby "O. K." with Wife

Brooklyn, N. Y.
August 4, 1928

Larus & Bro. Co.,
Richmond, Va., U. S. A.

Dear Sir:

Going to take the pleasure and drop you a few lines to say that my favorite tobacco is your Edgeworth. I have been a user of it for the last eight years and find it's the only tobacco for a real good smoke.

For the last five or six months I have been trying several other kinds but I find Edgeworth is the only tobacco for me.

If I am smoking any other brand my wife will tell me, as she likes the smell of only Edgeworth. When I'm smoking others she opens all windows and doors.

The reason for writing this letter is that I had a card party last night, and most all of the party asked me what kind of tobacco I used.

So I told them Edgeworth.

Yours very truly,
A smoker of Edgeworth
(Signed) E. E. Boisvert

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

INSTITUTION OPENS WITH ADDRESS OF GRUENING BEFORE HISTORY CLASS

Editor of Portland Daily News Speaks in Mr. Dean's Class in English 2—Dr. Joshi to Speak Later

[illegible] Institute opened Tuesday morning with Ernest Gruening editor of the Portland Daily News speaking to Mr. Dean's history class at 10:30 and Mr. Dean's English 2 class at 11:00. Excerpts from several other classes followed in the Mr Gruening's talks. Plans will be announced further in the Old Mill Chapel and Mr Gruening will address the Green Keys, Misericordians Literary Society, the Cynic Board and the Lyceum Managing Editorial Board and any other students who wish to attend. His general topic will be on the opportunities in the journalistic field. Mr Gruening will address a convocation in the gymnasium at eight o'clock.

Ernest Gruening began his career in 1911 as a reporter and writer of special articles for the Boston American. Later in his career he occupied the positions of assistant editor of the Boston Herald, managing editor of the New York Evening Mail and several other editorial positions. He is widely known as an orator and editor and has acted in an advisory capacity for various metropolitan newspapers. Besides this he is a contributor to the leading magazines and the author of an authentic book on Mexico entitled "Mexico and Its Heritage." This book has received the favorable comments of historians and scholars and it was recently purchased by the Billings Library. Mr Gruening wrote the book after his experience in Mexico in 1923 when he was a representative for Collier's Magazine.

Mr W V Kitchen of Boston through whom the Vermont International Institute Committee has been negotiating for speakers, wired yesterday that the University of Vermont in obtaining Dr Joshi and Mr Gruening is receiving two of the most capable speakers available in the New England Institutes. Both men are authorities in their particular fields and have had much experiences in international affairs.

Dr. Joshi

Fascinating and compelling in his matter and speech, brilliantly educated, polished and delightfully clever. This was the characterization of Dr Joshi which appeared in one of the southern papers when he lectured some time ago in the Southern States.

Having descended from a good Brahmin stock in western India, he was educated partly in India and partly in the United States. He is an alumnus of Columbia University and has traveled extensively on three continents. He has acquired a wide knowledge of men and events and developed an international mind.

His appointment to the chair of comparative religion at Dartmouth College evoked favorable comments from the American press as well as the press in Great Britain and India. He is constantly in touch with the stream of current affairs in Asia, Europe and America. His broad cultural outlook, resulting from a combination of Hindoo philosophy with Christian traditions, qualifies him to speak with complete self-confidence, and in chaste and classic English, of some of the vital issues that are coming to the forefront in the relations of the American nation with the races of Asia.

Professor Joshi represented India at the International Peace Conference in New York, delivered the Earl Foundation lectures in California, Carnegie Foundation lectures on International Peace, and the Ripon Foundation lectures at the University of Cincinnati. He was the first exchange professor from India to this country. He has lectured extensively from coast to coast during the last seven years.

Mrs. Herbert McMullen of Montpelier, representing the federated women's clubs of Vermont, will speak in convocation Wednesday evening at the gymnasium. Her subject will be "Building the New Peace Institution."

For Fine Home Made Candies

BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP

Special Price on Ice Cream for Fraternities

New Organization Installed on Hill

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible] Flagg, E. J. Mercier, A. J. Morin, C. L. Park, H. N. Smith, M. Tomasetti and G. E. Wilder of the class of '30, C. E. Case, unable to be present on account of sickness, will be initiated by the active chapter at a later date. A. C. Janke '25, living in Cincinnati, was also initiated Saturday in that city.

S. A. E. Banquet

The whole affair terminated with a banquet at the Van Ness House Saturday evening with Lemay's orchestra furnishing the music and Bernard G. Le Mieux '30 acting as toastmaster.

The main speakers of the evening were Dean Votey of the Engineering College, representing the University, Eminent Supreme Archon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, O. K. Quivey of Baltimore, Maryland, Eminent Archon of Province Alpha, Charles S. Collins of Boston, Mass., and Professor A. B. Myrick of the Romance Language Department at the University and honorary member of Vermont Beta of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Congratulations were also extended to the new S. A. E. chapter by the representatives of the various other S. A. E. chapters in New England.

The other Greek-letter fraternities on the hill were represented as follows: Lambda Iota, T. H. Morton '29; Sigma Phi, G. M. Watson, Jr., '30; Delta Psi, H. M. Macomber '30; Phi Delta Theta, H. K. Borkland '30; Alpha Tau Omega, J. H. Sugden '30; Kappa Sigma, J. C. Puffer '30; Sigma Nu, A. R. Birchard '29; Tau Epsilon Phi, R. J. Alpert '29; Phi Mu Delta, R. M. Tracy '29; Zeta Chi, R. S. Andrews '29; Sigma Delta, H. L. Burnett, Jr., '29; Phi Sigma Delta, M. Samuelson '29.

Yes, sir, clothes do make the man. At least according to one professor on the Georgia Tech campus. He asserts that he always gives better marks to well dressed men. On one occasion he even sent a boy home to change from a sweater to a coat. The student went and returned in his car. Ohio State Lantern

Mrs. McMullen is known as an effective speaker and is in close contact with international politics. Besides being the Wednesday evening speaker she will address a political science class and the International Relations Club at a Thursday afternoon tea.

TUFTS COLLEGE
DENTAL SCHOOL
Founded 1867
College men and women prepare for a profession of widening interest and opportunity. Recent research has enlarged the scope of every phase of dentistry. The field demands more than ever before men and women of ability backed by superior training. Such training Tufts College Dental School offers to its students. School opens on September 23, 1929. Our catalog may [illegible] in choosing your career. For [illegible] address
Dr. William Rice, Dean
416 Huntington Avenue Boston, Mass.

HOLD EVERYTHING

Your old suit will join your need razor blades when you see

BONNIE BLAE-TWEEDS
By Brecburn

Exclusive Patterns
835 840 845
with two trousers

HAYES & CARNEY
196-7 Bank St. Near Majestic
Open Evenings

OFFERS AERONAUTICAL SCHOLARSHIP TO N. Y. U.

The first aeronautical scholarship ever offered by an American aircraft concern has been established in the Daniel Guggenheim School of Aeronautics at New York University by J. Don Alexander, president of the Alexander Eaglerock Company.

A four year scholarship in aeronautical engineering or business aeronautics will be awarded this year to the college student who shows the most practical imagination in aeronautics. The winner may choose between the scholarship and an Eaglerock airplane. Two hundred and eleven colleges are represented in the competition. A number of free flying courses and free flight manuals are offered.

Prof. Alexander Klemin, a consulting aeronautical engineer for both army and navy during the World War now head of the Guggenheim School at New York, has become chairman of the Alexander Eaglerock Committee on awards. Other members will be Dr. Jesse Morgan, dean of the Colorado School of Mines, President J. Don Alexander, and Dr. D. B. Harmon of Colorado College.

New York University was chosen after a careful survey of aeronautical schools for American universities. The executive council and Chancellor E. E. Brown have given hearty approval of the scholarship plan of promoting aviation interest in the colleges.

More college students are flying today than ever before. Flying clubs are now active in 87 colleges and universities.

Junior Play Wins Dramatic Contest

(Continued from page 1)

will become members of the Dramatic Club, with the exception of Margaret Parry, '30, Janice Davis, '31, and Jean Wappler, '31, who are already members of the club by virtue of having taken part in former presentations. The property and make-up managers, Priscilla Campbell, '30, Luella Ross, '31, and Marion Edwards, '32, will also be taken into the club.

Dancing, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and in charge of Joyce Richardson, '30, followed the program; the chaperones were Prof. and Mrs. L. W. Dean and Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Pooley.

Wellesley College students are forbidden to ride in aeroplanes without permission from the office of the dean.

NOTICES

The International Relations [illegible] will hold a social and business meeting at the Vermonters' Club House Thursday, March 7, at 4 o'clock.

Marion Baldwin '30 [illegible] McKenzie '30 were entertainer at the Practice House.

It's rumored that a party in the Alpha Chi house [illegible] open. It wasn't such a party because the girl [illegible] glasses. For a while she [illegible] osity, but like life—we [illegible] to everything—and she [illegible] good standing.—Montana Kaimin has the following new titles recommended by the Department of English:

THE LENDING LIBRARY

SOUTH WIND
SUSSEX GORSE
JOANNA GODDEN
GREEN MANSIONS
THE CONSTANT NYMPH

An empire hung on that strap

THE hitch must be right, the pack must be tight. On details such as that hung the attainment of the day's goal and the final success of the expedition.

Lewis and Clark, first Americans to cross the continent, knew the importance of "trifles" in the concerted plan. They saw to it their equipment was right, they supervised every step from man-power to pack-horse-power, they applied sure knowledge and constant vigilance to their task.

Today's leaders in business have the same point of view.

Men in the Bell System, explorers of country, take infinite pains in preparation. They work toward the smooth coordination of engineering, manufacturing, warehousing, accounting, finance, public service.

BELL SYSTEM
A nation-wide system of inter-connecting telephones

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"

BILLINGS LIBRARY

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 BURLINGTON, VERMONT, FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1929 NUMBER 39

Metcalf Discusses The Relation of Intelligence And Scholarship

Associate Professor of Psychology Has Correlated the Grades of Students on Intelligence Tests With Their Grades in College Work—Results Interesting

The writer has been making a study of the relationship between grades on the intelligence test and scholarship marks. In an inquiry of this kind two groups of students stand out as of special interest—those who have distinguished themselves for fine scholarship, and those whose scholarship has been so poor that they have been dropped from college.

In the present study four classes of the College of Arts and Science have been included, 1928-1931 inclusive. The class of 1928 was the first one tested with the intelligence examination now in use. The study was not carried beyond the class of 1931 because the present freshman class has been in college for so short a time that its scholarship records are not of much significance as yet for the purposes of the investigation.

In all, 1,012 students are included, of whom 584 are men and 428 are women. These students have been divided into four groups: (1) those whose names have appeared on the list of students making a scholarship average of at least a B, (2) those who, while never having appeared on the honor list, have also never appeared on the warning list, (3) those who have been under warning but not dropped, and finally (4) those who have been dropped.

Ten Deciles

When the intelligence test has been given and scored, the grades for the whole class are arranged in order from highest to lowest. The class is then divided into ten equal parts, each part being known as a "decile." The ten deciles are designated by Roman numerals from I to X inclusive. Thus, if a given student's grade falls in the I decile, he ranks among the highest 10 percent of the class as a whole. If it falls in the VI-decile he belongs to tenth that is exceeded by 50 percent of the class, but which surpasses the lower 40 percent.

The foregoing explanation is necessary in order that the accompanying table may be understood. This table summarizes the results by indicating the number of students in the different deciles who fall in each of the four groups mentioned above. It should be noted that the total number of students in each decile varies. Thus, in the I-decile there are 125, more than one tenth of the whole number, while in the X-decile there are only 58, less than half of the number in the I-decile. This inequality of numbers is due to the fact that the whole freshman class from all departments is the basis for the division into deciles. The College of Arts and Science has a larger proportion of students who rate high and a smaller proportion of those who rate low than the class as a whole. Hence the Arts and Science students are found in greater numbers in the higher deciles than in the lower ones.

Results Tabulated

With these considerations in mind, we turn to the table. The numbers in parentheses indicate what percent the given number is of the total number found in that particular decile. Thus, in the V-decile there are 113 cases, of which 10, or 9 percent have made the honor list; 54, or 48 percent have passed without having been under warning, 30 or 26 percent have been under warning, and 19 or 17 percent have been dropped for poor scholarship.

Running down the Honors column from I to X, it becomes at once apparent that there is a close relationship between intelligence as measured by the test and making a B average. Of those who rank in intelligence among the highest tenth, 39 percent have made the honor list, while not a single one of the students who rank in the lowest decile has achieved this distinction. Again, comparing the five upper deciles (I-V) with the five lower ones (VI-X), we find that in the upper deciles 100 students out of 568, or 18 percent, make the honor list, while in the lower deciles only 18 stu-

(Continued on page 2)

VERMONTERS LOSE TO MIDDLEBURY DEBATERS BUT TAKE TWO PRIZES

Lisman and Sears Gain Edwin Winship Lawrence Prizes as Middlebury Forensic Artists Triumph 35-28

Vermont's hopes for a state debating championship received a considerable setback at Middlebury last Tuesday when the Panthers pinned a 35-28 defeat on the Catamount orators, dropping two of the three Edwin Winship Lawrence prizes, however, to Vermont debaters.

Vermont, debating against the abolition of the jury system, received 28 votes from the judges in the contest on the merits of individual speakers, while Middlebury gained seven more to cinch the debate and a first prize as well for an individual speaker.

A team composed of Samuel Pattee, Raymond Saulnier and Reamer Kline opposed the speakers from Vermont—George Nelson, Louis Lisman and Franklin Sears. The decision was handed down by Allen R. Sturtevant, Middlebury lawyer, Rev. E. W. Gould, minister of the local Baptist Church, and Truman L. Butterfield, superintendent of the Middlebury schools.

President Paul D. Moody presided as chairman.

Saulnier, Lisman, Sears Win

First prize in the debate, an award of $25, went to Raymond Saulnier. A tie for second place was declared between Louis Lisman and Franklin Sears, the chairman dividing the second and third prize money, $15 and $10, between them.

Pattee opened the debate with a speech which outlined the arguments of the Middlebury debaters and then went into detail to show that the American jury system is a social evil. He contended that the system has outlived its purpose and, in addition, that it has certain defects in it that render it unsuitable for any purpose.

Nelson Opens for Vermont

Nelson, starting for Vermont, replied to Pattee in opening, and then he launched on Vermont's constructive argument, maintaining that the jury is fundamental to all democratic institutions. Saulnier, first prize winner, took up Pattee's line of argument, this time holding that the jury is an economic evil.

Lisman, tying for second prize, held that the jury is fundamentally and inherently sound, that it is qualified to decide on facts and to render justice. The evils laid at its door he attributed to other causes. Kline, summing up the affirmative case, recommended as a substitute, trial by judge alone, attempting to show, by a variety of arguments, that such a method would eliminate the defects of the jury system.

Sears, closing for Vermont with a prize speech, devoted all of his time to rebuttal. Successively, he took up in detail the arguments of the Middlebury debaters, refuting especially the case for a substitute plan of judges in place of juries.

Pattee in Whirlwind Finish

Pattee, in five minutes of rebuttal, closed the debate in whirlwind style. Speaking rapidly, hardly pausing for debate, the Middlebury captain covered practically every point in the debate.

Middlebury now has two victories to Vermont's one in the three years of prize debating. Vermont, however, has captured in that time two first prizes, two seconds, and two thirds, while Middlebury has only a first, a second and a third.

The next debate in the state series

(Continued on page 3)

GOLD KEY MEN RECEIVE TOURNEY INSTRUCTIONS

Gold Key Society met last Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the office of Graduate Manager Mayforth to receive instructions about meeting and entertaining the visiting high school basketball teams who are here this weekend for the interscholastic basketball tournament, which is being held under the auspices of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont. The various members were assigned to teams which they will look after during their brief stay in the city. Other men were requested to appear at all the games they could possibly attend to act as ushers. It is hoped that they will be able to preserve order in the more tense moments of the series.

FAMOUS SPEAKERS ON VERMONT CAMPUS

Conditions in India Described by Dartmouth Professor

MAINE EDITOR LAUDS WORK ON NEWSPAPER

Dr. Samuel L. Joshi, of Dartmouth College, who is here to speak at the International Institute, gave the chapel talk Wednesday morning. The progress of humanity may be compared to a great army, Dr. Joshi said, in which there are three divisions: there are some who, led by an inspired captain, push ever onward toward the ultimate goal, there are a great many others coming behind them who are rather indifferent as to their progress, as to whether they march forward or backward. Then the still greater number who follow these are inclined to keep retreating, in order that they may get back to their homes, return to familiar fields. Thus, in modern times, the prophet represents the first division—always fifty years ahead of the rest of the world. The others are the priests, and stand for conservatism in all its form.

People of Today Don't Want Peace

The people of today don't really want World Peace. We are, rather, seeking a modern equivalent for war. Mahatma Gandhi, the Indian, is one of the greatest leaders of today along that line. He upholds the Doctrine of Ahimha, which, by its name, means simply "Abstinence from taking life." So, also did the founder of Buddhism, Gautama the Buddah, believe in peace.

Once a young man vied with Gautama the Buddha about his peaceful leathings. That great man listened in silence, and when the youth had finished, asked—

"If a man refused a gift which was offered him, to whom would the gift belong?"

"Why, to the giver," answered the other.

"Very well," said Gautama the Buddha, "you have offered me abuses, heaped upon insults. I do not want them, keep them for yourself."

Jesus Christ's Teaching

Jesus Christ preached for the same effect in his Sermon on the Mount. Civilization will change for the better only as the world finds a substitute for war. India can't be read as an open book. There are certain [illegible] ways through which the [illegible] world must enter if she seeks to understand the East. These are India's music, her philosophy, her religion, her arts. There are many others. And only when the soul of India is caught will she be "an open book to the rest of the world."

GRUENING SPEAKS

Ernest Gruening, editor of the Portland Daily News, talked about newspapers and newspaper work at an open forum held in the Old Mill Chapel Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Gruening declared that "I am in it because I like it."

Newspaper work, he held, is the most fascinating work in the world.

(Continued on page 2)

Crack Schoolboy Teams of State Compete In Tourney

Senior Interscholastic Championship of State of Vermont at Stake—University Athletic Association and Headmasters' Club Sponsor Tournament

MYRICK CALLS FOR FAIR PLAY AMONG FRESHMEN

Outlines Vermont Traditions Before Freshman Class Meeting and Calls on Yearlings for Obedience

An appeal for fair play and cooperation was the keynote of Prof. A. B. Myrick's talk to members of the freshman class on Tuesday afternoon in the Williams Science Hall. Prof. Myrick is the chairman of the committee appointed to investigate the freshman rules and there were about 100 present to hear his presentation of the administration's attitudes toward the freshman rules and their enforcement. In his talk, Prof. Myrick outlined the history and value of the Vermont traditions, described the reasons for the administration's present attitude, and called upon the freshmen to show their cooperation and sense of fair play by living up to the rules and traditions.

The question of how the freshman rules shall be enforced has not yet been settled, according to Prof. Myrick. There are still conferences to be held with the president, the faculty committee, and the Boulder and Gold Key societies before definite action is taken. Just what this action will be depends upon the way in which the members of the freshman class obey the rules.

Traditions Steadying

All New England colleges have long appreciated the value of traditions, said Prof. Myrick, not because they have been stand patters, but because they have realized that traditions have a much needed steadying influence. Some of these traditions might seem trivial on the surface but it is not the things themselves but rather the training that they afford that is valuable. It is with this in mind that rules are imposed upon the freshman class here at Vermont.

In recent years, there were so many complaints against the manner in which these rules were being enforced that last fall, the administration stepped in and stopped the paddling of the freshmen, and relieved them of the forced labor such as putting up the athletic bleachers. In return for this, all that was asked was that the freshman rules be obeyed. "Fair play demands that in return for honest concession, given by one party, concessions must be granted on the part of the other," declared Professor Myrick.

In closing, Prof. Myrick called for anyone who did not feel that he should be required to obey the rules to raise his hand. There was no response. A vote to live up to the rules personally was unanimous.

CORNELL LAW SCHOOL OFFERS SCHOLARSHIPS

President Bailey recently received a communication from Charles K. Burdick, Dean of the Cornell Law School, to the effect that a few tuition scholarships are now available for entering students. Men who are graduating from Vermont this June, and are contemplating the study of law, are eligible to apply.

The Faculty of the Law School will consider such applications as are made during the spring, and will make the awards about commencement time.

The Sigma Nu fraternity is holding its annual Easter dance at the fraternity house March 22. The chaperones will be Professor and Mrs. Dopkins, Miss Laura Parker and Professor Meredith. Leahmyr's Vermonters will furnish the music.

CATHEDRAL HIGH RECORD BEST OF ALL ENTRANTS

Vermont's foremost schoolboy hoop teams will compete for the state senior championship today and tomorrow at the U. V. M. gym. This annual tournament is held under the direction of the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont. Eight teams were chosen to compete by the above mentioned organization from all the high schools of the state of Vermont whose boy enrollment in grades 9-12 on November 28, 1928 was more than 60 and who have played the season under the eligibility rules of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont.

The following schools were selected: Burlington, Cathedral; Bellows Falls, Hartford of White River Junction, Rutland, Springfield, Newport and Fair Haven High Schools. The winning quintet will receive a silver loving cup emblematic of the championship of the senior division from the Athletic Council of the University of Vermont for its permanent possession. A complete schedule will be found elsewhere in this issue of the Cynic.

The Gold Key Society assisted by Key and Serpent will aid the school boys as usual and will handle the ushering. The following assignments of Gold Key men have been made: Bellows Falls, Berry; Hartford of White River Junction, Clark; Cathedral, Tobin; Rutland, Adams; Burlington, Agel; Springfield, Coburn; Fair Haven, Smith; Newport, Walker.

Tickets may be purchased from the University Store, the office of the Graduate Manager of Athletics in the gym or L. P. Wood, Church Street, at the price of 50 cents for each afternoon or evening or $1.25 for the entire tournament.

Of the eight teams, Cathedral High is the only undefeated one and is favored to win the cup.

Bellows Falls vs. Hartford

The first combat will take place between Bellows Falls High School and Hartford High of White River Junction. Both aggregations have fine records. The former trounced Rutland and broke even with Springfield in two games. Hartford also won one out of its two games with Springfield and has already easily conquered Bellows Falls, the score being 40-18.

Cathedral vs. Rutland

Cathedral will take on Rutland in the second preliminary contest. The former has an undefeated record having trounced Burlington High three times. However, it has played against no other combination in this tournament. Rutland split two games with Burlington and took Bellows Falls into camp in one of their two meetings. Rutland won the state championship here last year.

Springfield vs. Burlington

In the third game, Springfield and Burlington will strive for victory. Springfield defeated the Burlington team last week, 51-23. The former has lost two games, one to White River Junction and the other to Bellows Falls. Rutland is one of its victims. Burlington broke even with Rutland in their two game series, both being close contests.

Newport vs. Fair Haven

Newport High and Fair Haven will end the preliminary round. Though the former has a fairly good record it did not encounter any of the other seven tourney contestants. Fair Haven, on the other hand, trimmed Rutland twice.

Semi-finals and Final Saturday

The winners of the first round games will clash in the semi-finals in pairs while the two victorious quintets will decide the state championship on Saturday night.

Bellows Falls and Hartford will practice 11 minutes before their game at 2 o'clock Friday. Cathedral and

(Continued on page 3)

INSTITUTION OPENS WITH ADDRESS OF GRUENING BEFORE HISTORY CLASS

Editor of Portland Daily News Speaks in Mr. Dean's Class in English 2—Dr. Joshi to Speak Later

International Institute opened Tuesday morning with Ernest Gruening, editor of the Portland Daily News speaking to Mr. Dean's English class at 11 [illegible] from [illegible] Mr Gruening will [illegible] Thursday evening in the Old Mill Chapel and Mr Gruening will address the Free Press Association, Literary Society, the Cynic Board, and the Vermont Weekly Editorial Board, and any other students who wish to attend. His general topic will be the [illegible] in the journalistic field. Mr Gruening will address a convocation in the gymnasium at eight o'clock.

Ernest Gruening began his career in 1911 as a reporter and writer of special articles for the Boston American. Later in his career he occupied the positions of assistant editor of the Boston Herald, managing editor of the New York Tribune and several other editorial positions. He is widely known as an examiner and editor and has acted in an advisory capacity for various metropolitan newspapers. He calls Cuba his vacation to the leading magazines and the author of an authority book on Mexico entitled "Mexico and Its Heritage." This book has received the favorable comments of historians and scholars, and it was recently purchased by the Billings Library. Mr Gruening wrote the book after his experience in Mexico in 1923, when he was a representative for Collier's Magazine.

Mr W V. Kitchen of Boston, through whom the Vermont International Institute Committee has been negotiating for speakers, wired yesterday that the University of Vermont is obtaining Dr Joshi and Mr Gruening "as receiving two of the most capable speakers available in the New England Institutes. Both men are authorities in their particular fields and have had much experiences in international affairs."

Dr. Joshi

Fascinating and compelling in his manner and speech, brilliantly educated, polished and delightfully clever." This was the characterization of Dr Joshi which appeared in one of the southern papers when he lectured some time ago in the Southern States.

Having descended from a good Brahmin stock in western India, he was educated partly in India and partly in the United States. He is an alumnus of Columbia University and has traveled extensively on three continents. He has acquired a wide knowledge of men and events and developed an international mind.

His appointment to the chair of comparative religion at Dartmouth College evoked favorable comments from the American press as well as the press in Great Britain and India. He is constantly in touch with the stream of current affairs in Asia, Europe and America. His broad cultural outlook resulting from a combination of Hindu philosophy with Christian tradition qualifies him to speak with complete self-confidence and in chaste and classic English of some of the vital issues that are coming to the forefront in the relations of the American nation with the races of Asia.

Professor Joshi represented India at the International Peace Conference in New York, delivered the Earl Foundation lectures in California, Carnegie Foundation lectures on International Peace and the Ripon Foundation lectures at the University of Cincinnati. He was the first exchange professor from India to this country. He has lectured extensively from coast to coast during the last seven years.

Mrs. Herbert McMullen of Montpelier representing the federated women's clubs of Vermont will speak in Ira Allen Chapel Wednesday evening at the convocation. Her subject will be "Building the New Peace Institution."

New Organization Installed on Hill

(Continued from page 1)

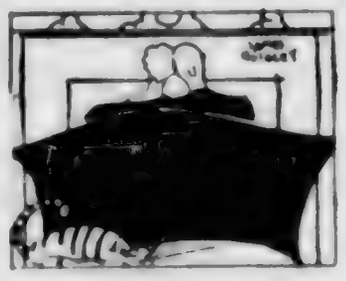
class of '31; W. M. Flagg, E. J. Mercier, A. J. Morris, C. L. Park, H. S. Smith, M. Tomassetti, and G. E. Wonder of the class of '30; C. E. Case, pledge to be present at a banquet of chapters will be conducted by the active chapter at a later date. A. C. Jacobs '30, living in Burlington, was also initiated. Saturday at the club.

S. A. E. Banquet

The whole affair terminated with a banquet at the Van Ness House Saturday evening with Leonard's orchestra furnishing the music and Bernard G. [illegible] acting as toastmaster.

The main members of the evening were Dean Jones of the Engineering College, representing the University; Provost Sypher, Archon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, O. K. Quivey of Burlington, Most Eminent Archon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Charles S. Collins of Boston, Mass., and Professor A. F. Myrick of the Romance Language Department at the University and honorary member of Vermont Beta of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Congratulations were also extended to the new S. A. E. chapter to the representatives of the various other S. A. E. chapters in New England.

The other Greek-letter fraternities on the hill were represented as follows: Lambda Iota, T. H. Morton '29; Sigma Phi, C. M. Watson, Jr. '30; Delta Psi, H. M. Macomber '30; Phi Delta Theta, H. K. Borkland '30; Alpha Tau Omega, J. H. Bugden '30; Kappa Sigma, J. C. Puffer '30; Sigma Nu, A. R. Birchard '29; Tau Epsilon Phi, R. J. Alpert '29; Phi Mu Delta, R. M. Tracy '29; Zeta Chi, R. S. Andrews '29; Sigma Delta, H. L. Burnett, Jr. '29; Phi Sigma Delta, M. Samuelson '29.



Yes, sir, clothes do make the man! At least according to one professor on the Georgia Tech campus. He asserts that he always gives better marks to well dressed men. On one occasion he even sent a boy home to change from a sweater to a coat. The student went—and returned in his tux.—Ohio State Lantern

Mrs. McMullen is known as an effective speaker and is in close contact with international politics. Besides being the Wednesday evening speaker she will address a political science class and the International Relations Club at a Thursday afternoon tea.

TUFTS COLLEGE
DENTAL SCHOOL
Founded 1867

Offers men and women preparation for a profession of widening interest and opportunity. Recent research has enlarged the scope of every phase of dentistry. The need demands more than ever before men and women of ability backed by superior training. Such training Tufts College Dental School offers in its modern School open on September 26, 1929. Our catalog may help you in choosing your career. For [illegible] address

Dr. William Rice, Dean
416 Huntington Avenue Boston, Mass.

HOLD EVERYTHING

Your old suit will join your used razor blades when you see

BONNIE BLUE-TWEEDS
By Broeburn

Exclusive Patterns
835 840 845
with two trousers

HAYES & CARNEY
195-7 Bank St. Near Majestic
Open Evenings

For Fine Home Made Candies
Go to the
BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP
Special Price on Ice Cream for Fraternities

OFFERS AERONAUTICAL SCHOLARSHIP TO N. Y. U.

The first aeronautical scholarship ever offered by an American aircraft concern has been established in the Daniel Guggenheim School of Aeronautics at New York University by J. Lee Alexander, president of the Alexander Eaglerock Company.

A four year scholarship in aeronautical engineering or business aeronautics will be awarded this year to the college student who shows the most practical imagination in aeronautics. The winner may choose between the scholarship and an Eaglerock airplane. Two hundred and seven colleges are represented in the competition. A number of free flying lessons and free flight manuals are offered.

Prof. Alexander Klemin, a consulting aeronautical engineer for both army and navy during the World War, now head of the Guggenheim School at New York, has become chairman of the Alexander Eaglerock Committee on awards. Other members will be Dr. Jesse Morgan, dean of the Colorado School of Mines, President J. Don Alexander, and Dr. D. B. Harmon of Colorado College.

New York University was chosen after a careful survey of aeronautical schools for American universities. The executive council and Chancellor E. E. Brown have given hearty approval of the scholarship plan of promoting aviation interest in the colleges.

More college students are flying today than ever before. Flying clubs are now active in 87 colleges and universities.

Junior Play Wins Dramatic Contest

(Continued from page 1)

will become members of the Dramatic Club, with the exception of Margaret Parry, '30, Janice Davis, '31, and Jean Wappler, '31, who are already members of the club by virtue of having taken part in former presentations. The property and make-up managers, Priscilla Campbell, '30, Luella Ross, '31, and Marion Edwards, '32, will also be taken into the club.

Dancing, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and in charge of Joyce Richardson, '30, followed the program; the chaperones were Prof. and Mrs. L. W. Dean and Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Pooley.

Wellesley College students are forbidden to ride in aeroplanes without permission from the office of the dean.

NOTICES

The International Relations Club will hold a social and business meeting at the Vermonters' Club House Thursday, March 7, at 4 o'clock.

Marion Baldwin '29 [illegible] McKenzie '30 were entertainer at the Practice House.

It's rumored that a party in the Alpha Chi house was open. It wasn't such a party because the girl [illegible] glasses. For a while she [illegible] osity, but like life—we [illegible] to everything—and she [illegible] good standing.—Montana Kaimin has the following new titles recommended by the Department of English:

THE LENDING LIBRARY

SOUTH WIND
SUSSEX GORSE
JOANNA GODDEN
GREEN MANSIONS
THE CONSTANT NYMPH

An empire hung on that strap

THE hitch must be right, the pack must be tight. On details such as that hung the attainment of the day's goal and the final success of the expedition.

Lewis and Clark, first Americans to cross the continent, knew the importance of "trifles" in the concerted plan. They saw to it their equipment was right, they supervised every step from man-power to pack-horse-power, they applied sure knowledge and constant vigilance to their task.

Today's leaders in business have the same point of view.

Men in the Bell System, exploring the country, take infinite pains in preparation. They work toward the smooth coordination of engineering, manufacturing, warehousing, accounting, finance, public service.

BELL SYSTEM
A nation-wide system of inter-connecting telephones

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"

BILLINGS LIBRARY

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VERMONT, FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1929 — NUMBER 39

Metcalf Discusses The Relation of Intelligence And Scholarship

Associate Professor of Psychology Has Correlated the Grades of Students on Intelligence Tests With Their Grades in College Work—Results Interesting

The writer has been making a study of the relationship between grades on an intelligence test and scholarship [illegible]. In an inquiry of this kind two groups of students stand out as of special interest—those who have distinguished themselves for fine scholarship, and those whose scholarship has been so poor that they have been dropped from college.

In the present study four classes in the College of Arts and Science have been included, 1928-1931 inclusive. The class of 1928 was the first one tested with the intelligence examination now in use. The study was not carried beyond the class of 1931 because the present freshman class has been in college for so short a time that its scholarship records are not of much significance as yet for the purposes of the investigation.

In all, 1,012 students are included, of whom 584 are men and 428 are women. These students have been divided into four groups: (1) those whose names have appeared on the list of students making a scholarship average of at least a B, (2) those who while never having appeared on the honor list, have also never appeared on the warning list, (3) those who have been under warning but not dropped, and finally (4) those who have been dropped.

Ten Deciles

When the intelligence test has been given and scored, the grades for the whole class are arranged in order from highest to lowest. The class is then divided into ten equal parts, each part being known as a "decile." The ten deciles are designated by Roman numerals from I to X inclusive. Thus, if a given student's grade falls in the I-decile, he ranks among the highest 10 percent of the class as a whole. If it falls in the VI-decile he belongs to a tenth that is exceeded by 50 percent of the class, but which surpasses the lower 40 percent.

The foregoing explanation is necessary in order that the accompanying table may be understood. This table summarizes the results by indicating the number of students in the different deciles who fall in each of the four groups mentioned above. It should be noted that the total number of students in each decile varies. Thus, in the I-decile there are 125, more than one-tenth of the whole number, while in the X-decile there are only 58, less than half of the number in the I-decile. This inequality of numbers is due to the fact that the whole freshman class from all departments is the basis for the division into deciles. The College of Arts and Science has a larger proportion of students who rate high and a smaller proportion of those who rate low than the class as a whole. Hence the Arts and Science students are found in greater numbers in the higher deciles than in the lower ones.

Results Tabulated

With these considerations in mind, let us turn to the table. The numbers in parentheses indicate what percent the given number is of the total number falling in that particular decile. Thus, in the V-decile there are 113 cases, of which 10, or 9 percent have made the honor list; 54, or 48 percent have passed without having been under warning; 30 or 26 percent have been under warning, and 19 or 17 percent have been dropped for poor scholarship.

Running down the Honors column from I to X, it becomes at once apparent that there is a close relationship between intelligence as measured by the test and making a B average. Of those who rank in intelligence among the highest tenth, 39 percent have made the honor list, while not a single one of the students who rank in the lowest decile has achieved this distinction. Again, comparing the five upper deciles (I-V) with the five lower ones (VI-X), we find that in the upper deciles 160 students out of 568, or 28 percent, make the honor list, while in the lower deciles only 18 stu-

(Continued on page 2)

VERMONTERS LOSE TO MIDDLEBURY DEBATERS BUT TAKE TWO PRIZES

Lisman and Sears Gain Edwin Winship Lawrence Prizes as Middlebury Forensic Artists Triumph 35-28

Vermont's hopes for a state debating championship received a considerable setback at Middlebury last Tuesday when the Panthers pinned a 35-28 defeat on the Catamount orators, dropping two of the three Edwin Winship Lawrence prizes, however, to Vermont debaters.

Vermont, debating against the abolition of the jury system, received 28 votes from the judges in the contest on the merits of individual speakers, while Middlebury gained seven more to cinch the debate and a first prize as well for an individual speaker.

A team composed of Samuel Pattee, Raymond Saulnier and Reamer Kline opposed the speakers from Vermont, George Nelson, Louis Lisman and Franklin Sears. The decision was handed down by Allen R. Sturtevant, Middlebury lawyer, Rev. E. W. Gould, minister of the local Baptist Church, and Truman L. Butterfield, superintendent of the Middlebury schools.

President Paul D. Moody presided as chairman.

Saulnier, Lisman, Sears Win

First prize in the debate, an award of $25, went to Raymond Saulnier. A tie for second place was declared between Louis Lisman and Franklin Sears, the chairman dividing the second and third prize money, $15 and $10, between them.

Pattee opened the debate with a speech which outlined the arguments of the Middlebury debaters and then went into detail to show that the American jury system is a social evil. He contended that the system has outlived its purpose and, in addition, that it has certain defects in it that render it unsuitable for any purpose.

Nelson Opens for Vermont

Nelson, starting for Vermont, replied to Pattee in opening, and then he launched on Vermont's constructive argument, maintaining that the jury is fundamental to all democratic institutions. Saulnier, first prize winner, took up Pattee's line of argument, this time holding that the jury is an economic evil.

Lisman, tying for second prize, held that the jury is fundamentally and inherently sound, that it is qualified to decide on facts and to render justice. The evils laid at its door he attributed to other causes. Kline, summing up the affirmative case, recommended as a substitute, trial by judge alone, attempting to show, by a variety of arguments, that such a method would eliminate the defects of the jury system.

Sears, closing for Vermont with a prize speech, devoted all of his time to rebuttal. Successively, he took up in detail the arguments of the Middlebury debaters, refuting especially the case for a substitute plan of judges in place of juries.

Pattee in Whirlwind Finish

Pattee, in five minutes of rebuttal, closed the debate in whirlwind style. Speaking rapidly, hardly pausing for debate, the Middlebury captain covered practically every point in the debate.

Middlebury now has two victories to Vermont's one in the three years of prize debating. Vermont, however, has captured in that time two first prizes, two seconds, and two thirds, while Middlebury has only a first, a second and a third.

The next debate in the state series

(Continued on page 3)

GOLD KEY MEN RECEIVE TOURNEY INSTRUCTIONS

Gold Key Society met last Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the office of Graduate Manager Mayforth to receive instructions about meeting and entertaining the visiting high school basketball teams who are here this week-end for the interscholastic basketball tournament, which is being held under the auspices of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont. The various members were assigned to teams which they will look after during their brief stay in the city. Other men were requested to appear at all the games they could possibly attend to act as ushers. It is hoped that they will be able to preserve order in the more tense moments of the series.

FAMOUS SPEAKERS ON VERMONT CAMPUS

Conditions in India Described by Dartmouth Professor

MAINE EDITOR LAUDS WORK ON NEWSPAPER

Dr. Samuel L. Joshi, of Dartmouth College, who is here to speak at the International Institute, gave the chapel talk Wednesday morning. The progress of humanity may be compared to a great army, Dr. Joshi said, in which there are three divisions: there are some who, led by an inspired captain, push ever onward toward the ultimate goal, there are a great many others coming behind them who are rather indifferent as to their progress, as to whether they march forward or backward. Then the still greater number who follow these are inclined to keep retreating, in order that they may get back to their homes, return to familiar fields. Thus, in modern times, the prophet represents the first division always fifty years ahead of the rest of the world. The others are the priests, and stand for conservatism in all its form.

People of Today Don't Want Peace

The people of today don't really want World Peace. We are, rather, seeking a modern equivalent for war. Mahatma Gandhi, the Indian, is one of the greatest leaders of today along that line. He upholds the Doctrine of Ahimha, which, by its name, means simply "Abstinence from taking life." So, also did the founder of Buddhism, Gautama the Buddah, believe in peace.

Once a young man vied with Gautama the Buddha about his peaceful leathings. That great man listened in silence, and when the youth had finished, asked:

"If a man refused a gift which was offered him, to whom would the gift belong?"

"Why, to the giver," answered the other.

"Very well," said Gautama the Buddha, "you have offered me abuses, heaped upon insults. I do not want them, keep them for yourself."

Jesus Christ's Teaching

Jesus Christ preached for the same effect in his Sermon on the Mount. Civilization will change for the better only as the world finds a substitute for war. India can't be read[illegible] open book. There are certain ways through which the world must enter if she seeks to understand the East. These are India's music, her philosophy, her religion, her arts. There are many others. And only when the soul of India is caught will she be "an open book to the rest of the world."

GRUENING SPEAKS

Ernest Gruening, editor of the Portland Daily News, talked about newspapers and newspaper work at an open forum held in the Old Mill Chapel Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Gruening declared that "I am in it because I like it."

Newspaper work, he held, is the most fascinating work in the world.

(Continued on page 3)

Crack Schoolboy Teams of State Compete In Tourney

Senior Interscholastic Championship of State of Vermont at Stake —University Athletic Association and Headmasters' Club Sponsor Tournament

MYRICK CALLS FOR FAIR PLAY AMONG FRESHMEN

Outlines Vermont Traditions Before Freshman Class Meeting and Calls on Yearlings for Obedience

An appeal for fair play and cooperation was the keynote of Prof. A. B. Myrick's talk to members of the freshman class on Tuesday afternoon in the Williams Science Hall. Prof. Myrick is the chairman of the committee appointed to investigate the freshman rules and there were about 100 present to hear his presentation of the administration's attitudes toward the freshman rules and their enforcement. In his talk, Prof. Myrick outlined the history and value of the Vermont traditions, described the reasons for the administration's present attitude, and called upon the freshmen to show their cooperation and sense of fair play by living up to the rules and traditions.

The question of how the freshman rules shall be enforced has not yet been settled, according to Prof. Myrick. There are still conferences to be held with the president, the faculty committee, and the Boulder and Gold Key societies before definite action is taken. Just what this action will be depends upon the way in which the members of the freshman class obey the rules.

Traditions Steadying

All New England colleges have long appreciated the value of traditions, said Prof. Myrick, not because they have been stand-patters, but because they have realized that traditions have a much-needed steadying influence. Some of these traditions might seem trivial on the surface but it is not the things themselves but rather the training that they afford that is valuable. It is with this in mind that rules are imposed upon the freshman class here at Vermont.

In recent years, there were so many complaints against the manner in which these rules were being enforced that, last fall, the administration stepped in and stopped the paddling of the freshmen, and relieved them of the forced labor such as putting up the athletic bleachers. In return for this, all that was asked was that the freshman rules be obeyed. "Fair play demands that in return for honest concession, given by one party, concessions must be granted on the part of the other," declared Professor Myrick.

In closing, Prof. Myrick called for anyone who did not feel that he should be required to obey the rules to raise his hand. There was no response. A vote to live up to the rules personally was unanimous.

CORNELL LAW SCHOOL OFFERS SCHOLARSHIPS

President Bailey recently received a communication from Charles K. Burdick, Dean of the Cornell Law School, to the effect that a few tuition scholarships are now available for entering students. Men who are graduating from Vermont this June, and are contemplating the study of law, are eligible to apply.

The Faculty of the Law School will consider such applications as are made during the spring, and will make the awards about commencement time.

The Sigma Nu fraternity is holding its annual Easter dance at the fraternity house March 23. The chaperones will be Professor and Mrs. Dopkins, Miss Laura Parker and Professor Meredith. Leehmyrs Vermonters will furnish the music.

CATHEDRAL HIGH RECORD BEST OF ALL ENTRANTS

Vermont's foremost schoolboy hoop teams will compete for the state senior championship today and tomorrow at the U V M gym. This annual tournament is held under the direction of the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont. Eight teams were chosen to compete by the above mentioned organization from all the high schools of the state of Vermont whose boy enrollment in grades 9-12 on November 28, 1928 was more than 60 and who have played the season under the eligibility rules of the Headmasters' Club of Vermont.

The following schools were selected: Burlington, Cathedral, Bellows Falls, Hartford of White River Junction, Rutland, Springfield, Newport and Fair Haven High Schools. The winning quintet will receive a silver loving cup emblematic of the championship of the senior division from the Athletic Council of the University of Vermont for its permanent possession. A complete schedule will be found elsewhere in this issue of the Cynic.

The Gold Key Society assisted by Key and Serpent will aid the schoolboys as usual, and will handle the ushering. The following assignments of Gold Key men have been made: Bellows Falls, Berry; Hartford of White River Junction, Clark; Cathedral, Tobin; Rutland, Adams; Burlington, Agel, Springfield, Coburn, Fair Haven, Smith; Newport, Walker.

Tickets may be purchased from the University Store, the office of the Graduate Manager of Athletics in the gym or L. P. Wood, Church Street, at the price of 50 cents for each afternoon or evening or $1.25 for the entire tournament.

Of the eight teams, Cathedral High is the only undefeated one and is favored to win the cup.

Bellows Falls vs. Hartford

The first combat will take place between Bellows Falls High School and Hartford High of White River Junction. Both aggregations have fine records. The former trounced Rutland and broke even with Springfield in two games. Hartford also won one out of its two games with Springfield and has already easily conquered Bellows Falls, the score being 40-18.

Cathedral vs. Rutland

Cathedral will take on Rutland in the second preliminary contest. The former has an undefeated record having trounced Burlington High three times. However it has played against no other combination in this tournament. Rutland split two games with Burlington and took Bellows Falls into camp in one of their two meetings. Rutland won the state championship here last year.

Springfield vs. Burlington

In the third game, Springfield and Burlington will strive for victory. Springfield defeated the Burlington team last week, 41-22. The former has lost two games, one to White River Junction and the other to Bellows Falls. Rutland is one of its victims. Burlington broke even with Rutland in their two game series, both being close contests.

Newport vs. Fair Haven

Newport High and Fair Haven will end the preliminary round. Though the former has a fairly good record it did not encounter any of the other seven tourney contestants. Fair Haven, on the other hand trimmed Rutland twice.

Semi-finals and Final Saturday

The winners of the first round games will clash in the semi-finals in pairs while the two victorious quintets will decide the state championship on Saturday night.

Bellows Falls and Hartford will practice 11 minutes before their game at 2 o'clock Friday. Cathedral and

(Continued on page 3)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O. CLAYTON, '29
Editor-in-Chief

ROBERT M. MACOMBER, '29 — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '29
Managing Editors

[illegible] CAMPBELL, '29
Women's Editor

News Editors
George M. Brush, '29 — Louis Loomer, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc. Editors
Ruth L. Church, '29
Irene B. Richardson, '29

Sporting Editor
Seymour L. Nathanson, '29

Asst. Sporting Editors
Lynford M. Foster, '31
Herman D. Gussow, '31
Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor
Dorothy L. Wright, '31

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '29

Feature Editor
Edward J. Beyor, '29

Art Editor
Lenore Aldinger, '29

Faculty Adviser
Prof. Leon W. Dean

Women's Intercollegiate Editor
Cornelia S. Mould, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Fontaine Burridge, '29 — Winifred Stone, '31 — E. Henry Powell, '30
Janice Goodrich, '29 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32 — Charles N. Crockett, '31
Yale Waterman, '29 — Hope Renslow, '32 — Edmour A. R. Germain, '31
Camilla Rose, '31 — Alfred J. Morin, '32 — Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32
Viola Smith, '31 — Watson E. Morgan, '32 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '29
Business Manager

Major B. Jenks, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Stuart S. Corbin, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Selon F. McQuesten, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
F. Stanley Smith, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2928 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 6th P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — March 6, 1929 — No. 39

ANY LATENT LITERARY TALENT FOR SALE?

The Vermont Literary Magazine appeared for the first time last year mainly through the efforts of a few, as nearly all ventures are started. The first number appeared amid the general skepticism of the campus. Yet, such high-grade material did it contain and so regularly did it appear, that its monthly publication was looked forward to by increasing numbers.

During its first few months of life it suffered much criticism, analysis, and praise. Needless to say, though, that, as more numbers appeared, the criticism grew less and less. Seemingly, it had successfully lived through that stage of uncertainty characteristic of so many new ventures, and had become firmly established on the hill. The magazine was being subscribed to most heartily both on and off the campus.

Now this year sees a slouch in the good work which is due to no fault of the editor or the staff. The material itself is not up to collegiate standard. By that, we do not mean to say that all the poetry, stories, and essays are poor. Certain ones are good, exceptionally good, revealing literary talent in the writer. Certain others show lack of careful thought, work, and planning. There is a lack of finesse, personal touch, and expression which so characterize the good writer. Perhaps the presence of this poor material of a more or less juvenile nature is due to a dearth of good stories from which to choose.

Students of Vermont as components of society must have within their midst people of writing ability only a part of which is showing itself. We suggest that the latent part come out of their shells and show their wares. The result may be just the right amount of encouragement to spur the writer on to greater efforts. The editor of the Literary Magazine is always ready to receive contributions from you. With a magazine filled with first-rate material the matter of subscriptions will take care of itself.

DEVOLUTION

Throughout the spring of the year elections and appointments to the various campus offices and positions will take place. Responsibilities of the outgoing officers will be shifted from their shoulders to those of the incoming officers. Devolution is the term applied to the transfer of duty from one to another. Duty devolves from one upon another. It is just as much a duty of the old officer to see that his successor is well-versed in the tasks and problems of his new position as it was the duty to carry them out successfully during his period of incumbrancy.

[illegible] they have to do, the [illegible] with the organization [illegible] greater efficiency [illegible]. We assume our tasks with the idea [illegible] there but to the best of our ability, always keeping in mind that our administration should be better than the one just preceding. In this way is progress made.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

LEARN MUSIC IN TEN LESSONS

Saxophone or Musical Instrument in Five

Without [illegible] brain-thrilling [illegible] scales, music or exercises. You [illegible] to [illegible] note music [illegible] or ear in regular professional style. In your very first lesson you learn to play a popular number (13) on the victrola. Don't ask how, it is a science; but send the coupon below for our amazing self-destructor.

Send for it on approval

The "Ha-ha Hallucinator," is the title of this method. Years were required to perfect this great work. Years, years, years, centuries, decades, epochs were needed to form this epic and it is epic. Homer, Vergil, Milton, Shakespeare all cabled letters of congratulation to the author on its completion. They had previously tried to dissuade him, but to no purpose: this courageous fellow single-handed, the world against him, worked and worked until finally it was finished. The echo of his deed will thunder down the ages. Men hereafter, in speaking of heroic deeds, will recall the author of the "Ha-ha Hallucinator." Infinitely nobler than the infinite infinity of infinite space is this man's infinite mind. But we digress.

The entire course (ten laps), with the necessary examinations (microscopic), is enclosed in one package. The label, however, including address and postage stamps, is situated on the outside.

Upon the student's returning any copy of the "Ha-ha Hallucinator," with the package unopened, we will refund in full all money paid. However, he must inclose three affidavits witnessed [illegible] by Notary Public to that [illegible] he may get his cash. And, [illegible] are not entrust it to parcel [illegible] mail express, or slow freight, he must come and get it.

This amazing Self-Deluder will be sent anywhere. (You may mention one place in particular; we, however, are gentlemen.) You do not need to send any money, we have several ways to get it out of you. Deposit with the porter the sum of ten dollars. If he is not satisfied, give him more.

The publishers are anxious to get rid of this Self-Deluder in any way possible. Knowing, however, the mental caliber of the students at good old Vermont, we decided on this as obviously the simplest way. Send for your copy at once, immediately, today.

Address the "Ha-ha Hallucinator" Station X, Post Office, Box, 1, 100 11, 101, Chien-Mai-Ahd, Province of Tibet, Republic of China.

Metcalf Discusses the Relation of Intelligence and Scholarship

(Continued from page 1)

dents out of 444, or 4 percent succeed in making it.

Consider now the Dropped column. As we go from above to below we note that the numbers and percentages tend to increase. Only 6 percent of those rating in the I-decile have been dropped, while of those rating in the X-decile 59 percent have been dropped. On the whole, however, the direct correspondence between intelligence and high scholarship is more striking than the inverse correspondence between intelligence and dropping. If we compare deciles I-V with deciles VI-X, we find that in the five higher deciles 66 out of 568, or 12 percent have been dropped, while in the lower deciles 126 out of 444, or 28 percent, have been dropped. Clearly the test results have a more significant bearing upon success in studies than they have upon failure. There are, of course, a number of reasons for this. The chief one seems to be that the students who achieved B averages have obviously been making an effort to use their intelligence in the work of the curriculum, while it is doubtful whether all, or even most, of the dropped students have been putting forth corresponding efforts. Thus the honor list group is made up largely of students who rate high in intelligence, but the dropping group is not in nearly the same degree made up of students who rate low in intelligence.

The Passing column includes almost half of the group under consideration. It will be noted that in the first five deciles the percentages indicate that roughly one-half of the students in each decile fall here. In the lower deciles the percentages decrease, but do not register a sharp drop until the IX-decile is reached. Of those in the IX-decile only one fourth have kept consistently above the warning level, and in the X-decile only one-fifth have done so.

Many Under Warning

In the Warning column we find the percentages for the various deciles varying less than in the other columns, except as between the I-decile and the rest. The X-decile has a relatively small number because so many of the X students under warning have also been dropped, and are consequently included in the next column to the right.

It should always be borne in mind that while intelligence, as measured by the test, is a highly important factor in scholarship there are a number of other factors to be considered as well. Poor physical health, for instance, may cause a bright student to do poor work, though it would probably not greatly affect his grade on the intelligence test. Again, a lack of perseverance, of initiative, or of conscientiousness may be the undoing of a student intellectually brilliant. Poor preparation, distracting outside interests, prejudices of various kinds may play their part. These handicaps, however, may be overcome, and the fact that two students who rate in the IX-decile have made the honor list indicates quite clearly that the great majority of students could do work which would not only be satisfactory but even, by present standards, distinguished. Verbum sapienti sat!

TABLE

Decile	Honors		Passing		Warning		Dropped
	No.	%	No.	%	No.	%	No.	%
I	49	(39)	59	(47)	9	(7)	8	(6)
II	11	(9)	73	(61)	24	(20)	12	(10)
III	17	(15)	54	(46)	28	(24)	18	(15)
IV	13	(14)	50	(54)	21	(22)	9	(9)
V	10	(9)	54	(48)	30	(26)	19	(16)
VI	5	(5)	42	(40)	37	(36)	20	(19)
VII	8	(7)	41	(36)	43	(38)	22	(19)
VIII	3	(4)	34	(40)	28	(33)	19	(23)
IX	2	(2)	19	(23)	32	(38)	31	(37)
X	0	(0)	11	(19)	13	(22)	34	(59)
Total	118	(11)	437	(44)	265	(26)	192	(19)

Famous Speakers on Vermont Campus

(Continued from page 1)

always changing, always producing new personalities to be interviewed, new stories to be covered, new things to be done. It never grows monotonous and it gives more freedom of range than any other type of work. The only trouble with newspaper work is that it is uncertain, hundreds of excellent newspaper men are out of jobs at present due to the consolidation of great metropolitan newspapers. For this reason Mr. Gruening advises young writers not to waste time and money in schools of journalism fitting themselves for a work whose very essence is change, but to go on to a newspaper staff directly from college, work a year or two for experience, and then go into some other form of writing. Strangely enough, the cub reporter can almost always get a job because an editor is constantly on the lookout for new blood, and there is a much wider field for the general, green reporter than for the highly specialized city or managing editor.

Advertising Lucrative

Commercial advertising offers a vast field for the exploitation of the ex-newspaper man or woman. He will find his apprenticeship in the reporter's job a valuable training for any kind of writing, and a boundless source of material for creative work.

The first big newspaper of importance in this country was the New York Globe, founded in 1797. The century and a quarter which have passed since then, have witnessed the rise and fall of many great papers, similar to, as Mr. Gruening so aptly puts it, the rise and fall of empires. The New York Sun first established the traditions of fine newspaper writing which survive now in the St. Louis Post Dispatch, the Baltimore Sun, the New York Times and the New York World, which are the leading newspapers of the country.

Newspaper consolidation in the past fifteen years, has taken place on such a large scale that the situation is rapidly becoming critical in many cities. Chicago, with a population of over three millions, has only two morning papers, one of which is a violently Conservative-Republican paper, and the other constantly shifts its policies. Accordingly, the Democratic party has no representation in the Chicago press. Because of this tendency, not only in Chicago, but throughout the country, the Democratic party has shrunk to its present dimensions. Mr. Gruening believes that it is very dangerous to the government of any country when one political party attains such supremacy that there is no longer even a powerful minority in opposition. Competition is the life blood of all business, politics most of all.

Newspaper Guides Public

Public sentiment is guided by newspaper reading, and public sentiment, so guided, becomes sufficiently powerful to force any important action which it may demand. The force of public opinion pushed through Herbert Hoover's nomination, and ultimately, his election to the presidency of the United States.

Newspapers must play up to the public interest and provide the news the public wants to read. An editor might like to fill his paper with foreign news of great international importance, to the exclusion of local, domestic gossip, but if he did so, the circulation of his paper would fall off most alarmingly. Boston papers have a much lower standard than the papers of other large cities; accordingly Mr. Gruening would advise the would-be reporter to try his luck either in a small paper where he can learn the whole racket thoroughly, or to go directly to New York itself and hunt for a job on a great metropolitan newspaper. And, above all, learn to typewrite!

Abolish Frosh Caps

Yearlings at Brown University are no longer compelled to wear frosh caps. The substitution of black ties for the onerous insignia was ordered by the authorities in charge because merchants were selling the headgear to newsboys. A newly entered student at Citadel may well claim to have spent the best years of his life in the freshman class. During the past four years he has been a neophyte at ten different institutions.—C. C. N. Y. Campus.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REAC

By Ex-Converse Hall

CURFEW COMMENTS

Mother, may I go out [illegible]
Yes, my darling daughter
But don't stay out after [illegible]
Or you'll get in hot water

There was an old lady from Sing[illegible]
Who homeward her carcass was ha[illegible]ing.
Said the cop on the street whom happened to meet,
"T'hell home for the curfew is ring!"

Little Jack Horner stood on a [illegible]
Watching the girlies roam
And as he was Scotch he pulled his watch,
Saved time by beating it home.

A Co-ed once went on her way
Staying out past the close of the Bean Batterson spied her
And homeward she hied her
Now there's Hallelujah to pay

Mary had a little lamb
Whose fleece she loved to touch
She walked with it too late one
And now they're both in Dutch
Black sheep now, eh? Heh! He

Kollege Fables

Once upon a time there was a [illegible] who attended An Institution of H[illegible] Learning. He was a good Stude[illegible] he suffered greatly under the [illegible] misapprehension that he was a [illegible]lege Boy.

So one day when the sun was [illegible]ing and the birds were going "[illegible]tweet," and somewhere a Poet [illegible] trying to rime "Spring" with [illegible]ing," our Stude meets an old [illegible] of his.

"Hi, boy, whatcha doin' now?"
"Oh, I'm a Kollege Boy!"
"Fine! Fraternity man?"
"No, that is, not yet."
"Carry a flask, eh?"
"No."
"Pet?"
"No." The Centigrade tempe[illegible] of our Stude was rising [illegible]

"Surely, then, you have a ro[illegible] a Ford roadster, at least?"
"No, but I'm getting one," our [illegible] tried to lie, forgetting all the [illegible] he ever learned in good Old Del[illegible]
"I guess you ain't got no ra[illegible] either?"
"No——, but——."
"What, no raccoon? Gwan, ma[illegible] ain't no Kollege Boy! You're [illegible] univoisity stoodent!"

Advance Dope on Baseba[illegible]

Hark to Maryanna Jones
Her life was full of ter[illegible]
An old maid born, an old ma[illegible]
No runs, no hits, no errors

10-Yr. Man Still Lauds This Sm[illegible]

Utica, [illegible] Aug. [illegible]

Larus & Bro. Co.,
Richmond, Va.
Gentlemen:

Just a line to let you know some of your tobacco has been for the last ten years.

I have been smoking [illegible] the past ten years. [illegible] started smoking, and it [illegible] now as it was then. Have [illegible] brands a fair trial, but like Edgeworth. During [illegible] have had costly pipes [illegible] costly, but I have [illegible] not the pipe but what [illegible] counts.

With best wishes for [illegible] success in the manufacture [illegible] grade tobacco, I am,

Sincerely,
(Signed) S. A. [illegible]

Edgewor[illegible]
Extra High Grade
Smoking Toba[illegible]

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL TEAM WINS FIVE OUT OF SEVEN CONTESTS

Captain Winant High Scorer for Season—Frosh Score Same Total Number of Points as Opponents

Though the Vermont freshman [illegible] had one of the shortest basketball [illegible]s of recent years it was a [illegible] one. Out of the seven contests [illegible]aged in, the yearlings won [illegible] lost two. The first disaster [illegible]hen the Kittens were van[illegible]by Phi Delta Theta, the score [illegible]13 and in the second contest [illegible] Knights of Columbus, the [illegible]wed to the tune of 20-15. In [illegible]s game the cubs trounced the [illegible] 21-19. The freshmen scored [illegible]rprising victories when they [illegible] out on top in the combat with [illegible]owerful Y. M. H. A. combination, [illegible] and nosed out a win from God[illegible] Seminary in an overtime game [illegible]-30. Among its other victims are [illegible] Checker Boys, a strong local ag[illegible]gation and the DeMolay team.

Capt. Winant is the season's high [illegible] with 32 points to his credit. Tupper [illegible] a close second, having tallied 28 [illegible]. It is interesting to note that [illegible] yearlings scored exactly the same [illegible]mber of points as did the opponents [illegible].

Much credit is due to Coach Prentice for developing a fast, accurate passing combination.

Two more games were scheduled but an abrupt ending was made necessary because of scholastic difficulties of most of the members of the team.

Season's record:

Frosh.	19—Checker Boys,	18
	13 Phi Delta Theta,	16
	21—K. of C.,	19
	15—K. of C.,	20
	26 DeMolay,	24
	13 Y. M. H. A.,	11
	31 Goddard,	30
	138 Opponents,	138

Individual scores:

Name	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Winant	13	6	32
Tupper	11	6	28
Taft	6	9	21
Bowles	6	6	18
Fayette	4	3	11
Bedell	3	4	10
Tilley	4	2	10
Dober	2	2	6
Mehegan	1	0	2
Procter	0	0	0
Totals	50	38	138

VERMONT WOMEN LOSE ALL THEIR DEBATES ON MOST DISASTROUS TRIP

Drop Three Engagements in a Row to New York and New Jersey Colleges, Taking Only One Vote Out of Six

A defeat at the hands of New Jersey College for women last Friday night closed a co-ed debating trip which had already piled up two adverse unanimous decisions.

With Frances Howley '29, prevented by a broken ankle from making the trip, two veteran debaters, Janice Goodrich '30, and Gladys Kone '29, journeyed on, successively, first Mount St. Vincent College of New York on Wednesday night, second, New Rochelle College of Long Island on Thursday night, and on the third night the New Jersey women. Throughout the trip the Vermonters argued for the abolition of the American jury system.

At Mt. St. Vincent, the home team received a 3-0 decision. At New Rochelle, Vermont lost again with three votes cast against her. At New Brunswick, New Jersey women took two votes to Vermont's one. Out of the whole trip, Vermont gained one vote out of a possible six.

The Vermont co-eds will now have to content themselves with their single debate over Dartmouth, thus making the poorest mid-season showing in two years, having gained but one debate and a total of four points out of a possible twelve from judge's decisions.

The rest of the women's schedule is unknown, the loss of three debates in a row and the temporary defection of Miss Howley may cause all tentative engagements to be dropped unless it is found that certain extraneous circumstances were instrumental in their losses.

In all debates the women held the present jury system to be outmoded and inefficient and proposed an alternative plan. In each case the home team alone appointed the judges.

CAT'S MEOW

SPORTING EDITOR—

Absence of an active varsity during this in-between season keeps the gymnasium far from empty.

With interfraternity relay practice, track practice, girls' basketball and the interscholastic tourney in the gym and baseball in the cage there is plenty of action these days.

Cathedral, having a clean and impressive record, is a decided favorite among the schoolboy teams. Springfield looks like the best team in the bottom half of the schedule, and it would not be at all surprising to see these two teams in the final game. They met in the semi-finals last year and Cathedral won. However, we're all ready for the almost inevitable upsets.

About 75 men have reported for varsity track to date. Several freshmen and sophomores show promise and may be able to fill the shoes of those upperclassmen who are ineligible.

Middlebury hoopsters, state champs, finished their season with 13 wins in 16 starts. Army, Harvard, and Springfield handed the Panthers their only setbacks. "Ben" Beck did a good job in his first year as mentor and will lose only Capt. Spooner and Sorenson by graduation.

Graduate Manager Mayforth has been requested by the Director of Athletics at Harvard to submit a list of six to ten basketball officials favorable to Vermont. A meeting of Athletic Directors of New England colleges will be held at Cambridge on March 30 to choose from the various lists sent in 12 to 15 referees who will be used by the colleges concerned during the next basketball season. This certified list will prevent many disputes although its primary function will be to give enough work to the foremost officials that they should not have to handle secondary school games and will be able to specialize on an interpretation of the rules necessary for college basketball.

Coach "Dolly" Stark of Dartmouth has presented the name of Capt. Carl Spaeth of the Green basketball team as the most valuable guard in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League. An all-league team will be chosen as soon as the season is over. Spaeth starred in the Vermont game. He is New Hampshire Rhodes scholar-elect.

Dartmouth is through with its regular basketball schedule but is still practicing to be prepared for a playoff in the league which will be necessary if Penn loses its last game.

Announcement of the interfraternity winter sports events will be made as soon as all the races have been completed.

"Ray" Ryan of Conn. Aggies has been elected basketball captain for next year. He has appeared here on the court and gridiron and is a crack athlete.

Society Notes

ALPHA XI DELTA

Upsilon Chapter is entertaining this week-end Mrs. Grace C. Carlson of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Province President. Thursday evening, a reception for Mrs. Carlson was held at the rooms. The patronesses of the fraternity and the officers of the other women's fraternities were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sturtevant of Leicester announce the marriage on February 23 in Burlington of their daughter Beatrice Elizabeth and Robert S. Hood of New York City. Mrs. Hood was a member of the class of '28.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Alpha Iota of Alpha Chi Omega announces the initiation of Miss Gennette Davis of the Economics Department, Alice Dodge, '31, and Alberta Berry, '31, on Friday, March 8.

KAPPA DELTA

Alpha Theta chapter of Kappa Delta announces the pledging of Emma Douglass '30, of Essex Junction.

The pledge luncheon was held Saturday at the Golden Pheasant. Pledging took place at the home of Irene Marcotte in Winooski, where Miss Mary Lou Leslie, National Inspector, conducted the ceremony. Miss Leslie then showed a movie reel of the convention which took place two years ago in California. Doris Dupraz '30, was elected delegate to this year's convention to be held at Biloxi, Mississippi, in June. Irene Marcotte and Helen Allbee were chosen alternates.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL SEASON OPENED MARCH 5 —FROSH AND SOPHS WIN

Freshmen Trounce Juniors 28-10 and Sophomores Defeat the Seniors 19-5 in Well-Played Games

Co-ed interclass basketball season opened on March 5, when the sophomores defeated the seniors by the score of 19-5 and the freshmen defeated the juniors 28-10. Both games were well played and interesting despite the difference in scores. The sophomore defense was in excellent working condition and allowed the seniors no floor baskets during the entire game. H. Johnstone was high scorer for the sophomores with 11 points.

Seniors

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
J. Lanou, f.	0	0	0
B. Upton, f.	5	0	5
D. Wheatley, g.	0	0	0
E. Fiske, g.	0	0	0
C. Hazen, c.	0	0	0
T. Kinder, s.c.	0	0	0
Corbin, s.c.	0	0	0
Everest, g.	0	0	0
Totals	5	0	5

Sophomores

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
H. Johnstone, f.	1	5	11
H. Wright, f.	0	4	8
E. Abbott, g.	0	0	0
J. Wappler, g.	0	0	0
H. Buck, c.	0	0	0
J. Warhurst, s.c.	0	0	0
Taylor, c.	0	0	0
Rogers, s.c.	0	0	0
Chadburn, f.	0	0	0
Totals	1	9	19

In the freshman-junior game the frosh displayed an excellent game of basketball, and they appear to be in line for the cup. O. Fields, '32, was high scorer for the game with 22 points to her credit. The juniors played a good game, although losing from the start.

Juniors

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
D. Bailey, f.	0	4	8
E. Perelman, f.	0	1	2
L. Bosley, g.	0	0	0
M. Parry, g.	0	0	0
G. Bostwick, c.	0	0	0
J. Richardson, s.c.	0	0	0
Taylor, s.c.	0	0	0
Owen, g.	0	0	0
Totals	0	5	10

Freshmen

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
M. Akins, f.	0	3	6
O. Fields, f.	6	5	22
J. Miller, g.	0	0	0
A. Gay, g.	0	0	0
A. Lunna, c.	0	0	0
L. Mount, s.c.	0	0	0
Linney, s.c.	0	0	0
Humphries, c.	0	0	0
Freeman, f.	0	0	0
Mandigo, g.	0	0	0
Graham, f.	0	0	0
Totals	6	11	28

Referees—Miss Blanchard and Mrs. Hard.

On Tuesday, March 12, the seniors play the freshmen and the sophomores meet the juniors.

Vermonters Lose to Middlebury Debaters but Take Two Prizes

(Continued from page 1)

will come next Tuesday evening in the Old Mill Chapel at 8 p.m. Vermont will uphold the affirmative of the same question, the abolition of the jury. This debate promises to be of interest since Vermont audiences will hear some new Vermont speakers. Moreover this contest will be in preparation for the Texas cowboy debate which is held Friday of that week.

Among the U. V. M. alumni who met the University Glee Club in Boston last week was "Sammy" Semansk[illegible] graduate in the class of 1924. [illegible] remembered as a very popular [illegible] and basketball captain.

HENRY'S DINER

155 BANK STREET

You eat well when you eat at Henry's

Where they serve the best at popular prices

SENIOR INTERSCHOLASTIC TOURNAMENT

State of Vermont

University of Vermont Gymnasium

Friday and Saturday, March 8 and 9, 1929

Preliminaries	Semi-finals	Finals
Bellows Falls vs. Hartford — Fri., [illegible] p.m.
	Sat., 1.30 p.m.
Cathedral vs. Rutland — Fri., 4.00 p.m.	.....
		Sat., 8.30 p.m.	WINNER
Burlington vs. Springfield — Fri., 7.30 p.m.
	Sat., [illegible] p.m.
Fair Haven vs. Newport — Fri., 8.30 p.m.	.....

INTERFRAT RELAYS TO START MONDAY IN GYM

On Monday and Wednesday of next week the first races of the interfraternity relays will be run off. Five races will be run on each of those days starting at 4.30 p.m. in the gym. Each team will consist of four men, each man running three laps around the track. The purpose of the interfraternity relay is to create interest in track among the college men and to find material for varsity track. This year results have been unusually good and Manager Birchard states that between fifty and seventy-five men have reported for track practice regularly. In order to participate in a relay a man must be credited with at least five practices.

The following races are scheduled for Monday and Wednesday:

Monday: Phi Delta Theta vs. Alpha Tau Omega, Independents vs. Sigma Delta, Sigma Phi vs. Kappa Sigma, Phi Mu Delta vs. Tau Epsilon Phi, Phi Sigma Delta vs. Sigma Nu.

Wednesday: Lambda Iota vs. Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega vs. Independents, Delta Psi vs. Sigma Phi, Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Mu Delta, Zeta Chi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Crack Schoolboy Teams of State Compete in Tourney

(Continued from page 1)

Rutland will practice 8 minutes between halves of the Bellows Falls-Hartford game and 3 minutes before their game at 4 o'clock or thereabouts. Burlington and Springfield will practice 11 minutes before their game at 7.30 o'clock. Fair Haven and Newport will practice 8 minutes between halves of the Burlington-Springfield game and have 3 minutes before their game at 8.30 o'clock or thereabouts.

The officials are James Young of Adams, Mass., chief official, and Marten W. Saunders of Milton, Mass. Orleans High School, the winner of the junior tournament, may challenge the winner of the senior tournament to play off for the state championship. The winner of the play-off, or winner by default, will be awarded by the Athletic Council of the Headmasters' Club, the University of Vermont Interscholastic Basketball cup, emblematic of the state championship.

THE CAMPUS CRUSHER

A light-weight soft felt hat may be rolled up and carried in your pocket when not in use.

Various Shades

$1.50

HAYES AND CARNEY

195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic

Open Evenings

DIAMOND SQUAD ROUNDS INTO SHAPE AS TRIP SOUTH DRAWS NEARER

Several of the Catamount court stars reported to Coach Gardner for baseball practice immediately after the closing of the basketball season and have made quite a welcome addition to the squad as three of them, Sargent, Morse and Wallace have had previous experience both on the varsity and the "jayvee."

So far practice has been mainly devoted to sharpening up the batting eye of the squad along with drill on the essential fundamentals of fielding.

No cut of the squad has been made yet but it is expected that Coach Gardner will have the men pretty well sized up by the end of this week as there are only three more weeks left before the southern trip.

All of the five letter men will undoubtedly find starting berths on the team. Two or three freshmen stand a good chance of making the trip because of the dearth of experienced material.

2,000 at Texas

There were 1,999 students enrolled at the University of Texas, and fearing that they would stay that way, a newspaper paid the tuition for the two thousandth entrant.

BEST COAL AND SERVICE

• • •

Elias Lyman Coal Company

286 College Street

The Old Bastion

Women's and Misses'

FULL FASHION

SILK HOSIERY

$1.00 Pair

Extra length silk. Every pair full fashioned. Eight smart Spring shades.

Still more new titles

in

THE LENDING LIBRARY

NOCTURNE
JACOB'S ROOM
SWAN SONG
GALLIONS REACH
ANNE SEVERN AND THE FIELDINGS
MR. BLETTSWORTHY ON RAMPOLE ISLAND

JOHN DEWEY CLUB TO TRY NEW PLAN

In Response to Popular Demand Will Hold Discussion Groups to Expound Their Own Philosophies

COMMITTEE DRAWS UP INTERESTING QUESTIONS

[illegible] the Club has had the opportunity to hear enlightening discussions on subjects related to philosophy and psychology given by members of the [illegible] These talks were very beneficial and educational, and [illegible] perhaps aided a bit in forming the philosophy of the individual. However certain members of the society felt there must be a way to study the individual problems of the students and be concentrated and developed more than just by hearing lectures on the subject. And so at the last meeting, when the suggestion was made that one of the meetings be devoted entirely to giving the members a chance to expound their own philosophies, the problem was solved.

When this excellent suggestion was made it was understood that a member of the faculty should be present to direct the trend of the discussion. The faculty held different opinions on this matter, and strongly opposed the idea of a faculty member being present. The students would feel more free to say what they really thought, if the meeting were composed only of their own members. The Club recognized the wisdom of the opinion presented by the faculty, and therefore made no strong objections to it. University authorities were consulted, and permission was very liberally given to hold a meeting of the John Dewey Club at which no faculty member should be present.

Committee Appointed

A committee was appointed to have charge of this meeting, which would be unlike anything that had ever been tried out previously on the campus. The committee was to draw up certain questions which they considered worth while discussing. After due deliberation and argument, the committee formulated the following questions:

1. What is a judicious combination of social life, class work and independent work in college?
2. What is your attitude toward life after death?
3. What is your interpretation of the "moral borderline"?
4. What do you consider the true purpose of living?
5. What are your views on the institution of marriage, both as it exists at present, and as it is idealized in your own mind?
6. What, in your opinion, is the most ideal relationship between the professor and student?

As may be seen, these questions are a mixture of practical problems, and problems on a more theoretical plane. Also, in choosing these questions, the committee has tried to pick out those problems, the answer to which, if found, will greatly aid the individual to live a better life.

It might be well to state that membership in the John Dewey Club is open to those who are taking courses in either philosophy or psychology. However, other people who are interested in these subjects, and who are desirous of attending the meetings may do so.

It must be understood by all those who attend this "student's seminar" that they are to come fully prepared to speak freely and frankly. The object of this experiment is to try to help the student to understand his own philosophy by giving him a chance to put it into words, and also to give him a chance to appreciate the philosophies of others. Consequently, the person who wishes only to take, and not to give, had best not attend this meeting.

Discussion Groups in Future

If this experiment is successful it may be possible to have discussion groups and clubs that will be an integral part of our campus life. Such discussion groups, which are of immense value in the education of the individual, have been tried out in the past and have not been very successful. Perhaps the trouble has been that the groups have been dominated by the leader. At any rate, this is the first time that we know of that a student organization has met purely and simply for the purpose of trying to build up their own philosophies, without the presence of a guiding hand in the guise of a faculty member. Needless to say the success of it rests entirely in the hands of the students, and no blame for its failure may be attached to some unfortunate faculty member. We hope that a large number will turn out. If any student has any particular problem which he thinks ought to be discussed he has the liberty to suggest it at the meeting. The universal problem of empty stomachs will be duly satisfied at the proper time. The meeting will be called at 7.30 p.m. sharp, and everybody will please be on time—for once.

Review of the Vermont Literary Magazine

The third issue of this year's [illegible] Magazine has appeared and shows [illegible] undergraduate interest. [illegible] the publication as eight out of the fifteen authors represented are new to the magazine. Another [illegible] is found in the great variety shown in [illegible] contributions.

The issue is opened by the booklet given unanimous by Edna Shaw's short story entitled Lessons She Met. The [illegible] plan in a Western town gets a [illegible] resident and decides to find out what her neighbors would [illegible] if she or he were dead. What it leads [illegible] and what he does then [illegible] up [illegible] interesting and readable [illegible]. Miss Shaw is a member of the [illegible] class and of Blue Stockings, but this is her first contribution to the magazine. Her handling of this story [illegible] talent, and she should be an asset to Vermont's literary field in the near future.

A Poem by Janice Goodrich '30 is a delicately done little poem, with its words well chosen.

A modest member of [illegible] Dorothy Grey Friars is the author of the unique essay Salutatory. Most men especially those connected in some compulsory way with the army—dislike the salute, but here is another point of view on the matter. Besides being different, it is in a very enjoyable style, and should be read to appreciate that, if for no other reason. The essay was thought highly of at the Grey Friars' meeting before which it was first read.

We should like to see more poems like Une Image, the product of the pen of Joyce Richardson, '30. French is a language which can be used with great effect, and is one which lends itself readily to every subject. This is about > une tres petite fille

> Qui habite un livre d'images, and who has a desire to escape from her place in the family album. The French is not difficult, and the style is delightful—it must be read to be appreciated.

Sam Barker, '32, has a short story called The Woman Wins, a take-off on the Aeneid. The reader must form his own opinion of this story.

Love Is a Curious Thing occupies only a scant page of type, yet it has fully as much in it as any other piece of writing in the magazine. It is a most interesting sketch, and can be read and re-read many times without spoiling it, for each time a new meaning is discovered. The author, Florence Scott, '29, shows real talent in her handling of this type of writing. As the editor says, "come again!"

Another essay of exceptional quality is Rain, by Cornelia Mould, '30. Do you ever really enjoy the rain—by getting out in it, for example? Whether aye or no, you will want to try it if you appreciate Miss Mould's essay at all.

In this age of strict observance of fact and actual occurrence, we often enjoy the change obtained by reading legends. The Legend of Gyges, arranged from the Republic of Plato by Harriet Howard, '30, is a typical example of such a story. Gyges, a shepherd of Lydia, sees a cavern opened in the mountain during a storm, and, descending into its depths, finds there a marvelous ring. This ring, he soon finds out, has the magical property of making the wearer invisible. Not long after, he is one of three shepherds who go before the king to present their report. He helps the queen to kill the king with the aid of the ring, and becomes king himself.

Dreamy and lovely is Moonlight Introspection—in spite of its title—by '29.

"To know the Newburys is to love them." And certainly, after reading Margaret Rice's essay The Newburys of North Shore, one feels as if the Newburys—West Newbury and Newburyport—would be well worth knowing and loving. Miss Rice is a sophomore and a member of Bluestockings.

The poem Dance, by Edward Fitzgerald, '32, is up to the highest standards of college poetry, and he shows talent which we hope he will continue to make good use of.

Philip Wheeler, '28, has sent in an interesting article on Our Thoughts. It is made up of several more or less detached paragraphs of a soliloquy on thoughts, each sentence of which will cause the reader to pause and meditate and compare. A good example is: "It has been said that as we think, we will do, that, as we do, our characters will be, and that as our characters are, our eternal existence will be."

"World Without End," by Lewis Leary, also '28, is a well-written character sketch of a boy planning great things and a girl who interrupts his thoughts. The editor need make no excuses for including the work of alumni when it is as good as these last two.

We are sorry that Wilmond Parker leaves us this year, as his poems are certainly enjoyable, and we hope that he will continue to contribute in the future. Even if you don't like poetry, you will like Wilmond's, as his is easy reading and presents familiar subjects. His A Yankee Farmer, a character sketch in verse, is as easily understood as prose.

With two literary organizations like the Grey Friars and Bluestockings, and with the Vermont Literary Magazine, the literary field here at Vermont is well represented, and should have the recognition and active support of the student body.

SAM B. BARKER.

STUDENTS
LOOSE-LEAF NOTE BOOKS
ART MATERIALS
U. V. M. STATIONERY
McAULIFFE'S
Cor. Church & College Sts.
Phone 629

WIG AND BUSKIN CLUB ELECTS AND INITIATES

Faculty Members Address Thespians at Annual Banquet

Wig and Buskin honorary dramatic society initiated nine new members at the Delta Psi House at [illegible] p.m. Wednesday evening, March [illegible]. Initiation was followed by a formal banquet at Hotel Vermont at which Professors Myrick and Metcalf spoke.

Officers for the coming year were also elected at this time. Herrick M. Macomber '30 of Burlington, was elected president of the society, Lawrence O. Clayton, '30 of Bennington, vice-president and Harvey Butterfield, '31 of Burlington secretary. At the same business meeting discussion concerning the desirability of joining Wig and Buskin to Masque and Sandal, women's honorary dramatic society, to create more interest in dramatics on the campus and to make for greater cooperation between the two societies. The cooperation of both organizations is needed to put on a dramatic production, hence the effort for unity. No definite action was taken in this direction however.

At the banquet, Professor John V. Metcalf of the Psychology department and Professor Arthur B. Myrick of the Romance Language department were the principal speakers. Both these professors are well-known in local theatrical circles for their commendable work in that field. Both men have been closely connected with dramatics at Vermont by way of coaching and assisting in their production. Retiring president, Bertel W. Gustafson, was toastmaster.

The new members are: Arnold O. Aronson, '30, Benjamin Baker, '31, Harvey Butterfield, '31, Warren H. Burr, '30, James Garfield, '31, Eugene W. Knapp, '29, Charles H. Overly, '29, Franklin A. Sears, '30, and F. H. Woodward, '30.

Warren H. Burr was recently elected business manager for the Junior Week play and the one next fall. Franklin A. Sears is advertising manager, with F. H. Woodward as properties' manager.

Compliments of
C. A. BARBER & CO.
112 Church Street

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
1896 QUALITY VALUE SERVICE
LANGROCK FINE CLOTHES
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

SUNDAY TEAS PLEASE FACULTY AND STUDENTS

Last Sunday afternoon about 75 professors and students attended a tea held at Redstone from 3.30 to 5.00.

Among those that were present were Boulder and Mortar Board members, three from each sorority and each fraternity, Dean Patterson, Professor and Mrs. Dean, Professor and Mrs. Myrick and Professor and Mrs. Mower, making with the other guests quite a large gathering.

Tea was poured by Dean Patterson and freshman girls served. The social hour and tea lasted until 4.45 when J. S. Estabrook, '29, brought up the matter of whether or not it would be advisable to continue having similar teas on Sunday afternoons.

Everyone seemed to be in favor of this idea, and many gave their opinions on the subject. Professor Myrick said that he thought a tea was a fine thing to take a girl to on Sunday afternoon. Professor Dean stated that if the teas were continued, he would be present every Sunday afternoon. President Bailey is also in favor of the idea.

It was finally decided that the Faculty-Student Council would appoint a committee which would take charge of the teas in the future and choose those that would attend.

At first it was proposed that these teas should be held at different fraternity houses, but this idea was looked upon unfavorably, and it was finally decided to continue holding them at Redstone.

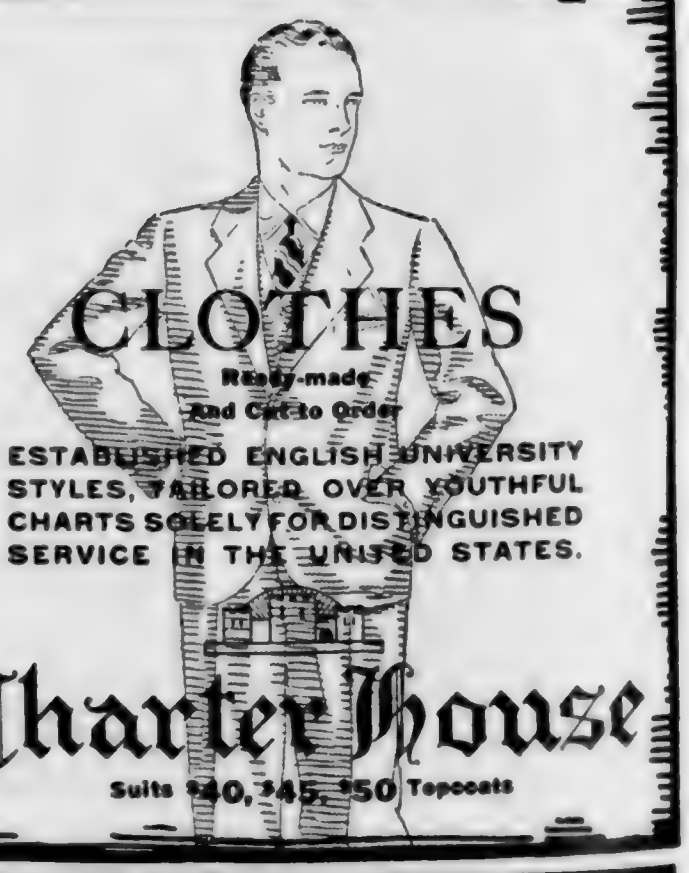
FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

NOTICES

All women interested in writing a humorous column for the Cynic will kindly see Priscilla Campbell in the near future.

$5.00—Not lost or found but offered to the girl who writes the best W. A. A. athletic song. All contributions must be handed in by Easter to Jean Wappler. Tunes need not be original.

Masque and Sandal will meet this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Theta house for the initiation of new members.



Tickets for the Interscholastic Tournament may be purchased from the University Store, the office of the Graduate Manager of Athletics in the U. V. M. Gym, or L. P. Wood, Church Street, at the price of 50 cents for each afternoon or evening or $1.25 for the entire tournament.

All seniors desiring canes will be required to fill out cards and return them to the cane committee before March 15. Order cards will be mailed to seniors in the near future.

"Doesn't your wife miss you when you stay out till three o'clock in the morning?"

"Sometimes, yes; but usually her aim is perfect."—Yellow Jacket

1929
BASEBALL SUPPLIES
NOW ON SALE
AT
L. P. WOOD'S
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

CLOTHES
Ready-made
And Cut to Order
ESTABLISHED ENGLISH UNIVERSITY STYLES, TAILORED OVER YOUTHFUL CHARTS SOLELY FOR DISTINGUISHED SERVICE IN THE UNITED STATES.
Charter House
Suits $40, $45, $50 Topcoats

BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT OUR STORE IS THE
Charter House
OF BURLINGTON
The character of the suits and topcoats tailored by Charter House will earn your most sincere liking.
MILES & PERRY CO.
"Quality Clothiers"
Established 1881

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VERMONT, TUESDAY, MARCH 12, 1929 — NUMBER 40

CAPTAIN RATTAN TELLS ABOUT LIFE IN ANCIENT TOWNS OF OLDER CHINA

Chinese Life Vividly Depicted by Captain Rattan in His Speech to Athena Club Health Department

[illegible] and unusual scenes in the [illegible] were described by Captain [illegible] Rattan in an address on "An [illegible]an Citizen in a Foreign Land" [illegible] the meeting of the Civics and [illegible] Department of the Athena Club [illegible] Captain Rattan confined his [illegible]s to the domestic and social [illegible] life in China rather than the [illegible]al or economic side.

[illegible]hina, he said, servants can be [illegible] at a minimum cost and most [illegible]s engage a cook, a coolie boy [illegible]d boys who in turn hire their [illegible]ry assistants. The women also [illegible] a sewing woman who comes [illegible] house to live and sews from [illegible]g until night doing exquisite [illegible]dery or plainer sewing for only [illegible] a month in American money.

[illegible]ne time an expedition was taken [illegible]veral Americans out into the [illegible]y and camp was set at evening [illegible] of the walls of an old town. [illegible]ead official of the town came [illegible] and invited the foreigners in [illegible] with him. A Chinese banquet [illegible] courses was served the visitors, [illegible] every imaginable type of Chi[illegible]ish on display.

[illegible] the older cities, Captain Rat[illegible] said Peking has changed the least. [illegible]y all the transportation there is [illegible]n rickshaws drawn by the coolie [illegible] Inside of the city there used [illegible] a section set aside and known [illegible] forbidden city, from which all [illegible]ners were barred. Since the [illegible] rebellion, however, foreigners [illegible] been permitted to enter with [illegible]al permits. This is the section [illegible] city where the emperors had [illegible] palaces and they are filled today [illegible] priceless specimens of porcelain [illegible] carved ivory.

The streets in the cities of China [illegible]xceedingly narrow with the shops [illegible]ed one upon the other. Every [illegible] of business is carried on right [illegible] street from bargaining to shav[illegible]. It takes a considerable length [illegible] to shop in China as the shop[illegible]s must be bartered with before [illegible]onable price can be reached for [illegible]. The women of the Chinese [illegible] classes are never seen out in [illegible] except for the few who have [illegible] American educations.

[illegible]sing his talk, Captain Rattan [illegible] around specimens of Chinese [illegible]are, beautifully and uniquely [illegible].

CRACK CO-ED CRAFTSMEN SHOOTING SUCCESSFULLY

[illegible] far this season the U. V. M. [illegible]rifle team has fired and won [illegible]atches recently shooting against [illegible]ate College of Washington with [illegible] of 493-483; University of [illegible] 493-469; Northwestern Univer[illegible]s0-932; (total 10 high); Uni[illegible] of Missouri, 495-478; Univer[illegible] Pennsylvania, 495-488. The [illegible]ith the University of Cincin[illegible]s won by default. Of the other [illegible]ntests the average for U. V. M [illegible] and for their opponents [illegible].

This week matches are being [illegible]ainst Co. "A" 17th Infantry, [illegible] University, University of Mary[illegible]nd University of Nebraska.

Perpetual Student Dies

[illegible]am Cullen Bryant Kemp, Co[illegible]s perpetual student, died last [illegible] the age of 78 after obtaining [illegible]ees in the course of 48 years [illegible] at the University.

[illegible] a freshman at the University [illegible] showed no liking for study, so [illegible]his relative offered him $2,500 [illegible] as long as he continued with [illegible]dies. New degrees were offered [illegible] time to time, and Kemp was [illegible] continue studying. The stu[illegible] officially conferred upon him [illegible]egree of Doctor of Perpetual Mo[illegible].

COLLEGE HUMOR LOSES ITS HOLD IN THE WEST

College Humor is no longer to be the leader and dictator of American collegiate wit, so far as the Western Association of College Comics is concerned. The editors and managers of these publications, in convention at the University of Washington, recently voted to break their contracts which give College Humor sole reprint rights.

"Our reason for breaking the contract," said Albert Salisbury, president of the association, "is that we feel that College Humor is painting a picture of flaming youth, which is not real and which gives the average reader a false idea of college life."

"The magazine tells all of the gin and sex jokes, and plays them as representative college humor, with no mention of any other type."

LOCAL RESERVE OFFICERS GIVE CUP

Handsome Silver Trophy to be Presented to Most Proficient Squad During Federal Inspection—Hope to Foster Interfraternity Competition

One of the handsomest silver loving cups that have ever been donated for any competitive event at the University has recently been received by Colonel Black, head of the local military department. It is now on display in the military office and all aspiring students are invited to inspect it.

The cup was given by a group of the Burlington Reserve Officers to Colonel Black to choose whatever plan of competing for it he might desire. Lt. Colonel R. W. McCuen, in a letter accompanying the gift declared that several of the World War veterans of the Reserve Officers of Burlington felt that they should continue to take an interest in the Organized Defense Corps of the United States Army. In order to foster this idea, they conceived the plan of showing their appreciation of what the Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University of Vermont has accomplished as a part of National Defense by giving a valuable prize to those in the local unit who are most deserving.

Realizing Colonel Black's wealth of experience and keen judgment, they left the matter of the type of competition involved, the rules governing the contest and all other plans in his hands. After much deliberation, he decided to hold squad competition to determine what squad possessed the greatest efficiency in performing the Manual, alertly obeying command and marching.

Squad Competition in Spring

Although complete plans have not yet been announced, it is believed that the contest will take place some time around federal inspection. Meanwhile, the most proficient squads will be picked, probably through eliminations, will be provided with the best corporals in the class and will practice diligently for the event. It is hoped that much wholesome interfraternity rivalry will be thus brought about, as the cup is one that any local chapter house may well be proud to call its own. In fact, the military department may decide to hold an annual interfraternity meet and to present the trophy as a rotating prize. In this event, to secure its permanent possession, the entry from any house would be required to win it a certain number of consecutive times.

Much Appreciation Due Backers

Lt. Colonel R. W. McCuen who, together with Colonel Black, conceived the excellent plan, deserves much credit for his work and choice of the emblem. Indeed, the entire Burlington Reserve Officers Corps cannot be given too great commendation for their share in making the interest in military training and all that it means keener. Likewise, Colonel Black and his staff deserve praise for their work in striving to make the event the success it should be.

(Continued on page 4)

VERMONT AND NORWICH CLASH IN STATE SERIES DEBATE MEET TONIGHT

Catamount Orators to Meet Cadets in Decision Contest—Lisman Out, With Sears, Andrews, and Nelson in Line-up

Vermont and Norwich will debate to a decision tonight in the Old Mill Chapel in the second contest of the Green Mountain Conference. The Catamounts, defeated in the first tilt in the state series by the Middlebury debaters, hope to come back with a win tonight, putting themselves once more in the running.

Franklin Sears and George Nelson, two of the men who met Middlebury, will be on hand to face the Cadet orators. Lisman, who tied for second prize in the debate with Sears, will be out of the line-up tonight; P. G. Andrews takes his place. As in all state series debates, the American jury system will be the subject of contention and this meet finds Vermont demanding the abolition of this time honored procedure.

Vermont should win handily this time. Although Andrews is new to the squad, participating in his first varsity engagement tonight, both Sears and Nelson are veterans on the team and intend to inject enough common sense, straight forward argument, and humor into the debate to gain the vote of every judge. The Middlebury debate has given the Vermonters enough of a workout to allow them to hit their stride now for the rest of the season. Norwich is, as yet, an unknown quantity. The Cadets have planned an initial debate with New Hampshire but have had no extensive schedule prior to their engagement with Vermont. There is at least one man on the Norwich team who will bear watching, however, and who may yet turn the tables on the Catamounts. This is Gibson, partly through whose efforts debating, after a lapse of many years, has been revived at Norwich. He was a teammate of Sears in high school and placed high enough in prep school debating to earn a debating scholarship from Vermont.

Vermont Has a Chance to Tie

No other teams have yet met in the series. Should Vermont therefore defeat Norwich tonight and also St. Michael's later in the season, there is a strong chance for a tie between U. V. M. and Middlebury. A single defeat for the Panthers would accomplish this if Vermont could come across in her other engagements. Norwich and St. Mike's meet tomorrow night. Within a week Middlebury meets the Michaelmen, and the last debates in the series, immediately after Easter, will decide a Vermont intercollegiate debating championship for the first time in years.

The Oxford style of debate will be used tonight. No man may speak more than fifteen minutes according to this method and, though the first affirmative speaker starts out with ten minutes of constructive argument in the first speech of the evening and closes the debate with five minutes of rebuttal, all other speakers must include both construction and rebuttal in a single speech. Three appointed judges will hand down the decision. The debate is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Since he has been unable to locate the notorious gunman Mr. Langworthy, Converse Hall's caretaker of long standing and high esteem, has ordered that all weapons shall be left in charge of him. By the rate at which the guns are pouring in it looks as though it won't be long before he has an armory which will rival the famous Springfield arsenal that Longfellow made immortal so many years ago.

Where do our senior rings go? The "Varsity Breeze" of St. Louis University reports that 95 percent of the rings of the Class of '16 have found their way to the hock shop.

Hartford High Dark-Horses Cathedral And Springfield

Hartford Wins Senior Interscholastic Championship by Defeating Cathedral in Semi-finals and Nosing Out Springfield 32 to 31 in Final

ATWATER KENT PLANS 1929 MUSICAL CONTEST

College students throughout the country particularly those who intend to adopt music as a career will be interested in the announcement of the Atwater Kent Foundation plans for a 1929 nation-wide audition to select the ten best young singers in the country for vocal training at a recognized school of music. Significant in the 1929 plans, as compared with the 1927 and 1928 programs of the same kind carried on by the Atwater Kent Foundation, is the fact that all of the ten finalists will receive at least a year's training under recognized masters or in well-known schools, in addition to being given larger monetary benefits.

Outstanding also is the fact that the ten finalists are selected partly by popular vote of radio listeners—the vote counting 60 percent of the final result in the local, state and district auditions by means of which these finalists for national honors are chosen. The cash benefits this year have been increased from an aggregate of $17,500 given the preceding years, to $25,000.

The awards this year will be as follows:

Winners of first place (one boy and one girl) $5,000 each and two years' tuition in an American conservatory.

Winners of second place, $3,000 each and one year's tuition.

Winners of third place, $2,000 each and one year's tuition.

Winners of fourth place, $1,500 each and one year's tuition.

Winners of fifth place, $1,000 each and one year's tuition.

During the summer and early fall local contests will be held in the cities and towns of every state open to amateur singers from 18 to 25. State auditions will follow and will be broadcast from a central point in each state. Two winners, one boy and one girl, will be selected to represent each state in district contests, of which there will be five held at central points in the East, Middle West, Southeast, Southwest and Far West. The ten finalists (one boy and one girl from each district) will be put on the air over a coast to coast network in December, for final rating by a board of musicians of national standing. All expenses of contestants to the district and final auditions will be paid by the Foundation.

INITIATION AND DINNER BY MASQUE AND SANDAL

Masque and Sandal, honorary dramatic club for women, initiated its new members at a meeting held at the Kappa Alpha Theta house last Friday afternoon. The initiates are: Catherine Bassett, '29; Gladys Kone, '29; Dorothy Strong, '29; and Janice Goodrich, '30. Miss Goodrich was a member of the cast of the 1929 Junior Week play, "Adam and Eve", the others were in "The Devil's Disciple" last fall.

After the initiation, the members of the club had dinner at the Golden Pheasant, followed by a short business meeting at which Dorothy Cottrell, '29, a veteran member of all casts of college plays told about the Conference of the National Amateur Dramatic Society which was held at Wheaton College last fall, and at which Miss Cottrell and Beverly Householder, '30, were delegates from Vermont.

A ruling recently made at the Ohio State University requires all freshman women to live in dormitories hereafter, unless they live at home. The dean of women hopes to raise the scholastic standards this way.

OLIO, CATHEDRAL, LEADS ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM

An inspired and plucky Hartford High School team from White River Junction upset all pre-tourney dope and after defeating Bellows Falls and Cathedral continued the good work by overtaking the big Springfield five in the final game of the Senior Interscholastic tournament Saturday night in the U. V. M. gym before 1,000 frantic fans in the most hair-raising game of the eighth annual Vermont State affairs and emerging victoriously by a 32 to 31 score.

In the preliminary and semi-final rounds the Hartford team displayed the best pass work of all the aggregations in the tournament together with unsurpassed shooting ability, but after running the Cathedral team ragged in the afternoon game it was expected that the five men who played every minute of Hartford's three games would be too tired to give worthwhile competition to the Springfield club who had a snap with Fair Haven in their semi-final encounter.

Hartford took a short-lived lead at the beginning of the first quarter but Lovell and Durovich put their team ahead 12 to 5 by the end of the initial period. Hartford talked things over during the intermission and outscored their much larger rivals 9 to 5 in the second period. Still Springfield led at half time 17 to 14. Springfield looked too fresh for the fatigued midgets. The third quarter was faster than ever with the latter forcing the way. They couldn't get the ball off the backboard on account of their small stature and were unable to follow their shots. Racy was a stonewall for Springfield on the defense. The Hartford team could not be denied and with the score 28 to 20 against it at the beginning of the last quarter Falzarano and Johnson started to make things hot for the leaders. They changed their style of offense and instead of using their clever, accurate passing system which was one of the features of the tournament they worked the ball up as close to the foul line as possible and started to pepper the basket. Hopkins of Springfield was the only one who could keep the team in the running after that. Johnson and Falzarano popped shots from all angles but Hopkins came back consistently. Things looked promising for Springfield which had a 30 to 28 lead with five minutes to go. The elusive Johnson scored two beautiful shots in a row and Falzarano and Regione helped him out with a couple of baskets to make the score 31 to 30 in favor of Springfield after Racy dropped a foul shot. Then Johnson lifted a long shot from the center of the court that proved to be Springfield's nemesis. It was the most spectacular shot of the meeting but seemed like routine to Johnson who scored 9 baskets in that game and six in the afternoon. Capt. Racy of Springfield missed his last chance at tying the score with a foul shot a few seconds before the game ended.

The summary:

HARTFORD

	Gls	Fls	Pts
Falzarano, l. f.	4	2	10
Regione (Capt.), r. f.	1	0	2
McCarthy, c.	6	0	0
Stone, l. g.	1	0	2
Johnson, r. g.	9	0	18
Totals	21	2	32

SPRINGFIELD

	Gls	Fls	Pts
Hopkins, r. f.	6	0	12
Lovell, l. f.	3	0	10
Corliss, c.	1	1	3
Racy (Capt.), r. g.	0	3	3
Durovich, l. g.	2	0	4
Scofield, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	14	4	31

Referee—Young of Adams, Mass.

(Continued on page 4)

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O. CLAYTON, '29
Editor-in-Chief

HERRICK M. MACOMBER, '29 — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '29
Managing Editors

PRISCILLA T. CAMPBELL, '29
Women's Editor

George R. Brush, '29 — News Editors Louis Lisman, '29 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc. Editors: Belle L. Church, '29; Irene B. Richardson, '29 — Sporting Editor: Seymour I. Nathanson, '29 — Asst. Sporting Editors: Lynford M. Foster, '31; Herman D. Gusenow, '31; Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor: Harriet E. Wright, '31 — Intercollegiate Editor: Odino A. Martinetti, '30 — Feature Editor: Edward J. Beyor, '30

Art Editor: Lincoln Ashleger, '29 — Faculty Adviser: Prof. Leon W. Dean — Women's Intercolleg. Editor: Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Pauline Burridge, '30; Janice Goodrich, '30; Nina Waterman, '30; Doris Ross, '31; Hilda Smith, '31

Winifred Stone, '31; Margaret Ann Martin, '32; Hope Ranslow, '32; Alfred J. Morin, '32; Watson E. Morgan, '32

E. Henry Powell, '30; Charles N. Crockett, '31; Edmour A. R. Germain, '31; Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32; Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUPPER, '29
Business Manager

Major B. Jenks, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Stuart S. Corbin, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Solon F. McQuesten, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
F. Stanley Smith, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2930 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — March 12, 1929 — No. 40

For Better and Stronger Singing

There is that indefinable something which makes for a better spirit in the school, a greater harmony among the individual students, and an upsurge whether it be moral or spiritual when a large group of mixed voices sings. Vermont has some excellent songs, songs which render themselves to group singing most easily. But the calibre of the singing of University students has not been up to standard for the past season as evidenced by several poor attempts at basketball contests. No evidence has been the greatest deficiency.

The cause of this lack of volume probably lies with a lack of knowledge of the songs. In the past, each Freshman class was rigidly instructed on several occasions in the singing of Vermont songs. If a Frosh was found who had not learned every one of the songs he was punished by various means. That's how it was done then. Now, that Freshman rules are practically negligible, no member of the first year class takes the time to learn his songs because he has no incentive.

If no other means are found to make for better and stronger singing at Vermont, we would suggest that Vermont songs be sung at every opportunity. By process of constant repetition, perhaps we might master them. Anything to put more life into Vermont singing at games and smokers. It makes a good impression.

Verbum Sat Sapienti

Professor Metcalf's discussion of scholarship in its relation to intelligence as shown by intelligence test ratings are of particular interest not only to the students and faculty but to the general public as well. An article showing his comprehensive study in the field of mental equipment of Vermont students appeared in a recent issue of the Cynic. Professor Metcalf maintains that a very positive correlation exists between the grades of students on intelligence tests and the grades in regular college work.

We have no intention of questioning the validity of this contention, but on the contrary, rather support it with the statement that an even more positive correlation might exist if each individual student would only work and apply himself. It is perfectly possible for a really bright student, as evidenced by his rating in the intelligence tests, to be dropped from college just because he fails to concentrate his mind on his work. In his study, Professor Metcalf undoubtedly ran across those instances of where no correlation at all existed between the student's intelligence quota and his scholarship grades. But these were the exception rather than the rule, and were, no doubt, cases of lack of application to one's studies.

In the words of Frederick B. Robinson, President of the College of the City of New York, "make your mind behave to suit your desires." This famous educator has found, by experimentation, that a man can accomplish anything he sets out to do by (1) taking a keen interest in the task at hand, (2) mastering the facts in an orderly manner, (3) taking things easy by making the most efficient use of our mental and physical energy, (4) and by making the subconscious mind work for us.

Professor Metcalf is quite in accord with this view when he states that two students with a low intelligence rating had made the honor list. This was due, to a small degree, to work and application. He believes a word to the wise is sufficient. So do we.

The student employment committee of Marshall College lived up to its guarantee to furnish a student for any task. A bride called in perturbation. She expected many "in laws" for dinner, and she wasn't a good cook. A star domestic science student was sent out and adequately met the situation.

Freshmen at the University of Denver need no longer suffer at the hands of upperclassmen bent on hazing.

The freshmen were set at rest today when the state's attorney general handed down the opinion that when an upperclassman shaves a freshman's mustache he can be charged with assault and battery.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

GLANCING THROUGH THE SCANDAL SHEETS

Professor Snow Praises Robert Frost, Who Speaks in Chapel Monday Night

One at a time, please.

Princess de Guise Will Be Married Feb. 11

PALERMO, Sicily, Jan. 22 (A. P.). Princess Francoise de Guise, daughter of the pretender to the throne of France, arrived today to complete arrangements for her wedding to Prince Christopher of Greece.

Again we ask, what's in a name?

Up-State Hen Lays Giant Egg

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Feb. 23 (A. P.). Joseph D. Davis reports that one of his Rhode Island Red hens has laid an egg measuring nine and one-half inches in circumference and weighing eight ounces.

Which came first, the hen or the egg? We bet there was a capon inside of this one.

Gene Tunney Enlarges Holdings in Stamford

Former Fighter Buys Four More Acres for Future Home

STAMFORD, Conn., Feb. 9 (A. P.). Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion of the world, who with Mrs. Tunney is abroad, has added to his realty holdings by buying four acres adjoining the property in Long Ridge Road which he had purchased for his future home.

Chuh, Charlie, the big shots know where to live. No, of course, you can't blame 'em.

Hiawatha Modernized

By the shores of Cuticura
By the sparkling Pluto Water
Lived the Prophylactic Chiclet,
Dauderine, fair Buick's daughter.
She was loved by Instant Postum,
Son of Camels and Victrola:
Heir apparent to the Mazda,
Of the tribe of Coca-Cola.
Through the Shredded Wheat they wandered.
Through the darkness strolled the lovers,
Lovely little Wrigley Chiclet;
Washed by Fairy, fed by Postum,
No Pyrene can quench the fire
Nor an Aspirin still the heartache,
Of my Prest-O-Lite desire.
Let us marry, little Djer-Kiss.

This is excellent, but where's the Old Golds?

Wise Guy

(Dedicated to Ec. 1)

Want to make some dough?
Here's a plan to try.
Buy stocks when they're low.
Sell them when they're high.
Or, if you're a sport,
Ere the issues drop.
Sell the market short
When it's at the top
Then when stocks have slid
Seven points to ten
That's the time to bid
Buy them in again
Make your dough with ease.
Save your strength and time,
Meanwhile, could you, please,
Let me have a dime?

No, we won't flunk the course; this is not original.

Bean Batterson declares that statistics prove that the modern, common sense style of woman's dress has reduced accidents on street cars by fifty percent.

Ever in favor of safety, we advocate doing away with accidents altogether.

Two-thirds of the homes in the United States are said to be without bathtubs, which may account for some of the people who have to do their singing over the radio.

CALENDAR

March 12—Norwich Debate, 8.00 at Old Mill Chapel.
March 15—Texas Debate, 7.45 at Gymnasium.
March 12—Women's Basketball, Seniors vs. Freshmen, Juniors vs. Sophs.
March 13—Interfraternity Races, second series.
March 12—John Dewey Club Meeting, 7.30 at Vermont Club House.
March 17—Student-Faculty Tea, 3.30 at Redstone.
March 18—Lecture, Speaight on "Pickwick," 8.00 at Gymnasium.
March 16—Rifle Team, Norwich, [illegible].

Cynic Turns Literary Digest To Ge... Students Opinions On Frosh Hazi...

PRESENT LENIENT SYSTEM FAILS TO BRING DESIRED RESULTS

Sophomores and upperclassmen are practically agreed that freshman hazing should not be entirely abolished and that stringent measures should be taken to enforce frosh rules. Thirty-three students were approached at random by the Cynic and were asked their opinions upon the freshman problem. Seven held decided views that all forms of hazing should be abolished entirely. The remaining number held just as decided opposite views, and expressed the hope that the most interesting and most worthwhile of the traditions at Vermont would not die for want of life. The greater proportion of those favoring the maintenance of the frosh rules were reluctant to see freshman hazing of the extreme and exaggerated type back in vogue again, but desired very much a moderate system of hazing.

One thing upon which there was no difference of opinion was that there are at present absolutely no frosh rules at all in existence and that the Boulder Society, to whom the enforcement of these non-existent rules was entrusted, has made a sorry mess of the job. The problem of enforcement rightfully and properly belong to the sophomore class, as in every other college where there is even a semblance of frosh rules and hazing. It was suggested that the present sophomore class force the frosh rules next year, if it is decided to have any rules at all. It would not be just, it was thought, to give the freshmen of this year any chastising power over the frosh of next year. In succeeding years, sophomores would have the right to see that the frosh rules were obeyed.

Frosh Lose Valuable Experience

Through no fault of their own, the members of the present freshman class have been deprived of much interesting and valuable experience, it was the opinion of many.

They were dubbed as Gentlemen Frosh by some. It seems to be the common opinion of the great majority that freshman hazing is a form of discipline which every college student should undergo. In addition, hazing is an experience which the frosh can never forget. One declared that the frosh like to get hazed and that 'they get a kick out of it." The class of '32, it was stated, do not know what hazing is, they have, in many cases, exaggerated notions ... portance, and worst ... spirit has developed ... men and, because th... received them so ligh... concerned a fashion ... themselves a part of ... body of Vermont and ... genuine respect for ... Because not over a th... wear their frosh ca... know their own class members ... the upperclassmen do ... Besides, since the frosh ... to greet Vermont men ... with the familiar "H... tice has arisen among ... disregarding the fresh... when they meet them ... that frosh rules are ... the freshman and that ... sequently not object to ...

Paddling Passe

It was generally held that paddling as a form of enforcement of the ... should not be used ... cases where a frosh might refuse ... together to obey any rules that ... be imposed upon him. Some ... however, that paddling is the ... way of making the frosh do what ... should. It is obvious from this ... experience that the frosh will ... their own free will submit themselves ... to observing the rules which all ... dents who have thus far been adm... to this institution during its ... history have observed. It was held ... that the compulsory setting ... bleachers should not be tolerated ... that bleacher setting would be a ... substitute for paddling as a form ... punishment for disobedience of ... rules. Carrying placards and performing stunts upon the campus for ... great pleasure of upperclassmen ... be other means of enforcing the ...

Many sophomores expressed the ... that the task of enforcing the ... rules for the rest of this year ... be given them. Since the frosh ... had so much liberty thus far ... declared the rules could be kept ... the end of the year and not suspended ... in the spring as customary.

In future years the frosh rules ... be kept in force only for a short ... At Boston University, the frosh ... are kept in force until Thanksgiving. ... At Tufts, the frosh rules are ... throughout the first semester.

A cross-section of student opinion upon the freshman rules problem has undoubtedly been secured. Two of the thirty-three students interviewed were sophomores and ... number represents over ... the entire sophomore class.

PROFESSOR H. BENNETT HOLDS LECTURE RECITAL

Prof. Howard G. Bennett assisted by Miss Natilee Marston, instructor in piano and organ, and several of the good singers on the campus gave a lecture-recital on English music in the Bixby Memorial Library in Vergennes last Wednesday evening, March 6. Those who assisted in the concert are Hazel Ladd, soprano; Mailla Putnam, soprano; Irene Marcotte, mezzo-soprano; Margaret Corbin, mezzo-soprano; R. D. Towne, tenor; and H. E. Goddard, baritone, all prominent in the musical life on the campus. The illustrations were as follows:

"Sumer is Icumen in" — 13th Century Round
Misses Ladd, Putnam, Marcotte, Corbin; Messrs. Towne, Goddard

"The Nightingale" — Weelkes
Misses Ladd, Marcotte, Corbin

"O Sing Unto the Lord" — Purcell
Misses Ladd, Putnam, Corbin; Messrs. Towne, Goddard

"Come Away, Fellow Singers," from "Dido and Aeneas" — Purcell
Mr. Goddard

"Dido's Farewell," from "Dido and Aeneas" — Purcell
Miss Ladd

"Lilliburlero" — Purcell
Mr. Bennett

"Three Old English Carols" — Holst
Misses Ladd, Putnam, Corbin; Messrs. Towne, Goddard

"Lotus Land" — Cyril Scott
Miss Marston

"If You're Anxious For to Shine," from "Patience" — Sullivan
Mr. Goddard

"I Cannot Tell What This Love May Be," from "Patience" — Sullivan
Miss Ladd

"In a Doleful, and Now is Not This Ridiculous," from "Patience" — Sullivan
Misses Ladd, Putnam, Marcotte; Messrs. Towne, Goddard

TODAY LAST CHANCE T... REPORT FOR ENTRAN... IN WRESTLING TOUR...

This is the last day for ... the wrestling tournament ... by the Physical Educat... under the direction of ... son, '29.

Candidates should r... iliary gymnasium at ... if they desire to par... tourney which will be ... and next. Candidates ... been registered by tom... Thursday afternoon at ... weigh in. The classes ... 115 lbs. and under, 1... 135 lbs. and under, 1... 155 lbs. and under, 1... 175 lbs. and under, unl...

The preliminary mat... place on Saturday. M... semi-finals will be run ... March 19 and Thurs... The finals will take ... March 23. The Satur... begin at 2.15 p.m. and ... 4.15 p.m.

All matches will be ... falls to a decision or ... falls. Amateur rules ... Judges are to be anno... date.

All students of the ... eligible under the ... tions. Request is ma... entries notwithstandi... tice. The tournament ... mary purpose an in... in the sport as such ... the development of a ... team which it is hope... ality next year.

Rand's Home Lunch ... attraction to the eds ... ing slight attacks of ... having the lights go ... Sunday evening at a ... favorite eating place ... idealistic students. T... such favor that Rand ... continuing it every ... promptly at the same ...

CAT'S MEOW

SPORTING EDITOR—

...ick, Hartford'

... plays Orleans for the State ...ship at Rutland Saturday.

...ner of that game is invited ...ational High School Basket... tournament at the University of ... April 2-6.

...d should have no trouble ...eans. The White River June... had a perfected passing ... with plenty of speed and shoot...

... Johnson of Hartford looped ... at the end of the final game ... Springfield was nothing less ... marvelous.

... teammates Capt. Regione and ... were two of the smallest ... the tournament but more than ... their own against their taller op... Regione was a speed demon.

...arthy, center for Hartford, was ... best defensive man in the tourna... He was rangy and allowed ... to get by his arms. Although ... offensive ability was weak he won ... on the all-State team by his ... efficient defensive work.

... Hartford team seemed to know ... position of each member of the ... at all times. They threw ac... well-timed passes without look... the receiver and never uttered ... on the court. It was a ... ably-coached combination.

... of Springfield led the ... with 35 points in three games. ... foul shooting gave him the edge ... Johnson who was a close second ... 28.

..."Sammy" Young, refereeing the Hart...-Cathedral game, put the fans into ... mood when they started "boo... a player, by announcing, "We'll ... this game without booze." ... what he meant?

... of the baseball squad by ... "Larry" Gardner is expected ... week. Prominent candidates for ... are: Outfielders—Capt. Ma..., Howard, Carrigan, McBride; ...ders—Traynor, McKay, O'Keefe, ..., Schurman; pitchers—Wood, ..., Cummings, Kendricks, Rut..., catchers—Stroh, Kendall, ...

No football player ever again will wear No. 1 at New York University. As a mark of honor to Al Lassman, the violet captain who wore the number last fall with such distinction, the number has been withdrawn from use. At the welcome home dinner to him recently in New York Lassman received a sweater with the No. 1 on the ...

... University can look forward ... good baseball season with Dave ... as coach. He is in the habit of ... winners. Boston will never ... the feat of one of the Middle... teams he coached which tied ... for.

... brilliant shooting of Conners, ... forward for Holy Cross, who won ... game here, March 2, in the closing ... of play, enabled Holy Cross ... defeat Springfield 30 to 26 at ... Worcester.

... Cannell will succeed Jesse ... as coach of the Dartmouth ... team next fall. Cannell, ... head coach, has been assistant ... Crowley during the past six years, ... which he had been head coach there ... previously.

... a four-hour discussion, the ... tion committee of the Metro... A. A. U. failed to lift the sus... of Ray Barbuti, Olympic 400 ... champion.

... McNulty is the headliner of ... College battery corps. Mc... is one of the few pitchers who ... downed Holy Cross twice in a ...

... Cross will play the Boston ... at Fitton Field April 12, ac... to an announcement made by ... Cross Athletic Association. ... will give one of the strongest col... aggregations in the country a real ...

... University of Kentucky one... is deducted from the standing ... students who miss their last ... before a holiday and the first ... after.

FEMALE FLOORSHARKS BAG BOUNTIFUL BASKETS

Seniors Defeat Juniors and Sophomores Win Over Freshmen as Lanou and Hawley Star

The co-eds' interclass basketball tournament progressed with a victory for the seniors over the juniors by a score of 23-8, and for the sophomore second team over the frosh second team by a score of 13-7.

The seniors played an excellent game and showed their superiority by the wide margin of the score. "Jack" Lanou was high point scorer for the seniors. The line-up was as follows

SENIORS

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts
Lanou, f.	1	7	15
Upton, f.	0	4	8
Fiske, g.	0	0	0
Wheatley, g.	0	0	0
Hazen, c.	0	0	0
Kinder, s.c.	0	0	0
Corbin	0	0	0
Everest	0	0	0
Totals	1	11	23

The Juniors had difficulty in scoring, being closely guarded. They secured only three floor baskets during the game.

JUNIORS

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
Dailey, f.	2	2	6
Perelman, f.	0	0	0
Bosley, g.	0	0	0
Parry, F., g.	0	1	2
Bostwick, c.	0	0	0
Taylor, s.c.	0	0	0
Totals	2	3	8

The juniors are handicapped by the loss of their star forward of last year, "Dot" Gurney, who is not on the court this season. Dot made varsity last year and was one of the team's strongest players.

The sophomore-freshman second teams played hard and furiously although the score was comparatively low. N. Hawley of the sophomores was high scorer of the game with 11 points.

SOPHOMORES II

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
Hawley, f.	1	5	11
Chadburne, f.	0	1	2
Hoag, g.	0	0	0
Tinkham, g.	0	0	0
Koenig, c.	0	0	0
Field, s.c.	0	0	0
Totals	0	0	13

FRESHMEN II

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
Beggs, f.	0	1	2
Brown, f.	0	1	2
Skinner, g.	0	0	0
Preston, g.	0	0	0
Lowd, c.	0	0	0
Orlowsky, s.c.	0	0	0
Orizonto	0	1	2
Wilder	1	0	1
Totals	1	3	7

Mrs. Hard and Miss Blanchard refereed.

If Fish Ellis continues to improve under Ken Nash's tutelage as he has in the past two weeks he may develop into the ace of Tuft's pitching staff this season. He has played in the outfield for two years but lacks of twirlers necessitated Ellis' training. His batting will merit his presence in the outfield when not in the box.

Piper Green Discovers Superior Smoke

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 31, 1928

Larus & Brother Co.,
Richmond, Va.

Dear Sirs:

I have used one small box of your extra High Grade Plug Slice Tobacco, and as I have had twenty-seven years of experience as a tobacco user, I find your High Grade Edgeworth to be superior to all others.

There is extra enjoyment in the use of it, which I will make known to my friends and continue the pleasure myself.

Yours,
(Signed) P. F. Green

Edgeworth

Extra High Grade

Smoking Tobacco

FUTURE TENNIS CHAMPS WILL BE COLLEGE MEN

"I believe that in the future practically all of the ranking tennis players on this side of the water will be college men," says William E. Hinchcliff coach of tennis and squash racquets at Yale in the April College Humor. "At Yale it is estimated that two-thirds of the students play tennis. The number of courts could be doubled again and there would still be too few. The preparatory schools of the country are filled with brilliant young players. It takes no stretch of the imagination to see them playing tennis and continuing their interest in the game when they matriculate at the higher institutions of learning.

"Speaking of tennis in a general way, I would like to point out the fact that the dope is upset in tennis probably less than in any other sport. When both players are in trim and fighting for all they are worth, you will have a hard time finding a sport that brings such consistent victories to the admittedly better player. It is a sport where one can work with one's game at practice and feel confident that the breaks of the game will have little or no effect on the outcome of contests."

Advertise Their City

Northeastern University freshmen are required to wear Boston garters, in order to show loyalty to the city in which the university is situated.

"How did you persuade your old man to send you to college for another year?"

"I told him if he didn't I'd get married, and I guess he thought he could not afford that."—Gargoyle.

VERMONT AND BARNARD HOLD PHYSICAL TESTS

Physical efficiency tests of U. V. M. freshmen and sophomores have been compared with the freshmen of Barnard College.

The high scoring freshmen at U. V. M. were: 1. Faiellonia, H., with 240 points; 2. Mount, L., 237 points; 3. Mandigo, E., 229 points; 3. Rush, K. 229 points. High scoring sophomores were: 1. Murray, E. 237 points; 2. Burns, H., 226 points; 3. Remillard, F. 222 points; 3. Roberts, M. 222 points. The scores as compared with the Barnard freshmen are:

	U. V. M. 1927	U. V. M. 1928	Barnard 1927
Total	200.5	200.8	180
Medical	136.6	135.1	130
Motor Ability	46.5	44.2	32
Anthropometric	18.4	19.0	18

The total score for freshmen at U. V. M. was Median 201 and Average 200.587 for the sophomores, Median 201 and Average 200.875.

Abolish "Hell Week"

Because an underclassman suffered temporary loss of memory as a result of his initiation into a fraternity, "hell week" has been abolished at the University of Nebraska by united action of the fraternities.

At the University of Texas the honor system was abolished by a nine to two vote of the student body. In effect since the founding of the university in 1883, it has been considered ineffective for the last few years.

Thirty Years Ago at Vermont

Opinion prevalent around college that the library ought to be open all day.

Successful military hop held. Eighty couples present.

Senator Morrill leaves bequest of $1,000 for maintenance of a scholarship at the U. V. M. for students from Stafford.

Many so-called Morrill Land grant Colleges celebrate memory of Vermont legislator.

University of Pennsylvania loses $1,000 on athletics.

Fifteen Years Ago at Vermont

Owls win Briggs cup and large cake for their stunt "Manager Pro Tem." Features of this stunt were: Location in the infernal regions, entrances on roller coaster, clever acting and local hits. Another clever trick was the song of the Foundation Committee in which each member sang a line and was immediately taken up by the next. The Cynic of that date says "put on perhaps remembering that the Muses love alternate measures."

Gallagher and Hayden won the Kake-Walking and Bloomer the parade.

Medical College rates as Class A among twenty-two best in the country.

Smoker for sub-freshmen follows the after Kake Walk dance. The dance ended at one, the highly successful smoker, early in the morning.

The Debating Association is reorganized, under a new constitution.

University Freshmen defeat St. Michael's College quintet.

One way to trap a beaver

Not everybody in the Hudson's Bay Company was a trapper, any more than everybody in the Bell System is a telephone engineer.

The Hudson's Bay people trapped a good many beavers in the company offices, where the skilful financing and careful business management served to back up the men actually on the front lines. Organized activity succeeded then just as it does today. The men who put up telephone lines can work the better because back of them are other men who painstakingly design and make their equipment, and still other men who correlate all these activities into a smoothly meshing plan.

BELL SYSTEM

A nation-wide system of inter-connecting telephones

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O. CLAYTON, '30
Editor-in-Chief

HERRICK M. MACOMBER, '30 — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '30
Managing Editors

PRISCILLA T. CAMPBELL, '30
Women's Editor

George R. Brush, '31 — News Editors Louis Lorman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc. Editors Betty L. Church, '30 Joyce P. Richardson, '30 — Sporting Editor Seymour L. Nathanson, '30 — Asst. Sporting Editors Lynford M. Foster, '31 Herman D. Gussow, '31 Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor Harriet E. Wright, '30 — Intercollegiate Editor Odeno A. Martinetti, '30 — Feature Editor Edward J. Beyor, '30

Art Editor Lenore Ashinger, '30 — Faculty Adviser Prof. Leon W. Dean — Women's Intercollege Editor Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Beatrice Burridge, '30 — Winifred Stone, '31 — E. Henry Powell, '30
Isobel Goodrich, '30 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32 — Charles N. Crockett, '31
Jane Waterman, '30 — Hope Ranslow, '32 — Edmour A. R. Germain, '31
Francis Rose, '31 — Alfred J. Morin, '32 — Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32
Henry Smith, '31 — Watson E. Morgan, '32 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '30
Business Manager

Major B. Jenks, '30 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Stuart S. Corbin, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Susan F. McQuesten, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
F. Stanley Smith, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2938 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Entered for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412, P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — March 12, 1929 — No. 40

For Better and Stronger Singing

There is that indefinable something which makes for a better spirit in the school, a greater harmony among the individual students, and an uplift whether it be moral or spiritual when a large group of mixed voices sings. Vermont has some excellent songs, songs which render themselves to group singing most easily. But the calibre of the singing of University students has not been up to standard for the past season as evidenced by several poor attempts at basketball contests. No volume has been the greatest deficiency.

The cause of this lack of volume probably lies with a lack of knowledge of the songs. In the past, each Freshman class was rigidly instructed on several occasions in the singing of Vermont songs. If a Frosh was found who had not learned every one of the songs he was punished by various means. That's how it was done then. Now, that Freshman rules are practically negligible, no member of the first year class takes the time to learn his songs because he has no incentive.

If no other means are found to make for better and stronger singing at Vermont, we would suggest that Vermont songs be sung at every opportunity. By process of constant repetition, perhaps we might master them. Anything to put more life into Vermont singing at games and smokers. It makes a good impression.

Verbum Sat Sapienti

Professor Metcalf's discussion of scholarship in its relation to intelligence as shown by intelligence test ratings aroused particular interest not only to the students and faculty but to the general public as well. An article showing his comprehensive study in the field of mental equipment of Vermont students appeared in a recent issue of the Cynic. Professor Metcalf maintains that a very positive correlation exists between the grades of students on intelligence tests and the grades in regular college work.

We have no intention of questioning the validity of this contention, but on the contrary, rather support it with the statement that an even more positive correlation might exist if each individual student would only work and apply himself. It is perfectly possible for a really bright student, as evidenced by his rating in the intelligence tests, to be dropped from college just because he fails to concentrate his mind on his work. In his study, Professor Metcalf undoubtedly ran across those instances of where no correlation at all existed between the student's intelligence quota and his scholarship grades. But these were the exception rather than the rule, and were, no doubt, cases of lack of application to one's studies.

In the words of Frederick B. Robinson, President of the College of the City of New York, "make your mind behave to suit your desires." This famous educator has found, by experimentation, that a man can accomplish anything he sets out to do by (1) taking a keen interest in the task at hand, (2) mastering the facts in an orderly manner, (3) taking things easy by making the most efficient use of our mental and physical energy, (4) and by making the subconscious mind work for us.

Professor Metcalf is quite in accord with this view when he states that two students with a low intelligence rating had made the honor list. This was due, in no small degree, to work and application. He believes a word to the wise is sufficient. So do we.

The student employment committee of Marshall College lived up to its guarantee to furnish a student for any task. A bride called in perturbation. She expected many "in laws" for dinner, and she wasn't a good cook. A star domestic science student was sent out and adequately met the situation.

Freshmen at the University of Denver need no longer suffer at the hands of upperclassmen bent on hazing.

The freshmen were set at rest today when the state's attorney general handed down the opinion that when an upperclassman shaves a freshman's mustache he can be charged with assault and battery.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

GLANCING THROUGH THE SCANDAL SHEETS

Professor Snow Praises Robert Frost, Who Speaks in Chapel Monday Night

One at a time, please!

Princess de Guise Will Be Married Feb. 11

PALERMO, Sicily, Jan. 22 (A. P.).—Princess Francoise de Guise, daughter of the pretender to the throne of France, arrived today to complete arrangements for her wedding to Prince Christopher of Greece.

Again we ask, what's in a name?

Up-State Hen Lays Giant Egg

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Feb. 23 (A. P.). Joseph D. Davis reports that one of his Rhode Island Red hens has laid an egg measuring nine and one-half inches in circumference and weighing eight ounces.

Which came first, the hen or the egg? We bet there was a capon inside of this one!

Gene Tunney Enlarges Holdings in Stamford

Former Fighter Buys Four More Acres for Future Home

STAMFORD, Conn., Feb. 9 (A. P.).—Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion of the world, who with Mrs. Tunney is abroad, has added to his realty holdings by buying four acres adjoining the property in Long Ridge Road which he had purchased for his future home.

Uhuh, Charlie, the big shots know where to live. No, of course, you can't blame 'em!

Hiawatha Modernized

By the shores of Cuticura
By the sparkling Pluto Water
Lived the Prophylactic Chiclet,
Danderine, fair Buick's daughter.
She was loved by Instant Postum,
Son of Camels and Victrola;
Heir apparent to the Mazda;
Of the tribe of Coca-Cola.
Through the Shredded Wheat they wandered,
Through the darkness strolled the lovers,
Lovely little Wrigley Chiclet;
Washed by Fairy, fed by Postum,
No Pyrene can quench the fire,
Nor an Aspirin still the heartache,
Of my Prest-O-Lite desire;
Let us marry, little Djer-Kiss.

This is excellent, but where's the Old Golds?

Wise Guy

(Dedicated to Ec. I)

Want to make some dough?
Here's a plan to try.
Buy stocks when they're low,
Sell them when they're high.
Or, if you're a sport,
'Ere the issues drop,
Sell the market short
When it's at the top.
Then when stocks have slid
Seven points to ten—
That's the time to bid—
Buy them in again.
Make your dough with ease,
Save your strength and time,
Meanwhile, could you, please,
Let me have a dime?

No, we won't flunk the course; this is not original.

Bean Batterson declares that statistics prove that the modern, common sense style of woman's dress has reduced accidents on street cars by fifty percent.

Ever in favor of safety, we advocate doing away with accidents altogether.

Two-thirds of the homes in the United States are said to be without bathtubs, which may account for some of the people who have to do their singing over the radio.

CALENDAR

March 12—Norwich Debate, 8.00 at Old Mill Chapel.
March 15—Texas Debate, 7.45 at Gymnasium.
March 12—Women's Basketball, Seniors vs. Freshmen, Juniors vs. Sophs.
March 13—Interfraternity Races, second series.
March 13—John Dewey Club Meeting, 7.30 at Vermont Club House.
March 17—Student-Faculty Tea, 3.30 at Redstone.
March 18—Lecture, Speaight on "Pickwick," 8.00 at Gymnasium.
March 16—Rifle Team, Norwich, 2.30.

Cynic Turns Literary Digest To Get Students Opinions On Frosh Hazing

PRESENT LENIENT SYSTEM FAILS TO BRING DESIRED RESULTS

Sophomores and upperclassmen are practically agreed that freshman hazing should not be entirely abolished and that stringent measures should be taken to enforce frosh rules. Thirty-three students were approached at random by the Cynic and were asked their opinions upon the freshman problem. Seven held decided views that all forms of hazing should be abolished entirely. The remaining number held just as decided opposite views, and expressed the hope that the most interesting and most worthwhile of the traditions at Vermont would not die for want of life. The greater proportion of those favoring the maintenance of the frosh rules were reluctant to see freshman hazing of the extreme and exaggerated type back in vogue again, but desired very much a moderate system of hazing.

One thing upon which there was no difference of opinion was that there are at present absolutely no frosh rules at all in existence and that the Boulder Society, to whom the enforcement of these non-existent rules was entrusted, has made a sorry mess of the job. The problem of enforcement rightfully and properly belong to the sophomore class, as in every other college where there is even a semblance of frosh rules and hazing. It was suggested that the present sophomore class force the frosh rules next year, if it is decided to have any rules at all. It would not be just, it was thought, to give the freshmen of this year any chastising power over the frosh of next year. In succeeding years, sophomores would have the right to see that the frosh rules were obeyed.

Frosh Lose Valuable Experience

Through no fault of their own, the members of the present freshman class have been deprived of much interesting and valuable experience, it was the opinion of many.

They were dubbed as Gentlemen Frosh by some. It seems to be the common opinion of the great majority that freshman hazing is a form of discipline which every college student should undergo. In addition, hazing is an experience which the frosh can never forget. One declared that the frosh like to get hazed and that "they get a kick out of it." The class of '32, it was stated, do not know what hazing is, they have, in many cases, exaggerated notions [illegible] portance, and worse [illegible] spirit has developed [illegible] men and, because [illegible] received them so light[illegible] concerned a fashion [illegible] themselves a part of [illegible] body of Vermont and [illegible] genuine respect for [illegible] Because not over a th[illegible] wear their frosh [illegible] know their own clas[illegible] the upperclassmen do[illegible] Besides, since the frosh[illegible] to greet Vermont men[illegible] with the familiar "H[illegible] tice has arisen among [illegible] disregarding the frosh[illegible] when they meet them[illegible] that frosh rules are [illegible] the freshman and that [illegible] sequently not object to [illegible]

Paddling Passe

It was generally held [illegible] as a form of enforcement [illegible] should not be used except [illegible] cases where a frosh might refuse together to obey any rules that be imposed upon him. Some however, that paddling is the way of making the frosh do what should. It is obvious from this experience that the frosh will their own free will submit them to observing the rules which a dents who have thus far been ad to this institution during its history have observed. It was he that the compulsory setting bleachers should not be tolerate that bleacher setting would be substitute for paddling as a fo punishment for disobedience rules. Carrying placards and pe ing stunts upon the campus great pleasure of upperclassmen be other means of enforcing the Many sophomores expressed that the task of enforcing the rules for the rest of this year be given them. Since the frosh had so much liberty thus far declared the rules could be kept the end of the year and not sus in the spring as customary.

In future years the frosh rules be kept in force only for a short At Boston University, the frosh are kept in force until Thanksg At Tufts, the frosh rules are throughout the first semester.

A cross-section of student upon the freshman rules probl undoubtedly been secured. T one of the thirty-three students viewed were sophomores and number represents over one-s the entire sophomore class.

PROFESSOR H. BENNETT HOLDS LECTURE RECITAL

Prof. Howard G. Bennett assisted by Miss Natilee Marston, instructor in piano and organ, and several of the good singers on the campus gave a lecture-recital on English music in the Bixby Memorial Library in Vergennes last Wednesday evening, March 6. Those who assisted in the concert are Hazel Ladd, soprano; Mallia Putnam, soprano; Irene Marcotte, mezzo-soprano; Margaret Corbin, mezzo-soprano; R. D. Towne, tenor; and H. E. Goddard, baritone, all prominent in the musical life on the campus. The illustrations were as follows:

"Sumer is Icumen in" — 13th Century Round
Misses Ladd, Putnam, Marcotte, Corbin; Messrs. Towne, Goddard

"The Nightingale" — Weelkes
Misses Ladd, Marcotte, Corbin

"O Sing Unto the Lord" — Purcell
Misses Ladd, Putnam, Corbin; Messrs. Towne, Goddard

"Come Away, Fellow Singers," from "Dido and Aeneas" — Purcell
Mr. Goddard

"Dido's Farewell," from "Dido and Aeneas" — Purcell
Miss Ladd

"Lilliburlero" — Purcell
Mr. Bennett

"Three Old English Carols" — Holst
Misses Ladd, Putnam, Corbin; Messrs. Towne, Goddard

"Lotus Land" — Cyril Scott
Miss Marston

"If You're Anxious For to Shine," from "Patience" — Sullivan
Mr. Goddard

"I Cannot Tell What This Love May Be," from "Patience" — Sullivan
Miss Ladd

"In a Doleful, and Now is Not This Ridiculous," from "Patience" — Sullivan
Misses Ladd, Putnam, Marcotte; Messrs. Towne, Goddard

TODAY LAST CHANCE T[illegible] REPORT FOR ENTRAN[illegible] IN WRESTLING TOUR[illegible]

This is the last day [illegible] the wrestling tournament [illegible] by the Physical Educat[illegible] under the direction of [illegible] son, '29.

Candidates should r[illegible] iliary gymnasium at [illegible] if they desire to par[illegible] tourney which will be [illegible] and next. Candidates [illegible] been registered by tom[illegible] Thursday afternoon at [illegible] weigh in. The classes [illegible] 115 lbs. and under. 1[illegible] 135 lbs. and under, 14[illegible] 155 lbs. and under, 16[illegible] 175 lbs. and under. unl[illegible]

The preliminary mat[illegible] place on Saturday. M[illegible] semi-finals will be run [illegible] March 19 and Thurs[illegible] The finals will take [illegible] March 23. The Sat[illegible] begin at 2.15 p.m and [illegible] 4.15 p.m.

All matches will be [illegible] fairs to a decision or [illegible] falls. Amateur rules [illegible] Judges are to be anno[illegible] date.

All students of the [illegible] eligible under the [illegible] tions. Request is ma[illegible] entries notwithstandi[illegible] tice. The tournament [illegible] mary purpose an in[illegible] in the sport as such [illegible] the development of [illegible] team which it is hoped [illegible] ality next year.

Rand's Home Lun[illegible] attraction to the ed[illegible] ing slight attacks of [illegible] having the lights g[illegible] Sunday evening at a [illegible] favorite eating place [illegible] idealistic students. T[illegible] such favor that Rand[illegible] continuing it every [illegible] promptly at the same

CAT'S MEOW

SPORTING EDITOR—

Jack, Hartford'

plays Orleans for the State ip at Rutland Saturday.

ner of that game is invited tional High School Basket ament at the University of April 2-6.

d should have no trouble ans. The White River June- had a perfected passing th plenty of speed and shoot-y Johnson of Hartford looped at the end of the final game Springfield was nothing less rvelous.

teammates Capt. Regione and were two of the smallest the tournament but more than their own against their taller op- Regione was a speed demon.

thy, center for Hartford, was defensive man in the tourna- He was rangy and allowed to get by his arms. Although nsive ability was weak he won on the all-State team by his ent defensive work.

Hartford team seemed to know ation of each member of the at all times. They threw ac- well timed passes without look- the receiver and never uttered on the court. It was a ly-coached combination.

ins of Springfield led the with 35 points in three games. l shooting gave him the edge nson who was a close second ny" Young, refereeing the Hart- athedral game, put the fans into mood when they started "boo- player, by announcing, "We'll this game without booze." what he meant?

t of the baseball squad by "Larry" Gardner is expected ek. Prominent candidates for ne are: Outfielders Capt. Ma- Howard, Carrigan, McBride; Traynor, McKay, O'Keefe, Schurman; pitchers—Wood, Cummings, Kendricks, Rut- catchers Stroh, Kendall, football player ever again will No. 1 at New York University. mark of honor to Al Lassman, let captain who wore the num- fall with such distinction, the has been withdrawn from use. At the welcome home dinner to him recently in New York Lassman re- a sweater with the No. 1 on the University can look forward od baseball season with Dave as coach. He is in the habit of winners. Boston will never the feat of one of the Middle- eams he coached which tied brilliant shooting of Conners, ward for Holy Cross, who won e here, March 2, in the closing of play, enabled Holy Cross at Springfield 30 to 26 at ter.

on Cannell will succeed Jesse as coach of the Dartmouth team next fall. Cannell, ead coach, has been assistant ley during the past six years, h he had been head coach there sly a four-hour discussion, the tion committee of the Metro- A. A. U. failed to lift the sus- of Ray Barbuti, Olympic 400 hampion.

McNulty is the headliner of ton College battery corps. Mc- s one of the few pitchers who owned Holy Cross twice in a Cross will play the Boston at Fitton Field April 12, ac- to an announcement made by ly Cross Athletic Association. ill give one of the strongest col- gregations in the country a real e University of Kentucky one- s deducted from the standing students who miss their last before a holiday and the first after.

FEMALE FLOORSHARKS BAG BOUNTIFUL BASKETS

Seniors Defeat Juniors and Sophomores Win Over Freshmen as Lanou and Hawley Star

The co-eds' interclass basketball tournament progressed with a victory for the seniors over the juniors by a score of 23 8, and for the sophomore second team over the frosh second team by a score of 13 7

The seniors played an excellent game and showed their superiority by the wide margin of the score. "Jack" Lanou was high point scorer for the seniors. The line-up was as follows

SENIORS

	Fls	Gls.	Pts.
Lanou, f.	1	7	15
Upton, f.	0	4	8
Fiske, g.	0	0	0
Wheatley, g.	0	0	0
Hazen, c.	0	0	0
Kinder, s.c.	0	0	0
Corbin	0	0	0
Everest	0	0	0
Totals	1	11	23

The Juniors had difficulty in scoring, being closely guarded. They secured only three floor baskets during the game.

JUNIORS

	Fls	Gls.	Pts
Dailey, f.	2	2	6
Perelman, f.	0	0	0
Bosley, g.	0	0	0
Parry, F., g.	0	1	2
Bostwick, c.	0	0	0
Taylor, s.c.	0	0	0
Totals	2	3	8

The juniors are handicapped by the loss of their star forward of last year, "Dot" Gurney, who is not on the court this season. Dot made varsity last year and was one of the team's strongest players.

The sophomore-freshman second teams played hard and furiously although the score was comparatively low. N. Hawley of the sophomores was high scorer of the game with 11 points.

SOPHOMORES II

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
Hawley, f.	1	5	11
Chadburne, f.	0	1	2
Hoag, g.	0	0	0
Tinkham, g.	0	0	0
Koenig, c.	0	0	0
Field, s.c.	0	0	0
Totals	0	0	13

FRESHMEN II

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
Beggs, f.	0	1	2
Brown, f.	0	1	2
Skinner, g.	0	0	0
Preston, g.	0	0	0
Lowd, c.	0	0	0
Orlowsky, s.c.	0	0	0
Orizonto	0	1	2
Wilder	1	0	1
Totals	1	3	7

Mrs. Hard and Miss Blanchard refereed.

If Fish Ellis continues to improve under Ken Nash's tutelage as he has in the past two weeks he may develop into the ace of Tuft's pitching staff this season. He has played in the outfield for two years but lacks of twirlers necessitated Ellis' training His batting will merit his presence in the outfield when not in the box.

Piper Green Discovers Superior Smoke

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 31, 1928

Larus & Brother Co.,
Richmond, Va.

Dear Sirs:

I have used one small box of your extra High Grade Plug Slice Tobacco, and as I have had twenty-seven years of experience as a tobacco user, I find your High Grade Edgeworth to be superior to all others.

There is extra enjoyment in the use of it, which I will make known to my friends and continue the pleasure myself.

Yours,
(Signed) P. F. Green

Edgeworth

Extra High Grade

Smoking Tobacco

FUTURE TENNIS CHAMPS WILL BE COLLEGE MEN

"I believe that in the future practically all of the ranking tennis players on this side of the water will be college men," says William E. Hinchcliff, coach of tennis and squash racquets at Yale in the April College Humor. "At Yale it is estimated that two-thirds of the students play tennis. The number of courts could be doubled again and there would still be too few. The preparatory schools of the country are filled with brilliant young players. It takes no stretch of the imagination to see them playing tennis and continuing their interest in the game when they matriculate at the higher institutions of learning Speaking of tennis in a general way, I would like to point out the fact that the dope is upset in tennis probably less than in any other sport. When both players are in trim and fighting for all they are worth, you will have a hard time finding a sport that brings such consistent victories to the admittedly better player. It is a sport where one can work with one's game at practice and feel confident that the breaks of the game will have little or no effect on the outcome of contests."

Advertise Their City

Northeastern University freshmen are required to wear Boston garters, in order to show loyalty to the city in which the university is situated.

"How did you persuade your old man to send you to college for an other year?"

"I told him if he didn't I'd get married, and I guess he thought he could not afford that."—Gargoyle.

VERMONT AND BARNARD HOLD PHYSICAL TESTS

Physical efficiency tests of U. V. M. freshmen and sophomores have been compared with the freshmen of Barnard College.

The high scoring freshmen at U. V. M. were 1 Estelionis H. with 240 points 2 Mount L. 237 points 3 Mandigo E. 229 points 4 Hazh K. 229 points. High scoring sophomores were 1 Murray E. 237 points 2 Burns H. 226 points 3 Remillard F. 222 points 4 Roberts M. 222 points The scores as compared with the Barnard freshmen are

	U. V. M. 1932	U. V. M. 1931	Barnard 1932
Total	200 5	200 8	180
Medical	136 6	137 1	130
Motor Ability	45.5	44 2	32
Anthropometric	18 4	19 0	18

The total score for freshmen at U. V. M. was Median 201 and Average 200.382 for the sophomores, Median 201 and Average 200 875

Abolish "Hell Week"

Because an underclassman suffered temporary loss of memory as a result of his initiation into a fraternity, hell week" has been abolished at the University of Nebraska by united action of the fraternities.

At the University of Texas the honor system was abolished by a nine to two vote of the student body. In effect since the founding of the university in 1883, it has been considered ineffective for the last few years.

Thirty Years Ago at Vermont

Opinion prevalent around college that the library ought to be open all day

Successful military hop held Eights couples present

Senator Morrill leaves bequest of $1,000 for maintenance of a scholarship at the U. V. M. for students from Stafford.

Many so-called Morrill land grant Colleges celebrate memory of Vermont legislator

University of Pennsylvania loses $3,000 on athletics

Fifteen Years Ago at Vermont

Owls win Briggs cup and large cake for their stunt "Manager Pro Tem." Features of this stunt were Location in the infernal regions entrances on roller coaster clever acting and local hits Another clever trick was the song of the Foundation Committee in which each member sang a line and was immediately taken up by the next. The Cynic of that date says "put on perhaps remembering that the Muses love alternate measures."

Gallagher and Hayden won the Kake-Walking and Bloomer the parade.

Medical College rates as Class A among twenty two best in the country

Smoker for sub-freshmen follows the after-Kake-Walk dance The dance ended at one the highly successful smoker early in the morning

The Debating Association is reorganized under a new constitution

University Freshmen defeat St. Michael's College quintet

One way to trap a beaver

Not everybody in the Hudson's Bay Company was a trapper, any more than everybody in the Bell System is a telephone engineer.

The Hudson's Bay people trapped a good many beavers in the company offices, where the skilful financing and careful business management served to back up the men actually on the front lines. Organized activity succeeded then just as it does today. The men who put up telephone lines can work the better because back of them are other men who painstakingly design and make their equipment, and still other men who correlate all these activities into a smoothly meshing plan.

BELL SYSTEM

A nation-wide system of inter-connecting telephones

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"

Hartford High Dark-Horses Cathedral and Springfield

(Continued from page 1)

Umpire—Sonders of Milton, Mass.
Scorer—Burr.
Timer—Gray.
Time—8-min. quarters.

PRELIMINARY ROUND

Hartford 22—Bellows Falls 19

The [illegible] Hartford team opened [illegible] against Bellows Falls and in the first half it seemed that the latter were [illegible] outclassed. The score at half time was 14 to 5 in favor of the [illegible] from White River Junction. However in the second frame the Bellows Falls team made a comeback that gave Hartford something to worry about. [illegible] but the locals were unable [illegible] the count. The last half was [illegible] with both teams playing hard [illegible] the final whistle [illegible] with the Hartford 5 [illegible] to 19 victory. Hartford showed much class and speed and was [illegible] Bellows Falls [illegible] kept them in the running. Fish starred for the visitors [illegible] Regione for the victors.

The summary:

HARTFORD

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Regione (Capt.), r. f.	4	2	10
[illegible], l. f.	2	1	5
McCarthy, c.	1	0	2
Racy (Capt.), r. g.	1	1	3
[illegible], l. g.	1	0	2
Totals	9	4	22

BELLOWS FALLS

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
[illegible], l. g.	0	0	0
[illegible], r. g.	0	0	0
Fish (Capt.), c.	1	1	3
[illegible], c.	2	0	4
[illegible], c.	0	0	0
Jeskowgi, l. f.	2	0	4
Griffin, r. f.	4	0	8
[illegible], r. f.	0	0	0
Totals	9	1	19

Referee—Young of Adams, Mass.
Umpire—Sonders of Milton, Mass.
Scorer—Burr.
Timer—Gray.
Time—8-min. quarters.

Cathedral 27—Rutland 12

Cathedral High of Burlington took revenge for last year's tournament defeat in the final game by defeating Rutland in a slow game. The losers were no match for Cathedral. Rutland scored only three field goals in the entire game and those came in the last quarter. The first quarter ended 9 to [illegible] and the half 15 to [illegible] in favor of the Green and White which led all the way. Cathedral had their biggest period in the third frame when they ran their total up to 25 while Rutland netted three [illegible] fouls. Cathedral [illegible] easy in the finals and scored one field goal against Rutland's three, making the final score 27 to 12 and pairing Cathedral with Hartford in the semi-finals. Ollio, Goyette and Keefe starred.

The summary:

CATHEDRAL

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Ollio (Capt.), r. f.	3	5	11
Vian, l. f.	0	0	0
[illegible], l. f.	0	0	0
Mahoney, c.	0	0	0
[illegible], r. g.	1	0	2
Welch, l. g.	2	2	6
Goyette, l. g.	4	0	8
Totals	10	7	27

RUTLAND

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Lawton, l. g.	1	1	3
Keefe, r. g.	0	1	1
Foster, r. g.	0	0	0
Reardsley, c.	1	2	4
Lawton, l. f.	0	0	0
Reynolds, l. f.	0	0	0
Conway, r. f.	1	2	4
Love, r. f.	0	0	0
Totals	3	6	12

Referee—Sonders of Milton, Mass.
Umpire—Young of Adams, Mass.
Scorer—Gray.
Timer—Burr.
Time—8-min. quarters.

Springfield 35—Burlington 24

Friday night Springfield eliminated Burlington High of Burlington and came through to the semi-finals. The Springfielders took a slight 6 to 4 lead in the first quarter and widened the gap 17 to 6 at half time. The second half was tied as far as scoring was concerned, each team tallying 18 points. Hopkins was the leading scorer for Springfield and in the third period he got going. It was a shooting duel between him and Mardrascon of Burlington who played opposite him. The third period ended 29 to 18. In the final quarter the Burlingtonians took several long shots in vain, although they outscored their opponents 11 to 7, the final score being 35 to 24.

The summary:

SPRINGFIELD

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Lovell, r. f.	2	0	5
Hopkins, l. f.	6	2	14
[illegible], c.	2	1	5
Racy (Capt.), r. g.	0	0	0
[illegible], r. g.	0	0	0
[illegible], l. g.	1	0	2
Scofield, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	10	4	24

BURLINGTON

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Rivers, l. g.	2	2	7
Ford, r. g.	0	0	0
Mardrascon, r. g.	4	1	9
Morgan, c.	1	1	3
Cooper, l. f.	0	0	0
McKenna, r. f.	1	0	2
Chase, r. f.	1	0	3
Totals	10	4	24

Referee—Young of Adams, Mass.
Umpire—Sonders of Milton, Mass.
Scorer—Burr.
Timer—Gray.
Time—8-min. quarters.

Fair Haven 20—Newport 13

Fair Haven defeated Newport in a game which brought out a minimum of good basketball. It was a slow, listless contest from beginning to end. Newport led at quarter 6 to 5 and at half time 10 to 9. In the third period each team missed many shots and scored a single point. At the start of the last quarter Durick put Fair Haven ahead and Newporters went to pieces allowing McFarren to run wild while scoring only a single floor goal themselves. The final score was 20 to 13. Fair Haven thus drew Springfield for the semi-finals.

The summary:

FAIR HAVEN

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
McFarren, r. f.	3	0	6
Hayes, l. f.	1	1	3
Mulholland, c.	1	0	2
Durick, r. g.	2	1	5
Foley, r. g.	1	0	2
Hyland, l. g.	1	0	2
Totals	9	2	20

NEWPORT

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Bowen, l. g.	1	0	2
Addison, r. g.	0	0	0
Tetreault, r. g.	0	0	0
Stevenson, c.	0	0	0
Lalime, l. f.	2	0	4
Rushlow, r. f.	3	1	7
Totals	6	1	13

Referee—Sonders of Milton, Mass.
Umpire—Young of Adams, Mass.
Scorer—Burr.
Timer—Gray.
Time—8-min. quarters.

SEMI-FINAL ROUND

Hartford 34—Cathedral 21

Hartford pulled a dark-horse stunt by overwhelming Cathedral High of Burlington 34 to 21 in the first semi-final game on Saturday afternoon. The Cathedral team never had a chance as the winners led all the way by a safe margin.

Johnson started his tournament shooting streak in this game by scoring six goals. The small Hartford forwards, Capt Regione and Falzarano, scored 9 and 11 points, respectively. They were too fast for the Cathedral guards and got loose almost at will. Goyette and Ollio were in form but were up against a team that passed circles around them.

Hartford drew away at the start and led 12 to 6 at the quarter. The second quarter was Cathedrals but at half Hartford still led 14 to 11. Johnson was a menace under the basket and in the second half scored three difficult goals from under the basket with two and three Cathedral men hanging on to him. At the end of the third quarter the score was 24 to 15 and Regione kept up Hartford's scoring streak to send his team into the finals a favorite on account of its snappy team work but an under dog on account of the way it was forced to exert itself to defeat Cathedral despite the fact that the score indicates an easy win.

The summary:

HARTFORD

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Regione (Capt.), r. f.	3	3	9
Falzarano, l. f.	4	3	11
McCarthy, c.	0	0	0
Stone, r. g.	1	0	2
Johnson, l. g.	6	0	12
Totals	14	6	34

CATHEDRAL

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Ollio (Capt.), r. f.	1	4	6
Vian, l. f.	2	1	5
Mahoney, c.	1	0	2
McGowan, r. g.	2	0	4
Goyette, l. g.	1	2	4
Totals	7	7	21

Referee—Young of Adams, Mass.
Umpire—Sonders of Milton, Mass.
Scorer—Gray.
Timer—Burr.
Time—8-min. quarters.

Springfield 31—Fair Haven 21

Springfield rode through this game without exertion, and appeared to be saving its strength for the final at night. Fair Haven gave unexpected opposition in the first quarter which ended 3 to 2 in favor of Springfield. Springfield picked up slightly in the second frame and led at half 15 to 10. Slowly but surely the gap was being opened up as Hopkins scored three baskets and Lovell and Corliss two each in the last quarter while Mulholland and Holland fell short with two apiece. The score at three-quarters was 23 to 15 and at the end 31 to 21. Springfield thus went into the final game with Hartford a slight favorite.

The summary:

SPRINGFIELD

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Hopkins, r. f.	4	1	9
Lovell, l. f.	2	2	6
Corliss, l. f.	3	1	7
Stankivich, c.	1	0	2
Racy (Capt.), r. g.	2	1	5
Michniewich, r. g.	0	0	0
Durovich, l. g.	1	0	2
Scofield, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	13	5	31

FAIR HAVEN

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
McFarren, r. f.	2	0	4
Durick, l. f.	1	0	2
Mulholland, c.	4	0	8
Hyland, r. g.	3	0	6
Foley, l. g.	0	1	1
Hayes, l. g.	0	0	0
Totals	10	1	21

Referee—Sonders of Milton, Mass.
Umpire—Young of Adams, Mass.
Scorer—Gray.
Timer—Burr.
Time—8-min. quarters.

After the final contest Capt. Regione of Hartford High was presented by Graduate Manager Mayforth in behalf of the University of Vermont a handsome silver loving cup emblematic of the senior basketball championship of the State of Vermont. Mr. Mayforth read a letter received from Orleans High School, junior championship winner, challenging Hartford to play-off for the State championship at the Rutland Armory next Saturday. The management of the Hartford High School team accepted the challenge.

James Young of Adams, Mass, chief official, and Martin W. Sonders, of Milton, Mass., were each presented by Mr. Mayforth with a box of cigars as a token of appreciation of the efficient manner in which they handled the tournament games.

Mr. Young then announced the all tournament teams which are considered the mythical all-State teams. They were picked by the members of the Vermont Officials Association and are found elsewhere in this issue of the CYNIC.

RAND'S HOME LUNCH
64 COLCHESTER AVE.
Where you get the most of the best for the least
HOME COOKING
OUR SPECIALTY
Phone 2045

For the Most Delicious Home Made Candy, Easter Eggs and Novelties
Call at
BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP
Names printed on Easter eggs without charges for U. V. M. students.

TUFTS COLLEGE
DENTAL SCHOOL
Founded 1867
[illegible] men and women to prepare for a [illegible] in a [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] has emerged the [illegible] of [illegible] chair-[illegible] service. The [illegible] [illegible] men and women of [illegible] trained by [illegible] training. Such training Tufts College Dental School offers [illegible] to students. School opens on September 30, 1929. Our catalog may [illegible] you in choosing your career. For [illegible] address
Dr. William Rice, Dean
416 Huntington Avenue Boston, Mass.

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Kappa Alpha Theta held its pledge dance at the chapter house, Saturday evening. Frank Flagg's orchestra furnished the music, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stillwell were the chaperones.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Delta Delta Delta danced Friday evening at the Elks rooms with Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Pooley and Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Braun as chaperones. Doc Kenyon's orchestra furnished the music.

ALPHA XI DELTA

The annual election and installation of officers took place Wednesday evening. The new officers are: Joyce Richardson, '30, president; Christine Shaw, '30, vice-president; Helen Wilson, '30, corresponding secretary; Janice Davis, '31, recording secretary; Georgia Bostwick, '30, treasurer; Janice Wagner, '31, assistant treasurer; Marian Tifft, '30, chaplain; Eleanor Wood, '31, marshal; Natalie Ousley, '30, historian; Eleanor Hubbard, '31, alumni secretary; and Elzada Fiske, '30, social chairman.

Alpha Xi Delta held its pledge dance Friday night at the fraternity rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dean and Prof. and Mrs. George Kidder acted as chaperones. Music was furnished by Frank Flagg's orchestra.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Alpha Chi Omega held its pledge dance at the Elks rooms Saturday evening with Joe Lechnyr's Vermonters furnishing the music. Prof. and Mrs. D. B. Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Strong chaperoned.

KAPPA DELTA

Kappa Delta danced Saturday evening at the Phi Chi rooms on Church Street. Rexy's Blue Jackets furnished the music and Prof. and Mrs. L. L. Briggs and Dr. and Mrs. K. C. McMahon chaperoned.

SIGMA GAMMA

Sigma Gamma held its pledge dance at the rooms Saturday evening with Captain and Mrs. Lauer and Prof. and Mrs. J. A. Bullard as chaperones. The music was by Beaupre's orchestra.

EPSILON SIGMA

Epsilon Sigma gave a tea in honor of Miss Maude Patrick on her birthday Saturday afternoon.

The sorority pledge dance was at the Nu Sigma Nu rooms, Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dean and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hartwell were the chaperones.

NOTICES

A meeting of A. I. E. E. will be held at 4 p.m. in the Williams Science Hall, Wednesday, March 20. An illustrated lecture on "Induction Motors" will be given.

A social meeting of the Press Club will be held next Friday afternoon, March 15, at 4.00 o'clock. The place and hostesses will be announced later by Florence McKenzie, the social chairman.

THE CAMPUS CRUSHER
A light-weight soft felt hat may be rolled up and carried in your pocket when not in use.
Various Shades
$1.50
HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

Local Reserve Officers Give C[illegible]

(Continued [illegible])

Mr. McCuen's letter to Colonel Black follows:

Colonel F. F. Black
222 So. Union St.
Burlington, Vermont
Dear Colonel Black:

I am sending [illegible] of the Reserve Officers desire to present to the Vermont R. O. T. C. [illegible] will find it suitable.

Those of us who served in the World War as Reserve officers continue to take an interest in the Organized Reserve of the United States Army, in order that the National Defense Act passed in June, 1920 may continue to function an adequate system of National Defense. The Officers' Organized Reserve appreciates the Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University of Vermont established as a part of [illegible] and in order to [illegible] of the members of the faculty of the University, we are glad to [illegible] cup for any use that the Commanding Officer of the Military Department at the University of Vermont may see fit to make of it, and [illegible] help to stimulate interest in and assist you in your work of training in the R. O. T. C. at the University.

With personal regards [illegible]

Very sincerely yours,

R. S. McCuen

LEADING TOURNEY SCORERS

Name	Team	[illegible]	[illegible]
Hopkins,	Springfield	15	3
Johnson,	Hartford	13	1
Falzarano,	Hartford	11	6
Lovell,	Springfield	10	2
Regione,	Hartford	8	5

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
ESTABLISHED 1896 QUALITY LABOR SERVICE
LANGROCK
FINE CLOTHES
NEW HAVEN, CONN.
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

Have you chosen your work in the field of health service?
The Harvard University School—the oldest [illegible] connected with any university in the United States—offers [illegible] balanced courses in [illegible] dentistry. All modern facilities for practical work [illegible] of men high in the profession.
Write for details and requirements to Leroy M. S. Miner, Dean
Harvard University Dental School
Longwood, Ave. Boston, Mass.

THE LENDING LIBRARY has a special
REFERENCE SECTION
WHICH CONTAINS BOOKS FOR OUTSIDE READING RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VERMONT, FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1929 — NUMBER 41

VERMONT DEBATERS DEFEAT NORWICH 2-1

Catamounts Take the Measure of the Cadets in Debate on the Abolition of the Jury System

VERMONTERS ARE FAR SUPERIOR TO HORSEMEN

...ent, in the person of a fair ... of students, was cheered last ... evening by a neat one-point ... Norwich. The Horsemen ... resplendent in natty dress re... with gold braid and medal-cov... ...sts, while the Green and Gold ... themselves, perforce, with ... in black and white. The au... was one of the most difficult ... It had to be aroused—and types ... could not do this. But before ... debate was over they were awake. ... Andrews, a new man and ... on the one hand, and Husband, ... and Gibson, on the other, were ... who carried on the debate ... judges who rendered the two to ... decision were Principal John E. ... of Burlington High School, ... H S Knight of Burlington and ... Rev H. C. Bennett of Williston ... Leon W. Dean presided.

The debate, which followed the Ox... system, combining construction ... rebuttal, after the chairman's in... tion and preliminary compli... ...seemed at first little above high-... caliber. The first speaker, F. A. ..., a debater of considerable ex... ..., proceeded to open the case ... the affirmative. After carefully ... the question: "Resolved, that ... American jury system should be ...ished," and explaining it, he began ... arguments. His speaking, though ... first somewhat hesitant, rapidly be... more assured as he warmed to ... subject. He made one nice little ... upon words. "This system," he ..., "is more than ripe; it is a little ... ripe."

R F Husband, Norwich's best de... countered for the negative with ... few minutes of point-by-point rebut... with constructive arguments. One ...ld tell that he was an old debater, ...d up to the tricks of the trade, one ... which is to stretch the truth as ... as possible without making an ...al misstatement. His whole bear... was superior.

Andrews, participating in his first ...ent varsity debate, acquitted him... well. His style and manner of ...ing, though of the older school, ... excellent, and his speech was ... smooth as he replied to the argu... of the negative. Occasionally ... phraseology, though mellifluous, ... obscure.

The second speaker for Norwich, Mr. ..., a man of upstanding military ... quoted the old song "Don't ... My Boy to Norwich" in a fairly ... effort to cheer up the crowd ... also had had experience of old ... Sears, and knowing what to ex... ...fited unusually well the argu... of the preceding speaker. All ...guments were good, although ...ponents and others might find ... of doubtful veracity. His au... though, were very good, and ...nally well quoted.

...ge R. Nelson, a debater of pe... effective personal style, was ... the strongest, both in argu... and methods, of any of the ... that evening. He opened by ... a really good Irish joke, known ... "Tombstone Case." He pre... all his arguments in the same ... way. It was during his speech ... audience first laughed, and ... was strong while he was ...g. He closed his speech with ...ful résumé.

...inish the case for the negative, ..., a fairly good debater, next ... the floor. Although he spoke ...ly, and brought up many argu... his speech was spoiled by two ... He constantly repeated what ... his colleagues had already said, ... made the double-arm sower's ... 6½ times by actual count ...ing Vermont's case, Sears, who ...d the first time but ten minutes, ... the other speakers had fifteen, ...efuted his opponents' principal

(Continued on page 6)

"SALT IS GOOD," SAYS REV. THORPE IN CHAPEL

"Salt is good, have salt in yourself" said the Rev Mr Walter Thorpe of Brandon in chapel Wednesday morning. Since time immemorial, salt has been a physical necessity. Among the Arabs, salt is a symbol of fidelity and protection DaVinci, in his famous painting of the Lord's Supper, pictured Judas as just having tipped over a dish of salt. When Jesus was preaching to his disciples, he said, "Ye are the salt of the earth. But if the salt hath lost its savour, wherewith shall it be salt?"

Salt protects, cleanses, purifies. As we are true to duty and interpret life aright bringing joy and pleasure into the world thereby, we are, by common experience, living in an upright manner

"Salt is good Have salt in yourself"

COACH GARDNER CUTS BASEBALL SQUAD TO 29

Several Lowerclassmen Furnish Large Part of Varsity Material — Squad Will Probably Remain Intact Until Next Month

Twenty-nine men remain on the baseball squad after the cut made by Coach Gardner Wednesday night. This makes the number of applicants for berths on the varsity pretty large, and without a doubt the list will be slashed again before the season is over. The men who are on the squad now will probably remain there until after the trip south

As a whole, the squad does not compare with the team that represented the Green and Gold last year but as it is too early in the season to see definitely how the nine will develop after it gets outdoors, it is pretty doubtful as to whether it will come up to the standard set by the teams of former years or not

The nine took a beating last spring when they lost ten of their first string men, including the two leading pitchers, Moriarty and Schoppe, by graduation, and as a result the present crew is somewhat green and needs experience However there is some really good material. Captain "Cal" Macomber and "Wis" Howard, two of the heavy stickers of last season have put in their appearance and several freshmen have shown a good deal of class. The squad has one advantage in that it is composed, for the most part, of men from the two lower classes, with a few juniors and seniors thrown in, and with the help of some of the coming classes, Vermont should be represented by a crack ball team in the future.

Following is a list of the men who have survived the cut: Sargent, Rubthowski, Stevenson, Wood, Cummings, Kendricks, Foster, Pfenning, McBride, Lang, Macomber, Stroh, Young, Traynor, Towne, McKay, Dinniman, Carrigan, O'Keefe, Wynant, Jay, Howard, Grant, Wetheral, Scharman, Morse, Halligan, Kendall and Kersey.

RIFLE TEAM WINS THIRD PLACE IN N. E. MATCHES

Vermont rifle team is third in the official rating for New England colleges, surpassed only by Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Norwich University Norwich's score was only three points higher than that of Vermont, scoring 7,268 to 7,265 for Vermont out of a possible 8,000 By virtue of her placing third, Vermont will undoubtedly fire in the national matches which will be held soon This is only the second year that Vermont has ever qualified for the national matches

Next Saturday at 2.30 p.m., the rifle team will fire a shoulder to shoulder match with Norwich Everyone interested is invited to come Vermont stands a good chance of winning the undoubtedly close match, since Norwich, only scored three points higher in the New England Corps Matches Vermont's team will be made up of Captain Ball, Manager Wardwell, Bruce, Joslyn, and Wright. Manager Wardwell is the high point man on the team.

PHILOSOPHERS' CLUB TRIES EXPERIMENT

John Dewey Club Discusses Questions of College Life, Life After Death, Morality and Sex, Among Others

NO PROFESSOR PRESENT AT DISCUSSION MEETING

One of the most interesting meetings that has been held by the John Dewey Club this year was held last Tuesday evening March 12 at the Vermonters' Club house The meeting was an experiment and turned out successfully Students discussed various problems of great interest and propounded their own personal philosophies of life. While the attendance at the meeting was not as large as at some of the meetings of the club, yet there was a large group there and everyone had the opportunity to talk with the result that a fairly comprehensive crosssection of student opinion on many subjects has been secured

The first subject which was discussed was What is a judicious combination of social life, class work and independent work in College? One student maintained that students should go out for all of these things, with scholarship as the nucleus of all activity Another held that independent work would be more beneficial for the future, that the social life must be developed, and that classroom work ranked third Classroom work came first, according to the opinion of another, since that it is what the student is in college for One considered that since most students are average that the classroom work determined the rest of their work But classroom work can be over-emphasized, declared another If a student goes into a class to "crack an A" he will be apt to take the professor's ideas entirely and do no independent thinking of his own One student thought that classroom work was a stimulus for outside activity A boy or girl goes to college to get set on the right track, and does independent thinking along with that One woman thought that it was impossible to place classroom work above everything else, since classroom work grew out of individual effort It was held that a college education serves to create a personality, but it was also held that some of our greatest thinkers had no personality at all Many men have never gone to college at all and yet have made great successes of themselves They studied in their own field Consequently it was concluded that independent work came first, with classroom work and social activity second

What is your attitude toward life after death" was the second question which was discussed The first opinion that was given was that there is a physical immortality only "We live on in our children" The soul was contained in the seed and expressed itself in the immortality of the race One held the idea that soul consisted of a world consciousness A person builds up a personality in this life and this personality is not lost at death One student declared he was a materialist and so believed in no souls at all An intelligent person has no need of the soul, he thought For the masses the soul was necessary since such a conception guided their conduct in this life One thought that "soul is a ridiculous term" We are and we die

Interpretation of the "moral border line" was the next problem discussed A paper on this subject was read by one of the students He declared that to his way of thinking "good is the fullest realization of the powers of a thing Good refers, he said, to the greatest aggregate of good Education was the means by which that which was good could be learned The individual is after all the judge of what is good or bad and he should consequently be guided by true knowledge The speaker said that drinking was bad since in that the evil overbalanced the good, smoking in moderation did no harm; and magazines, joke books, movies, of a salacious nature, were

(Continued on page 6)

VERMONT STUDENTS ON EPISCOPAL COMMITTEE

Charles Marc '30 Harvey Bethel '31 and Edna Herridon '29 are on the committee from St. Paul's Young People's Fellowship, to take charge of the Student Lenten offering of the Episcopalian students of this college Leonard Little '29 is the representative from U V M

The object of this offering is to raise enough money to place a student chaplain at the University of South Dakota in the Missionary District of the state and to provide for his support until the work is well started To this end it is hoped that at least $5,000 will be given this year. This offering is being organized in all the colleges and universities in the United States and it is expected that the Episcopalian students at Vermont will contribute generously to this worthy cause. Since Lent is essentially the period in the year when a definite sacrifice of pleasures is most appropriate this opportunity for usefulness is being afforded college students

DEADLINE SET FOR ALL CONTRIBUTIONS TO TRI-STATE LIT. COMPETITION

Judges of Contest Will Consider No Manuscript After Tonight —English Department to Judge Locally

Manuscripts for the Tri-State Literary Contest handed in after midnight tonight will not be considered by the judges As yet there have not been many contributions but more are expected to come in at the last minute

Although this is only the fourth year of the contest, Vermont has managed to capture several prizes every year

In the first contest Vermont students won one first prize one second, and one third; the second year two firsts, two seconds, and one third, last year, the third in the contest, one first, and tied for two other firsts. This record is better than that of any other contestants

The manuscripts will be judged here before being sent in to the finals There will be a few eliminations and only the three poems the three essays and the three short stories judged to be the best will be sent in Members of the English Department will act as local judges

It is not known who the final judges will be but each must be an authority in his line whether poetry essays or short stories

The results of the contest will probably not be known until the last of May

R. O. T. C. BAND BANQUET IS HEARTILY ENJOYED

Thursday afternoon, the R O T C Band held its annual Smoker in the band room at Converse Hall There were plenty of smokes and eatables for everyone and all had a fine time Captain Rattan and Sergeant Lindsay superintended the food which included sandwiches, pickles, cake ice cream and coffee and they were heartily cheered for their very successful efforts.

There was a big surprise for everyone when a huge cake was brought in the gift of Mrs F R Wells to the band The cake stood more than a foot high and was elaborately decorated with green and gold At the top stood a minature band of eight tiny soldiers with a leader After being displayed and photographed the cake was found by the band to taste fully as good as it looked It was voted to have one of the members send a vote of thanks to Mrs Wells for her gift

Sometime after Easter the R O T C Band will make a trip to Montreal

The seniors are now studying material law and its applications and uses

SWIFT ISSUES FIRST DEAN'S HONOR ROLLS

Sets Precedent by Including All Students in Arts College With an Average of B or Better

137 STUDENTS PLACED ON SPECIAL HONOR LIST

Elijah Swift acting Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences has made public an official list of all students attaining an average of B or better on the last semester Only students of the Arts College who are not enrolled in the Teacher Training Curriculum are included in the list In averaging an A is counted at 95 per cent B as 85 per cent C as 75 per cent D as 65 per cent An A average means no grade below A

Dean Swift has set a precedent in publishing this list Another list will soon be issued from the President's office which will be counted as the official Honor List To place on the Honor List a student must have no grade below B in any subject

The Dean's list by classes is as follows

1929

Marion Baldwin Catherine Bassett Alice Bellmore A R Burchard Lydia Blodgett, Lucille Bonnelle Genevieve Burke Charlotte Cleveland Elizabeth Collins Dorothy Cottrell R H Curtiss, Mary Davis Helen Dean, Margaret Dexter Marion Everest Theresa Grace P D Hammond S G Hanson (A average) Bertha Hazen Constance Holden Miriam Ellerson Thelma Kinder Bertha Klein Gladys Kyle Esperanza Langher Mattie Lee M A Lucland Margaret Mahoney Ruth Moore T H Morton Esther Nelson F F O'Keefe C Owens B F Palmer (A average) W W Parker (A average) K Price Thelma Price Minerva Risdon (A average) G W Stiff Bettie Upton Mildred Whitney Irene Withers N C Wood, R F Young

1930

P Bacon F S Bird H K Berryland Georgia Bostwick F O Bonde, Pauline Partridge Belle Church Lillian Colgan A S Conlin T C Crawford, Ella Cummings Alice Dean, Doris Dupont Anne Edmunds, Edith Fishman Phoebe Flint Eva Harris Beverly Hemenholdert Harriet Howard Susan Howard M B Jones H Macomber (A average) Irene Marcotte, I M Monroe Magdelena Orvis E H Powell, F V Rich Joyce Richardson Annette Rosenberg Cora Sargent P T Scatarina F A Sears N L Spartanow R L Stewart Anna Tracy, Evelyn Trask, Mary Waddell

1931

R B Aiken Dorothy Brazee, G Brush Jane Corwin E J Desautels E A Gutmann C W Knapp Ruth Lamson L Lasman Esther Mandigo Dorothy Nash G R Nelson, E B Rand, J J Reedy Margaret Rice *Hilda Smith, Constance Stone J D Vander Jean Wappler, T Webster, Sara Wescott R E Wilson

1932

S B Barker Edna Blackwood, C K Bush, Charlotte Carpenter, Verna Carrier, Lorine Clark, H F Conner Mary Dalton E Grammarelli, Mildred Gile F R Hackett Rosetta Harlow Lucy Hope F W Hosmer, holder Jr., Caroline Howard Crystal Lawson A A Marsden Mary Mandigo Elizabeth Mosher, Katherine Mann, *Roberta Powers H H Silverman, F M Stevenson H J Varney, Mary Wareing

*Having less than 15 hours

While the records of the following students are incomplete, the grades so far reported warrant provisional inclusion in this list

1929

Lenore Aldinger R Alpert Doris Claflin (A average) Genevieve Hook (A average) E B Waterman, Dorothy Wheatley (A average)

1930

Mabel Freeman, Ethel Heller

(Continued on page 6)

NOMINATES CANDIDATES TO HEAD STUDENT UNION

[illegible] Student Union [illegible] in the Fletcher [illegible] nominations were made of the following [illegible] for president of Student Union: Dorothy Parker, Rhoda Penn, Mary Brownell, Esther Goodrich, and Beverly Howe [illegible] all of the class of 1930. The W. S. A. Executive [illegible] Dorothy Parker, Rhoda Penn and Beverly Howe [illegible] the Union today and tomorrow for these offices and for the president of W. S. A. Association [illegible] were given [illegible] the conference of New England Co-ed Student Unions to be held at Colby College, Waterville, Me. Delegates will be elected next Monday. [illegible] the proposed changes [illegible] the constitution, and the final form is being voted upon today and tomorrow.

[illegible] business meeting, Miss [illegible] Parker of the English department gave an illuminating talk on the Professional work which the girls [illegible] and along. They hope to establish a Personnel Bureau at U. V. M. to be of service to the field of vocational guidance. W. H. Fraser '32, Aladdin, the magician, performed tricks of magic and slight of hand, before a delighted audience. At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served and the crowd retired off the evening with songs and cheers, under the leadership of Ketabel Perelman, '30, and dancing to the music of a snappy [illegible].

Honors and Honoraries

And now beginneth the annual outcropping of little gold keys dangling from the watch chains of budding active gentlemen. Nary a General Manager or President of this and that but what will flaunt from one to 'steen key symbols of excellence in deportment, scholarship, fellowship, or straight pull. And numerous indeed will be the student reactions to this display of laurels—from the envious awe of the first year men to the disdain of those who abhor such "Kiwanian spirit."

About this time there also arrives the gentle suggestions by both the hopeless and the disillusioned that honoraries are needless and a curse to student welfare. Other colleges have conducted campaigns against the general prolificness of such fraternities with more or less success; it was once tried here, with total failure as the result. But that is not our object at this writing. For to be sure no little good comes from these honoraries, and not a little better is the Institute for [illegible] them; but who can say definitely that this good is not outweighed by [illegible] faults?

No. They are here and probably here to stay for a long time. Abolishing [illegible] Spring is a new delegation problem at their early disposal. They [illegible] look beautiful and they may often [illegible] as though they would snap the [illegible] with the slightest additional weight, but how can they be ruled to [illegible] offices that few have earned [illegible] years of hard work and they [illegible] dear boy of yours [illegible] a plain investment of [illegible] approximating a hundred dollars [illegible] to mention the extra fifty [illegible] and support from. Hence [illegible] sooner than the [illegible] would [illegible] Dean [illegible] M [illegible]

Due to the [illegible] results of the Easter concert and the Vesper service the reception which have been held every Sunday at Battell will be temporarily discontinued.

The sophomore class play, "The Man in the Bowler Hat," was presented at the Main [illegible], Tuesday, March [illegible]

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

HARVARD ACCEPTS GIFT TO BEGIN "HOUSE PLAN"

In the next three years American [illegible] will [illegible] startling [illegible]

Harvard hopes to master one of the great problems of present education—how to combine the rich educational opportunities of a large university with the stimulating social and intellectual [illegible] of a small college.

It is to this end that the university has accepted from Edward S [illegible] of New York [illegible] Memorial [illegible] the gift of more than $11,000,000.

The problem facing Harvard is similar to that faced by all large American universities in recent years. Grown to enormous proportions, with thousands of students registered for [illegible], such universities have found it difficult to preserve the close contacts and stimulating atmosphere of the smaller college.

On the other hand, they have been able to offer the student a wider range of educational benefits through the presence on the faculties of leading scholars and scientists, and through spacious and well-equipped buildings, libraries and laboratories.

It is called the "house plan" and its ultimate purpose will be to make the college more interesting and more enjoyable for the student. After one year together as freshmen in the dormitories of the old Harvard yard, the students in Harvard College will be split into six or seven groups or "houses" for the remaining three years of their college course.

In these houses, to be located in finely appointed groups of buildings to be erected with the Harkness gift, the student will dwell in closer contact with a much smaller group of students than under the present system. He will take his meals at his house, sharing living accommodations and scholastic interests with his housemates. In addition, he will be brought in closer touch with older men having definite scholastic attainments by means of a system of resident tutors in each house.

STUDENTS WORK WAY THROUGH BY STUDYING

Stevens Institute of Technology will conduct a notable experiment in education which is tantamount to paying students to attend sessions, according to a statement by Dr. Harvey Nathaniel Davis, president of the University.

The plan provides for a "sliding scale tuition," by which exceptional students may get a refund on their tuition at the close of each semester.

A hypothetical example of the scheme in actual practice was cited by the speaker:

"The highest grade man enters college in September and pays $300, as all are required to do before their first semester. In the middle of the year he gets a $300 remission which [illegible] up his tuition for that year. In the sophomore year, if he is up at the top of his class he gets the $600 remission and pays nothing. In the junior year there are two chances to win complete remission, and in the senior year three. So that the top all-round man in his class may work his way through college by working at the college work and by the end of his course may have earned a $2,400 education for $300 in addition to being something and somebody around the college while there," he said.

Mr. Oscar: "Come out some time with your wife and meet my wife."
Mr. Wilde: "I haven't any wife."
Mr. Oscar: "Well, come out anyway and meet the maid."

Would Vote To Re-elect This Smoke

So. Richmond, Va.
July 25, 1928

Larus & Brother Co.,
Richmond, Va.

Gentlemen:

As a constant user of EDGEWORTH Tobacco for the past four years, I can say I have enjoyed the comforts and pleasure of the World's Finest Tobacco. If EDGEWORTH were running for re-election, here is one more vote for it. Its uniform quality is the outstanding feature and I recommend it highly. The EDGEWORTH Club hour over WRVA is highly pleasing and helps to form a good combination.

Fraternally yours,
(Signed) Franklin Montgomery

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

OFFER FELLOWSHIPS TO MANY VERMONT GRADS

The University of Vermont offers many scholarships to its students each year to the graduates as well as the undergraduates. Almost all of these are listed in the catalogue where they can be easily referred to.

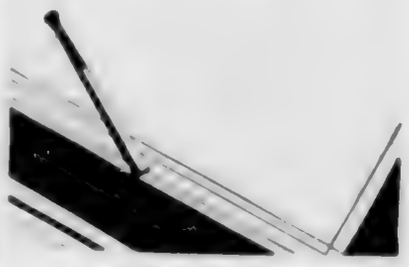
Students who expect to graduate this year and who wish to follow studies [illegible] be interested in the financial aid offered in the way of scholarships and fellowships in a number of institutions.

The most generous scholarship to which a newly graduated student may expect appointment are the research scholarships established for the University of Vermont which offer $750 and $500 a year with exemption from tuition, and a moderate amount of [illegible]. However almost all institutions offering graduate work have a number of fellowships and scholarships available. Anyone thinking of further study would do well to discuss with a professor the institutions best suited to his needs and write directly for information about scholarship assistance. Many institutions have sent notices to this University, and these are on file in the Dean's office where they may be consulted. From time to time announcements of summer schools are sent in from various institutions and these are also filed in the Dean's office.

Realistic Debating

Debate, that chronic invalid among college activities, may be eventually rescued from the dry formalism of the debate coaches by those who are interested in subject matter first and the technique of public speaking only incidentally. Here and there students are becoming interested in forensics, not as a process of sawing the air with carefully measured gestures and of displaying a bundle of lawyer's tricks, but rather as a means for arriving at the truth of problems that vitally interest the contestants.

Yale's debate team, for instance, will travel to Porto Rico to argue the Platt Amendment with the students of the island university. The Platt Amendment is a living issue in that region and the event will no doubt attract as much attention there as a basketball game does in an American university.



Another unconventional use of oratory is involved in the model leagues of nations that are held in eastern colleges each spring. On February 23 and 24 delegates from fourteen colleges of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey met at Vassar to participate in such a meeting, while in April another meets at Mt. Holyoke to settle the Bolivia-Paraguay boundary dispute.

The Press Club will hold a social meeting at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, March 16, at the Pi Beta Phi rooms. 247 Pearl St. Frances Ferguson, Carolyn Beggs, and Olive Fields, all of the class of '32, will serve as hostesses. At this meeting the officers for the coming year are to be elected.

For many years John Wards have been the college man's shoe. Here you may select, from a variety of styles, those which particularly suit your individual taste.

John Ward
MEN'S SHOES
HAYES & CARNEY
195-7 Bank St., Near Majestic
Open Evenings

CALENDAR

Mar 15.—Debate, Vermont vs. Howard Payne College of Texas, the "Cowboy" Debaters; 8 p.m. in the gym.
Interfraternity Relays: League races; 4.15 p.m. in gym.
Mar 16.—Basketball Hop; 8. p.m. in the gym.
Wrestling Tournament: Preliminaries; 2.15 p.m. in gym.
Interfraternity Relays: 4.15 p.m. in gym.
Rifle Team: Vermont vs. Norwich, shoulder-to-shoulder match; 2.30 p.m.
Fencing Team: Vermont vs. Norwich, 2.30 p.m. in gym annex.
Press Club Meeting: 4 p.m. at Pi Beta Phi rooms.
Mar. 17.—Vesper Services: Irn Allen Chapel at 4 p.m.
Mar. 18.—Spaeight Recital on Pickwick, 8 p.m. in the gym.
Interfraternity Relays: 4.15 p.m. in gym.
Meeting of Vermont Independents: 7 p.m. in Y. M. C. A. office.
Mar. 19.—Wrestling Tournament: Semi-finals; 4.15 p.m. in the gym.
Meeting of Grey Friars: 8 p.m.
Meeting of Eta Sigma Phi: 8 p.m. at Professor Bassett's.
Mar. 20.—A. I. E. E. Meeting: Lecture on "Induction Motors," illustrated; 4 p.m. in Williams Science Hall.
Interfraternity Relays: 4.15 p.m. in gym.
Mar. 21.—Wrestling Tournament: Semi-finals; 4.15 p.m. in gym.
Mar. 22.—Interfraternity Relays: Semi-finals; 4.15 p.m. in gym.

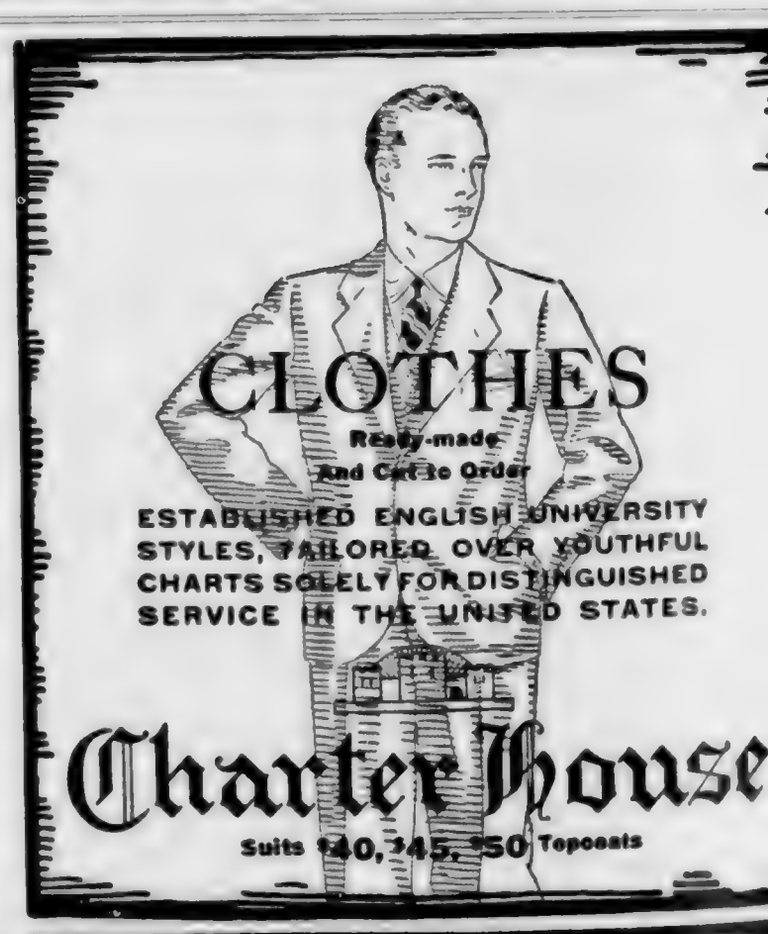
Birth Control?—No, Says Brown

The triangular debate between Wesleyan, Harvard, and Brown, has been indefinitely postponed. It has reached an "impasse." The debaters of Harvard and Brown are now arguing over what the subject should be. Harvard insists that the subject be Birth Control, but Brown replies that its faculty would not approve. Brown suggests that the subject be something pertaining to advertising, but Harvard refuses to accept this question.

"The examinations are formidable even to the best prepared, for the greatest fool may ask more than the wisest man can answer."—Colton.

YALE STUDENTS PREFER PHI BETE TO MAJOR [illegible]

Yale College [illegible] the list of preferences [illegible] class vote recently [illegible] Yale Daily News [illegible] Kappa key to a [illegible] sports, incline [illegible] their favorite [illegible] and in answer to [illegible] man, now living [illegible] cast a tie vote for [illegible] Lindbergh and [illegible] believe English to be [illegible] subject, and psychology [illegible] uable.



Seniors of the [illegible] School, according [illegible] nouncement, voted to [illegible] President-elect Herbert [illegible] Col. Lindbergh as their [illegible] figure, prefer a [illegible] Xi, and hold Princeton [illegible] ite college next to Yale. [illegible] of favorites in various [illegible] d'Artagnan in fiction, Napoleon [illegible] history; "The Three Musketeers" among novels; Dumas among authors; "If" among poems; Tennyson among poets. The [illegible] the Republican Party and the [illegible] ocratic Party by a vote of [illegible]

VERMONT RIFLEMEN TO FACE CADET MARKSM[illegible]

Tomorrow, Saturday, the [illegible] of Vermont rifle team will engage Norwich team in a shoulder-to-shoulder match on the Vermont [illegible] 2.30 in the afternoon. All [illegible] terested are invited to attend. It will undoubtedly be an interesting match. In the First Corps Area Matches, Norwich, in gaining [illegible] place, was only three points [illegible] than Vermont, who placed third [illegible] was out of a total of eight [illegible] points. Wardwell, Ball, Bruce, [illegible] and Wright will fire for Vermont.

The week of March 2 Vermont [illegible] a match with Washington Univ. which was won by the former [illegible] score of 3,464 to 3,403. In the [illegible] scores available for last week, Vermont scored 3,526 to 3,538 for Mich. State.

A colored laborer doing a [illegible] job was informed that he could get his money until he submitted a statement. After much meditation [illegible] evolved the following bill: "[illegible] comes and three goes at four [illegible] went—$3."

BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT
OUR STORE IS THE
Charter House
OF BURLINGTON

The character of the suits and topcoats tailored by Charter House will earn your most sincere liking.

MILES & PERRY CO.
"Quality Clothiers"
Established 1[illegible]

SPORTING NEWS

SEYMOUR I. NATHANSON, '29
Sporting Editor

CAT'S MEOW

SPORTING EDITOR—

...esn't seem to be much in ... the interfraternity relays. ... out of ten scheduled to ... been settled competitively. ... trouble lies in the rule that ... must have reported for ... sessions to be eligible to ...

...l the boys would like to run ... have no time for practice ... interested enough to report ... days, although they would be ... in the actual races.

...eless, the ruling as it stands ... best for all concerned. Com... racing is too strenuous for ... who is not in condition and ... ary purpose of the relays is to ... students in track. If practice ... interest they are not var... rial.

The Athletic Department of the Uni... is negotiating with another ex... ...ner to assist Coach "Larry" ... with the varsity baseball team ... haps coach a junior varsity.

All-Eastern Intercollegiate Bas... League team has been selected ... coaches of the teams as fol... Schaaf of Penn and Layton of ... forwards; Gregory of Colum... ...nter; Spaeth of Dartmouth and ... of Columbia, guards. Schaaf ... championship Penn quintet and ... high league scorer with 144 ..., breaking the floor goal record ... His choice was unanimous ... starred in the Dartmouth-Ver... game here early in the season. ... and Smith are sophomores, ... latter having played in only eight ... Swarthout and Lewin of Dart... made the second team.

The All-Tournament team selected at the U. V. M. gym Saturday night by the Vermont Officials' Association was not published in the CYNIC be... it is not official. The coaches of the high school teams which par... ...ated are voting by mail for the ... team which will be announced ... as all the returns are in.

Boston University, following the ... ...edent set by the New York ..., will number their baseball ... this season. It is believed that B... is the first college team in the ... try to try out this scheme. It is ... venient idea.

Leading scorers in eastern collegiate ...ball finished as follows: Hyatt ... Pitt 302, Wineapple of Providence ... Glenn of West Virginia 274, and ... of Penn 273.

Boston Bruins established what will ...ubtedly stand as this year's big ... hockey scoring record by de... ...g the Chicago Blackhawks 11 to ... Tuesday. The Bruins thus are as... ...d of first place in the American ... ...on of the league. Lane of Dart... ...th and Owen of Harvard are with ... Bostonians.

Speaking of hockey, "Hay" Booma ... ...ceeds the great "Molly" Bott as ... ...mouth hockey captain. "Molly" ... best college goalie in the busi... this year. Booma played a de... and was an end on last fall's ... team.

...rwich lost only three baseball ... last year and their outlook is ... Practice is going on in the ...ch "stable" until ground condi... are favorable for outdoor prac...

The 33rd annual Boston A. A.-Na... A. A. U. American Marathon ...pionship Race which will be held ... 19 from Hopkinton to Boston, a ... of 26 miles 385 yards, will ... Clarence DeMar, O. T. Wood, and ... Davis, Vermont alumni, running ... the colors of the Vermont Alum... ... DeMar is a perennial favorite ... race and O. T. Wood who fin... 11th last year is expected to do ... better this spring.

Oldest Freshman

The University of Chicago claims ... record of having the oldest fresh... enrolled. This one is 72 years of ...

THREE INTERFRAT RELAY RACES RUN TO DATE

Out of the first 10 scheduled races of the interfraternity relays, only three were run off to date. One of these took place Monday and the other two Wednesday. Four combats were forfeited and the remaining three were postponed.

On Monday the Kappa Sigma quartet defeated Sigma Phi. On Wednesday Zeta Chi beat the Sigma Alpha Epsilon runners and Sigma Phi conquered Delta Psi.

Phi Delta Theta forfeited to Alpha Tau Omega, Tau Epsilon Phi forfeited to Phi Mu Delta, Phi Sigma Delta forfeited to Sigma Nu and Phi Mu Delta forfeited to Kappa Sigma.

The Independents were dropped from League I which necessitates the revision of the League I schedule. This will be announced later. The Lambda Iota-Phi Delta Theta match was postponed.

Results: Kappa Sigma (Jay, Woodward, F. H., LeBourneau, Woodward, A. E.) beat Sigma Phi (Ottley, Hopson, Billings, Morse), time 2 m., 55.3 sec. Zeta Chi (Cross, Demund, Andrews, Bove) beat Sigma Alpha Epsilon (Crockett, Park, Colburn, Wilder), time 3 m., 2.4 sec. Sigma Phi (Hopson, Morse, R. L., Billings, Morse, B. R.) beat Delta Psi (DeWitt, Weston, Cobb, Jenks), time 3 m., 4 sec.

The remaining league races will take place today, Monday and Wednesday. All the races scheduled for tomorrow will be run off today instead. The semi-finals are scheduled for March 22 and the final event for March 25.

INTERFRAT TRACK MEET EVENTS FOR NEXT WEEK

Twelve events will compose the interfraternity track meet scheduled for Saturday, March 23. The meet will start at 1.30 p.m. and will include the following events. 30-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, one-mile run, two-mile run, 30-yard high hurdles, 30-yard low hurdles, running broad jump, running high jump, shot put, pole vault, hammer throw.

The exact order of these events will be posted on the bulletin board before next Saturday.

In these events no fraternity may enter more than three men in any one event. As in the relays all letter men will be barred from participation.

Relay points will be counted toward the winning of this meet.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The following girls are in charge of the Practice House this week; hostess, Lorraine Owens, '29; assistant hostess, Jacqueline Lanou, '29; cook, Helen Wilson, '30; assistants, Agnes Shaw, '31, and Ruth Spear, '31, and freshman member, Helen LeBaron, '32.

Beginning last Friday the juniors were vaccinated for small pox and received their first innoculation of paratyphoid germs as a protection against typhoid fever. The innoculations, which will continue for two more Fridays, are a preparation for this summer's encampment at Fort Devens.

There will be a meeting of Eta Sigma Phi Tuesday, March 19, at eight o'clock at the home of Professor Bassett, 295 S. Prospect St. Initiation of the new members will take place.

Washington University numbers among its students fifty Russian exiles. They were at one time members of the White Army.

"Oh, girls," gurgled little Hortense as she dashed ecstatically into the speak-easy, "I was almost hit by a Rolls-Royce just now."—Blue Jay.

"Jim claims he's coming back to teach."

"He always said he'd take a vacation after graduation."

BEST COAL AND SERVICE

Elias Lyman Coal Company
206 College Street

FRESHMEN AND SOPHS TRIM UPPERCLASSMEN IN BASKETBALL MEET

Women of Two Lower Classes Win Out Handily in Co-ed Basketball Tourney Over Seniors and Juniors

Thus far all the games in the women's basketball tournament have been one sided and the games Tuesday evening were no exception. The freshmen defeated the seniors 21-6, and the sophomores won over the juniors 18-8.

In the freshman-senior game, Akins scored from every angle, securing 15 of her team's points. The freshmen have developed excellent passwork and broke up all the plays that the seniors attempted.

SENIORS

	Fls	Gls	Pts
Lanou, f.	1	1	3
Upton, f.	1	1	3
Fiske, g.	0	0	0
Everest, g.	0	0	0
Wheatley, c.	0	0	0
Kinder, s.c.	0	0	0
Corbin, s.c.	0	0	0
Totals	2	2	6

FRESHMEN

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
Akins, f.	1	7	15
Fields, f.	0	2	4
Miller, g.	0	0	0
Gay, g.	0	0	0
Lundin, c.	0	0	0
Mount, sc.	0	0	0
Freeman, f.	0	1	2
Mandigo, g.	0	0	0
Graham, f.	0	0	0
Humphries, c.	0	0	0
Totals	1	10	21

The first half of the junior-sophomore game ended 6-6 for the sophomores. The sophomores came back to their usual good form in the second half to defeat the juniors by a wide margin. Abbott, regular guard and captain, manager of the sophomore team, took a forward berth for the last few minutes and scored five points for her team.

JUNIORS

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
Dailey, f.	2	3	8
Parry, f.	0	0	0
Bostwick, g.	0	0	0
Bosley, g.	0	0	0
Perelman, c.	0	0	0
Richardson, s.c.	0	0	0
Taylor, f.	0	0	0
Parry, g.	0	0	0
Totals	2	3	8

SOPHOMORES

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
Johnstone, f.	1	1	3
Wright, f.	0	2	4
Abbott, g.	0	0	0
Wappler, g.	0	0	0
Buck, c.	0	0	0
Warhurst, s.c.	0	0	0
Taylor, c.	0	0	0
Rogers, s.c.	0	0	0
Chadburn, f.	0	0	0
Abbott, f.	1	2	5
Totals	2	8	18

Ambitious Faculty

Members of the faculty of the University of California wrote 1,223 books, articles, and reviews during 1927-28.

1929
BASEBALL SUPPLIES
NOW ON SALE
AT
L. P. WOOD'S
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

Cribbing!

Met a poet guy the other day who was kicked out of Harvard College for cribbing.

He looked on the examination paper of the man in front of him and stole his idea.

You see, Harvard College doesn't think it's right to steal that way. When you do your stealing you want to be a bit cleverer than that.

When I first came to Harvard College I had the funny idea they might like an original idea now and then. I got that beaten out of me.

In this college there is just ONE right idea in every course. And that is the PROFESSOR'S idea. The professor's idea has been cribbed out of other books.

Now all you have to do is to read the book the professor's idea is in, step that down and receive a mark.

As long as you have a good memory and can remember the other man's idea you stay in. If you don't have a good memory and have to refer to notes or look over someone's shoulder you get out. And that's culture.—Harvard Lampoon.

Ten Years Ago at Vermont

The medics put on one of their famous smokers, featured this time by music of many sorts. Half a dozen orchestras, quartets, duos, trios, brass bands, soloists, singsters, enlivened the evening. This was the baseball pep smoker as the baseball season was then but a month or so off. The customary smoker speakers were present.

Vermont scored "Stumpy" Murch as baseball coach.

The Senior Class got their individual pictures in the Ariel, with honors and grind, the same as the Juniors. No Ariel had been permitted the previous year.

Kake Walk proceeds unusually large.

Twenty Years Ago at Vermont

Delta Mu Medics won Briggs Cup and large cake for their stunt called "Dr. Fulcumall Osteowalk, in a Series of Wonderful and Soul-raising Cures." This was a clever take-off on osteopathy and its methods. Touching scenes that brought forth thunders of laughter and clever acting were some of its high points. Dow and Burrage won the Kake Walking, and Basso and Stone the Peerade.

Candidates for baseball gave great promise.

Clarence DeMar (V. U.) won Boston Armory A. C.'s ten-mile cross country run, his third race. Previously he had run in two college races only.

W. A. A. HOLD ANNUAL BASKETBALL BANQUET

The annual basketball banquet sponsored by W. A. A. will be held at Robinson Hall Tuesday, March 19. There will be speeches by prominent members of W. A. A. The members of the varsity team will be chosen and basketballs awarded to them.

All members of class basketball teams are cordially invited to attend and are requested to sign up on the W. A. A. bulletin board in the "Y" room.

THE CAMPUS CRUSHER

A light-weight soft felt hat may be rolled up and carried in your pocket when not in use.

Various Shades

$1.50

HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

NEW HAVEN HOSPITAL RECEIVES LARGE GIFT

A gift of $ ... for a new medical and pediatrics laboratory to be used as a dispensary and service unit on the grounds of the New Haven Hospital, which is affiliated with the Yale School of Medicine, has been received from the General Education Board of New York City by President James Rowland Angell of Yale University.

Six stories in height, the dispensary and service unit will become the center of the modern group which is gradually replacing the old buildings on the grounds of the New Haven Hospital. The new medical and pediatrics laboratory will contain offices, examining and treatment rooms, research laboratories and teaching facilities for internal medicine and the diseases of children, comparable to those afforded surgery, obstetrics and gynecology in the Kinney Memorial Building, just completed a few months ago.

The gift of the new laboratory and the central unit is the third recently received for hospital and medical school buildings, and it brings the amount available for new construction to $4 [illegible]. The gift of $1,500,000 for the Institute of Human Relations building was announced last week and the completion of the Joseph Pratt Memorial Building with 200 beds at a cost of $ [illegible] is to be commenced within a few weeks.

DELTA PSI FRATERNITY HAS ANNUAL INITIATION

At its seventy-ninth annual initiation, held last Saturday night at the Delta Psi House, Delta Psi formally initiated nine freshmen into membership. Those initiated were: Raymond W. Cobb, Bennington; David D. Hazen, Danville; Edward G. Hurlburt, Bridgeport, Conn.; Robert S. Lusk, Burlington; Thomas R. Marvin, Lyon Mountain, N. Y.; David K. Parker, Essex Junction; Alfred A. Sharbino, New York; Chester M. Lull, Essex Junction; and Paul E. Wesson, Proctor.

After the initiation the fraternity and many alumni enjoyed a banquet served in the Lodge. About 50 were present. The toastmaster was J. E. Colburn, '30, and the speakers were Professor H. F. Perkins, Judge J. H. Macumber, '90, Reverend Frank Hazen, '90, of Danville, Robert Robertson, '29, L. C. Morgan, '28, and G. H. Latimer, '28.

Recently a debate occurred at Edinburgh University between student debating teams of Edinburgh, Scotland, and the University of Oregon, U. S. A. The subject was "That Prohibition of Excisable Liquors is Impracticable." The negative won by a slight majority of the voting audience. A Scottish newspaper is reported as saying, "There is hope when the youth of Scotland is represented by university students of Edinburgh, say that prohibition is practicable."

The Old Bastion

Kayser's Slipper Heel
Pure Silk Hosiery
$1.50 Pair

Popular sheer crepe weight, flattering upper heel. New Spring shades. A stocking that gives remarkable service.

Spring Is Coming

THIS MEANS A RENEWED APPETITE. OR IF A SPRING TONIC IS INDICATED, TRY ORANGE JUICE AND A LETTUCE SANDWICH AT THE

COFFEE CORNER

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

HERRICK M. MACOMBER, '30 — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '30

Managing Editors

Assistant Editors

George R. Brush, '30 — Louis Lesman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc. Editors

Sporting Editor
Seymour I. Nathanson, '30

Asst. Sporting Editors
Lynford M. Foster, '31
Herman D. Gusson, '31
Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor

Intercollegiate Editor
Odino A. Martinetti, '30

Feature Editor
Edward J. Beyor, '30

Art Editor
Leonore Aldinger, '30

Faculty Adviser
Prof. Leon W. Dean

Women's Intercolleg. Editor
Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Pauline Burridge, '30 — Winifred Stone, '31 — E. Henry Powell, '30
Jessie Goodrich, '30 — Margaret Ann Martin, '32 — Charles N. Crockett, '31
Hope Hanaburgh, '32 — Edmour A. R. Germain, '31
Alfred J. Morin, '32 — Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32
William E. Morgan, '32 — Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '30
Business Manager

Advertising Manager
Assistant Manager
Assistant Manager
Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year. Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2938 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editorial Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 402 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication, Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — March 15, 1929 — No. 41

EINSTEIN'S THEORY

The outstanding event of the past month was the announcement of another epoch-making discovery by Professor Albert Einstein. According to press dispatches, Professor Einstein has bridged the gap which has hitherto existed, in scientific knowledge, between the mathematical laws of gravitation and those of electro-dynamics. His new work brings those laws into consonance and enables their treatment from the same standpoint. The new theory has not yet been published, but when it is, its five pages will in all probability give rise to an experimentation and a literature as extensive as that which followed the publication of the three-page statement of his theory of relativity. To the lay mind the new theory will no doubt seem rather special and incomprehensible, like the first. But one need be no more than a layman to experience a sense of awe in contemplating a great mind "voyaging through strange seas of thought alone." The respect inspired by a genius such as Professor Einstein's enlarges one's sense of the dignity of the human spirit. For the layman this will probably be the greatest and for years to come perhaps the only value of his work. Yet its results may eventually prove of practical importance even to the layman. According to one American commentator, the new theory may prepare the way for a discovery of means of overcoming the force of gravitation. If that should happen, its effect upon human life might outdistance the longest flights of the imagination.—The New Student.

WATCHING THE CLOCK

Most students have very efficient clocks—they must have, for if they seldom get twelve hours of effective work every time their clocks move from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., they need to get their clocks examined.

Maybe the clock doesn't manufacture the right kind of hours and minutes?

Maybe there are too many minutes of puttering, too many minutes of gossip, too many minutes of slowed-up study, too many minutes of inefficient work because of inadequate planning, too many minutes of needless mistakes?

Maybe there are too many minutes considering what the professors ought to do considering what you will say to Sue tonight, considering what a fine thing it would be if the University declared a week-end as well as a summer vacation of two or three months, considering whether that book report might not be done next week instead of now?

Maybe there are too many minutes arguing, neglecting, dreaming, sulking, criticizing, shirking, joking, seeking approbation, or going at half speed?

If your clock turns out inferior minutes, have it fixed.

Even if it turns out superior minutes for you, while the clocks of the other students turn out shoddy hours, then somebody is going, sooner or later, to admire your clock, recognize it reward it.

They may put it up on a high mantel for all to see and admire. They may place it on the highest mantle they can find. And you will go with it!

LOST—Dark tortoise-shell rimmed glasses without case, on campus last week. Return to Marion Potter, Robinson Hall. 49 W

Co-eds Hold Fashion Show

Co-eds at California held a fashion show from which males were barred. Starting off with a pajama show (the reason for barring the male element of the University) every sort of gown from negligee to evening wrap was exhibited.

The men's student council at the University of Kentucky has declared that any student under the influence of liquor at a university fuction will be liable to reprimand, suspension or expulsion. A student court has been established to try any such cases with appeal only to the university senate the faculty governing body. The action is taken toward the more effective enforcement of existing "no-drinking" university regulations.

The first American expedition to the Arctic region left Philadelphia in 1753.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

ANSTON'S ILLITERATIVE ONOMATATIC ATLAS

By Allen A. Anston
(Doubledoor Inc., $2.22, 12 mo. 565 pp.)
Reviewed by Publius Villius

This is an excellent book written especially for the Cynic editors. Here follow a few excerpts from this monumental work:

Vermont—Alaverte—Hillmen
Norwich—Apples—Hobbyhorsemen
Debate—Attack—Howl College—Academy—Humor
etc.

This system is followed throughout the book, giving thirty synonyms, beginning with the fifteen commonest letters for every word generally used in writing heads and the like.

An example of the excellent stuff that may be written with the aid of this collection is given below.

In original form:

COLLEGE HUMOR LOSES ITS HOLD IN THE WEST

Changed with aid of Anston's Atlas:

HIGHER-SCHOOL HUMOR HOLDS NO HICK HAHAS

Another example:

Original:

INITIATION AND DINNER BY MASQUE AND SANDAL

Improved:

INITIATION AND EATING BY BIM PLAYERS BUNCH

The improvement in both cases is too obvious for me to trouble to point it out.

For the demonstration of this book's marvelous worth, I will give just one more example.

Before:

FORTY-FIVE CO-EDS
PLEDGED SORORITY

After:

FEMALE FRATS GET
FORTY-FIVE GIRLS

That last illustrates a particular trick, discussed at length in Anston's great work, called double rhythmic alliteration. See how it works? Two F's and a G, two F's and a G. In alliteration with vowels, they need not all be the same vowel (see my second example), although if they are it is even more effective.

All this and more is found in the fifty-page appendix to Anston's Atlas, which gives all known rules and tricks of alliteration and some new ones, invented by himself.

Altogether, this is the greatest work for curious college semi-weeklies ever written. For the good of the nation my friends patronize this work.

I see a great land, happy, prosperous indeed, as lands go. Ah! but what is that I see in the distance—it's coming nearer, it's coming nearer, it's coming nearer—AH, IT IS ON US! My friends let us weep. For verily this had not happened had Cynic editors seen the light, seen the light I say, my friends, and purchased this work that shall reverberate through the mighty eons of time.

Friends, my head is in the basket (waste paper) there with Cynic, and I must pause till it come back to me.

BENNETT AND METCALF DIRECTING REHEARSALS

Rehearsals for the comic opera "Patience" by Gilbert and Sullivan are now going on in earnest preparation for production in the middle of April. Professor Howard G. Bennett, head of the music department, is directing while Professor Metcalf, of the psychology department, is superintending the dramatic part. This is one of the big events put on during the year by the combined men's and women's Glee Clubs. These two groups of singers, together with choir, give also each year a Christmas concert and an Easter concert. The latter will take place March 24 the last Sunday before the Easter vacation. The first portion of the program will be devoted to Lenten music, and the latter half to Easter music. Dr. I. C. Smart will assist with reading the Scriptures.

Next Sunday, March 17, will be the monthly vesper service in the chapel at four o'clock.

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the Cynic:

Lacking the publicity power of P. Lorillard & Co., I take this means of giving a cheer for all those students who worked to make the International Institute a success.

This success is, I feel, and happily, not to be measured by attendance at [illegible].

Those few who heard Ernest Gruening, Doctor Joshi and Mrs. McMullen considered the Institute most worth while.

At best the college student is narrow. The 5 or 6 courses in his particular curriculum absorb him wholly insofar as education is concerned.

Anyone or anything bringing to the student a realization of other and broader interests is highly beneficial to him. And those students who heard the messages of these speakers were brought to a greater understanding of other nations and of our relation to them.

M. I. R., '30.

Walter C. Smith, Jr.

Walter C. Smith, Jr., died last Sunday afternoon at about half past four at the Bishop DeGoesbriand Hospital in this city. He was a member of the Lambda Iota Fraternity and of the sophomore class.

Born in Huntington, W. Va., on February 25, 1908, Mr. Smith originally entered the University of Vermont with the class of 1930. He was forced to leave college shortly after Christmas of that year on account of ill health. The following September on his way here from home he was stricken with appendicitis and had to finish the year at a small college in Huntington. He finally returned to Vermont this year, with the intention of preparing for the study of medicine.

During the latter half of last week, he started to be afflicted with congestion of the lungs. This appeared to be nothing serious at first. By Sunday morning his lungs were almost entirely filled up. He was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition, and thirteen doctors were called upon in the course of the next nine hours in a last effort to save his life. Nothing could be done for him, and he passed away in the late afternoon.

He was a friend to everyone because of his smile and cheery "Hello." A hard-working, well-known, and well-liked young man, he will be mourned by all who knew him. The body was sent to Huntington Monday noon, accompanied by T. H. Morton, '29, and R. W. Hendrick, '31. He is survived by his parents.

PROHIBITION BENEFITS EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

Public school and college statistics, as revealed by federal government figures, show that the educational systems of the United States have been benefited by prohibition, and they show, also, that the increasing number of persons in the schools and colleges afford additional opportunities for the spread of the truth about prohibition, contends Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism.

"School statistics show," says Dr. Cherrington's statement, "that in the college year, 1915-16, a wet year, there were enrolled in the colleges and universities of the United States 164,075 men students and 95,436 women students, a total of 259,511. In the dry college year of 1925-26 there were enrolled 509,732 men and 313,163 women, a total of 822,895, a trebling in a decade.

"A stronger showing is made by setting down the total enrollment of 1912-16, as compared with 1919-26, excluding the war period when many young men and women were abroad. In the wet period the total enrollment was 894,373. In the dry period the total enrollment was 2,173,675, or nearly three times as great, while the population of the country in the same period increased less than 25 per cent. The heavily increased enrollment brought with it a consequent increase in college officials, professors, tutors and employees.

Recently the debating team of M. I. T. chalked up its 14th consecutive victory in two years. George Washington University and Lafayette have been the latest victims of the engineers' orators. Three years ago the Tech team was prevented from establishing another perfect record by a defeat at the hands of Vermont.

It is estimated that about 4,000 students from the Philippines are attending schools and colleges in continental United States.

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse [illegible]

Advice to the Lovelorn

Dear Ex-Converse:

Very often, when I [illegible] a co-ed, she insists [illegible] happily married and [illegible] family, and her [illegible] into ecstasy of exc[illegible] adorable baby her [illegible] some friend has, and [illegible] cute things about the [illegible] public, she calls me [illegible] the perfect couples, [illegible] of the presence of a [illegible] or a young child in [illegible] She will stop and pat [illegible] the youngsters on the [illegible] we meet, and talk ba[illegible] at the same time cast[illegible] ing glances at me, as [illegible] wouldn't give anythi[illegible] to have a child like that.

Now, I am aware that [illegible] girls have expressed [illegible] "private" that "they [illegible] dren, and think they [illegible] to raise."

Do you think that [illegible] inclined to this point [illegible] present emancipated d[illegible] or that such expression [illegible] is just the "bright savi[illegible] lor girl?"

Do you think their [illegible] "happy marriages" [illegible] youngsters" are just a [illegible] making game or to get [illegible] just bait?

Another thing; one [illegible] friends, who is a serio[illegible] lack of chivalry in the [illegible] says that there is little [illegible] old in the courtship and [illegible] believes the man should [illegible] his knees as of old, and [illegible] romanticism, blurt out [illegible] of his anguished heart [illegible] the close of which, while [illegible] answer with frantic [illegible] he should shower kisses [illegible] of her skirt and dress.

Do you believe the [illegible] should be practiced in [illegible] present manner of dressing [illegible]

One well-read co-ed whom I [illegible] quite often, always asks me if I [illegible] read, as yet, The Courtship of Miles Standish and David [illegible] keep telling her that I have no [illegible] outside work to do for [illegible] any of that stuff. She [illegible] that I ought to read those [illegible] What do you make of it? [illegible] a reason for her insistence [illegible] respect, and she refuses to tell [illegible] But I know she means [illegible] it, by the expression on her face [illegible] she asks me.

I shall be very grateful for [illegible] opinion.

Perplexedly [illegible]
PERCIVAL MANNERS
T. B. Housse
Burlington, Vermont

Mr. Percival Manners.
T. B. Housse,
Burlington, Vermont.
Dear Percival:

You are indeed a fortunate [illegible] to have so many of the fair sex [illegible] ging after you, speaking of romping youngsters, and [illegible] From your engaging letter I [illegible] judge that you are good looking, well-dressed, have plenty of money, a coon, a Packard roadster and [illegible] of nerve.

But to answer your question, lad, let me tell you that a [illegible] lady becomes rapturous over [illegible] she means it. When she gets [illegible] tiful cherbubs on the head [illegible] it. In short, she means [illegible] she says. She means every [illegible] does—every little movement [illegible] meaning all its own [illegible] movements!

I, too, believe in chivalry [illegible] mance. The world, at [illegible] too matter of fact and [illegible] Economics is too highly [illegible] study. Ec. 1 decides how [illegible] we must pay and Ec. 7 [illegible] or not we shall stay in [illegible]

No, I don't believe in [illegible] down on his knees to [illegible] simple reason that the [illegible] in Burlington is simply [illegible] poor cleaners. Why, last [illegible] out a pair of long, bell [illegible] flannels to be cleaned [illegible] came back they made [illegible] ers. But that is beside [illegible]

Never kiss the hem [illegible] woman's skirt—for all [illegible] doesn't wash her neck.

As to the advice of [illegible] co-ed to read The Courtship of Miles Standish and David [illegible] should do so at the earliest [illegible] ty. That is, I should [illegible] you, I haven't the time [illegible] get through reading those [illegible] I shall be glad to loan [illegible] Centuries of English Poetry [illegible] by Newcomer and Andrews, [illegible] excellent volume which [illegible] English Literature pursued [illegible] diligence and enjoyment.

I sincerely hope that you [illegible] roped in too easily.

Mournfully [illegible]
E. [illegible]

COWBOYS HERE TO FACE VERMONTERS

Attired in Typical Cowboy Costume, Howard Payne Orators Will Meet Vermonters in Novel Affair

TEXAS DEBATERS MEET IN UNIQUE ENGAGEMENT

... will be all the rage at Ver... on the boys from Howard ... College of Brownwood, Texas, ... Burlington this evening ... feature is that this team, ... throughout the country ... Cowboy Debaters," debate in ... cowboy costume and, in addi... rush a special program after ... Thus far, these two men, ... Singleton and Ben David, have ... something more than half ... schedule of thirty-six contests ... when finished, will have cov... states and two Canadian prov... The trip will take, in all, 65 ... The men travel in a coupe, the ... having been arranged in easy ... doses.

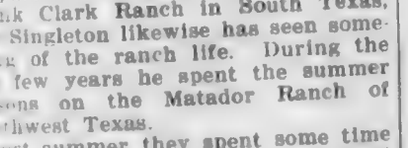
Cowboys—And How!

... to the manner of debate the ... debate in an informal manner, ... nevertheless hard. After the con... a half-hour will be spent in an ... conversation with the audi... The boys realize that they are ... Will Rogers and do not try to be ... One of their chief ambitions ... to debunk the movie cowboy and ... try to show the eastern audiences ... thing about how a cowboy really ... and to tell them what he really ... One of the numbers is to show ... a movie cowboy, Angora chaps, ... shirt, pearl-handled pistol and ... and then to deliberately put in his ... a "cowhand" of the Bend coun... one with rundown boots, battered ... hat, open breasted shirt, and ... greasy, slick chaps. They use equip... from the F. B. Clark Figure-Three Ranch at Realitos, Tex., seventy miles from the border, and not movie stuff.

While neither Singleton nor David is at the present engaged in running fences or branding calves, they are well acquainted with ranch life. Ben David has been brought up in the ranch country, having spent the greater part of his life working on the Frank Clark Ranch in South Texas, and Singleton likewise has seen something of the ranch life. During the past few years he spent the summer seasons on the Matador Ranch of Northwest Texas.

Last summer they spent some time gathering information in the Bend country for this tour. Very interesting days were spent with the cattle men, old and young, in Alpine and Marfa, and especially at Paisana while attending what is called a Cattle Men's Encampment."

In the coming debate, the Howard Payne College representatives promise an honest-to-goodness effort to give Vermont a true conception of West Texas and of the often misrepresented country.



Nelson and Lisman for U. V. M.

George Nelson and Louis Lisman will debate for Vermont. The cowboys are using the jury question in all debates and, this time, the affirmative of the proposition, "Resolved, that the American jury system should be abolished," has fallen to Vermont. A committee of judges will hand down a decision on the merits of the debate.

Immediately after the debate Lisman, Nelson and Sears leave for Massachusetts and New York to debate M. A. C., Brooklyn Law, N. Y. U. and C. C. N. Y.

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

Compliments of
C. A. BARBER & CO.
112 Church Street

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

SPAEIGHT TO APPEAR IN PICKWICK RECITAL HERE

Famous Actor, Well Known Here, To Portray Picturesque Dickinsonian Character On Monday

University lectures will be resumed Monday night with a recital by Frank Spaeight, the distinguished English actor. Mr Spaeight is no stranger to the college or city for he has appeared here several times in the past few years and has always been well received. This time, he will take as his subject the famous Dickens character, Pickwick.

Mr Spaeight is known, both here and abroad, as an actor of great versatility and power. He has the gift of "being able, single-handed to entertain an audience, make it laugh, hold it spell-bound, carry it to the depths of pathos, and then to swing it back, rollicking with mirth." He is, in fact, like a whole company of actors.

At the beginning of his career, Mr Spaeight decided to specialize in Dickens. He has, as a result, become remarkably skillful in his dramatizations of the Dickens characters. However, one does not need to know Dickens to follow him because, instead of merely reciting, he seems to make each character live. A commentary says, "It is like witnessing a play, the absence of scenery being supplied by the wonderful word pictures with which works of Dickens abound."

Society Notes

DELTA DELTA DELTA

The Mothers' Club entertained the fraternity with a supper at the Athena Club rooms Wednesday evening.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Alpha Chi Omega announces the installation of the following officers on Wednesday March 12: Florence McKenzie, '30, president; Dorothy Nash, '30, vice-president; Helen Peabody, '30, recording secretary; Ruth Wetzell '30, corresponding secretary; Louise Bosley '30, treasurer; Gertrude Bingham '31, deputy treasurer; Elizabeth Clark '31, historian; Joyce Brown '31, warden; Florence Whitcomb '30, chaplain; and Dorothy Dailey '30, Cynic editor.

Marian Preston '27, visited in the city over the week-end.

KAPPA DELTA

Kappa Delta announces the installation of the following officers on Thursday March 14: Doris Dupraz '30, president; Rosena Allen '30, vice-president; Charlotta Grimm '31, secretary; Yvonne Hutchins '31, treasurer; Helen Allbee '31, social chairman; and Hilda Smith, '31, editor.

Doris Dupraz '30, has been chosen as delegate to the national convention which will be held at Biloxi, Miss., June 24-29.

Holds 30 Degrees

The president of Columbia University, Nicholas Murray Butler, has 30 academic degrees. He has had the degree of Doctor of Law conferred on him 17 times. In other words he is doubly a Doctor of Philosophy and five times a Jurist Doctor.

Two University of Wisconsin football men are charged with assault and battery because they tried to remove a pair of spats from their positions as ankle guards for an innocent collegiate.—Johns Hopkins News-Letter.

NOTICES

Grey Friars, men's honorary literary society, will hold its next meeting next Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The place will be announced later. Watch the bulletin board.

Vermont Independents will meet on Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the Y M C A office to discuss baseball prospects. All non-fraternity men are urged to be present.

JUNIORS!

All juniors who have not paid the Ariel tax of $7.50 must pay it before the Easter vacation. Address all payments to R. P. Billings, Sigma Phi House.

FENCING!

Vermont will meet Norwich tomorrow at 2.30 in the gym annex in the first home fencing bouts. Everyone invited.

Intercollegiate News

Cigarettes are of great benefit to the students of the South Dakota School of Mines. A large gymnasium has been built for the college entirely from the proceeds of a cigarette tax.

Freshman co-eds at McGill University are made to carry whisks so that they may sweep fallen leaves from the paths of the upperclassmen.

A certain professor of University College England who has been carrying on experiments on the consumption of energy by human beings, "has ascertained that an athlete in running the 100-yard dash in less than eleven seconds, expends an amount of energy equal to that which would be required for a leap of 650 feet into the air—a hundred feet higher than the famous Washington Monument in the Capital City."

The Ousting of Little

Were the president of Stanford to express a belief in birth control, oppose the narrow nationalism of the Daughters of the American Revolution, invite prohibition authorities on the campus to arrest student violators of the Eighteenth Amendment, and open the University to all kinds of opinions would he continue to maintain his position?

Clarence C. Little of the University of Michigan did these things and was ousted by the regents. The case brings up the problem of what leeway a university president should have in the matter of freedom of thought and expression of opinion. Mr Little was undoubtedly a capable liberal executive. Being a liberal with views different from those of the regents lost him his position. From this it would be concluded that the president of a state university cannot express any opinion contrary to that of his board of regents which in turn is controlled by public opinion. His views then must coincide with those of the voting public.

This reduces the matter to an absurdity yet it demonstrates a failure in the state university system, namely that a university president a man who must be of outstanding ability and intelligence to command that position in the first place must not oppose the opinions beliefs and prejudices of the masses.—Stanford Daily.

EASTER GREETINGS

We have a complete line of ... Easter ... goods

Table Favors, Real Stuffed "Chicks" Ducks, Decorations, Napkins, etc.

McAULIFFE'S
Church and College Sts., Phone 629

He coughed
..the Villain!
and the love scene had to be taken all over!

MADGE BELLAMY . . . Beautiful Fox star in her latest release, "Mother Knows Best."

Madge Bellamy explains the growing popularity of Old Golds in Hollywood

"The 'hero' in a movie may easily become the 'villain' if he coughs at the wrong time. A cough isn't ever nice, but when it interrupts the taking of a movie scene, it's a calamity!

"The high tension of movie work makes smoking a vital relaxation. But we relax with OLD GOLDS. They're as smooth as the polished manner of Adolphe Menjou, who himself is an OLD GOLD fan.

"While they're the most enjoyable of cigarettes, OLD GOLDS mean absolute 'fade-out' for throat-scratch and smoker's cough."

Madge Bellamy

Why not a cough in a carload...?

OLD GOLD cigarettes are blended from HEART LEAF tobacco, the finest Nature grows . . . Selected for silkiness and ripeness from the heart of the tobacco plant . . . Aged and mellowed extra long in a temperature of mid-July sunshine to insure that honey-like smoothness.

ON YOUR RADIO . . . OLD GOLD PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR . . . Paul Whiteman, King of Jazz, with his complete orchestra, broadcasts the OLD GOLD hour every Tuesday, from 9 to 10 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over the entire network of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

eat a chocolate, light an Old Gold, and enjoy both!

Philosophers' Club Tries Experiment

(Continued from page 1)

[illegible] the student environment has been pressed views on [illegible] and discussed that many were caused the other week if they had [illegible] Assistant of the history [illegible] officer Professor Edgar Allen Lee. Negative [illegible] were all small as Champion of each who did [illegible] have very many serious [illegible] points. In most cases the ends justified the means. One proposed that punishment was wrong only in the presence of students. Lee [illegible] to the matter with the Assistant said that temperance was too [illegible] thing.

It was immediately agreed that all present that they would not be found in their dormitories after midnight was past. There are [illegible] ladies of ill repute in the [illegible] and [illegible] in the practice on the morrow. When all there is more [illegible] to sound and more [illegible] to the best social point it was asked. It was decided that promiscuity was confined to those countries where the [illegible] by the wearing apparel that one has [illegible] the rest. But all the advocates of a harem could be set to rest, [illegible] so that the economic factor [illegible] enter the case. It was unanimously held that there must be equality in marriage rights otherwise there would be rebellion. Polygamy or polygamy, it must be the same for all men.

A hypothetical case was discussed. If a man and woman are found in love with each other and have [illegible] the right to have sexual intercourse before marriage. It was the right of they happened to what they were doing, one [illegible] one said. Why fight we them." Marriage was held to be a [illegible] one, and that it was but the marriage ceremony which united them together. A couple [illegible] married [illegible] society demands ceremonies and [illegible] ceremonies have been built up [illegible] of never them would be [illegible] serious results. Sexual intercourse might mean a child and it was held that the child should be given a show. Like marriage the child has a legal right to the care of his parents. Besides it was best to start off married life well.

Love it was decided has three stages the body the mind and the spirit. If one still loved another when separated for a time that was the test of love. One thought the test of love depended upon the ability to get along during everyday humdrum existence.

Concerning the next question on "What are your views on the institution of marriage both as it exists at present and as it is Idealized in your own mind?" it was emphatically stated that one big step forward would be to get rid of the double standard. Marriage is natural if sex is put [illegible] passed. One man declared that in his married life he looked forward to a good home and said that his wife must be able to play the piano. The [illegible] ideal of marriage is the faithful husband.

The last question was, "What in your opinion is the most ideal relationship between the professor and student?" Schooling it was thought has become a mechanical thing. Students should get more of the personalities of their professors. It was brought out that some professors have no personality at all, others do have and put it across in their lectures. The student should try to cultivate the friendship of his professors and confer [illegible] your projects and your future with them. In such discussions comes the real worth of a professor. A professor has many selves one said and the problem [illegible] down to whether you want to know the prof as a prof or as a man. Do professors look upon their work as a job or as a social activity? it was asked. The idea of most professors is to lead people one is interested.

Because of the lack of time the question on "What do you consider the true purpose of living?" had to be omitted. Robert Stewart conducted the meeting as he had been appointed chairman of the seminar by Harrison Caldwell the president of the club. A questionnaire was passed around and the results of this questionnaire will be published in the next issue of the CYNIC. Refreshments were served.

Too Bad

Certain [illegible] of one of Scott's eastern colleges's [illegible] are too desirous of exhibiting their manly forms in front of the windows and have forced the college authorities to paint the windows white.

The summer camp of the School of [illegible] of New York University will offer this year an expanded curriculum in [illegible] education including [illegible] and [illegible] programs and [illegible] at Lake Sebago in Palisades Interstate [illegible] near Lincoln N. Y.

This year's enrollment will be limited to 150 students and more than 90 have already applied for admission. Thirty-two states were represented last year and sixty colleges and universities were represented by members of the teaching staff.

Courses are offered for instructors in teaching graduate students majoring in physical education for master's or doctor's degree. A limited number of undergraduates majoring in physical education candidates for bachelor's degrees playground and recreation leaders and directors, and camp counselors and directors.

Vermont Debaters Defeat Norwich 2-1

(Continued from page 1)

arguments, and reviewed those of the affirmative. This he did in a conversational manner that carried force; better on the whole than his first speech. He brought up one interesting point. How could it be [illegible]?

Tonight at 8:00 p.m. the Cowboys from Howard Payne College, Texas, will meet Vermont in a [illegible] debate on this same question. The Cowboys will dress in costume, both of the east and the movie West, and depict the typical western atmosphere for Vermonters. This debate is in the U. V. M. gym because students and townsmen are expected to turn out in large numbers.

Silly Sue: "Oh, officer! There's a man following me and I think he must be drunk."

Officer (giving her the once-over): "Yes, he must be."—Grinnel Malteaser.

"What makes you think she isn't sincere?"

"The last letter I got was a carbon copy."—Yale Record.

At Lehigh University, recently, the Journalism students voted on the events of greatest interest during 1928.

The results of the vote are: Greatest in importance, the Presidential election; second, the Vestris disaster; third, the Graf Zeppelin flight; fourth, the Kellogg Treaty; fifth, the South American trip of President-elect Herbert Hoover; sixth, the Bremen flight to America; seventh, King George's illness; eighth, the Porto Rican hurricane; ninth, the World Series; and last, Byrd's Antarctic Expedition.

The most important figures for 1928, voted upon, in the order decided: One, Herbert Hoover; two, Calvin Coolidge; three, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh; four, the Prince of Wales; five, Alfred E. Smith; six, King George; seven, Commander Byrd; eight, Secretary Kellogg; nine, Babe Ruth; ten, Henry Ford.

Students from forty-four nations are endeavoring to learn German at the University of Berlin this semester.

When was the auto first mentioned in the Bible?

When Elijah went up on high.

—Ka Leo O Hawaii.

Swift Issues First Dean's Honor Rolls

(Continued from [illegible])

1932

Cornelia Baylies

An analysis of the [illegible] all, 137 students on the [illegible] of whom 9 are [illegible] three are men and 84 [illegible] smallest number are [illegible] of 1931, which has [illegible] largest from the class of [illegible] 50. No student below the [illegible] attained an average of [illegible] following table shows the [illegible] proportion of students [illegible] on the list:

B Average First Term 1928-1929

Class	Men	Women	Total	[illegible]
1929	14+2*	30+4*	44+6*	[illegible]
1930	15	22+2*	37+2*	[illegible]
1931	12	10	22	[illegible]
1932	10	15+1*	25+1*	[illegible]

*Provisional.

The Mines Field Illumination

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

* * *

MINES FIELD, Los Angeles, is famous as the scene of the 1928 International Air Races and Aeronautical Exposition. Equally famous among flyers is the perfect illumination which enabled pilots on the night programs to land with all the ease and assurance of those who did their flying there by day.

To blanket the field with brilliance and yet avoid dangerous glare was the problem assigned to the Westinghouse engineers who designed the Mines Field lighting for this greatest of air meets. Twenty-one huge floodlight projectors, each with a maximum beam candlepower of one million, provided the brilliance. An ingenious system of louvres cutting off upward rays of light provided protection from glare at all times.

The result was an achievement in airport lighting which has been pronounced the most nearly perfect of any in the United States.

The outstanding jobs go to organizations with the resources and facilities to handle them. Westinghouse, because of the outstanding opportunities which are of almost daily occurrence with its organization, offers strong attractions to young men of enterprise and ability who are anxious to make a mark in the world.

Westinghouse

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VERMONT, TUESDAY, MARCH 18, 1929 — NUMBER 42

COWBOYS ROPE IN VERMONT FARMERS

Debate in Gym Last Friday Night Closed With Verdict Unanimously in Favor of Texas Speakers

PROPONENTS OF PRESENT JURY SYSTEM CONVINCE

... met up with a Goliath, ... and a tall, soft-speaking ... called Singleton. George ... and Louis Lisman '31, rep... Vermont, and fighting to the ... the tricks saved by debaters ... extremities. Vermont lost. ...ate boils down to this; proof ... were cited little by either side ... Texas lads mentioned Ver... to the judges. Vermont ... this for Texas. Both sides ... the punchers spoke with ... pounded points into the ... or drawlingly in soft words ... feel sad. The editors didn't. ... F. B. Wright, of Abernethy's, ... Stephen Kelley, who runs the ... Texas, and the well-known law ... A. McNamara—the judges ... needing to think it over, with... trouble at all, wrote down the ... Howard Payne's representa... victors.

The difference between the teams ... the difference between amateurs ... professionals.

Prof. Dean Presided

... Dean, the humorful chairman, ... off in a way that made men ... The part he took was of a ... referee without the tuxedo. ... the time the crowd left, that record ... his introduction was forgot, ... his final speech—man forgets, ... unjust.

... were two men who came to ... from the farthest part of ... men who had worked, men who ... studied, men who had debated. ... debates have they had on this ... fifteen wins. The other three ... decision contests. Most of ... were on this same ques... Resolved, That the American ... system should be abolished." The ... originally planned would take ... five debates.

... has debated this question ... before, winning once and losing ...

The Debate by Rounds

... to the stage tramped the snow... farmers, milking pails in hand. ... other side the cowboys in their ... dress walked on. Throwing ... sheepskin coats, George and ... down. Then Nelson walked ... the pulpit and started off the ...

... was nervous and realized what ... up against. He began with a ... ation of farmer talk—funny, ... The question, he said, means ... only the twelve men in the box ... last of all. It means the long ... the red tape, the hung juries, ... verdicts, all those things ... to make this jury inefficient ... "It goes like this," he said, ... ously quoting the old song. ... the jury was needed in the ... of persecution and tryanny, ... needed today? It is bound ... that wise legislators, realizing ... inefficience, have enacted ... it capable of at least rough ... The jury is lax, and that ... the cause of the modern ... Nelson said.

... starting for Howard Payne, ... the sole joke of the negative. ... Rebecca." Immediately he ... Nelson up for his failure to ... fence. The affirmative, having ... len of the proof, said he, must ... that the jury is incurably defec... secondly, produce a system ... remedy all those defects and ... no new ones "The jury does ... what? Find facts. The jury ... what? Politically significant" ... the essence of their debate. ... jury judges the credibility of ... ness. And who can do it better ... men from the same section ... man being tried?

... want proof, he said. The affirm...

(Continued on page 2)

CO-EDS ON CYNIC STAFF MEET WITH PRESS CLUB

The Women's Staff of the Cynic was entertained by Press Club, Saturday afternoon, at a social meeting held at the Pi Beta Phi rooms on Pearl Street. Both organizations participated in a short business meeting in which the main topic under discussion was the reading and consideration of a letter from Alpha Chi Alpha, the only national journalistic sorority of a purely honorary nature.

Press Club nominated officers for the ensuing year. These offices will be voted upon at a business meeting this afternoon. The results of the election will be published in a later issue of the Cynic.

The business meeting was followed by a social hour; tea was served by Frances Ferguson, Olive Fields, and Carolyn Beggs, all of the class of '32.

FRATERNITIES INITIATE FRESHMAN MEMBERS

Six Societies Confer Pin Degrees on Forty-Three Freshmen and New Men—Others to Initiate Soon

Last week and this has seen the arrival on the campus of many new fraternity pins which are being worn by the newly initiated men.

Kappa Sigma

Monday evening, March 4, Kappa Sigma held its first initiation ceremonies of the year. At this time the following men were given the pin degree: J. T. Creaser of Ludlow; O. W. Jay of St. Albans; W. N. Richmond of Newport; H. J. Rugg of St. Albans; E. L. Trainor, Jr., of Rockville Center, N. Y.; E. M. Winant of Larchmont, N. Y.; and C. E. Wright of Essex Junction, all of the class of 1932.

Last night Kappa Sigma held ceremonies for the following freshmen: R. LeBourveau of White River Junction; R. F. May of Fitchburg, Mass., and W. E. Morgan, Jr., of Bristol.

Sigma Delta

Sigma Delta also conferred its pin degree on Monday, March 4. The initiates are: Elson Barter, '31, of Essex Junction; R. W. Hyde, '32, of Bakersfield; E. V. Kibbe, '32, of Randolph Center; F. A. Lyford, '32, of Chelsea; and D. E. Wetherell, '32, of Jeffersonville.

Phi Mu Delta

Phi Mu Delta initiated five men on Monday, March 11. They are: R. J. Stone, '30, of White River Junction; C. S. Buxton, '31, of Plainfield; and F. J. Proctor of Barton; F. J. Varrichione of Burlington; and J. E. Willis of East Hardwick, all of the class of 1932.

Alpha Tau Omega

Alpha Tau Omega announces the initiation last Saturday evening of B. G. Boyles of Montpelier; H. P. Dorion of Rutland; H. E. Bussey of Bellows Falls, H. T. Guare of Montpelier; R. A. Kazliuskas of New Britain, Conn.; R. May of Needham, Mass.; and R. A. Philbin of Clinton, Mass.; all of the class of 1932.

Phi Delta Theta

The pin degree of Phi Delta Theta was conferred on eight men: J. A. Jackson of Burlington, E. J. Grant of Stamford, Conn., and O. E. McAllister of Barre, all of the class of 1931; and of the following freshmen: P. F. Armstrong of North Attleboro, Mass.; M. H. Grower of Arlington, Mass.; P. W. Perrigard of St. Johnsbury; R. D. Towne of Burlington; and J. E. Tracy of Bristol, Pa.

Sigma Nu

The ceremonies of Sigma Nu took place Sunday afternoon. The neophytes are: R. B. Aiken, '31, of Burlington; S. B. Barker, '32, of Montclair, N. J.; D. E. Child, '32, of Putnam, Conn.; G. R. Collins, '32, Bayside, L. I., N. Y.; H. W. Davis, '32, of Lyndon Center, and G. S. Flagg, '32, of Worcester, Mass.

RESULTS OF THE JOHN DEWEY CLUB'S QUIZZ ANNOUNCED TO PUBLIC

Students Let it be Known That They Do Not Believe That the Church Satisfies the Spiritual Needs of Students

That the church does not satisfy the spiritual needs of the students was the consensus of student opinion at the last meeting of the John Dewey Club. A questionnaire was passed around to the members of the Club and this is one of the results. Nineteen students agreed that the church does not satisfy their spiritual needs, three students thought the church did satisfy their spiritual needs, and three students were indifferent. Many other questions were asked. The total results of the questionnaire follow:

To the question: Do you believe in life after death? twelve replied in the affirmative, eight replied negatively four were indifferent. Do you believe in an impersonal or a personal God? was the next question. Ten believed in an impersonal God, eleven believed in a personal God, and three were indifferent. Three said yes to the following question: Do you believe in the transmigration of souls? Eighteen said no, four were indifferent.

Right and Wrong

Can you definitely say an action is right or wrong? Nine answered yes, sixteen no. One question read: Check to which of the following you owe moral duty: God, Society, Conscience. Five women said Society, six said Conscience, four said all three. Of the men, two said God, two Society, five Conscience, one all three. No man replied affirmatively to the question: Do you believe in following the crowd? All the men said no. Two women answered yes, ten no, and two were indifferent. To the next question: Do you believe in the fullest expression of love before marriage? one man answered in the affirmative, and one woman. Ten men answered no, and ten women the same. Three women were indifferent. The next question was: Do you condemn anybody who violates social conventions? Ten men said no, one man was indifferent. Seven women said no, three said yes, and four were indifferent. Is your viewpoint materialistic? Six said yes, fifteen said no, four were indifferent. Do you believe that spiritual values are of practical worth? Eighteen said yes, three no, four indifferent.

Marriage System

Are you satisfied with the traditional marriage system? was one question. Fourteen answered yes, nine no, two were indifferent. Do you consider marked difference of background—racial, social, or economic—a serious handicap to marriage happiness? was another question. Twenty said yes, one said no, four were indifferent. Do you believe in companionate marriage? One man said yes, seven men said no, three were indifferent, thirteen women said no, one woman was indifferent. Do you believe in spiritual love without sexual attraction? Five said yes, sixteen said no, four were indifferent.

Contact With Professors

Is classroom contact with the professor sufficient? was a question. Twenty-one said no, three said yes, one was indifferent. The next question was: Is the instructor justified in quizzing more than instructing? Five said yes, eighteen said no, two were indifferent. Do you often feel you could teach your instructor something about his subject? was the next question. Ten said yes, twelve said no, three were indifferent. Do you like to consider your instructors as personal friends? Twenty said yes, three said no, two were indifferent.

By securing some popular theatrical star to be the Technology "Prom Girl," this year's Ball at M. I. T. will have something that no other could boast of. The name of the girl still remains a secret.

SOLOISTS FOR LENTEN CONCERT ANNOUNCED

Professor Bennett has announced the soloists for the Lenten Easter concert which will be given next Sunday, March 24, at four o'clock in the Chapel by the University choir. They will be Miss Hazel Ladd and Martha Putnam, sopranos; Miss Catherine Bassett, mezzo-soprano; Miss Marion Baldwin, contralto; Reiser Albee and Rodney May, tenors; and Harrison Goddard, bass. The program for the concert will be in Friday's issue of the Cynic. The Reverend I. C. Smart, pastor of the College Street Congregational Church will assist at the concert by reading the scriptures.

NORWICH TOUCHES CAT FOILSMEN FOR 6-3 WIN

Chamberlain, Musgrove, Basilicato Win Matches Against Cadets—Boston University To Appear With Crack Veteran Team

Vermont swordsmen were easily conquered Saturday afternoon at the U. V. M. Gym by the Norwich Cadets to the tune of six matches to three. This was an overwhelming victory for the Cadets, but they had the advantage of more experience, and it was expected that they would come out on the long end of the score. The majority of the bouts were won by a single touch and it was tight going, although the Green and Gold team was never within sight of a lead in the score.

The match opened with a bout between Robson of Norwich and Calcagni in which the former came out ahead, winning by one touch. Leed of Norwich conquered Chamberlain by two points, and Vermont reciprocated by Basilicato's victory over Jones. Leed of Norwich easily defeated Calcagni, and Brown, fencing for Norwich, fell an easy victim to Chamberlain. Musgrove next defeated Jones, 5-2, for Vermont's final win of the match, as Basilicato, Aiken and Kaufman fell before the foils of Robson, Leed and Belisle respectively.

It was rather a disastrous defeat on the part of Vermont but several of the men look pretty good, and with a year or so of experience, they should have a fairly strong team.

The only remaining appearance that the fencers have scheduled this season is with Boston University on Thursday afternoon. This will be a good match as the Bostonians have a fine record this season. They are all veterans and have won most of their matches this season by larger scores. This includes a victory last week over the Bowdoin fencers, who also have a fine record behind them. They have one man Sigmund Lavine, who made an especially fine showing. He was the captain of the team last year and with the advantage of another year's experience he is better than ever. Their freshman fencer has made a fine showing this season winning the majority of his bouts this season. De Vito and Doughty are the other men on the team which makes a formidable group of opponents.

In all probability the Boston men will come out on the long end of the score but the Vermonters are expected to make a fair showing, since Captain Calcagni and Chamberlain have shown some snappy form lately.

NORWICH SOPHOMORES BANQUET IN BURLINGTON

Norwich sophomores journeyed to Burlington Saturday to hold their annual class banquet at Hotel Vermont. This is the first time since 1921 that a sophomore class from Northfield have gathered in Burlington for their banquet. The Norwich seniors chose Montreal as the scene of their annual class festivities on the same night.

CHOOSE FIVE NEW PHI BETA KAPPAS

Cowles, Durick, Hanson, Hook, and the late John Medlar Elected to Vermont Alpha of Oldest Honorary Society

E. C. MOWER PRESENTS KEYS TO NEW MEMBERS

At the mid-winter meeting of the Vermont Alpha of Phi Beta Kappa held at the Ethan Allen Club House last Wednesday evening, five members of the Senior class were received into that honorary scholastic society.

The first are: Laurence Golden Cowles, Margaret Agnes Durick, Simon Gabriel Hanson, Genevieve Perley Hook and John George Medlar who died a few weeks ago, before mid year examinations.

President John E. Colburn presided over the meeting and Judge E. C. Mower vice-president presented the keys to the new members.

Every year about this time the Phi Beta Kappa takes in members of the Senior class who are best qualified for that honor. All those taken in this year have an average in scholastic standing of 92 per cent or better.

Laurence G. Cowles is a graduate of Burlington High School and lives in this city. He is taking an Electrical Engineering course and has the reputation of always giving the correct answer. He is a member of the Sigma Delta fraternity, Radio Club, Outing Club, and he was class secretary during his second and third years.

Margaret A. Durick comes from Fair Haven, Vt., and is a graduate of the Fair Haven High School. She is taking a Classical course and the A's seem to be most prominent throughout her course. She is a member of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority, Bluestockings, Newman Club, Panhellenic, and Eta Sigma Phi of which she was vice-president in her second year. She was on the Cynic staff for three years, the second and third years of which she was Women's Editor. Miss Durick won the Kirby Flower Smith Junior Latin Scholarship, the Howard Latin Prize, and she won on the first list her first year, and on the second honor list her second year.

Simon G. Hanson is a graduate of Winooski High School. In the Commerce and Economics course he has already had the reputation of being a prospective Phi Bete, and sure enough that's what he turned out to be. He played in the band for three years, and he was a member of the Second Honor Group during his first two years. He also won the Honor Scholarship.

Genevieve Perley Hook is a resident of this city, and is a graduate of Burlington High School. She takes a Classical course, and throughout the course she has always kept a high standing that would attract the attention of the best scholars. She is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority, the Eta Sigma Phi, and the Glee Club. In her first ... she was on the First Honor List, and in her second year the Second Honor List. In her second year she also won the Kirby Flower Smith Latin Scholarship and later the Honor Scholarship.

John George Medlar, who died a month or so ago, was also a graduate of Burlington High School. He was a member of the Sigma Delta fraternity, and he was on the Cynic Board. He was a second Lieutenant in the R. O. T. C. during the last year. He won the Honor Scholarship and he was one of the best students the University has ever had in both Latin and German. In the second half of his Junior year he went to Harvard where he received many awards, and made the same reputation for himself there as he did here.

In some colleges the beautiful co-eds are made honorary officers in an attempt to make the R. O. T. C. popular. Picture a co-ed inspecting the troop: "Something like: "The third from the left has his necktie on crooked"—and "First honors to the fifth one from the right for his eyes just match his tie." and that sort of thing.—Massachusetts Collegian

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O CLAYTON, '29
Editor-in-Chief

HERRICK M MACOMBER, '29 — Managing Editor — ARTHUR D STEARNS, '29

PRISCILLA T. CAMPBELL, '29
Women's Editor

George R. Brush, '30 — News Editors Louis Lisman, '30 — George R Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc. Editors Irene L. Church, '29 Irene E. Richardson, '29 — Sporting Editor Seymour I. Nathanson, '29 — Asst Sporting Editors Lynford M Foster, '31 Herman D. Gussow, '31 Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor Dorothy E. Wright, '31 — Intercollegiate Editor Odino A Martinetti, '30 — Feature Editor Edward J Beyor, '30

Asst Editor Lennox Aldinger, '29 — Faculty Advisor Prof Leon W. Dean — Women's Intercollegiate Editor Cornelia S. Mould, '29

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Penhoe Berridge, '29
Eunice Goodrich, '29
John Waterman, '29
[illegible] Bree, '31
[illegible] Smith, '31

Winifred Stone, '31
Margaret Ann Martin, '32
Hope Ranslow, '32
Alfred J. Morin, '32
Watson E. Morgan, '32

E. Henry Powell, '30
Charles N. Crockett, '31
Edmour A R Germain, '31
Edward J Fitzgerald, '32
Paul J LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C PUTTER, '30
Business Manager

Malor B Jenks, '30 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Stuart S Cretin, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Soom F McQuesten, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
F Stanley Smith, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $2.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 938 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 6a P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — March 19, 1929 — No. 42

OUR MUSICAL DEPARTMENT

At one time in the history of the University, musical activity was one of the foremost features. The numerous musical clubs were yearly given long trips, and the University turned out clubs that would be a credit to any college in the country. Then for a time musical interest seemed to slump and the clubs became weak and hard to maintain. Glee Club trips were abandoned, and the only appearance of the clubs was at a home concert sometime in the spring. Now has come a revival of musical interest. And this revival of musical interest has come about mainly through the efforts of Professor Howard G. Bennett, a talented musician.

Last year, the Men's Glee Club took a trip to the Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest in Boston, and were notably successful, although no prizes or awards were brought back. The combined Men's and Women's Glee Club presented the popular musical comedy "The Mock Doctor" last year. A choir consisting of the best voices in college was chosen to sing at chapel exercises, Wednesday mornings and Sunday afternoons. This year, though the Men's Glee Club had no better success at the Intercollegiate Contest than before, enough practical experience was gained to warrant the probability of a banner year next season. The choir is better than last year. The proposed musical comedy scheduled to be presented in April is the famous Gilbert and Sullivan production, "Patience," and this musical activity among the students is due mostly to Professor Bennett.

Professor Bennett is probably little known to Vermont students. He is a quiet, unassuming person. To look at him, one does not appreciate the learning which is locked up in that human dynamo. His knowledge of music is almost unlimited. One has only to question him concerning any composer or opera and he immediately commences an interesting dissertation on the subject. Since he has been associated with the University, the musical department has risen greatly in importance. We have the men's and women's glee clubs—the chapel choir—music lessons, both vocal and instrumental—and the operas presented by the students under his direction.

But one man cannot accomplish the impossible. Complaints are heard that the glee clubs make no trips such as the Dartmouth Glee Club for instance. But who is to be blamed? Most of those in college with the best voices never try out for the glee Clubs. They are not interested because there are no alluring trips. Then, often those with good voices are of no value because of low scholastic standing. But there can be no trips of any consequence until there is a glee club of sufficiently high quality to warrant them. Prof. Bennett will do his bit. It is up to the students.

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the CYNIC:

Another meeting was called recently to inform the freshmen that they should obey the rules and regulations that have been prescribed for them through tradition. Long ago the freshmen were told that they were expected to uphold the old traditions on their honor. All the former work requirements were taken away until only a few very simple rules remained. And then the freshmen were left to follow the regulations as they saw fit.

Instead of the meek, respectful frosh of former years, we now have the overbearing, cocksure freshman who carries none of the familiar old-time respect for upperclassmen. The system has been given fair trial and it is now the universal feeling that the scheme is a failure. But who is to blame? The freshmen cannot be expected to do meekly those things which are not enforced upon them to do. The only remedy that I can offer is to give someone the authority to see that the freshmen carry out the rules. I supposed that the Gold Key Society was formed for this purpose, but now that all power has been taken away on what can the Gold Key justify its existence? Isn't it about time that some definite action was taken in regard to this matter? To call any more meetings of the freshmen would simply make the question the laughing stock of the campus.

Sair

Diplomas were invented because some college graduates need a written evidence that they are educated

PROF. BULLARD TALKS OF NAVAL ACADEMY

Prof. James A. Bullard of the University of Vermont, who was a professor of mathematics at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis a decade or so gave the Discussion Club of the College Street Congregational Church Sunday an interesting view of the history and nature and activities of that interesting feature of our naval service.

He said in the old navy the system of education was imperfect. It was carried on for the most part by schoolmasters on shipboard. By an act of Congress in 1794, eight midshipmen, appointed from civil life by the President, were placed aboard each ship, but the first schoolmasters were appointed in 1813—one on each of four ships of the line with a salary of $25 per month. Later, shore schools were established at the Norfolk, New York, and Boston navy yards and Naval Asylum at Philadelphia—the last being the best and having William Chauvenet, Yale, H. H Lockwood, West Point, and Lieut. J. H. Ward, Norwich Academy, Vt., among its teachers. As early as 1826 bills were introduced in Congress to establish a naval school, but nothing came of them. Finally, Secretary Bancroft, under President Polk, in 1845, obtained old Fort Severn at Annapolis from the war department and established a naval school there, the three men mentioned above being among the academic staff. In 1851 the school was reorganized and this organization is essentially the same today. Most of the present buildings were built between 1895 and 1906 on which latter date the body of John Paul Jones was brought back from France and placed in the crypt of the chapel. Professor Bullard gave some description of the academy buildings, regulations regarding the appointment of the midshipmen and of the routine of the midshipman's day.

The mission of the naval academy has been defined as follows: "To mold the material received into educated gentlemen, thoroughly indoctrinated with honor, uprighteousness and truth, with practical rather than academic minds, with thorough loyalty to country, with a groundwork of educational fundamentals upon which experience afloat may build the finished naval officer, capable of upholding whenever and wherever may be necessary, the honor of the United States; and, withal, giving due consideration that healthy minds in healthy bodies are necessities for the fulfillment of the individual missions of the graduates, and that fullest efficiency under this mission can only be attained if, through just and humane yet firm discipline, the graduates carry into the service respect and admiration for this academy."

The midshipman's training gives him self-confidence, teaches him to use his talents and abilities effectively and undertake any task confronting him with promptness. The regiment of midshipmen is one of our best guarantees of peace and of the success of our peace treaties.

30 Years Ago at Vermont

Vermont is to play intercollegiate tennis for the first time this year. Tennis, although popular, had never before been an intercollegiate sport. This year a tournament has been arranged with Bowdoin College.

The Chess Club is holding a tournament, which will probably run until commencement time.

Vermont has installed a hydraulic laboratory and is offering lab courses in hydraulics now.

Students have subscribed $700 to meet the expenses of the baseball team. It has a fairly extensive schedule this year: twenty-five games, of which eleven are home games.

The Glee Club has just returned from a concert four of the southern part of the state. Another more extended trip in the north is being planned.

Yale University holds United States basketball championship

15 Years Ago

Musical clubs give a very artistic concert at Highgate. Seaver's piano solo played on the one-lunged harmonium was received with especial applause.

The rifle team scores a win over Columbia.

Vermont has four scheduled tennis matches: two with McGill and one each with M. A. C. and Union College.

One tenth of the students at Vermont are earning their way through college.

Boston College is Vermont's first opponent after the Southern trip

Athletic Council of University Is Always Striving For Better Sport

The history of the Athletic Council of the University of Vermont is the history of a continual striving for better athletics, not only for a few but for greatest possible number of students. From comparative oblivion in the early nineties, as a faculty committee, the Athletic Council of today has emerged into a prominence that can best be gauged by the fact that, without its functioning, athletics at the University would be a mere hodge podge of disconnected physical endeavor.

The first concerted attempt at recognized athletic supervision was made in 1892 when a committee composed of Professors Loomis, Votey and Ayer was appointed to take charge of athletics, in an advisory and controlling capacity. The next year Professor John B. Wheeler of the Medical Faculty was added to the committee. From then on, with membership varying anywhere from four to seven, the committee continued to function as a standing committee of the faculty. Two years 1917-18 and 1918-19, saw two women of the faculty as members of this committee.

Organized in 1920

With the organizing of The Alumni Council in 1920 the direct control of athletics was taken over by a group designated as The Alumni Council. The council was then composed of twelve members; four alumni, four members of the faculty, and the four student managers of the four major sports. In 1925 one was added to this number, the Graduate Manager of Athletics.

The aims and purposes of The Athletic Council are practically the same as those of the former Athletic Committee of the Faculty, only the details of the work and the enlargement of its scope, as made necessary by the exigencies of time and development, having changed.

Classes of Members

The three alumni members of the Athletic Council are elected by the Alumni Council at its annual meeting; the four faculty members are appointed by the President of the University and constitute the Faculty Committee on Athletics; the Graduate Manager of Athletics is officially a member; the managers of the football, baseball, basketball and track athletic departments are ex-officio the four undergraduate members. The duties of these persons as members of The Athletic Council of the University of Vermont are to direct the general athletic policy of the University and promote the interests of the several departments recognized by it. It also regulates the management of the funds of these departments. The Council may submit questions affecting the general athletic welfare of the University to the student body in mass meeting assembled [illegible] is taken. The [illegible] promptly to consider [illegible] amendment of the [illegible] in writing, signed [illegible] dents.

Eligibility Rules

The Athletic Council [illegible] eligibility rules as [illegible]

I. Any student of [illegible] the University shall [illegible] ticipate in intercollegiate [illegible] with the following exceptions:

No student shall represent the University in any intercollegiate [illegible] or hold the position of manager or assistant manager of any athletic team unless he is a leader who:

a. Is enrolled as a regularly classified student.

b. Is under warning [illegible] or failed of promotion [illegible] his preceding college year.

c. Has been a member of a collegiate institution [illegible] have been a student at such institution for a period of one year.

d. Has previously received [illegible] or any other University [illegible] in such intercollegiate [illegible] has received a Baccalaureate [illegible] De

e. Has played baseball on a team as ordinarily constituted [illegible] tional agreement.

f. Has not been a resident of the University for one semester.

g. Is declared for any other sport by the Athletic Council as shall represent the University.

h. Has not signed a statement of his own eligibility and filed the with the Director of Athletics as provided in part two below.

II. Each student at the time of enrollment shall be given a copy of the rules of eligibility and shall be required to sign an accompanying statement as to his personal eligibility. He shall file the statement with the Director of Athletics.

Membership

The present members of The Athletic Council are:

Prof. James E. Donahue, Chairman; Prof. Floyd B. Jenks, Secretary; Mr. Harold A. Mayforth, Graduate Manager; Prof. Arthur D. Butterfield, Dr. Thomas S. Brown, Dr. Douglas Sweeny, Mr. Royal E. Bingham, Mr. John H. Patrick, Mr. Arthur S. Packard '29, Mr. Bertel W. Gustafson, Mr. Herrick M. Macomber '29, Mr. Watson F. Rogers '29.

With this in view that the greatest service the University can render from a purely athletic standpoint is that of athletics for all, the Athletic Council has become of great importance; and each year sees an increasing number of students participating in the various forms of athletics, convincing evidence in itself that the Council has more than justified its conception and existence.

Cowboys Rope in Vermont Farmers

(Continued from page 1)

ative has neither said nor proved a thing.

The jury is a cross-section of society—the essence of democracy. It is humanly effective, and humanly deficient; what system is not?

Lisman Next in the Ring

Lisman, debating well, got up and cited a case of a jury's poor judgment. By red tape, he went on, we mean all the delays of impaneling a jury, the exemptions, the lawyers' questionings, the technicalities introduced in hope of improvement. Many, many men are used in trying cases now, under our substitute plan few men, little time and little money will be needed. This is it.

For civil cases where the suit is for amounts under $1,000, one judge is sufficient. One judge is best in criminal cases, too. For other civil cases, one judge and two assistants, both chosen for this particular case, one a reputable lawyer, the other a man in the business with which the case has to do.

It's the judge's business to give a good decision, he is responsible to the people. But the jury—they can kill all the innocent men in the world, and turn the criminals loose, and who shall say them nay?

Singleton, the tall shy Texan, arose and started slamming. Cut out the funny jokes he said. Why cite mythical cases? Are you a medium to tell us what the jury did in some great trial? Tell us, generally speaking, what is wrong with the jury. Don't cite cases unless you can cite them all. We won't take anything that isn't true at every past or possible jury trial.

Why should we discard it because tyranny no longer exists? We need it to guard against future possible oppression.

It has a political significance, it is the American peoples' voice [illegible] judiciary, it is the judicial part [illegible] check and balance system.

Rebuttal

Nelson again on the floor [illegible] better. He compared the jury [illegible] to a form, with the faculty [illegible] animals, and the age of [illegible] flivver. "Henry," quoth he, "made a lady out of Lizzie [illegible] make a good system out of the jury system. Will you change it? I'm afraid not." That was a [illegible] Definitely, the jury is not [illegible] tion of the American people [illegible] exemption list shows.

David answered that Nelson [illegible] mentioned the political [illegible] the jury yet?" he said [illegible] that." The system is [illegible] linked with representation [illegible] ment. You can't pull it out [illegible] lot of trouble."

It is not a question of [illegible] time or money a jury costs [illegible] tion of how well it works [illegible] argue expense or delay. Rather [illegible] 99 guilty men than put [illegible] cent.

Lisman, in some excellent [illegible] ful rebuttal speaking. [illegible] preme Court's chief justice [illegible] jury system, attacked the [illegible] ments of the negative, and [illegible] "If the system is rotten [illegible] shown it," he said, "pull [illegible] as you would a tooth." [illegible] cited evidence.

Singleton returned with a [illegible] rebuttal in every way [illegible] much, but it went over [illegible]

Nelson as he got up for [illegible] ing two-minute speech [illegible] He quickly made a [illegible] and then outlined his work [illegible] a plea for justice.

President Hoover is [illegible] twenty-six college degrees [illegible] nine more than is credited [illegible] other person listed in [illegible] "Who's Who."

VARSITY TRACK MATERIAL IS NEEDED—NEWCOMERS SEE COACH ALDRICH

SPORTING NEWS

SEYMOUR I. NATHANSON, '30
Sporting Editor

FENCING MATCH
VERMONT—B. U.
THURSDAY AFTERNOON

TWO VERMONT MEN ON ALL-STATE TEAM

Catamount Sextet Completes Unsuccessful Season but Scores First Green and Gold Hockey Victory

SEGAL AND MERCIER MAKE ALL-STATE TEAM

The VERMONT CYNIC announces its all-state hockey team as follows

Name	Team	Position
Mercier	Vermont	Wing
Kelley, Capt.	Middlebury	Center
Mekala	Middlebury	Wing
Segal	Vermont	Defense
Nelson	Middlebury	Defense
Fullerton	Norwich	Goal

Mercier played only three games this year, since, being a freshman, he became eligible after mid-years. In these games he proved to be one of the best hockey players in the State by displaying much speed and ability as a clever stick-handler. Kelley's scoring and checking wins him a place at center and the captaincy of the team. He led the Middlebury team through a very successful season. Mekala who received him at a wing is a fast skater, clever shot, and a good passer.

Segal was the outstanding defensive star. The lack of a good center caused the switch to center at mid-season but he is at home just in front of the goal. He is a stonewall and can also carry the puck when called upon to do so. Nelson gets the other defense berth through his consistent work. His specialty is body and poke-checking. No offensive player has a serious problem in skating past him. Fullerton was easily the star goalie of the three Vermont teams. He made spectacular saves all season and allowed few shots to go through him.

The results of the Vermont hockey season which closed against Middlebury, February 23, were far from successful but the team showed much improvement and progress in each game. Coach "Hy" Abrahams, in his first year at the helm did a very good job and deserves much credit for the victory scored against Norwich which is Vermont's only hockey win since the sport was inaugurated here three years ago.

Out of six starts the Green and Gold sextet turned in only that victory against five defeats. The Norwich score was 2-0, though previously the Catamounts had lost to this team 2 to 1. Vermont also lost one game each to Clarkson Tech, and St. Lawrence, and twice to Middlebury.

At the beginning of the season the Vermont sextet took a trip into New York State and the first game played on the schedule was with Clarkson Tech. Clarkson was far superior to the Cats who could not stand up under the slashing attack of the home team which won 9 to 0. The next day after such a disheartening start the Green and Gold met St. Lawrence. This time Segal managed to sneak in a shot but the game was lost by a 5 to 1 score. All in all, the trip was very discouraging.

The next game was with Norwich on the home rink and was played just before the mid-year exams. This game was much closer and more exciting than the previous ones. No goals were made until in the second period when Hamm got a goal for the Cadets. Then Segal tied the game in the early part of the third period by shooting the puck into the net from the center of the rink. It was only during the last few minutes of play that Waining managed to get another goal for Norwich and the game ended 2-1 with Vermont as loser.

With the passing of mid-years the freshman candidates for the squad were eligible to play and this addition strengthened the team materially. When Middlebury came here to play, the game was close and hard fought. In the last minute of the contest the Panthers got a goal and again the Catamounts lost with the score 1 to 0. On the return match with Norwich at Northfield Vermont emerged victorious for the first and only time this year. The Cadets were held scoreless while Lawrence and Mercier netted the puck once each. Thus the game ended with the score 2 to 0 in favor of the Green and Gold sextet.

Then came the last game on the schedule with Middlebury. This time the Black Panthers disposed of the Catamounts by administering a 5 to 0 defeat. Thus closed a rather discouraging season for the Vermont hockey team.

However, prospects look favorable for next year, since only two men—Captain Schurman who starred all season and Howard, both wings, will be lost through graduation. Segal, who has played at defense and center, was one of the mainstays of the team and he scored two goals—one against each St. Lawrence and Norwich. Lawrence, a defense man, and Mercier, a wing, will be at their regular positions again. Hendricks and Perry will guard the net. The other wing and defense will be open to Collins, Bassow, Marvin, Deneault, Thompson, and Morse of this year's squad.

The season's record:

Vermont,	0—Clarkson Tech.	9
Vermont,	1—St. Lawrence,	5
Vermont,	1—Norwich	2
Vermont,	0—Middlebury,	1
Vermont,	2—Norwich.	0
Vermont,	0—Middlebury.	5

Individual scores:

Name	Position	Goals
Segal	Defense and Center	2
Lawrence	Defense	1
Mercier	Wing	1

STATE HOCKEY SERIES

Final Standing

	W.	L.	Pct.
Middlebury	4	0	1.000
Vermont	1	3	.250
Norwich	1	3	.250

SOPHOMORE CO-EDS COP CLASS CHAMPIONSHIP

The class of 1931 is again the co eds interclass basketball champion. The sophomores won the final game of the tournament, by defeating the freshmen by the decisive score of 15-8. This was one of the best games ever played on the gym floor. The crowd of onlookers cheered madly as the ball went from one end of the court to the other. The sophomores throughout the tournament have shown their exceptional basketball ability, as well as their good sportsmanship. The team was captained this season by Edith Abbott, guard, former basketball star from Franklin High School, Franklin, Mass. The sophomore guards, by excellent guarding, prevented the opposing forwards from securing more than eight points in any one of the tournament games. In Buck and Warhurst, 1931 had an ideal working combination in the center court. Wright, closely guarded by Miller in the freshman game, was unable to score, while Johnstone ran circles around her guard to secure all of her team's 15 points.

SOPHOMORES

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Johnstone, f.	6	3	15
Wright, f.	0	0	0
Abbott, g.	0	0	0
Wappler, g.	0	0	0
Buck, c.	0	0	0
Warhurst, s.c.	0	0	0
Totals	6	3	15

FRESHMEN

	Gls.	Fls.	Pts.
Akins, f.	2	0	3
Fields, f.	0	0	0
Miller, g.	0	0	0
Gay, g.	0	0	0
Lunna, c.	0	0	0
Mount, s.c.	0	0	0
Humphries, c.	0	0	0
Graham, f.	2	1	5
Totals	4	1	8

Intercollegiate News

During the recent class election of Lebanon Valley, the forty frosh present at their meeting cast a total of seventy votes.

As one of our important campus personages would have it. "All is not so well in Copenhagen."

University of Pennsylvania freshmen are to be limited to competition in one sport and upperclassmen to two unless the athletes prove themselves particularly competent in the classroom.

An Arabic typewriter with 104 characters of different widths and heights was recently invented by R. McKeon Jones who also is the inventor of the Chinese typewriter with 48 keys.

CAT'S MEOW

—SPORTING EDITOR—

So that there will be no misunderstanding with regard to the eligibility rule of competition in the interfraternity track meet this week-end it is as follows: A man who has won a varsity letter may compete in the meet but not in the event or events in which he won the letter.

There will be no outdoor interfraternity track meet this year as there has been in the past.

Unless the indoor track meet Saturday uncovers a few "finds" things will not look so rosy for the varsity this year.

Basketball and hockey elections will be held as soon as all equipment is turned in.

The basketball schedule for next year is being completed at the present time. The Cats will travel to Dartmouth on December 1 for the first contest of a home and home contract by which the Green is due to play here the following season. A New York trip has also been arranged. Vermont will meet Columbia and Rensselaer on January 10 and 11, respectively.

A new rubbing room has been rigged up for the track men. The new room is the old coach's office next to the auxiliary gym on the south side of the large gymnasium. The coach's room has been shifted to the old rubbing room for the present as it is conveniently situated near the cage and showers. The new rubbing room has clean white walls and a large window looking out onto Morrill Hall. It is fitted with a new first-aid cabinet and two equipment lockers besides its former heat and rubbing apparatus.

Cheney, of Dartmouth, one of the stars of the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League, has been elected captain of basketball. He was given honorable mention on the all-league team.

Coach Hessler, hend baseball coach at Middlebury, had 15 battery men out for practice last week. Cook and Hingston are the only pitchers with experience. Capt. Willis will do most of the work behind the bat.

Bob Harris, veteran Dartmouth pitcher, will not report for baseball this season. Harris was the best hurler on the Green squad with a one-hit game against Fordham to his credit.

Spognardi, who played in the Boston Twilight League and with B. C. freshmen last year seems slated to fill the shortstop berth at Boston College. That is the only open position at the Heights due to the graduation of Malcewicz who is with the Boston Red Sox.

Coach Hugh Duffy had planned to shift "Hank" O'Day from third to short but Spognardi is more than holding his own in the field and at bat.

Present indications are that Holy Cross will not miss Fons, last year's star pitcher, or Capt. Savage, an outfielder. The Holy Cross-Boston College games will be the highlights of this baseball season.

The outfielders and twirlers are worrying Coach "Jeff" Tesreau of Dartmouth.

Clarkson Tech completed its hockey season with 9 victories, 1 defeat, and 1 tie in eleven games. Clarkson and Yale ended at the top of the heap this year. Clarkson played an inferior

SPRING SUITS AND TOPCOATS
Select yours now while the selection is new
LANGROCK
BRAEBURN
ADLER
$25.00 to $60.00
HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

PRELIMINARY WRESTLING BOUTS LAST SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon in the gym the preliminary rounds of the wrestling tournament were run off. There were eight well fought bouts. Bouts are won by two falls in less than ten minutes, one fall in ten minutes, one fall in less than two minutes, or a Judge's decision after ten minutes.

In the 125-pound class Lefferd won over Marten by two straight falls and Beaupre won over Skiff by decision. Hansen threw Mascola twice and Quinn threw Willets in ten minutes, both in the 135-pound class. In the 145-pound class Pierce won by default over Wetherell and Rosenthal won by throwing Anagnos in the first minute of the bout. In the 155-pound class DeWitt won over Ricketson by two falls. Damon won over Collins by decision in the 175-pound class.

Much interest in wrestling has been aroused lately by the wrestling classes held by Jack Robinson in conjunction with the Physical Education Department. The purpose of the wrestling classes is to create interest in the sport and to form a nucleus for next year's team. There will be no team this year but next year the team will have matches with Norwich and Middlebury and possibly with out of state teams.

Semi finals will be held this afternoon.

At the University of Kentucky any student caught drinking at a dance social or any other affair dealing with campus life, is brought before the men's student council and tried. If found guilty the offender may be shipped. The movement on the part of the students has nearly put an end to all drinking at the University of Kentucky.

schedule but its total of 72 goals for an average of 6.55 goals per game is most remarkable. Tech's opponents scored only 21 goals.

Harvard is permitting Dartmouth and Stanford to use the stadium at Cambridge for the intersectional game in 1931.

The Vermont Athletic Council announces that there was a total attendance of 6,644 at the Senior Interscholastic Tournament this year.

The Athletic Council maintains the stand that it will support a hockey team next year if a rink is furnished by some other organization.

Middlebury has expressed a desire to send its track team to the New England Intercollegiates on May 25. In such an event the Panthers would probably not be represented in the Green Mountain Conference Meet here on that date and the affair would result in a dual meet between Vermont and Norwich.

TUFTS COLLEGE
DENTAL SCHOOL
Founded 1867
College men and women graduate in a profession of widening interest and opportunity. Recent reforms have enlarged the scope of every phase of dentistry. The field demands more than ever before men and women of scientific bent, by aptitude and training. Such training Tufts College Dental School offers to its students. School opens on September 30, 1929. For catalog and guide to you in choosing your career, address
Dr William Rice, Dean
416 Huntington Avenue Boston, Mass

LETTERS IN BASKETBALL AND HOCKEY AWARDED BY ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Letter awards made by the Athletic Council and announced through the office of Graduate Manager Mayforth are as follows:

Varsity basketball: Captain J. S. Robinson, T. J. Halligan, H. M. Wallace, W. M. Sargent, P. E. Mannino, L. F. Palmer, D. J. Bernstein, B. R. Morse, Manager B. W. Gustafson.

Varsity hockey: Captain H. C. Schurman, L. Sergent, E. J. Mercier, R. A. Lawrence, S. W. Howard, G. R. Collins, R. W. Hendrick, P. M. Perry, T. R. Marvin, C. H. Thompson, Manager W. S. Hall.

Freshman basketball numerals: Captain J. M. Wright, L. L. Bowers, W. R. Bedell, C. M. Ball, M. E. Dober, F. Tupper, F. J. Proctor, C. W. Tilley, and Assistant Manager F. M. Stevenson, H. L. Petrucho, S. B. Barker.

VARSITY TRACK TO BE REVIVED AFTER EASTER

Immediately after the Easter recess varsity track practice will be resumed. Coach Aldrich informs us that because of the ineligibility of several veterans and the lack of material practice had to be abandoned until the above mentioned date. For the same reason the prospects of capturing the first meet to be held with Union College here on May 4 are very poor. Furthermore, Union is said to have one of the strongest track teams in the East, and unless new material will report Vermont's outlook is nothing to speak of.

There are, therefore, wonderful opportunities for newcomers in all events. All men interested should see Coach Aldrich or Manager Bruchard at an early date. Especially are the frosh urged to come out.

The following compose the varsity as it stands: Wood, discus throw; Kropper, shot put; Berry, low and 220-yard dashes; Mace, shot put and hammer throw; Lyman, high jump and pole vault; Francechi, high jump; Mackay, shot put and hammer throw; Davis, miler and high scorer last year, is at present practicing for the Boston marathon. Park and Captain Robbins, who are temporarily ineligible, may come back after Easter.

Don't Experiment with your Appearance
LANGROCK
FINE CLOTHES
For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

ORDERS FOR TEACHER TRAINING CAPS AND GOWNS
MUST BE PLACED BEFORE MARCH 31
AT THE OFFICE OF THE University Store

COWBOYS ENTERTAIN AFTER THEIR DEBATE

David and Singleton, After Winning Debate, Explain Modes of Dressing of Texan Punchers

COME BEFORE AUDIENCE AS TYPICAL RANCH HANDS

[illegible] which Ben David, was [illegible] raged up for their little [illegible] regaled the audience in the [illegible] with a few remarks [illegible] of Texas boots and [illegible] thought he would present the audience a typical Texan. In full regalia, [illegible] chaps, underneath which [illegible] pants, a gaily colored [illegible] and the usual [illegible] hat,

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VERMONT, FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1929 — NUMBER 43

CLASSICAL SOCIETY INITIATES FOURTEEN

Iota Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi Holds Meeting at Home of Professor Bassett and Takes in New Members

LOCAL CHAPTER SPRANG FROM OLD GREEK CLUB

Eta Sigma Phi, the national honorary classical society, held a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Professor Bassett, 295 South Prospect Street and initiated fourteen new members. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bassett after the initiation and a social good time followed.

Eta Sigma Phi of the University of Vermont first started as a Greek club called "Eranos." This club was composed solely of students taking the classical course and was for the purpose of uniting the Greek students together and increasing their interest in the course by giving them a chance to act in Greek plays which were presented now and then by the club. Eranos increased in size and importance until a few years ago it petitioned Alpha chapter of Eta Sigma Phi of the University of Chicago, where the society originated, for membership in its national organization. Its petition was accepted and the University of Vermont was honored in having the first chapter of Eta Sigma Phi this side of the Ohio River. Since then the Vermont chapter has had a still greater prosperity until now it is rated as one of the largest and most important honorary organizations on the hill. The presenting of Greek plays is still one of the features of the society. The last was that which was presented in January, 1929, "Iphegenia in Tauris," with Gladys Kone, '29 and Lloyd S. Turner, '29 taking the leading parts. This year dramatized parts of the Iliad are presented at every meeting which are every two weeks, usually in Room 34 South College.

Form School Clubs

One of the activities outlined by the society for the rest of the year is that of forming classical or Greek clubs in the different high schools of the state. Through this it is hoped that the study of Greek will be made more popular and interesting in the preparatory schools of the state.

The membership to Eta Sigma Phi is limited only in that its members must be studying Greek and have a mark of B or above in this subject. At present there are about 50 active members and 7 honorary members. The honorary members are: Prof. S. E. Bassett, a frequent contributor to Nautilus, the fraternity magazine; Professors G. V. Kidder; L. M. Prindle; J. E. Pooley; J. T. Metcalf; E. Y. Hincksay; Miss Mary M. Patrick.

Officers and Initiates

The officers elected Tuesday evening are as follows: President, George Hook, '29, a member of Delta Zeta sorority and recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Vice-president, Esther Flint, '30, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Bluestockings, the women's honorary literary society. Secretary, Susan Howard, '30, a member of Sigma Gamma sorority and Bluestockings. Treasurer, E. Henry Powell, '30, a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity and editor of the 1930 Ververi. Sergeant at Arms, Lloyd Fraser, '29, a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The newly-initiated members are: Virginia Bostwick, 30; Chester Bush, '30; Verna Carrier, '32; Belle Church, '31; Louise Clark, '32; Alice Dalton, '31; Caroline Howard, '32; F. W. Schoolder, Jr., '32; A. A. Maislen, '32; Elizabeth Mandigo, '32; Margaret Mayo, '31; Joyce Richardson, '30; Evelyn Trask, '30; Natalie Carleton, '31.

Twelve college women all alumni of Camp Hochelaga, the state Y. W. C. A. camp in South Hero, enjoyed a reunion dinner at the Vermont, Sunday evening. Miss Leavens of Montpelier, State Director, and Miss Dodge of Rutland, State Assistant Director, were in town for the occasion.

PI DELTA RHO WILL SELECT NEW MEMBERS

Pi Delta Rho, the honorary journalistic society, held a meeting at the Sigma Nu Lodge, Wednesday evening, March 20. The main business of the meeting was the appointing of a committee consisting of L. O. Clayton, chairman, E. H. Powell, and O. A. Martinetti to consider the eligibility of new members to the society. This committee will report at the next meeting which will be held, April 16, at the S. A. E. house.

PROFESSOR DICKINSON WILL ADDRESS MEMBERS OF JOHN DEWEY CLUB

Engineering Faculty Member to Speak on "The Point of View of Science" at Tuesday Night Meeting

Professor Dickinson, of the Electrical Engineering department, will address the members of the John Dewey Club, for those students interested in psychology and philosophy, at the next meeting of the club which will be held next Tuesday evening, March 26, at the Vermonters Club House, commencing at 8.00 o'clock. He will speak on "The Point of View of Science."

Three years ago, in 1925-26, Professor Dickinson did graduate work at Stanford University. He is at the present time engaged in experiments upon frequency conversion. He is seeking to discover possible new methods of frequency conversion. He is being assisted in this work by McGibbon and Barter, senior electrical engineering students. The General Electric Company sent up an oscillograph to aid in the experiments.

Professor Dickinson's talk to the John Dewey Club next Tuesday evening will not be of a technical character. He will speak on the point of view of the scientist with regard to natural phenomenon. He will also touch on the relation between science and philosophy, and upon the methods of science.

The John Dewey Club affords all students the opportunity of getting a close contact with their professors, since many professors, too, regularly attend the meetings. In this way, the opportunity offers itself to any student to broaden in a very beneficial way his social contact.

Refreshments will be served.

SIGMA GAMMA HEADS SCHOLASTIC STANDING

Sigma Delta First Among Men's Fraternities—Many Changes in Usual Order—Based on First Semester Grades

Relative order of fraternity standing scholastically has at last been released from the Registrar's office. This much awaited list reveals many changes in the usual standing of the Greek letter societies. Sigma Gamma leads the list with the remaining seven sororities including the K. E. L. Society in consecutive order. Sigma Delta is given ninth place in the list, but leads in the men's fraternity averages.

The list is compiled from the grades received for the first semester. As calculated by the Registrar, the order of Greek letter fraternities at Vermont for the last semester is as follows:

Sigma Gamma, Delta Delta Delta, (K. E. L. Society), Alpha Chi Omega, Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Xi Delta, Kappa Delta, Sigma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Mu Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Psi, Sigma Nu, Zeta Chi, Phi Sigma Delta, Tau Epsilon Phi, Lambda Iota, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Phi.

Next year the University of North Carolina will have the first college daily newspaper in the southern states east of Texas.

DEBATERS DROP FIRST CONTEST ON FORENSIC TRIP TO MASS. AGGIES

Vermont Loses to M. A. C. When Judges Split Their Votes to Decide for Bay Staters on Advertising Question

Vermont lost to M. A. C. at Amherst Saturday night by a 2-1 decision of the judges in the first contest of a four-debate trip. Though it marked the second defeat for the Catamount orators in as many days, nevertheless the showing of the Vermonters against the Aggies, much stronger than against either Norwich or Howard Payne the same week, resulted in so close a debate as to have warranted a decision for Vermont. The question was the same on which Vermont, earlier in the season, debated Bates College in a no-decision affair, but was differently worded—"Resolved, that modern advertising is more harmful than beneficial."

Vermonters Condemn Advertising

Vermont took the affirmative, advancing, in turn, Franklin Sears, George Nelson and Louis Lisman. On the Massachusetts team were J. W. Morrison, T. H. Marcus and D. M. Crowley. Dean W. L. Machmer of M. A. C. presided. The decision was delivered by Professors G. F. Whicher and W. S. Clark of Amherst College and Mr. Walter Dyer of Amherst. The Oxford plan was employed, giving each man fifteen minutes of straight argument but permitting the first affirmative orator to split his time, using eight minutes in construction and closing the whole debate with seven minutes of rebuttal.

Although Vermont, as the affirmative team, bore the burden of the proof, the negative presented a completed case of its own, holding that advertising has proved its worth through the social and economic advantages inherent in it and because of the by-products of the system, which have proved a boon to America.

Confusion, Waste and Inefficiency

Vermont, advancing its constructive case and tearing down that of the negative at the same time, maintained that modern advertising methods result in confusion and economic waste, nor could it see any measure of efficiency in the system.

Sears, opening the debate, concentrated on the confusion in the mind of the consumer who, dependent on advertising to learn of buying values, finds himself in a wonderland of false or distorted values. Nelson, continuing his argument, showed how advertising results in enormous waste. He made his argument picturesque by quoting advertisements and elaborating on their weak spots. Statistics and quotations also combined to support his case.

Lisman, in closing for the affirmative construction presented a plan for industrial standardization to contrast its efficiency with the inefficiency of modern advertising. He carefully explained that he was not attempting to standardize women's hats but he did want to cut down on the 600 sizes and varieties of tire here, the advertisements of which, each extolling its own merits, has produced the evils of confusion and waste.

Audience Laughed

A great deal of the time for construction was employed purely for rebuttal and the presentation of this material as well as of most of the construction was such as to keep the audience in constant gales of laughter.

The debate closed with Sears' seven minute sur-rebuttal in which he refuted some of the M. A. C. rebuttal, cleaned up a number of points and summarized.

The rest of the Vermont schedule on this trip is as follows:

Wednesday, March 20—Brooklyn Law School.

Thursday, March 21—New York University.

Friday, March 22—College of the City of New York.

INDEPENDENTS CHOOSE CODDING AS PRESIDENT

At a meeting of the Vermont Independents held last Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A. rooms E. M. Codding '31 was elected president of the organization. D. C. Pierce will act as vice-president, Ralph Masten as treasurer, and T. Quinn as secretary. Pierce and Quinn are sophomores while Masten is a freshman. Codding wishes that all non-fraternity men who wish to play on the Independent baseball team in the coming fraternity series hand their names in to him either before or directly after the Easter recess. From now on social meetings will be held with more regularity than previously.

RECOGNITION WILL BE GIVEN BAND MEMBERS IN SHAPE OF CHARMS

Men Eligible for Keys Will be Chosen by Rattan, Lechnyr and Derby—Band May Have Student Managers

For several years there has been agitation among the members of the R. O. T. C. Band for some sort of distinctive insignia or some recognition of their services. This year, largely through the efforts of Captain Rattan, Joseph F. Lechnyr, and Roger Derby, '30, the military department is to give a watch charm to those band members who have served faithfully. This charm, designed by Roger Derby, will consist of a green "V" set on a background of a gold lyre.

In order to receive this charm a student must have played in the band one college year, and until after Kake Walk of the next college year. Thus a person who plays one year, stays out of the band a year and then returns, is not eligible. The judges as to the eligibility of the band members to receive this charm are Captain Rattan, Joseph F. Lechnyr, and Roger Derby, '30, and the decisions will be based upon the work and interest shown by the individuals.

The charms this year will be presented to those band members earning them sometime between now and the end of the college year.

There is a possibility that the band may organize itself under a system similar to that of the various other organizations on the hill. Instead of leaving everything up to either the director or the military department the band members would provide a body of officers to attend to such details as keeping track of music, arranging seats for concerts and athletic contests, and arranging trips under the supervision of the director. These officers would be a manager and their assistants and their scrubs. Thus there would be more in the band and perhaps more trips. For at the present time those in charge of the band do not really have the necessary time to devote to this organization, but squeeze it in between their other activities. There is no complaint of the present system or those in charge, but rather an attempt to relieve them of some of their duties and create better spirit in the band.

ASSISTANT PRODUCERS OF OPERA ANNOUNCED

Those who will assist in the production of the comic opera, Patience, soon after Easter vacation are Miss Mary Maud Patrick, of the Education Department who will have charge of the costumes, Miss Baldwin of the Physical Education Department who will supervise dancing, and Miss Elizabeth Colburn assisted by Miss Lois Burbank, with the making of posters. Professor Metcalf will have the supervision of the dramatics in the opera and Professor Bennett will have the music. Rehearsals are now going on as usual.

Students at Middlebury College are now allowed to typewrite their exams if they so desire.

Imagine!

SPAEIGHT CHARMS LECTURE AUDIENCE

English Actor Portrays Dickens' Story of Mr. Pickwick—Two Chairs and a Table Only Properties

ADVISES THAT STUDENTS READ AND BUY CLASSICS

For two hours last Monday night, a large and appreciative audience sat completely under the spell of Mr. Frank Spaeight as he gave his recital of the Pickwick characters from Dickens. With two chairs and a table as his only stage properties the English actor so faithfully portrayed the famous story of Mr. Pickwick, his friends and his manservant Sam Weller, that the audience seemed actually to see the performance as though it were being given by a troupe of actors. He gave portions of the Pickwick Papers which dealt with Mr. Pickwick's unfortunate experience with Mrs. Bardell and her breach of promise suit, a day's travel, and a shooting trip with his three friends.

In addition to his sketches from Dickens, Mr. Spaeight told of several amusing experiences during his career. He also gave some advice to college students in regard to their reading. He advised a student to read for 30 minutes a day from classic works and not to borrow these books but to buy them. These should not be too good to mark for, as one reads he should mark the pages and sentences that he likes. As for modern novels do not read one until it is five years old and if it lasts that long it is worth reading.

In the course of his recital he explained that the characters which he portrayed from Dickens were in reality from life. One remembers people not by their virtues or failings, said Mr. Spaeight, but rather by their eccentricities and he illustrated his point by giving imitations of several people he had known. However, according to him nobody ever recognizes himself when imitated unless someone is mean enough to tell him.

Mr. Spaeight first gave the scene in which Mrs. Bardell mistakes Mr. Pickwick's asking for advice on getting a manservant for a proposal. The audience was immediately carried into the spirit of the book as the famous Dickens characters seemed actually to walk the stage in person. Mr. Pickwick, Mr. Winkle, Mrs. Bardell, Sam Weller, and all of the supporting cast of lesser dignitaries. Even the troublesome horse appeared. Every one was sorry when the recital was finished, and in response to a request Mr. Spaeight returned to give as an encore the poem of "The Bells" by Edgar Allen Poe.

To give a background for the recital, Mr. Spaeight first gave a short account of the early life of Charles Dickens. He pictured vividly the hardships of his life as a boy and the handicaps under which Dickens labored to get an education. Until he was sixteen the boy had had but two years in school but after that he made up for lost time in reading classics for fifteen hours a day.

By the time he was twenty Dickens had started to write sketches and at twenty-four he had written the Pickwick Papers and before he was thirty he had written several of his most famous books. His story was instantly popular for it spoke for the heart and not for the head.

The sophomores will start a series of practical tests on the automatic rifle which will continue until Easter. All cadet officers in R. O. T. C. will continue the work which they are doing now until after Easter.

The following girls are in charge of the Junior Hop: girls and business: Jacqueline Larson, '30, assistant manager; Lorraine Gwynn, '30, committee manager. Marjorie Huntley, '31, assistants; Viola Tryon, '31, and Frances French, '31, freshman member, Alice Brown, '32.

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O CLAYTON, '29
Editor-in-Chief

HERBERT M MACOMBER, '29 — ARTHUR D. STEARNS, '29
Managing Editors

PRISCILLA T CAMPBELL, '29
Women's Editor

George R. Brush, '30 — News Editors Louis Lisman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc. Editors: Belle L. Church, '29; Joyce E. Richardson, '30 — Sports Editor: Seymour L. Nathanson, '30 — Asst. Sporting Editors: Lynford M. Foster, '31; Herman D. Gussow, '31; Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor: Harriet E. Wright, '31 — Intercollegiate Editor: Odine A. Martinetti, '29 — Feature Editor: Edward J. Boyer, '30

Art Editor: Lenore Aldinger, '29 — Faculty Advisor: Prof. Leon W. Dean — Women's Intercolleg. Editor: Cornelia S. Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Pauline Burridge, '30; Janice Goodrich, '30; Julia Waterman, '30; Lucile Rose, '31; Hilda Smith, '30

Winifred Stone, '31; Margaret Ann Martin, '32; Hope Ransiow, '32; Alfred J. Morin, '32; Watson E. Morgan, '32

E. Henry Powell, '30; Charles N. Crockett, '31; Edmour A. R. Germain, '31; Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32; Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '30
Business Manager

Major P. Jenks, '29 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Stuart S. Corbin, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Salem F. McQuesten, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
F. Stanley Smith, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2934 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1885. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 426 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol. 47 — March 22, 1929 — No. 43

A DEAN'S LIST

No innovation in recent years has been more gladly welcomed than the publication at Vermont of a Dean's honor list listing the names of students in all classes of the College of Arts and Sciences who have attained an average of B or better. All credit for the act goes to Dean Swift.

Vermont has hitherto confined itself to the old honor roll system of listing only students with no grade below B. That this system is decidedly unjust is almost self-evident, for it is capable of producing a situation in which a student with four A's and one C receives no recognition for his work whereas 5 B's would entitle him to a place on the list. The President's list contains two groups, an A group for students with no grade below B and a B group. The situation has occurred several times over in which, while a man with a 95 average makes the A list, a man with a 94 or 93 average makes the B list. A difference of two points thus places a man in a superior or inferior class, but men with a 94 average make the very same list as the men with an all B report—an 85 average. The discrimination should either be abolished or carried all the way down the list.

Only freshmen and sophomores have a place on the President's list. Are upperclassmen oblivious to scholastic honors? While students who participate in college activities receive every honor they can earn, those who confine themselves to their studies, unless they be of Phi Beta rank, receive no recognition whatsoever for any good work they may do. Such a situation tends to urge students into outside activities in preference to studies. The real and immediate rewards are much greater.

Dean Swift has made a step forward in a highly desirable direction. But why stop there?

The list should be extended to all colleges at the University and should supersede the old official list. And there should be yet another innovation. Students who have made the list have displayed either industry or ability or both. Special privileges should be extended to either the seniors who have made the grade or, if the list discriminates between higher and lower marks, to students who have attained the highest averages, regardless of class. Such privileges would take the form of unlimited or extensive cuts, release from the rules governing absences before and after vacations and from such other rules as were originally designed to keep the student body studying.

We've begun it now. How about going ahead?

A DAY'S WORK

"When you get to know a fellow and you understand his ways,
Then his faults won't really matter, for you'll find a lot to praise."

Read these two lines over three times. Read them the first time "just for fun." Read them the second time understandingly. Read them the third time critically. By this time you should have committed them to memory. You have? Then pat yourself on the back, for you've done a good day's work!

A strong indictment against all of us is our intolerance. Tolerance is a most excellent thing and so few of us have developed it. These two lines are a plea for a fairer judgment of our neighbors. If you must judge, start with yourself. We need more tolerance and a little less of the narrow world of "Me and Mine."

• • • •

"Luck is the joy which men deserve,
The rich reward of those who serve."

Read these two lines over three times. Read them the first time "just for fun." Read them the second time understandingly. Read them the third time critically. By this time you should have committed them to memory. You have? Then pat yourself on the back, for you've done a good day's work!

A strong indictment against all of us is our belief in luck. The habit of serving is a most excellent thing and so few of us have developed it. These two lines are a plea for more work and more interest in that work and, at the same time, less reliance upon sheer luck. We need more honest-to-goodness manpower and brainpower and a little less of the type of comeback that starts—"Oh, Jim? Well he got a lucky break!"

With the Theatre

Monday and Tuesday

Once there was a man named Zane Grey, and he had an idea. When people get that way, there is only one thing they can do about it; write it out of their system. So Zane Grey wrote a book and published it, but that didn't help him much, so he wrote it over again and changed the title. He did that a lot of times and made much money. Then along came the moving pictures and Jack Holt, and they combined with Mr Grey's stories and made Western Pictures, but not so much money. This is one of them at the Majestic Monday and Tuesday. It's called "Avalanche," but that doesn't mean anything. Like all these stories it concerns itself with a bad man and a good man, and a bad woman and a good woman, and in the end the good man gets the good woman, and the bad man and woman get killed or arrested or lost in the rush for the exits. Some people can stand these things, so I suppose if you haven't anything to do Monday and Tuesday you can't be kept away—not even by Zane Grey, with Jack Holt being strong and silent all over the scenery.

Wednesday and Thursday

It seems that in nineteen fourteen there was a war and the Germans lost—but being very clever people they decided that they'd be revenged on us—so they called up a couple of bad fairies, and these decreed that for fifty years half the stories written and half the moving pictures and plays produced would be about the war. That's exactly what happened. But this picture, "The Woman Disputed," is much better than a lot of pictures that deal, however vaguely, with the war—but it just isn't in the running when it comes to such efforts as "The Big Parade" and "What Price Glory." It is however worth spending an evening at. Oh, it has lots of things—spies and dungeons and Norma Talmadge "giving her all" in a big way to save her loved one or her country or something like that. Anyway it's worth thirty-five cents to see all that in one evening.

Friday

Friday the Majestic springs a little surprise on you. They have two pictures. Yes, I know they always have had two pictures on Friday but each week they rather coyly announce from the screen that they're going to have two magnificent productions on Friday night. Really on Friday night you have a better chance than on any other night. There are three possibilities: Both pictures will be very good; both pictures will be very bad; or you'll break even with one of each class. This last is usually the case, and next week is no exception. "The Loves of Casanova" is the thing you want to escape, so call up the management and ask them what time the thing goes on. Then plan to get there after it's done. It requires accurate timing but with practice the idea works swell. And I'm not charging you for it. So just take your time with dinner and reach the Temple of the Cinema in time to see Olive Borden and Jack Pickford in "Gang War." This rather flopped as a play in New York but it has made a pretty good picture if you aren't too greatly worried about verisimilitude and other little non-essentials. There's a lot of action and more machine guns than there ought to be in any respectable picture and—really, my dear—you can be thankful there isn't any sound machine in the theatre, because the racket would be awful.

Saturday

Saturday is just a fine night to stay at home with a book, or get a house date or go to a dance, even if it's in the Gym, because the picture's awful. It's supposed to be funny. Maybe it is. Maybe I'm getting old and losing my sense of humor. Anyway, I'd much rather go to a funeral and have a real hearty laugh. Victor McLaglen is in it, and it's called "Strong Boy" but don't let them fool you. Stay away. On the other hand, maybe you need to take life seriously, so go and weep at the jokes if you can't resist the Lure of the Cinema. But don't say I didn't warn you.

Newsy: "They had a terrible accident in Scotland recently."
News: "What was it?"
Newsy: "Two taxicabs collided and 18 Scotchmen were hurt."—The Haya.

LENTEN EASTER CONCERT FEATURES UNIVERSITY CHOIR AND SOLOISTS

Special interest attaches to the performance of a chorus from Bach's "St. Matthew Passion," since its first performance occurred two hundred years ago, on Good Friday, 1729, and its great revival under Mendelssohn one hundred years ago, in March, 1829, many performances of the entire work are being given in large cities throughout the world.

The following program of Lenten and Easter music will be given by the University choir, Prof. H. G. Bennett, director, Miss Miriam Marston, organist; assisted by the Rev. Dr. I. C. Smart and members of the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, in the Ira Allen Chapel next Sunday, March 24, at 4 p.m.:

PART I—LENTEN MUSIC

Organ Prelude: Chorale Prelude on "Herzlich thut mich verlangen," ..... Bach
Hymn: Pange Lingua Gloriosi Proelium Certaminis .... Gregorian
Processional Hymn: O Sacred Head, Now Wounded ..... Hassler
Scripture Reading
O Bone Jesu ..... Palestrina
Ave Verum Corpus ..... Mozart
Recitative: "Thy rebuke hath broken his heart"; and air: "Behold, and see if there be any sorrow," from the "Messiah" ..... Handel
Air: "He was despised," from the "Messiah" ..... Handel
Final Chorus from the "St. Matthew Passion" ..... Bach

PART II—EASTER MUSIC

Scripture Reading
Christ is arisen (Christ ist erstanden) ..... German, 12th Century
Give ear, give ear, good Christian men ..... From the Piae Cantiones
O Filii et Filiae, French 17th Century
Air: "But thou didst not leave his soul in hell," from the "Messiah" .....Handel
Air: "I know that my Redeemer liveth," from the "Messiah" ..... Handel
Chorus: "Unfold, ye portals everlasting," from "The Redemption" ..... Gounod
Hymn: The strife is o'er
Arranged from Palestrina
Prayer and Benediction
Response: Christ is arisen
German, 12th Century
Recessional Hymn: Christ the Lord is risen today, from the Lyra ..... Davidica Organ Postlude: Alleluia (introducing O Filii et Filiae . Dubois

THE BOARDING HOUSE REACH

By Ex-Converse Hall

To Cap the Climax

O'Reilly tipped his cap jauntily toward his right ear and slapped his club smartly against an inoffensive lamp post.

"Well, s'nice night, anyway. Hello, Doc, how they goin'?"

"Great, Jimmie! Look out for the bootleggers."

"You bet."

The girl on Doc's arm: "He certainly looks happy! Trick way to wear a hat, isn't it?"

"Yeh, Jimmie O'Reilly's hat is his weather vane. You know, you can always tell just how the wind's blowing by seeing the way he wears it. He's happy tonight. Good guy."

They passed on.

Patrolman O'Reilly was whistling, Oh, What a Pal Was Mary, not loudly and shrilly like an ordinary young man with exuberant spirits, but rather as a person young in years, yet mature in experience—and in love.

Yes, in love. No, it wasn't spring, nor was it merely a mistaken bit of passion. It was love. What Jimmie went in for, he went in for wholeheartedly. He was wholeheartedly in love.

"Wish I wasn't on the owl beat now. Bet Mary looks the nuts tonight! Wonder if I couldn't stop in to see her for a few moments. I go right past her house. Hello, Mr. Stearns! Nice night, isn't it?"

"Sure is, Jimmie."

"Yes, I guess I'll stop in to see her. Sort of surprise. She'll be glad. Gee, how I love to see her when she's glad."

He tapped the hat forward a bit, still allowing it to retain its peculiar slant. Happy determination. His steps echoed up the still street, and his swinging club from time to time rapped a convenient pole forth its sharper, deeper echo.

"Just around the corner, only be a minute."

He hurried up the walk to brick apartment house, pressed lower hallway only to press button below a card bearing Mary Sanders, and then sprang up the steps, two at a time.

About five minutes elapsed solid tread echoed down the and a man in blue, with slammed his way past the Jimmie O'Reilly raised the carrying in his hand and far down over his eyes.

SAYINGS OF NAUTES

"I beg leave to ... students of this great ... final completion of my ... the subject of how to ... ly without cracking ... principle involved is the ... which is the foundation ... science of gambling the ... and always winning ...

"The book is on sale ... nut and fruit shops ... those you patronize ... this "Bilmer's Bigge Bluff ... do not hesitate for the ... to do one line of Latin ... but write immediately ... to the publishers, Zoo... Ink."—G. V. Bilmer

Here follows a review ...

Bilmer's Bigge Bluffe ... by George K. Bilmer, Zoo... Ink.—13 mo.—5,794 pp.—$... Reviewed by P. Vilius ...

Here is a book, my ... covers the whole range ... thought on this subject. ... of making all courses ... courses. The author is the fa... G. K. Bilmer, St.D., B.Vd., F.R.S.P. ETC. Mr. Bilmer has ... years in digging up the ... and systems which he uses in ... posing this book. He enrolled ... student at Vermont for the pu... of studying modern bluffing me... as practiced at that institution ... admits in his book, however, th... found many of them hopelessly ... date; and it is also for the purpo... correcting these poor methods th... wrote this volume. In addition ... make this book as accurate and ... plete as possible, he has dug ... great number of ancient wri... either on the subject or having ... thing to do with it. In fact he ... shown the greatest care and pai... making this as thorough a treat... the subject as is possible.

In the first chapter he discusses ... older systems of course passing, ... ing particular stress on their fa... to consider all eventualities, ma... them, indeed, working only in th... ceptional cases, rather than in a... dinary cases, as a really modern ... scientific system must. These he ... siders in detail, mentioning the... that he thinks satisfactory.

In chapter two he lays before ... reader in detail several plans, ... which have been thoroughly ... before inclusion in this book. A... the following chapters he discu... fully the theory and practice of ... fing, copying, the single-answer ... tem, the open-book system, and ... others, some already in practic... some form, at old Vermont, and ... that have not yet made their a... ance on the campus.

Due to the open seating for ... which has recently become the g... practice at Vermont, Prof. Bilm... vises the student's purchasing a... of his special long distance ... These may be bought in combi... with the book at $10.00 per set.

20 Years Ago at Vermo...

Commencement Committees ... pointed, of which the follow... chairmen:

Class Day, Standage Johnso...
Class Book, Dean R. Hill
Pipe, Willard C. Adams
Banner, Mary Robinson
Invitation, George S. Ha...
Promenade, Robert C. Wh...
Boat Ride, Lester B. Va...
Finance, Orrin B. Hughes
Cane, Bernard R. Bristol
Cap and Gown, Roger E. C...

10 Years Ago

Major General C. R. ... visits the University. Edw... formerly the commander of ... division. The R. O. T. C. ... lines up on both sides of ... to receive him.

Clyde Engle, new coach ... ball at the University of V... formerly played with the ...

SPORTING NEWS

SEYMOUR I. NATHANSON, '30
Sporting Editor

COACHES PICK OFFICIAL ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAMS

Hartford, State Champs, Gets Four Men on All-Tournament Teams—Hopkins of Springfield Chosen Captain

Following are the official All-Senior High School Tournament teams chosen by the coaches of the teams which competed in the tournament:

First Team

Hopkins, Springfield, Capt., forward.
Gero, Cathedral, forward.
McCarthy, Hartford, center.
Johnson, Hartford, guard.
Corvette, Cathedral, guard.

Second Team

Regnone, Hartford, forward.
Falzaroni, Hartford, forward.
Corliss, Springfield, center.
Racy, Springfield, guard.
Fish, Bellows Falls, guard.

Each coach picked first and second teams and a player was given two points for a first team place and one point for a second team place. The players with the most points in the respective positions were placed on the teams.

The coaches who submitted teams are Coach A. S. Claridge of Bellows Falls, Coach W. W. Waters of Springfield, Coach R. J. Hanley of Hartford, Coach E. R. Purdy of Rutland, Coach M. Hard of Burlington, Coach D. Haire of Newport and Coach Draghetti of Fair Haven.

Hopkins of Springfield who was the high scorer of the tournament with 35 points was given the captaincy by virtue of his unanimous choice as first team forward. Two of his teammates, Racy and Corliss, placed on the second team as guard and center respectively. By placing two men on the first team and two on the second Hartford which won the Senior Tourney here and then defeated Orleans for the state championship has the largest number of men on the teams. McCarthy, a valuable defensive man, got the center position on the first team and Johnson, who won the final game against Springfield for Hartford in the tournament and who was second to Hopkins in scoring with 33 points, captured a guard on the first selection. Corvette and Olio, mainstays of the Cathedral team of Burlington, took the other guard and forward berths. Regone, captain of the Hartford team, and his running mate, Falzaroni, were chosen second team forwards while Fish, Bellows Falls captain, completes the selections as the other second team guard.

CO-EDS END BASKETBALL SEASON WITH BANQUET

The annual basketball banquet was held at Robinson Hall, Tuesday, March 19 at 6:15 p.m. After an excellent banquet speeches were made by prominent members of W. A. A. The speakers were introduced by Marion Backus '29, president of W. A. A., and toastmistress of the occasion.

The program of speakers was as follows:

Miss Blanchard
Miss Hard
Mildred Akins, '32: When the whistle blows let us start to play.
Edith Abbott, '31: And play our best.
Rachael Perelman, '30: And our cleanest.
Estella Fiske, '29: And never mind the outcome.
Miss Cummings
Miss Patterson

Miss Cummings announced the varsity basketball team as follows: forwards, Mildred Akins, '32, and Harriet Winstone, '31; center, Helen Buck, '31; sub-center, Isabelle Warhurst, '31; guards, Jean Wappler, '31, and Janet Miller, '32.

The basketball season was acclaimed by all to be one of the greatest in the history of U. V. M.

Rachael Perelman, '30, was elected to act as manager of sports for the next year.

Utah to Hold Circus

Strike out at the University of Utah is planning a big "intramural circus." Each fraternity, sorority, club, and organization on the campus are supposed to contribute a sideshow. The organization giving the best offering will receive a silver loving cup. The purpose of the circus is to raise funds for awards in other fields.

CAT'S MEOW

—SPORTING EDITOR—

Nearly all intramural competition ends this week-end when wrestling, relays and the track meet take place.

Coaches Rattan and Tully have decided to conduct football practice at Centennial for a few weeks after the Easter vacation. This has been done at Vermont previously only at intervals but spring practice is getting to be the regular thing in most colleges and is even creeping into the high schools.

Connell, recently elected head coach of football at Dartmouth to take the place of Jesse Hawley, retired, is making a change in the "Big Green" system at the start by discontinuing the spring work-outs.

Tufts and Harvard are two of the leading eastern football colleges who are in the midst of strenuous football practice.

With a few days of sunny weather Coach Gardner expects to get his baseball squad out on the back campus for a little long distance batting and fly catching. After that he will announce the squad which will make the trip south.

Through graduation and ineligibility the varsity track team is so depleted that it will be necessary for Coach Aldrich to build up practically a new team. So far mostly freshmen and sophomores have been showing up in practice but there is need of a lot more good material. At present the team is stronger in field events than on the track. Meehan is going to make a sweet pole vaulter and Woodward is doing well at high jumping and the 440. At present most of the time is being concentrated on the interfraternity track meet although some varsity practice is being held daily. After the frat track meet is over varsity track practice will become more intensive and Coach Aldrich hopes to see much more material.

Despite repeated balloting, the Norwich track men have failed to break a deadlock in the election of a captain for the coming season. The contest has given an equal number of votes to Gardner Buck of Northfield, Arnold Wiggin of Portsmouth and Fred Taylor of Rutland.

Sixty-five track men have reported to Coach Ben Beck at Middlebury. Of the squad twelve are letter men of last year's state championship team, including two men who hold three state records. Gilbert Smith of Sheffield, Mass., state champion in 100- and 200-yard dashes, will lead the Black Panther trackmen this year. He will undoubtedly appear at the New England collegiates in May.

The baseball game between Holy Cross and the Osaka Mainichi team from Japan scheduled to be played at Fitton Field, Worcester, has been cancelled and some other team will be substituted to play on this date.

Bobby Giddens of Ottawa, Canada, was selected captain of next winter's Harvard hockey team. One of Giddens's best stunts was turned in during the Yale series of a year ago, when he bottled up "Ding" Palmer and prevented that whirlwind from scoring. This year Giddens had a big scoring lead on his mates, caging the puck eighteen times.

Robert F. Wilson, of Cincinnati, O., was elected captain of next year's Yale hockey team. Wilson played this season as a defense man and made his letter for the second consecutive year on the championship Yale team.

HENRY'S DINER
155 BANK STREET
You eat well when you eat at Henry's
Where they serve the best at popular prices

BASEBALL TEAM SHOWS MUCH PROMISE AS TRIP SOUTH DRAWS NEARER

Squad of Thirty Men Fighting for Positions on Team Which Leaves for Washington March 29

With only one week remaining before the southern trip, Coach Gardner has been putting the varsity baseball squad through long, hard practice sessions during the last few days. The squad was cut last week leaving thirty men on the roster from whom the team for the southern trip will be picked. The complete itinerary of the trip will be announced very shortly.

Among the backstops, Captain Macomber will get the first call with Stroh and Kendall fighting it out for the remaining berth.

Among the moundsmen, Wood, Cummings, Sargent and Kendrick seem slated to go, along with Rutkowski, crack freshman twirler.

Frank O'Keefe, utility infielder last year, will hold down the bag at first. Wetherell and Traynor, two freshmen, are the outstanding candidates for second base, with Traynor having a safe edge. He is the most promising of the new men to report this year and the keystone sack will be well taken care of by him. Burt Morse and Harry Schurman are the class of the field at short with Jay and Kersey not far behind. McKay, another freshman, is unopposed at third base and will probably make the trip at that position.

"Wis" Howard and "Dinny" Dinniman, letter men last year, will hold down two of the outer garden positions. There is a host of candidates for the other open outfield position. Among these Winant and Carrigan stand the best chance of traveling southward as both are heavy stickers. Dinniman showed that he had some high class baseball in him last year and as a regular this year he should develop into the best outfielder Vermont has had in years. Howard was the heavy hitter of last year's nine and has his eye on the pill again. He will cause the opposing pitchers plenty of trouble on the trip.

McPherson: "Be mine, Annie, and you will be treated like an angel."
Annie: "Yes, I suppose so. Nothing to eat and less to wear. No thanks!"
—Wesleyan Argus.

Ethel: "Jack says I grow prettier every day."
Mabel: "What a fright you must have been at the start."—McGill Daily

Boston Bruins got the jump on Les Canadiens Tuesday night by winning the first Stanley Cup Series hockey game 1 to 0 at the Boston Garden. The Bruins reign favorites to cop the championship now.

Results of the Vermont-Boston U. fencing match yesterday afternoon will be in Tuesday's Cynic since this issue went to press before the match could be reported.

FOR SHOE REPAIRING
try
SIKORA'S SHOE SHOP
188 Bank Street

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Carleton on Saturday, March 16. Mrs. Carleton was formerly Katherine Pease, '26.

Elizabeth White, '28, who teaches in Johnson visited in the city last week-end.

Eleanor Lockwood, '28, who attends Prince School in Boston, visited in the city recently.

KAPPA DELTA

Kappa Delta announces the pledging of Anna Grey Tracy, '30 of Bristol, Pa., and of Hildur Wilde, '32, of North Andover, Mass., on Thursday, March 21.

CO-EDS WILL COMPETE IN INDOOR TRACK MEET

The Indoor Meet between the freshmen and sophomore classes in physical education will take place Saturday, March 23, at the gymnasium at 7.30 p.m.

One of the biggest features of the evening will be the basketball game between the sophomores, interclass champions and the All-Star team chosen from the other three classes.

The basketball cup will be presented to the champions, the sophomores and the Indoor Meet cup will be presented to the winning class.

The program of the Meet is as follows:

I. Competition—Posture marching.
II. Competition—Danish Freshmen
Danish Sophomores
III. Demonstration dancing 1st and 2nd year teacher training girls
Tantoli French Vineyard.
Indian Dance. Irish Lilt.
Captain Jinks
IV. Competition—Apparatus
Freshmen somersault, rear vault standing, buck, flying rings, high jump and rope climbing.
Sophomores bars traveling, rear vault, rings, saddle vault, wolf vault.
V. Competition—Dancing.
Freshmen Dublin Jig. Tap Dance
Sophomores Arkansas Travelers. Clog Dance
VI. Demonstration dance by advance class
Spanish Dance
VII. Basketball game
Sophomores vs. All-Stars
VIII. Awards

Mrs. Hard and Miss Baldwin will judge the posture marching. The members of the Sweater Club will judge the rest of the Meet.

The Faculty and all friends of the participants are very cordially invited to attend.

Compliments of
C. A. BARBER & CO.
112 Church Street

1929
BASEBALL SUPPLIES
NOW ON SALE
AT
L. P. WOOD'S
Sporting Goods Store
78 CHURCH STREET

SPRING GRID PRACTICE STARTS AFTER RECESS

Captain W. V. Rattan, head coach of football announces that spring practice for grid men will commence after the Easter recess. The exact date will be announced later by Rattan and will appear in the Cynic.

All those who are not taking part in spring athletics such as baseball and track are especially urged to report for the work-outs. Spring practice is carried on to keep men in good physical condition and to drill them in fundamentals.

Since the varsity squad will lose 10 letter men by graduation there is an excellent chance for any man with some potential ability in any phase of the game to make good.

SPRING SUITS AND TOPCOATS
Select yours now while the selection is new
LANGROCK
BRAEBURN
ADLER
$25.00 to $60.00
HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

8395 Decisions Favoring This Smoke

Ipswich, S. D.
Sept. 4, 1928

Larus & Brother Co.,
Richmond, Va.

Gentlemen:

In answer to the challenge of J. J. Roberts of Columbia, S. D., as printed in the Minneapolis Journal dated Sunday, September 2nd, I have smoked Edgeworth for twenty-three (23) years and for two years previous to that time I smoked Qboad, which, I believe, is manufactured by your firm.

During this time I have smoked at least one can each day, and to verify this statement you may address the C & C Cafe of this city, where I make my tobacco purchases.

It may be interesting to know that my purchases of Edgeworth during this period have totaled more than 8395 (eight thousand three hundred ninety-five) cans, representing a total expenditure of more than $1259 (twelve hundred fifty-nine dollars).

I have never smoked any other brand of tobacco but Edgeworth during the twenty-three years.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Chas. Bostock
Justice of the Peace

Edgeworth
Extra High Grade
Smoking Tobacco

CAPS AND GOWNS

ARE OFFERED FOR RENT AT A SPECIAL PRICE IF ORDERED BEFORE MARCH 31. ORDERS PLACED AT ONCE WILL SAVE 50 CENTS AS WELL AS THE LAST MINUTE RUSH WHEN THE SUPPLY IS GETTING UNCERTAIN.

Place your orders now at the
Medical Book Store

GREY FRIARS INITIATES MEMBERS NEXT WEEK

Ceremonies to be Held in Marsh Room of Library—Banquet Follows at Sally's—Groat and Leatech to Speak

Grey Friars, the men's honorary literary society, will hold the initiation of new members next Thursday evening at 6.00 o'clock in the Marsh Room of the Billings Library. It was decided at the last meeting of Grey Friars held last Tuesday evening. A supper at Sally's Restaurant will follow the initiation exercises. Doctor Groat, head of the economics department, and Mr Leatech of the political science department will be the invited guests at the supper and they will address the society. Professor Dean, of the English department, who is an honorary member of Grey Friars, will also be in attendance and will address the members.

At Tuesday evening's meeting also, a new member was elected into the society, Alfred J. Morin of the class of '32. He submitted an essay entitled "The Story of Speech," and, judged upon the merits of this essay, he was admitted into active membership. Alfred Morin is from Craftsbury, Vt. Before coming to Vermont he went to the Craftsbury Academy where he distinguished himself in literature, dramatics and music. He was editor-in-chief of the "Vermont Book" published by the class in Vermont History. In the Academy he also rated high in scholarship. He is at the present time an assistant editor of the Vermont Cynic and is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is enrolled in the Commerce and Economics course.

Other business was transacted at the meeting. Manuscripts were read and criticized. There are now only two vacancies for membership remaining. It was decided that all future candidates for membership must submit two, instead of one, compositions of their own writing. These compositions may be short stories, essays, or poems. It is suggested that prospective members vary the nature of their compositions they submit for acceptance, handing in a story and an essay, or some such similar combination.

UNIVERSITY RECEIVES STATE APPROPRIATIONS

Following is the essence of the Budget Bill as it concerned the University of Vermont. Its ride through the legislature is interesting. When introduced to the House it carried $65,000 less than when it finally passed the Senate and was later approved upon its second appearance in the House.

The Budget Bill as finally passed by the Senate and confirmed by the House of Representatives provided for the following appropriations: For the College of Medicine, for the year 1928-29, $60,000; College of Medicine, for the year 1929-30, $60,000.

For instructional purposes and teaching facilities in the College of Arts and Sciences and for scholarships in the College of Arts and Sciences, Agriculture and Engineering for the college year 1928-29 payable July 1, 1929, $14,880. (For the college year 1929-30 payable July 1, 1930, $13,520.)

For county farm bureaus of extension work in agriculture and home economics in accordance with Number 106 of the Acts of 1919 and amendments thereto, $25,200 for each of the two years.

For extension work in agriculture and home economics in accordance with section 462 of the General Laws, $8,000 for each of the two years.

To be expended in accordance with Number 9 of the Acts of 1927: For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930, $[illegible] for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, $[illegible].

Miss Hightower: "I'm sure your marriage to my telephone is quite ill-advised, but"

Highpockets: "So is the number that have given me."—Ski Log O Rhumb.

BEST COAL AND SERVICE

• • •

Elias Lyman Coal Company
206 College Street

Co-ed Dramatic Club Elects New Members

A meeting of the Dramatic Club was held Wednesday afternoon, March 19, for the election of officers and new members. The new officers will be announced in the women's issue of the Cynic, March 26. The members are Irene Marcotte, Clarissa Peters, Iva Harris, Priscilla Campbell, all of the class of '30; Winona Spencer, Dorothy Nash, Justine Rogers, Gertrude Levin, Virginia Goodenough, and Luella Rose of the class of '31; Kathryn Rauh, Elizabeth Holmes, Margaret Martin, Hope Ranslow, Lucille Robinson, Doris Humphries, Helen Gahagan and Marion Edwards, all of '32. These girls either took part in the class plays or served as property and makeup managers.

FRAT TRACK MEET TO TAKE PLACE TOMORROW

Saturday afternoon will witness the annual interfraternity track meet, which will take place in the gym at 1.30. Coach Aldrich has drawn up a schedule for the events which runs as follows: The meet will open in the cage with the thirty-yard dash, followed by thirty yard high and low hurdles. Next come the weight events, the shot put and the hammer throw, followed by the running broad jump and the running high jump. These events should occupy about a half an hour, and at approximately 2.00 o'clock the scene of operations will be shifted to the running track in the gym for the distance events, which will be opened by the 880-yard run. Next comes the two-mile, followed by the 440-yard dash which will be run in heats. The meet will be concluded by the one-mile run.

There has been some question as to the eligibility of letter men in track to enter the meet. Any letter man may enter who wishes, although he may not enter any event in which he made his letter. The only other rule to the meet is to the effect that one man may participate in two events only.

The winner of this meet will gain possession of the cup offered by the Key and Serpent Society which is now in the possession of Sigma Phi Fraternity.

The interfraternity relays are well on their way to completion. Last Wednesday afternoon Sigma Nu beat Zeta Chi and Kappa Sigma beat Delta Psi. Tonight the ATO runners will meet one of the winners of the Wednesday races in the semi-finals, and Monday afternoon the winner of the contest will fight it out with the other winning team of Wednesday's races, who won a draw in the semi-final.

There has not been so much interest shown in the relays this year, several fraternities not even entering a team, and it should be remembered that the winners of the relays get ten points towards the indoor track meet and this should be an incentive towards putting a team in the field. Those teams that remain in competition are all working out pretty well, and a majority of the men are all doing the distance in less than forty-five seconds. All of the teams are fairly evenly matched and as far as can be seen now, none of them have any great advantage over the others. All of the contests promise to be nip and tuck affairs and accordingly interesting to watch.

GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED
Tel. 597-W
T. P. O'HARA
SPRING SAMPLES NOW ON DISPLAY $35 UP.
190 Bank St. Burlington, Vt.

The Old Studio

FOR EASTER

A Specialized Offering of

SMART HATS
$3.95 and $5.95

Our Straw and Soft Felt Hats in Self or Combination. Irregular brims. All fashionable colors and head sizes.

WIG AND BUSKIN DOES NOT CHOOSE TO MERGE WITH MASQUE-SANDAL

That Wig and Buskin does not choose to merge with Masque and Sandal is the general sentiment expressed on the part of the members of the men's dramatic society in a joint meeting with the honorary women's society for dramatics held in the Marsh Room of the Billings Library, Tuesday afternoon, March 19.

The newly-elected president, H. M. Macomber, '30, presided at the meeting. During the discussion relative to merging, the Masque and Sandal members argued that a stronger society with greater interest and greater cooperation along dramatic lines would result from joining the two organizations into one. Wig and Buskin, on the other hand, declared consolidation would detract from the honor of being a member of the honorary men's dramatic society while nothing would be gained if the combination took place. The same ends could be attained by a joint meeting of the two societies.

The question of giving college credit for those interested in dramatics by way of a regular college course in dramatics was raised, but no definite action was taken.

Agreement was reached that the two societies meet again, Thursday afternoon, March 28, in the Marsh Room. At this time parts of plays selected by the committee on plays will be read for the approval of the members. R. T. Krogh, A. O. Aronson, J. F. Garfield, Marion Backus, Dorothy Cottrell, and Annette Rosenberg comprise the committee on plays.

CAPTAIN BERRY WILL SUCCEED FREDERICK

Captain Kearie L. Berry will succeed Lieutenant Frederick as instructor in the University of Vermont R. O. T. C. unit. Lieutenant Frederick will remain until the end of this semester. Captain Berry will start upon his duties here next September at the opening of college.

Captain Berry is at the present time completing an advanced course in Military Science at Fort Benning, Georgia. He has been in the service since 1917. In that year, because of the World War, he had to leave the University of Texas, where he was a student and figured prominently as a football player. He entered a training camp and was in a short while commissioned a second lieutenant. On July 1, 1920, he was promoted to Captain.

He is a member of the Infantry Rifle Team. For a long time he has had the reputation of being one of the best rifle shots in the whole infantry. It is not at all unlikely that Captain Berry will assist materially the Vermont rifle team.

I wouldn't marry my Frisco girl by telegraph. None of those western unions for me. Adv.

You will find the finest leathers and most correct lines in John Ward shoes. A wide variety of lasts, specially selected and designed for college men's wear.

John Ward MEN'S SHOES

HAYES & CARNEY
195-7 Bank St., Near Majestic
Open Evenings

Riflemen Lose Match To Norwich Shooters

Vermont lost her rifle match to Norwich here Saturday afternoon by a score of 1,707 to 1,687. The match was smoothly run off and exceptionally well fired. Tomorrow the team will travel to Norwich to try to avenge the defeat.

Though firing a high score the team lost three matches and won one during the week of March 16. Vermont's score was 1,797 to 1,768 for Western Maryland, 1,839 for North Dakota, 1,868 for University of Nebraska, and 1,836 for Delaware. Returns are not in yet for the matches with Culver, Carnegie Tech., Cincinnati and University of Nebraska which were fired this last week. But a few more matches remain on the schedule since the season will be closed the last day before Easter vacation, at which time the elections for next year will be held.

Frasier Speaks at Chapel

"Christianity is not only the science but also the art of living," said the Reverend Mr. W. F. Frasier of Burlington in the chapel talk Wednesday morning. Law involves principles, precedents and statutes. These are science. It is necessary to practice law, and this practice is an art. Besides having a knowledge of books and their contents, it is far more important for the lawyer to have art in using that knowledge.

Christianity has changed its philosophy through the years, but its art has remained unchanged. Christ told us that we were born into a "world of hope." "For God has given us not a spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of discipline."

What do you think of this! Three "hoboes" arrested for stealing a ride on a freight train proved to be co-eds from Randolph-Macon College.

"Eighty miles an hour," yelled the chauffeur. "Are you brave?"

"Yes, I'm full of grit," said the pretty girl, as she swallowed another pint of dust.—Burr.

NOTICES

Ariel picture of "V" lettermen will be taken Wednesday at 10 a.m. in front of the gym. A picture of the fencing team will be taken at the same time please be in uniform.

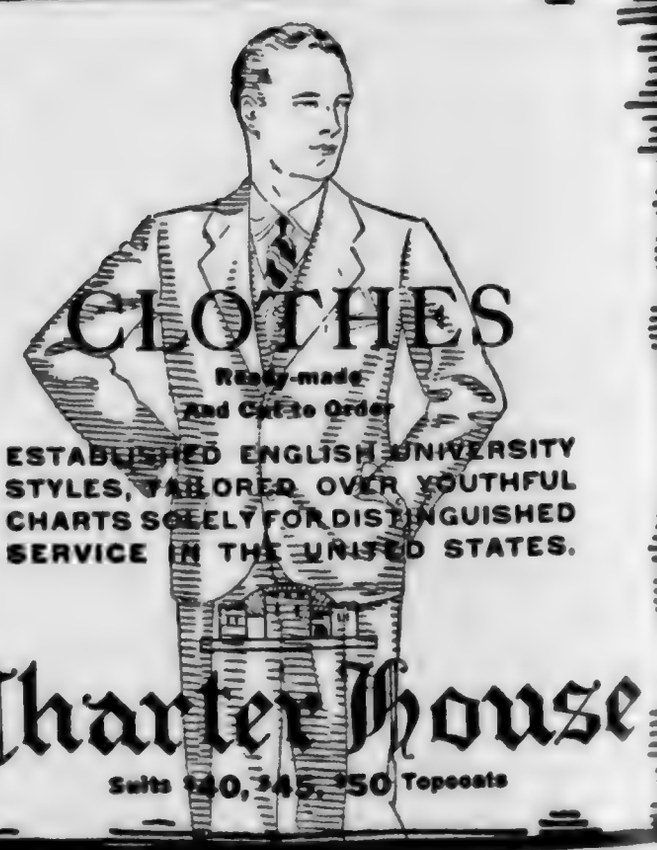
The freshman hygiene exam will be given March 27.

Girls must hand in weekly slips by Monday at 5.00 p.m. No one is excused! The zone chairmen will check them up and the judiciary committee will punish delinquents.

DARTMOUTH GLEE CLUB WINS NATIONAL CONTEST

Last week, the Dartmouth Glee Club again took first place in the National Glee Club Contest in New York City. Second prize was taken by New York University, while Ohio State took third. The winners were judged on good enunciation, faithful [illegible] and clean phrasing.

Since this is the third time that Dartmouth has won the national contest, they now take the cup back to Hanover as their permanent possession. Wesleyan, which won the New England championship at Boston in the contest in which Vermont participated, did not place.



The clubs which took part in the National Contest were from Dartmouth, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Fordham, New York University, Ohio State, Duke, the University of Oklahoma, Lafayette College, Pennsylvania State College, and Wesleyan University. The last six were winners in regional competition.

EASTER GREETINGS

We have a complete line more beautiful than ever

Table Favors, Real Stuffed "Chicks, Ducks, Decorations, Napkins, etc.

McAULIFFE'S
Church and College Sts., Phone 6

CLOTHES
Ready-made
And Cut to Order
ESTABLISHED ENGLISH UNIVERSITY STYLES, TAILORED OVER YOUTHFUL CHARTS SOLELY FOR DISTINGUISHED SERVICE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Charter House
Suits $40, $45, $50 Topcoats

BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT
OUR STORE IS THE

Charter House
OF BURLINGTON

The character of the suits and topcoats tailored by Charter House will earn your most sincere liking.

MILES & PERRY CO.
"Quality Clothiers"
Established 1881

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VERMONT, TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 1929 — NUMBER 44

WOMEN'S NUMBER

MARION TIFFT NEW Y. M. C. A. PRESIDENT

Margaret Stanley is Vice-President and Joyce Richardson is Secretary—All New Officers Very Active on Campus

VOTING RESULTS IN TIE FOR FINANCIAL POSITION

Marion Tifft, '30, has been elected President of Y. W. C. A. for the ensuing year. She has been an active member of the organization ever since she came to college and has been a member of the cabinet. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta fraternity, and is the newly-elected Chief Justice of Student Union.

Margaret Stanley, Vice-President, is a member of Pi Beta Phi fraternity, Press Club, Glee Club, and Dramatic Club. In addition, she has been for two years a member of Y. W. C. A. cabinet and is of the class of '31.

The new secretary, Joyce Richardson, is one of the most outstanding figures in the junior class. She belongs to Alpha Xi Delta fraternity, is on the Cynic Board, the 1930 Ariel Board, is President of Bluestockings and president of the town girls. Moreover, she has been on the honor roll for two semesters, is a member of Eta Sigma Phi and has been active in athletics on the hill throughout her college career.

Because of a tie for the treasurership there will be another election for this office to be held at a later date. There will be a notice in the "Y" room.

The retiring officers of Y. W. C. A. are: President, Marion Potter, '29; Vice President, Florence McKenzie, '30; Treasurer, Margaret Parry, '30; Secretary, Georgina Hubert, '31.

BLUESTOCKINGS ELECT RICHARDSON PRESIDENT

Women's Literary Society of U. V. M. Chooses Prominent Juniors as Officers for Coming Year

At a business meeting held last week, Joyce Richardson, '30, was elected president of Bluestockings. The other new officers are: Vice-President, Jean Wappler, '31; secretary, Harriet Howard, '30; treasurer, Ella Church, '30; chairman of the program committee, Priscilla Campbell, 30.

Miss Richardson is a member of Alpha Xi Delta, W. A. A., Y. W. C. A., Eta Sigma Phi, and is on the 1930 Ariel Board. Besides, being active in athletics, she was on the honor list for two semesters and serves as president of the town girls.

Miss Wappler is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and vice-president of the freshmore class; she has been especially prominent in athletics. Miss Wappler is a member of the Dramatic Club having been in the casts of two plays and has served on important class committees.

Miss Howard is Sigma Gamma, Eta Sigma Phi and serves on the Y. W. C. A. council; she has also been on the honor list.

Miss Church is a member of Delta Zeta and Eta Sigma Phi. She is an associate editor on the Cynic board.

Miss Campbell continues in the office of chairman of the program committee having held this position last year. She is prominent in literary circles, being women's editor of the Cynic, a grind editor of the 1930 Ariel and on the staff of the Vermont Literary Magazine. Miss Campbell is also a member of the Dramatic Club.

CO-ED RIFLE TEAM MAY KEEP CLEAN SLATE

The co-eds' rifle team, coached by Sergeant Conner has had a very successful season. The team has won 15 matches and with only two matches still unheard from the chances are that it will come through undefeated or at least with an enviable record. Marian Baldwin, '29, was the captain of the team and Edna Shaw, '29, was the manager. The record of the matches fired thus far are

	Opp	Vt.
University of Nevada	471	849
University of Cincinnati		492
University of Indiana	491	493
Michigan State College	490	493
University of Maine	469	493
State College of Washington	483	493
Northwestern University	932	980
University of Missouri	478	495
University of Pennsylvania	488	495
Co. A 17th Infantry commanded by Capt. Lammons	492	493
Cornell University	486	493
University of Maryland	488	493
University of Nebraska	483	493
University of Kansas	493	498
Keene Normal School		498

W. A. A. COTTAGE GIVES OPPORTUNITY FOR HIKES

Hiring of Dr. Webb's Camp on Coates Island Fills a Long-Felt Need—Dorothy Nash in Charge

For a long time it has been the fond hope of the Women's Athletic Association here at Vermont to have a building of some sort, which would serve as a week-end recreation place for women students. This year the hope has been realized, at least in part, by a camp, known to many as Dr. Webb's camp, which has been hired on Coates Island. This is now known to Vermont women as "W. A. A. Cottage." Situated high on a rocky cliff, it has an admirable view of the lake. The tiny lake shore is scattered with rocks and pebbles. About the cottage itself are many rocks and boulders. Half hidden by the thick growth of pine trees the little building presents a very quiet and restful appearance. One of its outstanding features is the size and number of its piazzas, for the cottage is literally surrounded with them. Wide, roomy ones on the front, back, and sides, and also a few tiny ones connecting the main part of the building with several little cabins built close by.

Inside the cottage the three big lower rooms are completely furnished. The main attraction, of course, is the fireplace, for who doesn't love to sit around a crackling fire at any time with a crowd of merry companions? On these hikes to "W. A. A. Cottage" every girl is supposed to bring her own lunch, but coffee is made at the cottage. For this purpose there is a little kitchen stove.

When this camp was hired, it was planned that week-end parties would make frequent excursions out to it, but bad weather has made this impossible. Dorothy Nash, '31, was chosen the head leader for such excursions, and there are also assistant leaders. But, although plans for several parties have been made, as yet the cottage has not been visited. With the coming of spring and more agreeable weather, it is hoped that these parties will actually materialize.

It is to be remembered that this "W. A. A. Cottage" is for all the women of the University, and every one is urged to take advantage of it. The only condition is that arrangements must be made through Marion Backus, '29, or Dorothy Nash. It is

(Continued on page 6)

GOODRICH IS EDITOR OF U. V. M. MAGAZINE

Martinetti is Advertising Manager—Freeman, Circulation Manager—Fishman, Campbell and Hollis Have Other Chief Offices

THREE CONTRIBUTING EDITORS ALSO ADDED

Janice Goodrich, '30, will be the editor-in-chief of the Vermont Literary Magazine for the coming year with the following staff: Short story editor, Edith Fishman, '30; essay editor, Priscilla Campbell, '30; poetry editor, Elizabeth Hollis, '32; contributing editors, Virginia Goodenough, '31, Edward Fitzgerald, '32, and Sam Barker, '32; advertising manager, Odino Martinetti, '30; circulation editor, Mabel Freeman, '30.

Miss Goodrich is one of the most active co-eds on the hill, for the past year she was vice-president of the Student Union and poetry editor of the Literary Magazine. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta fraternity, Bluestockings, Tau Kappa Alpha and Masque and Sandal. Miss Goodrich is women's editor of the 1930 Ariel.

Edith Fishman belongs to K. E. L., Bluestockings, Dramatic Club, Eta Sigma Phi and was a member of the Press Club last year. Miss Fishman was recently elected as columnist on the Cynic Board.

Miss Campbell is also active in literary circles; she is a member of Bluestockings and the Dramatic Club and is serving as women's editor of the Cynic and a grind editor of the 1930 Ariel.

Elizabeth Hollis is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and belongs to the Press Club and the Dramatic Club.

Miss Freeman is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity, Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debating fraternity, Masque and Sandal and the Student Union Council; she has also been on the honor roll for two years.

Miss Goodenough, who continues as a contributing editor, is a member of Delta Delta Delta, Bluestockings and the Dramatic Club.

Sam Barker, recently elected, is a Sigma Nu and Edward Fitzgerald is on the staff of the Cynic, and a member of Lambda Iota.

Odino Martinetti, the new advertising manager, is a Phi Mu Delta, intercollegiate editor of the Cynic, assistant manager of track, and belongs to Pi Delta Rho, the honorary journalistic fraternity. Mr. Martinetti served on the staff of the Freshman Handbook and on the 1930 Ariel Board.

The editor-in-chief announces that all these, with the exception of the contributing editors, are entitled to a Vermont Literary Magazine key and may obtain them from Preston's by having her sign an order.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The active chapter of Mortar Board entertained the resident alumni at a dinner held at the home of Prof. Bassett, Sunday evening. The guests were Dean Patterson, Miss Storms, Miss Blanchard, Mrs. C. W. Stillwell, Mrs. Paul French, Mrs. Chester Way, Miss Marion Way, Miss Janice Byington.

An acknowledgment has been received from Mrs. Charles Waite of Crown Point, N. Y., of the flowers sent by the class of 1931 for the funeral of her daughter, Margaret H. Waite, ex '31. Miss Waite died a few days ago as the result of an operation and a generally weakened condition. Her death will be regretted by her many friends at U. V. M.

HUBERT TO BE LEADER OF WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

Georgina Hubert, '31, has been elected leader of the Women's Glee Club for the ensuing year. She belongs to Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity. Miss Hubert is a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and recently has been elected vice-president of W. A. A. She is active in athletics as well as musical circles.

The new manager will be Doris Durgrat, '30. She has been an energetic member of Glee Club for some time, has served on several class committees, and belongs to Kappa Delta fraternity.

JUDICIARY COMMITTEE CHECKS WEEKLY SLIPS OF GIRLS NOT IN DORMS

Six Zone Chairmen Appointed to Oversee Use of Social Privileges in Various Districts of City

The Judiciary Committee recently made two important decisions as regards its work. The first was to publish in the Cynic news of the work the committee has done this year, and to continue this practice in the future. This includes a résumé of the cases coming before the committee and the decisions rendered. The names of those involved will not be published. By means of this publicity the Judiciary Committee feels that its work will be better known to the students. The second decision was to enlarge the scope of its work beyond jurisdiction of women undergraduates to a detailed and strict check of the weekly slips on which social evenings are registered. All women living outside of dormitories, organized houses or their own homes have to sign these weekly slips.

The city has been divided into six zones according to the geographical distribution of the women, no zone having over forty-five, and most of them thirty-five, women. The total number of women living in these zones is 223 according to the last figures. Zone chairmen were nominated by the Executive Committee of Women's Student Union and Dean Patterson, and were elected by the Council of Women's Student Union.

Charlotte Cleveland, '29, is chairman of zone one which includes Mansion Street, Colchester Avenue, Nash Place, Latham Court, East Avenue, Fletcher Place, Mansfield Avenue, and Fort Ethan Allen.

Elizabeth Westwood, '30, is chairman of zone two which includes North Prospect Street, Henry Street, Loomis Street and Brookes Avenue.

Dorothy Kimball, '30 is chairman of zone three which includes North Willard Street, lower Loomis Street, South Street, Russell Street, Hickok Place, Greene Street, Converse Court, North Union Street, Pearl Street, Lafayette Place, North Winooski Avenue, Decatur Street, Clarke Street, North Champlain Street, Rock Point, Park Street, Front Street, and North Avenue.

Alma Farr, '30, is the chairman of zone four which includes Cherry Street, South Champlain Street, River Street, Church Street, South Winooski Avenue, Howard Street, South Union Street, Shelburne Road, Perrotta Place, Bay View Street, Cliff Street, Kingsland Terrace, Maple Street, Main Street, College Street, Bradley Street, Buell Street and Hungerford Street.

Carlotta Grimm, '31, is chairman of zone five which includes South Willard Street, William Street and Summit Street.

Florence Scott, '29, is chairman of

(Continued on page 3)

DAILEY IS WOMEN'S STUDENT UNION HEAD

Marion Tifft is New Chief Justice—Hubert, Richardson, Fiske are Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary Respectively

OWSLEY AND STANLEY COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

Dorothy Dailey of Plattsburg, N. Y., has been elected president of Student Union for the ensuing year. Miss Dailey is a member of the class of 1930 and belongs to Alpha Chi Omega Fraternity. Especially active along athletic lines, she has been on class basketball and tennis teams and was vice-president of W. A. A. this last year. She is also a member of Press Club and Bluestockings.

Marion Tifft, '30 of Bennington has been elected chief justice of Student Union, an office parallel to president in honor and duties. Miss Tifft is one of the best liked members of the junior class, a member of Alpha Xi Delta Fraternity, and a very active and enthusiastic worker for Y. W. C. A., having served on the Cabinet this last year. She plays baseball and volley ball, and has served on house committees every year since she has been in college.

The new vice-president is to be Georgina Hubert of Hartford, Conn., of the class of 1931, and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity. Miss Hubert has been very active in sports, is on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, and has been in the Women's Glee Club for two years, serving first as assistant manager, and this year as manager of the club. She has been a high scorer on last year's and this year's rifle team, and publicity manager for W. A. A., besides being the freshman representative to the council.

Joyce Richardson of Richmond is the new treasurer of Student Union, a member of the class of 1930, and of Alpha Xi Delta fraternity. She has served on the Cynic staff and has recently been elected an associate editor, is a member of Bluestockings, of Eta Sigma Phi, president of the town girls this year, and has been on class basketball and tennis teams.

Elizada Fiske, '30, of Lancaster, N. H., a member of Alpha Xi Delta, has been elected secretary. Miss Fiske has served as treasurer of Student Union this last year, on Junior Week and Senior Week committees, and has been on class basketball teams.

The chairman of the Social Calendar is to be Natalie Owsley of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a member of Alpha Xi Delta fraternity. She has been an active member of the class of 1930, has served on class committees and played on hockey teams.

Margaret Stanley is to be chairman of the Program Committee. Miss Stanley is from Waterbury, a member of the class of 1931, of Pi Beta Phi fraternity, of the Women's Glee Club and Press Club, and is on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.

NEWMAN CLUB PLANS FOR SOCIAL EVENINGS

There will be a meeting of the Newman Club composed of all the Catholic students of the University, at the Cathedral Auditorium on Sunday evening, March 24, at 8:00 o'clock.

It has been customary to hold Newman Club meetings once a month, on a Sunday morning at 9:00 o'clock. However, it was thought advisable to change the hour to 8:00 o'clock in the evening. At these meetings Father Joyce, chaplain of the club, will address the members on subjects of vital interest. Refreshments will be served, thus making the meeting a social as well as a business affair. All the members of the club are urged to be present.

The Vermont Cynic

The Official Student Newspaper of the University of Vermont

Member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

EDITORS

LAWRENCE O CLAYTON, '29
Editor-in Chief

HERRICK M MACOMBER, '29 — Managing Editor — ARTHUR D STEARNS, '29

PRISCILLA T. CAMPBELL, '29
Women's Editor

George B. Brush, '31 — News Editors — Louis Lasman, '31 — George R. Nelson, '31

Women's Assoc Editors Belle L. Church, '29 Joyce B. Richardson, '29 — Sporting Editor Seymour L. Nathanson, '29 — Asst Sporting Editors Lunford M. Foster, '31 Herman D. Gussow, '31 Douglas L. Stewart, '31

Women's Athletic Editor Harriet E. Wright, '31 — Intercollegiate Editor Odino A. Martinetti, '29 — Feature Editor Edward J. Boyer, '30

Art Editor Lenore Aldinger, '29 — Faculty Advisor Prof Leon W Dean — Women's Intercolleg. Editor Cornelia S Mould, '30

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Pauline Burridge, '30 · Louise Goodrich, '30 · Lois Waterman, '30 · Ruth Ross, '31 · Ilma Scott, '31

Winifred Stone, '31 · Margaret Ann Martin, '32 · Hope Ranslow, '32 · Alfred J. Morin, '30 · Watson E. Morgan, '32

E. Henry Powell, '30 · Charles N. Crockett, '31 · Edmour A. R. Germain, '31 · Edward J. Fitzgerald, '32 · Paul J. LaCrosse, '32

BUSINESS STAFF

JAMES C. PUFFER, '30
Business Manager

Major B. Jenks, '30 . . . . . Advertising Manager
Stuart S. Corbin, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
Sam F. McQuesten, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager
P. Stanley Smith, '31 . . . . . Assistant Manager

Subscription price $3.00 a year, Single Copy, Five Cents

Alumni and undergraduates are heartily invited to contribute. All communications must be signed by the writer, whose name will be withheld if so desired. Any brief notices should be handed in at the Cynic office or telephoned to 2938 before 9 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Founded in 1883. Published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year.

All business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, Kappa Sigma House, all other correspondence to the Editor-in Chief, Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

Acceptance for mailing to points outside of Burlington at special rate provided for in Section 412 P. L. and R. Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 14, 1926.

Office of Publication Free Press Printing Co., Burlington, Vt.

Vol 47 — March 26, 1929 — No. 44

THE NEW BOARD

Although the new women's board was elected some time ago, and has been functioning ever since, we have made no "salutatory address," so here goes.

We are trying to carry out the precedents established by a far wiser and more experienced board and we ask the cooperation of all college women in so doing. We have already made mistakes and it is not improbable that we shall make many more, for all of which, past and future, we ask your indulgence.

The gathering and editing of news is, at best, a difficult task, and without the cooperation of the persons interviewed it is very nearly impossible. Therefore, we ask those of you who hold offices or responsible positions in various campus organizations to help us. If you are good natured and patient with the reporter and answer her questions fully, the chances of your news getting into the CYNIC in its correct form are multiplied many times. The reporter who knows she has to interview a girl who will be cross, impatient, and inaccurate with, is reluctant to ask that girl any more than the barest facts. Sometimes even these are grudgingly admitted. You can easily see that this attitude not only is unpleasant for the reporter but is derogatory to the news interest of the organization which such a girl represents.

Please bear in mind that CYNIC reporters are not newspaper women working for a salary, they provide their services gratuitously to this University. They are trying to help you when they call you up for news. It is for your sake, not theirs, that they bother you when you may be busy. If they seem insistent, it is because all news for the CYNIC has to be in to the Free Press at certain definite times in order to get into the next issue. And if the news is late in getting in to the office it must appear in a later issue when it is no longer news. That is highly displeasing to the reader, to the persons about whom the news story is written, and most of all to the CYNIC staff, since it is a disgrace to any newspaper to publish stale news.

When any feature of the CYNIC annoys you or you see an error, please report it to the editors. That is what they are there for, and that method is far kinder and far more effective than going around campus crabbing about the CYNIC's faults.

We would like to see more letters in Campus Comment and more voluntary contributions. The CYNIC is your's—please use it!

ADVERTISE!

Vermont is rich in tradition. Founded in 1791, it is among the very oldest colleges in the country. But nobody knows it. What's the use of tradition if nobody pays any attention to it? What Vermont needs is Publicity—with a capital "P," at that. Advertising would not be such a highly profitable field for exploitation if the American public did not want it. And a college has to please the public just the same as a theatre or a grocery store or any other concern that wants its patronage.

There's nothing disgraceful about advertising one's college. Why, it can't even be accused of being modern! What are winning football teams if not advertisements? Every college makes its specialty and makes it pay. Highly paid football coaches produce teams which win sensational victories and newspaper headlines; newspaper headlines advertise the college; prep school athletes want to go where there are teams worthy of their efforts.

It ought to work along other lines, as well. Vermont isn't so strong in football but she has other features that ought to be heralded. We ought to see pictures of our beautiful campus in the rotogravure sections, and Sunday feature stories on the cornerstone laid by Lafayette. There ought to be a big Kake Walk story in every Boston and New York paper the Sunday after Kake Walk. Our Junior Week Peerade ought to get a write-up, our college plays ought to be reviewed. And our splendid baseball teams—where are they on the athletic pages?

It's painfully evident that the present correspondent to metropolitan newspapers either takes no interest in Vermont, or is downright indolent. Whatever the reason, his work, or rather lack of work, is deplorable, and this University has a right to demand better treatment. It is more than a right, it is our duty to see that we have student correspondents to city papers, and that they advertise our college!

We wish to thank all those who have assisted in the preparation of this issue, especially Frank Shedd for his photography, Lenore Aldinger for her sketches, and the women on the CYNIC board, past and present. We also wish to thank those members of the men's board who officiated at the mysterious rites of assembling the parts into a unified whole.

MRS. PEPPY'S DIARY

At last! After years on years of ancient waiting, hath someone had kindness enough to will unto me a diary. How many precious gems of thought and deed will herein be confined! Happy me! But happier world.

Per usual up late and immediately off to our dearly loved institution of higher learning—breakfastless. I fear me that someday these eight-thirties o'clock—to say nothing of eight o'clock—will be the death of me.

Eight-thirties o'clock, eight-thirties o'clock
You are one plaguey thing I'd love to sock
My sleep you disturb, my hunger you mock—
The devil take you, eight-thirties o'clock!

Just to think of the coffers of Coffee Counter piled high with gold through this nuisance alone, almost makes me weep. As one of the revered members of the faculty hath put it—there should be no eight-thirties. Delightful! But ah me, some wee bird whispers in my ear, "Won't nine-thirties then be just as bad?"

Ah the spring—the beautiful spring is here. Mud, mud, mud. But nevertheless hearing the little birdies calling gleefully from limb to limb, bringeth back fond memories and I wax poetic.

Spring is here,
Rain is here,
Mud is here,
Love is here,
Let's cheer!

Speaking of love recalleth the handsome young gallants from way out West who graced our campus last week. Strong, husky, gentlemanly—by the by, I did notice that one true word they uttered—that Vermont women were the fairest, but Vermont men the ugliest they had ever seen—was ne'er given a peep in the CYNIC writeup. 'Twas Yellawayed jealously perpetrated so foul a deed, methinks.

A Vermont maid's so fair a miss
She tempts each lad to seek a kiss;
But Vermont men so ugly are
They cause the maids to seek afar.

(Texan opinion. I'm reserving my own.)

But lest these Texans make too strong an impression, a sad tale will I ballad, a tale that each maid take to heart.

There lived a maid in Vermont town
Whose face was fair, whose hair was brown,
And she loved well a Texan lad
Whose heart was black and bad, bad, bad,
Whose heart was black and bad.

He wooed her with his winning lay,
Then kissed her thrice and rode away.
Ne'er since that day his face she's seen
And sad is she, I ween, ween, ween,
And sad is she I ween.

So maidens fair with dusky hair,
Of Texan villains you beware
Lest they your tender hearts should steal
And bring you woe not weal, weal, weal,
And bring you woe not weal.

Yea verily a good week have we had! Another prize did we enjoy. Dickens come to life. Mr. Spaeight, with a flip flop of his coat tails, a gallop, gallop of his feet, came, was seen and applauded. But oh those bells!

It hath just occurred to me that this week's issue of the CYNIC will be a gala event, seeing that it is the woman's issue—truly worthy of note. Hath it not often been topic of discussion as to who is the more important—male or female. When amongst men, I stir up muddy waters and say women—when amongst women, likewise stirring muddy waters, I proclaim men—but between myself and nobody else, I say both. But who came first anyway?

Says wise Bernard Shaw
(And he's never raw)
A woman first came
Sans husband or name.
But lonely she grew
(Her pleasures were few)
And begged for a boon
Which God granted soon.

Thus came man into being.
But, if I rightly recollect, there goeth another version around—

Man came forth on this earth
And at first felt no dearth,
Till he noticed each beast
Had his one mate at least.

Then sore jealous he grew
And sad, flowing tears knew
Till good God saw him weep
And upon him sent sleep.

While thus soundly he slept,
From his left rib there crept
One fairer than a dawn,
More graceful than a fawn.

Thus came woman into being.
The choice is arbitrary, n'est-ce pas?

Unless my ears deceive me, methinks I've heard rumors of a vacation at hand. Bravo! But no, I'm too hasty. First come hour exams—gentle blessings. Here's hoping for the best but—

Damn hour exams,
Those battering rams,
That push to perdition,
My false erudition!

Sic transit gloria mundi! And so to bed!

Campus Comment

To the Editor of the CYNIC:

I wish to extend a word of thanks for your editorial on "A Dean's List." While I too agree that an honor list should be based on average, I am writing this primarily to second your advocation of a Dean's List with special privileges, such as unlimited or extensive cuts and release from the rules governing absences before and after vacations.

Surely the scholastic standing of those on such a list would not suffer. The very inclusion of these people on such a list would be proof that they are in the habit of getting their work done. Then, too, there would not be much danger of abuse of the privileges, for the students would realize that if they did not use discretion they would have to pay the penalty of losing the privileges.

Furthermore there would be an incentive for others to strive to get their marks up in order that they too might enjoy these much to be desired privileges.

—A JUNIOR.

CHAPEL CHOIR FORMED IN 1927 BY BENNETT

Ira Allen Chapel was dedicated January 14, 1927, and later the same year a choir was formed, with Professor Bennett as leader, assisted by Mrs. Marston at the organ. Twenty-five members constituted the choir, with more girls than boys, at first. At present thirty members are in the choir, who officiate at Wednesday morning chapel, one Sunday service a month, and at two concerts, at Christmas and during Lent. Tuesday and Friday of each week from seven until eight, rehearsals are held. The members of choir are paid for each rehearsal and service. Membership is obtained by trying out one's voice at tests held in the fall of each year.

Before a choir was organized the men's and women's glee clubs comprised the musical entertainment of the University—but as soon as the present chapel was built a need for a choir became urgent.

Professor Bennett, with the cooperation of the members, has made the choir what it is today. Much talent is included among the singers while the programs are especially interesting. Professor Bennett has endeavored to include certain traditional melodies in the two yearly concerts.

The Catty Co-ed

It's Been a long Time Since I've been Around.
Hasn't it?
Perhaps
You've forgotten me.
I
Graduated last June
And
Went to work.
Maybe
Gentlemen prefer blondes
And
They marry brunettes
But—
I'm telling you
They
Employ intermediates!
I
Know because I
Got a job!
I
Am an ad-writer.
If
You want to know
How
To learn to play a Saxophone
In three lessons
Ask me!
George Olsen will hire
You
After you take our Course.
If
You're always an Usher
But never a bridegroom,
Get
My booklet on
The Fall of the House of Upsher.
My other booklet
Can teach you to Say
"Pâté de Foie Gras"
Instead
Of "chicken salad."
The
Readers of my ads
Don't Need to smoke
Murads
To be nonchalant.
And
Ruth St. Denis learned
To dance
From my correspondence
Course.
I'm doing so well
The boss
Let me come to Kake Walk.
I
Heard that the co-eds
Smoke
Old Golds exclusively
But
The men can't buy them
At
The Coffee Corner
While
I was here.
I
Went skating on
The
New campus rink
I
Fell through the ice
And
I nearly got drowned
Slade
Cottage wasn't finished
Yet!
So I had
To Stay at Redstone
And
Sprained my ankle
On
The cobblestone
Trying
To walk to campus
Anyway.
I was glad
To Get back and See
So many co-eds
Still
Holding their own.

A MOOT POINT

Friendly Bootlegger: "Nice rain."

Collegiate: "Yes, but it tastes like yeast."—Maine Campus

He: "No one will ever know how much I love you."

Voice under sofa: "Dad will get a quarter."—Pointer

University of Vermont Has Graduated Many Interesting Women has many interesting tates, some of whom are the best known is Mrs.

race Goodhue was grad-
Vermont with a Ph.B.
1902. She is one of the mbers of Vermont Beta of After her graduation in the Clarke School for in Northampton for three in 1905 was married to oolidge, who later became of the United States. In ears she has been given the LL.D. by B. U. and of Dr.
by George Washington Uni-
Her career in the White was unexcelled. She is spoken most perfect hostess Wash-has ever known. Her charm-manner has won for her a place hearts of all who know her.
nencement in 1926, Mrs Cool-presented to the University, her painted by Howard Chandler
This portrait now hangs main entrance of the Bill-
Library.

Vermont has the honor and dis-of being the first university
United States to grant Phi
Kappa keys to women. The late Lida Mason Hodge, who was graduated from Vermont with an A.B. ree in 1875, was the first woman be initiated and Mrs. Ellen Hamil-Woodruff was initiated immediafterwards. She also received A.B degree in 1875. Both were embers of Kappa Alpha Theta, then only women's fraternity at Ver-
Both these women had higher rks than any of the men in their Yet the members of Phi Beta Kappa could not decide at once ether it would be right to let them the society or not. At a special eting they were finally admitted.

Sophie Kerr (Mrs. Sophie Kerr kerwood), a present-day writer of who received an A.B. from Hood ege in Maryland in 1898, received
M.A. from Vermont in 1901. She rted writing in college and came the eye of Prof. Samuel Emer-while at Vermont. He convinced that "she didn't know how to
" and she gives him much credit his help. After trying her hand highbrow subjects such as criticiz-essays of masters of literature, she gan to write fiction. She was astant editor and then managing itor of the Woman's Home Com- panion but finally resigned to have re time for her short story and tion writing. Her first really famous ries were historical novels written out her home in Maryland. Her latest and best novel is "Marcea-Maria" which was published first as a serial in the Women's Home Companion and later as a book. Critics have described this story as "graphic, human, heart-touching and well written."

Mrs. Jean Christie Bull was graduated from U. V. M. in 1886, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and Phi Beta Kappa. She was later graduated from the Hahnemann Medical College in Chicago as M.D. in 1897. She practised as a physician in Spokane, Wash., from 1897-1903 and then married the Rev. Wm. Bull, archdeacon of Spokane and later of Salt Lake City districts. She travelled with her husband as a medical missionary in the Rocky Mountain states for seven years and later returned to Vermont where she received her A.M. in 1916. At present she is living in Philadelphia.

Jessie Wright Whitcomb, A.B. 1884, received her M.A. in the B. U. School of Law in 1887. She spent a year in the British Museum and was admitted to the Shawnee County Bar in Kansas. She is now a member, with her husband, of the law firm of Whitcomb and Whitcomb in Topeka. She also is a writer of magazine articles and children's books.

Miss Clara Colburne, '88, has a record for travelling. She taught a year in Ivy Hall, Bridgeton, N. J., one in Whittaker Hall, Reno, Nev., at the end of which she became principal there for a year and then went to Rowland Hall, Salt Lake City, as principal, where she remained from 1890 to 1914. From there she came back East and has been principal of the Rayson School in New York City since 1914.

Amy Maud Burt, 1900, taught first in St. Albans High School for three years and then spent a year at Columbia University doing graduate work. From 1904-1911 she was an instructor of history at Michigan Normal School and then returned to Columbia for another year's study followed by a year at London University. She then became assistant professor of history in Central Michigan Normal College, a position which she left a few years ago to assume the principalship of the Appalachian School and Social Settlement in the mountains of North Carolina. She is doing a wonderful work there.

These are the most outstanding of Vermont's women graduates, but there have been many others who have made prominent places for themselves and who have made good in their chosen fields.

Judiciary Committee Checks Slips of Girls Not in Dorms

(Continued from page 1)

the six which includes South Prospect Street, Henderson Terrace and Williston Road.

When the plan of checking up the slips was first advocated by the Judiciary Committee it was found that the Dean's office had checked up the slips in the latter part of the week in order that more slips might be passed in, but even then as many as one hundred and fifty slips ordinarily were returned in. According to Miss Whiting, Assistant Dean of Women, this number was considerably lessened just prior to mid-years, but after mid-years a tremendous slump occurred and the number almost reached its former high mark.

Judiciary Committee first called a meeting on March 8 of those women whose slips had not been in at all for the previous three weeks. Out of eighty-five women summoned forty-seven attended and fourteen were excused because of sickness or a fraternity function.

On Monday, March 11, at five o'clock the zone chairmen, the chief justice and Miss Whiting met in the Y room and checked up on the slips that were in on time. Sixty-two failed to hand in their slips, and of this number only three were of that forty-seven who had been told of the impending check up and therefore those three were the only ones for whom there was no excuse. As punishment these were given some constructive work to do in connection with this new phase of Student Government. The two who had failed to hand in their slips were notified by their zone chairmen that the slips were to be in by five o'clock Mondays at five.

On Monday, March 18, the check-up showed that of twenty-seven slips handed in two were by special permission allowed to be handed in Tuesday morning. Two slips that were handed in were not correct and therefore twenty-nine people had to be notified. Of the number fifteen appeared before the Judiciary Committee, and with the exception of two who presented reasonable excuses, the rest were deprived of one of the social evenings. Cards were sent out to those whom it had been impossible to notify by telephone, and to the six who did not attend the meeting after being notified.

More severe punishments for not handing in slips have been given in ten cases where there has been practically no cooperation, and six other cases of this same sort are under investigation and will be handled in the near future in a like manner, if proper excuses are not presented.

The Judiciary Committee's work has covered a broader field than checking up on the slips this year. On the evening of October 9, Dean Patterson, Miss Whiting, Catherine Bassett, who was president of Student Union, Dorothy Cottrell, who was the chief justice, and the house presidents, who are Hazel Ladd, '30, Lucy Bracken '29, Lois Fiske, '29, Margaret Corbin, '29, Agnes Shaw, '30, Mary Davis, '29, Edna Shaw, '29, Julia Wright, '30, Ruth Lamson, '31, Katherine Mudgett, '29, Marion Everest, '29, Margaret Rice, '31, and Luella Ross, '31, met and had dinner at Grassmount where questions of light cuts and student-faculty councils were discussed and suggestions made.

ODD AND ENDS

Roses are red;
Pearl's are white,
I saw 'em on the clothes line,
Just the other night.
—Cape Argus.

There were some 2,000 fans at the last basketball game.

"Gee, how nice and cool it must have been." —Ranger.

Scotchmen don't smoke cork-tipped cigarettes. They don't like the smell of cork when it's burning.—Pickup.

We've decided that the most memorable date in history was Anthony's with Cleopatra.—Drexerd.

The trouble with an attractive woman is that she attracts so many other men.—Buccaneer.

CHORUS MEMBERS GIVE PLEASURABLE CONCERT IN CITY'S AUDITORIUM

"Seven Last Words of Christ" Presented to Crowd of 1,600 Sunday Evening—Benefit of Nazareth School

One of the most successful choral concerts heard here in recent years was presented to an audience of more than 1,600 persons in the Memorial Auditorium last evening by a volunteer chorus of 125 voices under the direction of E. J. Beaupre for the benefit of the new Nazareth School.

Emil Gour of Montreal, tenor, Frederick E. Blais, baritone, of Winooski, Mrs. Isabelle Duprat Brown, soprano, Mrs. Elias Germain, mezzo soprano, Raymond T. Sheppard, baritone, and Mrs. Charles I. Nichols accompanist, with an orchestra of fourteen pieces assisted the chorus.

The program consisted principally of Dubois' "The Seven Last Words of Christ on the Cross" comprising the first part, and solos by Mrs. Brown, Mr. Gour and Mr. Blais featuring part two. It may have been that a few who heard the Seven Last Words as sung by this chorus were not aroused within by a single passage of it, but only extremely cold-souled individuals could sit through this concert and listen only with ears and no heart.

As for last evening's soloists, Mr. Blais was in splendid voice and truly exceeded each one of his previous appearances in Burlington. His sonorous well-rounded tones in the familiar Prologue of Pagliacci, with which he won the Atwater Kent Audition Contest in Vermont last year were delivered with a piquancy to which the audience responded with unreserved applause. Mr. Blais sang Jules Granier's "Hosanna" in encore and again a burst of plaudits gave vent to pent up gusto. Miss Geneva M. Marcotte accompanied Mr. Blais.

Mr. Gour featured his solo numbers with a Prologue of Pagliacci different from that sung by Mr. Blais. Indeed, Mr. Gour is not a large man, but his voice is great. It carries easily to all parts of the large auditorium with a clearness and freedom that characterizes the trained artist. Mr. Gour gave as his first number in the second part of the concert, "Priere du Cid" by Massenet. This, as well as the Pagliacci number, was a good vehicle for dramatic poise and Canada's leading tenor presented the number with all the artistry that was in him. His second number was, "Song of the Mush On" by Rhys Herbert, and then he created a buzz of comment throughout the auditorium by appearing again for the Cavallo composition. It might be of interest to know that Mr. Gour was Mr. Blais' instructor at one time.

A delightful soprano solo was Mrs. Brown's "O Salutaris," by Adele Le Maitre, which she presented in a voice that was strong and clear.

The program follows:

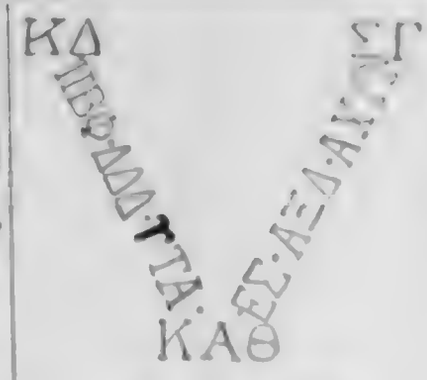
PART I

1. The Omnipotence, Franz Schubert
   Full Orchestra
2. The Seven Last Words of Christ, Dubois

Introduction: Soprano solo; first word, baritone and tenor soli with chorus; second word, duet for tenor and baritone with chorus; third word, fourth word, baritone solo; fifth word, chorus and soli for tenor and baritone; sixth word, tenor solo and chorus; seventh word, solo for soprano, tenor and baritone—chorus.

PART II

1. Parce Domine, "a capella," Menegall
   Male Chorus
2. O Salutaris.....Adele LeMaitre
   Mrs. Isabelle Duprat Brown
3. Priere du Cid.....Massenet
   Mr. Emile Gour
4. Prologue of Pagliaci, Leon Cavallo
   Mr. Frederic E. Blais
5. Song of the Mush On, Rhys Herbert
   Mr. Emile Gou
6. Prayer—We adore Thee, O Christ, and we praise Thee,
   Full chorus and orchestra



Orchestra—Violins, H. A. Haylett, Regina Haylett, A. A. Meunier, W. P. Walker; viola, M. J. Cabana; 'cello, D. W. Jenks; bass, Harold Lessor; flute, Mary McNamara; clarinets, W. O'Brien, Wm. Clapp; trumpets, C. E. O'Brien, J. F. Merolia; trombone, Alfonsworth Bero; tympani, F. J. Preston.

For the Most Delicious Home Made Candy, Easter Eggs and Novelties

Call at

BURLINGTON SWEET SHOP

Names printed on Easter eggs without charges for U. V. M. students

Society Notes

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The sophomores entertained the fraternity with a supper at the Chapter House Sunday evening.

PI BETA PHI

Marion Backus, '29, gave a birthday party for Agnes Wheeler, '29, at the fraternity rooms Wednesday evening.

Suzanne Rutledge, '31, gave a bridge party in honor of Miss Baker, her guest of the week-end, at the fraternity rooms, Saturday afternoon.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Delta Delta Delta will sponsor an Easter supper at the Athena Club rooms on Wednesday, March 27. Tickets are fifty cents.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Thelma Kinder, '29, is ill with pneumonia at her home on South Willard Street.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Alpha Chi Omega announces the initiation of the following freshmen on Saturday afternoon, March 23: Jean Galbraith of St. Johnsbury, Mildred Gile and Lillian Mount of Burlington, Katrina Munn of Bradford, Lucille Robinson of Newport, Beatrice Parkhill of Middlebury, and Marjorie Willis of Waterbury.

Following the initiation a banquet was held on the Hotel Vermont roof garden. Among the alumnae present were Hazel Stanhope, '24, of Hardwick, Lois Robinson, '26 of South Hero, Doris Hart, '28, of North Bennington, Margaret Cullinan, ex-'30, of Arlington, Pauline Willis, ex-'30, of Waterbury, and the following from this city, Clara Sails '25, Amy Hammond, '22, Martha Leighton, '23, Marjorie Perrin, '21, Ruth Jones, '28, and Olufa Jones, '27.

Dorothy Crandall, '28, of Essex Junction, won the Down Puff which the fraternity raffled off recently.

KAPPA DELTA

Word has been received recently of the marriage of Lillian Stillwell, '26, to Norman Myles of Louisville, Ky., on September 26, 1928. Mr. Myles is a graduate of this University and a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Laura Thompson, '26, is working in the Black River Bank of Ludlow.

Prof.—What's this? Is someone smoking back there?

Stude—No, sir; it's only the fog I'm in, sir.—Chaparral.

RAND'S HOME LUNCH
64 COLCHESTER AVE.

Where you get the most of the best for the least

HOME COOKING
OUR SPECIALTY

Phone 2045

"Collegiatism" Decadent

According to the Harvard Crimson, conformism is a decadent art if not downright bad taste.

Self-conscious conformism says the Crimson, has reached the stage where it should be ignored rather than studied. At the best it implies a uniform lack of originality. . . . At its worst, it means the subservience of the individual to the stampede of a herd of rattle-brained cattle. The difficulty arises in that the taste is questionable if not distinctly bad. This in turn results from a self-conscious disregard of any authoritative standard. In the final analysis, collegiatism is the result of lack of maturity and intelligence and it is because of this that it is a reflection on any student body.—Johns Hopkins Newsletter.

Vandalism Prevails

Oregon State is having trouble with vandalism on the campus. One of the prized traditions of the college has been destroyed. Last week, the traditional college statue of the Grecian goddess, Hebe, which since 1902 has guarded the entrance to the campus, was found crushed to bits and strewn over the lawn. So far no clue as to the guilty parties has been found, but, in a determined offensive against vandalism, President Kerr of the institution has offered a reward of $100 for evidence leading to their apprehension.

Outdoor physical education classes will begin immediately after Easter. The sports this spring will include tennis, baseball, archery, canoeing, and horseback riding. Canoeing and horseback riding are new sports in the physical education curriculum. Mary Turner, '29, has charge of the riding. One dollar an hour is charged for the horses. To take canoeing a girl must be able to swim 100 yards. This is the same as the length of the hockey field. Outdoor sports are looked forward to with much interest as each sport claims a large number of enthusiasts.

The chorus of the opera will rehearse tonight in the Music Building at 7:30. All members of the cast except Bunthorne, Grosvenor, and Patience are asked to be present.

There will be a very important rehearsal of the entire cast in the gymnasium Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Have you chosen your life work in the field of health service?

The Harvard University Dental School, the oldest dental school connected with any university in the United States—offers thorough well balanced courses in all branches of dentistry. All modern equipment for practical work under supervision of men high in the profession.

Write for details and admission requirements to Leroy M. S. Miner, Dean

Harvard University Dental School
Longwood, Ave. Boston, Mass.

SPRING SUITS AND TOPCOATS

Select yours now while the selection is new

LANGROCK
BRAEBURN
ADLER

$25.00 to $60.00

HAYES AND CARNEY
195-7 Bank Street Near Majestic
Open Evenings

CAPS AND GOWNS

ARE OFFERED FOR RENT AT A SPECIAL PRICE IF ORDERED BEFORE MARCH 31. ORDERS PLACED AT ONCE WILL SAVE 50 CENTS AS WELL AS THE LAST MINUTE RUSH WHEN THE SUPPLY IS GETTING UNCERTAIN

Place your orders now at the

Medical Book Store

Lenice Goodrich
Who Will Act as Editor of the Literary Magazine

Women's Cynic Board
First Row: Lockwood, Morton, Campbell, Ross, Church
Second Row: Buccalow, Stone, Wright, Mould

Constans Holden
Who Retires as Editor of the Literary Magazine

Wom. T. Tr.
Winner of Fifty-yard Skating Dash

Sophomore Basketball Team
Which Won from All-Stars

Snowshoe Obstacle Race Held Recently

Sophomore Tennis Team
Which Won Interclass Championship

Fraternity Presidents
First Row: Fiske, Morgan, Witkus, Whitney
Second Row: Idleman, Everest, Brown, Marcy

Hazel Ladd
Leader of the Women's Glee C[lub] the Past Year

Marion Tidy
President of Y. W. C. A. and Chief Justice of Women's Student Union

Left to Right: Misses Cummings and Blanchard, Mrs. Hard

Dorothy Dailey
Chosen to Presidency of Women's Student Union

Champion Freshmen Hockey Team

Crack Co-ed Rifle Team
Which has won fifteen straight victories

SPORTING NEWS

SEYMOUR I. NATHANSON, '30
Sporting Editor

NEWS IN BRIEF

[illegible] Fishman, '30, was elected a [illegible] on the Cynic staff at a re[illegible]ting of the Women's Board. [illegible]man has been active in lit[illegible]ds throughout her college ca[illegible]g short story editor of the [illegible] Literary Magazine, and a [illegible] of Press Club and Bluestock[illegible]

The senior invitation committee [illegible] meeting at the library on Tues[illegible] announcements and invita[illegible] were decided upon.

A most interesting meeting of the [illegible] Economics Club was held at the [illegible] House on Tuesday evening, [illegible]9. It was voted to give five [illegible] to the Ellen H. Richard Fund [illegible]burn gave a delightful talk [illegible]Interior Decorating." Eleanor [illegible]wood, '28, a former member of [illegible]'29, spoke on "The Possibility [illegible] Store Service Education." Miss [illegible]wood discussed points in her work [illegible]udy since graduation.

HARVARD LAMPOON IS AGAIN ON THE WARPATH

(By New Student Service)

Harpy has done it again. Each [illegible] the historic Harvard comic puts [illegible] one issue calculated to cause to [illegible] once it precipitated the dismissal [illegible] a liberal professor during the post [illegible]war Red hysteria; another time it [illegible]ought down upon itself the fist of [illegible] police censorship; again it [illegible]used a breach in athletic relations [illegible]tween Harvard and Princeton. This [illegible] it turned loose an indiscriminate [illegible]rage of satiric buckshot on all the [illegible]Harvard educational reforms of the [illegible]ast ten years and particularly on the [illegible]new House Plan, made possible by an [illegible]$6,000,000 gift from Mr. Edward S [illegible]Harkness, whereby Harvard will be [illegible]subdivided into colleges somewhat re[illegible]sembling those at Oxford.

Modeled on the communistic New Masses the March Lampoon airs what the Harvard Crimson testifies are all the grumbled protests, the soured am[illegible]tions, and the hushed scandals that [illegible]have been rife in the dormitory 'bull [illegible]sessions' for the past decade."

"It is a ripe hour for asking ques[illegible]tions" proclaims one writer. "Let two [illegible]of the present issues be dis[illegible]cussed. And let the protestants be [illegible]answered, if they make themselves [illegible]heard and if they can be answered. [illegible]Enough of edicts from the fog-wrapped [illegible]regents! Harvard is more than a [illegible]human plant or even a ten-man plant. [illegible]It has its thousands of workers and [illegible]former workers. Their cries should [illegible]mean for something.

"In a sequence rapid and unexpected, [illegible]new measures have been foisted on the [illegible]underdogs: the Divisional system, the [illegible]exemption examinations, the Tutorial [illegible]system, and the Reading Period. Some [illegible]of these may be all right. We think [illegible]none of them are as they now function. [illegible]But what concerns us at the present [illegible]time is the latest and worst enactment [illegible]come to join the list, the Harkness [illegible]House Plan. It is an amazing thing. [illegible]It would break up the factory into a [illegible]number of branch plants. Size is dis[illegible]pleasing to System. An army is hard [illegible]to control unless it is divided and sub[illegible]divided from regiments down to [illegible]squads. A nation is difficult to oppress [illegible]without Fascistic district organization. [illegible]Almost so a force of employees re[illegible]quires supervision, espionage, and the [illegible]whip master to snap them up on their [illegible]poor work.

"Henry Ford of Education has [illegible]conferred these blessings upon Har[illegible]vard. What angers us is that he has [illegible]come out of a clear sky, irretrievably [illegible]and there was no one to cry [illegible]'Wolf.'

"And the reason there was no [illegible]cry was because silence and secrecy [illegible]veiled his approaching action."

"The 'Henry Ford" mentioned here [illegible]is Harkness, who comes in for several [illegible]pages of ridicule. "Now that Hark[illegible]ness has shelled over a sufficient num[illegible]ber of berries, we have got to put on [illegible]our mad rags and make him an A.M. [illegible]D. the way we did Baker," the [illegible]Lampoon complains. "Becoming a [illegible]patron is the same kind of business as [illegible]seeing yourself created a movie star. [illegible]You get what we mean."

It was reported in the December [illegible]issue of The New Student. Crimson is [illegible]inhospitable to the new plan. Like [illegible]Lampoon it believes that many of [illegible]Harvard reforms have been a mere [illegible]application of machinery. The [illegible]undergraduate daily deplores "the [illegible]philanthropy which, blind to the note[illegible]worthy inadequacy of the tutorial staffs, [illegible]professorial salaries, and even lecture [illegible]room facilities, would contribute mil[illegible]lions toward the realization of an un[illegible]needed and, to some extent, undesired residential experiment."

All three student publications have now paid their respects to the House Plan. The Crimson, The Advocate, and The Lampoon. The Alumni Bulletin stands behind President Lowell. As far as can be determined it would seem that the older alumni and those students who are articulate are against it. The reasons advanced by the dissenters range from the sublime to the trivial—from a fear that the social emphasis in the new houses will put an end to Harvard democracy to a sentimental apprehension that student loyalty to the college as a whole will be displaced by loyalty to the various houses. Whatever the reasons given it would seem that President Lowell has a situation on his hands commensurate with that at Princeton when Woodrow Wilson tried to abolish the side shows.

SLADE COTTAGE DORM FINISHED THIS SUMMER

Slade Dormitory will be ready for the occupancy of summer school students this season and will be officially opened to college students in the fall term of 1929. Although the work had a slow start, it is now going forward more rapidly under the supervision of Contractor Nichols of Essex Junction.

Instead of the customary living room, Slade will have one 12x27 with two sets of French doors so that it may be divided into three reception rooms 9x12. There will be a telephone extension on each floor for incoming calls, but only one extension for outgoing calls. On the second floor will be a kitchenette with place for two grills, a glass doored closet for dishes, and a sink with running water.

The woodwork will be cream, and the walls a light color. Dean Patter[illegible]on suggested that it would be very lovely if the girls could buy material for curtains from the House Mother so that the windows and curtains would look uniform, thus keeping the appearance of the house as beautiful and simple as possible. All windows and doors will be weather stripped with metal.

Each room will be supplied with a cot, the new large size that Vassar, Wellesley, and women's colleges are using. The chiffoniers will have two small lock drawers at the top so that the girls may have a place of security for valuables. A new type of table with drawers, and four sets of shelves holding forty-two books, two Windsor chairs, one an arm chair and one a straight chair such as are in the Middlebury Inn, will complete the furnishings.

The building was the gift of Mrs. William Gerry Slade who bequeathed $50,000 to the University last spring in memory of her daughter, Harriet Slade Crombie. Slade is the first building that was planned as a dormitory for girls.

Plans were made by the firm of McKim, Mead and White, the architects who designed Ira Allen Chapel.

Intercollegiate News

"Oh, I'm to be wed in the springtime
When the first wee violet blooms.
And my love and I will live for ave
In a couple of furnished rooms
I told him that I loved him,
And could I have his heart?
The roses bent nearer to listen.
As he answered, "Till death do us part!"
It was dark in the little springhouse
And I know that I'm to be wed.
But I wish I'd had a flashlight;
Was it Jack, or Bill, or Fred?"

Lucille Markham in The Y News.

YOUTH SERVES YOUTH

Even the most genial faculty man, whose undergraduate days are not so many years in the past, cannot sympathize with the problems of the college student as can a man fresh from the ranks. The University of Wisconsin, progressive institution, is trying out the novel plan of putting five first year graduates, not over twenty-five years old, in charge of advising freshmen enrolled in arts and letters.

The advisers, selected for activities, scholarship and personality, have been given certain of the powers of a dean of men and allowed to work their own ideas.

More than a little interest in the Wisconsin experiment is being manifested on other campi, it seems. The general impression is that it's a rattling fine idea.

FRESHMEN CLEAN UP CO-ED INDOOR MEET

Demonstration Dancing by the Teacher Trainers and Spanish Dancing by Advanced Class Well Received

CHAMPION SOPHOMORE TEAM TAKES ALL-STARS

The freshmen were victorious in the annual Indoor Meet between the sophomores and freshmen in Physical Education. The meet was held at the C. V. M. gymnasium Saturday night, March 24. Posture marching, Danish gymnastics, dancing and apparatus filled the first part of the program. The demonstration dancing by the teacher training students received much applause as did the Spanish Dance given by the advanced dancing class. Those participating in this dance were Betty Upton, '29, Irene Marcotte, '30, Carlotta Grimm, '31, Esther Mandigo, '31, and Marion Lynch, '32. The Spanish costumes added to the effect of the dance. The girls taking part in the apparatus exhibitions showed excellent form. The high jumpers deserve especial mention.

The final basketball game of the season between the undefeated sophomore team and the All Stars ended in a decisive victory for the sophomores with a score of 12-5. The sophomores have gone through the season with an enviable record, winning all their games by wide margins. The lineup of the game was:

SOPHOMORES

	Fls	Gls	Pts
Johnstone, f	1	4	9
Wright, f	1	1	3
Buck, c	0	0	0
Warhurst, s c	0	0	0
Abbott, g (Capt.)	0	0	0
Wappler, g	0	0	0
	2	5	12

ALL STARS

	Fls.	Gls.	Pts.
Akins, '32, f.	1	2	5
Upton, '29, f.	0	0	0
Ferelman, '30, c.	0	0	0
Linney, '32, s c	0	0	0
Miller, '32, g	0	0	0
Fiske, '30, g	0	0	0
Subs:
Wheatley, '29, g	0	0	0
Lunna, '32, c	0	0	0
	1	2	5

The members of the Sweater Club acted as judges of the meet and the Indoor Meet Cup was awarded by Marion Backus, '29, President of W. A. A., to the freshmen who won the meet by a margin of three points. The basketball cup was then awarded by Margaret Corbin, '29, campus manager of basketball, to the sophomores who received the cup for the second successive year. The silver basketballs were then presented by Miss Backus to the members of the varsity team. Those chosen for the honorary varsity team this year were: Harriet Johnstone, '31, Mildred Akins, '32, Helen Buck, '31, Isabelle Warhurst, '31, Jean Wappler, '31, and Janet Miller, '32.

Much credit for the excellent showing made by the girls in the Indoor Meet is due to the Physical Education Department personnel, namely Miss Cummings, Miss Blanchard, Mrs. Hard, and Miss Baldwin.

Many parents and friends attended the meet.

RE-EXAMINANATION LIST GIVEN OUT BY KEHOE

Below is the schedule of make-up examinations taking place during the Easter vacation.

Saturday 9 a.m. April 6. Chemistry 1, Economics 1, English 7, French 1, Geography (T Tr.), Geology 2, History (T Tr.), Home Economics 2 (Foods), Physics 1, Political Science 8, and Psychology 1.

Saturday 2 p.m. April 6. Aerodynamics, Algebra 1 (Art and Agr.), Analytic Geometry, Arithmetic Methods (T Tr.), Chemistry 9, Cytology, Economics 6, Economics 114, History 7, Math 4, Music 1 (T Tr.), Philosophy 1, Political Science 1 and Trigonometry (Engineers).

Monday 9 a.m. April 8. Chemistry 19, Economics 1, Economics 10, Economics 12, Education 1, Electrical Communication, Embryology, Engineering Drawing, English 15b, English Methods (T Tr.), Introduction to Education, French 4, Geology 1, History 1, Home Economics 1, Home Economics 7 (App. Design), Math 2 (Arts), Mechanical Drawing, Military Science, Spanish 1, Trigonometry (Arts and Agr.) and Zoology 9.

Monday 2 p.m. April 8. Algebra (Engineers), Astronomy, Botany 2, Calculus (Engineers), Chemistry 11, Chemistry 104, Descriptive Geometry, Economics 3, English Literature 2, Forestry 1, French 3, French 113, German 1, Greek 2, History of Art (T Tr.), Hydraulics, Hygiene (T Tr.), Latin B, Latin 1, Latin 2, Mechanics, Physiology 1, Spanish 2, Surveying, English 11, Surveying 12, Zoology 2.

BLUE PREDOMINATES AMONG SPRING COLORS

With a March wind like this blowing our hair and a hint of spring everywhere it is not at all strange that we're all looking about for news of the fashions. It's time to cast aside fur coats now. Heavy sweaters and galoshes are quite demode. What shall we substitute for them?

To begin with morning clothes they are as fascinating as ever. Brilliant little prints, gayly-colored materials. Just slash it here and there, cut a square neck, stitch on neat little cuffs—and it's done! Oh! Just a minute, let's not forget the little group of plaits in the front or on either side, just as you like it. It's the little touch which makes an extremely attractive looking dress equally practical and comfortable.

The diagonal lines which have been increasingly popular for some time seem to be reaching the height of their popularity this season. Not only for crisp morning dresses but for sports clothes as well, they are decidedly in favor. This tendency may be found in collar, cuffs and plaits too, another of the little touches which are capable of making a dress a costume.

The colors are varied as ever but if one should try to indicate the winner it is blue, with Nile green holding second place. The second is more popular for evening but for all other times the spring of 1929 has chosen blue to lead the list.

But to return to sports clothes which without doubt form half or three-quarters of most college girls' wardrobes, you can't have too many of them! For the next two months at least the ensemble, suits and coat dresses are sure to be modish. As it will be too cool to promenade in a spring dress without a wrap for some time, cape dresses and jersies should continue to be popular, and of course a gay jersey would work in conveniently throughout the whole summer season as well.

Costumes are much enhanced by the interesting accessories. Brilliant hat, hand bag and shoes to match lend a touch of distinction to a plain-hued suit. Other sets are hand bag, scarf and gloves or hat, gloves and shoes. Sometimes the coats or dresses themselves are made more unusual by the use of buttons unique in shape or coloring. Another interesting touch is the two or three toned effect which is as good this season as last. There has been a hint that college girls may paint on their scarfs the letters or emblems of their college or that of their hero. Of course this remains to be seen, as college girls will do exactly as they please without regard for prophecies.

But the hats! They are most interesting of all. The aviator shapes still seem to hold first place but there are darling little felts that are just the right touch to make perfection chic. Perhaps they have no brim or if they have it turns daringly away from the face. But really for this time between March and June nothing can be more appropriate than an effective combination of felt and straw in almost any color. It is best to have the felt nestling snugly against the head at the sides but there are other types too—the Tricorn or the tam, an endless variety.

Evening gowns, of course are never more intriguing than during this season. They simply must be in order to keep up with spring and Junior Week. The long lines still seem to be the most popular and the Princess type is one of the leading modes. The uneven hemline still holds good long in back perhaps, or possibly with long full panels at the side. Taffeta is popular, especially in pink which is charming for the evening.

There is no doubt that with all the delightful new materials and the entrancing patterns one can gather together a smart wardrobe for the coming season.

Nephew—Uncle when are you going to play football again?

Rich Uncle—I don't know, John, why do you ask?

Nephew—"Because daddy said when you kick-off we're gonna buy a new game and a big limousine."—Ibid

Bathing Suits, Sleep and Love

At the University of Miami a novel course of study has been outlined for zoology classes. Students in the subject report in bathing suits and diving helmets to descend to the bottom of the Atlantic where they investigate submarine life. A long-felt need has been filled at Texas University by the inclusion in its curriculum of a course whose avowed purpose is the spending of an hour in sleep. Even more startling is the proposal of Prof. A. F. Hoach of Cambridge University to institute a course of lectures on love making.

FLORENCE MCKENZIE, '30 PRESS CLUB PRESIDENT

U. V. M. Publicity Club Members Elect Koenig, '31, and Ranslow, '32, as Officers for Coming Year

Florence McKenzie '30 was elected president of Press Club at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon, March 19. The other officers are as follows: secretary-treasurer, Eleanor Koenig '31, chairman of the program committee, Hope Ranslow '32.

Miss McKenzie is a member of Alpha Chi Omega, the Panhellenic Council, and was recently elected vice-president of Y. W. C. A. She is on the Cynic Week and class nominating committees and also served on that of the Smalley Campaign Fund.

Miss Koenig is an Alpha Xi Delta besides being active in athletics (tennis, hockey and basketball) she has been a member of the choir and the House Committee for two years and served on the Freshman Rules Committee.

Miss Ranslow belongs to Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Dramatic Club, Bluestockings and is on the Cynic staff.

The Press Club cooperating with the alumnae publicity officers, serves to acquaint people with university activities. At present plans are being discussed regarding affiliation with Alpha Chi Alpha, the only national honorary journalistic sorority.

LILIAN COHEN TO LEAD 1930 DRAMATIC CLUB

Co-ed Thespians Elect 1930 Officers With Spencer, Nash and Marcotte to Subordinate Positions

Lilian Cohen '30 was elected president of the Dramatic Club last Wednesday afternoon. The other officers are: Vice-President, Wilhelmina Spencer '31, Secretary, Dorothy Nash, '31, and Treasurer, Irene Marcotte '30.

Lilian Cohen has been active in Dramatic Club affairs having been in the prize-winning class play of last year and having served as coach of the freshman play this year. She is a member of K. E. L. and was on the honor list during her first year.

Miss Spencer is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and Bluestockings, she belongs to the Glee Club and also sings in the Double Quartette.

Dorothy Nash is a member of Alpha Chi Omega and is active in athletics, having been on the tennis and basketball teams. Miss Nash is a member of the Glee Club, W. A. A. Council, and was on the honor roll.

Miss Marcotte is a member of Kappa Delta, president of the Newman Club, and is on the Junior Week committee, having served also on other important class committees. She was accompanist of the Glee Club during her freshman year and is now serving as assistant director. Miss Marcotte received an honor scholarship and gained a place on the Dean's List.

This club is for coeds especially interested in dramatics, membership is gained by making a part in the class plays presented every year or by serving as property or make-up manager.

ON THE DOT

The big business man had died and gone to—well not to heaven. But hardly had he settled down for a nice long smoke when a hearty hand clapped him on the back and into his ear entered the voice of a persistent salesman who had pestered him most on earth.

"Well Mr. Dilworthy," chortled the P. S. "I'm right here for the appointment."

"What appointment?" growled Mr. Dilworthy.

"Why don't you remember," the P. S. went on. "Every time I came into your office you told me you'd see me in hell."

ED'S ALLOWANCE

SIGMA PHI LEADS IN FRAT TRACK MEET

Victory for Kappa Sigma in Relays is Enough to Win Meet —Sigma Phi Scores 29 Points to 20 for Kappa Sigs

LYMAN LEADS SCORERS WITH TWO FIRST PLACES

[illegible] track meet was one of [illegible] points [illegible] competition [illegible] points on a single event. At the end of [illegible] meet [illegible] Phi [illegible] in the lead [illegible] a comparatively [illegible] Kappa Sigs. Their nearest rivals [illegible] Kappa Sigs are in the finals of the relays and if they get [illegible] in this event they gain ten points which would give them victory by one point. Thus the outcome of the entire meet depends on the finals of the relays.

The meet began at 1.30 in the cage in the University gym and opened with the thirty yard dash, which was run in heats. In the final heat Douglas of Kappa Sigma and Beaupre an Independent tied for first place and third was taken by Bond, an Alpha Tau Omega. Douglas and Beaupre ran the distance in four seconds flat.

Douglas also captured a first in the thirty yard low hurdles, while Billings of Sigma Phi took second and Beaupre took third. Lyman easily captured the first place for Sigma Phi in the high hurdles in six seconds flat. Rich, an Independent, and Hove, a Zeta Chi took third. S Manning of Phi Mu Delta took a first in the shot put when he tossed it thirty five feet and seven inches. Mace took a second place for Sigma Phi and Mackay a third for Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Park took a first in the hammer throw and Mace took another second while Manning copped a third place. In the pole vault, Meehan of Kappa Sigma took first when he topped the bar at ten feet, six inches. Heaton of Sigma Phi took second place. In the high jump Lyman took a first place, Crockett Sigma Alpha Epsilon, took second, and Woodward of Kappa Sigma took third.

The scene of activities then shifted to the gymnasium where the distance events were run off.

In the one mile run, Maynes of Sigma Nu ran the distance in five minutes and twenty four seconds for first place. Arnold of Phi Mu Delta took a second and Wilder, S. A. E. took third. The quarter mile was run in heats, and Woodward, Kappa Sigma, took first with a time of fifty-nine seconds. Huey, Sigma Nu, took second and Billings of Sigma Phi took third.

In the half mile, Bjorn of Alpha Tau Omega took first, and second and third were captured by Martinetti and Arnold, both Phi Mu Delta. In the two-mile run, Wilder of Sigma Alpha Epsilon took first with a time of eleven minutes, fifty and two fifths seconds. Second and third places were captured by Bloomenthal and Varney respectively, for the Independents. In the broad jump, Morse of Sigma Phi took first with eighteen feet and nine inches. Bond, Alpha Tau Omega, took second and Bombardier, an Independent, took third.

"Corb" Lyman, Sigma Phi, was the high point man of the meet with two first places to his credit. He was closely followed by Douglas, Kappa Sigma, who had nine points to his credit.

The fraternity standing:

Sigma Phi	29
Kappa Sigma	20
Phi Mu Delta	17
Independents	13
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	10
Alpha Tau Omega	9
Sigma Nu	5
Delta Psi	5
Zeta Chi	1

W. A. A. Cottage Gives Opportunity for Hikes

(Continued from page 1)

a most delightful hike out to the place, only three miles from the end of the Ethan Allen bus line. And when the cottage itself is reached, in its secluded spot among the pines, there are few who will not declare that it would take more than one week-end to exhaust the delights and attractions there which W. A. A. has in this way, given the women of U. V. M. the opportunity to enjoy.

Vermont Branch, A. I. E. E., will hold a regular meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4.15 in the Williams Science Hall. A. Johnson and K. H. MacGibbon will give an illustrated lecture on induction motors. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

INTRAMURAL WRESTLING TOURNEY COMPLETED

Masten, Beaupre, Hanson, Rosenthal, Blanchette, Collins, Damon, Park Are Victors in Various Weight Classes

Saturday afternoon in the U. V. M. gym the finals of the Intramural Wrestling Tournament were run off. The winners are as follows: In 115 pound class Masten, who was unopposed in the final round. In 125 pound class Beaupre won from Lyford in decision. Hanson won over Sparhawk in default in the 135-pound class. In the 145-pound class Rosenthal won from Calcagni by decision. In the 155-pound class Blanchette won from Dewitt by decision in an overtime bout. Collins won in the 165 pound class unopposed. Damon won from Blanchard in the 175 pound class by a fall in one minute, the only fall in the finals. Park won from Levine in the unlimited class by defaults.

The best bouts of the tourney were Hanson's victory over Quinn in the semi-finals by decision, Rosenthal's win over Pierce by decision in the semi-finals and Calcagni's defeat by decision in the finals by Rosenthal.

At present things look bright for a great wrestling team next year. There is an abundance of good material this year but Collins, Damon, Calcagni, and Rosenthal are all serious. There will be a good chance for more men who wish to try out for the team next year.

Tourney summary:

115-pound Class

Masten (champion) unopposed.

125-pound Class

Semi-finals: Beaupre beat Skiff. Lyford beat Masten.

Finals: Beaupre (champion) beat Lyford.

135-pound Class

Preliminaries: Sparhawk beat Buglino. Hanson beat Mascola. Quinn beat Willetts.

Semi-finals: Hanson beat Quinn.

Finals: Hanson (champion) beat Sparhawk.

145-pound Class

Preliminaries: Rosenthal beat Quagnon. Pierce beat Wetherell. Calcagni beat Detore. Buxton beat Piche.

Semi-finals: Rosenthal beat Pierce. Calcagni beat Buxton.

Finals: Rosenthal (champion) beat Calcagni.

155-pound Class

Semi-finals: Dewitt beat Ricketson.

Finals: Blanchette (champion) beat Dewitt.

165-pound Class

Collins (champion) unopposed.

175-pound Class

Semi-finals: Damon beat Collins.

Finals: Damon (champion) beat Blanchard.

Unlimited Class

Park (champion) beat Levine.

Referee—Robinson.

Judges—Sahlin and Prentice.

FENCERS CLOSE SEASON BY LOSING TO BOSTON U.

Catamount fencers closed their season Thursday evening at the U. V. M. gym with a match against the Boston University swordsmen. The Bostonians won 6 to 3 in a meet which was replete with brilliant work on the part of the Vermonters in view of the fact that they were up against a team that has been fencing intact for two years while several of the Green and Gold team are in their first year.

Captain Lavine of B. U. and Capt. Calcagni and Chamberlain of the home team starred. Perelman was the third Vermont winner.

The Vermont fencing record for 1929 is as follows:

Vermont, 4—Norwich, 7.
Vermont, 25—Montreal A. A. A., 2.
Vermont, 2—Norwich, 6.
Vermont, 2—Boston U., 6.

Several men have derived much experience and knowledge from this year's bouts and next year should see a winning team representing Vermont with the foils.

The Indoor Rally will be held soon after Easter. At this time W. A. A. awards will be given out. Points should be handed in at the gym office. Everyone should remember that no award will be given unless the applicant has good posture.

VERMONT DEBATERS WIN FROM N. Y. UNIV.

"Unofficial" Decision Rendered for Catamount Orators Debating New York University on Jury Question

BUT DROP DECISION TO ST. JOHN'S LAW SCHOOL

After dropping a decision to St. John's Law School last Wednesday night, Vermont's debating team crashed through the next with a victory over the crack New York University orators.

Debating for the abolition of the American jury system, Vermont took an "unofficial" decision from N. Y. U. The decision was "unofficial" in that Vermont expecting at first only an audience vote, stipulated before the debate that the result be so designated. Vermont, the affirmative team, was again represented by Nelson, Lisman and Sears. On the negative team were Gentillini, Rosenberg and Avnet.

Presents Winning Argument

Vermont's winning debate showed the jury an obsolete, outworn shibboleth. Then, going further, the affirmative presented evidence to prove the jury an inefficient body composed largely of "illiterates and liars." Finally, the Vermonters wound up their case by proposing a substitute for the present system.

"Most Efficient," Says N. Y. U.

The jury system, declared the negative, is the most efficient body yet devised for the administration of justice. They held it to be both speedy and capable and proposed remedies for its admitted defects in place of abolition.

Ten minutes was allowed each speaker for construction, followed by five minutes of rebuttal for each debater. The decision was delivered by Judge Salvatore Cotillo of the New York Supreme Court, Edward Corsi, president of the Harlem Club, and Jene Pope, editor of Il Progresso. Lisman received special mention on the Vermont side.

Loses to St. John's

The same team, debating on the same side of the jury question, dropped a judges' decision to St. John's Law in the auditorium of Brooklyn Law School on Wednesday night. The debaters on the winning team were H. J. Engel, M. H. Selman and S. S. Kreutzer. The judges of the debate were Edward A. Wynne, Justice of the N. Y. Municipal Court; Henry W. Humble, professor of law at Brooklyn Law School; and Mr. W. Rossiter Redmond.

Vermont advanced the jury as "obsolete.....a body of twelve good men and true sleeping in a box.....nonjudicial.....a general hangover of royal absolutism and monarchial oppression."

Replying to a flurry of quotations and expostulations, the affirmative debaters from Vermont boldly declared: "Utter irresponsibility of the jury accounts for the growing crime wave today. After the twelve men have left the box, they disappear, never to be held further accountable for the judgment they rendered."

Feared the negative: "Despotism may be expected from a judge's verdict. It is known that with such a system progressive monarchism is to be expected."

Capable Are Exempt

Deplored the affirmative: "One-half of the population are exempt from jury duty and these are the most capable classes of the community."

Reassured the negative: "The common people on the jury never fail to respond to the call of morality and high ideals."

Vermont mentioned "shyster lawyers and ambulance chasers who always stand a chance with a jury."

And the others, equally certain, came back retorting, "Until Solomon is reincarnated we may not venture to trust a trial by one judge."

TUFTS COLLEGE
DENTAL SCHOOL
Founded 1867

[illegible] men and women [illegible] for a profession [illegible] interest and opportunity [illegible] unusual [illegible] emphasized the value of [illegible] preparation. The next [illegible] opens [illegible] September [illegible] 1929. Our [illegible] students. School opens on September 30, 1929. Our catalog may guide you in choosing your career. For [illegible] address

Dr. William Rice, Dean
416 Huntington Avenue Boston, Mass.

CAT'S MEOW

—Sporting Editor—

Coach "Larry" Gardner has had his baseball squad on the back campus for a few days chasing flies and hitting. He will announce the make-up of his southern trip squad in a day or two.

A non-scouting agreement between Vermont and Yale for the next season's game has been made. This pact is almost unnecessary because it will be Yale's first game but it is the policy of the Connecticut college authorities to close such contracts in every possible case.

Yale will launch an intensive spring football training program on April 12. There have been too many upsets on the gridiron to please the Bulldogs during the past few years.

The forward pass evidently is going to be adopted by the Canadian rugby authorities. They are engaged now in polling the sentiment among those interested in the Canadian game. This factor ought to make rugby attendance large than in the past.

Five of the leading football coaches of the country will teach in the Northwestern Coaching School August 5 to 7. They are Walter Steffen of Carnegie Tech, Arnold Horween of Harvard, Charles Bachman of Florida, Jesse Hawley, formerly of Dartmouth, and Richard Hanley of Northwestern.

Dartmouth football men are working on plays with blue prints. Forward passing offense and defense are the main items of study.

Boston Bruins took three straight hockey games from Les Canadiens of Montreal in the Stanley Cup play-offs and must meet the winner of the New York Rangers-Toronto Maple Leaf series in the finals.

Vermont will have a wrestling team next year according to present plans, and arrangements are being made for a match with Williams.

Humeston has been elected basketball captain at Middlebury for next year. He starred at center.

Clancy of Holy Cross will lead the Crusaders on the court during the 1928-29 season. He is a brilliant guard and the only regular who remains from this year's quintet. He was given honorable mention as an All-American fullback by several football authorities last fall.

Wiggin was elected captain of Norwich track when minor lettermen broke a triple tie in the balloting.

Dalton will captain the 1929-30 Middlebury cross-country team which meets Vermont here in November. He tied for first in the meet between the two schools this year.

Green Mountain Conference officials recently met and reorganized for the coming school year. Officers were elected and the rule prohibiting post-season games in the state was repealed.

Men desiring employment this spring should leave a schedule of their free periods at the Y. M. C. A. office.

After which they heard "Until twelve Solomons are reincarnated we may not expect a fair trial by jury."

Two-man rebuttals followed the eight-minute constructive arguments.

Don't Experiment with your Appearance

ESTABLISHED 1896
QUALITY VALUE SERVICE
LANGROCK
FINE CLOTHES
NEW HAVEN CONN.

For Sale by
HAYES & CARNEY

SIGMA NU CAPTURES WINTER SPORTS M

Winner Scores 28 Points—[illegible] Pai Second With 21—Announcement of Results Delayed Account of Lack of Ice Maynes High Scorer With 23 Points for Sigma Nu

Sigma Nu fraternity in the Interfraternity Meet which was held 28 points. Delta Psi 21 points. The [illegible] third, having 10 points. Delta fourth with [illegible] which captured the [illegible] of points was the [illegible] sophomores took 27 points, [illegible] men got 10 points, the [illegible] and the seniors 5 points. [illegible] individuals entered [illegible] Maynes scored the [illegible] points with 23 for Sigma Nu, came second with 15 [illegible] got 13 and Brasor and [illegible] points, Bragg 7 points, [illegible] Jamse each 5 points.

In the ski cross-country [illegible] '31, Sigma Nu, took first [illegible] time of 29 minutes [illegible] Thoms, '32, an Independent [illegible] ond place. Parker, '[illegible] came third, and Brasor, [illegible] dependents, came fourth. In [illegible] proficiency, Maynes, '31, of Sigma Nu took first place, with [illegible] seconds. Bragg, '30, Independent, second place; Brasor, '31, Delta Psi, third place; and Parker, '32, Delta Psi, fourth place. In the [illegible] Maynes, '31, of Sigma Nu took first place; Bragg, '30, Independent, second place; Brasor, '31, Delta Psi, third place. Delta Psi won the ski relay. The Delta Psi trio consisted of James, and Parker. Sigma Nu took second. The Sigma Nu team consisted of Huey, Hyland and [illegible]

Buxton, '31, Phi Mu Delta, took first place in the snowshoe cross-country race, with a time of 12 minutes [illegible] seconds. Parker, '32, Perry, '30, and '32, of Delta Psi, took second, third and fourth places, respectively. In the snowshoe dash, Hyland, '29, of Sigma Nu, took first, Buxton, '31, Phi Mu Delta, second, and Parker, '32, Delta Psi, third. Sigma Nu won the snowshoe relay. The Sigma Nu relay team consisted of Maynes, Pike, and [illegible] Delta Psi took second place. Adams, Parker, and Dewitt made up the Delta Psi team.

This victory gives to Sigma Nu possession for one year of the silver loving cup held by the same fraternity last year.

The events which were postponed on account of lack of ice are definitely cancelled.

Grey Friars, men's honorary society, will meet Thursday evening at 6.00 o'clock in the Marsh Room of Billings Library for the initiation of new members. Supper at Sally's restaurant will follow the exercises. Professors Groat, Laatsch and Dewey talk.

Pianist All "Encore" for This Sm

San Francisco, Cal.
August 8, 192[illegible]

Larus & Bro. Co.,
Richmond, Va.

Dear Friends:

I have been a very [illegible] smoker for the last thirty [illegible] have always used Edgeworth tobacco (Plug Slice) and find [illegible] other tobacco like it for a [illegible] well flavored taste.

I am in the vaudeville business [illegible] have traveled all over the world, my brother, and always have had great pleasure in recommending your tobacco; and many a time I have had to pay double the price in foreign countries for it, but I would rather have that than smoke anything else. I have tried all different tobaccos, but generally buy a one-pound tin and roll it up; and believe me, you can tell it is real tobacco.

With best wishes from [illegible]

Yours sincerely,
Sam La Mert
of the La Mert Brothers' Piano Novelty

Edgewor
Extra High Grade
Smoking Toba

The Vermont Cynic

VOLUME 47 — BURLINGTON, VERMONT, FRIDAY, MARCH 28, 1929 — NUMBER 46

MODERN SCIENCE AT JOHN DEWEY CLUB

Professor Dickinson Tells of Present-day Scientists' Viewpoints and Their Fallacies

DISCUSSES EINSTEIN'S THEORY OF RELATIVITY

Modern science, in claiming that matter is at bottom immaterial and composed of energy only, seems to be somewhat paradoxical, said Professor Dickinson to the members of the John Dewey Club in a talk upon "The Point of View of Science," he gave at their last Tuesday evening's meeting. It is difficult for the human mind to grasp this. All our knowledge is relative to us and we do not come to grips with this phenomenon in our experience.

At the beginning of his talk, Professor Dickinson compared the career of a scientist to a man sailing in a light craft in one of the many currents running from the land of Accumulated Knowledge to Progress which lies ahead buried in fog.

There are the sciences of description, he said, such as botany and mineralogy. There are also the theoretical sciences which must delve into philosophy to get at the basis of things. Many of the laws of science are philosophical in character as the consequence.

Laws are apt to be regarded as the cause of things, said the speaker, while in reality they are but descriptions of material phenomena. Laws show the how but not the why. The why of things still remains unknown. Science has reduced all matter to energy and thus in a sense energy may be supposed to be the cause of all things. Yet, by cause and effect, energy itself would seem to be the effect of some other cause. It is fertile to attempt to get down to cause, the why of all things, since the why will always be the effect of some cause preceding it.

All knowledge is relative to us; it is merely the way things seem to us. Speaking on Einstein's theory of relativity, he said that only twelve men exist in the world who fully understand the theory. Most men merely have ideas concerning what it's all about. It seems that Einstein holds that time is relative, it is light alone which is absolute.

Scientists are sometimes apt to overstep their bounds without reason. Professor Dickinson cited a scientific meeting he attended at which several scientists were discussing about the eleven levels of the atom. It is beyond human comprehension to grasp what can be the functions of such infinitesimal particles as atoms. To listen to those scientists would make one think they were absolutely crazy. Professor Dickinson said the eleven levels of the atom meant nothing to him.

JUDGE W. P. STAFFORD COMMENCEMENT ORATOR

Judge Wendell P. Stafford, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, distinguished Vermont orator and poet, has accepted the invitation to deliver the Commencement address at the University of Vermont on Monday, June 17. Judge Stafford is considered by many the greatest living Vermont orator. Though residing the greater part of the year in Washington, he still retains his residence in St. Johnsbury and spends much of his summer at Caspian Lake in Greensboro.

Judge Stafford was born in Barre, May 1, 1861. His parents were Frank and Sarah (Noyes) Stafford. After graduating at Barre Academy in 1878 and at St. Johnsbury Academy in 1880, he attended Boston University Law School and graduated with the degree of LL. B., cum laude, in 1882.

He located in St. Johnsbury and was admitted to the Caledonia County bar at the June term, 1882. He practiced there constantly until his appointment to the Vermont Supreme Court in 1900.

Two heads are better than one, but not if they're on the same pin.

WESLEYAN PROFESSOR PICKS PRESENTATIONS

For those students who contemplate going to the theatre in New York this vacation, Professor Snow recommends the following presentations: "The Strange Interlude," at the John Golden Theatre; "Caprice," at the Guild Theatre; Ruth Draper at the Comedy Theatre; Walter Hampden in "Cyrano," at the Hampden Theatre; "Street Scene," at the Playhouse; "Holiday," at the Plymouth Theatre; "The Age of Innocence," at the Empire; "The Front Page," at the Times Square; and "Little Accident," at the Ambassador.

AGRICULTURAL AGENTS ARE ACTIVE IN STATE

U. V. M. Extension Service Has Thirteen County Agents at Work Among Farmers Throughout Vermont

As an indication of the work carried on by the University through the Cooperative Agricultural Extension Service among the farmers of Vermont state, a glance through the latest report of Thomas Bradlee, Director of this service, is illuminating.

He reports thirteen County Agricultural Agents, exclusive of Home Demonstration and 4-H Club workers, representing the University throughout the state.

A glance at the contacts made by these thirteen agents with the farmers of the state during the past year is interesting, especially when it is considered that none of these contacts were made before the establishment of the Extension Service.

This last year 7,264 visits were made by these thirteen County Agents, averaging twenty a day. There were 6,800 office and telephone calls received, which is also nearly twenty a day. These thirteen men wrote among them, 10,252 individual letters. They prepared 800 press articles, aggregating a total of 10,826 column inches, and in addition to this maintained regular department and other news features in regard to their work, the stories appearing in sixty-five different Vermont papers. They distributed 18,461 bulletins. They conducted meetings which were attended by 27,713 people. They sent out 790 different circular letters, with a total distribution of 171,479. They conducted 1,239 demonstrations, including culling, pruning, potato spraying, dairy judging, lime, fertilizer, pastures, and other projects.

This is only part of the story for 1928. The story becomes even more impressive when it is realized that the first County Agent went into the field in Vermont in 1912. Vermont had the first three County Agents in New England.

VACATION REMINDER TO OVER ANXIOUS STUDENTS

To those students whom The Powers That Be fear over anxious to leave the classic F. V. M. portals before they really should the following proclamation is issued:

Students are advised that recess begins on Saturday, March 30, at 7:30 a.m. and closes on Tuesday, April 9 a.m. and closes on Tuesday, April 9 at 7:30 a.m. Dates and hours should be carefully noted.

Morning classes on Friday, March 29, in academic and medical colleges will be held at 7:7:50 (military science); 8:11:50 a.m.; afternoon classes at 1:20-2:10, 2:20-3:10.

Students should note the rules concerning absences immediately preceding or following recesses (Regulation 11, 5.) Students desiring excuses for absence should note and be guided by the prevailing rules.

Manuscripts submitted for the Tri College Literary Contest may be had at the English Office. It is suggested by Professor Leon W. Dean that those not placing be submitted for the Vermont Literary Magazine.

ESTABEL PERELMAN WILL HEAD W. A. A.

Miss Perelman, Active and Popular Among Co-eds, Will Lead W. A. A. for Coming Semester

OTHER OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN AT SAME TIME

W. A. A. will be headed this year by Estabel Perelman, '30. Miss Perelman has been cheerleader for some time and has been a member of most of the athletic teams, including hockey, baseball, basketball and soccer. She has been on the varsity basketball and hockey teams and was manager of baseball. She is also prominent in dramatics, having coached the winning Juniors in the Dramatic Club plays, and as treasurer of Masque and Sandal. She is on the Junior Week committee.

The new vice-president is Georgina Hubert of the class of '31. She has been on a number of athletic teams and is the retiring publicity manager of W. A. A. She is a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and an officer in Glee Club. Miss Hubert belongs to Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity.

Isabelle Warhurst, '31, was elected corresponding secretary. She has been on soccer, hockey and basketball teams, being one of the stars of the varsity basketball team. She is a member of the Health Council, and has served on various dance committees. She belongs to Alpha Xi Delta fraternity.

The recording secretary will be Phoebe Flint, '30. She has played hockey for two years on class teams. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity, and of Eta Sigma Phi; she served on the 1930 Sophomore Hop Committee, the 1930 Junior Week Committee, and the 1930 Ariel Board.

Dorothy Gurney, treasurer-elect, is of the class of 1930. She has been corresponding secretary on W. A. A. Council, and a member of rifle, basketball, and tennis teams. Miss Gurney is also on the Junior Week Committee, and is a member of Pi Beta Phi fraternity.

The Health Council Chairman will be Eleanor Koenig, '31, who is a basketball and hockey player, a tennis coach, and a member of the Health Committee and Choir. Miss Koenig belongs to Alpha Xi Delta fraternity.

Helen Taylor will be the new editor. She is a member of the class of 1931 and of Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity. She plays on basketball and volley ball teams and belongs to Glee Club and Dramatic Club.

Doris Humphreys, who was freshman representative on W. A. A. was elected publicity manager. She is active in athletics and is a member of Dramatic Club.

The class representatives are as follows: Senior, Frances Hazen; junior, Jean Wappler; sophomore, Lillian Mount. Due to a tie, there will be another election for the other senior representative. Notice will be posted in the Y Room.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The following girls are in charge of the Practice House this week: hostess, Margaret Corbin, '29; assistant hostess, Marion Backus, '29; cook, Marjorie Huntley, '31; household manager, Frances Laythe, '30; waitress, Bertha Safford, '31; and freshman member, Lois Harrington, '32.

The Middlebury College women's debating team won their first contest from the team of Boston University by a 2 to 1 decision on the question "Resolved that the American jury system should be abolished." The Middlebury team which upheld the affirmative includes Marion Jones, Eva Tuttle, Miriam Turner, Hilda Pachter. The women representing Boston University were Helen O'Brien, Margaret Reis and Barbara Poor.

Frederick Lapiere, a graduate of the University of Vermont, died March 25 at his home in Greensboro. He had married Miss Aileen Brush in Cambridge on March 11.

Catamount Baseball Team of 15 Players Leaves For South

Largest Squad in Recent Years—Graduate Manager Mayforth, Coach Gardner, Manager Rogers Complete Party on Game Trip

GREY FRIARS INITIATION AND BANQUET THURSDAY

Four New Members Taken Into Society — Professors Groat, Laatsch and Dean Speak at Banquet

Four new members of Grey Friars were initiated into the society last evening. They are Louis Lisman, sophomore, and Sam Barker, Joseph Carter, and Alfred Merin, freshmen. These men were elected into the society earlier in the year. The initiation exercises took place in the Marsh Room of the Billings Library, starting at six o'clock. Charles Overly, president of the society, presided. Immediately following a supper was held at Sally's Restaurant on College Street. Professors Groat, of the Economics department, and Laatsch of the Political Science department, were the invited guests and addressed the members of the society. Professor Dean, an honorary member of Grey Friars, was also present and gave a short talk to the men.

Grey Friars is the men's honorary literary society. It was founded last year by a group of seniors interested in short story writing. The need for such a society for the men was felt and it was believed Grey Friars would meet the need. Membership in the society is limited to sixteen and at the present time there are fourteen members. Membership is restricted to just those men who are interested in literature and can write. Professors Dean and Tupper are the honorary members of the society. Professor Tupper is away this year upon his sabbatical leave.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS SHOW SOPHOMORE HOP RESULTED IN A DEFICIT

Class Treasury Required to Meet Net Loss of Ninety Dollars Incurred by Sophomore Formal

Some overwhelmingly successful dances of the past season have not, apparently, been quite so successful as appeared at first blush. Professor George Gorham Groat, auditor of student finances, has just published a statement concerning the financing of the Sophmore Hop, the last item of which indicates a deficit of $90.88 of which the whole was met from the Sophomore class treasury. The statement follows:

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Sophomore Hop, Feb. 8, 1929

Receipts
46 couples @ $3.00	$138.00
Check room	6.15
		$144.15
Expenses
Orchestra	70.00
Favors	85.88
Rental of Gym	19.90
Decorations	25.00
Refreshments	14.99
Printing	.50
Fixing floor	7.16
Taxi service	6.00
		235.03
Net loss		$ 90.88
Balance paid out of Sophomore class treasury

MERCHANTS GIVE PRIZES FOR LEADING PLAYERS

Vermont's baseball squad left this noon on its annual journey into the sunny south where the team will meet several of the strongest teams of that part of the country and incidentally gain some practice for the coming season. The trip is an event looked forward to by all diamond athletes at the University and is usually a time of joy or sorrow as the case may be.

The Cats have put in an extensive practice this week with Coach Gardner concentrating on the men that he is taking with him. The team was resplendent in brand new uniforms with a new style of lettering, green on a gold background and a large gold Catamount on a green background on the left sleeve. This last is an innovation, as it is the first time that a uniform has borne any trimming except the "Vermont" across the breast.

Coach Gardner [illegible] his first year as mentor of the Green and Gold nine has decided to take along fifteen players, which is the greatest number to go south in several years. Only two of the members of this year's squad have ever made the long jaunt before. Captain "[illegible]mber and "Wis" Howard an [illegible]

